SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Gents: Since I received my 39x24 Star and having used it and given it a thorough trial, I have now convinced myself that it is all that is claimed for it. For hill climbing in particular---well, I can only say that it is the boss of them all, and cannot be excelled; handles. It is much lighter than any of the road riding safeties, and I feel confident that in the near future the safety riders will find that the 39x24 Star will be worth consideration, and it will not take much to convince them that it is "the wheel" for safety and all around riding. YOU'VE HEARD OF over the Irvington-Milburn course. You know what preparation there was for it, and what a field of entries. As for machines, all the leading makes were seen. There were a number of Victors, and when the end came it was found that these had somehow sifted through to the front in such a way as to pull down 10 out of the 19 prizes—of course including the 1st. Victors have a habit of showing up in such order as this.

They had a team race between the Denver Ramblers and the Social Wheel Club out at Denver the same day. The first man to get through rode a Victor Light Roadster.

They are built to win.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

In spite of the persistent efforts of Boston's would-be monopolists to crush us out of business, we beg to announce that we are still importing QUADRANT SAFETIES, and we shall continue to import them as long as they continue to be superior to American made wheels. We are ready to pay a royalty to any firm who can prove that the machines we import really infringe any of their patents, but we think that parties who seem to think it necessary to crush out competitors in order to find a market for their own wheels, must be in a pretty bad way.

We believe that American riders are entitled to the very best, and we, therefore, propose to keep on importing QUADRANT SAFETIES, which we guarantee to be, not only ten pounds LIGHTER, but absolutely STRONGER in every respect than the safeties manufactured by our Boston competitors.

We keep a full line of Quadrant parts on hand, which we can supply instantly on receipt of order.

Have You Heard of the Pullman Race?

There was a field of 70 starters, and 20 prizes, contributed by the trade.

It was won by Frank Bodach of the Æolus Cycling Club on an ordinary American Light Champion.

He was over the tape first by about four minutes.

The American Cycles have BEARINGS, and their riders a capacity for bearing on the pedals. Hence they get there.

Mr. Bodach chose an American Rambler as first prize instead of the gold medal we had offered.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 21 JUNE, 1889.

ON to Hagerstown! This is about the last time that we shall be able to speak to our readers before the League meet at Hagerstown. These columns (both unofficial and official) have been full of information on the subject. There is no doubt but that those who go will rejoice that they did so, and those who do not or cannot go will and do regret the sad fact. We, alas, are among those who cannot go, but we shall be represented by "Jack," so what is our loss is the readers' gain, for who can write so pleasant and readable a report as this very same "Jack?"

AND yet there are people who superciliously ask "what good does the League anyway?" We think such items as the following, which was taken from a North Adams, Mass., exchange, should be a good answer to such "carping critics:" "Among the many good results of the recent change in selectmen is that of greatly improved roads. The streets of North Adams were never in better condition than now, and much credit is due to Superintendent Lally for his good work in that respect. To be sure, they are temporarily ruined each day by the street drenchers, much to the annoyance of people with fine carriages, but a few hours of sunshine render them serviceable again. By the way, the State law, providing for the appointment of Superintendents of Streets, was secured by the efforts of the League of American Wheelmen, and there are none so enthusiastic over its successful working as the drivers of carriages."

MASSACHUSETTS SPRING MEET L. A. W.

OWING to rain the spring meet, at Squantum, of the Massachusetts Division L. A. W. has been indefinitely postponed.

"JACK" ON LEAGUE MEETS.

NOTWITHSTANDING the generous and manly letter of Chief Consul Mott, it is to be hoped that the Hagerstown L. A. W. Meet for 1889 (July 2, 3 and 4) will not be characterized by the gorgeous expenditures which have marked so many of our L. A. W. meetings. Let us for once in our proud history of L. A. W. gatherings have a sensible entertainment, where members can meet one another and have a good old-fashioned four-course dinner with plenty of men's food and drink, such as the old savage Britons used to indulge in, when the menu card, the napkin and the finger-bowl (and childish dinner souvenirs) were unknown at the board where Gurth, the swine-herd, did see that his liege-lord and masters' platter and goblet were kept charged to overflowing. Let us for once in our lives revel in a day of barbarity—sybaritic barbarity—so to speak. Possibly a little life under canvas might suit the tastes of many who, weary of the irksome dress suit and starch fds ties of latter-day civilization, with its attendant lung troubles and congested minds and bodies. "The nearest approach to happiness," says a well-known writer, "is a state of semi-barbarity." By barbarity I mean nothing "cawse or vulgah," nothing like that. Men used to a knife and a fork need not lack these aids to cleanly food transportation. That is not what I mean. I mean a nice free and easy entertainment for gentlemen who are acquainted with (though somewhat weary) of the restraints and mockeries of a fashionable gathering. Just two or three days when we could be to ourselves, and live on "wild honey and locusts," and have no eye from the outside world prying around and seeing if you have the complete number of suspender buttons, (boys with marriageable sisters never have.) I think that a day or two of clean living among the trees and woods and flowers would strike a key-note in a majority of the boys, while an elaborately programmed scrimmage for food and drink at a leading hotel (where a presiding genius on the hotel register looks disdainfully over his waxen mustaches at the crowds of grown men in knee breeches) might only be a tiresome experience.

There are some men to whom a spotlessly white tablecloth and a couple of chops, and a potato, dry and sparkling with a chrystaline whiteness, washed down with a bottle of Bass, is much preferable to an elaborate feed where fish, flesh, and fowl of all nationalities go headlong to feed the inner man, there to wrangle for dyspeptic supremacy. Poor inoffending stomach! how you have been ill-treated ever since Adam discovered the love-apple which was such a source of subsequent torment to poor Eve. Poor lass! she was but human after all, and I'll always stick up for a girl anyway.

I could enlarge, on the idea of a meet on simple yet sybaritic lines, but I dread your fearful blue pencil and so I spare your feelings (and mine also); besides tonight I am busy on a little fish culture fairy tale called "The Higher Education of Fish, or How the Salmon Became Disgusted With Volapuk."

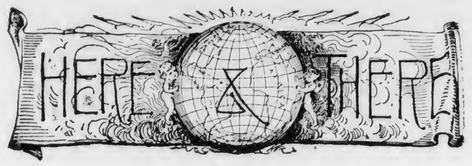
AN APPEAL.

THE Illinois Cycling Club of Chicago send out an appeal for old and new clothing to be sent to the Johnstown sufferers. It is earnestly requested that the members and their friends will send any article of wearing apparel, boots, shoes, or hats to the clubhouse at 845 W. Adams Street. Prompt action is urged. Already four large dry goods cases have been sent, but, the club want more. Ladies are especially asked to send underclothing for women and children.

Contributions may be left at clubhouse with the janitor. If to large to carry we will gladly send for them on receipt of notice.

Address communications to W. J. Nichols, 95 Fifth Ave. It is trusted that you will give this appeal the response it merits.

The appeal is signed, "The Directors of the Illinois Cycling Club, per T. L. Sloan, president."



MEET NOTES.

CHAIRMAN J. T. CHISM, of the transportation committee, announces that special cars, exclusively for wheelmen, will leave here (Baltimore) at 4 P. M., July 3, and 4.10 A. M. on the Fourth. Local wheelmen proposing to take either of these should notify their club captain, who will in turn inform the transportation committee, so that some idea may be obtained of how many cars will be required.

The ladies of St. Paul's M. E. church will serve refreshments during the meet.

The race track is being worked upon and will be in prime condition before it is needed for use. The track grandstand will seat 2200. A stand will be erected that will adjoin the judges' and which will be exclusively for the press.

NORVAL.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

We are congratulating ourselves here that an era of enlightenment in street construction is upon us, and that in consequence we will witness the decadence of Belgian block and the advancement of asphalt as a pavement for our streets. While we are thus hugging ourselves with the idea that at last we are going to have perfect pavements, I see that London is considering the proposition of German engineers to introduce there, in place of asphalt, a system of rubber pavements, which are declared to be much superior to asphalt, and to have been so demonstrated by an extended trial in Germany. Well, maybe rubber is better than asphalt; I don't know. I never rode on any greater amount of rubber than constituted the tire of my wheel, but I am willing to suffer by my ignorance, when I declare that asphalt is plenty good enough for me, and that I for one won't cry for rubber pavements if the present plan of Belgian block is superseded by any of the modern systems of smooth roadways. Anything different from the present streets will be an improvement, it matters not what it may be.

I think Pauline Hall has come the conclusion that the advertising possibilities of the bicycle have become exhausted, as I see her almost daily driving a dog cart through the park, and no longer meet her awheel, as I formerly quite frequently did. Well, if she has forsaken the wheel, I am more sorry for Miss Hall than for the bicycle; she owes more to the machine than it does to her. The advertisement and exercise she got from cycling, she will find difficult to secure from the seat of a dog cart, no matter how handsome it may be,

The members of the L. A. W. have ever since the formation of the League, wrangled over the Flora McFlimsy question of what they should wear, and now they are at it again. The general opinion here seems to be decidedly in favor of Massachusetts and her desire to get the uniforms of her members both better and cheaper, if she can do so. It is a duty that the Division owes to its members, that it get for them the most and best for their money, and if that end can be accomplished nearer home than New York, I am sure no fair minded member of the League will say it nay.

The statistics of the weather bureau here show that since the organization of that department never has there been as much rain fall as during the past two months, and yet, despite this aqueous condition of affairs, club mileages show that an increase of nearly fifty per cent. over the figures of this time last year, which demonstrates the hold that cycling has taken upon this village. Mighty is the wheel, and it must prevail.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

The fourth annual meet of the California Division is a thing of the past, and proved to be an enjoyable occasion. There was one element lacking, and that was a large attendance of wheelmen. Northern California was represented by not over six, while even the southern country did not attend as the importance and good programme arranged justified. The meet itself was a success in every particular. The races were fast and hotly contested. W. S. Wing of this city lowered the Pacific coast one-mile record from 2.48 1-2 to 2.47, and the five-mile coast record from 15.49 to 15.40. There is only one thing to regret in connection with the races, and that is, there wasn't a solitary representative of the Northern California's racing cracks; but it is generally admitted it would have been their Waterloo if they had come.

Chief Consul Mohrig, of San Francisco, who was in attendance at the meet, accompanied by his wife, made a host of friends while here. Mrs. Mohrig rides the ladies' cycle with rare skill and becoming grace. She rode to Santa Monica last Sunday on her two-wheeler. The distance is 18 miles.

Last Sunday was a great day for the wheelmen at Santa Monica. Over fifty cyclers rode down and spent a very enjoyable day at the beach. The wheelmen, encased in bathing costumes, caused considerable amusement by their gymnastic performances, such as forming pyramids, turning somersaults, etc. It was the biggest assemblage of wheelmen ever at the beach, and the day will be long remembered.

S. H. Knapp (or Kid-Napped) of San Francisco was in attendance at the meet. Mr. Knapp is one of the greatest wheel tourists on the coast. There is hardly a picturesque spot near the Bay City he has not visited.

Frank Olds of this city has constsucted a ladies' wheel, which would do credit to a bicycle manufactory. He constructed every portion but the bearings. The finish is nickel, which is elaborately done.

"Hawkshaw," your facile but bucolic New York correspondent, is evidently suffering from a bad attack of indigestion. He rails at Fate that decrees he must read letters from California and the South, extolling the climates of these two sections of the country. The glorious climate of California gives "Hawkshaw" a pain, for which he should put himself under treatment. His illnatured letter is certainly in bad taste, to say the least. If letters about the climate of this State, or any other State for that matter, have such a bad effect on "Hawkshaw's delicate constitution he should by all manner of means avoid reading them. Sabe?

Owing to the great distance between extreme sections of this State, causing poor attendance at meets, there is a movement on foot here to divide the State into two divisions. It will no doubt be done, as both portions of the state recognize the justness of the proposition. Take, for instance, the meet here last week. San Francisco is over 600 miles distant from this city, and it was not expected that a big party of the Bay City wheelmen would be present owing to time, distance and expense. The State will be divided into parts by the people in the near future. Action will be taken here and steps will be taken to consummate the formation of the new division.

J. W. A. Off, president of the Los Angeles Wheelmen, left last week for a trip east as far as Chicago. He is prepared to give Easterners points about conducting a successful race meet.

Vice-Consul J. Phil Percival does not like the class racing rules as they now exist, and his argument is not without favor. He states he enters a race, gets second place, but is obliged to run in the same class as the first man in the race. He doesn't think this a square deal.

CHICAGO.

THE "STROLLER."

Wheelmen riding in a body on our south side boulevards after dark now have to secure a permit for the same. The solitary wheelman and the stragglers are not affected by this order.

Tuttle has had a session with a cycle thief and now mourns the loss of his safety, a prize won at the late tournament here. Tuttle warns the boys to sleep with their wheels if they want to keep them, as he is bound to get even. The boys do not seem to fear Tuttle's warning despite his size, but say they would like to witness a meeting between the thief and "Tut," as they think it would be animated and interesting for a short time.

The State meet at Ottawa promises to call forth a big delegation of Chicago wheelmen. The fare for the round trip is only $2.36, the hotel rate $1.50 per day, and the ball the eve of the 4th will be productive of many a clawhammer coat and knickerbocker accompaniment. June 26 the Lincoln Cycling Club will be present at the Madison Street Theatre, at 8 P. M. sharp to witness Offenbach's operetta, "The Rose of Auvergne" The cast includes a number of well-known local singers. A pleasant evening may be enjoyed by all who attend, and the coffers of the club will probably be greatly enriched thereby.

Ex-Pres Skinkle was in town for a few days last week and spoke very highly of the good fellowship extended to him by the Cleveland wheelmen.

Lumsden is organizing a new club in the classic shades of Kenwood, some say to get even the C. C. C.'s, while others say not. He left for Detroit Friday to take a whirl at some of the Detroit flyers at the Athletic meet there. Lumsden thinks that Banker of Pittsburg is not over anxious to race him, but says if he is, that he can be accommodated.

They had a peculiar accident in the repair shop at Spaldings the other day. A wheel with backbone in need of repair was brought and Mr. Backbone placed in the forge to start the brazing. Pretty soon there was an explosion that shook things up lively and melted grease flew in every direction, setting on fire every inflammable thing in the shape of paper, waste, etc., in the repair shop, and severely burning one of the workmen. "Conk" got a spurt on him that took him out of danger, Spooner came down two flights of stairs as if it was the last lap in a 100-mile road race, while Pres. Gerrould bravely held the fort in the second story. It seems that there was a rattle to the aforesaid backbone, and the owner to stop it had filled up the backbone with tallow, and when it was placed in the forge and began to get hot the tallow got in its work in great shape.

The Chicago's have a run to Milwaukee on the 30th. Burley Ayres is engaged in picking out a pastoral run for the boys over "sand-papered" roads. The club will leave on the three o'clock train for the Cream city; Saturday, the 29th, will take in the Hess Opera Co. at Schlitz's Park in the evening, and Sunday, Burley will lead forth his victims for the run—or slaughter.

How is this for a clincher as to the merits of two different makes of bicycles: A prominent dealer here in arguing with a prospective buyer springs the following: "Why, there was one of our safeties stolen the other day and it was standing beside a —— safety at the time, but the thief, being a judge of wheels, took our make and left the other, proving beyond the shadow of a doubt the superiority of our wheel." Next!

I suppose our new constitution will be voted upon at the State meet, or it will be impossible to suppress it longer. That is, I hope it will be.

MINNEAPOLIS NOTES.

"PARSON."

The M. B. C. members are happy, as Colie Bell won three of his races at the L. A. W. meet in Ottawa, Kan. Bell is certainly a very fast man for one who has had no more experience than he, and if he takes proper care of himself will make a good showing wherever he goes this season.

E. J. Hale, W. D. Walsh, J. R. and Frank Stockdale took a run to Long Lake on Sunday last, with the intention of fishing, but ran across a ball game and as they are all base ball cranks of the worst type they did not have any time to fish but did see a dog fight and a prize fight, so must have had a very interesting time.

The Chief Consul of Missouri has been heard from in regard to holding a joint L. A. W. meet here, and as they are very anxious to join us, there is hardly a doubt but what we shall have the meet in this city.

Minneapolis wheelmen are not bothered with "road hogs" much, but one evil they have is the "sidewalk rider" there are a certain few here who will persist in using the walks to ride on in all kinds of weather. The M. B. C. should take some action on this matter and put a stop to it as there are very few cities when cyclists enjoy as many privileges as wo do.

Speaking of road hogs reminds me of one I saw completely "knocked out" two years ago. "Jack" was at that time a reporter on the Minneapolis Tribune and being out late every night had a permit from the Chief of Police to carry a "gun." "Jack's" gun was a marvel, being a 44 Colts. He and myself were going down to Minnehaha Falls (he riding a tricycle) when we met two "bloods" in a light buggy who had more "corn juice" than they could conveniently carry. One pulled up the horse and with an oath ordered us to get out of the road or they would run over us. "Jack's" southern blood was up in a second and so out came the 44 Colt, coupled with a pleasant invitation to "come on." Needless to say they did not "come" but turning square around flew for St. Paul. Jack dropped a bullet in the road beside them "just for the fun of the thing" as he said, and we afterward learned from the soldiers at Fort Snelling that they fairly flew past that place and reported that they had been attacked by "tramps" down the road.

DENVER.

"OCCASIONAL."

W. H. Barber, the fancy rider of Rochester, N. Y., is in the city this week with the Thatcher, Primrose and West Minstrel Co. Last Tuesday evening, while doing the stand still on the front part of the stage, Mr. Barber was in some unaccountable manner thrown (perhaps tumbled would be a better term) over the foot lights into the orchestra. The result of this fall is a badly sprained ankle, that will prevent Mr. B. mounting his wheel for several weeks to come.

J. H. Ambruster, of St. Louis, "wheeled it" into Denver last week, having used twenty-six days in making the trip. During nine days of the twenty-six it rained, the only disagreeable portion of the trip, so says Mr. Ambruster.

The female bicyclists are advertised to appear at the Broadway Athletic Park for a six days', two hours a day, race, beginning Monday, June 10th. Perhaps we can stand two hours a day of it, but more than that I wouldn't answer for.

Mr. Editor, haven't you made an error in saying that Mr. Gerwing won the team race that we had here May 26th? Gerwing, of the Ramblers, certainly came over the tape first, but his club did not win the race until the eleventh came in, as will be seen by the score sent you.

During the last six weeks Denver has enjoyed (?) more rain than at any period of the same length in the last eight years. Three out of a possible six are all the runs that have been taken. As a general thing three postponements would carry us through the season.

It is observed: That Colorado has no Chief Consul.—That the Social Wheel Club are looking for more commodious quarters.—That the Denver Ramblers are more than ever of the opinion that their team is the team.—That the number of Eastern wheelmen at present visiting Denver is quite large, and that they always ask to see a copy of the Bi. World.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

Thirty-eight men of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club report 14,000 miles up to May as their mileage for the season. McDaniel heads the list with 1,267 miles; then comes Draper, 1,242; Mears, 1,066; and Merrihew, 1,037. These are the only four above 1,000.

The captaincy of the Century Wheelmen will probably lie between Messrs. Collins, Sulzer and Speier. It is a matter of great regret that two of the main city clubs should lose their captains at once.

W. T. Fleming has not yet started on his Western tour, having been delayed by the non-arrival of his machine. He has ordered an especially-built 54-inch light roadster without brake fitting or brakes, as Capt. Fleming believes in no brakes at all. J. E. Gould of the Pennsylvania Club expects to accompany him.

So the New Yorkers and Jerseymen think their teams are much better than the Wilmington quartet. Well, all they have to do to to back up their belief is to issue a little challenge, and I have reason to believe that there will be prompt acceptance on the part of Messrs. Dampman, Merrihew, McDaniel and Elliott.

Notices have been issued by Capt. Supplee of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club calling for signatures for the Hagerstown meet, and a large turnout is expected. A special train has been engaged for the Philadelphia wheelmen leaving here Monday evening at 5 P. M. over the B. & Ohio R. R.

Another accident last week to point the oft-repeated lesson of caution. A lady and gentleman on a tandem-bicycle were coasting down a winding hill when, on rounding a turn, they met a team. Usual result,—damages, bruises more or less severe, and internal injuries on the part of one of the pair. All this with a prospective suit for damages. The fool-killer hasn't been around here lately, that is evident.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

It would have been worth a year's subscription to the World to have seen the expression on the "Duke's" face when he learned that it was Whittaker that he had attempted to scorch. The boys enjoyed the joke hugely. Their pleasure was somewhat alloyed, however, by the fear that the "Duke's" conduct might result in his expulsion from the League on the ground of having set the pace for a professional. [The L. A. W. does not recognize road racing, excepting a cash prize was run for, hence the "Duke" is safe.—Ed.] In the future the Mascot will consult his album of cycling celebrities before attempting to teach strangers how to ride.

To a lady who was intending to buy a tricycle and who came to me for advice, I suggested the ladies' bicycle and was astonished to hear her say, "I wouldn't ride a bicycle if you would give me a hundred dollars a day!" I explained the nature of the machine and its superiority in lightness and speed to the trike, but was unable to change her views and am unable to account for her prejudice unless it is the natural perversity of these who persist in wearing bustles, corsets, high-heeled shoes and kindred impediments to healthy exercise.

On the evening of the 10th inst., the C. B. C. perpetrated a very pleasant surprise on their Secretary, Dr. Wm. D. Kempton. He was cornered in the wheelroom by the innocent-looking Bennett and listened patiently for over an hour to a statement of the advantages of a certain type of wheel. At the conclusion of the lecture, as the boys had all gone home, the Secretary mounted his wheel and followed their example, only to be greeted on his arrival by, "What's the matter with Dr. Kempton?" and to find that about 30 of the club, with Whittaker of Chicago and Taylor of Boston, had taken possession of his house. After a general hand shaking the company sat down to a generous spread to which they did wheelmen's justice. At the conclusion of the repast, President Longley made an eloquent address to the Secretary, in which he reminded him that on that day he had reached the fortieth mile post in the race of life, and presented him with a handsome easy chair (a very appropriate present by the way, considering the secretary's capacity for rest.) To say that the Secretary was overwhelmed but faintly expresses his surprise. During the rest of the evening a number of musical selections were rendered by the irrepressible Buckles on his mud fife, the inimitable Marqua on his mouth harp, the silent Nelson with his voice, and the irresistable Cole on the piano. When the party broke up and the members took their leave of the Secretary they wished him many happy returns.

THE Athletic Cycling Club, in imitation of the C. B. C., intend to run three championship races this season. The first one will be on the track. The character of the other two has not been decided as yet.

MEMPHIS.

"ANCHOR."

SINCE my last letter nothing new has been done in regard to wheeling, only that a ten-mile handicap road race was to have taken place on Saturday, the 8th, to be participated in some of the members of the Racing Association of Memphis, an organization that was formed some six months ago, and which has held four ten-mile races since it was formed. The rule of this club is that at each race a gold medal, value to be $25, to be given the winner, and also a medal for second place. The race set for the 9th was not run, on account of there being no competitors present. I think that when a race of this club is to be run off, a meeting should be called among its members, and as the by-laws specially provide, that such a race shall be published one week before it is run. The announcement of this race was only published one day before the race, and besides no meeting was called or held in regard to the same. I do not say that this was done in this way to hurt the feelings of any member, or that it was done otherwise than for the best, but allow me to say here that it did not prove for the best.

TENNESSEE is to have a grand time at Nashville, on the 18th of this month. Mr. Scherer received a letter from Mr. Wilson, Chief Consul of the State, inviting him and the rest of the members to same, but if they will attend I cannot say. The long distance race is still on the go. The score was taken June 8th, and reads: Julius Seelig, 207.8 miles; George Phillips, 186.8 miles; A. F. Alberts, 96.1 miles; William Wood, 70.0 miles; W. A. Whitmore,* 60.0 miles; J. Wood,* 54.0 miles; Haylie,* 36.2 miles.

* Dropped from race.

"JONAH'S"

JOTTINGS.

THE echoes of the great road race are still reverberating in the club rooms. It is the universal opinion that the "long-felt want" has been supplied by the institution of these contests, for I think there is little doubt that others will follow the first, at annual or semi-annual intervals. If the strong demand for them continues it will be to the interest of the cycling trade to see that sufficient inducements are offered for their continuance. They certainly are the biggest kind of an advertisement for the wheel. Cycling is not quite so far advanced in this country as to flourish and grow, without the aid of adjunctive attractions. The open handicaps will probably stand in the way of team associations, but perhaps it is better that they should, as they furnish opportunities for both the weak and the strong, must tend very materially to the development of a large body of sturdy road riders, whose performances will add to the fame of wheelmen and strongly set before the public the possibilities of the wheel, and will thus advance the interests of the sport and the power of the fraternity.

IN some quarters I hear mysterious hints now and then that the powers that be among League officials are to put a stop to racing over this course, on the ground that road racing will interfere with the battle for good roads. Be this true, as it may be with regard to other districts of the country, it certainly does not hold here. I would be the last one to advocate the continuance of anything that would stand in the way of highway improvement. If in certain sections there be this strong prejudice on the part of the public against racing on the roads, by all means let these prejudices be respected. Here, however, there has never been one whisper of disapproval. On the contrary the races have drawn enormous crowds of spectators from the surrounding country, to which these contests have been most enjoyable events and have aroused the greatest interest in the wheel. When the objection comes and is reasonably general then let the stop be made, until then hands off. The so-called official opposition (what little actual or threatened has expressed itself) has done an immeasurable injury to League interests in this section and has done not a little to retard the growth of the organization hereabouts, if it has not actually lost it many members, or at least warm friends. There is no need to interfere now, and when there is there will be no lack of influential backing in the enforcement of salutary regulations for the benefit of all. Until there is, take the advice of one who is acquainted with the general sentiment and keep hands off.

AGAIN permit me to sing another verse of a song that is now old but none the less popular hereabouts. A Road Engineer has at last been appointed, and as soon as he finishes his survey the contracts will be given out for the immediate construction of the great system of macadam highways in Union County, which will complete the greatest district of good roads in the United States and make this one of the leading wheeling centres of the country. And once again let me remind you that this was accomplished almost entirely by wheelmen setting in motion the powerful machinery of the press.

OMAHA.

"JIM."

A CURIOSITY in a century run of 118 miles was called for a short time ago, and at 4.15 A. M. the morning of the run, eighteen members of the Omaha Wheel Club started at a brisk pace towards Red Oak, Ia. Why the Captain should have called a run to this town is a mystery, only known to himself, as the roads between Glenwood and that town are some of the worst and hilliest within 200 miles of Omaha. Before Glenwood was reached three men were disabled by hard falls, one of them hurt quite seriously, striking on his head (a good thing for him that he didn't strike on any other part of his body or he might have been killed outright). Red Oak was reached in due time by ten of the boys, the rest having taken the train home from various railroad stations along the road. Only four (we understand that they now call themselves the "Big 4") finished the run between 10.30 and 12.30 P. M., during a heavy shower. Two of these gentlemen having walked eighteen miles in the mud.

A LARGE amount of credit may be given to Porterfield, a new rider, who, though riding a 48-pound wheel, made the whole distance. The club is talking about sending him to some of the Eastern road races, and he will probably hustle your cracks in Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia the coming season.

WE had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Colie Bell, of Minneapolis, on his return from Ottawa, Kas. He scooped the Kansas boys to a tune of two L. A. W. championship medals and a gold watch. Wish that we had such men as Bell in Omaha.

A BENEFIT for the Johnstown sufferers was held at the Coliseum June 9, which included a tricycle race between Sandy Griswold, sporting editor of the Bee, and A. Jackson, sporting editor of the Republican. Chas. Lay gave an exhibition in trick riding, and a sack race between Morgan, Knapp, Neilson and Bennett finished the entertainment. Albert Schock and Signor Mardis, the "champion of New Mexico!" had a 10 mile race.

JOHN S. PRINCE is still willing to meet all comers, and continues in his quiet, unassuming manner to win the hearts of the Omaha people, especially of the gentler sex.

JAMES JOSEPHI has been appointed Local Consul of the L. A. W. for the current year.

NEWS

AND COMMENT.

THE Boston Herald seems to be mystified because the "wheel papers" have been so strangely silent on the Windle suspension. No need to be mystified, Mr. Kerrison, the problem is simple. In our issue of the 7th we stated that Windle was up for investigation. The official decision of the Racing Board did not reach us until June 8th, too late to use in ours of the 7th. No very great mystery about that, eh, Kerrison?

WILL some members "along the line" please inform Mr. Percy D. Garth, of Danbury, Ct., as to the condition of the roads between Newburg, N. Y., and Akron, O.?

W. S. DOANE desires us to correct the statement which appeared in these columns, to the effect that he had ridden College Hill once. The facts are that he rode up and down three times, and he wore his ordinary clothes. He also wishes to emphasize the fact that his attempt on the hill was after a hard afternoon's racing on the track.

IF the Meriden cyclists and those of New Haven really mean business and are aching to get at one another a chance will be

The above cut is taken from photograph of W. A. Clark, who rode the "Eagle" up Eagle Rock Hill, Orange, N. J., and shows the exact position taken by a good rider of the "Eagle" while riding leisurely over an ordinary road.

It will be seen that it is not necessary for a rider to bear his weight upon the handles, neither does he have to lean forward, or pedal at all backward. He is directly over his work, and his weight is applied to the best possible advantage in propelling the wheel. The position is Erect, Easy and Natural, and the movements and appearance are very nearly the same as in walking.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.,

GENTLEMEN:

I went through on my "Eagle" on the Great Century from Orange to Philadelphia on Saturday, the 8th, without so much as a loose spoke, and the roads in some places were enough to try the stiffest wheel made. I noticed another "Eagle" in the run, and he also went through O. K.

Very truly yours,

C. B. SCUDDER.

The Buffalo Express, May 29, says:

"James S. Hedge of the Buffalo Bicycle Club made the first century run of the year on May 26th. Leaving the club house at S A. M., he rode via Seneca Street, Potter's Corners Road, Orchard Park, and Colden to Springville. Here a stop of two hours was made fordinner, and return was made via Boston and Hamburg to the club house, arriving at 6.45 P. M. Starting again at 7 P. M. he pushed on out to Bowmansville and return and rode three times around the meadow, arriving at the club house at 10.25 P. M. Hedge rode a Swift Safety, and considering the fact that he did not start out to make a 'century,' and did not think of it until he had ridden about 70 miles, made very good time, his riding time being 10 hours and 30 minutes for 105 miles, or an average of 10 miles an hour. Four hours and five minutes were used in stops. This is the first time a century run has been made by a rider in this city on a safety, and it is also the first time a century has been made over this route, there being a great many short steep hills to climb."

Way Behind Orders On Premiers.

So while we are waiting a few days for another big Invoice that will make everybody happy, we will have our little say about BARGAINS. We haven't a big lot, but what we have is good and cheap, almost too cheap you may think to be good, but we guarantee every Wheel sound, and will refund the money, less carriage, to anyone who finds a Bargain less value than we claim for it. First a small line of Genuine Beeston Humbers, good as gold, fine as silk and bran new. A full nickelled 48-inch Humber Light Roadster, cow-horn bars, hollow rims, a little gem, list price $150, our price $85. A 54-inch ditto, enameled and nickelled, beautifully lined in color, $85. Nothing finer than these wheels built. A Humber Cripper with the noiseless patent-leather chain-cover. Light, strong, easy running, $125, reduced from $187.50. Another, run a little, $95; good as new for any use. Now for the gem of the lot! A 30-inch Ladies' Cripper, fitted with every possible improvement and costing $217.50; $140 buys it; just $3 a pound! Humber Racers can't be beat; light, staunch and WINNERS every time. A 56 1-2-inch and a couple of 58-inch, $50 a piece. A Racing Cripper Tricycle, 38 lbs., strong enough for road use, $65. Cost $190. Racing Humber D. S. Tricycle, $50; best hill-climber on the market. That settles the Humbers, "the London Favorite." A Columbia, Kangaroo-pattern Safety, good order and ball pedals, handy machine for a heavy weight; $45 takes it. A couple of nickelled 50-inch Experts, hollow bars, ball pedals, $60 and $65. Another, full enamelled, solid bars, $45; a full nickelled 52-inch, hollow bars, $65. All Experts, known "around the world." A 52-inch Standard, cow-horn bars, wonder saddle, $35. "To the Victors belong the spoils." Well, we will take the spoils and you may have the Victors. A 52-inch, $60. Another, fine finish, $67.50. A 54-inch, $65. "Compressed" tires and patent bearings, a very choice lot. Now the Wheels are growing bigger and prices inversely smaller. A 56-inch Expert, spades and cow-horn bars, Fish saddle, $60. 58-inch ditto, $35, good strong wheel for a big man. A 56-inch Premier, cow-horn bars, full nickel, very strong and durable, $50. A 50-inch "Spalding," $40; all these big values for the money. Ah! we nearly forgot that 51-inch Special Star; cow-horn bars, silent two-way ratchets, Cricket saddle, $45. What is the matter with that? If it isn't giving the machines away it is "Very near it." And here are a couple of little fellows that nearly escaped our attention. A 48-inch Special Sparkbrook [that's a Daisy] good as new and gold, $90. A 49-inch Columbia Light Roadster, $65. Nothing the matter with this elegant Sparkbrook-Humber Tandem, double brakes and ball pedals at $125. Nor this 52-inch Expert at $55. Nor th's 56-inch British Challenge at $50. As our worthy Philadelphia friend poetically remarks, "Don't be a Clam." Don't let some other fellow snap up the wheel you want, but write to us at once. It will pay you.

given them at Hartford on Sept. 4th or 5th, as we are advised that the Hartford Club will give special prizes for a team 20-mile road race between Meriden and New Haven cyclists, or if these men desire to test their comparative speed on the track a team will be made up for them on the track on one of the dates of the Hartford tournament. Now Meriden, now New Haven, pick out your teams and go to work training.

THE Connecticut Division of the L. A. W. will appropriate $200 to be used for the special entertainment of League members who visit the Hartford Wheel tournament Sept. 4th and 5th.

A VALUED correspondent from Jacksonville, Fla., writes us as follows: "Just think of a straight away road for forty miles as smooth and hard as almost any race track. That is what we Floridians in this vicinity have in the way of a track. Only forty minutes' ride from Jacksonville we have a little summer resort called Pablo-by-the-Sea, and stretching eight miles on one side and thirty-two on the other, we have one of the finest beaches in America, and at all tides rideable, being from 100 feet to 300 yards wide and as hard as one can imagine. Think of that for a course! We have some very promising riders. Lampkin did, on Decoration Day, five miles, with ten dead turns and half the course against the wind, in 17.10 on a roadster. If the fact of this beautiful track of beach were known I think a great many wheelmen would be induced to bring their wheels along when they came South in winter. We have a League club here of some twenty-six members. I am glad to see the stand you take in reference to the L. A. W. racing rules."

THE Fort Dayton Wheelmen, of Herkimer, N. Y., will hold a tournament July 4.

DE CIVRY, the well known French professional, and until lately the Rudge representative in Paris, is in trouble, and has been arrested on charge of tampering with the cash accounts, brought by Mr. Woodcock. Our exchanges state that the gambling tables of Monaco, poker at the Grand Café, Paris, and baccarat at one of the betting clubs of Paris, is the cause of the downfall.

HERE is a criticism of Bi. News on the American party: "Of the thirty tourists quite a third must be under twenty-one years of age, the youngest being sixteen and the oldest member of the party is fifty-one. Most are quietly disposed, with occasionally a suggestion of dryness in their manner; but all are gentlemanly, and 'all right when you know them.'"

THE Highlandville, Mass., wheelmen will hold a race meet at Highlandville, July 4th, and among the events are the following: Twenty-five mile handicap road race for bicycles, to start at 8.30 A. M. sharp; one-mile bicycle, novice; one-mile bicycle, open; three-mile bicycle handicap, and five-mile bicycle handicap; the last four to take place in the afternoon. There will be three prizes in every event except the novice race. Entries to be made to W. E. McCune, Highlandville, on or before July 1st. Entrance fee for all events except the 25-mile, 50 cents; entrance fee for 25-mile handicap road race, $1.

THE Louisville (Ky.) Cycle Club will hold a "Floating Concert" July 17, and already 1000 tickets have been issued. Eichorns' celebrated band has been engaged for the occasion by the Cycle Club and it is the intention of the club to make it the event of the season.

MANY of our wheelmen are yachtsmen as well. To such we can most heartily commend The Yachtsman, a publication devoted to that noble sport. The weekly cartoon of a famous yacht which they issue is alone worth the price of subscription, while the letter press increases its value as a record of news and events, and a collection of articles of a scientific value. The paper is published at No. 12 Pearl st., Boston.

THE city of Salem, Mass., has appropriated $5000 for the purchase of a steam road roller, and the local wheemen are rejoicing at the prospects of better roads. This city, abounding with interesting antiquities has always been a favorite resort for the touring cycler, and it is hoped that the fine riding surface that is the result of steam rolling may be the means of attracting more wheeling parties to the city.

THE Buffalo Club, at a late meeting, took a very decided stand on the question of scorching and coasting on the asphalt pavement of the crowded part of the city and officially put themselves on record by the following resolution: "Resolved, That the Buffalo Bicycle Club express their thorough disapproval of such practices, whether upon the part of members or others."

THE tour of the Tennessee Division will cover a distance of 201 miles. The start was made on the 19th inst, and was to end on the 22d inst.

AT the same meeting the nomination of Mr. W. S. Bull of the club, for election as Chief Consul, New York State Division L. A. W. was, upon motion of Dr. C. S. Butler, L. A. W. representative, unanimously endorsed, and his election recommended to all wheelmen throughout the State. Mr. Bull is at present acting Chief Consul and is doing yeoman service for the League.

THE Nashville Bicycle Club Constitution and By-Laws forbids sidewalk riding and insists that the laws governing vehicles on highways be respected.

A good deal of fun was washed out of the Kentucky Division meet at Danville, June 10th, by the rain. The road race was postponed and the cyclists made themselves happy (?) under cover.

ELI E. MILLETTE, of Randolph, Mass., 15 years old, while riding a bicycle the other day, was run over by a four-horse barge and was seriously injured. The bicycle was completely demolished.

THE two days', June 28-29, racing at Brooklyn of the L. I. W. and K. C. W. promises to be one of the most important meets this season.

THE Cambridgeport Club would have sent thirty men to Squantum on June 17 had the day been propitious and had they not been required to send their own lunch. The "commissary difficulty" decided the port boys not to go to Squantum.

COMPLAINT is made that a certain local club in passing through Canton, Mass., last Sunday made themselves obnoxious by singing, shouting, etc., while passing the churches in which service was being held. That kind of thing won't do.

MR. W. O. ALDRICH, Box 423, Whitinsville, Mass., desires route along coast through Maine to St. Andrews, N. B.

WE have received our copy of the League programme, and a very attractive affair it is.

MR. W. F. PENDLETON writes: "In your issue of the 14th you published the names of successful century riders, but omitted the following: W. H. Putney and Jno. Post, Manhattan B. C.; Dr. A. C. Griffen and C. F. Johnson, unattached; Wm. F. Pendleton, N. Y. B. C. Please give us this much credit, as we need it I think after riding such a road."

CONNECTICUT DIVISION meet at Bridgeport, Ct., July 8.

THE Providence Journal takes us to do for the excision of the phrase, "no bigod nonsense," and refers to it as a quotation from Dickens. We do not yet believe that the expression is covered all over with good taste and we were surprised to see it in the columns of our contemporary, since in the same edition they reject a little poem as "unfit for publication," by reason of the use of the word "d—n." Old Jo Bagstock used to interlard his conversation with this word. Overhaul your Dickens, and when found make a note of it.

"JACK IS IN FOR IT."

Editor Bicycling World: You can through the medium of the BICYCLING WORLD impress Mr. W. Van Wagoner of Newport, R. I., with the fact that I shall either send him $10 or pay the bill, presented, for a $10 (sakes alive!) gold medal when he rides a bicycle a mile on any description of safety bicycle in less than three minutes with both hands tied behind his back. Mr. Van Wagoner may have three trials, one a day, all three to be ridden in public, before at least five well known cycling gentlemen, and within the space of two weeks between first and last trials. If Mr. Van Wagoner does not ride inside of three minutes in one of these trials he loses.

The mile must be one with 1760 yards in it, and an accurate stop-watch must be used to time with (Waterbury's and oil cans barred). In the event of his failing to do this phenomenal performance, if he will send me a $10 box of cigars (50 in a box), I shall take great pleasure in getting my friends to smoke the health of Mr. W. Van Wagoner of Newport, R. I., U. S. A.

Concessions: Five yards will be allowed to start off in and shall not be included in the timing. This distance of five yards is not included in the mile of 1760 yards which I have herein specified.

A chew of tobacco for balancing purposes shall be permitted.

Funeral expenses, if any, to be borne by Mr. Van Wagoner's friends. The agent for the machine which Mr. Van Wagoner rides shall be considered a competent judge of this wager.

N.B. The coast must be kept free of dogs, applewomen, policemen, clerks of the course, and other obstacles. Believe me, sir, ever to be, faithfully,

JAMES CUNNINGHAM PURVIS-BRUCE.

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.

[All communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—Ed.]

President Kinghorn of the Providence Club writes of a run to Sookanosett Chapel, six miles from Providence, to a strawberry festival. Thirty-five gentlemen and six ladies attended. Before this the wheelmen of Providence have on several occasions made church festivals, basket parties, and the like the objective points of the runs. Indeed, it is not unusual to see a party on the return with handle bars piled high with irregular packages suggestive of prizes won, and to learn that pocketbooks have been emptied into some fair one's hands who has been simply irresistible as a worker. Thursday night it was strawberries and cream on the lawn for the benefit of the Auburn Free Library, and it wasn't the wheelmen's fault if the library didn't jump clean out of debt.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Georgia Blackmar to Mr. George R. McAuslan. The happy event is down for June 19 at Providence. They have been bright particular stars on many a festive wheeling occasion. They rode as a tandem till the bicycle came: then they parted, and now each rides alone. Now they join fortunes for the journey of life let us hope they will find the greatest pleasure in travelling together. My congratulations are heartily extended, and I wish I might have been with them on the happy occasion.

Mr. A. B. Irvin of Rushville just writes as follows: "Rushville has two lady bicyclists, Miss Mary Irvin and Miss Effie Irvin. The latter is my daughter and is only eight years and eight months old and rides a lady's bicycle, and can ride it well, too, being able to make a 10 or 15 mile run in ten days after getting the wheel. Both the riders learned to mount, ride, and dismount in three days, showing that the favorite is easily mastered. So far as I know these are the only lady riders in the State, and Miss Effie, I think, can lay claim to being the youngest road rider on a full-sized high grade wheel in the United States."

I congratulate the young ladies on their success. They will find much pleasure on the wheel and their health will be greatly benefited; but I think I have said a word of caution before to very young riders, and it may not be out of place to repeat it here. Ride carefully, don't overdo, else the young frame may be injured. There is no danger if care be taken.

From what one of the "sterner sex" suggests. T-bike and T-trike are the proper names, and still another from a different sourse: "Call them 'Bi-tandem' and 'Tri-tandem,' if those names are better than 'Tandem bicycle' and 'Tandem tricycle.'" Have we not had about enough of this discussion?

A Milwaukee correspondent writes that a new club is being formed in that city, and that fifteen ladies at least will join it.

There are two ladies' clubs at Buffalo. One has the use of the Buffalo Bicycle Club house and the other has no quarters yet. Miss Eva Chase, who is in the employ of Mr. Bowen, is filling up the membership of one club and she promises the largest ladies' club in the State, if not in America.

The Middlesex Cycle Club had a picnic at Humphrey's Point, Lynnfield, on Decoration day. Some thirty or forty cyclists gathered in spite of threatening weather. There were 17 ladies in the parlor. A picnic lunch, originally intended for serving on the grass, was served in a neighboring cottage. A very happy day was spent though the serenity was somewhat disturbed by ominous-looking clouds.

Miss Mabel Beers of the Middlesex Cycle Club rode from Everett to Newburyport June 1, a distance of 42 miles, making but one dismount in 25 miles. She rode back the following day as far as Ipswich, 12 miles, where the rain forced her to take the train.

DR. AGNEW'S DENIAL.

After nearly two weeks spent in the endeavor, I have to-day been enabled to interview Dr. Agnew as to the authenticity of the remark that "if he were shown a man who rode a bicycle, that he would in turn show in the rider a case of spinal complaint." I handed the Doctor the newspaper clipping in which he was credited with this new discovery, and as he read it his face for the moment was a study. At first a flash of anger swept over it, which was quickly followed by a pleasant smile as he handed the clipping back to me with these words: "I am so accustomed to being credited in the press with saying and doing things that have happened only in the brains of those who wrote them, that I have become used to the misrepresentation, and do not any more take the trouble to contradict, but since you have taken the pains to ascertain the truth of the statement in which I am accused of having said that any man who rides a bicycle has as a resultant therefrom a spinal trouble, you may say from me that it is as false a statement as it is an idiotic one. I never wrote, or in any other way became responsible for such an absurd statement, and you have my full authority to deny my having any connection with it."

Now this is the second time I put in no little labor to run to earth a lie against the physical benefits to be derived from judicious cycling, and I am getting tired of doing so. It seems really too bad that the idiots who have penned these articles against wheeling, can't find something else to devote their talents to, outside of putting in the columns of the press such uncalled for and untrue items. It can always be demonstrated that they are not true, but the demonstration of the untruth does not always reach the reader who has read the lie itself, and thus the evil that such items cause are of much greater magnitude than one would at first sight suppose.

Hawkshaw.

THE TOURISTS IN IRELAND.

Referring to a band of wandering "tramps" at present masquerading in Ireland under the guise of American cyclists, pray allow a little space in your esteemed paper. To begin at the beginning, or rather to begin at the ending of the last screed, we sighted land (Ireland) at daybreak Monday, May 27th. Never was there a sight more welcome than that of the green hills and water-eaten rocks on the coast of the "ould sod." After a few hours of feverish excitement, we seemingly crawled on towards Queenstown. At last came lunch, and in the midst of it the Jackal, the Queenstown tender, hove in sight.

A few moments more and we were all on deck, answering with unearthly shouts the greetings of the crowd of fine Irish wheelmen who were there to welcome us.

Another few moments, and we were literally in their arms and on their necks. What a time! What a crowd! What a greeting! The Cephalonia steamed away amid our loudest cheers, with many newly made, but none the less esteemed and regretted friends, and as she faded from sight in the distance, the last we could see was the American flag which Priest was waving. Then, the steamer gone, we were "in for it." Owing to the calculations having been made for our arrival on Sunday, one day too soon, we were obliged (to keep on our programme) to take train to Cork, and after getting our wheels, leave by train the same evening for Youghal, twenty-five miles.

To retrace steps: Among the many hearty fellows on the tender to welcome us were Jack White, of Dublin, Chief Consul for Ireland, Mr. Brennan, Consul for Lismore and district. Mr. Allport (to whose care our wheels were sent, and to whose ready and energetic assistance we owed much of our comfort on arrival), and many others of Cork, Dublin, Limerick and different cities and counties. On arriving at Youghal we met an immense crowd of wheelmen, and the Devonshire Arms was owned and occupied that night by over a hundred cyclists. Before supper, under escort of the local men, we visited the old church,—A. D. 1300,—and also the house of Sir Walter Raleigh, saw the spot where he planted the first potato in Europe, and the yew tree under which he sat when the servant threw water on his head to extinguish the fire and smoke of the then new habit of smoking, thinking him to have been on fire internally. After tea came a rousing evening of song and good cheer (liquid and otherwise), in which all the very best endeavors (and they were many and successful) of the noble-hearted Irish wheelmen were used to make our first night in Ireland a memorable one. At some time about "to-morrow" the revelling and roystering ceased, and the "Ammurricans" were allowed a few hours to rest before starting on the "rocky road to Dublin."

Bright and early next day we were up and off on the first day's riding of the great tour, and revelling in unlimited mud and rain. Dinner was taken at Mt. Mellerey Abbey, where the monks gave us a splendid and substantial greeting. The afternooa was a repetition of the rain and mud, but all that was forgotten in the grand reception tendered the American tourists as they entered the town of Dungarvan. Under arches and flags and amidst the plaudits of some thousands of people, we wheeled single file to our hotel. On arrival, through the kindness of Mr. Brennan, of Dublin, and that of the proprietor of the baths, all were enabled to enjoy a hot sea-water bath, which was fully and gratefully appreciated. The evening which followed was spent at the house of wholesouled Mr. Brennan, who spread a banquet for our entertainment.

Next day, after lunch at Kew Ross, where had it not been for the O'Faed we should have starved, we arrived at Emns for the night. The evening was devoted to an entertainment and supper by a local temperance society, and where the bright smiles and pretty faces more than atoned for the absence of "Ballyhooly."

Next day rode for lunch to Gorey, where we saw the monthly fair and spent the night at at Rathdrum. This was the first and last evening on which we were allowed to find amusement for ourselves in Ireland. While on an after supper stroll through the village a cart was hired, and swarming on we led a rabble rout of villagers a pretty dance up and down their native hills.

Friday afternoon we visited the home of Charles S. Parnell, outside of Rathdrum.

Saturday morning was the beginning of our last day's ride to Dublin. Some preferred train, but the majority rode. A few, under escort of R. J. McCredy and his wife on a tandem, visited Glendalough.

The O'Faed got in up to his knees in the lake, more than once. On nearing Dublin the weary Yankees and their escort found a lunch spread for them by the proprietor of the Wicklow Hotel. After lunch they proceeded to "The Scalp," a pass through a cleft hill ten miles out of Dublin, where they rested until the Dublin boys, to the number of 200 or 300 at the very least, had gathered. Then the procession moved on to a suitable place, where a large group was photographed. The remainder of the ride was a triumphal progress, and all arrived at the Wicklow in good order and condition, save an unfortunate couple who had gone astray, and (so missing the lunch) arrived half famished.

After a couple of hours to cool off and dress in, all repaired to the "Shelburne," where a magnificent banquet awaited us. After the many good things were finished and cigars lighted, "the feast of reason and the flow of soul" began. Mr. J. E. Beal responded to the toast, "The President of the United States:" Mr. Elwell to that of "Our Visitors:" Mr. P. H. Rielly proposed the toast of "Cycling in Ireland," responded to by W. Tyner, Esq., and H. A. Quinton, Esq.; "The Cycling Press," by W. Percy Low, Esq., "The O'Faed," "The Scorcher," and other notable men in the cycling world.

The American yell was given with a vim, and after the toast of "The Chairman," by W. Baynham, Esq., "God Save the Queen," "Auld Lang Syne," "For He's a jolly Good Fellow," the great banquet came to a glorious end, and will dwell forever in the memory of those fortunate Americans who were present at it.

Sunday was spent quietly in resting, writing, church-going, etc., and to-day has been allowed that all may make necessary purchases and refit ship. To-night we take boat for Liverpool direct (change in programme), and after breakfasting there, ride to Chester for the day. In concluding it would be unnatural should I not express the ten times ten thousand obligations under which our warm hearted Irish fellow-cyclists have put us, and I would reiterate Mr. Elwell's words that should they ever (as we hope they may) visit our land, we could not in any manner repay them for their unbounded and unsparing good fellowship and assistance. In this connection it is only just to mention the name of "Jack" White, Chief Consul for Ireland, who has been our Mentor night and day since we sighted the tender at Queenstown; Colie O'Connell and T. O'Brien, who came from Limerick and rode to Dungarvan; Mr. Brennan, of Dungarvan, who did all man could do, and opened both his heart and his doors to us; The O'Faed and Mr. Jo Pennell, to whose experience and assistance we owe much of our comfort; and Mr. R. J. McCredy, who with Mrs. McC. met us outside Rathdrum. To these and to a hundred others whose names have slipped from a feeble memory, but whose kind deeds and words shall never be forgotten, we (I think and feel sure I may speak for all my fellow tourists) are forever most deeply indebted, and should any or all of them ever come to America, it is the duty of all American cyclists, both as Americans and cyclists, to see that the right hand of fellowship is stretched out to meet them everywhere.

LATER.—TOURISTS IN ENGLAND.

(From Bi News.)

A very rough passage was endured from Dublin to Liverpool, over thirteen hours being occupied upon the voyage, and the sea being so disturbed that no less than fifteen of the tourists were seasick. Breakfast having been taken on board, no prolonged stoppage was made at Liverpool, but the ferry was at once taken and wheels were mounted, a fine sunny morning enabling the ride to Chester to be accomplished before noon, first impressions of England being very favorable. After lunch, small groups set out upon separate tours of inspection of the interesting old town, and a party of twenty chartered a drag and drove to Hawarden, visiting the church and castle made famous by association with W. E. Gladstone, and thence to Eaton, the seat of the Duke of Westminister, the interior of whose magnificent mansion was inspected with keen appreciation of its costly adornments. A charming glimpse of one of the most sylvan stretches of the river Dee was enjoyed on the way back by the three—Collins, Cooper, and "Faed"—who elected to accompany the drag on their cycles; and after dinner several parties went boating on the Dee.

The absence of any local demonstration is a positive relief. We are told that all Chester was agog for our coming, on Sunday, and greatly disappointed at our non-arrival; but there is an evident impression that the welcome demonstration business was over done in Ireland; and the tourists will unquestionably prefer to be the recipients of such mild attentions as being escorted over local roads and having local "lions" indicated to them, rather than there should be a multiplicity of processional displays and big crowds.

Wednesday was an uneventful day, the ride being in a very commonplace district, and no local men joining except Oscar Taylor, who met us at Chester. Lunch was taken at Nantwich, and Stafford was reached with ease by 6 o'clock, the day being fine and warm, and the hills slight, but the surfaces indifferent. The attention of the Society for the Suppression of Vice is directed to the circumstance that the vile cobble stone pave in such village as Tarporley and Nantwich is calculated to provoke ebullitions of language totally unfit for publication.

LATEST.

(Cable to New York Herald.)

London, July 15.

The Stanley Cycling Club gave a dinner to the visiting American cyclists at the Inn's Court Hotel last evening, which was attended by nearly all the visiting wheelmen as well as by about sixty other advocates of rotary locomotion.

Toasts were drunk, speeches were made and songs were sung without number, and indeed everybody spent a most enjoyable evening and laid plans for the cycling excursion to Ripley to-morrow, when the American guests will be entertained by the Ripley Club.

JULY FOURTH IN HAGERSTOWN.

There is at least one place in this broad eagle stamped country where the rights of an American citizen are respected and unrestricted on the Fourth of July, and that place is Hagerstown, Maryland.

In that patriotic city you do not have to skulk up an alley, with one eye on the fire cracker and the other on the watch for a policeman, neither do you have to get a permit from the Mayor and go out in a ten-acre lot if you want to watch the frisky sky rocket scoot through the baby blue of our forty-five-mile atmosphere, to play tag with the comets and shine in opposition to the torches of space. No, you simply saunter down the street and toss the sizzing cracker in a friend's pocket, between the policeman's feet, at a stray dog, give it to a goat, or throw it in an open window, watch the result and keep an eye on some other fellow who has a bunch. When it comes time to give the sky rocket the grand send off, or in plainer words "the bounce," ten chances to one if you haven't a match the Mayor will furnish you one, and if it happens to go through some citizen's third story window, instead of where all good, well regulated sky rockets should go, the patriotic and light-hearted citizens will, if you want it, run upstairs and get you the stick.

In referring to my log book I find that I have spent two Fourths in Hagerstown.

In 1886 the Hagerstown Club sent an invitation to come up, have a parade, do up the road hog, etc., etc. This invite was extended to all the clubs, and members from nearly all were there.

A party of our club left Baltimore on the cars, bound to Winchester on the train, to ride over the pike to H. Those of us who went direct to H., consisting of Al and I, rode down to Williamsport the morning of the Fourth to meet them. They came along in three detachments, and I as usual joined the last and with them arrived in H. too late for the parade.

After dinner the fun began. I saw Yates and Al come walking up the street. Some one asked the former what made him look cross eyed. Both of them were too intent on some errand to make reply. We saw them disappear in a little store and in about ten minutes emerge, their pockets stuffed with fire crackers, torpedoes, spit devils and Roman candles. They walked solemnly down to the hotel and lighting a pack of crackers tossed them in the lobby, that was the beginning. In ten minutes there wasn't a cycler who wasn't amply supplied with those articles, and half the citizens likewise.

Down in the market space there was a potatoe race started. There were seven or eight long rows of potatoes, numbering say thirty to a row; the contestants were white and black boys from twelve to sixteen years old. At the head of each row a basket was placed. At the signal the contestants ran to the other end for the last potatoe, and returned to the basket to deposit it and then rush away for the then last one. He was the winner who first gathered up his row of potatoes.

The boys worked with a will until the smallest darkey boy, in his haste picked up a fire cracker, which exploded in his hand, instead of a potato. His antics were so amusing that spit devils, fire crackers and cart wheels were thrown amongst the potatoes so thick and fast that the contestants became demoralized and the race was stopped.

Strolling down by the hotel I noticed a cycler sitting in a chair tilted against the front wall, carelessly swinging his legs. "Zip!" a fiery ball struck the wall close to his head; blip! another struck him on the arm; clip! another caught him in the chest, followed by two others.

The astonished and scared cycler gazed with startled eyes straight before him, and there was Al. tossing the still smoking shell of a Roman candle away and preparing to light another, by which time his target had fled.

There was a parade later on, which was pretty thoroughly routed by the crackers, etc., thrown in it.

The end of the fun that day was late at night, and it was a tired crowd that went to bed.

But the greatest time we ever had in Hagerstown happened the night of July 3d the year before, that was 1885.

A party, consisting of Sam C., Ned LeC., Ned H., Al and I arrived there that night from Winchester. About 11 P. M. we started down the street accompanied by Geo. L. of H. and Charlie M. of our own club. We were on our way to the market space to listen to a contest between the home and, I think, the Williamsport band. There were in H. that night a number of country people and also four or five sets of visiting firemen, as that fraternity intended having a parade the next day.

We had gone about half a square when we heard the cry of fire! And sure enough there was the smoke pouring from the crevices between the window sashes in the third story of a four-story warehouse occupied by a hardware firm.

"Now," exclaimed Updy, "if you ever saw a circus you'll see one now."

And we did.

Everybody, men, women and children, rushed pell mell to the scene, shouting and hooting at the top of their voices. Horns were blowing, bands playing, shooting crackers bursting, Roman candles flaring, sky rocket hissing, dogs barking, and in the midst of the hubbub, up dash the hose companies. Everybody was there except the man who had the key to the door.

"Kick the door open, bust in the windows," were tossed back and forth by the spectators.

Then the hose lines were attached to the plugs, the Hagerstown reservoir is so high that the pressure alone will force the water as high as any of its buildings, so there is no need for engines.

Crack, crark, crack, comes the warning, as the water bursts from the brass nozzles and leaps high up to where the dark smoke issues.

"Hurrah!" yells the crowd as it falls against the windows but its long leap leaves it too weak to break them.

"Look out!" we hear the cry up at the corner and simultaneously with it see the crowd scatter to the right and left, as the long ladder ladened truck swings round, drawn by half a hundred excited men. Quickly the ladder is torn from it and eager hands began to rear it.

"Hurrah!" again cries the crowd, as they see its skeleton-like outlines rise up.

The end is fully twenty feet from the ground.

"Look out, everybody," cry the litters, as they suddenly release and spring from under it.

Down she came and flattened out from fifteen to twenty unwary victims.

"Ha! ha! ha!" laughs the crowd as they rise and limp away. "Bravo! here come some more greenies." And the ladder is again lifted and when the flies walk unsuspectingly under down it again comes. While one crowd of firemen are having fun with the ladder those with the different hose alternately water the front of the building and the crowd.

Everybody was bossing around and I was also out in the middle of the street, bossing as big and as loud as any one.

"Look out!" I heard a dozen voices cry. I saw those around me scatter and turning to find the danger, it, in the shape of a solid stream of water struck me square in the face, and in a moment I was drenched to the skin and gasping for breath.

The crowd laughed and rocked and clapped its hands as I beat a hasty retreat to the hotel. When I again appeared, decked in a coat that nearly twice encircled my thin frame, the fire, as I have it in my log book, had become tired of melting nails and spikes and had died out.

The windows of the first floor had been broken and it and the cellar flooded.

The crowd was dispersing, the firemen were reeling up their wet hose, and the truck bearing the deadly ladder was disappearing around the corner.

SECRETARY.

MISSOURI DIVISION MEET.

ABOUT 180 miles west of the city of St. Louis the traveller on the Missouri Pacific Railway will notice that the train toils laboriously up a steep incline, from the fertile valley of a small river. At the summit of the elevation such a beautiful panorama spreads out before him to enchant the lover of the beautiful and elicit expressions of wonder from the most callous and indifferent.

The rich prairies and intersecting fine roads roll away in billowy undulations to the west as far as the eye can reach. To the south the sinuous course of the Lamine river is outlined in the dim distance by the fringe of tall timber that skirts its fertile banks. To the northward the undulations break away in bolder swells to an irregular background of stately timber.

The train speeds on and in a very few minutes the billowy surface is seen to rise and fall in gentler and still gentler undulations. Farm houses dot the landscape, rich pastures sprinkled over with fine cattle and sheep float before the delighted traveller, orchards and flower gardens scent the balmy air, rich grasses and vegetables of all kinds spring from the pregnant earth, till the whole landscape seems a vast sea of emerald studded with islands of bloom. This, now, is Pettis County, of which Sedalia is the county seat, and who will open wide her doors to those that attend the Missouri Division meet on July 3d and 4th, concerning which I wish to add a few words. In the first place the division has much to be thankful for in having such a worker as Consul Joe H. Kelly, who has been hard at work early and late arranging a programme the like of which has never been offered by any city outside of the one having the national meet. Arrangements are now being made to have the "Little Nichol Base Ball Club," all of whose members belong to the Missouri Bi. Club, attend, and they will be pitted against the Y. M. C. A. ball club of Sedalia, on the morning of the 4th. The hotel arrangements have been perfected and Sicher's Hotel will be the League headquarters. Regular rates, $2 per day, with a reduction of 50 cents per day to League members. This reduction, however, will only be granted on presentation of League ticket. This rule will be strictly enforced and the committee will see that the cry "anybody can get those rates" will not be heard at this meeting, consequently be sure to bring your League ticket and also your wheel, as but a limited number if any will be for rent for this occasion. Chairman Holm of the Transportation Committee is hard at work to have tickets placed on sale on the evening of the 2d, at the one fare rate, and is in hopes of having the concession granted. If not, tickets will be on sale early on the morning of the 3d, and this will enable most of the visitors to reach Sedalia in time to participate in the first day's programme.

Sedalia is by common consent admitted to be one of the most beautiful and enterprising cities of the West. From a small beginning in 1860 it has grown into a populous city of 20,000 inhabitants, with all the appliances, conveniences and paraphernalia of metropolitan life. Beautifully laid out upon a rich rolling prairie, its ample streets afford abundant room for the ever-increasing traffic of its rapidly growing business, while its spacious avenues, flanked with handsome residences and embowered in rich green foliage, present a picture of industrial activity on the one hand, and of rest, comfort and contentment on the other, rarely equalled.

Chairman Kelly has arranged the following prizes for the races: 1, one-mile bicycle, open, prizes—First, gold medal; second, Butcher cyclometer. 2, half-mile bicycle, Missouri Division championship, open only to L. A. W. members—First, gold medal; second, diamond scarf pin. 3, one-mile bicycle handicap—First, B. L. double barrelled shot gun, presented by D. H. Smith Hdw. Co.; second, Smith & Wesson revolver, presented by T. W. Clouey. 4, two-mile, Missouri Division championship, open only to L. A. W. members—First, gold medal; second, L. A. W. diamond pin. 5, one-mile safety, handicap—First, elegant gold-headed cane, presented by F. E. Hoffman; second, Victor cyclometer, presented by Overman Wheel Co. 6, one-mile team, open, three men in each team, all from one club—Pope cup, presented by the Pope Mfg. Co. 7, one-mile novice, open only to those who never won a prize—First, gold medal, presented by Heinrichs, "my jeweler;" second, fine silk hat, presented by Shultz & Rockwell; third, pair Kangaroo shoes, presented by Van Wagoner Bros.; 4, gold pen and holder, by C. D. Dexter. 8, two-mile bicycle, handicap—First, gold medal; second, nickeled Kelly saddle, presented by H. B. Smith Machine Co.; third, Dunlap hat, presented by J. A. Lamy & Co. 9, one-mile safety, open—First, B. L. D. B. shotgun; second, Standard cyclometer, presented by Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co.; third, bicycle racing shoes. 10, one-mile consolation—First, silver medal; second, set boxing gloves; third, gent's toilet set, presented by A. T. Fleischman; fourth, one dozen fine silk handkerchiefs, presented by F. B. Meyer & Bro. Banquet at Sicher's Park Hotel at 8.30 P. M.; presentation of prizes, 11 P. M.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT BOSTON, MASS.—The handicap race of the Harvard Bicycle Club took place last Saturday. The course was six times around Chestnut Hill reservoir, a distance of seven miles. Davis and Greenleaf were handicapped so heavily that they came in three-quarters of a mile behind the winner. The most interesting part of the race was between Davis and Greenleaf, the latter winning by about 100 yards. Barron won the race, his time being 23 minutes 51 seconds. Barron is developing into an unusually good rider. His time was within 47 seconds of Greenleaf's, although he rode a heavy machine an inch too large for him. Below is the order of the finish with the handicaps and time: (1) Barron, '91, handicap 3 1-4 min., time 23m. 51s.; (2) Holmes, '92, handicap 3 1-2m, time 24m. 17 1-2s.; (3) Spencer, '90, handicap 5m., time 26m. 19 1-2s.; (4) Rodemann, handicap 5m, time 27m. 16s.; (5) Greenleaf, '92, scratch, time 23m. 3 3-4s.; (6) Davis, '91, scratch, time 23m. 13s.

AT BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 15.—Rain and heavy track did not prevent the races at the Brooklyn Athletic grounds on Saturday. The rain destroyed an excellent chance for good gate, not one-tenth the number of spectators being present that there probably would have been had the weather been propitious. The cinder track had been put into splendid condition, and good sport was anticipated, but the steady downpour caused the track to be partly covered with water. The events resulted as follows: One-mile race for novices, run in two heats and a final; T. B. Hesse and A. S. Farmer won the first heat in 3m. 31 2-5s., and the second heat fell to A. H. Miles and H. A. Ostermayer, all of the Kings County Wheelmen; time, 3m. 41 3-5s. Hesse won the final heat easily in 4m.. Farmer second. In the two-mile race for members of the Long Island Wheelmen, C. H. Wise and W. Schumacher, both allowed 50 yards start, made a rare fight until the last lap, when Schumacher forged ahead and won; time, 6m. 55 2-5s. George W. Kieger, who started, dropped out at the end of a mile. One-mile race for safety wheels only, W. F. Murphy, Kings County Wheelmen (70 yards), first; W. G. Class, Brooklyn Bicycle Club (80 yards), second; J. F. Borland, Brooklyn Bicycle Club (80 yards), third; time, 3m. 35 3-5s. One-mile handicap, in two trial heats and a final: first heat—T. B. Hesse, Kings County Wheelmen (80 yards), first; L. L. Clarke, Brooklyn Athletic Club (75 yards), second; time, 3m. 19 3-5s. Second heat—F. S. Brown, Kings County Wheelmen (55 yards), first; C. M. Murphy, Kings County Wheelmen (55 yards), second; time, 3m. 25 3-5s. Final heat—Hesse, first; C. M. Murphy, second; Burgess, third; time, 3m. 3 2-5s. One-mile for novices, open to members of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club—W. E. Sheffield, first; W. J. Masterson, second; time, 3m. 55 3-5s. One-mile ride and run (in this event the men rode one lap, dismounted and ran a lap, pushing their machines, remounted, rode another lap, and so on)—R. W. Stiver, Kings County Wheelmen, won easily; E. P. Baggot, Kings County Wheelmen, second; time, 4m. 54s. Three-mile handicap—W. Schumacher, Long Island Wheelmen (100 yards), and W. F. Murphy, Kings County Wheelmen (175 yards), had a good fight for first place, Schumacher winning; time, 12m. 24 1-5s. One-mile consolation—Won by H. O. King, Kings County Wheelmen; J. Hanson, New York Club, second; time, 4m. 1-5s.

AT DETROIT, June 15.—Track.—Two-mile bicycle race, A. E. Lumsden, first; time, 6m. 6 1-6.

AT NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—Road.—Fourth race for the Batson medal. The road was in poor condition, being inches deep in dust, and fast time was out of the question. W. C. Greyot, with a start of fifty seconds, did some good riding, and finished first, doing the three miles in 13m. 25s.; R. M. Sprigg (scratch), second, in 12m. 55s.; L. J. Frederic, (thirty seconds) "headered," and was buried out of sight in the dust.

AT PHILADELPHIA.—The races at the Odd Fellows' annual sports held at the State Fair grounds on Saturday were well contested, but, as usual, resulted in a walk-over for W. W. Taxis. This young man, who is but 18, is developing into a first-class rider, and with practice and training will, I think, make one of the coming flyers. I put him down as unquestionably the fastest man in Pennsylvania today. Six men started in the one mile race against a heavy head wind and a rough track. Taxis won, with Draper second, the latter losing a shoe in his final effort, with Pyle a short head back. The latter leaned too far forward and took a header right on the tape. In the two-mile race Taxis won, with McDaniel second and M. J. Baily third. Time of winner, 7 min. 13 3-4 sec. By the time the seven mile race was started it had commenced to cloud over, and when about two miles had been ridden the storm broke. The rain came down in torrents, and all the spectators who were housed in the grand stand, expected to see the contestants give up. It was too much for some of them, but Taxis, McDaniel, Draper, Kendrick and Baily kept on. Just in front of the grand stand one of the spectators in crossing the track got directly in front of Baily, giving him a header and throwing him out of the race, and Kendrick soon after skidded his wheel on the wet clay, and he gave out. Taxis, McDaniel and Draper were now the only three left, and they stuck to it until they were forced to dismount by the machines clogging with mud. Although off their wheels the race was not yet over, the riders trundling their wheels, and Taxis's long stride put him ahead of the others. McDaniel attempted to carry his machine, but he soon gave that up, and Draper and the M. C. A. man stuck it out for another lap through the mud and rain. They were then stopped by the judges, who awarded first prize to Taxis, amid the enthusiastic cheers of the spectators, who applauded the plucky riders again and again.

AT NEW YORK, June 15.—Under the auspices of the New York Athletic Club, Two-mile bicycle race was won by E. Valentine; time, 6m. 58 2-5s.

AT EXETER, N. H., June 12th.—Track.—Interscholastic tournament between Phillips Exeter and Phillips Andover. One-mile bicycle race, heats, first heat won by Burr of Andover, time, 3.19 1-4; second heat won by Hallock of Andover, time, 3.22 3-4; both beating records in each school. One-mile bicycle race, won by Hallock of Andover; time, 3m. 18s.

AT DENVER, COL., June 17.—The six days' female bicycle race, between Helen Baldwin, Jessie Woods, Kittie Brown, Jessie Oakes and Louise Armaindo, was concluded at the Athletic Park at 10.30 P. M. last night. Brown won by only 8 feet, making 185 miles 528 feet; Baldwin, 185 miles 520 feet; Armaindo, 175 miles 2 laps; Woods, 151 miles 3 laps. While on the track Tuesday Oakes took a header, which rendered her insensible for two hours and forced her to retire from the race.

AT BOSTON.—W. S. Doane, of the Dorchester Bi. Club, started out on Sunday morning, June 16, at 5 A. M., and rode to Providence, via Sharon and Foxboro', a distance of 45 miles, in four hours and five minutes. For 30 miles out of the 90 miles on the round trip the roads were beastly and the weather very warm. After stopping in Providence for about one and one half hours he climbed College Hill, a well known hill to wheelmen, and rode via Pawtucket and North and East Attleboro to Dorchester, arriving there shortly after 4 o'clock, with 94 miles to his credit, and then he started out again and finished the 100 miles in 10 hours 55 minutes total time, and 8.55 actual time, having stopped just three hours for rest, nourishment, etc. Between Foxboro and East Attleboro' he met the Cambridge Club on their run to Providence, and at Pawtucket met Mr. H. L. Spencer. At Foxboro' rode to Sharon with Mr. Rich and met several acquaintances of his at Cobbs'. Doane used a Butcher Cyclometer, and at the start it registered 6 miles and at the finish 113 miles and a small fraction, making a total distance of 107 miles in total time of 13 hours 20 minutes. This we think is the best time ever made on a safety in this country for 100 miles on the road, and also the longest day's run that has yet been taken. Doane's idea was not to run for time but just to see if he could run the 100 miles. His mount was a Royal Singer Safety geared to 57 inches, and weighing about 40 pounds.

GREAT CENTURY MEMENTOS.

THE G. C. R. memento pins will be ready about the 24th of June, and are being made by John Frick, New York, at a cost of one dollar each, but are only obtainable through the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, L. A. Clark, 25 Broad street, to whom the money should be sent as early as possible. Only those actually in the run are eligible to purchase them.

Each "survivor" will receive an extra bar marked with that word in relief. The design is that of a wheel, in relief, with five spokes on a disc of silver one and one eighth inches in diameter, among the spokes of which is twined a ribbon, containing the words, in relief, "Great Century Run—Orange to Philadelphia—June 8—1889," and in the centre are the figures "100."

The committee will take pleasure in presenting, on completion, one of the memento pins done in gold to Miss Kate W. Welch, of Germantown, as an expression of appreciation by the G. C. R., 1889, of that young lady's plucky ride. In this find the promised explanation of the expenditure of the balance remaining in the committee's hands.

Both Trenton photographs have been received in New York and are very good. They are fifty-four cents each, including postage, and may be obtained by sending that amount either to D. S. Crystal & Co., 208 Broad street, Trenton, or to L. Haldridge, 4 South Green street. The latter was the "man in the window."

A TRIP TO HALIFAX AND ANNAPOLIS, NOVA SCOTIA.

A PARTY of wheelmen will leave Boston about July 1 by boat to Halifax, N. S., and thence by wheel to Annapolis, a distance of about 115 miles over most excellent roads. At Halifax, from July 5 to July 10, a summer carnival of outdoor sports will be held, and it is the purpose of the wheelmen to take this in. The wheelmen of Halifax will take the visitors in hand and look after them during their stay in that city.

The Cambridgeport (Mass.) Club have the matter in charge, and are anxious to have wheelmen from New England, New York, Washington, Philadelphia, and, in fact, from all over the country, join them. It will be a most delightful trip, and the valley of the Annapolis is famed the world over for its beauty. The carnival at Halifax will be one of all kinds of outdoor sports, and the military and naval displays by the British garrison and fleet will be a novel feature.

The regular fare to and from Halifax by boat is about $10, but it is hoped to get a reduction from these prices. Wheels ridden by excursionists will be admitted into Nova Scotia free of duty on personal bond being given that they be taken back into the United States.

For further particulars address W. T. Roop, 557 Main, street, Cambridgeport, Mass.; or R. B. McLean, 407 Main street Cambridgeport, Mass.

A correspondent writes: "Mr. E. Elliott's quadricycle seems to be the popular machine for giving the babies an airing. I think there are no less than eight gentlemen in Newton who employ the wheel to give baby a ride, and I saw one the other day with a double seat add two babies on wheel."

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., of Newark, N. J., report good returns from their advertisement in the BICYCLING WORLD. See their second-hand list as corrected in this issue.

"THE best thing yet!" That is the way a young man put it who made arrangements to work for B. F. Johnson & Co., of Richmond, Va. You can get further information by dropping them a card.

MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

WE received a most elegant illustrated Guide to Boston, and we desire to acknowledge to Messrs. Singer & Co. our thanks for the same. The book contains 304 pages of most valuable information and the illustrations are excellent. The cover is in colors and is a work of art. To those visiting, or about to visit Boston, the Guide would prove invaluable.

MR. H. S. OWEN of the Capitol Cycle Co., of Washington, and importers of the Psyco, was in the city last Tuesday and we had the pleasure of a call from him. He reports business as being excellent and is making preparations for a still further increase.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of level ing it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

"One Way to Take a Little Exercise."

Canon Moore, the late Vicar of Spalding, used to tell a good story against himself. In his capacity of magistrate he was once visiting the county jail, and, expatiated to a friend who was with him on the virtues of the treadmill. Warming with his theme, he declared that he often wished he had one at home to give him the gentle exercise he required, but was too lazy to take, except under compulsion; and, to remove his friend's scepticism, he asked the warder to give him a turn. Round went the mill, the Canon declaring that the movement was delightful, but after about two minutes of it he had had quite enough, and called on the warder to stop the mill. To his horror the warder answered: "Very sorry, sir, I can't; its timed to go fifteen minutes, and won't stop before."

L. P. Thayer, Editor of the Vermont Bicycle, writes: "The Volant goes finely, and has already made a favorable impression among the boys."

Danville, Ky., June 10, 1889.

Connecticut Division.

A meeting of the Board of Officers of this Division was held Monday, June 10th, in the rooms of the Columbia Cycle Club, Hartford.

Meeting called to order at 3.30, Chief Consul Larom in the chair.

The following gentlemen were present: Chief Consul C. E. Larom; Vice Consul, Chas. L. Brockway; Secretary-Treasurer, E. A. De Blois; and Representatives, D. J. Post and W. H. Squire.

An invitation from the Bridgeport Wheel Club and the Rambling Wheelmen to hold the next annual meeting of the Division at Bridgeport during the early part of July was accepted and the Secretary was instructed to notify them to that effect, and to also inform them that the Chief Consul would shortly appoint the date on which it would be most convenient for the Division to attend.

Motion to hold a Fall Division Meet at Hartford early in September, date or dates to be named by Chief Consul later, and that the sum of $200 be appropriated to be disbursed in entertaining the members of the Division, by a committee of three, Chief Consul chairman with power to appoint remaining members, was carried.

After some discussion it was decided not to re-issue another lot of Road Books this year, as it was thought enough remained on hand to last through the season.

Adjourned, E. A. DE BLOIS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Kansas.

Fourth annual meet Kansas Division L. A. W. at Ottawa, Kansas, June 4th and 5th, 1889. Meeting was called to order by Chief Consul W. C. Bradley in the chair; no business coming on motion adjourned to 10 o'clock next morning.

Meeting called to order by C. C. Bradley in chair. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Secretary-Treasurer's report read and referred to Finance Committee. Report of Racing Board that they had given the Ottawa Wheelmen the half mile, one mile and five mile State championship, and the Atchison Wheelmen the two mile, three mile and ten mile State championship was accepted.

On motion of Charles Davis the election of Racing and Touring Committee be deferred until some routine business be brought up and carried. On motion that a committee be appointed to get up a goodly number of new hand books was carried. Otto H. Wuttekuhler and Chas. S. Davis were the committee appointed.

Then on motion, a committee be appointed to revise their Constitution and By Laws to conform with the National was carried, and F. W. Metcalf, A. R. Mulvane and Otto Wuttekuhler were appointed.

Then the following changes were separately adopted:

In Art. III. of Constitution to insert the following after the word "members," one representative from each League club of not less than 20 members, and an additional representative for each 50 additional members upon its roll on July 1st.

The term of office shall commence on the first day of September each year.

Art. II. of By-Laws, Sec. "A." to insert the words "between the 15th day of July and 15th day of August" after the word Division.

Art. II. of By-Laws, Sec. 1 "B." Order of Business shall be: 1, Roll Call; 2, Reading records of previous meeting; 3, Report of Chief Consul; 4, Report of Secretary-Treasurer; 5, Communication from Board of Officers; 6, Report of Committees; 7, Election of Officers; 8, Election of Racing Committee; 9, Election of Touring Committee; 10, Miscellaneous Business; 11, Adjournment.

Art. II. of By-Laws to make a new section, No. 4, as follows: The officers shall hold an annual meeting in the month of September, and shall elect from the Division one delegate for each 200 members upon its roll on Sept. 1st; such delegate with the Chief Consul and Vice Consul shall represent the Division at the National Assembly.

On motion and carried the changes and additions were adopted as a whole, and committee still continued to investigate if any more changes or additions are necessary.

On motion of Henry Flynn a vote of thanks be tendered the Ottawa Wheelmen for hospitality, use of rooms, etc., was carried.

On motion and carried the old Racing and Touring Committees were elected unanimously by acclamation.

At roll call 39 members were present. Adjourned.

OTTO H. WUTTEKUHLER,
Sec.-Treas. Kansas Div.

New League Clubs.

The following clubs have qualified as League Clubs and filed proper certificates in the office of the Secretary. They are numbered as below:

No. 228—New Lisbon Wheelmen, New Lisbon, Ohio. W. H. Pritchard, Sec.

No. 229—Columbia Bicycle Club, Buffalo, N. Y. W. H. H. Bailey, Sec.

No. 230—Whitinsville Bi. Club, Whitinsville, Mass. A. S. Noyes, Sec.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Gents: Since I received my 39x24 Star and having used it and given it a thorough trial, I have now convinced myself that it is all that is claimed for it. For hill climbing in particular—well, I can only say that it is the boss of them all, and cannot be excelled; it is the best wheel for road riding, and can be easily controlled on rough roads; it is not as sensitive as the ordinary chain safeties of the crank pattern, and can be easily handled in rutty roads. I find that almost any rider of the ordinary bike can mount and ride it at first trial, and are pleased with the way it handles. It is much lighter than any of the road riding safeties, and I feel confident that in the near future the safety riders will find that the 39x24 Star will be worth consideration, and it will not take much to convince them that it is "the wheel" for safety and all around riding. Respectfully,
HAL W. GREENWOOD,

Gentlemen:—The 39x24 Star is the machine for this immediate country. No machine on the market is its equal on the hills or rough roads, in my judgment; I except no machine, and we have seven different kinds in this town. Yours, etc.,

REGULAR COLUMBIAS.

A "Safety Year," certainly, inasmuch as more Safeties have been sold this season than during any other season; yet the regular bicycles hold the riding lead. All the wheelmen of America are not forsaking the standard machines. Take the POPE MFG. Co.'s orders, for example, day by day, as the mail and telegraph bring them in — Safeties, many of them; regulars, on many days a great many more regulars.

Columbia Light Roadster.

The handsomest, strongest, most extensively used, and most generally satisfactory Light Roadster ever made. More good points than are to be found in any other single Bicycle. The lightest road machine. Compare its actual weight with that of any other brought into competition with it.

"The nearest to perfection of anything yet attained in wheel construction."

Volunteer Columbia.

The best wheel for the money ever seen. Made to ride, and guaranteed to wear. All steel, and no castings.

Why spend your dollars for a second-hand Bicycle when the same amount will buy a new Columbia?

The general construction of the Expert, with some of its least essential advantages modified. A saving of money without a loss of efficiency. Study it up in the Columbia catalogue, and examine the machine itself.

Expert Columbia.

Best known Bicycle in the world. The established favorite for long-distance touring, and all other uses where the highest possible qualities are requisite, with durability pre-eminent.

The best made and equipped all-round Roadster; and note this point, it's just as light as most Light Roadsters.

Direct spokes for durability, elasticity, and ease of repair when necessary. All our latest improvements.

Columbia Semi-Roadster.

Give the boy a real Bicycle, and remember that the best is the cheapest, because it will last the longest, and has a market value when you are through with it.

Columbia Bicycles, like Brewster carriages, may cost a little more to begin with, but the value is there, and you can depend upon it.

The most durable, easiest running, and best equipped Boy's Bicycle yet built.

AT THE HEAD OF THE LINE AT THE FINISH, YOU SEE.

THE POOR OLD POETRY MACHINE BROKE DOWN RIGHT THERE (BECAUSE IT WASN'T A VICTOR), SO WE ONLY PAUSE TO REMARK IN PLAIN, BUT EMPHATIC PROSE, THAT VICTORS HAVE A CHEERFUL HABIT OF SHOWING UP IN "FIRST PLACES" WHETHER THE QUESTION IS OF SPEED, EASE OF RUNNING, OR ALL-AROUND EXCELLENCE IN ACTIVE USE.

THEY ARE VERY FINE TO LOOK AT, BUT THAT ISN'T WHAT THEY ARE BUILT FOR. ASK THEIR RIDERS HOW VICTORS ACT ON THE ROAD, UP HILL AND DOWN, AND HOME AGAIN.

There has been a good deal said about

The Irvington-Millburn Road Race.

We haven't said much, did'nt know we had a wheel in it, in fact.

We understand there were a good many specially constructed and very light bicycles in the race, but it remained for one of our ordinary under Bensinger to win the

TIME CUP.

The only other wheel of our make in the competition finished second.

Funny how things turn out, isn't it?

Decoration Day was certainly our plum. We took first place in the Pullman race, you know, with 70 starters.

THE management of this paper refuse to print in the advertising columns of this paper any matter that is disparaging of a rival or which in its estimation is objectionable in any way.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 28 JUNE, 1889.

WE are unavoidably absent from the League Meet at Hagerstown. We send "Jack" as our special correspondent, and any one with news of importance for publication in the official organ, will please give it to him.

TWICE within the space of two or three months has our attention been called to some wondrous statement as to the dire results of cycling on the human health, and as many times has it been our pleasant duty to be able to nail these statements as lies made up out of whole cloth.

The first case was of millions of polypi found in the stomach of a cyclist who "brought it on" by the fearful practice of cycling. An investigation showed that the story was one to make even a Munchausen blush, and the polypi, if any, only existed in the brain spaces of the scribbling idiot who penned the item.

The last case and one that was the most serious was to the effect that Dr. Agnew had stated that cycling and spinal complaint were inseparable.

Reputing to come from so distinguished a source we natuaally were desirous of disproving the truth of it, and so our New York correspondent took pains to interview the eminent physician, as per last issue, and he secured from him a flat denial that he had ever made such a statement, or anything akin to it.

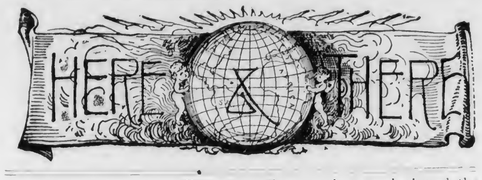
The fool killer ought to be very busy among such sensational, penny-a-liners who are responsible for such outrageous and damaging statements as those alluded to.

JUDGING from the manner in which the Racing Board is suspending, we should imagine that simple "warnings" have no effect on some people and that nothing but sad experience will teach these obtuse individuals that the Racing Board made the ruler to be lived up to and not to be changed, modified or ignored at will.

A rule not enforced is worse than no rule at all but that this particular Board is composed of men who propose to see that amateurs live up to the letter of the rules made for their guidance, no one will gainsay who have watched the action of the board during the past few months. The first duty of race promoting clubs and men, is to procure a copy of the L. A. W. Racing Rules and the next duty is to see that the races are run according to these same rules.

IT is not the custom of this paper to be over-squeamish about the matter offered for its advertising columns, but an instance in our last week's issue occurred which seems to us to offer good occasion for our drawing a line. It is not the first time, but we intend it shall be the last.

When questions of private legal rights arise between parties, such disputes should be settled in the courts and not be made the subject of advertising. Many of our patrons have now patent rights of some nature, and quite a number of them notify others in the trade of infringements, and sometimes bring suits to establish their claims. Results of litigation and any legitimate news or information we willingly give in our columns. But neither differences of opinion nor litigation between rivals can entitle either to directly disparage the other's character or goods in our pages, whether the space be paid for or not.



Protecting what one considers his proper rights under the laws of the country, and resorting to the courts to restrain an invasion, after offering to settle or license on what such patentees consider reasonable terms, is quite legitimate and proper. There may be right and wrong on both sides. There may be one combined interest clashing with another combined interest. But calling names and disparaging attacks settle nothing, do not help our readers, enlighten nobody, and are not fair to our patrons, and while the present management has control of this paper our columns will be hereafter closed against such attacks whether in the shape of advertisements or otherwise.

THE New York Post in a late issue calls attention to the increased interest evinced all over the country on the question of better roads. When we can work the ruralist up to the appreciation of the fact that good roads mean increased values for what they possess, we shall have reached the point where every Legislator will have to show his hand as to whether he is in favor of "better roads and election to office," or the present "go-as-you-please" system and retainment of his private citizenship.

The time is not very far distant when the roads question will figure very prominently in the State and county politics of this country. Below we give the Post's article:

"Evidence accumulates that the necessity for better roads is coming to be appreciated everywhere. The new Governor of New Hampshire devotes a paragraph of his message to the subject, with especial reference to the bearing of good roads in the mountain districts of the State upon the financial prosperity of the people. 'The income to our people from visitors to our mountains,' says Gov. Goodell, 'is immense and increasing annually. I trust you will continue the liberal spirit of past Legislatures in this direction.' One illustration of this 'liberal spirit' is the appropriation made by the last Legislature, two years ago, towards the building of a mountain road from the Pemigewasset Valley up Moosilauke, which will be opened this summer."

WE are pleased to enroll the name of the Farrington (Conn.) Register among the journals which are helping the cause of road improvements. That paper prints extracts from the League book on road repairs, and makes very sensible comment thereon.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

GOVERNOR FRANCIS last week signed the Senate bill on Roads and High ways. This bill, it is hoped, will result in something being done to put our roads in better condition than heretofore. The Governor also has under consideration Kansas City's Park Bill, which gobbles up for park purposes the liquor license money that has been going to the Jackson Co. road fund. It is to be hoped that he will refuse to sign it, as money for parks can always be raised, but for roads never.

WHEELMEN seem to be becoming benedicts in great numbers this year, and I have now before me cards announcing the marriages of Gerry Jones, Harry G. Stuart ("Mentor") and P. W. Stout.

E. H. CUNNINGHAM, of the Missouris, is on a tour through Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. He writes from Terre Haute that the roads for the greater part were in a terrible condition on account of the incessant rains. The National road was the only rideable one he has yet struck.

ON the day of the last Stone-Lumsden race Ed Bates was maliciously run down by a drunken road hog on Twenty-second and Locust street. His bicycle was completely wrecked and he narrowly escaped serious injury. He, having obtained the name of the party who did the damage and the names of witnesses who promised to testify, laid the matter before Chief Consul Brewster and Chairman A. M. Berry of the Rights and Privileges Committee, who promise to bring suit for assault if the matter is not compromised before hand. Thus the L. A. W. takes care of its Missouri members. Will the "can't-see-the-benefit" crowd please note?

ALL of the Cycle Club's racing men are in hard training for the Sedalia races. Up to date but three of the Missouris have started to get themselves into shape and it would therefore not surprise me to see the former carrying off the lion's share of the prizes. With the number of fast men the Missouris boast this is to be regretted. It seems to me were I a racing man a feeling of club pride would induce me to step in and do my best, irrespective of results.

THE stockholders of the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association held a meeting at the Missouri Club last Monday night, and after hearing the statement of the Treasurer read and adopting a code of by-laws, voted to give a grand tournament on their track some time during August. It will be a big affair and prizes of sufficient value, of which a $100 medal is already assured, will be offered to attract the fastest men of the country. Prof. C. H. Stone was chosen manager of the track, and his election cannot help but to result in much good.

FOR over six years, whenever streets were reconstructed granite was the material used, but Street Commissionsr Burnet intends to shortly call a halt, for the reason that the pavement is too expensive for anything but the business portion, and it is thought he will substitute wood block, brick, or even asphaltum. In view of the fact that whole mountains of the latter mineral have been discovered in Utah, and a corporation with a capital of $2,000,000 formed with Mr. A. Busch at the head, the price of this asphaltum should experience a tumble shortly.

I OFTEN wonder how many persons claim to be the proud possessor of the first bicycle ever brought to America. Dick Hurck claims to be one of these, and shows the wheel Dick Garrey brought home with him from the Centennial. In spite of hard usage it is still in good condition and could be ridden anywhere. The spokes, which are double, pass through a staple fastened on to the rim and are riveted to the hub. A peculiar arrangement consisting of two long arms extends from the axle to the top and bottom of the front wheel rim to obviate its buckling.

THE ladies' bicycle continues to slowly but surely make its way to the front, and I hear of quite an extended trip taken last Sunday by some of the fair ones, in company with Geo. Wilder. President Lucas of the Cycle Club is an enthusiast on the subject, and has taught Mrs. Lucas and a number of other ladies the art of riding. The mount seems to be the stumbling block and is the hardest thing of all to learn, so he says.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

THE regular quarterly meeting of the division board of officers was held on Wednesday, the 19th inst. The election of officers, which by the new constitution must take place between July 15 and August 15, was discussed. It was resolved that nominations be made by a committee as follows: Each club made up or parlty composed of League members is to choose one representative on this committee, with one additional for each 25 after the first 25 League members By July 20th these selections must be made known to the Chief Consul. The unattached League members are to be represented on a basis of one committee man to twenty-five, such representatives to be designated by the board of officers. The committee so made up must meet nominations not later than July 25, (proxies being allowable), and report not later than July 25th. The election will then follow by mail vote.

THE Cumberland, Md., Times, in its issue of the 18 inst., says that an effort will be made to have the next meet of the L. A. W. at Wheeling, W. Va.

A GAME of ball was played at Hagerstown between the active and associate members of the Hagerstown Club. The game proved interesting and enjoyable. The score was 26 to 13, in favor of the associates.

THE club championship race of the Hagerstown meet races has been abandoned and an open mile tandem safety race substituted.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

PROBABLY the greatest possible boom to boom to the women's bicycle that it has ever received was given it in the columns of the Sunday World on the 23d. On that day Miss Miss Nellie Bly, New York's greatest woman correspondent, had a two-column illustrated article on the wheel and her experience in learning to ride it. It was a most flattering testimonial to the bicycle from the pen of a brilliant writer, and the far-reaching of it among the ladies of this city can hardly be estimated. In Miss Bly's article she says: "Riding on a wheel is the most delightfully perfect amusement ever imagined or invented." Miss Bly is one of the most daring and noted of the vast army of newspaper writers in this country. Among some of her exploits in this direction may be noted her performance as an insane and homeless girl on Blackwell's Island for two weeks, during which time she so completely fooled the physicians as to her mental condition that it was only after they read her article in the papers that they knew she had been shamming. On another occasion she had herself accused of picking a confederate's pocket and was, as a result, locked up in a station house all night, from which she was discharged with a Scotch verdict of "not proven" only to once more to put the experience she had undergone into print.

As will be seen from these two examples, Miss Bly has heretofore devoted her talents to the investigation and exposure of various kinds of abuses, and her present article on her wheeling experience gains added force from the fact that it is one of the very rare occasions in which she has appeared in print to bestow praise upon anything. The wheelwomen and men of this country owe Miss Bly a debt of gratitude for her efforts in behalf of her fellow women and the wheel.

W. I. HARRIS, your old Boston confrere, runs the sporting and dramatic of The Press here, has not lost his interest in the wheel, as is clearly shown by his continued use of it for his own and his wife's pleasure and by the space he devotes to the cause in the columns of his paper. As an example of how his interest in wheeling is still retained, though somewhat tinged with his profession of musical critic, a recent invention of his is worthy of attention, especially in the Italian quarter. He has taken out letters patent on a hand-organ tricycle and the result promises to be a fortune for Brother Harris, as the returns from the invention will be simply stupendous, and the time is not now far distant when his income from it will enable him to lay aside the pen of the newspaper man for the coupon-clipping shears of the millionnaire. The invention consists of mounting a hand-organ, cymbals, and tambourine upon the front part of a tricycle, whereon is seated the son of sunny Italy who is to reap the copper harvest of the nimble money. As soon as the machine is put in motion by the number ten brogan of the owner, the movement of the wheel at once produces the motive power necessary to run the entire musical aggregation. The monkey's place in the affair is taken by a contribution box, which is extended and drawn back by a lever worked by the foot. Mr. Harris claims for this invention the following advantages: "(1) It can play a tune backward if the rider wishes to go that way: (2) a tune begun in one tour can be suspended, by detaching the iron rod, and continued in the next street if for any reason the grinder wishes to leave a locality very quickly: (3) it gives the monkey a vacation: (4) it allows the tambourine girl a chance to go home and wash her hands and face and sew up the rents in her clothing: (5) it will not cost much more than a hand organ and tricycle separately." A circular printed in the most perfect guinea-pig Italian has been issued by Mr. Harris, and distributed among the most aristocratic neighborhoods of Mulberry street, where most of the retired and very tired hand organ manipulators reside, setting forth these and other advantages of his invention, and the result has been more excitement for the past few days in the Italian quarter than has been known there since Garibaldi quit making candles on Staten Island. A special meeting of the "Padrone's Protective Association" has been called to act upon this threatened invasion of their domain, while the "Dago Hand Organ Trust" has reduced the rentals upon all their stock of organs to meet the competition of Mr. Harris' invention. I need not say, however, that neither these powerful organizations nor anything else can hope to combat the victorious march of the tricycle-hand-organ, and the subsequent flow of the golden, or rather copper, shower into the pockets of Mr. Harris. In passing I might just note the fact that I am afraid that the machine isn't going to be a very easy running one though, as it will always be a case of "grind" with the rider of one.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

WE hope to have representatives at Hagerstown in July, and at present accounts it looks as though several of our men would attend. "Salina" would give his last year's cycling trousers to be present, but his contract with the WORLD reads that he shall remain in Syracuse and gather what news he may be able to, or make up what he can't gather.

THURSDAY evening a large party ran to Pleasant Beach to attend a moonlight picnic there. The boys had lots of time, and "trained it" back.

AT an excursion at Frenchman's Island, Oneida River, recently, they had a bicycle race. E. L. Lancaster, S. C. C., took first prize, and A. L. Bradley, S. C. C., second. Lancaster is in hand training for the races at Herkimer, July 4th.

WILL some philanthropic party kindly, quietly but firmly, ask Lute Wilson about the reserved seats at Fayetteville? We are told an indignation meeting was held after the entertainment, regarding the poor service of the ushers. However, it so happens that the ushering was left in the hands of two regular ushers of the Theatre de Devon, which lets the club out of any responsibility in that direction.

CHICAGO.

THE "STROLLER."

IN the two-mile bicycle race at the athletic games in Detroit Lumsden won easily by a lap, and received a very handsome medal for the same. The Detroit boys do things up in shape, and no mistake. Arthur says this is the first soft snap he has struck during his racing career.

SO New Orleans is after the League meet for 1890. Well we have set our heart on having it here that year, but will give the "Dixie" boys chance for it in "91."

NO. "Salina," the "Stroller" has not been in the salty city as yet but if he ever does go there his first inquiry will be for you, and until then "may your shadow never grow less."

"PHOENIX" BERGER, in his quiet, unassuming way, entertained a number of his club mates until a late hour at the Chicago's club house the other evening with a plain, unvarnished (?) account of his trip to London and the sights therein. I should have liked to have been one of the fortunate listeners and heard the ejaculations of Ayres and Ingalls, who I understand were present, as fairy tale followed fairy tale in rapid succession, to the end of the chapter.

INGALLS is springing the following question on Chicagoites: "Are you going to the Illinois Club Division meet at Ottawa?" Are you looking for trouble, my gay and speculative friend? If not you had better keep on the south side after dark or become less sarcastic. The I. C. C. men are anxious to have the Chicagos enter a team for the team race at Ottawa, while the three Cs seem to be inclined to the belief that they had better not. The Kenwoods, a new club recently organized by Lumsden, have held a special meeting and asked Lumsden, Geo. Thorne and Belden to ride as their team at Ottawa. Comment is hardly necessary, as the above are all members of the Chicagos as well as of the Kenwood Club.

WILL THORNE is anxiously waiting to get even with John Mason to scorching by him on the road recently, Thorne being unable to catch him, and now Will is anxious for another scorch and threatens to make it a hot one the next time he meets Mason a-wheel.

THE Lincolns are busy getting things in shape for their operatic venture. In the meantime the cycling season is not being neglected by any of them.

THE Æolus boys have been all torn up the back, to put it politely, by the resignation of their President, but things have cooled down a little and at present it is all "quiet on the Potomac" (Milwaukee avenue, I mean).

CAPTAIN DAVIS tells me that Ehlert has joined the Æolus Club, not the I. C. C., and that the Illinois team is perfectly able to keep up its end without the aid of Mr. Ehlert.

TOM ROE has returned from his Eastern trip, and says while in New York he acted as trainer for Kingsland. Poor Harry!

NEW HAVEN.

"ELM CITY."

SEVERAL of our riders were suspended from the track by the racing board till July 1 for competing in a handicap race not handicapped by the district handicapper. We think this is a foolish show of authority. It was a race in which only club members were entered, and as the result the race would not have been of any interest, whereas it was very close and exciting.

ABOUT ten members of the New Haven Bicycle Club will be at the meet at Hagerstown. Chief Consul Larom will be one of them. They anticipate a glorious time.

I WAS glad to see in the last WORLD AND BULLETIN that J. Wayland Fellows, one of our prominent citizens, had joined the L. A. W. He has been a rider for several years.

THE N. H. B. C. spent Sunday a week ago at Stony Creek, having dinner at Frink's. They sculled over to the Thimble Islands to get something to drink [Milk!] but had to scull back again without getting anything, a very much disgusted set of fellows.

THE same day Messrs. Weaver and Fisher rode from Hartford to Springfield with the Hartford Wheel Club, having ridden from New Haven to Hartford on Saturday afternoon. They had dinner at the Cooley House in Springfield with the Hartford boys and came back on the train, having had a very pleasant run. The Springfield club does not seem to be a very lively cicycling club just now.

I AM heartily in favor, and a good many of our boys also, of the scheme proposed by the WORLD to have a team road race or team track race at Hartford next fall, but instead of Meriden and New Haven alone, I would like to see it for the club championship of the State, and let Hartford, New Britain, Bridgeport and other places try to prove themselves the cicycling Hub of the Nutmeg State.

YESTERDAY was a glorious day for wheeling, and everyone who possessed a cycle hereabouts was out.

CAPT. PERKINS of the N. H. B. C. called a club run at Merwin's Point, about ten miles from here, on Long Island Sound, a very pretty place, where we had dinner. There were 25 of us and a large party of Bridgeport wheelmen met us there, some of whom stopped to dinner with us and some went to New Haven. We also had with us Mr. Brown of the Penn. Bi. Club of Philadelphia on the way home, we stopping at Savin Rock and had some pictures taken. We have a great many runs to shore places within a radius of 15 miles of here, and any wheelman who comes without his wheel misses it. We should be pleased to have all visiting cyclists call around at the rooms of the N. H. Bi. Club, cor. State and Elm streets, where they will always be welcome.

LAROM AND PICKET, two of our fast safety men, have entered the L. A. W. championship race at Hagerstown.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

IN the death of A. C. Eidelbach, Texas loses one of her very best and most energetic cyclers, and the L. A. W. one of its most enthusiastic supporters. He was the fastest amateur in the State, having met the best men of both the sections of the State. The cause of his death was the inhaling of fine brass filings.

THE Scranton (Pa.) Bicycle Club has donated $50 to the Johnstown relief fund, and so the good work continues.

MR. L. A CLARKE, manager of the late Orange-Philadelphia run, writes: "Concerning those who complain that their names were not included in the list of G. C. R. finishers, I have only to say that such omission is their own fault in not staying with the run. Dr. Griffin himself went to Camden on arrival in Philadelphia and was not seen again, nor did he report. I had about 1000 questions to answer and as many things to look after, and cannot be blamed for some few delinquencies. Both at the hotel and on the Sunday run I tried my best to get the names of all the finishers, as I have fifty witnesses to show. The following additional names have been received as having finished: Dr. A. C. Griffin, New York; W. F. Pendleton, N. Y. B. C.; C. F. Johnson, New York; A. B. Taylor, Sloatsburg, N. Y."

MR. STERLING ELLIOT, of Newton, is making a "dog paralyzer." They will be in great demand by the cyclers, whose nice, fat calves are a tempting morsel to the festive and hungry cur,

THOMAS A. EDISON, the great electrician, has promised to turn his attention to producing an electric lamp for use on bicycles and other vehicles. Edison is a busy man though, and it may be some time before he can find time to experiment.

THE Wilkesbarre (Pa.) Bicycle Club has contributed $50 to the Johnstown relief fund. As the Wilkesbarre Club has a membership of 75, the donation is very liberal.

COMPANION WANTED.—Myself and brother will leave Lincoln, Neb., about June 26 for San Francisco awheel, and would be pleased to have the company of any wheelman from Denver west. We will arrive in Denver about July 4. Address HARSTHORN BROS., General Delivery, Denver, Col.

DE FACTO, of New Bedford—We never notice anonymous charges and allegations, whether original or clipped from another paper.

A MICHIGAN member, No. 20,476, writes: On the "Talbot Road" running from Windsor to St. Thomas, Ontario, there is eighteen miles of sand between Clearville and Wallacetown, that is almost "unrideable." Can any one tell us of a road to deviate around this bad spot?

THERE was a small but exciting fire, 20th, in Charles Schwalbach's place, Brooklyn, doing considerable damage to jerseys and sundries in window.

A PARTY of Philadelphians and New Yorkers will leave Philadelphia Sunday, 30th, to ride to Hagerstown Meet, via Gettysburg New Yorkers send names to L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad street, New York, for information.

CHICAGO says she would like the League meet of 1880. New Orleans intimates that perhaps the wheelmen of that city would like to have it there, while last, but not least, we hear that the cyclea; of Wheeling, W. Va., are desirous of creating interest in their city sufficient to warrant an invitation from that quarter. It is possible than an invitation may be given by the Wheeling men at Hagerstown.

IT is hoped that the financial result of the two race meetings held on the St. Louis track will prove so satisfactory that the management may be encouraged to go ahead and perfect the track and hold a big tournament in August or September.

THE ALBION (N. Y.) wheelmen has a most excellent orchestra, consisting of the following members, Messrs. Wm. Baumlein, Thos. L Hisgen, Cassino Pond, Gus. Hisgen, Joseph Kaag, and George Hisgen. One of the most enjoyable features of the wheelmen's club is the music furnished by these gentlemen.

WHEN it rains in some sections of Texas the roads become absolutely impassible for a vehicle, hence the bucking mustang will hold the long end of favoritism in the Lone Star State, although the Texans are in love with cycling in the sections where cycling is possible. What a country that great flat section of the Southwest will be some day, when it is covered with a network of smooth, hard macadamized roads. What a country for records!

WHEELING, W. Va., streets are said to be paved with brick, and it forms an excellent riding surface.

THIS is the way a Buffalo paper gives the incident of the touching dismissal of a fond youth by an irate parent: "Rachel, you sob in vain. Never again shall the young man darken the doors of this palatial dwelling. A monster in human form who will go to church in his bicycle pants and add to the profanation by taking up the collection in that attire, can never be a fit companion for my daughter. Go to your chamber, Rachel, and try to forget him, and I may take you to the circus in leafy August."

Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Byron Weston, of Dalton, Mass., has offered to give to the Athletic Association money to lay a cinder track on Weston field. The track will be fifteen feet wide and probably a quarter of a mile long. A committee to consist of Prof. Rice, Rev. C. H. Burr and one representative appointed by each of the athletic associations, will locate the track. One plan proposed, which is very feasible, is to move the diamond and grand stand toward the north and east, and lay the track around the ball-field.

A GENTLEMAN living in Philadelphia wants to know the best route from that city to Kenneth Square, Chester Co.

A GOOD deal of excitement is being developed as to the probable result of the series of races for the Canadian championships, to be held July 2 at St. Catherines. The men who are attracting attention for first honors are F. Foster of Toronto, E. O. Rossicoe and J. Robertson, Montreal. If Foster is anywhere near his old form the chances seem to be in favor of his winning.

NO prominent race meet in the country would be perfect without a programme gotten out by the Goodman Brothers of Hartford. Such being the fact we notice that the Hagerstown race programme will probably be issued by "the Goodmans."

OUR Cincinnati correspondent writes us: "It is very unfortunate indeed that the talented 'Hawkshaw' should object to tights, but perhaps he is not supplied, like Nicholas Nickelby, with a pair of straight legs. If he could only behold our dearly beloved Mascot when he has his shapely limbs encased in those snuff colored jerseys, see the admiring glances of the pretty fair maids and hear their complimentary remarks, he would die with envy."

WE called in on Dr. Kendall the other day and we noticed that he was more than usually animated and happy, and on our remarking to him that we noticed his joyful mood and asked for an explanation, he handed us a note addressed to this office and which he stated he intended to mail to us. This is what the note contained: "I take great pleasure in announcing that on Sunday, Bess, the Boston Bicycle Club's pet, made the world a gainer by adding to its population a single perpetuator of her many well-know virtues." Of course our heartiest congratulations were extended to the doctor, and on our anxious inquiry as to the health of the interesting pair, we were rejoiced to hear that both mother and progeny were "doing nicely."

THE Journal of Windsor Locks, Conn., is responsible for the following: "It will be only a short time until Windle, the crack bicycle rider, will be reinstated in the amateur ranks." May be so, but not this year, s'mother year, perhaps. We are sorry that Windle-placed himself in the position to be expelled, but the penalty was rightly imposed and the friends of Windle will do his chances of ever getting back more good by keeping quiet than by making statements which will not be fulfilled.

ENOCH TOWNSEND, of Saco, Me., left Watertown, Mass., at 4.08 A. M. Sunday, to ride to Portland, Me., and he accomplished the feat by 7.55 P. M. The distance is 118 miles, and is over some of the sandiest, roughest and hilliest roads in the country.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., proposes to forbid sidewalk riding, and will fine offenders.

OUR CORRESPONDENT from Meriden, Ct., writes the following: "The matter of a road race with the New Haven Bi. Club is receiving considerable attention and may have something to do with the increased activity of the riding members. And right here it might be proper to suggest to the New Haven Club, who seem to yearn for the scalp of the Meriden Wheel Club, that as we are the present holders of the State championships, both individual and team, that it is their right to challenge, ours to accept, and we are prepared to defend our honors in an individual—two, three, five, or as many as they wish—and we will accord them the privilege of naming the distance and racing ground."

AN ordinance has been passed by the City of Quincy, Mass., against riding bicycles on the sidewalks of said city, and a heavy fine is the penalty.

CHARLES G. KOOP claims the honor of being the first man to ride a bicycle in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y. The date of his "first appearance" is November 5, 1878.

THE Albany Wheelmen will hold a parade July 4. The local clubs of Albany and Troy have been invited to participate.

BATH, Me., is busy at work repairing her streets.

CYCLING at Worcester, Mass., has received a boom and the riders there are trying hard to get a track for racing purposes.

EXCHANGES just to hand have denials from "Senator" Morgan that he is married to Miss Oaks or any one else. Is it, or is it not?

WARREN G. WEST and C. D. Alexander, Portland bicyclists, accomplished, Sunday, the feat of riding their bicycles from Portland to Boston, arriving in the latter city in the evening. They returned by rail and were at their places of business as usual Monday.

MR. J. W. LEAVITT, of Cleveland, Ohio, recently rode for and beat the state 24-hour record held by E. J. Douhet of the same city. Douhet's record was 190 miles, while Leavitt managed to cover 192 1-8 miles, cyclometer measure.

THE EAGLE IS SPEEDY.

10 Miles in 38 Minutes.

THE BEST PREVIOUS RECORD BEATEN BY FIVE MINUTES.

The Cabin John road record is now held by Wm. T. Robertson and the EAGLE BICYCLE.

(From The Washington Post, June 24, 1887.)

A QUICK RUN TO CABIN JOHN.

Yesterday, William T. Robertson, on his Eagle Bicycle, lowered the record of forty-three minutes made on July 4th, 1887, by Percy Sevfferle, starting from Ninth and G streets and ending at Cabin John, making the distanee ten miles. Robertson started at 11.21 A. M., reaching Cabin John thirty-eight minutes after, beating the record by five minutes. Timers, Messrs. Smiley and Sickle. He now holds he record both to and from Cabin John, making the latter trip in forty-two minutes in 1884. He say he intends to lower this record also.

The Swift.

The Buffalo Express, May 29, says:

"James S. Hedge of the Buffalo Bicycle Club made the first century run of the year on May 26th. Leaving the club house at 8 A. M., he rode via Seneca Street, Potter's Corners Road, Orchard Park, and Colden to Springville. Here a stop of two hours was made fordinner, and return was made via Boston and Hamburg to the club house, arriving at 6.45 P. M. Starting again at 7 P. M. he pushed on out to Bowmansville and return and rode three times around the meadow, arriving at the club house at 10.25 P. M. Hedge rode a Swift Safety, and considering the fact that he did not start out to make a 'century,' and did not think of it until he had ridden about 70 miles, made very good time, his riding time being 10 hours and 30 minutes for 105 miles, or an average of 10 miles an hour. Four hours and five minutes were used in stops. This is the first time a century run has been made by a rider in this city on a safety, and it is also the first time a century has been made over this route, there being a great many short steep hills to climb."

Wednesday evening last, Mr. A. W. Porter, of Newton, rode up and down Corey Hill four times, without a dismount, in 36 minutes, on a Swift Safety.

Geared to 57 Inches.

He was timed by F. D. Whittemore, Jr., of Newton, witnessed at the top by F. S. Norton and H. E. Bachelder, half way by F. W. Fisher and H. C. Blaney, and at the foot by L. D. Whittemore, Jr.

THE SPECIAL PREMIER. The handsomest and strongest roadster Safety for either lady or gentlemen yet offered. Weight, 45 lbs. Price, $135. The "family machine" par excellence!

THE POPULAR PREMIER. We won't say anything about this machine, as they are selling faster than we can get them, without advertising. It is about the same with The Youth's Premier which we are selling in great blocks. Nothing like it offered. All steel, balls [adjustable] to crank and driver, 26-inch wheels. $65. Just the thing for your growing boy. Not a cheap toy, but a thoroughly reliable miniature Safety, warranted for 12 months.

THE PREMIER TANDEM SAFETY. We have said a good deal about this machine, so we will step down on this occasion in favor of a prominent Western lawyer:

"I received the Premier Tandem Safety by express from St. Louis. It is handsomer in outline and finish than I expected, AND IS A SUCCESS. Within twenty minutes from the crate, I took an inexperienced lady rider safely along, and all ages and weights mount the front saddle. In fact the machine is a training school. There is no exposure whatever, the lady needs no special costume and her saddle is a jewel for ease and harmless use." JAS. F. PITT, St. Joseph, Mo. on their September tournament is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the programme will be announced soon after the first of July. The committee from the Connecticut Division has been consolidated with that of the wheel club, that the best entertainment possible will be offered League members who attend the meet. A number of fast amateur racing men have already gone into training to pedal for glory at Hartford this fall.

PERCY STONE was married last Tuesday, June 25th, to Miss Iola B. Seales of St. Louis.

NEW ORLEANS wheelmen may give a tournament about September 14th.

THE speedy demise of the L. A. W. is predicted by a Western exchange, the primary cause of the prophecied collapse being the re-instatement of F. F. Ives and others into the amateur ranks!!

THE TOURISTS IN ENGLAND.

Monday, June 3d, was devoted to recuperating and repairing. In the morning a photo of the "Yankees" was taken in front of the "Wicklow," which subsequently appeared as a cartoon in Bi Acres. Monday evening found the party aboard the L'pool and North Wall packet, en route for L'pool. After a tearful farewell to Jack White. Macredy, Quinton, Haurahan and the other good-hearted, wholesouled fellows who came to say adieu, we parted. Down the river went the fussy steamer, the boys in the stern hiding their feelings by frantically waving flags and handkerchiefs to those answering from the quay, and so the crowd on the quay became an indistinct mass of humanity and waving kerchiefs. We had seen the last of Ireland and the Irish wheelmen and sadly turned to go below; yet stay--not so fast—down the long quay comes tearing along a car with White and the others, followed by Macredy on his safety, and for half a mile they race the steamer down the river, shouting in answer to our soul-splitting yells. At last they must stop while we go on, so once again we watch and wave and cheer, as they fade away into the distance, and at last we have truly lost sight of the best-hearted lot of fellows the sun never (!) shines upon.

At sea! The Hill of Howth once astern the tubby craft begins to pitch and roll and jump, all at once! One by one the brave mariners, who had faced the wild Atlantic's dread expanse, seek the seclusion which a stateroom grants, remove their collar and their shoes and trousers, and groan as they feel the little wash tub dance.

Papa Elwell (seizing time by the forelock) escaped seasickness, thanks to Morpheus, but all save six or seven paid tribute to Neptune, and more than one recounted next day, dread tales of weeping and wretchedness which occurred in their staterooms during that awful night. Of awakening and feeling certain that the boat was going either towards the moon or towards the bottom of the sea, and of hearing such language in gruesome tones as: "Oh! oh! oh! why did Elwell bring me here? Why didn't we take the train? Oh! oh!! oh!!!" etc. But why linger on it? The dawn came at last, bringing renewed hopes and appetites. After breakfasting aboard, we disembarked at the landing-stage and immediately took ferry from same to Birkenhead. While crossing the Mersey, the boys had a good view of the Great Eastern, as she lay dismantled on the mud flats, and the obstreperous member from Cleveland even wished to pilot a party across the mud to have a better view of her.

At Birkenhead our wheels first touched English soil, and after a short two hours' ride we were at Chester, where we spent the day, sight seeing, and the night at the "Golden Lion." From Chester to Stafford (for the night) our route lay through a charming country, along perfect roads, bordered by hedges and shaded by the leafy profusion of an English June, which those who have seen may recall to mind. Twenty miles on, at Nantwich, lunch was served at a cocoa house, and we did ample justice to the ample fare. Then on to Stafford, twenty miles further, over the same beautiful roads, to dinner and to bed. Our two days in England thus far are in most favorable comparison, as regards weather, with Ireland, being warm and sunny almost in excess, but a welcome change from the cold rain and mud.

From Stafford on Thursday morning, on to fair Litchfield, with its grand cathedral, and in the afternoon to Birmingham, seven miles from which, at Sutton-Coalfield, the party was met by a great number of riders and escorted into the city, where in the evening they were the guests of the Birchfield Club at dinner at the Colonnade Hotel.

Friday the route lay through Coventry, Kenilworth, Warwick, to Stratford-on-Avon. This proved the finest riding yet enjoyed, and the diversity of scenery made it one of our most enjoyable days. The boys rambled among the ruins of old Kenilworth, ate oranges in the shade of the ivy-covered walls, lounged and smoked by the wayside, and at the waysine inns, and generally enjoyed life. At Warwick, where lunch was spread at the Warwick Arms, half the afternoon was spent. Those who arrived early enough, went through Warwick Castle, which closes at 4 P. M., but some few who were late were forced to rest content with gazing on the view of the castle from the bridge. About 5 P. M. a start was made for Stratford-on-Avon, eight miles through the loveliest country, and over the most superb roads in England, and in less than an hour we were passing through the historic village of Shottery, to the world-renowned town whose fame reaches to the utmost ends of the earth.

Along the splendid road, with the quiet, pollard-fringed Avon close beside, and so over the bridge we fared into Stratford town.

Mine host of the Golden Lion ("G. L." No 2) received us with open arms, and soon all the weary pilgrims were gathered at the festive board.

As said the motto on the wall, "Be of good cheer, for now we sit to chat as well as eat," so did we to the best of our humble endeavors. Howbeit, the eating was more numerous than the chatting at the start. After dinner, with reluctance we bade farewell to Mr. Taylor (C. T. C. Consul for Chester, I think), who had piloted us for the two days previous, and whom all the party will think of gratefully.

Speaking of roads, I believe this letter has mentioned a few fine ones, but our superlatives must be withheld for the streets of Stratford. Those to whom Chestnut Hill or the Orange, N. J., are criterions should see the streets of Shakespeare's town and ponder. Hard as asphalte, smooth as a billiard table, and clean as a well-swept floor, will convey some idea of their nature. The evening we spent in enjoying our new light mounts on the streets, viewing the quaint old houses, the willow-shaded river, and the beautiful Memorial Theatre and gardens by the river.

Saturday afternoon was also spent in a more detailed visit to the places of interest—Shakespeare's house, his tomb and the old church, the Memorial theatre, which we went through, the G. W. Child's fountain, etc., etc. After an 11 o'clock lunch we started on our 52-mile jaunt to Oxford. A glorious repetition of the glories of the previous day as to roads and weather.

At long Compton about 3 o'clock a halt was made at the Golden Lion ("G. L." No. 3), and a pleasant two hours spent in lunch—tea, bread and butter, marmalade, etc.—lounging and smoking. The landlady did herself proud, and as for our party, the American appetites, which have grown so large that some of the boys have to carry theirs in their luggage valises, ate her out of house and home.

More jogging on, and then as we struggled up the hill into Woodstock, the Oxfordshire University clubmen greeted us with clapping and welcomed us to their ancient city. After a stop at Blenheim Castle, the seat of his grace of Marlboro, a procession by twos was formed, and over 100 strong we rode into the town. Here occurred the first hitch on our programme. On his arrival ahead of the party, Mr. Elwell was thunderstruck to find that the King's Arms, the hotel which we had engaged to receive us (C. T. C. house) utterly refused to take us in, claiming that the rooms were engaged and that they had written him to that effect, which writing miscarried at Cork some weeks ago. Thereupon Mr. E. Bravely put his shoulder to the wheel and inside an hour all were comfortably lodged at one of two or three hotels. Rumor saith that a recent change of management must account for the change of front in this matter. Rumor also sayeth that a change of the C. T. C. patronage would be very much in order as regards the King's Arms, Oxford.

As it happened the change of hotels proved very much for the better, so all were more than satisfied eventually. Sunday, present writing, proved drizzly and dreary—our first rain in England,—so all availed themselves of the time to write home. By last night's mail came many copies of The Irish Cyclist and Athlete with a detailed account of our Irish tour, for which kind thought all wish to thank Mr. R. J. Macredy of Dublin.

To-day we lunched in parties with some of the University men, and were afterwards shown round several of the colleges: Balliol, New College, Magdalen, etc., and received many kind attentions. To-morrow, ho! for Hampton Court, 61 miles; next day, capture of London, so, farewell, America, while we reduce our baggage to the minniest possible minimum.

PEDALS.

TOURISTS IN PARIS.

(New York World.)

PARIS, June 22, 1889.

The American cyclists arrived here yesterday, having ridden in from St. Germain, which place they left et nine A. M. The party was cordially received.

A SERMON FOR OUTDOOR MEN IN INDOOR OFFICES.

BY "JACK."

"Do I like the city, stranger? 'Tisn't likely that I would.
'Tisn't likely that a ranger from the border ever could Git accustomed to the flurry an' the loud oncarthly noise—
Everybody in a hurry, men an' wimmin, gals and boys,
All a-rushin' like the nation 'mid the rumble and the jar,
Jes' as if their soul's salvation hung upon their gettin' thar.
Like it? No. I love to wander 'mid the vales an' mountains green,
In the borderland out yonder, whar' the hand o' God is seen."

Have any of you fellows ever summed up what there was that was lovable and likable in this life to make it worth living. Have you started out to add dollar to dollar in a daily grind for riches? Early to work, write, count, slave—snatch a mid-day meal and back to your work again? What does your accumulation of accursed riches amount to, if you are broken in spirit at the end of the day, if you loathe your food and dyspepsia claims you for its own? "Is life worth living?" you say. Is it? Why yes, man, it is. But you have got to give up that greed for gain, that acquisitive tendency, if you would enjoy the inner sweets of this life as the golden bee revels in the nectar of the clover you must be an outdoor man, you must take off your black clothes and your starchy apparel and exchange your shiny hat for one of straw or wool. You must come with me to the brook on the mountain side, where the sheep are listlessly resting or feeding on the scant herbiage. Put a few trout flies round your hat, a few worms in a flannel bag and don a pair of knickerbockers. Bring your light fly rod along, we'll catch fish all right if there are any in the country.

Care? None. Where has it gone. Vanished at the sight of the ripples on the brook, at sight of the shimmering depths of the mountain tarn. It has escaped with every puff of opalescent tobacco smoke that curled into the mountain invigorant which blows fresh and cool on your city throat, or ruffles your hair like a soothing gentle spirit of peace. Noise? Yes, when we stood near the rumble of the waterfall which poured its mass of liquid thunder into the Cauldron Pool. We could not hear our own voices. But was it noise? Was it not an exquisitely refreshing and musicianly sound? Down it comes from the top of the grim mountains standing sentry over the sleeping valleys. Down it leaps from crag to crag, and along a bit of rockland, down in cool deluge to the home of the gold and carmine trout that revel in the effervescing depths of the Cauldron Pool. Down the hill past the shepherd's house it rushes, and winds tortuously in the low valley among the ferns and sedges, wimpling among the golden lily pads where the frog lies drowsily winking his lovely golden-brown eyes in the exquisite sunlight. Then it is lost to sight as it turns round the base of a hill in the far off landscape. Are you tired? Do you want to go home? Does the grass or heather not feel more comfortable and restful than the upholstered chair or sofa in your city home? If you and I have any affinity for one another you feel as if you wish the city at the end of the devil's highway, you devoutly wish that you might never return there, but that your friends might come and join you and revel in the Arcadian deliciousnesses of the mountain stream and the sighing mournful pine trees of the virgin forest.

Perhaps you are not in love with stocks, though you do business in the vicinity of Wall street, perhaps you loathe the very sound of three, five and ten per cent., but stern realities in the shape of your individual stomach or (I speak figuratively) those of your wife and children, demand that you should sink personal liking that you may be a practical bread winner. I know it all too well. You are an outdoor man like myself, loving the note of the katydid more than the click of the stock register, the "sooch" of the pines rather than the hum of the telegraph network which stretches its hideous intricacies among the city chimneys and across and across from your office window. Riches? Bah!

What is so much purple and gold and fine linen and association with mushroom parvenus compared with the sweet calm of the mountain? What is the disgusting falsity of fashionable high-pressure existence to the ham sandwich and the "wee drappie o't" and the easy tweed suit and Arcadian simplicity of the wilderness? Why should we fall down and worship the golden calf to the sound of the sackbut and dulcimer and America's ubiquitous big drum? What is a colossal accumulation of material wealth compared with intellectual improvement? Of what virtue are our pork factories if the multitude have flat stomachs and the few are infinitude of dollars, aye, tens of millions of dollars? What matters it whether or no we can "lick creation" from our own material standpoint, when we neglect the pauper that implores us unavailingly for aid at our mansion gates?

How dare we turn our hearts to adamant at the sign of distress, when we know that aid to a fellow creature might mean the depletion of our bank account to the extent of a quarter of a dollar, or a whole immeasurable American eagled dollar in its immaculate entirety? Did you ever take the trouble to have a chat with a tramp? Would your insecure enough adhesion to your little tinsel covered "Society" be endangered by speaking to an unfortunate fellow creature? You entire and contemptible snob! Is your reputation so thin that you are in dread of some Sauerwein O'Shaunessy putting her porcine index finger plumb through it? Would not your lip curl at the thought of such a thing, that a woman whose ancestors have scarce kicked off the "mud boots" of the honest "ditches of Poverty Flat" could hurt your reputation by word of mouth or by their "pollitical influence?" Oh! the common caddish herd of them, who scarce knew the mission of the napkin a quarter of a century ago and drank rose water from the finger bowl with delicious sans froid a few seasons ago.

If you will sit down by the roadside some day with a tramp and have a chat with him, you will in the majority of cases find that he is not half the man you have concluded he was. You will often find him a gentleman at heart, all that he lacks is balance to hold his equalibrium in the social or commercial world. If he knows more of Virgil than you do—do not be surprised. Do not look amazed if he is quite on familiar terms with Jean Ingelow, and knows and despises from the bottom of his weather strained and rheumatic heart, that old three-ball Shylock. If he draws a "prop" in Euclid on the dust with his finger, do not exhibit symptons of amazement. That man perhaps had a father who sent him to college, but he was not properly balanced and could never, no matter what he tried to do, combat successfully the law of human gravitation which controlled him. Perhaps if he had been given sufficient will-power he might have done a great deal. But he hadn't sufficient will power, and therefore he didn't work any conquests over his be-setting vices or failings.

Do not set the brindle bull dog on the tramp, go to the front gate and give him some food and a "quarter," and if necessary, shelter.

"Yes I love the western border: pine trees waivin' in the air,
Rocks piled up in rough disorder: birds a singin' everywhere:
Deer a playin' in their gladness, elk a feedin' in the glen;
Not a trace of pain or sadness campin' on the trail of men.
Brooks o' crystal clearness flowin' o'er the rocks and lovely flowers.
In their tinted beauty growin' in the mountain dells and bowers.
Fairer pictur' the Creator never threw on eartly screen,
Than this lovely home o' natur,' whar' the hand o' God is seen."

LOG BOOK NOTES.

WHAT! don't keep a log? Well, you ought to.

Oh, too much bother! Nonsense, it repays for the little time it takes over and over again, in the pleasure it gives in recalling old friends and merry incidences of the days gone by. Yes. I commenced ever so long ago, when ordinaries wore straight bars, direct spokes and hair-stuffed, iron-plated saddles; and 54-inch Stars that could be heard a mile away (on a still day) were considered the thing. Then I used the pages of a diary, but since Weston issued his "Cycling Log Book" (which is just the thing for the purpose) I have copied my notes into one. Weston deserves the thanks of all wheelmen for his enterprise. I find my first entry takes the form of the following resolution:

Resolved to be a cyclist bold,
The gay and festive wheel to hold,
And ride like wild bird o'er the lea—
The cyclist's life's the life for me.
On wings of steel I fain would fly,
'Till angels bear me up on high
(Or Satan takes me down below,
Where flames sulphurious brightly glow).

I went through the "post act" period and came out again, and in spite of the old saw, "oh he'll give it up when he gets over the craze—see if he don't," I'm as much of an enthusiast now as in those early days. I find for the first three years I did not miss a month, winter or summer, in which I and my wheel were not out together. Since that first wheel I have possessed four others, aggregating in value more than seven hundred dollars, but none were as dear to me, none seem to me as fine as did number one. I wonder where it is now! what hand guides its bar? what foot presses its pedal? It began life when every wheelman was its friend, and the passing salute was never omitted; but in these days of "cads on castors" who shall say what is its fate? One thing I note—the man who rides for speed alone is usually not a lover of nature, and although he doubtless enjoys his wheeling, in a season or so he rides out his enthusiasm and sells his wheel. But he who is fond of outdoor life, enjoys the birds and flowers, and who loves to wander by brook or sit by cooling spring, rarely forsakes the cycle but rather uses it rationally to take him to these scenes of pleasure and finds a rarer and more lasting enjoyment in jogging along, than the poor fellow, who only wants to know "how far've you been?" "how long did it take you?" By all means, ye beginners, jot down some notes for perusal in idle days, and Papa Weston's Log Book is the place for such jottings.

THOSE OBNOXIOUS TIGHTS.

THE able "Hawkshaw" of New York directs attention to the "idiotic practice of wearing full tights when riding upon the road," and tells us that no less a journal than the New York Sun has taken up the cudgel against it.

This remonstrance against tights seems to be confined almost entirely to the well-bred east, and even there it seems to be nowhere as virulent as in the sanctum of "Hawkshaw." He would have us know that the question is practically settled when the Sun has once sat upon the wearing of tights.

This great journal has placed the terrible brand of its disfavor upon this practice and hence it must go. Those editorial spectacles have been polished as they never have been polished since they grew dim in looking at "Nadjy," and have distinctly discerned a positive affront to modesty in the wearing of the tights.

We think there is a possibility that this great newspaper of the metropolis may know much more about what kind of a record a presidential candidate should be clothed in than it does about the the clothing best adapted to cyclists,

"Hawkshaw" and the supporters of his protest evidently never saw the bare legs of the Highlanders on parade day or the uncovered charms of the ladies at the full-dress receptions, else perhaps these simple black tights would not unnerve him so. A great weight of argument can be pertinently spoken against "pants,"—pants which are made by the official tailor and which never fit; pants which either bind you at the knee or flap in the breeze; pants which get shiny and threadbare and make you look like a Kansas tramp. Out of this untutored and rank-growing West you will find scores of us wearing tights. Our racing men wearing tights, our chief consul wears tights, and none of the 2,000 wheelmen of the Garden City have yet been frowned upon by the good people of Chicago.

TWINK.

THE "TOMMY AND NEW OIL CAN" STYLE.

Editor Bicycling World: I regret that our League organ and leading cycling journal is taking a back seat by ignoring the momentous question of the day, viz.: "Does Charlie Leison ride a Star?" Now, dear WORLD, that won't do. If you wish to retain your grip, you must meet the issue and grapple with it. Don't bother about L. A. W. matters, tournaments, tours or racing, for wheelmen in general don't care a fig about such things; but the riders throughout the length and breadth of the land are all torn up about "Charlie Leison and his Star." In our own club we can't down the question long enough to have an election of officers. Tried it once, but had to adjourn, amid a general debate on whether or not Charlie Leison rides a safety or a Star. Our ex-President and a charter member of the club,—a well known skeptic and man of combatitiveness,—boldly announced that no matter what Charlie Leison rode it was no concern of the club, and no interest to any one but himself. He was thereupon charged with treason, and after mature deliberation, his resignation asked for. Another instance, but more serious in its results, happened while on a club run, with two members disputing about how Leison was spelt. The dispute waxed warm, and the disputants fell behind, and rumor has it, they settled it by muscle. Howbeit, the man who spelt it "lie" is the only one of the two who attends club meetings. Another man not less enthusiastic, waits at the postoffice for the arrival of the Leison organ, and rushes off to the club house, like unto an homestretch spurt. That same man thinks N. Mahlon Beckwith is still President of the League. I am writing this at the club house, and a grasshopper has just jumped in the window and lit on a copy of the American Athlete, and some vulgar youth has christened him Charlie Leison. Another genus homo appointed a private secretary to his grasshopper highness. Members are stirring him up with pencils, pens, spokes, tool-bags and other furniture and bric-a-brac, so that his secretary can record his jumps. Once he lit on the Pennsylvania Road Book, and he was duly chronicled as hunting up Lancaster Pike. From there he hopped on the saddle of a Star bicycle, but left it and landed on a safety, where all efforts to dislodge him proved futile. "Potter, the poet" is well booked in Leison literature, and I noticed he was an interested spectator of the grasshopper jubilee, and no doubt when an inspiration strikes him the readers of the WORLD will be favored with the product of his genius. I merely mention these things, dear WORLD, to show you what an important matter you are neglecting, and for the interest of cycling I would suggest that your next issue be entirely devoted to this all-absorbing topic, and after that to give it at least a page or two until next winter, when news is scarce, then you could give us a whole issue occasionally. "Leison forever."

Yours truly, L. A. W. 2506.

IMPROVEMENTS IN PHOTOGRAPHY.

TEN years ago the Eastman dry plate company was organized and its career since that time has been a succession of brilliant discoveries and inventions, exceeding in renown any other like establishment on this continent or in Europe. Among the chief of these are the substitution of paper for glass negatives, the roll holder, the gelatine film, permanent bromide paper for enlargement and the Kodak.

We have now to announce another important invention—in some respects the most important of all—which this establishment has just brought out. Its geletine film for negatives, when completed, has many advantages over glass, particularly in lightness and portability; but there have been complaints of the somewhat elaborate and tedious processes required after developement in transferring the image to the film. "If you could make a transparent film." experts in Europe and America have said, "so that when the image was developed and fixed it would be ready for printing your film would be perfect." This, after over four months of experimenting and preparation by Mr. Eastman and the company's chemist, Henry Reichenbach, has been done. The base for the emulsion has been changed and instead of using paper from which the image had to be transferred to gelatine sheets, celluloid has been adopted, so that immediately after developement, fixing and washing—as with glass—the negatave is ready for the printiug frame. Small celluloid sheets have been employed for some years by a European inventor and house, but the difficulty has been to enlarge the sheets and keep them thin enough for the purpose. But Mr. Eastman and his associates have overcome all difficulties and can now manufacture sheets of absolute uniformity of thinness fifty feet in length and only three one thousaudths of an inch in thickness. This enables them to apply their new transparent film to both their roll holder and their Kodak and places in the hands of both professional and amateur photographers a vastly improved process over any hitherto known.

JONAH'S OPINION.

In the face of the results of the great twenty-five-mile road race on Decoration Day, the following squib of "Ariel's" takes one's breath away: "So the New Yorkers and Jerseymen think their teams are much better than the Wilmington quartet. Well, all they have to do to back up their belief is to issue a little challenge, and I have reason to believe there will be prompt acceptance on the part of Messrs. Dampman, Merrihew, McDaniel and Elliott." Was there anything the matter with that race for a test, Mr. Ariel? Were the hills not steep enough, or were there not enough of them? If they were steeper or there were more of them, or if they were not so steep and there were fewer of them, the result might have been otherwise? But they were just so steep and there were just so many of them, and did you look, Mr. Ariel, at how the race came out? Let me refresh your memory with the actual times, no handicaps being considered, mind you:

K. C. W.		B. B. C.		W. W. C.
Bensinger,	1.31.43	Class,	1.33.38	Dampman,	1.34.40
C. Murphy,	1.31.49	Coningsby,	1.33.57	Merrihew,	1.40.54
W. Murphy,	1.32.05	Borland,	1.34.51	McDaniel,	1.36.07
Hesse,	1.32.47	Waters,	1 41.39	Elliott,	1.36.17
Total,	6.08.24	Total,	6.24.05	Total,	6.27.58

Don't you see that the K. C. W. beat your Wilmington quartet just 19 minutes 4 seconds, or over five miles? Even the B. B. C. beat them 3 minutes 53 seconds, or about a mile, with Harry Bradley with his record of 1.30.00 2-5, not riding? Had it been team against team, with the points counting as usual, the K. C. W. would have won by 26 to 10, or maximum to minimum, and the B. B. C. by 21 to 15. And if the other K. C. W. men, T. Hall, H. Hall and Steves, had called on their Jersey friend, Baggot, to help them they would have beaten the Wilmington quartet just 10 minutes 21 seconds, or about three miles. And remember, too, that on the basis of actual times made, nine of these "New Yorkers and Jerseymen" came in ahead of Wilmington's fastest man.

And still you suggest the victors being so unsportsmanlike as to issue a challenge to the losers. I fear your Wilmington friends will not thank you for putting them in so ludicrous a position after a fairly fought battle, in which I am sure they frankly acknowledged themselves beaten. As for match races, let the challenges come from the losers as they should, and I'll venture to say that the K. C. W. and the B. B. C. will jump at the chance, and even the H. C. W. will not be averse to having a finger in the pie. Come now, Mr. Ariel, this is not like you, to begrudge our men the glory they so gallantly won. We have always justly lauded your men to the skies on the strength of their grand performances. They are good men. Come now, give our men the credit for having beaten them this once at least. Perhaps things may be reversed the next race. If so, you can rely on us not to take from the glory won by them, by even an innuendo that the result did not show the actual relative merit of the men. JONAH.

THE BROOKLYN (N. Y.) CLUB HOUSEWARMING.

THE Brooklyn Bicycle Club was formed on June 21st, 1879, and from the nucleus of six founders, with no headquarters, to its present prosperous proportions it has steadily increased and waxed strong.

The date set for the housewarming was very properly the tenth anniversary. From the Union we take the following:

"Over two thousand dollars have been spent fitting out the new club house at 62 Hanson street. The building has been extended to the full depth of the lot, a two-story extension added, and new lockers, wheel racks and furnishings purchased, until now every member feels justly proud of their new club house.

Between two and three hundred guests assembled last night to join in the birthday merrymaking. It was a full-dress stag affair, and the house was brilliant with many lights and beautiful with profuse floral decorations. Music was furnished by J. F. Dubois, and an attractive programme delivered in the parlors. Speeches were made by James Fox, the President of the club; by M. L. Bridgeman, President K. C. W.; G. T. Maibe, President L. I. W.; and H. H. Koop, Vice President B. B. C.; and S. H. Torrey read a small volume of blank verse, which travestied the metre of "Hiawatha," and from which every member of the club learned the author's opinion of him; L. G. Emerson did some highly applauded bird warbling, and James S. Burdett drew tears of laughter by his droll recitals.

After the entertainment an adjournment was made to the lower regions, where Caterer Maresi had prepared some things very interesting to the palate and stomach. When the morning's gray light wiped its feet on the door mat and demanded entrance it found many loth to leave the brillant scene, and only the recollection of the day's duties finally restored the place to quiet."

LAMP LEGISLATION.

IN a recent session of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut the following Act to Regulate the use of Highways was presented:

"Every person who shall, in the night season, upon any public highway, ride any bicycle, tricycle, velocipede, or machine similarly propelled, without carrying or having attached to such vehicle a lighted lantern in such a manner that it can be plainly seen from in front of said vehicle and casts light in that direction, and without sounding a bell or whistle at intervals sufficient to give due warning of the approach of such vehicle, shall be fined not more than seven dollars or imprisonment not more than thirty days, or both."

The injustice of such an act, should it become a law, is apparent to every wheelman. There is no question but that wheelmen should for mutual safety carry lanterns, but it is well know that lanterns are liable to go out, and it would be certainly unfair to fine or imprison a cycler for riding without a lantern under such circumstances. Then a great many cyclers ride from their offices to their homes, starting when it is light, and sometimes, through distance or delay, not arriving until after dark.

The idea of ringing a bell or whistle at compulsory intervals is a nuisance both to the cycler and to the public. If bell ringing and lantern carrying are necessary to the public safety on the highways then carriages and horsemen should be obliged to carry bells or whistles and lanterns. The courts all over the country, from the highest to the lowest, have decided that a bicycle is a vehicle and, as a vehicle, is entitled to the same rights as any carriage.

Although the committee on the Judiciary reported favorably to the Connecticut House, recommending that the bill pass, the bill was defeated, and its defeat is due almost wholly to the action taken by the Pope Mfg. Co., who employed the best of legal advice at large expense, and convinced in a perfectly legitimate way the members of the house that the bill was unconstitutional, unfair, and unwise. This is but one of a series of movements made by the Pope Mfg. Co. for the benefit of American wheelmen, entirely unaided and unassisted by any other party or parties.

WHAT ARE HANDICAPS?

THE following postal received calls for our reply:

"Eureka, June 20, 1889.

Editor Bicycling World: Please explain a handicap race in your next issue of the WORLD and oblige. Yours No. 21,772."

We supposed that almost every one understood the principles which govern a handicap race, but for the benefit of those who do not we are pleased to be able to "elucidate:" A handicap is an allowance in time or distance granted to a competitor of inferior speed by one of superior speed. Sometimes — and more frequently — it is distance that is granted and not time start. An example: "A" has a record of 2.35 and "B" has a record of 2.50. It therefore takes "B" 15 seconds longer to cover a mile than it does "A." So, if a time allowancewas given "B" would get 15 seconds start of "A."

If, however, a distance handicap was awarded, we find that "B" travels at a trifle over 31 feet to the second. This multiplied by the difference in the recorded time (15 seconds) would give "B" about 155 yards' start.—[ED.

AN INVITATION.

Editor Bicycling World: I would be glad if you will insert the following in your paper:

"At a recent meeting of the Harrisburg (Pa.) Wheel Club, a cordial invitation was extended to all wheelmen passing through our city en route to the meet at Hagerstown, to pay us a visit at our rooms, Third and Market streets, if at all convenient to do so."

Very truly, J. C. DUKE, Secretary.
L. A. W. 22,237.

AN APPEAL.

Editor Bicycling World: If you think proper, would be pleased to have you print the following plea: A little Johnstown eight-year-old cries about losing his 30-iuch Bicycle in the late flood, and fears he never will be able to get another, as his family have not a cent. Will enough wheelmen who read this, give dimes or other amounts to make the boy a happy owner of a new bicycle? If so, send to R. E. HUMPHREYS,
Irwin, Pa., June 18, 1889. L. A. W. 7582.
[We start the list with $1.—ED.]

MORGAN-OAKS.

YES, the genial, energetic Senator has succumbed, and is now a full fledged benedict. Witness the following item received from our correspondent: "At Denver, on the night of the 15th, after the close of the six-day female bicycle contest at the ball park, there occurred a quiet little wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Jessie Oaks, the champion, and the well-known 'Senator' Morgan. A cosy supper followed, with the members of the team as guests. All departed the following day for Omaha.

The six-day contest in Denver was not very successful, owing to inclement weather. CHOP."

[We extend to the Senator and his wife our best wishes for the future.—ED.]

LEAGUE GAMES PLAYED IN MUSIC HALL.

THE Base Ball Bulletin, which reproduces distant ball games with all their exciting details, is the latest sensation in Boston. It is now producing all of the out-of-town games of the Boston Club to immense audiences. It will doubtless run throughout the season. Admission 10 cents. Here is what some of the Boston papers say of this novel entertainment:

"The Base Ball Bulletin was successfully inaugurated in Music Hall yesterday afternoon. There was an immense crowd of spectators present, and everybody was willing to testify to the completeness of this latest feature for reporting the results of the national game.

Applause was heard at frequent intervals, and not a little of the enthusiasm pertaining to the ball field was repeatedly manifested." —Boston Globe

"The Music Hall Base Ball Bulletin scored a big and instantaneous hit yesterday afternoon. A changing crowd of something like 4000 people packed the hall. The device reproduced the Staten Island game with fidelity and effectiveness. There was hardly a move in the exciting contest that was not recorded upon the board. The audience was a genuine base ball one. It cheered the mimic game to the echo.—Boston Herald.

LEAGUE MEET.

A FEW last words to refresh memories. The headquarters will be at the Hotel Hamilton. All members should report and register there at the earliest possible moment. The Hamilton and Baldwin are $2 houses, the City, $1.50, and the Franklin, $1.25. Others and additional information can be obtained at headquarters. There will be room for all.

From New York a round trip rate of $10.35 has been made by the B. and O. Apply to C. Newbourg, 415 Broadway, New York City.

Tuesday will be a go-as-you-please day, but in the evening a run to Williamsport will be held. Bonfires and fun.

Wednesday—Runs to Pen-Mar, Antietam, National Cemetery, South Mountain, etc. An excursion train will leave Hagerstown in the afternoon for Pen-Mar and Blue Mountain House, returning at night with those who went by wheel. Elegant orchestra and dancing.

Thursday—Formal reception and address of welcome, at 9.30 A. M. Parade at 10 A. M. Immediately after the parade, refreshments will be served and the usual photograph taken. Races at 2.30 P. M. In the evening a grand pyrotechnic display, national open-air smoker and military band concert will be given in a beautiful suburban grove.

Further entertainment will be bulletined at League headquarters, Hotel Hamilton, other hotels, and club house.

The parade on Thursday will form at 10 A. M. sharp. Riders should report at headquarters for instructions by 8.30 A. M.

Staff.—President Charles H. Luscomb, Grand Marshal: Albert Mott, Adjutant and Chief-of-Staff. Aids: Geo. S. Atwater, M. L. Bridgman, Charles S. Davol, S. Wallace Merrihew, H. H. Hodgeson, Wm. H. Emery, William M. Brewster, George R. Bidwell, Charles S. Butler, C. E. Learom, William J. Gilfillan, James R. Dunn, Sanford Lawton.

Pointers.—Report to headquarters immediately, and register.—Use your brakes on grades within the city limits and prevent accidents.—Watch the bulletins and daily program for changes, etc.—Be sure to be in the parade, or you will miss a fine ride—and something interesting afterwards.—Applications for League membership will be received at headquartars during the Meet.—Repair shops opposite club house and on corner of Franklin and Jonathan streets.—Wheeling supplies and sundries will be furnished by the various agencies.—All tours and runs will start from the club house, on South Potomac street.—Be sure to bring your mount. You do not want to miss the riding here.

MASSACHUSETTS L. A. W. DIVISION MEET.

The Massachusetts Division of the League of American Wheelmen, augmented by the Providence Bicycle Club, will hold its annual meet at Cottage City, Aug. 8, 9 and 10. There will be races and excursions. The Martha's Vineyard Association will tender the visitors many courtesies.

CONNECTICUT DIV. MEET PROGRAMME.

BRIDGEPORT, CT., is making great preparations for the L. A. W. Division meet to be held there July 8th. Those who arrive on Saturday, the 6th, will be taken in charge and shown attention by the local wheelmen.

The business meeting will be held at 10 A. M. and at 12 M. the parade will form. The parade will dismiss at the track at which place the following races will be contested: One mile open for "ordinaries," half-mile open for "ordinaries," one mile open for "safeties," three mile open for "ordinaries," one mile for the championship of Bridgeport, for local "ordinary" riders. Music will be furnished thoughout the racing by the Philharmonic band. Leaving the Park at 4 P. M., the wheelmen will ride to Greenfield Hill, where a grand hill-climbing contest to all will take place, after which the the party will return to the rooms of the Rambling Wheelmen for lunch.

KANSAS DIVISION MEET

ONE of the most enjoyable, as well as one of the most important, sessions in the history of the Kansas Division of the League of American Wheelmen occurred at Ottawa last week. Besides the local wheelmen many were in attendance from various parts of the State and from other States. The business session was held in the rooms of the Ottawa Wheelmen, on Wednesday evening. Chief Consul Bradley presided and delivered a verbal report relating to his administration of the affairs of the division. The report of Secretary-Treasurer Wulfekuhler showed a very encouraging condition of the finances, there being $106.33 on hand and $60.40 due from the national organization up to date of last report. A number of amendments in constitution and by-laws, made necessary by recent changes in the laws of the national organization, were adopted, and to a committee consisting of Messrs. Metcalf, Mulvane and Wulfekuhler was delegated the duty of preparing other alterations for submission to the mail vote of the membership at a future time, when officers are to be voted upon. The present Racing and Touring Committees were continued. Messrs. Davis and Wulfekuhler were appointed a committee to compile and issue a new hand book. A very deserved and unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the Ottawa Wheelmen for their generous manner of providing for the comfort and pleasure of visiting wheelmen.

Account of races appears in our racing news.

MISSOURI DIVISION MEET.

THE Sedalia meet, July 3 and 4, is the all-absorbing topic here and already 40 men have signified their intention of attending. The run to McAllister Springs, Wednesday, will be a leading feature of the meet. This famous summer resort is about 20 miles northwest of Sedalia, and is noted for its sulphur and salt springs. An elegant hotel is located at this place where dinner will be served to the wheelmen on the day of the run. Bathing, rowing, etc., will also be indulged in. The return to Sedalia will either be made awheel or by special train.

A smoker is a fixture for the evening programme, which will be held at Sicher's Park. A register will be placed at Sicher's hotel, in which all wheelmen should subscribe themselves and at same time receive such information as befits the occasion. Lists have been placed at all the cycle agencies and clubs which intending participants should sign as early as possible, together with the day of their departure, so that the necessary hotel and transportation arrangements can be made. The track will be in fine condition for racing, and is now being harrowed and rolled daily by an experienced man. The M. K. & T. R. R. has gotten out posters, advertising the meet, which will be sure to draw a large crowd from all points along its line. LINNEUS.

TENNESSEE DIVISION MEET.

THE Tennessee Division meet held at Nashville on the 18th, was a great success, and the parade of wheelmen caused the greatest amount of interest among the citizens.

The state board of officers met at the club rooms of the Nashville Bicycle Club rooms, at 7.30 P. M., and disposed of routine business, after which the annual meeting of Tennessee Division was called to order by Chief Consul Wilson. His report was quite encouraging. It stated that local consuls had been appointed at all towns where there were members.

Secretary-Treasurer Patch's report showed the number of League members in Tennessee division to be 120, distributed as follows: Nashville, 41; Memphis, 27; Chattanooga, 17; Clarksville, 16; Knoxville, 13; Franklin, 2; Bristol, 2; Murfreesboro, 1; Union City, 1.

Chief Consul Wilson and Secretary-Treasurer Patch were renominated without opposition. In order that towns not represented in last night's meeting may be given an opportunity to make other nominations, the nominations will not close until July.

A general desire for the early completion of the map and road book by the committee engaged on that work was expressed. The committee has already secured a good deal of valuable information for this book. The division, after some discussion of various matters of interest to wheelmen, adjourned.

At 7 o'clock, June 19th, the followidg gentlemen left this city on their wheels to make a four-days' run: J. R. Wilson, J. C. Combs, Norman Smith, Mr. Patch, L. M. Hodgson, T. C. Petri, F. J. Newson and Mr. Woodward.

The wheelmen will make the run to Shelbyville first day via Nolensville and Eaglesville. The second day they go to Lynchburg via Fayetteville, the third day to Murfreesboro via Shelbyville, and the fourth to Nashville via Lebanon. The distance thus arranged is 200 miles.

LATER.

From the Nashville American we learn that "The 'four days' tour' was completed in twelve hours. But of an entry of nearly a dozen, only seven faced the starter Wednesday morning. These moved off from the club rooms, however, hopeful that Jupiter Pluvius had about exhausted his water supply, and that the wet spell of a week or more had been finally broken. Their hopes, however (and their clothes as well), were greatly dampened when they reached Nolensville, where they had to seek shelter from a heavy rainstorm. After the rain subsided they resumed their journey to Eagleville, but the road was so muddy and some portions of it so bad on account of having been recently laid with rock, that a council of war was held, and it was decided to abandon the idea of attempting to continue the journey."

CITY OF BOSTON PROGRAMME. JULY 4.

THE City of Boston has always made a feature of cycle racing in its 4th July celebrations, and this year instead of the races being held on the short turn track of the Common, the fine surfaces and easy corners of Franklin Park will be utilized. We give list of events and the prizes: Gold medal for 1st.; gold and silver medal for 2nd. The handsomest and most valuable prizes ever given by the city. One-mile novice, bicycle, wheels not less than 35 lb. weight. Quarter-mile open, bicycle, in heats. First 2 men in each heat ride in the final. One-mile handicap, bicycle. Quarter-mile open, safety, in heats. First two men in each heat ride in the final. One-mile handicap, safety. One-mile tandem bicycle, handicap. One-mile consolation, for type of wheel which has the greatest number of actual starters in preceeding events. Entries may be made personally or by letter at the office of the Clerk of Committees, City Hall, till Tuesday, July 2, at 1 P. M. Races will be under L. A. W. rules and handicapped by L. A. W. official handicapper.

CHELSEA, MASS., CITY PROGRAMME.

THE following are the events for the races on Chelsea Common, 5-lap track, July 4. L. A. W. rules. Time of start, 8 A. M. 1. One-mile novice, prizes, first, silver cup, second, silk umbrella. 2. One-mile, boys, 15 years, prizes, first, gold medal, second, silver medal. 3. Velocipede, boys, prizes, first, gold medal, second, silver medal. 4. One mile, championship of Chelsea, prizes, first, gold medal, second, silver medal. 5. Two mile, for Chelsea riders, prizes, first, traveling bag, second, cane. 7. One mile safety, prizes, first, pair opera glasses, second, S. & P. bicycle shoes. Should enough entries be received the committee will add another open race, in place of one of the others. No entrance fee is charged, and the committee reserve the right to accept or reject any entries. For full particulars inquire of the committee at Chelsea Bicycle Club, or Chas. E. Walker at office of Pope Mfg. Co.

RAIN SPOILED THE PROGRAMME.

THE Kentucky Division of the League of American Wheelmen, after a pleasant meet in Danville, left for their homes. The weather was so disagreeable while they were there that it was impossible for them to carry out their programme, and on that account the meeting was no doubt a great disappointment to the wheelmen.

CYCLING AT WINNEPEG, MAN.

LAST year bicycling at Winnepeg was comparatively at a standstill, but through the energy and push of the officers of the present bicycle club it has revived wonderfully and we are glad to be able to state in our columns that the club is now on a sound footing, both financially and in regard to membership. Last Tuesday evening the club held a very enthusiastic meeting in the Clarendon Hotel. They have offered three medals for the greatest mileage (dating from the next run) covered during the season while on club runs, thus enabling the poorest rider to successfully compete by attending all the parades and runs.

On the evening of the 1st of July the club will hold a lantern parade. This will be a sight worth seeing. The wheels will be decorated with Chinese lanterns, producing a very wierd and romantic effect. The route will probably be along the main streets and will no doubt be looked forward to with great interest.—Sifting.

BANKER'S HILL CLIMBING.

The journalist who runs the Pittsburg Bulletin Wheel column this year should take to tilling soil for a livelihood, as he is very fresh and gullible, as shown by the following clipped from his column: "Hal Greenwood, the great hill climber, has issued a challenge to the world for a hill-climbing contest for the championship, and a number of the friends of D. W. Banker are trying to induce him to accept the offer, feeling that he could make it exceedingly interesting for Mr. Greenwood, to say the least. Banker is not at all averse to accepting the challenge, save that the time and expense are serious factors to him, his business requiring all of his attention at present. However, he is considering the matter and will give a positive answer some time next week. In the event of a contest, one of the trials will take place in Pittsburg, another in St. Louis, and the third one on some neutral ground, probably Eagle Rock or Corey."

Mr. B. has entered several hill-climbing contests at Wheeling, W. Va. He took first prize at Ice House Hill, Pittsburg, Pa.; he again took first at New Castle, Pa.; he was not successful at Beaver Falls, Pa.; he again took first at Beaver Falls (another hill); he took second prize, two starters; at Brownsville, Pa., he was not successful. Do three firsts in six contests make a champion hill climber?

Why has he not climbed Murder Lane where a diamond was offered, the "time and expense" racket would have amounted to three hours' time and 75 cents for a round trip ticket. It cost John A. Wells at least $25 and one week's time to try for the medal.

However. Nil desperandum, as the winner has all training and travelling expenses paid. P.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT OTTAWA, KANSAS.—Track.—First day: Half-mile novice, W. H. Caniff, Topeka, first; W. A. Scheel, Emporia, second; time, 1.35 2-5. One-mile, Kansas City and Kansas, H. S. Hale, Junction City, first; W. A. Scheel, second; time, 3.13 1-5. Half-mile (distance) handicap, W. C. Kerr (200 yards), Burlington, first; A. B. Mulvane (100 yards), Topeka, second; Colie Bell (scratch), Minneapolis, Minn., third; time, 1.11 1-2. Five-mile Kansas championship, won by Mulvane against A. J. Henley, Wichita; time, 16.48 1-2. Half-mile L. A. W. championship, Colie Bell, first; Henley, second; time, 1.20 1-2; in this race a special prize of a $65 diamond shirt stud was to have been given if time equalled 1.19 1-5 made by Windle in 1888. Boys' race, Geo. Hubbard, Olathe, first; Ollie Shiras, Ottawa, second; time, 1.40. One-mile handicap (distance), Colie Bell (scratch), first; H. S. Hale (200 yards), second; time, 2.51 3-4. One-mile State championship, Henley, first; Mulvane, second; time, 3.07 1-4. One-half mile hands off, H. S. Hale, first; competitors, Caniff and Scheel, disqualified; time, 1.43 3-4. Two-mile handicap (time), Henley (35 seconds), first; Scheel (40 seconds), second; Colie Bell (scratch), distanced; time, 6.35. Second day: Half-mile novice, J. H. Lane, Burlington, first; O. S. Townsend, Topeka, second; Lee Patrick, Ottawa, third; time, 1.32. One-mile handicap (time), Hale (scratch), first; Kerr (8 seconds), second; time, 3.12. Half-mile State championship, Henley, first; Mulvane, second; time, 1.26. Ten-mile L. A. W. championship, won by Colie Bell in 35.03 3-4; Henley, second. Half-mile safety, T. E. Glavin, Kansas City, first; G. H. Smith, Kansas City, second; time, 1.46. Half-mile handicap (distance), seven starters, Hale and Mulvane scratch, Scheel and Lane 75 feet, F. W. Metcalf of Olathe, Patrick and Hubbard 150 feet; Hale won in 1.26; Hubbard, second. One-mile handicap (distance), Henley (scratch), first; Mulvane (scratch), second; Kerr (100 feet), third; time, 3.03. Half-mile consolation, J. M. Hill, Topeka, first; Metcalf, second; time, 1.36. The closing event of the race programme was an effort on the part of Colie Bell to lower Windle's record; though unsuccessful the effort was highly creditable, considering the condition of the track and the strong wind. Time for half mile, 1.20 1-5.

AT PHILADELPHIA.—One of the most successful meetings ever given by the Athletic Club of the Young Men's Christian Association was that of Saturday afternoon on the Club's grounds at Belmont and Elm avenue. They were run off promptly, but in the bicycle races the time made was poor owing to the wretched condition of the teack. It is a five-lap clay and cinder, and the surface is exceedingly soft. W. W. Taxis of the A. C. S. N. won without the least exertion in 3m. 49s., with Jones of the Y. M. C. A. second. W. W. Taxis is now a member of the Athletic Club Schuylkill Navy of Philadelphia, Pa., and will race under the colors of that orgenization in the King's County games at New York on Thursday and Friday of this week. Considerable interest is manifested in his work in these races, as he will be pitted against some fast men, and it will be the first real test of his endurance and powers.

AT WILMINGTON, Del.—A team consisting of four of the Wilmington (Del.) Wheel Club had a go-as-you-please race in their club run Saturday last. The club rode to Birmingham Park on the Brandywine, and Messrs. Jeffries, Merrihew, Keebles and Bartram took a swim in the classic Brandywine. The swim was all right, but when they came out to dress they failed to notice that a bull had taken possession of the region immediately surrounding their clothes, and it is authentically vouched for by eye-witnesses that Merrihew broke all his previous records in competition with Mr. bull. A prize medal is to be awarded him for first prize, although the honors were divided between the quartette.

AT CINCINNATI.—Road.—The championship race of the C. B. C., which had been postponed one week, was finally run on the 23d inst. As a number were scared off by the report that Clarley Allen was to contest, there were only 17 entries. When the signal was given, off we started and dashed down the grade and through the bridge in a bunch. On, on, we went through Hartwell without pausing at the White Hall to quench our thirst at the pump (?); on, on, through Wyoming and Park place; push, push, up the long grade through aristocratic Glendale; still on! now hugging the side of the road to give way to a fiery steed; pump, pump, through decaying Springdale; rush, rush, till the "Duke" breaks his saddle spring (all on account of that miserable drop visor cap he wore) and falls out. On, on, till we reach the top of the grade four miles from the goal, and the silent Nelson gets into a rut, spills himself, and smashes his handle bar. On, on, till the judges see Wayne of revolutionary fame in the lead. On he goes and makes the distance in 1h. 5m. 28s., closely followed by the plucky Nelson (2) and Barth (3). Next comes the portly Nash riding Wayne's wheel, the backbone of which was nearly broken in two; next, the forlorn "Duke;" next, the tardy Husemann, whose vision was interfered with by a boil on the cheek; next, the weary secretary, who was never known to be in a hurry. The rest succeeded in reaching the goal, each with his excuse for not winning. With some it was the strong head wind, with others the ruts, dust and stones, with Norton, the sudden and unexpected action of his brake every reason but the real one, that they did not ride fast enough!!

AT STATEN ISLAND, N. Y., June 11.—Track.—Under the auspices of the Alton Amateur Athletic Association: Two mile bicycle—Won by S. S. Bowman, N. J. A. C., in 6m. 49 2-5s; H. L. Powers, N. Y. City, second; A. B. Powers, R. W., third.

AT NEW YORK.—Track.—Under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union: Two-mile bicycle—F. G. Brown, New Jersey A. C., first, in 6m. 28s.; M. E. Crist, Columbia A. C., second, by 10 yards; S. B. Bowman, New Jersey A. C., third.

AT ST. LOUIS; June 22.—Track.—To-day several races were held at the meeting of the Pastime Athletic Club, and resulted as follows: Half-mile scratch—C. W. Stone (1), Frank Mehlig (2); time, 1m. 38s. Two-mile bicycle handicap—Frank Mehlig (1), A. G. Harding (2); time, 6m. 58s. The embargo against wheelmen still stands at the fair grounds, and I can't, therefore, for the life of me, see why our best men should put themselves on a level with pot hunters, and help bolster up an athletic meeting, which but for the bicycle races would have fallen flat. St. Louis has her own bicycle track used for that purpose exclusively, and during the two meetings given on it, not a single member of any of our four big athletic clubs was present, to my knowledge, and why should wheelmen, therefore, always rush to an athletic meeting? My advice would be to give them the go-by until they do the right thing by us, and by all means stay away from the fair grounds until the embargo is raised. LINNEUS.

AT NEW ORLEANS, June 16.—Road.—One-mile, second of the series of these races for the Hill medal. The starters were B. C. Rea, B. M. Spriggs, A. M. Hill, H. Christy, H. L. Cary, C. B. Guillotte and G. A. Solomon. The riders were well bunched and pulled out for keeping. The final spurt was a good one, and Sprigg put on his best legs and pulled out in his beautiful spurt, and came in a winner in the fast time of 2.54, beating the previous record for a mile by 15 seconds. Carey was not 10 feet behind, second, and Rea third, about 12 feet behind Carey. Hill finished 1 second behind the winner, or 2.55; Christy in the rear. Sprigg having won two out of the three races, gets the medal. [From advices we have, we should judge that the time claimed could not be proven, hence, unless we are wrongly advised, we cannot allow that 2.54 was made.—ED.] Two and three-eights miles handicap of the New Orleans Bicycle Club's first contest for the A. M. Hill cup—Starters, B. M. Sprigg and H. L. Carey (scratch), and J. W. Dodge and C. H. Fenner (25 seconds). Dodge shook Fenner in short order, and maintaining a lively clip, was never headed, winning by a 30 yards in 7 17. Sprigg and Cary hung well together, but again Sprigg's spurt won the day for him, though Cary responded in good style and was scarcely a yard behind him.

AT BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.—Professional—Track.—The one-mile professional scratch race was won by R. H. English, of North Shields, in 2m. 57 2-5s.; Robb, second. In the one-mile bicycle race J. Lee, of Coventy, was the winner in 3m. 23 3-5s. F. W. Allard, of Coventry, was the winner in the five-mile safety bicycle race; his time was 17m. 42s. The ten-mile bicycle race was won by R. H. English, in 33m. 45 4-5s. W. Wood, F. Wood, T. English and Allard were the other entries.

AT CAMDEN, N. J., June 22.—Track.—The five-mile road match race between John A. Green, of the South End Wheelmen, and Joseph Potter, of the Camden Wheelmen, came off on the Haddonfield pike on Saturday afternoon, June 22. The men got away all right and for over four miles Potter kept in the lead and set the pace, which was not an excessively fast one. When about three quarters of a mile from the finish, Green putting on a heavy spurt ran ahead of his antagonist and got in a winner in 22 minutes with Potter 10 seconds behind. The time was not fast, owing to the heavy head wind which seriously impeded the progress of the riders. The road was also in poor condition.

NEWPORT-BOSTON.—On Sunday, June 23, Wm. Van Wagoner rode his roadster rear-driving safety, a 46-pound wheel, to Boston and return, making a total riding distance of 180 miles. He left Newport at 4 A. M. and rode to Bristol Ferry, where he had a boatman waiting to row him over the river. Then he rode on through Bristol, Warren, around Providence, through Pawtucket, to North Attleborough, which place he reached at 8.25. He then got breakfast and started at 9, and rode through Wrentham, Walpole, Norwood, Dedham, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, and around the city, and went in Beacon street to the Tremont House. He got to the Tremont House at 12 30 but could not get dinner until 1.15. He started on the return trip at 2 P. M. and came back the same way until he got to Pawtucket. On the way from Pawtucket he got on the wrong road and went considerably out of the way to Warren. There he got supper and rode to Bristol Ferry, where he could not get rowed over until the New York boat went past. He then rode home, which place he reached at 11 P. M. The actual riding time was 15 hours. He claims this as New England record for a day's ride on a straight away country road. If proofs are shown that any better has been done he will go at it again. Over 75 miles of above was ridden hands-off. "NEWPORT."

"RAMBLERS" OF BUFFALO—GREAT CENTURY RUN.

On Sunday last the Ramblers of Buffalo made a century run that surpassed anything on record, bringing in 34 out of 35 starters; 21 ordinaries and 13 safeties pulled through. We left by the boat Idaho of the Lake Superior line at 7 P. M. Saturday, and arrived at Erie at 3.10, when, through the courtesy of the managers, we were served with a breakfast that would satisfy the cravings of an epicure. The monotony of the evening was relieved by some soul-stirring songs by third Lieut. Sauerwein and banjo solos by Capt. Dietzer. Then all was quiet until Mr. Dold's melodious voice soared through the cabin, and such a chorus of wails and groans, with a perfect deluge of hats, papers, etc., was never before heard. Mr. Dold fell into a state of innocuous desuetude with the faint remark that "You don't appreciate classical."

After breakfast the start was made for Buffalo at 4.15, 35 members answering the captain's call. The first stop was made at Westfield, 33 miles, at 7 15 A. M., for second breakfast. Next stop was Fredonia, 49 miles; then we struck a 14 mile gait and held it through to Silver Creek, where a rest of 15 minutes was taken, with every man in. After leaving Silver Creek the first poor roads were encountered in passing through the Reservation, but the boys held out nobly, making Angola at 1.30, where we had dinner. Before reaching Angola Mr. Marshlow was taken ill and had to lay over. Before leauing Angola a photo was taken of the boys in road uniform. We pulled up stakes from Angola at 4 P. M., and made Buffalo at 7.30, with the majority as fresh as daisies and the rest in comparatively good condition. The run was remarkable for long runs without a dismount and scarcely any accidents, the only one being that of Mr. Georger, who had a "goat" run into him, causing a header and a sprained wrist, but he had the Rambler grit and stuck it out to Buffalo. A wonderful feat, and one of which the Ramblers feel proud, was performed by Mr. Chas. E. Gates in climbing Silver Creek Hill, and he did it with comparative ease. This is the first time this has been climbed on an ordinary. Capt. Dietzer came next highest in making it, but he did not quite get there.

This run, I claim, shows that the Ramblers are without doubt the best riding club in existence, and by the next meeting they will have the largest membership of any club in Buffalo and one of the largest in the United States. There was not a hitch in the whole run from leaving on Saturday until Buffalo was reached, and reflects great credit on Capt. Dietzer's management. The following is the roster of those who went through: Capt. E. H. Dietzer, 1st Lieut. Geo. C. Lamb, 2d Lieut. E. F. Dold, 3d Lieut. O. H. Sauerwein, W. O. Graham, E. B. Flach, C. D. Koester, H. W. Dawson, G. C. Kempke, Chas. Bonney, E. P. Flach, F. Heeman, C J. Ritter, C. H. Bamberg, A. M. Vincent, A. L. Georger, Geo. Hummell, W. H. Clemens, H. Dunn, C. E. Gates, U. S. Dietzer, ordinaries.

A. C. Hager, B. C. Jewett, G. J. Haker, W, G. Schack, F. E. Klipfel, G. J. Cook, E. A. Vogt, B. I. Crooker, S. B. Schen, G. J. Bucheit, Louis Bruch, F J. Matham, W. J. Lautz, safeties.

Thirty-four finished and 35 started.

The actual riding time was 10 hours and 15 minutes, and the total time occupied in the trip 15 hours and 15 minutos. Every hill, except at State Line and Silver Creek, was climbed. The pacemakers were G. C. Laub and G. H. Sauerwein. Capt. Dietzer has made the trip three times, W. O. Graham twice and Geo. C. Laub thrice. Last year seven Ramblers made the run in nine hours and five minutes. [Our correspondent omits to give the exact distance.—ED.]

RACING AT MACON, GA.

As the cycling season opens, the WORLD increases in quality and quantity, and I am sure if every section were heard from in its columns, not one would be found to be more progressive or wide-awake than the eastern portion of the South. Already preparations are being made for tours and race meets, to take place during the summer and autumn. The Georgia State Agricultural Society have put up the "spons." for the four days' races during the fair in October next. The programmes have just been issued, which show that the events for the four days will be as follows:

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 23: First event, one-mile novice (for those who have never won a race)—Gold medal to first man; silver medal to second.

Second. half-mile dash, open—Best man gets a Columbia Ritchie Cyclometer.

Third, two-mile handicap—Large gold and silver medals.

THURSDAY. Oct. 24: Fourth, two-mile, open—Large gold and silver medals.

Fifth, one-mile handicap—Gold and silver medals.

Sixth, quarter-mile dash—Fine Kirkpatrick saddle.

MONDAY, Oct. 28: Eleventh, one-mile novice—Large gold and silver medals.

Eighth, one-mile State championship—Handsome gold medal.

Ninth. one-mile, Macon championship.

Tenth. five-mile open—One large gold and two silver medals.

TUESDAY, Oct. 29: Eleventh. half-mile, hands off—Gold medal.

Twelfth. fancy riding—One gold and silver cup.

Thirteenth. two-mile State championship—Handsome gold medal.

Fourteenth, two-mile handicap—Gold and silver medal.

L. A. W. rules to govern.

HE WILL INCLUDE BRISTOL COUNTY

MR. 17,191, Dear Sir: I am glad you thought of including Bristol County in my challenge, if any one in Taunton will accept. I hereby challenge any amateur in Bristol County to a race as per other challenge. Yours truly, W. VAN WAGONER.

Newport, R. I., June 19, 1889.

GREENWOOD'S CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

HAL GREENWOOD has received and accepted the following: "In answer to your challenge published in BICYCLING WORLD, I would say that I am willing to contest with you on any hill which you may name. I will also ride any machine which will be satisfactory to you, loser to pay all traveling expenses. In case you decide to accept my challenge my address is W. A. Wilson, 81 Bryan avenue, Chicago, Ill. P. S. Any date you may name is satisfactory to me."

The above sounds fishy to me, as I doubt if any rider in the country who knows Greenwood would allow him his own selection of hills, etc., or perhaps Chicago is getting ambitious and wants our hill climber's scalp. "LINNEUS."

ROUTE FROM BALTIMORE TO NEW YORK WANTED.

Editor Bicycling World: Will you please publish a small notice in the WORLD, asking for best route from Baltimore to New York City? Yours truly, H. C. CALDWELL.

ROUTE FROM NEW YORK TO PROVIDENCE.

Editor Bicycling World: In reply to inquiry of best route from New York to Providence, would say that the best as well as the most direct route I think is out of New York through Riverside and along the Connecticut shore, through Stamford, Bridgeport, to New Haven, thence on through Branford, Guilford, Madison, Clinton, Saybrook, across the Connecticut River to New London, thence on to Providence. I have ridden east and west from New Haven, as far as Stamford on the west, and New London on the east, and there are no other roads that are rideable, except along the shore. If you go back into the country it makes the distance longer, and the roads across country in Connecticut are sandy and hilly.

The shore route is none too good from New York to New Haven. The riding will be found to be very good, and on east from New Haven as far as Clinton it is fair, if sidewalks are taken advantage of. From New Hampshire to Branford the road is elegant. Beyond Clinton to New London the road is very poor, once going over it is enough for any wheelman, as several of our boys can testify. Beyond New London I do not know how the roads are, but the shore route is the only one to take. Yours truly,

A. G. FISHER. Elm City.

IN MEMORIAM.

AT a meeting of the members of the Manhattan Bicycle Club, held in New York, June 17th, 1889, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased an All-wise Providence to remove from his earthly career our late fellow member, Edmond R. Wyatt,

Be it resolved, That in this sad bereavement we tender to his family our most respectful feelings of sympathy and regret, and that in his death this club has lost a most useful, attentive member;

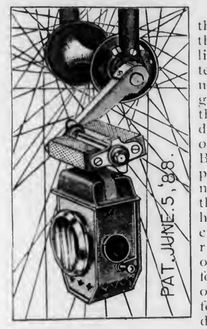
Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be sent to the family of the deceased, and be placed on the records of the club.

A true copy. CHAS. A. SHEEHAN, Secretary.

MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

NOTICE.

QUADRANT SAFETIES.



WE have before us the advertisement of a Philadelphia cycle agency offering our safeties at a figure which is below the standard price.

We beg therefore to inform purchasers that our goods can only be obtained from our sole agents for the United States, the Strong & Green Cycle Company, 707 Arch street, Philadelphia, and their appointed local agents in the principal cycling centres.

We take care that no one handles our goods but our regularly appointed agents, so that the most that can be done by an agent is to obtain here and there an odd machine.

All purchasers are therefore desired to place their orders only with our agents as above. THE QUADRANT TRICYCLE CO., Birmingham.

THE BOWERS PEDAL LAMP.

THE Bowers patented pedal lamp is the result of investigations made with the idea of producing for wheelmen a light, neat, durable and convenient lantern. It is fastened to either pedal by means of a neat, stiff steel spring, which grips the pedal pin in such a way that the use of tools, screws, etc., is entirely done away with. The absolute absence of play or rattle is a marked feature. Being fastened perfectly rigid with the pedal, there is no friction, consequently no wear. Freedom from occupancy of the hub of the wheel allows the use of a hub cyclometer, and the annoying difficulty of having the shadow of the wheel rim directly in your path is completely obviated. There is no uncomfortable forward and back swinging motion, but on the contrary, the light is under perfect control of the rider, so that in going down hill, by a slight pressure of the toe, the flash is thrown forward and down. At other times the bullseye is nearly perpendicular. Can be set instantly at any angle on pedal pin.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

YOU CAN TRUST THE VOLANT.

Hotel Clerk (suspiciously)—Your bundle has come apart. May I ask what that queer thing is?

Guest—This is a new patent fire escape. I always carry it, so in case of fire I can let myself down from the hotel window. See?

Clerk (thoughtfully)—I see. Our terms for guests with fire escapes, sir, are invariably cash in advance.

WE have to acknowledg receipt of two boxes of cards daintily printed with our name and the name of the paper on same. A delicate bicycle in silver relief is on one corner. For all of which we have to thank Mr. N. C. Fowler, Jr., advertising department of the Pope Manufacturing Company.

A. W. PORTER rode a Swift Safety, geared to 57 inches, up and down Corey Hill four times without a dismount, in 36 minutes. This is record for the safety. L. D. Whittemore, Jr., did the timing, and the witnesses were: F. S. Norton at top, N. E. Batchelder, half way, and F. W. Fisher and L. D. Whittemore, Jr., at the bottom.

THE recent road race at Oil City, Pa., was won on a Columbia Light Roadster, by a boy fifteen years of age, against thirty-two competitors. Second and third prizes were also won by riders of Columbias. The road was in the most miserable condition, and the victory of the boy, George Smedley by name, against so many competitors, many of whom were the oldest and hardest road riders, is remarkable.

THE New Mail Safety has made a good showing lately in races. Murphy won the safety race at the Brooklyn tournament on a New Mail, and in California the New Mail won three out of four gold medals. The demand for this safety continues very large, and it has been a great success. Also Messrs. Read report a continued demand for the Mail Ordinaries. The offer in their advertisement for trades is certainly a good opportunity to get one of these favorites.

A - PUBLIC - APOLOGY.

We feel bound to Apologize to our many friends who have honored us with orders for machines this season, but who have not yet received them. Many people will think that a public apology is an unpleasant duty. Still it is our duty and "England and America expects every cycle firm to do its duty," and in this instance we are proud to apologize, and ask our many friends to have a little patience with us if we have been a little late in filling some of the orders. They are being filled in the sequence in which they were booked, and in a short time we will be going like an eight-day clock geared double. The demand for our celebrated "White Flyer" has taxed our resources to an unexpected extent. Our desks are littered with letters in favorable criticism of our machine, but we have decided to be original in our advertisements, so as to give the gentle reader a laugh now and then. Here is what a physician in Bridgeport says of our catalogue. (If you have not read our catalogue published in the BICYCLING WORLD, issue of May 31st., in the Wheel, issue of June 28th, and in the Wheelmen's Gazette for June, why have you not sent to us for it. We shall send it free to your address.)

The Bridgeport physician, who is somewhat of a wag says: "I asked a drummer once, some years ago, what a boy like myself should do in starting out on the road with a new article which was a good thing. Said the drummer: 'Act as if you did not care a ——— for anybody,' and so I thought as I perused you catalog in the BICYCLING WORLD this morning, that you didn't care a ———. I am a safety rider, doing nearly all my medical work on it, and covering upward of 3000 miles during the last twelve months. I am on the outlook for anything that will lighten my labors, and if Mr. "Jack" comes this way, I should like to look at your new species. Bridgeport is full of the craze just now. I was the first safety rider (from a business point of view.) Now there are over 50 machines, of various shapes and sizes—and a few abortions. Would like one of your catalogs, if you have not got rid of them all. Hastily, * *

Have You Renewed?

IF NOT,

RENEW THIS WEEK.

Renewal Season Ends June 30th.

The Renewal Season.

The renewal season closes on Saturday of the present week. We will receive any renewal that bears postmark of June 29 or 30th, but cannot take them after that date. Those members who allow their memberships to lapse can regain them only as applicants, paying $2 and taking the regular course.

L. A. W. Uniform.

To the members of the L. A. W.:

The Executive Committee of the L. A. W. having carefully considered the request of Chief Consul W. H. Emery of Massachusetts, for appointment of League tailors in the different Divisions with privilege of procuring League cloth from the Secretary, feel that such action would be a violation of the contract now existing between the L. A. W. and Browning, King & Co.

Browning, King & Co. are obliged to take a stated amount of cloth from the manufacturers, or none at all. Were the Secretary to handle cloth independently of Browning, King & Co., the profit to the latter would be too small to warrant a continued contract, as advantageous to the L. A. W. as is the present one.

President Luscomb has issued a call to the Chief Consuls of the Divisions to convene during the Hagerstown meet and advise with the Executive Committee upon the above matter. Pending the decision of this convention, the Executive Committee temporarily rule that League cloth may be procured of Browning, King & Co. direct according to circular of Uniform Committee published in L. A. W. Bulletin, January 18th, or from the Secretary if it be purchased at the expense of individuals or of Divisions and providing the Secretary buys of Browning, King & Co. as long as they continue to be the official tailors. Fraternally,

Executive Committee L. A. W.

Missouri Members, Attention!

Arrangements for transportation to the Sedalia meet have now been completed and tickets at the rate of one fare for the round trip will be on sale on the morning of July 3, at all points, good up to and including July 5. For parties desiring to leave St. Louis on the night of the 2d, special arrangements have been made, particulars of which can be learned through the undersigned. Parties of 25 or more leaving from any part should at once notify me, particularly those leaving from St. Louis as the Missouri Pacific Railroad has promised a special car and special baggage car for wheels in this event. Lists have been placed at all the cycle agencies and clubs in St. Louis and intending participants should promptly sign them with date of departure.

CHAS. S. DAVOL,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board

Pennsylvania.

To the members of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W.:

In assuming the office of Chief Consul of the Pennsylvania Division we find the renewals are not coming in as they should. Think possibly some are holding back on account of the delayed Road Book.

We shall endeavor to have the date when the book will be ready to mail announced in the BULLETIN of next week. We would request all Local Consuls to make a great effort to have all in their several districts renew during the few days left us for renewals (until June 30.) Besides this two dollar Road Book and a weekly paper, we are now to have better rail-road and hotel privileges.

Send in your dollar at once and Pennsylvania will retain her position in the League.

JOHN J. VAN NORT,
Chief Consul Pa. Div. L. A. W.

Suspensions.

For violating clause 3 of Racing Rule F, at Rome, N. Y., on May 30, the following men are suspended from the race track until July 12th, 1889, viz: A. H. Dobson, Harold Marquisee and John C. Robbins of Utica; R. P. Judd, J. P. Becker and T. C. Yehle of Syracuse. Amateurs are warned against competing with either during suspension.

CHAS. S. DAVOL,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

Rhode Island Race.

Please give notice that the 25-mile race of the Rhode Island Division that was to be held in June has been postponed until September. That the Division Board of Officers concur with the Racing Board in this decision, and oblige, Yours sincerely, Tariff on Bicycles.

To the members of the Connecticut State Division:

I would like to state that there was a slight mistake published in the issue of the Bulletin dated June 14th, that the New York, N. H. & H. R. R. was connected with the Trunk Line Association and that they would carry wheels free of charge when accompanied by their owners.

I will say that the said railroad is not a member of the Trunk Line Association and is not in any way bound by any rate quoted by such Association, and the tariff still continues on bicycles carried on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

C. E. LAROM, C. C.

Pennsylvania.

At the December meeting of the State Board of Officers, the following nominating committee was appointed. Geo. N. Osborne, 115 North 2nd st., Philadelphia: D. K. Trimmer, York, and John J. Van Nort, Scranton. I would appoint Chas. F. Seidell, P. O. Box 285, Pittsburg, as a member of the Committee in place of myself and request members throughout the State to send in their nominations for Chief Consul, Vice Consul, Secretary-Treasurer and Representatives.

Let the members take an interest in the nomination so we may have good, active representative men placed in office.

Pennsylvania should be more united, we should have our annual State meet. The different sections should become better acquainted. Let us hope that some club or city will take our Division meet in September and make it attractive enough to draw from all over the State. The start should be made early. Who shall we hear from? JOHN J. VAN NORT, C. C. Pa. Div. L. A. W.

Scranton, June 18, 1889.

Connecticut Division.

The annual State meet of the Connecticut Division will be held at Bridgeport on Monday, July 8th.

The Division will be entertained by the members of the Bridgeport Wheel Club and the Rambling Wheelmen, who are all working hard to give the boys a fine time.

An ample store-room for wheels has been secured near the rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club and within a block of the depot.

The League Hotel is "The Atlantic" opposite the depot, American plan: L. A. W. rates $2 and $2.50 per day.

The programme as far as completed is given below. The runs will be over some of the finest roads in Connecticut.

Saturday, July 6th.

6.30 P. M. Special concert at Seaside Park by Wheeler & Wilson Band.

Sunday, July 7th.

3 P. M. Run to Samp Mortar Rock, leaving the rooms of the Rambling Wheelmen: distance about seven miles over a splendid road.

Monday, July 8th.

6 A. M. A run will leave the rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club for Seaside Park and the Boulevard, ending at the rooms of the Ramblers.

10 A. M. A run will leave the rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club for Beardsley's Park where refreshments will be served, returning by way of East Bridgeport.

11 A. M. Another run to Beardsley's Park over the same route starting from the rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club.

10.30 A. M. Business meeting of the Division in the rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club.

12 M. Parade with mounted band forms on Broad street between State and Elm.

2.30 P. M. Races at Seaside Park: L. A. W. rules to govern, as follows:

1 mile ordinary, open.
1-2 mile ordinary, open.
1 mile safety, open.
3 mile ordinary, open.
1 mile tandem safety, open.
1 mile ordinary, championship of Bridgeport.
Hill climbing contest at Greenfield Hill.

Two prizes will be offered for each event, some of which are very handsome.

Entrance fee to each event $ 50, returnable to starters.

Entries close July 5th, with P. M. Harris, 18 Bishop Block, Bridgeport, Conn.

A run to Greenfield Hill where the hill climbing contest will take place will start from the track immediately at the close of the races; distance about six miles.

On the return from this run a stop will be made at the rooms of the Rambling Wheelmen where a lunch will be served.

In the evening a variety of entertainments will be provided.

C. E. MOORE,
L. A. W. Consul for Bridgeport, Chairman ex-officio.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

COLOSSAL IMPUDENCE.

We have grown weary of the cheek of patent medicine advertisers who inveigle the gentle reader to read an account of a fire or a ship wreck and "WORK IN" AT THE SAME TIME an advertisement for their confounded pills or squirts or powders. The WHITE CYCLE CO. of Westboro, Mass., resort to no such strategetic methods, but regularly advertise in the best wheeling papers and cycling mediums, and when they say that the WHITE FLYER is the best running wheel in the world they know what the are talking about, and you can believe what they say. Agents wanted in every city in America. Write for catalogue and terms to agents. Advertising agents with brand new ideas and lowest rates address

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Send for Catalogue and see how they are built.

Gents: Since I received my 39x24 Star and having used it and given it a thorough trial, I have now convinced myself that it is all that is claimed for it. For hill climbing in particular—well, I can only say that it is the boss of them all, and cannot be excelled; it is the best wheel for road riding, and can be easily controlled on rough roads; it is not as sensitive as the ordinary chain safeties of the crank pattern, and can be easily handled in rutty roads. I find that almost any rider of the ordinary bike can mount and ride it at first trial, and are pleased with the way it handles. It is much lighter than any of the road riding safeties, and I feel confident that in the near future the safety riders will find that the 39x24 Star will be worth consideration, and it will not take much to convince them that it is "the wheel" for safety and all around riding. Respectfully,
Hal. W. Greenwood,
"Champion Hill Climber of the World."

REGULAR COLUMBIAS.

A "Safety Year," certainly, inasmuch as more Safeties have been sold this season than during any other season; yet the regular bicycles hold the riding lead. All the wheelmen of America are not forsaking the standard machines. Take the POPE MFG. Co.'s orders, for example, day by day, as the mail and telegraph bring them in — Safeties, many of them; regulars, on many days a great many more regulars.

Columbia Light Roadster.

The handsomest, strongest, most extensively used, and most generally satisfactory Light Roadster ever made. More good points than are to be found in any other single Bicycle. The lightest road machine. Compare its actual weight with that of any other brought into competition with it.

"The nearest to perfection of anything yet attained in wheel construction."

Expert Columbia.

Best known Bicycle in the world. The established favorite for long-distance touring, and all other uses where the highest possible qualities are requisite, with durability pre-eminent.

The best made and equipped all-round Roadster; and note this point, it's just as light as most Light Roadsters.

Direct spokes for durability, elasticity, and ease of repair when necessary. All our latest improvements.

Volunteer Columbia.

The best wheel for the money ever seen. Made to ride, and guaranteed to wear. All steel, and no castings.

Why spend your dollars for a second-hand Bicycle when the same amount will buy a new Columbia?

The general construction of the Expert, with some of its least essential advantages modified. A saving of money without a loss of efficiency. Study it up in the Columbia catalogue, and examine the machine itself.

Columbia Semi-Roadster.

Give the boy a real Bicycle, and remember that the best is the cheapest, because it will last the longest, and has a market value when you are through with it.

Columbia Bicycles, like Brewster carriages, may cost a little more to begin with, but the value is there, and you can depend upon it.

The most durable, easiest running, and best equipped Boy's Bicycle yet built.

AT THE HEAD OF THE LINE AT THE FINISH, YOU SEE.

THE POOR OLD POETRY MACHINE BROKE DOWN RIGHT THERE (BECAUSE IT WASN'T A VICTOR), SO WE ONLY PAUSE TO REMARK IN PLAIN, BUT EMPHATIC PROSE, THAT VICTORS HAVE A CHEERFUL HABIT OF SHOWING UP IN "FIRST PLACES" WHETHER THE QUESTION IS OF SPEED, EASE OF RUNNING, OR ALL-AROUND EXCELLENCE IN ACTIVE USE.

THEY ARE VERY FINE TO LOOK AT, BUT THAT ISN'T WHAT THEY ARE BUILT FOR. ASK THEIR RIDERS HOW VICTORS ACT ON THE ROAD, UP HILL AND DOWN, AND HOME AGAIN.

"IVEL" TANDEMS.

These celebrated machines hold all tandem safety records for both road and track in this country and in England, including

One mile on the road in 2.38.
Five miles on the road in 15.22 2-5.
Ten miles on the road in 30.44 2-5.

In order to supply the limited demand for tandem safeties for Lady and Gentleman, with the steering controlled from the rear by means of a connecting rod between the ends of the handle-bars, we have just had a new pattern, which we call No. 18, made especially for us. The following are the specifications:

Best weldless steel tube frame and stay rods; special hollow elliptical weldless steel forks; double steering; hollow adjustable handle-bars and seat rods; lamp bracket; powerful brake to each wheel; ball bearings throughout, including pedals; 6-in. cranks; solid U rims, with extra stout H. T. wire spoces and wide bearings to driving wheel, 7-8-in. best rubber tires; rubber foot-rests; tension saddles: mud guards: gearing 54-in., 57-in., or 60-in.: enameled black: parts plated: tool bag, oil can and spanner.

Weigt, 85 pounds. PRICE, $175.00.

for absorbing vibration. This is manifest more particularly on rough roads, or in crossing car tracks in the cities. The Rambler rider keeps his feet on the pedals. The advocate of front fork springs does not. Hundreds of testimonials bear us out on these points. Has it occurred to you that the weight comes mostly on the rear of the machine? Then why not put the spring there? But look into this matter yourself and you'll see.

"SINGER SAFETY BICYCLES lead them all!! But not in the repair shop. More Singers sold this season than any other make of Safety. Strongest, handsomest and finest running Safety that was ever invented by a cycling genius. It has a raking, racing looking build. Has the only Spring-wired Tire. Can't come out. No other Safety has it. Why not? Because Singer & Co. have got the finest thing, and they are going to keep it to themselves. The Singer has the most powerful brake can be used. Always reliable. The Singer rides easily and comfortably. No lame back or loose false teeth, if you ride a Singer. The Singer is made for comfort as well as speed. If you don't believe it try one. We give you a fine spring saddle of any make you may choose. The Singer is such a reliable wheel, that despite the large number ridden, if we were to depend for one-quarter of our repair work on Singers, we should have red flag flying over our door in no time. Its name is Singer, but not rattler. Notice the handsomest wheels among the leaders in any road scorch and you will find they are Singers, and then notice that they don't rattle like a low gear loaded with hoop iron. If you want to see a first-class piece of cycle mechanism, beg, borrow, steal or hire a Singer Safety and pull it apart. The very finest workmanship will be displayed. Notice the ball bearings. Notice the chain adjustment. Notice the fine finish. In fact, if you want to see the acme of cycle mechanism notice the Singer. CAMPBELL & CO., 33 Page St., Providence, R. THE management of this paper refuse to print in the advertising columns of this paper any matter that is disparaging of a rival or which in its estimation is objectionable in any way.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 5 JULY, 1889

THE position taken by us in regard to advertising matter to be inserted in this paper has created quite a stir, and we are glad to be able to record that a majority of our patrons have already expressed themselves pleased with the stand we have taken.

The question was put to us by a patron as "where we would draw the line as to disparaging advertising?" The answer is simple: If A desires to state or imply specifically that B. or C. makes a wheel that is no good, or implies that because B. or C. is in the courts attempting to protect the rights they claim to hold under certain patents, B. and G. are "villains of the deepest dye," we should refuse to print such matter.

In other words, if a case is in litigation we will only print facts of such litigation and not opinions of either of the litigants. An advertiser has a perfect right to claim that his machine or device is the best in the world, and he may properly compare in general (not specifically), his machine or device with others, so long as he does not make his comparison so plain as to be obvious attacks on any particular make. We cannot forbid our patrons stating that the ordinary is superior to the safety, the direct action preferable to the geared machine, the geared machine superior to the direct action, his particular anti-vibration appliance superior to others of a different principle, or that the stiff fork is better than the spring fork, or vice versa. Each maker has a specialty, and where fairness is used and comparison is not so plain or specific as to bring it down to one or two machines, we cannot refuse to accept such matter, as we believe that it is legitimate.

THE English cycling papers are full of interesting news of the doings of the American party. But Wheeling has a very savage article on Mr. Elwell and his methods, and without knowing Mr. Elwell's side of the story we will wager that the McCandlish impetuosity has run away with the McCandlish good sense. The burden of Wheeling's complaint is that Mr. Elwell was not sufficiently appreciative of English hospitality in the manner he treated the Stanley Club's and the Ripley Road Club's invitations.

The charges made by Wheeling are very direct and decidedly pungent and we take them for what they are worth, until we hear the other side.

Mr. Pennell also comes in for a share of censure at the hands of the same paper as being also callous to the warm and hospitable overture of London wheelmen. Among other pleasant things Wheeling prints is: "If Mr. Elwell should conduct another team of Americans to Ireland and England he wants to leave a little practical anatomy. He has had the warm heart and ready hand. We can promise him the cold shoulder next time."

We hope for the honor of American courtesy and appreciation of the whole-souled reception the tourists have received, that Mr. Elwell will not allow this virulent attack to pass without notice.

We have no doubt at all but that the tourists and Messrs. Elwell and Pennell will be able to put themselves right in the eyes of English and American cyclists.

VAN WAGONER WILL TRY TO RIDE A SAFETY IN THREE MINUTES, HANDS OFF.

WE are in receipt of a letter from our correspondent, "Newport," stating that Wm. Van Wagoner will make his first attempt to ride a mile inside of three minutes, hands off, on the Roger Williams Park, Providence, about July 8.

FROM JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Editor Bicycling World: The WORLD of May 31st came to us to-day (June 26th), this being the only mail matter in the form of papers that has reached our town since the fatal flood of May 31st, the fearful horrors of which are still fresh in everyone's mind, both in this country and abroad. Some of the WORLDS which reached us are twenty-seven days old, but the matter contained therein was news to us, and I must confess that it was with reddened eyes that we looked once more upon it's familiar pages. No matter how trifling the incident, everything which awakens anew the painful memories causes the heart to ache, and in many instances the tears to flow.

Very properly has this city been called the "City of the Dead." No artist can draw, no pen can describe the scenes and the horrors that have been the lot of our sorrow-stricken people to see and experience during the past month. One would think that the constant presence of these soul-harrowing scenes would harden us, but such is not the case.

One would naturally imagine that after the fatal calamity there would be few wheels left in town, and that cycling would be practically at a standstill, but such, however, is not quite the case. Of course riding in the city is utterly impossible, as locomotion on foot is very bad, because of the sand and debris. It, however, is not an unusual sight to see a cyclist trundling his wheel over the sand and over the debris and between stacks of coffins in his efforts to reach the roads of the hills, over which to take a ride, and for the time being to get away from the heart-rending scenes, which even to this day are of frequent occurrences.

I have in my possession, as a relic from the flood, a saddle, to which was found clinging, cold in death, a cycling tourist, the flood evidently having overtaken him and swept him to his doom. No inquiry has been made in regard to his body, but he was given a decent burial, that is, as decent as we could under the circumstances. He was buried before the coffins which we ordered reached the city, and so a rough box was used and he was buried like thousands of others, without even the form of a christian burial.

I thought you would like to hear from this district, and so the first moment that my thoughts could be taken from the occurrences which surround me, I took the opportunity to drop you a line from this stricken district. WILL F. LEWIS.

Johnstown, Pa.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

It isn't often that we see a simon pure case of road-hogism practiced upon the owners or drivers of any other vehicle than a cycle. The breeding of a road hog begets the natural cowardice of such an animal, and he hesitates to attack any of his own species, for fear that they might be able to protect themselves or to return his attack in kind. In the case of the wheelman, however, the hog feels safe in riding him down, knowing full well that during his attack the cyclist will have his hands full in his endeavors to save himself and his wheel, and that after the accident, the superior swiftness of the hog will insure his escape from capture and punishment. Last week in Central Park, however, one of the most flagrant examples of road-hogism was seen, and for once the innocent sufferer from the unprovoked attack, was the occupant of a carriage, not a cycle. Mr. Alfred A. Cowles, Vice President of the Ansonia Clock Company, while driving through the park, was deliberately run down by Francis McEntee, a builder, and upon Mr. Cowles protesting against the outrage, the brave McEntee, seeing that both of Mr. Cowles' hands were busy attending to his team, which was frightened by the accident, vigorously applied his whip to the shoulders of unoffending Mrs. Cowles. The hog was arrested, but he had the usual political pull and escaped by giving bonds for his future good behavior. Perhaps the notoriety gained by this case may call puplic attention to the claims of wheelmen, that the roads are infested with many such specimens of hog, who make the usage of the public thoroughfares by any one else an exceedingly dangerous performance. It wouldn't be a bad move to call Mr. Cowles' attention to the L. A. W., perhaps, specifying that one of its chief aims was the punishment of just such brutes as the one he had the misfortune to come in contact with.

The K. C. W.s, who are beyond doubt the greatest racing wheel club in this or any other country, have again demonstrated this by the holding of a successful two days' race meet. As an outgrowth of all the racing talent in the records of the K. C. W., they recently held a meeting at their club house, at which places for the building of a first-class four-lap cinder track for riding purposes were considered. Several prominent capitalists were present, and expressed their willingness to supply abundant capital to complete the scheme, provided a suitable piece of property could be discovered. The construction of such a track would be a boon and a boom to racing here, and I know no more experienced or capable hands to leave the affair in than those of the K. C. W.'s. May success attend their efforts.

An alleged "comic" picture of a wheelman and his escapades and and mishaps, fills the centre pages of this week's issue of a story paper. The "artist" has pictured the wheelman as mounted upon an ordinary, which is equipped with a cow-catcher similar to the ones used by a locomotive, while to the right and left of him are scattered animals, ranging in size from a calf to a new born chicken, that he has swept from off his path in his mad career. Of course the idea is a most brilliant one, especially when we remember the strain it must have been upon the "brains" of the "artist," since there exists outside of his "imagination" no foundation in fact for this wonderfully brilliant sketch. To further intensify the "humor" supposed to exist in the entire affair, Mr. Bill Nye kindly consented to rattle up the few ideas he claims to possess in his think-box, and to write something real "funny" about the cartoon. Mr. Nye's humor is always of the most soul destroying kind, and its funny qualities are not discernable by any ordinary individual. In the present case Mr. Nye lost none of his prestige and his reputation, for the density of his imbecility has been entirely preserved. There was not one word of wit in the entire article, and but few of truth. The most noteable examples of the latter quality are where he declares that "bicycling is a noble sport," and that "bicycling tones up the muscles, enarges the lung area and teaches self-reliance." It is much to be regretted that the benefits of cycling do not go further, and teach some sense to lots of those who follow it, because if it did, it would certainly be of much advantage to both Mr. Nye and to the "artist" who drew this alleged funny picture, if they took a long and vigorous dose of wheeling. Unfortunately such is not the case, and the crop of idiots who attack wheeling, of which the above are examples, must forever go on increasing, without any hope of relief. Cycling can stand it, though, if they can.

"STAR."

Sitting by the roadside near Springdale were two of the most forlorn looking dogs Hamilton county had ever seen: one a large nondescridt animal, through whose veins coursed the blood of perhaps a thousand different breeds; the other a scrawny, mangey, sore-eyed skye terrier who, just as the contestants in the road race of the C. B. whirled past, was heard to say to his companion:

"Why is the man wearing that gray cap in such a hurry?"

"Oh, he's afraid he'll be beaten by the fellow with the corduroy pants, the sweat from whose brow is making the road so muddy, and the one with the red face who forgot his stockings. He needn't be afraid of him with the lump on his forehead, nor of him with a boil on his cheek as neither are in condition. Just look at that pretty man with the high shoes! The last time he came through here he turned the heads of all the girls so that now every single one of them has a wry neck. But the fellow with black hair and dark eyes is the best of all for his voice is as gentle as the sighing of a zephyr, as soft as the cooing of a dove and as sweet as the gurgle of molases from a jug, and when he sings the very birds stop and listen."

"Why doesn't he sing now?"

"Dunno. Just look at that old man with the whiskers! He wouldn't work that hard if he were paid a hundred dollars a day! Yet he's nearly killing himself now just to be allowed to wear the club medal for four months; and still they say dogs haven't any sense! I'm glad I'm a dog aren't you?"

"Well I should——"

The rest of his remarks were lost in the distance.

Brookville, Ind., is to have 5 bicycle contests on the 4th of July for which they offer as prizes: mustache cups, razors, mahogany bedsteads etc., etc. The enemies of cycling would think it more appropriate if the prizes consisted of bottles of liniment, roll of adhesive plaster, pots of healing salve, leeches, cases of needles and thread, air cushions, phials of Pain-Killer, boxes of artificial cuticle ketchup, etc., etc.

Mr. Bennett's road race that was postponed several times on account of the rain, once on account of the C. B. C. race and once on account of the atheletic's race has finally been postponed to September. This is a great disappointment to our "Teddy" who is so anxious for an opportunity to demonstrate the fact that he is both fast and tough; but as several riders suffered from the heat in last year's race and as the heated term is now at hand, Mr. Bennet's decision is wise.

NEW ORLEANS.

"BEE."

The Louisiana Bicycle Club men have been having quite a laugh on the N. O. B. Club. The latter fought down Sunday racing, and made quite a note of it in the papers, "that it didn't encourage Sunday racing amongst its members." This as a sort of hit at the L. C. C. Well, they tried to run the Hill cup races on Saturday and fizzled, and a week or two later came out sheepishly and ran it on a Sunday. Hence the Louisianas laugh.

And, by the way, Consistency and Chapman are both jewels. The latter was the hardest fighter against the Sunday racing, and there he was when the race was run, watch in hand and one of the high cocklorums of the event. Oh! Chappy.

The Louisiana Club is elongating our table of local records very considerably with its long-distance races, and soon our scorchers will have figures to work on at all distances.

The list of events for our September meet has already been gotten out, but it will probably be altered before a great while, as the Racing Board put it out simply to draw criticism and see exactly what was wanted. No date for the meet has been set, although the 14th has the call just now. I am thinking, too, that the racing will be pretty lively this year, as if Sprigg, Cary and Rea maintain their present form our old champs, Hill and Guillotte, will not be leading many of the dances this time.

The Louisiana Cycling Club is still wrestling with its building project, and has after surmounting some pretty stiff breakers, about reached clear sailing, and their house, I think, will be one of the realities of the near future. An unfortunate move resulted in delaying the matter just about four months. The club thinks of renting a house till then, as the membership is becoming too bulky for their nomadic life.

The New Orleans Bi. Club was the holder of the lucky number in the raffle of Hill's tandem, and if the members are anxious to give their best girls pleasant and not every-day airing the way is now open to them.

The ladies' safety is commencing to loom up. Two months ago there wasn't a rider, now there are three, Misses Fairchild, Born and Hill. They are all delighted, too, with their wheels, though that mount does worry 'em considerably.

The summer meeting of the Louisiana Division, at which also occurs the annual election, takes place July 20th. Hodgson will for the third time succeed himself as Chief Consul, but as yet no one has materialized for the Secretary-Treasurership. Fairfax says he doesn't want it again.

CHICAGO.

THE "STROLLER."

The Chicagos evidently do not like the way in which I have spoken of their racing team and they have issued a challenge to the Illinois team for a race, distance three or five miles; the race to take place at Cheltenham Beach, the latter part of August, are are now awaiting a reply to the same.

I understand the Illinois, Chicago, Lincolns and Kenwoods all have a team entered for the team race at Ottawa, and that there is fun ahead there in more ways than one in the racing line. The Chicagos and Kenwoods I am told have entered the same men in each of their teams, i. e., Lumsden, Geo. Thorne and Belden or Otis, all of whom are members of both clubs. If victory comes to this team both clubs will claim it. If defeat, then what? Also, Tuttle thinks he can run Lumsden off his legs by riding from start to finish, as he has an idea that Arthur has a fine finish and that is all, and that if the pace is a hot one Arthur cannot hold out to the finish, and he proposes to prove this in the one-mile State championship, while Lumsden thinks he can give Tuttle all he wants of his own medicine and will try and give it there and then. But Myer will also be on hand and have a go at both of them at the same time, and, according to the amount of talk going on, this one race alone will be worth a trip to Ottawa to see.

Lumsden rode a practice mile the other evening with out a pacemaker in 2.41, and Geo. Thorne, who has recently changed his mount to a crank, made a mile in 2.50.

Some eighty couples attended the dancing party of the Chicagos at South Park Pavilion Thursday evening last. A large audience witnessed the production of the operetta "The Rose of Auvergne," given under the auspices of the Lincoln Cycling Club last Wednesday evening, at the Madison Street Theatre.

The Lincolns and Chicagos will each hold their annual road race in a few weeks now, distance 10 miles.

The Chicago delegation to the League meet at Hagerstown will undoubtedly be small, but in all probability Ayer and Oliver will be there, and this being the case, Chicago's interests will be well looked after at all events.

There seems to be a great deal of sympathy among Chicago wheelmen for Windle since his expulsion from the League, and the wish is often expressed that he may soon be reinstated. Although With Windle out, this leaves Chicago pretty near, if not quite, at the head of the racing line with Lumsden as its representative.

A collision between a tricyclist and a buggy on Washington Boulevard last Saturday, resulted in the fatal fracture of the skull to the driver of the buggy. The injured man up to this writing has not been identified.

The latest gossip is that the Illinois club have secured Bert Myers, of Peoria, as a non-resident member of their club, and that he will ride in their team at Ottawa, while the Lincoln and Chicagos have withdrawn their team entries, and that Spooner of the Lincolns will also ride with the Illinois team; I rather doubt the last, though.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

Mayor Fitler took curious ground for his veto of Councils' appropriation of $300,000 for repairs to the streets last week. He claimed that it was poor policy to patch up the many streets when that amount would go far toward paving one street complete. Councils did not agree with him, for they passed it over his veto, for which may they have the thanks of all wheelmen. We get four blocks more of asphalt out Broad street and ten blocks additional on Diamond. Further than this, a large number of the most influential men of the city have appointed a committee to push the proper surfacing of Broad street all the way out to Fisher's lane, which would thus perfect what is one of the finest avenues in the country. The papers are taking hold of this question of good roads and improved streets vigorously, and the Press editorial on this subject last week was a telling one. Let the good work go on. Wheelmen, by the way, should not forget to mark those councilmen who are placing themselves on record these measures. Election day is a good time to remember it.

A large number of Quaker City riders leave here to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock on the special train, via the B. & O. R. R. The Pennsylvania club will have their own car, and after the meet a number of them, under Lieut. Lehman's command, will tour down the Shenandoah Valley to Luray and the Natural Bridge. The Centurians send a delegation off to-day, who ride to Hagerstown, via Lancaster and Gettysburg.

Ex-Capt. W. T. Fleming goes West on his wheel after the League meet. He accompanies those of the Century who ride down to-day.

Another match race between M. J. Bailey and T. A. Schaefer is among the possibilities. The latter is not satisfied with the result of the last race, and the Century man is willing to accommodate him. Nothing from Kobb re the McDaniel's challenge. The Southend man evidently knows when he is well known.

Taxis enters for the Lancaster races on the Fourth and will not go to Hagerstown. At Lancaster he will meet Wilhelm, and it remains to be seen what he can do against this crack rider.

Mr. R. C. Evans, president of the Mt. Vernon Wheelmen, has resigned the office. His successor is uncertain as yet.

Baseball has the floor at the Century club-house among some of the members, and they are talking of organizing a team that can do up any other club of cyclers in the city.

Friday evening the vexed question of feminine membership is to be brought up again in the Century Club. The impression has gotten abroad that the Centurians were opposed to ladies as members. Nothing could be further from the truth. The fact is that there are no suitable accommodations to be given them in the house as at present arranged, and as the necessary changes would involve a large expenditure of money, the club feels that with a new property on their hands they would not be justified in increasing their indebetedness.

OMAHA.

"JIM."

The last two weeks have been rather quiet in cycling circles, owing to heavy storms, which made the roads unridable, but we hope to be abe to ride to Fremont next Sunday. Fremont used to be the favorite run with the boys last year, but for some reason or another, hasn't been tried yet this season. The road is, with the exception of a few hills, in good shape, and well traveled. The round trip is said to be seventy-four miles, and was made by three of the men last year in nine hours, including one hour's rest.

A moonlight run to Lake Manawa was one of the features last week, and was greatly enjoyed. Eighteen of the boys turned out and on their arrival at the lake, chartered a steamer for the pavilion, where they were entertained by Mr. Perrigo, Townsend and others. The return trip was made in full moonlight, and Lake Manawa was voted O. K. for future moonlight runs.

The Omaha Wheel Club has been invited to act as a body guard for "King Tarrarax" at the Veiled Prophet procession, July 4, in Lincoln, and has accepted the invitation. Without doubt they will have a royal time, as the Lincoln boys are known to be the best entertainers and jolliest crowd imaginable.

Sunday morning we started out, with the intention of visiting the Chautauqua ground at Council Bluffs, and listen to the morning service, but were shown so little courtesy by a fellow who acted as gate tender, that we concluded not to go inside. This fellow actually refused to let us take our wheels inside the grounds, but we hope that the Chautauqua Assembly has by this time secured the services of a man who at least knows how to answer politely, when asked polite questions.

It seems that the Omaha Wheel Club is rapidly gaining ground, as is clearly shown by the lot of membership applications at every monthly meeting, and it is pretty safe to predict that they will be able to build their own club house next spring, which should be the highest ambition of all members, as our present quarters are getting rather cramped.

A reception was tendered last Saturday, to Mr. E. B. Smith, who, having severed his connection with the Nebraska Telephone Company, left for Chicago. He has always been very popular with us, and we will miss him and his little "49" machine at our runs. Mr. Smith is one of the oldest members of the O. W. C., and held the office of Vice President during the year of 1888.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

"Senator" Morgan having sucked the racing orange dry in this country is about to embark for Australia, the land of the kangaroo. With him he will probably take Jessie Oaks, Kittie Brown, W. F. Knapp and others not named. The Australians can brace themselves for the excitement of witnessing female cycle racing.

Will some one who knows give us the best route from Cleveland to Columbus, Ohio?

The Louisville (Ky.) Cycle Club, half a hundred strong, headed the Knights Templar parade at Louisville last Monday. The feature was one that attracted decided attention and applause.

The Memphis, Tenn., long distance fiends are at it still, hammer and tongs. The latest score is as follows: Julius Seelig, 2247 miles; George Phillips, 1868 miles; A. F. Alberts 974 miles; Wm. Wood, 721 miles. W. A. Whitmore, J. Wood and W. H. Haylie, withdrawn.

Tom Eck threatens to invade the Eastern States with his feminine aggregation of cyclienne flyers. The troop will include Jessie Woods, Hattie Lewis, Lottie Stanley, Lily Williams and Armaindo.

New Bedford, Mass., has passed an ordinance requiring cyclers to carry a lighted lamp after sunset, and it also forbids sidewalk riding.

The San Francisco City Trustees have had printed 500 copies of the ordinance prohibiting, under penalty of a misdemeanor, the riding on the sidewalks of bicycles or tricycles whose wheels exceed thirty inches in diameter, and requiring the wheels of smaller bicycles and tricycles to have rubber tires. The ordinance will be posted throughout the city.

An individual signing himself 'X'. Y." sends the following to a Beeston, R. I., paper, an excerpt of which we reprint as being remarkable for its construction and grammar [the italics are ours.—Ed.]: "There aint no bicycle rider who will run into a pedestrian unless the pedestrian runs into him, for the rider is liable to fall and hurt himself instead of the pedestrian. Some people say, 'They wont give no room on the walk and are afraid they will run into them.' Now, I say, there ain't any bicycle rider but will give you all the room you want and will always get off of his machine if necessary."

We did not think it best to hold our paper for a full report of the League meet. We shall have it in full in our next.

A correspondent claims that "it is strange that the World has not any letters, official or otherwise, from Ohio." Why, we always thought that Cincinnati was in Ohio! As for the official part of the paper, we would suggest our complainant stir up the State officials.

W. Windle is firm in his position that he will not race as a professional. As professionalism is at a rather low ebb in this country, we can but applaud Mr. Windle's resolve.

Ralph Temple was in Boston last Saturday en route for England. Mr. Temple is on pleasure and business bent, and that he will do some racing while abroad we should not be surprised.

Timothy A. Carroll of Lynn, Mass., will leave for Washington the first of the coming week where he is to accept a position upon the department of labor under Col. Carrol D. Wright. Mr. Carroll, who is but 27 years of age, is well known to cyclers as being a prominent member of the Lynn Cycle Club and one of the first and most active promoters of the Glenmere track. We wish Mr. Carroll success in his new position.

We are in receipt of a photograph of Master Eddie Schwalbach, aged 5 years, of Brooklyn, N. Y. He is shown seated on his little rear driving safety. The petite cycler has the look of a veteran, and next to seeing "him in the flesh" and in actual motion on his wheel, we are happy in the receipt of the picture, which we have placed among our collection of cycling celebrities in a conspicuous position of honor.

Complimentary remarks upon the great improvement in the town streets and highways of Milford, Mass., are heard every day from men who do more or less driving and cycling. The Wrentham road is especially pointed out as a fine specimen of work.

J. M. Verhoff, a member of the New Haven Bicycle Club, in company with two wheelmen from Schenectady, N. Y., sailed for Europe on the steamer Nevada on July 1. They will land at Glasgow and will ride through England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany and France on their machines.

Letters continue to come in quite regularly from Explorer Stanley, but nobody hears from Bicyclist Stevens who went in search of the first-named several months ago. It may soon become necessary to send an expedition to find Stevens.

One of the Elwell tourists writing to an Augusta, Me., paper says: "I just want to mention that, except in Waterford, Ireland, we have not seen an electric light, and that everywhere up to London we have lighted our chambers with a flickering candle. Also, that at the great Baring Bros. yesterday the clerks were working with the assistance of this waxy light and quill pens. It is now noon, but little lighter than twilight, for the celebrated fog is over the city."

Morgan and his merry nymphs will invade Los Angeles and enchant the youth of that city with his aggregation en route for Australia.

Birmingham, Ala., is to have a bicycle track. It looks as if the South would soon be a racing centre, as bicycle tracks are being promoted all over that section of the United States.

The Lansing (Mich.), Bicycle Club will take a week's trip through Canada in August. They cross at Windsor, take the old Talbot road, via St. Thomas to London, and spend a day at London, guests of the Forest City Club. They will probably return via Sarnia and Port Huron. Invitations are extended to the Grand Rapids, St. Johns, East Saginaw and Bay City clubs. They will start about August 18 to join them.

The French Minister of War has decided to place the bicycle on a strictly military footing. Henceforth four velocipedists militaires are to be attached to each regiment of infantry in the French active army, and volunteers are asked for from among the reserve and territorial armies. A special rate of pay will be granted to the velocipedists. The war office does not intend to provide machines for them to ride, but expects them to come provided.

Erratum: Mr. H. L. Hart of Halifax, N. S., writes us: "I notice in the June 21st numbe Bi. World and L. A. W. Bulletin that the Summer Carnival is put down for July 5 to 10. If not already corrected, kindly make a note stating the correct dates: Aug. 5 to 10, as that is the time the expected visitors from Cambridgeport, etc., to come."

The board of trustees of Charlotte Village, N. Y., has granted permission to the West End Bicycle Club of Rochester, N. Y., to lay a cinder path through the village to the beach.

A meeting was held a few days since at the club-house of the K. C. W., Brooklyn, to arrange for the formation of a stock company to build and equip a first-class cycle track. The result was the appointing of a committee who will secure sites and bargain for the necessary requirements. A standing committee was appointed to have plans and estimates for a 2-story frame club-house, a quarter-mile clay and cinder track, a baseball diamond, and eight tennis courts. The grounds most favorably spoken of for the purpose were those of the King's County Tennis Club, Dean street and Kingston avenue. They are only about 20 minutes' distance from the bridge, via the King's County Elevated R. R. and nine minutes from the Flatbush avenue station of the Long Island railroad, besides being on the line of several horse cars. It will all be decided in a few days whether the amount required can be raised or not with the bonds of the organization as security.

Owing to the objections of local riders to making the 50-mile road race of the Springfield Bicycle Club an open to all race, it has been decided to have two events, a 50-mile open to all race, and a 50-mile open to local riders, to be run Friday, September 13, over the Springfield-Hartford course. It has been decided to reduce the en-

A QUICK RUN TO CABIN JOHN.

Yesterday, William T. Robertson, on his Eagle Bicycle, lowered the record of forty-three minutes made on July 4th, 1887, by Pere Sevfferle, starting from Ninth and G streets and ending at Cabin John, making the distance ten miles. Robertson started at 11.21 A. M., reaching Cabin John thirty-eight minutes after, beating the record by five minutes. Timers, Messrs. Smiley and Sickle. He now holds the record both to and from Cabin John, making the latter trip in forty-two minutes in 1884. He say he intends to lower this record also.

The Swift.

The Buffalo Express, May 29, says:

"James S. Hedge of the Buffalo Bicycle Club made the first century run of the year on May 26th Leaving the club house at 8 A. M., he rode via Seneca Street, Potter's Corners Road, Orchard Park, and Colden to Springville. Here a stop of two hours was made fordinner, and return was made via Boston and Hamburg to the club house, arriving at 6.45 P. M. Starting again at 7 P. M. he pushed on out to Bowmansville and return and rode three times around the meadow, arriving at the club house at 10.25 P. M. Hedge rode a Swift Safety, and considering the fact that he did not start out to make a 'century,' and did not think of it until he had ridden about 70 miles, made very good time, his riding time being 10 hours and 30 minutes for 105 miles, or an average of 10 miles an hour. Four hours and five minutes were used in stops. This is the first time a century run has been made by a rider in this city on a safety, and it is also the first time a century has been made over this route, there being a great many short steep hills to climb."

Wednesday evening last, Mr. A. W. Porter, of Newton, rode up and down Corey Hill four times, without a dismount, in 36 minutes, on a Swift Safety.

Geared to 57 Inches.

He was timed by L. D. Whittemore, Jr., of Newton, witnessed at the top by F. S. Norton and H. E. Bachelder, half way by F. W. Fisher and H. C. Blaney, and at the foot by L. D. Whittemore, Jr.

A TOURIST riding through Massachusetts into New York State, via Westfield, Pittsfield, Mass., to Hudson, N. Y., writes from the latter place: "I saw plenty of signboards in Massachusetts, but the only one I have seen in New York that is legible, was one about 100 yards over the State dividing line. The towns that I passed through and which had no signboards were Lebanon Springs, West Lebanon, Brainard, Malden, Chatham Centre, Kinderhook, Stuyvesant Falls, Stockport, Hudson Of course I do not count the L. A. W. signs. I write this to see if anything can be done to make those villages obey the law, for I believe there is one in New York. It would be a kindness to travellers to have the roads plainly marked, so that they would not have to go miles out of their way."

WE received a pleasant and unexpected call from Mr. S. G. Whittaker, Wednesday, and we were pleased to learn that he was to be married on July 4th to Miss Carrie E. Piper, daughter of Rev. G. F. Piper, of Bedford, Mass. To Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker we extend our heartiest congratulations.

THE TOURISTS IN ENGLAND.

TO-MORROW, June 17th, at 8 A. M., we leave dear old, dirty London for Brighton, fifty miles away, after a glorious day—Sunday—at Ripley. But, not to begin at the wrong end of the week, let us go back to Sunday week at Oxford.

As per last letter Sunday, the 9th June, was miserably wet and disagreeable. Despite the weather the day was well enjoyed in visiting the various colleges in the old University City and in lunching with the under-graduates in their rooms. The evening was put in at the hotels at which we stopped.

Monday morning dawned wet and dismal, but, as per programme, the start was made for Hampton Court, sixty-one miles, through mud and in the rain. Hardly had we got in the open country when the rain became a down-pour, and soon all were drenched to the skin, through waterproofs (?) and all. At Wallingford, fifteen miles out from Oxford, nine of us got the train and went through direct to Burr's Hotel. Of them, more later; of the faithful ones who stuck it out, sad were the tales they told when they got to London next morning. Sixty-odd miles in constant pouring rain water-logged them so that they only (the slower ones) reached the Castle Inn at Hampton by 8 or 9 P. M. Those who trained it got to Burr's at 3 the same afternoon, and were soon comfortable in dry clothing, long trousers, etc., and enjoyed the evening in reading the immense quantity of mail which awaited them. As we sat in the smoking room toasting our toes at the hearth and reading what was to many of us our first news from home we hugged ourselves, and at every wild dash of rain which beat against the pane we prayed for the other unfortunates whom we knew must be out in the cold and wet.

Tuesday morning we, the nine wise ones who had come on ahead, breakfasted late, stowed our wheels for the week and then sat down to wait for the coming of the band of pilgrims. About 10 A. M. along came Papa Elwell (he has been so affectionately christened) and Rev. Mr. Fessenden, both of whom had trained it from Hampton in.

Then we waited and waited but no sign of the others. Finally about 12 or 1 o'clock they began to straggle in. They had a jolly time with themselves on the greasy streets and wet asphalt as they came through Oxford street. More than one gracefully sat down on the cold, wet stone and wept, and for a while it was skip, slide and fall over, for everybody. Having arrived, the remainder of the day was devoted (nay, used up perforce) in cleaning up selves and wheels and getting settled comfortably. In the evening many attended the theatres, and sad to say the taste of the majority in re theatricals has run to variety shows and "sich."

Wednesday the real sight seeing began, and for the next three days the boys were busily engaged in "doing the town."

In groups of three or four the party visited all the places and buildings of note, such as the British Museum, South Kensington Museum, National Gallery, Hyde Park and the Albert Memorial, Regents Park and the Zoo, the Crystal Palace (where a party of us went Thursday evening to see the fireworks and illuminations, which were the grandest any of us had ever seen), Westminster Abbey, Houses of Parliament, the Tower, Kew Gardens, and others too numerous to mention or to remember.

Walking on Oxford street, riding on busses, in hansoms, etc., strolling down to Holborn Viaduct where there are a dozen large cycle stores in a bunch, passed many flying hours, which indeed seemed literally to fly.

In the evenings, as before said, the theatres were the points of interest, and parties were made up which saw Irving in Macbeth, which all agreed was yet more superb than Faust, as given in America, and if Irving should play Macbeth in America, none should lose the opportunity of seeing it. Parties also attended the Criterion, where Charles Wyndam and his splendid company, including Mrs. Bernard-Beere, played "Still Waters Run Deep;" and the variety theatres were not unpatronized.

Friday evening the event of the week took place, viz., the banquet given us at the Inns of Court Hotel, Holborn, by the Stanley Club. It was a grand and glorious time, and after all had done ample justice to the magnificent banquet provided, came the toasts and speeches.

Toasts—"The Queen," "The President of the United States," "Our Volunteer Army," "Our American Guests," "The Visitors," "The Chairman and Vice Chairman."

Mr. Beal, of Ann Arbor, did himself proud in his eloquent response to the toast "Our American Guests."

The chair was occupied by Col. Saville, of the Volunteer Cycle Corps. The Vice Chairmen were Mr. M. A. Harpman and Mr. Geo. Lacy Hillier. The Hon. Secretary, Mr. E. A. Lamb, was also present, and such a host of notable men that it would be impossible to name them without giving the roster of all our noble hosts, therefore pass we on, stopping only to rigister the unanimous verdict of the party that in their journeyings thus far they had not been more royally entertained. The club yell was given to great applause and encored.

Besides the speeches there were many musical events on the programme. About 1 A. M. all returned to the hotel and soon were sleeping.

Saturday the boys devoted to whatever sight seeing and shopping remained undone, but in the afternoon eight or ten went to the cycle races at the Beddington Grounds.

There was a rare lot of good men among the entries and some grand racing. Thanks to the kindness of Mr. G. L. Hillier, we were taken inside the track enclosure where we could see without difficulty. In the first safety race,—by the way, in the open races both ordinaries and safeties competed, to the grief of the ordinaries—W. C. Jones, Polytechnic C. C., broke the 2-mile amateur record, doing 5.26, and there were also other records smashed

In the tan-tricycle race Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Ripley road fame, competed and pushed the fastest of them to the hottest pace to win. Her appearance on the track caused great applause, as she is a universal favorite, and though having ridden the two miles at a 2.45 gait at the finish was as fresh as at the start.

Sunday (today) our London visit culminated in a grand run to Ripley. After a cloudy week and a wet night Sunday was bright, warm and splendid. At 10 o'clock the party started, 15 all told, the others not caring for such a long ride, or having writing, etc., to do, and under the pilotage of Mr. Pennell and many of the Stanley Club rode out over the historical ground of the far-famed Ripley road. On the way additions to the party came on or met us by the way, so that when we pulled up at the Angel, Thames-Ditton, we were 100 or more, and we met there over the same number, among whom Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. Hillier, and many others of fame.

On again, over the Fair mile, and so into Ripley, where 200 or 300 more cyclists were waiting our coming. In all there must have been 500 wheelmen present, one of the largest gatherings that ever took place there.

At the flag-bedecked Anchor we pulled up our flying steeds and soon were busy in getting the better of the bounty of the Stanley Club. That at length over, a few toasts were proposed, Mr. Beal again responding for the American party, and then all repaired to the cyclists' church near by, where a short service was read by Rev. Mr. Hooper (?), assisted by our Rev. Mr. Fessenden. After coffee and cigars a start was made back via Ockham, through shady lanes with perfect surface to the Angel at Thames Ditton. Here we had tea at 6 P. M. From there to Hampton Court was only one mile, and at Moulsey Lock a half hour was charmingly spent in watching the swarm of boating craft on the river. The gay flannels, the pretty faces under the multi-colored parasols, the river alive with gay parties and lined with spectators—all combined to make a picture never to be forgotten.

From Hampton all but five of us took the train to the city. We five who rode the entire distance, came home through Richmond, and, taking an easy gait, arrived at our hotel at 9 P. M., at which time it is bright daylight here in June, after a day's ride of 60 miles, every mile of which, and every minute of the day, was an unalloyed pleasure. We have to thank the members of the Stanley Club for giving us the most enjoyable day's outing by far that we have had in England, and their unbounded hospitality merits and receives our everlasting gratitude.

To-morrow, as I said at the beginning of this screed, we start bright and early for Brighton, on our last day's riding in England, sorry to leave old London and the many kind friends we have made here, yet glad to be once more away from the crowded streets and off on the smooth, shady roadways of Kent.

The copies of the WORLD reached us in London and the contents were eagerly devoured by all the tourists.

The next letter will contain an account of our wrestling with mal de mer, French roads, language, cooking, etc., and from what we learn, our next two weeks will be filled to overflowing with stirring events and hysterical excitement. Till then (as we shall soon be in France we hope it may be permissible to drop l'Anglais and to say) from all au revoir. PEDALS.

ALEXANDRIA BAY AS A LEAGUE MEETING PLACE.

THERE seems to be an unwelcome prospect of a decline in the excellence of League meets. The cause may doubtless be found in the extravagant "entertainment funds" of the past: the remedy, as the WORLD suggests, is individual payment of expenses. Following the first gathering at Newport, in 1879, each meet was conducted on a larger scale than its predecessor, and the eighth annual, at St. Louis capped the climax.

The present lack of enthusiasm indicates that the larger cities no longer need the national convention for booming purposes, and another year may see a forced change in the character of meets—temporary, perhaps, certainly desirable.

The parades and races have become monotonous, and by many are regarded as nuisances—I mean as features of a meet, where facilities are poor. Aside from the banquet, visitors and entertainers alike fine the greatest pleasure in the excursions which are organized, at considerable expense, to carry them away from the very cities that are being visited. It is reasonable to assert, then, that a meet on the individual payment plan, held at one of the best summer resorts, would far excel the old style of meet in comfort and pleasure, to say nothing of reduction in expense.

I believe that Alexandria Bay, N. Y., at the Thousand Islands, would be a suitable place for such a meet, though its facilities are not very good for cycling ahem. It is a solidly built village on the St. Lawrence River, connected with Clayton, the railway terminus (12 miles), by daily steamer, and by a road of packed sand and stone, which has been traversed awheel in about an hour. The streets of the town are good.

Before describing the locality itself I will call attention to the advantage it offers for seeing famous places en route. The traveler from the Atlantic coast passes up the Hudson or through the centre of New York State, and in returning home may visit the Adirondacks or Catskills, or tour through the park-like Oneida and Chenango Valleys; or he may take the packet up to Montreal, 140 miles, going over the Lachine Rapids under the careful guidance of the Indian pilot, Baptiste, "son of his father." New York and Boston are one night's journey from Montreal. The man from the West may see Niagara as he comes and goes, or can spend a day with the Chautauqua worshippers. He will probably see Charlotte Beach, Lake Ontario, where half of Rochester goes to swim. A return may be made over the Canadian Big Tom touring ground.

But Alexandria Bay is the pleasure spot of them all. For many years this wondrous St. Lawrence River region was the sole domain of fish and fowl. The crews of passing craft feasted their eyes upon its silent grandeur, but not until General Grant and his staff made a protracted visit to Alexandria Bay did the beauty of the islands gain the notice of the press and public. Islands of several acres' extent, with splendid trees and curious water caves, were bought shortly after that time for from $5 to $200. Many of the same islands are priceless to-day.

The "Bay," as it is called, lies on a point of the New York mainland, between two bays of the same name. It faces a group of islands known as the Venice of America. They are of solid rock, and rise abruptly from the blue water, being softly covered with moss, and wooded with birch and fragrant pine. Rustic summer homes of wood and native stone—some of picturesque and costly design—have been built upon them. The massive rocks, cracked and seamed by the frosts and heat of centuries, are gradually crumbling and falling away into the river, the greatest depth of which is hundreds of feet.

As I have said, this spot is hardly adapted to cycling alone. It is nevertheless suitable for a L. A. W. meet. The cyclist is a lover of nature. He may ride his wheel all day long and day after day, never tiring of it; but give him a vacation and place him where he can enjoy nature to the fullest, and still take his morning spin and a refreshing coast in the cool of the evening, and you have a happy man, or woman, as the case may be.

Briefly, an Alexandria Bay vacation (excepting the business meeting, League meet, and vacation, generally mean the same thing), has these advantages: The scenery is impressive, the water everywhere, but no damp land: the air is dry and allows an immense amount of exertion and scandalously late hours without the usual fatigue. The boats, it is acknowledged, are built on the handsomest model known. The fish,—bass, pickerel, pike, muscalonge and the smaller perch and rock chump—are really caught; and, what is important, there are two large first-class hotels under metropolitan management, whose patronage is of the best. The rates are very low. Five dollars a day will pay all ordinary expenses, including a private boat. Everybody rows. The season extends from June to October, but from May to November is not too long for those who have once visited the place. For camp life it is perfect as there is no mud, the moss absorbing all moisture and a wooden floor in the tent is a luxury. The mosquitos never bite and the air, whether the condition be wet or dry, warm or cool, is always bracing and wonderfully clear, the morning mirage being a frequent occurrence. Tent life is fascinating when it is free from discomfort. There is no necessity for inconvenience here, as one may live in a very wilderness, with no sign of human habitation in sight, except perhaps the thin line of smoke characteristic of an Indian basket making camp, and yet be only 20 minutes' row from town. Provisions are brought to your shore by the steam market launch. The sun may come and go and the weather may smile or frown, but you are undisturbed and happy, living the life of a lotus eater. Imagine yourself reclining in a sunny tent-bed among the pines on some moss-bound island, a little world, possessed for the time by yourself and camping companion. The distant puff of a steamer and the rippling murmur of the river are the only breaks in the silence of the calm summer night. In the wee, sma' hours a storm suddenly comes up, the thunder echoes from rock to rock, and great gusts of wind and rain beat down upon your canvas roof, which brightens every moment with the lightning's flash, but you doze serenely through it all, and by and by the storm subsides. A few dashes of rain from the trees and all is quiet, save the gentle swash of your companion's feet as he grumblingly closes the ship front door, which was blown open, flooding the floor.

Usually a day in the woods is arranged by chartering a steam-yacht, which tows a fleet of fishing boats to some sylvan nook, where follows a day of fishing, feasting and fun. An early return is made for dinner; then music and the dance. As darkness falls the hotels are illuminated, and at the island homes round about vari-colored dots of blinking light show the contour and tree; boats flit here and there. As you stand and watch the scene its power grows upon you, you are overcome and lifted from your natural sphere into the realms of enchantment. The sweet sound of the human voice, coming singing over the water, thrills you through and through and you go in and shake hands with the fellows in an ecstacy of feeling. You are proud to be an American, and to have lived to know America's wonder work of nature, where may be found the very essence of mental elevation and physical enjoyment. If the change comes give Alexandria Bay a chance. PHŒNIX

THE LEAGUE MEET.

FROM the telegraphic reports we learn that Hagerstown was all up and alive to receive the visiting wheelmen on Monday. Flags and triumphal arches make the streets brilliant and attractive. A heavy rain was falling when the special train with President Luscomb and 200 wheelmen drew up at the city, but the Hagerstown people didn't seem to mind the "sprinkle," and turned out in full force to receive the visitors. A brass band played. The Mayor of the city and the full Board of Aldermen were on hand to receive President Luscomb. A barouche drawn by six white horses carried the cycling dignitary to his hotel. In the Hamilton House's spacious rotunda President Luscomb made a speech in response to the welcome of the city officials. Everybody formed in line and shook hands with "his excellency, the President."

There was little sleep the first night among the many wheelmen who are already here. A dwelling caught fire shortly before midnight and the matter of subduing the flames was entirely in charge of the cyclists. Their efforts resulted more in spoiling many uniforms than in drowning the fire. This phase of the entertainment was no doubt suggested by the charming descriptive article on Hagerstown, written by the "Secretary" and printed in the WORLD of a couple of weeks ago.

TUESDAY.

The first day of the meet was not calculated to inspire one with much joy, as it has rained and is raining in torrents, making outdoor amusements and runs out of the question. Everything is being done, however, by the managers to make up for the disappointment and all are hoping that the sun will shine to-morrow and the air clear. It is stifling hot, the air is thick with moisture and the thermometer is ambitious. The wet weather has interfered with the arrivals, and the guests are not coming in as fast as was expected.

The informal gathering at the Grand Opera House, to discuss topics of interest to cyclers, was well attended, but the men who had ideas were undoubtedly coy, as very few could be prevailed on to "discuss." An orchestra of cyclists, however, rendered some excellent music. Some of the men warmed up on the handicapping question. Hodgson, of New Orleans, wanted handicapping abolished: Prial, of New York, spoke in favor of handicapping, but was opposed to clubs paying expenses of members to race meets: Purvis-Bruce put in a good word for the professionals: while I resident Luscomb made an address in which he asserted that the question of road improvements was one of the most vital to the League.

A meeting of the Chief Consuls was held and a vote was taken on the questions of the right of State Divisions to appoint official tailors and official organs, and if the telegraphic report to the Boston Globe is correct, the meeting voted in the negative in both cases.

Despite the rain a party of nearly 100 took a trip to Williamsport. Several ladies were in the party.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT BROOKLYN, June 28.—Kings County Wheelmen Tournament.—One-mile novice, J. Bensinger (1), J. P. Stevens (2): an easy victory for Bensinger: time, 3.16 3-5. One-mile handicap, first heat, A. A. Zimmerman (1), T. B. Hesse (2): time, 2.57 1-2. Second heat, L. L. Clarke (1): time, 3.00 1-5. Final heat, T. B. Hesse (1), W. F. Murphy (2): time, 3.01 1-5. One and one quarter miles, R. W. Stevens (1), W. W. Taxis (2): time, 5.23 1-5. Two-mile handicap, A. A. Zimmerman, 105 yards (1): C. M. Murphy 95 yds. (2): time, 6.17 2-5. Two-mile safety, W. F. Class (2), W. F. Murphy (1): a collision took place and both men fell, but Murphy mounted the quicker and finished first: time, 7.21. Five-mile K. C. W. championship race, W. F. Murphy (1), Jones (2), Stevens (3): time, 17.29 1-5. Triangular race, T. Shearman to walk two miles, P. D. Skillman to run three miles, and W. F. Murphy to ride a bicycle four miles. It proved an easy victory for Murphy and the bicycle. Shearman stopped at one and one half miles, and Stillman stopped at two miles: Murphy's time was 14.09 4-5.

A large crowd witnessed the second day's racing at Washington Park. The results are as follows: One-mile novice open bicycle race, won by J. Bensinger, K. C. W.; W. C. Heyseeker, N. Y. B. C. (2); Robert Miller, Brooklyn (3): time, 3.17. One-mile open handicap bicycle race, first, second and third men to run in final heat: first heat, won by F. B. Hesse, K. C. W., 55 yards: W. W. Taxis, A. C. S. N., 35 yards (2): J. L. Clark, B. A. C., 65 yards (3): time, 2.58 2-5. Second heat, won by C. M. Murphy, K. C. W., 55 yards; J. Bensinger, K. C. W., 70 yards (2); W. F. Murphy, K. C. W., 45 yards (3): time, 3.07 3-5. One-mile handicap for Brooklyn Bicycle Club, won by W. E. Sheffield, Jr., 100 yards; J. Frank Borland (2): time, 3.03 2-5. Two-mile bicycle race open first, second and third to ride in final: first heat won by J. B. Hess, K. C. W., 85 yards; R. L. Jones, K. C. W., 150 yards, (2); William Schumacher, L. I. Wheelmen, 30 yards (3): time, 6.14 1-5. Second heat, W. F. Murphy, K. C. W., 80 yards; C. M. Murphy, K. C. W., 95 yards (2); W. W. Taxis, A. C. S. N., 50 yards (3): time, 6.24 2-5. Final heat, won by Taxis, Hesse (2): time, 6.22 1-5. Two-mile safety bicycle open handicap, won by William F. Murphy, K. C. W., 70 yards; W. F. Class, B. A. C., 110 yards (2): time, 6.30 2-5. One-mile bicycle open handicap: final, W. W. Taxis, A. C. S. N. (1); F. B. Hesse, K. C. W. (2): time, 2.59 1-5. Half-mile handicap, open run, won by J. D. Skillman, N. Y. A. C., 25 yards; W. J. Carr, Brighton A. C., 145 yards (2): time, 1.58 1-5. Three-mile team race, won by Berkeley Athletic Club; Kings County Wheelmen: winning team counted 36 points; second, 30 points; time, first man, A. C. Banker, 9.30 1-5. Two-mile tandem open handicap, won by J. Frank Bolan and Alfred Coningsby, B. B. C.; C. M. and W. F. Murphy, N. C. W. (2): time, 6.18 4-5. Three-mile New York State championship, won by A. C. Banker, B. A. C.; F. G. Brown (2): time, 10.00 2-5.

AT ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA.—Our correspondent at Jacksonville writes us some racing news faom that section. He says: "I suppose you have heard of the famous Alcazar and Ponce de Leon Hotels at St. Augustine? Well, at the invitation of the Alcazar Bicycle Club we journeyed to St. Augustine the other day to race on their great half-mile track around the Alcazar building, two laps to the mile (asphalt), Sanderson, our crack rider, winning the two mile race easily in the time of 8.55. This same man Sanderson will some day be heard from on the track. We are to go over again on the 4th of July for a series, when Sanderson and Lampkin will meet in a five mile race, and I look forward to some fine time. I will send result and time if you will be so kind as to publish same."

ABROAD.—The Whitsuntide professional bicycle tournament at the Molineaux grounds, Wolverhampton, saw some of the fastest men in competition. In the one-mile championship Howell won in 2m. 53 3-4s., though he lost the second round to R. H. English. English was second in the final, and Fred Wood third. English won the five-mile championship in 16m. 4 1 4s., after he had lost the trial to Howell, who was evidently out of form at the finish, as he came in fourth, Lee being second and Allard third.

At Beeston, June 15, Herbert Synyer cut the half-mile grass record to 1m. 20 4-5s.

The 10,000 metres (6 1-4 miles) race for the championship of Europe was contested at Berlin, June 16, and resulted in a victory for the holder, A. Lehr of Frank-fort-on-the-Main. The English representative, J. H. Adams, was third. The time was 19m. 8 4-5s.

More records went to the wall at Paddington, Eng., on the 15th ult. W. C. Jones covered two miles on a safety in 5m. 26 3-5s., while S. F. Edge and F. J. B. Archer, on a tandem tricycle, made a flying quarter in 35 1-4s.

AT WASHINGTON, D. C.—Track.—The out door meet of the Columbia Athletic Club of Washington, D. C., which was postponed from May 30th, took place Sunday, June 30, on Analostan Island, the playground of the club. The bicycle races were won by W. E. Crist and J. L. Barbour, respectively. The first was a mile dash between Crist, Barbour and Brown. Barbour had a handicap of 70 yards. The finish was close, but Crist was too speedy, and won in 2.44 1-5. Barbour captured the two-mile lap race over Brown and Crist, scoring 21 points.

NEW YORK TO ALBANY in eighteen hours. June 29th Mr. Van Sicklen, of the Manhattan Bi. Club of New York, together with a companion, started from New York at 3 A. M., Saturday last and rode to Albany, a distance of 151 miles, in 18 hours. Considering the fact that a heavy rain was falling during much of of the distance, and the roads were very heavy and muddy, the feat is a wonderful one. The roads, even under favorable conditions, average far below "good," and the grades are very steep most of the way. It is a tough route and a great performance. For this particular route it is record, and we doubt if we shall have to announce a better one for some time to come.

AT MILWAUKEE, WIS., June 29. Road.—The four-mile handicap road race of the Milwaukee Wheelmen's Club came off last Saturday, and the results are given below: 1, Terry Andrae, scratch; 2, W. C. Wegner, 5 minutes; 3, Phil Nickel, 8 minutes; 4, H. Crocker, 3 minutes 30 seconds; 5, F. W. Schultz, 5 minutes; 6, C. King, 6 minutes 45 seconds. Terry Andrae's time was 33.45, while the last man in, Otto Schnieder, with 9.45 handicap, was 18.35.

AT NEW ORLEANS.—Road.—Members of the Louisiana Cycling Club ran a 20-mile race on St. Charles avenue for the Batson medal. There were the participants: Mal. Graham, scratch; L. J. Frederick, Jr., 1.15; Betts and Grevot, 3.15; and Walsh and Casen, 5.15; Graham finished first, 1.15.27; Betts second, 1.15.27 1-5; Frederic third, 1.19.07. Though Graham finished first, he failed to make up more than a fraction of a second of the 3 minutes 15 seconds allowed Betts, consequently the race and medal goes to the latter.

AT CHICAGO, Ill.—Illinois Bicycle Club road race: distance 8 1-2 miles.—F. H. Tuttle, 1; H. E. Loveday, 2; Maas, 3. Riggs had a collision that resulted in a fall and which knocked out his chances of winning.

AT OBERLIN, O.—Track.—June 25 the Oberlin Bicycle Club held its races at the Athletic grounds. S. E. S. Seville won the quarter-mile race, Ed. Leslie the one mile safety race, S. E. Sherrill the 5-mile race, and O. C. Van Zandt the novice race. A noted sprinter from Chicago by the name of Grosvenor won a 100-yards dash, beating a bicycle.

'ARIEL'S' COMPLIMENTS TO "JONAH."

DIDN'T know, my dear fellow, that your breath was taken away so easily. I believe that my innocent little remark did not attempt to "begrudge" the winners of the Irvington-Milburn race of any of the glory that was justly theirs. Neither did it intend any "finedo." The paragraph in question was penned on the strength of one of the Wilmington team remarking to me that they would like to receive a challenge from any of the New York teams, he having read some of the little expressions which adorned the New York accounts of the race, to the effect that the Wilmington men were no good alongside of "our" flyers, couldn't stay with them, etc. All of which may be true; but, as I said, I should like to see a race arranged between the teams, which would settle it.

As to "victors challenging the losers," I wasn't aware that it had been a "team" race, and that any one set of men could claim to be the victors over another set. I had thought it was each individual for himself and de'il take the hindmost. If I am mistaken in this, my apologies are yours—and t'other fellows.

Now don't you sit on me so heavily, "Jonah," and I assure you we shall agree like the typical lion and lamb. "ARIEL."

Philadelphia, July 1, 1889.

MASSACHUSETTS UNION RUN.

THE next Union run of Massachusetts wheelmen will be to Nantasket Beach July 28. Headquarters at the Pacific House. Captains are requested to call the runs for that day in accordance, and to notify the committee before July 25 how many will attend. A. W. ROBINSON, Chairman; CAPTS. C. P. CURRERLY and A. P. BENSON, Committee. 33 Winter street, Boston.

E. C. ANTHONY TO MR. VAN WAGONER.

IN reply to Mr. W. Van Wagoner's challenge to Bristol County, I would like to say that as my business does not permit me to spare time for three races, I should like to compete with him in the following manner: One race of twenty miles, the first man crossing the line at five miles to score one point, at ten or fifteen miles another point and at the finish a third point, the man getting 2 out of 3 points to be the winner of a gold medal worth from $20 to $50.

I think such a race sufficient to decide the question of superiority. Fraternally yours. E. C. ANTHONY.

A FATAL COLLISION.

ON the night of Tuesday, June 18, Mr. F. Watts and Miss Mira Judson were out driving in Colorado Springs, Col., where they were run into by an unknown cyclist, causing a runaway and the death of Miss Mira Judson. The cyclist had neither bell nor lamp on his wheel, and ran into the horse in the dark. Miss Judson was engaged to be married to Frank Watts, the gentleman who was with her at the time. No inquest will be held. The authorities are doing all in their power to capture the criminally careless cyclist, but up to last advices he had not been caught.

ROUTE WANTED.

MR. J. D. FORBES, of Sioux City, Iowa, P. O. BOX 265, writes us: Anticipating a trip from this city to Oskaloosa, Iowa, via Council Bluffs. I write to ask if some of our friends along the line won't give me some points in regard to roads, hotels and route?

LANTERN PARADE.

ABOUT 300 of the wheelmen of New York and Brooklyn took part Saturday, June 27, in the torchlight parade of the King's County wheelmen in Bedford avenue. The clubs represented were the King's County Wheelmen, Brooklyn Bicycle Club, the Long Island Wheelmen, Manhattan Bicycle Club, Atalanta Wheelmen, Riverside Wheelmen, New York Bicycle Club and the Ladies' Tricycle Club. The start was made from the front of No. 1137 Bedford avenue at 9 o'clock, and the column, with Chinese lanterns and other decorations, made a fine appearance down Bedford avenue to Division avenue. After their return the King's County Club had a lantern drill in front of the club-house.—Tribune

TRICYCLE STOLEN.

TUESDAY forenoon a young and unknown man hired a Columbia straight steerer tricycle at the establishment of Charles E. Whitten, 8 Andrew street, Lynn, Mass., for one hour, since which time nothing has been heard from either. The clerk who let the machine thought that he recognized the stranger as a man who had hired a machine there before, and therefore did not take the precaution to inquire his name. Detectives Hanscom and Rowe have the case in hand. Look out for the thief.

THE Warwick Cycle Co. report that with a force of 150 men working over time, they hope to be able to catch up with their orders pretty soon.

THE Overman Wheel Co. have generously donated a Victor bicycle as a prize for the winner of the fifty-mile road race, to be held September 13th, under the auspices of the Springfield Bicycle Club.

L. H. JOHNSON is having a remarkable run on the Catford Premier Safety, the new Light Roadster of Hillman, Herbert & Cooper's make, of which we have spoken before. The machine is now fitted with 30 inch wheels, 6 1-2 inch crank-throw, and is geared 54, 57 or 60 inches at purchasers' option, with 57 inches recommended. The Catford is remarkable for its clean cut appearance, a number of our noted flyers, including Mr. A. C. Banker, Mr. Taxis, of Philadelphia, and others, have chosen it for racing purposes in preference to the full racing safety, as its weight makes it far steadier on the corners than a 20 pound wheel, while it runs with the ease and rigidity of a path machine. The weight complete, with brake, saddle and pedals, is 34 pounds. Mr. Johnson is now delivering them from stock.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "The club here (at El Paso, Texas) had a raffle on the night of the 21st, which was not only an unique affair, but also a paying one. Through the kindness of Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery, acting with their agent, W. F. Payne, the club was given an '89 pattern all nickel American Rambler at halt price. For the raffle, the large wheel of a Champion was set perpendicularly, with a perpendicular stick on each side, to which was attached a piece of pointed leather, which would strike between two spokes; then numbers from 1 to 72 were pasted promiscuously on the rim between the pokes.; the wheel being turned, the numbers at which the leathers pointed were added together and the total taken. There were 175 tickets sold at $1 per ticket, making $175. The wheel was won on a tie, 137, the highest possible number being 148. Every one was well pleased with the raffle, and want another. The club tendered a vote of thanks to Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery for their assistance, to start them along. We are now in a very prosperous condition, having cleared about $60 on the raffle."

A - PUBLIC - APOLOGY.

We feel bound to Apologize to our many friends who have honored us with orders for machines this season, but who have not yet received them. Many people will think that a public apology is an unpleasant duty. Still it is our duty and "England and America expects every cycle firm to do its duty," and in this instance we are proud to apologize, and ask our many friends to have a little patience with us if we have been a little late in filling some of the orders. They are being filled in the sequence in which they were booked, and in a short time we will be going like an eight-day clock geared double. The demand for our celebrated "White Flyer" has taxed our resources to an unexpected extent. Our desks are littered with letters in favorable criticism of our machine, but we have decided to be original in our advertisements, so as to give the gentle reader a laugh now and then. Here is what a physician in Bridgeport says of our catalogue. (If you have not read our catalogue published in the BICYCLING WORLD, issue of May 31st., in the Wheel, issue of June 28th, and in the Wheelmen's Gazette for June, why have you not sent to us for it. We shall send it free to your address.)

The Bridgeport physician, who is somewhat of a wag says: "I asked a drummer once, some years ago, what a boy like myself should do in starting out on the road with a new article which was a good thing. Said the drummer: 'Act as it you did not care a ——— for anybody,' and so I thought as I perused you catalog in the BICYCLING WORLD this morning, that you didn't care a ———. I am a safety rider, doing nearly all my medical work on it, and covering upward of 3000 miles during the last twelve months. I am on the outlook for anything that will lighten my labors, and if Mr. "Jack" comes this way, I should like to look at your new species. Bridgeport is full of the craze just now. I was the first safety rider (from a business point of view.) Now there are over 50 machines, of various shapes and sizes—and a few abortions. Would like one of your catalogs, if you have not got rid of them all. Hastily.

LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS:

12 Pearl Street, - - - - Room 27

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

Annual Election.

Attention is called to the following extracts from the Constitution of the League:

ARTICLE IV., Sec. 2. Each Divisoin shall elect a Chief Consul, Vice Consul, Secretary-Treasurer and Representatives annually, between the 15th day of July and the 15th day of August, as follows:

One Representative for each 100 resident League members, also one Representative from each League Club of not less than twenty members, and an additional Representative for each fifty additional members upon its roll on July 1st. ClubsRepresentatives to be chosen each by the club of which he is a member. These shall constitute the Division Board of Officers.

ARTICLE II., Sec. 3. Subdivisions shall organize as follows: When there shall be twenty-five League members in any State or Territory, it shall be constituted a Subdivision, and the President shall appoint a Chief Consul. When the membership reaches fifty it shall organize as herein provided and elect a Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer, but shall not be entitled to a Vice Consul. In the event of the failure of such Subdivision to elect officers, the President shall appoint.

Each Division must make its own rules for the canvas, casting and counting of votes. Chief Consuls should take immediate steps preparatory to the election and should publish in the BULLETIN the rules of their respective divisions and the full plan of election at as early a date as possible. Below we publish a table showing the membership by States. Applicants published after June 14 do not qualify until after July 1st, and they cannot therefore be counted in estimating the representation. The Secretary will provide mail lists to Division officers for the conduct of the vote, but these mail lists should not be used as check-lists at the time of counting, since they are not and cannot be so accurate as the list of Division members kept by the Secretary-Treasurer. Space will be accorded in the BULLETIN for the publication of nominations, but these must be limited to the name of the candidate alone.

A State or Territory having twenty-five members is recognized as a subdivision. Its Chief Consul will be appointed by PRESIDENT LUSCOMB, who will be glad to receive nominations from clubs or individuals. Marked B in the table below.

A State or Territory having fifty members is recognized as a subdivision, and the members may organize and elect a Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer. Marked A in the table below.

A State or Territory having one hundred members or more shall organize a Division, and may elect in its own way a Chief Consul, Vice-Consul, Secretary-Treasurer, and one Representative for each 100 resident League members.

League clubs may elect Representatives on the Division Board of Officers as follows:

One Representative if they have twenty members, and an additional Representative for each fifty additional members upon its roll July 1st. These elections should take place during the period assigned to the election for Chief Consuls and Representatives, and returns should be made in such manner as the rules of their respective Divisions provide.

The table below gives full membership to July 1st and the apportionment of Representatives. States not entitled to Representatives are classed A and B as explained above.

Mr. E. E. Ellsworth is appointed Local Consul at Little Falls. T. M. SLOSSON, Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Send for Catalogue and see how they are built.

JOSH BILLINGS SAID:

"Gravity is no more evidence of wisdom than a paper collar is evidence of a shirt." This proverb can be turned end for end and applied in various ways to the cycle business, always remembering that a bicycle is what it is, regardless of what its manufacturer says of it.

We don't want anyone to think better of the Hickory Wheels than they deserve. Of course we believe they are all right, and dozens of riders who are using them send us good reports. But we don't shout all the time because we don't have to, and because everybody knows that "the people with the smallest souls are apt to make the most fuss about getting them saved."

The hickory bicycle is made (as all safeties will be eventually) with dropped frame. It weighs 42 lbs., sells for $90.00, and will carry a 200 lb. rider. Saddle may be lowered to 27 inches.

Gents: Since I received my 39x24 Star and having used it and given it a thorough trial, I have now convinced myself that it is all that is claimed for it. For hill climbing in particular---well, I can only say that it is the boss of them all, and cannot be excelled; handles. It is much lighter than any of the road riding safeties, and I feel confident that in the near future the safety riders will find that the 39x24 Star will be worth consideration, and it will not take much to convince them that it is "the wheel" for safety and all around riding. Respectfully,

"IT'S TOO LIGHT!"

Is a remark frequently made by those who look at the QUADRANT SAFETY for the first time. And so it might be if it were not made by a Company who have the most scientific designers and the most skillful workmen in the world.

"WILL IT STAND HARD USAGE?"

Was a question in the mind of one of Philadelphia's most prominent business men, who weighs 200 pounds and often rides from 60 to 100 miles a day over rough roads. He had never ridden anything but the old reliable ——— and was a little afraid to trust himself upon a wheel so light as the Quadrant. At the same time he did not want to push that extra 10 pounds of dead weight around with him everywhere, if the lighter wheel was just as strong. So he bought one of the first Quadrant Safeties imported, with a written guarantee that if it did not stand the hard usage he intended to give it, the importers would give him any make of machine in the market in even exchange for it. He still rides a Quadrant and it has never cost him a cent for repairs. If you now tell anyone who knows the history of this machine that the Quadrant is too light, he will tell you that a machine that will stand Mr. ———'s riding will carry anybody.

AND IT WILL!

"SINGER SAFETY BICYCLES lead them all!! But not in the repair shop. More Singers sold this season than any other make of Safety. Strongest, handsomest and finest running Safety that was ever invented by a cycling genius. It has a raking, racing looking build. Has the only Spring-wired Tire. Can't come out. No other Safety has it. Why not? Because Singer & Co. have got the finest thing, and they are going to keep it to themselves. The Singer has the most powerful brake can be used. Always reliable. The Singer rides easily and comfortably. No lame back or loose false teeth, if you ride a Singer. The Singer is made for comfort as well as speed. If you don't believe it try one. We give you a fine spring saddle of any make you may choose. The Singer is such a reliable wheel, that despite the large number ridden, if we were to depend for one-quarter of our repair work on Singers, we should have red flag flying over our door in no time. Its name is Singer, but not rattler. Notice the handsomest wheels among the leaders in any road scorch and you will find they are Singers, and then notice that they don't rattle like a low gear loaded with hoop iron. If you want to see a first-class piece of cycle mechanism, beg, borrow, steal or hire a Singer Safety and pull it apart. The very finest workmanship will be displayed. Notice the ball bearings. Notice the chain adjustment. Notice the fine finish. In fact, if you want to see the acme of cycle mechanism notice the Singer. CAMPBELL & CO., 33 Page St., Providence, R. THE

NEW MAIL SAFETY

Has not been advertised! Because we could not keep up or fill our orders. The factory is now delivering an increased number, and we again present the merits of this popular wheel, which has had so great a demand. Not a day since the opening of the year have we been up with our orders!! It tells the story.

The advantages of Trigwell's Ball Head to the Ordinary are even surpassed in its application to a Safety (in fact it seems specially designed for a Safety), for by its rigid bearing, and not needing adjustment, it keeps the front wheel steady and obviates sensitive steering, which fault all Safeties have had.

SPRING FRONT FORK, preventing vibration—very easy and out of sight.

REAR AXLE BAND BRAKE, the place for a brake—not fouled with mud as when near the tire. Noiseless.

Has Perfectly Straight Front Fork, giving steadiness of running to front wheel.
Has Tangent Spokes, half nickeled to intersections, giving a very handsome appearance.
Has Strengthened Base Hollow Rim.
All Steel Forgings and Interchangeable Parts. Highest quality American-made Wheel.

Also New Mail Ordinaries, all Sizes. Don't fail to send for Catalogue.

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 12 JULY, 1889.

THE fact that we are such a distance from the place of the meet and that we could not have gone to press before Saturday (two days late) if we had held over, is our very good excuse for holding our own full report of the meet for this issue. With our large edition we must go to press somewhere near on time.

WE regret that our report of the League meet indicates that the boisterous few gave a tone to the tenth annual meet, at Hagerstown, very similar to that complained of at Baltimore, and that the heading of the report written by "Jack," that it was a "howling success, with the accent on the howling," is altogether too unpleasantly true. How is the thing going to end! Does it mean that the annual meet must be abandoned? A prominent official of a prominent division stated that he had been in favor of inviting the meet to his city and division, but that after the sights and sounds of Hagerstown he was not in favor of inviting the League. It pains us to write thus, but can we afford to wink at these causes for complaint?

SOME few weeks ago we spoke of the disreputable methods employed by some unprincipled dealers who showed crippled machines, on which the numbers had been obliterated and thus was identification made impossible, they make statements as to how such machines came to be used up.

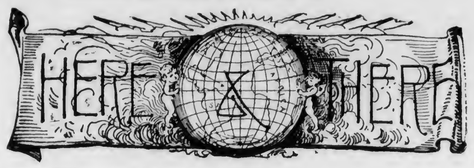
We now have another complaint that certain conscienceless dealers in cycles, buy crippled up or second-hand wheels, have them refinished so as to appear new, putting in new tires, erasing the original numbers placed on the machine by the makers, or alter so that it is a spurious number in order to prevent the purchaser from being able to identify the machine, and then offer it as a new machine and at a little less than the retail price.

This is a disreputable sort of a thing to do, and will not be done by reliable dealers. The consequence is that riders get unreliable machines, and are not able to hold the makers responsible, as makers would not guarantee machines so treated. We suggest to riders that they invariably take note of the original number on the machine, and if there is any question as to its being the original number, that they write the makers and ask for information on this point. This would prevent such questionable transacttions.

It often happens that a machine is injured in some way that does not appear on the outside, but in a way that would show up in the use of the machine. Buyers are not safe against such conditions, unless they are protected by the makers' guarantee.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

THE Board of Officers met at the Clarendon Hotel last Saturday. Nothing special was done excepting that after adjournment of the board meeting the committee on the annual meet at Cottage City in August met and arranged the following programme, which is subject to changes: Leave Boston on the 7th and arrive at Cottage City in the evening. The morning of the 8th will be utilized by holding the annual business meeting of the division, and then a base ball game will be played between the wheelmen and the home club. In the evening an illuminated parade will be held, and a prize will probably be awarded to the wheelman having the most original illumination. During the second day of the meet a trip will be made to Gay Head, and in the evening the cyclists will hold their annual ball. The parade will be held the next morning, and in the afternoon the races will be run off. The three days' convention will be brought to a close by a hop at the Sea View Hotel. It is the opinion of the committee that each League member will, upon presentation of his League ticket, be given a badge which will admit him to all the exercises, and none but holders of the same will be allowed League rates or the benefits of the League.



ILLINOIS STATE DIVISION MEET.

The State meet at Ottawa was a great success and some wheelmen from this city were in attendance there. Of these 50 were from the Illinois club. There were over 300 wheels in the parade to the driving park, where the races were held: and it is hardly necessary to say how well the wheelmen were cared for by the Ottawa boys. Suffice it to say that everybody seemed to be enjoying themselves at the meet from start to finish. At the business meeting in the moaning the wheelmen were tired, the weather was hot, and things went through with a rush. The report of the constitution committee was trotted out from its obscurity, and several changes having been made in the same, it was adopted. The races in the afternoon were exciting, and some 4,000 people were present to cheer the men in their attempts to win. The Chicago team from the Kenwood Club defeated the Illinois team in the team race, the result of which will appear in the racing columns. It was quite amusing to notice the way Lumsden played with Tuttle in the races; then the way Thorne did up Tuttle riled the Illinois clubmen. Lumsden showed that he was far and away the fastest man there, beating Bert Myers and all other comers handily. Misses Comstock, Roberts and Davis and Mrs. W. C. Thorne represented the lady riders of Chico at the meet and were the centre of attraction wherever they went, a lady on a bicycle evidently being a rarity in Ottawa and Chicago, could not have been represented in this line. A lantern parade was held on the evening before the ball, and on Friday a picnic run to Starned Roen was toe feature of the day.

STROLLER.

FIRE AT POPE MFG. CO., 77-79 FRANKLIN STREET BOSTON.

AT about 2.50 A. M. last Wednesday a fire was discovered in the upper stories of the building occupied by the Pope Mfg. Co., at 77-79 Franklih street, and before it could be extinguished the fourth floor was pretty well gutted, and although in 30 minutes it was under control much damage was done by water in all the stories. The fire was first discovered on the fourth floor. The ware-room on the ground floor escaped, and the general offices did not suffer much. The damage to stock and building is covered by insurance.

CHICAGO.

THE "STROLLER"

SOME of the Chicago's members who did not attend the meet got up a picnic on their own account and although out of the usual run of things for wheelmen, it was thoroughly enjoyed by Messrs. Bogul, Harmon, Bunch, Niles, J. Cory, F. Cory, Forrest and W. Bode and ladies, as the following clipped from one of our dailies will show: "Promptly at 9 o'clock Thursday morning nine couple loaded the interior of the Hon. John Darby Cory's tally-ho coach with the necessary amount of good things with which to spread a delicious dinner, and in their turn mounted to the top of the immense coach and rolled rapidly away from the Chicago's up-town club house, bound for Cherry Farm, where dinner was served at 2 o'clock. The return to the club house was made in almost a constant blaze of fire-works."

FOURTH of July evening, Barrett and Arthur had a "mix up" with a South Park policeman near 26th and Michigan avenue, that resulted in two badly wrecked wheels. A party of six were wheeling down the boulevard, at a moderate pace, when a mounted policeman says: "Yer ridin' too fast!" and then backed his horse broadside in front of them to stop them. Birdie Munger got by, Barrett and Arthur did not. They stopped at once, had to, and a horse and carriage behind them succeeded in leaving two very dilapidated wheels as a result of the interview. While Mr. Policeman was having a very stormy time of it at the hands of the owners of the aforesaid wheels, Arthur gave him a good shaking while threatning to go farther and give him a few lessons in the manly art without gloves. He was probably the scarest copper in the city for a while. The names of several who saw the accident and the number of the policeman were taken, and it is proposed to sue the Park Commissioners for the damage.

SOME 20 of the Chicagos took in the run to Milwaukee last Sunday and were received with open arms by their Milwaukee brethren Saturday afternoon, and several will remember Schlitz's Park for some time to come, as a result of the same. Sunday, Burley lead them forth on sand-papered roads to their heart's contents.

I HAVE been trying to find out who the young man is who so recklessly picks up the gauntlet thrown down by Greenwood. I have been told that he is a young man who had just returned from college and some waggish friends of his sent the letter accepting Greenwood's challenge as a practical joke on the young man. Whether this is so or not, I feel sure that there are no cyclists in this city at present who desire to enter any hill-climbing contest with sturdy "Hal" of St. Louis.

RIGGS rode from Milwaukee to Chicago, Monday, making the distance, 85 miles, in a little over 12 hours. Had it not been so hot, Frank says he would have made an attempt at the record.

ARTHUR won the 2 mile race at Wanderers' athletic games, July 4th. Time, 6.49. Bode who expected a repetition of his successes at Cheltenham Beach, found himself in too fast company this time.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

IT is a patent fact that old Jupiter Pluvius in his day wasn't any cycler, and that he has not improved any of late. From the way he worked that old sprinkling pot of his upon the devoted heads of the L. A. W. at Hagerstown I am fully convinced that he is either a road hog himself or under subsidy from them. This may be libelous and I hope it is, but circumstances compel me to go on record with just this opinion.

I SEE that George Thomas Govin, who under the stage name of Letine once headed a famous "family" of trick riders on the stage, has been murdered in London, by the father of a girl who became one of his troup of riders. I remember this Letine quite well. Some seven or eight years ago he came to this country, bringing with him his troup of riders, and they being the first in their line of business soon drew crowded houses and large salaries at the variety theatres where they performed. As soon as the news of their presence became known to the handful of wheelmen here they at once became the craze and were much patronized by the pioneers of the sport here. One night a party of us went to see them perform at a variety theatre in the Bowery, and after the show invited them out to supper with us. Among the party was William M. Wright, the first wheelman in this city to embark in the bicycling business, and a gentleman who was at that time blessed with a sufficiency of the world's goods to keep pace with his enthusiasm for the cause of the wheel, which was almost boundless. So pleased was Mr. Wright with the performance of the Letines that he presented them with a full set of bicycles for their act, a piece of generosity that cost him nearly $800. After accumulating quite a handsome sum of money Letine and his troup retured to England, and the news of his violent death is the first I have heard of him since the above mentioned episode occurred.

THE "homeless" are at last to have a local habitation as well as a name. Long have they been known as "Bidwell's Brigade," and motley has been their uniform, but now all of this is going to be changed, by the energy of the same man who made them riders. Mr. Bidwell has the plans drawn and the money ready to construct a magnificent six-story building fronting on the Grand Circle, at Fifty-ninth street near Eighth avenue, which he intends shall be the most perfect and expensively equipped cyclists' club house in the world. The building will contain six bowling alleys, an indoor track, a plunge bath sixty feet in length, a gymnasium, parlors, restaurant, locker rooms, and sleeping rooms for such as return from late rides or desire to go off on early ones. The entire building will be lit by electricity and heated by steam, while the entire corps of attendants will be in uniform. So constructed will the building be that one portion will be for the exclusive use of ladies, entirely separate and distinct from any other portion of it. It is Mr. Bidwell's intention, I understand, to run this entire affair personally upon the plan of a proprietory club. To become a member of this establishment it will only be necessary for the applicant to establish his or her standing as a gentleman or as a lady, and then for a settled sum he or she will be entitled to the full use and enjoyment of all the privileges of this princely establishment without any of the bother or trouble of running it. It is fair to suppose that "Good old George" will not be less successful in managing this affair than he has been in any of the other wheeling interests he has taken hold of, and the result will be that success is certain from the start. Heretofore membership in "Bidwell's Brigade" has not been an honor much sought after by club men, but if the proposed plan, as above outlined, becomes a certainty we may look for a rush to the "brigade" that will make some of our club magnates open their eyes. To me it seems that Bidwell is going to become the Ward McAllister of cycling, and that his "brigade" is going to be the "four hundred" thereof. Well if he does, I know of no one who could better assume the honors of so high a degree, or who is more deserving of them than George is.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

AT last Tuesday's meeting of the Missouris Joe Fugua moved that associate members should pay the same dues as actives, and be entitled to vote and hold office in the club. In order to get the sentiment of all the members on this question, circulars asking for each member's opinion will be sent out, and the matter will come up for final discussion at the next meeting of the club. The change will not benefit the club, financially or otherwise, and will, in my opinion, put it just that much nearer being a social club than what it is now.

So much has been said about the poor quality of our roads by some of the visitors to the 1887 meet that, per contra, the following will be of interest. L. H. Frost, ex-Captain of the Chelsea Bi. Club, is now a resident of our city, and while making his initial tour to Ballwin, over the Manchester road, said to me: "You can put me down as saying that Boston, or any other city I have yet visited, has any roads which for smoothness, undulations, riding or coasting beats this one. The hotel at Ballwin is every bit as good as Bailey's, is better furnished, and accommodations cost just half what they do there."

S. G. WOLZENDORF sent me a clipping from the Clayton Democrat, which says that Isa B. Warner is making efforts to obtain the position of United States Marshal for the Eastern district of Missouri, made vacant by the death of the Hon. Robt. C. Allen. Here is a chance for our wheelmen to show their hand and see that he does not obtain tde coveted position.

THE Cycle Club is on the eve of disbanding and will be immediately reorganized under the name of the St. Louis Cycling Club. The reason for the above is that the club wishes to get rid of some objectionable members and enter into a contract with some capitalist to either build them a club house or alter one to suit the purpose. Nearly all the desirable members favor the scheme.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

ON the bank of that big placid stream, the Big Miami, within a stone's throw of the old mill in that spot so dear to the heart of many a wheelmen, sweet old Miamitown, is a small rude structure, whose clap-board roof and walls of rough and illy-fitted boards suggest the abode of Poverty and Want. The interior, with its backless wooden chair, its decrepit stove, its ancient bureau, its feeble and rickety bedstead with soiled and tumbled bedding, its uneven floor littered with fuel, dirt and trash, will be found a solitary occupant with low and narrow forehead, surmounted by a mat of grizzled hair, his foxey eyes, his open mouth revealing a few filthy snags, his ragged beard and his patched and seedy clothing, tend but to confirm this impression. From inquiries among his neighbors I learned that his name is Elisha Cleaver, that 54 years ago he was born in Pennsylvania and that while still quite young he had drifted with his parents to his present location. As a child he was said to be odd, as a youth peculiar and as a man queer. In '61, charmed by the noise of a fife and drum, he enlisted in Company D, of Fremont's Body Guard, and it is said that during his three years of soldier life the whistling of bullets and the shriek of shells, were, to his feeble intellect, wierd music inspiring him to deeds of reckless valor. At the close of the war, his parents being dead, he supported himself by trading in melons, assisting his neighbors, and in fact at anything he could get to do. At present, however, he does very little, as his mind is so occupied by the delusion that, like the Apostle John, he is a "fisher of men." He makes frequent trips to the city on urgent government business, the nature of which he will impart to no one. It is also said that on dark and stormy nights he may be seen by the lightning's flash standing at the door of his hut midst the swish of the rain, the howling of the wind and the crash of the thunder, waving aloft an old and rusty sword as though he were leading the celestial orchestra.

PORKOPOLIS, the Queen City of the West, and the Paris of America, possesses many attractions, and if it should ever be our fortune to entertain the national meet we could take our visitors to Alexandria, let them wander through its immense library, and view the landscape from the top of the lofty lighthouse, or we might recount to them the many exploits of the heriоc Hannibal as they sat among the ruins of Carthage, or take them to Venice to listen to the musical voice of the gentle gondolier, or allow them to recline under the cedars of Lebanon and meditate on the tribulations of the Jews, and then with them float past the castles of our proud German barons on the bosom of the historic Rhine.

THE C. B. C. are nothing if not patriotic, and of course celebrated the glorious Fourth in a manner fitting to the occasion. We purchased a cent's worth of fire crackers, a one-bail Roman candle, a package of torpedoes, a pin wheel, a sky rocket, a spit devil and five cent's worth of red fire. They were let off one at a time by our gallant captain, and the brilliancy of the display attracted such a multitude that the street in front of the club house was packed with an enthusiastic mass of humanity. The success of the display exceeded expectations to such a degree that little Piper was heard to declare that he had not enjoyed himself so much since he had the measles.

THE C. B. C., on the evening of the 1st. inst., received another batch of applications for membership. There is so much new blood being intused into the club that the old "bloods" are actually beginning to feel lonesome.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

"BETTSEY B." and "Posted" of New Orleans are having a sparring match of the claimed mile record, 2.54, for New Orleans. "Posted" claims that it cannot be a record because of certain League rules, stating that no record can be made Sunday, several day's notice must be given and a certain lot of timers, checkers, etc., must be on hand. Bettsey seems to have the long end of the handle in answering that the L. A. W. does not recognize road racing, hence the objections of "Posted" are nil. This is true. It is a local performance performed on Sunday and on the road, and so the rules of the L. A. W. do not effect the race or the claim.

THE average farmer is slow to see how benefit is to accrue by the spending of a dollar unless he can see the return instantly, but if such articles as the following, taken from the Despatch of Pittsburg are kept before his eyes, he may be made to wake up to the fact that good roads means money in his pocket: "Reports from several sections of the county are to the effect that extensive repairs are being made on the public roads. This is good as far as it goes, but to afford full relief the work should be extended to every district and precinct. Old Allegheny is rich enough to have good roads so that farmers can bring their produce to market at any and all seasons of the year."

MR. C. B. Tiffany, a Philadelphia cyclist, has ridden from that city to Flandrau, S. Dak. He intends to continue his tour through that section indefinitely.

WE are glad to notice that the city authorities of Bridgeport, Ct., propose to make it particularly torrid for those cyclers who insist on using the walks of the city parks when riding. Speaking of the action of the authorities a local paper says: "Wheelmen should not complain, as there is nothing better on earth for their use than the smooth driveways at Seaside. Why they should have persisted in wheeling on the walk along the sea-wall, is a mystery, unless there is more excitement when curving around frightened nursery maids, old gentlemen and children."

THE officers of the Dorranceton, Pa., borough are models which we should like to see serve as a pattern for the shallow-pated officials who look on cycles as a nuisance to be swept out of existence. Witness the following item taken from an exchange: "The Dorranceton borough authorities have done a good thing in fixing up the bicycle path along the old flats road. The work is not quite completed, but enough is done to indicate the marked benefit the improvement will confer upon the foot and wheel traveling public."

SENATOR MORGAN brands the story of his marriage with Jessie Oaks as a canard, but that the Senator is engaged to Miss Oaks he does not deny, and so we will keep that article in type for future use.

THE Albany (N. Y.) wheelmen held their third annual parade and outing on the 3d July. The Albany Bi. Club and the Troy Bi. Club were the guests of the wheelmen. The route was from the club rooms, 455 Madison avenue, thence through the park to State street to Swan, to Washington avenue to Western avenue, to Englewood place. The route was then continued through the principal driveways of the park. At Rich's hotel on the New Scotland road the visitors enjoyed the hospitality of the Wheelmen. Capt. Irving was in command.

THAT was a very graceful act of the New Orleans Bicycle Club in presenting to the Hagerstown Bi. Club a handsome silk banner in recognition of the courtesies extended New Orleans touring wheelmen on three different occasions.

WE desire to extend our congratulations to the Wheel for its most excellent and exhaustive report of the League meet.

THE Hyde Park (Mass.) Road Commissioners have been taking lessons from A. T. Noyes of Newton as to how to build and maintain roads, and no better authority exists than this same Mr. Noyes.

A WONDERFUL escape was that of Charles Pond of West Medford, Mass., who took a header over the edge of a 15-foot embankment, resulting only in a bad shaking up for him but annihilation to his wheel.

THE East Hartford (Ct.) Club have a just reputation for giving good races. It, therefore, should be borne in mind that the races to be given by that club July 20 should be attended by all who can go.

TWO Topeka (Kan.) wheelmen were lately arrested for riding over the Kaw River bridge and they threaten suit. If the bridge is public property and to be used for vehicles they have an excellent show of bringing the authorities to terms. But if it is a foot bridge owned by a private company, then ——?

SUNDAY, June 30, there were were 94 wheelmen at the Massapoag House, Sharon, Mass. They hailed from Boston, Providence and intermediate and surrounding towns.

MR. ALBERT F. NOYES is one of the most expert road builders in the country, as the superb condition of the Newton (Mass.) roads, of which he has charge, will most flatteringly attest.

MOSES SHERIFF of Manchester, N. H., recently covered the 55 miles between that city and Boston in exactly five hours. One stretch of 21 miles was ridden without a stop.

MESSRS. GEO. B. WOODRUFF, E. S. Brown, and W. H. Bradford of Winstead, Ct., have started on a tour through Massachusetts, New York to Toronto by wheel, thence by steamer to Montreal. From that city they will wheel home via Lake Champlain, Lake George and Saratoga Springs.

THE London Graphic midsummer number contains a sketch by the Pennells, entitled "To the Paris Exhibition on a Tandem Bicycle," written in Mrs. Pennell's characteristically bright vein and charmingly illustrated by "Long Joe's" gifted pencil. It is well worth reading.

CHIEF Consol Hodgsdon, of New Orleans, was in town last Tuesday and Wednesday, and from him we had a very pleasant call.

THE following item from the Boston Globe must be an error; for streets it must mean to read sidewalks. They cannot keep cycles off the streets: — "The Selectmen of Arlington, Mass., have prohibited bicicle and tricycle riding upon the streets of that town, and notices to that effect have been posted."

THE MEET AT HAGERSTOWN A HOWLING SUCCESS, WITH THE ACCENT ON THE "HOWLING."

Notes and Minutes by "Jack."

HAGERSTOWN, Maryland, has been the scene of the tenth meet of the League of American Wheelmen. Never perhaps in the history of the League have the privileges of a town (its streets, its hospitalities and good cheer) been showered more recklessly upon visiting wheelmen than in the meet of 1889, at that city, July 2d, 3d and 4th. Everybody is kind and obliging, and if you won't drink "hard" drinks why there's plenty of the other kind. Tuesday, the 2d, was the first day, though the festivities of the eve preceding baffle discription. At least they baffle the description of the writer of this report.

Probably hospitalities were never extended to Leaguedom in its many varied phases of representation with more graceful abandon. To one accustomed to a quiet manner of entertainment this League meet will leave an impress on his memory that not even a Veiled Prophet's procession or a New Orleans Mardi Gras could equal. Not even the quiet of a Buffalo Bill entertainment, in which mimic Indian engagement predominates could equal that "first night" at Hagerstown.

"First nights" of all descriptions are memorable, and when the writer, accompanied by some twenty members of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club arrived at Hagerstown at midnight, the train was boarded by many men in white caps, who added their quota to the entertainment by most melodious blowings and scrapings (varying in quality with the lung power of the artist) upon the insinuating tin sacbut and the expansive india rubber American dulcimer. In fact two Philadelphia tin horn factories had been depleted of their wares, and the Goodyear Rubber Company had great difficulty in supplying india rubber squeakers, creakers, croakers, squealers and howlers, so that the air was filled with the saddest and sweetest of melody. Added to this was the burst of the cannon cracker. These two battled for supremacy, the tin horn and the sweet scented explosive which scattered its smouldering fragments among the good-natured bystanders who regarded the whole thing as a huge joke.

The League meet of 1889 may be characterized as the most remark- milestone in the history of the League. The X mark will ever remain in letters of living light upon the minds of all those who were so excessively fortunate as to attend its erection.

Charles H. Luscomb, Esq., of New York, the illustrous and gifted President of the L. A. W., arrived in Hagerstown with a strong body-guard on the 8.30 train on Monday evening. He is all that is courteous and gentlemanly, is very prolific of ideas, and when he does speak, makes a lasting impression upon the hearer. Arriving at Hotel Hamilton the visitors were ushered into a reception room, where a brief but comprehensive address of welcome was delivered by Col. Buchanan Schley on behalf of the authorities and citizens. President Charles H. Luscomb responded in his characteristic manner, his bon mots redolent of a fine appreciation of high-grade wit, a feature which was only eclipsed by the soundness of his eloquence. At the conclusion of some neat little speeches Mayor Delamarter handed the keys of the great city of Hagerstown to the President, remarking that the gates were ever open, and had no hinges. President V. M. Cushwa and Norman B. Scott, Jr., Esq., of the Hagerstown Club, introduced a large number of the citizens to Mr. Luscomb. At the dining table the expressions of welcome were prolonged.

In the evening red paint was freely handled without gloves, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the visitors. The hotels were dreadfully crowded, so that less favored ones sweltered through the long night on military cot beds, like parching angle worms on a sunny sea board. As the hour of morning approached, the sound of the cannon cracker and the tin horn abated and was succeeded by the snore of the honest amateur cycler. Probably one thousand new snores were introduced into Hagerstown during the meet. Of other things not a word.

Balcony, pillar and post is festooned lavishly with bunting, red, white and blue predominating, and stars and stripes flutter in all directions. The weather, as is usual when large numbers of men congregate for out-door demonstrations and sports, was liberal as to liquid—the Hagerstowners likewise.

The seven ages of man are represented very thoroughly in the visitors. J. W. Niles, of Bloomsbury, Pa., is a 52 year old cycler, a safety being his mount, while Master Marshall Wilhelm, of Reading, Pa., is only seven years of age. Mr. W. H. Morrow, of Ada, Ohio, who is 54 years of age and lost his left arm at Chancellorsville as a result of the "coon quarrel" between the North and the South, is a strong road rider. His mount is a safety, complete control of which he has with but one flipper. He is a pleasant man, original in his utterances, and has an honest sun-burned face.

The lady cyclists are a great feature of the meet. Accompanied by husband or brother, they pedal swiftly along the finely macadam roads and create no little envy from less favored sisters. Among them are Mrs. Albert Mott, Mrs. S. T. Clark, Mrs. E. P. Hayden, Mrs C. R. Eisenbrandt and Mrs. J. W. Cummings of Baltimore; Mrs. J. Martin of Philadelphia; Mrs. Wilhelm of Reading, Miss De Graaf of New York, and Mrs. A. W. Berkhelm of Boston. Most of the clubs leave their "ear marks" and brands in the shape of badges and medals; some show one simple button, while others are like unto a walking rainbow or a human jewelry window.

The following clubs are represented. There are more, but goodness knows one man can't get everything: Maryland Baltimore, Crescent, Centaur, and Chesapeake Clubs of Baltimore. The Cycling Ramblers of Westminster, Potomac Wheelmen of Cumberland, Patapsco Cycle Club of Ellicott City; Easton Bicycle Club, Hudson County Wheelmen, Hoboken, N. J.; Harlem Wheelmen, N. Y.; Dorchester Cycle Club, New Bedford Club, Massachusetts Club, Allegheney Cyclers, Pittsburg; Reading Wheelmen, Pa.; Berkeley Athletic Club, New York; Columbia Cyclers, Philadelphia; Washington Cyclers, Juanita Wheelmen, Bloomfield, Pa.; Blennerhasset Wheelmen, Parkersburg, W. Va.; Wissahickon Club, Germantown, Pa.; Columbia Athletic Club, Washington; Boys' Cycle Club, Carlisle, Pa.; Wheeling (W. Va.) Wheelmen; Dayton Bicycle Club; Chester County Wheelmen, Westchester, Pa.; Boston Bicycle Club; Milton Bicycle Club, Milton, Pa. Many unattached wheelmen are present. Most of them are declaring their intention of joining the League.

The newspaper crowd who collect in the sanctity of their apartment and discuss men and things are Charles J. Howard of the Boston Globe, A. S. Will of the Baltimore Sun, J. Harry Hull and Lynn R. Meekins of the Baltimore American; L. Bert Eyster representing the Press News Association of New York; A. C. Willison of the Cumberland Times; F. P. Prial and L. B. Graves of the New York Wheel, and "Jack" of the BICYCLING WORLD.

Harry Hodgson, the chief consul of Louisiana, is present and very popular. He is the only representative of the New Orleans Bicycle Club.

INFORMAL MEETING.

At eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning the informal session of the League convened in Hose Opera House. Norman B. Scott, Jr., Esq., delivered an address of welcome, to which Pt. Luscomb responded. Owing to a recently adopted constitution the old-time formal business meeting is a thing of the past, and an informal business meeting was held in its place.

President Luscomb, in a few remarks, mentioned the purpose of the meeting, which was for a mutual interchange of ideas which might be of benefit.

Chief Consul Hodgson of Louisiana read a carefully prepared speech in typewriter. He started out in a humorous way and spoke of some of his cycling experiences. He also touched upon handicapping, and said that such a system in placing men for the purpose of racing was more or less guess work. He thought he expressed the general opinion of cycledom when he said that the public were tired of seeing handicap races, which deteriorate into struggles between an eminently superior scratch man and a 3.20 galoot who had been given 1400 yards start in a mile. Mr. Hodgson is a big man. When he got upon the platform there was a mighty lull until the boards ceased vibrating under the tread of the fine dark-skinned Southerner. His delivery is unique. With one hand in his rear pocket, as if he was in a dispute over the buttons in a keno game in "Eighteen Royal," and his arched instep on the unlit footlights, he reads his impromptu speech in carefully corrected, dictatorial typewriter parlance, with a vigor that is only exceeded by his strenuous efforts to hitch his trousers successfully on his left joint bone.

F. P. Prial arose and made a good speech. At the first he said he was not a speaker—few writers are. He spoke in regard to handicapping, that in England where the distances were small the difficulty of handicapping was greatly lessened, as a man could learn

THE EAGLE AGAIN WINS.

THIS TIME ON GREENFIELD HILL.

FAST TIME ON THE ROAD.

At the meet of the Connecticut State Division at Bridgeport, June 8th, the hill climbing contest on Greenfield Hill was won by W. B. Clough, of Stamford, on a 48-inch Eagle Bicycle, with six-inch cranks.

(THE CAPITAL AND CRITIC, Washington, July 5, 1889.)

A FAST RUN TO HYATTSVILLE.

"Wm. T. Robertson on an Eagle Bicycle lowered the record from this city to Hyattsville made by Rex. Smith on a "Star" bicycle. Robertson made the distance in 19 minutes and 25 seconds, thereby cutting down the records 5 seconds. The timers were Rex. Smith and T. E. Robertson.

Earlier in the morning he had a picture taken of the favorite trick, coming down the Capitol steps, to illustrate the safety of his machine."

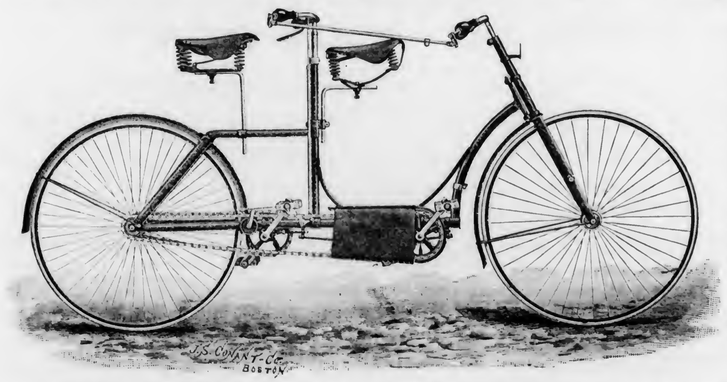
The Swift.

The Buffalo Express, May 29, says:

"James S. Hedge of the Buffalo Bicycle Club made the first century run of the year on May 26th. Leaving the club house at 8 A. M., he rode via Seneca Street, Potter's Corners Road, Orchard Park, and Colden to Springville. Here a stop of two hours was made fordinner, and return was made via Boston and Hamburg to the club house, arriving at 6.45 P. M. Starting again at 7 P. M. he pushed on out to Bowmansville and return and rode three times around the meadow, arriving at the club house at 10.25 P. M. Hedge rode a Swift Safety, and considering the fact that he did not start out to make a 'century,' and did not think of it until he had ridden about 70 miles, made very good time, his riding time being 10 hours and 30 minutes for 105 miles, or an average of 10 miles an hour. Four hours and five minutes were used in stops. This is the first time a century run has been made by a rider in this city on a safety, and it is also the first time a century has been made over this route, there being a great many short steep hills to climb."



Wednesday evening last, Mr. A. W. Porter, of Newton, rode up and down Corey Hill four times, without a dismount, in 36 minutes, on a Swift Safety.

Geared to 57 Inches.

He was timed by L. D. Whittemore, Jr., of Newton, witnessed at the top by F. S. Norton and H. E. Bachelder, half way by F. W. Fisher and H. C. Blaney, and at the foot by L. D. Whittemore, Jr.

To the Paris Exhibition on a Tandem Bicycle

"As this is the first time the new Tandem bicycle has been used for touring, it is of enough importance to say that the machine which we rode surpasses all forms of tricycles for speed and ease of running, its only disadvantage being that you cannot sit still on it. But it has so many advantages that this seems of small account. On it a woman can enjoy the pleasure of motion, not to be had in its perfection on any tricycle. Personally I may say that never after this one experience, would I ride the present form of tricycle." — Elizabeth Robbins Pennell, in the London Graphic, Summer Number.

either by personal observation or by means of reports the times made in first class events by competitors.

In America—which has a width and breadth of thousands of of miles it is easy to see that this classification is a matter of great difficulty. Still, he was in favor of handicaps, and thought that the appointment of handicappers to "adjust the weights" of the riders in their district might result in as fair handicapping in races as was possible in a country of the tremendous width and breadth of America

President Luscomb had not spoken for some time so he made a few remarks. Being short of space we will proceed to the next speaker, Mr. Norman Scott, the chairman of the Reception Committee. He said it was the smallest city in which the League has ever held a meet. "It is little" he said "but oh my!"—twenty-five miles of roller made streets, 100 miles of turnpike in the surrounding district of Washington County. Already, he said, the keys of the city dangled from the belts of the cyclers and the walls were a fine crimson. (The stock of paint is apparently inexhaustible.)

Mr. W. H. De Graaf (two a's and one f: correspondents to this gentleman please note) was induced to appear and the thumb-twirling ceased which had taken place since one of the latter (not the last named) gentlemen had ceased his harangue. He spoke in strong terms against the big athletic clubs paying the "x's" of fast wheelmen. These wheelmen represent the club and all their entry fees and training and racing expenses are borne by the club. He said the cycling clubs sometimes lost their best men thus, and advocated that some steps be taken to modify this evil. He walked slowly to his seat and sat down with a crash. When the members in the back seats understood what he was driving at, they cheered to the echo, hands and feet being used as auxiliaries. President Luscomb called for J. Purvis-Bruce who mounted the platform with a guillotine step. He said:

"Gentlemen, I thank you for this honor. I have listened attento the speeches of the bright and shining orators who have preceded me. I shall bar the usual preliminary speech canter. I have always thought that the League of American Wheelmen, as its name would seem to indicate, was an organization for the aid of American Wheelmen and the advancement of the interests of wheeling in America. Now I think that in this professed Democracy a lot of detestable snobbishness has crept in. I have always thought that the League of American Wheelmen ought to extend all its privileges to every wheelman in America, professional or amateur, if it can be proven that he is an honest, good fellow. I believe in admitting professionals to membership, (whenever honest ones can be found) with this proviso, that they be restrained from competing in amateur race meetings. I have often wondered why a man to be an amateur must race for useless crane necked cups and Kodak Cameras. Is the coin of the realm such a debasing metallurgical disc that it militates against the adhesion of the amateur whitewash.

N. L. Bridgeman, President of the Kings County Wheelmen of New York, spoke in favor of handicaps, said that the Milburn-Irvington 25-mile road race was an instance of what close finishes could be accomplished among men of different paces by an intelligent handicap.

Mr. W. H. Morrow, a gentleman described previously in this report, made a very good speech of the Dan'l Boone order. He has a sterling face, and though his delivery is a wee bit outre there is a vein of solid sense underlying it that more than makes up for this. Among other things he told how he "pulled out" and beat some horsemen on the road (N. B., he has only one arm, his right). He spoke of good old Kaintuck, but made no allusion to the house of Bourbon.

President Luscomb then called on the very excellent band of the Hagerstown Bicycle Club (all members) for a selection. These gentlemen are John Bauer (leader), Frank Cook, C. E. Heard, Albert Heard, Frank Heard and H. B. Irvin. They play most melodiously. President Luscomb told how the road hog had been driven further and further out of civilization, so that like the Indian he was only to be met with in all his untamed and relentless ferocity in such regions where civilization has been slow.

He spoke very sensibly about what was the most important work for the League to-day. "We have succeeded in the majority of instances in getting our rights and privileges, now we want to devote our energies to the development of fine road construction. Thus the wheelmen of America will link hand and heart with the horseman, who represents so much capital in America. He said he longed for the day when a wheelman could ride for hundreds of miles in almost any direction on splendid surfaces." Cheers, as usual, greeted him.

Chief Consul Mott of Maryland mrde the most sensible speech of the morning. He came on the stage smiling, said speaking was not his strong point, thanked the League members present for the honor, said to the point what he did say, bowed and left the stage, and bored nobody (good luck to Mott).

This meeting, which was a regular pow-wow or chatter, was productive of little result.

THE RUN TO WILLIAMSPORT

on Tuesday was announced at 2.30 P. M. It was a ragged enough sort of informal procession, the six miles through thin mire and on indifferent roadways being made in thirty minutes by some, while others jogged (perhaps more sensibly) at the rate of one mile in every ten minutes. Some of the riders bathed in the rather muddy looking and not over sweet smelling Potomac. These men carried towels marked L. A. W., etc., etc. The L. A. W. towel had a rather better surface for receiving printers' ink than for absorbing moisture. Perhaps two hundred cyclists visited Williamsport.

There was one thing omitted at the meeting on Tuesday which certainly should not have been overlooked. This was the passing of resolutions of respect to the beloved memory of Stephen Terry, of Hartford, Conn., a man who devoted time, money and energy in behalf of the League. He died, it will be remembered, in California, of pneumonia, a few months ago. He was the type of man we need in the League—a gentleman and a warm exponent of clean living.

Unless strenuous measures are adopted the tone of the League will deteriorate, and the writer would like to see some cleansing and sweeping of the League, so we may render our subsequent accounts with joy and not with grief and shamefacedness.

This may seem harsh, but those who have attended the League meet of 1889 will agree with me that there was need of some official with sufficient force and power to keep in check an element in this meet of 1889 which asserted itself in such measure that it bordered on vandalism. Never were wheelmen more hospitably entertained in the history of the League than at Hagerstown: never have we had such a hideous nightmare, such a bacchanalian orgy than we have had for the last three days. You may not like this, but it is true, and truth counts. We mourn for the tender feelings of the ladies present, whose names I have not been able to gather thoroughly, as I dislike approaching people in the reportorial capacity and I doubt very much the value of the compliment in mentioning them as visitors to the League meet of 1889. (This may not go in, but if it does it is the truth and will be recognized as such, and I'd rather wipe up the stains with a big sponge at the end of a forty-foot pole and a clothespin on my nose, than tell the thing as it is, but there's no going back of the truth.)

We will not dwell on this subject longer, as it is especially distasteful to the writer. Members who visited the meet can be interrogated upon two things and they will corroborate what I say: That the entertainment by the Hagerstowners and Baltimoreans was overpowering in its genuineness of welcome, and the behavior of some of the visitors was of a kind I do not care to expatiate any further on, it tastes too rank. Hustle around and corroborate this.

During the day, though intermittent local deluges softened the roads and added other displeasantnesses, a run was made

TO ANTIETAM.

The start was made from the club house at 8 A. M., and consisted of a main body and some straggling followers. Roads, rough and stony, sixteen miles. About two miles from Antietam R. O. Goodman, of West Hampton, L. I., took a cropper off an ordinary and broke an arm above the wrist and cut and bruised his face and hands. Taken to the nearest house he was attended by Dr. Griffiths of Pittsburg. Lack of system characterized this run. Owing to the non-arrival of expected guides, when the party reached Sharpsburg no one knew where the places of interest were situated. At Antietam over sixty cyclists lunched beautifully at the L. A. W. "Hotel Antietam." The food was excellent, plain and well cooked, in striking contrast to—but comparisions are odious, and sometimes unkind when one thinks of the number of wheelmen in Hagerstown at present. There were three ladies in the Antietam party, two on tandem bicycles and one on a safety single. President Luscomb and Chief Consul Mott were along. The return was made by way of Boonesboro', where the National cemetery was sighted. Indications of rain were so pronounced that the drops could be felt on the nose tip, so the party took road for the nearest station, killed some time in divers and sundry ways and trained it in to Hagerstown. Some of the non compos contingent (who don't know a good thing when they see it) cycled in and said "they didn't get very wet."

"Annie Laurie" would blush if she heard the boys yell. "What did the band play?" (Said) "But for bonnie Annie Laurie" (sung to the air), and then a whoooeawo!! as a finisher. It is very pretty(?). Poor, sweet Annie Laurie.

THE PRESENTATION

to the Hagerstown Club of a beautifully embroidered silk banner emblematic of the club, was presented by Harry Hodgson in the name of the wheelmen of Louisiana, and New Orleans in particular. His remarks, which treated of the brotherly love existing between the wheelmen of the north, the south, the east and west, and particularly the courtesies extended to New Orleans wheelmen by their brothers at a distance were well chosen. Mr. Harry Hodgson is a gentlemanly, stout, good-natured personage, and if the New Orleans boys are all like Chief Consul Harry Hodgson the are like Annie Laurie—they are all right. President Cushwa of the Hagerstown Club responded in good style in acknowledging the fine spirit of fraternal feeling which prompted the presentation of the banner, etc., and the band played Annie Laurie.

President Luscomb was called on, and his well-chosen words called forth the customary and time-honored there cheers for the President of the L. A. W. The New Orleans Bicycle Club was put upon the Hagerstowners' honorary list, a suspension pro tem. of the club's rules being considered justifiable.

On Wednesday night, when the majority of the straggling, or befogged, wheelmen went to bed there was an air of weariness about the eyes of most of them. Several hardy spirits stood it, and far into the early morning their deep bovine voices could be heard asking "What was the matter with Annie Laurie," a question which caused these gentlemen much anxiety, judging from the frequency with which this query was repeated. Annie Laurie did not show up, however, though she might have been one of the ladies on the safety bicycles, whose name by reason of our characteristic bashfulness we did not learn. The last thing we heard before Morpheus clasped us in his powerful arms was a call in a neighboring resort inquiring as to the ailments of Harry Hodgson and Albert Mott, C. R. Overman and Candy, Bert Owen and Sam Clark, and others of the crowd with "ear marks," whereby you can spot the good fellow, and then kind sleep closed my eyelids.

On Wednesday the 2.30 P. M. train took a goodly number of ladies and gentlemen

TO PEN MAR.

Those who did not go to Pen Mar went to Antietam, and those who went to Antietam did not go to Pen Mar, "this I guarantee." A special of six cars pulled out of the Western Maryland depot and made the ascent of Blue Mountain, which is appropriately named, as the prevailing colors are green and red and rose madder (they always call a place "Oak Grove" when there are plenty of elm trees about and the nearest acorn is ten miles distant). The picnic fiend had here a fine opportunity for the pursuit of his pleasure.

Coney Island lemonade was on draft, and you could buy eight cigars for a quarter if you were fool enough to attempt such suicidal experiments. Youths without the aural appendages of Balaam's Ass, with Kodak cameras photographed the ladies whose breath came in "short knickerbockers" (Almanac 51 B. C.) after a spin through the adhesive mud of the charming neighborhood. There was also that enterprising gentleman who allows you to sprain your knuckles on a striking pad with a scale dial, for five cents per sprain, and the man who lets you go off with the impression that you are a two-thirds-gone consumptive because you can't blow the insides out of his lung power machine which has not been oiled for ten years. Some people walked to the Blue Mountain House, others drove in carryalls. As usual the Baltimore contingent were particularly happy. After supper at Pen Mar, the return was made to Hagerstawn.

that necessary adjunct to all meets took place on the last day, July 4th. The Maryland Club of Baltimore had the largest number in line, having over sixty men. It was not a cheerful affair, as the ever present rain and the slippery condition of the streets made it an unpleasant duty and not a delight to parade under such circumstances. However, some 400 to 500 men went out to go over the route. It did stop raining as the men filed into line, and for the first time during our visit the sun peeped out, but the streets—!!! Statistics that are interesting as to the kinds of wheels used as follows: Big wheel machines (ie., ordinaries, Stars and Springfield Roadsters), 223; rear-driving safeties, 198; tricycles, 10; tandems, 12.

The parade dispersed at the Fair Gronnds and the paraders were set to work to ride the track down smooth, after having the photo. taken by Mr. King, and those who have seen the proofs report that it is the finest photo. of a meet ever taken. We are promised copies and we will report further on them. The price is $1.75, which is 75 cents cheaper than similar photos. have ever been before.

and finale that was intended to have been held in the open air on the Seminary Campus was through stress of weather held in the Hose Opera House. Previous to the meeting a lot of sizzling and sputtering fireworks were set off on Market square. Then the smoker was let off at Hose Opera House. The city band furnished music, as also did the lively and unsuppressable kid element which has made the meet such a howling success. So loud and boisterous were the gentlemen that the ladies of the party who had the temerity to come in to see the smoker had to retire to safe quarters.

For some two hours it was a very good imitation of pandemonium. Then President Cushwa undertook to call the meeting to order, but it was a contract job.

President Luscomb then got up and in proper terms thanked the Hagerstowners and the Maryland Division for the royal welcome and entertainment. The President's words of adieu were cheered to the echo and then the "band played Annie Laurie," and the meet of 1889 was an event of history.

NOTES.

Report of races will be found in the racing column.

Much of an interesting nature has been omitted. This is almost unavoidable. "Jack" was the only man on the field for the BICYCLING WORLD, and he was ill. If his notes look ill forgive him.

Miss De Graaf, of New York, was perhaps the most desperately chic looking lady rider present, while Mrs. Hadyn on a Psycho rode beautifully and was properly dressed in a nice blue serge. Those who prate about corduroy had better try blue serge of good quality and forever hold their peace about corduroy, which is hideous and unsatisfactory. It is dirty looking and hot in summer and chilly in winter—paradoxical but true. Mrs. Mott on a tandem with her husband, the Chief Consul of Maryland, rode gracefully and strongly. The rest of the young ladies did their best. The majority of them ride with the saddle too high—a bad fault.

Hagerstown will never be forgotten for its hospitalities extended to visiting wheelmen, and the proprietors of the Hamilton and Baldwin were wonderfully good natured and kind. Never have we seen a people so indulgent of the whimsicalities and pyrotechnic eccentricities of the gay contingent as the Hagerstowners. It was a smile and a laugh when a fire cracker exploded under their horses' feet. Hagerstown could not have been more kind in its reception, could not have a better Consul than Mott, or as good a time generally for those who liked the smoke of sixty scent cannon torpedoes and the cat calls of holiday-making boys. As it was we felt about ten years too old for the horse play, but let us look at the matter with good nature, and say that it was "a continual round of pleasure." "JACK."

THE TOURISTS IN FRANCE.

It is now ten days since we left London, and what a lot of varied pain and pleasure we have been through in that short time. The pleasure of touring, etc., must be apparent to all; of the pain, more anon.

To pick up our thread where it was last dropped necessitates returning in spirit to Burr's Hotel. Scene. Monday morning, June 17, 8.30 A. M.—Prodigious hustling out of wheels, many rusty with the rust of——a week! Hurry-skurry, picking up traps and strapping on of luggage carriers, visibly diminished in size from that of the early part of the tour. Nine o'clock arrives. We start. Mr. Burr very kindly pilots us as far as Westminster bridge, where, under the shadow of the great clock tower he waives adieu and departs amid a chorus of cheers. Here we started on our way out of London under ihe guidance of Messrs. Philpot, J. Dring, and a few other prominent London cyclists. Following their skillful leader through the multitarious turnings for three or four miles we were at last on the Brighton road and out of the bustle of town. Along a bit, and all halted at the residence of B. P. Wood, Esq., father of the celebrated amateur, and were treated to champagne and cigars upon the lawn. After this piece of genuine kindness had been in some sort reciprocated by cheers and hurrahs for Mr. Wood, we once more were on our road. Up over the breezy downs, where we halted for a last glimpse of the city and the Crystal Palace on the horizon, and so on through a beautiful country, now up a stiffish hill, now down a splendidly smooth coast, until at about noon we sat atop of Reigate hill (but one mile down hill from lunch), and paused half an hour to take in the magnificent panorama of hill and dale, and woodland and fields, which lay before us far below.

Then down we go a clear mile coast, so steep that more than one was glad to walk into Reigate town and pull up at The Grapes for lunch. We found placards up both in the hotel and about the town announcing that the American tourists would lunch there, and, as Faed gruefully remarked, conveying a distinct invitation to all to "come and see the Americans feed." Howbeit, the lunch was good and ample, and it met the fate of all good lunches which our party can lay hands on. Lunch and lounging over, we were once more en route, and after a long afternoon's ride through country only equalled by the forenoon's ride, we were at last in Brighton and safe at the Gloucester for the night, having done 60 miles—the most enjoyable day, the most perfect roads, and the pleasantest weather of our entire English trip, bar Ripley.

Tuesday morning.—Up bright and early, with 15 miles of hilly roads to do in the face of a young hurricane before 9.30 A. M.

Jo. Pennell, Cooper and yours truly pull out earlier than the others, leaving Brighton at 7.30, and arriving in Newhaven at 9, having come through without a dismount and at the best speed we could, so one can judge what the wind was like. The others straggled along, all luckily arriving at the dock before the good ship Paris sailed. At 10.30 it was "All aboard!" and after a hurried parting with old Faed, who could go no further with us, with Philpot, Dring and others, the boat moved away from the dock and we were at last on our way to La Belle France. Poor old Faed's lugubrious phiz as he stood on the dock waiving us farewell, will haunt us forever. I am sure our own faces were not much better, for all the boys had come to love him, and had up to the last minute supposed that he was to be with us all the trip. He had grown to be like an old-time friend to us all, and to all he will ever be a fond remembrance when in years to come we may rehearse the story of our great tour.

Soon Albion's cliffs and all that sort of thing were fading from our view, and soon also were we anxiously seeking sheltered nooks in which to lie (?) safe from the green seas which came tumbling aboard in rapid succession. The wheels, draped in funereal tarpaulin, was in consonance with our feelings as the swell began to be apparent and the wavy waves to wave. More than one white face upheld by an unsteady pair of legs might have been seen making for the companion-way or towards the lee rail. Such a wet tub! Water came in above, below, and all over her. It was a deluge on the main deck and a tropical rain storm on the upper deck. Rubber goods were at a premium! Lunch was 2,000 per cent below par!

"From ten o'clork till noon;
From noon till half-past two;
From half-past to till four."

and so on in wet and misery till at length we were in the dock at Dieppe and gazing with saucer-like eyes at the strange new world just unfolding to us. On the dock! In the customs! Red tape extrodinaire! No wheels could possibly be passed! We might be an army of invasion! We might even be Prussians in disguise! It is no use; we must pay duty on our wheels! But stay, a happy thought strikes J. T. Pennell, who, calling for an "itinery" (our little route book), and by pointing out the little fact that we were travelling per schedule and were on time at Dieppe as per route-book—all became clear to the mind of the grandiose officials and a moment later we were allowed to pass free of all duty and without examination of baggage. Score one for the route book!

Our first night in France we spent very comfortably at the Hotel de Soleil d'Or, Dieppe, and there also had our first French dinner and our first vin ordinaire and cidre, destined to become an old song ere long. Morning came, hot and bright. After coffee and rolls at 6 A. M.—the fiest real coffee tasted since leaving home—we started over billiard-table-like roads for Rouen, 30 odd miles away. One or two hills were climbed just out from Dieppe which would make Corey or Eagle Rock seem like a mere hillock.

Then, these surmounted, along the broad, white, smooth road stretching mile after mile straight as a die into the horizon, until almost before we realized that we had started we were at Rouen, and safely lodged in the Grand Hotel du Dauphin et d'Espagne. Here we breakfasted, for, following French custom, we have but two meals per day, riding until 11 A. M. on coffee and rolls taken 5 o'clock A. M.

The afternoon was spent in seeing the marvellous old cathedral, the place of Jeanne d'Arc's martyrdom, and in rambling through the quaint old narrow lanes of the ancient city.

Early to bed, for early to rise, as we were out; through breakfast—I beg pardon—not breakfast, but through coffee and rolls by 5 A. M., and a moment or two later on the road to St. Germain, seventy miles away, the longest day's ride of the tour.

Breakfast had been telegraphed for at 11 A. M., at Mantes, forty-eight miles away. Alas for that breakfast! At every town passed through, such was the condition of our stomachs after our huge banquet of coffee and rolls, that an hour scarcely sufficed to fill the void with bread and milk, with bread without milk, with milk without bread, and with anything and everything we could lay our hands on (reference to pain in the beginning of this letter). An hour did I say? Nay, an hour, every half hour! A lunch at every house we passed and still hungry—always hungry! Mantes twenty-five miles away, clocks pointing to 10.45. Papa Elwell, in despair, telegraphs ahead to retard the lunch until 1 P. M. One o'clock—still grinding away, with occasional halts for "grub," Mantes yet in the distance. Two o'clock—Mantes in sight. Two-thirty—"Hotel du Grand Cerf" over-run with thirty famished American Indians disguised as wheelmen.

Three-thirty—"better now, thank you, better now!" Peace and good will restored, a pleasant couple of hours flew by, as lounging in the garden over cafe noir and smoke we recounted the multitudinous adventures and mishaps of the direful forenoon.

After five o'clock, when the sun had lost its heat, we were off once more, to do our twenty-three miles to St. Germain for dinner and the night.

It is a good example of what continuous touring will do for a man, when thirty of us got through that seventy miles (roads bad for France, hills tremendous, and on empty stomachs over forty miles), when many of us at the beginning of the trip were unable to ride twenty miles per day.

By 8 P. M. all were snug in the Hotel du Prince de Galles, where we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Blackbeth (of the Paris New York Herald) and Baron de Baroncelli (Chief Consul C. T. C. for France), who had ridden out to meet us. Our arrival was duly chronicled in the next morning's edition of the Paris New York Herald.

After a very short evening we retired to our welcome beds, that we might be up bright and early for our ride into Paris.

Morning so soon! Why we had hardly been asleep! By inexorable fate (Elwell's route book) impelled, we dragged our weary selves out into the light of day and were soon after eight at breakfast. Then, at nine, under the guidance of Messrs. de Baroncelli and Blackbeth and several other gentlemen who rode out from the city that morning, we started.

By special permission (secured for us by our kind friends and directors) we were allowed to ride into the Park St. Germain and along the beautiful terrace, with its wonderful view of mingled wood and meadow, through which the sinuous Seine winds its snaky way—snaky inasmuch as it is sinuous only. Here it was that we had our first glimpse of the Eiffel Tower, a ghost-like pillar, far away rising from behind the slopes of distant Mont Valerian.

Here, under the noble trees, which of yore had sheltered the fairest and noblest of France, we were photo'd by one of the most noted Parisian cycling amateurs, M. Porteu, and thus handed down to history, or infamy, I forget which.

After the photo; down, down, down the winding road from the terrace to the plain below, then along over the side of Mont Valerian (the strongest of the detached forts surrounding Paris), through Suresnes, over the Seine, into the Bois de Boulogne, and halt at the cascade.

Here a party of French and American lady cyclists had wheeled out to meet us, together with many Parisian wheelmen. A gay quart d' heure under the trees at the restaurant near by, biere, vins, cigarettes, more photoing, et cetera, and then on again through the Bois, avoiding the broad, sunny avennes for the cool, shady allees winding in and out among the trees. Soon, past the Jardin d' Acclimatation, we were at the Porte Maillot, where, leaving the Bois, we entered the Avenue de la Grande Armee, the Arc de Triomphe de l' Etoile, looming up before us in the foreground. Here a halt was made at the rooms of the (in English) Metropolitan Bi. Club, and refreshments partaken of.

Then once more on, past the Arc, down the world-famed Champs Elysees, past the obelisk in the Place de la Concorde, and so up the Rue de Rivoli to Rue d' Alger and our long sought haven, the Hotel de la Tamise.

The genial host received us at the door, and has the stars and stripes hung out in welcome to us. Soon wheels were safely housed for the week and all were busy, discarding cycling togs for the conventional long trousers and boiled shirt of commerce.

Of our week in Paris, now drawing to a close, who can tell one half that might be told? The exposition, the museums, theatres, cafe's chantants, the boulevards, in short the thousand and one attractions of "Paree," would require so much space that this letter (already as long as a wagon track) might go on, like Tennyson's brook, forever!

Therefore let us cry quits here, for the nonce, and whatever remains to be told of our week in Paris, of our Sunday ride to Versailles, where we saw a championship race run off, etc., etc.—let that wait another letter and another week. "PEDALS."

Paris, June 26th, 1889.

MICHIGAN DIVISION L. A. W.

THE Michigan Division L. A. W. will hold its annual meeting at Ypsilanti, and to continue three days.

The programme will include a hill-climbing race, parade and road display and a run to Detroit and a visit to the exposition. The series of events which the Michigan wheelmen are to arrange will bring together a large number of wheelmen from Chicago, Cincinnati and the east. A run to Belle Isle and parade there, and a run to Pontiac or Mt. Clemens will complete the meet.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT BOSTON.—The new track ot Franklin Park was used by the cyclers on the Fourth. The arrangements were not good, the police force being inadequate for keeping the track clear. Another bad feature was the timing of races, the starting of which took place out of sight of the timers. The times given, therefore, cannot be looked on as authentic. The handicapping was not up to what could be wished. The results were as follows: One mile, novices; no machine to weigh less than 35 pounds. A. K. Pressy, 1; A. H. Rhodes, 2; won easily in grand style; 16 starters. Time, 2m. 41s. One-fourth mile, open bicycle, in heats; first two in each heat to ride in final. First heat won by P. J. Berlo, J. Clark second; won easily in 36 2-5s. Second heat, P. J. Clarke, 1; G. A. Whitehead, 2; a close race. Time, 36 4-5s. One-quarter mile, open safety bicycle, in heats, first two men to compete in final. First heat, A. P. Benson, Dorchester, 1; W. S. Doane, Dorchester, 2. Time 36 2-5s. Second heat, P. J. Berlo, South Boston, 1; A. W. Scott, 2; won by 20 yards. Time, 36 1-5s. Final, P. J. Berlo, 1; P. J. Clarke, 2; won by 3 lengths. Time 36 4-5s. One mile bicycle handicap, H. G. Andrews, Hyde Park, 200 yards, 1; C. A. Felton, Somerville, 200 yards, 2; the winner rode a good race and won easily. Time, 2m. 16 1-5s.. Also competed, J. P. Clarke, scratch; P. J. Berlo, 50 yards; J. Clarke and E. J. Clarke, 75 yards; A. K. Pressy, 100 yards; E. Gallup, 150 yards; J. T. Beal, 175 yards; and the following on the 200 yards mark: H. G. Andrews, G. H. Morse, H. Jenkins, E. Fisher, C. A. Felton, E. R. Rodd, W. Thomas, T. L. Connolly and T. J. Kenney. One mile safety handicap, A.W. Porter, 75 yards, 1; W. J. West, 100 yards, 2; won easily by 25 yards. Also rode: G. A. Benson, scratch; W. S. Doane, scratch; C. A. Wilton, 100 yards; F. G. Elliott, 150 yards; D. Breivogel, 200 yards. Final one-fourth mile safety bicycle, A. W. Porter, Newton, 1; W. West, Portland, 2; time, 36 3-5s. One mile tandem safety handicap, F. Leavitt and Porter, 150 yards, 1; James and J. P. Clarke, Dorchester B. C., scratch. The limit men won as they liked by 300 yards. Time, 2m. 19s. Consolation, 7 starters, won by E. J. Clarke; E. H. Gallup, 2; finished ahead easily by 30 yards.

AT CHELSEA, MASS, July 4.—One mtle, for novices; first prize, silver cup; second prize, silver-headed cane; entries, Aug. Quinn and A. R. Davis. Davis, 1; Quinn, 2. One mile, for boys under 15; 1st prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 1st Henry E. Barter; 2d, George Tent. Two miles, open to all amateurs; 1st prize, silver ice pitcher; 2d, parlor table lamp; 3d, gent's dressing case; won by C. H. Roberts; Peter Alexander, 2; C. S. Hopkins, 3. Velocipede race for boys, two laps; 1st prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; 8 entries; won by O M. Scovell; R. Emerson, 2. Championship (Chelsea), one mile; 1st prize, gold medal; 2d, silver medal; C. H. Roberts, 1; C. S. Hopkins, 2. One mile open, 1st prize, opera glasses; 2d, silk umbrella; P. Alexander, 1; J. White, 2. Two miles, Chelsea riders only; 1st prize, grip; 2d, bicycle shoes; C. H. Roberts, 1; C. S. Hopkins, 2.

AT SEDALIA, MO., July 4.—Track.—Under the auspices of the L. A. W. Division of Missouri. One-mile novice, J. H. Pomarade (1), W. S. Snyder (2); time, 3.08 1-5—3.08 2-5; Pomarade was disqualified by his starter stepping over the tape, and the judges awarded the race to Snyder. Half-mile bicycle, Missouri Division championship, E. Barnard (1), J. M. Hodgen (2); time, 1.25 1-5. One-mile safety handicap, R. Hurck (1), Geo. E. Tivy (2); time, 3.22 2-5. Two-mile bicycle handicap, E. N. Sanders, 25 yards (1); A. M. Lewis, 100 yards (2); V. P. Ring, 35 yards (3); time, 6.10 3-5. One-mile bicycle open, A. G. Harding (1), Jno. M. Hodgen (2); time, 3.13 4-5. Two-mile bicycle, Missouri Division championship, E. Barnard (1), E. N. Sanders (2); time, 6.35. One-mile safety open, R. Hurck (1), Harry Gordon (2), G. E. Tivy (3); time, 3.36 2-5. One-mile team open, three men in each team, this was a walk-over for the Cycle Club as the Missouri team failed to put in appearance. One-mile bicycle handicap, A. G. Harding, 25 yards (1); E. N. Sanders, 10 yards (2); time, 2.57 1-5; this was the prettiest race of the day, and the time was the fastest made in any of the events. One-mile consolation, V. P. Ring (1), Geo. E. Tivy (2), J. H. Koen (3), A. A. Knight (4); time, 3.09 4-5. Two hundred and fifty yards, boys' bicycle, C. V. Jacobs (1), W. Shurck (2); time, 21 2-5s. The track at Sichers Park was in fine condition, and fully 5000 people witnessed the races. A ball game was in progress on the field inside of the track and added all the more spectators to the races.

AT HAGERSTOWN, July 4th—The races run by the managers of the League Meet were not as satisfactory as though the weather clerk had not been so inclined to throw a damper on the affair. Up to noon of the last day of the meet the rain had descended with a vengeance, but about 12 M. the sun came out and smiled down on the damp earth and the damper cyclists. The track, however, was so saturated as to require days of warm sunshine to dry up and harden. For half an hour before the races the cyclers were requested to ride round the track and in this way to harden it down. Many were the impromptu races and much fun was the result; but whether the improvement of the track was brought about, your correspondent refuses to state. The results of the races were as follows: One mile novice, V. L. Emerson (1), W. H. Ash (2); time, 3.24. This was an easy victory for Emerson. One mile L. A. W. championship, A. C. Banker (1), W. E. Crist (2); time, 3.08. This was a surprise party for those who pinned their faith to Crist or Rich as winners. Rich had to be content with 4th place. One hundred yard slow race, H. E. Dayhoff (1). The other entries Lichlider and Emmert fell off; time 3.36. Half-mile, W. I. Wilhelm (1), P. S. Brown (2), L. J. Barber (3); time, 1.28 1-5. This was an exciting race and on coming for the straight it was any man's race. Wilhelm won by a bare 6 inches. A foul was claimed by Hinds against Brown but was not allowed. Two mile handicap, W. H. Ash, 250 yards (1), L. L. Clark, 145 yards (2); time, 6.43 1-5. At a mile and a half Hinds became rattled and tried to pass on the inside but he ran into the fence and came to grief. I. Killiner fouled L. J. Barber and L. L. Clark and threw them. Clark remounted and finished claiming a foul from Killiner which was allowed. One mile tricycle L. A. W. championship. A walk-over for V. L. Emerson, who had for a competitor P. L. Brown; the latter gave out at the quarter mile and was ordered off the track. Time, 3.30 2-5. The one mile safety, W. E. Crist (1), W. I. Wilhelm (2), G. A. Picket (3); time, 3.05 1-5. It was a splendid race on the last quarter between Wilhelm and Crist, but Crist had a bit left and won by the skin of his teeth. One mile tandem race, Banker Brothers (1), E. B. Emmert and H. E. Dayhoff (2); time, 3.12 1-5. W. E. Crist and P. L. Brown dropped out at the half mile. One mile team, the following clubs were represented: Penn Club of Reading, Pa., Berkeley Athletic Club of New York. The Baltimore and the Washington Clubs fell out on the half mile. A. B Rich and A. C. Banker of the Berkeley Athletic Club won the race with 27 points, the Penn Club Team (2) 15 points; time, 3.02 2-5. The arrangements and the manner of running the races off was rather slow and not up to the requirements of good racing management but I cannot but end the report by reiterating that the Hagerstowners and the Marylanders are the very soul of good fellowship and paragons as hospitable entertainers.

POSTPONEMENT.—The Lancaster, Pa., bicycle races which were to have been contested on July 4th have been postponed on account of rain to the afternoons of July 18th and 19th. The entries to all the events, eighteen in number, have been re-opened, and should be sent to H. M. Griel, Lancaster, Pa., before July 15th. There are thirteen open events and over $500 worth of prizes. The half-mile and one-mile L. A. W. State championship, a three-mile club team race, for teams of three, for a fine sterling silver cup by Gorham or a Rogers' Group, three-mile lap race, two-mile safety, one-mile flying start, one-mile tandem bicycle, two-mile and half-mile hands off are among the leading open events.

AT PROVIDENCE.—Track.—The match race between W. Van Wagoner and M. Scott came off at Roger Williams' Park, July 4th. At three minutes of 11 A. M. the men were started, Scott on an ordinary and Van Wagoner on a high-geared safety. Scott cut out the pace at first. For 22 miles the men kept together, both working hard, and then they rested for a lap or two. At this time Scott showed weakness, while Van Wagoner was fresh and going strong. After loafing for a few laps Van Wagoner put on steam and forged away as he pleased, and at the 25-mile mark Scott collapsed and dropped out. Van Wagoner did the 25 miles in 1.22.39 1-2, record for that track. Time for the 50 miles was 3h. 24m. 40s. The race was for a $50 gold medal.

AT MACON, GA., July 4.—The one mile scratch was won by Hal. B. Beatty out of a field of six entries. Beatty is the dark horse I mentioned some time ago, who was giving evidences of possessing remarkable speed if developed properly, and facts are now going to carry ont that opinion. Two-mile race from scratch—C. A. Persons won, passing Beatty at an unexpected moment and was never headed. Five mile—Lon Powers, the amateur Southern champion (?), entered against Beatty and made a hot pace, but was beaten in 17.03 by six lengths. These were the only two entries in this race. The medals were very handsome, of gold and silver. On July 19 there will be four races, one, two, three and five miles, all handicaps, to take place at the park here. There will be some funny prizes and fun is expected. A prominent hotel will dine the winner of the one mile; a tailor make a $12 pair of trousers for the best in two miles; twelve cabinet photagraphs, two sittings, and etc. A great day is expected.

AT BROWNVILLE, PA., July 4.—Track.—Half-mile, novice—George Banker, Pittsburg, 1.54; George Lysle, McKeesport, 1.59. One mile, open—G. Lenz., Pittsburg, 3.35; J. H. Gloninger, 3.37. Half-mile, 1.35 class—H. H. Willock, Pittsburg, 1.44; Lee Higbee, Pittsburg, 1.57. One mile lap race—F. G. Lenz 18 points; J. H. Gloninger, Pittsburg, 12 points. Half-mile handicap for boys—G. Banker, Pittsburg, 1.53; Willie Githens, Brownsville, 1.53 1-2. Two mile State championship—F. G. Lenz, Pittsburg, 7.47; J. H. Gloninger, 7.52. One mile, 3.20 class—H. H. Willock, Pittsburg, 3.37; H. A. Davis, Pittsburg, 3.40. One mile handicap—George Banker, 176 yards, 3.15; J. H. Gloninger, 64 yards, 3.22. Half-mile, horse and bicycle —A. M. Thompson and horse, 1.42; Chas. J. Foster, 1.42 1-2.

AT WALTHAM, MASS., July 4.—Road.—Twelve mile race—F. C. Frese, 1; C. Merrill, 2; time, 50m. 40s. Six-mile race—C. E. Adams, 1; F. E. Swan, 2; time, 32m. 15s. Three-mile safety—C. Merrill, 1; Geo. Watson, 2; time, 18m. 47s. Three-eighths of a mile—F. E. Swan, 1; R. Stere, 2.

AT LYNN, MASS., July 4.—On the Common; one mile open—M. Greenwood, 1; G. S. Buttricks, 2; time, 2.48. One mile, novice—H. E. Taylor, 1; H. Bassett, 2; time, 2.57 3-4. One mile, safety—C Libby, 1; C. Kelty, 2; time, 3.57. One mile, boys—H. Wilson, 1; C. Downs, 2; time, 3.17. Two-mile handicap—Buttrick, 10 seconds, 1; H. E. Taylor, 15 seconds, 2; time, 6.16 3-4.

AT ST, CATHARINES, ONT., July 2. —Track. —One mile championship—E. O. Rossicoe, 1; Bert Brown, 2; time, 3.21. Five mile championship—Bert Brown, 1; time, 16.57 1-2; also started, Rossicoe and Gerry, who collided on the fourth mile and spoiled their chances for first place. One mile tricycle championship—Gerrie of Toronto won; time, 4.32 3-5. One mile safety—C. J. Connolly of Rochester, N. Y., 1; time, 3.14 1-2. Three miles, road machines—J. Gessler of Niagara Falls; time, 11.36 1-2. Five miles open—W. S. Campbell of Niagara Falls, N. Y., 1; time, 17.57 1-2. Another collision in this race, in which Rossicoe was violently thrown and his chance spoiled.

AT CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 4—Road.—The 25-mile road race at Cleveland, under the auspices of the Forest City Ramblers, resulted as follows: First, Robert Ruck, scratch, 1h. 53m. Second, C. T. Collins, 1h. 53m. 1-5s. Third, C. S. Walz, 15 minutes, 2h. 8m. 2s. Fourth, E. J. Doubet, scratch, 1h. 53m. 2 2-5s. Fifth, Arthur Neal, scratch, 2h. 6m. Sixth, W. N. Taylor, 15 minutes, 2h. 26m. Seventh, A. A. Dorn, 15 minutes, 2h. 31m. 40s. The condition of the roads was heavy and muddy.

AT DUBLIN, IRE.,—Track.—R. J. McCreedy recently broke the one-mile tricycle record for Ireland by riding the distance in 2 m. 44 2-5s., at a championship meeting in Dublin.

AT HIGHLANDVILLE, MASS., July 4. — Road. — The first event of the sports at Highlandville, July 4, was a 25-mile road race. There were six entries. W. R. Johnson, of Worcester, had a seven minutes' start, but his machine broke down when he had completed about six miles. W. A. Rhodes' time was 1h. 27m. 25 1-2s.; T. J. Kern, of Worcester, 1h. 35m. 32s.; Herman Schervee three minutes later; W. H. Carter, Highlandville, 1h. 43m. 30s., closely followed by Albert Beers, of Everett. The one-mile bicycle scratch race was won by H. M. Greenwood, of Lyan, first prize, and Porter, of Newton, second prize. The three-mile bicycle prize was won by A. K. Pressy. Greenwood did not start in the 25-mile race as intended, because he did not feel well. A. E. Wiswell, of Lynn, started in the one-mile race, but "Wizzy" came the Jonah act by taking a tumble and piling up his followers half a dozen deep.

AT OTTAWA, Ill., July 4.—Under the auspices of the League Division.—One Mile Novice, First, George M. Skeer, I. C. C.; second, R. W. Kinsley, I. C. C., 3 12. One-half Mile Dash, First, F. H. Tuttle, I. C, C.; second, B. Myers, P. B. C., 1 23 3-5. One Mile, State Championship, First, A. E. Lumsden, K. C. C.; second, B. Myers, 2 58 2 5. Three Miles, Team Race, Kenwood Cycle Club, 9 40 1 5; 65 points to 61 points. One Mile Dash for LaSalle County Wheelmen, First, H. W. Folitz, 3 21 3-5. One Mile, State Championship for Safeties, A. E. Lumsden, 3 05 1-5. Two Miles, State Championship for Safeties, Handicap, First, E. J. Roberts. I, C. C.; second, J. Mason, I. C. C., 6 35 3-5. Two Miles Handicap, First, G. A. Thorne, K. C. C.; second, F. H. Tuttle, I. C. C., 5 58 1-5. One Mile Consolidation, First, F. E. Spooner; second, F. Bodach, 3 08.

AT BRIDGEPORT, CT,, July 8. Under the auspices of the State Division L. A. W.: One mile, W. F. Glass (1), L. Forster (2); time, 3.01 1-5. Half mile, J. W. Schaefer (1), L. Forster (2); time, 1.25 2-5. One mile safety, C. A. Peckett (1), W. Harding (2); time, 3.03 1-2. Three mile ordinary, L. L. Clark (1), W. F. Murphy (2); time, 10.17 4-5. One mile Tandem safety, W. Harding and L. Forster (1), A. N. Welton and C.E. Larom (2); time, 3.08. One mile Bridgeport championship, C. A. Fox (1), E. Leking (2); time, 3.08 3-5. One mile consolation, Geo. Smart (1), F. T. Reid (2); time, 3.56 1-5. Hill climbing contest, W. B. Clough (1), G. A. Peckett (2), G. S. Hills (3); time, 1.10.

AT CORTLAND, N. Y.—One-mile novice, seven starters, A. C. Benjamin, Syracuse (1); T. Norris, New York (2); E. Dalton, Cortland, was leading on home stretch when he took a severe header 90 yards from tape; time, 3.49. Two-mile open, E. L. Lancaster, Syracuse (1); L. E. Edgcomb, Cortland (2); F. M. Merlin, Cortland (3); time, 7.11. Half-mile, boys, W. Loveland, Binghamton (1); D. Smith, Cortland (2); E. Norris, New York (3); time, 2.01. One-mile open, E. L. Lancaster, Syracure (1); L. E. Edgcomb, Cortland (2); A. C. Benjamin, Syracuse (3); time, 3.21. Very strong wind blowing; track fair.

FATAL DROWNING ACCIDENT.

FRANK C. LEEPER, a prominent member of the New York Club, while off on a club run on Sunday last, was drowned while bathing at Manhattan Beach, Coney Island.

TO MR. ANTHONY.

MR. ANTHONY, Dear Sir—I will race you a 20 mile, two points out of three to win, for a $25 medal, on the Roger Williams Park track, Providence, providing we can get the use of the track, which I think we will have no trouble in doing.

This race to be ridden with road wheels, not less than 38 lbs. weight. I name Saturday, July 20, as the day to race. If that is agreeable, please let me know. The medal to be made by E. Campbell, of Providence, who I think will give us the best design and good work.

If everything above is satisfactory, deposit 25 dollars with Campbell & Co., Providence, as I have already done, and the race is on.

Yours truly, WM. VAN WAGONER.

MISSOURI DIVISION MEET.

THE Missouri Division meeting has come and gone and proved to be the best attended and finest managed meet ever held in the West. On account of rain it was decided to abandon the run set for McAlister Springs after getting five miles from Sedalia, and the party returned to town amusing themselves in various ways until 8 P. M., the time set for the smoker. At the appointed hour the wheelmen had all arrived, and while drinking unlimited quantities of the finest punch and smoking the very best of cigars, listening to speeches of welcome made by Mayor Crawford and other notables of the town. It was a merry crowd that returned to their hotels at 11 P. M. in order to be ready for the second day (July 4).

Promptly on the 3.15 A. M. train the main body of the St. Lovis contingent arrived, swelling the visitor's number to over 80, and were met by Chairman Kelly and his whole reception committee and escorted to their hotels.

The Division meeting was held at Sichers' Park Hotel, at 10.30 A. M., and the following nominations for officers to serve during the current year and to be voted on by mail, vote between July 15 and August 15, were made: Chief consul, Robert Holm of St. Louis; vice-consul, A. L. Jordan of St. Louis; secretary-treasurer, Joe H. Kelly of Sedalia; representatives, W. Jaccard of Kansas City; Geo. A. Case of Joplin; racing Committee, N. T. Haynes of Kansas: chairman, Fred C. Hoffmann, Sedalia; H. D. Wheeler of St. Louis; F. A. Scott, Moberly; A. J. Eberle, St. Joseph; touring committee, C. B. Ellis, Kansas City, chairman; G. E. Troy, St. Louis; W. J. Staples, Maryville; W. H. Cameron, St. Joseph; C. A. Greaves, Joplin.

The Secretary-Treasurer's report showed that the Division membership has fallen to 258 members up to last accounts. Chief Consul Brewster made a verbal report, in which he reviewed the doings of the division for the past year, which was accepted. After a vote of thanks had been extended to the retiring officers, the meeting adjourned.

The new Division Road-Book will be out in August, and will be improved and enlarged over the present one.

Forty-five men took part in the division parade at Sedalia, starting from Sicher's Hotel at 1 P. M. and covering the principal streets of the town. Harry Gordon, on a unicycle, led the parade, and rode the entire distance, some of it being very rough, without a dismount. He also gave a fine exhibition of trick riding at the races, and was warmly received. [For report of races see our racing columns.—ED.]

The members of the Club are jubilant over their racing men's successes at Sedalia. They captured nine firsts, six seconds, while the Missouri's only succeeded in getting one first and three seconds. E. Barnard is surely the comiug man, and if properly trained down is thought to be nearer Percy Stone's match than any other. The latter was again entirely out of training, having been married only last week, and, as one of the boys put it, "got it in the neck each time he started." A. M. Lewis was in no shape. but did his best. R. P. Ring and Jim Hodgen were really the only Missouris who trained for the races in a systematic way and deserved better success than what they had.

HARTFORD TOURNAMENT.

Cyclists throughout the country will learn with pleasure hat the old-time Hartford tournament will take place this year as usual, and that it will be supplemented by a meet of the connecticut division of the L. A. W. The promoters of the combined affair promise the largest wheel entertainment which has taken place in this country, other than the National L. A. W. meets, since the days of the Springfield coup. Two days' racing will be enjoyed at the unequalled Charter Oak track, and the usual parading and general merrymaking will have many novel and interesting features. Instead of the clubroom spreads of former years, an elaborate banquet will be given in one of the largest halls in Hartford, to be a combination of feasting, speech-making and theatricals free to all members of the L. A. W. Committees on behalf of the Hartford Wheel Club and the Division have the arrangements well under way and and report an enthusiastic disposition on the part of the cycling and general public to make the affair a grand success. September 4 and 5 are the dates.

The program for racing has been issued, subject to change prior to August 1, and is as follows:

Sept. 4.—One mile novice; one mile novice, Rover type R. D. safeties (no wheel under 35 pounds); one mile State L. A. W championship; Two-mile tandem safety, National L. A. W. championship; one mile, Columbia Cycle Club, handicap; one mile, open; three-mile, National L. A. W. championship, Rover type R. D. safety; two-mile handicap; one mile, open, Rover type R. D. safety; one mile, 3-00 class; one mile team race (3 men), for Connecticut clubs only.

Sept. 5.—One mile handicap (in heats), Rover type R. D. safety; one mile handicap, in heats; one mile, State L. A. W. championship, Rover type R. D. safety; one mile, Hartford Wheel Club, handicap; one mile, 3.20 class, Rover type safety (no wheel under 35 pounds); five-mile lap; one mile tandem safety handicap; one mile, 2.50 class; one mile consolation.

On the forenoon of Sept. 5 a 20-mile road race will be run under the auspices of the Hartford Wheel Club.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO.

After due consideration the Overman Wheel Co. have decided to move their home office and headquarters to Chicopee, Mass., keeping a store in Boston as in the past.

During the past year the company has been building largely and has added to the floor capacity. No less than 40,000 square feet of floor room having been added to their original large factory.

This large addition will allow for commodious offices, and every convenience will be furnished to facilitate the business of a growing and prosperous business.

The change has been decided on, as with the rapidly increasing business it was found impracticable to have the home offices and the factory separated.

The move to Chicopee will take place about September 1st.

Mr. A. H. Overman, the President of the company, will sail for Europe July 27th. Mrs. Overman will accompany him.

Messrs. S. & J. Davis, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

Mr. W. K. Corey and Mr. A. A. Taylor, of the Pope Mfg. Co., sail on the Cunard Steamship Pavonia on Saturday for a trip combining pleasure and business through England. Both of these gentlemen are with the above company and they will probably do considerable riding in England, and will study the bicycle interests with a view of posting themselves for next season's plans.

Among the many exhibits of safety bicycles at Hagerstown, that of the Capital Cycle Co. is worthy of mention. Their wheels are remarkable for finish, graceful lines and simplicity, and we are pleased to note that they offer in their seven forms, safeties to meet the requirements of long and short, lightweights and heavy weights. This firm has done lots for the advancement of cycling for ladies. Among their wheels on exhibition was the first ladies' safety ever made in this country and perhaps in the world, made by them in 1887.

Messrs. Whitten, Godding & Co., of Providence, R. I., claim they have sold more cycles during this season than any other cycling house in the United States, barring the various manufacturers or importers and their branch agencies. They state that the fact that they have advertised many bargains in the World and disposed of every machine so advertised, speaks well not only of the inducements which they offer, but also of the advertising qualities of the Bicycling World.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND AGENTS.

In order to supply our agents who have a demand for a Crank Safety (as well as the lever motion) we have arranged the future construction of our Volant so that cranks can be attached as well as levers without altering many of its details, and we are now prepared to fill orders for the Crank Safety Wheel, which we shall call the "Speedwell."

This machine is well and carefully made, being fitted with ball bearings throughout, iucluding ball pedals, Fish's patent hammock saddle, which reduces the vibration to a minimum, and is not only neat in design but simple in contruction.

We believe this wheel cannot be equalled in this country at the price ($115.) It possesses all the improvements, and is made of the same material as the highest priced wheels now sold. If you are in want of a thoroughly reliable, easy running safety that will give satisfaction to all, we would advise you to place your orders early as we anticipate a big rush. Awaiting your orders, we are.

Very truly yours, SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO.
178 Columbus ave., Boston.

If you are not our agents or we have not quoted you terms, please write us at once, and in order to be fair to all we must observe the old maxim, "first come first served." * * *

TO BRAIN WORKERS.

To have a healthy brain you must have a healthy body. To have a healthy body you must take exercise. Bicycling is the finest exercise in the world. The WHITE FLYER SAFETY is the finest bicycle in the world. Those who ride them have the healthiest bodies in the world. What about their brains? if this reasoning is logical. Read this over again, so as to get the real meaning of the reasoning. Why do you not write us for our illustrated Catalogue? Nearly every League member has, not to speak of the unattached riders all over the country, who would join the League if they knew what a benefit it was to every American wheelman.

Advertising Agents and inventors with good sound ideas on cycle construction write to J. Purvis-Bruce, The White Cycle Co., Marlboro, Mass.

Send us something practical, whatever you do. We can do our own song and dance business after business hours. Stand not upon the order of your sending, but send for our catalogue. Mention whether it is to be on scented or unscented paper, so that we can "take your measure." We don't give a snap whether you believe what we say or not. We have a conscience which tells us to go ahead and lay on Mac Duff. Our independent policy has been one reason why so many orders have been booked. Another is the superiority of our bicycles, but "a word to the wise is sufficient."

LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS:

12 Pearl Street, - - - Room 27

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

SEVERAL letters have come to us in reply to the communication of 19308 who suggested that the League establish some system whereby funds could be transmitted from place to place by tourists. Our correspondents advise the employment of the Money Order system of the Post Office. One can send mony from one Post Office to another, payable to himself, and in this case the signature of the remitter is added to the advice. Then at the paying office the sender is identified by comparison of signatures. The express companies also have well established money order systems, issuing orders that will be received at any bank, or will be paid at the express office after comparison of signatures as in the case of the Post Office. There would seem to be no necessity for the League to undertake work that is now so well performed by others.

R. I. Election.

To members of the R. I. Division:

In accordance with Article IV, Section 2 of the L. A. W. Constitution, and Section 2 of the Division By-laws, the members of this Division will cast their votes for Division officers between the 15th day of July and the 15th day of August.

The officers to be elected are a Chief Consul, Vice Consul, Secretary-Treasurer, and two Division Representatives. The Secretary will mail to each member a voting blank with a list of the officers to be voted for printed thereon. These blanks must be properly filled in, signed by the member casting the vote, together with his or her League number, and returned to JAMES L. SPIERS, 83 Vinton street, Providence, who is appointed chairman of the Committee to count the vote, Messrs. C. F. Gladding of Warren, and W. H. Barclay of Pawtucket, being the other two members of the Committee.

Ballots received later than the last mail of August 15th will not be counted. The Committee will count and announce the result of the vote within one week after August 15th.

League Clubs will, between July 15th and August 15th, elect one Division Representative for the first twenty League members, and an additional Division Representative for each fifty additional League members on its roll July 1st. Fraternally,

CHAS. S. DAVOL, R. I. Chief Consul.

Tennessee Members, Notice!

As the time for the annual election of State Officers is near at hand, nominations for Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer will be received at the office of Secretary-Treasurer B. A. Patch, Clarksville, Tenn., until July 20th, 1889. Members having nominations to make will please attend to this at once. Fraternally,

J. R. WILSON, Jr., Chief Consul.

Maine Nomination.

At our last meeting the following were nominated as officers for Maine Division L. A. W.: Dr. G. E. Dow, C. C.; C. D. Batchelder, V. C.

C. D. ALEXANDER,
Sec. Portland Wheel Club.

TOTAL MEMBERSHIP.

The tables below institute, a comparison between the membership figures of the fifteen months of last year and those of this year which is as yet only two months old. It will be seen that the District of Columbia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Rhode Island have already gone ahead of last year's record, and several States will beat their records in a short time. Louisiana renewed fifty-four out of fifty-seven members:

Ohio Division Meet and Tour.

The Ohio Division not having received an invitation to become the guest of any club, the Division will hold an independent meet and tour.

The tour will begin at Dayton (Phillips House) starting at 8 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, August 13th. We reach Troy for dinner and Sidney for supper and over night. On this evening the annual business meeting of the Division will be held, at which meeting officers for the coming year will be elected.

Wednesday we continue northward, stopping at Wapakoneta for dinner and Lima for over night.

Thursday we start eastward through Ada to Kenton for dinner and Marion for supper where the tour will end.

This will be a tour pure and simple, each member paying as he goes, and no special entertainment being expected from clubs in towns through which we pass.

The roads on this route are reported good, many of them very fine. I trust therefore, that a large number of the members will arrange to take in the entire tour. I would be much obliged if, as soon as you decide to go on the tour, you would advise me of the fact. It will be useful to know about how many will accompany us. The runs are short and there will be no "scorching," as we go for pleasure, not for records. Hoping to meet a large number of the Division on the tour, I remain, Faithfully Yours, T. J. KICKERTICKS, Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Send for Catalogue and see how they are built.

It Has Always Been Customary

for advertisers to use extravagant language in describing their goods. From the mammoth circus poster, with its impossible horses and imaginary riders (who utterly ignore the laws of gravitation) down to the modest advertiser who proposes to "grow a heavy beard on the smoothest face in ten days," there appears this almost universal tendency to exaggerate, which, "though it may split the ears of the groundlings can but make the judicious grieve." As the size and power of cannon have increased, ship's armor has been strengthened to withstand the shot; so, as the advertiser has enlarged upon the merits of his wares, the reader has come to discount his statements proportionately.

It is not what we say to the purchasing public but only so much of it as they swallow which goes to make us fat, and only then, when the goods come up to the mark.

THE HICKORY WHEELS

look well. They are even better than they look. And they are very much better than you are apt to think before having seen them.

Gents: Since I received my 39x24 Star and having used it and given it a thorough trial, I have now convinced myself that it is all that is claimed for it. For hill climbing in particular---well, I can only say that it is the boss of them all, and cannot be excelled; it is the best wheel for road riding, and can be easily controlled on rough roads; it is not as sensitive as the ordinary chain safeties of the crank pattern, and can be easily handled in rutty roads. I find that almost any rider of the ordinary bike can mount and ride it at first trial, and are pleased with the way it handles. It is much lighter than any of the road riding safeties, and I feel confident that in the near future the safety riders will find that the 39x24 Star will be worth consideration, and it will not take much to convince them that it is "the wheel" for safety and all around riding. Respectfully,

HAL W. GREENWOOD,

Gentlemen: The 39x24 is the machine for this immediate country. No machine on the market is its equal on the hills or rough roads, in my judgment; I except no machine, and we have seven different kinds in this town. Yours, etc.,

CHICAGO LETTER.

Chicago, July 5th, 1889.

Pope Mfg. Co., Boston:

Gentlemen: We had a very successful State Meet---Illinois Division of the L. A. W.---at Ottawa, yesterday. Over three thousand people attended the races, which were interesting and well contested. The prizes were finer than at any other meet held in the West. There were nine events, including the One Mile Ordinary and Safety L. A. W. Championships. There were nine first prizes and six second prizes, all of which except the first and second in Consolation and second in Novice were captured by riders of Columbias. Lumsden, on a Columbia, won both championships.

THE VICTOR IS THE KING OF WHEELS! AH, YES,
IT IS, AND SO HAS BEEN FOR, LO! THESE MANY YEARS!
BUT WHAT IS THIS THEY SAY, OF WHEELS THAT ARE "GOOD," "BETTER," "BEST"—AS MANY A MAKER HATH IT IN HIS BOOKS?
OH, WELL! THERE ARE SOME OTHER WHEELS ABOUT,
THAT WILL, WITH DUE PERSUASION, RUN (DOWN HILL).
AMONG THESE YOU MAY USE YOUR "GOOD" AND "BETTER,"
BUT THE SUPERLATIVE! THAT YOU MUST KEEP FOR VICTORS.

THEY ARE BEST.

"IT'S TOO LIGHT!"

Is a remark frequently made by those who look at the QUADRANT SAFETY for the first time. And so it might be if it were not made by a Company who have the most scientific designers and the most skillful workmen in the world.

"WILL IT STAND HARD USAGE?"

Was a question in the mind of one of Philadelphia's most prominent business men, who weighs 200 pounds and often rides from 60 to 100 miles a day over rough roads. He had never ridden anything but the old reliable —— and was a little afraid to trust himself upon a wheel so light as the Quadrant. At the same time he did not want to push that extra 10 pounds of dead weight around with him everywhere, if the lighter wheel was just as strong. So he bought one of the first Quadrant Safeties imported, with a written guarantee that if it did not stand the hard usage he intended to give it, the importers would give him any make of machine in the market in even exchange for it. He still rides a Quadrant and it has never cost him a cent for repairs. If you now tell anyone who knows the history of this machine that the Quadrant is too light, he will tell you that a machine that will stand Mr. ——'s riding will carry anybody.

AND IT WILL!

Ah, but what about our good old friend

THE AMERICAN SAFETY?

At one time there were more of them on the American roads than all other makes combined, until the craze for rear-drivers took possession of the market. But we can still honestly maintain that this machine is the

and with conservative riders who do not desire to sprint it is a great favorite.

TIDIOUTE, PA., July 3, 1889.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen—I have been the proud owner of one of your American Safeties (44-inch front wheel) for over a year, and in that time have ridden 10,879 miles, and in my opinion it is the easiest-running machine that I know of, having tried several different makes. Last month I tried to see how far I could ride. I'll give you the mileage per day:

June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.	June.	Miles.
1	30	5	78	9	30	13	15	17	15	21	16	25	—	29	34 3-4
2	25	6	20	10	25	14	65	18	30	22	87	26	30 1-2	30	14 1-4
3	40	7	65 1-2	11	2	15	40	19	95	23	—	27	15
4	35	8	50	12	108	16	20	20	22	24	—	28	20	Total 1,028 Miles.

This distance was registered on an Excelsior Cyclometer: it registered 999, then it went up to 29, which makes 1,028. I examined the bearings, and they do not show wear at all. I am eighteen years of age and am a member of the L. A. W.

As for this record, I don't think it has been beaten for one month, taking into consideration the weather, etc.

Yours truly, W. J. GRANDIN, JR.

"SINGER SAFETY BICYCLES lead them all!! But not in the repair shop. More Singers sold this season than any other make of Safety. Strongest, handsomest and finest running Safety that was ever invented by a cycling genius. It has a raking, racing looking build. Has the only Spring-wired Tire. Can't come out. No other Safety has it. Why not? Because Singer & Co. have got the finest thing, and they are going to keep it to themselves. The Singer has the most powerful brake can be used. Always reliable. The Singer rides easily and comfortably. No lame back or loose false teeth, if you ride a Singer. The Singer is made for comfort as well as speed. If you don't believe it try one. We give you a fine spring saddle of any make you may choose. The Singer is such a reliable wheel, that despite the large number ridden, if we were to depend for one-quarter of our repair work on Singers, we should have red flag flying over our door in no time. Its name is Singer, but not rattler. Notice the handsomest wheels among the leaders in any road scorch and you will find they are Singers, and then notice that they don't rattle like a low gear loaded with hoop iron. If you want to see a first-class piece of cycle mechanism, beg, borrow, steal or hire a Singer Safety and pull it apart. The very finest workmanship will be displayed. Notice the ball bearings. Notice the chain adjustment. Notice the fine finish. In fact, if you want to see the acme of cycle mechanism notice the Singer. CAMPBELL & CO., 33 Page St., Providence, R. THE

Has not been advertised! Because we could not keep up or fill our orders. The factory is now delivering an increased number, and we again present the merits of this popular wheel, which has had so great a demand. Not a day since the opening of the year have we been up with our orders!! It tells the story.

The advantages of Trigwell's Ball Head to the Ordinary are even surpassed in its application to a Safety (in fact it seems specially designed for a Safety), for by its rigid bearing, and not needing adjustment, it keeps the front wheel steady and obviates sensitive steering, which fault all Safeties have had.

SPRING FRONT FORK, preventing vibration—very easy and out of sight.

REAR AXLE BAND BRAKE, the place for a brake—not fouled with mud as when near the tire. Noiseless.

Has Perfectly Straight Front Fork, giving steadiness of running to front wheel.
Has Tangent Spokes, half nickeled to intersections, giving a very handsome appearance.
Has Strengthened Base Hollow Rim.
All Steel Forgings and Interchangeable Parts. Highest quality American-made Wheel.

Also New Mail Ordinaries, all Sizes. Don't fail to send for Catalogue.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 19 JULY, 1889.

USUALLY at this time of the year a saunter among the manufacturers and importers' places of business will show a decided "let up" in the busy bustle of a month ago. The month of July is commonly a period that can be described as being "between hay and grass," as the spring and early summer trade is usually over and the fall trade not begun. This year, however, a visit to the several establishments in Boston shows a condition of things that is subject for congratulation among those who are interested in the cycle trade: THERE HAS BEEN NO LET UP. All hands are busy filling orders and all hands are consequently happy.

There is no doubt but that the year 1889 will show a big total increase in the sales at its close, providing the trade continues to be as proportionately brisk during the remaining six months as it has been during the past six. We have often heard it stated by pessimists that the local cycle trade of Boston was gradually decreasing, but a careful canvass of the different concerns proves to us that such doleful assertions are without foundation, and that the sale of machines as a whole in Boston was never so large as it is this year.

The present season will be remarkable for the fact that professional events at tournaments will be conspicuous by their absence. It will be an amateur year, and nothing else.

The new Racing Board has proven that they are not wooden men, but that the laws they made are laws to be lived up to. The axe of actual decapitation has fallen but once so far, but there are many more, nervously anxious men who are no more and no less guilty than Mr. Windle, and we hope for the good name of the sport that the lynx-eyed Chairman of the Racing Board will discover them and use the axe to their dismay and to the joy of the real amateur. The past year's experiences have been a kindergarten lesson to us, of such force as to efface all sympathy with the pro. who parades in sheep's clothing as a harmless amateur paying his own expenses.

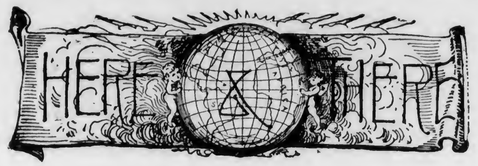
The Roads Improvement question has received great impetus during the past 12 months. It is a matter that is engaging the serious attention of the rural resident as well as the abider in cities. The press all over the country is urging the importance of better highways, and in the grand move forward we are proud to discern as a strong factor in the good work, the L. A. W., with Dr. Butler as Chairman of the Roads Improvement Committee. Taken all in all, the first half of the year 1889 show a record of great increase in cycling interests in all its departments.

MIDDLESEX CO. (MASS.) ROAD MAP.

WE have made arrangements whereby we can now furnish a specially prepared cyclers road map of Middlesex Co., Mass., showing all the roads and distances drawn to a scale of about 5-8 to the mile. The map is handsomely printed in colors mounted on linen and sticks and varnished. We can now furnish these maps at $1.00 each and if it proves a "go" we shall from time to time add the other counties of Mass. Send in your order to BICYCLING WORLD Co., 12 Pearl street, Boston.

THE MEDFORD CYCLE CLUB AT NANTASKET.

THE Medford Cycle Club gave another in their series of "midsummer night parties" (otherwise irreverently termed "sweaters") last Saturday evening—this time at the Park House, Nantasket—and added another to their growing list of social successes and lively times.



The club rode down to the beach early Saturday afternoon—twenty-one of them—and their ball team immediately got down to work. The Medford Club has a strong nine, especially in the battery and outfield, but their opponents, the "Stars" of Hingham, pulled the game out of the fire in the ninth, falling heavily on Barrows and getting in four runs. Score.—Hinghams, 8; Medfords, 7.

The dance took place in Park House dining room. About fifty guests were present. Music was furnished by the cycle club orchestra. It was a most enjoyable evening and a success in every way.

At this time, when club life and club energy seem generally to languish, and club runs are either poorly attended, suspended or abandoned altogether, it is encouraging to note the enterprise and enthusiasm with which the Medford boys push their club affairs. This organization has only been in existence since last October, but already numbers over forty members. All the riders or prospective riders, are "hustlers" and no dead wood. It has outgrown its present quarters and is on the point of moving into rooms which for convenience, comfort and luxury will be second to none in the State. It is not only free from debt, but has a substantial surplus, for which it can find no use. It is emphatically a bicycle club and has several well-known scorchers in its ranks. But the social side of life is not neglected, and many of our readers can speak personally of the gaiety and enjoyment to be found nightly in its rooms. With its library and reading room, its glee club, banjo club and orchestra, and its musical and literary talent generally, it is not strange that the rooms are always full, and so attractive to members and passing wheelmen.

The latest evidence of the enterprise of this hustling organization, is shown in the series of "midsummer night parties" which it is giving fortnightly at the various summer resorts on the north and south shores. Selecting some well-known and popular resort where it is somewhat acquainted, the club issues invitations for an informal party. The members wheel down early Saturday afternoon in time for a game of ball previously arranged with some local nine. In the early evening, the banjo and glee clubs are permitted to wake the echoes on their hotel piazza, and from 8 to 11 30 the dancing and promenading goes on, to music furnished by the club orchestra. Gloucester, Rockport and Nantasket have been visited so far, with great and increasing success. Nahant is the next objective point.

ERRATUM. A stupid error in composing and proof reading was made in our last insure which names the habitation of the White Cycle Co. as Marlboro Mass. It should be Westboro, Mass. Our readers will please notice.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA.

"B. B. B. B."

Ex-Champion Prince, in company with a party of rope-wakers, professional foot runners, trick riders, and several of the Omaha Ramblers entertained a considerable number of the Sioux Citizens on July 4 Some of the races were spirited, especially the five-mile dash between Prince and a pacer. The ex-champion won by about an eighth of a mile.

This exhibition is the finest racing we have been favored with, and I trust that the seed now sown will soon bear fruit and that some of our riders will, before winter comes, develop into flyers worthy to hold some records and keep pace with our rapidly growing Corn Palace City.

Our L. A. W. Consul is endeavoring to arrange a wheelmen's meet, to be held during the Corn Palace celebration, that will attract the best riders in the country. Three thousand dollars in prizes and purses is the sum wanted, and I would pay that if the finance committe act as liberally towards the wheelmen as to other attractions, there is no doubt that numberless outside "bikes" will be turned Sioux Cityward and that the riders there will see the "eighth wonder," and meet with a hearty Western reception. We have a half-mile track that can easily be brought into racing form, and I hope that it may in September feel the wheels of some of our unknown brothers. Although our riders are 50 in number we lack harmony and do not seem to be able to form a club or add any members to the League. Perhaps some of the boys can suggest a plan to create interest in matters cycling in our city, and any suggestions will be thankfully received.

Perhaps if some of the gentler sex would abandon their fiery bronchos for the silent steed of steel the young men who are now attentive to every desire would gladly join the wheelers in order to keep up with the procession and the young ladies' wishes.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

The individual who complained about your not having any correspondence from Ohio must think Porkopolis is located in China, and that the letters C. B. C. stand for Celestial Bicycling Conglomeration. Porkopolis, however, is located in the southwestern corner of Ohio, just across the river from Ludlow, Ky. It has now a population of over one thousand and is growing. It is not very old, having been founded but little over a hundred years ago, but time will remedy that defect. It contains a work-house, a jail, several station houses and a post-office, and is celebrated as being the birthplace of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Charley Allen.

On the 7th inst. the C. B. C. accompanied by two ambulances carrying bottles of ice water for ballast, took a run to Venice, O. The camera fiends were there, and as we sat midst the fragrant cowslips on the bank of the river they fired off their instruments at us twenty-four times. On the return we had a narrow escape from a serious accident. A spirited horse, frightened by the noise made by the air escaping from Norton's air-brake, plunged into the midst of the procession, causing the wiry Buckles to spill himself and smash his only remaining ocarina.

The Athletic Cycling Club ran the first race of their series on the track of the Full Mile Driving Association near Oakley, O., on July 7: the distance was half a mile. W. Wise came in first, in 1.46 1-2; J. C. Workum second, 1.45. The next race will be longer, probably a mile.

Chas. Aszman, of the Crescent Wheelmen, while attempting to pass a vehicle on the Colerain pike, on the 7th inst., came in collision with one coming in the opposite direction. He was thrown to the ground, kicked in the back of the head by the horse, and had his left thigh run over by the vehicle, which was a spring wagon containing six persons. Nothing daunted he mounted his wheel and left without saying thank you. If after this, anyone doubts that the Crescent Wheelmen are tough, he is surely not open to conviction.

If the riders of the tandem should win the championship race of the C. B. C. would the medal have to be sawed in two and a piece be given to each rider?

OMAHA.

"JIM."

Talk about celebrating July 4th in style! Well, the Omaha Wheel Club came as near it this year as they ever will. They were wined and dined by the Lincoln Wheel Club, and there wasn't one of the crowd that didn't pronounce this the most enjoyable Fourth of July spent for years.

We left Omaha on our special car at 5.45 P. M. and arrived at Lincoln at 11.15, where we were met by a delegation of the Lincoln Wheel Club. After a hearty supper all repaired to the club rooms and there the fun commenced. Old acquaintances were renewed and new ones made, and the Lincolns proved to be what we expected, a jolly and hospitable crowd. Nothing would do, but we had to go home with the boys and promise to be on hand the next morning at 9.30.

We all showed up in good shape at 10 A. M. the next morning, and were shown around town. Lincoln is one of the best paved cities in the Union, part cedar block and part fire brick and level as a table. No wonder that the Lincoln Wheelmen are so proud of their town. The parade was called for 12 o'clock, and as the wheel clubs were selected as a body guard for the king, King Terrarax, we had to be on hand at 11.30. The Lincoln Club were costumed very handsomely in Turkish suits, while the Omaha Wheel Club wore their new uniforms. One hundred and twenty wheels in line; not so bad for Nebraska! All the lodges were represented in the parade, and the trades display closed the gay carnival. It took an hour and a half for the parade to pass a given point, and a good deal of attention and applause was bestowed on the "wheeled messengers of Mars."

An invitation from Mr. Van Horne, the Captain of the Lincolns, to a banquet at his house was gratefully accepted, so we lined up again and wheeled out to his handsome residence, where we were royally entertained. But time wore on and 8 o'clock, the hour of parting, came, and with many wishes for the success of the Lincoln Wheel Club we steamed out into the dark night, with the conscience of having spent a red-letter day in the annals of the Omaha Wheel Club.

The Lincoln Wheel Club, now in its second year, is a very promising organization of eighteen members, among whom are well-known racing men as Jas. K. Pollock, Frank Van Horne and J. I. Case. They have the necessary push to make theirs one of foremost clubs in the State, and with Myron Wheeler as President and Geo. Pullman as Vice President they ought to accomplish wonders. Besides this they are the jolliest and most good-hearted crowd we ever had the pleasure of meeting. Success to the Lincolns!

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

A jolly good time was spoiled by the inevitable rain yesterday. At invitation of the Wilmington Wheel Club, the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club had a run called for Saturday afternoon to ride to Wilmington. Capt. Leisen, ex-Captain Roberts and one high private materialized, the weather being showery all day, and upon these unfortunate three and the members of the Wilmington Wheel Club themselves fell the duty of getting away with the good things at the club house in Wilmington that evening. A joint run run was to have been taken to Birmingham Park and the Brandywine had the weather been favorable. As it was, instead of having the chronicle of a good time, I can do nothing but express the hearty curses of the boys on the wet. A good many of these curses, by the way, were left over from the weather at Hagerstown.

The sickness in my family unfortunately prevented me from getting down to the meet, otherwise I might have suplimented "Jack's" vigorous penciling by my feeble efforts.

At the regular meeting of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club last week Captain Suplee's resignation was received under protest, and now alas, instead of an imposing 54-inch Victor leaping the van of the club run, we are to be afflicted with a cussed little dinkey. "Does Charlie Leisen ride a Star?" Not much! All that nice little effort was wasted in the Bi. World. Mr. Leisen rides a Safety and hereafter will command the club runs as Captain with J. H. Lehgan as first Lieutenant and Mr. Fred Mears as 2nd.

The question of lady membership has gone again by the board at the Century Wheelmen's last meeting. The friends of the measure failed to materialize, and hence its demise once more.

An effort will be made to have the Division meet at Reading on Labor Day, September 2nd. York has also been competing for the honor, but nothing definate as yet has been decided.

MACON, GA.

THE "RAMBLER."

The "Rambler" has been so busy rambling of late that he has had time to do little else, and though absent has probably not been missed from these columns. But since last appearing here I have wheeled through three States, peddled along the level roads of middle Alabama, climbed and descended the mountains of the Northern part and floated down those widening rivers of blue, between high bluffs of solid rock, while the mountains rose and stretched away on every side. I have glided along the fine stone pikes of Tennessee and met the charming wheelmen of that State. As I think of it now it reminds me of "Jack," and the fellows he met on the Ripley road. I have wheeled East and then South again, and down through the Empire State to Macon, the Central City.

On June the second, at 4 o'clock, T. L. Ingram and myself, constituting the "Southeastern cycle tour," pulled out of Columbus, Ga., crossed the State line, and wheeled toward Birmingham, where we arrived four days later (175 miles). Here we were joined by two most pleasant gentlemen and model riding companions, Messrs. L. D. Aylett and Burr Furguson, who rode East with us as far as Gadsden, then north to Huntsville, and west to Decatur, where we parted, with sad hearts. Two days later found the original two on Tennessee soil, flying over fine roads, that we thought we well deserved after our trip over the mountains. Seventy-five miles a day did not cause as much exertion here as forty a day, a week before. Nashville—a Southern city of cities—we favored (?) with a week's stop, and then turned east toward Chattanooga, and then south to Atlanta, Griffin and Macon, after having ridden nigh unto a thousand miles in eighteen days.

NEW HAVEN.

"ELM CITY."

The New Haven Club has received several copies of the Meriden, Ct., papers, containing marked articles comparing the relative merits of the racing material in the New Haven Club and the Meriden Club, and one very discourteous one in reference to the ball game we played July 4th, that said that "if we could not ride any better than we could play ball we were not much use," or something to that effect. I had got through noticing similar articles some time ago, and should not take notice of these now, but I have learned that the man that has written the articles, is not a member of the Meriden Wheel Club, and I would advise Mr. John F. Ives to join the Meriden Club before he tries any further to bring about a race between the Meriden and New Haven Clubs, as it would sound better for a member of the Meriden Club to claim for its members superiority over other clubs in this State, than for an outsider to do so. If the Meriden Club has anything to say about racing we should much rather hear from them through their Secretary than from Mr. Ives, a non-member.

A very bad accident happened to Mr. Walter Hilton, a L. A. W. man here and new rider, while going down the Branford Hill. In some way he was thrown (probably by losing his pedal) heavily to the ground. When picked up by two ladies who were passing in a carriage his face was covered with blood from a bad cut on his upper lip. He was brought to this city and carried to the hospital, where it was found his jaw was dislocated, his nose broken, four teeth knocked out and his arm dislocated. He has not been able to talk or explain how the accident occurred as his lips are so swollen. He will come out all right but the doctor says if he had struck on his head a half an inch from where he did it would have killed him instantly. This is the only serious injury a cyclist has sustained here this season, and that is nothing against the sport where there are 1400 riders.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

Beware of the surface grating used in the gutters of some of our streets. A gentleman was riding along the other day, and while in the act of raising his hat to a "very particular" lady friend the wheel dropped between two bars of the grating, and there as he lay he groaned forth:

"I am indeed in fickle fortune's power:
He that a header takes, can fall no lower."

"No professionals need apply" at the Hartford Club wheel tournament next September. It will be an amateur affair right through.

Several members of the New York Bicycle Club, with lady friends are touring in the vicinity of Boston. All the resorts about the hub were visited.

The Charleston, S. C., papers are all shouting for good roads, and improved highways. Agitation is a great thing, and the press of the country are certainly agitating the roads question. It will bear fruit.

The sidewalk fiend has taken possession of St. Louis Forest Park sidewalks, but the authorities promise to deal with this nuisance minus gloves.

To-morrow, the 20th, is the date of the East Hartford Wheelmen's meet at East Hartford. It promises to be a successful affair.

There is not enough crocodile in our nature to be able to shed tears on reading items like this, taken from the Amesbury (Mass.) News: "In the Second District court this morning a young man was fined cost of court for riding a bicycle on a sidewalk."

There is an ordinance on the city books of Hartford, Conn., making the riding of cycles on the highway a "misdemeanor of the fourth class," but as the ordinance is a dead letter, as being unconstitutional, it will be taken from the books and buried.

Railways in themselves will not build up a country. Brazil has some fine railway systems but they are of little use. Why? Because there are no good roads for the farmers and other producers to get their goods to the railway.

A would-be sarcastic writer in a Cleveland, Ohio, paper says: "From close observation of women I have come to the conclusion that whenever they see an opportunity of taking up in strict propriety some particularly mannish sport or habit they are mighty glad to do it." We object to the motive as being that of aping the men. We believe that the ladies take to cycling not because it is a "mannish sport" but because the same keen sense of enjoyment to be derived from cycle riding is as strong in woman, as in man, and because it is a healthy, life-giving exercise, properly indulged in.

Dr. W. H. Emery, Chief Consul of Massachusetts, has removed his office from 1177 Washington street to 189 Warwick street, Boston, at which latter place the doctor will be pleased to meet his friends hereafter.

Secretary Bassett was in Cottage City last week, making arrangements for the Massachusetts State Division meet at that place August 8, 9 and 10.

A party of Newark, N. J., wheelmen have "boated and trained" it to Portland, Maine, from which place they intend to wheel it back to Newark. Mr. Lewis N. Thorne is one of the party, and he has before made the trip alone.

Granville S. Conant, of Woonsocket, R. I., recently rode from Contoocook, N. H., a distance of 150 miles, in fourteen hours, a performance which stamps Mr. C. as being an A1 road rider.

The photograph of the tenth L. A. W. meet at Hagerstown, Md., is now ready for delivery. Price $1.75 (or post paid $1.90), by W. B. King, P. O. Box 672, Hagerstown, Md. Size 22x28. This photo has been pronounced very fine by President Luscomb and other prominent wheelmen. We are in receipt of a copy of this photograph together with an assorted lot of instantaneous photos (taken also by Mr. King) of the races, the parade, and several street scenes of Hagerstown. As souvenirs they will prove most interesting.

The Queen's Athletic Club (Queen's Co., Long Island, N. Y.), offer a gold medal to the first man beating the track record here—one mile in 2m. 59 4-5s.; a gold medal for the fastest mile ridden on the track this season on a Rover type safety. Also a one-mile handicap, open only to bona fide residents of Queen's and Suffolk counties, N. Y.; medals to first and second, this race to be run Saturday, July 20. Entries 50 cents each; close July 15, with Thomas Lloyd, Queen's County, N. Y.

Dr. W. G. Kendall has moved his office from Tremont street to the Hotel Pelham, on the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets. The doctor, the good dog Bess and her infant progeny will be glad to receive old friends at their new abiding place.

The following, taken from the U. S. Advertiser, shows that the government is beginning to recognize the cycle as a practical vehicle, and our manufacturers and importers will do well to put in a bid. "Safety Bicycle.—Signal Office, War Department, Washington, D. C., July 8, 1889.—Sealed proposals (in duplicate) addressed to the Property and Disbursing Officer, Signal Service, will be received at the office of the Chief Signal Officer, in this city, until 11 A. M. on Thursday, the 8th day of August, 1889, at which time and place the will be opened in the presence of bidders, if any are present, for furnishing the Signal Service the bicycle as described in the following specifications: One safety bicycle with the necessary tools and improved pump to accompany the same. This machine is to be used for messenger service at this office, and bidders will please state the kind of machine they propose to furnish. Price of machine to hold good from date of award to June 30, 1890. One copy of this advertisement must be securely attached to each proposal and must be mentioned therein as comprising part of it. Proposals must be enclosed in sealed enveloses, marked 'Proposals for Safety Bicycle,' and addressed to the property and disbursing officer, office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C. The United States reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, and to waive any defects.—A. W. GREELY, Chief Signal Officer."

We are in receipt of an excellent photo. of the members of the Orange-Philadelphia century run, taken by D. S. Crystal & Co., of 208 Broad street, Newark, N. J. It is a clear cut picture, and one that the members ought to secure as a souvenir of the great trip.

FOLLOWING the League meet thirteen members of the Pensylvania Bicycle Club, under command of Lieutenants Leisen and Lehman, in two detachments, toured down the Shenandoah Valley as far as Newmarket, thence to the caverns of Luray. The party returned to Philadelphia the beginning of last week, having enjoyed a splendid outing. They found the famous Shenandoah pike in fine condition. Lieutenant Charles L. Leisen, who was on the tour to Luray, climbed the mountain from the pike, being the first cycler who has ever accomplished this feat.

ERRATUM: In our account of the proposed trip of the Cambridgeport Club and others to Halifax, N. S., to take part in the carnival at that place, we gave the dates as July 5-10. It should be August 5 to 10.

AMONG the events of interest to wheelmen are a series of races, for which suitable prizes are offered, a parade of Halifax riders and visiting wheelmen, with illuminations, at night, etc. Friday, the 9th of August, there will be a grand military and naval display. Halifax is the only place on the Atlantic coast which has a garrison of British regulars. The events of the 9th contemplate a sham battle, in a combined sea and land attack and defence of Halifax, whose citadel is said to be the strongest fortified place in the world (bar Gibralta).

THE photos. taken in front of Baldwin Hotel, Hagerstown, may be obtained by sending 25 cents to "King, Photographer," Hagerstown, specifying which sitting.

THE State of New Hampshire is rather in a strange position so far as its division offices are concerned. The Chief Consul, we are told, is no longer a cyclist except in theory, and the gentleman who holds the position of Secretary-Treasurer has not renewed his membership to the League. Why not give Concord a chance, there are many live wheelmen in that city?

THE Milwaukee, Wis., Club have decided to move into new quarters, and a committee was appointed to carry out the project. The subject of riding on sidewalks was discussed, and the members spoke decidedly against the practice as dangerous and calculated to bring wheeling into disrepute.

HERE are some of the rules to be used to govern the races at East Hartford to-morrow: No one will be allowed to use a wheel weighing less than thirty-five pounds. Rover type safety machines will not be allowed in regular events. Time limits will be placed on all scratch races, and class races will have to be won in the class time or better. The time limit will be governed by the state of the track and weather.

THROUGH the energetic efforts of Chief Consul Emery backed up by efficient work of the local consuls, Massachusetts steps into second place on the division membership list. Now for the first place, and if anyone can accomplish the desideratum, Emery is the man to do it.

MR HENRY E. DUCKER commenced suit against the Buffalo International Fair Association, for $1,114.15 salary he claimed was due him by the association as manager of the bicycle tournament. The superior court have just rendered a decision that there was no cause for action, and so poor Mr. Tucker has taken a header and landed in the puree.

W. H. BRADFORD and E. S. Brown, of Winsted, Conn., who are touring through New York State, had a most delightful trip. They reached Buffalo the latter part of last week.

THE following advice, taken from an exchange, is so in line with our ideas that we reprint it: "There are many foolish things against which it is well to warn the 'new' cycle rider, racing being one of the principal. It is true that it is hard to see a team pass, hear the challenge of the driver, and, knowing that you can show him your 'back-bone,' let him pass you. But it is the most advisable plan, and one that it would be best to observe. Lastly, beware of taking long rides when just beginning. It has done more to injure the health of cyclists than any other one thing. The muscles must be hardened and the wind built up before attempting long distances, and practice alone can do this. Take good care of your wheel and of yourself after riding and the result will be favorable. Woolen should always be worn, as this fabric alone will absorb the perspiration from the surface of the body."

THE papers are full of items giving names and itinerary of cyclers who intend to "do" Europe a-wheel.

THE Birmingham (Ala.) Bicycle Club at a recent meeting adopted resolutions of a commendatory character on the action of the county commissioners in their endeavor to improve the local highways.

THE Topeka (Kan.) wheelmen propose to have a test case as to the legality of the ordinance compelling wheelmen to alight and walk across the Kansas avenue bridge in that city. A cycler will be arrested for crossing the bridge, be fined in police court, and will appeal to the district court, which will give Judge Guthrie an opportunity to pass upon the validity of the ordinance.

MANY of our readers will remember Sanders Sellers in the palmy racing days of Springfield. Well, the erstwhile racing cycler is no longer riding a wheel but is a member of the famous Horse Guards of London, and rides a black charger.

THE Northampton (Mass.) wheelmen are spoken of as being among the politest of the polite. A writer to a local paper says: "I was interested and edified to notice how young men and maidens monopolized the cinder path at Smith's Ferry the other evening as a party of wheelmen came along. The latter politely left their saddles, dismounting and standing until the pedestrians passed by, but not a syllable of thanks did they get for their courtesy, although it was these same wheelmen who had coetributed the money with which this path was built.

MR. ARTHUR SIDWELL returnd from England last week. He reports businsss as booming on the other side. He will make another trip across in November next.

THE Providence, R. I., League members will join the Massachusetts Division in its three days' meet at Cottage City in August.

F. F. IVES will probably appear as an amateur at the Hartford tournament. With Ives and Hendee "in it" it will seem like old times.

TOURISTS and visiting wheelmen in passing through Binghamton, N. Y., are cordially invited to make themselves known to the Binghampton Wheel Club, and by inquiring for and finding Mr. E. H. Towle they will be piloted roundall right.

ROUTE WANTED—Mr. Edgar E. Brown of Providence, R. I., writes: "Can you obtain for me through the columns of the BI. WORLD the best route from Boston to Laconia, N. H. The road book gives a route from Boston to Nashua, and thence via Portsmouth, N. H. Is this not a direct route from Nashua to Laconia?"

THE race programme for exposition week at Baltimore is now being arranged by Chairman S. G. Clark, assisted by Mr. J. Supplee.

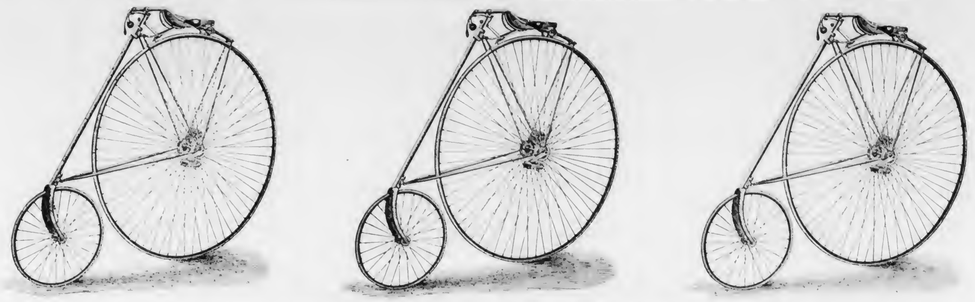
SOME notes received from Binghampton, N. Y., show that cycling in that section is on the up move. The Binghampton Club is a fast growing organization and our correspondent says: "Binghampton will put in a bid for the State meet, and should we secure it everybody may depend on a good time. We have nine miles of fine cinder path built at an expense of $700, besides fine roads, and as our hospitality has never been questioned, there is no reason why the State meet should not be held here."

THE Taunton, Mass., News prints the following items which it heads a "bicyclist defy." We hope the Taunton authorities will teach this chatter pate that the law is to be respected and that pedestrians have rights. It is just such chuckle-headed individuals that give cycling a bad name:

"Yes," said he to a News scribe, taking out his bandanna and mopping his perspiring brow. "We shall continue to ride our wheels on the sidewalk unless we find them barricaded. The roads are not good enough for us. When they are, we shall use them, but not before. Sidewalks are good enough for me. If we run over a slow moving pedestrian once in a while, it's no great consequence compared to the risks we run from small stones in the streets. It's all very well to talk."

"You seem to be pretty sure of your rights," ventured the scribe.

"I'm sure that we shall continue on the sidewalks instead of the streets. I tell you the latter are fearful for bicyclists."



"Isn't there a law against riding the wheel on the sidewalk?"

"I don't know of any such law."

"People are complaining against the wheelmen running on the sidewalk."

"Well, let them complain. We can stand it if they can. We shall continue to go where we can find the easiest roads."

This is decidedly an independent view to take of the matter; but

SOME PEOPLE THINK

That the EAGLE Cannot Climb a Hill.

—BUT—

The EAGLE took First Prize at the Hill Climbing Contest at the Meet of the L. A. W., Bridgeport, Conn., July 8th.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 14th, 1889.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.:

Gentlemen—I have been riding my EAGLE now for a little over six weeks, and am better pleased with it every time I ride it. Those who were so loud at first in criticising the wheel, and who claimed that I would never be able to climb a hill with it, and that the wheel was not at all practical, have all had to "pull in their sails," as I have ridden through sand and up hills where a good many of our riders, both of Ordinary and Safeties, have had to dismount. I have also learned to ride one wheel for a distance of two hundred yards, and with only two days' practice, and I think that in the course of a week or so I will be able to ride one wheel any distance I wish on a good road.

To-morrow I expect to make the run from Sacramento to Stockton and return, a distance of 102 miles. This trip has only been made by three riders, though many have attempted it and failed; and if I succeed, which I have no doubt I will, it will be a good adv. for the EAGLE.

Yours very truly, H. G. TOLL.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 28th, 1889.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.:

Gentlemen—I made the run of which I spoke without any trouble, and am more pleased with the EAGLE than ever. My actual riding time was ten hours, which taking the roads into consideration, was very good. I found the EAGLE to be the easiest running wheel I ever rode. I was in no condition for the ride, having been ill and unable to ride my wheel until two days before I started; and yet I made the trip without any difficulty, and my muscles did not bother me in the least, which is good proof to my mind that the motion of the legs as used on the EAGLE is much less tiresome than that used on the Ordinary.

Yours truly, H. G. TOLL.

The Swift.

The Buffalo Express, May 29, says:

"James S. Hedge of the Buffalo Bicycle Club made the first century run of the year on May 26th. Leaving the club house at 8 A. M., he rode via Seneca Street, Potter's Corners Road, Orchard Park, and Colden to Springville. Here a stop of two hours was made fordinner, and return was made via Boston and Hamburg to the club house, arriving at 6.45 P. M. Starting again at 7 P. M. he pushed on out to Bowmansville and return and rode three times around the meadow, arriving at the club house at 10.25 P. M. Hedge rode a Swift Safety, and considering the fact that he did not start out to make a 'century,' and did not think of it until he had ridden about 70 miles, made very good time, his riding time being 10 hours and 30 minutes for 105 miles, or an average of 10 miles an hour. Four hours and five minutes were used in stops. This is the first time a century run has been made by a rider in this city on a safety, and it is also the first time a century has been made over this route, there being a great many short steep hills to climb."

Wednesday evening last, Mr. A. W. Porter, of Newton, rode up and down Corey Hill four times, without a dismount, in 36 minutes, on a Swift Safety.

Geared to 57 Inches.

He was timed by L. D. Whittemore Jr., of Newton, witnessed at the top by F. S. Norton and H. E. Bachelder, half way by F. W. Fisher and H. C. Blaney, and at the foot by L. D. Whittemore, Jr.

Dear Sirs.—I have just accomplished 40,000 miles on my machine in the Postal service which has carried me, averaging with letters and parcels over 196 lbs., over all sorts of roads in a most marvellous fashion. However, it is now about done with, and the good stead in which my machine has stood me, makes me now ask you to quote for one of your "Premier" Safeties.

HILL-CLIMBING—CANADA.

C. W. A Meet, St. Catherines, Ont., July 4th, 1889.

The hill climbing contest.—Owing to a misunderstanding the contestants in the hill climbing race announced for Tuesday morning did not come together until an hour and half after the appointed time, wheelmen being divided, part of them at the hill leading from the Thorold road to Queenstown street and part of them at the short Western Hill. No one seemed to be at the head of affairs and it was 15 minutes to 11 o'clock when a Star representative took the matter in hand and amalgamated the two divisions, the race starting at about 11 o'clock. Mr. John Hanley, of Detroit, acted as Judge, and Mr Hughes, of Rochester, as timer. Each man was allowed three trials against time, which resulted in the following scores for the leading men. B. A. Pratt, Rochester, Premier Safety, 51 seconds; F. W. Doll, of London, Rudge Safety, 55 1-2 seconds; E. S. Pennis'on, Wanderers, Toronto, Rudge Safety, 58 seconds. They were five other entries, the time ranging from 1 minute and 9 seconds to 1 minute and 30 seconds, made by a lad 13 years old. Several riders failed to climb the hill at all, only two ordinary big wheels getting to the top.

this represents the opinion of only one man. The majority of wheelmen are far more considerate, and are inclined to do about right in traversing the public thoroughfares.

We know that the riding season is in full blast, because scarcely a day passes without our noticing an item in the exchanges about Mr. Thus-and-So having had a fall and damaged some part of his anatomy. We suppose some would think that a cycling paper should "not speak out as it passes by" such items, but we think differently, as a large proportion of the accidents are due to the bull-headed recklessness of the rider, and is not due to the "unsafety of the bicycle." If riders would use common-sense care, the record of accidents would be diminished. We don't like to see such items, and especially is it exasperating when we feel that the fault is mostly due to recklessness and monkey business.

THE NEW YORK CLUB.

The sensational and the lurid is always a tasty morsel to the average human being. A row is a thing that excites a thrill of pleasure in the human nature which, proves that humanity is to a certain extent rather brutal. Real calamity touches our better nature but a simple "scrap," a row in which no lives are lost seems to tickle us immensely. The successful newspaper is one that recognizes these peculiarities and the reporter who can report sensationally is a jewel.

We have known for some time that things at the New York Club house were not all serene, but we have refused to print anything about it until now, as we look on club rows as private affairs, but the matter has become public property through the enterprise (?) and exaggerated reports of the local papers and so we cannot longer refuse to give a few facts.

It is a fact that Mr. W. R. Pittman criticized the action of President Shriver in sending out circulars regarding the half holiday law, as being done for personal aggrandisement. It is also true that Mr. Pittman sent a written apology to President Shriver, but that gentleman and his associate committee men in spite of this, voted to expel Mr. Pittman. Mr. Pitman then appealed to the club and the action of the committee expelling Mr. Pittman was not sustained by a vote of 38 to 26. President Shriver then presented his resignation but it was not accepted. The matter rests there. The "sensational-lurid" reporter then goes on to say that the club will split and will fall to pieces. We cannot believe this. The N. Y. Club has too much esprit de corps to allow a row of this kind to rend it fatally.

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.

[All communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—Ed.]

It has always been considered that the presence of ladies with a party insured to it benefits and accommodations far beyond those usually extended to companies made up exclusively of the sterner sex. Our friends, the "Macs," of Malden, and Miss Kirkwood, of Maplewood, found to their sorrow lately that there are exceptions to this rule. They went to Cobb's Tavern, at Sharon, for dinner and were refused entertainment because, forsooth, there were ladies in the party. They pleaded a ride of thirty miles and consequent weariness and hunger, but the proprietors were obdurate and they had to go elsewhere, riding five miles further before they could get accommodation. There seems to be no good reason for such treatment and yet it is in keeping with past action of the Cobb people, for after the North Shore trip of 1887 quite a party of the tourists rode out to Cobb's and were refused entertainment. Ladies, give Cobb's a wide berth: gentlemen, please to remember that your sisters are not welcome at that tavern.

One who signs herself "Wild Wood Geranium" writes thus regarding dress:

Miss Helen Grey, Dear madame: In a March number of the Bicycling World one of your correspondents strongly recommends the corduroy skirt. Previous to that I had been wearing a light weight flannel and was very pleased with it on most occasions. But the March winds! Ah me! A hill, a head wind and my skirt was converted into a sail. Imagine my discomfort! The next time I went riding I sewed the troublesome skirt to an outside one. That answered.

As I read the article in the Bi. World it seemed to me that a corduroy skirt was just what I needed. I tried it. When I reached home after a ten-mile run I determined never under any circumstances to wear that skirt again. Between the weight and the heat I was completely exhausted. Usually I take the same ride and return with renewed vigor ready for work. Speaking from experience, I would say, don't wear a corduroy skirt.

At present I find an outing cloth suit most comfortable. The skirt has three widths, just clears the ground in the back, is two inches shorter in the front, with a hem three eighths of a yard deep. It is cool, not "blowy," and when soiled easily washed. This material is so cheap that one can afford to have two or three suits. Hoping that my experience may be of use to some one, Wild Wood Geranium.

I had supposed it unnecessary to warn riders against corduroy. It is probably the first goods that presents itself to the mind of the would-be rider, for it has a reputation for "wearing like iron," and many believe this to be the great desideratum for a cycling cloth. Our correspondent's experience is valuable. It is just such letters as this that make our column interesting. The prayer meeting people know full well that no arguments are so persuasive and no speeches so interesting as those which deal with personal experiences.

I wonder how many lady riders appreciate the value of ankle action in riding? Old riders who have acquired the art will tell you that with perfect ankle action one can increase his power by one fourth. The rider who fails to use the ankle puts power into the crank during only about one third of its circuit—the straight downward push. Try the ankle motion, ladies, and see how much more you can do. Follow the pedal around, putting on the power during as much of the circuit as you can. When the pedal is up depress the heel, get behind the pedal with your foot and push it over the dead point. When the pedal is down, elevate the heel and pull backwards. Learn to "claw" the pedal when it is on the lower level. You could do this "clawing" to better advantage if you wore slotted shoes as the gentlemen do, but you can do it very well without them. The toes must be bent to give a bend to the sole of the shoe, and then you can "claw" very well. Give the ankles plenty to do; follow the pedal around; push and claw and you will be surprised at the results.

I have been asked how to mount the bicycle. The request came several days ago and I do not doubt my questioner needs no advice from me by this time. Ten minutes' practice under the guidance of a rider will do one more good than whole volumes of instructions on paper. Take a wheel and learn to mount it. That's the best advice I can give. An English lady correspondent tells us how to mount thus: "Mounting is the next thing to learn, and is a simple enough affair, after all, when one knows the way to set about it. You must take up your position on the left side of your machine, close in to the U frame. Take hold firmly of the handles and, the right pedal being near its lowest point, step across the frame with your right foot on the pedal, and giving a little spring at the same moment, and standing upon the descending pedal, slip back into the saddle. After a few attempts this should be managed easily and gracefully, the only risk being that of catching the other pedal in the hem of one's gown, and a little practice will teach one how to avoid this."

This may be good advice, but I cannot help remarking upon it since it radically differs from my own mount. Yes, Psyche, I am riding a bicycle now. As I mount the right pedal is near its uppermost point, otherwise the instructions are such as I would give. The most graceful mount is made by standing as above, with the left foot uppermost. Incline the machine from you, place your left foot on the pedal, and giving the machine a push, stand on the descending pedal while you slip gracefully into the saddle. The latter mount can be left till experience teaches much of the wheel.

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

Editor Bicycling World: As a member of the League, I protest against the action of the committee on uniforms in taking measures to compel all members of the League to wear the present uniform. [Our correspondent is not correct. There is no compulsion; members can use the uniform or not as they see fit.—Ed.]

You may not be aware that the large majority of League members in this section entertain the same feeling, although not publicly expressed in words. Their protest is shown by the fact that they refuse to wear the uniform.

Were the uniforms made of suitable material, and properly gotten up, I doubt if any member would refuse to wear it.

As far as I have been able to learn, the sentiment here is that the uniform should be of black cloth, coat and cap and black stockings, or knit goods of the same color. Any cyclist knows how uncomfortable the League suits are, being made of the miserable stiff cloth furnished by the League tailors, and how much more comfortable tights or knit goods are. I am in favor of adopting a uniform and requiring its use by all League members; but let it be a good uniform and not a miserable apology such as we have. A uniform of black, it appears to me, would be suitable and acceptable to all, such as is suggested above.

For summer wear, black tights, tight shirt, knit or of flannel, and a cork helmet of the English style are by far the most comfortable. I would like to hear from others on this subject.

Yours fraternally, L. A. W. 16131.

THE TOURISTS IN FRANCE.

PARIS—FONTAINBLEAU.

Once more on the road and this time (alas) with Paris not as an ideal to be realized in the future, but as a remembrance never to be forgotten.

We must not leave Paris before we get to it, therefore let us return to June 21, the date of our arrival in the gay city.

As per last week's letter, we got to the Hotel de la Tamise Friday, the 21st of June, at about noon. The afternoon was well nigh spent before all had got comfortably settled in their rooms and into the garb of ordinary mortals—that is to say, trousers.

In the evening several visited the Exposition (reached by river per penny boat) to get a cursory idea of things and to see the illuminated fountains. These are something marvellous, being illuminated by Edison lamps of changeable colors, producing the most wonderful and beautiful effects imaginable. The main buildings being closed evenings the jets d' eau form the principal attraction Thousands crowded the avenues and walks as we strolled along in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower, beneath the immense dome of which five thousand people may be seated without crowding. Gaslights in myriads festooned the arches and outlined the three principal stories of the tower, and from the summit the electric search light flashed in every direction; now a tower of the Trocadero Palace would gleam out as if afire, and now the light shot round and lit up the great dome of the main building.

But to tell of our week in Paris as it should be told of would require the graphic pen of Thomas Stevens, or shall we say of "Jack?" The Exposition, first, last and always the main point of interest, alone would require volumes to describe, so what can one do in a limited space?

Without going into details or descriptions of the Exposition, of which there are plenty and to spare in the daily press, it may be of interest to the WORLD's readers to know that many of the American Cycling Tourists climbed to the top of the Eiffel Tower, some (owing to standing in line), using up three hours getting to the top. From the second landing up there is but one elevator, so that the amount of waiting for that elevator may be computed easily. The main buildings fail to convey the idea of buildings, but rather that of a roof over "all out doors." Elevated bridges travelling on rails convey the weary pedestrian from end to end. The art galleries alone cannot be simply walked through in less than half a day, to see anything requiring days. The American exhibits with the trim United States marines on guard bring a patriotic thrill to our hearts as we pass along. The restaurants in the grounds capture not our francs but our Napoleons, as we frugally (?) break our fast. The magnificence of the buildings themselves cause us to marvel.

The various souvenirs and articles de luxe et cetera tempt us to purchase, while the slightly stupendous prices tempt us to refrain. Generally we refrained. The—— but enough of an endless task. Let us drop the Exposition here, rather than ten pages further on.

The Arc de Triomphe, the tomb of Napoleon at the Invalides, the Louvre and Luxembourg, the Madelaine and Notre Dame, the Pantheon, Catacombs, boulevards, Grand Opera and theatres, cafes, etc., what a lot of planning and hustling and of making up of parties to see them all and yet have time for the everlasting Exposition.

Apart from sight-seeing the party was the recipient of many acts of attention from cyclers and others while in the city.

Sunday the Cercle de la Pedale, one of the prominent clubs, invited us to a run to Versailles. On the way out we were entertained for a few minutes at their splendid club rooms near the Porte Maillot. Arrived at Versailles after a most charming run in their company of fifteen miles, the day was spent in seeing the palace, the gardens and the races, to which we received free admission to the track enclosure. The races (as per French custom) were on a course of about a quarter mile, up and down one of their broad avenues. It was sport to see twenty fellows trying to see who could turn the corners at the highest speed. At noon, lunch in the garden of the Hotel de France, then more exploration of the palace and grounds, after which a splendid ride home via the Bois de Boulogne. A most enjoyable days' outing and one long to be remembered.

Wednesday evening we were given a smoking concert by the Metropole Club, at one of the large restaurants. Music, wines, cigars, etc., and many comical recitations and songs by our hosts of the evening made it a most jolly occasion. Baron de Baroncelli, C. T. C. Chief Consul for France, presided as President of the club, and in a well-worded speech (translated for us by Mr. Blackith of the New York Herald) welcomed us to France and to Paris, and promised us, in the name of the cyclers of France, every assistance in their power. To this Mr. Elwell suitably replied, his speech being translated for the French men.

Baron de Baroncelli also on this occasion presented Mr. Elwell, for the party, with one complete itinary from Paris to Geneva, and read letters from French and Swiss clubs along the route promising us aid and enjoyment as we journeyed on. This welcome news was cheered to the echo, and we fired off our "Am-Mer-Ri-Kay" yell at them, to their utter astonishment and complete delight.

Thursday afternoon, by special invitation of Hon. Wm F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"), we occupied boxes at the Wild West Show. The appearance of two hundred painted Indian, of cow boys, Mexicans and buffaloes galore was a strange experience, particularly when we could raise our eyes from the exciting arena and see the Eiffel Tower with the French Tricolor floating from the top, in the middle distance.

The scenes on the "bleaching boards" reminded one of a base ball game at home, save for the presence of some hundred of French soldiers, squads of whom are invited every day to see riding, "as it should be rode." After the performance we were all invited to Buffalo Bill's tent and introduced to him. Of course the club yell was in order, so off it went in our best style, and after three cheers for Col. Cody we departed.

Friday afternoon, by special invitation, we visited the wonderfully complete reproduction of the Bastile in the Exposition grounds. The deception as to age and grim reality is rendered yet more complete by the presence of warders, etc., in their ancient dress, and of a realistic headsman (in wax) who holds up the freshly-severed, gory head of an unfortunate condemned one. There are also houses and various buildings of the time nearly, and the quaintly attired inhabitants sing the songs of long ago and follow their several occupations as in days gone by.

Friday evening a small party visited the Grand Opera and saw "The Tempest," but the majority were busy packing up for the start next morning.

Saturday morning, under the guidance of Baron de Baroncelli, Mr. Blackith of the New York Herald, and of Monsieur (the champion of France) and Madame Medinger, who rode a tandem safety, we left the Hotel de la Tamise en route for Fountainbleau, where we passed Sunday. After some few miles we were outside the fortifications and once more in the open country. A little way on and we bade adieu to the genial and kind-hearted Baroncelli (Mr. Blackith having been obliged to leave us sooner), and with M. and Madame Medinger as our guides we journeyed pleasantly on, over good roads through a smiling country to Melun, where we breakfasted.

As you will remember my saying, we have but two square meals in France (at noon and at night), the morning meal being of coffee and bread and butter alone.

After lunch time passed pleasantly enough in lounging until five o'clock when we set out for Fontainbleu. This was a most beautiful ride of 15 miles, the greater part of which lay through the forest of Fontainbleu, celebrated in historical as in artistic lore. By half-past six all were safely housed for Sunday in the comfortable Hotel du Cadran Bleu. After dinner all went to listen to the band in the square while sipping cafe noir at the adjacent cafes.

At nine o'clock we bade farewell to Monsieur Medinger and his charming wife, who said they would gladly accompany us to Geneva were it not for business preventing.

Sunday (present writing) the Palace occupied several hours. The splendors of the Fontainbleu Palace is some respects excel those of Versailles, and the magnificent park is unrivalled throughout the world. In the afternoon most of the boys enjoyed the open air band concert in the park, while others made excursions through the forest to Barbison, the home of J. J. Rousseau and of Jean Francois Millet, and to other points of interest. This evening many of us took in a French country dance at the village of Avon (nearly in the forest) some of the fellows joining in the dance with the light-hearted peasants.

At Paris our party lost one of the chief and most valuable members, namely, Jo. Pennell, business and want of time preventing him from journeying further with us. It was with feelings of genuine sorrow (none the less genuine though a little selfish) that we rode away from him at the hotel in Paris, for all along the way so far, break down, get lost, want an explanation of some interesting point, or want the French word for suspenders, or ham and eggs, it was always to Jo Pennell that they turned for information. Therefore, without our mentor to guide us with his fatherly hand, we expect to find ourselves bringing up——"in the soup" at every other town.

The boys were one and all genuinely sorry he was going with us no further, and I feel sure that all will join in saying that no small part of our pleasure and comfort on our journey from Cork to Paris was due to the experience and kindness of Mr. Pennell, and that all are grateful therefor.

At Paris, also, our party received one addition in the person of Mr. Hicks of St. Louis, Mo., who is to accompany us to Geneva. He is now a resident of Paris. At Melun we met with Mr. Shaw of New York city, also a resident of Paris, who spent Sunday here with us.

To-morrow we start for Sens on our way to Geneva. Our route, with distances, as kindly furnished us by Baron de Baroncelli, is appended:

ROUTE—PARIS TO GENEVA.

Date.	Places.	Miles.
June 29	Via Melun to Fontainbleu	43
" 30	Sunday at Fontainbleu	—
July 1	Via Nemours to Sens	42

Therefore the evening of July 8 should find us at the Hotel de la Poste, Geneva, and until then, au revoir. PEDALS.

HAGERSTOWN QUIESCENT.

RESOLUTIONS AND THE POETRY MILL.

[By Mud.]

At a special meeting of the Hagerstown Bicycle Club, Albert Mott, Esq. Chief Consul Maryland Division L. A. W., was elected an active member of the club. The following resolutions were also unanimously adopted:

Resolved by the Hagerstown Bicycle Club, That we owe the Baltimore Herald a debt of gratitude which it will be difficult to repay for inestimable services rendered in connection with the preparation of the tenth annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen. The columns of that paper were replete with accurate information for the cyclers throughout the country, and its active and intelligent efforts of the paper were due the large attendance and the great success of the meet in enjoyment, notwithstanding the drawback of the weather. The substantial results, among which was the joining of many new members, are most gratifying, and the thanks hereby tendered the Herald are but a feeble expression of the kindly feelings of the club for it.

Resolved, That our sincere thanks be tendered Mr. Thos. Findlay of Smithsville, N. J., for kindly consenting to give an exhibition of trick riding during the races, and thereby contributing greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion."

A handsome testimonial was also ordered to be prepared and framed for presentation to the Maryland Club of Baltimore for their fraternal and invaluable assistance. After the meeting adjourned Undergraff and Miller hitched the poetry machine to the "Home-drainer" and ground out the following:

Though Time from memory's blackboard,
Some fond remembrance rub.
He never can efface our love
For the boys of the Maryland Club.

Then a pedal slipped and the machine had to be readjusted. The silken banner presented by the New Orleans Club was the inspiration for the second:

For Anarchy go to Chicago,
To New York for the "new" and the "queer."
Philadelphia for "brotherly love,"
And Cincinatti for "beer;"
To Baltimore for the prettiest girls
Washington for style and streets,
Kansas City for "hustle" and beef,
But Hagerstown for bicycle meets;
San Francisco for Chinese and fruit,
Boston for "culchaw" and beans,
But for fun and jolly good fellows
Buy a ticket for New Orleans.

At this point Cushwa, Irvin and Heard broke into the room and proceeded to make "suggestions." Cushwa thought the Williamsport run ought to be worked in somehow, so Miller attached the "water-stop" with this result:

Onward! the Towel Brigade,—
Noble three hundred—
On through the mud while it
Rained, and it thundered.
On to the river rode the Gallant three hundred—
To Cushwa's swimming place,——
Who said he blundered?

Then Irvin tried his hand:

A racer bowed his haughty head
And scooted throught the mud,
Until he ran against the fence
When down he went ker—thud.

Heard wanted to put the G crook of his cornet on the machine and King, who just came in, wanted to "press the button," but someone said "What did the band play?" and the machine gave a hollow, ten-dollar-a-week tragedy groan that emptied the room quicker than an invitation to "have something" and then vanished, leaving its last effusion on the floor:

Oh, bonnie Annie Laurie,
Across your fair young breast
Death laid your hands long years ago—
Why can't they let you rest?

If Luscomb, Mott and all their crew
Must have a war-cry canny,
Why don't they come to Hagerstown
And get some other Annie?

BRAWN AND BRAIN.

A BRIGHT seasonable volume that will interest a large number of people, entitled "Brawn and Brain, considered by noted Athletes and Thinkers," has been issued. Twelve of the most popular sports are treated by a small army of champions, experts or specialists. Base ball is treated by a champion nine and an umpire; the elegant art of fencing by F. R. Coudert, the noted lawyer, and others; riding a horse by Buffalo Bill and others, canoeing by Charles Ledyard Norton; and tennis, polo, swimming, cycling, jumping, running and other sports by persons famous in those pastimes. Prof. Lallin treats of health at home, and Wm. Wood and others of how to grow strong. The volume is a really notable addition to the literature of health and pleasure. John B. Alden, publisher, New York, Chicago and Atlanta.

A CHAT ON KNEE BREECHES, STRAW HATS AND FLANNEL SHIRTS.

BY "JACK."

I TAKE the following from the Boston Evening Record. I am glad to note such a healthy and comfortable state of affairs:

"There is an epidemic of tan shoes and flannel shirts. They are unconventional and informal; they belong to no 'set,' they are equally in favor in town and country, in the mountains and at the seashore, and are unostentatious only in their suggestions of ease. The tan-colored shoe and the flannel shirt have risen to the dignity of summer institutions; they have come to stay, and all the protests of bootblacks and laundrymen shall not prevail against them."

English people probably are the most comfortably dressed people in the world. Take a boating party on the Thames or the Wye. Each man is clad in heavy woolen sweater and white flannel trousers, no starch for them. They wear all woolen clothing, for it is cooler than cotton or linen and prevents the body from sudden chills. It is cleaner and more comfortable in every way, and we see the American of to-day a happy mortal in his straw hat and flannel suit, when twenty years ago he was mummified in black, close-fitting over clothes, and arrayed in those three most ghastly articles of apparel which have ever been worn by perspiring and skin inhaling and exhaling man—the starched shirt and the shiny stove-pipe hat, two unqualified abominations; added to these the parellel bags which we imported from Waterloo, the trousers of to-day, we have a combination of three horrors which would make any animal but a man wretched.

We dress comfortably at the sea shore, in straw and flannel. In the city, where the temperature is generally greater and the air less breathable, you dress uncomfortable, all because the Ape of Fashion dictates to her jumping-jack followers that a shiny hat, comfortless and ill-ventilated trousers, and linen neck and wrist prisons are the proper caper. The sooner we wear the "knee breeks" and the long hose and the comfortable flannel clothing of health and comfort, the sooner we will feel free to act and to breathe, eat and sleep with pleasure.

As for the introduction of knee breeches, the bow-legged and knock-kneed contingent would raise a dismal howl, but why should humanity at large, whose limbs are straight, be made to wear limb-concealing trousers, just because there are those in the world whose legs are designed abnormally as to concavity or convexity? Why should Jones, whose limbs are firm and straight, be made to cover their outline from view? Is it sufficient to give for a reason that as Robinson's knees are scissor jointed, or made like a pair of callipers or ice hooks, fashion has thrown the whole human family into sacks that these freaks of nature may be hidden somewhat?

The sooner we get out of the trousers of to-day and into the knee-breeches of our ancestors, the sooner we will feel comfortable. Knee breeches will come into popular favor, statements from the shrunken legged and malformed contingent notwithstanding.

NIAGARA FALLS FOR THE 1890 MEET.

Editor Bicycling World: Now that the League meet of 1889 is a thing of the past the time has arrived in the minds of some as to the location of the meet of 1890. I have read with pleasure the utterances of the WORLD the past year on the question, also the able letter of "Phœnix" in the WORLD of July 5th. "Phœnix" strikes the key note as to the ideal meet, and selects as the place of meeting "Alexandria Bay;" at the same time mentions the short-comings of the place as not befitting a successful League meet. Uncle Sam's domains offer so many places, all of which possess some attractive feature that can be held out as an inducement for the League to hold its meet within their borders, but what we want is a place that will offer the largest attractions, the best accommodations, a good race track, unexcelled runs, beautiful scenery, easy of access and a place to which excursion rates can be easily procured; a place that every one wants to go to, and if he has been there once the thirst to go a second time is unquenchable; a place that one can spend a week and not tire of the place. Such a spot is adapted to cycling and to the full and complete enjoyment of the great body of wheelmen must be acknowledged to be the ideal spot for a League meeting. That such a spot exists and in an easy and accessible locality is something worthy of consideration, I therefore offer Niagara Falls as the place for the next meeting of the League. The wheelmen at the Falls are enthusiastic over it, and no one can question but that if the whole League should go there but what they could be accommodated. Many runs can be had from the Falls, and then there is the Lewiston Hill for hill climbers, and taken all together there is not a spot in the 42 States that can offer one half of the attractions that Niagara Falls has. As a place for the meeting it will not be necessary to go into details, as it is too well known, so let the cry be "eleventh annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen, Niagara Falls, 1890."

HENRY E. DUCKER.

GOOD ROADS WANTED.

A writer in the New England Farmer contributes the following interesting article in a late issue of that paper: "A great deal is being said of late in regard to road making, and the Legislature has been touching upon the subject. People differ in their opinions in regard to road making as they do in politics or religion. But the latter are not so easily demonstrated as in road building, for a person travelling over these hills at this season of the year has only to look and learn, and it seems to me, if he is observing, he will learn that a narrow, rounding road, with no turf at the sides, nothing but loose dirt, will go to pieces and wash away when the frost goes out.

It case of heavy rains still greater destruction will follow. On these hills the shoulder of the road, once grassed over, never should be broken. The road should be filled with dirt from outside the ditch. It has been the opinion of many that a rounding road needs no mound to protect it, but no idea can be more erroneous, and testing the theory with the road scraper has proved the contrary. Water cannot go off the sides but will follow the ruts. Water will run down the hill in a road unless turned out. A mound made right will not bound a buggy with fast driving.

It should be made long, reckoning up and down the hill, so the forward wheels will not drop when the hind wheels rise. The mound should come to a rounding point in the centre, and each year, when repaired, place the new one just above the old one, the old one for a backer, then it will last and not be carried over by the wheel. If the road is narrow and rounding the wheels will make the ruts deep, for they must necessarily run in the same place. A person remarked to me: 'If the road was made rounding and of cast iron, the water would go off on the sides.' A road, in my opinion, should be made wide and level on the surface, then it will tread hard and the water will flow over the road evenly. Some county commissioners order their turnpikes made level on the surface and wide enough for teams to pass."

THE MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION MEET.

SECRETARY BASSETT has been in Cottage City to make arrangements for the Massachusetts Division meet to take place August 8, 9 and 10. The arrangements cannot be given in particular, as they have not been perfected, but in general the meet will be on the same lines as those already held, minus the ball. There will be parades by daylight and by night, the latter with the lantern attachment. Excursions galore and a general good time out of doors will be indulged in. As there is to be a big yacht race on the 12th, no doubt many of the wheelmen will see fit to stay over and take that in. Full details later.

The Martha's Vineyard Association have voted to furnish a band for the races and parade.

The concrete race track will be put in good shape by the Selectmen. There is some talk of having a race for ladies, but we hope the idea will not receive encouragement. The racing path is not the place for our wives, sweethearts or sisters.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION MEET

SOME 300 or 400 wheelmen in knee breeches on the streets of Bridgeport, Conn., last week Monday gave the impression to the "unposted" cit. that something was a-move in cycledom, and the cit. was correct. The State Division was about to hold its annual meet, and the men in "knicks" were on hand to take part. The different clubs of the State turned out strong, but New Haven with its twenty odd men had the largest individual outside representation.

The rooms of the Bridgeport Wheel Club were the head quarters of the visitors, and these rooms were the centre of Bridgeportian life on the said Monday.

One hundred wheelmen attended the business meeting, Chief Consul Larom presiding. The reports showed that the membership of the Connecticut Division numbered 454. The Treasurer's report showed a balance of $706. It was voted to appropriate $200 for the purpose of being used at Hartford during the tournament at that place in September and the invitation to hold a division meet in Hartford on the dates of the races was accepted.

It was voted to appropriate $100 yearly to be used as a "retainer" for the services of a division lawyer (who should be also a wheelman), the duties of whom shall be to collate all ordinances, laws and other information bearing upon the privileges and rights of wheelmen and place the same on record; also to record all decisions of the Court given in bicycle cases, and all accidents, and to defend wheelmen when so ordered by the Chief Consul. The records are to be open to the inspection of the Chief Consul, Vice Consul and Secretary and Treasurer.

A by-law authorizing the Chief Consul to appoint a Committee on Transportation was also passed. Resolutions referring to the death of Steven Terry of Hartford, one of the most active bicyclists in the State, were also adopted.

Nominations were then in order, and for Chief Consul the names of David J. Post and Calhoun Latham were presented. For Vice Consul C. E. Moore was the only nomination; for Secretary-Treasurer E. A. Dublois. For representatives to the National League the following were nominated: L. A. Miller, of Meriden; Joseph Gilman, of Hartford; F. W. Atwater, of Bridgeport; and T. W. Gillette, of Danbury. The officers are elected by a mail vote of the League members, sent to the Secretary before August 15. The meeting then adjourned.

The parade formed at about 12 M. There were twelve clubs in line, Chief Consul Larom as Marshall. The following clubs and members were in line: Rambling Wheelmen, 35 men; Bridgeport Wheel Club, 40 men; Bridgeport Junior Club, 32 men; Meriden Wheel Club, 10 men; Danbury Wheel Club, 15 men; Norwalk and Stamford Wheel Clubs, 15 men; Hartford Wheel Club, 6 men; New Canaan Wheel Club, 12 men; Westport Wheel Club, 12 men; and Torrington Wheel Club, 2 men.

Two thousand people went out to see the races. The track was good and the conditions favorable for fine racing. [Report of races in our last issue.—ED.]

THE HARROWGATE MEET.

We have before us a programme of the tenth annual meet of the North of England cyclists. The programme is endorsed by A. Philipp, Esq., of Bradford, as follows: "If you know of any Americans who want to come over for the camp and races direct them to me and I will see that they get every attention paid them." This is certainly a very generous offer and touring cyclists will no doubt avail themselves of the hospitable offer of Mr. Philipp.

The dates of the meet are August 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. There will be two days' racing, and the following taken from the circular will be of interest:

"The encampment will consist of mess machine, canteen, refreshment, social and 58 bell tents. A special tent will be provided for the sale of fruit in camp. The bell tents will be fitted up with boarded floors. Every camper will be supplied with two pairs of new blankets, pillow and palliasse, and each tent with the necessary washstands, bowls, lanterns, etc. Campers may bring their own tents provideed notice thereof be sent in before the 27th July and that the shape and size thereof do not interfere with the general aspect of the camp of which the committee reserves the right to be sole judge." Breakfast, lunch and dinner will be served at the reasonable rate of $1.62 per day.

Among the rules of the camp are the following very excellent ones, that should put a flea in the ear of the turbulent element: "The committee reserves the right to expel anyone interfering with the comfort of others. Bugling will not be allowed under any circumstances." A camp run on these lines with a powerful brake to be applied on the "too funny" or "too hilarious" element when necessary is something we should like to see in this country.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

HE DID IT—2.48, WITHOUT HANDS.

Alas! for Jack! We are sorry for J. Purvis. To think that Van Wagoner should have the heart to ride a mile with his hands tied behind him in 2.48, and thus make poor Parvis Bruce disgorge the ten dollars for that medal!!! But W. Van Wagoner did it at Roger Williams Park, Providence, R. I., before many witnesses and timers, July 16th, and the very hair of Jack's head will rise as he gazes on the startling time made and realizes how his hard-earned reputation as a prophet and seer is trampled and crushed beneath the rushing whirring wheels of Van Wagoner's safety. The following are the officers: Starter, Thos. Lakey of Providenc, R. I.: Timers, Benj. Smith, Geo. R. McAuslan and L. B. Ballou of R. I. Wheelmen, Providence; Judges Wm. Rankin and C. E. Munroe of Providence.

AT LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 4.—Track.—The half-mile bicycle race at Agricultural Park Thursday was run by John Tufts, D. L. Burke and F. Scheidler. Tufts won the first and third heats; Burke took the second heat. Time, 1.36 1-2, 1.32 and 1.34. Burke won the mile race in 3.17 1-4. The entries were the same.

AT GADSDEN, ALA., July 4.—Track.—Half-mile, L. Hart, 1; J. Berger, the other contestant, took a header: time 1.38. One mile: L. Hart, 1; Thornton, 2; no time. Half-mile: R. Foster, 1; P. Echols, 2; no time. Two miles (handicap): L. Berger, 100 yards, 1; W. Wellford, scratch, 2; time, 8.15. One mile C. C. Shanks, on safety, 1; Sam Berger, on a Star, 2; time, 6m. One mile, Alabama championship: L. Hart, 1; J. Berger, 2 time 4m. Quarter mile: P. Echols, 1; R. Foster, 2; time, 1.05. One mile, consolation: Thornton and Shanks. Thornton winner; no time. 100 yards (slow race), won by Pete Echols in 1.55.

AT FITCHBURG, MASS., July 4.—There were two bicycle races—one for safeties and one for ordinaries. The heats were half-miles; best two in three. There were three contestants in the safety race: H. B. Allen, Will Trolford and Ephraim Brown, and the latter won the first heat, time 1.49 1-2; Allen was second. The second heat and race was also won by Brown; time 1.54; Trolford was a close second. Allen and Trolford went around the track to decide the award of the second prize, a silver medal, which Allen won; time 1.52 1-2. The contestants in the "ordinary" bicycle race were Joseph A. Holland, H. C. Sanborn and George Slater. The prizes were gold and silver medals. In the first heat Sanborn maintained the lead nearly through, when Holland passed him and won in 1.51 3-4, with Sanborn a close second. The second heat resulted like the first, Holland's time being 1.55 1-4.

AT AUGUSTA GA., July 4—Track—One quarter mile novice; T. Sherman (1), safety; E. D. Nave (2), ordinary; time, 50 sec. The Racing Board will probably take notice that safeties and ordinaries competed in this race. Quarter mile: C. A. Bland (1), E. D. Nave (2): time, 50 sec. Quarter mile: dead head between W. A. Sherman and T. Sherman; time, 49 sec. Half mile handicap: G. M Stevenson, scratch (1), W. L. Colson, handicap not given (2); time, 1.30. Half mile: G. M. Stevenson (1), E. D. Nave (2): time 1.38. Quarter mile safety: Tom Sherman (1), W. A. Shurman (2): time, 51 sec. One mile handicap: T. Sherman (1), Morrison (2). No time or handicap given. In this race safety and ordinaries competed. One mile club championship: C. A. Bland (1), S. J. Simmons (2): time, 4.30. Conditions: track heavy and light rain part of the time during the races.

ENGLAND.—At North Shields.—Five-mile professional safety championship, Jack Lee (1), F. W. Allard (2), Tom Battensby (3): time, 17.12 4-5. Ten-mile professional, R. Howell (1), A. H. Robb (2): time, 31 22 3-5 Five-mile amateur safety championship of the North. W. C. Thompson (1), W. McAllister (2): time, 14.59 4-5.

At Leicester.—Twenty-five-mile professional championship, F. W. Allard (1), A. H. Robb (2), R. Howell (3): time, 1.20 42.

Catford C. C.—Open fifty-mile road handie p. K. E. Edge on safety, 26ms. (1): E Dangerfield, 11m. (3); C. A. Smith, the only scratch man, finished tenth: time of Edge, 3.12.42.

At Liverpool.—Sifton and Dingle fifty-mile open road handicap, W. Watson, 65m. (1): R. Lloyd, 6 1-2m. (2): J. Bibby, 14m. (3): time of Watson, 3 25.30. Watson, the winner, is a boy of only fifteen years of age.

A strange story is told of how Willie Wood in his match against Bob English, and likewise in the 30-mile championship, rode a machine without any balls in one side of the bearings. Strange to relate this peculiar and perhaps unprecedented circumstances was unknown to the crack or any of his followers, and has only since been discovered when overhauling the machine.

AT HAGERSTOWN, MD.—Track—A. C. Banker, of New York after the close of the meet at Hagerstown, Md., broke the American amateur half-mile record for safeties, making the distance in 1 minute and 22 seconds. The record had been held by J. P. Englehart, who on September 10, 1885, made a half-mile in 1 minute and 24 3-5 seconds. The English record for the same distance is 1 minute 16 1-5 seconds which was made by W. C. Jones. NORVAL.

AT WASHINGTON, D. C.—Road.—Wm. T. Robertson recently made five miles, between Washington, D. C. and Hyattsville, Md., in 19 minutes and 2 seconds, lowering the record made by him on July 4 by 23 seconds. After a short rest he started on the return trip, accomplishing the distance in 19 minutes and 30 seconds, lowering the record of 19 minutes and 45 seconds, made by H. L. Reynolds by 15 seconds. Timers Rex. Smith, A. H. Wells and T. E. Robertson.

AT STOCKTON, CAL., July 4.—Track.—One mile safety State championship: W. A. Schockley, 1; Sanford Plummer, 2: time, 2.59 1-2. Two-mile L. A. W. State championship: W. G. Davis, 1; R. W. Turner, 2: time 6.48. This race was remarkable for the loafing tactics indulged in until the last few yards. One mile novice race was won by Thomas Duane in three minutes; quarter mile dash by J. E. Hickerbotham in 41 1-58.; one-half mile handicap by A. Cole in 1.20 2-5, breaking the coast record of 1-22; three mile handicap by F. E. Southworth; two-mile safety handicap by W. A. Shockley, 6.25; mile scratch by G. Davis. The races were followed by a tournament drill and ball in the Pavilion.

AT LYNN, MASS.—A novel race was run at Lynn between Chester Hunt and Carey Libbey for a purse of $20 the other day. It was novel in the fact that the distance was only 175 yards. Libby rode a safety while Hunt rode an ordinary. The first heat was won by Libby in 15 3-5s, but the second and third heats were won by Hunt in 16 3-5s. and 17s. respectively.

AT MEMPHIS, TENN., July 5.—Road.—The 10-mile race was won by W. A. Whitmore on the Poplar boulevard July 10 He was the only one present of all the entries, and according to the conditions of the contract was given the race through default after riding over the course. Mr. Whitmore made the run in 42.10.

NOT CORRECT. The Newton Journal in reporting A. W. Porter's feat of climbing Corey Hill four times as "best on record" is wrong. Shurman has ridden it ten times up and down without a dismount. Sam Sterling has ridden 11 times up and down with one dismount and Greenwood has ridden it four times.

ENGLISH VS. AMERICAN RECORDS, The Record of Philadelphia has the following: "Two American bicycling records have been beaten at the Coventry (Eng.) meeting. The mile was made in 2m. 34 5-5s., against Wm. A. Rowe's 2m. 35 2-5s., and W. A. Illston covered two miles in 5m. 12 1-5s." The Record is way off. Rowe's best time is 2m. 29 4-5s., while F. Wood in competition at Springfield in Sept, '86, did the mile in 2m. 32 2-5s. The same man at Hartford the week before did the mile in competition in 2 33. Rowe's 2-mile record is 5.11. The Record should not go to the English papers for correct comparisons of English and American times. Refer to the WORLD and you will be O. K.

WHY NOT?

Editor Bicycling World: I would like to know why it is, in a large city like New York, that the Dept. of Public Parks cannot provide and keep in order at least one cinder path in Central Park for the exclusive use of cyclists. They provide special roads for equestrians—why not make a cinder track on the "circle" in the upper part of the park. The expense would not be much, and I am sure that the cyclists of New York would appreciate their kindness. Yours truly, 23199.

HOW TO MAKE RECORDS.

A VALUED correspondent writes and asks us "how a man's time can become a record." So far as track records are concerned the racing rules of the L. A. W. state that no record can be accepted unless "made in competition between men at an open meeting, of which at least one week's notice has been given." Thus it will be seen that records against time are not accepted by the L. A. W.

The WORLD, however, will accept records made on the track against time. The distance must, however, be proven without a doubt, the timing must be done by no less than two watches of reliable make and manipulated by men who have had experience. When more than one lap has to be ridden, then we require three checkers.

The standard of measurement must be the same as adopted by the L. A. W. (ie). A track shall be measured on a line drawn not more than 18 inches from a defined fixed and continuous inner curb or pole." We should require satisfactory proof as to the size of the track.

The officers to run a record ride must be two timers, three checkers (if over one lap) and a starter. Pace-making is allowed.

The League does not recognize road performances of any kind.

For road records. We require undisputed evidence as to correctness of measurement.

The course for distances from 1 to 20 miles must be over straight away roads, which in the case of distances over 20 miles may be retraversed as many times as is necessary to complete the distance to be run.

Checkers must be placed at intervals along the road, and at every point where a cut off might be made. Timing, when the finish is not at the starting point, must be done by three first-class stop watches which must be set exactly together and then started. One timer must be left at the start, then stop his watch when the start is made. Two timers must be placed at the finish to stop their watches when the finish is made, the elapsed time can then be easily figured. The timer at the start should at once after the start make a written note of the time his watch was stopped.

TRACK BUILDING.

This same correspondent asks for points about track building. We refer him to our issues of March 22 and 29, 1889.

A CASE OF N. H. ROAD HOGGISM.

ON the 13th of June, Mr. Moore and several other cyclers of Exeter, N. H., were returning from Hampton Beach. The time was 9.30 P. M. and a good moon lit the road. The cyclists were on the right side of the road riding single file. Mr. Moore who was leading, saw a team approaching, also on the proper side of the road, but to be sure and give proper warning he blew his whistle, when immediately the driver of the team turned his horses towards the cyclist and forced them into the gutter throwing all o' them, though serious injury did not result to riders or cycles. Suit was brought and nominal damages were awarded. The defendant claimed he did not hear a whistle and he also claimed that his horses shied at the cyclists but as horses do not shy towards a thing they are afraid of, this testimony fell rather flat. The case has been appealed.

THE TALBOT ROAD.

To No. 20,476, concerning the "Talbot Road," Ontario:

If you intend to ride to St. Thomas by all means take the Talbot Road, as you can make the eighteen miles of sand in four hours. The roads east and west of the sand are good.

In case you turn to avoid the sand you will strike clay and sand twice the distance.

I came through the sand last August without any difficulty, and intend to go through again in about three weeks.

Yours respectfully, L. A. W. 21,382.

FROM R. TEMPLE.

Editor Bicycling World: I was extremely sorry not to have seen you in Boston while there Saturday last, though received the courtesy of the "Hub" at the hands of my friend Dr. Emery, also the Coventry Machinists' Co. and Messrs. Singer & Co., and enjoyed a chat at the Herald office with Mr. J. Morse. Night before last while visiting friends in Brooklyn, I dropped in on the "Kings County club rooms," and received as cordial a welcome as upon my arrival from England ten months ago. The boys of the "Kings County" C. C. remind me very much of the Illinois C. C., of Chicago. I was of course invited to again inspect the well appointed club rooms, and then repaired to the wheel room on the base floor. A lengthy chat followed in which all took a prominent part.

The steamship Adriatic is slowly steaming down the North River with its burden of 126 cabin passengers. I find my berth to be in the most pleasant part of the ship, particularly in summer, forward amidship. Magnificent baskets of flowers are in the saloon, which await the admiration of the remembered ones. The list of saloon passengers is particularly brilliant as regards social and political standing, and all bids fair for an enjoyable crossing of the briny.

I am going to England on business (as a Chicago lady gracefully said, "in the interest of cycling"), and expect to be gone some five months. I have gained considerable experience of the cycle business during the past six months, and with my knowledge of wheels we may expect something equal to the past in the future, which will show for itself.

As I go on an important commission whether or not I shall mount a few races I am as yet unable to say, but shall spend many days of pleasure in the gay city, Paris, and if time permits will occasionally drop you a few lines.

With kind regards to all and any inquiring friends, I am

Truly yours, RALPH TEMPLE.

LITIGATION.

We are advised that before Judge Blodgett, U. S. Circuit Court, Northern District of Illinois, on Monday, July 1, a motion to enjoin the Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Co. from using the Copeland patent was argued by the attorneys of the Pope Manufacturing Co., Coburn & Thatcher; Offield & Towle appearing for the defence. The court took the case under advisement, and on Monday, July 8, delivered his decision, denying the injunction. This case is a continuation of an interference case that was pending for some time in the Patent Office at Washington.

In addition to the above we learn that the court said that the defendants were amply responsible and that the case could best be decided at the final hearing. The case will probably, therefore go on to its final hearing without further interference.

FINED $10 AND COSTS.

CHAS. WITTENBERG, a liquor-dealer of St. Louis, was fined $10 in Judge Cady's court last week for careless driving. About 7 o'clock Saturday evening he drove his horse against B. Pratt of 1320 Lasalle street, who was riding a bicycle with other wheelmen on Pine street at the time. The testimony showed that Wittenberg could easily have avoided the accident, but, instead of doing so, turned his horse in such a manner as to strike the rider, injuring him severely and wrecking his wheel. Judge Cady cited the opinion of the Supreme Court that the bicycles had the same right on the road as any other vehicles, and told the defendant that the next offence would merit him a larger fine.

THE ROAD CONGRESS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

SOME few weeks ago the Charleston World proposed to hold a road congress in that State, and the idea was echoed and endorsed far and wide.

The Columbia Record says:

"We are glad to see that such sterling papers as the Charleston World and the Anderson Journal have opened their eyes to the importance of good roads."

"The Record is in favor of the utilizing of the State convicts in improving the public roads, and says that "in place of leasing out these people to compete with honest men in their daily avocations, put them to building highways." Continuing, the same paper says:

"If our people could but once see the grand imperial roads of Europe, they would then comprehend indeed the great advantage of them, and would insist on having them if it took every convict in the penitentiary the balance of his time to build but a single road, say from Columbia to Charleston."

The Anderson Journal in its last issue again takes up the subject of the proposed State convention and speaks out as follows:

TO BRAIN WORKERS.

To have a healthy brain you must have a healthy body. To have a healthy body you must take exercise. Bicycling is the finest exercise in the world. The WHITE FLYER SAFETY is the finest bicycle in the world. Those who ride them have the healthiest bodies in the world. What about their brains? if this reasoning is logical. Read this over again, so as to get the real meaning of the reasoning. Why do you not write us for our illustrated Catalogue? Nearly every League member has, not to speak of the unattached riders all over the country, who would join the League if they knew what a benefit it was to every American wheelman.

Advertising Agents and inventors with good sound ideas on cycle construction write to J. Purvis-Bruce, The White Cycle Co., Westboro, Mass.

Send us something practical, whatever you do. We can do our own song and dance business after business hours. Stand not upon the order of your sending, but send for our catalogue. Mention whether it is to be on scented or unscented paper, so that we can "take your measure." We don't give a snap whether you believe what we say or not. We have a conscience which tells us to go ahead and lay on Mac Duff. Our independent policy has been one reason why so many orders have been booked. Another is the superiority of our bicycles, but "a word to the wise is sufficient."

ADDRESS

THE CAPITAL CYCLE CO., Washington, D. C.

"We can say briefly that we heartily endorsed several weeks ago the suggestion of the Charleston World that a road congress be held in this State, for the reason that, while we believe the present system of road working in this State is very defective and unsatisfactory we can see no hope of improvement unless brought about by such agitation and discussion as could be had by calling together representative, practical men from all sections of the State. The average Legislature is about as capable of dealing with the subject, as the average cross-roads debating society. The average legislator is not only uninformed on the subject, having spent most of his years in dodging road duty, but he is also squeamish about grappling with it for fear it will not be popular. Let there be a clearly defined scheme agreed upon after deliberation and unmistakably pronounced by an assemblage of influential representative men, and the two houses of the legislature will vie with each other in their efforts to pass it first and make it a law."

The Journal, while not wedded to any particular scheme, believes that satisfactory road working can only be done by contract, that property should divide with able-bodied labor in bearing the burden, and that there should be a plan of utilizing the labor of the convict in carrying out the work of improvement.

Now let us hear from other papers in the State on the feasability of holding a South Carolina Road Congress, in time to take action upon a measure to be submitted to the forthcoming session of the legislature.

THE Singer Tandem Safety is now in stock and is ready for delivery. The machine is a likely looking vehicle and we predict for it a ready sale among those who want to ride double. Mr. W. L. Ross, the American manager for Singer, has gone West for a week or two on business.

THE Star has been getting in its work by putting away some very important championship races. Witness the three-mile L. A. W. championship, the one-mile State and four-mile California State championship, at Los Angeles, May 30. Also the half and ten mile L. A. W. championship at Ottawa, Kan. The one-mile

WE understand the Springfield Co. are already having good demand for their new crank safety which they call the "Speedwell." novice and half-mile dash at Hagerstown. The Star also holds the Pacific Coast records from one to five miles. A pretty good showing for so early in the season and we congratulate the Smithville concern.

IN addition to the many victories of the Premier in England this season, both on the road and path, in the hands of such noted fliers as Holbein, Wilson and others, these celebrated wheels have been gleaning fresh laurels on this side of the Atlantic, as chronicled in our advertising columns this week.

THE Eagle seems to be "climbing" into notice. The victory of W. B. Clough over others on Greenfield Hill, Bridgeport, is another feather in the cap of the Eagle people. Ambitious competition on track and road is the very life of trade, and the Eagle seems to want its share of "life."

WORK for workers! Are are ready to work, and do you want to make money? Then write to B. F. Johnson & Co., of Richmond, Va., and see if they cannot help you.

MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

JUST A WORD FOR OURSELVES.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND AGENTS.

In order to supply our agents who have a demand for a Crank Safety (as well as the lever motion) we have arranged the future construction of our Volant so that cranks can be attached as well as levers without altering many of its details, and we are now prepared to fill orders for the Crank Safety Wheel, which we shall call the "Speedwell."

This machine is well and carefully made, being fitted with ball bearings throughout, including ball pedals, Fish's patent hammock saddle, which reduces the vibration to a minimum, and is not only neat in design but simple in construction.

We believe this wheel cannot be equalled in this country at the price ($115). It possesses all the improvements, and is made of the same material as the highest priced wheels now sold. If you are in want of a thoroughly reliable, easy running safety that will give satisfaction to all, we would advise you to place your orders early as we anticipate a big rush. Awaiting your orders, we are,

Very truly yours, SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO.,
178 Columbus ave., Boston.

If you are not our agents or we have not quoted you terms, please write us at once, and in order to be fair to all we must observe the old maxim, "first come first served."

Springfield, July 1st, 1889.

New York.

To the members of the New York State Division:

The half-mile New York State Division Bicycle championship has been awarded to the Lockport Wheelmen to be contested for at their race meet August 15th.

The two mile New York State Division Bicycle championship has been awarded to the Albany Wheelmen to be contested for at their September tournament.

W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.

Connecticut Division.

The seventh annual meeting of this Division was held in the parlors of the Bridgeport Wheel Club, July 8th, 1889.

Meeting was called to order at 10.45 A. M., Chief Consul Larom in the chair.

Minutes of last meeting were read, accepted and ordered on file.

Report of Chief Consul read, accepted and ordered on file.

Report of Secretary-Treasurer read, accepted and ordered on file.

Mr. L. A. Miller, chairman of Racing Committee, reported that they had established the following State championship races: 1 mile bicycle, 1 mile safety, 1 mile tandem safety, and that they had assigned the 1 mile bicycle and the 1 mile safety to the Hartford Wheel Club, to be contested at their race meet to be held September 4 and 5th.

On motion of Mr. L. A. Tracy of Hartford, the following resolutions of respect were passed on the death of our late member, Mr. Stephen Terry.

Resolved, That in the death of Stephen Terry, formerly Chief Consul of this Division, and constantly connected with its management as an active and influential member since the date of its organization, we, the members of the Connecticut Division of the League of American Wheelmen are called upon to lament the loss of one who on account of his sterling integrity and sound judgement was ever regarded as the wisest of our counsellors; and we bear our testimony to the uniform and unfaltering interest shown by him for years in the affairs of the organization, standing by and sustaining it in the early days of its discouragement, as well as rejoicing in its later prosperity and success; and we cherish with pleasant recollections his unfailing courtesy and kindness as an associate whereby he endeared himself to all who knew him by the strongest ties of friendship.

Resolved, That there be entered on our records this expression of the confidence and regard in which the deceased was held by us, and that a copy of the same conveying also our sincere sympathy in her affliction, be sent to his bereaved widow.

On motion of Mr. D. J. Post, rule eigth was amended to include a Transportation Committee.

Mr. Post then moved an addition to the rules as follows; There shall be elected by the Board of Officers a Division lawyer who must be a practicing lawyer and a wheelman. The duties of said Division Lawyer shall be the gathering of all ordinances and laws governing the rights and privileges of wheelmen in the larger cities of the United States. Keeping a record of all decisions in the courts relative to the rights of wheelmen and the keeping of an account of all accidents caused by wheelmen in Connecticut, and he shall be prepared to legally defend in either the courts or Legislature immediately upon instructions from the Chief Consul so to do any action or bill which may be brought or introduced detrimental to the free enjoyment of any Division member or members of his or their just rights and privileges as wheelmen or owners and users of vehicles. The records so kept to be Division property, and accessible at all times to the Chief Consul, Vice Consul or Secretary-Treasurer. Said Division Lawyer to receive as yearly retainer a sum not to exceed $100, and said retainer to be in full for all services as above named. In case of further services ordered by the Chief Consul regular fees shall be paid. Said Division Lawyer to be elected for a term of 5 years, subject to removal at any time by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Officers; to be known as Rule No. 10. Unanimously adopted.

An invitation from the Hartford Wheel Club to hold the Division meet at Hartford Sept. 4 and 5 was read and accepted.

Motion to insert clause "Nomination of Division officers" in order of business at annual meeting was carried.

Nominations for Chief Consul were then declared in order, and Mr. L. A. Miller of Meriden presented the name of Mr. D. J. Post of Hartford, while Mr. C. E. Moore proposed Mr. Calhoun Latham of Bridgeport. Nominations for the other officials were as follows:

Vice Consul, C. E. Moore, Bridgeport.

Secretary Treasurer, E. A. De Blois, Hartford.

Representatives, Joseph Goodman, Hartford; L. A. Miller, Meriden; F. W. Atwater, Bridgeport; and T. W. Gillette, Danbury.

A vote extending thanks to the Bridgeport Wheel Club for the use of their parlors, and also the Bridgeport Wheel Club and the Rambling Wheelmen of Bridgeport for courtesy shown the Division, was carried. As no further business was presented the meeting adjourned.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

MY CYCLING LOG BOOK. By "Papa" Weston. The transitory pleasures of cycling can be made as permanent as its physical benefits, by jotting down in a well devised log book, the distances and incidents of one's various journeys. Knowing that such a record is a most pleasant thing to have, and believing that the keeping of such should be encouraged, as tending to the permanent good of cycling in more ways than can be referred to here. The Log Book is handsomely and strongly bound in red leather, will last for years of constant use, and is the best arranged book of its kind ever yet devised. It fills a want often felt by the cyclist who values records of interest for future reference. Price, post paid, $1.25 For sale by Bicycling World Co., 12 Pearl st., Boston.

☞ Postage stamps not received in payment.

WHEN A MAN TELLS YOU that he makes a bicycle which weighs less and will carry a heavier rider than the

HICKORY SAFETY,

don't argue with him.

In fact it's a poor plan to argue about cycles any way.

If you know you are right just give the other fellow a look of pity and leave him alone with his conscience.

If you are wrong, of course you don't want to have him prove it. But you can say very truly and without fear of trouble that there are worse wheels on the market than those built by the

STERLING CYCLE CO.,

NEWTON, MASS.

P. S. The material used is hickory. There are many tests to which a bicycle may be put, but the only one we hanker for is to take it on the road and use it.

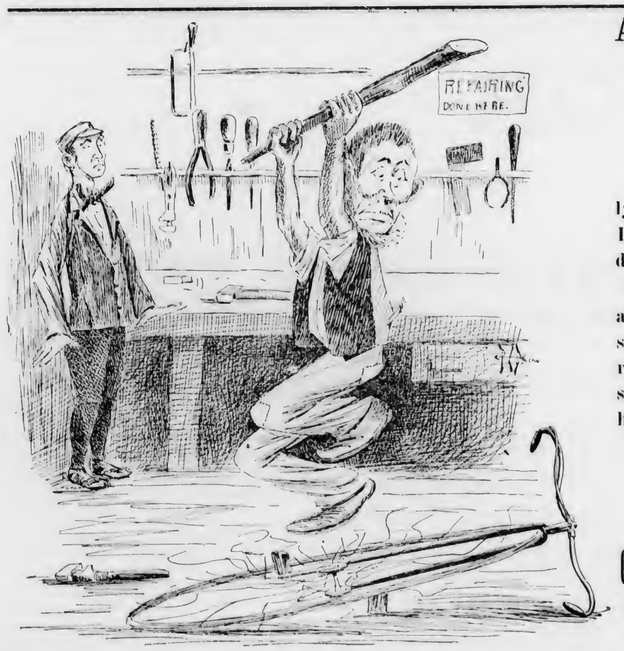
BICYCLES

"IT'S TOO LIGHT!"

Is a remark frequently made by those who look at the QUADRANT SAFETY for the first time. And so it might be if it were not made by a Company who have the most scientific designers and the most skillful workmen in the world.

"WILL IT STAND HARD USAGE?"



Was a question in the mind of one of Philadelphia's most prominent business men, who weighs 200 pounds and often rides from 60 to 100 miles a day over rough roads. He had never ridden anything but the old reliable —— and was a little afraid to trust himself upon a wheel so light as the Quadrant. At the same time he did not want to push that extra 10 pounds of dead weight around with him everywhere, if the lighter wheel was just as strong. So he bought one of the first Quadrant Safeties imported, with a written guarantee that if it did not stand the hard usage he intended to give it, the importers would give him any make of machine in the market in even exchange for it. He still rides a Quadrant and it has never cost him a cent for repairs. If you now tell anyone who knows the history of this machine that the Quadrant is too light, he will tell you that a machine that will stand Mr. ——'s riding will carry anybody.

AND IT WILL!

Additional Second-Hand Wheels on Page 365

PROVIDENCE HEARD FROM.

"SINGER SAFETY BICYCLES lead them all!! But not in the repair shop. More Singers sold this season than any other make of Safety. Strongest, handsomest and finest running Safety that was ever invented by a cycling genius. It has a raking, racing looking build. Has the only Spring-wired Tire. Can't come out. No other Safety has it. Why not? Because Singer & Co. have got the finest thing, and they are going to keep it to themselves. The Singer has the most powerful brake can be used. Always reliable. The Singer rides easily and comfortably. No lame back or loose false teeth, if you ride a Singer. The Singer is made for comfort as well as speed. If you don't believe it try one. We give you a fine spring saddle of any make you may choose. The Singer is such a reliable wheel, that despite the large number ridden, if we were to depend for one-quarter of our repair work on Singers, we should have red flag flying over our door in no time. Its name is Singer, but not rattler. Notice the handsomest wheels among the leaders in any road scorch and you will find they are Singers, and then notice that they don't rattle like a low gear loaded with hoop iron. If you want to see a first-class piece of cycle mechanism, beg, borrow, steal or hire a Singer Safety and pull it apart. The very finest workmanship will be displayed. Notice the ball bearings. Notice the chain adjustment. Notice the fine finish. In fact, if you want to see the acme of cycle mechanism notice the Singer. CAMPBELL & CO., 33 Page St., Providence, R. FOR PAST THREE WEEKS

THE

Has not been advertised! Because we could not keep up or fill our orders. The factory is now delivering an increased number, and we again present the merits of this popular wheel, which has had so great a demand. Not a day since the opening of the year have we been up with our orders!! It tells the story.

The advantages of Trigwell's Ball Head to the Ordinary are even surpassed in its application to a Safety (in fact it seems specially designed for a Safety), for by its rigid bearing, and not needing adjustment, it keeps the front wheel steady and obviates sensitive steering, which fault all Safeties have had.

SPRING FRONT FORK, preventing vibration—very easy and out of sight.

REAR AXLE BAND BRAKE, the place for a brake—not fouled with mud as when near the tire. Noiseless.

Has Perfectly Straight Front Fork, giving steadiness of running to front wheel.
Has Tangent Spokes, half nickeled to intersections, giving a very handsome appearance.
Has Strengthened Base Hollow Rim.
All Steel Forgings and Interchangeable Parts. Highest quality American-made Wheel.

Also New Mail Ordinaries, all Sizes. Don't fail to send for Catalogue.

BOSTON, 26 JULY, 1889.

IT is with the greatest regret that we frequently find it necessary to denounce the use of sidewalks by wheelmen, in violation of the rights of foot passengers. It is so essential to the unrestricted use of cycles in our public highways that wheelmen should conduct themselves with a due regard to the rights of others, that we give full publicity to the following, from the Springfield Republican, on the "Aggressive Bicycle," in hopes that it may lead to more careful riding by the young and thoughtless:

"In Springfield a very real and present danger to which foot passengers are exposed comes from another source. We have heard much discussion regarding the rights of 'wheelmen,' and it is high time something were said for the average citizen on foot, whose right of way runs far back of the invention of bicycles. The riders of these vehicles have grown utterly regardless of people on foot, so much so that one never hears a whistle sounded when the the wheelmen pass over the cross-walks, and men, women and children are left to look out for themselves as best they may. The result is any number of narrow escapes and many accidents. One man on his way to the depot was struck by one of these riders, thrown to the ground and his hand seriously cut, to say nothing of the injury to clothing. He had carefully scanned the outlook for teams, but this silent rider, who turned the corner suddenly, ran his victim down and then disappeared. Another rider of 'the silent steed' pushed his 'machine' into a big shop window on Elm street —and took his departure before he could be identified. What is to be done to protect the pedestrian from the wheelman? The least that should be asked is that the riders be compelled to toot their whistles vigorously and long before passing the cross-walks. Our ancient rights have been in suspension quite long enough."

This sort of riding is much increased by the introduction of the safety, as one can, on the small rear driver, dash along with impunity, when formerly on the ordinary the results to the rider alone would have been disastrous.

Let wheelmen but remember that wheelmen have the same rights on public highways as the users of other vehicles, that they are subject to the regulations, liabilities and penalties, and we will hear few complaints from the public. This protest from Springfield, which has been reprinted in our Boston papers is entitled to weight and consideration, for the Springfield Republican has ever shown a friendly disposition towards our sport.

WE cannot complain when an esteemed contemporary criticizes our correspondents, as that is a privilege we cannot deny them, but we claim "an exclusive" in apologizing for the acts and words of our own correspondents, and in the impertinent attempt to deprive us of that prerogative Mr. Prial has overstepped the bounds of courtesy, and we must ask him to desist hereafter in any uncalled apologies in behalf of "Jack," or any other of the WORLD'S correspondents. We can take care of that without any aid from our over-officious friend in New York.

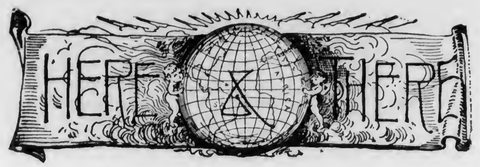
As to the Maryland men being "deeply offended at Jack's report of the League meet," if praising their generous hospitality offends, then our report, no doubt, offended.

Because a gentleman invites you to his house and gives you the freedom thereof of wine cellar or stable, is that license to the true gentleman, think you, to drink himself to the obnoxious point and ride all the horses in the stable to a standstill?

By the way, the reading of the kind "apology" in one column of our New York contemporary and the article on the next will readily show to the acute reader the difference between tweedle dee and tweedle dum, and we wonder how the Marylanders will like the whys and wherefores of the second article, we wonder if they will be pleased.

A GREAT deal of bewailing has been indulged in by the press, because in the recent death of Mr. Seymour the "secret" of the production of aluminium at low cost, died with him.

Now the fact is, that this metal has never been produced at such a cost as to make it of practical use, or to bring it in competition with steel as a constructive metal. We are told by experts that aluminium, like electricity, is not yet quite understood, that it is a treacherous metal working like a charm under certain manipulations at one time and then again with the same treatment becoming "mealy" or "flakey."



The world need not bewail the loss of Mr. Seymour's secret too deeply, as it is a loss which will not affect the steel trade or the lightness of cycles.

The element of secresy which entered so largely into Mr. Seymour's methods cast a shadow of doubt in our eyes as to its value.

The Keely motor is a "secret" that has cost its believers many ducats, and yet the world at present is no gainer by the device. We have in mind a process invented by a man who lived in Boston, for producing sugar from common corn. The machine for producing it was shown in operation to certain gullable folks, and sure enough the corn went in the hopper and the sugar came out at the other end, but the process was kept a secret by the inventor. "Secrecy" was his best hold. "Seeing is believing," said the monied spectators, and so they "invested." The "inventor" collected about $50,000 and skipped. Investigation showed the fraud. The machine was a conjuror's contrivance, but in putting in the corn the "inventor" managed to to grind out dollars, all because of his "secresy."

Secresy confined to one man has an odor of the fish, fishy.

THE Wethersfield, Ct., Wheel Club gave a house-warming at their new headquarters in the Comstock block. The evening was spent in card playing, music and the consumption of much good tobacco.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

It has been so long a boast of wheelmen that cycling and its upholders were constantly progressing that when at this late date an example of retrogression is discovered it becomes particularly noticeable for its rarity if for nothing else. Many years ago, as cycling time is measured, the English law of wheeling was based upon idleness versus labor, or, to put it more definately, only those riders maintained with "trade" were considered as amateurs, and all those to the contrary were excluded from that sanctified state of wheeling dubbed "amateurship." This was a peculiar ruling and but little suited to American ideas, so that when the L. A. W. formulated its amateur standard it made all men equally amateurs whether they labored or not, provided they did not otherwise fall below the definition of an amateur. To show, though, how early impressions retain their hold upon the minds of those who at a later day have discovered their incorrectness, it may be well to note here, how we who were then attempting to father the infant cyclos were wont to be thrown into a state of extreme alarm every time we in our great wisdom saw, or rather thought we did, any attempt of the "trade," in the sense of the manufacturer, attempting to get a hold upon the L. A. W. No matter how much the losing side of a question one might have, it was only necessary to spring the old cry that the "trade" was working with the other side, and this cry of wolf never failed to carry the day for the side that raised it. As we grew older, and perhaps wiser, it dawned upon us that no matter how much interest we might have in seeing cycling prosper, that the "trade" had equally as much, if not more, and that in consequence we should look upon them as allies, not as enemies. The correctness of this idea needs no defence when we look at the mammoth proportions of wheeling to-day, and while I myself in the elder day, as often raised the cry of "trade" as did anyone else, yet I am forced to confess that our present greatness lays more to the credit of the intelligent aid and work of the "trade" than to our puny efforts. I need not mention what Col. Pope and Charles Pratt did for the cause when it was from its infancy unable to do for itself; that is history and well known to all. Was not Frank Weston connected with the trade, and yet can any one question the good of his labors or the quantity thereof? Because Geo. Bidwell, by being in the "trade," practically thereby as well as theoretically, aided cycling, should his good work be therefore questioned? Decidedly not. I might quote the names of Mason, Garden, Overman, Barkman and Bull, and a hundred more, to prove the correctness of my claim that the "trade" is the greatest bulwark of the cause, but it is needless to do so since all fair-minded the subject admit the assertion. But to come to the example of retrogression I have at the beginning of this item. A short time since it became necessary for a prominent League club to nominate a candidate for L. A. W. representative, and the name of one of the hardest workers in the cause was presented to them as one most capable of filling the office, and what was the result? He was not chosen because forsooth, so 'tis said, he was branded with the iniquitous mark of "trade." He had dared to earn a living by working practically in the cause of cycling, defending it from the attacks of its traducers and attempting in every way in his power to see it prosper and succeed, and yet for this, or for no better reason, was he denied the office that none were better qualified than he to fill. I had not expected to ever again see the resurrection of that poor, battered ghost of "trade," but it seems as though I have.

They are going to pave 72d street from Central Park to the Riverside drive with asphalt, and the hearts of wheelmen are in consequence made glad.

For any rider heretofore to attempt to climb Eagle Rock hill was to brand himself as a would be hill climber, since there was no object for him to attempt the feat for any other object that the performance of it. Now, however, through the kindness of the residents of Orange this is to be remedied, as they are going to construct on the summit of the rock an observatory 400 feet high, equipped with passenger elevators and other comforts, so that now when a wheelman is seen grinding up Eagle Rock it will no longer be said he is attempting to achieve fame by doing so, but is simply riding up to take a view from the observatory.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

One evening as several of the C. B C. were discussing the qualifications of certain applicants for membership, the guileless Schultz asked: "What do you think of a man who would bury two children in the morning and go to a picnic in the afternoon?" The indignant Secretary immediately wanted to know who could be guilty of such heartless conduct, and when he learned that it was an undertaker, his collapse was sudden and complete.

The Young Men's Christian Association have bought the lot on the northwest corner of Seventh and Walnut. They will begin about September 1st to erect thereon a handsome five-story structure that will cost not less than $100,000. It will contain among other accommodations a camera room and a wheel room.

The following, from the Cincinnati correspondence to the Wheel, does injustice to the "Duke:" "When riding back to Hamilton the club had formed in two lines. My informant was riding on the side path when he was ordered to fill in in the rear of the club if he wished to ride with them. The 'Duke' giving orders soon found he was talking to a free American citizen that had no intention of obeying." The facts in the case are these: When, at the conclusion of their race, the C. B. C. formed into line to ride into Hamilton, several outsiders crowded themselves in. No objection was made and all went well for about a mile, when Mr. Informant took a notion to ride on the side path, and the "Duke" said to him: "If you wish to ride with this club you must keep in line." The C. B. C. have certain rules which they obey and which they think any one who sees fit to ride with them should also obey. They ride double file whenever and wherever possible. Each one keeps in line with the man in front of him, and about fifteen feet behind him. They have been so frequently complimented on the good order in which they ride that they are very particular in the observance of these rules. The action of Mr. Informant who "had no intention of obeying" was to say the least in very bad taste.

There are to be several races at the Carthage fair on the 20th of August. If they are to be a repitition of last year's races, a three-minute man against several four and five minute men, they will not be very interesting. What is needed is class races. The contestants would then be more evenly matched and the races closer and more exciting.

On the 15th inst. the C. B. C. went to Coney Island. They had issued a number of invitations to local wheelmen to accompany them and be their guests for the day. If all those invited had accepted there would have been in the neighborhood of one hundred in the party. As it was, however, there were only fifty-nine. The camera fiends were out in force, and in addition to the usual musical (?) instruments there was Count von Bismark with his "corneto." Several of the invited have since expressed themselves as very well pleased with the way they were treated by the "Celestials."

Crossing the Carthage pike just south of Elmwood is a liitle stream called Bloody Run. The reason why it bears that name is very thrillingly told by a local poet, Dr. Jno. E. Douglass, Jr., in his "Legend of Bloody Run." According to him, at a time when Porkopolis was still a dream and when most of the C. B. C. were yet unborn, a solitary trapper saw the water of this stream dyed with the life blood of those who had fallen but a short time before in a desperate encounter between a band of red men and a squad of soldiers, and from this circumstance it received the name it now bears.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

"ALLIGATOR."

I suppose it would seem almost incredible to you, writing as I am from Florida, to state that our breezes here, in July, are so cool that we have to wear our coats continually, but it is nevertheless a fact. Our country roads are not rideable, but around the city proper and in the city we have twenty-one miles of the finest shell roads imaginable, which lead in different directions, one eight miles, another five, another six and a small one four. Our eight-mile road is the scene of our daily rides or races, for they are really races, that is they are "start even and see who will be in first." Still we will not admit that we have raced.

The Jacksonville Cycling Club is making a great effort to build a six-lap track in the grounds of the Sub. Tropical Exhibition Company, and I think they will accomplish their purpose. I do not think that there is any city in the country that takes to bicycling as we do. Our races are always attended by immense crowds. If cycling continues to boom as it has been we will soon have a division. Even some of our old business men are talking wheel and thinking very seriously of safeties.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

Vacation, excursions and business have prevented "Salina" from writing the World the happenings in our busy city. However, bicyclingly speaking, we have been on the move and many enjoyable runs and tours have been participated in by the Syracuse cycling men. Pleasant Beach, a resort on Onondaga Lake, seems to be popular this year and cyclers make this their destination very frequently. Captain Chapin led twenty-five men aroud tae lake last Monday night, stopping at the Beach. The roads were in prime condition and everything was in harmony with a fine trip. All agree that this run was the best of the season.

"The best laid plans of mice and men," etc., is, alas! too true. Our genial treasurer, Frank McChesney, has had for some time a pet scheme, and had so arranged matters that everything was ripe for a trip by wheel to New York but at Herkimer, on the 4th, he was the victim of a header which injured his knee-cap, making riding out of the question for some time. He is now sojourning at Block Island looking for change and rest. He writes us that the waiters are getting his change and the landlord what is left.

That "practice makes perfect" is true, and particularly so in the case of many of our club men. Before the billiard and pool tables were placed in the rooms only a few knew anything of the games, and E. McDougal said he "didn't see how he could shoot such big marbles!" But you should see him now! Ye gods! he's more than a shark. "Salina," in a fit of rash carelessness, tackled him in a game of billiards the other day, and was completely annihilated, roasted, painted yellow, and set on the shelf. Little Mac would slam into the balls first on the light red and then cushion carom on the white and would always score.

Speaking of billiards, what has become of the tournament that was so popular a short time since? It has faded away and nothing remains but the dusty score board in the corner. Gentlemen of the committe, you should take a day off and boom this tournament as it is both instructive and a source of revenue to our club coffers.

We are sorry to see a man with the racing abilities of Captain Chapin retire from the track. The captain has speed, wind and pluck, and always rides in splendid form. A race been between Irving Fuller of Rome and Chapin would be most interesting as they are very evenly matched and are fast friends. Fuller recently defeated Metz of Utica and now holds the title of "champion amateur of Central New York."

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

All the cyclists of this city are rejoicing over the arrest and conviction of a road hog by name of Louis Whittenberg, who attempted to run over a member of the Cycle Club two weeks ago. On the night in question the club was riding out Pine street in twos, on the right hand side of the street, and when near Thirty-second street encountered said party, who maliciously ran into B. Pratte, the shafts striking him in the breast. The wheel was dragged for some distance but not damaged. As soon as the riders had recovered from their surprise they, upon suggestion of A. L. Jordan, gave chase and captured the offender before he had gone three blocks, and held him until the arrival of the police, who were summoned from the station near by and came post haste. The trial was set for Monday, but was postponed until Wednesday, when both sides appeared, being represented by counsel. W. Brown made the charge on behalf of the wheelman, and Judge Cady, after hearing the feeble defence that the cyclists were riding six abreast, found defendant guilty, fining him $10 and costs, with the remark that the fine would be doubled at the next offence. The road hog tried hard to get Mayor Noonan to remit the fine, but it was of no use, as Sloan Tracy had posted the executive on the merits of the case. Mr. Brown deserves and should receive the thanks of all wheelmen for his gratuitous services in this case, the result of which, it is hoped, will teach drivers to let wheelmen severely alone in future.

Captain Sanders, of the Cycle Club, is in receipt of a letter from R. D. Garden, acting on behalf of Lumsden, challenging Barnard, for a $100 medal. The challenge will not be accepted just yet, but "bide a wee," "Stroller," and your 2.39 man may be accommodated.

July 4 was a great day for the Cycle Club, as not only did her racers carry off nearly all the prizes at Sedalia, but they were also successful elsewhere. At Hannibal A. L. Gilmore won the first, and A. J. Emery second prize, while Hayes Campbell carried off the honors at Washington, Ind.

In appreciation of the valuable services rendered the racing contingent of the Cycle Club at Sedalia, its members, to the number of forty, rode out to Vice President Todd's house on the evening of July 6th and presented him with a fine gold headed silk umbrella. After the recipient had recovered from his surprise he accepted the gift with a characteristic speech and invited the donors indoors, where his unbounded hospitality was done full justice.

Many a tough ride has been taken by our riders in the past, but last Sunday Captain Hildebrand took the Missouris out for a ride to Pacific and return, and it, for toughness, equals if not exceeds them all. The distance is only [Whew!! only.—Ed.] 78 miles but it is the kind of distance and not the length that counts. The route lay over the Manchester road, which was in fine condition to the county line, thence a mud road, four miles in length over hills or rather mountains to which De Soto is not a circumstance, to Pacific. Two miles from the county line the party was caught in the rain, and a sorrowful plight they were in, being obliged to walk their wheels the entire distance and make numerous stops to clean them out. They arrived at Pacific at 12.30 P. M., where they had their photos. taken, and left on the return at 2.30 A. M. arriving at the county line at 4 P. M., Ballwin 5.25 P. M., and St. Louis 8.35 P. M. Besides Captain Hildebrand and Lieutenant Geo. F. Peckham, three members of the Missouris, W. P. and Ed. Grath and Jno. Hurck, and Dick Hurck of the Cycle Club, made the trip. In spite of the hard ride Captain Hildebrand climbed Solomon's Hill, hands off, on the return. [What material are these men made of?—Ed.] It is the first time a club run was ever called to this point, and great credit is due Captain Hildebrand for the manner in which he put his men through and the successful termination of the run is a big feather in the Missouris' cap, which no club will pluck from them in the near future.

Our Park Commissioner is justly indignant about cyclers riding on foot paths, but when he states that he will shut bicycles out of the parks altogether, he is going too far. He says: "I intend to enforce the law and confine the bicycle riders to the roadways in Forest Park. The foot paths in the parks are made for pedestrians, and the roadways are for vehicles. I do not propose to have pedestrians in the parks annoyed by bicycle riders. Another thing, if I hear of any more horses being frightened by bicycles on the roadways in the park, I will stop bicycle riding altogether. The police will be called on to arrest bicycle riders hereafter found riding on any foot paths in the public parks." So now, you sidewalk hogs, you have got your deserts and have made another enemy for cycling.

The Globe-Democrat published an item to-day to the effect that W. D. Banker, of Pittsburg, had accepted Hal Greenwood's challenge. On inquiry I find Hal has beard nothing from him nor from anybody else. It seems strange that a challenge of this kind should remain open so long. Greenwood insists that if accepted, there shall be three climbs, best two to take championship, loser to pay all traveling, training and hotel expenses of winner, and furnish a $100 medal.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

The Chief Consul has addressed the following letter to Mayor Latrobe: "Dear Sir—The Park Heights, or Pimlico road, is in an extremely bad condition. The road-bed is now little more than a series of gutters, and the inequalities of the surface and the presence of large boulders make riding on it, especially at night, a real danger to life, limb and property. This has long been a favorite road for pleasure riding, besides accommodating a large business traffic. Cannot something be done in the way of repairing it? At least 5000 cyclers and perhaps as many more drivers are interested in this road, and I have received many solicitations to call your attention to it. A rough estimate makes the cost of thorough repairs to be not over $3000. It is urged by many that in the September festivities in this city this road will be used more than any other in the vicinity, and that early action in the matter is desirable for that reason. Very respectfully, your obedient servant. Albert Mott."

The Crescent Club will give, on Friday, July 26th, an excursion to "beautiful" Tolchester. A large crowd of wheelmen will no doubt be present. The races, which will be a feature of the occasion, are: Two-mile handicap, ordinaries and safeties; one-mile handicap, ordinaries and safeties, for members of the Crescent Club only; slow race, fifty yards; one-mile, ordinaries and safeties; ordinaries and safeties, half-mile; half-mile, tandem bicycles. The Race Committee are: W. S. Callaghan, Sam'l N. Smith and J. T. Coleman. Entries closed July 24.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE wheelmen of Bridgeport, Conn., have joined forces with the owners of carriages to petition the Common Counsel of that city to stop using salt water in the sprinkling of the streets. The Board of Health of that city petitioned the Council for sanitary reasons to stop using the harbor water for sprinkling purposes, but the petition has gone to sleep on the table. The owners of carriages and cyclers now propose to see what can be done. Salt water is death on varnish, enamel and nickel plate.

THE Albany (N. Y.) Wheelmen have decided to hold their race meeting this fall on "Labor Day," Monday, September 2, when some of the best amateur and professional racers in the country will compete for prizes.

"SENATOR" MORGAN'S aggregation is meeting with great success in the West. After a week in Salt Lake City they went to Denver, Colorado. From this place they go to San Francisco, and will sail for Australia about September 1st.

"THERE appears to be trouble in the Cambridgeport (Mass.) Cycle Club. First Lieutenant Carman, Second Lieutenant Fay and Financial Secretary Nowell all resigned Tuesday night, and the former has left the club altogether. It is not improbable that others may do so later. George Kehew has been elected Captain in place of W. T. Roop, who resigned several weeks ago."—Exchange.

THE Newark Journal is responsible for the report that the Orange Wanderers will probably disband at the next meeting. We can scarce believe this, and especially when the paper states that "the prime cause is said to be that the roads around Orange are too good for a club to live." If true, then the reason is a paradox.

CAPTAIN ELMER E. IRVING, of the Albany Wheelmen, left that city July 17 for a month's trip on his wheel through Western Massachusetts.

IN the official department of this paper will be found a full programme of the Massachusetts Division meet, to be held at Cottage City, August 8, 9 and 10.

THE Hartford Wheel Club have changed the dates of their tournament to September 2d and 3d. See particulars in another column.

THERE will be a one-mile challenge race at Roger Williams Park, Providence, R. I., August 1, between Arthur Cummings of Newport and Arthur Hutchings of Providence, R. I., for a gold medal. Hutchings will ride an ordinary and Cummings a safety. The start will be made at 7 P. M. sharp. It promises to be a close race.

MR. F. P. PRIAL has been put in nomination by certain parties, in opposition to the "regular" nominee, Mr. G. B. Watts, Jr., both gentlemen from the same club. This will tend to elevate the temperature of the atmosphere in the vicinity of the New York Bicycle Club.

THE Bulletin of Pittsburg, Pa., discredits the story of a dead cyclist being found clinging to a bicycle saddle after the late flood, as told by Mr. Lewis, of Johnstown, Pa. What has Mr. Lewis to say in the WORLD?

AT a meeting held last week, at the Quincy House, Boston, by wheelmen of the North End, it was decided to organize a club to be known as the "North End Cycle Club." The club took its first run Tuesday to Echo Bridge, and in the evening was tendered a reception by the President, R C. McDonald, at his residence in Brookline.

THERE is a heap of prejudice to be overcome in some sections before ladies can ride bicycles without adverse comment, witness the following from a Nashville (Tenn.) paper: "There is amongst Southern people a lingering abhorrence of such masculine innovations that is going to require many years to remove. A girl may be modest and ladylike under all circumstances, but whenever the question comes home direct to a man, he is going to raise a kick nine times out of ten, as far as his own women folks are concerned. He won't want his sister to ride one of the blamed things. Nor, as far as that is concerned, will he want to see his grandmother ride one. It may be all right for some other fellow's sister, but don't persuade his to attempt the feat."

THE proposed tour under the auspices of the Scranton Bi. Club is exciting a good deal of interest. The States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York will be the touring ground. Parties desiring to join should decide as early as possible—not later than August 1, stating at what point they wish to join and at what point leave the party. The trip is an assured one, with at least five members, and any suggestion or advice will be thankfully received. Later announcements will be mads as to what equipment is advisable, and whatever is decided upon will be furnished at special price to the party. Anyone thinking of joining the party, by sending or handing the secretary 20 cents in 2-cent postage stamps to pay for postage and printing, will be kept informed as to the progress of the arrangements. As soon as the personnel of the party is completed, and several days before the start, officers will be selected and announced. B. P. Connelly is secretary.

THE Salt Lake City Wheelmen complain because they have not a skilled bicycle repairer. Here is a chance for some enterprising cycle mechanic.

A CYCLER of Bridgeport, Ct., distinguished among other good qualities for being very tall was riding through Seaside Park the other day, when he was hailed as follows: "Say, young man, please pick me off a star."

THE following is a very spiteful sting from our usually good-natured friend, the Lynn Bee. The item was evidently written by an individual whose digestion was out of repair, and the facts do not bear out the conclusions he arrives at: "The bicycle has become so familiar that it has ceased to be a matter of interest, any more than a wheelbarrow or hand-cart. The experts and professionals, by their tricks and frauds, made their public exhibitions of speed and endurance a nuisance, and people became disgusted with their performances, and the sports are no longer regarded as marvels. The use of the wheel has become less general, notwithstanding the efforts of manufacturers to keep them spinning. The exercise is too exhausting to promote health, and the frequent headers are strong persuaders to many to relinquish its use as a pastime, and many a machine will be relegated to the cock loft, and in years to come will be regarded with about the same interest as the spinning wheels of our grandmothers."—Bee.

MASSACHUSETTS' districts are entitled to Representatives as follows: No. 1, 4; No. 2, 2; No. 3, 1; No. 4, 1: No. 5, 2; No. 6, 1.

MR. CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW as a bicyclist is a new personage. The following paragraph appeared in every one of the London papers Saturday morning: "Chauncey M. Depew and Ralph Temple, the renowned American cyclists, arrived from New York in the Adriatic this morning."

THE lantern parade at Lancaster, Pa., in connection with the recent tournament, was given on Thursday night. It made up in quality what was lacking in the expected quantity. The parade was viewed by thousands all along the line.

IN the matter of the trouble in the New York Club we are advised that the committee waited on Mr. Shriver and prevailed on that gentleman to withdraw his resignation as president of that club.

MR. GEO. B. THAYER, of "Pedal and Path" fame, who crossed this continent on a cycle and toured through Europe, the other day delivered an excellent lecture before the Armory Hill Y. M. C. A. of Springfield. The affair was quite a hit.

A HARTFORD (Conn.) paper is responsible for the awful whopper that a factory is starting in Bridgeport, Conn., for the purpose of building aluminum bicycles which will weigh only 12 lbs. We should advise our readers not to sell their steel bicycles just yet, in the expectation of being able to purchase a 12 lb. one, built of aluminum.

THE track of the Montreal Athletic Club is said to have cost $74,000; it is looked on as the fastest bicycle track in the world. It is three laps to the mile. Races will be held on it August 24.

THE races to be held at Yellowhouse, Berks Co., Pa., tomorrow promise to be among the most important to be held in that state this year. We are advised that the field of entries is larger than in the recent Lancaster meet.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., is enforcing the local ordinance requiring bicycles to carry lamps after dark.

THE following choice hide-bound 9th century suggestion of dealing with cycles in Topeka, Kan., is worthy of perusal as a specimen of idiocy: "If the law and ordinances cannot reach the bicycle cranks of Topeka, the city might get rid of the nuisance by fixing a heavy license. This is the way merry go-rounds are regulated, and few of them are in the country in consequence. The license scheme failing, the insane asylum is close at hand." We are glad that the asylum is handy and we soon expect to hear that the scribbler who penned the above is an inmate.

MR. E. CURRY, Captain of the Washington Cycle Club, favored us with a brief call last week Tuesday.

WE are sorry to hear that Mr. Mecredy, of the Irish Cyclist, is likely to be confined to his house, from injuries resulting from his accident, and that he is not likely to be in condition to race again this season from the same cause.

SOME PEOPLE THINK

That the EAGLE Cannot Climb a Hill.

—BUT—

The EAGLE took First Prize at the Hill Climbing Contest at the Meet of the L. A. W., Bridgeport, Conn., July 8th.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 14th, 1889.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.:

Gentlemen—I have been riding my EAGLE now for a little over six weeks, and am better pleased with it every time I ride it. Those who were so loud at first in criticising the wheel, and who claimed that I would never be able to climb a hill with it, and that the wheel was not at all practical, have all had to "pull in their sails," as I have ridden through sand and up hills where a good many of our riders, both of Ordinary and Safeties, have had to dismount. I have also learned to ride one wheel for a distance of two hundred yards, and with only two days' practice, and I think that in the course of a week or so I will be able to ride one wheel any distance I wish on a good road.

To-morrow I expect to make the run from Sacramento to Stockton and return, a distance of 102 miles. This trip has only been made by three riders, though many have attempted it and failed; and if I succeed, which I have no doubt I will, it will be a good adv. for the EAGLE.

Yours very truly, H. G. TOLL.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 28th, 1889.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.:

Gentlemen—I made the run of which I spoke without any trouble, and am more pleased with the EAGLE than ever. My actual riding time was ten hours, which taking the roads into consideration, was very good. I found the EAGLE to be the easiest running wheel I ever rode. I was in no condition for the ride, having been ill and unable to ride my wheel until two days before I started; and yet I made the trip without any difficulty, and my muscles did not bother me in the least, which is good proof to my mind that the motion of the legs as used on the EAGLE is much less tiresome than that used on the Ordinary.

Yours truly, H. G. TOLL.

THE Singer Company Cycling Club held its third annual picnic at Deer Park, Stoneleigh, near Coventry, on July 6. Nearly 400 cyclers participated. The Apollo band, made up of musicians in the employ of the Singer Co., led the procession on a Victoria sixteen-in-hand, and played merrily as they pedalled.

THE Secretary of the Chambersburg (Pa.) Wheel Club writes and complains that "Jack" did not mention among the clubs that of the Chambersburg Wheelmen, which was on hand 38 strong. We hasten to correct the omission, with apologies to the Chambersburg men. In such cases it is almost impossible not to omit something of more or less import.

ROUTE WANTED.—No 079 writes: "Can any one give the best and most direct route from New Bedford, Mass., to Lowell, Mass." [We would suggest to 099 that he procure a Mass. Road-book from the Division.—ED.]

W. VAN WAGONER writes and says he is open to a challenge from any amateur in the United States to a long distance road race on road wheels. The time he made in the first half of the 250 miles' challenge race at Providence, 1 hour 22 minutes, was very good considering the high wind and a little rain. Mr. Van W. will probably show up at Hartford races.

THE Referee of Chicago has been coming to us in a new dress and printed on white paper. The quality of this paper, typographically and editorially, is greatly improved, and we hope to see evidences of continued and deserved prosperity of our lively and bright Chicago contemporary.

AN OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT.

THE Brooklyn Times has the following article, which, if correct, is one of the most high-handed outrages ever recorded as being perpetrated by a so-called guardian of the peace:

"If the rights of bicycle riders are to be upheld by the League of American Wheelmen the officials should push the case brought by Lester W. Beasley, a member of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, against Mounted Policeman Kelly, of the Ocean Parkway force. If the statements made by several wheelmen, and the bruises upon Beasley's body, and the smashed condition of his wheel speak for anything, Kelly should remain upon the police force about long enough to have a hearing and be dismissed.

On Saturday evening last Beasley and a friend were riding at a not very rapid rate along the Ocean Parkway, and according to their statements, when they reached Parkville Officer Kelly came along in the opposite direction. The wheelmen say he was so drunk that it was all he could do to sit upright in the saddle. He made some remark which the wheelmen paid no attention to, but Beasley said to his companion, in a voice which he did not intend to be overheard, 'hurry up and come on, he is drunk.'

Kelly did near it, though, and began to curse and swear at them. They shoved their wheels along as fast as they could to get away from Kelly, but the officer, waiting while they had gone a little distance, turned about, and, urging his horse to his utmost speed, ran Beasley down. The horse reared as it reached the wheelman and came with both feet on the machine. Rider and wheel were thrown to the ground and the horse's hoofs came down on the wheelman's legs. Kelly all the while shouting: 'I'll show you whether I am drunk or not.' The wheel was taken back to the city in a hired wagon and Beasley had to return in the same way.

This morning Beasley obtained a warrant for Kelly's arrest on a charge of assault in the second degree from Justice McMahon, of Parkville. He called first at the Butler street police court, but Justice Tighe advised him to go to Parkville, and also to make it assault in the second degree, so as to have it eventually brought before the Grand Jury. Beasley is well known in wheeling circles. He resides at 591 Willoughby avenue and is a broker at 85 Beaver street."

FROM BOSTON TO LACONIA, N. H.

Editor Bicycling World: I note in yesterday's issue the inquiry of Mr. Edgar E. Brown of Providence in regard to the best route between Boston and Laconia, with special reference to that part of it beyond Nashua.

If Mr. Brown will accept the disinterested advice of one who has "been there," he will not wheel to Laconia via Lowell and Nashua as he evidently intends. His best route is by way of Salem, Beverly, Ipswich, Rowley, Newburyport Salisbury, Portsmouth, Dover and Rochester, to Alton Bay, thence by steamer on the lake—[See B. & M. time tables.]—to Weirs or Lake Village, thence by wheel to destination.

This route is not much longer and gives first class roads all the way, with the exception of one six-mile stretch between Dover and Rochester, which, however, is as good as the average whole route via Nashua.—Yours truly,

GEO. H. PERRY.

THE TOURISTS IN LA BELLE FRANCE.

FONTAINBLEAU—GENEVA.

Bright and early at Fontainbleu Monday morning, July 1, the boys were up and bustling about preparing for the road. After cafe au lait and omelet at 7.30 a start was made under the guidance of a local wheelman. On leaving the town our road lay for some five or six miles through the forest and over billiard table-like roads. All kept well together, riding in pairs and so down the glades and shady reaches of the famous wood, we bowled along at a 15-mile an hour gait with as much ease as one would go six or eight at home. Singing college songs, shouting and blowing, of whistles to start the echoes and all the time grinding out the miles we soon emerged from the forest and after ten miles or so of open plain and a few more of down grade, we rolled into Nemours, having done the 20 miles in 1 hour and 25 minutes without scattering the party or getting the least bit fatigued. While waiting for the lunch we employed an hour in a swim in the Seine, about half a mile above the town.

The Kodaks were in clover at the bathing place, catching the divers in the air and the heads and feet promiscuously scattered over the surface. Soon, the bath over, with ravenous appetites we assailed the lunch. Then the usual lounge and rest, and so about 3 o'clock started for Sens, where we spent the night, having made our 42 1-2 miles in less that five hours' riding time.

Tuesday, the 2d, via Joigny, where we lunched, to Tonnerre, 54 miles, our route lay through a repetition of the beauties of the previous day.

Over the most perfect roads and under a cloudless sky we passed along through fields of ripe wheat and oats, and past picturesque red-roofed villages. Now passing through the aforesaid villages, and walking a half mile over the pave, which is found in most of them, and now climbing a long easy grade so slight that it is only on discovering the coast on the other side that one realizes that a hill has been climbed. These, long, easy, perfectly-graded hills, followed by equally long coasts, we found to be one of the pleasantest peculiarities of French roads.

Wednesday morning we left the picturesque and ancient town of Tonnerre after dejauner, which means about noon. It was one of the quaintest places we had seen, being piled up on the side of a mountain, and with two huge cathedrals towering over all the town like two soap boxes surrounded by a shoal of match boxes. The comparison may be excused.

At Montbard, where we spent Wednesday night, we struck the smallest town and hotel yet. It being the night before the fourth, and we without fireworks or ice-cream, we sat out in front of the hotel till all hours of the night singing patriotic songs. About us gathered an entranced (?) multitude of 97 people—the population of the town—and in silent awe they watched and listened to the strange looking animals from "Amerique."

After we had sung everything from "John Brown's Body" to "White Wings," at our request, one of the hotel men sang the "Marseillaise," the crowd and ourselves joining in the chorus with a vim that shook the street. Then Mr. Beal, on behalf of our party, formally drank to the health of La France, while the hotel man (who, to say the least, was feeling pretty jolly), drank to the health of Etats Unis.

Next morning, the Fourth of glorious memory, we bought up all the red, white and blue ribbon and flannel in the town and wheels and persons were covered with gay streamers, belts, and sashes, while those who had American flags brought them out to the fore. "Our only General 'Rielly was, if possible, more gorgeous than ever, the gay pin-wheels and flags which he had carried on his handle-bar all the way through an admiring country from Nemours, being reinforced by several yards of tricolor bunting on his helmet. Some of the boys displayed a deal of taste in decorating their wheels and themselves, while, as for others, well—it was funny, to say the least.

Thus, a sight for gods and men, we wheeled along all the hot summer day, through one awe-stricken village after another to St. Seine, where we stopped to breakfast. Coming to the town we enjoyed a coast of three miles down a hill nearly as steep as Corey. At breakfast high jinks reigned supreme. In long and bitter draughts of wine and water we drank again and again to the Glorious land of Freedom, to the President, and to the Day we Celebrate, and to everything else we could think of.

Then, all rising, "America" was sung reverentially, our thoughts going back across the sea to the good times, the picnics, ice-cream, and fireworks we were missing. That breakfast, and Mr. Estabrook's impassioned eloquence in his 4th of July oration, will never fail from memory.

After a pleasant afternoon ride of 17 miles we reached Dijon, where at the Grande Hotel de la Cloche all were soon comfortable for the night.

At night, in honor of the day, we had quite a formal little dinner. Speeches were made (Notably an eloquent one by Mr. Beal in reply to the toast, "The United States,"), toasts drunk and songs sung in a more regular fashion than at the hilarious breakfast of the morning.

Oh how we all did wish to be back home to celebrate! No fireworks of any kind were procurable, so we were forced to go without, and so, for lack of else to do, to bed. Alas and alack!

July 5th, after spending the forenoon in seeing the sights of Dijon, we rode to Dole, only thirty miles, a mere trifle to us at this stage of the trip. In the evening, by the kindness of a wheelman of the place, we visited the Casino and enjoyed the out door concert.

July 6th nine of us started early and rode to Morez, fifty miles (two days' ride), that Sunday might be spent in rest and quiet. At Poligny (twenty-three miles) we lunched at the "Tete d' Or," a miserable hotel, at which the main party were to stay the night. Then on from Poligny, we at once entered the Jura Mountains by a walk up one continuous hill five miles long. Once up, the road became fairly level for miles along the high tableland. Then once more in the mountain passes we followed up the bed of a roaring stream, well named "La Furiuse," mile after mile. Above us the sheer precipice often rose five hundred feet and as often, we could look down nearly the same distance.

In the midst of this wild country a railroad now nearly completed runs through tunnels and over viaducts near the road.

Some of our little party of nine had been through the White Mountains, the Alleghanies and even the Rockies, and yet declared that nothing they had seen equalled this day's ride, or rather walk. At every turn fresh beauties and grand views came before us. Now we could look down, down, down in a valley and see the clustering houses, the roads winding like white ribbons, and the fields of grain like a checker-board, and now our view would be shut in and restricted to perpendicular walls of rock rising hundreds of feet above our heads. And all this grand day's ride the road-bed itself was smooth as a park road or an asphalt street. It was by far the most memorable day's riding on the tour.

At St. Laurent, three or four miles before reaching Morez, we stopped for dinner. While here, the thought occurred to us that it would be fun to send back a dispatch to frighten the boys, whom we knew would be by that time dining at Poligny. Accordingly, the following was sent:

"To Elwell, 'Tete d' Or,' Poligny—Hills frightful, start early.
BEAL."

This, as it afterwards proved, reached them at 10 P. M., as they were singing in front of the hotel to console themselves for the loss of the dinner they never got, and resulted in frightening them off to bed in haste, leaving a trail of exclamations behind, such as "call me at half past four," "we want to start at five or half past," etc., etc. That night, they afterwards told us, they spent in a murderous hunt after the population already in possession of their downy couches, and many got what sleep they did get on the floor.

Next morning after they had waited half an hour on corners, for twenty-three famished cyclists, coffee for three and bread for ditto! was furnished! Maledictions abounded, and the air was sulphurous! By hunting over the town, all finally got a cup of coffee and a bite of bread, and so startedinfear and trembling for those "frightful" hills!

But to return to our advance guard of nine, whom we left at St. Laurent. After dinner we continued our ride to Morez. A walk of two miles of hill, through the forest by moonlight, followed by a coast of five more, was an episode long to be remembered. Down, down we coasted, through the black forest, the moon's fantastic light our only guide until far below us, on crossing a bridge over the ravine we saw the lights of Morez, where by 8.30 P. M. all were safe and sound.

Morez, we found on waking next morning, to be a long town of a single street, completely hemmed in by mountains. Though it was Sunday, work seemed to go on as usual, and we saw a parade of the firemen, who pulled their old hand engine. Wood seems one of the staple products (and naturally enough) of the Jura towns, and wood-sawyers were working on every side.

About 10 A. M. three of us, Beal, Wilson and self, chose to pull out for Geneva, and so have an extra day to spend there.

Bidding good-bye to the six who "on that Sabbath would (at least) do no work," we started. From Morez we ascended the champion hill of all yet encountered, it being five miles long by cyclometer. Next day it was ridden by several of the party, but we three very carefully walked it.

On the summit is Les Rousses, a French frontier fort, near which we rested for a few moments. Then on for fifteen miles our road (as superb as ever) lay almost level, although running along the sides of the highest of the Juras, and near the tops of them as well!

Along this stretch, so really splendid were the roads that many places where the road slightly rose, the wheels seemed to run as if coasting. This curious phenomenon was noticed also the next day by the main party, and proves how smooth the roads really are through country like that near Mt. Washington! At La Faucille we were 4333 feet above the sea, it being the highest carriage pass in the Juras. From La Faucille we got our first view of the Alps. On turning a corner of the road suddenly, the whole panorama burst out upon us and we stopped in our mad descent to drink in the view. Imagine it, if possible.

From a mountain top, nearly a mile high, after having come through miles of forest road, we were looking out over the broad valley of the Cantons Vaud and Geneva. Winding its way like a broad river lay Lake Geneva, the city itself (seventeen miles away) glistening at the head of the lake. Beyond the broad and level valley and shutting it in like a wall, opposite to where we stood were the Alps in all their grandeur. Mt. Blanc, it is true, was not visible, but would have been but for the haze.

Mr. Pennell had told us all about this view many a time, but neither his description nor any other can do justice to its beauty. After half an hour spent in admiration we remounted and continued our descent.

For seven long miles (by Butcher cyclometer) we coasted continuously down the ever-winding road to the valley. Such a coast we had perhaps dreamt of, but never expected to enjoy. Three times we stopped to let the brakes cool and to see the view to better advantage and then continued our plunge.

At Gex we lunched, then a ride of a couple of miles brought us to the frontier. Here we had to deposit 20f. on each wheel to be returned on leaving the country. Then on, it was only a matter of minutes to Geneva, our hotel and soon after dinner.

Next day we three trained it to Lausaune and returned to Geneva by one of the lake steamers. On our return we found that the party had arrived soon after noon, having started at 7 A. M. Oh! how they did give it to us about that telegram! And Oh! how we did laugh at them! It was, vulgarly speaking, a circus all around!

Our two days at Geneva we have pleasantly spent in seeing the city. Among the American mail received by the party was BI. WORLD of June 21st. Geneva is literally packed with Americans and we are well heralded among them here by the papers. Tomorrow noon we take boat for Chillon and Villeneuve, then wheel to Aigle, seven miles, for the night. Sunday we spent at Murren among the Alps. The coming week we look forward to as the most picturesque and exciting of the trip and until the week has passed into history we can only say au revoir.
PEDALS.

Geneva, July 10, 1889.

VAN WAGONER'S RECORD—TIMERS' CERTIFICATE.

WE, the undersigned timers in the mile, hands off, trial ride of July 16, of William Van Wagoner of Newport, hereby state that Mr. Van Wagoner made the full mile in two minutes and forty-eight seconds (2.48).

BENJ. SMITH, R. I. W.
GEO. R. MCAUSLIN, R, I. W.
L. B. BALLOU, 2d Lieut. R. I. W.

Further particulars which we have in regard to this ride are as follows: The conditions were that he was to have three trials, so in the afternoon he made his first trial, doing the mile in 2m. 50 1-2s. in the face of a strong wind, but on account of the string breaking with which his hands were tied he decided to try it again in the evening. It was about 7.15 P. M. when everything was put in readiness. Mr. Thomas Lakey manipulating the string on Mr. Van Wagoner's hands and then giving him a start five yards back of the scratch; he did not get very well under way on the first lap, making it in 1.30, but on the last half mile he got a move on, and made it in 1.18, which is remarkable time, therefore making the mile in 2.48. We are also advised by Chairman Davol that the distance ridden was a full mile and that the timing was done by gentlemen capable and with reliable watches.

In view of the fact thut we have personal advices from the highest authority as to the ability and integrity of the timers, the following from the Providence Journal will be of interest: "The timekeepers are men not known outside the local circle and who, even here, have never been identified with track events. Another day might have seen another set of gentlemen to perform this important office. There seems to have been not even as much formality about the test and care taken in the selection of timers who are well known as there might have been, even under the necessarily hasty arrangements that Mr. Van Wagoner was compelled to make his test, and yet the gentlemen who took time are of undoubted integrity, and two of them at least ought to be as well up in the business as men who are better known in such positions; in fact, one of the two, Mr. G. R. McAuslan, has had a large experience in racing matters, and if the two other gentlemen had been as well known as he the record would stand unquestioned. It is not a question of honesty and fair dealing in the test, for Mr. Van Wagoner is not the kind of man to claim a record if there is the slightest question that it is not fairly gained. It is simply a little unfortunate for the record outside of the State that when a rider has done a remarkable feat like this that the witnesses and timers are not of the highest and most expert authority.

There is absolutely no question that Mr. Van Wagoner did the mile inside of three minutes, and there is no reason to doubt that it was made in 2.48. Mr. Ballou and Mr. McAuslan made it 2.48 with their high-grade watches and Mr. Benjamin Smith, who is a jeweler, made it 2.47 1-5 by his stop watch. The half-mile track was accurately measured before the race, and if anything a trifle over the mile was laid out from start to finish, as Mr. Van Wagoner was anxious lest it be not a full mile.

HARTFORD WHEEL CLUB TOURNAMENT.

CHANGE OF DATES.

THE dates for the Hartford Wheel Club two-day tournament, announced for September 4 and 5, have been changed to Monday and Tuesday, the 2d and 3d of the same month. Monday will be Labor Day and a legal holiday. The change was first suggested by a member of a large manufacturing concern, as affording better opportunity for their employees to attend the races without interfering with their regular work, and it will add greatly to the convenience of a number of out of town clubs who have decided to wheel to Hartford on the holiday and enjoy the sport at Charter Oak Park on the second day of the races.

The club will issue an official programme of the tournament at an early date, which will be mailed to all wheelmen in Connecticut whose addresses can be obtained. This programme, beside containing a list of the cycling events, will include a number of articles on cycling, official records, some description of special work accomplished by the League of American Wheelmen, and other matters of interest.

NOTES.

The Weed Sewing Machine Company have contributed a Columbia Light Roadster as a prize for the tournament.

L. A. Miller, of Meriden, who finished second in the one-mile State championship at the Hartford Wheel Club's tournament in 1887, says that nothing would induce him to return to the path more than to have a race with H. S. Hart, of New Britain, for the State championship.

A race for the State championship between such riders as H. S. Hart and H. B. Arnold of New Britain, F. F. Ives and L. A. Miller of Meriden, Ludwig Forster of Hartford, and H. C. Backus and C. A. Pickett of New Haven, would undoubtedly create much interest.

The handicap races at the Hartford tournament next September promise to be worthy of their name.

Official Handicapper Burnham will be present throughout the meet, and instead of handicapping the racers on their past records he will handicap them on what he considers their ability on the day of the race. One of the principal events will be a one-mile handicap race, run in heats. The starters in the final heat will be re-handicapped and given positions according to their records in the preliminary heats.

THE PAVEMENT QUESTION IN NEW YORK CITY.

MR. E. J. SHRIVER, President of the New York Club, has by no means let up on the pavement question in New York. Just now Mr. S. is turning his attention to Mr. Commissioner Gilroy. This official, in answer to Mr. S's letter on the use of asphalt, makes the following ridiculous reply: "Your correspondent says that London's heaviest traffic goes over asphalt and that that kind of pavement is satisfactory in Buffalo and Cincinnati. This may be true, but there is a vast difference between New York and those cities. New York is a great seaport town. London, Buffalo and Cincinnati are not seaport towns and their traffic is not of the heavy sort that falls to the lot of New York's streets."

The richness of the statement that the traffic of London is not as heavy as that of New York is only equalled by the marvellous statement that London is not a sea-port town, that is so far as being a port at which shipping from all over the world discharges heavy cargoes.

If Mr. Commissioner Gilroy's knowledge of pavements is on par with his knowledge of the London commerce and traffic, we should say he was out of his element as a street commissioner. The strongest argument and the one hardest to meet is that the streets of New York are constantly being torn up and asphalt surface cannot be so readily patched down again. Another bad feature is the slipperiness in winter, but when Mr. Commissioner Gilroy stands up and says the traffic of New York is heavier than that of London he makes himself absurd. Real asphalt, put down well and on honor, will wear in New York, if it wears in London.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT EAST HARTFORD, CT., July 22.—Track.—The eighth annual meet of the East Hartford Wheel Club was a very great success in every way. The weather was fine, the track good, the attendance excellent and the racing exciting. A feature which is worthy of note is that a time limit was imposed on all races when possible and the result was most satisfactory. We hope to see this feature of the rules adopted and enforced at all meetings hereafter, when possible. Joseph Goodman refereed the races and this plain fact is sufficient guarantee that the races were well refereed. Results: Half-mile novice, H. G. Cornell (1), T. W. Laiman (2), F. A. Bearse (3); time, 1.48. One mile East Hartford championship, only two starters, W. James (1), C. L. Snow (2); time, 3.21 1-2. Half-mile handicap in heats; 1st heat, F. A. Bearse, 50 yds. (1); time, 1.35; 2d heat, H. G. Cornell, 60 yds. (1); time, 1.30; 3d heat, C. M. Murphy, 40 yds. (1); time, 1.31 1-4; 4th heat, W. F. Murphy 35 yds, (1); time, 1.27; Final heat, H. G. Cornell, 15 yds. (1), W. F. Murphy, scratch (2); time, 1.30 1-2. Two mile handicap, C. M. Murphy, 12 sec. (1); W. F. Murphy, 10 sec. (2), H. C. Wakefield, 12 sec. (3); time, 6.31 1-2. One mile 3.20 class, C. M. Murphy (1), H. C. Wakefield (2); time, 3.16. One mile open, L. Forster (1), W. F. Murphy (2); time, 3.43 1-2. Race declared off on account of not riding within the time limit. The contestants refused to ride it over. One mile 3.30 class, H. G. Cornell (1), F. A. Bearse (2); time, 3.27 3-4. One and one half mile lap, Ludwig Forster, 13 points (1); W. F. Murphy, 12 points (2); time, 4.54 3-4. Half-mile safety, A. G. Gruender (1); John F. Ives (2); time, 1.41. One mile consolation. Preliminary 1-4 mile heats. First heat, G. Smart (1); C. L. Snow (2); time, 36 1-2; 2d heat, E. Dauchey (1); H. L. Wilkinson (2); time, 46 1-2. Final heat (mile), G. Smart (1); E. Dauchey (2); time, 3.23

AT LANCASTER, PA., July 18.—Track.—The postponed races of the Lancaster Bi. Club were run off on Thursday and Friday of last week. The attendance was not up to what the races warranted. The track was heavy in spots, in consequence of the heavy rains of the past few days. The races were run off in good shape and the officers all attended to their separate duties faithfully. The Referee, Mr. C. H. Obrieter, did good work in keeping the track clear of everyone who was not a track officer. We can readily understand how a modest man dislikes to assert his temporary high powers and how he must dislike to make himself unpopular by the same means, and yet Mr. Obreiter's insistence on keeping a clear track is one to be highly commended and universally followed. First day's racing—Results: One half mile, for Lancaster city clubs (novices), A. Riest, 1; Jno. S. Musser, 2; J. Griel, 3; time 1m. 29 1-2s. One mile novice (open), Z. Loffland, 1; Samuel Musser, 2; W. H. Riefsnyder, 3; time 3m. 09s. One mile, boys under 16, D. Fornwalt, 1; C. Kiehl, 2; time, 3m. 35 3-4s. Two-mile Lancaster Co. championship, Geo. F. Kahler, 1; D. H. Miller, 2; time, 6m. 39 3-4s. One mile, flying start. As the starters numbered 13 it was decided to run trials in half-mile heats—First heat, W. F. Class, 1; W. W. Taxis, 2; J. W. Schoefer, 3; time, 1m. 24 1-2s. second heat, W. I. Wilhelm, 1; M. Killmer, 2; B. F. McDaniel, 3; time, 1m. 25s. Final, mile heat, W. I. Wilhelm, 1; J. W. Schoefer, 2; W. W. Taxis, 3; time, 3m. 04s. This last heat was one of the best contests of the day. Two mile safety, W. I. Wilhelm, 1; W. W. Taxis, 2; W. B. Reigal, 3; time, 6m. 33 1-2s.—a very close finish between first and second. Half-mile League, State championship, W. I. Wilhelm, 1; W. W. Taxis, 2; D. H. Miller, 3; time, 1m. 23s. Three-mile lap race: there were 10 starters. J. W. Schoefer took the lead at the start and was never headed, winning the first prize in 10m. 05 1-2s; Geo. F. Kahler took second, and Geo. M. Gregg third.

Second day—Results: Half mile, hands off, W. W. Taxis, 1; Z. Loffland, 2; J. W. Schaefer, 3; time, 1m. 35s. Two-mile club handicap, Alvin Reist, 130 yards, 1; J. F. Griel, 180 yards, 2; time, 6m. 22 1-2s. The only scratch man, D. H. Miller, refused to start. One mile club safety, E. R. Griel, 1; D. R. Rose, 2; D. H. Miller, 3; time, 3m. 20 1-4s. Three-mile club team: The Lancaster and Reading teams having withdrawn, there were only two contesting teams, A. B. Rich, J. W. Schaefer and W. F. Class of the Berkeley Athletic Club of New York, and Frank Dampman, B. F. McDaniel and Z. Loffland of the Wilmington (Del.) Club. The New York team won easily by a score of 89 points to 71 scored by the Wilmington team: time, 9m. 45 1-2s. Class tried to dodge a dog that crossed the track as he came down the home-stretch and took an ugly header. He was not hurt and regained his place in the race.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

One mile tandem, J. W. Schoefer and W. F. Class, 1; D. R. Rose and J. Ready, 2; time, 3m. 01 1-4s. McDaniel and Dampman started, but dropped out after going about half a mile. One mile State L. A. W. championship, W. I. Wilhelm, 1; W. W. Taxis, 1; Geo. F. Kahler, 3; time, 2m. 58 3-4. This was the best and fastest race of the two days' meet. The finish between Wilhelm and Taxis was exciting in the extreme. Two mile open, A. B. Rich, 1; W. W. Taxis, 2; S. W. Merrihew, 3; time, 6m. 10s. Another fine race and splendid finish. One mile safety and consolation, B. F. McDaniel, 1; J. A. Allgaier, 2; time, 3m. 16 1-2. One mile ordinary consolation, M. Kilmer, 1; S. Breneman, 2; time, 3. 38.

We are sorry to say that the enterprise of the Lancaster Club did not meet with the returns we should like to have reported owing to the bad weather, yet the races were fine and the management most excellent.

AT NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 14.—Road.—The first race of the series (a five mile event) for the Hill gold medal given to the New Orleans Bicycle Club was run July 14 on the avenue before a number of spectators. The weather was all that could be desired, and the result was that better time (16.34 was made) than the record made by Mr. Hill two years ago, which was 16 42 4-5. The entries were: Carey, Hill, Christy and Rea. Rea had no intention of finishing and Christy was practically out after the first mile. Thus it left Carey and Hill to fight it out. After a hard race Carey won in 16 34, Hill 1-5 seconds behind. To take the gold medal as personal property Mr. Carey will have to win three of the series of five races, and from the present outlook he will do so.

AT CINCINNATI, OHIO.—Track.—The Athletic Cycling Club of Cincinnati ran their first race on the track of the Full-Mile Driving Association, near Oakley, last Sunday. The distance was a half mile and the time as follows: Captain W. Wise, first, 1m. 40 1-5s.; J. C. Workum, second, 1m. 45s; A. Lowenstein, third; W. J. Straus, fourth. The track is the best in this yicinity. It is level and very fast. The second race will be run in two or three weeks, and will be for a mile.

AT CANTON, OHIO.—Road.—The race of the members of the Canton, Ohio, Bicycle Club for the championship, Friday evening, July 12, over the Center Mills course, was won by Mr. Charles Oberly, who made the seven and three-quarter miles in thirty-two minutes.

ENGLAND.—The 50 miles handicap road race of the Anfield Bi. Club, held July 6, resulted as follows: W. Deakin, 25 min. (1); T. B. Conway, 20 min. (2); J. A. Bennett, 15 min. (3); time, 3.45. The winner rode a safety.

The one mile professional handicap: The report of race gives it that A. H. Robb, scratch and Jack Lee, 35 yds. rode a dead heat in 2,36 4-5. The summary gives the race to Robb with Lee second.

AT WALTHAM, MASS., July 22d.—Road.—F. C. Frese and C. S. Merrill, of Waltham, had a 12 1-2 mile run July 22d, over the course through West Newton, for the Y. M. C. A. silver cup. Frese came in the victor in 48m. 2s. This is the second time that he has won the cup, the first time being on July 4. He must win it once more in order to retain it. Frese rode an ordinary machine and Merrill a safety.

AT WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Local, road.—William T. Robertson lowered the record from Hyattsville, Md., to this city (five miles) of 19m. 25s., made by him on the 4th inst., by 23 seconds, riding the distance in 19m. 2s. Returning he lowered the record of 19m. 45s., made by H. L. Reynolds, by 15 seconds, riding the return trip in 19m. 30s., the last two miles of which were ridden in the dark. Timers, Rex Smith, A. H. Wells and T. E. Robertson.

On July 14 William Robertson lowered the record to Upper Marlboro', Md., of 1h. 30m., made by L. M. Krenger in 1884, and also the record of 1h. 43m., made by Ballard Morris in 1886. Mr. Krenger's record commenced from Uniontown Bridge, and that of Mr. Morris from the former club house of the Capital Club on G street, between Ninth and Tenth streets. Robertson started from G street with the intention of riding the distance from the club house in 1h. 30m., but owing to the muddy condition of the roads was unable to make the time expected. He started at 9 36 from G street, reaching Uniontown at 9.46 and Marlboro' at 11 11, making the complete trip in 1h. 41m., beating the record of Morris by 2 minutes and that of Krenger by 5 minutes. The timers were Le Beno Burdette, A. P. Krenger and T. E. Robertson.

AT QUEENS (L. I.) N. Y., July 20—The one-mile handicap on the Queens, L. I., bicycle track, open only to bona fide residents of Suffolk and Queens counties, New York, came off as follows, on our six-lap track: First heat—M. A. Kissam, Q. B. C., 60 yards (1), time 3 07 4-5; George Boyce, Q. B. C., 50 yards (2), time 3.09; R. B. Kimber, Q. C. W., 125 yards (3). Second heat—L. R. Doughty, Jr., Q. B. C., 100 yards, time 3 30; N. F. Waters, B. B. C., scratch, time 3 36. Final heat—R. A. Kissam, Q. B. C., 60 yards, time 3 06 1-2; L. R. Doughty, Jr., Q. B. C., 100 yards, time 3.06 4-5; Geo. Boyce, Q. B. C., 50 yards; N. F. Waters, B. B. C., scratch; a good race won by 4 feet; the scratch man rode in 3 08 4-5. F. B. Hesse, N. J. A. C., lowered the Queens track record from 2.59 4-5 to 2.57 3-5, for the gold medal offered for first man to do it. He rode a 35-pound wheel, had no pacemaker and never saw the track before, and did it in his first trial. Thos. Lloyd, Q. B. C., second.

MR. VAN WAGONER TO MR. MURPHY.

Mr. W. E. Murphy, K. C. W.:

Dear Sir—Hearing that while you were at Hartford you expressed your opinions very plainly, and saying I could not ride a little bit, and you would like to race me, I answer by challenging you to a road race, any distance from 25 to 100 miles, either in Providence on Roger Williams' park drive, or on the Milburn-Irvington course. The race to come off inside of a month, from July 26; the prize to be a 16-shot Winchester Repeating Rifle, calibre to suit winner; value $50, including tools; the rifle to be paid for by the loser or his backers. Either rider to use any machine he chooses, not weighing less than 38 pounds. Yours very truly,

WM. VAN WAGONER.

RACE MEET AT RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y.

The initial race meet of the Waiontha Bicycle Club of Richfield Spring, N. Y., was so successful that the club has decided to hold its "second annual" on Wednesday, August 14. The events will be similar to those of '88, and in addition there will be a 50 and 100 mile road race for prizes undetermined as yet.

The course is a 12-mile one around Lake Canadauga, the finish to be made on the grounds where the races occur. The course is unquestionably the best in the country. Several prominent manufacturers have offered elegant prizes. Further particulars are omitted until later. Any communications regarding the tournament should be addressed to the secretary, F. C. Bronner, Richfield Springs, N. Y.

MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

THE Eagle bicycle, with W. Robertson in the saddle, has been "raising hob" with the local records at Washington, D. C., the particulars of which appear in our racing news.

THE New York Bicycle Co. have always some most excellent bargains in second-hand wheels. They are doing a rattling business in second-hands and it will pay you to peruse their columns every week. They are sure to have "just what you want."

THE Springfield Bicycle Co. report that they have received an order for 50 Speedwells from one of their large agents.

THE Catford Premier Safety covered itself with laurels and glory at the Lancaster Pa., races, winning the L. A. W. State championship and taking second and fourth places as well. The fact is that it is ridden by such noted riders as W. I. Wilhelm, W. W. Taxis, B. F. McDaniels and others, speaks volumes.

HEYRIPDEBALDOO.

Where is OKOBOJO?

We want to know, because we have had numerous calls for wheels from that locality. Is it in Indian Territory or Dakota?

This is the first time we have felt beaten on the name or location of a city. We should like to meet the Mayor of Okobojo and see what he is like, and have an absinthe frappe opal with him. The City Marshal of Heyripdebaldoo, N. M., used to dally

If you want a second-hand wheel of any kind, drop us a line; it will cost you but 2c., and may save you many dollars. Just tell us what you want and how much you are willing to pay. The safety has made all high wheels such a drug on the market here that we are compelled to unload them for what we can get. Should we not have what you want we will mail you one of our beautifully illustrated Art Calendars for 1889, worth fifty times your two cents. Capital Cycle Co., Washington, D. C.

HE TOOK THE RISK.

"Here, sonny, hold my horse," said a gentleman to a gamin as he alighted from a carriage on Washington st. the other day.

"Has he had his oats terday, sir?" asked the boy, as he hesitated.

"Had his oats?" What has that to do with it?" inquired the gentlemen, in surprise.

Well, yer see, sir, de last time I hung onto a hoss he eat de straw hat off me head, an' I only got a nickel, an' a lickin' when I got home. Put up a quarter an' I'll take de risk."

The boy got the quarter.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

Railroads That Carry Free.

To the members of the New York State Division:

In the issue of the Bulletin for June 14th, 1889, there was published a list of railroads as being those governed by the resolution published at the same time regarding the free transportation of bicycles. That list was furnished by prominent railroad officials in Buffalo as being a correct list of the roads affected by the resolution. Since the list was published, however, further investigation has revealed the fact that the Trunk Line Association and the Trunk Line Passenger Committee are different organizations and that such resolution was adopted by the latter. I have secured a list of the roads comprising the Trunk Line Passenger Committee and by direct correspondence with those roads I am able now to say positively that all those roads are now carrying bicycles free when accompanied by owners. The following is a list of said roads:

Grand Trunk Railroad.
N. Y. Central and Hudson River Railroad.
West Shore Railroad.
N. Y. Ontario and Western Railroad.
N. Y. Lake Erie and Western Railroad.
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.
Lehigh Valley Railroad.
Central Railroad of New Jersey.
Philadelphia and Reading Railroad.
Pennsylvania Railroad.
Baltimore and Ohio Railroad,

W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.
Buffalo, July 20th, 1889.

Transportation.

Notice to Members.

This committee has received several complaints recently from tourists who have been compelled to pay for wheels on roads that agree to carry them free when accompanied by owners. In no case has the complainant taken a receipt for the money paid and in some instances they are not clear as to the date or particular train on which the charge was exacted. If members will carefully observe the following rules it will enable the committee to better protect them from the extortions practiced by some of the ignorant or vicious baggage men.

Apply to depot baggage master and have him mark bicycle to destination; if he declines, apply to the train baggage man, but dealings should be with depot baggage men as much as possible. In all cases where charges are exacted take receipt for amount paid and send same with all particulars to the chairman.

W. M. BREWSTER,
Chairman Transportation Com.

Pennsylvania.

To members of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W.:

Something seems radically wrong in the Pennsylvania Division, especially with the system of making nominations. The Nominating Committee was appointed at the December meeting of the State Board in Philadelphia. The announcement was made some weeks ago that the committee was ready to receive suggestions. Very few of the members have had anything to offer, and it seems the committee have been waiting. Now at the last moment I receive from two members the suggestions they have received and their own suggestions covering th ir sections of the State. Thus the forming of the ticket seems to be left in my hands, a task that I enter upon very reluctantly, as my acquaintance with the membership of the State is very limited.

For Chief Consul—Samuel A. Boyle, Philadelphia.
For Vice Consul—D. K. Trimmer, York.
For Sec.-Treas.—John J. Van Nort, Scranton.
Representatives—

1, W. D. Banker, Pittsburg.
2, F. F. Sneathen, Pittsburg.
3, C. L. White, New Castle.
4, J. W. Caughey, McKeesport.
5, C. P. Lusk, Harrisburg.
6, Ira A. Dayton, Williamsport.
7, W. F. Dodge, Wilkes Barre.
8, V. I. Wilhelm, Reading.
9, ... Philadelphia
10, ... Philadelphia
11, ... Philadelphia
12, ... Philadelphia

The four blanks are for Philadelphia men. Last year G. N. Osborne, Kirk Brown and W. R. Tucker represented Philadelphia, and H. Crowther has been suggested now, but the Philadelphia member of the committee has not been heard from in regard to his own city.

Article 3d of our Constitution is as follows: "Its officers shall consist of Chief Consul, Vice Consul, Secretary Treasurer, and one Representative for each one hundred resident League members; also one Representative from each League club of not less than twenty members and an additional Representative for each fifty additional members upon the club roll on July 1st of each year."

All voting must be done by Aug. 15th, and do not vote for but 12 Representatives. Envelopes should be marked "Mail Vote," and addressed to J. G. Carpententer, Sec.-Treas., Wilkes Barre, Pa., Box 653.

League clubs will select their Representative and send in their choice to Sec.-Treas. by Aug. 16th.

Yours Fraternally, JOHN J. VAN NORT,

NOTES.

Bring L. A. W. membership ticket and wheel.

Register at Sea View Annex and obtain a badge as soon as you arrive. The possession of this badge ensures courtesies and discounts not otherwise obtainable.

Excellent bathing and sailing facilities.

The concrete streets afford perfect wheeling so be sure to bring your wheel.

There will be many attractions in addition to formal programme.

Daily excursions to Katama for clam bake at 9.25, 10.35.

As there will be no ball there will be no necessity for dress suits, and a wheelman's dress will be the only one that need be taken.

Bring your ladies, the gentlemanly deportment and courtesy ever shown by the members of these Divisions ensures an enjoyable time for all.

Band concert every evening.

No better way of spending a short vacation can be devised. Let all come who can.

Wheels can be left at hotels or at Pagoda near Sea View Hotel but should be locked. Fraternally,

WM. H. EMERY for Committee.

Michigan Election Laws.

To Michigan Members L. A. W.:

The annual election of Division Officers will occur between the 15th day of July and 15th day of August in accordance with Article IV Sec. 2 of the L. A. W. Constitution.

The officers to be elected are a Chief Consul, Vice Consul, Secretary-Treasurer and three Division Representatives. The Secretary-Treasurer will mail to each member of the Division a voting blank with all necessary instructions.

These blanks must be properly filled in and signed by the members voting, together with their League numbers and returned to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Division on or before Aug 15th.

Ballots received later than August 15th will not be counted. The ballots will be counted by a committee consisting of the Chief Consul, Secretary-Treasurer and the members of the Rules and Regulations Committee at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer within one week after Aug. 15th, and the result published before Sept. 1st.

League Clubs will elect one Division Representative for the first twenty members and an additional Representative for each fifty additional League members on the roll July 1st, and certify the result to the Division Secretary-Treasurer on or before August 15th.

Fraternally, A. B. RICHMOND,
Chief Consul Mich. Div.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

MY CYCLING LOG BOOK. By "Papa" Weston. The transitory pleasures of cycling can be made as permanent as its physical benefits, by jotting down in a well devised log book, the distances and incidents of one's various journeys. Knowing that such a record is a most pleasant thing to have, and believing that the keeping of such should be encouraged, as tending to the permanent good of cycling in more ways than can be referred to here. The Log Book is handsomely and strongly bound in red leather, will last for years of constant use, and is the best arranged book of its kind ever yet devised. It fills a want often felt by the cyclist who values records of interest for future reference. Price, post paid, $1.25 For sale by Bicycling World Co., 12 Pearl st., Boston.

We Receive a Goodly Number of letters addressed to our "Advertising Department." Please don't do it. It only makes us feel our incompleteness. We have no such department. Our ads. are written with one hand while we build bicycles with the other.

We don't even have a "factory;" we occupy a plain ordinary shop; it isn't handsome, but also it isn't for sale. We do have Hickory Bicycles and things to sell, and we take more pains with the appearance of those, and by the way, if any reader of this will ask for it, we will send gratis, a little 32-page book worth $7.00, which lays bare many of the processes employed in the manufacture of our goods. There are 18 illustrations showing with more or less accuracy the various departments. The need of an advertising department is painfully evident to the reader of this pamphlet (called by the more learned a "brochure"), but we are new yet, and may in time be able to "cover our shorts."

TESTIMONIAL.

ERIE KNITTING MILL, Erie, Pa.: STAFFORD, KAN., May 8, 1889.

Gentlemen—I have given the tights and shirts you made for me a thorough test, and I pronounce them the strongest and most durable knit goods I have ever worn. They make the best sweaters that I know of in use, and at the same time comfortable. Several members of our club have expressed themselves about the goods in a very complimentary manner. BICYCLES

"IT'S TOO LIGHT!"

Is a remark frequently made by those who look at the QUADRANT SAFETY for the first time. And so it might be if it were not made by a Company who have the most scientific designers and the most skillful workmen in the world.

"WILL IT STAND HARD USAGE?"

Was a question in the mind of one of Philadelphia's most prominent business men, who weighs 200 pounds and often rides from 60 to 100 miles a day over rough roads. He had never ridden anything but the old reliable —— and was a little afraid to trust himself upon a wheel so light as the Quadrant. At the same time he did not want to push that extra 10 pounds of dead weight around with him everywhere, if the lighter wheel was just as strong. So he bought one of the first Quadrant Safeties imported, with a written guarantee that if it did not stand the hard usage he intended to give it, the importers would give him any make of machine in the market in even exchange for it. He still rides a Quadrant and it has never cost him a cent for repairs. If you now tell anyone who knows the history of this machine that the Quadrant is too light, he will tell you that a machine that will stand Mr. ——'s riding will carry anybody.

AND IT WILL!

PROVIDENCE HEARD FROM.

"SINGER SAFETY BICYCLES lead them all!" But not in the repair shop. More Singers sold this season than any other make of Safety. Strongest, handsomest and finest running Safety that was ever invented by a cycling genius. It has a raking, racing looking build. Has the only Spring-wired Tire. Can't come out. No other Safety has it. Why not? Because Singer & Co. have got the finest thing, and they are going to keep it to themselves. The Singer has the most powerful brake can be used. Always reliable. The Singer rides easily and comfortably. No lame back or loose false teeth, if you ride a Singer. The Singer is made for comfort as well as speed. If you don't believe it try one. We give you a fine spring saddle of any make you may choose. The Singer is such a reliable wheel, that despite the large number ridden, if we were to depend for one-quarter of our repair work on Singers, we should have red flag flying over our door in no time. Its name is Singer, but not rattler. Notice the handsomest wheels among the leaders in any road scorch and you will find they are Singers, and then notice that they don't rattle like a low gear loaded with hoop iron. If you want to see a first-class piece of cycle mechanism, beg, borrow, steal or hire a Singer Safety and pull it apart. The very finest workmanship will be displayed. Notice the ball bearings. Notice the chain adjustment. Notice the fine finish. In fact, if you want to see the acme of cycle mechanism notice the Singer. CAMPBELL & CO., 33 Page St., Providence, R. I.—Advt. in Evening Telegram.

FOR PAST THREE WEEKS

THE

Has not been advertised! Because we could not keep up or fill our orders. The factory is now delivering an increased number, and we again present the merits of this popular wheel, which has had so great a demand. Not a day since the opening of the year have we been up with our orders!! It tells the story.

The advantages of Trigwell's Ball Head to the Ordinary are even surpassed in its application to a Safety (in fact it seems specially designed for a Safety), for by its rigid bearing, and not needing adjustment, it keeps the front wheel steady and obviates sensitive steering, which fault all Safeties have had.

SPRING FRONT FORK, preventing vibration—very easy and out of sight.

REAR AXLE BAND BRAKE, the place for a brake—not fouled with mud as when near the tire. Noiseless.

Has Perfectly Straight Front Fork, giving steadiness of running to front wheel.
Has Tangent Spokes, half nickeled to intersections, giving a very handsome appearance.
Has Strengthened Base Hollow Rim.
All Steel Forgings and Interchangeable Parts. Highest quality American-made Wheel.

Also New Mail Ordinaries, all Sizes. Don't fail to send for Catalogue.

BOSTON, 2 AUGUST, 1889.

THE shafting which runs the presses that print this paper broke down last week Friday, hence delay in the delivery of the paper in some sections. Machinery has a nasty habit of breaking once in a while.

THE Nominating Committee of the Maryland Division, after faithfully discharging the special duties assigned it, "re-assembled" and took upon itself an authority outside its scope, a proceeding which we think is without precedent. The resolutions this nominating committee passed read:

"Resolved, That the account of the tenth annual meet of the L. A. W. published in the BICYCLING WORLD of July 12, 1889, is untruthful and a scandalous libel on the members attending that gathering and calculated to do the organization harm in giving a false impression of the membership at large;

It is also resolved, That we call upon President Luscomb and the Executive Committee to terminate the contract with the BICYCLING WORLD as the 'official organ' of an organization it appears to be doing its best to disrupt."

When the League's officials, acting within the scope of their authority, call us to account there will be time enough to prove our report to be correct or otherwise. Of course official action worded as above would necessitate our continuing a discussion out of which no possible good can come. If it is forced on us we, however, shall not shirk the responsibility. There is one strange feature in this discussion as taken up by the Marylanders, and that is they do not, for some reason, discern the fact that when we have spoken of the Bagerstown people and the Maryland Division it has been with the utmost admiration for the whole-souled and generous way in which they "threw wide the gates." We have given nothing but kind words of admiration for the entertainers.

THE beauties of the "South Shore," as we in Boston locally term it, have not been availed of much by wheelmen on account of the general poor condition of the roads. It is with pleasure that we announce that Cohasset is thoroughly alive to the need of good highways, and is at it vigorously with a monster stone crusher, preparing material that will ere long make that pretty coast tour a favorite run for Boston wheelmen.

IN last week's issue we made very severe strictures on Mr. Prial for making an apology for our correspondent, "Jack," in his report of the Hagerstown meet, as we at that time doubted the real object to be as was stated. Since then we have undoubted proof that Mr. Prial has personally defended "Jack" against those who thought that his report was incorrect. It gives us great pleasure to be able to thus make the amende honorable.

WELL DONE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

A WARNING TO "FLY" BAGGAGEMEN.

Editor Bicycling World: I recently refused to submit to an extortion at the hands of some Pennsylvania Railroad and Adams Express Company employees and want League members to know the result. Under a recent ruling of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company wheels may go free as baggage when accompanied by the owner. In going by train from Johnstown to Greensburg I asked the baggagemaster at the former station whether it was necessary to have the machine checked. He replied, "No; just put it on the baggage car." In attempting to do so the train baggageman refused to accept it, claiming his car was too much crowded, and telling me to put it in the car ahead, which happened to be the express car. At Greensburg the express company refused to give me the wheel unless I paid 50 cents. My explanation to the express agent and baggage man of the circumstances was unavailing, and I therefore paid the charge under protest, took a receipt and promised to report the affair to the railroad company. I did so immediately, and asked President Roberts to make an investigation and return to my home the 50 cents unjustly forced from me. As I received the money from the express company several days ago I infer the asked for investigation was made. I publish this as a matter of general interest and hope that wheelmen will submit to no imposition, whether attempted by road hogs or railroad employees.

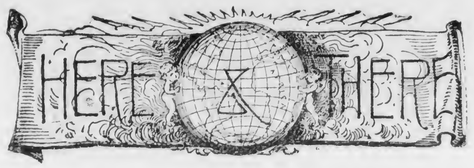
MR. PENNELL TO CARPING CRITICS.

Editor Bicycling World: Sir—The fact that neither Mr. Elwell nor any member of his party has taken the slightest notice of the slurs and insinuations of a certain section of the English cycling press shows most plainly the importance to be attached to these attacks, but when an utterly false story like the enclosed appears it should be answered: "A funny story reaches us about the American tourists. Manager Elwell dieted them on coffee and two rolls for the journey from Dieppe to Rouen—about 50 mites—and would not allow them any more. Six of the hungry crowd deserted the party at Paris."



Manager Elwell gave the members of his party the usual and customary coffee and rolls as an early morning meal throughout France, got his men into Rouen in about four hours—the distance is not 50 but 37 miles—where they found an excellent breakfast awaiting them. None of the party save myself deserted him in Paris, and I wast mos unhappy at being compelled to do so. Three men broke down simply because they endeavored to make the tour without sufficient previous training, but so satisfied were they with Mr. E. and his arrangements that they accompanied him by train to Geneva. So much for such stories.

My opinion of the tour, and especially of the manager, is that a more capable man could not be found for the position and with the experience of this trip he could now arrange an almost ideal route, if he should bring another party next summer.

I am yours,

JOSEPH PENNELL, Foreign Marshal L. A. W.

N. B. The letters which you are receiving from "PEDALS" are most accurate and interesting.

"JACK'S" MEDITATIONS.

I HAD the pleasure of a visit from a gentleman by the name of Van Wagoner the other day. He it was who did something I had never dreamed of any man living being able to do—one of the most remarkable performances in the history of cycling—riding a full mile in 2 min. 45 sec., on a road safety, with both his hands tied behind his back. I never was more surprised in my life than when I learned that the feat was beyond a doubt an actually accomplished. I had probably a chance of 100 to 1 against him when I stood to lose $10 that he could not do it. I presume that 99 out of 100 wheelmen would have bet the same way, and glad of odds, even though ten to one in their disfavor.

BUT what does his performance prove? Does it prove that it is safe or easy to ride a safety at that pace without hands? Does it it prove (as he said when he made the statement) that he could ride a mile under three minutes, with hands tied behind him, by way of arguing that safeties and ordinaries should be allowed to compete on the track together, that any other rider can do this, or that all safety riders can steer and balance as nicely or ride as fast as Van Wagoner? Why no, it proves no more than does Steve Brodie, when he does his Brooklyn Bridge jumping, done as a rule during the absence of the fool-killer. Just this much it proves, and no more, that certain men, by reason of their peculiar conditions, their strong will and nerve, nicety of balance and touch, and strong muscular resources are able to do things which the average human body is utterly incapable of doing, and the average human being in no way desirous (and rightly so) of attempting.

HAD Mr. Van Wagoner slipped a pedal, had he fallen, and mangled his body and perhaps broken his bones, the wheeling public would have said, "I told you he could not do it. I told you just what would happen. 'Jack' was right." But "Jack" was wrong, and is sincerely glad that he was, rather than that any accident should have happened, and never again will he back either his opinion or his money that a man can't do a thing which might in the attempt, result in his being a cripple for life. The cigars which would have come from poor Van Wagoner if he had lost and hurt himself would have tasted ill, though they cost a quarter apiece. Had there been a first-class funeral following closely in the wake of Van Wagoner's attempt, there would at least have been one man who'd be saddened for life.

"HAWKSHAW," speaking in the last issue of the BICYCLING WORLD, on the trade and what it has done for cycling, prompts me to ask, who have we more reason to be thankful to for our present machines than the trade? Why man, while it is certainly to their interest to promote your interest, do you lose any dignity or anything else by permitting them to enjoy such office as will give them a chance to study both their own and your interests. Why, hang it all, the interests of the maker and the rider are closely allied, and the closer we stick by our manufacturers the closer they will be able to stick by you. You can always catch the ear of a certain class by yelling, "your interests depend on, etc., etc." You have their ear. They want to see their own bank account swell. That's why they listen so attentively to you. Human selfishness of a very near-sighted order, truly?

THE other day when I was a guest of my friend, who spells his name with an F and a good many letters, and pens "occasional" editorials for the BICYCLING WORLD, I came across the famous political refugee, John Boyle O'Reilly, who makes a fortune partly with his pen and partly by staying away from England. We had been canoeing at Hull, near Boston, and in the evening, as we sauntered near Telegraph Hill, we came upon him walking in the in the middle of the road, with two pretty children swinging his arms. There was a great look of "companionableness" in their faces as we passed the trio laughing and talking in the country road. Some time ago he asked permission to go to Canada. The letter he received was unique and non-committal: "You can go to Canada if you like." John Boyle has not gone yet, preferred the cool of Hull super mare to taking the almost inevitable chance of arrest. Poor John! How his blood must Boyle! Oh Reilly! I am afraid that I am running this letter into politics, so draw the terminal line at once.

"Oh, what a fool I was to mix
In such a thing as politics."
And wasn't I a simple ass
To "drown the miller" in the glass.

N. B. Some of you fellows may never have "drowned the miller." "Drowning the miller" is a term given to adding too much Killarney Lake water to Killarney whiskey. It gives an air of indecision to it that disagrees with and militates against the happiness of the Celtic palate.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

THE road hog and the sidewalk fiend are twin brothers, both bring discredit upon the style of vehicle they favor, and cause the creditable acts of the majority to be misjudged. Like weeds these twin disgraces flourish, and I verily believe that when the lone New Zealander witnesses the end of all these things from London Bridge, that his chance of seeing anything will be small indeed, since most of his time will be taken up with dodging a sidewalk fiend upon the foot-path, while at the same time endeavoring to keep from getting under the hoofs of the horse attached to some road hog's vehicle.

THE advice to cyclers to eschew the use of alcoholic stimulants has so often been seen in cycling publications that it has grown to be an old, old story with the readers thereof. While undoubtedly a moderate use of such forms of wet goods as both cheer and inebriate is often beneficial, yet as a general practice it is wiser to avoid them when the system is to be called upon for anything over the ordinary amount of action. There are, however, many people who are convinced that the biblical advice to "take a little wine for the stomach's sake" is wiser in the breach than in its observance, and they in consequence go to the other extreme of prohibition. Among this class may be found some wheelmen, not many it is true, but still enough, with the strength of their convictions, to make themselves felt. Finding themselves in the minority among wheelmen they have turned to their athletic brethren of the same belief, and have proposed joining hands with them in the organizing of a Prohibition Athletic Club. To this end they issued a call to a mass meeting of athletes, to take place at the National Prohibition, Athletic Park, Port Richmond, S. C., on Saturday last. Nature herself seemed to be a most devout prohibitionist on that day, for such a down-pour of cold water in the shape of a rain storm has rarely been seen. For once the advocates of aqua pura had too much of their favorite beverage, and only twenty-five responded to the call, and the meeting was adjourned sine (drier) die, so for the present we are left in ignorance as to how cycling and prohibition are in accord with each other.

When wheelmen cry out against the infringement of their rights do they ever stop to think how often they themselves violate the proprieties of life, and by doing so make themselves obnoxious to others who are equally with themselves entitled to consideration? I am afraid that in many cases they don't. The sidewalk fiend I have already attended to in another item, and while he first and foremost is guilty under this charge, I will not again refer to him. After this class, however, comes the dress reformer, or, more properly, the dress deformer. In reading a recent issue of a wheel publication I came across an article by "Jack" on Stage vs. Cycling ballet. His scoring of the tight bedad wheelman was as perfect an example of terse and vigorous English as one could well wish for, and after I had read it I found myself humming "My own boy Jack," so perfectly in accord with my ideas were his own. As an example of how this inconsiderateness of wheelmen becomes offensive, I might quote an example that I was the sufferer from. On a recent evening I sought to avoid the heat and secure a pleasant meal at one and the same time, by taking my dinner, at the Casino Central Park. The tiny building was crowded with its host of summer patrons who, like myself, had sought the pleasure of a meal within its cool and vine-clad walls. Tables were at a premium, and I thought myself lucky to secure a seat at one, half of which was already occupied by a charming girl and her escort. I had hardly finished ordering my meal, and was congratulating myself upon my luck in getting any seat at all, much less one in such pleasant company, when the chair alongside of me was roughly drawn away from the table and occupied by another seeker after a dinner. At once the delicious odor of the neighboring flowers vanished and was replaced by one undefinable, save that it seemed equally composed of extract of stable and Hunter's point. As may be imagined it was with no pleasant feeling I turned to see who was the individual who had thus at one blow shattered all the pleasant surroundings of the place and made it instead almost unbearable with an odor which certainly had no conection with Araby the Blest. My neighbor was a wheelman, clad in dingy flannels, whose acquaintance with water was evidently a thing of the very distant past. Coatless, and with his hands begrimed with oil, his face soiled with dust and perspiration, he was certainly not a pleasant object. Need I say that my dinner was a failure and that my neighbors suffered likewise. When I left this gentleman's company I was sorry to say that I was a wheelman, and if this was so with one who thinks as kindly of them as I do, what must have been the impression made upon my neighbors? Certainly it was not a flattering one to the cause of the wheel.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

THERE is a difference in people. In pleasures, likes, dislikes, etc., we all differ and it is well so, perhaps, as variety is the spice of life. How we dislike a person who always agrees with us and falls in with every plan we make, never opposing even some of the schemes we lay out, which to us seem a little odd. Last week "Salina" met a man who had just sold his bicycle for eighty dollars. He bought it two weeks before for $125 cold cash, and after giving the thing only two weeks trial, let it go, putting up the $45 without a murmur. That same evening another fellow told me "if he couldn't get another wheel he wouldn't take $500 for his safety. And the funny part of this circumstance is that these two men are very chummy.

PETRIE, Wood, Cherry and Avery rode to Cicero on Wednesday last, covering the ten miles in fifty minutes. It was a race all the way, the finish finding Petrie first, Cherry second, Wood third and Avery last.

CAPT. CHAPIN, Yehle Fuller of Rome, Wood, Schell, Yale, McDougal, Lloyd and several others took a sixty mile run on Sunday last, stopping at Cazenovia for dinner. All report a bang-up time, but admit the roads were just a little rough. Sunday riding in our city is not general as yet, people claiming it as a sport and consequently frowning it down.

TED HOPKINS of the local club is now located in New York City. We recommend him most heartily to our New York brethren as a brick of the deepest dye.

A CLAM-BAKE, a corn roast and a race meet are among the plans now being agitated by some of our fertile minds.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

JUNAH will probably have the opportunity of putting up his nimble sixpence on the New York men in the near future, as the Wilmington Club is arranging for a great handicap 25-mile road race, which is to made one of the affairs of the season. It will probably be run over the Wilmington-Middletown course, which Wilmingtonians call a good one. A number of the prominent racing men are booked for entry, and it is the intention to make the affair an inter-state race. The prizes will be extremely valuable, as assurances have been received from several of the manufacturers that they will donate bicycles as prizes.

SATURDAY, Aug. 10, is the day set for the visit of the Hudson County Wheelmen to this city as guests of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club. These inter-club visits have come to be annual events, which are looked forward to with eagerness by all the participants. "Pensy" will endeavor to lay out a programme for the delectation of their visitors, which will send the Jerseymen home with the pleasantest recollection of their trip to the Quaker town. But, dear WORLD, we draw the line at Capt. Leisen riding a dinkie on an occasion of this sort. An ordinary must lead the club runs on all affairs of State. Private good must yield to the public weal.

A NUMBER of Philadelphia men are summering at Atlantic City and using their wheels to explore the highways and byways radiating from that town on the Jersey sea coast. Some of the Century men are among the number and several of the South End.

EX-CAPTAIN W. T. FLEMING of the Century Wheelmen, the long-distance tourist, has gone down to Island Heights. He expected to start West on a tour to Kansas directly after the League meet, but Mr. Gould, who was to have been his companion, backed out at the last moment, and he is not certain now as to whether he will start at all on such a lengthy trip.

RUMOR has it that a number of the long-distance fiends are at it hammer and tongs, rolling up mileage here, but so far the most diligent investigation has failed to give me any accurate figures. There are several who are going for the championship, and none of them care to let t'other know how they stand. McDaniel's mileage is the largest so far of any that have been published, he leading both the Pennsylvania and Wilmington Clubs.

A SERIES of good races were spoiled by the rains on Saturday. The Reading Bicycle Club had gotten up a race meet at the Yellow House, below Reading, which had attracted entries from all the flyers in this city, Wilmington and vicinity, and curses both loud and deep were vented upon the heads of the Signal Service Bureau for the output of wet weather. Cannot something be done looking toward a change in administration if this thing continues?

AT the last meeting of the Associated Cycling Clubs a scheme was discussed for the giving of a race meet next fall, but was finally abandoned as involving too much labor for the possible benefit to be obtained.

MACON, GA.

"THE RAMBLER."

MR. B. W. KINCAID of Griffin gives me some quite interesting points from that place. Robt. O. Brantley, whose career as an amateur, a profesh., a reformed wheelman, was quite rapidly run through. He landed in Griffin some time since, and represented himself as Gormully & Jeffery's special agent. Soon he had the town full of wheels and began borrowing money on them, so my informant says. Recently, as tradition runs a number of payments on the wheels became due, and he collected them, and with all other money he could borrow, left for the calmer climate of Texas. It is to be hoped that he will get broke and be compelled to stay there.

BUT the Griffin boys have twenty-one wheels in all and are making good use of them. As will be seen, one of them came down and carried off the gold and silver cup in the five mile race here last Friday. They have formed a club up there, too, and are now building a third-mile track. They are now having medals and other prizes made for a tournament in September, and the sport seems to be making great headway in and about the city of Griffin, Ga.

A RATHER queer accident happened here on last Thursday. Mr. J. B. Edings leaned his fifty-six Apollo against a large stock of brick in front of the club rooms. In a few moments the brick fell and covered the wheel. When dug out, every spoke was found to be broken and the rim looking like a piece of fractured gas-pipe. It was to have been ridden in the races next day, but is now on its way to Boston in an air tight coffin.

AND now South Carolina has followed the good example set by Georgia, and is to hold a Road Congress this fall. Macon's streets have shown decided improvement since spring and a large force is at work on them all the time. Let the good work go on.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

I HAVE just finished a two weeks' tour in Wisconsin, going from town to town, riding sometimes sixty miles a day, and quite frequently only fifteen or twenty. My enthusiasm for long distances is not as great as it was several years ago, but I had a good time and enjoyed myself as did my friend who made the trip with me. We returned brown as Indians, and with appetites sufficient to cause a panic in any well-regulated boarding house, and (sh) the morning we struck Chicago we had just seven cents between us and even this we spent before we separated to go to our respective homes, by purchasing a glass of the foamy and a paper. I forget who bought the paper, but it matters not. The beer was good, I know that, and that ever since my return I have had hard work to identify myself on account of my change of complexion.

FRANK RIGGS, I am told, broke the record for time between Milwaukee and Chicago one day last week, riding the distance, some eighty-seven miles, in exactly ten hours, breaking the record by almost two hours.

CAPTAIN DAVIS and Roberts of the Illinois Club have just returned from a tour to St. Louis, and from their description of the same, our St. Louis brethren must have done their best in the entertaining line. They both seem to be sorry that they did not take in the famous De Soto run, but I doubt this last just the least bit.

CONK. was head over heels in a mass of maps and copy, that he says will shortly prove to be the finest road book ever issued, and will contain more information to the square inch than you can imagine. The Chicagos are getting the book out, Conklin being editor in chief, for Conk. is an encyclopedia on roads in this State.

FRED VAN SICKLEN is here doing some newspaper work on one of the dailies at present, but Van is a good deal of a Bohemian, and so we are all liable to lose him at any moment.

WE have to carry a bell and lamp now, our city fathers having so decided at a recent council meeting. I can't object to the lamp part of the ordinance, but the bell part I think will be found to be a good deal of a nuisance by all concerned, as a bell will probably scare a horse as much, if not more so, than the silent wheel.

WINSHIP is training a little, just enough to keep in condition. He is some 20 pounds heavier this year than last, and next year will in all probability return to the racing path.

I AM still waiting to hear of Bob Ehlert's challenge to Lumsden for a series of races, but Bob is still quiescent.

A NEW club has been organized on the West side right near my Illinois neighbor called the Washington Cycling Club. I understand they have fitted up 653 West Adams street as a club house and propose to make the Illinois club hustle. G. D. Chisholm is president, Frank Barrow secretary and treasurer and B. F. White captain. The city is full of cycling clubs now, all apparently doing well, but I should like to see them all consolidated in one club. Then we would have a club here that could build a respectable club house and have a decent race track along with it. But why sigh for the unattainable—it is not to be.

THE challenge of the Chicagos for a team race has been accepted by the Illinois, and said team to consist of five men. But the race will not be run at Cheltenham Beach—the Chicago team live there during the summer time.

THERE is some talk among the Chicagos of sending Lumsden East this fall to represent them in whatever races may be held there.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

A MEETING of delegates to nominate officers for the Maryland Division of the L. A. W. was held Wednesday, July 24, at the Cresent Club house. Mr. C. Stansbury presided, with E. F. LeCato as Secretary. Representatives were present from all clubs in the city, and also from several clubs in other parts of the State. The following nominations were made: Albert Mott, of Maryland Club, Chief Consul; Geo. F. Updegraff, of the Hagerstown Club, Vice Consul; G. W. H. Carr, of the Baltimore Cycle Club, Secretary-Treasurer. The representatives nominated are: J. H. Covington, of Easton; C. E. Fink, Westminster; C. F. Mitchell and E. P. Hayden, of Baltimore. The election will be taben by mailed vote until August 15th. The Nominating Committee then adjourned and reassembled to voice their sentiments as to the report of the meet which appeared in the WORLD of July 12th. [These resolutions appear on our editorial page.—ED.]

THE races under the auspices of the Crescent Club on July 26, at Tolchester were somewhat interfered with by the rain. The track was heavy and no records were broken. The track, which measures nearly a third of a mile, is new, and it will require work to get it in order for fast time, and those present predict it will be very fast when finished. The results of these races will be found in our racing news column in this week's paper.

ON the recommendation of the wheelmen of Westminster, Md., the City Hotel, of that place, has been designated a League hotel.

THE Baltimore Cycle Club are having erected in the rear of the club premises, a frame structure, sixteen by thirty feet to be used for additional storage for wheels. The new structure will accommodate fifty wheels.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

A BRIGHT little five-year-old girl, who had frequently listened to a certain wheelman's account of the delights of a run to Miamitown, was heard to say: "Mama, when I get big won't you get me a bicycle so I can go to His-amitwon?"

THE experience of little Piper should be a warning to all those who fail to attend club runs. Instead of going with the club to Coney Island he took a ride on the new Mt. Auburn Electric Street Railroad and happened to be in the car that ran off the incline track. He had both of his hands mashed, both eyes put in mourning, his nose turned upside down, half of his mustache torn out by the roots, his clothing torn into shreds, and the skin of his back tatooed till it looks like a map of the Johnstown flood district.

A FEW days ago as I was riding along Ninth street I was surprised to find it nice and dry. I had gone but a few squares, however, when I saw a sprinkle cart with a broken axle. The driver, with arms akimbo, was looking at the wreck, and as I passed I looked down on him with one of my blandest smiles, but he scowled at me like a baffled tyrant in the last act of a play. Perhaps I should not have smiled, for it seemed to exasperate him, and he will no doubt from this time flood the streets and make them sloppier and nastier than ever.

A SHORT time ago it was my misfortune to dine at the summer hotel at Red Bank. Three long tables were set apart for the accommodation of the regular boarders, and at each table there were no less than seven small children, each of whom began to cry and scream because its wants were not immediately attended to. As I listened to the discordant chorus I suddenly recollected that I had heard that sailing vessels have what are called spanker booms, and then I wondered if they would not be a good thing for summer hotels.

THE Athletic Cycling Club will run their second club race on the half-mile track near Norwood on August 10.

THE following from the American Athlete is as true as the gospel: "Perhaps more of the success of a club run depends upon the individual exertions of the Captain than anyone else." The position of Captain of a bicycle club is a very trying one indeed, and one that requires a great deal of tact. A club should select for that office one who is qualified for the place, and who will consider the wishes of the majority, and they should then make up their minds to obey his orders implicitly, if not he will be a mere figure head. It is the Captain's duty to call runs, and in this he can not please every one. It is his duty to see that dinner is ordered beforehand, and if the members do not let him know whether they will attend the run he is either liable to order for too many and be obliged to listen to the grumble of the landlord, or to take the chances of getting dinner for the small number that he is certain will go and be blamed for the very poor quality of the hastily prepared meal. It is alse his duty to set the pace for the club and to prescribe rules for them when they are on the road, and if his efforts are not seconded by the club his task will be anything but delightful.

BUFFALO.

"ALI BABA."

OF all persons, truly the farmer is the most patient, and, according to his means, liberal and civil. He welcomes with open-heartedness the city cousins and even their friends to his plain and festive board through the heated season. What wheelman is there who has ever been refused a reasonable request, be it a drink of water or a glass of milk or a square meal? The spirit of liberality and open-heartedness is possessed by the farmer in a degree far more than he is credited with. As wheelmen, I think we owe him a rousing vote of thanks. In the hurry and bustle of business life we in a measure forget this. The farmer is a necessity to the wheelman. Our highest sport is touring, and without the farmer's kindness and generosity we should be robbed of half our pleasure.

TRULY Buffalo is a great wheeling centre. Mr. Bowen estimates that there are 2500 wheels in use in this city. Mr. Bowen, Mr. Isham and Doll & Co. sell over 500 wheels per annum, and other agents swell the number to over 600. This is a large business and shows that Buffalo is the Mecca for the wheel. We now have about 60 miles of asphalt and about 20 miles and park road. Our principal clubs number over 500 members. The Women's Wheel and Athletic Club have 48 members, and a new club has recently been organized at the Y. M. C. A. building, which bids fair to speedily become large and influential. It is called the Queen City Bicycle Club.

WHILE at Van Buren Point recently I ran across Mr. W. H. Warner of Erie, Pa., an excellent fellow, who was bemoaning the partial destruction of a new safety. He started forth on his new wheel just as happy as a boy wearing his first trousers. For he had on a beatiful red shirt and blue breeches. But, lo! he met a cow by the way, and that cow did not like the color of red, and Mr. Warner saw that mischief was brewing by the animal's behavior. In his fright he fell from the wheel, and the cow took possession of it between the horns, ran down the street, and threw it in the ditch. The wheel was picked up in several sections, while the atoresaid animal in its blind madness was trying to lift the corner of a rail fence. Moral: Never wear a Red Shirt!

MR. BRINKER of the Buffalo Bicycle Club has climbed the Silver Creek Hill, which is a scorcher, twice this summer on an ordinary. He is, I believe, the best hill rider in the city.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE new edition of the Massachusetts Road Book is in the printer's hands and will be delivered in August. New members must wait in patience, and when they get it it is hoped it will pay for waiting. Chief Consul Emery is pushing the matter along with his usual vim and drive.

A FEW REASONS WHY

You * Should * Buy * an * Eagle.

It is a practical safety.
It is simple in construction.
It has no complicated chains, ratchets, levers or gearing to break down, collect dirt, rattle and squeak.
The power of the rider is applied directly downward and to the best advantage, and as the whole weight can be placed directly on the pedals and made to tell, not an ounce of power is wasted.
There being no extra friction it is the lightest running and the most speedy.
It is the fastest and safest coaster, and having a direct and powerful brake it can be brought to a full stop while going down hill.
It is the best hill climber. In mounting a hill there is no slipping of the wheels and no lost power. The strength of the rider is applied just where it should be, and he gets there.
The position is erect, natural and easy, and the rider does not become cramped and round shouldered.
The motion of the legs is natural and as near as possible to that of walking. There are no unusual muscles brought into play and the Eagle can be ridden further and with less fatigue than any other wheel.
It is beautiful in finish and graceful in appearance.

L. H. JOHNSON, Manufacturing Importer,

401 & 403 MAIN ST., - - ORANGE, N. J.

THE Massachusetts Division Meet August 8th, 9th and 10th.

ARE you going? Most everybody is.

SEE last week's WORLD AND BULLETIN for the programme, in the official department.

THE Rhode Islanders will be on hand in strong force.

PRESIDENT LUSCOMB will probably be there, as also will be Lawton, second Vice President.

MR. J. FRED ADAMS, of Haverhill, Mass., desires to state that he is not a candidate for re-election in his district, the third.

THAT was a queer report that started in Minneapolis, to the effect that "Jack" was dead. The telegram asking for information on the point is reproduced on another page.

WM. J. CORCORAN, trainer of Yale's successful bicycle team, has been engaged by the Hartford Wheel Club to prepare their team for the races to be held at Charter Oak Park, September 2d and 3d, after which he will resume his place at Yale.

THE committee in charge of games at Oak Island Grove, Revere, Mass., August 13th, under the auspices of the Irish National Society, have decided to give a three-mile ordinary handicap and a two-mile safety handicap, both events for amateurs only, and to be run under L. A. W. rules. Entries $1, to close August 6th, to C. McCarthy, 172 Merrimack street, Boston. Prizes for ordinary race, valuable gold and silver medals; for safety race, some article valued at $25, second prize article valued at $15.

THE road race announced for the second day of the Hartford meet has been given up, on account of its conflict with laws regulating the speed of vehicles on public highways.

THE Hartford Wheel Club has closed a contract by cable with D. J. Canary to run an exhibition of fancy riding on each day of the Hartford tournament. For Mr. Canary's appearance, his first in this country for four years, the club is giving the largest price ever paid to a fancy rider for a similar exhibition. Mr. Canary sails for this country August 7th.

THE Cumberland Co. (Pa.) Agricultural Society will give a series of bicycle races on Oct. 8 and 9 at Carlisle.

HOW the celebrated concrete streets of London are built is told by a correspondent of the New York Tribune. "I saw a concrete pavement torn up for repairs a day or two ago and had an opportunity to discover how it was built. First a foundation of stone is laid in substantial blocks. That is covered with tar and gravel, and upon this are set blocks of wood on end tightly pressed together. Over these, cementing them together, and when rolled smooth forming the surface of the street, is put on the concrete. The entire pavement is over two feet thick and is as solid as natural rock. It is as smooth as a billiard table and over it the heavy vehicle of all kinds used in London roll smoothly and easily.

THE Lynn Cycle Club, once one of the most pushing of all live clubs is reported as passing through a "listless period," but we are assured that the blood is again quickening and that the club will jump once again into the van of the "go ahead clubs."

REMEMBER the date for closing the Hartford entries, August 26.

PROBABLY the finest of prizes ever awarded in a single race are the trophies for the one mile handicap at Hartford. Their combined value is over $300.

ON July 20 Col. Joseph T. Potts of Nantmeal, Pa., took the initiatory step towards presenting that township with a tract of Telford road, something over two miles in length. The work is to be done in the best manner possible, and it is hoped that it may be the means of leading to some of the other roads being similarly improved on. The cost of the road will be over $8,000. This is a most generous gift and we wish there were more Colonel Potts' in the country.

IRVING WOODS, J. Bart Johnson and Arthur H. Woods of Jacksonville, Ill., are now en route for Washington, D. C. Johnson rides a rear driver and the Woods brothers ordinaries. Daily rains and flooded roads made the Illinois section of the trip most disagreeable. The trio go through Indianapolis, Columbus and Wheeling, and expect to reach the Capital Aug. 3.

Mr. F. G. LENZ of Pittsburg, Pa., sends us an excellent photo of himself mounted on his bicycle with camera case strapped firmly on his back. Mr. Lenz will start on Aug. 4 from Pittsburg on a 1000 mile bicycle tour. The itinerary is as follows, starting from Pittsburg: To New York city and return, by way of Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, and back through Pennsylvania, going from here across the mountains to Cumberland, Md., towpath to Hagerstown, to Washington, to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York city; back by way of Easton, Reading, Lancaster, Chambersburg, Johnstown, Greensburg, to Pittsburg. In this tour he will carry a 5x8 camera as shown in the photo which he sent us.

A WRITER on the League uniform question, who signs himself "Kicker," marvels because, as he affirms, the League "have not as yet introduced a standard regulation uniform." Our friend is not very well posted, or he would have known that Article IX. of by-laws, once published in this paper, very minutely describes the "regulation uniform." It gives color and kind of material, and then even down to the number of buttons, the number and kind of pockets, the cap and stockings. It gives every particular.

THE other evening a well-known Philadelphia cyclist, while riding a grade railroad crossing, was accosted in the most vigorous manner by the flagman in charge. The cause of his plaint is given below. The flagman, stepping out at the rider and waving his flag for him to stop, yelled out: "Do yez come past here wid a red loight? Oi don't want no more of it, now moind, fer ye stopped a thraio for me last noight, an' Oi got a good blowen' about it, an' if Oi catch yez comen' agin, Oi'll—!!!" but before he had finished the rider was out of hearing.

MESSRS. H. MERRILL, of Cambridge, and Eugene Darling, of Harvard, '90, are now taking a bicycle tour through the Adirondack district.

THE five-mile handicap road race at Philadelphia, August 3d, will have as entrants McDaniel, Merrihew and Dampman and all the other local State cracks.

THE fight for the office of Chief Consul of Connecticut promises to be a severe one, as between D. J. Post, of Hartford, and C. Latham of Bridgeport.

THE weather last Sunday spoiled quite a number of runs. The great Union run which was to have been taken to Nantasket Beach, and the projected run of the Nashua, N. H., wheelmen to Corey Hill, Boston, are among the "postponed on account of the weather" events.

THE Milbury, Mass., Bicycle Club has some pretty lively, go-ahead members. The club club recently purchased a carpet for their club parlor, and they sewed the carpet themselves and put it down. The suite consists of a parlor, a dressing room and a lavatory, all nicely and even luxuriously furnished.

THE members of the Cambridgeport Club feel much aggrieved that the report of trouble in the club should have been printed in the Tribune. The members are trying to place the blame of the origin of the report, and thind they have discovered who it is. All the resignations were voluntary and not because of dissentions. The irresponsible gossip has evidently been at work. We are glad to put the report down as being incorrect.

"SENATOR" MORGAN writes us that the combination left Denver, Colorado, July 29 for Colorado Springs two days, Pueblo two days, tae same time at Leadville, Aspen and Glenwood Springs. From there they may go to Salt Lake City. They will race at a circuit of fairs in California, and are already booked for the State fair to be held at Sacremento September 16 and 18. They will sail for Australia about October 1st and will tour the world. S. G. O. Griswold, late of the Omaha Bee, will be the advance and press agent, while W. J. Morgan will be general business and racing manager. W. F. Knapp goes with the party and has a chip on his shoulder for all comers to knock off if they see fit. Misses Jessie Oaks, Helen Baldwin and Kittie O'Brien will be the feminine portion of the aggregation. The backer and general manager is a man who it is said has $100,000 cold cash and so the finances will not run short even if a cold streak is struck.

A SAD story reaches us from Rutland, Vt., that July 26th, F. W. Gould, aged 27, a very much respected citizen of Rutland, fell dead from his bicycle while riding from that city to W. Rutland. Death was caused by heart disease. He was married but had no children.

THE Chicago Herald states that the rights of cyclers to the use of the sidewalks and highways has not yet been well defined and cites the decision of Judge Snell of Washington County, Ill., classing them as ordinary vehicles, and then refers to the discussion of the Indiana Supreme Courts in permitting cyclers the use of sidewalks. It is a strange thing that all judges are not cognizant of the fact that the highest authority in the land has defined a cycle as a vehicle and subject to the laws which govern the use of same.

THIEVES seem to be operating round Lynn and Nahant, Mass. They do not steal the wheels, but they scoop in pedals, handles, saddles, tool bags and the accessories. A great number of complaints of this kind of theiving reaches us from that vicinity.

"JACK" is going to England in about six weeks. This time it will be a business trip, although he will find time to run down to some of his old haunts at Ripley and other cycling centres.

THE riders of Topeka, Kan., are justly exercised over the action of the city governmeet which compels riders of cycles to dismount at the Kansas avenue bridge, which spans the Kaw, and push their wheels over this bridge which connects North and South Topeka. W. E. Smith, C. Kestler, W. Taylor and H. M. Phelps, of Topeka, were arrested and brought before Judge Guthrie of the District Court. The decision was against the wheelmen and the case carried to the Supreme Court. The bridge is city property and the action of the council in discriminating against wheels will, we believe, be shown to be unlawful.

While C. Leinhauts, of Milwaukee, Wis., was riding his bicycle in that city a few days ago he was carelessly run into by a man driving a horse attached to a buggy. Mr. Leinhauts sustained a fracture of the left collarbone and other less serious injuries.

The pin designed for the participants in the Orange-Philadelphia Century tourists is quite unique in design. It consists of an irregular-shaped piece of oxidized silver, on which is shaped a wheel. The figures "100" are in center of wheel, while wound round about the spokes are the words, "Great century run, Orange to Philadelphia, June 8, 1889." This pin goes to all who started. Those who finished have the word "Survivor" added.

We have received through the mail the hand-book of the New York Division, compiled by Chief Consul Bull. A comprehensive review of same appears on the Editorial page of the Official Department. Every New York State cycler should have one.

A Denver paper prints a cut of W. Rowe and under same the name of W. F. Knapp appears. This right on the heels of the enterprise of our esteemed contemporary, the Gazette, in reproducing several selected pictures from Bi. News and printing them as original pictures of events and men at the Hagerstown meet, would indicate that these questionable methods are being employed where we would least expect to see them.

The August run of the Press Cycling Club of Boston will be held on next Sunday, when its members will leave Court Square and ride to Great Head. Mr. N. C. Fowler, Jr., will entertain the members at dinner.

A wheelman from Lansing, Mich., writes to a local paper anent the disputed right of cyclers to the use of the highways equally with other vehicles, he says: "One of the Lansing Bicycle Club's most stringent rules is the prohibition of sidewalk riding, as the sidewalk is no place for a bicycle, but we do think that we should have half the road, and, backed by the League of American Wheelmen, we shall maintain such, even though it be through the courts.

Nine members of the New Bedford, Mass., club went down to Portland via boat, a week ago. They were the recipients of the kindest attention at the hands of the members of the Portland Wheel Club who took the visitors down to Prouts Neck and entertained them handsomely.

The Taunton, Mass., Club men have accepted the challenge of the Belmont Club to a five miles road race.

We did not know that W. Windle shone as a fancy rider, but it seems that he will appear in that role at Cottage City, Aug. 8.

ALEXANDRIA BAY AS A MEETING PLACE.

Editor Bicycling World: The Alexandria Bay of "Phœnix" is exactly as he has described it. I know that, for I've floated through several moonlight evenings with my best girl, from Clayton to the bay, and have lounged, fished and horse-played with ten of the jolliest boys that ever camped on the islands. For three successive years I spent my outings near Alexandria Bay, and I have placed these summers in my book of life as "red letter" seasons. The American Canoe Association has had several meet at the islands, and no more appropriate place could be found for a canoe meet, but for a man in love with his wheel it's no place at all; for who among the wheelmen in planning for its summer outing has not counted in his mind the miles he expects to cover on his tired yet tireless steed? Put such a man down at Alexandria Bay, to find only water, and islands that never knew a road, and his vacation would be spoiled. St. Lawrence County as far as my observation goes is not a wheelman's paradise. Some of the Canadian roads about Kingston are fine, but why invade an alien land with a purely American institution at such a time?

And say, people, why not give the West a shy at that meet? She has never been so honored that I know of, for St. Louis is really of the South. The East has always monopolized the meets, and mayhaps she has the right, on account of her strength in numbers and concentration of members.

Iowa has but one hundred and ten League wheelmen, and the surrounding States are much better off, but give us a chance by bringing the incentive to interest in matters pertaining to the wheel within our reach, and see if the Western boys won't roll the members in.

I saw Sioux City mentioned in the World some time ago as a possible candidate for the meet, and while we don't expect to get it for 1890 I trust that some one will take up our cause for the year following. It would strengthen the League, and most of you Eastern fellows would have a chance to see a city that grows substantially each month—the true type of the coming Western town.

I only wish now to impress it on the minds of the Board of Managers and Committee on Location that Sioux City is on the map, and will be ready at the proper time to welcome the knights and ladies of the flying wheels.

Of the natural and artificial advantages of Sioux City, I may have occasion to speak later on, but you all, no doubt, will hear of the place when King Corn takes possession of his palace in September.

THE TOURISTS IN SWITZERLAND.

FROM ABOVE THE CLOUDS.

Murren (Alps), July 14, 1889.

Wednesday, July 10, the party left Geneva at noon per lake boat for Villeneuve. Our afternoon's sail was replete with all that goes to render one's heart happy. From noon till after five we floated over the smooth waters of Lake Leman (Geneva) amid scenery such as we had read of but had hardly ever expected to see.

Zigzaging across the lake from one picturesque old town to another, seemingly more picturesque, every turning revealing new beauties of mountain, woodland and shore, our party revelling in the magnificence of the scene, and all agreed that up to now none of us had ever seen the equal of Lake Geneva amid its mountain walls.

After touching at Nyon, Evian-les-Bains, Lausanne, Vevey and Montreux, we finally disembarked at Chillon. Here a most enjoyable hour was spent seeing the Castle, rendered enchanting almost by the genius of Byron. Bonivard's dungeon, the Hall of Justice (where as the hon. member from Ann Arbor remarked, "Justice was dispensed with"), the old tower (date 900 A. D.), and all the castle were visited. After that two boat loads of us rowed around the castle and took photos and picked wild flowers off the base of the grey walls where they descend into the lake, at this point 300 feet in depth.

After those who wished had purchased souvenirs of the spot, all remounted wheels, and on through quaint old Villeneuve we rode eight miles up the Valley of the Rhone between towering mountain walls to Aigle, where at the Hotel Beau-Site we spent the night.

That evening we took a stroll by moonlight to see the snow-capped peaks gleam out as the round moon rose above them. The solemn grandeur of the scene to us who had been journeying across the plain of Central France was most impressive.

Next morning came the rub! Our route lay over the high pass between Aigle and Chateau d'Oex, only twenty miles! To Camballaz, ten miles, where we were to lunch, the road is one continuous hill—up! up! up! always up!

A team was hired at Aigle and all luggage transferred thereto. Seven or eight of the boys also loaded their wheels on the team, the other preferring to push their wheels up. Under a broiling sun (thermometer above 80 deg.), we started at 8 A. M. One brave spirit alone rode, this was Bob White of Quincy, Ill., who rode the entire ten miles of continuous hill. He arrived some hours before the others and received the plaudits of all for his plucky achievement. It was a feat to be proud of. We pedestrians, especially one or two who were almost overcome by the heat, will never forget that climb.

It took us from 8 or 8.30 A. M. until nearly 1 P. M. to make the ten miles, and had it not been for the numerous roadside fountains in which we plunged our heads and wet our handkerchiefs, we should still be on the way I think. Arrived at Camballoz, we were 5,500 feet above sea level, the highest point we shall take our wheels during the tour. After a good dinner and a recuperating rest, about 4 o'clock we mounted for Chateu d'Oex, our resting place for the night. If our road of the forenoon had been a hard one to travel that of the afternoon more than compensated us for it.

After a mile or so additional climbing we began to descend, and from thence enjoyed a coast of over nine miles. Down the precipitous gorge the splendid roadway wound along, now being a mere shelf with a projecting wall upon the mountain side and then running through a little hamlet, at whose log chalets, with stone-covered roofs, we had scarcely time to glance as we sped by.

At many places the irrestible grandeur of the scenery compelled us to stop and drink it in. At more than one turn in the road we could look down over 1000 feet perpendicularly into the valley far below.

Crossing roaring mountain torrents by substantial stone viaducts and by frail wooden bridges, we sped along without mishap and were at Chateau d'Oex almost ere we realized we had started. Here we spent the night in the first wooden hotel we have been at on the tour. Not only were the floors wood, but also the walls and ceilings, so that the rooms gave the effect of huge packing boxes with windows in them.

After dinner, the treasurer having discovered an imitation tennis court we played imitation tennis until the balls save one were lost in the long grass. The game then degenerated in knocking "flies" for the crowd to catch until finally darkness drove us to our last resource, that of singing college songs in unlimited minor keys until requested to desist.

Next morning all were up at five o'clock and on the road before six, as we had nearly fifty miles to go, via Thun to Interlaken. Although so much longer, that fifty miles was not nearly so hard work as the ten miles of the previous morning had been. After climbing a hill about two or three miles long, just after passing through Gesseny, we had a continuous down grade for over thirty miles to Thun, where we lunched at the "Falken Hotel."

Thun is a very quaint old town at the head of Lake Thun. The principal street (with its sidewalks like Chester in the second story, and its quaint old houses) is the principal attraction. There is also a very picturesque schloss, or castle, reached by climbing unlimited steps on the side of a mountain. The Aar river rushes through the town like a mill race as does the Rhone at Geneva.

After lunch those who were not lazy rode on the fifteen miles by the lake shore to Interlaken, some of them stopping on the way to ascend a mountain by an almost perpendicular switchback railroad, whence a grand view of the Alps is had.

These fifteen miles by Lake Thun are counted the finest road in Switzerland, and such we found them to be.

Those ten or twelve lazy individuals (of whom yours truly was one) who had got a sufficiency of sun and heat during the forenoon, took the steamer down the lake. By doing so the heat and sun were avoided and a better chance was given to see the beauties of the scenery. Lake Thun, though much smaller than Lake Geneva is equally, if not more, picturesque, as it is entirely hemmed in by mountains seven to ten thousand feet high. The shores are a constant succession of chalets, villas, curious old towns and beautiful hillsides, vine clad and wooded to the summits.

We on the boat were pitying those who rode, while they were pitying us for losing the finest riding in the country, so that in the end all were equally satisfied. We left the boat at Spiese, and then had some three miles to ride over perfect and well-shaded roads to our hotel, the Jungfrau, in Interlaken. While on the boat we had a good view of a thunderstorm among the mountains, and could hear the thunder and see the lightning and the black rain clouds pouring down on Interlaken, while all around us the sun shone brightly. On reaching the town we found the streets drenched and very muddy, the first mud we have had on our wheels since that amphibious day from Oxford to Hampton Court.

Interlaken, "the Paris of Switzerland," is a summer city of English and American tourists. The hotels, built on almost as mammoth a scale as at Saratoga, are filled almost entirely with English-speaking people. Although the language of all the towns we have been through since Chateau d' Oex is German, the shopkeeper or hotel man who cannot speak English would be hard to find. It is on the English and American tourist that they all build their dreams of future wealth, and in fact seem to imagine that an English-speaking person must necessarily be a millionaire. The (to put it mildly) avariciousness of the Swiss is proverbial, and we were prepared for it, but the management was hardly prepared to see an item of ten cents per man on the bill, for water to wash hands in, more particularly in one instance, when no water was furnished or obtainable. Needless to say that item was crossed off every time. From the Jungfrau Hotel, a magnificent view of the mountain of the same name is obtainable. Twelve thousand feet high and snow clad, it towers above the neighboring mountains, a giant among pigmies.

In the evening a band of wandering Italian minstrels beguiled us with soft Neapolitan melodies, as we sat on the piazza in front of the hotel, watching the moon (in partial eclipse) rise over the snowy peak of the Jungfrau. It was a poem in itself—that evening! The music, the lights among the tropical palms and plants in the garden; the ladies in light summer dresses, passing to and fro, and above all the ghostly snow-clad peak, bathed in the silvery moonlight.

It was beyond question worth all our time and riding, only to have seen that one beautiful summer evening spectacle, and to have enjoyed such a restful scene after days of toiling up mountain passes in the mid-day sun.

Saturday morning after a late breakfast, we rode up the valley towards the Jungfrau, some eight miles, to Lauterbrunnen where we lunched. After eight miles of forest-shaded road we arrived, and there could see the famous Staubbach Fall, floating like a fairy mist down the precipitous wall of the valley, to its rocky bed 1,986 feet below.

Our wheels were soon housed, and the party proceeded to a nearer point to the fall, whence a superb view of its beauties was had.

After viewing the Staubbach, many of the boys continued up the valley to the still more beautiful Trümmelbach, where the torrent of raging water, fresh from the glaciers of the adjacent Jungfrau, has eaten its way through the solid cliff and rushes through a round aperture on one side of the narrow gorge with such terrific force that it strikes the opposite side, some fifty feet distant, almost horizontally, it then dashes up such mist and spray as remind one of Niagara. It was an awe-inspiring spectacle to stand on the frail bridge which spans the gorge and look up at this volume of icy water coming with the velocity of a more than Gargantuan steam-pump from out its self-worn circular aperture in the living rock and dashing into atoms on the opposing cliff, thence raging and foaming into a huge circular basin seventy-five feet below, having been turned at right angles in its course of fifty feet.

Those of us who did not go with the first party went after lunch so that none, or very few, missed seeing the most wonderful and beautiful thing we have come to, thus far on our tour.

After lunch had been disposed of, the falls visited and the wood carving shops bought out, we started in squads up the mountain-side on our two hours' tramp to Murren, where this letter is written, above the clouds. Wheels were left at the Lauterbrunnen hotel (the "Steinbok") until we descend Monday morning. Whatever luggage we imperatively needed was strapped knapsack fashion on our backs and armed with alpenstocks we started. The road or rather path is about six miles long and is merely a track as of a mountain stream, up the side of the mountain, down which the Staubbach (or "dust-fall" leaps. It rises at about an angle of forty-five degrees and is sometimes steeper. Murren is accessable only for pack-horses and by foot. Ladies ride up on horses and mules, having saddles built with back rests and arms like a chair. They are also carried up by porters in sedan-chair, four men being necessary, two as relays.

As we started there were many other tourists, nearly all English, going up and coming down. Several ladies walked up at the time we did, and seemed to get on easily though slowly. Others were also en route in chairs and on horseback.

One old lady in particular had a grand retinue, a chair in which was herself, a mule laden with a miscellaneos lot of truck (among which was a Saratoga trunk) and a man who carried an assortment of umbrellas, tennis-racquets and shawls.

Once on the path the valley is soon left far below, and as one gets higher, the panorama of snow peaks widens. At the two stopping places, we halted to devour wild strawberries and drink milk, never more welcome than then. Some of the boys got caught in a thunder storm on the way and had a rare old ducking, and pelting with hailstones.

When nearly at the summit one can look across the valley and see the stream of the Trummelbach fall, emerging from the glacier on the Jungfrau, and the same view shows a score of other waterfalls, besides peaks and glaciers.

After about two hours steady climbing we reached our hotel, the "Kurhaus" by six o'clock, well prepared for the bountiful dinner which followed. From the dining-room windows one could see plainly the snow-covered slopes across the chasm only three miles away. Last evening we spent huddled about the billard-room stove trying to keep warm. During the evening and night the rain came down, and on awakening we were in the midst of a cloud which wrapped, as if a fog, all things from sight. While at breakfast the sun came out, gilding the snow peaks and promising a fine day. But alas! ere long, back came the clouds like a ghostly mantle and the rain in torrents. No going out of doors for the day, so all settled down to write and read. Judge, oh ye friends in far off America, of our faithfulness in letter writing when I tell you that to-day our party has mailed over ninety letters and post cards home! After lunch it cleared off for a while, allowing a stroll about the little Alpine village of log chalets with stones on the roofs and huge carved over-hanging eaves. A few adventurous ones did climb up to snow-line, played at snowballing and brought back edelweiss from the edge of the snow banks.

This evening, and in fact all day it has been as cool as October, and we have been obliged to keep near the fire for comfort.

To-morrow (Monday, July 15th,) we start down via Lauterbrunen to Interlaken at seven A. M. Some of us are to go down on sledges which run down over the rocks and earth, so steep is the incline. At Lauterbrunen we shall find our wheels and then ride to the Hotel Jungfrau for dinner. After noon we ride (and walk) to the top of the Bruning Pass where we spend to-morrow night.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

Tuesday we ride to Lucerne in the morning and ascend the Rigi in the afternoon. We have now only about two weeks more together and all feel drawn closer than ever together by the fact. This letter goes down the mountain at 4 A. M. to-morrow by carrier, to catch the mail at Interlaken so to connect with the mail. PEDALS.

TIGHT BELTING.

Editor Bicycling World: Excuse me for intruding on your space and time, but I have read with a great deal of interest the articles of L. A. W. 18,951 in regard to wearing tight belts and clothing while riding a wheel. I have been a wheelman for about five years, and for the first season or so wore a belt, but I soon discarded it, because I found it a nuisance. It interfered with my breathing to such an extent that I soon found myself winded on a long hill pull, and on several occasions I strained myself, which I placed at the door of a tight belt.

A stricture of any kind around the waist, whether tight belt or clothing, is dangerous, for the very reasons given by L. A. W. 18,951 in his very ably written article in the Bulletin of April 26th.

I weigh 185 pounds the year round, and ride nearly every day, and I wear my trousers as loose as possible, and even then I find in climbing long hills I must loosen the top button, so as to have lots of breathing room.

I would caution all wheelmen against the pernicious habit of wearing tight belts or clothing. It is not only dangerous to health, but but extremely uncomfortable. Fraternally yours. S. E. A.

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.

[ALL communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—ED.]

The writer of the following need have no fear that ladies will be asked to race. She has come upon a paragraph made from whole cloth by the writer. The managers of the Cottage City meet would never entertain the idea for a moment.

The inclosed clipping referring to the proposed programme of the meet at Cottage City as follows: "A new feature in the races will be a race for ladies on safeties, and we hope that at the finish the ladies from Rhode Island will not be slow" appeared in one of our daily papers of July 25th, and I should like to ask if the new feature in the races herein mentioned "a race for ladies on safeties" is really contemplated. If true I think it is very much to be regretted. As I am one of the Rhode Island lady riders whom the writer of the notice hopes to find at the finish of the race and have already enjoyed many pleasant rides on my little safety I should feel very sorry to have such a stigma placed upon our riding as such a race would bring with it. We are yet in the infancy of bicycle riding and we must be careful lest it die an ignoble death; rather let us enjoy this sport which is twin-sister to horse-back riding in our own way.

We will be delighted to ride with you, dear boys, and keep pace with you mile after mile along the country lanes, up hill or coasting down and where we come to a good bit of road will send the blood tingling to the tips of our fingers and bring roses to our cheeks by a spurt to see who gets there first, but please do not ask us to go upon the race-track. SINGER.

No. 4219 has this to say about the "Mount": DEAR MADAM: I notice and read your column in the WORLD with much interest as the ladies here are taking to the sport bicycluar very rapidly and we expect to have a large club soon. Your different instructions as to the mount so far as I can judge are all different from the one our ladies use which for ease of learning, is we think, ahead of anything yet tried. We have space between our saddles and front upright over forks at least ten inches, sufficient to allow the lady to place herself immediately between the saddle and upright standing with left foot on ground and right foot on right pedal a little forward of upper centre; she then springs up with left foot letting weight fall on right on the pedal, this starts machine and raises her sufficiently to allow her to slide back on saddle with drapery even on both sides. There is no necessity of leaning the machine either way, in fact it must be perpendicular as near as possible. Our ladies have tried the side-mounts, but pronounce above far better and much more easily learned. Should you try this I think you would like the method. Respectfully, ——.

There is no doubt but that a beginner who had never seen a wheel ridden would take to this way of mounting and it is no doubt an easy and graceful way to get upon the machine; and yet I cannot but think that those who employ this method will get their saddles too far back with a resultant stooping position to reach the handles while in the saddle. I believe in the erect position. The bar-steering tricycle came in and the ladies no longer sat erect as they were wont to on the side-steerer but rode with bended backs and stooping shoulders. I hope to see the new mount so constructed that we can straighten up and ride with heads erect. To do this we must keep the saddle well forward. It is impossible for me to mount as our correspondent suggests while I have my saddle in its present position, and I believe it to be not too far forward.

THE HARTFORD TOURNAMENT SEPT. 2 AND 3.

THE name of the Hartford Wheel Club is synonymous with success. The tournaments this club have given yearly have been the leading racing event of the season. In every thing that goes to make a race meet a success, the Hartford Wheel Club tournaments are proverbial.

This year's meet promises to eclipse all other and former efforts. The professional will, for once, be conspicuous by his absence.

Special rules will be enforced and good racing (not loafing) will be the aim of the club to accomplish, and when the club "gains" the bull-eye is in danger. The following special conditions will govern the handicap races

If, in any handicap race, the scratch man fails to start, the men with handicaps will be placed back a corresponding distance, so that a scratch man will appear in all races.

The 1 mile ordinary and safety handicap races will be run in heats according to the number of entries, as will be announced on the official programme of the day. All starters in final heats will be rehandicapped by the official handicapper. The new handicaps to be announced by the referee before the race.

Special attention is called to the following racing rules which will be strictly enforced:

No. 24. The referee may place a time limit on any race. The time limit shall not be announced to the contestants until their arrival at the tape preparatory to the start of the race. If the competitors finish within the limit, they shall receive the prizes. If they fail to so finish, and the referee is convinced by their riding and the time made, that they endeavored to reach the limit, he may award the prizes. It shall be his privilege to withhold any prize if, in his opinion, the competitor did not try to win the race.

No. 28. A class race is open only to those who up to date of the closing of entries have not won one of the first three positions in a public event in the same or better time than the class under consideration.

Entrance fee, $2 for one event and $1 for each additional event.

Entries close August 26 L. A. W. rules to govern. The right to reject any or all entries is reserved. W. M. Francis, P. O. Box 745, Hartford, Conn., will furnish all necessary information, entry blanks, etc., on application.

ALBANY, (N.Y.) TOURNAMENT.

On Saturday, Sept. 31 being a half-holiday the Albany, (N.Y.) wheelmen will hold their 3d Outdoor Tournament and Race Meet. The attention of the readers of this paper is therefore called to the wheelmen's ad. particularly the racing men. The Albany wheelmen are noted not only for their hospitality extended visiting cyclists, but for the facilities afforded and the prizes and medals awarded at their race meets.

With a track equal to any of the very best tracks in America, and, in many respects their superior, no rider has the advantage of any of his competitors by reason of any fault of the track whatsoever. The track at Ridgefield where the races are to take place is indeed a famous one. It was on this path that Burdick, Crist, Stenken, Hall, Edmans and such men particularly distinguished themselves in that a majority of them beat their former records.

One of the events especially worthy of mention is the New York State Division two-mile L. A. W. championship, the winner of which secures a valuable diamond medal. There are several open events, as a glance at the ad. will show, backed by costly prizes and valuable and elegant medals.

Taking place as it does, on Aug. 31, half-holiday, just four days previous to the day appointed for the Hartford, (Conn.,) meet, it will give those en route for Hartford an opportunity of stopping over at the capital city of the Empire State, and not only enable them to visit its many beautiful edifices, but will also afford them a chance of competing for some of the costliest prizes and medals ever offered at a race meet, and on a cinder path that has few, if any equals. Thus, the Albany wheelmen will by this, their first meet, attempt to eclipse all former race meets held in that vicinity.

TASTES DO DIFFER.

Editor Bicycling World: It is amusing sometimss to read the communications sent to the World by persons, the fertility of whose imaginations is only equalled by their absurdity. For example, vide the letter of No. 16,131, in the edition of last week concerning the League uniform. Starting with an imaginary grievance, he "protests against the action of the committee on uniform" in compelling the League members to wear something which he and "a large majority of League members in this vicinity"—wherever that may be—does not like, and then advocates the adoption of a black uniform and compelling its use, without giving a thought to the likes and dislikes of members who do no like it in "this section." Consistency, thy number is 16,131. Furthermore, this gentleman says—"Any cyclist knows how uncomfortable the League suits are." Well, now, that is just what lots of wheelmen, myself included, do not know. I find my suit not only comfortable but also durable and neat, and can be worn on any occasion, which is more than can be said of tights, which he advocates. Fraternally,

ST. LOUIS FALL TOURNAMENT.

The Fall tournament of the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association will be held on Saturday, Aug, 31, at 2.30 P. M., at the Association track. The stockholders held a meeting July 25 and the following programme was provisionally adopted:

One mile (novice), one mile (open), one half-mile dash, two-mile handicap, one mile safety handicap, one mile Missouri Division championship, three mile Missouri Division championship (both events open only to L. A. W. members), two mile lap race, one half mile for boys under 14 years, one mile consolation.

Track Superintendent C. H. Stone has had the track raked, levelled and rolled, and it is now in excellent condition for training. The association has gained a great deal of experience since holding their last meeting, having improved the track, and this one will be first class in every particular. Valuable prizes will be given to first and second in each event, among which a high grade bicycle is already assured. In addition to the events named above it is possible that the W. A. A. A.'s one and three mile championship, for which medals to the actual cash value of $70 will be given, will be decided at this meeting as there are no facilities for bicycle racing at Sportsmen's Park.

St. Louis has the reputation of doing everything that she does well, and the above races will well prove to be no exception to this rule. Visitors to the tournament are requested to make their arrangements so as to so as to stay over Sunday, Sept. 1, on which day special runs will be called for their benefit, and other arrangements for their entertainment made. The list of prizes will be published next week and will also appear on programme, which will be mailed to all who desire it this week. Entry blanks and full information can be obtained by addressing Secretary J. H. Child, care D. Snitzler, 1021 Olive street. Entries close Wednesday, Aug. 28.

MR SHRIVER ON THE CLUB REPRESENTATIVES.

Editor Bicycling World: Considerable discussion having arisen apropos the candidacy of Mr. Prial for representative in the first New York District, over the assertion that he was rejected as a regular nominee because he was "engaged in the trade," it may be well to give members of the League in this district the exact facts:

When the Nominating Committee met, it was decided to select one representative from each of the five clubs in the district, the Manhattan, Riverside and New York clubs being represented on the committee, the opinion of each committeeman was taken as to the best candidate from his club, and Messrs. Gulick for the Citizens and DeGraaf for the Harlem Wheelmen were settled upon by general consent of the whole committee. In submitting a name on behalf of the New York Club, I stated that Mr. Prial's name had been mentioned to me, but that as I had no instructions from the club and could act only on my individual judgement, I felt bound to respect the known objections of many wheelmen to placing in League office anyone making a business of cycling. I therefore proposed the name of Mr. G. B. Watts, whom I was able to recommend as in every way suitable to the office and a new man whom it was desirable to interest in League work. This selection still left the New York Club free to choose Mr. Prial as a club representative, and did not commit the club in advance to any opinion on the moot question of the "trade" holding League office.

The independent ticket, proposing Mr. Prial in place of Mr. Watts, was primarily gotten up by members of the Harlem Wheelmen and Manhattan Bicycle Club. These clubs, or any of their individuals members, have the undoubted right to nominate anyone for office on the general ticket, but it might have been in better taste, considering the mutual understanding, if they had left the New York Club to propose names from its own membership, or in case their zeal was so great for Mr. Prial, they might have named him in place of their own candidate. This haste in taking this action is, morever, a reflection on Mr. Prial himself, as involving the entirely gratuitous assumption that it would not be possible for him to go before his own club for election as one of its three representatives, chosen by the New York Club alone.

Very truly yours, E. J. Shriver.

234 Pearl street, New York, July 29, 1889.

LOAFING RACES.

During the last few years nearly all important races have been more or less of the loafing variety. This evil, for it is an evil, is growing. Its worst result, apart from its demoralizing effect on racing men, is its depressing influence on spectators. The crowd wants to see the men go. Time counts more than anything else in making race meetings popular with the public, and it is on public support that the promoters of meetings must depend. With the public at large, a slow race is virtually no race, and if public interest in cycling is to be maintained, a rigid time limit must be placed on all important races and thoroughly enforced.

At the East Hartford meeting the other day the management set an example worthy the imitation of all who handle tournaments, large or small. A fair time limit was placed on all races of admitting of its application. The one-mile open race, which called out the fastest men present, was limited to 3.15, the allowance having been made large in view of the small size of the track. Forster crossed the line first in 3.47. Referee Joseph Goodman promptly called the men to the judges' stand, reminded them of the fact that the novice's race had been won in a quarter of a minute less by an inexperienced boy, and gave them the object of running the race over again or forfeiting the prizes. The men refused to start and Mr. Goodman declared the race off.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

CHIEF CONSUL BULL of New York has compiled and printed a very valuable hand book of the Division of which he proposes to distribute 7000 copies. The book has seventy-six pages and contains Constitution, By-laws and Officers of the L. A. W., and of the N. Y. Division, complete lists of consuls and hotels, hints on touring and repairs and also emergency hints. An article on "The Law of Cycling" has been prepared by I. B. Potter Esq. of New York, and there is a chapter devoted to "Roads and Road Improvement." Mr. Bull gives a good deal of space to his new Record Book scheme by which he proposes to enlist the membership at large in the work of collecting information regarding routes etc., and giving this information only to L. A. W. members, and, as well, securing privileges and discounts at hotels to members and to no others. If the Chief Consul succeeds in carrying out his plan as he has shaped it he will have done a good work for his division. Wheelmen should co-operate with the Chief Consul to make this a success. The hand book is the best one yet and other Divisions would do well to follow the example set by New York.

Iowa.

To the Iowa Division:

I would announce the fall meet of this Division for Des Moines on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 3rd, 4th and 5th.

This is during the Great Iowa State Fair and includes the days of the bicycle races given by the Fair Association. The programme is not yet completed but will consist of races, runs and a good time generally for all.

The Des Moines Club will have charge of affairs and this alone is sufficient guarantee of a good time. It is especially desirable to have every one who attends bring their wheel as you will find some time riding in and about the city.

The Railroads have given a rate of one fare for the round trip to the State Fair and we will get the advantage of it.

As soon as programme can be arranged notice will be given in the Bulletin.

Yours fraternally, Robt. L. Thompson, C. C.

Michigan Wheelmen, Attention!

Whereas; Nominations for State Officers are now in order: The Grand Rapids Bicycle Club, recognizing the merits of the officers for the past year, and the success of their administration, do hereby nominate the following ticket for the respective offices named, and commend for them the votes of Michigan Division L. A. W.

Chief Consul—A. B. Richmond, Grand Rapids.
Vice Consul—Wm. Seyffardt, East Saginaw.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. A. Conover, Coldwater.
Representatives—J. E. Beal, Ann Arbor; H. M. Snow, Detroit; W. H. Hayden, Tecumseh.

Reinstated.

Mr. Arnold Heilborn of Providence, having been reinstated by the A. A. U. is now recognized as an amateur by this Board.

Chas. S. Davol,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

Pennsylvania.

To members of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W.:

The following additional report of G. N. Osborne should be added to that made in last week's Bulletin: Philadelphia nominations—W. R. Tucker, Philadelphia Bi. Club; H. Crowther, Pennsylvania Bi. Club; Kirk Brown, Century Bi. Club; Samuel Jackson, Jr., South End Wheelmen. Mr. Osborn concurs with the other nominations, so the ticket is now complete. Mail your vote to J. G. Carpenter, Secretary-Treasurer, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., marking it "Mail Vote."

Fraternally, John J. Van Nort, C. C.

West Virginia.

To the Members of the West Virginia Division:

In assuming the office of Chief Consul of this Division, I would earnestly request the League members to render assistance in advancing the interests of the L. A. W. First, by suggestions as to the appointment of local Consuls, wide awake, earnest comrades, who will "push things;" second, by sending such information in regard to the roads in their vicinity to the editor and compiler of the Division Road Book as would enable him to make up a satisfactory book; third, to form League clubs in every town throughout our Division, for the purpose of more thoroughly uniting the comrades, and for the establishment of an organization, through which an effort may be made looking toward an improvement of our roads.

It is very likely an arrangement will be made to have a Division meet this fall at Wheeling, W. Va., and the members of the L. A. W. are expected to turn out in force. The time and other particulars will be announced later.

John Lee Fout is appointed Local Consul at Martinsburg, W. Va., and the St. Clair Hotel has been commissioned as a League Hotel.

R. M. Archer of Huntington, W. Va., is appointed Local Consul at that place. He is also commissioned as editor and compiler of the State Road Book, all members having knowledg on the subject will address him.

The Wheeling Wheelmen will hereafter be known as a League club having passed a resolution to that effect July 23, 1889.

It is earnestly desired to advance the interests of the L. A. W. in this Division, and all wheelmen who have not already joined the League are invited to do so. Any correspondence in regard to information as to joining will be promptly answered.

C. E. Bewis, C. C., W. Va. Div. L. A. W.

Louisiana Election.

At the annual summer meeting of the Louisiana Sub-Division L. A. W., Mr. H. H. Hodgson was unanimously re-elected Chief Consul, and Mr. J. W. Dodge elected Sec.-Treas. Fraternally,

J. W. Dodge, Sec.-Treas.

New Racing Rule.

The Racing Board has amended Rule 30 to read as follows:

Rule 30. Any club, or race promoters, desiring to place upon their lists of events, a race of different nomenclature than those given above, must first explain the nature of the event to the Racing Board member in charge of the district in which races are to be held, and obtain his consent. The consent having been obtained they shall print upon their entry blank and the programme of the day, a rule to define the race, that the officials and contestants may clearly understand the conditions of the contest.

This amendment will not be published again. Ignorance of this change in the rules will not be considered a valid excuse for violation.

Chas. S. Davol,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

Massachusetts.

Circular No. 30.

To members of the Massachusetts Division:

Your attention is called to the fact that your ballots must be in the hands of Sanford Lawton, Secretary-Treasurer by August 10. Districts are entitled to Representatives as follows. District No. 1, 4; No. 2, 2; No. 3, 1; No. 4, 1; No. 5, 2; No. 6, 1:

In some districts, no nominations have been made, members are urged to unite on earnest loyal members and elect them as Representatives.

Let every member vote and there can then be no disappointment resulting from a default. Vote at once, there is no time for delay. Fraternally,

Wm. H. Emery, Chief Consul.

Millison and Everest.

Messrs. B. R. Millison and H. H. Everest of Wichita, Kansas, are hereby declared to have forfeited their amateur status. Amateurs are warned against competing with them.

Chas. S. Davol,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

MY CYCLING LOG BOOK. By "Papa" Weston. The train-story pleasures of cycling can be made as permanent as its physical benefits, by jotting down in a well devised log book, the distances and incidents of one's various journeys. Knowing that such a record is a most pleasant thing to have, and believing that the keeping of such should be encouraged, as tending to the permanent good of cycling in more ways than can be referred to here. The Log Book is handsomely and strongly bound in red leather, will last for years of constant use, and is the best arranged book of its kind ever yet devised. It fills a want often felt by the cyclist who values records of interest for future reference. Price, post paid, $1.25 For sale by Bicycling World Co., 12 Pearl st., Boston.

A CORRESPONDENT FROM PERKINS JUNCTION, BURKE CO., GA., WRITES AS FOLLOWS:

"Are you really selling any of the hickory bicycles which you advertise? I have never seen one of them on the street here." On making enquiry of our book-keeper (who is also the packer, shipping clerk and teamster, and therefore ought to know), we are much mortified to discover no record of a shipment to that town. But although they may be still other unfavored places, we have actually got the Hickory Bicycle in practical use. The man who uses it objects to seeing his name in print else we would publish his letter in which he states that he has tried the machine several times without the slightest unpleasant effect on his perinaenum.

If every person who has never seen our hickory wheels would send us a dollar, we could pay the national debt, but let that pass and please remember this prophecy: Ten years hence, cycle wheels, (the best ones) will be made of some material, the use of which, for that purpose, will have become general. You may think you know what it is.

We are willing to go on record as saying that it will not be any kind of metal. Cycle building will be an important industry in 1900, and as the above prophesy calls for a radical and complete revolution, it might be well to paste it up along side of "Mother Shipton's" prediction, and when the revolution has taken place read it to those makers and dealers, the more polite of whom ask "permission to snicker" when Hickory Wheels are mentioned

EASILY FIRST AMONG THE SAFETIES.

THE COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER SAFETY.

For the first time since putting it on the market, we feel justified in regularly advertising this splendid machine, whose superior design and qualities have proved such a practical advertisement that its sale has already reached a point far ahead of that reached by any other bicycle in its first season. Its unparalleled success has been made in the face of delays of several months in filling our contracts for supplies, and while our factory has been working to the best possible advantage under the circumstances, we have unavoidably been behind our orders from the first — a costly and vexatious experience.

Our out-put is now at its highest point, and while we are still behind, and the orders are coming in more heavily than ever before at this season of the year, we can see our way clear to fill urgent orders promptly.

We are under obligations to many hundreds of customers who have waited patiently for the delivery of their machines — but they were worth waiting for. We have never seen one better worth waiting for, and we shall give later on, some facts going to sustain our belief and claim that it is by all odds the easiest running and best Safety for all round use ever offered. Ask any man who rides one, what he thinks of it.

Respectfully submitted,

POPE MANUF'G COMPANY.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT READING, PA., July 27.—The full programme was postponed to Aug. 3, but they ran two special races last Saturday for the benefit of the competitors present. Heavy track. One mile (open): W. I. Wilhelm 1, M. T. Killmer 2, both of Reading; time 3.45 1-4. W. W. Taxis, Philadelphia, broke a pedal on the home stretch. Two mile (handicap): W. W. Taxis, Phila., 1, at 50 yard mark; M. T. Killmer, Reading, 2, 195 yards; Wm Reifsnyder, Pottstown, 3, 265 yards; time, 6.38 1-2. Wilhelm, scratch, dropped out on the third lap, half mile track. The list of entries assure an excellent meet Saturday, weather permitting.

AT LEWISTON, ME.—Road.—Last week Thursday the road race between Lewiston and Sabatus and return was run successfully. The distance for the round trip was about 12 miles. Ed Stetson got the best of the start, which was made "from the ground," that is each man did his own mounting and starting, instead of by the usual push off. The turning point at Sabatus was in front of Woodside's drug store, and at that point was stationed Wm. R. Stevens, the well-known Lewiston cyclist. Stetson's time to Sabatus was 26 min. Putnam was close up at the turning point, but he fell back to fifth place soon after. The result is as follows: E. Stetson (1), 54m.; F. Groves (2), 56m.; A. Cushman, Jr. (3); 56m. 35s.; W. Sawyer (4), 57m. 45s.; Jno. Putnam (5), 59m. 58s.; Geo. Turgeon (6), 60m. 37s.

AT TOLCHESTER, MD., July 26.—Track.—One mile handicap: The starters were Walter Ash, W. P. Hall and H. E. Dayhoff; they finished after a good race in the order named; time 4.30. Gold medal to winner and silk badge to second. The half-mile handicap was won by V. R. Emerson, his only competitor was Walter Ash; time 1.48. Prize, a watch. The third race was for the championship of the Crescent Club, open to Crescent Club members only. R. J. Aiken 1, W. G. Ostendorff 2, J. M. Beurrier 3; time 1.53. The 50 yard slow race was won, of course, by H. E. Dayhoff of Hagerstown, Md., his competitor being J. M. Beurrier; prize, gold medal. The last race, a half-mile handicap, prize, nickel lamp. The starters were R. J. Aiken, on a safety, and V. R. Emerson, on an ordinary, the latter from the scratch, while Aiken had 60 yards' start. Aiken won. Time, 1.45.

IN ENGLAND.—R. H. Davis of Harvard College made his début on the English track July 13 and was beaten. The occasion was the race meeting of the Polytechnics at Paddington and the event. As the fastest loser in the safety handicap he got into the final heat. The Cyclist thus describes the race: One mile safety handicap (open): G. Morden, Argosy B. C., 170 yards, 1; W. Foreman, Southwark C. C., 150 yds. 2; W. Walker, Polytechnic C. C., 170 yds. 3; R. H. Davis, Harvard University B. C., 50, fastest loser, 0; W. Price, Polytechnic B. C., 50; F. H. Mason, Polytechnic B. C., 50; S. Waddington, Magpie, 170; W. J. Welch, Kildare B. and T. C., 150. The three 170 and the two 150 men were quickly bunched and spurting against each other gave few chances to the trio of equi-backmarkers, of whom Mason retired in the last lap. Morden got home first by a yard from the Railway Clearing House winner, who was six yards in front of Walker. Price beat Davis after a good race the whole way. Time, 2m. 32 2-5s.

AT CHICAGO.—Road.—The Illinois Club are giving a series of fine road races. Some 30 started in the first race the other day: distance 10 miles. The following is the result of the first race (handicap): Henneger, 4m., 1, 43.16 2-5; Tuttle, scratch, 2, 39 27 2-5; Hageman, 3.30, 3; Riggs, 2.45, 4; O'Connell, 3.16, 5; Crowe, 4.30, 6. The next race in the series takes place July 30. The Illinois members propose to celebrate their third anniversary Aug. 10 in great style, a lantern parade and smoker being part of the festivities. Hosford rode a mile on his safety in 3.01 the other Sunday, while Greenleaf made a mile on the safety in 3m. and on an ordinary did a mile in 2.47.

AT MACON, GA., July 19.—The last time "the Rambler" wrote, his report was that of late, he had been mostly rambling. This time his occupation again begins with an "r," but is for racing. The races here on July 4th, did not satisfy all the riders as to their respective abilities, and as a result four races were called for July 19 last. In the one mile handicap C. A. Persons won from scratch in 3.18, with J. B. Edings second and C. F. Stubbs third. In the two mile, Joe Wilburn won, having 1-4 mile handicap with C. A. Persons from scratch, one length behind, and Phil McCall third; time, 7.20. In the three mile, C. A. Persons won from scratch with Phil McCall 2d and J. B. Edings 3rd, over eight entries, some with 3-8 mile handicaps. In the five mile, B. W. Kincoid of Griffin was given 3-8 mile handicap and came in first. C. A. Persons from scratch, second, and J. B. Edings, 1-4th mile, 3rd. The races were under the auspices of the Central City Wheelmen; a small gate fee was charged and all expenses made.

AT ST. LOUIS.—Medals and glory, and more of the latter than the former, seem to be too much for racing men to stand. In spite of the fact that the Fair Grounds management still enforces the embargo against cyclists, the following took part in the bicycle races there to-day, which were sandwiched in between an athletic meeting of the Pastime A. C. One mile bicycle handicap: Richard Hurck, 150 yards (1); Geo. E. Tivy, 170 yards (2); F. H. Mahby, 100 yards (3); time, 3 min., 14 2-5 sec. Two mile bicycle handicap: W. H. Harding, 125 yards (1), Richard Hurck, scratch (2); time, 7 min., 50 3-5 sec.

LINNEUS.

MR. MURPHY TO MR VAN WAGONER.

MR. WM. VAN WAGONER: Dear Sir—Replying to your challenge to me published in the WORLD of July 26, I desire to state that individually I never remember having made the remarks which you credit me with in your challenge. I am not in the habit of doing my racing either by word of mouth or upon paper, and therefore accept your challenge without hesitation. I will race you 25 miles over the Irvington-Milburn course at any time you see fit; as to the prize, I am not in the gun business nor have I any particular use for one; however, if you prefer to race for a gun I will race you for one, or for a $50 medal, or I will race you just for the fun of it. I desire to make the following change in the terms of your challenge. I will not restrict myself or you to any particular weight of wheel, either man may ride a machine of any weight he pleases; as to the date, I would prefer to race on Sept 7, or later, as my time is occupied until then.

Very truly yours,

Wm. F. Murphy, K. C. W.

BICYCLE THIEF CAPTURED.

Editor Bicycling World: The Stark County (Ohio) Wheelmen, and I am sure all others, will rejoice in the fate which awaits our first bicycle thief. At 8 P. M. on the evening of July 25 the writer, riding home, placed his wheel in the stable, and while engaged in hitching up a horse in the yard, a stranger came boldly in, asking the privilege of getting a drink and some apples which were close to the barn. All being ready, the horse was driven away and it was not noticed what became of the man. However, the following morning my bicycle, almost new and worth nearly $130, was missing, as were also its tracks, and by 8 A. M. the following day the case had been left in the hands of the Canton Wheel Co., with orders for very suspicious changes and repairs, which were to be completed on the 29th inst. I at once prepared a complete description of the machine and had gotten but few into circulation until the Canton Company were heard from, and as the trap seemed to be set, we concluded to allow the thief, who proved to be the stranger, walk in, which he did today. He was of course immediately arrested, and is in the hands of the sheriff charged with grand larceny, an offence punished from one to seven years in the penitentiary. The reward was willingly given to the Canton Wheel Co., and I am much indebted to Mr. Frank C. Myers, our division secretary and member of the company, for his assistance in bringing the thief to justice, as also to others who furnished information.

It was my determination to find and prosecute this thief, hoping that it would prove a lesson. In the future some of us will not be quite so careless as to where and how we leave our wheels.

Yours truly, ARTHUR WRIGHT, L. A. W. 5660.

A CORRECTION.

Editor Bicycling World: In the BICYCLING WORLD of the 12th of July a part of our advertisement read as follows:

SEDALIA LETTER.

"SEDALIA, MO., July 4.

"Barnard, on a Columbia, beat Stone. Riders of Columbias win four first and five second prizes."

The above was an exact copy of a telegram sent from Sedalia, Missouri, on the 4th of July, signed by a well-known and responsible party.

Subsequently we were informed that the substance of the dispatch was incorrect. We immediately telegraphed the party sending the dispatch, and on the 30th of July received in reply from him the following:

"Exact wording July 4th telegram: 'Barnard beat Sanders, Sanders beat Stone. Columbia wins four firsts, five seconds.' By mistake Sanders' name omitted. Barnard far superior to Sanders."

Whether the mistake was with the telegraph company in transmitting the message or a mistake of the party sending it, we do not know, but it looks to us as though it was due to both parties. But of this we are assured, that the dispatch as printed was not correct, and we take the earliest opportunity to make this explanation.

Yours very truly, POPE MFG. CO.

THE new early closing card of the Pope Mfg. Co. is a most beautiful specimen of the lithographic art. We hope every business house in the country will secure one of these pretty cards and use it to the benefit and recreation of the employes.

THE mounted police officer Kelly, who ran down L. W. Beasley who was cycling in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, lately, has been suspended by the Brooklyn Board of Police Commissioners pending his trial in September.

JOHN HERON, an expressman of Bridgeport, Ct., was lately fined for running down H. Elliot who was riding a bicycle. The case has been appealed.

DR. W. G. KENDALL has been asked to officiate as a judge at Hartford next September.

THE BICYCLING WORLD wrongly accredits A. C. Banker with breaking the American half-mile record for safeties at Hagerstown. It should be W. D. Banker of Pittsburg, the time being 2 min. 22 sec.—Bulletin.

WE are in receipt of a splendid photograph showing Mr. W. F. Robertson of Washington, D. C., riding down the steps of the Capitol on an Eagle bicycle. It is a wonderfully clear picture and we deem it a great addition to our picture gallery.

MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice-cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

WE have received a copy of the second edition of L. H. Johnson's catalogue of the famous Premier Safeties, which contains, in addition to the original matter, full particulars of the new Catford Premier Light Roadster Safety, which is now winning honors in America on path, road and hill.

SAM'L B. STERLING, the gentleman who made such an excellent showing on Corey Hill will again attempt the hill and try and outdo his former effort. He will tackle Corey about the last of Sept.

BICYCLES

"IT'S TOO LIGHT!"

Is a remark frequently made by those who look at the QUADRANT SAFETY for the first time. And so it might be if it were not made by a Company who have the most scientific designers and the most skillful workmen in the world.

"WILL IT STAND HARD USAGE?"

Was a question in the mind of one of Philadelphia's most prominent business men, who weighs 200 pounds and often rides from 60 to 100 miles a day over rough roads. He had never ridden anything but the old reliable —— and was a little afraid to trust himself upon a wheel so light as the Quadrant. At the same time he did not want to push that extra 10 pounds of dead weight around with him everywhere, if the lighter wheel was just as strong. So he bought one of the first Quadrant Safeties imported, with a written guarantee that if it did not stand the hard usage he intended to give it, the importers would give him any make of machine in the market in even exchange for it. He still rides a Quadrant and it has never cost him a cent for repairs. If you now tell anyone who knows the history of this machine that the Quadrant is too light, he will tell you that a machine that will stand Mr. ——'s riding will carry anybody.

AND IT WILL!

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 9 AUGUST, 1889.

DEATH OF J. PURVIS-BRUCE.

Taking up the daily paper on Monday morning last, we were completely overcome by the announcement which appeared therein that J. Purvis-Bruce, familiarly known to our readers as "Jack," had been drowned on Sunday whilst bathing in Chauncey Pond, Westboro. We could not believe it true; we hoped against reason that it would prove false. We could not bring ourselves to realize that the man we saw full of life and ambition only three days ago, was dead. But our hopes were rudely dispelled on receiving the following private telegram, dated Westboro, August 4:

"Jack drowned while bathing alone this afternoon [Sunday]. Body not yet recovered. Diver will search on Monday.

W. A. REED."

All evidence points to the theory that the cause of drowning was undoubtedly cramps. Jack had been putting in some training for a week past, and on Sunday he had been exercising hard all day; he had walked and run nearly twenty miles. He then ate a very hearty dinner and soon after started to run to Chauncey Pond (1 1-2 miles distant.) Here he took a boat and rowing out into the pond took off his clothes and was in and out of the water for 20 minutes. A Mr. Dean was watching Jack from the bank, when suddenly a cry of agony went up and Jack disappeared from sight. He came to the surface three times, but long before aid could reach him he had sunk for the last time. The time of the accident was about 3.30 P. M. The alarm was at once given, but the most persistent efforts failed to secure the body, and so Mr. Reed wired the Boston Chief of Police for a diver. Two of these experts arrived on Monday at 6 A. M. from Boston and at 10.30 A. M. the body was recovered.

Beneath a thin crust of eccentricity glowed a heart as true and pure as gold, and that heart is now forever stilled and a life of bright promise has been brought to an untimely end. We have only personally known Mr. Bruce for about four months, but during that time we have had opportunities to know him as he was. We had grown to regard him for his real worth; we had been permitted to see below the surface, and we saw revealed a character which was an honor to mankind. His enemies admired him and his friends loved him; some of his acquaintances laughed at him. True, original, eccentric and frank. None can accuse Jack of insincerity. He was outspoken to all alike—he kept nothing back; perhaps too outspoken sometimes "for policy's sake," but he hated duplicity, he despised "Uriah-Heepishness." His greatest fault was his loyalty to his own ideas and principles, which were honorable, to a degree eccentric.

Personally we shall miss him as though he were a brother, the press will miss him as a fearless writer who was full of vigor and wrote in vigorous language. He was not afraid to write or talk, as he analyzed or saw matters; he was a CHARACTER, not a colorless specimen of humanity.

There were some who failed to delve below the outer crust and find the real man; they simply saw his oddities, but it was our privilege to discern beneath the cloak a germ of value, the thoughts and character of a TRUE MAN.

A most curious and painful incident is that of the telegram in last week's WORLD from Minneapolis in which it is stated "Jack's" death was rumored. The fact of Jack's death will reach Mr. Stockdale before the fac-simile which appears in the WORLD reaches him.

THE FUNERAL.

Sitting here at "Jack's" desk, on "Jack's" chair, and looking out of the window in full view of his final resting place, we pen the last sad facts of this painful catastrophe.

Mr. W. A Reed, on Monday, cabled Jack's father for instructions, saying that the body would be preserved in such a way as to be capable of transporting across the water if wished, but on the other hand, if Mr. Bruce preferred that Jack's body be buried in America, the use of Mr. Reed's family lot in the cemetery at Westboro being generously tendered.

Mr. Bruce chose the latter course, and so at 4.30, August 6th, surrounded by nearly a hundred sympathizing friends, Jack's body was laid at rest forever.

All services were conducted at the graveside by the Rev. D. Augustine Newton, who used the church of England burial service, read from a book of common prayer owned by Jack. A quartette, composed of the following men in the employ of the White Cycle Co., rendered a couple of beautiful selections: Geo W. Toney, first tenor; H. W. Butler, second tenor; H. G. Barr, first baso; R. T. Vinal, second baso. The bearers were Allen W. Acorn, A. L. Whitney, J. S. Bradly and Harry Morgan.

All the men in the employ of the White Cycle Co. were present at the services, as also were President White, Secretary Peck and all the directors except Dr. Corey, who was confined to his house by sickness.

The casket was enclosed in a heavy pine box lined with zinc and hermetically sealed, in anticipation that the body would be sent abroad. The box itself was covered with flowers and ferns, which he loved so well.

The services were simple and impressive and there was scarcely a dry eye to be seen. It was an ideal summer day, just such a day as dear old Jack loved, and so amid the tears of those who had learned to love him, even though friends of recent date, the coffin was lowered and the solemn words, "ashes to ashes," closed the services. After securing a rose from a wreath and a pebble from the grave side we sadly and silently turned away.

During the services the Rev. Mr. Newton read the following beautiful poem, written by Dr. Corey, one of the directors of the company:

Far from his native land—the mighty deep
A thousand leagues, its restless billows sweep,
Betwixt his kindred, who in vain must wait
His form appearing at the homestead gate.
Loving to roam his daring spirit found
All men his kindred and with friendship bound,
The recent stranger by that chain unseen,
Which made all feel the friendship long had been.
He came among us as the opening flowers,
Broke from the bondage of grim winters powers,
And like a vine with many tendrils set,
Made fast some clinger to each man he met.
Now cold he lies, each generous impulse hushed;
Each springing hope by death's dread pressure crushed;
Life hence has fled, this bruised and shattered bowl,
Has lost its tenant, an IMMORTAL SOUL.
Upon this grave will fall no parents tear,
The earth must close without a loved one near,
No brothers fondness, nor a sisters care,
To the sad spot at evening shall repair;
He sleeps alone,—yes so we all must sleep,
Though scores of mourners at our grave side weep.
To-day is ours, we mingle with our kind,
And pressing duties in our pathway find;
Defer them not, for ere to-morrows sun
His circuit makes, our journey may be done.
It matters not to us when comes that time,
Be it in foreign lands or in our native clime!
Each for himself the gloomy path must tread
All men are strangers 'mong the silent dead.

CHIEF CONSUL BULL is not the kind of a man to close his eyes to evils if they do exist, and his manner of handling the evil of hoodlumism shows him equal to the occasion. We commend his circular in the official department of this paper to the careful perusal of all our readers.

A GERMAN, on a machine manufactured in the Fatherland, has lowered England's colors on the racing path. Lehr, the German, will figure as mile champion of England for 1889. We are pleased at this victory because it is the result of upsetting the plans of riders who have hitherto resorted to the pernicious and sport killing habit of "loafing." It is not sport to dawdle through three quarters of a mile and then sprint in at the finish. This is the first time, we believe, in the history of cycling, that a foreigner on a foreign made wheel has invaded Albion and plucked the prize at the Cycling Derby.

THE Boston Herald is doing good work in calling attention to the disgraceful condition of the Hub's highways. There was a time when Boston's streets were a source of pride to its residents, but alas! that day is now past. The license given private corporations to tear up the streets is poor municipal policy and should be regulated. We think some good may come from the Herald's bill of particulars.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

To Mr. Murphy.

The date you set for the race between us is satisfactory, unless from some cause the Hartford races are postponed so as to interfere. If this happens we will race the next Saturday, Sept. 14. As to the weight of the wheel, after reconsidering the matter, it don't make any difference to me so long as either rider can change wheels when he pleases. Neither wind or rain to postpone our race. I would prefer to race for a rifle as I have medals enough already, and what are tney good for anyway? I am not in the gun business either, but I do use a rifle some when I get time.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM VAN WAGONER, Newport Co. Wheelmen, 17,291.

HERE & THERE

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

THE street improvement craze has struck New York hard. and it is no longer a question as to whether they shall be improved but as to what is the best surface to lay upon them. To discover what constituted the best pavement, the city sent Mr. Stevenson Towle abroad to look into the practical workings of modern road surfaces throughout Europe. Mr. Towle has just returned from a six months' study of the question, both from a practical and scientific standpoint, and as a result of his observations, declares himself to be a firm adherent of asphalt, claiming that it offers fewer weak points and more strong ones than any other form of surface he has investigated. It stands the hardest traffic of London, meets every condition in Paris, and is accepted as the perfect pavement in Berlin, where the climate is as hard on streets as it is here. Certain then it is, that if the opinion of the cities' expert go for anything, that we are now in for an extended asphalt boom. Finding no other loop-hole for objections to this form of street paving, the supporters of the granite-block system of wheel destroyer have advanced a new and entirely original form of objection. They point to the fact that while Paris, London, Berlin and Washington are almost unbearable from the heat in summer, that New York has always been noted for incomparative coolness even in midsummer. This atmospheric condition of affairs they attribute to the absence of any amount of asphalt pavement here, and to its almost universal use in the other cities named. They arrive at this conclusion by claiming that the asphalt absorbs and retains heat in a much greater degree than any other form of paving, and claim that if it is extensively introduced here, that we may expect to see ourselves suffer from its heat producing qualities. There is an atom of truth in these statements, as against a ton of exageration, and if its opponents can show no better arguments against asphalt than this one, I am afraid that they are on the losing side of the question. It occurs to me that this is an example of the eleven fool jurors and the one wise one. It can't be possible that all the magnificent cities that have been named are wrong in introducing asphalt pavements, and that New York alone has discovered the fact, while they themselves are ignorant of it. With any extended introduction of improved roadways here such an increase in cycling will result, the like of which I am sure has never before been witnessed.

WE have a cycling mystery here, and it is none the less a tantalizing one, because the chief personage in it is a lady, presumably handsome, and certainly young. This mystery lays in the failure to discover the identity of a lady rider whose only personality up to date is her title of "the-lady-with-green-veil." Lady riders are as yet somewhat of a novelty, and as such, always receive more or less attention and the number of them who ride in good form is but a small proportion of their not numerous body, so that when one sees a wheelwoman correct in dress. and perfect in every detail of propulsion and control of her wheel, it is needless to say that as a thing of beauty she at once rivets attention and admiration. Now this lady "with-the-green-vail" is certainly the most perfect example of the beauties of cycling that this village has yet seen, but who she is or where she comes from or goes to, is one of those things no fellow can find out, though the number of those who would like to do so is not small. This fair mystery is mounted on a light woman's bicycle and when ever met upon the road is bowling along at a good eight-mile-an-hour gait, which seems to be the easiest thing in the world for her to maintain, but at all times and under all circumstances her face is concealed by a thick dark green veil of such density that I am at a loss to understand how she can see her way through its folds, certainly she does though, for a more skillful avoider of road obstructions could scarce be found than she is. I have made numerous enquiries as to who the lady was, but though my wheeling acquaintance is not small, I have yet to find anyone who knows more of her identity than I do, and that is nothing at all. The man with the iron mask remains to this day a mystery, and I verily believe that this "lady-with-the-green-veil" is going to take the same place in cycling history that the masked gentleman occupies in that of France.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

THE local racers are preparing for the Hartford tournament and the old training grounds of many brilliant lights. Chestnut Hill Reservoir, is always on an evening crowded with aspirants for fame and honor on the cinder path. The new path at Franklin Park has already become a favorite training place for embryo track heroes. If every candidate for track honors should meet with the same fate as did G. M. Worden, the noted hill climber, many of them would decide at once that they are not good and fit subjects for the race track. That individual was recently training with a 60-inch racing wheel at Franklin Park when he came across Charlie Daniels. Of course the usual salutations of the day were exchanged, and then Worden requested Charley to hold the watch while he spurted around the track. The ever-accommodating gentleman from the Y. M. C. A. A. took the watch, and consequently the man of muscle started on the trip around the track. He pushed the old machine for all he was worth, and when coming up to the finishing post a small boy yelled, "The other fellow went away." A few days ago Mr. Daniels came in contact with the writer and told him the story of how he got tired of waiting for Worden, and rather than lose his supper he postponed the pleasure of telling Worden in what extremely fast time he made the mile. It is stated that the honorable member of the Manhattan and Press Cycling Clubs is now looking for a person who desires to purchase a racing wheel.

MANY persons with whom I have spoken seem strongly in favor of having the office of the secretary-treasurer of the division located in Boston. They argue that if such was the case the business of the division could be carried on more efficiently and quickly, as instead of having to send all his orders and papers to the secretary in the western portion of the State the Chief Consul would only have to come down town to converse with the secretary-treasurer. Then, again, that individual can attend the meetings of the board. League members have no fault whatever to find with the present incumbent, and I think they have already shown such to be the case by nominating him for and securing his election as one of the vice-presidents of the national organization. I see that the Herald is booming Charles H. Howard for the position, and that Charley is booming "Kerosene" for something or other. Charles Howard is certainly a good man for the position, and deserves the support of the wheelmen, but I certainly dislike he and Kerrison exchanging compliments through their respective papers.

THERE seems to be a little jealousy existing between Dave Drummond and Peter Berlo, and there is no doubt but that when these gladiators meet once more there will be a hard tussle for the supremacy. It is the outcome of the Fourth of July races, and was all brought about by Berlo refusing to allow Drummond (who was at that time a fresh man) to race in the final heat of the quarter-mile safety race.

COTTAGE CITY will this week miss more than one congenial spirit, and the wheelmen who took such great care of Vice Consul Robinson, and "Jamaica Ginger" Mossman will weep great big tears of sorrow when they discover that their friends are not among the meetites this year. They are travelling over the European Continent by means of steam locomotion instead of foot propulsion, and are a deal more lively than the members of the Elwell party. Nor are they the only persons who are vacationing in other climes, as ex-Capt. Roope and Albert McLean, of the Cambridgeport Club, are in Nova Scotia, and J. B. McCune will sail for Europe later on.

LATELY while talking with the bicycle editor of one of Boston's great newspapers I learned that Tom Eck was to start for Australia with his female attractions, and that in a letter to the editor he hinted that a full page article giving the cuts and histories of his different women would be very acceptable.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

WESLEY YALE and Ed. McDougall leave on the 20th for a week's touring in Canada. A delegation of Syracuse riders will be at Richfield Springs on the 14th August to witness the races to be held there. Irving Fuller of Rome —a Syracuse favorite—will be there and will be backed by the Syracuseans to the extent of their pile. By the by, will some Roman kindly ask Irving how he likes the Syracuse ice cream?

ED. S. PETRIE has placed a cigar stand in the club rooms, a great convenience to the smoking contingent. but we don't all smoke; some never did for fear they would be sick; others have sworn off and are bound to keep their vows.

HARRY SCHELL left on Sunday, the 4th August, for Buffalo by wheel. He was accompanied as far as Seneca Falls by Messrs Avery and Hatt.

"SALINA" regrets very much the action of the authorities in giving New York and Brooklyn the State meet. Neither are centrally located, and for recreation and solid comfort neither city can give it in hot September. How much better would Alexandria Bay have been, with its elegant hotels, and splendid facilities for sport. But the decree has gone forth and to it we humbly bow.

GENIAL Charlie Wood has just returned from a trip by rail east. Mr. Wood had the misfortune to strain his knee a few week since, and it has bothered his riding to a considerable extent.

A FEW personalities: Pres. Wilson returned the past week from Boston; Treas. McChesney has returned from Block Island; Ed. Leighton has been South for the past few weeks; Sec. Cherry spent Monday last with the Buffalo wheelmen; Messrs. Gere, Petrie, Wood and Cherry leave early next week for Richfield Springs.

MEMPHIS.

"ANCHOR."

THE hopeless collapse of the long distance race is but another instance of how utterly inert things bicycular are in the city of Bluffs. Mr. Seelig had obtained a big lead over the others the hind fellows just flunked clean out. Mr A. Alberts was the only man who seemed to care about going on, but the majority ruled, and so the old race went to smash.

WHY Memphis, with the second largest League membership in the State, should be so slow in all matters furthering the interest in cycling I cannot understand. For the past few weeks several of our energetic young fellows have tried hard to work up enthusiasm on the club question, and as they thought they had awakened sufficient interest among wheelmen, a meeting was called at Mr. Seelig's, but to the chagrin of the promoters only five men showed up, and so that scheme had a cold water bath and collapsed. Verily Memphis is a dead city so far as the wheelmen are concerned.

DR. SCHERER took a spin the other day on his safety, and feeling pretty good, he undertook to run down a couple of dogs that were playing in the middle of the road. The dogs were hurt, and the doctor was sent flying. On assuming the perpendicular he took stock of damages, and found that one leg of his breeches was split from the knee up to the waistband, but a few pins repaired damages, and the doctor remounted and started again on his way, but alas. another dog ran in front of the doctor's wheel; this time, however, the dog got the worst of it, both wheels passing over his body, while the doctor kept his seat.

MR. P. GLUCK, now in the effete East, is expected home soon. He wnnt away a single man, and rumor hath it that he will come home with a Mrs. Gluck on his arm.

MR. WM. WOOD, who for the past five weeks has been very sick, is once more on his feet.

MR. WHITEMORE again took the honors in the 10-mile dash on the poplar Boulevard, making the run in 41.30 against a strong wind last Tuesday. Once more Whit., and the medal is yours sure.

MESSRS SEELIG and Scherer will make a tour through Arkansas in a few weeks.

NEW ORLEANS.

"NOKOMIS"

R. G. BETTS, the sturdy and pushing little Captain of the Louisiana's has resigned that office on account of his change of residence. His new home will be New York City, for which place he will leave on the 15th inst. To say that his fellow members regret this is putting it mildly. It was Betts who started and organized the Club, and it was he, also, who started the Club House project, and the knowledge that they will lose him, and that he will no longer be with them on their club runs and the immortal "Sugar Cane and Watermellon eats" puts a kind of quietus on the whole club. He will indeed be missed, for there is no one that can ever take his place or fill his office as he did.

L. FREDERICK, has been elected Captain. Frederick held the office of Lieutenant, and his promotion is but a just tribute to an earnest and faithful worker in the interest of the club. W. C. Grivot, ("Potts") the clubs schemer succeeded to the office of Lieutenant.

THE Club House of the Louisiana's is now an assured fact. The plans are made, specifications drawn up, lots selected, and in ten days they hope to have the ground broken. The members are very enthusiastic over the prospect of the house, and when the house warming takes place—don't mention it.

HARRY H. HODGSON, whom all members at the last meet no doubt know, has been re-elected to Chief Consul of the Louisiana Division L. A. W. This is Harry's third term. Harry is a jolly good fellow and a hustler. J. W. Dodge, has been elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Our League Races will take place on or about the 13th of September next and bids fair to eclipse all former efforts made in that direction. The racing board are to meet shortly and perfect all arrangements and races, when I will give the result to the World.

On the 4th there is to be a great (?) race between Shute and Harris of the Louisiana. A feud has been brewing between these two for a long time over the question of which is the faster of the two. They can each do a mile in about 4 minutes. Each is in training and is going in for blood, and to say that the race is going to be exciting is putting it mildly, and in my next I will give the result of it. Every wheelman in town is going to witness it, and the number of bets made on the result is a "legion."

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

The C. B. C. are sadly in need of a new set of tunes to use when on a club run, as the present assortment has been in such constant use that they have become somewhat threadbare. The steamboat has gone "around de bend" so often that it has actually worn a crease in the river. Everybody within twenty-five miles of Porkopolis has "heard dem bells," as also Marqua's declaration that "He believes it, for his Mother told him so" and that he is going "down to old Virginny to see his darling Chloe," and that his "Mother may never! never! press him to her heart again."

It is indeed encouraging, in looking over the list of July 26, to see that twelve of the applicants for membership in the L. A. W. belong to that sex of whom it is said:

"Oh Woman in thy hours of ease,
Uncertain, coy and hard to please;
Thou'rt but a vain and fleeting show
For Man's delusion giv'n
When seen too oft, familiar with thy face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

The next national meet should by all means be held at Niagara Falls, for if there is anything in which a wheelman delights it is an abundance of fresh water.

In "The pavement question in New York City" in the World of July 26, two statements are made that are not exactly true: first that the asphalt pavement in Cincinnati satisfactorily withstands the heavy traffic, and second that Cincinnati did not have very heavy traffic When the "four million" bill passed the legislature and before it was decided what kind of pavements should be laid, the opponents of asphalt claimed that in no city in the Union was there as heavy loads hauled over the streets as here, and for that reason asphalt would be useless. Those in favor of it, however, claimed that all an asphalt pavement needed to make it durable was a good foundation. A compromise was made and some of the streets were paved with asphalt and some with granite, particular attention being paid to the foundation in both cases. Our traffic may not be very heavy, but it strikes me that a load of ten tons is heavy enough, and a great many vehicles haul that much at one load At any rate it was soon found necessary to keep loaded wagons drawn by more than two horses off of the asphalt pavements, but even this did not save them, for they soon wore into ruts and holes and a gang of men are almost constantly employed in patching them. None of our vehicles have tires wider than five inches. Now if we could require wagons with a capacity for one ton to have a three inch tire and add an inch for each increase of a ton in the load, so that a ten ton load would run on twelve inch tires, our asphalt pavements might not only last longer, but our bowldered and macadamized streets would be kept smooth and even instead of abounding in ruts and holes as at present. A combination pavement might be made that would be smooth, durable and afford a good foothold for horses, by laying smooth iron rails about eighteen inches wide, parallel with the curb and about as far apart from centre to centre as the tread of an ordinary vehicle, and paving the intervening spaces with granite. This would be as smooth and not any noisier than asphalt and as durable as granite.

On the last Sunday in July the C. B. C. were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Benckenstein at their residence near Wyoming. The run was well attended. Little Hilda Kempton was there on her safety. The boys amused themselves by kicking foot ball, boxing and base ball. They also had a sham fight, one side being commanded by the captain who prudently remained out of range. An amusing episode of the fight was the capture of the bewitching Nash. In attempting to execute a flank movement, he had just obtained a good position behind a tree when he was pounced on by the wily Miller before he had time to fire an apple and had his cap full of ammunition confiscated. On the return the boys met a combination of spirited horse and excitable female and when about half of the procession had passed, a scream from the woman frightened the horse so that he whirled about, knocked Hinkler trom his wheel and trampled both him and his machine. The wheel was a wreck and it is a miracle that the rider escaped serious injury.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

The Chicago's Indianapolis - Cincinnati run has been postponed until Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. Taking train Friday evening the club will go to Indianapolis, starting from there Saturday morning. A run of only 70 miles will be made. when the remaining distance to Cincinnati will be ridden Sunday, arriving there about 4 P. M., returning to Chicago by rail Sunday night. If any one will guarantee that this will not be a Thorne family scorch I should like to go with the boys—that is, by rail.

The Lincoln Club boys have returned from their camping party and all report having had a first-class time. Some 20 of the members, with their "better half's" and "bests," made up the party, and the camp was near one of those picturesque lakes with which Wisconsin abounds, near Genoa Junction, Wis. Frank Spooner and George Jenny were the originators of the scheme and did much to make it a success.

A long-felt want has at last been supplied by an enterprising firm on East Jackson street, who have established what they are pleased to call a "Bicycle Reservatory," that is, those of us who ride down town in the morning to business can leave our wheels there during the day, and more than this, the firm promises to inspect, clean, and oil all machines daily. They can count on me as a regular patron from the start.

It is astonishing, in spite of all that had been said and written, how many wheelmen insist on riding on the sidewalk at every opportunity, and it is not the boys who are alone in this, but you will find old club members and bearded men of 40 years' growth who are the offending parties, and then they all rise up and kick about the "rights of wheelmen" if our city fathers even talk of passing a few ordinances in regard to cycling in the city limits. Well, in everything of late years we wheelmen have been very leniently dealt with, but how long can we expect a continuation of this if we insist on making nuisances of ourselves, as some of our riders insist on doing.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

After travelling nearly a thousand miles J. B. Johnson, Arthur H. Woods and Irving Woods of Jacksonville, Ill., passed through Cumberland, Md., Friday the 2d, en route for Washington, D. C. They left Jacksonville July 15. They were delayed four days on account of broken wheels.

In reply to his letter concerning the Pimlico road, published in this column recently, Chief Consul Mott has received following from the Mayor under date of July 24:

"My Dear Sir: I have received your letter of July 19. I have referred this matter to the City Commissioners. It will, however, require some action on the part of the City Council to make the appropriation required to do the work. The Council does not seem much disposed to spend money in the lately annexed district at present. When the council meets I shall call its attention to this matter. The road is one of the most popular in the neighborhood and should certainly be kept in most excellent condition.

Ferdinand C. Latrobe, Mayor."

The Crescent Club elected George Dubrenil a representative to the Division Board of Officers, with Dr. J. J. Bowersox as alternate.

It is understood that Isaac Hinds of the Baltimore Club and Walter Ash, of the Centaurs, have arranged for a race to be run the week before the team race for the Citizens' Cup. The races will be one, three and six laps around Druid Lake, and the first and second will be run on Wednesday and Saturday of week named.

A local League of the American Wheelmen was formed at Wheeling, W. Va., July 30, with about sixty members. C. B. Hart, editor of the Intelligencer is President, C. E. Irwin, Secretary and Treasurer, and F. E. McCoy, captain. Like organizations have been formed at Martinsburg and Huntington and other places throughout the State will follow. A State League will be formed in a week or two.

At a meeting of the District of Columbia Division of the L. A. W. held recently the following officers were elected: Chief Consul, Geo. S. Atwater (re-elected); Vice Consul, Norris Mac Daniels:

A FEW REASONS WHY

You * Should * Buy * an * Eagle.

It is a practical safety.
It is simple in construction.
It has no complicated chains, ratchets, levers or gearing to break down, collect dirt, rattle and squeak.
The power of the rider is applied directly downward and to the best advantage, and as the whole weight can be placed directly on the pedals and made to tell, not an ounce of power is wasted.
There being no extra friction it is the lightest running and the most speedy.
It is the fastest and safest coaster, and having a direct and powerful brake it can be brought to a full stop while going down hill.
It is the best hill climber. In mounting a hill there is no slipping of the wheels and no lost power. The strength of the rider is applied just where it should be, and he gets there.
The position is erect, natural and easy, and the rider does not become cramped and round shouldered.
The motion of the legs is natural and as near as possible to that of walking. There are no unusual muscles brought into play and the Eagle can be ridden further and with less fatigue than any other wheel.
It is beautiful in finish and graceful in appearance.

401 & 403 MAIN ST., - - ORANGE, N. J.

Representative to the National Body, Chas. Neale; Secretary-Treasurer, W. H. Stearns. Chief Consul Atwater's annual report contained much that was interesting and was received with applause. It was voted to hold a series of moonlight runs, commencing Aug. 7, and it is hoped that all the members will participate.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE town of Danvers, Mass., at the last annual meeting, adopted a by-law prohibiting the riding of bicycles and tricycles on the sidewalks; and last week notices were posted by the selectmen. The first two offenders are Dr. W. W. Eaton and Lawyer J. W. Porter, against whom warrants have been issued for riding tricycles on the sidewalks.

A LARGE delegation of Buffalo's fair bicyclists will probably attend the Toronto bicycle meet to be held August 12. The Toronto wheelmen are anxious to show how gracefully ladies can manipu- the single tracker.

C. G. CORNELL, while training on the Hartford track the other day, took a violent header and was unconscious for four hours. At last accounts, however, he seems to be all right again.

THE Newport Wheel Club of Covington, Ky., propose to spend two weeks in camp on Kinnikinnie Lake. They will go by boat to Vanceburg, Ky., and from there over land to the lake. They will carry with them two large row-boats, fishing tackle, tents and all other paraphenalia necessary to making life in the woods pleasant.

WEARERS of cork legs can perk up and have courage, as we learn that Huntington, Pa., boasts of a gentleman with a cork limb, who is an expert bicycler.

A WORLD'S bicycle tournament is among the projects spoken of in connection with the proposed international exhibition to be held in New York during 1892. The Manhattan Club have been agitating the scheme.

THE Wilmington, Del., Club will probably give a series of inter-club races this fall. The scheme embraces a series to be run at Orauge, Wilmington and Springfield. We hope to have particulars.

EAST HARTFORD, Conn., looks to William James as the racing man who will carry the colors of his native city to victory at the coming Hartford tournament. Mr. James is a new star to u-, but we hope he will meet "all the requirements."

THE cycle thief is abroad in Bridgeport, Ct. He broke into Wilkinson's store and got away with a safety.

IT is pretty tough to come into collision with a cantankarous dog and take a cropper in consequence, but it is rubbing it in when the owner of the pup, sitting under his own vine and fig tree evinces every appearance of delight at the discomfiture of the poor cyclist. To the injured we would say, remember the laws of the State permit the killing of unlicensed dogs anywhere, and also the killing of any dog that attacks you on the public road.

CAPT. W. NEWMAN of Cambridge, Mass., expects to go abroad August 24.

THE term of E. A. Bailey's suspension is up and now Mr. B. can return to the amateur path, we hope a wiser man.

THE Philadelphia clubs nearly all seem to have gone daft on the question of mileage. A majority of them offer mileage medals to be competed for by members.

THE Jersey tourists who are doing the State of Maine have had a very wet time of it. They are convinced that Maine is a cold water State of the most satisfying character.

A BRIDGEPORT, Ct., wheelman is credited with saying that "the League of American Wheelmen would back up any member of the League whose wheel had been stolen, nnd would prosecute the offenders." Our friend has overstated the fact. The mission of the League is not to stand the expense of recovering stolen wheels.

IT seems strange that certain repairs on wheels cannot be made in San Faancisco. We hrve before us an item stating that a certain wheelman had to send his wheel East to have it properly repaired.

THE action of the L. A. W. in suspending R. H. Davis does not seem to have affected the N. C. U. to sustain and recognize that action and forbid Mr. Davis to start in amateur events. There should be a better understanding between the two great national bodies than this state of affairs would indicate.

THE Belmont—Taunton road race was declared off "because the L. A. W. rules do not allow of the mixing of safeties and ordinaries in races." The Belmon—Taunton men are wrong: the L. A. W. does not recognize road racing and so the mixing of the classes of machines in road races can be indulged in by all without fear of incurring the wrath and action of Chairman Davol and his fellow committee men.

A PHILADELPHIA paper wants to know if the timing of Van Wagoner's feat of riding the mile in 2 48 3-8 on a safety "hands off," was correct? and also as to the measurement of track. Both were correct, gentlemen.

IT does us proud to have our items of news copied but when we see a paper like the Item of Philadelphia cut seven items whole from our paper without so much as "thank you" we feel as though we wish it were otherwise. We expect to steal news, but not to crib the identical language without a credit. The Item is not the only one that does us the honor.

THE English papers are thoroughly aroused over the report that appeared in a Providence paper to the effect that a ladies' race would be held at Cottage City this week. Our English contempoaaries can still their fears. There will be no ladies' race. The statement to the effect there would be, was bold, bad canard.

THE meeting at Cottage City promises to be one of the most pleasant of the year.

EUROPE just now is over-run by touring cyclists from the U. S. There is scarcely a city of any prominence but what has a representation "doing" the old world a-wheel.

As to the practical use of aluminum in cycle structure it can be judged, by the fact that the raw material alone needed to construct a 12 pound machine would cost nearly $100. This together with the cost of manufacturing and the difficulty in manunpulation, places the fact of machines being made out of this material a matter of much doubt.

IN the District of Quincy, Mass., August 3rd. A. Gilchrist, Arthur C. Heald of South Weymouth, for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk in that town was fined $3 and costs.

THE annual outing of the New York Bicycle Clubs will be held to-morrow Aug. 10. Base ball and general shorts will be a feature.

W. VAN WAGONER, is after scalps this year, he is issuing and accepting challenges right and left and now he is after E. C. Anthony of Taunton, Mass.

L. H. WISE, of the Long Island (N. Y.) wheelmen leads his club in mileage with a record of 3,123 miles. W. Schmid comes next with 2,459 miles. The "leather medal record" of this club is 342 miles

THERE is some talk of a new bicycle factory being started either in Toledo or Cleveland Ohio. The gentleman's name connected with the rumored enterprize is N. A. Lozier.

THE Boynton Bicycle R. R. Co. have taken steps to build a road on Coney Island, but alas an injunction was prayed for by property owners on the ground the Bicycle R. R. was an experiment and one that tended to injure their property. Injunction granted. The ways of the inventor are not laid in happy lines.

THE Dominion Churchman comes out with an article against the habit of cycle riding on Sunday. We cannot reproduce the whole article but we clip one paragraph therefrom. We do not endorse the idea that Sunday riding is "ostentatious defiance of public opinion" that is going to far:

"We sympathize warmly with young men in cities who have a longing for fresh air on Sundays. But we are unable to see why in order to obtain a breathing of pure air, they should ride their wheels many miles over dusty roads during all hours of Sunday. The utter disregard for the Sabbatical rest shown by cyclists their apparently ostentations defiance of public opinion, shown by riding so much when others are on their way to Church, by no means do credit to the judgment or feelings of these young travellers, who display a degree of moral obtuseness, or indifference, which bodes ill for their future."

CERTAIN wheelmen of East Hartford, Ct., are piscatorially inclined, and they have organized a party to sail away to Montauk and lure the festive cod to destruction and the frying pan.

EVERY pleasant Sunday on the sands of Nantasket can be seen hundreds of wheelmen who have cycled from nearly every point within 40 miles of that popular beach.

PRESIDENT Leescomb has been showing courtesies to President Perkins, of the Cambridge Club, while the latter sojourned in Gotham lately.

THE stingiest man in America lives near North Attleboro, Mass. He chains his pump handle so that the water cannot be "extracted" without permission or pay!

COLIE BELL, ex-captain of the Minneapolis Bicycle Club, leaves next Wednesday for Olympia, W. T., where he intends to engage in business for himself. Minneapolis will lose in him one of her mos t enthusiastic wheelmen as well as fastest riders, and as fine a fel low, in the 'Parson's" opinion, as ever walked the footstool.

C. R. CULVER wheeled from Springfield to Boston, a distance by road of a little over 100 miles, in 11 hours time.

THE tour of the Scranton Bicycle Club promises to be one of the great tours of the season. The start will be made from the club house, to-morrow, Aug. 10, and will not be limited to the members of the club. The party will tour through to New York, taking in New Jersey, Deleware Water Gap, Trenton Falls, Richfield Springs, Cooperstown and Berkshire Hills. All bad roads will be trained, but most of the tour will be done on wheels. All stoppage will be at league headquarters. It will be one of the tours of 1889.

MESSRS. MCCURE AND DAY, of Wheeling, W. Va., are now touring through Ohio, and in the neighborhood of Concord, stopped at a farm house for water. A man was coming out the gate and without noticing the bread in his hands, they asked him if they could get some water there? He replied that he "did not know, but that he was a tramp himself."

MR. C. E. PEAKES, of Roslindale, Mass., writes: "Will you kindly ask through the columns of your excellent paper for the best route to North Berwick, Me. Should like as for as possible the streets from town to town, if this would not be asking too much. Also if there is good riding in the vicinity of York, Berwick, &c."

WILL some one who knows please write H. Gallion, of Albany, the best route from Albany to Hartford. The bad spot is from Great Barrington to Springfield. Any information on the subject will be very thankfully received.

ERRATA.—In our article on the Albany tournament our types gave the date of same as "Sept. 31." It should have been Aug. 31. Also we spoke of the Albany tournament as being "four days" before the Hartford event. We should have said two days. Please note corrections.

ROUTES WANTED.—Please inquire through the WORLD for the best route from Shamokin to Sunbury, Pa., and whether it is a good road. Fraternally, GEO. W. CLIFF, 36 W. Johnson street, Germantown, Pa.——Will anyone give me some points in regard to roads, hotels and route from Toledo, O., to Cincinnati, O. On the way I wish to visit Columbus, Dayton, and Springfield, O. Where can I purchase an Ohio road-book? FRED A. BECKER, 831 Broadway, Toledo, O.

NEUHAUSEN, SUISSE HOTEL SWEITZERHOF.

FROM MURREN TO FREIBURG.

RHINEFALL, July 20, 1889.

After our wet Sunday at Murren, all were glad when the time came Monday morning to climb down the mountain side to Lauterbrunnen, ride to Interlaken en route for Brunig Pass.

After an early breakfast, the sun shining bright and warm in sarcastic glee at our departure, we strapped on our knapsacks, took up our dainty chamois horn (?) tipped alpenstocks, and started. As we tramped down the view of the silvery Jungfrau and the grand range of the Bernese Alps was better than we had before seen. In the bright rays of the morning sun the snow-clad peaks loomed up in all their awful grandeur, and our last view of them will always be remembered as one of the finest sights we have enjoyed in this land of mountains and lakes.

But of our climb down! If our ascent had been difficult, our descent was infinitely more so. With "seven-league" strides we jumped adown the stony path, emulating the frisky chamois or the agile goat. To those of us whose averdupois exceeded two hundred odd pounds the misery was extreme. At the first station, one-third way down, four of us were glad to capture the only two available sledges, and by a series of bumps, bangs and skirting of precipices on one runner, we four lucky ones reached Lauterbrunnen quickly. We also escaped the tired muscles and sore limbs, of which all the others complained for the next few days.

Arrived at Lauterbrunnen our wheels were found, luggage strapped on and the eight miles of down grade to Hotel Jungfrau in Interlaken, accomplished in forty minutes or less.

After lunching at Interlaken and spending a few hours seeing the town, buying photos, etc., we mounted for Brunig.

Along the beautiful Lake Brieuz over a perfect road skirting the shore, we rode for ten or twelve miles. Across the green waters, on whose mirror-like surface every mountain, chalet, waterfall were pictured, we could see the Geisebach Fall tearing down from the glaciers to the lake below.

After riding thus an hour or more we came to the pass, the road unmistakably ascending. A long wearisome walk of about four miles on a winding road, each turn of which disclosed new pictures of mountain, valley and lake, we arrived at the Kurhaus Hotel at the summit, and there spent the night.

Next morning, Tuesday, all made an early start as we had a large day's work cut out. From Brunig for several miles, over a road not too good, we coasted past little lakes nestling amid high mountains. The road often ran hundreds of feet up on the side of the cliffs, a three-foot wall guarding a thousand-foot precipice on one side, while on the other rose the mountain, towering into the clouds.

After thus travelling along over what we found to be the worst road in Switzerland, nearly all were glad when Lake Lucerne was reached. Here, twelve miles from Lucerne, at the foot of Mount Pilatus railway most of us took the boat up to Lucerne. The few who stuck it out, however, reported the road to Lucerne as the best of the day. After dining at the Hotel du Lac and looking about the charming little city a bit, all took boat for the Rigi. At Vitznau we debarked, left our wheels and took the cog-railway up the Rigi. An hour spent in the most horrible bumpetty, jerketty, thumpetty torture we arrived at the summit. A short stay sufficed as the thermometer registered about 40 degrees, a most uncomfortable change from 85 degrees in the valley.

All therefore, save three or four, took the first train down and then per wheel by a lovely road by the lake shore to Gersau for the night. Messrs. Beal and Bob White remained at the summit over night in order to see the sun rise. In this they proved very lucky, having had a splendid view of the rising sun and the range of snow peaks tinged rose-color with its slanting rays. They rejoined us next day at Zug.

At Gersau we enjoyed a pleasant evening at one of the cosiest little hotels we have been at in Switzerland. In the morning by general consent we started for Zurich (two days' run), forty odd miles. Along the cliff, winding by the beautiful lake of Zurich, through Brunnen and on under the shadow of the cloud-capped Rigi, we rode to Arth on Lake Zug, and thence along the lake shore to the town of Zug, where we lunched. The ten mile ride under forest trees along Lake Zug was one to be long remembered as of unsurpassed beauty. In the limpid green waters by the roadside one could see the fish plainly at a depth of more than ten feet. Across the lake lay a panorama of mountains, vine-clad slopes and picturesque villages. By easy riding we were at Zug before noon. The Hotel Boeuf, at which we stopped, is a most enchantingly quaint old affair, dating from 1480, and has been a hotel the entire time. In the dining hall (by the way, on the fourth story), is a gallery of paintings, the ancestors of the present proprietor, the ancient landlords and landladies of the house.

In the next room Goethe once slept during a visit to Zug. After lunch all visited the museum which contains relics of Swiss history away back to the Dark Ages. There also we saw a painting of the hotel made in the 16th century, showing the same facade as at present. After the arsenal and museum we visited the spot where 200 years ago two whole streets fell into the lake, as did also several other houses two years since. Quicksands account for these catastrophies, which cost many lives.

After our sight-seeing all started for Zurich, where, after a charming ride of twenty miles, all arrived safely. The road, after climbing a three mile hill, gives one a three-mile coast in view of the Lake of Zurich, and then runs by the shore some miles to the city. At the Hotel Bellevue, the finest in Zurich, we found comfortable quarters, the genial proprietor doing everything possible to make things pleasant.

At Zurich the next day was spent in sight-seeing, getting wheels repaired, etc. In the evenings the theatres and concerts were attended by most of the boys.

Zurich we found to be one of the finest cities we had visited; its streets clean as a new pin, its business buildings built to combine beauty with utility, and its people most hospitable and obliging. At the hotel were many American tourists, among whom some of the boys found old friends or townsmen.

Yesterday, Friday, we rode to Neuhausen, the falls of the Rhine.

On our way, by invitation of Hon. Mr. Catlin, United States Consul for Zurich, the proprietor of the Bellevue, and the Zurich Society for the Promotion of Traffic, we were escorted by local wheelmen, and a deputation of the above in carriage, to "The Waid," a suburban pleasure resort, where we were tendered a most pleasant little luncheon.

When the eatables and drinkables had been accounted for, the President of the Zurich Society, made in German, a very cordial speech of welcome, and hoped in years to come we would all return on (ahem!) our bridal tours to Zurich. This sentiment we cheered to the echo. After this Hon. Mr. Catlin replied for America in general, and our eloquent member, Mr. Beal of Ann Arbor, for our company in particular. After more speeches by Mr. Pohl of the Bellevue and others, we massed ranks out in the yard and saluted the Stars and Stripes which were flying aloft with three rousing cheers, after which "to horse" and away for Neuhausen and the Rhinefall.

Three of the Zurich Bicycle Club on a Rudge triplet, and Mr. J. Schmidt, Singer agent for Zurich, were among the wheelmen who accompanied us to the Waid, and they afterwards very kindly piloted us to Neuhausen and the Rhinefall.

The thirty miles ride to Neuhausen proved rather uninteresting, and as the road was rutty and rough and it rained all the afternoon, we were only too glad when we arrived at the Hotel Sweitzerhof.

We came upon the glorious Rhine at Schloss Laufen across the river from the Sweitzerhof, and there had our first view of the historic river, down whose banks we ride for the remainder of the tour now not far distant from the end—alas! After parting from our Zurich companions we crossed the river by a foot bridge just above the falls, and, winding our way up hill through the village of Nuehausen, were soon at our hotel.

The Sweitzerhof is the finest hotel in Switzerland, comparing favorably with our good American hotels. Among several hundred guests were many Americans with whom the boys were soon fraternizing and exchanging views. Among the guests were several American young ladies, which fact overjoyed the hearts of our susceptible companions.

In the evening the Falls were illuminated in our honor by electric and calcium lights. The sight was a glorious one when under the rays of colored light—red, green and blue as well as white—we sat and watched the mighty Rhine, thundering and foaming like a quarter-size Niagara down its rocky bed 300 feet below us. Although not to be compared to Niagara either in size or grandeur, still the falls of the Rhine are not to be sneered at even by an American. The river, about a quarter of a mile wide and very deep, rushes with tremendous force down a series of rapids, and then makes a plunge of about fifty feet over jagged rocks which shatter it into a seething mass of milk-white foam and spray.

Some of the boys took boats to a small rocky islet which stands in the centre of the falls, and from which a closer and better view is obtainable.

Saturday morning, the rain continuing, it was decided to remain over a day at Neuhausen and ride to Frieburg Sunday. A few of the boys preferred to ride it in the rain and so rest over Sunday in Frieburg, but the others are content to remain in snug quarters and keep their powder dry while waiting for the clouds to roll by.

PEDALS.

ATTENTION VIRGINIA DIVISION L. A. W.

THE Virginia Division meet will be held at Norfolk, August 26th and 27th, under the auspices of the Norfolk Cycle Club. We propose to make this one of the most successful meets ever held in this state: and with that end in view, earnestly request our brother wheelmen to co-operate with us, by visiting our "City by the sea" on that occasion. Arrangements have been made with the leading hotels, Atlantic, St. James and Purcell House and they have agreed to allow a very liberal reduction, $2.00 per day being the highest. First class boarding-house accommodations can be obtained for $1.00 per day.

Bring your wives, sisters or sweethearts, as the case may be, with you as special accomodations will be made for their comfort.

We have no hesitation in assuring you a good time, as we can offer inducements such as we believe cannot be obtained in other cities of the same size in the country. Let us enumerate a few: First and most important to the cycler is in regard to the roads.

When we state that our roads for a radius of nearly 10 miles, consist of fine, level, shell turnpikes, then we think we have "said it all," as nearly every rider knows what they are. Those that dont know, should come anyhow, as it is worth a trip of many miles to ride on a shell road.

The places of interest in and around Norfolk are too numerous to mention, so we will only dwell on those more particularly in season, viz., the seaside resorts. Virginia Beach, 18 miles distant and reached by rail in 45 min., has two very fine hotels, the Princess Anne and Ocean Shore Park. Here you can indulge in a dip in the old Atlantic, from the safest beach on the whole coast, from Maine to Florida. Ocean View, on the Chesapeake (but in sight of the ocean) is 8 miles from Norfolk and also connected by rail. Both of these places are easily reached a-wheel, the shell road extending for about one half the distance, the balance on a nice sidepath.

Daily excursions by steamer are made to Old Point, where is situated the famous Hygeia hotel. Be sure and take your wheel there, as a ride through the grounds of Fortress Monroe, Soldiers Home, and Normal School will amply repay you. Dancing every night at all of the above hotels.

Dont fail to visit our sister city, Portsmouth, which enjoys the distinction of having its finely laid-off streets transformed into shell-pikes. Then again the Navy Yard, just outside of Portsmouth, is well worth visiting.

As a special, last inducement we beg to remind you that this is the home of the hog-fish, soft-crab and oyster, so bear this in mind, dispel all doubts and come with a rush to help us "make merry and have a splendid time." For any further information apply to any of the committee:

"BORN ON THE WATER, DIED IN THE WATER."

THE subject of this brief sketch, and whose sad death we announce editorially, familiarly known by readers of the cycling press as "Gentleman John," and later as "Jack," was born at sea off Cape Horn about twenty-five years ago on board the British ship Great Victoria en route from New Zealand to England. Of Scotch parentage, it was held that he was a British subject, and his loyalty to his mother country is well known to his friends. At the age of 16 he was taken by an uncle to Calcutta, where he staid for a short time; then back to Scotland, and from there he was sent by his Scotch guardian to his father, who was at that time a planter in Mississippi. From this point he wandered West for a few months, and then back to Edinburgh, where he staid a short time, and then off to Egypt; back to the United States from Egypt, and out to Montana and Dakota, then to Japan and back to Minnesota. At this time Mr. Bruce was about 21 years of age. The past four years have been spent in Minneapolis, Scotland, and lately in Westboro, Mass., in which place he was in the employ of the White Cycle Co. at the time of his untimely death.

In appearance "Jack" was about the medium height. His head was a mass of dark brown curls, the complexion dark. His eyes were wonderfully expressive, steel gray in color, full and piercing; eyes that looked into you, not at you. His hobby was "Nature," and he was never so happy as when, with rod or gun, he was sauntering along the bank of a stream suggestive of trout, or walking over moor and through woods with eye and ear alert for game. He had no love for the crowded city streets and he disliked show and glitter with an honest dislike.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

THINGS are waxing hot in Meriden, Connecticut. The Hartford and the Bridgeport members of the L. A. W. are at swords points and the very old Harry is to pay. It seems that the Hartford members put up the name of Mr. D. G. Post as candidate for Chief Consul. The Hartford men say that before the nomination was officially announced a consultation was held with Local Consul Moore of Bridgeport and that he consented to go on the ticket as Vice Consul with Post as Chief Consul, but when the time came Mr. Moore veered round and nominated Mr. Calhoun Latham of Bridgeport as Chief Consul. The Hartford men claim that the time for Moore and Bridgeport to object was when Moore was asked to allow his name to be used as Vice Consul but to do as they have done is not in good faith. Mr. Latham, it is claimed, has only been a member since June 27 last.

On the other hand the Bridgeport members scout the idea of bad faith. According to the Meriden Republican the Bridgeporters have been doing some lively hustling and electioneering to get their man elected, and have thereby stirred up the antagonism of the Hartford men who have gone in to defeat Moore of Bridgeport, who was nominated for Vice Consul.

This is all denied in a letter from the Bridgeport wheelmen published in the Bridgeport News of yesterday. They say they have done no electioneering for Latham, but that they will themselves vote for him as in good faith they are bound to do. At the same time the letter accuses Hartford of hoggishness, in wanting everything the League has to give, and concludes with a request to L. A. W. men to vote for Latham. They say that up to this time they have left the entire matter to the individual members of the division but are unwilling to remain silent under an imputation of bad faith. It is apparently a case of unnecessary unpleasantness stirred up by an injudicious use of type. The Hartford men deny the charge of hoggishness, but as things have turned they will try to elect Post and score Moore.

It is not the mission of this paper to espouse either side, our mission is simply to give facts as near as we can get them.

MR. PRIAL TO MR. SHRIVER.

Editor Bicycling World: Dear sir: I can see no reason why Mr. E. J. Shriver was permitted to drag into your columns a discussion of my nomination as a representative on my State Division Board of Officers. I read his letter with deep regret, and I trust you will allow me a brief comment upon it, as it is not just to me to leave a one-sided story presented to your readers.

At the meeting of the District Nominating Committee my name was presented, not by my solicitation, but each member of the committee having agreed that whatever name be presented from his club must be accepted. Mr Shriver nominated Mr. G. B. Watts, although the majority of the committee favored my nomination. Mr. Watts is a most excellent gentlemen and nothing has been advanced against him, but a number of my friends who thought I should be on the Board of Officers substituted my name for that of Mr. Watts. I enclose you the type-written letter which accompanied the ballot sent out, and will submit whether it is not gentlemanly and eminently fair to Mr. Watts. You will also note that the five gentlemen who nominated me represent the five clubs of New York City, and all are prominent in their organizations. It is unnecessary for me to say that I felt honored by their support.

I was in dread to allow my name to be used, because I knew that Mr. Shriver had objected to my nomination because I was a member of the "trade." It is unnecessary to point out that Mr. Shriver had slightly confused my business, which is among the learned profession, but I accepted Mr. Shriver's classification and I determined to indicate that "trade." It is scarcely necessary for me to consider the technical question as to whether I am or am not of the trade. It would be still more absurd to seriously consider Mr. Shriver's objection. Your correspondent "Hawkshaw" wrote an excellent paragraph in your issue of July 26, on the same subject. He held, as I do, that the trade made the sport possible and that they still continue to support it. It would further slim the emptiness of Mr. Shriver's arguments to recall the fact that Pratt, Fourdrinier, Dean, Weston, Jenkins, Aaron, Bassett and other press men have been prominent members of the League.

From the letters which I enclosed and which are personal and direct communications, you will note that my club, the New York Bicycle Club, was ready to give me its nomination as representative, which at once destroys Mr. Shriver's assinuation against my standing in my club. I will state frankly that I have the confidence and friendship of such members of the New York Club as I care to know intimately, and that advancement in the club has in the past been simply a question of subordinating ones' opinions to those of Mr. Shriver, and as I have not been very adjustable and never spent a moment's time in that manipulation which Mr. Shriver so much delights in, I have never even become much of a club figure, except that I was of material help in setting aside the New York Club's Board of Trustees' decision against Mr. Pitman, and that I presented the resolutions which induced Mr. Shriver to reconsider his resignation as president of the club. I will add, in conclusion, that I am proud of my position in the cycling world, humble though some may think it, and that the friendship and esteem of many of cycling's fairest and worthiest representatives prevents me from the acute itch for office in either club or League, which I have noted in some men I have met. Very respectfully,

F. P. PRIAL.

TWO-MILE NEW YORK STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

ALBANY N. Y. AUG. 31.

The date of the third tournament and race meet of the Albany Wheelmen has been changed from Sept. 2 to Saturday Aug. 31, in order to make it convenient for those intending to take in the Hartford meet, on the following Monday, to stop off and compete for the valuable medals and prizes offered by this well known organization.

The 2 mile State Division Championship will be run at this meet for which a beautiful diamond medal will be the prize; also a 1 mile team race, 3 men each, for which a beautiful silk banner will be given, painted by Mr. F. J. Lawrence of Albany who has made many banners for the National Association of Oarsmen and other Athletic and Civic Associations.

It is proposed to tour from Albany to the Hartford meet starting early Sunday morning and arriving in time for the races on Monday and all visiting cyclers are cordially invited to join in this run through the Berkshires and beautiful Housatonic Valley.

The hospitality of the Albany Wheelmen has been tested by many tourists and visitors attending their meets, and this occasion will eclipse all former attempts if the everlasting out pour of liquid dampness will let up for a time and a few days of sunshine meted out to the prayerful wheeler.

THE RECORD BROKEN.

FROM TARRYTOWN TO YONKERS IN 38 MINUTES.

It was my good fortune one day last week, when taking a morning ride on my safety, to pass the club house of the Harlem Wheelmen, one hundred and fourth street and Lenox avenue.

I noticed several bicycles on the sidewalk, and the club house door being open, I alighted and placing my safety against the rail, entered. Here I found several of the club members preparing for a run. Major Lock, who answered my morning greeting, informed me that the party was about to start for Tarrytown where they would be joined by Pop DeGraaf and would dine at the Franklin House. The Major, seconded by Judge Newcome, insisted that I should ride with them. I was only too pleased to accept their invitation as the Harlem Wheelmen are the people and those who accept of their hospitality cannot praise them too highly; and before I returned from this day's trip I was willing to acknowledge that I had enjoyed myself immensely.

We left the club house about 9 A. M. and proceeding over McComb's Dam Bridge, a halt was called and the order given to remove coats. Here Judge Newcome, having no luggage carrier, Parson Schaffer offered to carry the coat on his wheel but some string being produced from the deep and endless pocket of Delaware Thomas, the Judge was soon mounted with his coat tied on the rear of his saddle. And off we went. A ride of an hour and twenty minutes brings us to Yonkers. Here we stopped at the Gedney House, a little lunch was partaken of, and while we were thus engaged we were joined by Pop DeGraaf, accompanied by two gentlemen from the Citizens' Club. We were agreeably surprised to meet Pop here as now we could continue on together. After partaking of a little more lunch we were off again, the pace being set by Pop followed by the Judge and the rest in turn until the end of the line was reached and there the smiling face of Delaware Thomas could be seen, ready with a pleasant word for every one and also for a header, if occasion offered.

Up Warburton Avenue and along the river the road is very good. At times though, the weeds were so high on the side path that Pop and the Judge were obscured from view with the exception of their heads. After continuing on this road for some distance we climbed a steep hill and struck the main road. And now we were off once more and this time the Parson, with his mouth full of tutti-frutti, took the lead and with Pop and the Judge a fearful pace is set that leaves the others far behind. The roads are good here and it is the best of sport to drive the wheel as fast as you like.

We all congregate at the Franklin House, Tarrytown, where, after a wash and a good dinner, we are as good as new.

After resting on the lawn for an hour or more we start on our return trip. It is not to be a fast ride," says the Judge. "Oh, no," replied Pop, and at this we left the hotel. In a few minutes Pop started in on a fifteen mile gait followed closely by the Judge, the rest falling behind to keep pace with Delaware. When we got within three miles of Yonkers a sorrowful object was observed ahead. As we drew near we noticed it was the Judge walking beside his wheel. The pace had been too much for him. We all continued on, leaving the Parson to help the Judge in. On our arrival at the Gedney House what was our surprise to learn that Pop DeGraaf had made the distance from Tarrytown, eleven miles, in 48 minutes, leaving at 2.50 and arriving in Yonkers at 3.38. This time by an amateur has never been made before.

After doctoring the Judge we all again resumed our journey arriving at the club house about 6.10 o'clock. We stopped at Bernhard's Kingsbridge Hotel on our way, which delayed us some fifteen minutes. And now Major Lock, with generosity beaming all over his handsome face, invited us to dine with him and a jolly little dinner was served at a neighboring restaurant where Pop was duly congratulated for the fast time he had made.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT QUEENS ATHLETIC GROUNDS, L. I., August 3.—Track.—One mile handicap. First heat: C. M. Murphy, K. C. W., 30 yds., first, time 3.07 1-2. A. A. Zimmerman, F. C., 45 yards, 2; time 3.07 4-5. R. A. Kissam, Queens B. C., 90 yds., 3. G. W. Downer, Q. C. W., 100 yds., 4.

Second Heat. L. L. Clarke, B A. C., 40 yds., 1; time 3.07. N. F. Waters, B. B. C., 60 yards, 2; time 3.07 2-5. George Boyce, Q. B. C., 100 yards, 3. T. J. Hall, K. C. W., 60 yds., 4. Len. R. Doughty, Jr., Q. B. C., 125 yds., 5.

Final Heat. C. M. Murphy, K. C. W., 30 yds., 1; time 3.11. L. L. Clark, B. A. C., 40 yds., 2; time 3.11 3-5. N. F. Waters, B. B. C., 60 yds., 3. A. A. Zimmerman, F. C., 45 yds., 4.

Track little sticky, fair breeze of wind. Final heat won by 4 feet; twenty-two entered.

AT CHICAGO.—Road.—There were only fifteen starters in the Illinois Club 10-mile road race Tuesday last. The first six men in were as follows: Foster, 6 minutes' start, first; Henninger, 3 minutes 45 seconds start, second; Simons, 4 minutes 15 seconds, third; Schafer, 3 minutes 45 seconds, fourth; Arthur, 3 minutes 45 seconds, fifth; Arnold, 3 minutes 30 seconds, sixth. Foster's time was 46 minutes 48 seconds. Hanninger's time 44 minutes 15 seconds. Tuttle, the scratch man, was not able to start on account of a broken pedal.

AT MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—Road.—On Wednesday, July 21, occurred the annual 25 mile road race of the Minneapolis Bicycle Club for its championship of the State and club. The Lake Harriet Boulevard was the battle ground chosen. Nine times around the lake, if one takes the lower road all the way, is 25 miles, but the lower road was so bad on the west side that the riders were compelled to take the upper road, making the nine laps about 25 1-2 miles. When E. A. Savage fired the pistol 13 men started. They all got away well with the exception of Alec Graham, who collided with a fence and broke his wheel before going a quarter of a mile. He pluckily mounted another machine, and although six minutes behind and on a strange wheel, managed to take fourth place. The riders presented a pretty sight as they lined out around the first curve, Bird of St. Paul, Hale, Bell and Stockdale of Minneapolis being in a bunch and leading. Bird, the St. Paul man, took the lead at the start and set a terrific pace, with Hale following close. These two, with Stockdale and Bell, soon drew away from the rest, and then Bird and Hale began to draw away from Bell and Stockdale until the had a good half mile lead on these two, who in turn led the rest by a quarter of a mile. These positions remained the same until Bell and Stockdale,, who were evidently working together, began making pace by turns and steadily closed the gap between themselves and the leaders, passing Hale in the seventh lap. They seemed content to trail Bird's little wheel until only two miles more remained to be covered, when Bell took the lead an won the race as he pleased. Stockdale pulled level with Bird, when, unluckily, he slipped a pedal, pulling his shoe off, thereby giving Bird quite a lead. He pluckily kept after him, however, and drew level again about a quarter of a mile from the finish, and then was seen the prettiest race for second place ever witnessed in this city. It looked as if Bird must win, as Stockdale seemed to be weakening, but when within 100 yards of the scratch Stockdale's trainer threw a pail of water over him and lhe bath seemed to instil new life into him, as he shot ahead and won by a clear 20 feet. Bell's time for the 25 1-2 miles in 1h. 38m. 55s.; Stockdale's, 1h. 38m. 40s, and Bird's 1-2 second behind Stockdale.

AT QUEEN'S, L. I.—Track.—Aug. 3.—Twenty-two wheelmen entered the one-mile handicap race on the grounds of the Queen's Athletic Club, Queen's, L. I., yesterday afternoon. There were two trials. Despite the rains the track was in fair condition. Thomas Lloyd was handicapper and starter. C. M. Murphy, King's County wheelmen, won the first heat, with a handicap of 30 yards, in 3 minutes 7 1-2 seconds, A. A. Zimmerman, F. C., 45 yards handicap second. The second heat was won by L. L. Clark, Brooklyn Athletic Club, with 40 yards handicap, in 3 minutes 9 seconds, N. F. Waters, Brooklyn Bicycle Club, with a handicap of 60 yards, second. C. M. Murphy and L. L. Clark entered for the final heat, which was won by Murphy in 3 minutes 11 seconds. His opponent was about 2 seconds behind.—New York Sun.

AT LEICESTER, ENG.—Track.—Last Saturday, Aug. 3, R. Temple made his re-entry on the professional path at Leicester in the 10-mile championship race. His competitors were the cream of the English pros., Howell, Robb, F. Wood, Hawker, Allard, English, James and Lee. The weather was fine, though a strong wind was blowing too hard to admit of record time. Until the 7th mile Temple was content with fourth and fifth place, but from here he moved on to second place. Here the pace grew hot and Temple in company with Robb and English went clean away from the rest. The New York Herald thus describes the finish: English went away with a good lead in the last lap, but Temple quickly deprived him of the command and looked like coming in alone. At this point, however, Robb put on a great spurt, and amid breathless excitement collared his opponent. Temple, however, was not to be beaten, and amid a perfect huiricane of cheering the Chicago man won after a desperate finish by six inches. English was second and Howell nowhere. Time 32m. 14s. English lodged an objection against Temple on the ground that the latter had run him wide, but the judge refused to entertain it.

AT PHILADEPHIA, PA, Aug. 3.—Road.—The five-mile race for the Philadelphia Challenge Cup, took place over the Bryn Mawr avenue, last Saturday. The change of course from Lancaster Pike caused some few of the entries to refuse to start. The limit man, B. Clark, with a start of 2 minutes, was sent at 5 14 and as soon as the 2 minutes was up the scratch men, B. F. McDaniel, on a high gear safety, and S. W. Merrihew, on an ordinary, started. For a while these two men stayed together, but on the hills, the high gear of the safety told against McD., and so Merrihew drew away "for good" from McD., and passed Clark a short distance from the finish, thus winning the race with Clark 2d and McDaniel 3d. Merrihew's time was 16.30; Clark's 18.15; McDaniel 18.40. Immediately on the close of the race, McDaniel challenged Merrihew to a race on the track for the same trophy.

THE HARTFORD TOURNAMENT AND MEET OF THE CONNECTICUT L. A. W. DIVISION.

Hartford Wheelmen are actively preparing for the combined club and State events of September 1 and 2. The wheel club races have been arranged with great elaborations and the attractive prize list together with the reputation of the Hartford boys for entertaining racing men will call out a great field of starters. The entry list is already well filled, and brilliant contests are assured.

The Division meet has been called for the same dates as the race meeting in order that it may be included among the attractions offered to attending members. A special feature of the Division programme will be the competitive parade of visiting clubs to whom valuable trophies will be awarded for various excellencies—numbers, drill, appearance, etc. During the meet a number of runs will be made to points of interest in the vicinity of Hartford. On the evening of the first day a grand banquet will be given in one of the largest halls in town, which will be flavored with speaking, boxing, wrestling and other entertaining stage business. The hall will be open to all members of the L. A. W. and admission will be by League ticket only.

RACING NOTES.

Mr. Wm. J. Corcoran, the Yale trainer, is in Hartford looking after the form of several members of the wheel club who will take part in the races September 2 and 3.

Fast racing on a fast track at Hartford, September 2 and 3. Entries close Aug. 26.

G. A. Pickett of New Haven is training on the Berkley oval for the Hartford races.

F. F. Ives of Meriden has begun training for the fall tournaments.

ST. LOUIS BICYCLE RACE MEETING.

The chief topic of conversation between wheelmen the past week has been the coming tournament of the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association, which promises to leave all heretofore given in this city far in the shade. The executive committee held a meeting last Tuesday night, and agreed upon the following events: 1 mile open, 1 mile novice, 1 mile Missouri Division Championship, 2 mile lap race, 1 mile handicap, 1 mile safety handicap, 1-2 mile dash, 1-2 mile for boys under 14 years, 1 mile consolation and a special match race between T. P. Ring, of the Missouris, and A. G. Harding, of the Cycling Club. Considerable rivalry has existed between these riders for some time, and the result will be watched with interest. The full list of prizes is not yet to hand, but will consist of a high grade bicycle, gold medals, gold watches and others equally as useful and valuable. A. H. Lumsden will probably be down from Chicago, and if so the event in which both he and Barnard enter cannot help but prove to be highly interesting. Five hundred big posters have been ordered from Buffalo and other arrangements made to fully advertise the affair, which will insure a large attendance. Entries close Wednesday, Aug. 28, and should be addressed to J. Harold Child, 1012 Olive street, who will also furnish blanks, etc. Entry fee 25 cents for each event. See advertisement on page 422.

PROGRAMME OF THE RACES AT RICHFIELD SPRINGS.

We have before us the programme of the race meeting to be held by the Waiontha Bicycle Club at Richfield Springs, N. Y., Aug. 14, and the lover of sport must be difficult to satisfy if the 15 events down, will not prove a satisfactory days sport. The fifty mile road race will be started at 10 30. The 5 mile L. A. W. State championship will be run in the afternoon as well as the other 13 events.

The prizes to be awarded are even more elegant than those of last year, which were the admiration of all. The race course will be put in the best possible shape. Competent men have been instructed to spare no pains in the work thereon. The Reception Committee will labor earnestly to impress pleasant memories upon their guests. The fifty-mile road-race is an especial event for which prizes are given that should call forth good men and speed. Chief-Consul Bull has honored the club with the assignment of the five-mile state championship, the event occurring at the coming meet. The L. A. W. hotel is the Darrow House. Wheelmen can find excellent accommodations at all hotels. We have no favorites to mention, happily. First and second prizes are offered in each event. The D., L. & W. R. R gives excursion rates to wheelmen. Music is to be furnished during the races by the "Waiontha" orchestra, a local amateur organization of enviable reputation. A hearty invitation is extended to visit our new club rooms, next door to the National Bank, Main street. The prizes will soon be on exhibition in Greenman's display window at Richfield Springs.

Entries close with Fred. Brönner, Secretary, on Monday, August 12th, at 8 P. M. Entrance fee, fifty cents for each event. Send on for entry blank.

ANOTHER WORD FROM MR. LEWIS OF JOHNSTOWN.

[The following assertion taken from the Pittsburgh Bulletin receives a quicker answer than our Pittsburgh friend thought likely. —Ed.]

"The Bicycling World invites Mr. Lewis, of Johnstown, to reply to the article which appeared in this paper denying the sensational yarn about the bicycler found drowned. The World will hardly hear from Mr. Lewis again.—Bulletin.

Editor Bicycling World: I notice in your issue of the 26th that the Pittsburg Bulletin discredits my article published in your issue of July 5 in regard to the drowning of a strange man in the saddle of a wheel in our late flood.

Now, I am not an infamous liar, nor am I seeking to obtain such a reputation for myself. My time at present will not permit of making up a story of so little importance, occupying so much of your valuable space and which would be of no earthly interest to your readers whatever more that the curiosity of seeing which one would be first to be sat down upon by the editor.

I only wish to state for the benefit of your readers that I can, if necessary, substantiate any statement made by me in the article published in your issue of July 5

Most respectfully yours,

Will F. Lewis.

[No need of any substantiations as Mr. Lewis' word alone is sufficient.—Ed.]

ANOTHER CYCLE THIEF CAUGHT.

Editor Bicycling World: We have, together with the Long Island Cycle Co., succeeded, with the aid of several Brooklyn detectives, in lodging a bicycle thief in Raymond Street Jail. His name is Howard D. Elliot. We believe he has stolen other wheels in Brooklyn. However, the particular offence he has been seized for is the stealing of a Warwick Perfection Safety from the Long Island Cycle Co., in Brooklyn, and selling machine to us. By the merest accident we discovered we had bought the above machine and as soon as we could we informed the rightful owner of the property, and together we worked upon the trail of the thief. We succeeded in stopping payment of our check at the bank just about one hour before it was presented for payment. We have had considerable trouble in this matter, but believe we have the fellow where the Grand Jury, which meets in September, will be glad to send him to the penetentiary for a few years. Elliot's age is about 18 and he is fairly well connected. But he is a rascal and we shall take pleasure in ridding the trade and the wheelmen in general of a bicycling pest. Yours, New York Bicycle Co.

MARYLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.

Harry Kingsland and Victor L. Emerson have been having a very interesting controversy in the papers as to who is entitled to the championship of Maryland. We have before us a voluminous lot of correspondence out of which we will try to dig out the salient points and important facts.

On July 25 Mr. Harry Kingsland, who was at that time state champion, issued an open challenge to any Maryland amateur to try conclusions with him as to his ability to retain the title, etc. He, however, stipulated that the race should be run in the fall.

Mr. Victor L. Emerson responded at once to the challenge, but asked that a ten mile race be run at Druid park, August 1st, at 9 A. M. This acceptance did not promptly appear in the paper, and Mr. Kingland, in the Herald of July 31, accuses Emerson of unsportsmanlike conduct and further says that the championship races should be run on a "track" and not on a "road" as proposed. He further claims shortness of notice as an excuse, and winds up by saying: "If Mr. Emerson desires to claim the state championship by purposely naming a date on which he knows I cannot be in condition to race, he is welcome to it."

Mr. Emerson "comes again" and asks if it is "sportsmanlike" for a present champion to issue a challenge to run for the title of which he is already the owner? He also states that Kingsland won his title to champion in riding over the course proposed, and that the League officials who visited Baltimore in 1888 decided that the Druid Hill lake road was a track and not a road.

Finally as to "condition" Mr. E. claims to be in no better preparation than Kingsland, and he claims the right to dictate terms as the challenged.

The upshot of this was that at 9 A. M., August 1st., Emerson was at the park ready for a start. Kingsland did not show up and so Victor L. Emerson claims the championship of Maryland and states he is ready to defend the claim. Mr. Kingsland is now a member of the Manhattan Athletic Club of New York.

On Sunday, Aug. 11, Wm. Van Wagoner will attempt to make 200 miles in 15 hours with an Eagle bicycle on a straightaway road. He will very likely go through Providence, Pawtucket, N. Attleboro, on the way to Boston, and then go to Manchester, N. H., and return to Boston. From there he will go to Fall River and go back to Newport on the boat.

WHEELING BEYOND THE ATLANTIC.

From all accounts the members of the European cycling party are having a most enjoyable time on the other side of the "herring pond" and a letter recently received from one of the members of the party gives an interesting account of the tour. He says: "From Liverpool we wheeled to Chester, visited St John's Cathedral and other places of interest, and a nice old town it is. From Chester we proceeded to Stafford, through a country charming indeed, and over good roads. From Stafford to Litchfield, and then to Birmingham, from where a few miles out at Sutton-Coalfield, we were met by a great many wheelmen and escorted in the city.

At the Colonnade Hotel we were the guests at dinner of the Birchfield Club, and then, after the custom of the English, we were presented with an address from the club, tendering us a hearty welcome, offering us the hand of friendship, wishing us godspeed on our travels, and expressing the hope that when we returned to our native land we would retain pleasurable recollections of the Birchfield Wheeling Club. To this one of our company responded in a manner pleasing to the "Birchfields." From Birmingham we proceeded over fine roads to Coventry, went through the Rudge Cycle works, which took us over an hour, lunched, and then wheeled to Kenilworth, a very picturesque and interesting castle. We rambled over the old walls and through the roofless rooms, and thought what revels and feastings had been formerly had in this old castle, for here

"Every room
Hath blazed with lights, and brayed with minstrelsey."

Here on an old wall we sat for an hour and looked upon the ravages of time, for hostile hands have had nothing to do with the castle now in ruins. But it is not alone the castle that attracts us, for our minds go back to the time of its occupancy by Leicester,

An Unparalleled Offer.

The safety has made all high wheels such a drug on the market here that we are compelled to unload them for what we can get. and we think of Elizabeth and poor Amy Robsart. As it was getting late and we wanted to see Warwick before it was closed for the night, there we wended our way. After a short parley with the doorkeeper in regard to taking the cameras inside, which some of the party had, we walked up the driveway into the house where the Duchess of Warwick resides, and there I saw the finest suite of rooms I was ever in, and although we had but little time we were fully repaid for our visit. As we were walking out we saw the duchess, who had all the pomp of a queen. She was driving two fine horses, and of course, had a footman. From here we went to Stratford-on-Avon, through a lovely country and over fine roads. Here we visited the Memorial Theatre, built in honor of the immortal bard, and then to Shakespeare's home. Leaving Stratford our next point was Oxford, 50 miles away. Good roads and the finest weather made the run very pleasant.

At Woodstock we visited the grounds of the Duke of Marlborough who married the rich American lady, Mrs. Hammersley, I believe. Here some 60 students of the Oxford University met us with a royal welcome and escorted us into the town, the procession being formed in twos. Many of us dined with the students at the university and were escorted to the different colleges—Magdalen, Balliol, etc. The students of the ' 'Varsity" were very attentive and made our visit a very pleasant one. The next day we made the run to Hampton Court, 61 miles, and thence to London. Sunday being a warm day we took a boat and steamed up the Thames to the Kew Gardens, a lovely spot and completely filled with tropical plants and flowers. Tired somewhat with walking we took a train. I secured a seat next the driver so that as we bobbed along in the lofty position I might gain all the information I could from one wno was "to the manner born." Through Hyde Park we passed thousands of teams with the elite of London, for here it is that they go for their airing, and finally we landed at Charing Cross, 10 miles for sixpence.

In speaking of the way the various makes of bicycles stood the trip, I have heard the men say over and over again that if they ever came here again the Columbia would be their choice. There is no better machine made than the Columbia. The four we have in our party hrve been ridden through Ireland over rough roads, through England over very heavy ones, and through France to Switzerland and everything about the machines today is as good as on the day they left the factory. With my machine and luggage I am wheeling nearly 300 pounds, and the friends I meet are astonished when I tell them that the machine has never been in the repair shop once, while nearly every other make has been in time and time again. The high machines are hardly riddled at all in Europe. The safety is all the rage, and why shouldn't it be when you can go as fast as any one cares to, and if the good old Hartford Columbia is never in repair shop? Ir can beat any machine for durability and speed, and its going up and down hills it is simply marvellous.—Boston Herald.

L. H. JOHNSON, has already had a large number of applications for Premier Tandem Safeties, as a result of his advertisement in our issue of July 26th. He will put out of every limited number of tandems in this manner, and wheelmen who wish to enjoy the fall riding on one of these fascinating "doubles," and who have a machine in their stable that they do not need should write to Mr. Johnson at once, giving full particulars. Mr. Johnson has at last succeeded in stocking a few Popular Safeties, and can deliver them immediately, while they last.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00.

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unneccessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

☞ Send for copy of Kodak Primer, containing Kodak photograph.

LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS:
12 Pearl Street, - - - - Room 27
ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

WE have taken very many occasions to say that one of the important duties that the League will, sooner or later, be called upon to perform is the work of making its own members behave themselves. We do not wish to institute a system of blue laws, but we do insist that our organization should take steps to eradicate the rowdyism and horse-play of which we have seen so much and from which we have suffered in the estimation of the community at large. Chief Consul Bull publishes, this week, a circular aimed at the rowdies who misbehave at hotels and he threatens punishment of all offenders. The respectable element of the League must unite to stamp this thing out. We can no longer excuse it by saying "boys will be boys." Let them be boys, but when they became rowdies, unmindful of the rights and the peace of the community let them be treated as rowdies. New York is not the only State where hotel certificates have been given up by disgusted proprietors.

THOSE who have applications for membership in hand should forward them without delay. The basis of State representation in the National Assembly is fixed by the Division membership September 1st. Those whose names are published next week, Aug. 16, will qualify Aug. 30, and will be counted, but no future list will be included in the reckonings.

New York.

To the members of the New York State Division:

I have caused to be mailed to 6000 wheelmen in this State "The Handbook of the New York State Division" enclosing with each book an application blank and an addressed envelope to the Secretary of the League.

Having placed in the hands of these wheelmen this book showing the objects and advantages of the organization I call upon all officers and members to use a little personal effort to induce non-League Wheelmen to join the L. A. W.

The Membership Roll of the Division shows the renewals this year to be 212 less than last year. In the 2d District, the loss was 233. It will be seen from this showing that while we have gained in other sections the loss in Brooklyn more than overbalanced the gains.

The officers and League workers in Brooklyn are urgently requested to put forth every effort to make up this loss. Respectfully,
W. S. BULL,
Chief Consul.

—II.—

To the members of the New York State Division and To Proprietors of League Hotels:

At a considerable outlay of time and labor I have succeeded in securing an advantageous contract with the official hotels in this Division. Some complaints have been made that L. A. W. members have not in some cases been accorded that treatment at certain of such hotels to which they were entitled. I am in readiness at all times to investigate such complaints and do my best to remedy them.

On the other hand, complaints have also been made that L. A. W. members did not, in some cases, always conduct themselves with proper decorum. I am informed by a League member that recently at Van Buren Point, one of the pleasantest and most popular summer resorts in Western New York, and one largely patronized by wheelmen, that the conduct of some wheelmen was such that the proprietor took down his League certificate in disgust.

On account of the conduct of some wheelmen at this same resort last year it was with a good deal of hesitation and only after considerable persuasion that the proprietor signed the contract for this year.

The large majority of our members are gentlemen, who know how to conduct themselves, and have a proper regard for the rights of others, but as in all other large organizations, there will occasionally creep in disturbing and undesirable elements. One rowdy can do more to injure the good name of the organization than a score of gentlemen can do to build it up, and it is certainly unjust that the conduct of the few should be taken as indicating the character of the majority of those composing the organization.

In justice to the vast majority of the League members of this Division, I shall endeavor to take steps to avoid any such result, and if necessary shall take steps to secure the expulsion from the L. A. W. of members who, by their conduct at League Hotels, disgrace themselves and bring reproach upon the organization.

I urgently request all proprietors of League Hotels and all members of the League who have the best interests of the organization at heart to immediately report all such cases to me. Very respectfully,
W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.

—III.—

To the members or the New York State Division:

Pursuant to section 1 of article 2, New York State Division By-laws the Executive Committee has decided to hold the annual meeting of the Division and of the Board of Officers in New York City and Brooklyn Friday and Saturday, September 13th and 14th, 1889.

Cordial invitations to entertain the Division were also received from Binghamton, Richfield Springs and Niagara Falls.

An efficient committe have the matter in charge and are preparing an enjoyable programme.

It is desired that every member that can do so will attend the meet as matters of great importance will be considered at the meetings. Yours fraternally,
W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.

—IIII.—

To the members of the New York State Division:

As I will be absent from Buffalo between the following dates: viz August 8th to 25th all communications between those dates requiring immediate attention should be addressed to Pennsylvania Meet.

The responses received in reply to my request in BULLETIN No of July 26th seem to favor Reading for place of State Meet. But Reading herself has failed to make a formal invitation. After waiting one week I have decided to accept the invitation of the York Bicycle Club, and name York as the place of holding the annual meeting of the Division, and Monday and Tuesday, September 2d and 3d as the date.

Now that we are to have a State Meet, let us make it a meeting of the whole State, and let there be a gathering together from all sections of the State. Every member of the Division should hold it in mind and try and arrange to be present. The new Chief Consul, who has shown himself a worker in the ranks, will take possession of his office. A large attendance will show him that he has a working Division at his back. Full particulars will be given in next week's BULLETIN. Yours fraternally, JOHN J. VAN NORT,
Chief Consul of Pennsylvania.

Scranton, Aug. 3, 1889.

Tennessee.

The following committee is hereby appointed for the purpose of counting the mail vote for Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer: Robert Rodes, Jr., Nashville; Norman Smith, Clarksville; F. R. Birdsall, Nashville.

All members of the Division are earnestly requested to vote, as it is desirable to have a very full ballot in the election. Fraternally, J. R. WILSON, JR., C. C.

Pennsylvania Railroads.

To L. A. W. Tourists:

To-day received word from C. R Manville, Esq., General Superintendent Delaware and Hudson Canal Co. Railroad, Pennsylvania Division, that he had issued an order to baggagemen to carry wheels free when accompanied by their owners. This now completes our list; every railroad in Northeastern Pennsylvania will carry wheels free as baggage.

Remember, sign a release with depot baggage agent, and if required to pay anywhere in this section, demand receipt and send to JOHN J. VAN NORT,
Chief Consul Penn. Division.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

KEY: To read the Truly Remarkable Offer of the White Cycle Co., of Westboro, Mass., on page 413 you must start at the right hand bottom corner of our Offer and read slowly up, reading from right to left. The best way is to translate the Offer on a sheet of note paper, so that you can read the whole thing "off" after you have pleasantly finished translation. Above all things Don't Tell Your Friends About This Offer, don't get cross, and don't "think hard of us" because we quote a saying about an "office cat," in which we owned a half interest. Probably you have heard of that cat before. It was our only "Tom," and died because it could not avert a natural catastrophe caused by its trying to read our catalogue with proper composure or dignity.

If you want to read our catalogue, (which, by the way, has reached its 20th thousand), why dont't you send us your name and that of the nearest post office. This is the way all the fellows did who have ordered machines from us. Some people write us that they have laughed over our Catalogue, which some folks regard as a most singular production, (with a few "swear-words" here and there.) It might be well to say that if you know a good thing when you see it, or hear about it, that we are looking for your sort to represent us in your locality. The White Cycle Co. lives in Westboro, Mass. They are the same people who make The White Flyer.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Send for Catalogue and see how they are built.

IT IS CLAIMED

That nothing stimulates the inventive faculties so much as a sea voyage. As proof of this we have noticed that many of the important American improvements in cycles have been made immediately on the return from England of some member of the concern with which the inventor is identified.

We have thought best to dispense with an annual European trip, and accomplish the same (possibly better) results by importing a large corps of trained inventors who will design our styles for next season.

It is our intention not to be behind, (at least not more than two or three years).

TESTIMONIAL.

STAFFORD, Kan., May 8, 1889.

ERIE KNITTING MILL, Erie, Pa.:

Gentlemen—I have given the tights and shirt you made for me a thorough test, and I pronounce them the strongest and most durable knit goods I have ever worn. They make the best sweaters that I know of in use, and at the same time comfortable. Several members of our club have expressed themselves about the goods in a very complimentary manner. Yours truly,

My Cycling Log Book. By "Papa" Weston. The transitory pleasures of cycling can be made as permanent as its physical benefits, by jotting down in a well devised log book, the distances and incidents of one's various journeys. Knowing that such a record is a most pleasant thing to have, and believing that the keeping of such should be encouraged, as tending to the permanent good of cycling in more ways than can be referred to here. The Log Book is handsomely and strongly bound in red leather, will last for years of constant use, and is the best arranged book of its kind ever yet devised. It fills a want often felt by the cyclist who values records of interest for future reference. Price, post paid, $1.25 For sale by Bicycling World Co., 12 Pearl st., Boston.

"With All Promptness and Quick Dispatch."

This is the first season of the Columbia Light Roadster Safety. We began to manufacture it last fall; we anticipated a great demand for it; new Columbias are always in demand; there are many other Safeties upon the market,—and good Safeties too. The Columbia steel tubing is made in England; there are only two concerns which make the highest quality; our orders with these makers were for delivery last December; by an unavoidable and unexpected delay the bulk of the tubing did not arrive until May. It was better to sacrifice promptness than deliver the machines with easily obtainable tubing of inferior quality. The season opened; from all over the United States our agents telegraphed for more Columbia Safeties; we put on an extra force of mechanics at our factory, and had an over-time list; we filled the orders as rapidly as we could; every day brought in a fresh supply; but now we can announce that each day's orders receive shipment during the day of receipt. Without any special advertising, without the printing of a single testimonial, the Columbia Light Roadster Safety has become fully known to American wheelmen, and the best jury in the world,—our order book—has announced the verdict, backed and approved by the intelligent wheelmen of America.

Fraternally yours,

THE BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 16 AUGUST, 1889.

Volume XIX. Number 16.

The World is wide, and Rome was not built in 15 minutes. Neither was the reputation of the Victor Bicycle. Both were the outcome of lots of hard, patient work, and in both cases the results justified the expenditure.

Is it absurd to compare a modern bicycle to Imperial Rome in all her splendor? Well, it was simply because Imperial Rome was at the head of her class in her day and the Victor Bicycle occupies the same position in ITS class TO-DAY. Then, Imperial Rome is dead and gone now, anyway, so SHE don't care.

That's one point of difference between the said Imperial Rome and the aforementioned Victor Bicycle. I. R. is dead and gone, but the V. B. is very much alive.

You can easily procure descriptive pamphlet (not of Rome but of the V. B.) if you will address the manufacturers,

THE FIRST NOVELTY FOR 1890.

PERFECTION AT LAST.

The Quadrant Tandem Safety is the product of all skill and experience of the justly renowned Quadrant Tricycle Company, combined with the designs, suggestions and practical experiments of one of the most experienced of American riders.

This machine was designed and built exclusively for use on American roads. It avoids all defects found in other tandem safeties, and introduces several novel features of undoubted merit.

It possesses the following points of excellence not found in any other machine of this type:

Full inch tire to driving wheel.

Double brake and double steering, avoiding the awkward and dangerous connecting bar that is found on the ends of the handles of most tandems. The steering for the rear rider is fitted with B. A. L. BEARINGS, and is so scientifically adjusted that it is perfectly rigid on the roughest roads.

Pedals from one and one-half to three and one-half inches higher from the ground than any other tandem, thus avoiding all possibility of hitting the ground when turning corners at speed or in ridding over stony or rutty roads. This is a very important feature.

Can Be ridden by two Ladies.

Strong enough for two men without adding any brace rods. Wire dress guards over both chains.

Weight only 50 lbs., ACTUAL. Price $220.

A little higher in price, but greatly superior in quality.

This machine was intended for an 1890 novelty, but, as we are satisfied that it is now perfect, we can deliver a limited number of them this season.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL RAMBLER

Has demonstrated its intrinsic worth this season, in that it is the only small rear driver that keeps away from the repair shop.

It is mainly constructed of weldless steel tubing and sheet steel, and has ball bearings to both wheels in the standard finish.

It has proven an excellent mount for ladies not weighing over 125 lbs.

Its price, $65.00, stamps it as the best value on the market.

Balls can be added to crank axle, pedals and head if desired.

We can now fill orders for this wheel with a reasonable degree of promptness.

BOSTON, 16 AUGUST, 1889.

WE print in another column a letter from Mr. J. R. Stockdale, explaining the cause of the telegram from him to the White Cycle Co. asking if the report of Jack's death was correct. It was a curiously sad incident. This letter will disprove the impression that seemed to possess some, that the report was a "hoax gotten up by poor Jack for advertising purposes."

We wish we could print half the letters we have received speaking words of praise and admiration for "Jack." We had no idea that he had such a hold on our readers. Such kind expressions are extremely gratifying to us, who knew him so well.

THE WHEEL AS A HEALTH PROMOTER.

Editor Bicycling World: I have joined the League of American Wheelmen and read with interest the many items of interest concerning the wheel. I take the liberty of contributing this article on "The Wheel as a health promoter." I write from the standpoint of the Physician and Surgeon, I having seen its marked beneficial influence on my own person lately. The wheel exercises the biceps or arm muscle, those flexors and extensors of fore-arm and fingers, the pectoral or breast muscles, the shoulder muscles, back, abdominal and lower limbs. Then the gentle motion prevents weariness, fills the lungs with fresh air, stimulates a tired and worn out nervous system, rejuvenates joints, blood and bone, and renders a new man of a rider in one week's riding. Wheeling is not only gentle, but is effective, the muscles actually harden and multiplication of fibers occurs daily. Wheeling only is injurious when abused, as bacon and beans may become too handle as gentle and as carefully as a horse, it lasts longer, does more good service, is a better paying investment, and is the nerve tonic, the blood purifier and the prescription to give for many complaints.

L. C. TONEY, Asst.-Surgeon U. S. Army.

Fort Bowie, Ari., Aug. 31, 1889.

HERE & THERE

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

THIS year's Division election seems to me to have been conducted in an extremely quiet and far different manner than that of last year, when every League wheelman was on the alert for something startling that might influence his vote in another direction than the one he had already decided upon. It will be remembered that last year the first official announcement of any nominations for League officers was made by the Cambridge Bi. Club about the 1st of July, and that about a week later the representatives of six bicycle clubs of Boston and vicinity, met and nominated officers. Perhaps it may prove a significant fact that the only club in the First District that made known its nominations was the Roxbury Bicycle Club, and upon its ticket were the names of two of its members. The first, that of Chief Consul Emery ought to be there, as all the wheelmen of the State would have insisted upon his re-election, but why should the name of J. E. Moulthorp have been substituted for J. S. Dean or Willard H. Forbes? The League ought not to let such men as Joe Dean fall out of the ranks without making an effort to gain his services. The number of representatives have been increased in almost every district in the division since last year's election, and yet the election is not marred by any discussion whatever. The all-important topic at Cottage City last year was the approaching election, and not even a word was spoken of this election at the meet just over. The Cambridge Club, the prime factor in last year's battle, has kept low this year and quietly sent in its votes for the representatives of the 2d District. I have already been severely criticized for antagonizing the exchanging of compliments by two newspaper men, and the critical wheelmen will now have a chance to tear me to pieces, but in their wrath I wish them to bear in mind that I have only taken advantage of the "paragrapher's prerogative."

DURING my wanderings around the city the other day I happened to come in contact with the world-famous Billy Rowe, who has grown quite fleshy and heavy. He was stroking his mustache, and when I approached him he smiled and extended his hand to meet that of "Toney." For a few minutes the talk was upon the current topics of the day, and then I decided to see what his plans for the future were.

"Would you ever race with Temple again?" I asked.

Billy looked at me as though I were insane, and, shaking his head, said "No, sir!"

"Will you ever try to break your own time?" I asked.

He answered, "No; I am through racing, and ride only for pleasure, and don't propose to go on the track again. As to breaking my own record, I don't think they ever will be broken, as there are no pacemakers fast enough to make the time;" and then he wrapped himself in silence, and only shook his head or referred to something entirely foreign, when asked questions that in any way related to himself or his last racing competitor.

CAPT. HENRY A. ROBINSON of the tribe of Rovers has just returned from a two weeks' trip awheel through New Hampshire. He reports the roads in poor condition and very inferior to those of Massachusetts.

IT is rumored that when Vice-Consul Robinson returns from Europe the Charlestown Rovers will tender him an informal reception.

A stranger entering the Old Colony Railroad depot a week ago last Wednesday might have been greatly puzzled over the way that gentlemen in knee-breeches were hurrying around the depot, but he only need to have walked over to one of the many groups of wheelmen and he would have soon reached the conclusion that the cyclists were going to a convention. If he had stumbled across Billy Atwell and the party that were closely guarding a mysterious-looking package, he would have decided right away that it—[What? the package?—ED.]—was composed of the most congenial spirits of the week. Atwell wore a light bicycle suit that matched his nickel-plated wheel, and on who did not know him asked "Who is that distinguished English tourist?" I expected to see this party increased by the arrival of Doc Kendall and Charley Howard, but I was disappointed, as the master of Bess failed to materialize.

A GREAT many people think that bicycling is on the wane in Chelsea, but they are greatly mistaken. Although the Chelsea Cycle Club has given up its rooms its members still enjoy a long run, and whenever you visit the Point of Pines on a Sunday you will always find members of the Chelsea Ramblers promenading up and down the gravel walks.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

SEVERAL members of the Cycling Ramblers of Westminster, took a run recently to York, Pa. On their return trip as they descending a hill between Silver Run and Union Mills, B. F. Crouse took a header striking the ground heavily with his chin and spraining his left hand and wrist badly. He became unconscious by the fall but soon recovered sufficiently to return home.

THE cycling fraternity of Maryland, received the news of the death J. Cunningham Purvis-Bruce with much regret.

DR. AND MRS. J. BOWERSON, and Mr. and Mrs, Wm. S. Callaghan left the city on tandem safetys last Sunday for a four days trip through Western Maryland.

THE Hagerstown, Md. Club at their last meeting elected Edgar Mumma and Bert Schildneek to active membership. The membership of this club is steadily increasing.

THE York Pa. Bicycle Club have received a letter from J. J. Vannort, chief Consul, of the Pennsylvania Division notifying them that their efforts to have the State meet in that city had been successful. September 2, has been the date selected for the meet. The 16 races will be run at the agriculture grounds, which have one of the finest tracks in the state. An exhibition of trick and fancy riding will be given. It is probable that three to five hundred wheelmen will attend the meet. Clubs from Maryland have signified their intentions of at tending the meet.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

AFTER many pros. and cons. it has finally been decided that the Division meet shall be held at York on Labor Day, September 2nd. Reading could have secured it, had the local wheelmen had sufficient energy to take hold, but although it was at their acceptance for over two weeks, sufficient enthusiasm could not be worked up and York deservedly gets it. The Chief Consul writes me that their committees have already been formed and they are taking hold with a vim. In connection with the meet they will hold a series of races on the Fair Grounds track, which I am assured is in fine condition.

THE ten mile race of the South End Wheelmen, which was to have been a road race, coming off on next Saturday has been changed to a track affair and will be run at the Philedelphia Driving Park. A number of the club had been pushing the race for the road, as under the L. A. W. racing rules, safeties and ordinaries cannot compete on the track. Several of the club, without the fear of the Racing Board before their eyes, thought they could take the chances, but a little wholesome reflection will probably convince them that suspension from the League means something.

ALL the world and his wife is away touring just now.

A PARTY of Pennsylvanians started for Dingmans Ferry and Pike County on Saturday. Messrs. Strassburger, Walker and McGlathery of the Century Wheelmen are touring in the northern section of the State. "Argus", together with some more of the Centurions left last week for the Delaware Water Gap, Hudson River, etc. Mr. A. G. McGlathery the genial Remington type-writer—[theres an ad. for you, Mack.]—man is up at Ilion on business for his company, which he is quietly turning into a pleasure trip.

A SERIES of impromptu races were held by the South End Wheelmen last week on the Philadelphia Driving Park track. R. M. McCurdy beat O. H. McCundy in a mile race, time about 3.40. Ex-Captain Bradley laid Charles Wilson Jr., out in 3.26.

IN the resignation of Mr. G. N. Osborne from the Division Board of Representatives, the League lost one of its most energetic and faithful workers, and his co-representatives on the Board a genial and accomplished gentleman.

IT is probable that the Wissahickon Wheelmen will cast their lot with the Associated Cycling Clubs. This would of course be gain on both sides. The Wissahickon Wheelmen have an excellent field to work in out at Germantown, which is more than can be said for some of the many small clubs which are being organized in the city here, many of them only for a day. A little careful consideration would convince these wheelmen how much better it would be to add strength to some of the organizations already in existence.

Is it beyond question, Mr. Editor, that Van Wagoner's time is correct together with the distance? For I must say that great doubt still exists among our racing men as to the ability of any but an extraordinary rider to perform such a feat. A mile in 2.48 on a Safety hands on is not to be sneezed at by any one, but when it comes to hands off, and in addition the statement that a mile was run just previous in 2.50—well to say the least it seems rather dubious. [We are satisfied that it was accomplished--ED.]

THE Pennsylvania Bicycle Club entertained the Hudson County Wheelmen Saturday and Sunday. Part of the wheelmen came over Saturday afternoon and were escorted out Diamond St. through the Park to the club house, where they washed the stains of travel off their faces, after which they were taken to Belmont Mansion for their supper. Sunday morning several more came over by Pennsylvania R. R. and at 11 o'clock upwards of fifty wheelmen took up the route to Devon Inn, where a very fine dinner was served at 2 o'clock, to which ample justice was done by the hungry wheelmen. Messrs. Crump fairly out did them on the menu, the courses of which were varied and appetizing, and when the diners rose from the table, but one expression was discernable, on their features, and that was that sixteen miles lay before them to ride after such a dinner. After dinner the party was photographed on the lawn by Mr. Roberts one of the club members, and they all rode into the city together, the pace, at times, falling into a red hot scorch. Supper at Belmont followed, and then the visitors were escorted to the train. We hope they are pleased with the Quaker reception.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

THE Chicagos seem to be in a very chaotic state just at present, and what the result will finally be none can tell. Some of the members seem to think that too much is being done to make the ladies' nights a success, and that this is hurtful to the club as a cycling club, and say that if something is not done in the near future to provide amusement for themselves, as well as for the "carpet knights" of the club, that there will be mutiny in the ranks. They go on and say that if the house committee would only set up a lunch every Saturday evening and secure the services of a couple of good banjo players to help on the fun, it would do more towards arousing the enthusiasm in the club than all the balls and parties that have been given during the past year. They do not object to the parties, etc., but they want to be represented on the entertainment list as well as the others, and so their tongues wag on, and a fever of discontent is brewing, that threatens ill to the success of the club. Dame Rumor also has it that Lumsden will resign from the club at the September meeting, as a result of the team race at the exposition, and that quite a number of his friends will follow suit; further that nothing would please Captain Van Sicklen better than to have him do so. Also that President Thorne has made application to the Kenwood Club, and is really more interested in the success of that club than in that of the Chicagos. All of which, I hope, is nothing but talk, and that of a very cheap quality,

DAVIS and Sloan, the captain and president of the Illinois Club, are now call the two "grandmas." Why, I don't know.

THE Illinois Club are not taking in as many new members as they would like to. Now two new clubs have been organized almost within the shadow of their own club house, and new recruits will have the choice of three clubs over there, instead of one as heretofore. The Illinois Club celebrated its third anniversary last Saturday evening in grand style; seventy-five wheelmen participated in the lantern parade, which was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd on the sidewalks along the line of parade. After the parade an elegant lunch was set forth at the clubhouse, with "speech attachment."

FRANK Riggs now has his mail sent to him care of the Chicago Cycling Club, and this is said to be the reason why Frank keeps away from the West Side at present, the Illinois Club members having discovered this fact.

THE bicycle thief is still busy here and from one to three a week is the average number of wheels reported tolen. If a thief is ever caught, he can expect nothing else than Texas justice—a rope and a convenient tree.

GREAT interest is manifested in the coming road race between the Illinois Cycling Club and the Chicago Cycling Club teams, to take place August 24, over the Illinois Cycling Club's course, and if the day be fine it will be a race well worth seeing, as it will be for blood from the word go to the finish, and partisanship is running high.

NED OLIVER says there is more life in the Lincoln Club at the present time than all the other clubs put together.

I RECEIVED my ticket for our annual Division election yesterday the 8th, and the time for voting closes August 15th, and I have seen no notice of the same published in the official organ, as required by our constitution. At least I think the constitution says that a list of the official candidates shall be published in the official organ not latter than July 15th, and any opposition ticket that may be gotten up shall be published in the same paper not later than August 1st; and here it is only a week before all votes must be in, and no official ticket published yet. [The only nominations reserved by Secretary Bassett were those printed in the Issue of the 9th. The date of the letter of nominations was August 2d, and it was printed in the first issue after receiving. Hence the fault is not in this office.—ED] The tickets are both good, but it looks a good deal like a game of "freeze out" on the part of some one and the cards stacked before the deal. Then I am unable to tell from the ticket whether I should sign it or not, if I don't sign it what is to prevent me from voting several times, and if I am to sign it why was there not a space left me to sign? I don't know whether you are responsible for this or not, Sloan, but if you are I should like to be around when the ballots are counted and see what system you will follow in counting. In fact I think this election is decidedly queer, to draw it mild.

ALL right, "Linneus," we will "bide a wee," but Lumsden will probably be on hand at your tournament and if you really think your man is a good 'un, start him in one of the races with "Art." You can have just as much fun and it won't cost him as much, see?

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

THE Ballwin stage while on its way to Barrett's station was overturned a short time ago and some of its 21 passengers were more or less injured. The county papers at once took the matter up and are laying all the blame at the door of the cyclists, who were so unfortunate as to be in the vicinity at the time. The stage was drawn by two skittish horses which would frighten at anything, a fact the driver was well aware of, and in starting from Baltimore he requested Bates Wyman, whom he blames for the accident, to ride behind the stage, which he did all the way to the station road. After the stage had turned off on this road it came to a halt for the purpose of allowing the driver to collect fares and he left the reins in the hands of a small negro boy. Wyman in the meantime rode past the junction fully 100 feet and then dismounted, when, to his dismay, he saw the horses had become frightened and dashed off the road. overturning the stage with the before-mentioned result. Luckily some of the occupants were fairminded enough to say that the cyclist had nothing whatever to do with the accident, and that it was solely caused by the criminal carelessness of the driver; but in spite of all this the country papers make the absurd statement that a cyclist ran into one of the horses, thus causing the accident.

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER has gone to Colorado for a few weeks' outing, fishing.

CONSUL F. A. SCOTT writes me from Moberly that Randolph County is agitating the subject of building rock roads through the county, east and west and north and south, and that a mass meeting for this purpose will soon be held at this city. If the question is favorably voted upon, road bonds will be issued and contracts for the construction of nearly 90 miles of macadamized road let.

UNDER the guidance of Capt. Hildebrand the Missouris are rapidly regaining lost ground as a road riding club, as, in addition to being the first club, ever running to Pacific, they added another feather to their cap by being the first to visit Collinsville, Ill. This place is only 13 miles east of here, but the roads for the greater part of the year preclude the possibility of riding there. Upon the club's arrival at this place they were shown through the extensive coal mines of the Consolidated Coal Co. by the kindness of J. E. Stockett, and spent fully two hours inspecting the extensive workings 600 feet under ground. After being photographed the party started back and being advised that a footpath running alongside the Vandalia Railway tracks afforded good riding all the way to St. Louis, it was taken and found to be as stated, with the exception of a few short stretches. It would be well to state that the Vandalia Railway has established quite a novelty to keep pedestrians off its tracks by not filling in the ties as is generally done but left them bare for an inch or two, and built a four-foot path right alongside its tracks, which, while saving the company many dollars by having fewer accidents, also answers the purpose of a riding path for bikes.

THE Division meeting has greatly benefited Sedalia in a bicycling way, and no less than 20 riders are now to be found in that city, which only boasted eight before the meet. I am also happy to state that the report which was current here stating that the meet was a financial failure is incorrect, and in spite of the lavish entertainment there are a few dollars left.

GUY GARDINER while riding on Lindell avenue a few weeks ago was run into by a prominent Legion of Honor man, and politician as well, whose name is withheld for various reasons, and narrowly eccaped being killed. The offender was under the influence of liquor, but had sense enough to realize what he had done after the accident happened, and, and gathering up what was left of the wheel, took it home to await developments. The next day he offered to repair the wheel, which was out of question, and as he positively refused to pay for a new one, suit will be brought to recover cost of same.

HARRY GORDON and W. P. Laing got back from a week's tour through Central Missouri and speak in lavish praise of the treatment accorded them by the wheelmen of Columbia and Sedalia, particularly Jno. Dorsey and Joe Douglas of the former town. Nothing was too good for them during their stay. Cyclists in touring across the State would do well to pass through Columbia, where they will be well taken care of and treated as guests during their stay. Columbia is ambitious to have the next Division meet, and with the rapid increase of her riders would easily hold her own with any meet yet given.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

NOW that Stanley has been heard from, who is to go in search of Stevens?

THERE are to be a series of bicycle races here at the Carthage fair on the 20th inst. These will be: A half mile dash; a half mile heat race for safeties, best two in three; a one mile race; a two mile race; a two and a half mile race; a three mile race; a nd a quarter mile race for boys. The prizes consist of gold and silver medals and the usual bicycle accessories.

THE Full Mile Driving Association will open their park near Oakley, O., on Sept. 10. The programme, among other features, will include a series of wheel contests. The programme is not out yet, but it is known that the races will be class races.

IT is reported that the Lexington Pike Company are again collecting tolls from wheelmen. It is the impression of several of our wheelmen that the Kentucky Legislature recently passed a law making it illegal for turnpike companies to charge wheelmen toll. If this impression is correct this is surely a case for the Ky. Div. of the L. A. W. to investigate.

To remove grease from the hands: Moisten them with water, then sprinkle some soapine over the greasy spots and rub till it forms a soapy paste, then wash in clear water. Enough of the powder for several occasions can be carried in a tin box with a tight fitting lid, such as druggists use for ointments, and the box may be carried in a tool bag or in the pocket for that matter. Pearline, "76," or any of the soap powders on the market may answer just as well.

THE C. B. C. at their business meeting on the evening of the 5th inst. received six applications for membership. There has not been a meeting since they moved into their present quarters that they have not received some applications. The club now contains more members, and is in better condition than at any time since its organization nine years ago.

ON the 5th inst. I was considerably shocked by reading in the daily paper a telegram dated Aug. 4, stating that on that day J. Purvis-Bruce had met his death by drowning, and two hours later I was puzzled by reading in the WORLD of Aug. 2 a denial of the report, but on the next day I saw in the daily paper a telegram to the effect that his body had been found. If it is indeed true that he is numbered with the silent majority, then the WORLD has lost one of its most valued correspondents. I have often heard wheelmen say that they enjoyed reading "Jack's" productions more than those of any other writer for the WORLD. Whilst we hope that the report is false and that it may be a case of mistaken identity. we will be in suspense till we receive the WORLD for Aug. 9.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

"PRINCE."

THE Michigan Division L. A. W., one of the most promising divisions in the Union, has been sitting under the ban of non-representation for lo these many years, as regards correspondence. This ought not to be the case, when one takes into consideration the cyclone of enthusiasm that is sweeping through the wheeling circles of the Wolverine state.

Grand Rapids, the second city in population, but the first in cycling interests and the home of Michigan's Chief Consul, should, of course, be the birth-place of news for the Division, and hereafter (should space in the WORLD allow) we shall endeavor to give to Michiganders something that will be of interest to them.

THE season of '89 can be rightly called the red-letter period in the G. R. Bi. Club's existence. For several years the old club has struggled hard as an organization, to keep from going into the proverbial "hole in the bottom of the sea." The success that has attended their wave-beating efforts was the result of the efforts of the faithful few and to-day, with an infusion of new blood, we modestly claim the largest L. A. W. membership in the state, with a magnificent club organization, working in perfect harmony and like a good team, pulling together. We have indeed passed from the chrysalis state and come forth as a brilliantly colored butterfly. If the outside world would read our record, let them look over the past month's official organ for new members. Seventeen in one issue and six of them ladies. Future issues will speak as loud, if not louder. "Keep your eye on the Michigan indicator."

ANOTHER month will find the club ensconced in new club rooms, adequate in capacity for our large membership, and ready to entertain visiting wheelmen. Clubs from Lansing and Hastings have already called, been taken in, and sent home happy. The latch string is ever out, and our committee on entertainment is at liberty. We have elegant roads, beautiful scenery, fine public buildings and many suburban sights well worth seeing.

THE club's nominations for state officers (the only nominations made) are admitted by all to be about the proper caper, so that those who are on the ticket may as well be prepared to act as their own successors in office.

THE time for the State Division, L. A. W., meet is drawing on apace, and dates, etc., should be definitely settled. Should the division meet in Detroit as the guests of the Athletic Club, we would neeed no further guarantee of its success. I trust we shall have some official announcement before long. Indications point to a large attendance from this city and vicinity. The idea of a tour meet finds ready response among our members.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE Times of New York prints a dispatch from Chicago which states that S. W. Van Sicklen expected to ride from Chicago to Kansas City, a distance of about 490 miles in four days. This would necessitate a gait of about 123 miles per day!! We are frank to say thatwe do not expect to hear of Mr. Van Sicklen's sucess.

SENATOR MORGAN is at last really married. The event took place at Leadville, Colo., on the evening of August 3. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. "Senator."

THERE is evidently a covert joke hidden away in the following para. taken from a Louisville exchange. We admit it is too obscure for our poor weak brain. We have a faint glimmering of what the penny-a-liner is driving at but 'tis very faint indeed.

"Pastor—How is your boy coming on? I've not seen him lately.

Parent—Pretty well. Thank you.

"I hope he is not showing any signs of becoming fast, as is often the case with boys.

"Fast? No, parson. I only wish he would though. You see he's riding a bicycle for a business."

And here is another specimen of "scintillating wit" from the same source. Life ought to secure that paragraphist:

"What became of your friend Winslow, who, I thought, accompanied you on your tour?" was asked an across-the-continent tourist as he was being welcomed back to his home in the East.

"He had better luck than I, and I left him at Denver," was the sad reply.

"Why, how was that?"

"He died."

MESSRS. MCARA and Eldridge of the Hudson Co. (N. J.) Wheelmen have returned from a two weeks trip through the New England states going as far east as Portland, Me., they report the roads good. Lieut. Robertson and Mr. Allen of the same start on a two weeks vacation going to Philadelphia on the 10th with the H. C. W. to be the quests of the Penn. B. MESSRS. J. B. JOHNSON, I Woods and A. H. Woods of Jacksonville, Ill., rode the 1000 miles between that city and Washington D. C. in 23 days. The longest distance for one day was 85 miles and the shortest 15 miles. They struck the worst roads in Pennsylvania and the best in Indiana and Ohio.

AN occasional correspondent from Chicago writes us "On Aug. 4th the Æolus Cycling Club of Chicago, gave a grand reception to its members it being the second anniversary of the Æolus. Music, Swallow-tails, and Mosquito's were plentiful."

SENATOR MORGAN, writes in from Parker Peak and says that success has crowned the efforts of the "Round the World" aggregation so far. They will "sail away" for the antipodes in about six weeks.

THE Southern Californian Wheelmen are organizing an eight days tour through the principle cities of Southern California. Our old friend A. L. Atkins is at the bottom of the scheme and he promises that the whole trip can be made for $15. The tourists expect to start Sept. 11. The tour will be personally conducted by Mr. A. L. ATKINS, of Pasadena, who has had considerable experience in such trips in the east. Mr. JAS. W. LANCASTER of the same city, will lead the Pasadena contingent, aud prominent wheelmen in Los Angeles, Pomona, and Santa Ana will organize parties from each of these cities. Coupon-Books covering all the expenses of the trip from start to finish, including meals, hotels, excursions at San Diego, etc., may be obtained of A. L. ATKINS, 181 East Colorado Street, Pasadena, for $15.00.

THE great Inter-State Fair to be held at Elmira N. Y., will present many features of interest to the visitors. A splendid bench show of prize winning dogs will be one of the things alone worth a visit. Sports will not be neglected, broadsword contests, horse racing, both running and trotting. The performance of trick animals will also be a feature. The show of cattle will be one of the largest ever held in the country.

WE had almost forgotten that such a club as the Boscobel of Lynn, Mass., existed until we read a fact that at a recent picnic this enterprising club realized a good fat surplus. The club is now a combination affair.—Social and cycle.

THE coming road race under the auspices of the Wilmington wheelmen is exciting the utmost interest among riders, as the friends of the Philadelphia-Wilmington team promise a surprise for the New Yorkers. They hope to reverse the rusult of the Milburn-Irvington race of last May.

CAN any one give a better route between New York City and Utica than is given in the New York road book? If so L. A. W. 23627 will be obliged for such information.

IN the first district court of Essex county, Mass., held in Salem on Monday last Dr. W. W. Eaton a prominent citizen of the town of Danvers was fined $3. and costs for riding a tricycle on the sidewalks in that town. The defence claimed that the law was illegal and entered an appeal to the superior court. The action of the court in this case is a warning to cyclers who are wont to ride on the sidewalks of the towns of Essex county.

THE joint meeting of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Division at Cottage City was one of the pleasantest affairs of the kind ever held in this country. Long live Emery and Dow!

WHEW! Listen to the following story told of a man whose bicycle ran away with him on a steep hill: "Just as I made the turn at the bottom of the hill, what was my horror to see a buggy at the second blacksmith shop, less than 200 feet away, coming slowly toward me. There were two men in the vehicle, one of them leading a wild-eyed, mean-looking horse by a halter. Right across the road was a heavy wagon going down. There was just room enough between the two to pass. Going at the terrific speed I was, to stop was a physical impossibility. With a wild yell, I flew on. The

The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the proof of our claims for the Eagle is in the practical experience on the road of riders of our wheel.

We claim the Eagle to be the best all-round machine in the market.

The lightest running, and the fastest and safest coasting.

A machine that can be ridden over every kind of road, good, bad, and indifferent, through sand, and up and down hills, with the minimum amount of fatigue and the greatest comfort to the rider.

The following letter from one of the best known wheelmen of the country is a sample of our testimonials:

NEWPORT, R. I., July 7th, 1889.

EAGLE BICYCLE MFG. CO., Stamford, Conn.:

Dear Sirs:—I rode my Eagle on Sunday, July 7th, to Fall River, then to New Bedford and returned the same way. On the way back I rode from Fall River to Newport, 18 miles, by moonlight, in 1 hr. and 45 minutes. I only made one dismount in the 18 miles and any one that has ridden over the road by daylight will know that the road is not one of the best.

As it was a cloudy night, the moon did not do me very much good, and I had to ride by guess. The best time I have heard of being made on this road before was 1 hr. and 52 minutes. That was made by myself last fall, in daylight, on a 39-inch ——.

The Eagle is the only machine I have succeeded in riding over that road at night, as I have walked ten out of the eighteen miles twice with other machines, and one of them is a Safety. Yours truly, WM. VAN WAGONER, R. I. Champion.

fellow in the buggy pulled his horse to a standstill, and the wild-eyed animal being led caught sight of me and began to prance around. He got square around in my path. Like a shot from a catapult I flew directly toward what looked like certain death. Suddenly the animal snorted and kicked his hind feet high in the air—kicked such a kick as no man ever saw before—and I passed under his legs while they were up, safe and sound, but badly scared."

CHICAGO has more cycling clubs than any other city in the country and still they come, the latest being the Washington Cycling Club, formed of young men of the west side. With a charter membership of 35 it is the intention to make the club one that shall be strictly first class in every particular, and handsome quarters have been secured at 653 West Adams street, corner of Wood, which are now being elegantly fitted up and will be thrown open about Aug. 15. The club has been organized for the benefit of cyclers in particular and for the promotion in general of social intercourse between the members.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., is coming rapidly to the front as a cycling town, having about 15 wheels and 10 League members.

CHAS. HUCKANS, a Gloversville, N. Y., wheelman, was thrown from his wheel a few days since by coming in contact with a cloths line, which was stretched across the road on which he was riding, and received injuries from which he kept his bed for several days.

THE New York State Division handbook is the most valuable of its kind ever issued. It contains all sorts of invaluable information and hints. Every cyclist should have one if it can be procured.

AT the regular meeting of the Bay State Bicycle Club of Worcester, Aug. 7, it was voted to hold an amateur bicycle tournament about the middle of September, to be governed by the League of American Wheelmen rules. A committee to have entire charge of the arrangements was appointed, consisting of H. Schervee, Jas. Wilson, Jr., H. L. Kingston, John Kenworthy, L. A. Whittemore, B. A. Lamont and C. F. Brown.

THE date of the tournament of the Albany wheelmen, Aug. 31, should be borne in mind. This date makes it possible for all to attend this meet and the tournament at Hartford, commencing on the following Monday.

A STRONG effort is being made by the Sacramento (Cal.) wheelmen to have a quarter-mile track built on the State Agricultural grounds. The local papers favor the scheme.

A FUNNY report comes to us from Detroit that the Kalamazoo Bicycle Club has split and gone to smash on the question of whether to allow its members to ride safeties or not?

WHAT might have been a serious accident occurred in Central Park, New York, near 59th, last week. A lady and gentleman riding two bicycles were run into by a man driving a pair of horses. The cycles were badly smashed, but the riders were unhurt though badly shaken up. The matter was amicably settled by the horseman agreeing to pay damages to machines.

VICE PRESIDENT DUNN, Chief Consul Mott of Maryland and Mr. Norris, Captain of the Maryland Club were among the most prominent of the visitors to Cottage City last week. We were pleased to see Mr. Dunn especially as that gentleman has been a very sick man for the past few months. We rejoice to say that he is regaining health rapidly. He certainly looks robust and healthy, even now.

WE found President Luscomb, Chief Consul Mott and Mr. Share arrayed in bathing costume on the sands of Cottage City enjoying a sun bath and warm waters of the Sound. It was under these circumstances that we were introduced to Messrs. Mott and Share.

MALTBY has arrived in Australia: we have advices to that effect.

THE Ramblers of Buffalo, N. Y., a League Club, has a membership of 157. The club claims to be the largest League Club in existence.

AN erroneous report is going the rounds that the League membership is 1831 less than at this time last year. This is not true. The difference is less than 100.

A GENTLEMAN and his wife while quietly wheeling through Edgeworth, Mass., were stopped by a man who grabbed the wheel and hung on. Gentle remonstrance on the part of the cycler was met with abuse on the part of the grabbing lunatic. No cause assigned, and we regret there is no report of a horsewhipping.

COL. POPE was among the visitors at Cottage City during the late meet.

THE regular correspondent of the Boston Herald at Cottage City speaks in the highest terms of the conduct of the wheelmen during their visit there.

A WRITER complains bitterly becauee re-instated professionals are allowed to race in amateur events. We have submitted his plaint to the Racing Board.

ERRATA. In our last weeks issue we published a letter from Mr. F. P. Prial, into which crept the most horrible mistakes. Our compositors are not used to Mr. Prial's handwriting and as we were away we did not personally read the proof. Our types read * * I determined to indicate that trade." It should read "vindicate." Next we find printed * "It would further slim the emptiness of Mr. Shriver's arguments" * this should read "show the emptiness," etc. Finally the word (?) "assinuation" is printed instead of "insinuation." It gave us a fit of the "shakes" when we read that letter in all the glory of its butchered condition.

THE roads of Honolulu and Tahite, S. I. are reported as being superb. The heat is, however, against cycling.

EIGHT cycle riders of Long Island, N. Y., were arrested last Sunday for riding on the sidewalks. As 'twas a "first offence," though this could not prove an "haliby," as Wilson hath it, they were let off scott free with a warning.

CHARLIE HOWARD as Secretary-Treasurer of Massachusetts is an excellent selection. The Division could not do better.

HOW is this for a gorgeous uniform lately adopted by a certain club: black velvet knee breeches with black silk hose, orange cap and belt, striped sack coat and patent leather shoes cut low.

THE nine from the Overman Wheel Company's works, Chicopee, Mass., defeated the Lamb shop nine Saturday, by the score of 20 to 15.—The Overman Bicycle Club will challenge the Holyoke club to play ball in the near future.

"DID it ever occur to Americans that, in at least one respect, this country is the most backward in the world? With possibly the exception of Massachusetts there is not a state in the Union which has a public road worthy of the name, while England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland are traversed with a perfect net-work of macadamized highways, the American citizen who is compelled to drive wallows in mud up to the hubs of his trap. There seems no reasonable excuse for such a state of things in a civilized community, but Yankee conservatism will probably compel Americans to stick in the mud to the end of time.—America." We note the compliment to Massachusetts, but really we think it undeserved. We do not know of a single trunk road in this State that compares with anything of the kind in Europe. Perhaps America can enlighten us?

THE Ramblers Bi. Club of Buffalo, N. Y., held a lantern parade last week Wednesday. It proved to be one of the most successful of any held in that city.

WORCESTER will hold a tournament in September some time. Dates and particulars later.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., WHEELMEN it is reported will give a race meet the first week in Sept. The exact date not given.

THE Wakefield, Mass., Bi. Club will give a ball October 11, and the same club will give a 25-mile road race in September sometime and a 10-mile race in October. Dates not decided.

THE Boston Herald has an unfortunate trick of cutting items verbatim from our columns and forgetting to credit. This is peculiarly noticeable from the fact that when Mr. Kerrison cuts verbatim from other papers he credits. Fair play Mr. K. if you please!

THE Fall Division meet of the State of Maine will probably be held at Portland.

A PENNSYLVANIA DIV. member sends us the following clipping and the comment thereon: "The New York State Division, L. A. W., hand-book is out, and it is a "dandy." Members of the Pennsylvania Division should procure a copy, and learn how to do it." —American Athlete, Aug. 2d '89, John A. Wells, Managing Editor —"A very suitable criticism for a man to make who is the cause of the delay in the Pennsylvania Division Road Book of one year, with an unfavorable outlook for any issue at all."

RALPH TEMPLE is not only doing a bit of racing but he is open to trick riding exhibitions. He gave an exhibition before the Earl of Denbigh last week, "by request."

TOM ECK and an aggregation of female cycle riders will go to Europe soon in a hunt after ducats. Mr. Eck is backed by a wealthy young man by the name of Geo. Bell who hails from St. Paul, Minn.

DENNIS SHEEHAN, a Chicago policeman, was arrested on a capias sworn out before Judge Waterman by Merrick Arthur Richardson, who sues Sheehan for $1,000 damages on a plea of trespass. Richardson, who is employed as bookkeeper at 75 and 77 Lake street, Chicago, says he was riding a bicycle on Washington boulevard the evening of Aug. 2. Sheehan was mounted, and told Richardson to ride closer to the curb, though the latter's bicycle was but four feet from the edge of the street. Richardson paid no attention to the order, and says that Sheehan urged his horse into a gallop, riding down the wheelman, and greatly injuring him and his wheel. Sheehan gave bond for his appearance for trial.—Exchange.

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.

[ALL communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—ED.]

Dolly B. tells us about a run she took and a record she made:

"One Sunday this summer a union run was made by the cyclists of this vicinity, viz., by those who live within a radius of 100 miles from Boston, to the Massapoag House, Sharon. The S. C. C., with whom I wheeled, left their clubhouse at 8.50 A. M. At that early hour the day promised to be a "scorcher," and a "scorcher" it certainly was, as we found later on, to our sorrow. Our captain had us wheel by twos, myself being given the past of honor.

Do not imagine by my saying this that I was a famous or distinguished guest. No; that was not the reason, although we had in our party some noted wheelmen, among whom was the famous Van Wagoner, of whom you have read. But as I was the only lady cyclist I was put in a conspicuous position, so that others of my own sex whom we might chance to meet might see the advantage of the new mount over the old. But, as I was saying, we started off in fine order. We wheeled through Cambridgeport, Cottage Farms, and Brookline to Jamaica Plain, where we were joined by some of our cycling friends. Soon after we were enjoying a fine coast down a long hill when a countryman, who was driving ahead of us, thought he would stop his team to see how fast the boys could go. He stopped so suddenly that our friend A., who was immediately behind him and who was hemmed in on both sides by other coasters, was obliged to stop suddenly also.

He came down on his feet, but his machine fell in such a manner as to bend the pedal crank, so that it took quite a little time and patience to bring it back to its original shape. Our friend, after delivering an eloquent (?) speech to the farmer, joined us and we proceeded on our way. Our first stop was made in Roslindale in full sight of Bussey bridge, which was made famous but a short time ago by the terrible railroad disaster which occurred there. The bridge was not the attraction for which we stopped, but a pump! How grateful a sight is a pump to a wheelman when the thermometer stands at 80 degrees or more in the shade. During this short rest Van showed us the speed he could make with his hands behind him, and we mutually agreed that "Jack" would certainly lose that magnificent wager without any doubt. We had a very sultry ride through Hyde Park, as the trees were few and far between, and the sun was blazing down overhead. The roads through Milton were very good, and we started up through the noted Brush Hill as though we certainly meant to pedal up the whole distance, but the hill and sun combined were too much for some of us, and after pedaling a while we came to the conclusion that walking would be a restful change. After passing the steepest grade of the hill we again mounted and rode to the top and kept on our way without further dismounting except for the ever-welcome pump. Through Canton we saw the church-going people and the inevitable small boys who gave us compliments, or quite the reverse of them. Le plus mauvai's part of our trip was through Sharon. If the roads are always in the same condition, I would never advise my friends to wheel there. I speak frankly. I was utterly discouraged with heat, sand and gravel to contend against, but the first sight of the lake cheered us on, and also the thought of dinner. What wheelman does not look forward to that after pedalling several hours? We were very much disappointed upon reaching the hotel at being obliged to wait for over an hour for our dinner, as the dining hall was full and there was no room for us. And then, when we were finally seated, what disappointments were in store for us—nearly one-half of the articles on the menu being exhausted—but we survived.

We were much amused while eating dinner to witness a funny little incident. The head waiter was an Irish gentleman, a duplicate, in fact, of Nolan, the Boston Museum actor, when he is made up for such a character. The supply of milk being exhausted, our captain wished to call the head waiter's attention, and as he didn't care about attracting attention from the diners, he beckoned to the h. w. and pointed, upon which the h. w. struck a peculiar attitude and exclaimed, "No, sir; no champagne. No, siree." We all joined in the hearty laugh which followed, even if it was at our captain's expense. At the close of the dinner a few speeches were made, in which the captain of the S. C. C. extended a cordial welcome to the Newport guests, who in return gave the cyclists a hearty invitation to visit their city. The hotel guests were very much interested and amused to see with what cordiality each cyclist greeted the other. The hearty and sincere goodwill was apparent to the most casual observer. One would think their hands and wrists might have ached after so many shakings.

Cyclists were present from most of Boston's suburbs, also from Newport and Providence, R. I.; Gloucester and Taunton, Mass.; Manchester, N. S., and other distant places.

After eating dinner, we rested under the trees, admiring the beautiful pond and scenery. Several wheelmen gave us exhibitions of their skill. One cyclist (who road an Eagle) rode several times over a bushel box which had been placed in his path. Another showed us how to keep a bicycle at a standstill, while being seated upon it. Another after giving a few swift pedal strokes, jumped from the pedals to the saddle and crouched upon it, while the wheel was still in motion. There were various other tricks performed which space will not permit me to mention. Shortly after, the cyclists were called together and the announcement was made that we were to be photographed. The gentlemen arranged themselves under the trees and as Capt. C. thought the ladies' bicycle ought to be pictured too, I was consequently put upon it, while he and my brother steadied it. Afterwards the S. C. C. and their guests were taken. At 4.30 we left the Massapoag for home. In order to escape sand and gravel we took another route back, from that which we had taken going. We came back via Sharon Center. The only improvement was the side-walks, which we made haste to use, but even these did not last the entire distance. Our road back, was through Canton, Milton, Mattapan and Dorchester, and we made a detour through West Roxbury Park, otherwise known as Franklin Park. Our trip home from here was uneventful excepting un gros casualite, which was more of a scare than anything else. The sun had set before we parted from our friends, and I can truly say I never had a more enjoyable trip, nor a more polite and gentlemanly company than the party with whom I wheeled, I trust there will be more ladies who will ride safeties in order to participate in these pleasant trips. I am heartily in favor of safeties for I know there are few ladies who could propel a tricycle over (60) sixty miles, the distance which I travelled on my single safety.

DOLLY B.

DOWN THE RHINE—THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

Since a week ago Saturday last, which we spent rain-bound at Neuhausen, our course has been through German territory down the banks of tha castellated Rhine.

Although rainy, yet seven or eight of the boys started ere the others were up- for Freiburg. Therefore, when about 8 o'clock it was decided to remain over till next day a telegram was sent ahead to recall them. They, however, elected to continue, and so spent Sunday, as per schedule, in Freiburg, while the party spent it in getting there. The road lay through the Black Forest all the way. During the forenoon ride to Titisee, where the party dined, a head wind made it a long pull. This was more than repaid, for by the afternoon ride down the Vallee d'Enfer and a nine mile coast over perfect roads. By not arriving Saturday the party missed seeing the market day, for which bad luck the rain was alone to blame.

Next morning, Monday, we were on the road to Strasburg.

I forgot to mention that on crossing the German frontier the party received the deposits made on wheels when entering Switzerland and were not asked to pay any duty for Germany.

Our road from Freiburg to Offenburg—48 miles—where we dined, was through a rather flat and uninteresting country, all the more so after the mountains and lakes of Switzerland. At Offenburg, Hotel Bahuhoff, we were but 8 miles from Strasburg, which distance was covered in an hour late in the afternoon. Through this section of country, tobacco seemed to be one of the principal crops, though on all sides could be seen the busy harvesters garnering in the bountiful crops of wheat and other grain.

Before reaching the city we were met by one of the local clubmen who had heard of our coming and piloted us to our hotel—De France. Here we had our first opportunity of realizing to what an extent milltary life obtains in Germany. In, through the surrounding forts, across drawbridges and under massive stone gateways, we rode; past marching regiments, with their shining brass helmets over sturdy, solid, bulldog-like faces; past exercise grounds were recruits were being practised in running, climbing, volley firing, etc.; past more grounds where infantry and cavalry were drilling, and thus through streets on which more than half the passers by wore uniforms, to our hotel.

There are 15,000 armed men on garrison duty in Strasburg and their barracks cover more ground than did the old town.

That evening, the Strasburg Club invited us to their meeting-rooms at a neighboring cafe, and there all spent the evening with music for all and beer for those who chose.

Next day, Tuesday, we spent the forenoon in seeing the city, and at 12 o'clock all repaired to the Cathedral to see the famous clock perform its world-renowned evolutions. These the boys found rather dissappointing, as nothing in particular happened, save a cherub striking the hour, a lot of wooden figures moving on a revolving table, out of one hole into another, and, the best of all, a very realistic rooster, which flapped its wings and got up a very fair imitation of a cock-a-doodle-doo.

After dinner, under the guidance of our Strasburg guide of yesterday, we wheeled out for Baden-Baden, only 35 miles.

On this run the entire party, for a wonder, kept together, and that at a rattling pace, thanks to our able guide.

The country proved uninterestingly flat, as the boys had grown rather to like the ten-mile hills and ten-mile coasts of Switzerland. All went well until two miles of our destination, when down came the rain in torrents, sending us helter-skelter into the town for shelter. The Baden Clubmen who had ridden out to meet us, were thus disappointed, as from their eyrie of safety in a suburban bierhalle they did not notice us going by. We arrived at the Hotel Holland, as miserably wet a lot of chaps as one would care to see. What memories of Ireland and of the warm hearts we met there, that rain brought to us!

Once arrived and dinner, or rather supper, disposed of, we were taken in tow by the Baden-Baden Club to the Conversatione Haus, or Casino, where we spent the evening in the open air—the rain having ceased—drinking cafe or other light (?) drinks and listening to the magnificent orchestra.

By the kindly thought of one of the clubmen the band was made to drop the regular programme and played for our benefit "Hail Columbia," "Yankee Doodle," etc., etc.

We gave them our war-cry and succeeded in gathering round us from among the gay throng of promenaders, many Americans who were as much flattered by the compliment as ourselves.

After the band ceased, the club men took us to their rooms in the "Crocodile" restaurant, where the huge loving-cup filled with iced champagne went circling round the board to the sound of German bicycle songs and their boisterous, fraternal greeting, "All heil!" At a late hour we parted and got to our hotel.

Next morning dawned with threatening rain, and muddy roads. At eight o'clock under the leadership of our thoughtful friend of the previous evening, eight or ten started out for Heidelberg via Carlsrhue. Most of us remained to go later by train. At ten, arrived from Strasburg, Hicks and the Messrs. Krumm who had remained behind there. As the sky seemed propitious a few of us joined them and so rode the thirty-odd miles to Carlsrhue with little rain. The remaining few took train the entire distance to Heidelburg sixty-three miles.

Those who stuck to the wheel had a rough, long pull of it and were caught in more than one drenching shower.

At Heidelburg all visited the castle and thoroughly explored the nooks and corners of this most interesting of ruins. The magazine with its eight foot wall, rent asunder and partly lying in the moat; the famous Heidelburg Tun, or huge cask, (on the top of which, Wilson and Wentworth danced a polka) and the high watch-tower with its superb view over city, river and the surrounding vine clad hills, were all seen and climbed.

A quiet evening indoors was spent, rain preventing promenading or band-concerts.

In the morning all were on deck for Weisbaden, a run of sixty-four miles.

As the threatening weather and occasional showers still continued several of the boys preferred to take the train. A week of riding in the rain in Ireland, gave us all quite enough of that sort of fun. Those who wheeled it found a rather flat and uninteresting country, and received an occasional wetting down. Those who trained to Worms for dinner, were obliged in going about twenty-five miles to change cars four times then take boat across the Rhine and finally cars again to Worms! We travelled in everything except a balloon that day.

At the ancient and historical city of Worms we spent a couple of hours visiting the famous church of Luther, his splendid bronze monument in the public square and in exploring the quaint old streets and buildings of the town. Then, that over, en route for Weisbaden, nearly forty miles.

Some took train to Mayence and thence rode the few miles to Wiesbaden. The others faithful to the wheel, plugged it over the road and were rather weary than otherwise, when they pulled up at the hotel door. Mayence, which we passed through is a magnificent city with wide boulevards, splendid buildings and the usual encircling chain of fortifications. Wiesbaden, though smaller, we also found to be a very fine town, full of grand hotels, large shops, with wide streets, and, as is usual in the German cities we have passed through, steam street railways.

Next morning as on the previous days, one party went by wheel while the lazy contingent (always steadily growing) made tracks for the boat. Our route this day lay through the grandest part of the Rhine valley, mainly from Wiesbaden via Burgen to Coblentz. Those who rode it travelled down the right bank to Rudersheim, where the boat contingent, who had taken to the river at Biebrich, near Wiesbaden.

At Rudershiem some of the boys went up the cog railway to the Germania statue on the Niederwalk, above the town. This magnificent and colossal monument to the glory of German unity and German prowess in the war of 1870-71, towers aloft nearly 100 feet, and in its elaborate beauty and the grand panorama of the Rhine visible from its base, more than repaid the time taken to visit it.

PEDALS.

NIAGARA FOR HIM.

Editor Bicycling World: In accordance with your correspondent of July 19th, referring to selection of the locality of the '89 meet, I would like to second the nomination of Niagara Falls.

Your correspondent has very ably set forth some of the advantages of the place. But no person can adequately describe the grandeur of the place and its fitting as the rendezvous for the Wheelmen.

To those of the members who are not inclined to wheel to the meet is also offered easy and rapid ways of communication in any direction.

By all means let us have Niagara as the next meeeting place.

MR. SHRIVER'S REPLY TO MR. PRIAL.

Editor Bicycling World: My first impulse in reading Mr. Prial's letter in this week's WORLD was to reply to it fully, but as he has seen fit to divert the question from its bearing on League matters solely, and to lug in the private affairs of, and opinions within the New York club, I would prefer to drop it; contenting myself with remarking on two points only. Mr. Prial states that the majority of the committee favored his nomination. I can only reply that the other members of the committee expressed no preference for him at the committee meeting, whatever they may have done elsewhere. He also objects to my using your columns to explain the question. As to this, it became necessary, out of fairness to Mr. Watts, because Mr. Prial had declined to publish any statement of the case from me in the Wheel, on the ground that discussion of his "trade" relations might injure his candidacy.—Yours truly,

E. New York, August 13, 1889. E. J. SHRIVER.

TOM STEVENS HEARD FROM.

A CABLE from Zanzibar, Africa, reports Mr. Stevens on his way from the interior after his unsuccessful search for Stanley. The information is very meagre, but it states that Stevens will probably reach Zanzibar in about two weeks. Mr. Stevens was sent by the New York World, this spring on the difficult mission of finding Stanley. In the meantime Stanley found himself, and is now on his way to the coast with an army of some six thousand men and a vast quantity of ivory. He is in the vicinity of the Nyanza Lake at this time, and it will take months of hard work to "get out of the wilderness."

THE HISTORY OF THAT FIRST WIRE OF "JACK'S" RUMORED DEATH.

Editor Bicycling World: Your letter asking for the particulars in regard to the first rumor of the death of Jas. Purvis-Bruce at hand. On Sunday, July 28, the Minneapolis Tribune contained the account of the death of a reporter named Bruce who perished in a canyon somewhere in Canada. The Tribune went on to say that "owing to the roving disposition of Purvis-Bruce formerly of this paper we have no doubt it was he." I immediately wired the White Cycle Co. as you know, and on July 29th received the following from Bruce himself.

"Jack" is still alive and is liable to kill you when next he sees you if still alive. He starts for England in six weeks.

(Signed) "No Signature."

Bruce had owed me a letter for about two weeks and I have no doubt from the way his message was worded, that he thought I had just telegraphed the company to hurry him up in answering. This message was the last word I ever heard from him, although I wrote him a long letter July 30th, telling him about the notice in the Tribune. The report of his drowning which was in the Tribune Aug. 5 was not credited by any one here; as it followed so closely on the other every one thought it a hoax gotten up by Bruce himself. However I wired again and alas found it to be too true.

Although he seemed "odd and eccentric" to many, yet after one gained his confidence it brought out his true nature and one found under this eccentric covering a diamond of the first water, a man with a heart so large that after doing the most noble things he looked on them as trifles.

I am yours in mutual sympathy,

J. R. STOCKDALE.

HE BELIEVES IN JERSEY CLOTH FOR SUITINGS.

Editor Bicycling World: Noticing considerable discussion on the uniform question I beg leave to state that I believe I have solved the problem of proper cycling clothing, to my entire satisfaction. For two years I wore a suit made of common cloth, (Sawyer's woolen) and I am certain that a riding suit cannot be made, to fit as a riding suit should, and still be comfortable, if made of ordinary cloth. Last spring I ordered a suit to be made of dark gray jersey cloth, and I must say I never knew what a comfortable riding suit was before, and in my opinion jersey cloth is the only thing fit to make a riding suit of. I chose gray because it shows dust less than black or blue.

For riding on hot days I leave off my coat, and in place of the cap, I wear a light straw helmet; dressed in this manner I can keep comfortable riding in any heat we have had this summer.

What is true of the dress for the lower part of the body is true of that for the upper part. Woolen shirts are made in a very artistic manner now, giving one the chance to wear a neck-tie, and thus appear quite respectable, even without a coat. Knee breeches, buttoned at the knee look better, feel just as good and cost no more than tights. Flannel shirts are prettier, quite as comfortable and cost less if anything, than jersey tights. Here is comfort, economy and good taste. What more do you want?

L. A. W. 9424.

HE DOES NOT LIKE OUR STRICTURES.

Editor Bicycling World: Did it ever occur to you that in your enmity to the sidewalk rider you are rather intemperate? Have you any idea that there may be places where it is not only desirable that wheelmen use the walks, but necessary, if they would ride at all? If you should ever visit this town you will find it to be so here. Our streets are villainous—sand, rough ruts or mud are the normal conditions. We must ride the walks or not ride at all. Our walks are smooth, the crossings are raised and gutters bridged. We can use the walks, (you can't in Boston, because you have a drop and rise at every crossing), and we do use them 365 days in the year. The public does not object. Some people, not riders, actually think we have a right to them. I don't dispute the justice of your position. When the roads are as good, as in Boston, there is no excuse for sidewalk riding. But if your ideas were carried out in this town there would be no riding at all. No one but a Hercules could drive a machine on our streets with comfort. The tools here give trouble once in a while, but the sensible riders know that to be tolerated we must behave ourselves.

Your readers here are amused and disgusted at your talk. Were you here you would ride the walks or not ride at all, and you would be glad of the privilege. Yours truly,

Akron, Ohio. G. C. McNEIL.

[There are exceptions to every rule, of course, and if the nonrididg citizens of a place do not see any nuisance in the use of the sidewalks by cyclers, we cannot object. The overwhelming majority of pedestrians are against sidewalk riding, and they are, as a rule, right. The custom of side-walk riding, as a rule, is wrong, dead wrong.—ED.]

THE PENNSYLVANIA CLUB ON FAST RIDING.

The Secretary of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club of Philadelphia was instructed at the last meeting to send the following letter:

"General Russel Thayer, Superintendent Fairmount Park.

"Dear Sir—We would respectfully call your attention to the indiscriminate and sometimes reckless riding that is indulged in upon the pavements on the north side of Girard and Elm avenues, and for the best interests of all true cyclers and the public at large we would ask that such restrictions as are deemed necessary, may be placed upon those, who habitually and wilfully violate the ordinances bearing upon this practice; and we ask further that the park guards be instructed to enforce upon both wheelmen and horsemen the regulations in reference to fast riding in the park.

"If you will refer any action that may be decided upon, to our Secretary Mr. Lee R. McKinstry, 307 Walnut Street, notice of same will be conveyed to the other City clubs, and as far as possible, to the wheelmen at large also.

"Respectfully, for the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club of Philadelphia.

"LEE R. MCKINSTRY, Secretary.

August '89."

At the regular meeting of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club of Philadelphia, held August 1st., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved. That the sentiments of this club are against all forms of road-racing, as prejudicial to the best interests of genuine cycling, and that the indiscriminate indulgence in same is calculated to engender and perpetuate a feeling against wheeling and wheelmen, which it should be the constant endeavor of every true cycler to live down.

THE MASSACHUSETTS AND RHODE ISLAND DIVISIONS MEET AT COTTAGE CITY.

THE past week has been a memorable one at Cottage City; all sorts and kinds of excursionists have crowded the city, but none of the visitors have attracted so much attention and given such satisfaction and pleasure as the visiting wheelmen, the L. A. W. members of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island divisions. The number of visiting wheelmen did not exceed 400, but there were representatives not only from this State and Rhode Island, but from Maryland, Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington and other points.

Chief Consul Emery was indefatigable; he worked like a beaver, and was omnipresent. Wednesday night many of the wheelmen came in on the boats, and the Thursday boats brought the bulk of the cyclers.

Thursday morning the business meeting of the Massachusetts division was held, full report of which will appear in our official columns, The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, showing the great increase of Division membership, was flatteringly received, and the finances, giving a balance in the treasury of some $800, lightened the hearts of those interested in the financial standing of ths Division.

The election of Mr. C. S. Howard of Boston to the office of Secretary-Treasurer was a good move, and the Division is to be congratulated on the choice made. In the afternoon the game of baseball between the Martha's Vineyard nine and the wheelmen took place, and resulted in a victory for the local club by a score of 13 to 12. The wheelmen were ably captained by Mr. Bean of Cambridge, while the Martha's Vineyard, in the person of a Mr. Latham, had a very active captain and coacher.

In the evening the lantern parade took place, and it was a feature that pleased the cottagers immensely. Many of the cottages were illuminated in honor of the occasion, and red fire and fire works were let off profusely. About 150 men participated. Mr. Sterling Elliot of Newton, Mass., was awarded the first prize for the most elaborate display, and Mr. Phillips of Providence was given the second prize. President Luscomb was chief marshal.

On Friday morning many wheelmen went down to the wharf, expecting to take in the Nantucket excursion at "reduced rates," but for some reason the reduction was not made, and the excursionists were reduced in number to a bare 25. Those who did go enjoyed it hugely, although only forty-five minutes was allowed to see the quaint old town. Those who took their wheels were heard to remark that the roads were "tough," and they were not far out.

In the afternoon about 100 wheelmen, under the command of Chief Consul Emery, rode out to East Chop and back.

W. Windle did not show up in the trick riding exhibition. He sprained his ankle a short time ago.

There was no ball down on the programme, but those who wanted to "trip the light fantastic toe" were determined not to be left, and so a few enterprising spirits, led by Mr. Bean of Cambridge, got up a hop, which proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the meet. The order went forth that dress suits would not be allowed, because so many had come unprepared, and Mr. Bean determined that all must fare alike, so far as dress was concerned. It was well into Saturday morning before the last dance had been danced.

The parade was held on Saturday forenoon. Three hundred men were in line. Chief Consul Emery was chief marshal of the Massachusetts division, and Chief Consul Davol was chief marshal of the Rhode Island division. Miss Marion D. Bassett was marshal of the ladies' division, with Abbot Bassett as chief of staff. President Luscomb, Chief Consul Albert Mott of Maryland, and Chief Consul Dow of Portland were on the staff of Chief Consul Emery. The line moved over a short route, along the concrete streets.

The meet wound up with the races in the afternoon, a report of which will be found in our racing column.

TOURNAMENT AT WORCESTER, MASS.

THE programme decided on by the Bay State Wheelmen of Worcester for the tournament in September [Date not decided.] will include three foot races (a half-mile amateur run, a one mile walk and 100 yards dash.). Beside these races there will be a one-mile (novice) safety race, one mile ordinary (novice) race, two mile Worcester County championship, three mile lap race, one mile safety (open), two mile team race, one mile ordinary (handicap).

one mile safety (handicap) and one mile ordinary (open). The races will be under the L. A. W. rules, and are expected to bring out the strongest amateurs in this part of the country.

THE NEW YORK STATE DIVISION MEET.

Arrangements are progressing for the New York State Division meet, to be held in New York Sept. 13 and 14. The Brooklyn Times says: "It has been proposed to have a race meet on the 14th at Washington Park, but the grounds could not be obtained for this date, and the idea was abandoned, the committee apparently overlooking the fact that the B. A. A. grounds might have been gotten for the purpose instead. The absence of races will cause no little disappointment to many who had already gone into training in anticipation of some close and exciting contests between the local and visiting sprinters. A decidedly interesting programme of a different nature, however, has been arranged for the entertainment of the guests after the business of the meet has been transacted, which includes runs to Yonkers, Bath Beach, Coney Island and other points, to be followed by refreshments for those who enjoy the runs to the last named places at the clubhouse of the K. C. W. A parade in this city is proposed, and a theatre party will be arranged at one of the up-town New York playhouses. The entertainment and reception committee is headed by W. H. DeGraaf of New York, assisted by Captain W C. Marion, Jr., K. C. W., and Bert Cole, B. B. C., who so efficiently aided in the successful engineering of the theatre party at the Park last season."

ST. LOUIS TOURNAMENT.

INTEREST in the coming tournament continues unabated and the fact is now established that it will be the most successful tournament yet given by the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association. On account of a delay in the East the full list of prizes is not yet complete but up to date it consists of costly gold medals for each of the championship events, two fine gold watches, mantle clock, smoking set, gold-headed canes and umbrellas, silk hats, Jersey suit, fancy silk shirt, and cycling sundries. For the entries the names of some of the fastest ameteurs in the western country have been already secured and brillant contests are assured. The match race Ring vs. Harding is causing a great deal of talk, the prize being a $25 gold medal to be furnished by either the Missouri or Cycling Club in the event of their man loosing.

A stock subscription paper will be issued among the merchants, and if they respond in their usual rapid manner, a new grand stand will be built to accomodate the expected throng of spectators. The delay in announcing the full list of prizes is very unfortunate but it cannot be helped for reasons stated. Intending competitors may rest assured however that they will be all first class. Preparations are now being made for the grand union run to take place Sunday, September 1, which will be held over the famous De Soto road. This road has become so well known as the toughest in the country and as the successful participant is looked upon as a road rider of the first water, this fact alone should induce a large delegation of visitors to be present, and, by the way, should anyone wish to have a try at Greenwood's record of less than twelve hours for the round trip or 4 hours and 23 min. for the down trip, he will be accomodated. Entries for the races close Wednesday, Aug. 28, with Secretary J. Harold Child, 1012 Oliver St. from whom blanks can also be obtained. LINNEUS.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION MEET PROGRAMME.

The Pennsylvania Div. State meet will be held at York, Pa., Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 2 and 3. As the 2d will be Labor Day, there is every reason to believe that the meet will be largely attended.

An advertisement of the races and meet will be found on page 448. Owing to the limited time of the committee at work on the meet, the programme of the races was sent in for publication before the committee could hear positively from the Racing Board, hence there are a few changes to be made. The one-half mile hands off and the 2 mile handicap—both championship races—will be taken off and replaced by the one mile and the half-mile tricycle. Both of the latter will be championship races. The correct programme will be published in the same column next week.

The committee has also not heard definitely from the railroad authorities, but do not think there will be any trouble in securing he issue of return card or rebate system from all points within the State and also from the larger cities outside of the State.

The headquarters for the meet will be at the City Hotel, where all wheelmen of the Division will be expected to report. All the hotels will have reduced rates. Highest charge will be but $2 per day. The accommodation will be the best. The committee will see that every one has storage room for his wheel free of charge, so bring your wheels along.

Those who have charge of the races are well known and popular, and will strive to please both audience and participants. They intend that the races shall be as interesting as any ever held within the State. Entry blanks for the races can be had from Ellis S. Lewis, Secretary. Send for them. The programme outside the races is not yet decided upon, but will include a run or two, a lantern parade and a spread.

Anyone intending to make the trip to York awheel and wishing any information in reference to roads, routes, etc., should correspond with the undersigned, who will cheerfully give all the desired information possible. For short distances, or even for a day or two trip, this would be a pleasant feature, as the trip could be made on the Sunday previous.

W. P. SWARTZ, Captain, Y. B. C., York, Pa.

HARTFORD TOURNAMENT.

THE Hartford Wheel Club are receiving very favorable reports from all quarters stating that a larger delegation of wheelmen may be expected at their September Tournament.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island Clubs besides all the Connecticut ones have signified their intentions of coming with large delegations. The additional attraction of the L. A. W. Ct., Division meet at the same time as the tournament will bring together hundreds of League Cyclists who might not otherwise attend. The arrangements for their entertainment are about all completed and are in the hands of competent committee who will spare no pains to keep good the reputation Hartford has made in the past.

The Wheel Club team have now got down to hard work and are training every day at Charter Oak Park from 4 until 7 P. M. The team is composed of Foster, Cornell, Dresser and Reid on ordinaries, and Harding and Shea on safeties. Corcoran the trainer is well pleased with their work, and says great things may be expected of them.

LOUISIANA DIVISION MEET—PROGRAMME.

THE Louisiana Division L. A. W. will hold a meet at the Audubon Park, New Orleans, on Saturday, Sept. 14.

1. Novice race for bicycles, 1 mile dash, open to L. A. W. members. 2. L. A. W. National championship, 5 miles, assigned to this division, open to L. A. W. members. 3. One-half mile dash for boys under 16 years old, mixed race. 4. Safety race, Rover type, 1 mile dash, open to L. A. W. members. 5. Louisiana State championship, 1 mile dash, open to Louisiana members of L.A.W. 6. Run and ride, half mile, mixed race, open to L. A. W. members. 7. Tandem tricycle, 1 mile dash, open to L. A. W. members. 8. Louisiana Cycling Club championship, 1 mile dash, open to club members only. 9. New Orleans Bicycle Club championship, 1 mile dash, open to club members only. 10. Lap race, 2 1-2 miles mixed race, open to L. A. W. members. 11. Consolation race, half-mile dash, mixed race, open to L. A. W. members.

The entrance fee for each race will be 50 cents, all entries to be made with Ridgeley P. Randall, Chairman Racing Board, 54 Baronne street, New Orleans, Louisiana. Entries to close Tuesday, Sept. 10, at 5 P. M. Six thousand invitation will be issued and a fine band of music in attendance.

All riders in the United States are invited to be present and members of the Division will make every effort to make visitors feel at home.

HARRY A. HODGSON, Chief Consul, La. Div. L. A. W.
JOHN W. DODGE, Sec.-Treas. La. Div.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

AT QUEENS, L. I., Aug. 10.—Track.—At the Queens Athletic grounds last Saturday, several local bicycle records were broken. A. C. Banker of the Berkely Athletic Club rode one mile in 1m. 57s., breaking Hesse's record here; three miles in 9m. 26s., and five miles in 15m. 41 1-5s., the fastest five miles ever made in New York State. L. L. Clark of the same club rode a lap, one-sixth of a mile in 24s., and the quarter mile in 40 3-5s.

AT COTTAGE CITY, Martha's Vineyard, Aug. 10.—The last day of the Mass. and R. I. Division meet was brought to a fitting close by a series of excellent races. The paths used as track are not of the safest or fastest. The corners are pretty sharp to take at full speed, and we always feel glad when the events are over without any serious spill. The sky threatened rain all the morning, but after a while the sun consented to show his face and at the time of starting the races, [the sky was clear and everyone happy. President Luscomb acted as referee. The results were: One mile, open—First prize, gold medal; second prize, silver medal: entries, F. A. Delabarre, Conway; T. J. Kerr, Worcester; T. L. Connelly, Dorchester; B. T. Bruce, Providence: First, Delabarre, 3m.; second, Bruce, 3m. 4 1-2s. One mile safety—First prize, gold medal; second prize, silver medal: entries, William Van Wagoner, Newport; F. L. Olmstead, Jr., Brookline; W. E. McCune: First, Van Wagoner, 3m. 8 1-5s.; second, Olmstead, Jr., 3m. 13s. Half mile open—First prize, gold medal; second prize, silver medal: entries, T. L. Connelly, Dorchester; E. L. Culver, Springfield; A. H. Morse, Hyde Park: First, Morse, 1m. 29 3-5s., second, Culver, 1m. 33s. Half mile, boys' race, boys under 12.—Entries, Frank Philips, Albert Van Vleck: First, Phillips, 1m. 41 3-5s; second, Van Vleck, 1m 43s. One mile championship, Massachusetts and Rhode Island—First prize, gold medal; second prize, silver medal: entries, Van Wagoner, F. A. Delabarre, Conway; C. A. Culver, Springfield: first, F. A. Delabarre' 2m. 49 1-5s.; Van Wagoner, second, 2m. 52s. Tandem safety race.—Entries, Newman and Burns, Cambridge: Van Wagoner, Newport, and Lakey, Providence, R. I.; Jewett and Nash, Cambridge: first, Van Wagoner and Lakey, 3m. 3 3-5s.; second, Newman and Burns, 3m. 9s.

AT WORCESTER, MASS., Aug 8.—Hill climbing record.—The best on record for Walnut Hill, Worcester, up to Aug 8, was twice without a dismount. On that day F. L. Johnson on a saftey in the presence of a large crowd and three judges, started in to break the record and did it as follows: 1st ascent, 1m. 45s.; 2d, 1m. 40s.; 3rd, 1m. 40s.; 4th, 1m. 45s.; 5th, lacking five yards, 1m. 50s.; time from start to finish, 16m. 45s. Unfortunately, a watering cart came down the hill during the trials, and made the surface very greasy, otherwise Mr. Johnson would undoubtedly have bettered his record.

AT NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3.—Road.—A mile match race between A. B. Harris and C. M. Shute, two members of the Louisiana Cycling Club, came off Sunday, Aug. 3, and resulted in a victory for Harris, after a closely contested race. The race was run in 3.10 1-2, which is only one second above the local record.

AT CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Road.—The Lincoln Cycling Club held their annual road race Saturday afternoon. The race was from 35th street and Grand boulevard to Cheltenham Beach, a distance of 9 miles over the course as run. There were 18 prizes, from a silver cup to winner, gold medals to those making first and second best time, down to an iron medal, a wooden medal and a leather medal respectively to the three last men in. Eighteen of the contestants finished and all got prizes. The road was in first-class condition and the wind favorable. The following is the time for the first nine men in, with their handicaps: 1. McAvoy, 36.15, 5m. limit; 2. Crouse, 35.12, 3m. limit; 3, Spooner, 32.32, scratch; 4. Herrick, 36.40, 4m.; 5 Stamm, 35.19, 2 1-2m.; 6. Bacon, 36.58, 4m.; 7. Pounds, 37.25, 4m.; 8. Byrne, 38 11, 4 1-2m.; 9. Frank, 36.17, 2 1-2m. Spooner takes the medal for best time, while Herrick, Canfield and Brewster secured the three "booby" medals.

AT LOCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Road.—The first road race ever held in Niagara County took place last Friday and was a grand success. A grove has been purchased at Wilson, on Lake Ontario, by a Canadian syndicate—strange to say it was not English—and has been fitted up with pavilions and all the other attractions necessary to a first-class summer resort, and christened Lake Island Park. The grand opening took place on Friday, Aug. 9, about 3000 people attending. Besides speeches and banquets, there were a number of athletic contests, consisting of running, jumping and wheelbarrow race, tug-of-war, swimming, tub races, etc. The event of the day was the bicycle road race from Lockport to Wilson—17 miles. Six starters entered: Burt Green of the Lockport Wheelmen, Wm. Windsor, H. W. Sherwood and Fred Korf of Lockport, C. F. Hollinbeck of Sanborn and W. C. Comstock of Cambria. Korf led until 5 miles from Wilson, when Green forged ahead and kept the lead to the finish. The men crossed the line in the following order: Green 1.14, Windsor 1.24 1-2, Hollingbeck 1.25, Korf 1.27, H. W. Sherwood 1.32, Comstock 2.8. The roads were sandy part of the way and a head wind interfered, but the boys rode a loafing race the first 12 miles or better time could have been made. The finish was magnificent, the three leaders coming in almost neck and neck, the 42d separate Regiment band playing, the vast crowd cheering and a number on horseback galloping by the side of the riders and urging them on. No accident occurred, and it is safe to say road racing will be popular in this section for some time to come.

AT PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Road—The match race between John G. Fuller, of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club, and Louis Hill, of the same organization, came off Thursday afternoon, Aug. 8, on Lancaster Pike. The course was from near Fifty-second street, distance, three miles. The race was a slow one and did not develop a struggle, Hill winning in 9 minutes 42 seconds, with Fuller a few yards behind him. The latter rode a safety bicycle, geared to sixty inches, which had just come off shipboard, and which he could not ride. When half way through the race owing to Fuller's evident inability to do anything with the machine, Hill wanted to call the race off, but Fuller said he would ride it out. A series of three races was agreed to between the two men, neither of them being satisfied with yesterday's trial. It will count as one, however, and the two others will be ridden at early dates.

IN ENGLAND.—The N. C. U. championships were run at Paddington July 27 in rainy weather. The track is one that drains capitally, however. The five mile championship was won by Snyder (previous holder) by a wonderful 200 yards sprint over Osmond. J. H. Adams third. Time, 18m, 24 1-5s. In his trial heat Snyder made his last quarter in 32 2-5s. The mile tricycle was won by H. H. Sansom in 3m. 12s. by a tremendous spurt. W. G. H. Bronsom second. Sansom's last quarter was made in 36 2-5s. W. G. H. Bromson won the 25 mile tricycle championship in 1 hour 20 minutes 27 1-5 seconds.

On the same day at Leicester F. Lawrence, 195 yards, won a mile handicap in 2m. 42 4-5s. A. H. Robb, scratch, won a 3-mile championship in 8m. 46 3-5s. F. W. Allard, 40 yards, was second by half a yard. R. Howell won the 5-mile championship in 15m. 45 2-5s. the last quarter in 35 4-5s.; Robb was second by half a yard and ahead of Allard by the same distance; J. Lee fourth.

At Coventry, July 25, J. H. Adams covered 50 miles in 2h. 33m. 37 2-5s., smashing English records from 33 to 50 miles inclusive, as follows:

Miles.	Time. H. M. S.	Miles.	Time. H. M. S.	Miles.	Time H. M. S.

AT READING, PA., Aug. 5.—Track.—Rain again interfered with the races at Yellow House Park, but four out of the six unfinished races were run. Notwithstanding the rain the attendance was good and considerable enthusiasm was shown. The races were started at 2 P. M. The first was the half-mile novice. The prizes contested for were a gold medal and a man's dressing case. There were seven entries, but only three starters. William Reifsnyder of Pottstown, Charles Miller and C. J. Dundore of Reading. Dundore won with ease, his time being 1.58 1-4. The second event was the one mile, 3 minute class. In this race there were four starters, D. H. Miller, won in 3.23 1-2, with Kilmer a close second. When the third race, a one-mile safety, was called, the rain began to fall and George Grubb declined to run. Wm. W. Taxis of Philadelphia, Riegel and H. Y. Yost of Reading started, and the rain poured down in torrents. W. W. Taxis ploughed the mud and won in 3.55, with Yost of this city second. After waiting a half hour, the rain ceased, and the one mile handicap was run. The track was heavy and a storm in the distance hurried the starters to their positions. W. I. Wilhelm, who had been entered for it and was at scratch, being handicapped by Taxis by 25 yards; by Miller by 90 yards; Kilmer and Grubb 100 yards each, and A. R. Gray of Bryn Mawr by 100 yards. Wilhelm not being present the others took their distances as printed on the programme in order to save a remeasurement. This race was also run in the rain. This race was the prettiest on the ground and was won by Taxis in 3.21, with Reigel second and Reifsnyder third. In the evening a hop was given for the benefit of the cyclers, but very few wheelmen were present. Rhoads and Schearer's orchestra furnished the dancing music, and a fine concert was given by the Silver Cornet Band of Freidensburg.

JOHN BROWNELL, claims to be the only man in the United States, who rides a 64 inch bicycle. Mr. Brownell is in the neighborhood of seven feet tall and is completing a course in classics at the Syracuse, (N. Y.) University.

THE local record of 6 h. 15 m. between Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md., is claimed by Mr. Harry Park of the former city.

If you want a second-hand wheel of any kind, drop us a line; it will cost you but 2c., and may save you many dollars. Just tell us what you want and how much you are willing to pay. The safety has made all high wheels such a drug on the market here that we are compelled to unload them for what we can get. Should we not have what you want we will mail you one of our beautifully illustrated Art Calendars for 1889, worth fifty times your two cents. Capital Cycle Co., Washington, D. C.

THE man or woman who is profitably employed is generally happy. If you are not happy it may be because you have not found your proper work. We earnestly urge all such persons to write to B. F. MESSRS. S. & J. DAVIS, the caterers of Newark and Orange, are very popular with wheel clubs and wheelmen. Their large restaurant and ice cream parlor on Main street is a favorite resort with wheelmen in the Oranges. Dinner is served in the cafe, and special attention is paid to the comfort of wheelmen.

E. H. CORSON, agent for the Rambler Safety Bicycle, made a fast run yesterday from Rochester, N. H., to Saco. The time was 3 hours and 40 minutes, beating his record by 25 minutes. The distance to Saco was made in two hours, beating the best bicycle record by 15 minutes. The distance from Rochester to Sanford was covered in 10 minutes better time than any previous bicycle record.

NEW YORK STATE Fair Exhibition, Albany, N. Y., professional bicycle racing Aug. 30, 1889. Prize, $100, $65 and $50. Races, one, three and five miles. At least three must enter in each race. Entrance fee $5; fee returned to losers. Entries close Tuesday, Aug. 27, 1889. Address Newton Dexter. General Manager, P. O. Box 424, Albany, N. Y.

VAN WAGONER rode the Sterling Safety wheel in the races at Cottage City and won as he pleased, with arms folded, he crossed the winning line. The introduction of the Sterling Safety on the race track was for the first time accomplished at Cottage City Aug. 10, and the result was an "easy win" for the machine.

THE New Mails made a big show at the Cottage City meet, viz., 21 Safeties and 16 Ordinaries in line. Some severe tests were made with this safety in the deep sand, and its stanchness and great strength were tested and fully proved. Messrs. Reed have had a great year with it. New Mail certainly stands well for high quality.

Transportation to the New York State Division Meeting, in New York City, Sept. 13th and 14th.

All members attending the annual meet of the New York State Division, L. A. W., are entitled to transportation for round trip at the rate of a fare and 1-3 from points on the following railroads:

Baltimore and Ohio (Parkersburg, Bellaire and Wheeling, and east thereof), Baltimore and Potomac, Bennington and Rutland, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, Camden and Atlantic, Central of New Jersey, Central Vermont, Delaware and Hudson Canal Co., Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Elmira, Cortland and Northern, Fitchburg, Lehigh Valley, New York Central and Hudson River, New York, Lake Erie and Western, New York, Ontario and Western, Northern Central, Pennsylvania (except locally between Philadelphia and New York), Philadelphia and Erie, Philadelphia and Reading (except locally between Philadelphia and New York), Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore, Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg (except on Phœnix Line; stations between Syracuse and Oswego), Shenandoah Valley, Western New York and Pennsylvania, West Jersey, West Shore.

The tickets are to be purchased on the certificate plan, which is as follows: Each person desiring transportation at reduced rates will apply to the undersigned, who will issue a certificate which the holder will present to the ticket agent in purchasing ticket. The ticket agent will endorse the certificate, certifying that the holder has purchased one full rate ticket to New York, and on arrival here, by presenting to the undersigned, the certificate will be duly endorsed, certifying that the holder has attended the meeting, and when presented to a ticket agent in New York City for any of the above railroads, will entitle him to transportation for the return trip at one-third regular fare.

In granting this concession, the Trunk Line Association do so on condition that I will guarantee to return at full return fare any tickets procured by persons attending our meeting, that may be found in the hands of scalpers after adjournment. It is, therefore, necessary that the tickets issued on the certificates should be used only by our members attending the meeting and not sold to scalpers. Yours respectfully,

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
Com. Transportation, L. A. W.

Highway Improvement.

To the President and Members of the League:

Gentlemen—Your committee on "Improvement of Highways" announce the publication of a book containing a series of article on "Making and Mending" good roads; also the "Nature and Use of Asphalt" for paving.

These articles, with the exception of the prize treatise by Clemens Herschel, were prepared especially for this work, and by men well qualified to write upon the subjects given them.

This work is intended as a sort of text-book upon road construction, and is designed more especially for distribution among Legislators, Town, County and City officials.

It is a book 3 by 5 1-2 inches, substantially bound, and contains some 80 pages—a convenient size for mailing in a No. 6 envelope.

An edition of 15,000 copies has been printed, and electrotyped plates preserved for future editions, should they be desired.

In entering upon the task of improving the public highways of our country, your committee was deeply impressed with the importance of the work, and with the desirability of interesting, as far as possible, bicycle manufacturers and dealers, roads construction companies, pavement companies, and steam roller and road home manufacturers in what we are doing.

It was felt that if they could be made to see the importance of the work, and that direct financial benefits would accrue to them from the construction of good roads that they would be willing to assist in bearing the expense.

With this end in view, correspondence was begun with the "Barber Asphalt Paving Co." of New York, with an immediate reply from the President, expressing very great interest in our work and a desire to contribute towards the expense. A like prompt and encouraging reply was received from the "International Pavement Co." of Baltimore, Md.

A letter was also sent Gormully and Jeffery of Chicago, telling of what we were doing, its value to bicycle manufacturers and dealers and of the heavy expense the League was under in carrying forward the work. In reply, they not only declined to give any assistance to the work, but we were informed that the "East must take care of its own territory," thus failing utterly to appreciate the work of the League in endeavoring to bring about an improved condition of the Public Highways of our country.

Though greatly discouraged by this lack of appreciation of our efforts, on the part of these western dealers, the Committee decided to push ahead, believing that there were manufacturers and dealers in bicycles who would see the value of the work and appreciate what was being done.

On the 5th of June last the Chairman of the Committee made a personal visit to Col. A. A. Pope of the Pope Mfg. Co.; laid before him the plans and purposes of the Committee and the probable expense of publishing the material already gathered, for the purpose of educating the people up to a desire for good roads.

"Go ahead with the work and we will pay the whole or any part of the expense you desire," was his prompt and emphatic reply—a generousness, though not unexpected, very greatly appreciated by the Committee.

We beg to acknowledge, therefore, the receipt of the following contributions to this work. "The Wheelman's friend:" The Pope Mfg. Co., $450; The Barber Asphalt Co., $100; The International Pavement Co., $50.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES S. BUTLER,
WILLIAM W. SHARE,
JUNIUS E. BEAL,
Committee.

Buffalo, Aug. 10, 1889.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

PERHAPS YOU KNOW THAT

FROM OUR STANDPOINT

OUR GREAT-GRANDFATHERS labored under many disadvantages. They built their houses with distinct reference to the points of compass, so that, by comparison of shadow with notches cut in the window-sill, they could calculate the time of day.

While at work in the fields the time of dinner hour was approximated by holding the hoe or other implement perpendicularly and observing the shadow cast.

They—our G. G.'s—rode in dead X wagons. Our fathers experienced the somewhat doubtful enjoyment afforded by the Bone Shaker.

In this, the summer of '89, you cannot calculate time like your G. G.'s, because the sun doesn't emerge from the clouds long enough to cast a shadow, but you can ride a wheel with all of the modern improvements, and, by the way, why don't you send your order for a wheel that is a wheel?

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

Send for Catalogue and see how they are built.

THE NEW RAPID LADIES' SAFETY,

"CYCLISTS WHOSE WHEELS SUDDENLY BREAK in a vital spot, should learn that no matter what precautions may be taken, and no matter how costly the material, it is impossible to secure absolutely flawless metal."

The above clipped from a cycle paper has our approval, as it says metal and not hickory. We use some metal, just as a plasterer mixes hair with his mortar, to hold the more important material together, but we would no more build a cycle entirely of metal than we would plaster a house with clear hair. The latter, however, would possess the single merit of novelty.

We are asked why we use on our safety a smaller front wheel than is found on other machines "of this class." There are no other machines of this class.

The Hickory Bicycle differs in every in every essential particular from others, and we have a reason for every part of it.

A man with artificial teeth can ride this machine without having them jarred down his throat.

TESTIMONIAL.

STAFFORD, Kan., May 8, 1889.

ERIE KNITTING MILL, Erie, Pa.:

Gentlemen—I have given the tights and shirts you made for me a thorough test, and I pronounce them the strongest and most durable knit goods I have ever worn. They make the best sweaters that I know of in use, and at the same time comfortable. Several members of our club have expressed themselves about the goods in a very complimentary manner. Yours truly,

ONE OUT OF MANY GOOD POINTS.

Of the many good points in the Columbia Light Roadster Safety there is none receiving more recognition than the SPRING FORK, which contains just enough spring, and not too much, to make it in every respect fill the purpose it was intended for.

The Spring Fork is the only spring fork that can be ridden satisfactorily on rough roads; a strong statement to make, but a true one.

As a result, the Columbia Light Roadster Safety is the best machine for long distance touring, as proven by the many tourists who are using it in this and other countries.

The Spring Fork can be used as a continuous fork, if desired.

The steering is perfectly rigid.

The machine can be ridden without hands. It was ridden by Mr. William Van Wagoner, of Newport, at Providence, on July 16th, Mr. Van Wagoner having his hands tied behind him, and making the full mile in 2.48.

A better coaster has never been put upon the market.

The action of the springs does not change the wheel base nor does it affect the true steering, a point which adds 25 per cent. to the value and life of the machine.

The World is wide, and Rome was not built in 15 minutes. Neither was the reputation of the Victor Bicycle. Both were the outcome of lots of hard, patient work, and in both cases the results justified the expenditure.

Is it absurd to compare a modern bicycle to Imperial Rome in all her splendor? Well, it was simply because Imperial Rome was at the head of her class in her day and the Victor Bicycle occupies the same position in ITS class TO-DAY. Then, Imperial Rome is dead and gone now, anyway, so SHE don't care.

That's one point of difference between the said Imperial Rome and the aforementioned Victor Bicycle. I. R. is dead and gone, but the V. B. is very much alive.

You can easily procure descriptive pamphlet (not of Rome but of the V. B.) if you will address the manufacturers,

Something Every Safety Rider will buy! Something Every Safety Rider can buy, because it costs little and is Simple and Practical! Just exactly what is wanted! Fits any make Safety! Especially for New Riders it is a Great Assistance for Steady Steering, and a Great Relief to the Arms.

SANBORN'S PATENT SAFETY BICYCLE BRIDLE.

CAN BE EASILY ATTACHED OR DETACHED.

TRULY A BIG THING!!

From the noted long-distance rider, Albert Beers, who has ridden already 4000 miles on a New Mail Safety:

EVERETT, Aug. 14th.

Dear Sir—I have used your Bicycle Bridle on my New Mail Safety and am more than pleased with it. My friends have pronounced it of great assistance in riding "hands off." If this is of any use to you, you are at liberty to use it.

Yours truly, ALBERT BEERS.

For Use on the Safety Bicycle.

This improvement obviates the only fault ever found with the Safety machine, namely; its sensitiveness in steering. By attaching this bridle, the machine is made to steer as easily as an ordinary, and, with five minutes' practice, can be ridden as readily with "hands off." It is a great comfort to the rider, especially on a long run, to have the free use and liberty of his hands. The machine will also lean against anything without the wheel turning, thus keeping right side up all the time, which is a great saving on the wear and tear of it.

Yet another advantage all wheelmen will appreciate, is in walking along by simply keeping one hand on the saddle, the forward wheel being central all the time, and enabling the machine to be propelled with perfect ease.

The attachment is so simple that any child can readily apply it. Full directions for applying sent with Bridle.

COSTS BUT LITTLE!

Mailed to any address on receipt of $1.50.

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 23 AUGUST, 1889.

THE report of the Hagerstown meet, published in the columns of this paper of the 12th of July, was at the time of the issue of said report believed by the editor of this paper to be a strictly true and accurate account of the proceedings.

The account was supported by such information as could be obtained here and from what we considered reliable sources. The League official supervising such publications, and who unfortunately was not present at the meet, approved the article on the same support as to its accuracy as furnished us, without further inquiry, and it was then printed in good faith and full belief that the report was correct.

Our attention has been lately called to expressions in that account which those who were present claim convey an entirely unjust impression of the actual state of affairs in Maryland's hospitable city.

Noise, great exuberance of spirit and considerable hilarity, there undoubtedly was, but many reliable gentlemen, who feel that they are responsible for the good name of the League at that time, assure us that there was absolutely nothing at the meet which could be characterized as a "Bacchanalian orgy," or reflected the least discredit on the wheelmen present.

Mr. Bruce, the correspondent who wrote the report is with us no longer, and so we desire to place the matter in its true light before our readers.

That a large number of men restrained and kept in-doors much of the time by reason of rainy weather, should allow a little display of animal spirits to break out occasionally, does not indicate depravity.

The ladies present write us saying that with all the jollity and un the wheelmen never forgot that they were gentlemen. There were no more objectionable features at the Hagerstown meet than at any of its predecessors.

The fact that the place of meeting was a small town, and that the crowd was all together, made the noise seem greater, taken in connection with the customary 4th of July fire-crackers, and above all the free and generous hospitality of the Maryland boys, induced a spontaneous good humor, while the cordial welcome of the city authorities and their tender to the wheelmen of the freedom of the city, were calculated to remove restraint and encourage the liberty from straight-laced dignity which the bicycle costume always brings.

Notions of what is decorous naturally differ, while some are annoyed at the exuberance and hilarity of youth on a holiday jaunt, and find exploding cannon crackers unwelcome accompaniments, others but see innocent merry-making.

In view of the facts lately to hand, we think that the critics who look with harshness upon the noise and so called hoodlumism at Hagerstown, have misconstrued and misunderstood this situation and the intent, and have, perhaps, unwittingly suffered an impression to go abroad, unfair to the hospitable entertainers and unjust to the members of the League present at the meet.

When such men as President Luscomb, Chief Consul Mott and Mr. Norris, President of the Maryland Club, backed by letters from all ladies present at the meet, and from Hagerstown's most reputable citizens, assure us that our report was wrong, we hasten to present the facts as they are, regretting that our earlier advices led us to give our readers an erroneous impression.

THE London Wheeling scores our Elwell tourist's correspondent for making a misstatement as to the name of the club which acted the host on the occasion of the run to Ripley. We receive by this last mail the following, signed "Pedals:"

"In my London letter inadvertently the Stanley Club was mentioned as having given us the run to Ripley. It should have been written Ripley Road Club, and for the misstatement I bear the blame."

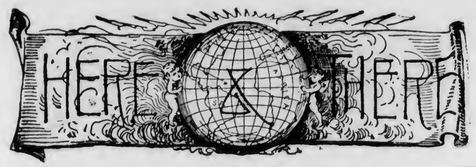
We are sorry that our correspondent made the mistake, but the fury shown by our c. c. is rather out of proportion to the error made. Some how or other the mention of the Elwell tourists or anything connected with them seems to throw our good friend Wheeling into a condition of spasms.

DEGRAAF'S TIME NOT RECORD.

Editor Bicycling World: I read in the WORLD that Mr. DeGraaf's time from Tarrytown to Yonkers was record. I beg to differ, as Mr. D. G. Holbrook, a former member of the Yonkers Bicycling club, has made it in 46 minutes; and I once heard Mr. Halstead, formerly of the Harlem Wheelman, say he made it in 41 minutes. Therefore, I don't see know Mr. DeGraaf can claim the record.

Yours,

C. B. LOCKWOOD,
Capt. Yonkers Bicycling Club.



August 18th.

MR. PRIAL TO MR. SHRIVER.

Editor Bicycling World: Will you kindly ask your readers to note that Mr. Shriver first "lugged" the affairs of the New York Club into print. That the majority of the nominating committee did favor my selection. That Mr. Shriver's statement, that I had declined to publish any statement of the case for him in the Wheel, on the ground that the discussion of my "trade" relations might injure my candidacy, is a deliberate misrepresentation. I say "deliberate," because Mr. Shriver has the letter in which I decline his proposition to exploit himself in the Wheel and in which I stated that it was not a question for discussion in a newspaper. Will you kindly state, finally, that I defy Mr. Shriver to substantiate the absurd position he has taken. I am proud of what he calls my "trade" relations, though I had been taught the newspaperism was a "profession."

Very truly yours, F. P. PRIAL.

[As each gentlemen has had two shots we must now close this discussion. Mr. Prial is not quite correct when he states that Mr. Shriver was the first to lug the affairs of the N. Y. Club into print. Our correspondent Hawkshaw was the first one and Mr. Shriver replied to same.—ED.]

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

Abram S. Hewitt, ex-Mayor, ex-Congressman and head of the firm of Cooper, Hewitt & Co., the largest manufacturers of iron and steel in this country, except Andrew Carnegie of Pittsburg, has just returned home from a year's sojourn abroad, and has been interviewed by the new-papers upon the results of his foreign observations. His well-known prominence in political and industrial circles makes his utterances of some weight, and as such I desire to quote one relative to aluminium, which is in direct opposition to your note on this metal's cost in your last issue. You claim that for the metal alone necessary to construct a bicycle of aluminium it would cost $100. Now granting, for the sake of argument, that the weight of aluminium as compared to steel is as one to two, or one half, and I think it is nearer one to three than one to two, it would take about ten pounds of aluminium to construct a light racing wheel of the twenty-pound steel variety, which would on your figures make the cost of aluminium about $10 per pound. Mr. Hewitt is quoted as saying, that "the process of producing aluminium has reached a point where the metal costs only a dollar a pound. Should it reach the cost of steel, of which there is now a possibility, it will create a revolution in the arts." Now if the gentleman were correctly quoted, and I see no reason to doubt that he was, the cost of aluminium sufficient to construct a light wheel would be nearer $10 than $100, as you have stated. I don't know which of you is the nearest to being right on the figures quoted, but certainly there is a considerable variance between the two sets.

Cycling is the anarchist of athletics. It is based upon revolutions.

I should judge from what I hear here, that there is going to be a little show here during 1892, which is already billed as the International Exposition. I am thoroughly convinced that the affair will be located in this obscure village, notwithstanding the fact that the cities of St. Louis and Chicago both claim that it will take place in their extended domains. The matter of location, however, is an immaterial one to me, and to most others who are not financially interested, I think, but to every wheelman however in connection with this affair, there is a question in which he and the sport are vitally interested, and that is the proper recognition of cycling and cycles. For the sake then of properly getting the affair before them, let us assume that the exposition will take place here in New York, and in consequence any representative that wheeling may expect must be chosen from this city. The man to fill such a position must be one who carries the confidence of the entire trade, without being himself a manufacturer. He must be technically an expert in everything relating to the wheel and the sport it produces, while at the same time he must be a throrough representative of the wheelmen. Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons, of Boston, and Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery, of Chicago, have in the daily papers here, placed in nomination for this position the name of George R. Bidwell, as in their opinion being the gentleman most competent to fill the position, and I most heartily second the nomination. Possessed of undeniable executive ability, a pioneer in the sport and trade, George R. Bidwell, stands in the front rank of American wheelmen, a position he has earned by his devotion to the best interests of him as the representative to the manufacturer and the sport, is one that cannot but meet with the hearty approval of every one. Mayor Grant, of this city, is appointing an Exposition Committee, upon which is placed a representative of each line of trade, manufacture and art, and it is upon this committee that Mr. Bidwell should be placed as the representative of the wheel. No time must be lost in taking some concerted action on the part of the trade and sport to accomplish this end, and I sincerely hope that my penning this, may be the cause of calling attention to the need of such, and that the consequence may be the appointment of George R. Bidwell, by Mayor Grant, to look after and represent American wheeling in the forthcoming exposition.

What very pleasant reading it must be for those individuals in bicycling who constantly use the "trade" as a bugaboo to frighten cycling infants into hysterics when they read the report of the L. A. W. Highway Improvement Committee in your last issue. This committee wanted to spread the gospel of good roads, and they wanted to do so practically, not theoretically, so they chose as a medium the issuing of 15,000 pamphlets of 80 pages each containing data regarding the construction, maintainance and advantages of improved roadways. To do this required considerable money, and where do you think they went to for it, my back numbered friends? Why, to the "trade!" Just think of it and groan: they actually went to the trade and asked for help. Did they get assistance? Why, of course they did! Have they ever failed to whenever they presented anything to the trade that promised to advance the cause of wheeling! I should say not. What did Col. Pope of the "trade" say to the committee? Why, he just told them to "go ahead with the work and I will pay the whole or any part of the expense made necessary." Cut this out, benighted brethren from way back and put it in your hat, and when next you are tempted to lift your spotless hands against the iniquity of "trade," just take off your hat and fasten your eyes upon that reply and see if after that your mind is still insane enough to allow of your looking upon the "trade" or a connection therewith, as a blot upon a cycler.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

E. W. Eck, the editor of the St. Louis County Watchman, is nothing if not original. Recently his paper published a terrific tirade against cycling, on account of the accident to the Ballwin stage, calling the machines nuisances and asking the County Court to restrain cyclists from riding on the roads of that county. S. G. Wolzendorf took the matter up with the editor, and after proving to him that a cycle was a vehicle and therefore entitled to the same rights as other vehicles, he made the foolish reply that "if" such was the case it would not be a bad idea for some one to secure a pair of tamed crocodiles to draw vehicles over the roads, for the purpose of scaring cyclists off as they do horses."

Thirty members of the disbanded Cycle Club held a meeting August 1 and immediately formed the new Cycling Club, with W. M. Rasborough as President, W. S. Snyder Secretary-Treasurer, E. N. Sanders Captain. They will establish headquarters as soon as suitable suite of rooms can be engaged.

At the last meeting of the Missouris the proposition to give associate members the right to vote was overwhelmingly defeated, and the leaders of the movement received a rebuke that they will not soon forget. Stirring speeches by Mr. A. C. Stewart and others were made against it, and the club therefore remains what its founders intended it to be, a bicycle club. With our large army of riders I am surprised that the active list is not always full to overflowing. But such is not the case for some reason or other, and more attention should necessarily be paid to recruiting.

The bicycle thief has been having a gay time of it here lately, and I know of no less than three machines stolen within the last month, which were carelessly left unlocked in front of stores and offices. Only one offender has been captured to date by name of Robt. Graham, who stole a cycle from W. P. Laing. If prosecuted for grand larceny it will go hard with him. The wheel was recovered.

J. Harold Child is my authority for the statement that a member of our City Council and a high official of the Legion of Honor, recently, while in a drunken condition drove over and completely wrecked a bicycle belonging to his firm, while being ridden by Guy Gardener on Lindell avenue. Upon his applying for a warrant for the arrest of this individual he was told it could not be issued because the man was not arrested and could not be criminally punished. Here's a state of things which will bear investigation.

As is well known the Fair Ground embargo against wheelmen has been standing for four years, and recently when some half a dozen cyclers joined the Pastime Athletic Club they congratulated themselves in having secured admission to the grounds at all times to use the board track for training purposes. All went well until last Wednesday night, when on account of the shouting, ungentlemanly conduct and raising sheol generally of one or two cyclers the whole party was bodily ordered out of the grounds. It is to be regretted that the action of one or two caused all of them to suffer, but this is is in accord with former decisions of Chas. Green, the President of the grounds. As I stated long ago, wheelmen should give the Fair Grounds the go-by for all time, and I hope this action will cause them to drop the Pastime membership as a useless expense.

The $250,000 structure known as the Grand Ave. bridge, which spans the railroad tracks in the Mill neck valley will be opened up for traffic to-morrow and will prove to be a Godsend for cyclists residing on the south side. The bridge is lit up with electric lights at night and will thus form the ideal crossing for riding parties bound for Tower Grove Park after dark. The agitation for full improvement of Grand Ave. is assuming huge proportions and it will no doubt soon have the attention of the Street Commissioner.

Since the Park Commissioner made his big kick about cyclists riding on the foot paths of Forest Park, the police have received instructions to arrest all cyclers found riding on the Lindell Ave. sidewalk. The first victim was a well known young Clergyman who would not heed the warning of another wheelman. He was let off with a light fine and a big scare.

The tournament in all its bearing is the talk of the town. An effort is being made to raise money to build a grand stand in time for the tournament. They are several wall tents on the grounds used for dressing rooms by the fellows who are training. If the meet is a success every way, look out for a big one next season.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

A meeting of gentlemen who are interested in improving Pimlico Road held a meeting Wednesday evening, Aug. 14 at the Maryland Club house. There was a small attendance present, but those that were present were very enthusiastic on the subject. It will cost $2,000 to fix the road, though it requires something more than that to put it in good order, as it is proposed to macadamize it and make it a grand boulevard. Mr. Samuel T. Clark occupied the chair at the meeting, and Mr. Walter E. Guy was secretary. It was announced that Mr. A. S. Frank had collected over $1,000 through subscriptions. The following committees were appointed. Another meeting will be held in the near future. The committee from Maryland Agriculture Association was Frank Brown, Chas. Cockey, Delano S. Fitzgerald, R. F. Maynard and John E. Philips. Committee Cyclists—H. E. Brown, A. S. Frank, Charles R. Eisenbrandt, C. F. Abbott and John Coleman. Committee of property owners, Robert Magruder, John W. Numsen, James E. Ingram and H. C. Shirly. Committee of gentlemen drivers—Seymour Mandlebaum, W. F. Dutton, Wm. H. Evans, H. B. Holton and Louis Becker. Mr. Samuel T. Clark was elected chairman.

Messrs. S. T. Clark, J. C. Stansbury and J. B. Reed, the committee appointed to count the notes cast for officers of the Maryland Division L. A. W. report the election of the following gentlemen, without opposition. Albert Mott, of Baltimore, Chief Consul: Geo. Updegraff, of Hagerstown, Vice-Consul; G. W. H. Carr, of Baltimore, Secretary and Treasurer, and J. Harry Covington, of Easton; C. E. Fink, of Westminster, and A. L. Mitchell and E. P. Hayden, of Baltimore representatives.

A few notes: My contemporary "Bay Ridge" of the Wheel has resigned. The annual race for the Citizens Cup will take place about October 10th. William Ostendorf and Charles Adams were the winners at the Crescent Club prize race around Druid Lake Tuesday the 13. The wheelmen and horseman have joined hands and are working earnestly for the improvement of Pimlico Road. The Maryland Club has secured steamer Theo. Weems for their members and friends to witness the bombardment of fort McHenry.

The News of the 18th states that: "Phil" Brown, the Washington flyer, who contested against Emerson in the tricycle race at the Hagerstown meet in July, has written to a friend in this city, that he intends to challenge Emerson for another race on any machine the latter chooses to select, Emerson also to choose the time and place, but must do so within a month and on a date that will not conflict with the Hartford and New York races. Another stipulation is that the contest must take place on a track and not be a road race. The prize to be a $50 gold medal. Brown says he will pay Emerson's expenses to Washington or will accept the same courtesy at the latter's hands to come to Baltimore.

HARTFORD NOTES.

"C. S. C."

The Charter Oak Park one-mile track at Hartford is without doubt the fastest cycling track in the world. The mile made by Fred Wood on this track in 1886 in 2.33, was the fastest mile ever made in an actual race. [F. Wood, at Springfield three days after, in a race made the mile in 2.32 2-5.--Ed.] Last year Rowe, on the same track, sprinted the last quarter of the first mile in the lap race in 30 seconds, undoubtedly the fastest quarter ever made on the cycle.

The parade of the Connecticut Division of the L. A. W. at Hartford, September 2d, will be a competition of the various State clubs for valuable prizes offered by the division for numbers, appearance, drill, etc.

The Berkeley Athletic Club team will have an opportunity to meet the fastest amateurs in the country at the Hartford meet. The Berkeleys propose to dispute the statement that F. F. Ives, the Meriden flyer, made at Bridgeport, to the effect that the New York boys were due to get badly left at the fall tournament.

Two editions of the Connecticut Road Book, by C. G. Huntington, have been issued and sold by the Connecticut Division of the L. A. W. The demand for the edition was unexpectedly large and the work will be out of print until next spring, when a new and revised edition will be issued.

The Bailey Bros., of Boston, are anxious to meet the Banker Bros., of Pittsburg, at Hartford in a race for the amateur tandem championship.

The Hartford Wheel Club men entered for the Hartford races are Forster, the State champion, Cornell, Reid, Dresser and Harding.

The prizes for the one-mile open handicap race at Hartford aggregate $300 in value.

The Hartford tournament this year will be a strictly amateur affair: "no professionals need apply."

Every amateur flyer of note will compete at Hartford September 2d and 3d.

Entries for the Hartford races close August 26th, with W. M. Francis, Box 7-45.

Large parties are being organized in New York, Boston and Providence to attend the Hartford tournament.

D. J. Canary, the world-renowned fancy rider, will make his first appearance in this country for four years at Hartford, September 2d and 3d.

MACON, GA.

THE "RAMBLER."

And "Jack" is dead. On earth we shall see him nevermore, but the remembrances of his bright spirit will ever exist among us. Never again will we read his "jottings," of the days he had spent on the Ripley Road; his quaint tales and sketches; all from his pen. In this little cycling world of ours folks seem drawn nearer together than otherwise. It is not always necessary to become personally acquainted to know each other, and so it was between "Jack" and myself. We were, after a fashion, both cycling scribes; possibly both aspiring for higher honors in this line, and this also might have been used as a link to bring us closer together. So one day I sat down and wrote "Jack" a letter. His reply was just what might be expected from the whole-souled fellow that he was. It began "Dear old boy," and after reading it one felt as if he had been acquainted with "Jack" all his life. But the spirit has flown; let us hope to a land better than this, where we shall be together again, never to be rudely parted by the hand of death.

Both scientifically and practically Capt. Francis V. Greene treats the subject of "Roads and Road-making," in Harper's Weekly of August 10th. It conveys, no doubt, quite an amount of satisfaction to the wheelman to note his favor of asphalt pavements in the cities. This, and a thousand other points, go to show which way the tide ebbs, and before long the favor for the asphalt will be universal. God speed the time.

The papers have been continually hammering away at the road question, and as a result the great work is getting under way. Macon now has a bill before the Legislature requesting permission to issue $200,000 worth of bonds, that amount to be expended on paving the streets.

Roadhogism and cycle stealing are two evils of which the Georgia wheelmen do not have to contend. Everywhere that I have ever ridden people are perfectly willing to give you your share of the road. Once only has it ever been otherwise. It was the day after Harrison's election and I was leading the club down Vineville Hill. An old negro man in an ox cart held the road, and we were compelled to turn out. Upon demanding an explanation, he said: "Look heah, white man, dis heah is Harrison's road, dis is, an' I don't turn out fer no body, I don't." The quickness with which he found his team in the ditch across the road no doubt made him think again as to the road's ownership.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

On the evening of Saturday, August 10, the C. B. C. took what proved to be the event of the season—a moonlight run to Miamitown. The start from the club house was made at 5.30 P. M., and a stop was made near the first toll-gate to wait for the tardy ones. The rain of the previous night had left the roads in excellent condition, the air was cool and bracing and, in fact, the conditions could not have been better had they been especially ordered. After passsng Cheviot we stopped to light our lanterns and a string of mastodonic fire-flies were soon flitting, along the highways to the no small surprise of belated pedestrians. On reaching our destination, at 9 P. M., we rode through the principal street of the village to the music of a new tune, and on dismountlng there was a universal feeling of surprise at the entire absence of fatigue The dinner that was waiting was despatched in due season, and at its conclusion we gathered on the veranda to enjoy the beauties of the evening. To those of us who are compelled to toil in the smoke-laden atmosphere of the noisy city, the stillness broken only by the murmur of the water as it poured over the dam, the cloudless sky, and the soft mellow light were a revelation, and, as if by one impulse, we started down the road, arm in arm, singing as we went. It is only on such occasions that male choruses are heard to the greatest advantage, and as we paused now under one window and now under another, all we needed were a few mandolins to imagine that we were a band of Spanish Cavaliers. It was past one o'clock when we went to bed, but owing to the frequent inquiries of the 2d Lieutenant as to how we were sleeping, and the ineffectual attempts of Keck to suppress that laugh of his, we did not get to sleep till 3 A. M. After breakfast, as the river had risen several feet in a few hours, we took a run about two miles up stream and watched the driftwood shoot the rapids. Afterwards we went about 200 yards farther up to a bend where there is a well-defined echo. On our return to the city it was the unanimous opinion of the paricipants that on no previous run had they had as much real enjoyment.

On Sunday, August 11th, the Athletic Cycling Club ran their second race. The distance was one mile and W. Wise came in first in 3.42. Owing to a foul and a fall the rest did not finish.

That "music hath charms to soothe a savage" is evidenced by the result of the election in the Ohio Division of the L. A. W. this week. It was as follows: "Toot" High, Chief Consul; Harry C. Buckles (with his ocarina) Representative; Dr. Wm. D. Kempton (with his lyre) Secretary-Treasurer. All three are members of the C. B. C.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

To say the death of "Jack" caused comment in the Syracuse Cycling Club would hardly be doing the sentiment and sympathy expressed, justice. Though odd and decidedly novel, "Jack's" contributions to the World had grown to be a fixture, and no reader even read any of his articles without pleasure. This popular correspondent's death is a sad blow to our League, and the cycling word in general loses one of its most ardent devotees.

Last Monday week twenty-four men of the S. C. C. wheeled to Pleasant Beach, where the "first annual clam-bake" was held. Clams and other palatables were the menu and were put away with astonishing rapidity. "Salina" was unavoidably absent, but enjoyed a vivid description at the hands of President Wilson. Though customary, we refrain from giving the name of the bigest clam.

While the Syracuse Club was "gambling on the clams," several local riders met in a real-estate office in the city and formed an organization hereafter known as the "Knickerbocker Cyclers." Officers were elected as follows: Wm. Gleason, President; J. P. Becker, Vice President; F. W. Sager, Secretary; Robert Reddy, Treasurer, and E. L. Lancaster, Captain. The new club has for its colors gold, white and the League purple, and will wear a dark navy uniform. "Salina" offers congratulations, and wishes the "Knickerbocker" men any amount of success.

Street improvement is really getting popular here. The efforts of many far-seeing citizens, combined with those of the press and Syracuse Cycling Club, have been rewarded in part by the laying of asphalt in West Onondaga and James streets and Bank Alley. Other thoroughfares will be similarly dosed later on.

Capt. Chapin will act as coacher and trainer for Fuller, Rome's flyer, at the Hartford events.

McDougal and Yale will attend the state meet in September.

A papyrus roll fonnd under a ruin in this city, bearing the date of 1743, prophesies as follows: "Now in those days the joy of the land thereabouts shall be the first cycling club in that city, and the people shall lay many roads for them and shall call them 'wonderful' and 'everlasting.' Following this, shall three men, wise in their own judgement, leave the club of their fathers and make unto themselves a new band. A long and far-spreading search shall be of no avail, but shall yield them hardly half a score of riders of the bicycle. The first club shall call the blessing of the Gods on the new band, as will be the manner in that time. The fates, even of the first club shsll decree that no man leaving his first love shall ever ——" (Here the roll of papyrus ends abruptly, and a most diligent search did not reveal the remainder. A foot note explains the word "love," as used above, as "band" or "society."—"Salina.") We are in possession of this bit of parchment, and will retain it to note whether the prophesy be true or no.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

The Pasadina Cycling Club will have a tour to San Diego, during the coming September. Preparations are now being made, and it promises to be a success in every particular. A. L. Atkins, who is well known in and around Boston, has charge of the tour, and with him as manager of the itinerary nothing further in commendation of the outing need be said by your correspondent. The tour will probably consume one week's time, and the route, from a scenic point of view, could not be excelled.

Invitations have been sent every wheelmen in Southern California to participate in the tour, and the indications are that a large number will join in the trip. The touring party will be divided into divisions. James W. Lancaster will have charge of the Pasadena contingent. It is confidently expected that Los Angeles will be well represented. That a grand, enjoyable time will be had is not gainsayed by the most pessimistic croaker.

E. P. Chalpart, popularly known here as "Ned," was married on July 11th, to Miss Dora Dunwody, at Atlanta, Ga. The happy couple are now "at home." Ned has the best wishes for a happy wedded life from his host of friends here.

During the warm months, bicycling in this portion of the country is not very active. The Cycler dealers are complaining of dullness in their business. Things will be lively again in the fall.

Sherman Pease, N. R. Bradley and Johnnie Tufts are driving dull care away at that delightful resort, Santa Catalina Island. Bert Crank is in Alaska.

Fred Corey, of the Walls-Fargo Express Company, has been transferred to Stockton. Mr. Corey is an expert wheelman, an excellent musician, and a clever gentleman, and he will be sadly missed by his club-mates.

There is a strong probability that the Los Angeles Wheelmen will disband and a new club formed. There is at present an undesirable element in the club, those who fail to pay their dues and take little interest in club matters, and for this reason a new club will be organized. It is needless to say that the club will be a strong and progressive one. There is a splendid opportunity to organize a large club in this city, and it will be done.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

The New York Sun credits New York State with having a League membership of 6000. While this is not strictly true as present, yet the Sun paragrapher evidently has a due appreciation of what Chief Consul Bull can do if he "starts out for gore" and members.

"Toney," our Boston correspondent, was tardy this week. His notes did not reach us until after our forms closed.

The Nashua, N. H., boys have been here to tackle Corey Hill. Quite a party rode down last week, the distance being 42 miles. A. McMasters was the only one of the party who succeeded in getting to the top. This he did twice in succession, thus beating the New Hampshire record for that hill.

After citing several cases of injury caused pedestrians by sidewalk fiends, the Amesbury (Mass.) Daily says: "Now it is time for the bicycle riders to get out and off the sidewalks, and the quicker the courts, high or low, decide the question the better for the interests of pedestrians for whom the walks were made."

The postponed run of the Springfield (Mass.) Club to Holyoke was taken last week. Fully 150 men went up to Holyoke and were the guests of the Y. M. C. A., who did the "hospitable act" in royal style.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the proof of our claims for the Eagle is in the practical experience on the road of riders of our wheel.

We claim the Eagle to be the best all-round machine in the market.

The lightest running, and the fastest and safest coasting.

A machine that can be ridden over every kind of road, good, bad, and indifferent, through sand, and up and down hills, with the minimum amount of fatigue and the greatest comfort to the rider.

The following letter from one of the best known wheelmen of the country is a sample of our testimonials:

Newport, R. I., July 7th, 1889.

Eagle Bicycle Mfg. Co., Stamford, Conn.:

Dear Sirs:—I rode my Eagle on Sunday, July 7th, to Fall River, then to New Bedford and returned the same way. On the way back I rode from Fall River to Newport, 18 miles, by moonlight, in 1 hr. and 45 minutes. I only made one dismount in the 18 miles and any one that has ridden over the road by daylight will know that the road is not one of the best.

As it was a cloudy night, the moon did not do me very much good, and I had to ride by guess. The best time I have heard of being made on this road before was 1 hr. and 52 minutes. That was made by myself last fall, in daylight, on a 39-inch ——.

The Eagle is the only machine I have succeeded in riding over that road at night, as I have walked ten out of the eighteen miles twice with other machines, and one of them is a Safety.

Yours truly. Wm. Van Wagoner, R. I. Champion.

Many riders desire a spring fork. To such we offer the Club Spring Fork, (patented).

We claim for it the following advantages:—

It is the only spring fork that can have the tension of the springs adjusted to the weight of the rider.

It has absolutely no side play.

The springs give only when going over some obstacle, and therefore do not cause unnecessary vibration.

It can be converted into a rigid fork when desired.

It has had the test of two years service, and we have never had one break.

We are able to deliver Swifts, with spring fork, on receipt of order.

The Youth's Premier Safety.

Nice looking wheel isn't it? Wait till we tell you what it IS. All steel, all adjustable, ball bearings to crank axle and driving wheel, hollow steel forks, butt-ended spokes, 26-inch wheels. A miniature adult's Safety, warranted for twelve months, and only $65. The Cheapest Boy's Machine, because it is the most durable and admits of the greatest adjustment for growth. We have sold them in large quantities all through the season and have never had a complaint. Immediate delivery.

Special, Popular, the New Catford and Tandem Premier Safeties in stock ready for delivery.

A Boston League member sends us the following terse but "meaty" item: "Was fined $5 and costs in Quincy, Mass., August 13, for riding a safety 100 rods on the sidewalk to escape a bad place in the road. Total expense of 100-rod trip, $13.67!!"

The reception of Lehr, the German rider who so gallantly won the championship over the English cracks, Synyer and Osmond, on his return to Frankfurt, was one that was royal in its proportions and euthusiasm. Mr. Stanley Waterloo, the managing editor of the Evening Capital, Washington, D. C., recently fell from his bicycle in that city, unfortunately fracturing one of his ankle bones. This accident will probably confine Mr. Waterloo to the house for several weeks.

The Washington Evening Star states that "Mr. W. Byrd Page of Philadelphia, the noted bicyclist, athlete and high jumper, recently made the trip from Altoona, Pa., to the Greenbrier White Sulphus Springs, W. Va., on his bicycle. In a letter to a friend Mr. Page writes as follows, under date of August 10: 'My trip here was carried out, although I had rain during all but one day. My effort to get to Berkeley Springs the evening I left Bedford Springs was a great test of endurance because it was necessary to cross eighteen creeks, some of which were very high, with my bicycle, and to push over eight mountains. After a hard trip through the rain I arrived at Berkeley, 58 miles, at 11 P. M., covered with mud. I spent three very pleasant days there and then began a rough trip to this place. I crossed sixty-nine creeks, eighteen mountain ridges, and swam two rivers, with my wheel, and felt, when I arrived here on the 7th, that I had come over a very beautiful and grand country. The whole distance from Altoona is 480 miles.'"

An anonymous correspondent, signing the appropriate nom de plume of "Tramp," sends us the following skit: "In your issue of August 9, 1889, you speak of a bicycle tournament in connection with the International Exhibition to be held in New York during 1892. Now what is the matter with having that exhibition right here in Chicago? You people don't want to be quite so fast to state what is not to be." "Tramp" may be correct. We have no pecuniary interest in the selection of either place, but isn't "Tramp" living in a "glass house" when he warns us not to be "too fast?"

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.
AT COTTAGE CITY.

[All communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—Ed.]

Another Cottage City meet has passed into history, and another pleasant memory is added to the boquet of happy hours that many of us are treasuring. What a change has come about in a few short months! Last year the ladies were all on tandems save two alone. This year there was only one tandem and but two tricycles taken to the island; we all rode bicycles. "Chance and change busy ever"—how will we be mounted at the close of another twelvemonth?

The first thing we did upon arriving, after giving attention to our atrophy, was to look about us and see who was there.

We found the Providence party, Mrs. Davol, Miss Webb, Miss Cook and Miss Allen, at the Naumkeag with our friends, the Greens, of Somerville. At the Pawnee were the Bassetts, the Elliotts, the McCunes and also Mrs. Kingsbury and Miss Dinnin. At Mr. Stall's cottage in County Park were the Southwells and the Hopkins. Many more were in cottages and at the smaller hotels.

We had runs in couples and runs in groups. Several parties were made up for trips to the Prospect House and to the East Chop Lighthouse. We all voted Miss Webb to be the most graceful and the most daring rider. I wished, sometimes, she had been more cautious, but I heard of no falls. She rode a fair distance with hands off, and I saw her coast a steep hill, the while one hand was adjusting a stray lock of hair. Mrs. Kingsley proved a very fast rider and I think she may claim the speed championship. Little Marion Bassett, aged eleven, rode with us and led our division in the parade. She rides very gracefully and keeps up with the best of us in our touring pace. I expected to see many ladies on tandem bicycles, but there was only one, Mrs. Stall.

On Sunday we went to Vineyard Haven. At the mouth of the harbor we stopped to see the yachts of the New York Yacht Club set their colors. This was done at a signal from the flagship. It was a beautiful sight. More than a hundred yachts were under our eyes and in a moment they were all gaily decked with bunting. The monotony of asphalt riding is broken when we go to Vineyard Haven, and it is quite delightful to come upon a patch of road so sandy that the strongest riders must get off and push their wheels.

The lantern parade was a new feature and a grand one. It should be repeated next year, and the riders should be stimulated to get up novel displays by the offer of prizes. Mr. Elliott's display was easily first, and the suggestion of a ship, which took second prize, was creditable. One man had a fish-pole with its line hung with lanterns.

I wonder if other States do as much for the ladies at the annual meet as do Massachusetts and Rhode Island? If so, who will tell us about the gatherings? It is not the intent of the editor to make his journal a local one. He wants news from all around. I write of what is done in Massachusetts, who will tell us what other States are doing? Or what State will take the hint thrown out by the old Bay State, and give the ladies a chance to participate in its meet?

I wonder why the machine renters of Cottage City do not give those who hire wheels a few hints about riding? A more awkward looking set of riders than the ladies who hire wheels I never saw, and it is simply because they are not set high enough. I took the trouble to properly adjust the saddle for no less than three ladies while I was on the island, and they rode to much better advantage afterwards.

Riding the safety wheel with hands off the bar was the popular craze at the meet. Van Wagoner gave an exhibition and showed us how easily it could be done, and the fever spread. Even the ladies were affected and some of them succeeding in riding rods in this way.

The yachts entertained us on Monday, while manœuvring before the race and at the finish. We saw them off and welcomed them back, but no one could tell who was victor.

A friend of Sir Walter Scott's once went to him with the question point blank, "are you the author of Waverley?" "No, I am not," said Sir Walter, "and if I were I should give you the same answer, for a writer has the right to protect his secret in this way, else he might as well resign all efforts in this direction." "Helen Grey" prefers to remain behind that pseudonym. If any ask of another, "are you 'Helen Gray'?" and get "yes" for an answer, it will be an untruthful reply. HELEN GREY.

THE END OF THE EUROPEAN TOUR.

THE great, tour of which we dreamed all through the dismal months of winter and spring, and on which we have spent two golden months of summer, has at this writing faded into the past and become a memory. Already some have left us, and ere to-morrow night our little band of twenty odd, who have grown to be like brothers, will be scattered to the four winds.

My last letter left us at Ruddushiem, from which place the ferry was taken to Bingen, where we dined. Bingen! dear Bingen on the Rhine! What thoughts the very name recalls to our minds! Even the prosaic fact that we were hungry and dinner an hour late, could not banish the words of that world-renowned poem which has made for the old town a warm spot in every heart. Again and again they came:

"A soldier af the Legion lay dying in Algiers,
There was lack of woman's nursing—there was dearth of BTE woman's tears."

And so on through all the pathos and sad melody of it all, until there seemed a halo of some sort cast over the place, and all by the magic of the pen of one true-hearted woman who wrote the beautiful story so many years ago.

With hearts thus tuned to a poetic pitch, nearly all of us took the afternoon boat to Coblentz. The faithful few, now dwindled down to less than ten, wheeled over a splendid road by the river side, but against a strong head wind, and one or two were even forced to quit ere long and join the boat.

That afternoon's sail down the Rhine was grand beyond description. It would simply be egotistical to attempt to describe a river whose praises the ablest and most learned men af modern times have confessed themselves unable to adequately sing.

It is enough to say, that search the library through and find the most glowing phrases, the most vivid descriptions and the most eloquent word-painting of them all and you will realize in part perhaps the Rhine, as we realize it.

The mountains, hitherto distant at Bingen, approach the shore, and the narrowed and deepened river winds and twists through a constant succession of vineyard-covered hillsides, on every crag of which stands the crumbling ruins of some castle of feudal times, built

"In days of old,
When knights were bold
And barons held their sway."

Rudeshiem, Rhinefels, Bishop Hatto's Tower, the "Cat," the "Mouse" (so-called), Schonberg, Stolzenfels and others literally by the score, and each with it wealth of legend and tale of war and rapine kept all in a state of most intense excitement and admiration and worked the Kodak and camera fiends almost to death.

Down stream past Johannesberg, St. Apollinaris, St. Goar, the Lorelli Rock, we floated until under the shadow of the mighty cliff fortress of Ehreubreitstein, the Gibraltar of the Rhine and the strongest fartified point in Europe, we cast anchor for the night at Coblentz, Hotel Bellevue.

Saturday morning (the last day of the tour) dawned wet and miserable. The usual few started per wheel to Bonn, where dinner was ordered en route for Cologne. The majority took boat and thereby avoided much mud and head wind (unwelcome elements to fight against when one needs more than the entire time to take in some small part of the scenery). All that forenoon, the rain came down in torrents. We on the boat had glimpses of the others as they dug manfully along through the rain, the road running close by the river bank. Once we passed an unfortuuate pair sheltering themselves under an old door-wing and extemporaneous greetings of multifarious kinds were exchanged at long range with them. So envious were they of our position that they even essayed to throw stones at us as we sailed by them, cheering.

On arriving at Bonn some few concluded to remain on board and get to Cologne as soon as possible. The others joined the wheeling party, had dinner, and then came on by boat in the afternoon.

That night we had a little extra dinner and a few speeches followed, from Messrs. Elwell, Higgins, Beal etc. There was singing some cheering and much laughter, but underlying all, a deep sense of sadness. No more should we wheel together, day by day, as a party. No more should we climb hills and coast mountains as in the happy weeks gone by. No more should we hustle about for an early start, no more assail the management for the daily route, no more arrive after a long eventful day's riding, to gather all together at the table and recount the adventures haps and mishaps of the day.

By the morrow night some will have departed, perhaps forever, from our midst, and thus it was that all were feeling rather blue that evening. In the two months touring all had grown so familiar; each ones little peculiarities and traits had become so much a part of our daily lives; each ones nickname, (and they all had them) had become so familiar also, that it seemed like the breaking up of a family or the parting of brothers. And brothers indeed we have grown to be, the magic power of the spirit of cycledom joining all as firmly though by ties of kinship.

The Elwell European Tour, the largest tour of it length and nature ever gotten up had at last come to an end, for as most of the boys did not care to go to Rotterdam the management decided to refund expenses there pro rata and let each one be free to go where he chose.

That evening we spent gathered closer together than usual soberly talking over our future plans, recounting the many happy hours spent together in various lands, and in getting ready each to go his several way.

Sunday our last day together, we spent in sight seeing, visiting the grand cathedral and many other churches, riding and walking about, writing home etc.

In the evening at 7.30 all repaired to the boat to see off the first few to leave us. These were Esterbrook, Wentworth, and Phillips who sail per Etruria Aug. 3 and will be the first of our party home: Roseboom, good old Rosey, who went to Rotterdam (en route to Norway later) and Rev. Mr. Fessenden.

Nussle also departed by a later boat going back up river to Mayence on a solitary tour through Switzerland, Italy and France. As the boys sailed off we gathered on the quay and gave them the good old war cry, "Aoh! Ah! Aoh! Ah! A-M-E-R-I-C-A- Am-Mer-Ri-Kay, U, S. A!" for the last time we shall give it together.

Monday morning came, and with it a general scattering. Bennett and Buttolph left for Milan; Levy for Stuttgart; Beal, Wilson, Cake, White, Brinsmade, Seavey, Palmer and Collins for Brussels: Kirk, Schneider, Breed and Cooper on their German tour; Rielly and Elwell by boat to Rotterdam.

Those of us who came to Brussels (for I can now speak for only eight) have been enjoying ourselves immensely. Wheels having been shipped direct from Cologne we are free to ramble unhampered. To-day we all made an excursion to the field of Waterloo, and had as guides two pretty Belgian girls, who talked very good English with a deuced English accent. The party who went to the graveyard of Napoleon's ambition, will not soon forget Julienne and Agusta, or the merry days rambling through Braine-L'Alleud, Hougomont, Belle-Alliance, by the lion mound, and all over the historic field.

This evening two have left us. Beal and Wilson have just gone to Rotterdam to join the others, who go to Norway. Mr. Beal has promised to write up the Norway tour for the WORLD, which account will be necessarily of great interest to our boys and to all. By to-morrow all will have left Brussels for various points.

Thus the great tour is ended, though many of the boys will spend August and part of September on the wheel in England, Scotland, Ireland and on the Continent. Much of interest remains to be told which must, however, wait another occasion.

At Cologne it was agreed that a suitable badge should be made for each member, as a souvenir. The design decided upon was that of a four-leaved clover in gold to be inscribed in enameled letters, with "European Cycle Tour, May 18th, August 1st. 1889." These will be made upon return to the United States, the matter having been put in the hands of a committee.

Mr. Phillips of Portland (at the Saturday night dinner at Cologne) was elected historian of the tour and will perform the duties of the office in the future.

NOTES.

Messrs. Kirk, Schnieder, Cooper and Breed will spend ten days wheeling in Germany, visiting Mayence, Frankfort-upon-Main, Berlin and Hanover. Kirk, Schnieder and perhaps Cooper will then join the Mecredy Irish tour in Scotland, to which all the boys have been very kindly invited.

Messrs. Esterbrook, Wentworth and Phillips make direct for Liverpool to sail at once for home.

Messrs. Elwell, Beal, Wilson, Roseboom and (perhaps) Fessenden go via Rotterdam for two weeks in Norway and Sweden. After this Beal and Wilson visit St. Petersburg, Berlin, Vienna, Venice, Paris and London. Elwell and Roseboom will later on join the Irish tour in Scotland.

Messrs. Buttolph and Bennett go to Italy, thence to Vienna, Berlin and Dresden.

Messrs. Cake and White go to Scotland direct and hope to get a few days with the Mecredy tourists.

Levy goes to Stuttgardt, then to Scotland.

Higgins goes to Berlin, Vienna, Venice, Rome, Monte Carlo, Marsielles, Paris and London.

Messrs. Palmer and Seavey through Holland and Belgium, then via London to Liverpool and home.

Nussle goes through Switzerland to Italy, thence to Paris and England.

Shannon and Brinsmade go to Brussels, Antwerp, Paris, London, to Liverpool and home.

The two Messrs. Krumm spend some days wheeling in Germany.

Messrs. Reilly and Collins go to Paris, London, Harrogate meet, then on the Mecredy tour in Scotland August 10th-24th.

The sailing dates for home as nearly as can be ascertained are as follows:

Beal, Sept. 18th, Steamship "City of Paris."
Bennett and Buttolph, Steamship "Lahn," Bremen, August 21st.
Higgins, Palmer, Seavey and Cape, Steamship "Umbria," Liverpool, August 17th.
Esterbrook, Wentworth and Phillips, Steamship "Etruria," Liverpool, August 3d.
White, Levy, Schnieder and Roseboom, Steamship "Servia," Liverpool, August 24th.
Shannon and Brinsmade, Steamship "City of Paris." Liverpool, Sept. 18th.
Reilly, undecided.
Elwell, Steamship "City of Paris," Liverpool, Sept. 18th.
Cooper, undecided.
Wilson, Steamship "City of Paris," Liverpool, Sept. 18th.
Kirk, Steamship "Umbria," Liverpool, Sept. 11th. PEDALS.

W. S. W. DOANE—VAN WAGONER.

The above gentlemen met at Cottage City during the meet of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Division and came to terms for a match race, to be ridden from Boston to Providence, a distance of about 50 miles. The exact route has not yet been decided on, but the date will probably be the 28th September. The machines ridden will be safeties, not to weigh less than 42 pounds. We will give particulars of the event later on. This race will cause no end of interest in this section as both men are known as the toughest kind of road riders.

TOURING IN IOWA.

BY "JIM."

I ARRIVED from Omaha on the Chicago Flyer Thursday morning, a few weeks ago, at 2 30, and was met by Mr. McFarland, the Captain of the Des Moines Cycling Club, at the Aborn House. After a hearty breakfast I started out on my 160-mile ride through Iowa. Mr. McFarland and his First Lieutenant accompanied me about four miles out of town and with many wishes for "success and good luck" we parted.

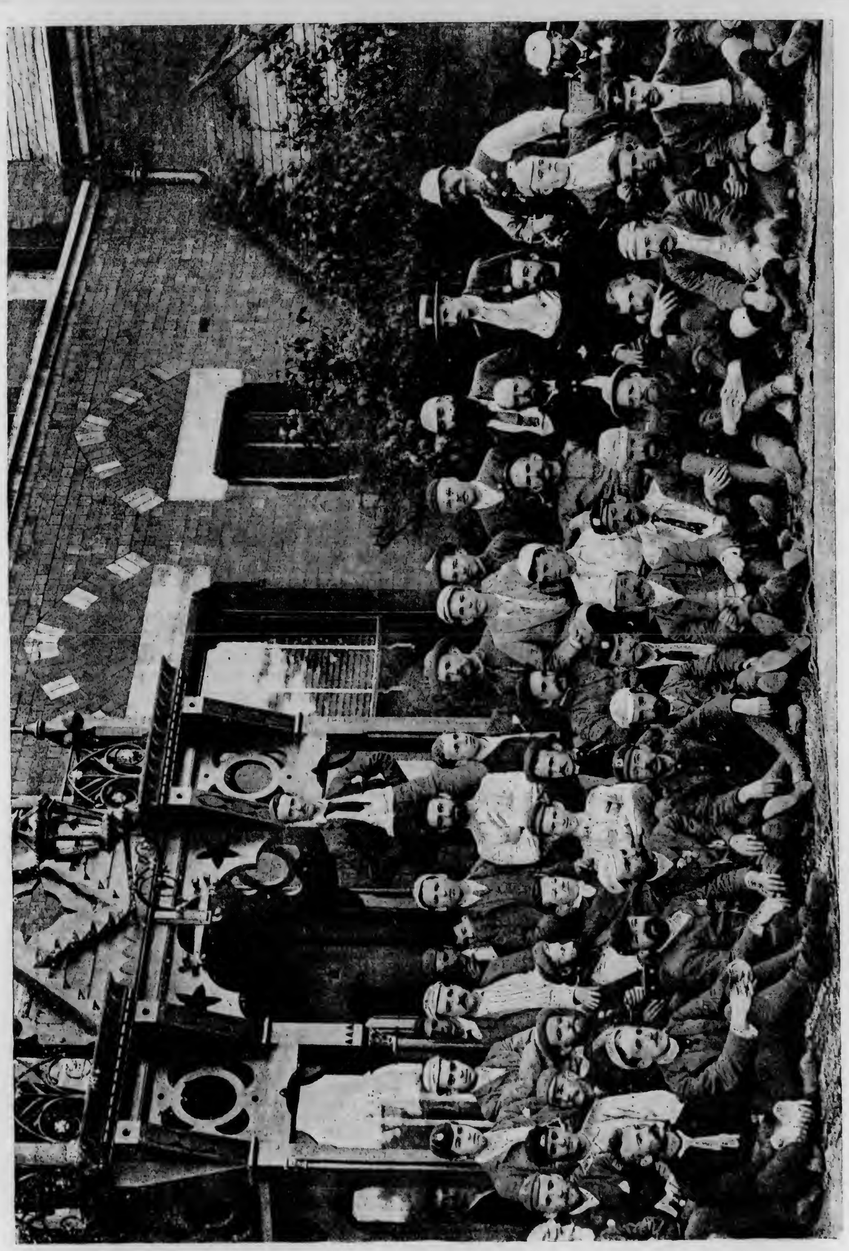
The first town I passed was Rising Sun, about eight miles from Des Moines, and here the roads commenced to look "Rocky." A three week's rain had washed out a good deal of sand, and at times walking had to be resorted to, as the only way to get ahead. After a hard trip of pretty near three hours' duration, Prairie City was reached. This is a lively little town of about 1000 inhabitants. Here the writer was met by Mr. Curley. He is doing his best to boom cycling in his vicinity, and is succeeding as only a good wheelman can succeed. Leaving this place I turned my wheel in a southwesferly direction, as I intended to make Oskaloosa that night. But Oskaloosa is fifty miles from Prairie City, and only six hours till sundown.

"Well, Jim," I thought, "let's see what you can do." I went through Fairmount at 3.15, Otley 5.20, and arrived in Pella, pretty well tired out, at 7 o'clock, just in time for supper. As it was impossible to make Oskaloosa that same night I concluded to go twelve miles further to Leighton, to stay there till the next morning. This town was reached at 10.15 P. M., and after awakening the landlord of the hotel I managed to get six hours of much-needed sleep. I woke up next morning and behold the heavens had clouded up during the night, and Jupiter Pluvius, the enemy of all wheelmen, had full sway.

Well, I thought, this is a pretty mess. If I take the train to a dryer climate my cyclometer won't run up, and I had promised the boys before leaving Omaha that I would show them a 300-mile change before returning home. But I had to get ahead, as I had an engagement to swap lies with a friend in Mt. Pleasant on Friday evening, and such an important engagement can't be broken.

I took the train to Ottumwa, where I saw a clear sky, and was met here by Mr. Jack Pallister, one of the best riders and biggest-hearted fellows in the League. He and his two brothers are the hardest riders of the Ottumwa Wheel Club.

Here, for the first time, I had the honor of meeting any really enthusiastic wheelwomen, in the persons of the Misses Pallister, who are both expert tricycle riders, and who are also loyal to the League of American Wheelmen.



Jack Pallister mounted his fifty inch light roadster and rode with me to the Agency, and from there to Batavia.

Nothing but a first-class bicycle will stand the racket on these roads after a heavy rain, and I thanked my stars when I arrived at Fairfield, about 46 miles from Ottumwa, at 2 P. M. Cycling hasn't taken a good hold in this city yet, and the only steady rider is Fred Spielman. As I wanted to make Mount Pleasant that evening I did not linger, but started out after a good dinner and arrived in Beckwith at 4.15, Glendale 5.05, Lockridge 6 o'clock, crossed the Skunk River at Rome and made the 6 miles at Skunk River to Mt. Pleasant in 40 minutes, arriving in one of the prettiest little towns, Java, at 9 P. M., in time to keep my friend from giving me up.

A word about Mount Pleasant: This is a city of about 7,000 inhabitants, has some of the finest boulevards and roads, and ought to be able to support a club of at least 50 wheelmen. The boys did everything in their power to make my stay in Mount Pleasant a happy one, and you may be sure they succeeded. Sunday morning a trip to New London was taken and, as much as I have ridden over our Nebraska roads, I have yet to find anything that can compare with the 18 miles we covered that morning. Mount Pleasant is celebrated for its pretty girls. They are of a rare beauty, and it is safe to bet that that there are more handsome feminine faces in that place than in any city three times its size. From Mount Pleasant to Burlington is merely a jaunt—a 3 hours' ride on a perfectly smooth road.

Nature has made Burlington more for tobogganing than for wheeling, that city being built on the side of a hill. I made only a short stay, nothing of importance keeping me there. I left on the C. B. & Q. the following morning, arriving in Omaha Thursday, Aug. 1, at 10 A. M., having spent a week like a true wheelman, amongst wheelmen.

The cyclers on the road I traversed treated me in the most generous and hospitable way, and I shall always feel under obligations to them. If any of them should venture to visit our village I and the Omaha Wheel Club will only be too glad to entertain them as they have entertained "JIM."

A TOUR IN MAINE.

Editor Bicycling World: The account given of the route from Moorehead Lake to Bar Harbor on page 574 of "Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle," is so favorable that I cannot help thinking the roads must have deteriorated since Mr. Elwell's party rode over them in 1875. Having just returned from making this tour, I should place it outside the list of practicable bicycling routes.

The scenery is fine, the hotels good, and the people agreeable, but the roads rendered the trip the least satisfactory of the five annual tours which I have taken.

Moosehead Lake is charming to a man who is neither fisherman nor hunter, and the Mount Kineo House is one of the best kept inns in the world. The 15 1-2 miles from Greenville to Monson we expected to find hilly, not to say mountainous, and we were not disappointed. The hills were not only very long and very steep, but, like most of the hills of Maine, they were covered with loose stones. Our mounts were ordinaries, but I am sure it would have been perilous to ride down those hills on those safeties and riding up them would be impossible. There were, however, occasional stretches of fair road, especially before reaching Shirley Corners. We left Greenville at 12.45 and reached Monson at 4.30, but were quite willing to stop. A swim in Lake Hebron was some compensation for the afternoon's hard work.

Leaving Monson the next day, we found some dangerous pitches and much excellent wheeling along the road to Guilford and Sangerville. How the roadway is between Sangerville and Dexter in good weather I cannot say, for we had to ride it in the rain and found it very muddy. The part of it through the woods was exceedingly toilsome. My cyclometer figures do not agree with those given in "Ten Thousand miles on a Bicycle," for they make the day's run 25 miles. The only really well-made road I saw in Maine was that over which we rode our last two miles into Dexter. It had been made smooth and proved that it is possible to construct decent highways in that State when the people awake to the importance of them.

The third day we had the best riding of the tour, from Dexter to Bangor, which I made 36 miles. The first part of it was very fair, but the road grew rutty as we approached Kenduskeag, and so continued the remainder of the way. But for a stiff breeze at our backs we should have found much of it toilsome, for it was often an even choice between the wagon wheel rut and the jolting track made by horses.

The fourth day's run from Bangor to Ellsworth (27 miles) began pretty well, but before we reached the Lake House, where we dined, the road had degenerated into the the worst I ever saw anywhere. There is no kind of badness in which it did not luxuriate, combining frightful hills with sand and rocks in pleasing profusion. It was laid out by the lumbermen on the principle of striking from one hilltop to the next. It did not improve materially even after reaching the village of Ellsworth, for stones thrust themselves up in the streets, while three or four inches of fine dust did what it could to conceal them. No stranger from Timbuctoo who should see the road that connects Ellsworth with its suburb of Ellsworth Falls, would dream that he was gazing at a civilized and christain country.

We were told at Ellsworth that the next day's ride to Bar Harbor (22 miles) would be over "as good a road as ever you saw." That only meant that, after a few break-neck hills had been passed, it would be comparatively level, until we crossed the bridge to Mt. Desert. As a matter of fact the road was exceedingly dusty and rutty, so that one's attention had to be kept constantly upon it, and on the island the hills proved as formidable as ever.

It will be seen that in each case the day's ride was very short, if we except that from Dexter to Bangor—the easiest of them all—but we were always ready to stop. The most convincing evidence of the condition of the Maine roads is the fact that ours were the only bicycles at Bar Harbor, as far as we could learn, and we saw but three or four during the whole tour. Maine has many attractions, but none as a touring country for a Buffalo tender-foot.

Before closing, allow me to ask if it is not possible to bring some sort of pressure to bear on the Boston railroads, to secure relief from extortion for wheelmen. There is no complaint to be made against the Maine Central, but the other New England roads, except the Fitchburg, should be called on to explain to the State Railroad Commissioners their enormous rates on bicycles. My brother had to pay 75 cents on his wheel from Portland to Boston, though his fare was but $1.50. On another occasion he was charged $1.40 on his wheel from Boston to New York. Two years ago we were each of us charged $1 between Hartford and Worcester. Considering that a wheelman burdens a road with no baggage and considering that he may carry his wheel from New York to San Francisco without being called on to pay a cent, it makes my blood boil to have my pocket picked in this fashion by the petty railroad lords of New England. Is not an appeal by the League to the National or State Railroad Commissioners practicable?

A PROTEST.

Editor Bicycling World: As it is reported, on authority too good to be doubted, that several ex-professionals are in active training for, and are expected to enter the amateur tournament in Hartford, Sept. 2 and 3, I write to protest against such outrageous injustice to the amateurs who will thereby lose their chances of gaining a place in the races. At first it seemed impossible to me that the officers of the league would allow the ex-professional to re-appear on the track after being restored to his amateur status, and that he should not so re-appear was understood to be one of the conditions of his restoration, at least in some cases (the cases of which I write being of that number); but as the time draws near it becomes evident that it is to be allowed.

Why were these men ever debarred from competing with amateurs? Because in making the sport a means of livelihood they were enabled to secure advantages and bring themselves into condition impossible for the man attending to his regular vocation to reach. And it was for the encouragement of sport among those of limited time that the amateur rule was adopted, and two classes established.

These men have returned to the amateur side of the fence (presumably for more congenial company) and with all the experience, and muscle gained while on the other side, are now allowed to enter the arena of the amateurs, who have had no such advantages.

I know I voice the sentiment of L. A. W. men in this section in calling it outrageously unjust in the racing board to allow Ives and Hendee to enter amateur races, and would like to see some public expression on the matter.

Yours fraternally,
T. W. GILLETTE.

Danbury, Ct.

[As to the wisdom of re-instating Messrs. Ives and Hendee, we have no doubt the Racing board can establish its position, but the reason given by our correspondent that because at one time, two or three years ago, these men were in the very perfection of condition, they must perforce still be in that condition, does not hold good. As a matter of fact the truth is often the reverse, and a man after a few years of fast riding and hard training becomes "stale." We doubt if Ives or Hendee will show anything like their old form if they do race this fall. It must also be remembered that both these men are now on even terms with all amateurs so far as spare time for training is concerned. Without going into the merits of the case further, we will close by saying that we think our correspondent is unnecessarily exercised over the re-appearance of these two ex-professionals on the amateur racing path.—ED.]

NEW YORK STATE DIVISION MEET.

THE officers of the first and second district of the N. Y. State Division are working earnestly to make the New York State Meet a success. The event will take place on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13th and 14th. The Meet is managed by a general committee of five.

The general committee holds general meetings at the Grand Union Hotel every Friday evening and hears reports of sub-committee chairmen, and takes suggestions from the men present. The names of the various committees are given below, as well as a complete programme.

The headquarters of the Meet will be at the Grand Union Hotel and at Geo. R. Bidwell's store, 313 West 58th street. The first named place is right at the edge of the riding district. Wheelmen will be stationed at all important rail and steamboat terminals, and complete directions will be given to each wheelman so that no confusion may occur.

On Friday morning the Meet will be formally opened by runs in the Park and to Yonkers. At 5.30 there will be a meeting of the board of officers of the Division, and at 8, there will be a theatre party. After the theatre party, a grand supper will be given, at which some of the city officials will be present.

On Saturday there will be a parade in the Park which, it is hoped, will rival all previous events of the kind, which have ever been seen in this city. Two prizes will be offered, one for the New York or Brooklyn Club, making the best showing, and one to the visiting club presenting the best appearance. After the parade, the cyclers will continue to Brooklyn, to which place they will be transported by special boat. Here, lunch will be served, and at 2 to 4 a business meeting will be held at the Brooklyn Bicycle Club's house. At 4 p. m., a photograph will be taken at Prospect Park, after which there will be a run to Coney Island. The various features of this resort are too world famous for recapulation. The wheelmen will have a supper there,and will then hear Gilmore's band in a specially selected concert. After the concert the men will ride back to Brooklyn, where the meet will formally end.

A large riding academy will be found near the Park, where wheels will be stored, so that there will be no inconvenience. One and all are invited.

Executive Committee.—M. L. Bridgman, 1255 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, chairman; W. H. DeGraaf, West Fourteenth Street, treasurer; I. M. Shaw, 19 West Fifty-third Street, New York City; A. B. Barkman, 241 Broadway, New York City; C. C. Alden, 6 Wall Street, New York City.

Sub-Committees.—Entertainment, W. H. DeGraaf, 47 West Fourteenth Street; transportation, G. R. Bidwell, 313 West Fifty-eight street; programme, C. A. Sheehan, 5 Vanderbilt Avenue: press. F. P. Prial, P. O. Box 444; reception, L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad Street; tours and runs, A. B. Barkman, 241 Broadway; theatre party, W. H. DeGraaf, 47 West Fourteenth Street. Bert Cole, 62 Hanson Place, Brooklyn.

PROGRAMME:

Friday, September 13.—Morning: Reception of visitors; afternoon: Runs, Central Park, Yonkers, etc.; afternoon: Board of Officers meet, Grand Union Hotel, 5.30 p. m.; night: Theatre party, New York City.

Saturday, September 14.—Morning: Parade in Central Park; afternoon: Run to Brooklyn; Board of Officers meet, Brooklyn Club House, 2.30 p. m.; Regular Division Meeting at Brooklyn Club House, 3 p. m.; Photograph at Prospect Park, 4 p. m.; Run to Coney Island; Supper at Coney Island: Concert at Gilmore's Amphitheatre.

Sunday, September 15.—Informal runs to Yonkers, Tarrytown, The Oranges and points on Long Island.

COMING EVENTS.

THE 31st August and Labor Day will be the dates on which innumerable race meets will be held, and we thought an epitomized account of "what to expect" might be of value to our readers:

PASSAIC CITY, N. J., will hold a joint meet on August 31 under L. A. W. Rules.

The bicycle events are: Two-mile bicycle team race, three men and one substitute; three-quarter mile bicycle handicap; one mile safety bicycle handicap; one and a half mile bicycle club race, handicap, P. C. W. and A. A.; one mile bicycle handicap; one mile bicycle, novice. The entries closed Aug. 21 with C. Blizzard, 318 Gregory avenue, N. Y.

MCKEESPORT, PA., will hold a race meet Aug. 29 so as not to interfere with the State meet at York. At 10.30 A. M. a hill-climbing contest will be held, and at 2.30 the following races under L. A. W. rules will be run at Gentlemen's Driving Park. Entries close on the 24th: 1 mile novice, 1 mile open, 1-2 mile safety, Rover type; 1 mile, 3.20 class; 1-2 mile open; 1 mile for boys under 16 years: 1-2 mile. 1.35 class; 2 mile handicap; 1-2 mile club championship; 1 mile consolation. The headquarters will be at the National Hotel.

AT ST. LOUIS, MO., August 31.—Since the advertising posters have been put in position the tournament has become the topic of the town and daily numerous calls are being made at the agencies asking for date, prizes, etc. The prize committees have at last succeeded in arranging the prizes and they will be as follows: First event, one-mile novice—Prizes, first, gold medal: second, Brooks cyclometer by L. F. Frost; third, pair jersey pants by F. W. Humphrey & Co. Second event, half-mile dash—Prizes, first, diamond locket by H. H. Morris: second, fine engraving by Glover & Finkenauer: third, smoking set by A. Siegel Gas Fixture Co. Third event, one-mile open—Prizes, first, gold watch by O Snitjer: second, suit of clothes by Famous; third, camera by A. S. Aloe & Co. Fourth event, one-mile safety handicap—Prizes, first, gold medal: second, pair fine silk embroidered suspenders by D. L. Parish; third, cyclometer by Wilder and Laing. Fifth event, one-mile Missouri Division championship—Prizes, first, elegant gold medal by Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co.: second, Pope cup: third, set silver-plated knives by Knight Cycle Co. Sixth event, two-mile lap race—Prizes, first, gold watch by St. Louis Wheel Co.: second, fine mantel clock by Mermod, Jaccard Jewelry Co.; third, silk umbrella by Mathews & Lefferty. Seventh event, half-mile for boys under 14—Prizes, first, silver medal by E. A. Blanke; second, three spoke grips by A. L. Jordan & Co.; third, silk belt by St. Louis Wheel Co. Eighth event, three-mile Missouri Division championship—Prizes, first, gold medal; second, stop watch by R. Hurck; third, pair ball pedals by Springfield Bi. Mfg. Co Ninth event, one-mile handicap—Prizes, first, safety bicycle by Western Toy Co.: second, pair Lemaar's opera glasses by Meyer Bros.' Drug Co.: third, gold-headed cane by L. Bauman Jewel Co. Tenth event, three-mile match race, Harding vs. Ring—Prize, $50 gold medal. Eleventh event, one-mile consolation—Prizes, first, gold medal by R. Blossom; second, silk hat by F. W. Humphrey & Co.; third, pair shoes by G. H. Boehmer; fourth, half dozen bicycle hose by Sellinger & Morris; fifth, one piece of bisque statuary by A. Withmar & Co.; sixth, three spoke grips by A. L. Jordan & Co.: seventh, cap by Jos. Plotke. In addition to above, prizes will be offered for fancy and trick riding. The track already presents an animated appearance, as no less than a full dozen of our flyers are already in training there. The match race, Harding vs. Ring, is attracting a great deal of attention, and both men have wonderfully improved under the careful training of Sanders and Stone. The value of the prizes in the tournament aggregates $500. It is intended to make the mile handicap the event of the tournament, and for this reason prizes to the value of $100 have been offered for this event alone. The track is now being sprinkled and rolled each alternate day and beginning on the 25th will be rolled daily, so as to have it in the best possible shape Entry fee is 25 cents for each event, and entries close Wednesday, August 28th, with Secretary J. Harold Child, care of D. Snitjer, 1012 Olive street. Latest advices state that Lumsden, Bert Myers and Bowbeer of Illinois, and Sheriff, Koen and Rittenhouse of this State, will surely enter. A number of racing men from Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Springfield and Cleveland are also expected. Time limits and other arrangements looking towards fast time will be placed on all the races, and as a special inducement medals will probably be given for fastest mile ridden.

LINNEUS.

AT HARTFORD, CONN., September 2d and 3d.—All arrangements are nearing completion and everything points to a wonderfully successful meet. Mr. C. S. Davol will referee the races, C. S. Howard of Boston, Geo. H. Burt of Hartford and F. P. Prial of Nsw York will do the judging. Owing to the track being engaged previous to the Hartford tournament it will be impossible to gain admission to the park until the Saturday before the meet. Wheelmen in training will please take notice. The full programme of the Connecticut Division meet in connection with the Hartford tournament will be found in the official columns. Look it up. It is full of interest and information. Entries close August 26, with W. M. Francis, Box 745, Hartford, Conn. The following schedule of reduced rates on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to the Hartford tournament, September 2d and 3d, will be of interest to wheelmen desirous of attending this truly interesting meet: From Springfield, $1.45; Meriden, $1.00; New Haven, $1.50; Bridgeport, $2. This, of course, includes admission to the races. Parties from Norwalk and Stamford are advised to purchase excursion tickets at Bridgeport. Mileage books are advisable for visitors from Boston and Providence.

ALBANY, N. Y.—The arrangements for Third Out-door Tournament of the Albany wheelmen are nearly complete and, judging from the progress reported, the affair points in every way to a most auspicious and enjoyable event. The list of entries is indeed very encouraging in that many of the noted riders of to-day have advised the wheelmen of their coming and it is now thought that the coming event will, in every respect, eclipse all predecessors. Mr. F. P. Prial of New York will referee the races. Date Aug. 31.

The list of events and prizes are of follows:

1 mile Novice, gold medal: 1 mile Ordinary (open), 1st. French marble clock; 2d. racing suit: 1 mile Star, (club.) 1st. travelling bag: 2d. Tolman shoes: 2 mile N. Y. State Championship, L. A. W., $50 diamond medal: 1 mile Team race, (open), silk banner: 1-3 mile Safety, (open,) 1st. silver cup: 2d. toilet set: 1 mile Club Championship, gold medal: 1 mile Tandem Bicycle, (open,) 1st. gold-headed canes; 2d. silver-headed umbrellas; 2 mile Handicap. (open,) 1st. French bronze: 2d. Tennis racket: 1-3 Consolation. plush dressing case.

Between three and four hundred dollars have alone been expended for these prizes, they being of the best quality. It cannot, therefore, be said that cheap "picnic prizes" were awarded to the victors of a hard earned contest. The track upon which the races are to be run is in fine condition and men are constantly engaged working the same. The entrance fee is fifty cents each to open events, excepting the State Championship, which is one dollar The time for closing of entries has been extended from August 24th, to August 27th. All cyclists entering should advise the chairman of the committee at the time at which they expect to arrive in Albany and by what road, in order to enable the appointing of different parties to meet them upon their arrival and escort them to hotels and direct them to the club, grounds, etc. In case of inclemency of weather, these races will be postponed until the following Thursday. September 5th, 1889. All parties desirous of attending this meet, on August 31. 1889, should bear in mind that ample time will be afforded to enable them to attend the Hartford meet, as many Albany cyclists and others in vicinity, intend "taking in" the latter meet. All communication should be directed to W. B. Phipps, chairman-secretary of committee, 51 Howard street, Albany, N. Y., who will promptly furnish any information desired.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

FREEPORT, Ill.—The Northern Illinois Agricultural Association, of Freeport, Ill., have a free-for-all Bicycle race among their attractions during their Fair to be held September 10th to 13th inclusive. Entrance free $5. Distance three miles; no less than ten to enter. Preminm a $135. Safey Bicycle, made by the Stover Mfg. Co. of Freeport, Ill.

AT YORK, PA.—The Pennsylvania Division State meet to be held at York, Pa., Sept. 2 and 3, promises to be a large affair. By an oversight, caused probably by the lack of sufficient time in which the committee had to make arrangements for the meet, our invitations and programmes were sent out with the word "State" omitted in the championship race entries. The championship races on the programme should read "State L. A. W. championship" instead of "L. A. W. championship." The programme of the meet will be as follows: Monday, Sept. 2, first day, 7 A. M., run; 10 A. M. meeting of Pa. Div.; 11 A. M., parade, after which the Pa. Div. photograph will be taken; 2 P. M., races; 8 P. M., lantern parade; 10 P. M., spread. Tuesday, Sept. 3d, second day, 7 A. M., run; 2 P. M., races; 9 P. M., watermelon cut. The spread to be given Monday evening will be under the charge of our ladies, and we are sure that no town in Penna., or elsewhere for that matter, can excel us when our ladies take a hand in it. The club will take charge of the watermelon cut themselves. Watermelons will be plenty. boys will be plenty, and fun will not be a scarcity. Those who intend to strive for honors on the track, we should like to hear from as soon as possible The Club would especially like to hear from some good teams for the team race. There will be a fine medal offered for the best fancy riding on both the ordinary and the star. We would like to have a full entry on these numbers. Members of the League come. Come and enjoy yourself as you never did before. Let joy and merriment reign unrestrained, and do not forgot to bring your sister cyclists with you. It would be a burning shame to be so selfish as to come and not ask your lady friends to come with you. But why need I write upon this subject. The hearts of the American wheelmen are too large and too well-filled with the spirit of generosity to admit of such corruption.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—As will be seen below, the 1 mile L. A. W. state championship and also the one mile safety tandem national championship has been awarded to the Binghampton tournament. We are in receipt of the following facts from Mr Towle.

We have a good half mile track (clay) at the Binghampton Driving Park. Tuesday eve., Sept. 10th the club are making arrangements for Mrs. George S. Knight at the Opera House. Morning of Sept. 11th, ride to State Insane Asylum some two miles from city. This Asylum is located upon a hill and one can get a beautiful view of the Susquehanna and Chenaugo Valleys for some 8 miles up and down. Parties on this run are cordially invited to pass through the Asylum after which the party will be photographed with this grand building as a back ground. Our Handicap and Class Races close Sept. 2nd, all other events Sept. 5th. Fifty cents each event sent to E. H. Towle Chairman Race Committee, 135 State street, Binghamton, N. Y.

FIRST DAY, SEPT. 10.

1. One mile bicycle novice, first heat. This is ridden in three heats, and wheels are to weigh 35 lbs., or over. 2. One mile safety novice, first heat. This is ridden in three heats, and wheels are to weigh 35 lbs., or over. 3. Quarter mile safety. Boys under 12 years. 4. Three mile bicycle lap race. 5. Championship. 10. Two mile bicycle, 6 10 class. 11. One-half mile safety. 12. One mile bicycle team race.

SECOND DAY, SEPT. 11.

1. One mile bicycle novice, third heat. 2. One mile safety novice, second heat. 3. One-half mile bicycle, boys under 16 years. 4. One mile bicycle handicap. 5. Two mile safety lap race. 6. One mile bicycle, New York State L. A. W., Championship. 7. One mile safety novice, third heat. 8. One-half mile bicycle. 9. One mile bicycle, Binghampton Wheel Club. 10. Three mile safety handicap. 11. One mile bicycle consolation. 12. One mile safety consolation.

WORCESTER, MASS.—The date set by the Bay State Wheelmen of Worcester for the tournaments is September 14, at Agricultural Park. In the morning there will be a grand street parade. Nine bicycle races will be held as follows: One mile novice, ordinary wheel; 1 mile novice, Safety; 2 mile, Worcester county championship race; 2 mile race, (three men to each team, teams entered by clubs); 1 mile Safety, handicap, open; 1 mile ordinary, handicap, open; 3 mile lap race, open; 1 mile ordinary, open; 1 mile Safety, open. Other events have been arranged, including a hundred-yard dash, mile walk and half-mile run. A tug-of-war may be added. There is also likely to be a hill-climbing contest in the evening, Walnut street being the place.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK.

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps in full and time, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT PORTSMOUTH, VA., Aug. 8th.—Half-mile track.—Under the auspices of the Portsmouth Cycle Club. Half-mile novice. L. Mayo (1), 1.35; W. White (2), 1.40. One-mile open, A. O. Reed (1), 1.35: Bland (2).

AT FLINT, MICH.—Track.—Races for the "Willett Trophy," by the Flint Wheelmen. Conditions: trophy to be held by first winner of three races; races to be one-mile heats, best two in three, on half-mile trotting trrck; L. A. W. racing rules; all members eligible to entry, on handicaps fixed by local committee. First race, taken by F. Simpson, in two straight heats; time, 3.09 1-2 and 3.14 1-2; from 20 rod start. Second race, taken by S. Ellston, in two straight heats; time, 3.12 1-2 and 3.17; from 20 rod start: track very wet and heavy. Third race, taken by B. Kellerman, straight; time, 3.10 and 3 12; from scratch. Fourth race, also taken by Kellerman; time, 3.18 1-2 and 3.19 1-2; from scratch; track very rough, the winner taking a bad header in the first heat.

AT WALTHAM, MASS., Aug. 16.—Road—The eight-miles challenge race between F. Swan and C. S. Merrill came off last week, Friday, and was won by C. S. Merrill in the time of 32 m. 10 secs. Mr. Swan took two headers which incapacitated him from any chance of winning the race.

AT LOCKPORT, N. Y., August 15.—Track.—A good crowd and fine races as a whole. A strong wind, however, blew up the home stretch, which made the finishes very hard. The only hitch in the proceeding was caused by Handicapper Prial mixing the identity of W. B. Milley with John Milley, a mistake which was not discovered until too late to remedy, and hence W. B. Milley did not start in the handicaps. The results were as follows: One-mile novice, Burt Green (1), T. B. Cummings (2); time, 3.03. One-mile club championship, Burt Green (1), A. M. Montgomery (2); time, 3.11. Two-mile lap, A. C. Banker (1), Campbell (2); time, 6.06. One-mile 3.20 class, E. A. Folsom (1), W. F. Gassler (2); time, 2.59. Hundred-yard slow race, L. E. Clark (1); the other contestant, J. Broadbent, did not finish. Half-mile State championship L. A. W., Campbell (1), Schoeffer (2); time, 1.21. Half-mile hands off, J. H. Gerrie (1), Gray (2); time, 1.53. One-mile club tandem, Cook and Broadbent (1), Montgomery and Pool (2); no time given. One-mile safety, Connolly (1), W. F. Gassler (2); time, 3.25. One-mile team race, a walk over for the New York team of Banker, Clark and Schoeffer; no time. One-mile handicap, E. A. Folsom, 50 yards (1); A. C. Banker, scratch (2); time, 2.52. One-mile Lockport championship, Burt Green (1); W. Winsor (2); time, 3.15. Half-mile, A. C. Banker (1), Campbell (2); time, 1.24.

AT PHILADELPHIA, August 17.—Track.—The annual races of the South End Wheelmen were held Saturday afternoon at the Philadelphia Driving Park at Point Breeze. First even, quarter-mile, J. Bradley (1), R. McCurdy (2); time, 43 sec. Half-mile handicap, L. Kolb (1), F. McDougal (2); time, 1m. 31s. One-mile, C. Wilson (1), O. McCurdy (2); time, 3m. 16s. S. G. Whittaker gave an exhibition of a quarter-mile spurt in 40 seconds. Principal event, ten-mile race for championship of the meet, L. Kolb (1), O. McCurdy (2); time, 38m. 15s. Gold medals were awarded to winners of the several races.

If you want a second-hand wheel of any kind, drop us a line; it will cost you but 2c., and may save you many dollars. Just tell us what you want and how much you are willing to pay. The safety has made all high wheels such a drug on the market here that we are compelled to unload them for what we can get. Should we not have what you want we will mail you one of our beautifully illustrated Art Calendars for 1889, worth fifty times your two cents. Capital Cycle Co., Washington, D. C.

THE CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY.

We give above a fairly good illustration of the machine, on which W. D. Banker broke the American track records at a quarter and half-mile, doing the distance in 38 seconds and 1 minute 22 seconds respectively.

Although light and wonderfully easy running, it is claimed by the makers to be a thorough road machine, having been designed by Mr. Hillman for the road-scorchers of that famous London Club, the Catfords. Mr. Johnson writes us: "Since the first specimen was turned out its record has been one unbroken line of successes on path, road and hill, and although we were a little late in placing it on the American market, it has sprung into the front rank of public favor and is meeting with a sale limited only by the supply. Among the laurels won by the Catford in this country in addition to the two records mentioned above are the State Championship of Pennsylvania, winning both first and second prizes, and the hill-climbing contest at the Canada Wheelmen's Agsociation meet." BIE

Briefly, the specifications are as follows: 30 by 30 wheels, geared to 57 or 60; 5 1-4 to 6 1-4 cranks; Frame, Forks and handle-bar of the finest cold-drawn seamless steel tube, Warwick hollow rims; butt-ended direct spokes; 5-8 and 3-16 best smooth red rubber tires; foot-rests; front spoon brake; L. and B. or "Fish" saddle, as preferred; rubber or rat-trap ball pedals; finished in Harrington's enamel, plain black, with nickeled fittings; detachable wheel and chain guards. Price $135.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

New York.

To the Members of the New York State Division:

The one-mile tandem safety bicycle L. A. W. championship awarded to this Division, and the one-mile bicycle New York State Division championship are hereby assigned to the Binghamton Wheel Club, to be competed for at their race meet, September 10th and 11th, 1889.

W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.

Attention, Racing Men.

The York Bicycle Club, of York, Pa., announce in their race meet program nine five L. A. W. championships. As none have been awarded this club, races run as such will be considered in violation of the L. A. W. rules, and competitors will be promptly suspended from the race track.

Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

Massachusetts.

Circular No. 32.

To members of the Massachusetts Division:

I desire to congratulate the members of this Division on its prosperity. Our membership is now larger than ever before; we have succeeded in gaining second place among the Divisions in the League, and all that is needed is the personal efforts of our members to attain the first rank.

Again is every member urged to make an effort to bring at least one member into our organization before the season closes.

The coming winter will see us renewing the battle for better roads, and members are wanted to bring success. Let every member do his duty.

The conduct of those attending the Cottage City Meet is highly commended; no accident or unbecoming conduct marred our pleasure, and the enthusiastic desire manifested by all to make the meet a success is gratefully appreciated.

Those desiring copies of picture taken at Cottage City Meet can obtain them by addressing J. N. Chamberlain, Cottage City, Mass. Price $1.50.

Let us continue the successful work until the end of the season. Fraternally,

WM. H. EMERY,
Chief Consul.

Meet of the Connecticut Division L. A. W. at Hartford, Sept. 2 and 3, 1889.

To the members of the Connecticut Division L. A. W.

The Division Board of Officers decided to hold the meet at Hartford during the Hartford Tournament, as that event is invariably marked by a larger gathering of League members from throughout the State than could possibly be assembled at any other time or place in Connecticut.

Upon unity and fraternity depends in a great measure the success of the Division's work for the cause of cycling. This, together with the additonal inducements we offer, to secure a large attendance at this meet, should, we think, result in a notable assemblage of our members.

We shall endeavor to make the promotion of acquaintance and good-fellowship among our members a special feature of this occasion. Further, we shall hope to afford them a more widely extended knowledge of the privileges and benefits conferred by the League of American Wheelmen, and to greatly increase their appreciation of that organization.

In order to thoroughly insure the enjoyment of all who attend this meet the Division has appropriated $200 for entertainment purposes, and a very considerable additional sum has been subscribed by Hartford members to make the entertainment more elaborate and complete.

All who make this meet an incentive to a two days pleasure trip to Hartford will have future occasion to remember it as a season of personal enjoyment and individual and profitable experience as League members. Come everybody and bring your wheels with you. Reception committees will await your arrival at every train on the morning of Sept. 2. Should you come to town awheel members of the committee will be found at the parlors of the Hartford Wheel Club to advise and direct you.

A store room will be furnished with help in attendance to check and care for wheels. L. A. W. headquarters will be at Room 7 United States Hotel, where you will be welcomed and where upon production of your L. A. W. ticket you will be furnished with a division badge entitling you to participation in the run and entertainments hereinafter described.

Applications for membership in the L. A. W. will be received by Secretary-Treasurer DeBlois at head-quarters, Room 7, United States Hotel, and any such applicant properly recommended, upon payment of initiation fee and dues, will receive a Division badge. You are guaranteed courtesy, hospitality and a good time.

EVENING ENTERTAINMENT.

Promptly at 8 P. M. the evening festivities will begin at Germania Hall with a concert.

During the evening a programme of music and athletic exhibition will be given. The numbers will be interspersed with speeches by prominent L. A. W. men, and refreshments will be bountifully served.

New York, 19th Aug., 1889.

New York State Division.

The Division By-Laws having been found in practical working to be deficient in certain respects, some of which involve serious discrepancies, the following amendments will be moved at the annual meeting of the Board of Officers, on behalf of the Rules and Regulations Committee:

First—An amendment to Sec. 4, of Art. 1, to allow of limited proxy voting at Board meetings, for the purpose of ensuring a quorum.

Second—An amendment to Sec. 6 of Art. 2, to allow of proxy voting at Division meetings, similar to that provided for in Art. 7 of the National Constitution of L. A. W.

Third—Amendments to Sec. 3 of Art. 3, Secs. 3 to 6, of Art. 5, and additions of new sections to latter article; to modify the manner of voting, in accordance with principle of Australian Ballot reform, so as to permit of easy and inexpensive presentation of independent candidates, and also to provide for secret ballots where desired and practicable.

Fourth—Addition of new section to Art. 3, defining duties of Consuls.

Fifth—Amendments to Sec. 1 of Art. 4, conforming description of League Clubs to that in National Constitution of L. A. W.

Sixth—Further amendment to Sec. 1 of Art. 4, conferring upon League Club's right of voting by delegates at Division meetings.

Seventh—Amendment to Sec. 3 of Art. 6, conferring upon Executive Committee power to manage finances of the Divisions, and to designate the Official Organ, without expense to the Division.

Eighth—Amendment to Sec. 4, of Art. 6, describing specifically the duties of Committees.

Ninth—Amendment to Art. 8, giving the right to Division to revise By-Law Amendments made by the Board of Officers.

The text of above proposed amendments to be published in full in next issue. E. J. SHRIVER, Chairman Rules and Regulation Com.

Iowa Division.

The programme for the annual meet at Des Moines on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 3d, 4th and 5th, will be out in a few days, and will be sent to all members in the State, and all unattached riders whose addresses are known, or any who will write to James B. Green, Box 270, Des Moines, for one.

There will be three days of rare sport, including the two State championships and the two team trophies, which are very valuable prizes.

The total value of the prizes will be upward of $300, and should secure a large number of entries.

There will be runs, a hill climbing contest and a banquet, a business meeting of the Division, and a royal good time all round.

The railroad fare will be one fare for the round trip on all the railroads, and the Des Moines Club are up and doing to make all who attend glad they came.

Send to James B. Green, as above, for programme and entry blank. Fraternally,

ROBT. L. THOMPSON, C. C.

Riding Members, Attention.

The long-looked forward to Indianapolis-Cincinnati tours of the Chicago Cycling Club will take place Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 31, Sept. 1. This run should be participated in by all who enjoy a fine run on fine roads through a fine country. The distance to be traveled, about 140 miles in two days, makes it necessarily one in which only our good riders will care to participate.

Leaving Chicago on the 8.15 P. M. train Friday, August 30th, we will arrive at Indianapolis Saturday, at about 3.30 A. M., from where, after an early breakfast at the Bates House, we will wheel via the famous National Road east to Richmond, about 70 miles, stopping at Knightstown for dinner. This part of the trip is on a road in every respect as good as Stony Island Avenue at its best, and there is not a hill greater than the Humboldt boulevard viaduct to be ridden up in the entire distance, while there are several about that size to coast. This part of the road was ridden over by myself in August, 1884, between 10 A. M. and 6 P. M., part of the distance in a pouring rain storm.

Sunday morning a start will be made at about 6 o'clock, riding to Eaton, Ohio, 15 miles, for breakfast. The reason for this is to secure an earlier start than could be done by waiting at the Richmond Hotel for breakfast, which on Sunday is rather late, and also to enable us to arrive early at Cincinnati.

From Eaton the road is a gradual descent into the Ohio Valley, and while there is not a hill to be climbed there are many to coast, some very long ones; one I remember being nearly two miles long. The scenery is beautiful, and the magnificent condition of the roads allows one to ride at a ten mile gait, and still enjoy the surrounding country. This part of the road I have been over—in 1884—leaving Richmond at 10 o'clock, and reaching Wyoming, a suburb of Cincinnati, about 12 miles from town, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Arrangements will be made with one of the Cincinnati clubs to meet us at Hamilton and escort us to town, show us Eden Park, Walnut Hills, etc. After supper leave on 8 o'clock train for home, arriving Monday morning at 6.30.

The entire expense of this trip will not exceed $15, including sleeping car returning.

There must be ten or more in party to secure rates on railway, and better rates can be secured for party of over fifteen. Party limited to twenty.

Members of other clubs are cordially invited to go with us.

Those intending to go will please send in their names at once, and send fare with name; fare $9.65 to Indianapolis and return from Cincinnati. For further particulars call on me at office, or consult map of route on bulletin board at club house.

N. H. VAN SICKLEN, Captain.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objection able person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

A BOY CAME RUNNING into our office recently, with the startling announcement that he had just seen Shakespeare riding one of the Hickory Wheels.

On investigation we found that the boy had tried to make a sensation by telling the truth (quite a novelty in the cycle business.)

It turned out to be a less famous namesake of the original William Shakespeare, though he has one advantage over his dramatic predecessor.

It has been said that the "Bard of Avon" "garnered all the sheaves of dramatic thought and they who would follow him have been gleaners of straw and chaff." This may be true, but there was one thing which the B. of A. never got onto.

In fact the Hickory Bicycle was not made until after his death.

A CLAIRVOYANT recently rode one of our safeties "down the stream of time" and "saw" a great success achieved by it.

If the supply of hickory don't run short we will do what we can.

STAFFORD, Kan., May 8, 1889.

ERIE KNITTING MILL, Erie, Pa.:

Gentlemen—I have given the tights and shirts you made for me a thorough test, and I pronounce them the strongest and most durable knit goods I have ever worn. They make the best sweaters that I know of in use, and at the same time comfortable. Several members of our club have expressed themselves about the goods in a very complimentary manner. Yours truly, H. D. MCQUADE,

ANOTHER ◎ GOOD ◎ POINT

OF THE COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER.

THE . IMPROVED . EWART . DETACHABLE . CHAIN.

Every link is drop forged, finished on the interchangeable plan, and case hardened.

At a test made by the Colts Patent Fire Arms Mfg. Co., of Hartford, Conn., the chain did not yield until a strain of 2090 lbs. was reached.

It can be cleaned and oiled when on the machine better than any other chain.

It costs twice as much to manufacture as any other bicycle chain.

Links can be easily added or taken out whenever necessary.

We have an exclusive license from the Ewart Mfg. Co. to make this chain of forged steel.

SIMPLICITY IN CONSTRUCTION, DURABILITY IN WEAR.

The more small parts and fittings, the more working joints and connections in your machine, the more trouble you will surely have in keeping it properly adjusted, keeping it from rattling, and in buying new parts.

Please note the fact that the

NEW RAPID SAFETY

has fewer small parts in its construction than any other one of the high-grade safeties.

It is a good thing to remember when you want to buy a wheel.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL RAMBLER

Has demonstrated its intrinsic worth this season, in that it is the only small rear driver that keeps away from the repair shop.

It is mainly constructed of weldless steel tubing and sheet steel, and has ball bearings to both wheels in the standard finish.

It has proven an excellent mount for ladies not weighing over 125 lbs.

Its price, $65.00, stamps it as the best value on the market.

Balls can be added to crank axle, pedals and head if desired.

We can now fill orders for this wheel with a reasonable degree of promptness.

Something Every Safety Rider will buy! Something Every Safety Rider can buy, because it costs little and is Simple and Practical! Just exactly what is wanted! Fits any make Safety! Especially for New Riders it is a Great Assistance for Steady Steering, and a Great Relief to the Arms.

SANBORN'S PATENT SAFETY BICYCLE BRIDLE.

For Use on the Safety Bicycle.

This improvement obviates the only fault ever found with the Safety machine, namely; its sensitiveness in steering. By attaching this bridle, the machine is made to steer as easily as an ordinary, and, with five minutes' practice, can be ridden as readily with "hands off." It is a great comfort to the rider, especially on a long run, to have the free use and liberty of his hands. The machine will also lean against anything without the wheel turning, thus keeping right side up all the time, which is a great saving on the wear and tear of it.

Yet another advantage all wheelmen will appreciate, is in walking along by simply keeping one hand on the saddle, the forward wheel being central all the time, and enabling the machine to be propelled with perfect ease.

The attachment is so simple that any child can readily apply it. Full directions for applying sent with Bridle.

CAN BE EASILY ATTACHED OR DETACHED.

TRULY A BIG THING!!

From the noted long-distance rider, Albert Beers, who has ridden already 4000 miles on a New Mail Safety:

EVERETT, Aug. 14th.

Dear Sir—I have used your Bicycle Bridle on my New Mail Safety and am more than pleased with it. My friends have pronounced it of great assistance in riding "hands off." If this is of any use to you, you are at liberty to use it.

Yours truly, ALBERT BEERS.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 30 AUGUST, 1889.

WE would like to be able to divide ourselves up into several personalities this coming week, so as to be able to attend the numerous race meetings to be held, and at the same time be able to stay in the Boston office and run things at this end. We have had to refuse several invitations to appear "officially" on the tracks as well as a spectator "with privileges." We are awfully sorry we cannot be with you all, gentlemen.

A COUPLE of tourists riding through New York State, writing from Sharon Springs, complain bitterly at the treatment they received at the hands of the manager of the Union Hotel at that place. The cyclers were deliberately ordered out of the house, and the employe who told the wheelmen where to put their wheels was severely rebuked for his courtesy to the tourists. These gentlemen were ordered out because they were cyclers.

While we resent tooth and nail any discourtesy shown wheelmen because they are wheelmen, we always fear that there is another side to the question, and that managers and proprietors may have, in the behavior of some former visitors, found cause for such actions. However, the matter has been referred to Chief Consul Bull, and as he has already placed himself squarely and officially on this matter, we hope he will be able to discover where the blame belongs.

We heartily sympathize with our two cyclers who were insulted through no fault in behavior of theirs.

During the past two or three weeks, the two tourists referred to have stopped at some 30 or 40 hotels in cities and towns in various parts of New York and Pennsylvania, and in every other instance, except this, were treated most courteously by the hotel people.

IT is heartily desired that the farmers' clubs and the farmers themselves throughout the country will not fail to read and discuss that excellent book, issued by the Committee on the Improvement of Highways. The science of good road making appears to be almost literally unknown in this country.

There are hundreds of farmers' clubs where political and economic questions relative to their interests are discussed. We have listened to some very able debates, but scarcely a word has been uttered on the question of the improvement of the highways.

Year in and year out they simply follow the fixed American custom—"work out the road tax." By so doing he gives much of his time in scraping the road, drawing stone and mowing down thistles. But in the fall and spring the same roads are as utterly impassable and useless for traffic as the swamp itself.

The science of road making needs to be discussed and thoroughly learned. It is really a question of economy, and is of the greateat importance to the farmer. Once he learns it, good roads will surely follow.

WE ARE APPRECIATED.

"THE BICYLING WORLD is far and away the best cycling paper in the United States. It follows the idea of the New York Sun in condensing news. It is not only the official organ of the League of American Wheelmen, but it gives all the news, and is undoubtedly the peer of all other American cycling journals."—[Inland Christian Advocate.

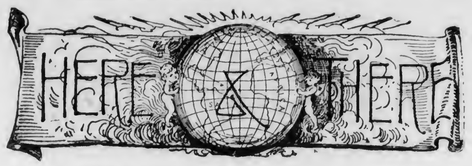
YORK, PA., MEET.—ATTENTION.

Editor Bicycling World: Chairman Davol's warning in last week's WORLD, urging racing men not to enter the York, Pa., races, has, I fear, done an injury that it is now too late to remedy. It is true that the races advertised are not L. A. W. championships, but Chairman Davol doubtless knew that they were State championships, and should have gone to the trouble of explaining the matter in the WORLD instead of warning cyclers at the last moment not to enter the races, and thus ruin the chance of a good field of entries.

Very truly,
KIRK BROWN,
Chairman Racing Com. for Pa. Div. L. A. W.

Philadelphia, August 26, 1889.

THE FIRST ON RECORD.
MISS KIRKWOOD MAKES A CENTURY.



THERE are very few branches in athletics in which America does not lead the world in the matter of excellence, and with local pride we may add that New England, with a few exceptions, holds the cream of records no matter what branch of sport is named. We chronicle with pride and pleasure that one of New England's daughters, in the person of Miss Maggie Kirkwood, of Maplewood, Mass., has captured the record of being the first lady in any land to acomplish the feat of riding a single machine 100 miles over the roads within 24 hours.

Miss Kirkwood started in company with her brother at 4.10 A. M., Aug. 25th, from her home in Maplewood and rode to Wenham, and return, a distance of 37 miles for the round trip. An hour's stop was made at Maplewood and then the road was taken for South Natick, at which place Miss Kirkwood and her companions arrived at 1.05. Dinner was taken here, after which a rest was indulged in and a row on the Charles River enjoyed. At 3.45 the return trip to Maplewood was commenced, which latter place was reached at about 7 o'clock. The distance accomplished at this stopping was just 83 miles. Miss Kirkwood at this time was feeling in excellent form and so it was determined to accomplish "a century;" with this object in view a start for Swampscott was made at 7.45 P. M. and the return home made at 10 P. M. with an additional credit of 18 3-4 miles, making a total of 101 3-4. During the run to Wenham in the early part of the day the roads were found to be pretty heavy, but as the day wore on the condition of the roads improved. Mr. W. Kirkwood on a Safety, accompanied Miss Kirkwood during the entire trip.

We obtained these facts on Monday last from Miss Kirkwood herself, and we were assured that the effects of the hard ride were not of a severe character.

The machine she rode was a Safety geared to 53, with 6 1-2 inch cranks. Miss Kirkwook is a member of the Middlesex Club, and is an enthusiastic rider.

The feat is worthy of a more than passing notice and we congratulate Miss Kirkwood, New England and and the Middlesex Club in that the record has been accomplished by a New England lady, and an extremely modest one withal.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

I HAVE just been looking up the merits and peculiarities of asphalt in view of the boom in its use for our new pavements here, and I find that there is asphalt and asphalt, and that each has its merits and demerits, but from the little I have learned about the matter, I am of the belief that the perfect pavement should be made of rock asphalt. My reason for thinking this is the fact that the streets of Paris, Berlin and London, concerning whose perfection there can be no question, are chiefly laid with rock asphalt. While in this country the only specimens I have seen of its use are in Rochester and St. Augustine, two extremes of climate, and yet in both instances the result is a superb and perfect roadbed, answering every requirement. In Berlin, where the climate is almost an exact reproduction of our own, rock asphalt is almost entirely employed, and so perfect a pavement results, that the contractors have no hesitancy in guaranteeing it for seventeen years. The difference between Trinidad asphalt and rock asphalt seems to be, that in the case of the former it is a manufactured article made by mixing sand, oil, and bitumen in proper proportions, while in the case of rock asphalt it is nothing but a species of limestone, saturated with about 10 per cent. of bitumen, which upon being ground and properly laid upon the surface of a roadway at once returns to it former condition of rock. All argument between the upholders of these two styles of asphalt is as amusing as the one that goes on when a rider of an ordinary seeks to convert a safety rider or vice versa. [Experience in New York, in the case of that pavement laid some ten years ago, and also in Washington, D. C., on Pennsylvania avenue, showed that rock asphalts were more slippery, not quite as good to wear and cost nearly 50 per cent. more than the Trinidad. Buffalo is placing large contracts for more Trinidad, but is not laying down any more rock asphalt.—ED.]

THE Park Commissioners have not entirely forgotten their losing battle with the wheelmen here, and seem still to delight in taking petty advantages of them whenever the chance presents itself. An example of this I was a sufferer from the other evening. I had ridden up the Riverside Drive to get a breath or two of fresh air, and as is the custom with poor riders like myself, I had dismounted at the upper end to enjoy the view, and perhaps to rest myself. I had removed my wheel from off the roadway, and let it lean against a neighboring tree, when one of the sparrow-policemen, whose chief duty is to flirt with the nurse girls, strolled over to where I was sitting and requested me to remove my wheel off of the drive unless I was riding upon it. Upon inquiry I learned from him that he had received special orders from the sergeant, to allow no wheelmen to dismount from their wheels and remove them from the roadway while they rested themselves upon the benches that line one side of the drive. This is nothing but a case of petty tyranny upon the part of the Commissioners, that does not do them any great amount of credit. I understand that they justify their position by taking the grounds that as wheelmen had passed a law declaring their wheels vehicles, that they must abide by the park laws for such, one of which forbids any vehicle to be removed from the roadway to the sidewalks. While I have at all times been against the use of sidewalks for wheelmen to ride upon, I must say that in the present case the ruling of the Park Commissioners is entirely in the other extreme, and deserving of censure, not praise.

A FRIEND of mine, who was a member of the European tourists, has written me of a very funny experience he witnessed at a local race meet in Ireland. It appears that all the interest of the audience was centred in the chances the scratch man had of winning, he being a local racer and the pride of the community. Now prominent among the supporters of the laboring scratch man was his friend and trainer, who bore the unusual Irish name of Pat, who was keeping a tally of the laps, so as to tell how his charge was doing. Presently the racer desired to know how he was riding against his field, and as he passed Pat he hailed him and asked, "How do I stand now, Pat?" On the next lap Pat shouted, "Sure and it's behind, Mike, that yez are." "How much?" shouted the hard pushing racer. On the next lap as he came round, Pat started running beside his man, who had slowed up, and delivered the desired information as follows: "How many? Let me see, there's three and two. Ye've gotter make seven laps t' ketch um, an' then ye'll be two laps ahead of um." The delay to acquire this valuable information was too much, however, for the over-handicapped champion, and he was promptly beaten.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

IN his last circular addressed to the members of the Massachusetts Division Chief Consul Emery clearly shows that he is determined to carry on his good work, and, if possible, place Massachusetts far ahead of any other division in the League. His previous good work in obtaining and defending the rights of wheelmen has not only demonstrated that he is a man of determination and ability, but has also had the effect of closing the mouths of those persons who were at one time bitterly opposed to his occupying his present responsible position.

IF I remember correctly the election of the Board of Officers of the division was to occur between July 15 and August 15, and each and every ballot bore these significant words: "Fill out blank space on either side, sign, and return to Secretary-Treasurer before August 10th." It is almost the last day of August, and the board has had sufficient time to count the ballots and announce the result, but I have not as yet seen the official returns of the election. Perhaps I have overlooked them, but if such proves not to be the case I should respectfully ask, what means this great delay?

ABOUT a year ago a movement to organize a club composed exclusively of Captains and ex-Captains of the different bicycle clubs in Massachusetts was set on foot, and it is now quietly intimated that when Vice Consul Emery, Dr. Kendall, Representative Perkins, and several other leading lights, return from their vacations the advisability of perfecting such an organization will be thoroughly discussed.

MR. KIRK COREY recently returned from Europe, and on Wednesday last Captain Newman, of the Cambridge Club, set sail to meet the "Blooming Britishers." Messrs. Clarke and Burns accompanied him to New York, and several members of the club bade him bon voyage at the depot.

THE fifty-mile road race that is to be run off between Van Wagoner, of Newport, and W. S. Doane, of the Dorchester Club, on the 28th of September, has awakened no end of interest among the wheelmen of the New England States, as both men are widely known. Their exploits are familiar to Massachusetts cyclists. By carefully considering their past records I am inclined to think that the Newport man is the coming victor, because I think he has more staying powers than Doane, who is by no means a rider to be played with.

THE racing men of the Cambridgeport Bicycle Club are in training for the annual twenty-five-mile road race for the championship of the club and the Sanborn gold medal. The race promises to be a hotly-contested one. A bakers' dozen of riders propose to participate, and although every man intends to do his utmost to gain possession of the trophy, the real interest of the event will be centred upon the contest between Fay and Carman, both of whom are determined to cross the tape first.

THE wheelmen of Boston will be exceedingly busy on Labor Day attending the two race meets that are to be held in this city on that day. The first and most important meet is that to be given by the city in the morning at Franklin Park, and several prominent racing men have entered for the one-mile safety and one-mile ordinary races. In the afternoon a one-mile ordinary, mile safety, mile tricycle and mile race for boys under fifteen years of age will be run off at Beacon Park.

THE Massachusetts Club will have its only run down the North Shore. The trip will cover three days in time, starting August 31, going as far as Gloucester, Cape Ann; return to Boston, via Lynn and Nahant, on Monday, September 2.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

INQUIRIES as to the cause of the Lexington Pike Co. again charging wheelmen toll, show that it was due to an aggravated case of road-hoggism on the part of the Athletic Cycling Club of this city. They were coasting four abreast down the hill, and in so doing frightened a horse so that he ran over an embankment, overturned the vehicle and injured the occupants. It is very strange that Mr. Bennett, who founded this club, and who still fosters it, should not lay down the law to offending members for such actions. If repeated it will soon undo all the good work done by the other clubs.

The fact that the club is a League club makes the matter still worse, for the Captain of such a club ought to know the rules of the road. The laws of Kentucky which regulate the toll by the number of wheels to a vehicle make it possible for turnpike companies to charge wheelmen toll. The laws of Ohio on the other hand, regulate toll by the number of horses, mules or asses by which the vehicle is drawn. If they said propelled instead of drawn such reckless riders would surely be obliged to pay toll.

"TEDDY" ALLSUP is now the bugler for the Crescents. That is one case where the man is eminently fitted for the office.

THE roads in this vicinity, owing to the dry weather, are so cut up and so full of dust and sand that club runs will be at a discount till we have some rain.

THE races to be held at the full mile driving park near Oakley on September 10 will be class races; none of them will be longer than a mile. This is done to interest new riders, as there are quite a number of wheelmen who have learned to ride since the first of January.

WHEN Harry Buckles started in that half-mile safety race we thought he was going to do something to add to the glory of the C. B. C., but the rest were in such a hurry that he came in last in the first heat. His friends believe that if he had given that ocarina a long rest his chances would have been better.

IT was hoped that Dr. Green would enter, as he says his new wheel runs so fast it almost runs away with him; but as he did not care anything for medals and as he wanted to give the rest a chance he would not contest. If the doctor were not so modest he might soon collect an array of medals and records that would completely eclipse Burroughs.

"TEDDY" ALLSUP has still one chance left. Mr. Bennett's road race will be run some time in September, and if he gets a liberal handicap he may possibly come to the front.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

I HAD a short chat with Bob Ehlert the other day, during which Bob confided to me the fact that he had withdrawn from the cinder path for good, in fact from all sports; that there was nothing in it, except lots of hard work and mighty little satisfaction for the time and labor expended. I told him that I understood that he had gone into training to challenge Lumsden, but that he certainly did not look as though he were training. "No," he said, "I am not training, have not the time now, even if I wanted to. But I'll tell you one thing, if I ever do go into training again, I will show them that I can give them all the go-by as easily as I did before, and don't you forget that." "And I may go into training next year just to take it out of Garden—but no, I am done with sports of all kinds for the present." Robert is still the same Robert of old as far as talk goes.

SOME "alleged" members of a certain bicycle club have started an "alleged" club at which can be heard the musical rattle of ivory chips. Everything has been lovely until the other evening, when a drunken Swede had a little trouble on the sidewalk in front of the said building, and refusing to be quieted by a "copper." The patrol wagon was called and, as the bets were being seen and raised in rapid succession with some 15 cold dollars in the pot, the noise of the wagon struck their ear-drums. A well known member gave one glance out of the window and said in a husky whisper, "Boys, it's the patrol wagon," and then the fun began. Two pair, three of a kind, and full houses had no attractions then, the gas was turned out instanter and a lively rush made for safety by back windows and some could not wait for the stair, but slid down the porch posts in true fireman style. When it was discovered that it was only the Swede the police were after, all gave a sigh of relief, and in a very dignified manner returned to the "aileged," via the front stairs, but the game was not resumed, the nerve of the players had departed. What a haul that would have been, as the party was composed of men well known as club men and prominent wheelmen.

THE Washington's had their house warming Saturday evening, and received with open arms all the wheelmen of the city who were fortunate enough to respond to the general invitation to be there. Burley Ayres was there. Burley is a director in the new club; whenever a new club is formed Burley's name is usually found on the membership list and nearly always in an official way. As Burley considers it his "bounden" duty to assist as many clubs into life and prosperity as possible, and especially if they are formed on the West side, not with any malice toward any older club, oh, no, that is, perhaps not. Between three and four hundred wheelmen called during the evening, and all voted the Washingtons jolly good fellows, and wished them success on the stormy sea of club life.

SLOAN says he is not responsible for the manner in which the recent alleged election was held, as Secretary-Treasurer Sheridan sent out all tickets, and that the first he (Sloan) knew of it was when he received his tickets. Quite a number of League members here only received one ticket, making it "Hobson's choice" with them all the way through. For fine work it strikes me that this election stands at the head. I should really like to hear from our worthy Secretary-Treasurer on this subject, and find out whether I am wrong in my understanding of the constitution. In other words is not the recent election entirely null and void?

GREENLEAF, of the Chicagos, will enter in the Hartford tournament.

THE bicycle thief only captured seven wheels in this town last week. Randall having his taken out of the Chicagos' club house, lock, chain, wheel and lantern. The ex-President thinks walking more dignified than riding at present.

HARRISBURG, PA.

"CYC."

THE aim of every wheelman or wheel club, and especially of an L. A. W., should be to seek out and welcome strangers within your gates. I have been touring and know how it makes one feel to be accosted from the sidewalk, or a man jumping off his wheel and greeting you with that "Hullo, there, L. A. W.?" "Cyc" must give Harrisburg the credit of doing her share of such welcomes and good cheer to visiting wheelmen. It is her characteristic, and a good one. Seldom does a wheelman go by without the notice of some one of us, and we do our best to entertain, and we know we succeed, as is apparent by the expressions from all on their departure. We invite all wheelmen touring our way to not pass us by. You will regret it if you do. Drop in at the "Locheil" and grasp our President's hand, and in five minutes he can have twenty of us there. The telephone does it, and we are always ready to come. We love to do it.

WE are more than sorry that we did not meet the gentleman that passed through our city last week, who rode an "Eagle." A few of the boys living along Market street were out of the city and he passed unnoticed. A wheelman (not of our number or an L. A. W.) spoke to him but did not as much as take him a square where he could have met two of our number. He did not even ask his name, and we learn since that he was an officer of the company, from Stamford. Come again, Mr. "Eagle," and we will send out our five-year-old Mascot and he will direct you to our offices.

I SEEM to have been misinformed as to the time that Chayne and Cook made that run from Dauphin. I have given it as 45 minutes, and they say that they made it in 33. However, this 33-minute run was made two years ago when the river road was in much better condition than now, and I am sure that it cannot be equalled under the present condition of the roads. H. B. Gerhardt on Tuesday last made the best run so far this season. Leaving Dauphin (upper hotel) at 5.55 P. M., he reached Market square at 6.35, 40 minutes' run. The Narrows were in bad condition (workmen there digging out the gutters and throwing the fresh dirt on the road), and the river road was in a very dusty state. He had three dismounts, the first at the stony hill above Rockville, to put on his coat, that had become unfastened; the second a "fall of" at Rockville, in turning out for a team; and the third at the "toll gate," to allow two teams with frightened animals to pass, making as near as he could tell a delay of two minutes. He has ridden his machine but two months, and is very much elated over the run. This will be the means of stirring up the boys, and we can look for other attempts at lowering this time. Who will be the first?

I UNDERSTAND that there is a movement "on the quiet" for the issuing of sufficient bonds to cover the paving of Second, Fourth and Sixth streets. If such be the case, and I have every reason to believe it is, it will give us five miles of paved streets, and we will be a jolly set.

LIEUTENANT ROHRER, Fry, Schooley, Keet, Roberts, Hutman, Chayne and Gerhardt were the guests of C. A. Shammo, at Halifax, on Sunday last. The first six went via Dauphin and the celebrated Peters Mountain, and Chayne and Gerhardt (who started later) took the route via Clark's Ferry and Canal. The former route was one of some three miles of mountain climbing, with occasional dismounts for the killing of black snakes that were seen, while the latter was along the Susquehanna, with beautiful scenery in view. Go where you will I doubt very much if you will obtain grander sights than along its banks. 'Tis true that we have not the good roads that other cities and surroundings can boast of, but give us a little more time and we will arrive at that point. A most delightful day was spent at the home of Christie, in the quiet town of Halifax, and we wish that we were summering there.

ED. L. FRY visited Manheim on Saturday and took part in the races, simply for practice, and did well considering the fact that he has not trained a day this year. He just received his wheel on Friday.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA.

"B. B. B. B."

"The Fort Dodge Chronicle proposes a plan by which it thinks the farmers may be interested in voting against the prohibitory laws. It is briefly to enact a license law with $1000 as the maximum and $250 as the minimum fee, one-half the money to go to the city or town, the remainder to the county to be used exclusively in the construction and repairs of country roads." This was clipped from one of our daily papers, and after a two-hundred-mile trip on my bicycle, and about three hundred by train, through the State, I have proof that it would be a wise law. Prohibition does not prohibit the abuse of liquor, but the roads of Iowa do prohibit enjoyable riding. I pushed my wheel through and over highways that are a disgrace to any State, and especially Iowa. Simply two depressions worn out by wagon wheels, with grass and weeds growing (shoulder high in some cases) on the ridge in the centre and on either side. That's on high ground, and in the bottoms after a slight rain the "gumbo" makes the road impassable to a bicycle and very hard wheeling for a wagon. I doubt that twenty continuous miles of good road can be found in Iowa.

Spencer, a small town in the northern part of the State, is blessed with a club of twenty-five wheelmen. Captain Snow, with three of the club, made a three-hundred-mile trip into Dakota last month.

While in Des Moines I learned that active preparations were being made for the division meet in connection with the State fair (September 3, 4, 5) The Chamber of Commerce has aided the cyclers in building a cinder track, and bicycling is on the boom in Des Moines. Mr. Hobson told me that the ladies were beginning to realize the pleasure and benefit derived from the two-wheeler, and that four young ladies had come to him for instructions and machines.

I wheeled over the paved boulevard that links Omaha to Council Bluffs, and as I flew along I could but think that that five mile level highway ought to develop some of the fast flyers in this section, and the miles of asphaltum pavement in Omaha gave me a clew to the strength of the Omaha Wheel Club.

With fear and trembling each week I read of the large number of ladies that are joining our ranks. I tremble for the appropriateness of the name of the League, for if this enrollment continues we will have to cast about for some other name. Wheelmen would hardly be in order.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

Rev. Sylvanus Stall, pastor of the Second English Lutheran Church, has returned to the city, after an absence of five weeks. Mr. Stall is an enthusiastic bicyclist, and during his vacation, in addition to other sports rode on his bicycle some five hundred miles through the Cumberland and Shenandoah Valleys.

The Frederick, Md., Cycle Club is making arrangements to establish itself in permanent headquarters, and to open a school for winter, and it is expected that the Armory building will be secured for that purpose. It is the desire of the club to be able to properly entertain the wheelmen of Baltimore and Washington when they visit that city, as they so frequently do. It is also the desire of the officers to increase the membership of the club.

A delegation representing the property owners, the cyclers of Baltimore and the drivers generally, had a talk last week with Mayor Latrobe with reference to improving the condition of Pimlico drive. The Mayor promised to contribute personally and also said that anything he could do in the matter should be done.

The meet of the Virginia Division at Norfolk, Va., last Monday, was attended by a number of Baltimoreans, among them Isaac Hinds, Armistead Webb, Chas. R. Eisenbrandt and Walter Ash.

The Chesapeake Club's moonlight excursion down the bay on the steamer Tolchester was an enjoyable one. The party numbered about 300. including many members from other clubs.

Louis Warrington has been elected Secretary of the Baltimore Club, in place of James Warwick, who resigned.

BUFFALO.

"ALI BABA."

A certain member of the Buffalo Bicycle Club now sings a cold water song. He is not a Prohibitionist; far from it. But he took to water last week as gracefully and naturally as if to the manner born. He did the gallant to one of his lady friends by inviting her to occupy the front seat on a tandem safety. They wheeled round the Front and saw the beautiful sunset reflected on the lake and river. After several moments of rapturous gazing they re-mounted and wheeled by way of the long route to the Park. The moon had risen and the night was perfect. Arriving at the Park Lake they dismounted as with one impulse, and the happy fellow engaged a boat, and in it they floated away, singing, dreaming and perhaps cooing. The conversation never lags. For the fortieth time they exclaim "isn't this beautiful?"—"charming, perfect?" etc. He can resist no longer; he suggests that the rear seat is too narrow. Wont you sit here? I will rest the oars. She rises; a happy smile illumines his countenance; she comes toward him. He is entranced; he moves to give place on his seat, the boat receives a sudden motion, she lost her balance and falls overboard. In an instant he plunged into the water, for where his heart is there is he also. By main strength he assisted her into the boat, and when he got in himself saw that it was half-filled with water. They stared at each other; she was frightened, and a trifle hysterical, while he is damp but still happy. After what seemed like an age, they arrived at the dock. The moon is still shining as they are homeward bound and happy, but they have had a thrilling experience, a very damp time.

Messrs Frank M. Brinker and John D. Milley, of the Buffalo Bicycle Club, issued a challenge several weeks ago, which has not been accepted. They offer to race any two wheelmen on the tandem safety residing in this city. The winners each to receive a medal or badge, of the value of fifty dollars each, at the expense of the losers. Let us by all means have this race. There will be no better time or place than this week or next at the International Fair grounds.

President Luscomb visited this city last week. He is a Captain in the Thirteenth Regiment, Brooklyn.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

Another painful chapter in connection with the history of poor "Jack's" death, is the story of a twin disaster in England. "Jack" was a warm friend of Sidney Lee's, of England, and the White Flyer Co. cabled him at once after the drowning. This cable was handed to Mr. Lee while he was at the Southern Counties' Camp, and within half an hour from the time of receiving cable announcing "Jack's" death Mr. Lee was in the water vainly trying to recover the body of another dear friend, Mr. S. Groves, who had been drowned within the previous thirty minutes. In fact, while he was reading the cablegram his friend in the water near by was drowning.

W. D. Banker, of Pittsburg, Pa., is credited with doing a half-mile straight-away in the splendid time of 1.12 2-5.

Chief Consul Emery of Massachusetts will take a party of Boston wheelmen down to Portland, Me., September 8, and will join the Portland Wheelmen in a run to Old Orchard and Prout's Neck.

Fred Coningsby, of Brooklyn, N. Y., wants to know why the New Jersey Division L. A. W. is so dilatory in sending him the medal he won in a hill-climbing contest a year ago.

Moses Sheriff and Clarence E. Temple, of Nashua, N. H., recently rode from that place to Boston and return, a distance of 110 miles, in the excellent time of 13h 42m., including stops of about 1h. 30m.

A member of the Elwell party thus sums up a few interesting facts of the great tour: "Since leaving Cork we have slept in forty-two different places and stopped at seventy-one hotels, twenty-nine of these being for dinner only. The distance ridden was about 1500 miles; some did more, others not so much, only one man rode the entire distance, W. H. Kirk of Philadelphia; R. B. White of Quincy, Ill., comes next. Photographs and pipes have been the articles most purchased, though quite a sum was put into watches, music boxes, wood carvings and dogs."

The programme of the Hartford tournament is at hand. It is replete with necessary and interesting information for those who will attend. It also contains a rousing appeal to wheelmen to join the L. A. W., and then gives knock-down arguments supporting the appeal. An interesting history of the Hartford Club is a feature.

A new asphalt pavement company has been formed in New York. The capital stock is $1,000,000. The new company is known as the Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company, and its directors are ex-Judge A. J. Dittenhoefer, C. S. Chamberlain, L. P. Mead, S. C. Clausen, W. C. Edgerton, Horace B. Freeman, H. W. Schmidt, Henry Balze and Julius Union. Among the above names will be recognized those well known in politics and business in New York. The company will make a strong bid for New York city contracts. Commissioner Gilroy in speaking of the new company says: "This new company uses the Sicilian asphalt. This, however, is an inferior article, and its use has been discontinued by London and Paris, where the best asphalt pavements are laid." The best asphalt comes from Trinidad, W. I.

5 Mile, Open Won by Wm. Van Wagoner on an EAGLE.

Although the only pattern of Eagle built this season, is a regular Road Machine and not designed for lightness, the riders of it are doing very fast work on the track. The model and construction of the Eagle is such that a rider can make faster time on the Eagle than on any other machine of the same weight.

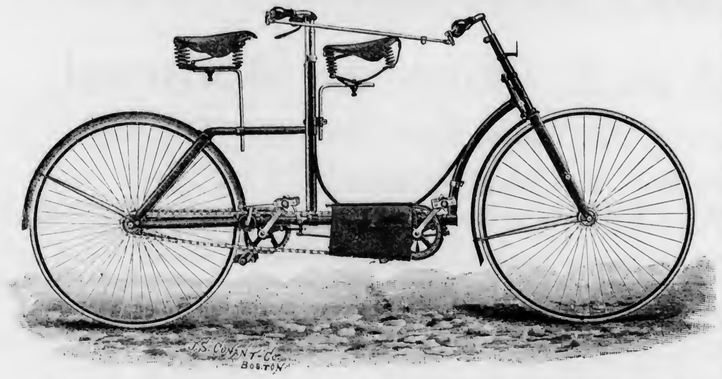
Many riders desire a spring fork. To such we offer the Club Spring Fork, (patented).

We claim for it the following advantages:—

It is the only spring fork that can have the tension of the springs adjusted to the weight of the rider.

It has absolutely no side play.



The springs give only when going over some obstacle, and therefore do not cause unnecessary vibration.

It can be converted into a rigid fork when desired.

It has had the test of two years service, and we have never had one break.

We are able to deliver Swifts, with spring fork, on receipt of order.

The Premier Months

for Enjoyable Cycling are September and October. The Roads are at their Best, the Air Clear and Bracing. The Happy Possessor of a Good Safety Spins along without Care or anxiety, and Fortunate, indeed, is the Man or Woman, who, owning a PREMIER, takes an Outing a-wheel at this time. We have the most Complete Line of Safety Bicycles on the market, perfectly adapted to the needs of Every Class of Rider and Either Sex. We do not believe in "all round" machines; a pair of cow-hide boots on the dainty feet of a society belle or patent-leathers in the farm-yard.

If you are interested send for a Copy of our New Illustrated Catalogue, describing Premier Safeties.

MR. HARRY PARK of Washington, D. C., says that we did not get the time between the cities of Baltimore and Washington low enough in the issue of 16th. The actual time made in riding from Baltimore to Washington was 5 h. 30 m., which is claimed as the record.

A COMPANY of blind English students will tour on bicycles from Boulogne to Paris, and they will visit the exposition. The bicycle used has four to eight wheels and can carry eight people. The blind men propel the machine, but it is a man who can see guides it.

THE next Union Run of the Mass. wheelmen will be to Nantasket Beach, Sept. 15th. Captains of clubs are requested to call their runs in accordance with the above notice and notify C. P. Cubberly, Somerville, Mass., as to the probable number of men that will attend.

THE Orange (N. J.) Wanderers have resolved to re-organize on a more economical basis, give up its club house, do away with the admission fee and reduce the annual dues, which will, however, include the members' dues in the League of American Wheelmen.

MONTPELIER, VT., authorities have adopted a set of rules regulating cycle riding in the parks. The fourth rule is we think the most remarkable "rule" we have ever seen; it reads, "no rider shall pass a pedestrian going in the same direction." The absurdity of that rule will be apparent to our readers.

THE Scranton, Pa., tourists have been having a fine time on their trip. In one or two cases where weather interfered they had to resort to railroad trains in order to make schedule time.

GEORGE W. BURSTON and H. R. Stokes, of the Melbourne, Australia, Bicycle Club, now in England, started on their trip Nov. 1, 1888. Out of nine months' touring, four months has been on the bicycle, an average of about 85 miles a day. They have ridden about 7000 miles. After riding about 1000 miles in Australia they went to Java, riding 150 miles, 50 miles to Penang, steamer to British Burmah, overland to Calcutta, 150 miles in Rangoon. In India they covered 2000 miles, remaining two months. Then the route lay through Egypt and Palestine, where 400 miles were ridden. Europe was entered at Sicily, and 50 miles were covered there. Across Europe they rode 1500 miles, and in England and Scotland as many. The route in Europe was Naples, Rome, Florence, Venice, the Italian lakes, Milan, across Switzerland and down the Rhine valley.

F. P. PRIAL, of the New York Bicycle Club, defeated G. B. Watts of the same club, by a vote of 125 to a vote of 121, as Representative for his club and district. Prial is a good worker, and it will be found that he will not be a nonentity in the official councils.

THE initial number of the Cyclist's Companion is at hand. It is issued monthly by Saml. A. Miles, 134 Van Buren St., Chicago. The first number contains a photo of A. Lumsden and A. B. Barkman, with an article on the former. Best world records are given, and the names of all Chief Consuls, League Hotels and other useful information will be found. The book is of convenient size to carry in the pocket. It occupies a field hitherto fallow, and the enterprise ought to succeed. Each issue will contain photographs of well known wheelmen.

LAST week Tuesday night, after dark, Mr. Marshall P. Allen of Worcester, while riding along on the right side of the boulevard, was deliberately run into by a horse and carriage driven by W. H. Putnam and H. B Francis. The rider was thrown high in the air over the carriage, and struck upon his head and shoulders on the hard road. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition, but he rallied sufficiently to be taken home in a carriage. Putnam and Francis were arrested by Detective Colby. Both men admitted that they were the persons in the team. Both Putnam and Francis claim that they were on the left side of the street and that Allen tried to pass from behind, but failed. They were not released, but the bail was fixed at $3000 each. The case will be continued until Allen is able to appear. At last advices Allen is conscious, but complained of severe pains in his head and back. His physician fears concussion of the brain.

REV. PAUL A. JACKSON, a colored clergyman, while riding recently on a tricycle, between S and T streets, Washington, D. C., was run into by a buggy driven by Mrs. Dr. Baggett. The tricycle was wrecked and Mr. Jackson thrown to the ground, and a hoof of the horse striking him in the fall he was badly cut, besides being bruised about the body. He was attended by Dr. Mannery, who sewed up the wounds, which it is said are not serious. The driver was not arrested.

W. D. BANKER accepts the challenge of Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, for a hill-climbing contest for the championship of the world, the contests to take place, one in St. Louis, one in Pittsburg and one on some neutral ground mutually satisfactory, and the contests to take place some time in the latter part of September.

DAN CANARY, will appear at Hartford not only as a trick rider, but it is said he will contend for honors in the safety races. This cannot be considered as reliable, as Mr. Canary is a professional.

A CLERGYMAN on the North Shore has been fined $2 and costs for riding a bicycle on the Danvers, Mass., sidewalks. The defendant stated that he did not wilfully disobey the law, but thought that he obeyed the spirit of it by using care not to discommode pedestrians.

A CARD OF THANKS.

The Massachusetts cyclists, who visited Halifax, N. S., during the Carnival holidays, desire to tender their sincere thanks to the Ramblers' Club of that place, for their many courtesies and unvarying kindness.

Notwithstanding that the Ramblers are not an active organization, each member did all in his power to make things pleasant for the visitors; and should the members of that club ever visit this place, we ought to vie with each other for their comfort and pleasure.

A VISITOR.

FOURTH ANNUAL TOUR OF THE OHIO DIVISION L. A. W.

ON the morning of August 13th about fifty members of the Ohio Division, under the direction of Chief Consul Kirkpatrick, formed in line in front of the Phillips House in Dayton, and at 8 o'clock started for Troy, twenty miles away. All arrived at this place in good time for dinner. The afternoon's run of twenty-two miles, to Sidney, via Piqua, was made at a rattling pace between showers of rain. A delegation of Sidney wheelmen met the tourists at Piqua and piloted them to their city. A band concert was given in the Court House square for the amusement of the tourists.

The business meeting was held at 9 P. M., of which your readers will be informed in the official columns. On Wednesday morning the start for St. Mary's, twenty-six miles away, was made at 8 o'clock. A hard shower during the night had washed the pike clean and the riding was most delightful. Three miles out of St. Mary's a stop was made, in the midst of St. Mary's gas field, the largest in Ohio. A well was "fired" and afterward "blown off" for the amusement of the wheelmen. For this entertainment and for many like favors the tourists are indebted to Mr. Willis Kishler, of St. Mary's. At this place Mr. Kirkpatrick was compelled by illness to give up riding, but managed to meet the tourists at each stopping place by rail. At 2 P. M. the tourists started for Lima, under the leadership of Mr. Morrow, the one-armed wheelman, who made the pace for the rest of the tour. The run to Wapakaneta, ten miles, was made in 52 minutes. After a brief stop saddles were resumed, and at 9 P. M. Lima was reached. No effort was made to entertain the wheelmen collectively, but individually they were the recipients of many kindly attentions from the Lima wheelmen.

On Thursday morning the start was made at 8 o'clock, and a lively run of nineteen miles brought us to Ada at 10 o'clock. This is the home of Mr. Morrow, and he had caused to be provided for us a bounteous lunch in the little park adjoining the depot. At 10.30 we were again on the road, and at 12.15 arrived at Kenton, having been met several miles out by a party of Kenton wheelmen, to whom we owe thanks for many favors. At 2 P. M. the start for the final run was made. This proved to be equally as pleasant as the preceding ones. The twenty-eight miles to Marion were made in three hours by the entire party. The distances covered were: Tuesday, 42 miles; Wednesday, 48 miles; Thursday, 64 miles; making a total for the three days of 154 miles. The attendance was not up to that of previous years, but the enjoyment to those who follow wheeling for the pleasure of riding was greater than on any previous tour. The roads were perfect, the weather superb, and a quiet night's rest at the end of the day's run far more enjoyable than an elaborate entertainment would have been. May we have many more of the same kind. "1346."

WITH THE IRISH CAMP IN THE HIGHLANDS.

IN CAMP, INVERUGLAS, LOCH LOMOND, AUGUST 10, 1889.

After a long day in the Scotch express from London to Glasgow the latter place was reached at 9 P. M. Then, after an hour, which we improved in getting supper, we continued on by the train to Balloch at the foot of the loch. It being too late to proceed further the night was spent at the C. T. C. Hotel in Balloch, and at 9 the next morning we were on the boat at Balloch pier for Tarbet, where the camp is pitched.

The boat carried its usual summer load of tourists—American and otherwise. It being close to the opening of the shooting season many amateur sportsmen, replete in all their glory of tweeds and knickerbockers, and with their guns, game baskets and dogs, were also aboard.

The sail up the beautiful Loch Lomond has been so often and so eloquently described that repetition here is hardly necessary. Suffice it to say that what with the mirror-like water reflecting all the glories of the purple heather-clad mountains, the charming wooded islets and the bright blue sky, the picture was one to stir the poetry in the soul of the veriest clod.

After zigzaging across to Luss and Rowardennan, and after 18 miles of the finest succession of picturesque views the boat arrived at Tarbet.

Thence a ride of three and a half miles of splendid road by the shore brought us to Inveruglas Water, a short distance from the side of which stream the Macredy tour had pitched its little village of tents. It was in the midst of a shower when we got in view of the camp, but that did not prevent good old Jack White, Mecredy and the other boys from rushing out to welome us.

This time it was "Welcome to Scotland!" "Welcome to the Land o' Cakes!" but none the less cordial than when some months back we were all greeted at Queenstown with "Welcome to Ireland!"

Ten minutes sufficed to become settled in comfortable quarters and get introduced to all. Then for a look about, the shower having ceased. There are 16 or 18 in camp, Irish, Scotch, English and the two Americans from the European tour, Mr. Fessenden and your humble servant. Additions were expected and that afternoon arrived, several Glasgow men and Mr. Jamieson from Dublin.

The six tents comprising the camp stand on a little plateau not 50 yards from the shore, with a high mountain wall behind, and before us a view for miles down the lake, with a wooded, castle-crowned islet in the near foreground, and old Ben Lomond lifting his cloud-capped head just across the loch.

The evening before we arrived all described as grand. The full moon shone in a cloudless sky just over Ben Lomond, every tree and mountain side being mirrored in the calm waters, and all sat up till after midnight singing the good old songs as only the Irish boys can sing them, and enjoying the magnificence of the scene.

To switch off to more prosaic subjects, the commissariat, which is excellent, is under the control of a good-natured Dublin man, "Brien O'Linn," specially engaged for the tour. This relieves the party from all the labor of getting meals ready and doing kitchen work. Brien, who by the way has fought both in Afghanistan and Egypt, as well as in India, hails from New Haven, Conn., and consequently we look on him as in some sort an American. All the day long, amid his pots and kettles, he is the jolliest story-teller, and in the evenings when the "Ballyhooley" circulates and all are gathered round the camp-fire, Brien's songs are among the best of the lot, and what is more, of his own composing. Thus we have for a cook a traveller and a poet.

Breakfast anywhere from 8 to 10 A. M., lunch about 1 P. M., and dinner at 7 in the evening. After dinner when darkness has come on all gather round the fire and sing.

We have "Ballyhooley" (the song as well as the genuine article), "Killaloo," "Enniscorthy," "Father O'Flynn," and many another roaring chorus from both Irish and Scotchmen. At the end of the evening comes a medley of national songs ("Hail Columbia" not forgotten), "Auld Lang Syne," and ending of course with a reverential "God Save the Queen" (forgive us); then to the tents, and soon all is silent and the photograph fiends are changing their plates.

The days were spent at Inveruglas in wheeling excursions for those who wished, in rowing (visiting across the loch Rob Roy's Cave and Inversnard), and in bathing, photo-ing and lounging. The weather, save for one bad day and sundry showers, has been propitious, for which all are thankful.

To-day, Sunday, Aug. 11th, was fine, without heat or cold in excess. In the afternoon a service was held on the island opposite the camp, for those who wished to attend. Many ladies and gentlemen came from Tarbet and Ardlin, so that there was quite a congregation. Afterwards many of them paid us a visit and took tea around our camp fire. It is early to bed to-night, for to-morrow morning we strike camp and then off through the Trossachs to Callander and so to Loch Tay, at Killin, our next camping place.

In camp at Killin, Loch Tay, Monday, Aug. 12th, P. M.—Up at 6 A. M., we had breakfast over and the camp struck before 7.30. At 8 came the van into which all the tents and chattels were loaded, Brien taking charge of them as well as of all our personal luggage. He had fourteen miles to the train, while we riding to Tarbel took steamer across to Inversnaid.

Here may be mentioned what to American eyes may seem an imposition One must pay a trifle (three-pence) for the use of the pier in order to board the boat, and again at Inversnaid a man stands at the gate demanding blackmail for using the pier to debark from! If a railroad company should collect toll for the use of its stations what an outcry there would be! It strikes me that the case in point is similar, since the steamboat company could not carry on its business without landing places, which are built not so much for their patrons' convenience as for their own.

However it may be, this item shows one difference between America, a free country, and Great Britain, where one almost pays for breathing. Pardon the digression. From Inversnaid, the road (only fairly decent) runs through the wild passes to Loch Katrine six miles. At Stronachacher pier all took boat up the gem of the Highlands, Loch Katrine, past Ellen's Isle, and Ben Venne to Trossachs pier. Here, after photoing extraordinary, wheels were mounted and the nine or ten miles of coach road through the Trossachs made through heather clad hill-sides, and past lovely loch and tarns to Callander, the road, twenty-three miles, lay up hill past Loch Lubnaig, Loch Earn, and through Glen Ogle to Killin on Loch Tay.

On arriving, eight by rail, the others by wheel, we found Brien had the camp pitched a mile outside the town in a meadow on the bank of River Lochaya, a most beautiful spot.

Whatever remained to be done was soon over and then after tea and chops all were glad to turn in by 10 P. M. At Callander we were joined by two Scottish cyclists who were on a camping tour of their own. They camped the night with us, but were up and off early this morning.

This our second camp is situated in Glen Lochray, a mile from Killin. The winding river makes our camping ground almost an island, and on every side about half a mile distant circles the ampitheatre of purple mountains. The tent flags float bravely in the breeze, the sun shines brightly, and everything points to a pleasant camp.

Wednesday morning we strike camp for Perth where we are to be dined and meet a great gathering of Scotch cyclists at their annual race-meeting. There also Kirk, Schnieder, and others of the European Tour should join the party, which now numbers nearly thirty. A dance is on the programme for to-night. Bagpipes furnish the melody (?) and the villagers have been invited. Runs are on to-day to Loch Tay and Glen Ogle. Of our futher journeyings in Perth Edinburgh and Galashiels, more hereafter.

PEDALS.

IN THE LAND OF THE "MIDNIGHT SUN."

"Say, fellows, what's i-j-k?" "Don't know; let's go in and bite some," replied the other three to Rosey's inquiry in Rotterdam, upon seeing a sign in the window of a bakery. So the four of the Elwell European tourists who were going to Norway entered, called for four pieces of i-j-k, and had some ice cream brought out. This shows one of the delights of travelling abroad, to see what the people eat and what they call it, and many a time did we call for some oddly named dish only to find an old friend oft times partaken of at home.

It took only two days in Rotterdam to become thoroughly disgusted with Dutch cheating and over-charging, caused perhaps by high taxation of the people. Why, even the number of windows and servants are taxed in Holland. Accordingly Frank Elwell, Harry Wilson, W. C. Roseboom and J. E. Beal took ship and left Rotterd—n (accent on last syllable), glad to get away. A pleasant three days' sail due north, up the North Sea, brought us to Bergen in Norway, the time having been well passed in learning Norwegian from the pretty stewardess of the steamer, a tall Swedish blonde, who hailed from Christine Nilsson's home, she herself being a fine singer.

At Bergen everything was found more new and strange than had been experienced. Here we were as far north as Greenland and Alaska, yet we could sit out in the park, listening to the band, at nine in the evening without an overcoat. Moreover, at 9 P. M. it was light enough to read fine print out of doors. Here we start in on a fish diet, which is to be maintained through the country, interspersed with reindeer meat and cheese, four kinds of which are always on the table at every meal. One cheese is brown and made of goat's milk, having but little taste.

A little railway of 67 miles starts us up the unrideable mountain, charging us over a cent a mile for the wheels, but it takes half a day for the little engine to puff up the grade, for it had to back up several times and try again the stiff ascent. When the safeties were mounted the mountain was found still above us, and we kicked up to a post station called Vinje, where supper, breakfast and a good room cost only 84 cents. Norway is the cheapest country to travel in, as $15 a week will give a wheelman the best the country affords.

The summit is crowned by an elegant hotel where there was an immense rush for dinner, the tourists arriving in carrioles from both directions. However, with our wheels we always beat them and got into the hotels in time for rooms, although many others coming in late had to move on to the next station, usually ten miles away. This they would do after the due amount of "cussing," to our considerable amusement. There were no towns of any size for the 160 miles across country, and the station houses could only accommodate twenty or thirty guests.

The view from Stalheim's hotel on the summit is a most magnificent one of snow-capped mountains on all sides and a deep valley in front, down which we are to plunge 900 feet in a half mile. Of course we promenaded, holding the wheels back with all our might, and were guyed by some jolly English girls who were walking up, who asked us why we did not ride down. Below, a fine road brought us to a narrow arm of one of the fiords of the sea running far inland. Thence by steamer to Laerdalsoren, through the most majestic scenery, of mountains rising straight up from the water to a height of 2000 and 3000 feet, with snow on their crowns and huge waterfalls pouring down their sides into the sea. The rocks had but little verdure, and as no one could live in those barren places nothing could be wilder. The boat landing two kilometres from the hotels there was a wild scramble ashore to grab carrioles and rush to town. By the aid of our trusty wheels we arrived first, had rooms engaged in time to see the crowd puff up and cuss.

Next morning the ride across Norway began in earnest, by a 42-mile ride up hill to Nystuen, a post station on the summit, 3250 feet above our breakfast place. Walking was quite good enough for the steeper places, yet the grade was remarkably even, with many a mile of it cut out of the solid rock along deep ravines. Great waterfalls were continually falling into the little roaring stream which we ascended, and all the way across the country one is not beyond the sound of falling waters. Half way up an old stavekirke, built in the twelfth century, arrested our attention. It is the best preserved "old timer" in Norway, and had the most extraordinary and fantastic gables, steep roofs and external passages, but the most remarkable thing about it was the total lack of windows. Only two doors admitted air and people and light. Inside was an altar and reindeer horns. The building somewhat resembles a Chinese pagoda and is one of the architectural curiosities of the world. On one of the doors is a Runic inscription: "Thorer wrote these lines on St. Olaf's fair."

At Nystuen it was very cold and it took three undershirts to keep us comfortable with the able assistance of a fire. Near by a herd of 1400 reindeer was feeding, tended by some Lapps. The deer's food is the short grass growing between the rocks in high altitudes, while their meat is tender and without much fibre. Good fishing and hunting abounds up in these ranges.

On starting the next morning we found the bottom had dropped out of the country and a descent of nearly 1400 feet was to be made in the next ten miles. So we loaded the wheels on a cart and walked down, but the twenty-seven miles afterwards to dinner were rapidly reeled off with plenty of coasting helped by a lively breeze astern. We rode through pine forests, skirted great lakes with awful names and over capital roads. Occasionally a stop was made to grab a dish of berries which little girls came out to offer. Then when we gave them a coin they would shake hands with us very gravely, this being the Norwegian custom to denote satisfaction at the fee given.

The afternoon was passed in coasting again along lakes with the wind still with us, and through ravines where cataracts shot under the road all white in their swift descent from the snow above. At Fagernaes, the stopping place for the night, Wilson and "yours truly" took a swim in the lake whose waters were clear as crystal and just off the ice. It goes without saying that we did not dally long in the water after swimming out a ways and back to shore.

A goodly climb awaited us next forenoon up to a noted resort called Tonsaasen's Sanatorium, where people go to take needle baths, the pine needles making healthy bathing water. These baths are about 40 cents, and are like those given at Sharon Springs for $1.50. While we were busy eating, the weather was busy raining; but when we had cleared the table the wind had cleared the clouds, and we proceeded to a lively coast of seven miles, scarcely touching the pedals. Although there was mud, and a little head-wind the road was so well laid out and made that your correspondent easily made the 24-mile run in two hours and a half, without a stop or leaving the saddle. This town of Odnaes is on the lake where we take boat and car for Christiana, passing through, along the lake, quite a wild mountainous region, while the train took us down into a country like the Mohawk valley.

Notwithstanding it is said to rain six days out of seven along the western shore, we were in luck in having it rain in the nights after our day's run. In consequence of this the farmers have to dry their hay and wheat on wires stretched from poles, hanging it across like clothes on a line, making a field look as though it had so many hurdles up for a race.

English went well enough usually, but Rosey was kept busy along the road for two days getting string to tie on his tire, which had become loose. The more the peasants did not understand, the louder Rosey would yell "string," spelling it out: "s-t-r-i-n-g."

The honesty of the people is marvellous, and their trust in travellers equally so, as in settling a hotel bill they leave it to you to tell what extras you had. For instance, as you enter the general room you will ordinarily see a box of cigars standing on a table and close at hand another table with photographic views and trinkets for sale. No one about the hotel is around, and if you want any of these things you help yourself, telling the landlord about it, if you choose.

Their simplicity, too, is often amusing. For instance, the chamber maid at the hotel, soon after your arrival comes in without knocking, to fix the room- Elwell was not familiar with this little "custom of the country" and was surprised while taking a sponge bath. He was more scared than the girl was.

Norway is just becoming popular and tourists are already rushing in; occasionally a "bold bicycler," and in the near future "wheels" will be a common way of "doing" this country. It certainly is the ideally independent way to see the land of the Vikings.

COMING EVENTS.

AT PEORIA, ILL.—The Peoria Bicycle Club will give a tournament October 4 and 5, and a cordial invitation is extended to all amateur wheelmen to attend. The half-mile track is of a clay surface and is one of the fastest in the country. A programme for the entertainment of visiting wheelmen is in preparation, and will include many runs to various points of interest within easy riding distance from Peoria, over fine gravelled roads to Prospect Hill, Big Hollow, the River Road, etc., a theatrical party or complimentary concert, etc., etc., and probably a ball. The Peoria Bi. Club will keep open house during the meet, and particular pains will be taken to entertain visiting wheelmen—particularly those from a distance. Peoria is the second city in the State, and there are thirteen railroads passing through it, thus it will be seen that it is easy to get at. The town is happy in the possession of pretty girls, good hotels, well paved streets and excellent roads.

Next week we shall publish a list of events and prizes.

AT WILMINGTON, DEL.—A twenty-five-mile club handicap road race will be held by the Wilmington Wheel Club on Saturday, October 19th, 1889. A time limit of fifteen minutes will be placed on the local men, and Messrs. Dampman, McDaniel, Merrihew, Elliott and perhaps one or two others from the Wilmington Club will start from scratch. Entries are invited from riders from other cities who will be placed on scratch with them. The time limit and the fact that the best men of the Wilmington Club will start from scratch, make it practically a scratch race. A bicycle (probably a Victor) will be given as first prize, and there is a possibility of two bicycles being offered. The minor prizes will consist of cycling accessories, etc., and the total number of prizes will not be less than ten and probably will much exceed this. The first and third prizes will be awarded to the makers of the fastest and next fastest times, and the second and all other prizes will go to the men as they finish, except, however, that the winners of the first and third prizes shall not be entitled to any others, no matter what position they get. The course is twelve and one-half miles straight-away and return, starting at Wilmington and going south on the State road. The start and finish are on an oyster shell road extending about one and one-half miles, which is usually as good as a race track. The remainder of the road is composed of gravel, clay and sand, and while it is by no means "sand-papered" yet it can easily be ridden without a dismount. Judging from the time that has been made on the road, it should be ridden in a race in 1.40 or less. The entrance fee is $1, and must invariably accompany the entry. Send entries and apply for all information to S. Wallis Merrihew, Chairman Race Committee, 906 Jackson street, Wilmington, Del.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The Springfield (Mass.) Bicycle Club has arranged for a fifty mile road race September 13, to be ridden from Springfield to Hartford Ct., and return, in which several Hartford riders will probably enter. The first prize is a new bicycle.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 10-11.—Wheel Tournament.—The Hotel Bennett will be League headquarters. There are other first-class houses, the Arlington, Lewis, Crandall and Globe; plenty of room for the biggest kind of a crowd. Chief Consul Bull will referee the races. Official programmes have been sent to every League member in New York State and Pennsylvania. If you have not received one send to E. H. Towle, Binghamton, N. Y.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION STATE MEET.—The committee for the Pennsylvania-Division Meet of the League of American Wheelmen have concluded arrangements with the Trunk lines to issue return certificates to all points east of Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Salamanca, N. Y.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Bellaire, O.; Wheeling and Parkersburg, W. Va.; except in the New England States. Parties training to the Pennsylvania meet at York, Sept. 2nd and 3rd, will pay full fare to York, asking for return certificates, and upon leaving York they will pay but one-third return fare. Those coming from New England or points west of the above named places, should procure certificates from the nearest station to their starting point. Taxis of the Athletic Club, and the Schuylkill Navy, has entered all the races.

AT WORCESTER, MASS.—Further particulars are at hand in regard to the cycle races to be held under the auspices of the Bay State Wheelmen, Sept. 14th. The following prizes have been given by business firms. Worcester Daily Telegram, a gold medal for the 2-mile county championship race; this medal to be won three times before it becomes the property of any one man; Heywood Boot and Shoe Co., one pair of bicycle shoes; W. E. Bowen, one pair of bicycle shoes; A. L. Burbank & Co., a revolver; Iver Johnson, breech-loading shot-gun; E. B. Clapp, bicycle jersey; W. H. Larkin, traveling bag; Edward Moulton, a silver cup; Samuel Winslow, Jr., a pair of fine ice skates; Charles M. McFarland, an elegant siver cup; C. B. Fellman, a box of Havana cigars; Overman Wheel Co., one pair of ball pedals; J. Frank Quinn, a silk umbrella; F. S. Holland & Co., a Safety bicycle lantern; Kenworthy and Chadwick, silk umbrella; J. K. Brown, one pair of bicycle shoes.

HARTFORD, Sept. 2, 3.—There are over three hundred entries on the programme of the Hartford Tournament. Among them are George M. Hendee, who enters in all the safety races; F. F. Ives and L. A. Miller; A. C. and W. D. Banker, tandem champions; C. E. Champbell, the New York State champion; P. S. Brown, Bailey Brothers, the well known tandem and safety racers; Clark, Schofer and Rich; Clark of Plantsville, the champion Yale rider; Forster, Harding, Cornell, Dresser, Wood, Shea and King of the Hartford Wheel Club; Pickett and Backus; Mount Scott, the Rhode Island champion, and B. T. Bruce, F. A. Dellebarre, and many other fast riders well known throughout the country. Van Wagoner of Newport, who made the phenomenal time of 2.48 with his hands tied behind him, will be on hand and race.

AT BERKELEY OVAL, NEW YORK.—On September 7th, the Berkeley Athletic Club will give its second annual race meeting, rain or shine, open to all amateurs; L. A. W. rules to govern. The right is reserved to reject entries. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given in each event where four or more come to the scratch. Prizes on exhibition at A. G. Spalding's, 241 Broadway, and G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th street. Events—1, quarter-mile heat race, open; 2, half-mile dash, open; 3, one-mile open; 4, one-mile 3.10 class; 5, one-mile 3.00 class; 6, one-mile safety, rover type, open; 7, two-mile tandem, open; 8, two-mile lap race; 9, two-mile handicap, open; 10, three-mile team race (three men); 11, one-mile novice Grounds may be reached in 17 minutes from Grand Central Depot, and in six minutes from Sixth Avenue elevated by N. Y. and Northern R. R. Entrance fee $1 for one event and 50 cents for each additional. Team race entrance fee, $3 per team. Prize, an embroidered banner. Entries close September 3d, with Dr. W. L. Savage, 19 W. 44th street, New York City.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.)

AT MONTREAL, CANADA, August 24.—Track.—At the Montreal Bicycle Club's annual meeting last Saturday, W. Van Wagoner of Newport, R. I., won the five-mile race in 15m. 37 4-5s., and the mile race in 2m. 56s.

AT CARTHAGE, OHIO.—The weather was very favorable for the races at Carthage, Ohio, last week, and the track in as good condition as it ever has been. A strong head wind, however, was blowing up the home stretch. First race 2 miles. Foddy took the lead and Rowe 2nd. This position was kept until reaching the one-and-three-quarter mile pole when Rowe spurted and gained a lead of 100 ft but when within the same distance from the finish he ran into a hole in the track and took a bad header. D. V. Knight of Washington, C. H., finished first in 6 33, Walter Foddy 2nd in 6 34. Four starters. Second race half mile dash, 4 starters. R. C. Anderson 1st in 1.22 4-5, Lev. Perin 2nd in 1 23, Robt. Bahmann 3rd in 1.30, "Teddy" Allsup dropped out. Third race 1 mile, 4 starters. C. M. Holloway 1st in 3 09 1-5. Chas. Roth 2nd in 3.10 Fourth race 3 miles, 3 starters. Vint Perin 1st 10.8 1-5; Lev. Perin 2nd by 6 inches. Watcher 3rd by 10 ft. This race had the appearance of an attempt on the part of Lev. to keep Watcher in a pocket so that Vint could win. From Vint's frantic efforts and the way his wheel wobbled no one thought he would win, as Watcher's steady and easy riding made him the favorite from the start. Lev. admitted that he had fouled Watcher, but when brought before the referee he denied it. Fifth race 1-2 mile Rover type safeties, best two in three. Won by Theodore Klaus in 1.36 1-5 and 1.37. 4 starters. Sixth race 1-4 mile Rover type safety, boys under 14. Won by Stanley Hooker in 59 1-5, 5 starters. The attendance of wheelmen was unusually large.

The Carthage fair is held at Carthage Ohio 4 miles outside of the city limits.

AT CHICAGO, Aug 24.—Road.—The long talked of Chicago-Illinois Club team race is now a matter of history. The excitement was at fever heat and partisanship ran high. The hour for starting was set at 4.30, and at this time the sun had come out and a warm and agreeable breeze was blowing from the westward. The race was over the Madison Street Course, from Oak Park to Fortieth. Distance 4 1-2 miles. Part of the route was rutty and dusty enough to suite the taste of the roughest road rider. At the hour of starting 1000 spectators were assembled; one-third of this number were ladies wearing the club colors of the favorite club. Exactly at 4.30 Van Sicklen, Geo. Thorne, Lumsden, Winship, Bogue, for the Chicago team and, Tuttle, Meyers, Loveday, Otto Maas and Corlin for the Illinois club, got the word "go" from starter Fordham. Tuttle at once cut out a hot pace for two miles; Winship tried his best to head the Illinois crack. Tuttle wouldn't have it and Win. had to drop back to fifth place. Then Van Sickler went for the leader, but the white-clad Tuttle still stuck to the first place and was never headed. It was exciting time at the finish, as the Illinois man (Tuttle) showed up with a good lead. My! how those Illinois fellows did shout; but then came four Chicago men all in a string, and then the Chicagos went wild as they knew they had the race. The results:

	Name and Club.	Time. M. S.	Illinois. Points.	Chicago. Points.
1.	Tuttle, Illinois - -	11 55	10	—
2.	Van Sicklen, Chicago -	12 20	—	9
3.	Geo. Thorne, Chicago -	12 20 1-2	—	8
4.	Lumsden, Chicago - -	12 40	—	7
5.	Winship, Chicago - -	12 42	—	6
6.	Meyer, Illinois - -	13 01	5	—
7.	Loveday, Illinois - -	13 20	4	—
8.	Otto Maas, Illinois - -	13 50	3	—
9.	Bogue, Chicago - -	14 00	—	2
10.	Corlin, Illinois -	Did not finish.	1	—

Chicago, 32 points. Illinois (counting Corlin), 23.

Tuttle was used up and had to be helped down, but he soon recovered. Bogue took a header but finished. Corlin took two headers and was trken home in a carriage. The Illinois refused to race unless the Chicagos would put up a forfet of a certified check for $50. The Chicagos did so and then made the Illinois club follow suit. The prize will be an elegant silver cup purchased with the $50. Now if the directors of the Chicago club could only absorb some of the "get up and get" of its team they can keep the Chicagos at the head of the list.

The third of the Illinois Club road races resulted as follows: Simmons, handicap, 3. 15., time 38 10. 1: Tuttle, scratch, 35 10. 2: Dole, handicap 1.30 3: O'Connell, h. 3.15. 4: Street, h. 2.15. 5: Ottoman, h. 1.06. 6: Henninger, h. 3.06. 7.

AT HAMILTON, ONT.—Aug. 21.—Track.—The inaugural meet of the Hamilton Bicycle Track and Athletic Association was held last week Wednesday; the races were witnessed by fully 5000 people. The track, which is a new one, was good, but the corners were not banked enough. The American contingent did well. Campbell and Connolly took the cream of the open events. The events and results were: Two miles novice, D. S. Gibson (1), G. S. Dunn (2); time 7.08 One mile open, W. S. Campbell (1), J. Rassicoe (2); time 3 19 4-5 One mile, 3 40 class, G. S. Dunn (1), D. S. Gibson (2); time 3.19. Three mile lap race, W. S. Campbell (1), J. Rassicoe (2); time 9.56 One mile safety, W. F. Gassler (1), C. J. Connolly (2); time 3.07 1-2. One mile Wentworth County championship, C. S. Dunn (1), H. Duffield (2); time 3.33 2 5. Half-mile open, W. S. Campbell and J. Rassicoe ran a dead heat, but on Campbell refusing to run it over Rassicoe was awarded the first prize, time 1.27. One mile, 3.10 class, W. S. Campbell (1), W. M. Carman (1); time 17.56 In this race P. A. Pratt of Rochester, N. Y., who finished 4th, rode a safety. How will this effect the L. A. W. standing of the contestants? Two mile club handicap, C. S Dunn scratch (1), N. Dixon, 75 yards (2); time 6 33. Half mile, hands off, J. H. Gerrie (1), E. W. Walbourne (2); time 1.45. Half mile, ride and run, C. J. Connolly(1), J. D. Lamont (2); time 2.07.

AT EAST GREENWOOD, R. I., August 22.—Road.—The 17-mile handicap road race, from East Greenwood, R. I., to Silver Hook, took place last week Thursday, and was handsomely won by Charles H. Weld, from scratch, with W. Weeden (6 minutes handicap) 23 seconds behind Weld. W. C. Miller (2 minutes handicap) finished third, about 4 minutes behind the second man, Weeden. The only accident was that of L. W. Fiske, who took a bad header and had to be taken home in a carriage. The injuries were more painful than dangerous. The results are: Charles H. Weld (scratch), first: W. S Weeden (6 minutes), second; W. C. Miller (2 minutes), third; time, 1h. 4m. 50s.

IN ENGLAND.—In the 10 mile professional race, run at Wolverhamton Monday, Aug. 6, Ralph Temple ran second to R. English after a very hot finish, beating such cracks as Robb, T. English, Allard, R. Howell and W. Wood. The first three ran Howell and Wood clean off their feet. The record-beaters have also been paring down the records across the pond, and the following are samples: At Paddington, July 30, J. E. L. Bates, on a safety, took into camp from 26 to 40 miles the world's record for safety and the English record for any kind of cycle:

At Paddington, Aug 1, Dr. E. B. Turner of the Ripley Road Club cut the tricycle world records of Edge, Moorhouse and Bower from 22 miles to 50 inclusive, as follows:

Chas. F. Stokes,

OF

CHICAGO,

Has just given the Springfield Bicycling Manufacturing Co. the largest order for high-grade Bicycles (for immediate delivery) in the history of the trade. Several hundred Speedwell Safeties are now on their way to the great metropolis of the West, whilst Stokes' gold is clinking in the coffers of their makers. Our motto is "Buy for cash and get all there is in it." We bought for spot cash and can sell accordingly, therefore they go fast. The "Speedwell" lists at $115—just $20 less than any other wheel of a like grade. They must be sold inside of the next 60 days. They have got to go. East, West, South or North, it matters not so long as they go and cash comes in!

If you are in want of a thoroughly reliable, high-grade Safety that will give satisfaction to all, place your orders early. They won't stay long at the prices we intend to sell them to the trade.

The Springfield Bicycle Mfg. Co. are famous as makers of high-grade bicycles and their name is a guarantee of the best that can be made. The "Speedwell" cannot be surpassed for strength and durability, elegance in design and finish, lightness in running and steering, and simplicity of construction. The material used is absolutely the best that money can buy or experience select.

The Stokes' "Leader" Safety for boys is still on top. It stands in a class of its own, and, in accordance with its name, leads all other 24-inch safeties. We have several hundred now ready for immediate delivery and more coming. This wheel is suitable for youngsters ranging in age from 8 to 16 years; price $40. Liberal discount to agents. Write quick for prices on as many as you can use. All the wheels must go with the season, the best riding part of which is yet to come.

We do not expect to have to advertise these wheels again, and would advise you to "get inside now" and save money. Agents and wheelmen, both present and prospective, are requested to write for circulars and prices.

Seem to be infusing into the SUPERANNUATED and infirm the country over, the idea that, by a squirt of ELIXIR VITÆ they are to be rejuvenated, join the festive youth in CYCLE RIDING, BASE BALL, LAWN TENNIS, DANCING, "SITTING UP WITH THE BEST GIRL," &c., &c.

Will they accomplish these wonderful results?" "QUIEN SABE?"

We all know the magic effects of TRANSFUSION of BLOOD, the restoration of circulation, the pink tinge to the pallid cheek, the gradually-increasing strength, the return to health of the apparently MORIBUND. We know the OLD BEAU, or mayhap the FADING BELLE, simulate youth by an appeal to RECAMIER, HAIR VGIOR and VEGETINE, and with restored confidence—— but away with all this. What is the need of growing old?

We will give you a recipe for perpetual youth—— spectators than has ever turned out before on a similar occasion. The track was in splendid condition, and the time made was good. W. Van Wagoner, of Newport, R. I., won the five-mile open in 15m. 37 4-5s., and the one-mile in 2m. 56s. He also entered in the half-mile, but did not finish. This race was won by W. A. Langham, of Belleville, Ontario, in 1m. 21 4-5s., being two fifths of a second under the record. The other events were only of local importance.

IOWA CENTURY RUN.—Mr. J. E. Babcock, of Muscatine, Iowa, claims the honor of making the first century run for that State. He left Muscatine at 4.25 and went through Sweetland Centre and Blue Grass to Davenport, Iowa, and crossing the Mississi, pi there he went through Rock Island to Moline, Ill., and then back to Rock Island, where he arrived at 9.20, with 40 miles to his credit. After a short rest he returned the way he had gone to Sweetland Centre and then came home through Wilton, which place he left at 6.15, with 86 1-2 miles, and arrived home at 8.02, with 100 1-32 miles, cyclometer measure, in the total time of 15 hours and 37 minutes, and a net riding time of 12 hours and 7 minutes.

AT MANHEIM, PA., August 24.—Track.—Half-mile novice, Aloni Reist (1), J. C. Tragressor (2); time, 1.26. Half-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1), D. H. Miller (2); time, 1.28 1-4. One-mile Manheim Club championship, R. Ressler (1), P. C. H. Sharpe (2); time, 3.45 1-2. One-mile handicap, W. W. Taxis, 20 yards (1); Geo. F. Kahler, 80 yards (2); time, 2 55. One-mile tandem race, a walk-over for Messrs. Rose and Rudy; time, 3.12 1-2. Two-mile lap race, W. W. Taxis, 11 points (1); D. H. Miller, 6 points (2); time, 7m. One-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1), H. Y. Yost (2); time, 3 16. One-mile consolation, Jno. Firrell (1), W. S. Oberlin (2); time 3.22.

AT SEDALIA, MO., August 23.—Track.—The Sedalia Fair Association gave a number of bicycle races in connection with their other attractions, Friday, August 23, and it seems wired to St. Louis for racers. For some reason the affair was kept very quiet, and as a consequence the only local rider who competed for the prizes was V. P. Ring, who had a walk-over, winning the half-mile Central Missouri championship in 1m. 22s; Don Lingo (2), Joe. H. Kelly (3). Medals won in this manner may be nice to look at, but are no criterion of a racing man's speed. LINNEUS.

AT CAMBRIDGEPORT, MASS.—Capt. Kehew, of the Port club are perfecting arrangements for the annual twenty-five mile road race for the championship of the club and the Sanborn gold medal now held by Charles E. Fay. A dozen members have already signified their intention of participating. The race takes place the latter part of September.

THE Warwick Cycle Mfg. Co., of Springfield, Mass., has for the past two weeks been hard at work taking inventory and getting matters and machinery in shape for a big and increasing business for 1890. The cycles they will turn out will practically be the same as this year's, with such modifications and improvements as experience has taught will enhance the excellence of the machine.

A CORRECTION.—Catford Premier Safety. In our notice of this machine the types made us say 3-16, instead of 13-16 diameter of rear tire. The generous rubbers of the Catford in combination with its light weight, constitutes one of its greatest advantages.

A SHORT time ago we recorded the assault of a lady and gentleman while riding a tandem bicycle through Edgeworth by a so-called man. We are pleased to be able to add the sequel which we take from the court news of a Malden, Mass., paper: "Edward Nagle of Malden, for assault upon Mr. and Mrs. McArthur, while they were journeying through Edgeworth on their bicycle, was fined $10 and costs."

MR. STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER has lately made arrangements whereby he becomes a member of the Strong & Green Cycle Co., of Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Whittaker is well known to the cycling world, not only as a phenomenal rider, but also as a hustler in the cycle trade. His long connection with Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery has given him great experience in the trade. Mr. Whittaker sailed for England, on "City of Paris," last Wednesday, on business bent. We wish the new combination success.

IN a recent second-hand list and in advertising a job lot of 300 Vineyard bicycles recently purchased by Rouse, Hazard & Co., they are in error in describing them as the same as the Recruit "Columbia," built under the supervision of the Pope Manufacturing Co. They are in fact the same as the "Recruit," formerly sold by the Pope Manufacturing Co., but the Pope Co. never gave them the name Columbia, simply calling them the Recruit, and did not supervise their manufacture.

MR. E. L. WHITNEY, of Kingsville, Ohio, writes: "I would like to inquire the best route from Cleveland, O. to Delaware, also concerning hotels." Will some one help the gentleman out?

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS:

12 Pearl Street, - - - - Room 27

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

WE have had several communications appealing to the National organization for assistance in the prosecution of legal contests. These have come from States where there are well-organized divisions and all such have been referred to the division officers. The system under which the League is now organized puts upon the divisions all such work as this, and that they may have the wherewithal to carry on the work they are allowed $1.50 on every fee of $2. The Executive Committee expects every division to give good account of the money sent to it and to protect the rights of wheelmen within its limits.

Delegates to the National Assembly.

Below we give a list of Divisions which are entitled to send delegates to the National Assembly L. A. W. under Article 4, section 4, of the Constitution, which reads:

Sec. 4.—Each Division Board of Officers shall hold its annual meeting in the month of September, and shall then elect from the Division one delegate for each 200 members upon its roll on Sept. 1. Such delegates, together with the Chief Consuls of Divisions and Sub-Divisions and Vice-Consuls, shall constitute the National Assembly of the League of American Wheelmen.

Divisions.	Membership.	Delegates.
California	376	1
Connecticut	539	2
Illinois	777	3
Maryland	493	2
Massachusetts	1478	7
Michigan	380	1
Missouri	274	1
New Jersey	547	2
New York	1929	9
Ohio	800	4
Pennsylvania	1312	6
Rhode Island	300	1
		—39

The Assembly will have one delegate less than that of last year. Massachusetts has gained two. New Jersey loses one. New York loses two. The other Divisions have the same representation as last year.

Massachusetts Division.

Circular No. 34.

BOSTON, Aug. 20, 1889.

Members are hereby warned that anyone loaning his League ticket to a person not a member of our organization for the purpose of securing to such person the advantages of League membership will incur the risk of expulsion from the League. If any person desires these advantages let him become a member and thus obtain them honestly.

Fraternally, WM. H. EMERY.

To Racing Men.

The races to be run at York, Pa., announced as L. A. W. championships have been properly corrected to read "State Division L. A. W. championships." Racing men may now compete without fear of suspension.

CHAS. S. DAVOL, Chairman L. A. W. R. B.

New York State Division.

Following is the full text of the amendments which will be moved at the annual meeting of the Board of Officers, in accordance with notice given last week:

First (as to voting proxies at Board meetings)—In sec. 4 of Art. 1, strike out all after the word "Division" and substitute the following, beginning a new sentence: "Eleven members present in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum, but no one except a board member shall be entitled to hold a proxy for another member, and no member shall hold proxies for more than one member not resident in the same election district as himself.

Second (as to voting proxies at Division meetings)—Add to sec. 6 of Art. 2, "Proxies for members not belonging to League Clubs may be cast, but no member may cast more than ten such proxies."

Third (as to new system of elections)—Amend sec. 3 of Art. 3 by striking out the words "and shall receive and in the presence of the Committee on Rights and Privileges open and canvass all the mail votes and certify," substituting therefor the following: "shall receive and in the presence of the Committee on Rules and Regulations open and canvass all mail votes on amendments to the by laws and all returns of elections from the several districts, certifying." Also amend sec. 3 of Art 5 by striking out the last two lines of the section, as printed in the Division Handbook, and substituting "published in the first issue of the official organ after receipt by him of the nominations in which it may be practicable for him to insert such notice."

Also in sec. 4 of Art. 5, substitute "tenth day of June" for first day of July," and strike out all that portion of section which follows.

Also strike out secs. 5 and 6 of Art. 5, substituting therefor the following new sections:

Sec. 5. Should any of the nominating committees fail to perform the duty imposed upon them within the required time, it shall be the duty of the Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer conjointly to act in their stead, and also to nominate additional candidates for any district whose enrollment on the first day of July shall entitle it to a larger representation than provided for by its Nominating committee.

"Sec. 6. Any one hundred or more members of the Division may certify to the Secretary-Treasurer in a writing or writings a candidate for each or any of the offices of chief consul, vice-consul and secretary treasurer, and any ten or more members resident in an election district may certify to the Secretary-Treasurer in like manner a candidate or candidates for Representative not exceeding the number to which such district may be entitled under the Constitution, provided that all such nominations must be filed with the Secretary-Treasurer not later than the tenth day of July."

"Sec. 7. The Secretary-Treasurer shall publish all nominations received by him in accordance with the foregoing sections on or before the twentieth day of June in the next issue of the official organ but one thereafter; and shall also prepare ballots for each district, bearing the names of all candidates for Division offices and of all candidates for Representative from such district, who may have been nominated or certified to him in accordance with the foregoing sections on or before the tenth day of July. Each ballot shall also contain a sufficient blank space for the writing of additional names, a place for the voter's signature, and instructions as to how many candidates may be voted for for each office. Said ballots, when prepared, shall be distributed to the members of the division together with envelopes marked "Mail votes" and addressed to the Chairman of the Nominating Committees for the district in which the member receiving the ballot may reside, and it shall thereupon become the duty of said nominating committees to act as election boards for the several districts."

"Sec. 8. The Chief Consul may in his discretion order a poll in any election district, and at the written request of not less than twenty five members of any district shall do so, for the reception of unsigned ballots; but any duly qualified member who does not vote at such a poll sh ll have the right to vote a signed and sealed ballot addressed to the Chairman of the Election Board for his district, and filed with the chairman not later than the fifteenth day of August. In case a poll is held the time and place thereof shall be prescribed by the Chief Consul. Each voter shall clearly designate his choice for each office by placing a cross mark (x) opposite the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he desires to vote; and no ballot shall be counted upon which more names are so designated for each office that the district is entitled to elect.

The Election Board in each district shall, within three days after the fifteenth day of August, meet and canvass all votes deposited with them and make return thereof to the Secretary-Treasurer, who shall certify the final result of the election to the Chief Consul as provided in sec. 3 of Art. 3."

Fourth (as to duties of Consul.—Add new section to Art. 3, to read as follows: "Sec. 5. Local consuls to be appointed or removed by the Chief Consul at his pleasure, shall act as his deputies and under his orders in the selection of and arrangements with League hotels or repairers, and for such other local work as may be assigned to them by him, such as the collection of reports upon the condition of roads or the action of local authorities in relation to cycling. They shall furnish to individual members such reasonable information and assistance as they may be call d upon to give, and shall use their best efforts to maintain and increase the membership of the League within their several localities by such services as the Chief Consul may require them to render, including the solicitation of applications and renewals, but shall not be required to entertain touring wheelmen or to furnish, unless they so elect, any information other than may be covered by the general rules laid down from time to time by the Chief Consul, for which purpose he shall supply them with printed blanks at the expense of the Division.

Fifth (as to definition of League Clubs).—In sec. 1 of Art. 4 strike out the words "the annual dues being paid by the club."

Sixth (giving League Clubs right to vote by delegate).—Add to sec. 1 of Art. 4 the following: "and shall be entitled to cast, through duly accredited delegates, at any division meeting, one vote for each member of said club in good standing upon the rolls of the Division."

Seventh (as to power of Executive Committee).—Amend sec. 3 of Art. 6 to read as follows: "The Committee on Executive and Finance shall have general supervision and control over the finances and expenses of the Division subject to such instructions as may be given by the Board of Officers, and shall designate from time to time what newspaper or other medium is to be accepted as the official organ of the Division, but shall have no power to render the Division liable for any expense in connection with such organ without authority from the Board of Officers."

Eighth (as to duties of other Committees).—Amend sec. 4 of Art. 6 to read as follows: "The duties of the Committees of Rights and Privileges, Rules and Regulations and Improvements in the Highways, other than those assigned them by any specific provision of these by-laws, shall be for each such as are the duties of the Corresponding Committees of the National Association. Decisions of the Rules and Regulations Committee upon matters arising for interpretation under these by-laws shall be accepted as the law of the Division unless reversed by the Board of Officers."

Ninth (as to amending By-Laws).—Add to sec. 1 of Art. 8 the following: "but upon petition to the Chief Consul signed by not less fifteen members of the board or one hundred members of the Division; a mail vote of the entire Division shall be ordered on the question of sustaining or reversing the action of the Board, which shall be decided by a majority of the votes so cast.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

ARICKAREE TO THE FRONT!

We last week received two applications for Quadrant Catalogues from Arickaree. The fact is gradually but surely becoming known from one end of the United States to the other that the QUADRANTS are the full roadster safeties ever built.

LIGHTEST AND STRONGEST

These light wheels are standing the test of

Heavy Riders and Rough Roads

better than any other machines on the market.

We can now fill orders the same day they are received.

SOLE U. S. IMPORTERS:

STRONG & GREEN CYCLE CO.,

707 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

There were Many who Came to Scoff and Remained to Pray."

COTTAGE CITY, Aug. 10th, 1889. "In the one-mile race for safety bicycles Wm. Van Wagoner of Newport rode one of the Elliott Hickory wheels, and had no difficulty in winning first medal. So easy was it for him to win that he came down the home stretch hands off."—Boston Globe.

The interesting part of the above was that Mr. Van Wagoner had never seen the until the day of the race. He had read of it, but felt as you, dear reader, may still feel. That it was the substance of things hoped for, rather than a tough and elastic reality. We blame no one for having doubts about these machines, for we know you are willing to investigate it at the first opportunity. We have never met but one man who refused to put himself in the way of being convinced. We forgive him freely, poor fellow; he has gone where he can't use a bicycle (certainly not a wooden one).

THE DIFFICULTY

of winning a race with the hickory safety will be obvious to our unconverted critics, when it is considered that the rider must not go so fast as to "jar the wood apart," and must still "get there" before it has time to "rot." It is also important to keep on the shady side of the track to avoid the "shrinking effects of the sun," and he must "know enough to come in when it rains," so that the spokes won't "swell up and burst the hubs." Verily, the introduction of a new and untried material (like hickory) for an unheard of purpose (the construction of wheels), is a very delicate matter, and calls forth a great deal of head shaking and dubious expression. We could hardly have scared up more doubts had we been so rash as to suggest the use of water as a beverage.

STERLING CYCLE CO., Newton, Mass.

P. S. To the hundreds (933 to be exact) who have asked for our catalogue since the first edition was exhausted, we have to say that the second edition is now being printed, and we can soon fill orders. Send along your good name, if you haven't, and we will enroll it among the elect.

TESTIMONIAL.

STAFFORD, Kan., May 8, 1889.

ERIE KNITTING MILL, Erie, Pa.:

Gentlemen—I have given the tights and shirts you made for me a thorough test, and I pronounce them the strongest and most durable knit goods I have ever worn. They make the best sweaters that I know of in use, and at the same time comfortable. Several members of our club have expressed themselves about the goods in a very complimentary manner. STILL ANOTHER FEATURE . . OF THE . .

COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER SAFETY.

THE KIRKPATRICK SADDLE,

modified and perfected by our own ideas, for adaptation to the Safety.

The Kirkpatrick Saddle is unquestionably the most satisfactory and successful saddle ever put on the market. This statement is fully substantiated by the twenty-five thousand saddles which have been sold to the wheelmen of America, with a continuous increasing demand.

The various patterns are respectively best for the regular bicycle, the tricycle, and the safety.

The rider is carried in a natural position and with the greatest degree of comfort, with weight well distributed.

The simple tilting device affords ready adjustment to suit the various requirements of riders, and well-proportioned springs afford relief from vibration to a greater extent than in any other saddle.

NO SADDLE HAS COME NEARER PERFECTION.

Our mails are crowded with testimonials from its thousands of riders, who delight in commenting on its many unique points, among which may be mentioned its

which is in the proper place, under the actual weight of the rider, thus accomplishing the purpose intended without affecting the steering or throwing the feet off the pedals on rough roads. It is the only wheel having a frame spring.

Why don't you send for our 80-page catalogue, and post yourself on this wheel? It will cost but a postal card, and will give you some pointers on scientific wheel construction.

A RUSH That's What It Is A RUSH

We have had a Perfect Rush the past week for the Bicycle Bridles we advertised. It looks now as though we should send one to Every Safety Rider in the country. Orders come in by every mail, and many from the trade. It shows how good a thing it is, and how much it is wanted. We have ordered many more to be made at once. A Good Thing!

SANBORN'S PATENT SAFETY BICYCLE BRIDLE.

CAN BE EASILY ATTACHED OR DETACHED.

TRULY A BIG THING!!

From the noted long-distance rider, Albert Beers, who has ridden already 4000 miles on a New Mail Safety:

EVERETT, Aug. 14th.

Dear Sir—I have used your Bicycle Bridle on my New Mail Safety and am more than pleased with it. My friends have pronounced it of great assistance in riding "hands off." If this is of any use to you, you are at liberty to use it.

Yours truly, ALBERT BEERS.

For Use on the Safety Bicycle.

This improvement obviates the only fault ever found with the Safety machine, namely; its sensitiveness in steering. By attaching this bridle, the machine is made to steer as easily as an ordinary, and, with five minutes' practice, can be ridden as readily with "hands off." It is a great comfort to the rider, especially on a long run, to have the free use and liberty of his hands. The machine will also lean against anything without the wheel turning, thus keeping right side up all the time, which is a great saving on the wear and tear of it.

Yet another advantage all wheelmen will appreciate, is in walking along by simply keeping one hand on the saddle, the forward wheel being central all the time, and enabling the machine to be propelled with perfect ease.

The attachment is so simple that any child can readily apply it. Full directions for applying sent with Bridle.

COSTS BUT LITTLE!

Mailed to any address on receipt of $1.50.

IRISH CYCLISTS.

IN CAMP, ELCHO CASTLE, NEAR PERTH, AUG. 18, 1889.

SINCE the last week's letter from camp at Killin on Loch Tay the Irish Cyclist Camp has wended its way some fifty-odd miles eastward to Perth. Not however, did the party move until its visit to Killin had been rendered immortal among the villagers. This came about the second evening of our stay, when Jack White (the Goat) Mecredy, Burke, and two or three of the others, got up a concert in the Drill Hall of the town. A long programme of songs and recitations was rendered by the tourists, including Brian "O'Linn," "the Cook," "The Pike," "The Gander," "Mr. Barnes of New York," "Julia," "The Goat," "The Kid" and many of the others, all their titles being printed in the programme. The affair was a great success, a large audience being present and over five pounds (£5) was realized and devoted towards lighting the village street lamps.

The evening before the concert about 10 P. M., as we were all gathered round the fire enjoying mirth, song and lemonade (?), came a call from out the dark, and a moment later we were greeting good old Schneider and Cooper and Kirk of our Elwell party, who had ridden up from Glasgow to join us. They report having had a splendid time on their ten days' tour in Germany. Among other cities they visited Frankfort-on-Main, Dresden, Wiesbaden, Mayence and Berlin, and found better roads on the Rhine.

The night of the concert also arrived from Glasgow, Cake and Bob White, to see us for the evening only. With what warm feelings they were greeted and how we seven Americans made the welkin ring with the good old war cry, in answer to the genial host's "Hurroo!"

Next morning camp was struck and by ten A. M. all were en route for Perth! White and Cake parted from those who took train at Dunblane, and are now upon the deep on the homeward voyage. By four P. M. tents were pitched and supper was prepared on a grassy slope just outside the city, overlooking the winding Tay and its beautiful valley walled in by fertile hillsides.

By seven P. M. all had arrived, and they reported a weary pull through fifty-three miles of mud. That night on account of the proximity of dwellings and factory hands a watch was set in reliefs of three hours each.

Next morning after lunch it was decided to move camp further from town, and thus it was we hit upon the present situation, five miles from the city of Perth on the riverside. The tents stand beside the ancient Elcho Castle, and beneath a grove of huge walnut and oak trees.

A charming view of river and landscape framed in by towering trees lies in front of the camp. On the river-bank close by, the salmon fishers are hauling their nets, and from the Tay comes much of the salmon for London markets. Yesterday (Saturday) was the galaday of the town, being the Perth annual race meet. After a parade of visiting and local wheelmen, the Irish tourist party attended the races as the guests of the Perth Amateur C. C., and were afterward dined by the same club at the Salutation (C. T. C.) Hotel, about 150 cyclers sitting down to table. After the good things had been done away with came toasts, songs and music galore, followed by presentation of the prizes won at the afternoon races.

The track, a five lap one, was very good indeed, and the sport excellent. Unfortunately Mr. Bruce, Scotland's champion, took a bad fall early in the day, destroying his chances, and lessening the interest. The attendance, about 2500 or 3000, made the meet a financial as well as a sporting success.

About midnight in the cold blue moonlight the Irish campers took wheels for camp and for five miles ran a breakneck road race through the mud. Big Barry (the Gander) on his 58-inch ordinary loomed up against the moon like an obelisk, and daring indeed the safety rider who follows him through thick and thin.

This day (Sunday) has proved as fine and bright as the last few days. A service held this afternoon, Rev. Mr. Fessenden of the American contingent officiating, gathered a congregation of over a hundred cyclers and towns people from Perth. Afterward "The Goat" in all the glory of spotless white cook's apron and cap, made cakes and fritters et al., for the delectation of the ladies and other visitors. The good old "Goat" turns up each day in a new rôle, and each day surpasses his rôle of the day before.

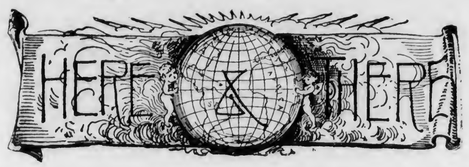
The glorious afternoon was spent in exploring the castle, which dates from the 14th century and is most interesting and picturesque, and in lazily enjoying the free air and the wild liberty of camp life, lunching al fresco on the grass, promenading by the riverside and making acquaintances among the many Scottish cyclers.

Mr. J. R. Nisbets, editor Scottish Cyclist, is a member of the tour, also Loganof Edinburgh with his camera and comic songs and many other good fellows of the Land o' Cakes.

To-morrow, up stakes and off via Queensferry (where we shall see the new Forth Bridge in construction) via Edinburgh, on thence eight miles to Roslin, where we camp near the famous Roslin Chapel. The last camp will be at Galashiels Wednesday, and Saturday all will be at Glasgow homeward bound to Erin, England and elsewhere.

PEDALS.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.



AT a special meeting of the Los Angeles Wheelmen, held Wednesday, August 21, for the purpose of taking action regarding the death of Samuel A. J. Preston, a late member of the club, who died Friday, August 16, a committee was appointed and reported as follows:

"In the death of our much-esteemed brother member and wheelman, Samuel A. J. Preston, the club loses a valuable member, an able counsellor and an enthusiast in the recreation he loved so well. By his death his host of friends lose a much-beloved associate. In this sad hour of her bereavement the club, in special meeting assembled, tenders his wife its heartfelt condolence, and may He, who does everything well, give her consolation in her affliction."

It was the sense or the meeting that the foregoing be entered in the minutes of the club and a copy thereof sent our late brother's wife. It was requested that the above be published in the press of Los Angeles and the official organ of the League of American Wheelmen, THE BICYCLING WORLD.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

I THINK it was Rip Van Winkle who sagely remarked, "How soon we are forgotten when we are gone!" and if he had never done anything else but utter these words the mighty truism contained therein would have made him famous. The moment we make our exit from the stage of life and hide ourselves behind the falling curtain, we are forgotten, and the world cheers and applauds those who take our places, forgetful of us as though we had never existed. An example of this came to my notice recently. A knot of the younger generation were talking in the smoking-room at the club, and by some means or other the name of Karl Kron was mentioned, and it was followed by the inquiry as to who he was. The question did not meet with a ready response, but, finally, one more wise than his audience vouchsafed the information that he was a fellow who wrote a book of some kind about bicycling. Think of it! But a few years since and every second line of wheeling literature contained the name of Karl Kron, and a reference to the early appearance of "X Miles on a Bicycle," and yet to-day having strutted for his brief time upon the cycling stage and made his bow of exit therefrom, the hero of "236," and the rider and writer of 10,000 miles upon a bicycle, is known to the wheelmen of the day only as "some fellow who wrote a book on bicycling." Thus is fame conquered ever by time.

MILEAGE and moisture are not friends, at least not when the latter appears in the form of rain, and this year's crop of miles has materially suffered from the plentiful sprinklings kindly nature has seen fit to favor our roadways with. Were I a Wall street man, I should be a bull on umbrellas and a bear on mileage, this season.

I NEVER so much regretted that I was not an amateur photographer armed with a camera, as I did to-day, when through not being a camera crank I failed to secure the likeness of the most outrageous specimen of wheeling bad taste that I have ever beheld. This individual was clad entirely in skin-tight black tights, save around his loins, where a velvet breechclout of the same color was worn. This was bad enough, but for appalling, Brobdignagian, Himalayan gall, mixed in equal parts with indecency, this individual eloped with the whole delicatessen, as clad in this rig he was actually riding with a lady. If anyone can give me the address of the fool-killer, I will liberally reward him if he will only come here and make way with this specimen, and will warrant him to go scot free before any jury among whose members the smallest atom of common decency exists.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

THE wheelmen who raced at Franklin Park were greatly pleased by the treatment they received at the hands of the officials, but not so those who went to the Danvers Riding Park. All the men who entered and were patiently awaiting the handicap races at the latter place were sorely disappointed when they learned that the referee would not allow the handicap events to be run off, because the handicapping had not been done by League Handicapper Burnham. It is stated, on the best of authority, that one of the officers of the Danvers Cycle Club handed the referee a list giving the handicaps of the different contestants, and as the said officer was supposed to have compiled the handicaps himself the referee refused to allow the handicap races to be run. These events were consequently changed to scratch races, and the prizes were thus disposed of.

C. S. MERRILL, of the Roxbury Bicycle Club, is achieving fame in the amateur ranks, and his well-developed form is seen at all the race meets held in this vicinity. At one time he had an idea of racing at the Hartford meet, but upon thinking of the records of the flyers he would have to ride against, he very wisely cast his lot with the racing wheelmen at Franklin and Beacon Parks, and by so doing he became the proud and happy possessor of two first and one second prize.

THE racing representatives of the Hub, who attended the Hartford races, seem to have fared pretty badly at the hands of the Westerners, and instead of returning to their native heath crowned with glory and prizes, they come back rather crestfallen.

THE days are fast shortening, and the dancing cyclist looks forward to the time when he can reign supreme over the "scorcher" unfortunate enough to be ignorant of the fine art of dancing. Lucky is he who has combined the two accomplishments, as he will not fall beneath the good-natured scorn of the slow rider and proficient dancer.

VICE CONSUL ROBINSON and Mr. Mossman dropped rather unexpectedly in the city last Sunday morning, and so quiet did they keep the date of their intended return that none of the wheelmen had a chance to do the proper. Although Robinson had been travelling for the past month or so, he took to his wheel as natural as of old.

A MORE enjoyable three days' run than the last tour of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club has never been held in this section of the country, and its complete success reflects great credit upon Captain A. D. Peck, Jr., who worked so assiduously to attain that end. The touring party, among which were H. G. Martin, James Spiers and Allan Aldrich of the Rhode Island Wheelmen, left Boston by steamer for Gloucester, Saturday evening. The programme was carried out to the letter, and the result was that the party returned to Boston Monday greatly pleased with their outing. The Massachusetts men and their guests were delightfully surprised when they returned from their Sunday morning trip around the Cape, to find a large delegation of the Charlestown Rovers, with Vice Consul Robinson at their head, awaiting at the Pavilion House the return of the jolly Massachusetts men. After dinner the Charlestown Rovers resumed the tour with the representatives of the Massachusetts Club.

IT is welcome news to the members of the division that Massachusetts has gained two votes in the national organization. They ought to command considerable respect at the next meeting of the National Assembly.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

THE long advertised run of the Chicago's from Indianapolis to Cincinnati—distance 140 miles—is over and, as predicted by me, was a regular "Thorne family scorch." Seven Chicago braves took the train Friday night for Indianapolis, accompanied by a tenderfoot in the shape of a reporter, who has made a trip to Pullman on the wheel once, and in consequence thinks himself an expert. The party was made up of the "Big Four," Thorne Bros., Capt. Van Sicklen, Tom Roe, who was happy in the possession of a "Herald" reporter's star. Tom prophesied that his paper (the Herald) would have a "scoop" in the shape of a full account of the run while the tenderfoot would be lost in the shuffle, and last but not least Barrett, the boxer of the three Cs. The road was found to be fearfully dusty and the day one of the hottest of the season, while the train being late caused the boys to lose some three hours' riding in the cool of the day. The distance—140 miles—was ridden in fifteen hours and forty minutes. Cincinnati being reached at 11.40 P. M. The boys immediately proceeded to make themselves as comfortable as possible after their hard day's ride, and to-day will be shown the sights by the Cincinnati wheelmen. Had this trip been made in two days as was originally intended, doubtless there would have been a party of forty or fifty, but it having been given out quietly that it would be a scorch, as the boys wanted to see if the run could be made in a day, the most of the riders concluded they would rather stay at home. Roe says his bosom friend, the "other reporter," hung on for about 20 miles, and then concluded that he had gotten enough, although urged to keep at it.

THE Chicago Wheelmen are to have a mass meeting Thursday evening, and see what they can do towards helping to get the World's Fair here in '92, and see that the wheelmen are properly represented on the World's Fair Committee here.

THE Æolus boys are still having a little internal fight, and as a result have dispensed with the services of the secretary. Bob Ehlert is likely to be elected captain at their next meeting, Monday night, and he will make a good one.

GARDEN has suffered a severe loss in the shape of "whiskerettes," and now sports simply a mustache and goatee. It's even money with his friends as to whether he most resembles Mephistopheles or M. Boulanger. It is privately whispered that this was brought about owing to Garden's rashness in betting on Lumsden for first place in the road race; had Lumsden won "Grandma" Sloan would have been obliged to have sacrificed his moustache.

THE Chicago wheelmen are actively engaged in circulating a petition for the reinstatement of L. D. Munger to the amateur ranks. Munger is a hail fellow well met, and as his racing days are over he is anxious to be taken back into the fold.

IT is stated as a settled fact that Spalding will build a first class bicycle track in the new ball grounds; the track will be second to none in the country and in all probability be of asphaltum.

HOSFORD has returned from his Eastern trip and speaks in flattering turns of Van Wagoner, the Eastern crack. The "Capitalistic" wheelman must have enjoyed himself well during his vacation, and to the surprise of his friends says he returned alone.

I HAVE been trying to find out the result of the late "alleged" election from some of the officials, but they are as close mouthed as a clam, probably waiting to see whether the Division will stand an election (?) of this kind. One member told me with a great deal of secrecy that Randall voted for himself for representative. Charley must have wanted the office bad. Stokes has resolved not to attend any more cycling races. Dunlap hats are too expensive.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

SEVERAL men were admitted to the S. C. C. at their regular monthly meeting, held on Thursday, August 29. At this meeting it was decided to hold the second annual corn roast on Monday evening, September 9th, and a committee, with Bob Judd as Chairman, was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. Any wheelmen in or near Syracuse on that day will do well to notify the Secretary and join this gay and festive party. Corn, potatoes, coffee, speeches, etc., will compose the menu, and "Salina" will guarantee a good time to all participating.

WEDNESDAY evening, the 28th August, eight S. C. C. men rode to Cicero, ten miles, where an elegant supper was served. The first man in, H. A. Rounds, made the distance in 52 minutes.

NOT a few Syracuseans have asked "Salina" why the club did not put their minstrel performance on in this city. No doubt it could be made a paying move, but considering the labor connected with another production, "Salina" would advise the boys to leave the minstrels in their grave, where to all appearances they are resting most peacefully.

THE "Knickerbocker" Club is flourishing, and new men are finding their way to its portals every week.

A. I. FULLER, of Rome, has entered in the races to be held at Albany, Hartford and New York, and is expected to do great things by his numerous admirers. Captain Chapin will act as his coach and trainer on this trip.

THE S. C. C. will be well represented at the State meet, to be held in New York next week. Messrs Chas. W. Wood, Club Representative to the L. A. W., E. T. McDougal, Lieutenant Yale, Ted Hopkins, Howard Avery and Winnie Chapin will be there to represent Syracuse.

"ARIEL" A WHEEL.

Boston and Norfolk.

ARE you looking for a little vacation tour brother wheelmen? If a resident of the Middle States, I know of no more delightful trip than that from Baltimore to Boston by sea, stopping off a day at Norfolk. Leaving Baltimore on Monday afternoon, at four o'clock, a quiet night on Chesapeake Bay is enjoyed, and Norfolk reached early next morning. Here the steamship company furnish you with free transportation to either Fortress Monroe and Old Point Comfort, Ocean View or Virginia Beach, with a dinner at Hygeia Hotel, or the Princess Anne at half rates. Sailing from Norfolk the same evening, the novice will have a chance to try his sea legs before going to bed—with the additional opportunity of in all probability losing his supper. Still, the ocean breezes are so inspiring that he will begin to regret that the voyage is so nearly over by the time he has rounded Cape Cod, with Boston drawing into view on Thursday, and if he is a wise man he will long ere this have decided to return the same way. The fare is low: $12.50 one way, or $22, round trip, including meals and stateroom. The table is unsurpassed, and if it is your good fortune to book your passage on the good steamship Dorchester, Captain Howes, you are ensured a good time from the start.

THIS trip was taken last week by the writer, who spent a few days in and around Boston, sampling that city's beautiful roads (many and devious are the windings of its streets, by the same token), in company with Mr. C. C. Candy, of the O. W. Co.—everybody knows Candy—and Mr. Chas. T. Stran, of Baltimore—he of the old P. W. & B. It would be carrying coals to New Castle to describe the Boston riding district to the majority of Eastern wheelmen, yet I cannot refrain from a panegyric upon the roads in the vicinity generally. Sure a lovelier country was never seen than that surrounding Boston. The fair New England landscape is dotted with beautiful homes, the most charming characteristic of which to the stranger is the absence of the stiff and ungainly fencing which shuts in our Pennsylvania houses; and the terraced greensward, bearing its fruit trees, open to the street, speaks highly for Puritan honesty. But the roads—level, smooth and beautifully kept—well, it's my belief that they are not appreciated by the riders in that favored locality. It seems to me records should be easy of coinage on such surfaces. A party of riders from the Pennsylvania and Wilmington Clubs—among whom were Merrihew and McDaniel—after going to Boston by sea, rode home on their wheels, via the Berkshire Valley and the Hudson and they rolled up some exceptional milcages on these roads. One thing which surprised me most of all, at Boston, was Corey Hill. It is no insignificent mound, by any means, but I'll venture the assertion that there are a dozen members in the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club who can make the top, and as many more in the Century and Wilmington Clubs.—[Our correspondent does not appreciate the fact that once up and down Corey is not record. The record is to times up and down without a dismount. We should be glad to have the Philadelphia and Wilmington men try to down that record.—ED.]

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

THE C. B. C. had a rather unpleasant experience with flannel shirts this season. They made a contract with a well known local shirt maker to furnish $5.00 shirts at $3.60. The shirts were made rather roomy but after the fourth visit to the wash tub they were like pawnbrokers' consciences—of no further use to their owners. The shrinkage of bicycle shirts is not wholly due to the method of washing, but is caused by excessive perspiration. Shirts that retail for from $1.50 to $2.00 are more serviceable and shrink less than those of a finer quality, perhaps because they contain a certain percentage of cotton.

FATHER A. ABRAHAM BENNETT, although an officer of the C. B. C., has attended but one club run this season; he frequently, however, accompanies the Athletic Cycling Club on their runs, but that perhaps is a matter of taste.

WHEN the first granite pavements were laid in our city, blocks were used that were believed to be the most durable. There is no discount on their durability, but they have become so smooth and polished that they afford a very treacherous footing for horses; in fact there is so much complaint about the slipping and falling of horses that the Board of Public Affairs are seriously considering the advisabliity of taking up, redressing and relaying the blocks on certain portions of Fourth street. The blocks used in the pavements laid in the last two years do not wear smooth and, when they are clean, are not slippery even if wet. The great trouble with our streets, however, is the way in which they are sprinkled or rather flooded. The dirt and filth on the surface is kept in such a pasty condition that only a small portion of it is removed by the sweepers, the rest being smeared over the surface of the blocks for the especial delight of our wheelmen.

WE are suffering from a protracted drouth. We have had but one shower since the middle of July. The dust is—inches deep on all the roads, and as a consequence club runs are at a discount.

THE time is at hand when the cycling tourist, returning from his vacation, delights in recounting to his less-favored brethren the many pleasures of his recent trip. We listen, we applaud and congratulate, for many of us are like the galley slave, whose only vacation will be spent in that narrow house that is built by the sexton. Yet, strange as it may seem, oftentimes, at the conclusion of our daily toil, we start off on extended tours. With sails unfurled and feet on foot rests we are wafted along over roads that are smooth and grades that are easy, now beside a stream whose noisy babbling seems to challenge us to a trial of speed, again through a forest where the breath of the flowers, the voice of the birds and the umbrageous retreats invite repose, now pausing at an inn where is served a banquet more sumptious than Aladdin ever dreamed of, and by a host who treats us as guests and will accept no remuneration. Where? Ah! in the Land of Nod.

THE Chicago Cyclone Club tour struck our city last night (Aug. 31). The party consisted of Van Sicklen, Roe, Barrett and four of the Thorne family. They made the distance from Indianapolis to Porkopolis, 145 miles, from 8 A. M. to 11.40 P. M. The C. B. C. took charge of them the next day (Sunday), and took them through the suburbs and to Coney Island for dinner.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

"PRINCE."

I OFTEN wonder why it is that as soon as a person shoves his boat into the raging sea of literature, and carefully covers his head with the sail of a non de plume, that so many people are bent upon ferreting out his identity? Why this is universally the case is quite beyond my comprehension, unless it is the hereditary spirit of curiosity, for which they are not accountable—my initial letter has already stirred up the wise men of our club and elicited inquiries from other parts of the State. Suffice it, that as long as I have no confidants, I shall rest content, complacently watching their vain endeavors to locate "Prince."

AUGUST the 15th arrived on schedule time, and the votes of Michigan Division counted. My prediction of two weeks ago has been duly verified and the Grand Rapids Bicycle Club's ticket goes to the front by nearly three-fourths of the entire vote Surely virtue and good service hath its reward. There is no question but that the affairs of our division for the past year have been judiciously managed and much good missionary work done. New clubs have been organized throughout the State and many non-league organizations have been taken into the ranks. If the officers of the past year have given us a successful administration—how much more competent they are now, upon re-election, to grasp the helm and steer the craft safely.

NOW that the arrangements for the State meeting have all been completed, and official programmes will soon reach each member, let us be up and planning for our annual holiday. Every club should be represented, and a large majority of our membership present, for the success of the meeting will depend largely upon the number present.

I UNDERSTAND that all the fast men of the State are oiling their rat-trap pedals, preparatory for coming events, which, according to the old adage, "cast their shadows before." Be careful, or the Grand Rapids Bi. Club will cast a shadow under the wire first.

I. H. FINCH, a veteran Michigan wheelman and a former Adrian boy, but now with Finzer, of "Old Honesty" fame of Louisville, Ky., spent several days in this city the past week, and took in one of the club runs. He found many friends here, who remembered his trick and fancy riding at State meets during the past.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

MR. E. E. STODDARD and C. W. Kelly formed a partnership to carry on the bicycle business in Cleveland, where the firm was started. Kelly had the money and Stoddard the necessary "experience." Alas! it's an old story now. Kelly is out his cash to the tune of $700, while Stoddard with the cold money en route for Canada, sent word back to Kelly that he "hoped some time to reimburse" his victim.

MESSRS. S. H. PERKINS and C. H. HOWLAND have been elected representatives from the Rhode Island Wheelmen of Providence.

THE town officials in Essex County, Mass., are making it hot for the sidewalk fiend, and he who persists in riding on the sidewalk does so at the risk of arrest. In Danvers a lawyer, a doctor, and a minister have been arrested and fined, and the police are on the look-out for more offenders. The Peabody Selectmen have also taken the matter in hand and one arrest has been made in that town. Amesbury and Gloucester have taken up the aggressive, and with the press of the large cities agitating the matter, it would seem that a total annihilation of the sidewalk fiend in Essex county is imminent.

A CORRESPONDENT writes us: "The Everett Wheel Club disbanded Jan. 31, 1889, and the notice appeared in the Herald and Globe. Our secretary should have notified you some time ago. There was a surplus in the treasury and there was perfect harmony in the club. The cause of our disbanding was lack of riding members. I hope that at some future day there will be a club in our town."

THE interest shown by the citizens of St. Louis in the bicycle races held in that city last week, has encouraged the promotors to already lay plans for a big tournament for the year 1890.

THE hill climbing contest between Hal Greenwood and W. P. Banker, will probably take place within six weeks. There is to be a series of three climbs, one on Kimmiswick Hill, 20 miles below St. Louis, one on Murder Lane, or Sycamore St. Hill, Pittsburg, and a third, if neccessary, on neutral ground. The preliminaries are now being arranged.

A WRITER to a Philadelphia paper says: "Many of the pleasures of provincial life seem to me to be lacking in New York. The miles of asphalt streets of which many an interior city boats, and which afford safe pleasure to the male and female bicycle riders, are lacking. To be sure one can ride in Central Park or on the boulevards about Washington Heights, but from what I have seen I judge that there is little pleasure in it. Last Sunday I saw two wheels at the park. One was being ridden down the mall at a breakneck pace by a young man. The other was in the hands of a policeman, while its owner was making an equally lively trip in the bottom of a park department ambulance."

FRED A. BEARSE and Fred C. Graves started from Springfield, Mass., at 5 A. M. Wednesday last week, to ride to Boston. They arrived at Worcester, 53 3-4 miles, at 10.45, having done the distance in 5h. 45m., which we think is best on record for the route. They arrived at Boston at 5.30. Total time, 12.30; stopped for dinner at Lake Quinsagamond 2h. 15m.; net riding time, 10h. 15m., for the distance, 99.10 miles.

THAT our readers may have some idea of the aims and principles of the Washington Cycling Club of Chicago, we quote the following from a letter received from a prominent Chicago gentleman, who was asked to address the members and their friends at the recent opening of their club house: "It is impossible that I can be at the opening of the Washington Club house to-night. I know that you are sure I would be on hand if possible. I like your plan and aim; like the poor horse, our wheel has gone into bad hands; the jockey is omnipresent. It is singular that the animal supposed to be the noblest of all seems soonest to utterly unman and loaferize some men. It is impossible to keep the horse out of the hands of unworthy owners and driyers, and our poor wheel appears to be in the same danger. It hurts me to see notices of Sunday races and 'tours.' People do not discriminate, and I have been reproached for riding a wheel simply because some sinner has disgraced the 'silent steed.' Our old club was made up of gentlemen, and it is a pleasure to remember the splendid men who rode with us. Your new club may serve as a protest against this modern ruffianism, and therefore it has my heart. Please give my compliments to every member, and assure them that I shall keep track of the 'Washingtons'."

THE great difficulty of the manufacturers in this country and in England to secure enough cold drawn tubing for their purposes is well known. The Credenda Co. of Birmingham have lately added 17 acres of ground to their establishment, and will put in position machinery enough to supply all demands.

BICYCLERS for the first time in this country are taxed in Boston. They are taxed 51 cents each.

LITTLE five year old Eddie Schwalbach of Brooklyn, N. Y., rode 15 miles last Sunday and took many of the hills en route.

"GOOD roads are the basis of commercial prosperty."

MR. TEMPLE, writes us: "Moses Sherriff and Clarence E. Temple, of the Manchester Bicycle Club, rode from Manchester, N. H., to Boston, Mass., and return, Sunday, Aug. 18, a distance of 110 miles, (instead of from Nashua, N. H., as your paper stated.)

REPLYING to postal card of 19059, would say that Chas. Frazier, made a mile in 2.38. 2-5 at Lynn, and Joseph Powell made the mile at Springfield Mass., in 2.38 1-4, and in practice it has been done some 8 seconds under this. These are Star records.

ONE of the prizes given at McKeesport, Pa., was a relic of the Johnstown flood, a silver cup.

STOLEN, from W. F. Mitchell of Hyde Park, Mass., September 2, a Rudge Safety. Has new rear tire, rear mud guard broken off, solid handle-bar, cricket saddle, enamel and nickel.

Harpers Weekly has been doing good missionary work by printing most interesting articles on the Roads Improvement question. We would like to see that sterling publication keep up the agitation. Agitation is bound to bear good results.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION MEET. YORK, PA.

This thriving Pennsylvania town is attracting the wheelmen from all quarters and they are rapidly filling up the City Hotel, which has been made headquarters, and in whose parlors the business meeting will be held to-morrow morning, unless the crowd should prove so great that an adjournment to the Opera House will prove necessary.

The track is a half-mile one, located on the Fair Grounds, about a mile from the town, and is an excellent one. The buildings are all new and remarkably tasteful and ornamental. With a new grand stand capable of seating 800 people, and a wide track down the straight at the finish, there will be no difficulty in obtaining excellent views.

This afternoon a party rode in from Philadelphia which deserves more than casual mention. On Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Carpenter, Miss Ida Kerbaugh and Mr. Frank Huet, all of Philadelphia, started from that city, coming via the Lancaster Pike,

5 Mile, Open Won by Wm. Van Wagoner on an EAGLE.

Although the only pattern of Eagle built this season, is a regular Road Machine and not designed for lightness, the riders of it are doing very fast work on the track. The model and construction of the Eagle is such that a rider can make faster time on the Eagle than on any other machine of the same weight.

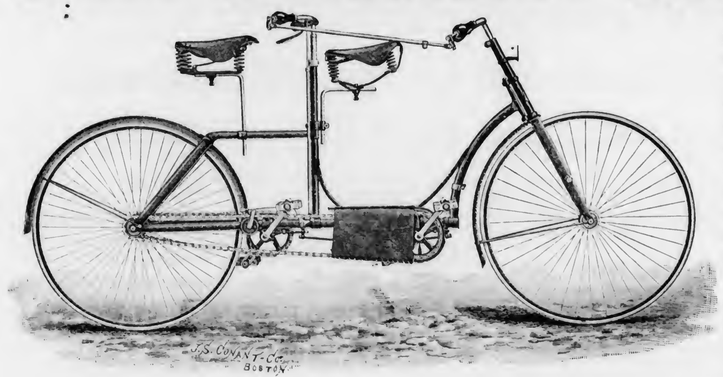
Many riders desire a spring fork. To such we offer the Club Spring Fork, (patented).

We claim for it the following advantages:—

It is the only spring fork that can have the tension of the springs adjusted to the weight of the rider.

It has absolutely no side play.



The springs give only when going over some obstacle, and therefore do not cause unnecessary vibration.

It can be converted into a rigid fork when desired.

It has had the test of two years service, and we have never had one break.

We are able to deliver Swifts, with spring fork, on receipt of order.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON, Manufacturing Importer,

401 & 403 MAIN ST., - - ORANGE, N. J.

West Chester, Coatesville and Lancaster. Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter rode a tandem bicycle, while Miss Kerbaugh and Mr. Huet rode singles. The entire distance covered was 96 miles: 38 on Friday, 34 Saturday, and 24 to-day. The two last days were over roads so poor that the wheels were actually carried for over three miles, so that the mileage is no indication of the trip. To add to this, Miss Kerbaugh has only been riding for five weeks, and altogether the trip is one of the pluckiest I have heard of.

Monday, September 2d, was really the first day of the meet, as wheelmen were out in full force at an early hour. Under command of Mr. Swartz, a ten-mile run was taken this morning, over one of the pikes, through a most beautiful country. The road was not in very good condition owing to the recent heavy rains. Dampman and Downing of Lancaster were both along, but no one started in to scorch, consequently the return trip was made at a moderate gait. Had McDaniel been with the party, it is probable that he would not have been satisfied with a procession, but he, with Merrihew and the rest of the Wilmington men, have as yet failed to materialize.

The business meeting of the Division was held at ten o'clock in the parlors of the City Hotel. The official report of the Secretary-Treasurer will give the necessary details. The most important work brought up was the question of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland road book, and it being the sentiment of the members that this unfortunate affair be looked into vigorously, a committee was appointed with plenary powers. The members of the Division can look for some definate information at an early day.

The parade started at 11 o'clock under command of Captain Swartz of the York Club, to whom is due nine-tenths of the success the York Wheelmen have unforseenly made of the meet. The route lay through the principal streets and there were probably between 100 and 200 in line, the Harrisburg Club sending the largest visiting delegation. The dearth of Philadelphia riders was particularly noticeable.

After the parade the photograph was taken at the Fair grounds, when a run in to dinner was made, following which, the entire party, accompanied by a very large proportion of the population, returned to the Fair grounds for the races. See racing news column.

THE HARTFORD MEET.

MONDAY.

A parade, headed by a band in a tally-ho coach, was the way the first day's meeting of the Hartford Club inaugurated. There were about 300 men in line, representing the Meriden, New Haven, Danbury, Stamford, Bridgeport and New Canaan clubs, with delegations from clubs of Fall River, Medford, Brooklyn and Albany. The procession was viewed by the judges at four different points along the route, and the following award of prizes was made: To the out of town club having the largest number of L. A. W. members in line, engraving "Le Parlimentaire," Meriden Wheel Club, first; for second largest, engraving to the New Haven Bicycle Club: to the visiting club presenting the best appearance on parade, engraving, to the Rambling Wheelmen of Bridgeport.

This evening the visiting wheelmen were entertained at Germania Hall with a concert, athletic exhibition and collation. Speeches were made by Dr. W. H. Emery of Boston, Maj. Burdett of Hartford and others. To-morrow morning the wheelmen will make a run to Wethersfield and will visit the State prison on invitation of Warden Chamberlain. Before returning to Hartford they will be tendered a lawn entertainment by Division Secretary De Blois. Fifty pretty girls have volunteered to make the occasion entertaining.

A meeting of the Connecticut Division L. A. W. was held at the United States Hotel Monday night, Chief Consul Post presiding. Major Charles L. Burdett, of Hartford, was elected the division lawyer to look after its interests. He was elected for five years, subject to removal for cause. Joseph Goodman, of Hartford, and T. W. Gillette, of Danbury, were elected Representatives to the national L. A. W. A committee of three was appointed to inquire into the probable cost and advisability of revising the road book. The committee was instructed to report at the next meeting.

On Tuesday a run was made to Wether-field. About 150 wheelmen rode on cycles, while accompanying the wheelmen were the officers of the tournament and members of the press, who completely filled the tally-ho. Passing the residence of Secretary-Treasurer DeBlois the procession was saluted by a bevy of young ladies, who were to assist in the entertainment on the return trip. Arriving at the prison the wheelmen dismounted, and were welcomed by Warden Chamberlain, who conducted the visitors through the prison corridors and workshops. Returning to the chapel the visitors were seated and Warden Chamberlain made a brief address, in which he said he was glad to meet the wheelmen, and hoped he would never meet them under circumstances peculiar to his calling. There is not a wheelmen in the prison, and no man that ever rode a wheel can be found within the prison walls. He believed the wheelmen had a mission to perform, in securing better roads throughout the State and looking after the erection of sign-posts.

At the home of Mr. DeBlois the wheelmen were handsomely entertained on the lawn, the refreshments being served by the pretty young ladies of Wethersfield. The house was tastefully decorated with bunting, and large flags were festooned about the lawn. Colonel Pope, of Boston, spoke in words of thanks for the hospitable treatment at the hands of Hartford and Wethersfield wheelmen and the ladies. Miss DeBlois pleasantly replied in a few well chosen words.

Weed's band furnished excellent music at the track during the races.

One of the most enjoyable features of the meet was D. J. Canary's wonderful trick riding. His programme cannot be described, it must be seen. He has improved greatly since his appearance in Hartford some four years ago.

A Hartford meet without any broken records would not seem natural, and so the boys proceeded to break 'em.

Joe Goodman is the best bicycle race manager in the country. "There is but one manager, and his name is Joe." Excuse the paraphrase.

It took a little while for the old-timers, Hendee and Ives, to warm up, but when they did get a-going they started in on their old trick of record breaking.

We are indebted to the Hartford Times for clippings used in above report.

"ARIEL" AT THE VIRGINIA DIVISION MEET.

RACES POSTPONED TO SEPT. 16.

The division meet of Virginia was held at Norfolk, Va., August 26 and 27, under the auspices of the Norfolk Club, and it was my happy privilege to be present.

The Virginia Division labors under the disadvantage of being few in numbers, but they make up for this by their enthusiasm. I heard complaints that owing to the hot suns of summer they kept up too slow a gait upon the road, but I did not find it so. I started out with Mr. A. A. O'Neill for a ten-mile spin over the shell roads, and with him setting the pace we covered what my cyclometer showed was over thirteen miles, in little over an hour, and under a broiling sun. I did not discover until afterwards that I had been riding behind the State champion of Virginia.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 25,

began bringing the visitors, large delegations from Baltimore and Washington being among the number. Impromptu runs to Ocean View, Kempsville, etc., were taken, while some of the wheelmen attended divine service.

Monday opened with threatening skies and an occasional drizzling mist, but nothing serious came of it and the several runs were carried out. A large collection of ladies were among the gathering at the club house for the Portsmouth run, which had been called for 9 A. M., but did not get away for long afterward. Portsmouth's streets are all shell pike, affording fine riding (as, in fact, do all the roads throughout this section, with but one drawback—there is no coasting), and the visit to the Navy Yard, Naval Hospital and grounds, was an enjoyable one. An evening excursion to Old Point, with supper and dancing, wound up the day, and a tired set were the members of the committee when they sought their beds, where, truth compels me to add, the wail of the plaintive mosquito did not enhance the pleasures of the downy couch.

Alas the rainy drizzle and clouds of Sunday had settled down to business and by Monday morning it was raining at such a rate that the parade had to be abandoned. The hopeful hoped that it would "clear in afternoon" for the races, but "ah me," it rained harder and the whole thing had to be postponed until Sept. 16.

If ever you get to Norfolk take your mount with you and hunt up the wheelmen, or if you can't take it with you you will be provided with one, for whole-souled fellows are they, and full to the brim of genuine Southern hospitality. Among so many I can scarcely name all, but thanks are especially due Chief Consul White and Mr. A. A. O'Neill.

Norfolk, August 27, 1889.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT—ROUTE GIVEN.

For the benefit of any wheelman who may contemplate touring through Eastern Connecticut, we would submit the following:

From Plainfield on the south to Putnam, following the Green Hollow road to Danielsonville, 9 miles, to Dayville, 12 1-2 miles, to Putnam via Alexander's Lake 18 miles, is fair riding after rains, some of it is fine.

Any attempt to go across country from Hartford to Providence will be productive of very severe experience. The best route from Hartford to Providence is still no route at all, on account of the tremendous hills which abound and the primative state in which the roads are left from one year to another. These small mountains occur something like one to the mile, and you plod up one only to see your road ascending tortuously another, seemingly higher hill, across the valley. In all seriousness, because we love a gentle speech and serenity of thought: "because we love the brethern;" do not attempt to cross Eastern Connecticut or the adjacent portions of Rhode Island en route to Providence or vice versa, Providence to Hartford.

We remember advising two tourists from Holyoke, Mass., no to attempt the road from this place to Providence, twenty-eight miles. They took not our advice, however, and we piloted them out over the hills to the eastward at the gray hour of five, on an August morn. That evening the Providence stage driver told us he had seen two wheelmen about eight miles from the city at 2 o'clock, P. M. They were pushing wheels through the sand. When we parted that morning the two gentlemen promised to write us what they thought of the road; but we have waited patiently now these dozen moons and no word comes. Perhaps one of those tramps will see this. If either of them would send us word that he is still in the land of the living, we would be greatly pleased.

Any inquiries concerning the roads in our section, will be answered with pleasure.

Consul, Danielsonville, Ct.

HE WANTS NIAGARA ALSO.

Editor Bicycling World: I read and enjoy your paper each week, and am glad to see Niagara Falls being advanced for the L. A. W. meet of 1890.

I think the meets have been held long enough in large cities. Now let us have one at America's greatest resort. Nature's stupendous masterpiece, a spot that brings admirers from all parts of the world. A spot whose awful grandeur can never be told by tongue or pen. The climate is beautiful, the location is central and easily reached.

Frequent trains to Buffalo, with 60 miles of asphalt pavement. Boats twice daily to Toronto, and Rochester near by. There is a track at Niagara which has frequently been used for bicycle races. Wheelmen love nature; surely they will say this is the happiest nomination yet. L. A. W. 15642.

COMING EVENTS.

AT NEW YORK, Sept. 13 and 14.—All arrangements have been completed and now nothing remains for the programme as printed in our former issues to be carried out. The biggest theatre party that has ever been given in New York will be the one participated in by the New York State Division next week. For this event the entire Broadway Theatre has been taken and many special features have been added to the "Oolah" by its star and owner, Francis Wilson, who by the by, is himself a member of the division. The New York Club alone have taken one hundred seats, each one of which will be occupied by a uniformed member of the organization, and Brooklyn is coming over in a perfect blaze of glory. It will be a long remembered event by all who participate in it. The committee of arrangements who have in charge the outlining of the programme of the State Division meet, have, after due discussion, come to the conclusion to have a parade. At one time this week it looked as if the parade part would be abandoned, but the edict has gone forth, and a parade there will be.

AT NEW ORLEANS, LA.—The meeting of the Louisiana Division of the League of American Wheelmen will be held at New Orleans on Sept. 14. Following are the events: One mile, novice; one mile dash, open; two mile, L. A. W. National championship; half mile, boys' race; one mile, safety race; one mile, dash open to members of the Louisiana Division of the L. A. W.; half mile ride and run race; one mile, tandem tricycle; one mile, club championship of the Louisiana Cycling Club; one mile, club championship of the New Orleans Bicycle Club; two half-mile lap race; half-mile consolation race. The entrance fee for each event is fifty cents, and should be sent to R. P. Randall, 54 Barone street, New Orleans, La.

AT FORT EDWARD, N. Y.—The Fort Edward Bicycle Club will hold a tournament Sept. 12, in connection with the Washington County Fair then in progress. L. A. W. Rules to govern. The events will be one-half mile, for all classes of safety wheels, open to all amateurs; one mile championship, open to all amateurs in Washington, Warren and Saratoga counties; entrance fee fifty cents. One hundred yards slow race, open to all bicycles. All wheelmen are invited to participate. Badges for admission and full particulars as to races, entrance, etc., furnished by applying to Clayton Smith, President of Fort Edward Bicycle Club.

AT PEORIA, ILL.—The Peoria Bicycle Club will give a race meet on October 4 and 5, a complete programme of which will be found on page 529. For particulars and entry blanks apply to F. H. Bush, Peoria, Ill.

AT DETROIT, MICH.—Under the auspices of the Detroit Athletic Club, a race meet will be held September 21. We especially call attention of our readers to the advertisement on page 508. Address C. Lightner, 24 Compan Building, Detroit, Mich., for particulars and entry blanks.

The meeting will begin on Friday, Sept. 20, at Ypsilanti, thence to Detroit on Saturday. Racing men will find every convenience at the club-house for the accommodation of "wheels." Bath-room and plunge will be open to racing men; the entire club-house, with its fine gymnasium, billiard and reading rooms, its eight acres of grounds, including one quarter mile track, base ball diamond, tennis courts, cricket and football grounds, will be on that day for the exclusive use of the wheelmen. The track is a quarter mile of cinder and clay and is being put in the best of condition. On the day of the races the track will be one of the fastest in the country. We know this is always claimed by all the clubs giving races, but come and see the track and judge for yourself. The grand stand will accommodate 2500. Do not let this opportunity for a gala day pass by without being here. Come, and bring your friends Bring your L. A. W. ticket. Special excursion rates on all railroads.

AT NICHOLSVILLE, ILL.—Just before going to press we received a programme of races to be held at above place on September 9th. There are eight races on the programme, no entrance fee charged, and entries can be made up to 12 M. the day of the race. Delay in notifying us is cause for brevity of this notice.

AT CARTHAGE, ILL.—The Hancock County, Ill., Agricultural Board offer prizes for the two following bicycle races, to be run at their fair in Carthage, Ill., September 9 to 13, inclusive: One-mile county, one-mile open heat race. Entrance to first event 25 cents, second event 50 cents. On receipt of entry a season ticket to grounds will be issued. Entries close at noon on day of race. Entries can be made by addressing O. F. Berry, Secretary of the Fair Board, Carthage, Ill.

POSTPONEMENT—The Kings County, N. Y., 25 mile club handicap is postponed until election day, owing to their members being entered in so many races at the meets in the interim.

AT WORCESTER, MASS.—All the arrangements have been completed for the coming tournament under the auspices of the Bay State Bicycle Club, Sept. 14, and an "old time" Worcester race meet will be the result. The entries for the handicaps are to close September 7th instead of the 10th as in the other races. The official handicapper, E. P. Burnham, of Newton, will have to be notified seven days before the races, and the entries must be in by that time.

Other prizes announced are by the Pope Mfg. Co., elegant cup; Clark, Sawyer & Co., elegant parlor lamp; Hill & Tolman, 77 character World Typewriter; Hermann Lurke, silver cup; Dresser & Co., 38 bracket banjo; Holbrook & Dyer, fine pair patent leather shoes.

AT BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—Racing men from all over the country as well as from Central New York are looking forward to the races to be held at Binghamton Wednesday and Thursday next, Septemper 11 and 12. They will be the finest list of events ever run in Central New York. The Hotel Bennett is the headquarters, and E. H. Towle is the Secretary. Go to Binghamton and see some good sport.

PORTLAND, ME., will be the scene of the next Maine Division meet. Special rates at hotel and on the local roads will be obtained. The races will be held at Presumpscott Park. There will be a race for the League championship of the State, a three-mile race, a safety race, and several others. Among the races will be a boy's race, open to all. The date has not been positively settled as yet, but it will occur in the neighborhood of Sept. 20. A great deal of interest is felt in these races, and a large attendance and numerous entries will be the result. Chief Consul Dow of Portland, has the matter in hand, and the wheelman can rest assured that nothing for their comfort and convenience will be forgotten.

POSTPONEMENT—On account of rain, the races which were to be held at Norfolk, Va., last week, have been postponed until Sept. 16th.

AT YPSILANTI, MICH., Sept. 20—The L. A. W. Division of Michigan will hold a meet and tournament at Ypsilanti, Sept. 20, and below we give programme. At 11 A. M., hill-climbing contest. RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.)

AT HARTFORD, CT.—Sept. 2.—Track.—The Hartford Wheel Club certainly should congratulate themselves on the fact that the Hartford public have still a strong liking for good amateur racing, as fully 5,000 people witnessed the opening day races at Charter Oak Park. There is not a race manager in the country but can get points from the Hartford Wheel Club as to how to run a tournament, and there is not a man in that club who knows more how to do things than "good old" Joe Goodman. The Hartford tournaments have a splendid world-wide reputation, and justly so. We give below the results of the first day's races: One mile novice, C. H. Wood, (1); H. A. King, (2); time, 3.05 1-2. One mile State L. A. W. championship, H. G. Cornell, (1); F. A. Clark, (2); F. F. Ives, (3); time, 2.52 1-2. One mile novice safety, (no wheel under 35 1-2)—Hayland Smith, (1); D. C. Shea, (2); D. A. Ross, (3); time, 2.52 3-4 Two mile tandem safety, W. D. and A. C. Banker, (1); A. P. Benson and W. S. Doane, (2); E. A. and E. W. Bailey, (3); time, 5.40. One mile open. In this event there were 16 starters, among whom were F. F. Ives, P. S. Brown, L. Forster, J. W. Schoefer, A. C. Banker and H. Hall, Jr. The race was won by W. S. Campbell of Niagara Falls, with F. F. Ives of Meriden 2nd, and Wm. Schumacher 3rd. The time was 2.43 3-4. One mile, three-minute class. This also brought out a large field of starters, 12 in number, and was won by H. G. Crowell, with L. L. Clark second, and F. A. Delabarre third. Time 2.50 1-2. Three mile National L. A. W. safety championship. This race was won by W. D. Banker with E. A. Bailey, (2); A. P. Benson, (3); time, 9.41 1-2. As a time limit of 9m. had been put on the race it was declared off, and will be run over on the second day. Two mile handicap brought out 18 starters, and luckily the track was broad. There were only two scratch men, A. C. Banker and F. F. Ives. The result was, A. A. Zimmerman, 150 yards (1); F. F. Ives, scratch (2); P. J. Berlo, 75 yards (3); time, 5.26 1-4. Ives, from scratch finished second in 5.27 1-4, which is record for 2 miles on that track. One mile safety handicap, Columbia Club, G. R. Secor, 100 yds. (1); F. F. Ellwood, 100 yds. (2); Geo. Smart, scratch (3); time, 2.54 1-2. (From scratch 2.59.) One mile safety. E. A. Bailey, (1); W. D. Banker, (2); W. Harding, (3); time, 2.48 1-2. One mile Conn. Club's Team race. F. F. Ives, J. E. Brainard, L. A. Miller, Meridan Club, 11 points (1); L. Forster, H. G. Connell, G. C. Dresser, Hartford Club, 10 points (2); time, for winners, (Ives) 3.52 1-4. The time in all races except the last one and the National L. A. W. Championship was good in every case. The "old timers" did not show up as well as might have been expected. Taken all in all it was a most delightful afternoon's sport, and has sharpened the appetite for "more" to-morrow.

THE second days racing at Hartford attracted almost as large a crowd as did the events on Labor Day, there being nearly 5,000 people on the grounds. Some excellent sport was enjoyed and the spectators were entertained by a few exhibitions of record breaking. In the one-mile tandem safety handicap, A. C. and W. D. Banker of New York, who finished second, made the full mile in 2m. 37s., beating the American record. In the mile safety race Hendee made up for yesterday's defeat by winning by 20 yards in 2m. 41 1-4s., beating the record by 5 3-4s. The third quarter of the three-mile safety race was run by W. D. Banker, of New York, in 35 1-4s. Following is the record of the events:

One mil safety handicap. First heat, W. Van Wagoner, at scratch (1); A. P. Benson, 75 yds. (2); W. Harding, 50 yds. (3); time, 2.46. Second heat, W. D. Banker, scratch (1); H. Smith, scratch (2); Geo. Hendee, scratch (3); time, 2.53. Final heat, G. M. Hendee, scratch (1); W. Harding, 75 yds. (2); A. P. Benson, 75 yds. (3); time, 2.41 1-4. This was a splendid race and the time made by Hendee, 2.41 1-4, is American record for mile safety bicycle. One mile handicap heats. First heat, Mont Scott, 75 yds. (1); Isaac Hinds, 150 yds. (2); L. Forster, 50 yds. (3); winner's time, 2.41; scratch man's time, (Ives), 2.45. Second heat, L. L. Clarke, 75 yds. (1); G. M. Worden, 200 yds. (2); L. A. Miller, 50 yds. (3); winner's time, 2.39; scratch man's time (A. C. Banker), 2.51 1-2. Third heat, E. R. Faxon, 200 yds. (1); F. A. Delabarre, 75 yds. (2); F. A. Clarke, 25 yds. (3); winner's time, 2.43 1-2; scratch man's time (Zimmermann), 2.48 1-2. Fourth heat, E. Dauchey, 100 yds. (1); T. W. Roberts, 75 yds. (2); C. H. Weld, 100 yds. (3); winners time, 2.42 1-2; scratch man's time, (Schumacher), 2.45 1-2. Final heat, G. M Worden, 200 yds. (1); F. A. Delabarre, 50 yds. (2); E. Dauchey, 50 yds. (3); winner's time,

2.34 3-4; scratch man's time (L. L. Clarke), 2.43 3-4. One mile State L. A. W. champion safety, Wm. Harding, (1); D. C. Shea, (2); Geo. A. Pickett, (3) time, 2.59 1-4. One mile Hartford Wheel Club handicap, E. Dauchey, 75 yards, 1; C. H. Wood, 125 yards, 2; L. Forster, scratch, 3. Winner's time, 2.43 1-2; scratch man's time (Foster), 2.49 3-4. One mile, 3.20 class, Wm Schumacher, 1; A. P. Benson, 2; H. Scott. 3. Time, 2.56 1-2. Five mile lap (11 starters): F. F. Ives, 10 points, 1; P. J. Berlo, 8 points, 2; Mont Scott, 4 points, 3. Time, 16.09. One mile handicap, tandem safety, H. C. Backus and G. A. Fickett, 150 yards, 1; W. D. and A. C. Banker, scratch, 2. Time of winners, 2.31; scratch men's time (Banker brothers), 2.37, which is the American time for one mile tandem bicycle. One mile, 2.50 class, L. Forster, 1; G. M. Worden, 2; F. A. Delabarre, 3. Time, 2.53 1-2. One mile consolation, W. G. F. Clark, 1; S. B. Bowman, 2; I. W. Roberts, 3 Time, 2.50 1-2. Three mile safety L. A. W. championship—This was the race No. 7 declared off on the first day because it was not run in the time limit of 9. On the second attempt a time limit of 9.15 was placed and again they failed to make the time as the following shows: G. M. Hendee, 1; E. A. Bailey, 2; W. D. Banker, 3. Time, 10.24 1-2. Declared off. With the above solitary exception the events were all well contested and the Hartford tournament of 1889 is closed with results the projectors must feel proud of. The races were well run and managed, and we are glad to believe that the enterprise of the Hartford Wheel Club has been repaid by a good fat cash balance on the right side of the ledger.

AT BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Franklin Park was the scene of some races on Labor Day. In each of the events two prizes were awarded. For the first, gold medals and for the second silver medals. Following is a list of the events and winners: One mile safety bicycle, F. W. Fisher, 1; C. T. Merrill, 2; time 2.45. One mile bicycle, for pupils of the public schools: W. Clark, 1; Daniel Connolly, 2; time, 2.40. One mile, ordinary, James Clark, 1; A. H. Morse, 2; time, 2.35. One mile, tricycles, T. Rothe, 1; Victor E. Means, 2; time, 2.45.

AT ALBANY, N. Y, August 31.—Track.—The third annual tournament of the Albany Wheelmen was successfully carried out on the Ridgefield grounds last Saturday. A good field of entries and capital races gave the 1200 spectators a splendid afternoon's sport. That the ladies of Albany enjoy a bicycle meet was evinced by the fact that nearly half the spectators were of the gentler sex. The track was in very good condition and the time made was fair. The events were: One-mile novice, E. Van Benschoten (1), Jno. A. Becker (2); time, 3.12 1-5. One-mile open, W. S. Campbell (1), Jno. W. Shoefer (2): time, 2.56. One-mile Star Club, E. E. Irving (1), Geo. Merrihew (2); time, 3.10 2-5. Two-mile L. A W. State championship, W. S. Campbell (1), Jno. Van Benschoten (2); time, 6.37. One-mile team, A. C. Banker, L. L. Clarke, Jno. W. Shoefer, Berkeley A. A., 45 points (1); T. W. Roberts, Elias Van Benschoten, Jno. Van Benschoten, Poughkeepsie Club, 18 points; A. C. Banker's time, 2.59 1-5. One-third-mile safety, W. D. Banker (1), E. A. Bailey (2); time, 54 3-58. One-mile club championship, F. A. Shields (1), E. E. Irving (2); time, 3.04. One-mile tandem bike, E. A. and E. W. Bailey (1), R. H. Robe and M. C. Furhmann (2); time, 2 52 2-5 (A. C. and W. D. Banker started but machine broke and so let them out of it). Two-mile handicap, J. W. Schoefer, 35 yards (1); W. S. Campbell, 20 yards (2); time, 6.02 1-5; a very close finish. One-third-mile consolation, L. L. Clarke (1), Jno. Van Benschoten (2): time, 53 3-58. [Did not both these men win prizes in the team race?—Ed.]

In the State L. A. W. championship race F. B. Hesse took a very bad header, and for a time was unconscious. A. C. Banker was close behind, and in trying to avoid Hesse he lost control of his wheel and dashed into an apple tree. A few bruises and loss of all chances for a place were the only results to Mr. Banker.

AT NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Road—The Westchester County Wheelman's race was run on the Larchmont Pike from New Rochelle to Rye and return, 15 miles. Prize, silver shaving set. Road poor; twelve starters out of 25 entries, numerous local race meets interfering with the W. C. W. in getting a larger number of starters. The starters were: Eugene Valentine, W. C. W., scratch; B. C. Lockwood, Yonkers B. C., 2 minutes; G. Burnham, Yonkers B. C., 4 minutes; J. Sturgiss, W. C. W., 5 minutes: S. Fuller, W. C. W., 5 minutes: Kellogg, Marsden, Hoyt, Kroebler, Dick, Yonkers B. C., 5 minutes; C. Le Count, 7 minutes; J. Abrahamson, W. C W., 8 minutes. There was no one in the race from the start but Lockwood, who finished an easy winner in 1h. 1m. 1-4 sec. Valentine second, 1h. 4m. 3-4 sec; Fuller third, 1h. 17m. 1-2 sec. The people in the neghborhood all thought Valentine would prove an easy winner and were much astonished at Lockwood's easy win. A challenge race between Yonkers B. C. and W. C. W. is likely to result.

AT ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 31.—Track—The annual race meeting of the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association came off duly as announced on Saturday, Aug. 31, in the presence of 1,500 spectators, among whom were a large number of ladies. Just before the start of the races a slight shower fell, necessitating a delay of about fifteen minutes for the track to dry, and after six of the events had been run one of the heaviest rains of the season fell, causing the postponement of the balance of the programme until next week. This is the third time Jupiter Pluvius has played havoc with the arrangements and in addition spoiled many of the beautiful toilets of the ladies, worn in honor of the occasion. The track was in fine condition had it not been for the rain. The events, as far as run, resulted as follows: 1. One mile novice, resulted in a big surprise for the parties who claimed to know it all. L. D. Cabaune (1), G. F. Peckham (2), W. B. Hassard (3). Time, 3 m. 14 2-5 sec. 2. Three mile match race, Ring vs. Harding. This was one of the most important races of the day. The pace was a waiting one until the last lap when both men put on their best spurt, Harding winning the event in 10m. 40 3-5 sec. 3. Half mile dash—This race was one of the most exciting of the day, and was anybody's until the last lap, when Tuttle put on a terrific spurt, closely followed by Barnard and Lumsden (and was won by Tuttle in 1 min. 25 2-5 secs.), and Lumsden close up in the order named. A claim of foul being allowed, caused by Barnard running Lumsden wide, the latter was given second place. 4. One mile, open—All of the St. Louis entries backed out of this race but Hurck, and it proved to be a hard tussle between Lumsden and Tuttle. A. E. Lumsden won in grand style, with Tuttle and Hurck following in the order named. Time, 1 m. 21 2-5 sec. 5. One mile safety handicap—The handicapping was very fine and time creditable was made. Jno. Hurck, 30 yards, after a hard struggle and close finish won the event, with Frank Fanning, 40 yards, second; Ronie O'Connell, 15 yards, third. Time, 3 m. 6 2-5 sec. 6. One mile Missouri Division championship—This race brought out a large field of starters, Richard Hurck leading for 3 1-2 laps when he was passed by E. Barnard, who won hands down. Richard Hurck, second; A. G. Harding, third. Time, 3 m. 17 2-5 sec. The case with which Barnard spurted away from the field proved him to be the fastest man in the State. Harry Gordon here gave a beautiful exhibition of fancy and trick riding, and was loudly applauded by the audience. Some of his tricks were marvelous and easily proclaimed him the Western champion at this business. Just as the bell sounded for the two mile lap race, the flood gates of Heaven were let loose and such rain has not been here for many a day. In spite of the drains, the water covered the track to the depth of four inches in places, and after waiting for half an hour the events were postponed until to-day on account of the visitors, who were unable to stay over longer, but as the rain is still falling at this writing they will be again postpored to some day during the week. The audience was an exceedingly good-natured one, and in spite of the fact that some of the ladies were drenched to the skin, not one word of complaint was heard. An excellent band of music was present and aided materially to make the affair all the more pleasant.

AT TAUNTON, MASS., Sept. 2.—Twenty-mile match race.—The match race between W. Van Wagoner of Newport and E. C. Anthony of Taunton for a $100 gold medal came off on Monday last, and resulted in a clean victory for Anthony. The race was scored by points, winner of the fifth mile counting one point, the tenth mile one, and of the twentieth mile one point. Messrs. Rogers, Perkins and Haskell acted as judges. Van Wagoner took the lead and held it to the last of the fifth mile, when Anthony made a magnificent spurt, scoring the first point, time 17m 32s. Anthony then resumed his former tactics, but again on entering the home-stretch of the tenth mile spurted ahead and crossed the tape before Van. Van Wagoner then gave up. Time for 10 miles, 33m. 53s. Anthony finished the 20 miles in 1h. 9m. 12s. A large amount of money changed hands on the result.

AT CHICAGO, August 27.—The fourth of the Illinois Club road races was run Tuesday evening last, over the Fortieth street course, nine miles, with the following result: Simmons, 3m. handicap, first, time, 30m. 56s.; Dole, 1m. 45s. handicap, second, time, 30m. 13s; Knisely, third, 3m. 15s handicap, time, 31m. 28s.

September 31.—Kohler, of the Æolus Club, won the two-mile handicap race, at the Wanderers' athletic games, Saturday; Arthur, of the Illinois Club, second.

AT BROWNSVILLE, PA., Aug. 28.—Following is report of races held at Brownsville, Pa., under auspices of Brownsville Cycle Club, Wednesday, Aug. 28, '89: Half mile novice, Arthur L. Banker, Pittsburg, 1st, 1.34; C. J. Isler, Brownsville, 2d, 1.34 2-5. One mile lap—W. D. Banker, Pittsburg, 1st, 3.12 2-5; George A. Banker, 2d. Half mile 1.35 class—John A. Caughy, 1st, 1.36 1-5; N. N. Madera, Brownsville, 2d, 1.37. One mile safety handicap—W. D. Banker, scratch, 1st, 3.06 4-5; H. F. Acker, Pittsburg, 160 yds., 2d. Half mile open—George A. Banker, 1st, 1.33 1-5; M. Killmer, Reading, 2d, 1.33 2-5. One mile 3.20 class—Arthur L. Banker, 1st, 3.19; John A. Caughy, 2d, 3 19 3-5. Two mile handicap—W. D. Banker, scratch, 1st, 6 43 1-5; M. Killmer, 155 yds., 2d, 6.43 2-5. Half mile horse vs. bicycle—C. J. Isler, bicycle, 1st, 1.39; A. M. Thompson, Brownsville, 1.40.

AT McKEESPORT, PA., August 29.—Track.—A more successful event than the opening bicycle tournament of the bicycle club could not be desired than that of to-day. There were 100 bicyclists present, and the city was alive with excitement. The attendance at the races was the largest ever seen at the driving park, over 1500 being in attendance. The hill-climbing contest, in which there were 50 entries, was won by W. W. Taxis, of Philadelphia, in 2.20, being 30 seconds ahead of M. Kilmer, of Reading. One-mile novice was won by A. L. Banker, in 2.49; J. A. Caughey second, and A. C. Smith third; this race was protested on the ground that Caughey and Banker had won prizes at Brownsville the day before. One-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1). W. D. Banker (2). M. Kilmer (3); time, 2.56 3-4. Half-mile safety, W. W. Taxis (1), W. D. Banker (2); time, 1.25 1-2. One-mile 3.20 class, George Banker (1), M. Kilmer (2), A. C. Smith (3); time, 2.52 1-2. Half-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1), W. D. Banker (2); time, 1.28. One-mile, boys under 16 years, J. M Hizrot (1), H. Van Kirk (2), Sam Leek (3); time, 3 27. Half-mile 1.35 class, A. L. Banker (1), J. A. Caughey (2); time, 1.21 2-5. Two-mile handicap, Geo. A. Banker, 215 yards (1); A. C. Smith, 250 yards (2); W. W. Taxis, scratch (3); time, 5.41 4-5. Half-mile club championship, J A. Caughey (1), A. C. Smith (2); time, 1.28 3-5. One-mile consolation, H. A. Davis (1), Sam Leek (2); no time. [Why was Leek allowed to start? He won a prize in the boys' race—Ed.] The track on which these races took place is a half-mile (?) horse track, and is very short. I tried last night and this morning to find out how short the track is, but the engineer is out of town.

AT PASSAIC, N. J.,—Aug. 31.—Track.—The Passaic City Wheeling and Athletic Association held their first annual athletic games yesterday afternoon on the three-quarter mile horse-racing track at Clifton, N. J. A large gathering of spectators were present. The owner of the grounds said there were fully 3,000 spectators, simply judging by the horse-race crowds which are known to attend there. The conditions for fast racing were excellent, as the good time proves. The track was smooth, and the weather fine. The management was somewhat slow in putting the events through. The two mile team race brought out W. Schumacher, W. G. F. Class, and L. L. Clark, for the Berkeley A. C.—E. A. Powers, F. R. Miller and J. W. Judge for the Riverside Wheelmen, and W. E. Shuit, W. E. Clark and C. Blizzard for the P. C. W., and A. A. The race was taken by the Berkeley team with 18 points,—Riverside, (2); with 16 points, and the P. C. W. and A. A. 11 points. Schumacher finished first, and Class 2d, time 5.51. Three-quarter mile handicap, A. A. Zimmerman, 25 yds. (1); D. Oakes, 60 yds. (2); time, 1.57 2-5 One mile safety, W. F. Murphy, scratch (1): F. Brock, 100 yds. (2); time, 2.56 2-5. One and 1-2 mile handicap, P. C. W. and A. A. trophy. C. Blizzard, 90 yds. (1); W. E. Shuit, scratch (2); time, 4.33. One mile handicap, W. F. Murphy, 10 yds. (1); C. M. Murphy, 15 yds. (2): time, 2 37 3-5. One mile novice, G. Van Riper, (1): S. K. Hastings, (2): time, 2.56 3-5. If the measurement of track and the timing is correct, the time made in the above events are remarkably fast.

AT DANVERS, MASS., Sept. 2d.—Track.—One-mile novice race, J. Gibbs (1), A. H. Morse, (2): time, 3 20. One-mile Essex County championship for safety bicycles, Fred A. Wallace (1), R. H. Robson (2); time, 3.17 1-4. One-mile Essex County championship, Hugh Robson (1), A. T. Nugle (2). One-mile open tricycle race, R. H. Robson (1), M. W. Robson (2); time, 4.30. Two-mile open bicycle race, C. James Clark (1), Hugh Robson (2); time, 6 40. One-mile tandem open race, R. H. Robson and mate (1), W. A. Sillars and mate (2); time, 3.33 1-4. One-mile club race, Hugh Robson (1), J. T. Nagle (2); time, 3.15. One mile safety race, F. A. Wallace (1), A. W. Porter (2), time, 3.19. One-mile open race, C. James Clark (1), A. K. Pressey (2), M. Lenfest (3). One-mile safety record race, F. A. Wallace (1), A. W. Porter (2); time, 3 01 1-2.

AT YORK, PA., Sept. 2.—Track—One mile novice, won by E. N. Bair, time 3.14; J. Tragesser, second. Half mile tricycle, L. A W. State Championship, was a walk over for W. I. Wilhelm in 1 44, he being the only entry. One mile tandem, W. W. Taxis and John A. Green first, time 3.13; D. H. Miller and B. Rose, second by a length. Fancy riding was given by W. W. Taxis, Messrs. A. Bair and Reist, and Tip Sleed. One mile Safety L. A. W. State Championship, time limited to 3.05. W W. Taxis first, in 3.04; W. I. Wilhelm second. D. H. Miller, of Lancaster, challenged on the last turn, coming into the straight, but the spurt could not hold and he fell back, succeeded by Wilhelm, who made a bid for first place, but Taxis, however, would not have it so, and rushing down the straight, landed a winner by a length or more. Quarter mile State L. A. W. Championship—This was the most exciting race of the day, and Taxis was thought by the majority to be over the tape first, but the judges finally decided it a dead heat between he and Wilhelm and it is to be run off again to-morrow. Taxis is stamped to be one of the best men in the country. Any man, who can be on a dead heat with Wilhelm, while riding a road machine (Taxis' racer not having arrived in time) is a flyer, and when it is considered that he is but eighteen and just starting, the future that lies before him on the path, can only be conjectured. One mile Club Championship—Wheels not under 35 pounds (medal must be won three times to be retained. This was won by Chas. Beck with W. P. Swartz second. One-half mile steeple chase. This was won by W. W. Taxis in 2.10, after a most exciting contest.

Second day's races.—One-mile 3.23 class Alvin Reist (1), M. Kilmer (2); time, 3.02. Two-mile safety, W. W. Taxis (1), B. F. McDaniel (2); time, 7.09. McDaniel entered the race with a wheel in which eight spokes were broken. He changed his mount, and while doing so the other contestants very obligingly slowed up so as to give Mac a chance. One-mile Star machines, W. I. Wilhelm (1), D H. Miller (2); time, 3.01. Two-mile tandem bicycle, State L. A. W. championship, W. W. Taxis and Jno. A. Green (1), D. H. Miller and D. Rose (2); time, 7.50. One-mile safety club championship (wheels not under 35 pounds), H. C. Dreining (1), W. G. McFall (2); time, 3.38. Hundred-yard slow, D. Fornwalt (1), E. W. Bair (2); time, 4.50. One-mile tricycle State championship L. A. W., walk over for W. I. Wilhelm, who rode the distance in 3.45. Half-mile hands off, W. W. Taxis (1), A. Reist (2); time, 1.40. Quarter-mile bicycle State L. A. W. championship, this race was to decide the dead heat run the day before, W. I. Wilhelm (1), W. W. Taxis (2); time, 40s. One-mile consolation, H. F. Mulliken (1), F. W. Pope (2); time, 3.21.

ANOTHER SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

JUST as we go to press we are advised of the sad drowning of the brother of Mr. F. P. Prial. The facts are very scant. The accident occurred Monday and the body was recovered on Tuesday night. All will join us in offering our sincere sympathy to Mr. Prial in his bereavement.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.

Editor Bicycling World: The idea has occurred to me, on discovering recently some errors in the New York road book, that it would not be a bad thing if you could maintain a column on road information, arranged if possible so that it could be cut out and pasted in the books. As from the necessities of the case, none of the Divisions can well issue editions at frequent intervals, such a scheme would afford opportunity for early notice of changes, required either by errors in the original compilation or by the progress of events—forward or backward—on the roads themselves.

The following notes will illustrate what I mean and possibly be of present use to some one:

New York Road Book, last section of route 22 B. Description of grades between Williamstown and Albany a serious error. This road crosses Taghconic mountains, making hard grades. First four miles from Berlin is right up the mountain. An excellent route crosses this from Lebanon Springs via Stephentown and Berlin to Petersburg Junction in Hoosac Valley, about 28 miles, A 1 gravel, grades 1 to 3, all rideable, connects at Petersburg with route 22; from Lebanon Springs via Queechy Lake, to Canaan Four Corners, about 15 miles, with 22 B.; or via New Lebanon, Brainerds, Malden, Chatham Centre to Chatham, about 27 miles. The latter not so good as the route via Queechy Lake.

Route 22; pages 2 and 3; distances in Hoosac Valley seem to be taken from railroad, which is shorter than carriage road. Cyclometer shows Eagle Bridge to Johnsonville 8 miles, not 7; Johnsonville to Valley Falls nearly 4 miles, not 3; discrepancies probably true of other sections of same route.

Route 39. Best way to enter Wallkill Valley, joining this, said to be from Highlands (opposite Poughkeepsie) to Walden, about 14 miles.

Route 36. Section from Bushkill to Water Gap now in better condition than for years, most of it having been surfaced with shale, and should be rated A 2 to 3 "condition at best." Going south, which is easiest way, take Stroudsburg pike, at Bushkill and

2.34 3-4; scratch man's time (L. L. Clarke), 2.43 3-4. One mile State L. A. W. champion safety, Wm. Harding, (1); D. C. Shea, (2); Geo. A. Pickett, (3) time, 2.59 1-4. One mile Hartford Wheel Club handicap, E. Dauchey, 75 yards, 1; C. H. Wood, 125 yards, 2; L. Forster, scratch, 3. Winner's time, 2.43 1-2; scratch man's time (Foster), 2.49 3-4. One mile, 3.20 class, Wm Schumacher, 1; A. P. Benson, 2; H. Scott. 3. Time, 2.56 1-2. Five mile lap (11 starters): F. F. Ives, 10 points, 1; P. J. Berlo, 8 points, 2; Mont Scott, 4 points, 3. Time, 16.09. One mile handicap, tandem safety, H. C. Backus and G. A. Fickett, 150 yards, 1; W. D. and A. C. Banker, scratch, 2. Time of winners, 2.31; scratch men's time (Banker brothers), 2.37, which is the American time for one mile tandem bicycle. One mile, 2.50 class, L. Forster, 1; G. M. Worden, 2; F. A. Delabarre, 3. Time, 2.53 1-2. One mile consolation, W. G. F. Clark, 1; S. B. Bowman, 2; I. W. Roberts, 3 Time, 2.50 1-2. Three mile safety L. A. W. championship—This was the race No. 7 declared off on the first day because it was not run in the time limit of 9. On the second attempt a time limit of 9.15 was placed and again they failed to make the time as the following shows: G. M. Hendee, 1; E. A. Bailey, 2; W. D. Banker, 3. Time, 10.24 1-2. Declared off. With the above solitary exception the events were all well contested and the Hartford tournament of 1889 is closed with results the projectors must feel proud of. The races were well run and managed, and we are glad to believe that the enterprise of the Hartford Wheel Club has been repaid by a good fat cash balance on the right side of the ledger.

AT BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Franklin Park was the scene of some races on Labor Day. In each of the events two prizes were awarded. For the first, gold medals and for the second silver medals. Following is a list of the events and winners: One mile safety bicycle, F. W. Fisher, 1; C. T. Merrill, 2; time 2.45. One mile bicycle, for pupils of the public schools: W. Clark, 1; Daniel Connolly, 2; time, 2.40. One mile, ordinary, James Clark, 1; A. H. Morse, 2; time, 2.35. One mile, tricycles, T. Rothe, 1; Victor E. Means, 2; time, 2.45.

AT ALBANY, N. Y, August 31.—Track.—The third annual tournament of the Albany Wheelmen was successfully carried out on the Ridgefield grounds last Saturday. A good field of entries and capital races gave the 1200 spectators a splendid afternoon's sport. That the ladies of Albany enjoy a bicycle meet was evinced by the fact that nearly half the spectators were of the gentler sex. The track was in very good condition and the time made was fair. The events were: One-mile novice, E. Van Benschoten (1), Jno. A. Becker (2); time, 3.12 1-5. One-mile open, W. S. Campbell (1), Jno. W. Shoefer (2): time, 2.56. One-mile Star Club, E. E. Irving (1). Geo. Merrihew (2); time, 3.10 2-5. Two-mile L. A. W. State championship, W. S. Campbell (1), Jno. Van Benschoten (2); time, 6.37. One-mile team, A. C. Banker, L. L. Clarke, Jno. W. Shoefer, Berkeley A. A., 45 points (1): T. W. Roberts, Elias Van Benschoten, Jno. Van Benschoten, Poughkeepsie Club, 18 points; A. C. Banker's time, 2.59 1-5. One-third-mile safety, W. D. Banker (1), E. A. Bailey (2); time, 54 3-5S. One-mile club championship, F. A. Shields (1), E. E. Irving (2); time, 3.04. One-mile tandem bike, E. A. and E. W. Bailey (1), R. H. Robe and M. C. Furhmann (2); time, 2 52 2-5 (A. C. and W. D. Banker started but machine broke and so let them out of it). Two-mile handicap, J. W. Schoefer, 35 yards (1); W. S. Campbell, 20 yards (2); time, 6.02 1-5; a very close finish. One-third-mile consolation, L. L. Clarke (1), Jno. Van Benschoten (2): time, 53 3-5S. [Did not both these men win prizes in the team race?—Ed.]

In the State L. A. W. championship race F. B. Hesse took a very bad header, and for a time was unconscious. A. C. Banker was close behind, and in trying to avoid Hesse he lost control of his wheel and dashed into an apple tree. A few bruises and loss of all chances for a place were the only results to Mr. Banker.

AT NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Road—The Westchester County Wheelman's race was run on the Larchmont Pike from New Rochelle to Rye and return, 15 miles. Prize, silver shaving set. Road poor; twelve starters out of 25 entries, numerous local race meets interfering with the W. C. W. in getting a larger number of starters. The starters were: Eugene Valentine, W. C. W., scratch; B. C. Lockwood, Yonkers B. C., 2 minutes; G. Burnham, Yonkers B. C., 4 minutes; J. Sturgiss, W. C. W., 5 minutes: S. Fuller, W. C. W., 5 minutes; Kellogg, Marsden, Hoyt, Kroebler, Dick, Yonkers B. C., 5 minutes; C. Le Count, 7 minutes; J. Abrahamson, W. C W., 8 minutes. There was no one in the race from the start but Lockwood, who finished an easy winner in 1h. 1m. 1-4 sec. Valentine second, 1h. 4m. 3-4 sec; Fuller third, 1h. 17m. 1-2 sec. The people in the neghborhood all thought Valentine would prove an easy winner and were much astonished at Lockwood's easy win. A challenge race between Yonkers B. C. and W. C. W. is likely to result.

AT ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 31.—Track—The annual race meeting of the St. Louis Bicycle Track Association came off duly as announced on Saturday, Aug. 31, in the presence of 1,500 spectators, among whom were a large number of ladies. Just before the start of the races a slight shower fell, necessitating a delay of about fifteen minutes for the track to dry, and after six of the events had been run one of the heaviest rains of the season fell, causing the postponement of the balance of the programme until next week. This is the third time Jupiter Pluvius has played havoc with the arrangements and in addition spoiled many of the beautiful toilets of the ladies, worn in honor of the occasion. The track was in fine condition had it not been for the rain. The events, as far as run, resulted as follows: 1. One mile novice, resulted in a big surprise for the parties who claimed to know it all. L. D. Cabaune (1), G. F. Peckham (2), W. B. Hassard (3). Time, 3 m. 14 2-5 sec. 2. Three mile match race, Ring vs. Harding. This was one of the most important races of the day. The pace was a waiting one until the last lap when both men put on their best spurt, Harding winning the event in 10m. 40 3-5 sec. 3. Half mile dash—This race was one of the most exciting of the day, and was anybody's until the last lap, when Tuttle put on a terrific spurt, closely followed by Barnard and Lumsden (and was won by Tuttle in 1 min. 25 2-5 secs.), and Lumsden close up in the order named. A claim of foul being allowed, caused by Barnard running Lumsden wide, the latter was given second place. 4. One mile, open—All of the St. Louis entries backed out of this race but Hurck, and it proved to be a hard tussle between Lumsden and Tuttle. A. E. Lumsden won in grand style, with Tuttle and Hurck following in the order named. Time, 1 m. 21 2-5 sec. 5. One mile safety handicap—The handicapping was very fine and time creditable was made. Jno. Hurck, 30 yards, after a hard struggle and close finish won the event, with Frank Fanning, 40 yards, second; Ronie O'Connell, 15 yards, third. Time, 3 m. 6 2-5 sec. 6. One mile Missouri Division championship—This race brought out a large field of starters, Richard Hurck leading for 3 1-2 laps when he was passed by E. Barnard, who won hands down. Richard Hurck, second; A. G. Harding, third. Time, 3 m. 17 2-5 sec. The ease with which Barnard spurted away from the field proved him to be the fastest man in the State. Harry Gordon here gave a beautiful exhibition of fancy and trick riding, and was loudly applauded by the audience. Some of his tricks were marvelous and easily proclaimed him the Western champion at this business. Just as the bell sounded for the two mile lap race, the flood gates of Heaven were let loose and such rain has not been here for many a day. In spite of the drains, the water covered the track to the depth of four inches in places, and after waiting for half an hour the events were postponed until to-day on account of the visitors, who were unable to stay over longer, but as the rain is still falling at this writing they will be again postponed to some day during the week. The audience was an exceedingly good-natured one, and in spite of the fact that some of the ladies were drenched to the skin, not one word of complaint was heard. An excellent band of music was present and aided materially to make the affair all the more pleasant.

AT TAUNTON, MASS., Sept. 2.—Twenty-mile match race.—The match race between W. Van Wagoner of Newport and E. C. Anthony of Taunton for a $100 gold medal came off on Monday last, and resulted in a clean victory for Anthony. The race was scored by points, winner of the fifth mile counting one point, the tenth mile one, and of the twentieth mile one point. Messrs. Rogers, Perkins and Haskell acted as judges. Van Wagoner took the lead and held it to the last of the fifth mile, when Anthony made a magnificent spurt, scoring the first point, time 17m 32s. Anthony then resumed his former tactics, but again on entering the home-stretch of the tenth mile spurted ahead and crossed the tape before Van. Van Wagoner then gave up. Time for 10 miles, 33m. 53s. Anthony finished the 20 miles in 1h. 9m. 12s. A large amount of money changed hands on the result.

AT CHICAGO, August 27.—The fourth of the Illinois Club road races was run Tuesday evening last, over the Fortieth street course, nine miles, with the following result: Simmons, 3m. handicap, first, time, 30m. 56s.; Dole, 1m. 45s. handicap, second, time, 30m. 13S; Knisely, third, 3m. 15s handicap, time, 31m. 28s.

September 31.—Kohler, of the Æolus Club, won the two-mile handicap race, at the Wanderers' athletic games, Saturday; Arthur, of the Illinois Club, second.

AT BROWNSVILLE, PA., Aug. 28.—Following is report of races held at Brownsville, Pa., under auspices of Brownsville Cycle Club, Wednesday, Aug. 28, '89: Half mile novice, Arthur L. Banker, Pittsburg, 1st, 1.34; C. J. Isler, Brownsville, 2d, 1.34 2-5. One mile lap—W. D. Banker, Pittsburg, 1st, 3.12 2-5; George A. Banker, 2d. Half mile 1.35 class—John A. Caughy, 1st, 1.36 1-5; N. N. Madera, Brownsville, 2d, 1.37. One mile safety handicap—W. D. Banker, scratch, 1st, 3.06 4-5; H. F. Acker, Pittsburg, 160 yds., 2d. Half mile open—George A. Banker, 1st, 1.33 1-5; M. Killmer, Reading, 2d, 1.33 2-5. One mile 3.20 class—Arthur L. Banker, 1st, 3.19; John A. Caughy, 2d, 3 19 3-5. Two mile handicap—W. D. Banker, scratch, 1st, 6 43 1-5; M. Killmer, 155 yds., 2d, 6.43 2-5. Half mile horse vs. bicycle—C. J. Isler, bicycle, 1st, 1.39; A. M. Thompson, Brownsville, 1.40.

AT McKEESPORT, PA., August 29.—Track.—A more successful event than the opening bicycle tournament of the bicycle club could not be desired than that of to-day. There were 100 bicyclists present, and the city was alive with excitement. The attendance at the races was the largest ever seen at the driving park, over 1500 being in attendance. The hill-climbing contest, in which there were 50 entries, was won by W. W. Taxis, of Philadelphia, in 2.20, being 30 seconds ahead of M. Kilmer, of Reading. One-mile novice was won by A. L. Banker, in 2.49; J. A. Caughey second, and A. C. Smith third; this race was protested on the ground that Caughey and Banker had won prizes at Brownsville the day before. One-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1), W. D. Banker (2), M. Kilmer (3); time, 2.56.3-4. Half-mile safety, W. W. Taxis (1), W. D. Banker (2): time, 1.25 1-2. One-mile 3.20 class, George Banker (1), M. Kilmer (2), A. C. Smith (3): time, 2.52 1-2. Half-mile open, W. W. Taxis (1), W. D. Banker (2); time, 1.28. One-mile, boys under 16 years, J. M. Hizrot (1), H. Van Kirk (2), Sam Leek (3); time, 3 27. Half-mile 1.35 class, A. L. Banker (1), J. A. Caughey (2); time, 1.21 2-5. Two-mile handicap, Geo. A. Banker, 215 yards (1); A. C. Smith, 250 yards (2); W. W. Taxis, scratch (3); time, 5.41 4-5. Half-mile club championship, J. A. Caughey (1), A. C. Smith (2); time, 1.28 3-5. One-mile consolation, H. A. Davis (1), Sam Leek (2): no time. [Why was Leek allowed to start? He won a prize in the boys' race—Ed.] The track on which these races took place is a half-mile (?) horse track, and is very short. I tried last night and this morning to find out how short the track is, but the engineer is out of town.

AT PASSAIC, N. J.,—Aug. 31.—Track.—The Passaic City Wheeling and Athletic Association held their first annual athletic games yesterday afternoon on the three-quarter mile horse-racing track at Clifton, N. J. A large gathering of spectators were present. The owner of the grounds said there were fully 3,000 spectators, simply judging by the horse-race crowds which are known to attend there. If the measurement of track and the timing is correct, the time made in the above events are remarkably fast.

AT DANVERS, MASS., Sept. 2d.—Track.—One-mile novice race, J. Gibbs (1), A. H. Morse, (2): time, 3 20. One-mile Essex County championship for safety bicycles, Fred A. Wallace (1), R. H. Robson (2): time, 3.17 1-4. One-mile Essex County championship, Hugh Robson (1), A. T. Nagle (2). One-mile open tricycle race, R. H. Robson (1), M. W. Robson (2): time, 4.30. Two-mile open bicycle race, C. James Clark (1), Hugh Robson (2): time, 6.40. One-mile tandem open race, R. H. Robson and mate (1), W. A. Sillars and mate (2): time, 3.33 1-4. One-mile club race, Hugh Robson (1), J. T. Nagle (2): time, 3.15. One mile safety race, F. A. Wallace (1), A. W. Porter (2), time, 3.19. One-mile open race, C. James Clark (1), A. K. Pressey (2), M. Lenfest (3). One-mile safety record race, F. A. Wallace (1), A. W. Porter (2): time, 3 01 1-2.

AT YORK, PA., Sept. 2.—Track—One mile novice, won by E. N. Bair, time 3.14; J. Tragesser, second. Half mile tricycle, L. A. W. State Championship, was a walk over for W. I. Miller, of Lancaster, challenged on the last turn, coming into the straight, but the spurt could not hold and he fell back, succeeded by Wilhelm, who made a bid for first place, but Taxis, however, would not have it so, and rushing down the straight, landed a winner by a length or more. Quarter mile State L. A. W. Championship—This was the most exciting race of the day, and Taxis was thought by the majority to be over the tape first, but the judges finally decided it a dead heat between he and Wilhelm and it is to be run off again to-morrow. Taxis is stamped to be one of the best men in the country. Any man, who can be on a dead heat with Wilhelm, while riding a road machine (Taxis' racer not having arrived in time) is a flyer, and when it is considered that he is but eighteen and just starting, the future that lies before him on the path, can only be conjectured. One mile Club Championship—Wheels not under 35 pounds (medal must be won three times to be retained. This was won by Chas. Beck with W. P. Swartz second. One-half mile steeple chase. This was won by W. W. Taxis in 2.10, after a most exciting contest.

Second day's races.—One-mile 3.23 class, Alvin Reist (1), M. Kilmer (2); time, 3.02. Two-mile safety, W. W. Taxis (1), B. F. McDaniel (2); time, 7.09. McDaniel entered the race with a wheel in which eight spokes were broken. He changed his mount, and while doing so the other contestants very obligingly slowed up so as to give Mac a chance. One-mile Star machines, W. I. Wilhelm (1), D. H. Miller (2): time, 3.01. Two-mile tandem bicycle, State L. A. W. championship, W. W. Taxis and Jno. A. Green (1), D. H. Miller and D. Rose (2); time, 7.50. One-mile safety club championship (wheels not under 35 pounds), H. C. Dreining (1), W. G. McFall (2); time, 3.38. Hundred-yard slow, D. Fornwalt (1), E. W. Bair (2); time, 4.50. One-mile tricycle State championship L. A. W., walk over for W. I. Wilhelm, who rode the distance in 3.45. Half-mile hands off, W. W. Taxis (1), A. Reist (2): time, 1.40. Quarter-mile bicycle State L. A. W. championship, this race was to decide the dead heat run the day before, W. I. Wilhelm (1), W. W. Taxis (2); time, 40s. One-mile consolation, H. F. Mulliken (1), F. W. Pope (2); time, 3.21.

ANOTHER SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Just as we go to press we are advised of the sad drowning of the brother of Mr. F. P. Prial. The facts are very scant. The accident occurred Monday and the body was recovered on Tuesday night. All will join us in offering our sincere sympathy to Mr. Prial in his bereavement.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.

Editor Bicycling World: The idea has occurred to me, on discovering recently some errors in the New York road book, that it would not be a bad thing if you could maintain a column on road information, arranged if possible so that it could be cut out and pasted in the books. As from the necessities of the case, none of the Divisions can well issue editions at frequent intervals, such a scheme would afford opportunity for early notice of changes, required either by errors in the original compilation or by the progress of events—forward or backward—on the roads themselves.

The following notes will illustrate what I mean and possibly be of present use to some one:

New York Road Book, last section of route 22 B. Description of grades between Williamstown and Albany a serious error. This road crosses Taghconic mountains, making hard grades. First four miles from Berlin is right up the mountain. An excellent route crosses this from Lebanon Springs via Stephentown and Berlin to Petersburg Junction in Hoosac Valley, about 28 miles, A 1 gravel, grades 1 to 3, all rideable, connects at Petersburg with route 22; from Lebanon Springs via Queechy Lake, to Canaan Four Corners, about 15 miles, with 22 B.; or via New Lebanon, Brainerds, Malden, Chatham Centre to Chatham, about 27 miles. The latter not so good as the route via Queechy Lake.

Route 22; pages 2 and 3; distances in Hoosac Valley seem to be taken from railroad, which is shorter than carriage road. Cyclometer shows Eagle Bridge to Johnsonville 8 miles, not 7; Johnsonville to Valley Falls nearly 4 miles, not 3; discrepancies probably true of other sections of same route.

Route 39. Best way to enter Wallkill Valley, joining this, said to be from Highlands (opposite Poughkeepsie) to Walden, about 14 miles.

Route 36. Section from Bushkill to Water Gap now in better condition than for years, most of it having been surfaced with shale, and should be rated A 2 to 3 "condition at best." Going south, which is easiest way, take Stroudsburg pike, at Bushkill and turn left 4 1-4 miles out to Shawnee, going north turn left at Shawnee, 3 miles from Water Gap village, about 4 from hotels.

If you were to invite notes similar to the above, for regular publication, as rideea might discover alterations. I think it would be of valuable assistance to tourists, and even aid the road book committees very materially. Yours truly, E. J. SHRIVER.

MR. JOS. HOLROYD of the Bay City Wheelmen, San Francisco, has returned from a pleasant eight week's trip in England. While in New York he was the guest of Mr. Fink.

A WORD FROM FLINT MICH.

Editor Bicycling World: As my eagle eye has vainly scanned the columns of your paper week after week for a reference to things bicycular as happening in this burg it occurs to me that the apparent neglect may be due to lack of information, being aware from past personal experience in the "art preservative" that ye editor does not intuitively become aware of the happenings of the world at large. That you may no longer remain in ignorance of our small but enthusiastic contingent of the great fraternity of wheelmen. I send you the enclosed copy of our by-laws, etc., and the following regarding us, of which you may make such use as seems best.

"The Flint wheelmen" number now about 30 wheels, including nearly all varieties of the first class wheels, belongs to the L. A. W. and numbers among its members the holders of several fine medals and trophies, won at state meets and tournaments. An idea of the timber we have, may be formed from the enclosed report of a series of races we are holding among ourselves for what is called the Willett trophy, a silver pitcher and cup. The races being held on the ordinary trotting track, which has been in very poor condition this season, and the best time consequently to secs. slower than was made by same men on it last year. Each race is witnessed by large and enthusiastic crowds, who vociferously cheer their favorites. A nominal fee being charged for admission, to pay for the grounds. The club is thriving, financially and otherwise, receiving new applications for membership at nearly every meeting.

Aside from the club there are in the city about thirty unattached wheelmen, and half a dozen high-grade tricycles, mostly ridden by ladies. There are a number of charming rides about the city, the favorite being to long lake, a charming summer resort, thirteen miles distant, on a good road. Many of the roads are, however, of a nature to develop the muscles rather than to promote enjoyment, and it probably due to this fact that a large portion of our club are unusually "hard riders." As other clubs who sometimes attempt to "show the road" to them often learn to their sorrow.

Fraternally yours, L. A. W. 22223.

IN the matter of the past and present of the Harrowgate meet in England, the Cyclist draws comparisons favorable to the present. In the course of the srticle it says: "There were, we fear, many wild jokes, the perpetration of which could scarcely be excused at other times by the most lax, and which had not even a basis of fun for their foundation; but those who have attended the more recent gatherings can congratulate themselves that they have found a better state of things than when it was deemed to be the height of wit and cleverness to steal out silently in the dead of night and startle a fellow-camper by loosening or cutting the ropes, and so bringing the tent down on his unsuspecting head. Happily, however, a change has come over the state of affairs, and, although the chroniclers of the times made no attempt to explain or palliate such leches as those to which we have referred, we cannot but think that their cessation is in some degree due to the publicity which they received. Of this happy change those who have had experience under both regimes will speak in no terms other than praise, and the improvement is quite as noticeable in the manner in which the entertainments of the camp are conducted, as well as a quieter demeanor in the habits of most campers."

LOZIER & YOST BICYCLE CO.

WE have it on the very best authority that a concern for the manufacture of cycles has been formed in Toledo, Ohio. The gentlemen whose names figure at the head of the company are Mr. H. A. Lozier and Mr. J. L. Yost, the latter who for the past two years has been so long connected with the Springfield Bicycle Mfg. Co.

A SCHOOL TEACHER

once read to a class of YOUNG IDEAS an account of the Landing of Columbus; then she requested the aforesaid Y. Is. to put on paper in their own individual HEN TRACKS the story as they remembered it, using their own language, but getting in all the "FAX."

ONE BRIGHT BOY

of nine OPEN WINTERS produced the following: "When Columbus got as close as he could he took off his shoes and stockings and waded ashore. There was some funny looking folks there, with nothing on but feathers, and Columbus asked them, "BE YOU THE INGUNS?" And the HIGHASTIGHEE said: "WE ARE; BE YOU COLUMBUS?" And COLUMBUS said, "I AM." Then the BIG CHIEF said to his folks: "IT'S NO USE BOYS; WE ARE DISCOVERED."

Had conversation continued the Red Teetoken would undoubtedly have asked the Seeahpoo: "KIT, ME DARLINT, HAV VEES ONY WHOITE FLOYERS ABOORD THE VOLUNTEER BEYANT?"

The plant and factory purchased by the Lozier & Yost Co. was formerly owned by the Jewell Mfg. Co. and was used for the purpose of manufacturing sewing machines. There are three acres of ground, a three story building, 240 feet long by 40 feet wide with L 100 feet long by 40 feet wide, two stories high. Besides these buildings there is a separate pattern room and wood working shop fitted with modern wood working machinery. The buildings are practically new, only having been built four years, and the machinery is of a modern and improved pattern. The Lozier Yost Co. have already some 35 skilled tool and pattern makers at work. The machines this concern will have out will be for boys, young men and ladies, also a 30-inch safety for general use, particulars of which and prices, will soon be given. The officers of the company are H. A. Lozier, President; J. L. Yost, Treasurer and C. J. Moore, formerly with the Overman Wheel Co. and later with the Springfield Bi. Mfg. Co. as superintendent. The concern expects to have some of the wheels ready for shipment by the first of November. Further particulars will appear in these columns from time to time, or can be obtained from the company at Toledo, Ohio. P. O. Box No. 412.

STOVER BICYCLE COMPANY.

THE Stover Bicycle Co., of Freeport, Ill., has recently organized under the State laws with a capital stock of $100,000, for the manufacture of high grade safety bicycles. The necessary machinery, stock, &c., has been purchased. The company is composed of leading business men and capitalists of that city, among them being a number of inventors of note. The company is made up of D. C. Stover as president; F. Bartlett, vice president; M. Hettinger, treasurer; W. A. Merrifield, secretary; Wm. C. Smith, superintendent; C. O. Collman, auditor—who are also directors together with C. Nieman, M. Hettinger, Jr., A. S. Held, O. J. Ziegler, W. A. Hance. The Supt., Wm. C. Smith, acquired a thorough knowledge of bicycle making in England, first employed by Singer Manufacturing Co. and subsequently by Coventry Machinists' Co., as foreman, and later by the Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Co., Chicago, where he held the position of foreman five years, and is thoroughly posted in all the details of making wheels and special tools and machinery pertaining thereto. The company start out under most auspicious circumstances with plenty of capital and energy. Patents are now pending for valuable improvements in bicycles, which improvements will be incorporated in the first lot of wheels, which is said will place it at the front at once.

A HAVERHILL, Mass., exchange thus puts the road question: "In no way can the interests of Haverhill be more economically conserved than by the construction and maintenance of good roads. In fact, nothing is a better test of civilization. A sleepy, impecunious city or town always has poor streets and roads; an enterprising, wide-awake one always has good ones." * * *

VAN WAGONER rode his 46 1-2 pound Eagle in the races at Montreal, Canada, last month, and the way he left the boys who were mounted on 22 1-2 pound racers in the 5 mile and 1 mile events, made the Montrealers start. "There must be something in the Eagle," said they.

EVERY cyclist out to cut out this advice, given by an Englishman, and patt it in his hat. It is so thoroughly in accord with our own ideas: "So long as you do not overtax yourself, and you ought to have the sense to know when you do; so long as you do not tie yourself down to any particular distance, or ride every hill, or try to race every trap that comes along, I care not what your age, sex, or physical condition, cycling ought to be a tonic.

HENDEE, in establishing the American one mile safety record at 2 41 1-4 rode a Swift safety.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of level ing it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS:

12 Pearl Street, - - - - Room 27

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary.

TO those who have made inquiry regarding road books we desire to say that a new edition of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Book is now in press. It should be out in a short time, and when issued it will be sent to every member who has joined the League from these States since the supply of books was exhausted last summer, and to all who may join in the future. The books will be sent to the addresses as published in the application lists. Those who have changed their addresses since publication should notify the State Secretary-Treasurer at once. The Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New Jersey Road Book will soon be issued and will also be sent free to members. This book has been promised for about a year, but the printers have repeatedly disappointed the State officers and no book has been forthcoming. Arrangements have now been made which guarantee an early distribution of the book. In reply to a query sent to the New York Road Book Committee we have received this letter:

Dear Sir—Replying to your favor of the 23d, there are about twenty copies of the New York Road Book, present edition, on hand, and there may probably be none of these left by the middle of September. Nothing has been done about getting up a new edition, but it is probable that a new edition will be issued next spring. I hardly think any new edition will be issued before that time. The book is supplied to League members at $1 per copy. Yours, ALBERT. B. BARKMAN.

Chief Consuls of Divisions that are about to issue road books, or those that may have books, on hand for sale or for distribution will confer a favor by making announcements in this column of what is being done in this respect.

Transportation Committee.

This committee still continues to receive complaints from League members of charges exacted by baggagemen on different roads for the transportation of bicycles. It is the same old story; the rapacious baggageman and the wheelman who don't read his Bulletin, for in no instance have the complainants taken receipts for the money paid. Without this evidence of payment it is practically impossible for this committee to do anything towards heading off the pestiferous baggageman. The Railroad officers who have made agreements with the League to carry wheels free are just as anxious to prevent these illegal charges as the wheelmen and are always prompt in correcting such abuses when properly presented to them. In this locality, wheelmen take receipts and the result is that complaints of overcharge are seldom heard of. A number of baggagemen have lost their positions in consequence of their greed and the remaining ones understand that they will suffer a like fate if they attempt similar practices. The committee is now preparing a revised list of the free roads and will publish the same as soon as possible, but as the work calls for tedious correspondence it will be some time before the list is ready. In the meantime take receipts in all cases where charge is demanded and send same to the Chairman.

It has been suggested by a number of wheelmen that the transportation companies should be requested to extend the free carriage privilege to League members only and that League tickets should be presented in all cases. This suggestion will be brought before the annual meeting and in the meantime I would be glad to get the views of the members concerning its feasibility.

Fraternally, W. M. BREWSTER,
Chairman.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

ARICKAREE TO THE FRONT!

We last week received two applications for Quadrant Catalogues from Arickaree. The fact is gradually but surely becoming known from one end of the United States to the other that the QUADRANTS are the full roadster safeties ever built.

These light wheels are standing the test of

Heavy Riders and Rough Roads

better than any other machines on the market.

We can now fill orders the same day they are received.

WHAT DOTH IT PROFIT A MAN

To gain a good bicycle and lose his wind in pushing it for want of a proper oil?

OLEUM

IS A CHEMICALLY PURE OIL. But one man in the world has succeeded in producing it, and we have arranged with him for its entire sale. It is as much better than any other oil as the Hickory Bicycle is better than you think it is (if you haven't seen it).

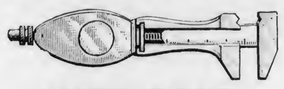
Oleum is a Latin word meaning clear grease, and it means the same at this time, and we want you to understand it LITERALLY. IT NEVER GUMS, IT NEVER EVAPORATES. It is of itself a BALL BEARING.

The property of "slipperiness" found in oil and other substances, and due to the shape of its molecules, may be illustrated by rubbing between the hands a quantity of fine shot and then trying the experiment with gravel of about the same size. The remarkable difference in feeling is caused by the uniformly spherical shape of the shot as compared with the irregularities of the gravel.

The molecules of pure Oleum are spherical and roll readily upon each other, while the presence of any foreign matter has the same effect that gravel would have if mixed with the shot.

All other oil contains from 9 to 28 per cent. of substances which have little or no lubricating qualities. The difference between ordinary oil and our Oleum is so marked as to be plainly noticeable to the average bicycle rider, while a scientific test will often show a difference in its favor of more than 100 per cent. It is a well founded belief among cyclers who are using our oil that they can ride at least another mile per hour faster than with any other.

To get the best results on machines where other oil has been used the bearings should be thoroughly cleaned either with kerosene oil, or, still better, taken apart and wiped, then oil thoroughly with Oleum, and you will believe all we have said—and more.



For Lamp—Oleum gives a steady, clear light, and is perfectly safe. Both lamp and wick should be clean and free from any other oil.

Price, including tin cans with screw top, One Pint, 50c.; One Quart, 90c.; One Gallon, $3.50.

WE SHALL MAKE LIBERAL ARRANGEMENTS WITH YOUR DEALER to handle this oil, but if he doesn't get it in time you may send to us direct and we shall be pleased to fill your order.

MY CYCLING LOG BOOK. By "Papa" Weston. The transitory pleasures of cycling can be made as permanent as its physical benefits, by jotting down in a well devised log book, the distances and incidents of one's various journeys. Knowing that such a record is a most pleasant thing to have, and believing that the keeping of such should be encouraged, as tending to the permanent good of cycling in more ways than can be referred to here. The Log Book is handsomely and strongly bound in red leather, will last for years of constant use, and is the best arranged book of its kind ever yet devised. It fills a want often felt by the cyclist who values records of interest for future reference. Price, post paid, $1.25 For sale by Bicycling World Co., 12 Pearl st., Boston.

A Very Important Point

OF THE

COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER SAFETY,

AND ALL OTHER COLUMBIAS.

COLUMBIA BALL BEARINGS,

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

THEY are best, partly because they are the simplest, partly because they are scientifically and properly designed and arranged for their various positions, and largely because they are made of the finest steel, with the most suitable machinery, by the best of workmen. Their excellence accounts to a very great degree for the superior running qualities of the Columbia Light Roadster Safety.

One hundred and forty-six balls are a good many; but the number is not what we wish to call attention to, so much as the fact that every one has its part to play in contributing to the general result.

We manufacture these balls ourselves under processes which make them cost us more than we could go outside and buy others for; but quality, not price, is the first consideration in making a Columbia bicycle.

This is one of the features which make Columbias the least expensive to their owners in the long run, and the most satisfactory all the way through.

HARD RIDERS are not necessarily "hard" citizens. They know the points that go to the making of a good bicycle--a bicycle that will stand up and take all the hard knocks it meets on the road, — the rocks, clods, hills, and general calamity it is sure to be steered against, and come out as good as it went in.

Not only do they know these points, but they know where to find them. When people want machines with the stuff that gets there in them, they buy Victors. "Ask Victor riders."

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 20 SEPTEMBER, 1889.

A SECTION of the English cycling press has either ignored or slightingly alluded to the sad and almost tragic death of Purvis-Bruce. It is the same section that sneered at the American records and insulted the cyclists of this country. The insular boorishness of a certain class of Englishmen is prodigious, and appears the more outrageous by comparison with the real gentlemen of England.

OUR good friend Wheeling contains the challenge of a father in behalf of his son, eleven years of age, to meet an opponent about the same age, who has ridden eighty miles in twelve and one-half hours. We trust we will be spared the competition of infants for long and hard riding. Let the boys enjoy their wheels in a legitimate way for rational riding, but spare us the exhibition of children seeking fame and medals on road or path.

WE were unfortunate enough to lodge for the night at the Central House, Waltham, Mass., while on a short cycling trip. A more disobliging landlord we never saw. We, in company with our friends, on ordering some refreshments in our room were informed by the person who seemed to run the house that he was too busy to do much "monkeying" that night. We secured what was wanted, however, but not without much grumbling. The whole place was so inhospitable that we shall exercise our privilege of going elsewhere in the future.

AS proof that the Boston Bicycle Club is not extinct, a fact generally believed, we may mention that three old members, one of whom commenced cycling in 1878, were seen ploughing out of town in the mud on Saturday last. It is true they were not keeping up with the electric cars, but they jogged along with that staid contentment that becomes the typical Boston Club man who has been through it all, and whose scorching days are over.

WE hear by the way that an attempt will be made to resuscitate this old club with the view to making it a cycling club pure and simple. We are glad of this, for it would be a pity if the first cycling club formed in this country should be allowed to drop entirely out of the ranks.

THERE is a movement on foot, so rumor has it, to form an association of veteran wheelmen. The requisite for membership beyond the qualification of being a gentleman will be an active wheeling experience of not less than ten years. It would certainly be enjoyable for the oldsters to get together now and then to recount the days and deeds of yore. We have no doubt these old fellows will arrogate to themselves a position of great importance, and regard themselves as the blue-blooded aristocracy of the wheel world. A "Cyclers' four hundred," as it were.

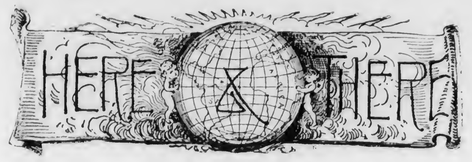
A so-called one-mile championship race was run at Binghamton, N. Y., last week, the winner carrying off the prize and championship (?) in the phenomenal time of 3.56 1-4. Just think of that for a championship race! It is a disgrace to the sport that such things can be. The time limit rule should have been applied to these gentlemen, and if the management had only known that the prize was going to be "pulled off" in any such disgraceful time they should have started a couple of their fastest local men to make the pace decent.

It is a significant fact that the only two starters entered from the same club, the Berkeley A. A. of New York.

No wonder the public fight shy of bicycle races, and if there can be found no way to head off these dawdlers from giving such magnificent loafing exhibition, then amateur racing will be relegated to the same shelf of oblivion as has professional racing.

It takes good, vigorous handling, such as enforced by the Hartford managers, to deal with those individuals who lean towards loafing tactics. Considering that both the men in this "championship" contest are capable of doing the mile in 2.40 to 2.42 we can readily see how much loafing was indulged in. If time limits on championships are not according to precedent we are glad to see any effort made to correct this growing evil. As in the possible case of this Binghamton affair, why not put in two or three fast local men whose office it should be to make the "waiters" ride at a decent pace or lose the race?

THANK YOU.



"THE WORLD shows enterprise in securing such interesting writers for its columns, notably those who are writing up the European tours. We have noticed a vast improvement in that go-ahead sheet within the past two years."—The Star Advocate.

A VOTE OF THANKS.

Editor Bicycling World: I take pleasure in informing you that at a meeting of the Hartford Wheel Club last evening, the following was passed unanimously:

Voted.—"That a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. W. J. Corcoran, through the Secretary, for the efficient manner in which he led the club riders to their numerous victories at our races."

Very truly yours, W. M. FRANCIS,
Hartford, September 11th, 1889. Secretary.

BOSTON.

"TERAGRAN TONIM."

A RUMOR has reached me—without any foundation, I hope—that there is some talk about having safeties allow ordinaries a start in the coming Boston Athletic Association road races. On what ground it is judged that safeties are faster than ordinaries it would be hard to say. In the Pullman and Irvington-Milburn races the fastest times were made on ordinaries, and in fact I do not know of a single road race in America where the ordinary has not beaten the safety. By all means let the two machines compete together on the road, where there is not the danger that the close proximity of a confined track affords. Then we shall soon see that it is the man that wins, and not the type of machine—or at any rate not the safety.

ANOTHER rumor came to me that the Harvard Bicycle Club thinks it can produce a team that could make the hitherto invincible team of the Berkeley A. A. hustle. With Davis and Greenleaf first and second, or first and third, they would have the race, even if the other Harvard man came in last. That's the way they look at it, at least.

IN reading the reports of the fall race meets I was forced to think what a fine thing it would be, if there were a little more unanimity among the different papers. The WORLD says one man beat, the Globe says another, and the Wheel still another, and while I was trying to decide on which one to pin my faith, a friend who had been there told me that about a certain race they were all wrong.

SPEAKING of mistakes, I think you, Mr. Editor, were wrong in saying, when you criticised Dr. Wyman's statement, that Hendee got twenty-five yards start. Mr. Harry Cornish, who, I believe, trained Hendee, told me that Hendee was allotted twenty-five yards but refused to take it. Furthermore, the official score card, which lies before me now, does "show such a handicap." [Since last week we learn that Hendee was awarded twenty-five yards, but refused it. The score sheet did not show this.—ED.]

DR. WYMAN, I think, is entirely right when he says that the training that Ives and Hendee got helped them a great deal, although they have not raced for two or three years. I do not mean to say that Hendee is 100 yards faster in a mile for the training he got as a promateur and professional, but I think any trainer will say that he is several feet faster at the finish—which is more to the point.

LAST Sunday at the reservoir I looked at the assembled wheelmen and I said to myself: "Hawkshaw," you are right about that "tights" business. They certainly are not gentlemanly for ordinary riding. They have their proper place. If a man is training for a road race and does not intend to stop and sit around full tights are the thing, but for ordinary riding loose knickerbockers are just as comfortable and infinitely more respectable.

I THOUGHT road racing was dead.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

THE New York Division meet would have been a great success had it been a regatta or swimming race, but as it was the battle between milers and moisture was a drown out in the first round in favor of Hugh Midity, Esq. But in such matters wheelmen are prone to be believers in the homœopathic school of cure, and by putting a sufficient quantity of moisture inside of themselves to run no chance of any ill effects from the external libations they are forced to receive at the hands of the Clerk of the Weather.

I HAVE often had occasion to express my opinions as to the funeralism of a wheel parade and the depressing effects of same upon an observer, even when he was an admirer of the sport. In consequence of this opinion I have been the recipient of many unpleasant criticisms on the part of the younger generation of riders. I would like, therefore, to call their notice to the following remarks made by Mr. Francis Wilson at the recent banquet of the State Division, at the same time stating for the benefit of the few who are not acquainted with Mr. Wilson, that the gentleman is himself a wheelman and has an income of about $50,000 a year derived from making the public laugh and cease being serious. Mr. Wilson said: "Being a man who likes amusement, it grieves me to think that wheelmen habitually look so sad when in the sad—dle and on parade. I like to help cyclers to bite off a bit of sunshine in this vale of tears. A wheelman on parade too often appears like a section of a funeral procession. There is a grim look on his face that convinces one that he is there for business. Too often he does not seem to grasp as much sunshine as there is lying around. The parade will never be the magnificent success it should be until there is an infusion of merriment into it. Them's my sentiments exactly."

EVEN kindly old Dame Nature was moved to tears over the gruesomeness of the idea, and she shed them so plentifully that she, more than any one else, prevented the parade from taking place. For this favor I owe the old lady a debt and have placed her upon the honored roll of my creditors, where she, like the others there, will ever remain.

I DID not think that even English bad taste could go to such an extent as to try and rob the dead of any of the wreaths that loving hands had cast upon the grave of "Jack." But it seems that my opinion of humanity, poor as it is, was not yet bad enough to properly estimate the depths of the mire in which the Bl. News finds refuge. It is not a pleasant position that it is in, and I do not believe that any other view of the affair is taken by the thousands of gentlemen who have made cycling the grand success that it is in England. Lucky indeed will be any of us who, when we pass under the wire as finishers in the race of life, if we in our turn receive one-tenth of the sympathetic and kindly notice that "Jack" has.

WHEN the world was young and the little stream Oceanus wrapped it round like the curled serpent, and there were no excursion steamers, League meets, base ball games or road races, the possibilities and potentialities of sport was small. There was boxing, but no John L.; there was racing, but it was confined to the chariot and to the Four Hundred of Mycene, or Argos, or Thebes, who could not tell the difference between a safety and a sociable. Then there was the throwing of the discus, it is true, but how does that compare with the throwing of the wheelman from his lofty perch of pigskin? There were all-round competitions of the pancratium, but they were nothing to a modern championship meeting. There were steeds and daughters of steeds, swift as the storm, but the one of steel they knew not. Helen, who might have taken a prize at a Chicago beauty show, never rode a safety. Col. Pleiades Achilles could not solace himself with an early morning spin after his night's of kicking at Gen. A. Agamemnon's packing of the primaries. Hercules, the Peloponesian pet, never knew the delights of a suit of black racing tights, though he finally came to his death by means of a medicated undershirt. If Ajax could have worked off his steam in a ten mile spurt down the Ripley road he never would have lost his life by attacking protected industries. Had Cassandra been given to cycling, her mind would never have got its grumpy and Mugwumpian cast. The great Zeus himself would have left a great deal better reputation if he had kept away from the stage and its thunder and taken a brisk ride round the block every morning before soaking himself with ambrosia. These mildly melancholy classical reflections throng upon me when I see what cycling is doing for the present and the future generations, and I cannot help but note the foregoing facts and show that had cycling been then in existence, how we of to-day would be reading different history from what we are. After all, even being one of the gods had its drawbacks when we consider how much of the pleasures of life they were robbed of through not being acquainted with the pleasures of cycling.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

THERE is little question but that, when the immense improvements now in process in the West End are completed, this city will have a residence section second to none, and a consequent big increase in the devotees to cycling. On Sept. 10 the contractor completed the finishing touch of the Forest Park boulevard, the first one in the city on the "private place" plan, for public use. The work cost $50,000. The result is a thoroughfare 3900 feet long, with a 30-foot grass plat, set with shade trees and curbed in the centre, 40 feet of smooth Telford on either side, it in turn having a strip of turf followed by a 12-foot granitoid walk on either side. The lines of the western terminus diverge to a width of 160 feet at Forest Park to accommodate a $4000 fountain built there by adjacent property owners. It is the renaissance of an old private boulevard Jesse Lindell built some forty years since, and which started nowhere and ended similarly. He hewed the path out of the woods, and constructed a rock road at great expense, to gratify a passion for elegant roads, with no idea of its future use.

I WAS greatly surprised a few days ago to hear that a local firm had issued an order forbidding any of their employes to use their wheel in riding to and from their business, giving as their excuse that it took too much of their time. As the house is one of the leading ones in the cycle business here, such an order would set a beautiful precedent for others which are in no way connected with cycling. On making closer inquiries I found that the order had been repealed the day after it was issued. The matter caused quite a flutter among our local cyclists, and many were loud in their denunciations of a firm who would treat their employes in this manner.

THE illuminated parade which was expected to come off during fair week will not be held, as Mr. George B. Thomson informed the wheelmen that the appropriation of $500 to defray the expenses was not granted by the Fall Festivities Committee on account of the opposition of the Exposition people, who claimed the parade would keep the people away from their show. This is all bosh to my way of thinking, and instead of harming the Exposition's attendance, the parade would benefit it.

THE Track Association cleared a neat sum on the tournament, and a meeting of the stockholders will be held next Tuesday to discuss the matter of giving one on a much larger scale next year. J. Harold Child, the efficient secretary, deserves great credit for the way he discharged the many duties of his office.

AMATEUR racing being all the go over the whole country, would it not be a good idea to arrange a racing circuit similar to the trotting circuits, to avoid a clash in dates? If such an association were formed and run on business principles it would surely tend to improve the tone of our race meetings. Another thing that should be done is the formation of an association similar to the W. A. A. A. of the clubs of different Western cities, for the purpose of holding Western championships. If arranged on the plan of the W. A. A. A., the heavy expenses of a championship meeting will be borne by all the clubs in the association, and not by the club holding the meet as now. The country is too large to admit of racing men travelling, say from St. Louis to Hartford, to compete in certain championship events, and the sooner Western championship events are established the better it will be for racing men, besides it will lead to healthy rivalry between all cities interested.

THE non-unanimous action among our wheelmen has been freely commented on the past week, and was particularly noticeable at the union run and dinner given Sept. 8, in honor of the races, at which less than twenty-five riders participated. In spite of arduous labor to the contrary, the cyclists of St. Louis are about the most disorganized lot to be found anywhere, and the club memberships are a mere bagatelle when the total number of riders is taken into consideration. The cause of this all is the great lack of workers, and should these lines meet the eye of such who will put their shoulder to the wheel to alter the situation, by getting the riders to join the League, they can obtain all needed information and advice by applying to Chief Consul Holm.

NEXT to wabbling, looking around seems to be about the worst thing a racing man can do, and the latter lost F. P. Ring his match race with Harding, as well as causing him to take a terrific header in another event. By the way, speaking of racing men, look out for this man Tuttle, of Chicago. He is the possessor of a magnificent spurt, has any quantity of grit, backed up by a Herculean frame, and can easily spurt a full mile if pushed. His finishes with Lumsden were very close, and were the latter not the hot favorite that he is, at least one of the events would have resulted in a dead heat.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

ON the 7th and 8th inst. the C. B. C. took their annual run to Miamitown. The start was made at 6.30 P. M. Saturday, and the destination reached at 9.45 P. M. Dr. Green took a bad fall on the slippery asphalt, and was obliged to return to the club house, where the festive Heidkamp assisted him to straighten his cranks and handle-bar, and to scrape the mud from his clothing. The doctor then pluckily started out and reached M. only a few minutes after we— had eaten up all the supper. The sky was cloudless, the air was cool, and the roads, owing to the heavy rains of the early part of the week, very smooth. After supper it was discovered that though there were twenty in the party, there were only sleeping accommodations for nineteen. It was 4 A. M. before it was decided where the twentieth man should sleep, and of course none of the rest of us could sleep till the question was settled. When we did get to sleep it was only to be roused by the stentorian voice of Chief Consul High, who with several others of those who did not like to sleep away from home, and who had started at 5 A. M., had scorched all the way. Among the amusing incidents of the day was Harry Ellard's excrutiatingly funny imitation of a novice's attempt to ride a bicycle, which was taken in dead earnest by an unsophisticated native. The return was made without any further mishaps. Dr. Green declares, however, that he will not attend another such a run unless he can secure a fire and burglar proof vault to sleep in.

IT seems that my remarks on the shrinkage of the shirts furnished the C. B. C. was construed as reflecting on the house that made the garments. Such construction was not intended. I was only trying to show that the shrinkage of high grade all wool flannel shirts was due more to excessive perspiration than to the method of washing, and that flannels containing a certain percentage of cotton were not so apt to shrink.

THERE is beginning to be considerable speculation as to the result of the next championship race of the C. B. C. Of those who contested in the last race, the "Duke" is in the South on a business tour and will not return in time to enter, and the same may be said of Nelson. Then Barth and Huseman, who were not in condition in the last race, may make a much better showing this time. There is also an uncertain quantity in the new members that have come in since that time. Benckenstein and Baldwin are both known to be flyers, and there are some who believe that if Dr. Green could be prevailed upon to enter, that Wayne's chances of wearing the medal for another six months would be exceedingly slim.

THERE are quite a number of wheelmen in this city who are supposed to be members of the League, and yet they have never joined that organization. I have made it a point for some time to ask every wheelman I meet if he is a member of the L. A. W., and have been surprised at the number of negative answers I have received. If every one of the League members in this city would consider it his duty to do a little missionary work the Porkopolis contingent would be considerably increased in a very short time.

FATHER BENNETT'S road race, which has been postponed so often, will be run on the course from Carthage to Hamilton on September 22. It will be a scratch race, with a gold medal for first man.

SEVERAL wheelmen have been stopped by the Eden Park police and compelled to show their park badges. It is said that hereafter no one will be allowed to ride through the parks unless he has a badge. They may be procured of either Bennett or High.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

THE team race at the Peoria tournament will probably bring out teams from the Illinois and Kenwood clubs here, a St. Louis team and a team at Peoria. The Chicagos, I understand, will not enter a team, although the prize is a tandem bicycle and well worth trying for. Van says he can take a Chicago team there and win the race, but will not do so. Ah, Van! I am afraid you are not as sure of winning as you say and prefer to rest content over the recent victory on the West Side rather than take the risk of a defeat at Peoria. Great interest is shown by our flyers in the meet. Winship is in active training for these races. He has kept bravely away from the path this year until now, but that prize-list was too much for him, or perhaps it was the pretty girls at Peoria—who can tell. At any rate, "Win" will be there and expects to bear away a goodly share of the prizes.

AS predicted in a former letter, Lumsden sent in his resignation to the Chicagos at their last monthly meeting, and, to the surprise of all, Van Sicklen moved that it be laid on the table, and "Art" requested to withdraw the same. Perhaps beating Lumsden in the road race he no longer holds a grudge against the young flyer.

THE Chicagos will remove from their present club-house to one on Rosalie court, near the entrance to South Park. This was decided upon after a stormy meeting, at which some of the "alleged" kicked loud and long.

SECRETARY-TREASURER SHERIDAN writes me from Springfield in regard to our so-called election, asking me to be present at the Board of Officers' meeting in September, when the entire matter will be fully ventilated, let the blame fall where it will, and assures me that he is not the guilty party and has no desire to get up a reputation as a fine worker, as he neither sought nor desired the office. I should like to be present at the meeting, but it is hardly probable that I shall be.

TOM ROE left for San Francisco last evening, to ride from there to Boston, in the interests of the Chicago Herald. He is due to leave the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, at noon Saturday, September 21st, and following the Santa Fe route, expects to make the distance (2573 miles) to Chicago in fifty days. Tom has had a good many ups and downs in this world, so that he ought to be able to ride the mountainous country between the Golden Gate and the Garden City at a fair rate of speed and with no fear of headers, if experience counts for anything. Roe will wear the Chicago Club colors, gold and blue, with "The Chicago Herald" worked on it.

SKINKLE was in town last week, and says he expects to return to Chicago to live in a short time, adding that he had rather starve in Chicago than be a millionaire in any other city in the Union.

RANDALL has moved over on to the West Side, and, I am told, would apply for membership in the Illinois Club only he does not like the idea of being black-balled.

BURLEY AYRES will be a figure in League politics next year, or I miss my guess. You mark me.

DETROIT, MICH.

"JUDGE."

THE Sunday News of this city devoted a column and a half to the prominent wheelmen of the Detroit and Star Clubs. A likeness appeared of each Lane and Jacobson of the Detroits, and Metzger, Whelden and Bradish of the Stars. Metzger's is very good, the others fair. The article is very well written.

I TOOK a spin up on the new asphalt pavement on Cass avenue. Three blocks are open for traffic. This will be the finest paved street in Detroit when completed. If the man who writes in favor of wood pavements could come to this village he would go away a sadder and a wiser man. We have miles and miles of cedar block pavement, and after the first two years it soon becomes rough, and the blocks begin to decay, and many other objections might be raised against it from a sanitary point of view. The people are tired of it, and if the asphalt already laid proves a success there will be many miles of it laid in the next ten years.

OUR "second to none" exposition opens to-morrow. Wheelmen coming to the State meet will have a grand chance to see this great fair. All trains stop at the grounds.

WE are going to have an old man's race at the D. A. C. race meet. Messrs. Stoddard and Markle will ride a one-mile safety race. The combined ages of these two gentlemen would pass the century mark.

CAPTAIN METZGER took the Star Club up the Canadian shore road to Le Boux's wine cellar last Wednesday. White and Marks had a collision in a muddy part of the road going up, and each took a side fall into a mud puddle. Oh! what a sight that pair presented when they arose. The usual music was in attendance, and the boys danced till after ten o'clock, and then started for home.

THE Detroit city ordinance allows bicyclers on any sidewalk after eleven o'clock at night until six o'clock in the morning. We always time ourselves so as to strike the sidewalk at eleven on the return from a run. We are also allowed on the walk on a street that is unpaved at any time.

A LARGE delegation of wheelmen will take the boat for Cleveland next Saturday at ten o'clock P. M., and will spend Sunday with the Forest City wheelmen. We are all praying for good weather for the State meet on Friday and Saturday.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

J. PHIL PERCIVAL, Vice Consul of the California Division, has caused a sensation in the wheel world of this city. Two weeks ago he quietly left town, and his whereabouts and destination are only known to an intimate friend. It is thought he has either gone to South America or Australia. He was married and has one child. The matrimonial union was not fraught with happiness, and this was his reason for leaving home and kindred, so it has stated. He was a book-keeper for his father's firm, Percival & Chambers. Percival was one of the fastest racers on the Pacific Coast.

CATALINA ISLAND has been the Mecca of our wheelmen who have been taking their summer vacations. Yachting has been the main feature of their outing. Messrs. Burke, Tufts, Sale, Bradley, Pease, Plank, Kercheval, Hiller and the Woodworth boys have been at the island at intervals during the summer. Catalina Island is a famous resort for pleasure seekers, and is 30 miles from the mainland, and is very mountainous, and is noted for its grand and rugged scenery. Hunting goats is a favorite sport for Nimrods, while for the disciple of Izaak Walton the enjoyment is unbounded.

IN reading the list of new members in a recent number of the WORLD, your correspondent noticed the names of two wheelmen who had joined the League from a town in Missouri, where the writer spent three years of his college days. Six months ago there was not a bicycle in that little place, but the fever has caught and two have succumbed. Let the good work go on! The day will come when a man without a wheel will be in the same category of the man without a light-weight overcoat—to be pitied.

THE San Diego tourists will start from Pasadena next Wednesday (the 11th) and it promises to be a most successful affair. The roads will be in good riding condition, as rain fell a few days ago, an unusual occurrence at this season of the year, which laid the dust. A party of wheelmen from here will probably take a spin down to the Crown of the Valley to see the tourists start on their week's tour of the scenic resorts of Southern California.

NEXT summer a week's encampment of the wheelmen of Southern California will take place on Santa Catalina Island, the time to be decided next spring. There will be tents for all who participate, besides general tents for social entertainments and for the commissary department. The programme of the week's encampment will consist in boating, fishing, bathing, yachting, goat hunting, mountain climbing, dancing, etc.

THE death of "Jack" is felt here severely. All mourn for him. There can be but one "Jack," his place cannot be filled. May he rest peacefully in the care of his godmother, "Nature," whom he loved so well.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

SUNDAY before last a party consisting of the members of the Chesapeake Club visited Annapolis. They were met at Bay Ridge by their friend Mr. Lynch, and from there wheeled to Annapolis, the surroundings and the Naval Academy. The trip was very much enjoyed. Among those present were William Holland, President; R. Hall Leonard, first lieutenant; F. H. B. Bullock, second lieutenant; Jas. B. Read, treasurer; John T. Lynch, Jr., Joshua Ray, Harry Ungeryogt, Harry J. Deitz, Howard Roberts and J. Fitzgerald.

THE Maryland Club viewed the bombardment of Fort McHenry from the steamer Westmoreland. Fifteen members from the Hagerstown (Md.) Club were aboard the same steamer, including Mr. Geo. F. Updegraff, the vice-consul.

A FEW NOTES: President Luscomb has consented to act as referee in the coming Citizens' Cup race.——Wet weather has arrived and stopped wheeling.——September 21, at 8 o'clock, is the date named for the regular meeting of the board of officers of the Maryland Division, which is to be held at the Chief Consul's office, 340 N. Charles street.——Mr. Winston, a former member of the Maryland Club, is here visiting.

NEW HAVEN.

"ELM CITY."

THE most enjoyable run of the season held by the New Haven Club was the Sunday we spent at Coney Island as the guests of the Hudson County Wheelmen of Jersey City. No entertainers could do more than they did, and the N. H. boys appreciated their hospitality and hope to return it next year. Our runs for September were interfered with by the rain. Sept. 1 we had a club run to Hartford, and was the only long distance run which the writer had the honor to be in that waited for slow riders, and forty of us rode into Hartford after Capt. Perkins, having all ridden the entire distance, as large a club run as ever came into Hartford.

WHILE we were eating dinner at Meriden one of the prominent clergymen of that place expostulated with the proprietor of the hotel for feeding a party of 40 wheelmen who were breaking the Sabbath by riding around the country.

THE New Haven contingent enjoyed the Hartford meet exceedingly. We were a fine picture in the parade, though we did not do as well as we expected in the races, but did very well, our team winning the tandem race and several seconds and thirds.

LAST Sunday a club run—race, I should say—was made to Meadows End, a god-forsaken place where all that went kicked themselves for going over such a beastly road. Led by our first lieutenant we rode as though forty devils were after us through sand six inches deep all the way—the worst road in Connecticut.

WE have a club run to Bridgeport next Sunday.

THE Connecticut road book is to be revised and a new edition gotten out, which will keep up the reputation of that excellent book; the best road book ever published; no wheelman should be without one

THE EAGLE HAS NO WINGS, BUT IT GETS THERE JUST THE SAME.

From the OAKLAND ENQUIRER, Aug. 22nd, 1889.

Captain Manning, of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, called a run at Lake Chabot on the 18th inst., which was responded to by a large number of members of that organization on their wheels. The weather was perfect and the run was a thoroughly enjoyable one. While at San Leandro several of the members indulged in a scorch around the triangle, a distance of 8 5-8 miles. The contestants were: E. L. Favor, George Ingham and George French, all of the San Francisco Bicycle Club; A. A. Bouton, unattached, was invited to participate in the race, and did so. Bouton rode an Eagle bicycle, and there was much speculation as to the result of the race, the Eagle being a new machine. The start was made and Favor led the first four miles, when Ingham forged ahead. When within two miles of the finish, Bouton took the lead and increased it enough to have time to dismount and adjust a nut which had become loose, and mounted again, without being overtaken. Bouton came in first in 33 minutes, 43 1-5 seconds, with Favor a good second. The road was loose and a strong wind faced the riders the last five miles.

From the NORFOLK DAILY LANDMARK, Sept. 3d, 1889.

Sunday, William T. Robertson, of Washington, D. C., riding an Eagle bicycle, rode over the ten-mile course, passing through the Brambleton and the water works, against time and for a record. Although the road was rutty and the wind blowing against him for eight miles, he succeeded in making the distance in 36 minutes and 35 seconds. William O'Neill acted as pace maker and A. A. O'Neill, D. Carpenter, of Norfolk, and J. C. V. Smith, of Washington, D. C., as timers. This establishes a record for this course.

A GOOD many here expressed themselves in favor of having the next L. A. W. meet at Niagara Falls. I want to put myself down in favor of that place. We have had city meets long enough. Certainly no place is grander than that, and it would also give others who, like myself, have never seen the Falls, a chance to do so, and with that attraction added to the meet I believe the largest one ever held could be had. Let some one keep the ball rolling till Niagara Falls is decided upon as our next year's meet.

The N. H. Bi. Club cordially invites any unattached wheelman of good standing to join their ranks. They are about to go into new quarters in a large house centrally located, where more accommodations can be offered members. The club is to be incorporated and a stock company formed of it, and bonds issued to raise money to furnish the club house, and before winter comes on they will be in better quarters than any wheel club in Connecticut.

THERE are over 1200 riders in this city, and the club intends to have the largest membership and best quarters of any cycling organization in the State.

C. H. VOORHEES and E. C. Rowe rode from here to New York in ten hours. Mr. J. M. Verhoeff has just returned from a European tour awheel. He reports fine roads and good time.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

"CYC," the WORLD'S correspondent from Harrisburg, Pa., hit the nail on the head when he wrote "the club room is the place to exchange opinions and make boasts." That's right, "Cyc." These blow hards who make their claims on the streets or in public places are sure to be spotted by the not over-lenient public, and will be carded as "loud-mouthed" as soon as the same n. o. l. public can place them.

THE second annual corn-roast of the Syracuse Cycle Club is an event of the dim past, and the hustlers are now busy conjuring some new form of entertainment. Thirty-two men "counted twos" in response to the order given by Captain Chapin, and whirled away over West Genesee Street Hill and out the Cammillus road, to the farm of Mr. Geo. Geddes. There a huge bonfire was built, and corn, to the tune of one hundred and fifty ears, was roasted. The usual obligato of potatoes—Irish and American—were also placed in the fire, and this savory repast was washed down by "real farm milk." Some "bloomin' sweet buns"—a la Harry Schell—completed the menu. When every one had reached his limit as regards eating abilities, songs, speeches, jokes, a la cycle, were indulged in to the delight of an appreciative audience. The club quartette sang "We've been here Before," and were about to spring the "Soldiers' Farewell," when they were silenced by a perfect shower of potatoes, et al. The return trip was made in short order and 1.30 found the boys all in their cribs.

TED HOPKINS is home on a short stay. He says life in New York is just about his speed.

CAPT. CHAPIN has returned from his eastern jaunt and looks as though he had had a splendid time. Albany, Hartford and New York were in his circuit.

E. MCDOUGAL and "Wes" Yale rode from Saratoga to New York to attend the State meet. We heard from them occasionally and learn they were treated royally wherever they stopped. McDougal took his "shooting iron" along and gave us his iron-bound oath that he would lay for a certain yellow and white canine, with headquarters near Rhinebeck. [Will our correspondent kindly locate the hind quarters of the canine? Please give town, county and State. —ED.] Aforesaid canine had a wonderful penchant for "Salina's" pedal extremities once upon a time.

THE "Knickerbocker" men are on the move. A room in the Larned, of no mean order, serves them as a temporary club headquarters.

CLUB house agitation is a popular topic here just now, and D. V. and the weather permitting, the Syracuse Cycle Club will be comfortably fixed in a ranche by the time another riding season appears.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE following from a Wichita correspondent: "The cycling fraternity of Wichita, Kas., have good reason to rejoice; the city has contracted for the paving of Market street for about half a mile with asphaltum. This will be the first in the city, and is but a beginning; a similar improvement for other streets is under consideration. Market street runs north and south, and as the wind here is either north or south seven days in ten, the boys will coast one way or the other nearly all the time, and if they don't rig up sails and coast both ways in less than six months then I was not born a Yankee."

"TOURIST," Ohio Division.—Thanks for report, but we published report of the meet over two weeks ago.

THE members of the Press Cycling Club are requested to rendezvous in Copley Square at 9.30 A. M. Sunday, September 29, and then ride over the roads to Wakefield. This run will probably be the last outing of the season; and, inasmuch as Captain Nat Rogers of the Wakefield Bicycle Club has offered to escort the club while it is in that town, the Executive Committee is desirous of having a representative body of the club turn out. The committee on badges wish to call attention to the fact that a club badge has been adopted and manufactured, and as soon as dues are paid the badges will be distributed.

THE Boston Athletic Association will no doubt be represented by a strong team in the racing events of 1890.

HAVE you read the full list of prizes to be given at the Peoria, Ill., tournament? If not, see pages 570 and 577

TOURISTS are warned against the route between Philadelphia, Reading and Harrisburg, Pa. The roads are bad.

D. J. POST of Bridgeport, Conn., says there is no foundation for the complaint made by a few kickers that Bridgeport wheelmen were not treated well at the late Hartford meet.

WE learn that efforts are being made to have the Warwick Cycle Co. locate their factory at Chicopee, Mass.

REMEMBER the date (September 26) of the Maine Division meet at Portland.

ISN'T the Berkeley Athletic Association of New York trying to form a corner on racing men?

SEVERAL of the Elwell tourists "did" the Whitechapel district while in London. They did not "cotton to it" as a permanent place of residence or even a cheerful section to visit.

WHAT they want to know in Pennsylvania: "Where, Oh where is that Road Book?

FRED SOLOMAN in the opera of "The Brigands" takes occasion at one point to ask, "what did the band play?" and then he shouts out the refrain so well known to our Hagerstown friends. The question is, where did Fred get on to it!

THE official programme of the New York Division is a splendid specimen of the typo's art. The designs of the illuminated covers are excellent, and the work reflects great credit on the committee having the work in charge.

THE old Boston Bicycle Club will cycle and tally-ho out to Saugus to-morrow to attend the race meeting of the Boston Jockey Club.

WE insert the following with pleasure: "Please permit me to change a statement regarding our club, made by the "Stroller," in the WORLD of September 6. Mr. John Erickson, the ex-Secretary, was not expelled, but completed his term with credit. It was the ex-Corresponding Secretary who left the club in disgrace. Yours respectfully, F. WEINBERGER, Cor.-Secretary.

OPINIONS differ. Chairman Davol is for reducing the number of L. A. W. championships to three, and have them all run at the annual meet. On the contrary, our St. Louis correspondent this week suggests a plan to increase the championships locally. For our part we declare on the side of Chairman Davol.

WE received the following item from Mr. H. G. Wolzendorf: "The St. Louis Cycling Club has disbanded and given up its club house. The St. Louis Cycling Club has been organized, which is going to be a League club."

THE bicycle thief seems pretty active "in spots" just now. The last spot he showed up in was Haverhill, and our good friend J. F. Adams is the victim. See advertisement.

AT Chambersburg, Pa., on Tuesday, September 10, Mr. Edward Hamilton, of Shippensburg, Pa., while riding along South Second street with his companion, took a header and fell on the rough street. He was conveyed to the office of Drs. Palmer and Greenawall, where it was found that his upper and lower jaws were broken and deep gashes cut in his chin and lip clear into the bone. It is thought that there will be concussion of the brain. His injuries may prove fatal.

MR. JOSEPH HOLROYD, of the Bay City Wheelmen, San Francisco, just after his return from a pleasure trip throughout England and France, spent two weeks wheeling about New York in company with Messrs. Fink, Schmidt and Neumann.

A GENTLEMAN writing from Sandwich, Mass., says: "In your issue of Sept. 6, in News and Comment, you state that 'Bicyclers for the first time in this country are taxed in Boston.' If this be the first season of such taxation in Boston, I may stand a chance of

'taking the premium,' as for the past three years I have been taxed $1.44 per year for my wheel."

ROUTE WANTED.—"Will some reader of your valuable paper, better informed than myself, please inform me through the columns of the BICYCLING WORLD AND BULLETIN the best wheeling road from Oil City, Pa., to Cleveland, by way of Warren, Ohio? I desire to make the trip yet this fall, and will be greatly pleased to get the above information at an early day. Thos. J. Lee, Philipsburg, Pa."

A PARTY of roughs from Brockton, Mass., have, for the past five weeks, been making themselves particularly obnoxious to residents of Hough's Neck. It was their custom to drive over in a barge, and take with them lager and fire water ad lib. The natural rough instincts inflamed by heavy drinking produced a decidedly disagreeable effect. Last Sunday, on their return from one of these excursions, the roughs ran down a cycler in the city of Quincy, and immediately started for Brockton. There happened to be present Messrs. Doane and Benson on a tandem; these men gave hot chase until they met a policeman, and then Doane got down, and the policeman (who could not pedal) was taken up, and Mr. Benson carried him along alone until a heavy piece of road made fast riding impossible. At this point the policeman dismounted, and Benson alone overhauled the barge, names were taken, and arrests will follow.

The owner of the damaged wheel, D. Hilliard, was supposed to be a League member and Chief Consul Emery had taken the matter in hand when it was found that the sufferer was not a League member and so the Division cannot give financial aid, though of course it can and will give moral support. There is a moral here. See it?

THE Albany (N. Y.) Wheelmen and the Albany Bi. Club are having another tussle with the consolidation question.

FOUR well-known wheelmen of Hyde Park, Ill., were recently arrested and fined for sidewalk riding.

DAN CANARY, the trick rider, has made some good paying engagements. He is said to get $100 a day for his exhibitions.

KARL KRON sends us the following request: "Your paper of Aug. 30, page 491, mentions two Australian bicyclers having enjoyed some 7000 miles of wheeling on a journey to England, and I think they intend to return home by way of this country. A letter for one of them, Geo. W. Burston, formerly captain of the Melbourne Bicycle Club, has been sent in my care by the last man who shook hands with him when he left that city in November, and I shall be glad to send the said letter to any address which he may name or to deliver it to him personally, if he will appoint an hour for calling at my chambers in the University Building, Washington square, New York City. Mr. Burston was the earliest one of the hundred men at the antipodes who subscribed for my "Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle," and I shall be glad if any reader of this paragraph who may meet him in America will call his attention to this request."

D. J. POST writes us: "In your Sept. 13 issue, under 'News and Comment,' I note an account of the injury of C. H. Hanmer, Wethersfield, Conn., and a suggestion of a suit for damages. If worth the space you may use my name as authority that the account was erroneous. A rolling stone caused all of the trouble and not a hole dug for the reception of a telegraph pole as reported.

A GENTLEMAN who takes his little boy riding on his safety standing on the foot-rests, lately said to the boy: "Now you are the headlight of the locomotive." The little fellow was much pleased with the idea and quickly rejoined: "Yes, papa, and you are the smokestack." Somehow the papa was not as much pleased with the comparison.

THINK of a one-mile L. A. W. championship being run in 3m. 56 1-4s.! This was done at Binghamton, N. Y., last week. We hope Campbell is proud of his performance and we hope the Berkeley A. A. is cognizant of the fact that it possesses two very fast men.

NOW is the touring season. During the next eight weeks the finest weather for riding will be experienced.

MR. BERT GALBRAITH of Milton, Pa., recently rode from that place 170 miles toward Philadelphia in total elapsed time of 35 hours; actual riding time, 20 hours and 30 minutes. He carried six pounds of luggage, and he thinks the above will compare favorably with the time made by any other tourist over the same route.

A BICYCLE rider calls attention in a local paper to the spelling of Williamsburg on a guide board out on a country road in which the letter "s" is left out. He also notes one or two other errors in the sign, and says "The cyclers voted this the most unique specimen of local guide-board painting seen yet." Why, boys, that's nothing. Within 100 feet of Smith College the hundreds of students can see three signs that read: "Plese keep off the lawn." Up on the hills where Wainwright's railroad is to travel is where the cyclers can find the unique signs. J. N. Leonard, the silk manufacturer, has a farm with a trout pond and other attractions for his guests up at Ashfield. At the entrance is a big gate, across which in glaring letters is the startling admonition "For God's sake, shut the gate." Some pious farmer has attempted to cover a portion of the sign with a daub of milk paint, only to make the notice more noticeable. Not far from this place another owner of a summer house wishing to frighten people from crossing his lonely lands for berries or fish, has posted a horrible sign by the roadside. It is about four feet square, with a notice warning people off the place. Then in one corner is a ghastly picture of a skull and cross bones, with the word "law" underneath, and on the other corner a rude picture of a revolver, all the painting being done off in suggestive and sickening red. This is the way some of the city people are "educating" the poor countryman.

ON Monday last we had a call from Mr. J. L. Yost, formerly of the Springfield Bi. Co., but now of the Lozier & Yost Bi. Co. of Toledo. Mr. Yost will tarry in Boston about a week.

THE fifty-mile road race between Doane and Van Wagoner is postponed indefinitely by mutual agreement; business duties interfering.

"THEY are sometimes extreme in New Jersey, but they are usually right. They have good roads over there, and when, the other day, a road overseer dumped sand on them by way of repairing them, they promptly proceeded to indict him. Something very bad ought to happen to him because he erred, not through ignorance, but from the wish to evade the conditions of the contract to mend the macadam surface with broken stone."—N. Y. Times.

A CABLEGRAM from Lucerne, Switzerland, states that: "In reply to the protest of the American minister, the Bundesrath announces its regret at the wrongful arrest of four American tourists at Berne on the charge of being pickpockets, and adds that measures will be taken to prevent such a blunder being made again." Good! and so now we can go to Switzerland without fear of being arrested as a pickpocket.

BETWEEN Old Orchard and Pine Point, Me., there is a sandy stretch of four or more miles, known as Grand Beach. The sand is very hard here and a person's shoes make but little impression on the smooth surface. The other afternoon was seen what appeared to be a boat scudding along the beach before the wind. It was sloop-rigged, but it was on the sand and not in the water. An investigation revealed a curious invention. It seems that A. R. Wright, of Portland, who has been summering at Grand Beach, has a vehicle like a tricycle with broad flanges to the wheels. Protruding from the frame work is a mast, boom and bowsprit. He rigged his craft after the style of a sloop with two jibs, and on a day when the wind is strong he can sail down the beach as nice as you please, and he can't be drowned either.

THROUGH GERMANY.

(BY A MEMBER OF THE "ELWELL PARTY.")

"How soon can we get out of here?" This was the question we asked each other, as we impatiently paced the silent halls of the hotel at Cologne after the boys had gone on their various trips over Europe. As soon as we could leave the place three of us pushed our wheels over the slippery streets of Cologne to the steamboat landing, and took the first boat we could for Bonn. The ride up the Rhine that evening was not near so enjoyable as it was when there was the jolly party of fellows who came down a few days before, and when we arrived at Bonn we did not go to the same hotel we stopped at before, as we knew that the boys were not there and we were all alone. That evening we took a stroll around the town and visited the house where Ludwig von Beethoven was born, which stands in the old part of the town in a narrow street. After looking the town over quite thoroughly, we retired, in order to enjoy the ride up the Rhine next day.

The next day proved to be fine, and we took the first boat in the morning for Mayence, passing through the section of the Rhine where grand ruins of castles frown on you at every turn. At Bingen we had an addition to our party in the person of Jos. Schneider, who had gone ahead the day before to visit the birthplace of his father, which is but a few miles inland.

Opposite Bingen, high above the vineyards, which completely cover the sides of the mountain, stands the German National Monument, representing Germania watching the Rhine. It is a splendid statue, nearly as large as Liberty in New York Harbor, and on the pedestal are engraved the verses of "Die Wacht am Rhine." We continue our ride through the vine-covered mountains, and at last the great bridge of Mayence comes into sight, and after lowering the smokestack, which is collapsable like a telescope, we swung around to the pier and searched for our hotel. This found, we look over the town, and on our return find that there has been three new arrivals, and our party now numbers seven, consisting of Wm. H. Kirk, Stephen L. Breed, J. W. Schneider, Dan and Wm. Krumm, W. E. Hicks and Clark Cooper, and our object is to see some of "Deutchland."

The following morning was spent in looking over the museum and city. In the former we saw a great many old Roman relics and part of the bridge built by Romans in 1 A. D., and on the outskirts of the latter we saw an old watch tower, built in honor of Drusus, in 9 A. D., and the remains of an aqueduct used for transporting water to the city, also built by the Romans about the same period.

After a very good lunch we started in earnest on our German tour, and easily covered the twenty-five miles to Frankfurt on Main, passing through a rolling farming country. We arrived just in time to witness something new to an American cyclist. There was a very large crowd assembled in one of the principal streets, and on making inquiry we learned that Lehr, the German champion, had returned from England, having defeated their best man, but who the best man they referred to was or what distance they had ridden we were unable to find out. From the celebration in his honor he certainly must have done something, as everybody seemed to be excited and the streets were packed with people. When the procession arrived there was a great deal of cheering, and ladies showered the victor with flowers, and the band played appropriate pieces. Such a thing was entirely new to an American, as the public in Yankeeland do not seem to take much interest in racing matters.

The next day we started on our road for Dresden, with the expectation of making Wurzburg the first evening, but as soon as we left the valley of the Main we came to a very rolling country, and found some hills which we were contented to walk up, and at length came to the Spessart Wald, or forest, which is one of the finest forests we saw. The trees are planted in rows at regular intervals and are straight as an arrow for forty feet without a branch, when the branches shoot out and the trees being quite close, the branches intermingle and completely shut out the light, giving one the impression of a huge roof supported by thousands of pillars, the floor being covered with pine needles to the depth of about six inches. A forest like this is very fine to go through in the daylight, but when one goes on continually for four hours with night coming on, he will take a different view of it and pedal somewhat faster. This is what we did, as we did not relish the idea of spending the night there. As we were nearing the edge of the forest there was a cry, "What in the deuce is that?" and we all looked in one direction, where we saw a deer standing, looking in amazement at us for a moment, and then disappear in the darkness of the wood. The first was followed by a second, which crossed the road directly in front of us, like a flash, and followed the leader in the wood.

We soon came to the end of the forest, and far out in the country ahead we saw a small village nestled in between the hills; here we began to descend toward it, and for seven solid miles we never touched a foot to the pedals of our wheels. On inquiring we learned that there was a larger town only a few miles farther, so we covered the distance in short order, and at lenght arrived in Marktheidenfelt about 9 P. M., and decided to stop there for the night.

After a good dinner, without wine, much to the disgust of the landlord and amusement of the other guests, we took a stroll around the place, it being a beautiful moonlight night, and found it to be a very quaint old market town, located in the centre of a rich farming section, and composed chiefly of tillers of the soil.

GOOD WORDS AND GOOD ADVICE.

Editor Bicycling World: I attended a League meeting recently, a pleasant, merry affair and well ordered, and I thought of some things which, as a clergyman, I should like to say to the members. I have often thought of the respect which the League shows to the law, upon which it bases its demand for rights. Indeed this is proclaimed upon its seal, for when I first saw the winged wheel with L. A. W. in it, not observing the periods, I wondered what society it was that thus proclaimed the majesty of the Law.

Perhaps we can find in that seal also some symbol of the respect which the League owes to religion. The wings seem capable of such an interpretation. We cannot indeed use these to prove that the members are angelic in their disposition. But wings are the symbols of mounting upward and keeping above some things in this world. At least it is well that they should suggest this thought to the members of the League. I think, too, that I can see many signs of this upward tendency in the organization, its officers and members. It has steadily moved away from the degrading influences of many athletic contests, keeping down the spirit of gambling, professionalism and jockeying, maintaining a clean and wholesome form of entertainment at its tournaments, which are coming to be more and more appreciated by the best people.

I wish to say a good word also for the editorial influence, which has consistently aimed at teaching gentlemanliness and morality as the essential characteristics of League members. If we have the proper esprit de corps we shall all strive to put down rowdyism and show that at tournaments, touring, League meetings or "smokers," wheelmen know how to have a jolly good time without the vulgarity and dissipation which are considered necessary accompaniments of "hoodlums" when enjoying themselves. It will be a vast help to the future prosperity and good development of the L. A. W. if every member will endeavor to make his badge respected and do nothing to bring disgrace upon it.

In this matter the L. A. W. and the churches are working for the same ends, and we can give substantial assistance to one another. We want to make our influence felt in the world for good and to improve our circle of association by making it mount upward upon the wings of honor, manliness and brotherhood.

One way in which you can help us and yourselves is by proving that the wheel is not an ungodly instrument of evil. Let your clubs be for athletic purposes, which will ennoble manhood, and not for those foolish practices which waste a man's fibre and sap his strength while the wheel rusts and the devil cheerily pedals his grindstone to wear your life away, exulting in his prospect of breaking his record of evil.

If you must ride on Sundays (because you have no other time to enjoy God's free sunlight and air) do it in a way not to dishonor the sacred day. Let your communion with nature in the fields and mountains be a means of making you render worship to your Creator. Do not entirely neglect religious duties. Why can you not arrange your rides so that you can stop at the service in some country church and rest there in God's temple? It would be a good plan for country churches, in good riding districts, to put up the League sign of two arrows pointing to each other with a cross over them, to show that wheelmen would be welcomed into the house of prayer.

I have said enough, for I do not intend to preach a sermon, but I wish success to the League of American Wheelmen.

L. A. W. 9840.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

WE have the briefest report of the meet at Minneapolis, and it was received just as we go to press. A partial account of the races appears in our racing columns. The public showed the greatest interest in the races and the lantern parade. A local paper says: "Over one hundred wheelmen, their cycles gaily illuminated, swept into line at Rice Park, and, headed by the St. Paul Club, began the line of march. Every bike bore a colored lantern, and some were half hidden by Japanese illuminators, while the boys had spent time and money in decorating their wheels. The spectacle was a brilliant one, especially when the procession passed down Third street, under the fairy-like illuminations. Crowds were attracted, and the wheelmen were heartily applauded."

ROAD HOGGISM.

Mr. Julius Jose of Lake George and a friend were riding over the road towards Glens Falls one day this summer when they were overtaken by a couple of the genus "tough" in a buggy. The specimens were well soaked with bad whisky and they felt abusive. They cursed and swore and ordered our cycling friends off the road and threatened to run them down in case of refusal.

Mr. Jose and companion allowing for the fact that the whisky was bad, tried to get out of the way. The drunken loafer who held the reins pulled his horse over and drove straight at the cyclers, upsetting Jose, luckily without any serious injury. Then the drunkards drove on and the cyclers walked after them. At Bloody Point the cyclers overtook the toughs, and as the cyclers passed the men in the buggy Jose mildly expostulated, saying that a broken arm or neck might have been the result and that such proceedings were not nice. As soon as the fellows heard this, one of them cried out: "O, it wasn't, was it? Well, we'll settle you this time, anyway." He poured forth a flood of profanity, and applying his whip to the horse, drove Jose back into the bushes. Twice the animal reared in the air and the boy was obliged to drop the handles of his bicycle and jump for his life. The loafer whipped his horse and made him trample on the machine until it became a complete ruin.

Now for the pleasant sequel. The hog, whose name was Hickins, resides in Glens Falls, was arrested. Mr. Jose's first intention was to have the offender punished as far as the law would permit, but owing to lack of time and the pitiable state of the man's family, Jose consented to let Hickins settle the same, and he paid $50 damages, which fully covered all expenses.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—OFFICERS' MEETING.

Last week Friday the Division officers of Massachusetts had a meeting at the Clarendon Hotel. Chief Consul Emery presided, and there was a large attendance.

Reports of the various committees were considered. The report of the Committee on Finance showed that the Division began the new year with a handsome balance in the treasury. A committee, consisting of the Chief Consul, Secretary and I. E. Moultrop, was appointed to provide for the erection of danger guide boards at such places on the roads of Massachusetts as the committee considered advisable.

The Chief Consul was authorized to have printed 1500 road books for use of the members of the Division. The Rights and Privileges Committee reported that the Division had interested itself in two legal cases where the rights of wheelmen were interfered with.

Delegates to represent Massachusetts at the annual convention of the L. A. W. were elected as follows: J. S. Dean, Boston; G. A. Perkins, Cambridge; B. A. Barber, Worcester; E. B. Pillsbury, Boston; I. E. Moultrop, Boston; J. B. Seward, Chelsea; Charles S. Howard, Boston. The Chief Consul and vice-consuls are by virtue of their offices delegates to the convention. The Division has gained two delegates since last year.

The Chief Consul announced the appointment of standing committees, as follows:

Rules and Regulations—I E. Moultrop, Sanford Lawton and E. B. Pillsbury.

Rights and Privilege—J. S. Dean, W. J. Slocum and G. A. Perkins.

Finance—J. Fred Adams, B. A. Barber and A. M. Gouch.

Touring—A. W. Robinson, W. G. Kendall and C. B. Cubberly.

Improvement of Highways—C. S. Howard, C. W. Fourdrinier and S. L. Ford.

THE TRACK AT PASSAIC, N. J.

I noticed in the last issue of the WORLD that "Hawkshaw" seems to be very much worried about the time made at the games of the P. W. A. A. on Clifton track. He says, "The track is certainly short, since it was formerly a trotting track, and as such was measured three feet from the rail." I will guarantee that there was not a race ridden, at any point, at less than three feet from the rail as at 18 inches the track was not in the best condition, and also the height of the fence would make it decidedly dangerous to ride at full speed nearer than three feet. He also says, "The track was, when last I saw it, one which from the nature of its construction would be almost impossible to get into condition for record riding." Let me inform "Hawkshaw" that with nothing but scraping and rolling the Clifton track can be put in superb condition and I firmly believe that its construction makes it the fastest track in the country for bicycle riding, as may be shown at some future date. 18700

NEW YORK DIVISION MEET.

RAIN, rain! That is the history of the weather during the two days' meet, and the consequence was that all the out-of-door programme had to be dispensed with; no parade, no runs. True it is that a few plucky ones tried to ride out into the country, but they concluded that the Central Park drives were good enough for them. The successful features of the meet were the banquet and the theatre party. Our correspondent "Hawkshaw" alludes to the dinner and how Francis Wilson spoke. The official report of the business meeting will appear in our official columns. An appropriation of $600 was made for office expenses of the Chief Consul, and $150 for the Secretary-Treasurer. At the theatre Friday night things were lively. The house contained 800 wheelmen, and they enjoyed the performance to the utmost.

When Miss Lyford came out to sing "Be Good," she didn't get a chance to begin for some time, and finally the wheelmen presented to her a huge floral piece, with the device and initials of the League upon it.

Mr. Wilson, during the evening, sang the following song:

The pleasure they feel
When astride of the wheel
Every bicycler knows is immense;
And he's ready to swear
That there's naught to compare
With this pleasure that steeps every sense—
Like a lover's first kiss,
It's one tingle of bliss
From the caput way down to the toes;
But where's the joy in a header
When you're left for a deader?
That's one thing that nobody knows.
And you never can tell
When you're going to—
Fall down and break up the whole New York Division.

This was cheered to the echo, and when Mr. Wilson also sang "Listen to my Tale of Woe," again "the roof was raised" by the heartiest cheers and applause.

After the play the cyclists marched round to Lyric Hall, singing as they went. Tables were laid in both the large rooms. Wilson joined his fellow wheelmen here and told them how dreadfully solemn they looked on bicycles.

Simon Ford of the Bicycle Club acted as toast master for the evening. President Charles H. Luscomb of the L. A. W. answered the toasts of the League, Chief Consul William S. Bull replied to the Division, and Chairman Malcolm L. Bridgeman of the Executive Committee talked about the meet.

The rain spoiled the fun out of doors, but New York is a good place to be storm-bound in, and the visitors managed to put in the time quite pleasantly even if the rains descended and the floods came.

NIAGARA SEEMS WILLING.

Editor Bicycling World: I have read with interest and pleasure the several articles in your paper endorsing Niagara Falls for the L. A. W. meet of 1890. There is not a better place in the United States for the meeting, nor one easier of access. All the great trunk lines centre here, and visitors can come from the most distant points without change of cars. The two local clubs—the "Niagara Falls Bicycle Club," with forty members, and the "Suspension Bridge Wheelmen," with twenty-five members—are enthusiastic over the possibility of having the meeting held here, and with a track that is conceded to be one of the best in the country, they will guarantee a rare treat in the racing line. Coupled with this the ample hotel accommodations and the attraction that "nature's grandest handiwork" possesses for everyone, would undoubtedly make the meet of 1890, the largest in the annals of the League. Fraternally, L. A. W. No. 7429.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., September 16, 1889.

COMING EVENTS.

AT TAUNTON, MASS.—A race meet will be held at the Bristol County Fair Grounds, September 24, 26. On the first date a one-mile novice, one-mile safety and ten-mile open (time limit, 35 minutes) will be run; on the second date, one-mile county, one-mile boys' and three-mile lap open will be run. Entries close September 23, with Dr. B. H. Strout, 106 Weir street, Taunton, Mass.

AT NEW HAVEN, CT.—The annual ten-mile team road race of the New Haven Bicycle Club comes off Friday, September 27th, over the Branford course.

There are fifteen entries, and several dark horses are in, which makes it interesting. The man making the best time holds the club championship and cup for a year, and the winning team have their names printed on the back of the team's road race banner, as winners for 1889.

AT WORCESTER, MASS.—Postponement.—In consequence of rain the races which were to have been held at Worcester last Saturday were postponed until Wednesday, September 18; too late for this week's issue.

AT PEORIA, ILL.—Accounts from Peoria show that the most careful and thorough preparations are being made for the first annual tournament on October 4 and 5. A partial list of prizes has been published in our issue of Sept. 6, and in this issue we present a full list of same. One thing we are assured of, and that is, the prizes will be found to be exactly as represented.

One mile, novice: 1st prize, dress coat and vest, $40; 2d, fine leather grip, $8; 3d, fine engraving, $7.50. Two miles, tandem: 1st prize, two carving sets, $30; 2d, two silk umbrellas, $20; 3d, two pairs silk hose, $6. One mile, 3.10 class: 1st prize, silver cup, $25, by Pope Mfg. Co.; 2d, fine banjo, $25; 3d, patent leather shoes, $9; 4th, alligator slippers, $3. Two miles, safety handicap: 1st prize, handsome mahogany vases, $25; 2d, "Knox" silk hat, $8; 3d, initial silk handkerchiefs. Five miles, State championship: 1st prize, L. A. W. medal, $25, by Illinois Division L. A. W. One mile, Peoria Bicycle Club: 1st prize, special silk umbrella, $27.50; 2d, two suits of fine underwear, $15; 3d, russet shoes, $6. Two miles, handicap: 1st prize, Champion Roadster bicycle, $105, by Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co.; 2d, elegant triplicate mirror, $18; 2d, carving set, $12. Three miles, team: 1st prize, Columbia tandem bicycle, $200, by Pope Mfg. Co. and Rouse, Hazard & Co.; 2d, handsome chair, $25; 3d, fine rug, $20. One mile, boys under 16: 1st prize, Vineyard bicycle, $50, by Rouse, Hazard & Co.; 2d, one pair Barney & Berry's best nickel-plated club skates, $5; 3d, tennis shoes, $4; 4th, bell, $2. Two miles, 6.20 class: 1st prize, Crescent safety bicycle, $90, by Western Wheel Works; 2d, elegant marble vase, $18; 3d, fine autotype engraving, $8. One mile, open: 1st prize, Victor Light Roadster bicycle, $130, by Overman Wheel Co.; 2d, fine piano lamp, $15; 3d, fine pair trousers, to order, $12; 4th, "Goeth" dress shirt, $4. One-half mile, safety State championship: 1st prize, L. A. W. medal, $25, by Illinois Div. L. A. W. One mile, handicap: 1st prize, fine gold medal, $25; 2d one half-dozen flannel shirts, made to order, $18; 3d, pair Hungarian vases, $7.50. One mile, safety, open: 1st prize, handsome library desk, $40; 2d, elegant field-glass, $15; 3d, 100 imported cigars, $12. Ten miles, scratch: 1st prize, elegant gold watch, $150, by C. L. Crawford; 2d, fine marble clock, $15; 3d, Webster's unabridged dictionary, $10; 4th, fine meerschaum pipe, $5. One mile, consolation: 1st prize, combination toilet set, $17; 2d, triplicate mirror, $8; 3d, 5-pound box fine candy, $5. The prizes are being collected now so that they can be distributed at the close of the tournament. Applications for entry blanks are being received from all over the country from the fastest men in the East and West. Entrance fee 50 cents per man to each event, except team race, $2. Entries close September 25, L. A. W. rules to govern. For entry blanks apply to F. H. BUSH, Secretary, Peoria, Ill.

AT QUEENS, L. I.—The medal offered by Mr. Charles Schwalbach for the championship of Long Island, will be competed for on Saturday, Oct. 5, at 3 P. M., at Queens, L. I.; distance five miles; competition open only to members of Long Island wheel clubs; entrance fee $1, returnable to starters. Entries close Oct. 2, with Mr. Thomas Lloyd, Queens, L. I., or with Mr. Charles Schwalbach, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

AT WICHITA, KAN.—The Wichita Wheelmen are perfecting arrangements for some bicycle races at the coming fair, Oct. 1-5. There will probably be six races, viz.: Three State championships, the two, three and ten mile, also a 3.30 class open and a 3 class open, and a club championship (for Wichita Wheelmen only) for the Dr. Johnson badge, now held by Mr. L. C. Miller.

AT NORFOLK, VA.—The postponed races of Virginia Division will be held Oct. 14. An elaborate programme will be arranged for this occasion; costly and handsome prizes will be awarded the winners of races, special hotel and transportation rates are offered, and in fact everything possible will be done for the convenience of visiting wheelmen. For information, entry blanks, etc., apply to A. A. O'Neill, Chairman, 64 Bank street.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., September 12.—The races at the Driving Park, Minneapolis, resulted as follows:

One-mile safety—J. R. Stockdale (1), N. A. Berwin (2): time, 3.31.

One-mile professional—Grant Bell (1), F. Dingley (2): time, 3.02 1-2.

One-mile, three minute class—J. Johnson (1), W. Walsh (2): time, 3.03.

Half-mile, boys' race—Rolf Reynolds (1), Carl Stockdale (2); time, 1.45.

Five-mile professional—First heat, F. Dingley (1), Grant Bell (2); time, 16.48. Second heat, Grant Bell (1), F. Dingley (2); time, 16.52.

One-mile—T. L. Bird (1), F. M. Gaston (2); time, 3.34.

[The above is incomplete. For some unknown reason the letter containing the results of the other events has not reached us. Probably missent.—ED.]

AT DES MOINES, IOWA—The Iowa Division of the L. A. W. held its annual races, in connection with the State Fair races, on September 3, 4, 5. The track was slow and a heavy wind omnipresent. Owing to the above conditions it was impossible to make even fair time. The following is the list of races and the winners:

One-mile—J. D. Green (1), J. W. Garrett (2); time, 3.30.

Half-mile—J. D. Green (1), H. Hayes (2); time, 1.35.

L. A. W. races, one-mile championship—W. H. Knapp, of Cedar Falls (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 3.39.

Three-mile championship—J. D. Green, of Des Moines (1); John Q. Crosby, of Cedar Falls (2); time, 11.40.

Open to all race, one-mile—Frank McElwain, of Cedar Falls (1); Dan Merner (2); time, 3.36.

State Fair races, one-mile—H. A. Barber, of Cedar Rapids (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 3.39 1-2.

Three-mile—J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (1); H. G. Everett, of Des Moines (2); time, 13.02 1-2.

Five-mile—J. D. Green, of Des Moines (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 20.21.

Half-mile, hands off—W. P. Chase, of Des Moines (1); W. L. Chase, of Cedar Falls (2); time, 2.12 1-2.

Owing to the bad condition of track the State Fair fifteen-mile team race, for State Fair trophy was omitted, as were several other races.

A fifteen-mile team race, for Grinnell trophy, between Des Moines and Cedar Falls teams resulted in favor of Cedar Falls. Two of the Des Moines team were badly, though not seriously, hurt at the beginning of the race, thus making the race uneven and void of interest. Time, 20.15.

AT NICHOLSVILLE, KY., Sept. 10.—Track.—The following are the results of the race meet at the above place, held last week Tuesday: Ordinary, one mile, was won by Al Watcher of Covington, in 2.57 3-4; second premium to T. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

SUFFERERS are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free, on application, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J., present to our readers a list of very cheap second-hand bicycles. See their advertisement on page 578.

ONE of the greatest hits of the season has been the popular Premier Safety, its low price and sterling qualities creating an instantaneous demand for it that has taxed the immense factory of Hillman, Herbert & Cooper to its utmost. L. H. Johnson has just succeeded in obtaining a moderate stock over and above his orders, and can now supply them promptly while they last.

San Francisco, Aug. 31, 1889.

Pennsylvania.

Annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W. held at York, Pa., September 2d, 1889.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W. was called to order in the parlors of the City Hotel York at 10 A. M. September 2d, by the retiring Chief Consul John J. Van Nort.

Mr. D. K. Trimmer, Vice Consul elect being present was called to the chair. The minutes of the last annual meeting at Harrisburg and those of the Board of Officers meeting at Philadelphia were read and approved.

Retiring Chief Consul Van Nort made a report covering his period of office. The long delayed road book he found was the main question before the division when he took up the office and it was still among the things looked for. He had tried to push it but long distance pushing did not amount to much. It needed vigorous action on the p rt of the division. The report was received and a vote of thanks extended to the retiring official.

Secretary-Treasurer's report showed balance on hand of $618 44 while $225 had been given to the National Organization and $741 had been paid out toward the road book.

Reports from committees showed that the only committee that had covered themselves with glory was the Liberty Bill Committee. They having accomplished their work in securing the enactment of the desired law.

Mr. H. Crowther of Philadelphia reviewed the road book as it had from time to time come up before the Board of Officers during the past two years and closed by submitting the following motion. That a committee be appointed to investigate why the book has not been issued. What has become of the money paid on account of its publication. To obtain reliable and definite information and take such action as they may find necessary

Mr. Seibert moved to amend so as to give the com mittee plenary powers. The amendment was accepted. After a general discussion during which several letters were read from compiler Wells showing broken promises, the motion was unanimously carried. And there being no other business, the meeting adjourned.

JOHN J. VAN NORT, Sec.-Treas.

Immediately upon adjournment of the State Division meeting, the Board of Officers convened, but as the time for the annual parade under the direction of the York Club had arrived, the Board adjourned until 4.30 P. M.

At 4.30 P. M. Chief Consul Boyle called the Board to order the following members being present; Samuel A. Boyle, Chief Consul, Philadelphia; D. K. Trimmer, Vice Consul, York; John J. Van Nort, Secretary-Treasurer, Scranton; C. P. Lusk, Harrisburg; W. J. Wilhelm, Reading; H. Crowther, Philadelphia; Kirk Brown, Philadelphia; O. P. Moeckel, Allegheny, and T. J. Lee, Philipsburg.

Chief Consul announced that he would appoint H. Crowther, P. S. Collins and H. R. Lewis as the Road Book Investigating Committee and request they report to him often and promptly.

The election of Delegates to the National Assembly was next proceeded with, resulting in the choice of the following; H. Crowther and Kirk Brown of Philadelphia, Campbell C. Taggart of Pittsburg, W. N. Seibert of New Bloomfield, T. J. Lee of Philipsburg, John J. Van Nort, Scranton.

After discussing road improvement and other work before the division, meeting adjourned.

JOHN J. VAN NORT, Sec.-Treas.

Pennsylvania Road Book.

To Pennsylvania Division:

I have today appointed Mr. J. R. L. Edwards an additional member to the committe on the road book.

SAMUEL A. BOYLE, Chief Consul.

Pennsylvania Road Book.

To the members of the Pennsylvania Division.

The Road Book Committee, appointed at the recent meeting of the Division at York, have held several meetings and from the information they have thus far been able to secure, would make the following report relative to the general condition of the work:

1st.—The routes proper have all been printed and tourists desiring special routes to be used for Autumn riding can secure same from any member of the committee at a nominal cost.

2d.—No work has yet been done on Preface, Index, List of Hotels and Consuls and Maps. The last are by far the most important and will cause the greatest delay. The list of consuls and hotels is now in course of preparation and work will be immediately begun on the index.

Your committee will push the book to early completion and would call for any new and important information in regard to routes which may be in possession of local consuls and members, in order that the book may be as complete as possible.

Notice as to probable date of issue will be given in next BULLETIN if it can be done.

H. CROWTHER, Chairman.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16, 1889.

Missouri.

To the members of the Missouri Division:

In assuming the duties of Chief Consul of this Division, I desire to call the immediate attention of every member to the very small membership our State now has and request the hearty co-operation of every member to help build it up. St. Louis, Kansas City, Joplin, St. Joe, not to mention others, have enough riders at present to more than treble our present membership and with a little work most all the riders can be gotten to join. All the energies and resources of the Division are being devoted to securing an improvement in our highways. In order to secure the necessary legislation we need a largely increased membership.

As improved roads, and the right to use them which has been secured to all wheelmen by our organization, appeal to every cyclist there should be no trouble in adding to our strength if each member will only bear in mind that the privilege of membership in the League of American Wheelmen is not without its accompanying duties. The most important of these: should be the endeavor on the part of every member to increase the numerical strength of the organization, thereby advancing its interests and extending its influence.

I desire an efficient Local Consul in every town in the State, who will be ready and willing to perform the duties of that office as mentioned below, and also take an active interest in increasing the membership. To secure this end I would be pleased to receive applications or suggestions from the members at large. The duties of a Local Consul are as follows:

"Consuls shall acquire and give information concerning roads, laws, hotels and other matters of interest in their localities, when called upon to do so, to members of the League only; perform such duties as the Chief Consul may require of them, and generally promote the interests of the League and its members. Consuls' term of office shall expire on the 1st day of September of each year."

Missouri must have at least 350 members by January 1, consuls are therefore earnestly requested to increase the membership in their district. Application blanks, pamphlets, etc., can be had on application to the undersigned. Now let us all take off our coats and pitch into the work of securing new members and thus pull "Poor old Missouri" out of the slough of despond she is in at present. Fraternally yours,

ROBERT HOLM, Chief Consul.

Missouri Appointments.

Mr. J. Harold Child, 1012 Olive street is hereby appointed local consul for St. Louis.

Mr. R. M. Seibel, local consul for Kansas City.

Mr. A. C. Miller, local consul for Hannibal.

Mr. W. J. Staples, local consul for Maryville.

Prof. H. C. Penn, local consul for Columbia.

Mr. F. A. Scott, local consul for Moberly.

Other appointments to follow shortly.

ROBERT HOLM, Chief Consul.

To Connecticut Division Members.

In assuming the duties of Chief Consul of Connecticut. I feel that a slight reference to the policy of the Division for the ensuing year cannot be amiss.

Barely two weeks since a very respectable wheelman of Stamford was outrageously run down and insulted by a fiendishly urging his horses at break-neck speed through Central Row. It was a pure case of cussedness and I regret sincerely that the case does not come within the jurisdiction of the Division.

Friends of the injured wheelmen in seeking assistance from the Division assured me that he had but recently mastered the wheel and that he fully intended joining the L. A. W. at an early day. The former I know to be true and the latter I believe to be true. Yet, he was not a member and sympathy was all I could offer, and sympathy is all we will be able to offer to any outside of our organization.

In years past non-Leaguers have been invited to assemble at our meets and join in the festivities as freely as members. The supposition that they would become interested and hand in their application, failed to realize and some when asked to join would meet us with the query "why should I pay two dollars for privileges that you gladly bestow free?"

At our Hartford meet September 2, 3, badges, which admitted to all Division entertainments, were furnished L. A. W. members and applicants for L. A. W. membership free, and to no others at any price. Result: eighty-nine applications.

You may say to your unattached friends, we want your membership, we want your aid, we want your dollar each year and in return we will welcome you among us. We will furnish you with the best cycling paper published, we will furnish you a road book at less than cost, we will secure for you better roads and if you are deprived of any of your rights as a wheelman or imposed upon by users of other vehicles, a lawyer will be at your command.

The unattached must necessarily enjoy more or less of the privileges secured by our united devotion, labor and money, but they are limited and those above named are among the exceptions. Briefly stated, our policy for 1889-90 will be, Connecticut Division for the Connecticut Division and the L. A. W. at large.

Fraternally, DAVID J. POST,
Hartford, Ct., Sept. 16, '89. Chief Consul.

Massachusetts Division.

Circular No. 4.

Abbot Bassett is hereby appointed a Representative of the Massachusetts Division.

Fraternally, WM. H. EMERY,
Sept. 16, 1889. Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

CHAS. F. STOKES, 293 Wabash Ave.,

CHICAGO, - - - - - - - - ILL.

"A.—Spoke twisted to form loop.
B.—Stick inserted between wires.
C.—Wires twisted.
D.—Ends of stick fastened in position.

Twist the ends of the broken spoke so as to form a loop close to the rim, attach a piece of copper wire or stout twine to the loop, and pass the end round two or three spokes under the hub, back through the loop, and fasten securely. Insert a piece of stick through the center of the wires or strings, and twist up to the required tension, fastening ends of stick securely."

This cut was furnished us by the Wheelman's Gazette, in which paper it appeared under the head of "some useful hints."

The extreme cheapness of wire has led to its adoption for many purposes. Mouse traps, bustles, bird cages, fly screens, soap dishes, coal sieves, etc., are among its proper and legitimate ends. However, all useful things are liable to misuse.

Among the misuses of wire is the making of spokes for wheels. Vehicles to be drawn by horses and having wire wheels, have been so soon done for that they may well have wondered what they were begun for.

There is comparatively little service required of wheels which are propelled by the rider; this fact, together with the comforting influence of rubber tyre, has rendered possible a method of construction for cycle wheels which was long since condemned for any really hard use.

Dear reader: We know that you don't all agree with us in these things, else why should we mention them. You get our opinions on such easy terms, that you can afford to remember them, and we will see you—(and probably sell you a hickory wheel) later.

Having broken a wheel of whatever kind, of course it must be fixed, and the method suggested above is not bad.

The owner of an

doesn't have to go with his heart in his mouth and his pockets full of cement, wire, twine, etc., as any accident which could knock out enough hickory spokes to disable the wheel, would no doubt leave the rider in a similar condition, and the same ambulance could bring home both wrecks.

Those catalogues will be ready in a few days.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J.

The Smillakameens and Semmaakateens called on us recently. They are connected with the Beefalo Bull and Jackass Texas Combination. They informed us they had ridden everything but a White Flyer, and after trying them declared their intention of making it their future mount. Having recently arrived from England, and having recovered from their vacation, they are on their way to Egypt, and they want White Flyers to climb the Pyramids with. They also say that the White Flyer is the only Bike they have seen with which they could easily run down a Jack Rabbit. Our old friend ———— Soklatomillpeep was along. We renewed our pleasant acquaintance formed years ago on the South Fork of the St. Jo. River. He had with him some of the famous Skookum Oil used by all Western Coast Indians, to lubricate the locks of their rifles. It never gets thick, and lasts longer than any oil now before the public. Heat and cold have no terrors for Skookum Oil.

We contracted with the long-named native for a large supply of the unrivalled article. We shall soon be able to supply our agents and customers with something that will make them laugh. Keey your eyes open for our Skookum Oil Ad. It will soon appear.

CATARRH HAY FEVER CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been discovered which permanently cures the most aggravated cases of these distressing diseases by a few simple applications made (two weeks apart) by the patient at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.

HANDLE-BAR BUNDLE CARRIER

Owing to the patented principle of the swinging plates, allowing them to be placed at right angles under the Bundle, and replaced parallel with the bar, when not in use, these Carriers have come into almost universal use where introduced to Safety riders. Send for one. Price, $1.25.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J.

The Smillakameens and Semmaakateens called on us recently. They are connected with the Beefalo Bull and Jackass Texas Combination. They informed us they had ridden everything but a White Flyer, and after trying them declared their intention of making it their future mount. Having recently arrived from England, and having recovered from their vacation, they are on their way to EGYPT, and they want White Flyers to climb the PYRAMIDS with. They also say that the White Flyer is the ONLY BIKE they have seen with which they could easily run down a JACK RABBIT. Our old friend ———— SOKLATOMILLPEEP was along. We renewed our pleasant acquaintance formed years ago on the South Fork of the St. Jo. River. He had with him some of the famous SKOOKUM OIL used by all Western Coast Indians, to lubricate the locks of their rifles. It never gets thick, and lasts longer than any oil now before the public. Heat and cold have no terrors for SKOOKUM OIL.

We contracted with the long-named native for a large supply of the unrivalled article. We shall soon be able to supply our agents and customers with something that will make them laugh. Keey your eyes open for our SKOOKUM OIL AD. It will soon appear.

CATARRH HAY FEVER CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been discovered which permanently cures the most aggravated cases of these distressing diseases by a few simple applications made (two weeks apart) by the patient at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free by A. H. DIXON & SON, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.

THE JOHN WILKINSON COMPANY,

55 State Street, Chicago,

Jobbers and Manufacturers and direct importers of Starley & Co.'s celebrated

"ROVERS."

Ladies' and gents', the original and the BEST. Highest possible grade in every particular. Absolutely the most elegant Safeties ever produced.

Full line of all goods pertaining to the wants of wheelmen. Second-hand bicycles taken in exchange for new. Difficult repairing and first-class nickel plating at moderate prices.

See our Catalogue before you buy a wheel.

Unprecedented Bargains in New, Late-Pattern Bicycles.

Being always in the market to buy job lots of new or second-hand wheels when prices are right, we have secured several choice lots of new, perfect and late pattern, high-grade wheels at prices such that we can offer them either at retail, or to the trade AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE QUOTED IN THE U. S. Had we purchased such of the wheels listed below as are of American make from the manufacturers direct we should, like all dealers, be compelled by contract to sell them strictly at list. These wheels were all purchased in job lots, hence may be sold by us at our own prices, which dealers will notice are ACTUALLY BELOW THE MAKERS' WHOLESALE PRICES. The Rudges and Clubs we secured by buying the ENTIRE STOCK of the importers direct. In the particular localities where we purchased these wheels the Safety craze is such that Ordinaries are very slow sale. Knowing from our own trade, which extends to every State and Territory, that the Ordinary is being more largely purchased the country over than the Safety, we unhesitatingly purchased several large stocks, and now offer our customers the benefit.

We will sell any of the following wheels on EASY PAYMENTS, with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. We take second-hand bicycles and type-writers in exchange. Peoria has 13 railroads, and low rates and quick time to all points.

We have a number of nearly every one of the several sizes and styles listed below;

THE BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.
DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy. BOSTON, 20 SEPTEMBER, 1889. Volume XIX. Number 21

HARD RIDERS are not necessarily "hard" citizens. They know the points that go to the making of a good bicycle--a bicycle that will stand up and take all the hard knocks it meets on the road, — the rocks, clods, hills, and general calamity it is sure to be steered against, and come out as good as it went in.

Not only do they know these points, but they know where to find them. When people want machines with the stuff that gets there in them, they buy Victors. "Ask Victor riders."

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 20 SEPTEMBER, 1889.

A SECTION of the English cycling press has either ignored or slightingly alluded to the sad and almost tragic death of Purvis-Bruce. It is the same section that sneered at the American records and insulted the cyclists of this country. The insular boorishness of a certain class of Englishmen is prodigious, and appears the more outrageous by comparison with the real gentlemen of England.

OUR good friend Wheeling contains the challenge of a father in behalf of his son, eleven years of age, to meet an opponent about the same age, who has ridden eighty miles in twelve and one-half hours. We trust we will be spared the competition of infants for long and hard riding. Let the boys enjoy their wheels in a legitimate way for rational riding, but spare us the exhibition of children seeking fame and medals on road or path.

WE were unfortunate enough to lodge for the night at the Central House, Waltham, Mass., while on a short cycling trip. A more disobliging landlord we never saw. We, in company with our friends, on ordering some refreshments in our room were informed by the person who seemed to run the house that he was too busy to do much "monkeying" that night. We secured what was wanted, however, but not without much grumbling. The whole place was so inhospitable that we shall exercise our privilege of going elsewhere in the future.

AS proof that the Boston Bicycle Club is not extinct, a fact generally believed, we may mention that three old members, one of whom commenced cycling in 1878, were seen ploughing out of town in the mud on Saturday last. It is true they were not keeping up with the electric cars, but they jogged along with that staid contentment that becomes the typical Boston Club man who has been through it all, and whose scorching days are over.

WE hear by the way that an attempt will be made to resuscitate this old club with the view to making it a cycling club pure and simple. We are glad of this, for it would be a pity if the first cycling club formed in this country should be allowed to drop entirely out of the ranks.

THERE is a movement on foot, so rumor has it, to form an association of veteran wheelmen. The requisite for membership beyond the qualification of being a gentleman will be an active wheeling experience of not less than ten years. It would certainly be enjoyable for the oldsters to get together now and then to recount the days and deeds of yore. We have no doubt these old fellows will arrogate to themselves a position of great importance, and regard themselves as the blue-blooded aristocracy of the wheel world. A "Cyclers' four hundred," as it were.

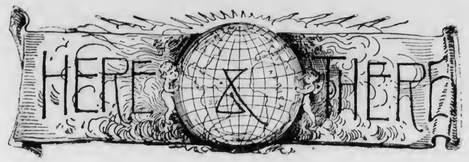
A so-called one-mile championship race was run at Binghamton, N. Y., last week, the winner carrying off the prize and championship (?) in the phenomenal time of 3.56 1-4. Just think of that for a championship race! It is a disgrace to the sport that such things can be. The time limit rule should have been applied to these gentlemen, and if the management had only known that the prize was going to be "pulled off" in any such disgraceful time they should have started a couple of their fastest local men to make the pace decent.

It is a significant fact that the only two starters entered from the same club, the Berkeley A. A. of New York.

No wonder the public fight shy of bicycle races, and if there can be found no way to head off these dawdlers from giving such magnificent loafing exhibition, then amateur racing will be relegated to the same shelf of oblivion as has professional racing.

It takes good, vigorous handling, such as enforced by the Hartford managers, to deal with those individuals who lean towards loafing tactics. Considering that both the men in this "championship" contest are capable of doing the mile in 2.40 to 2.42 we can readily see how much loafing was indulged in. If time limits on championships are not according to precedent we are glad to see any effort made to correct this growing evil. As in the possible case of this Binghamton affair, why not put in two or three fast local men whose office it should be to make the "waiters" ride at a decent pace or lose the race?

THANK YOU.



"THE WORLD shows enterprise in securing such interesting writers for its columns, notably those who are writing up the European tours. We have noticed a vast improvement in that go-ahead sheet within the past two years."—The Star Advocate.

A VOTE OF THANKS.

Editor Bicycling World: I take pleasure in informing you that at a meeting of the Hartford Wheel Club last evening, the following was passed unanimously:

Voted.—"That a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. W. J. Corcoran, through the Secretary, for the efficient manner in which he led the club riders to their numerous victories at our races."

Very truly yours, W. M. FRANCIS,
Hartford, September 11th, 1889. Secretary.

BOSTON.

"TERAGRAN TONIM."

A RUMOR has reached me—without any foundation, I hope—that there is some talk about having safeties allow ordinaries a start in the coming Boston Athletic Association road races. On what ground it is judged that safeties are faster than ordinaries it would be hard to say. In the Pullman and Irvington-Milburn races the fastest times were made on ordinaries, and in fact I do not know of a single road race in America where the ordinary has not beaten the safety. By all means let the two machines compete together on the road, where there is not the danger that the close proximity of a confined track affords. Then we shall soon see that it is the man that wins, and not the type of machine—or at any rate not the safety.

ANOTHER rumor came to me that the Harvard Bicycle Club thinks it can produce a team that could make the hitherto invincible team of the Berkeley A. A. hustle. With Davis and Greenleaf first and second, or first and third, they would have the race, even if the other Harvard man came in last. That's the way they look at it, at least.

IN reading the reports of the fall race meets I was forced to think what a fine thing it would be, if there were a little more unanimity among the different papers. The WORLD says one man beat, the Globe says another, and the Wheel still another, and while I was trying to decide on which one to pin my faith, a friend who had been there told me that about a certain race they were all wrong.

SPEAKING of mistakes, I think you, Mr. Editor, were wrong in saying, when you criticised Dr. Wyman's statement, that Hendee got twenty-five yards start. Mr. Harry Cornish, who, I believe, trained Hendee, told me that Hendee was allotted twenty-five yards but refused to take it. Furthermore, the official score card, which lies before me now, does "show such a handicap." [Since last week we learn that Hendee was awarded twenty-five yards, but refused it. The score sheet did not show this.—ED.]

DR. WYMAN, I think, is entirely right when he says that the training that Ives and Hendee got helped them a great deal, although they have not raced for two or three years. I do not mean to say that Hendee is 100 yards faster in a mile for the training he got as a promateur and professional, but I think any trainer will say that he is several feet faster at the finish--which is more to the point.

LAST Sunday at the reservoir I looked at the assembled wheelmen and I said to myself: "Hawkshaw," you are right about that "tights" business. They certainly are not gentlemanly for ordinary riding. They have their proper place. If a man is training for a road race and does not intend to stop and sit around full tights are the thing, but for ordinary riding loose knickerbockers are just as comfortable and infinitely more respectable.

I THOUGHT road racing was dead.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

THE New York Division meet would have been a great success had it been a regatta or swimming race, but as it was the battle between milers and moisture was a drown out in the first round in favor of Hugh Midity, Esq. But in such matters wheelmen are prone to be believers in the homœopathic school of cure, and by putting a sufficient quantity of moisture inside of themselves to run no chance of any ill effects from the external libations they are forced to receive at the hands of the Clerk of the Weather.

I HAVE often had occasion to express my opinions as to the funeralism of a wheel parade and the depressing effects of same upon an observer, even when he was an admirer of the sport. In consequence of this opinion I have been the recipient of many unpleasant criticisms on the part of the younger generation of riders. I would like, therefore, to call their notice to the following remarks made by Mr. Francis Wilson at the recent banquet of the State Division, at the same time stating for the benefit of the few who are not acquainted with Mr. Wilson, that the gentleman is himself a wheelman and has an income of about $50,000 a year derived from making the public laugh and cease being serious. Mr. Wilson said: "Being a man who likes amusement, it grieves me to think that wheelmen habitually look so sad when in the sad—dle and on parade. I like to help cyclers to bite off a bit of sunshine in this vale of tears. A wheelman on parade too often appears like a section of a funeral procession. There is a grim look on his face that convinces one that he is there for business. Too often he does not seem to grasp as much sunshine as there is lying around. The parade will never be the magnificent success it should be until there is an infusion of merriment into it. Them's my sentiments exactly."

EVEN kindly old Dame Nature was moved to tears over the gruesomeness of the idea, and she shed them so plentifully that she, more than any one else, prevented the parade from taking place. For this favor I owe the old lady a debt and have placed her upon the honored roll of my creditors, where she, like the others there, will ever remain.

I DID not think that even English bad taste could go to such an extent as to try and rob the dead of any of the wreaths that loving hands had cast upon the grave of "Jack." But it seems that my opinion of humanity, poor as it is, was not yet bad enough to properly estimate the depths of the mire in which the Bi. News finds refuge. It is not a pleasant position that it is in, and I do not believe that any other view of the affair is taken by the thousands of gentlemen who have made cycling the grand success that it is in England. Lucky indeed will be any of us who, when we pass under the wire as finishers in the race of life, if we in our turn receive one-tenth of the sympathetic and kindly notice that "Jack" has.

WHEN the world was young and the little stream Oceanus wrapped it round like the curled serpent, and there were no excursion steamers, League meets, base ball games or road races, the possibilities and potentialities of sport was small. There was boxing, but no John L ; there was racing, but it was confined to the chariot and to the Four Hundred of Mycene, or Argos, or Thebes, who could not tell the difference between a safety and a sociable. Then there was the throwing of the discus, it is true, but how does that compare with the throwing of the wheelman from his lofty perch of pigskin? There were all-round competitions of the pancratium, but they were nothing to a modern championship meeting. There were steeds and daughters of steeds, swift as the storm, but the one of steel they knew not. Helen, who might have taken a prize at a Chicago beauty show, never rode a safety. Col. Pleiades Achilles could not solace himself with an early morning spin after his night's of kicking at Gen. A. Agamemnon's packing of the primaries. Hercules, the Peloponesian pet, never knew the delights of a suit of black racing tights, though he finally came to his death by means of a medicated undershirt. If Ajax could have worked off his steam in a ten mile spurt down the Ripley road he never would have lost his life by attacking protected industries. Had Cassandra been given to cycling, her mind would never have got its grumpy and Mugwumpian cast. The great Zeus himself would have left a great deal better reputation if he had kept away from the stage and its thunder and taken a brisk ride round the block every morning before soaking himself with ambrosia. These mildly melancholy classical reflections throng upon me when I see what cycling is doing for the present and the future generations, and I cannot help but note the foregoing facts and show that had cycling been then in existence, how we of to-day would be reading different history from what we are. After all, even being one of the gods had its drawbacks when we consider how much of the pleasures of life they were robbed of through not being acquainted with the pleasures of cycling.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

THERE is little question but that, when the immense improvements now in process in the West End are completed, this city will have a residence section second to none, and a consequent big increase in the devotees to cycling. On Sept. 10 the contractor completed the finishing touch of the Forest Park boulevard, the first one in the city on the "private place" plan, for public use. The work cost $50,000. The result is a thoroughfare 3900 feet long, with a 30-foot grass plat, set with shade trees and curbed in the centre, 40 feet of smooth Telford on either side, it in turn having a strip of turf followed by a 12-foot granitoid walk on either side. The lines of the western terminus diverge to a width of 160 feet at Forest Park to accommodate a $4000 fountain built there by adjacent property owners. It is the renaissance of an old private boulevard Jesse Lindell built some forty years since, and which started nowhere and ended similarly. He hewed the path out of the woods, and constructed a rock road at great expense, to gratify a passion for elegant roads, with no idea of its future use.

I WAS greatly surprised a few days ago to hear that a local firm had issued an order forbidding any of their employes to use their wheel in riding to and from their business, giving as their excuse that it took too much of their time. As the house is one of the leading ones in the cycle business here, such an order would set a beautiful precedent for others which are in no way connected with cycling. On making closer inquiries I found that the order had been repealed the day after it was issued. The matter caused quite a flutter among our local cyclists, and many were loud in their denunciations of a firm who would treat their employes in this manner.

THE illuminated parade which was expected to come off during fair week will not be held, as Mr. George B. Thomson informed the wheelmen that the appropriation of $500 to defray the expenses was not granted by the Fall Festivities Committee on account of the opposition of the Exposition people, who claimed the parade would keep the people away from their show. This is all bosh to my way of thinking, and instead of harming the Exposition's attendance, the parade would benefit it.

THE Track Association cleared a neat sum on the tournament, and a meeting of the stockholders will be held next Tuesday to discuss the matter of giving one on a much larger scale next year. J. Harold Child, the efficient secretary, deserves great credit for the way he discharged the many duties of his office.

AMATEUR racing being all the go over the whole country, would it not be a good idea to arrange a racing circuit similar to the trotting circuits, to avoid a clash in dates? If such an association were formed and run on business principles it would surely tend to improve the tone of our race meetings. Another thing that should be done is the formation of an association similar to the W. A. A. A. of the clubs of different Western cities, for the purpose of holding Western championships. If arranged on the plan of the W. A. A. A., the heavy expenses of a championship meeting will be borne by all the clubs in the association, and not by the club holding the meet as now. The country is too large to admit of racing men travelling, say from St. Louis to Hartford, to compete in certain championship events, and the sooner Western championship events are established the better it will be for racing men, besides it will lead to healthy rivalry between all cities interested.

THE non-unanimous action among our wheelmen has been freely commented on the past week, and was particularly noticeable at the union run and dinner given Sept. 8, in honor of the races, at which less than twenty-five riders participated. In spite of arduous labor to the contrary, the cyclists of St. Louis are about the most disorganized lot to be found anywhere, and the club memberships are a mere bagatelle when the total number of riders is taken into consideration. The cause of this all is the great lack of workers, and should these lines meet the eye of such who will put their shoulder to the wheel to alter the situation, by getting the riders to join the League, they can obtain all needed information and advice by applying to Chief Consul Holm.

NEXT to wabbling, looking around seems to be about the worst thing a racing man can do, and the latter lost F. P. Ring his match race with Harding, as well as causing him to take a terrific header in another event. By the way, speaking of racing men, look out for this man Tuttle, of Chicago. He is the possessor of a magnificent spurt, has any quantity of grit, backed up by a Herculean frame, and can easily spurt a full mile if pushed. His finishes with Lumsden were very close, and were the latter not the hot favorite that he is, at least one of the events would have resulted in a dead heat.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

ON the 7th and 8th inst. the C. B. C. took their annual run to Miamitown. The start was made at 6.30 P. M. Saturday, and the destination reached at 9 45 P. M. Dr. Green took a bad fall on the slippery asphalt, and was obliged to return to the club house, where the festive Heidkamp assisted him to straighten his cranks and handle-bar, and to scrape the mud from his clothing. The doctor then pluckily started out and reached M. only a few minutes after we— had eaten up all the supper. The sky was cloudless, the air was cool, and the roads, owing to the heavy rains of the early part of the week, very smooth. After supper it was discovered that though there were twenty in the party, there were only sleeping accommodations for nineteen. It was 4 A. M. before it was decided where the twentieth man should sleep, and of course none of the rest of us could sleep till the question was settled. When we did get to sleep it was only to be roused by the stentorian voice of Chief Consul High, who with several others of those who did not like to sleep away from home, and who had started at 5 A. M., had scorched all the way. Among the amusing incidents of the day was Harry Ellard's excrutiatingly funny imitation of a novice's attempt to ride a bicycle, which was taken in dead earnest by an unsophisticated native. The return was made without any further mishaps. Dr. Green declares, however, that he will not attend another such a run unless he can secure a fire and burglar proof vault to sleep in.

IT seems that my remarks on the shrinkage of the shirts furnished the C. B. C. was construed as reflecting on the house that made the garments. Such construction was not intended. I was only trying to show that the shrinkage of high grade all wool flannel shirts was due more to excessive perspiration than to the method of washing, and that flannels containing a certain percentage of cotton were not so apt to shrink.

THERE is beginning to be considerable speculation as to the result of the next championship race of the C. B. C Of those who contested in the last race, the "Duke" is in the South on a business tour and will not return in time to enter, and the same may be said of Nelson. Then Barth and Huseman, who were not in condition in the last race, may make a much better showing this time. There is also an uncertain quantity in the new members that have come in since that time. Benckenstein and Baldwin are both known to be flyers, and there are some who believe that if Dr. Green could be prevailed upon to enter, that Wayne's chances of wearing the medal for another six months would be exceedingly slim.

THERE are quite a number of wheelmen in this city who are supposed to be members of the League, and yet they have never joined that organization. I have made it a point for some time to ask every wheelman I meet if he is a member of the L. A. W., and have been surprised at the number of negative answers I have received. If every one of the League members in this city would consider it his duty to do a little missionary work the Porkopolis contingent would be considerably increased in a very short time.

FATHER BENNETT'S road race, which has been postponed so often, will be run on the course from Carthage to Hamilton on September 22. It will be a scratch race, with a gold medal for first man.

SEVERAL wheelmen have been stopped by the Eden Park police and compelled to show their park badges. It is said that hereafter no one will be allowed to ride through the parks unless he has a badge. They may be procured of either Bennett or High.

CHICAGO.

"THE STROLLER."

THE team race at the Peoria tournament will probably bring out teams from the Illinois and Kenwood clubs here, a St. Louis team and a team at Peoria. The Chicagos, I understand, will not enter a team, although the prize is a tandem bicycle and well worth trying for. Van says he can take a Chicago team there and win the race, but will not do so. Ah, Van! I am afraid you are not as sure of winning as you say and prefer to rest content over the recent victory on the West Side rather than take the risk of a defeat at Peoria. Great interest is shown by our flyers in the meet. Winship is in active training for these races. He has kept bravely away from the path this year until now, but that prize-list was too much for him, or perhaps it was the pretty girls at Peoria—who can tell. At any rate, "Win" will be there and expects to bear away a goodly share of the prizes.

AS predicted in a former letter, Lumsden sent in his resignation to the Chicagos at their last monthly meeting, and, to the surprise of all, Van Sicklen moved that it be laid on the table, and "Art" requested to withdraw the same. Perhaps beating Lumsden in the road race he no longer holds a grudge against the young flyer.

THE Chicagos will remove from their present club-house to one on Rosalie court, near the entrance to South Park. This was decided upon after a stormy meeting, at which some of the "alleged" kicked loud and long.

SECRETARY-TREASURER SHERIDAN writes me from Springfield in regard to our so-called election, asking me to be present at the Board of Officers' meeting in September, when the entire matter will be fully ventilated, let the blame fall where it will, and assures me that he is not the guilty party and has no desire to get up a reputation as a fine worker, as he neither sought nor desired the office. I should like to be present at the meeting, but it is hardly probable that I shall be.

TOM ROE left for San Francisco last evening, to ride from there to Boston, in the interests of the Chicago Herald. He is due to leave the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, at noon Saturday, September 21st, and following the Santa Fe route, expects to make the distance (2573 miles) to Chicago in fifty days. Tom has had a good many ups and downs in this world, so that he ought to be able to ride the mountainous country between the Golden Gate and the Garden City at a fair rate of speed and with no fear of headers, if experience counts for anything. Roe will wear the Chicago Club colors, gold and blue, with "The Chicago Herald" worked on it.

SKINKLE was in town last week, and says he expects to return to Chicago to live in a short time, adding that he had rather starve in Chicago than be a millionaire in any other city in the Union.

RANDALL has moved over on to the West Side, and, I am told, would apply for membership in the Illinois Club only he does not like the idea of being black-balled.

BURLEY AYRES will be a figure in League politics next year, or I miss my guess. You mark me.

DETROIT, MICH.

"JUDGE."

THE Sunday News of this city devoted a column and a half to the prominent wheelmen of the Detroit and Star Clubs. A likeness appeared of each Lane and Jacobson of the Detroits, and Metzger, Whelden and Bradish of the Stars. Metzger's is very good, the others fair. The article is very well written.

I TOOK a spin up on the new asphalt pavement on Cass avenue. Three blocks are open for traffic. This will be the finest paved street in Detroit when completed. If the man who writes in favor of wood pavements could come to this village he would go away a sadder and a wiser man. We have miles and miles of cedar block pavement, and after the first two years it soon becomes rough, and the blocks begin to decay, and many other objections might be raised against it from a sanitary point of view. The people are tired of it, and if the asphalt already laid proves a success there will be many miles of it laid in the next ten years.

OUR "second to none" exposition opens to-morrow. Wheelmen coming to the State meet will have a grand chance to see this great fair. All trains stop at the grounds.

WE are going to have an old man's race at the D. A. C. race meet. Messrs. Stoddard and Markle will ride a one-mile safety race. The combined ages of these two gentlemen would pass the century mark.

CAPTAIN METZGER took the Star Club up the Canadian shore road to Le Boux's wine cellar last Wednesday. White and Marks had a collision in a muddy part of the road going up, and each took a side fall into a mud puddle. Oh! what a sight that pair presented when they arose. The usual music was in attendance, and the boys danced till after ten o'clock, and then started for home.

THE Detroit city ordinance allows bicyclers on any sidewalk after eleven o'clock at night until six o'clock in the morning. We always time ourselves so as to strike the sidewalk at eleven on the return from a run. We are also allowed on the walk on a street that is unpaved at any time.

A LARGE delegation of wheelmen will take the boat for Cleveland next Saturday at ten o'clock P. M., and will spend Sunday with the Forest City wheelmen. We are all praying for good weather for the State meet on Friday and Saturday.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

J. PHIL PERCIVAL, Vice Consul of the California Division, has caused a sensation in the wheel world of this city. Two weeks ago he quietly left town, and his whereabouts and destination are only known to an intimate friend. It is thought he has either gone to South America or Australia. He was married and has one child. The matrimonial union was not fraught with happiness, and this was his reason for leaving home and kindred, so it has stated. He was a book-keeper for his father's firm, Percival & Chambers. Percival was one of the fastest racers on the Pacific Coast.

CATALINA ISLAND has been the Mecca of our wheelmen who have been taking their summer vacations. Yachting has been the main feature of their outing. Messrs. Burke, Tufts, Sale, Bradley, Pease, Plank, Kercheval, Hiller and the Woodworth boys have been at the island at intervals during the summer. Catalina Island is a famous resort for pleasure seekers, and is 30 miles from the mainland, and is very mountainous, and is noted for its grand and rugged scenery. Hunting goats is a favorite sport for Nimrods, while for the disciple of Izaak Walton the enjoyment is unbounded.

IN reading the list of new members in a recent number of the WORLD, your correspondent noticed the names of two wheelmen who had joined the League from a town in Missouri, where the writer spent three years of his college days. Six months ago there was not a bicycle in that little place, but the fever has caught and two have succumbed. Let the good work go on! The day will come when a man without a wheel will be in the same category of the man without a light-weight overcoat—to be pitied.

THE San Diego tourists will start from Pasadena next Wednesday (the 11th) and it promises to be a most successful affair. The roads will be in good riding condition, as rain fell a few days ago, an unusual occurrence at this season of the year, which laid the dust. A party of wheelmen from here will probably take a spin down to the Crown of the Valley to see the tourists start on their week's tour of the scenic resorts of Southern California.

NEXT summer a week's encampment of the wheelmen of Southern California will take place on Santa Catalina Island, the time to be decided next spring. There will be tents for all who participate, besides general tents for social entertainments and for the commissary department. The programme of the week's encampment will consist in boating, fishing, bathing, yachting, goat hunting, mountain climbing, dancing, etc.

THE death of "Jack" is felt here severely. All mourn for him. There can be but one "Jack," his place cannot be filled. May he rest peacefully in the care of his godmother, "Nature," whom he loved so well.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

SUNDAY before last a party consisting of the members of the Chesapeake Club visited Annapolis. They were met at Bay Ridge by their friend Mr. Lynch, and from there wheeled to Annapolis, the surroundings and the Naval Academy. The trip was very much enjoyed. Among those present were William Holland, President; R. Hall Leonard, first lieutenant; F. H. B. Bullock, second lieutenant; Jas. B. Read, treasurer; John T. Lynch, Jr., Joshua Ray, Harry Ungeryogt, Harry J. Deitz, Howard Roberts and J. Fitzgerald.

THE Maryland Club viewed the bombardment of Fort McHenry from the steamer Westmoreland. Fifteen members from the Hagerstown (Md.) Club were aboard the same steamer, including Mr. Geo. F. Updegraff, the vice-consul.

A FEW NOTES: President Luscomb has consented to act as referee in the coming Citizens' Cup race.——Wet weather has arrived and stopped wheeling.——September 21, at 8 o'clock, is the date named for the regular meeting of the board of officers of the Maryland Division, which is to be held at the Chief Consul's office, 340 N. Charles street.——Mr. Winston, a former member of the Maryland Club, is here visiting.

NEW HAVEN.

"ELM CITY."

THE most enjoyable run of the season held by the New Haven Club was the Sunday we spent at Coney Island as the guests of the Hudson County Wheelmen of Jersey City. No entertainers could do more than they did, and the N. H. boys appreciated their hospitality and hope to return it next year. Our runs for September were interfered with by the rain. Sept. 1 we had a club run to Hartford, and was the only long distance run which the writer had the honor to be in that waited for slow riders, and forty of us rode into Hartford after Capt. Perkins, having all ridden the entire distance, as large a club run as ever came into Hartford.

WHILE we were eating dinner at Meriden one of the prominent clergymen of that place expostulated with the proprietor of the hotel for feeding a party of 40 wheelmen who were breaking the Sabbath by riding around the country.

THE New Haven contingent enjoyed the Hartford meet exceedingly. We were a fine picture in the parade, though we did not do as well as we expected in the races, but did very well, our team winning the tandem race and several seconds and thirds.

LAST Sunday a club run—race, I should say—was made to Meadows End, a god-forsaken place where all that went kicked themselves for going over such a beastly road. Led by our first lieutenant we rode as though forty devils were after us through sand six inches deep all the way—the worst road in Connecticut.

WE have a club run to Bridgeport next Sunday.

THE Connecticut road book is to be revised and a new edition gotten out, which will keep up the reputation of that excellent book; the best road book ever published: no wheelman should be without one

THE EAGLE HAS NO WINGS, BUT IT GETS THERE JUST THE SAME.

From the OAKLAND ENQUIRER, Aug. 22nd, 1889.

Captain Manning, of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, called a run at Lake Chabot on the 18th inst., which was responded to by a large number of members of that organization on their wheels. The weather was perfect and the run was a thoroughly enjoyable one. While at San Leandro several of the members indulged in a scorch around the triangle, a distance of 8 5-8 miles. The contestants were: E. L. Favor, George Ingham and George French, all of the San Francisco Bicycle Club; A. A. Bouton, unattached, was invited to participate in the race, and did so. Bouton rode an Eagle bicycle, and there was much speculation as to the result of the race, the Eagle being a new machine. The start was made and Favor led the first four miles, when Ingham forged ahead. When within two miles of the finish, Bouton took the lead and increased it enough to have time to dismount and adjust a nut which had become loose, and mounted again, without being overtaken. Bouton came in first in 33 minutes, 43 1-5 seconds, with Favor a good second. The road was loose and a strong wind faced the riders the last five miles.

From the NORFOLK DAILY LANDMARK, Sept. 3d, 1889.

Sunday, William T. Robertson, of Washington, D. C., riding an Eagle bicycle, rode over the ten-mile course, passing through the Brambleton and the water works, against time and for a record. Although the road was rutty and the wind blowing against him for eight miles, he succeeded in making the distance in 36 minutes and 35 seconds. William O'Neill acted as pace maker and A. A. O'Neill, D. Carpenter, of Norfolk, and J. C. V. Smith, of Washington, D. C., as timers. This establishes a record for this course.

A GOOD many here expressed themselves in favor of having the next L. A. W. meet at Niagara Falls. I want to put myself down in favor of that place. We have had city meets long enough. Certainly no place is grander than that, and it would also give others who, like myself, have never seen the Falls, a chance to do so, and with that attraction added to the meet I believe the largest one ever held could be had. Let some one keep the ball rolling till Niagara Falls is decided upon as our next year's meet.

The N. H. Bi. Club cordially invites any unattached wheelman of good standing to join their ranks. They are about to go into new quarters in a large house centrally located, where more accommodations can be offered members. The club is to be incorporated and a stock company formed of it, and bonds issued to raise money to furnish the club house, and before winter comes on they will be in better quarters than any wheel club in Connecticut.

THERE are over 1200 riders in this city, and the club intends to have the largest membership and best quarters of any cycling organization in the State.

C. H. VOORHEES and E. C. Rowe rode from here to New York in ten hours. Mr. J. M. Verhoeff has just returned from a European tour awheel. He reports fine roads and good time.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

"CYC," the WORLD'S correspondent from Harrisburg, Pa., hit the nail on the head when he wrote "the club room is the place to exchange opinions and make boasts." That's right, "Cyc." These blow hards who make their claims on the streets or in public places are sure to be spotted by the not over-lenient public, and will be carded as "loud-mouthed" as soon as the same n. o. l. public can place them.

THE second annual corn-roast of the Syracuse Cycle Club is an event of the dim past, and the hustlers are now busy conjuring some new form of entertainment. Thirty-two men "counted twos" in response to the order given by Captain Chapin, and whirled away over West Genesee Street Hill and out the Cammillus road, to the farm of Mr. Geo. Geddes. There a huge bonfire was built, and corn, to the tune of one hundred and fifty ears, was roasted. The usual obligato of potatoes—Irish and American—were also placed in the fire, and this savory repast was washed down by "real farm milk." Some "bloomin' sweet buns"—a la Harry Schell—completed the menu. When every one had reached his limit as regards eating abilities, songs, speeches, jokes, a la cycle, were indulged in to the delight of an appreciative audience. The club quartette sang "We've been here Before," and were about to spring the "Soldiers' Farewell," when they were silenced by a perfect shower of potatoes, et al. The return trip was made in short order and 1.30 found the boys all in their cribs.

TED HOPKINS is home on a short stay. He says life in New York is just about his speed.

CAPT. CHAPIN has returned from his eastern jaunt and looks as though he had had a splendid time. Albany, Hartford and New York were in his circuit.

E. MCDOUGAL and "Wes" Yale rode from Saratoga to New York to attend the State meet. We heard from them occasionally and learn they were treated royally wherever they stopped. McDougal took his "shooting iron" along and gave us his iron-bound oath that he would lay for a certain yellow and white canine, with headquarters near Rhinebeck. [Will our correspondent kindly locate the hind quarters of the canine? Please give town, county and State. —ED.] Aforesaid canine had a wonderful penchant for "Salina's" pedal extremities once upon a time.

THE "Knickerbocker" men are on the move. A room in the Larned, of no mean order, serves them as a temporary club headquarters.

CLUB house agitation is a popular topic here just now, and D. V. and the weather permitting, the Syracuse Cycle Club will be comfortably fixed in a ranche by the time another riding season appears.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE following from a Wichita correspondent: "The cycling fraternity of Wichita, Kas., have good reason to rejoice; the city has contracted for the paving of Market street for about half a mile with asphaltum. This will be the first in the city, and is but a beginning; a similar improvement for other streets is under consideration. Market street runs north and south, and as the wind here is either north or south seven days in ten, the boys will coast one way or the other nearly all the time, and if they don't rig up sails and coast both ways in less than six months then I was not born a Yankee."

"TOURIST," Ohio Division.—Thanks for report, but we published report of the meet over two weeks ago.

THE members of the Press Cycling Club are requested to rendezvous in Copley Square at 9.30 A. M. Sunday, September 29, and then ride over the roads to Wakefield. This run will probably be the last outing of the season; and, inasmuch as Captain Nat Rogers of the Wakefield Bicycle Club has offered to escort the club while it is in that town, the Executive Committee is desirous of having a representative body of the club turn out. The committee on badges wish to call attention to the fact that a club badge has been adopted and manufactured, and as soon as dues are paid the badges will be distributed.

THE Boston Athletic Association will no doubt be represented by a strong team in the racing events of 1890.

HAVE you read the full list of prizes to be given at the Peoria, Ill., tournament? If not, see pages 570 and 577

TOURISTS are warned against the route between Philadelphia, Reading and Harrisburg, Pa. The roads are bad.

D. J. POST of Bridgeport, Conn., says there is no foundation for the complaint made by a few kickers that Bridgeport wheelmen were not treated well at the late Hartford meet.

WE learn that efforts are being made to have the Warwick Cycle Co. locate their factory at Chicopee, Mass.

REMEMBER the date (September 26) of the Maine Division meet at Portland.

ISN'T the Berkeley Athletic Association of New York trying to form a corner on racing men?

SEVERAL of the Elwell tourists "did" the Whitechapel district while in London. They did not "cotton to it" as a permanent place of residence or even a cheerful section to visit.

WHAT they want to know in Pennsylvania: "Where, Oh where is that Road Book?

FRED SOLOMAN in the opera of "The Brigands" takes occasion at one point to ask, "what did the band play?" and then he shouts out the refrain so well known to our Hagerstown friends. The question is, where did Fred get on to it!

THE official programme of the New York Division is a splendid specimen of the typo's art. The designs of the illuminated covers are excellent, and the work reflects great credit on the committee having the work in charge.

THE old Boston Bicycle Club will cycle and tally-ho out to Saugus to-morrow to attend the race meeting of the Boston Jockey Club.

WE insert the following with pleasure: "Please permit me to change a statement regarding our club, made by the "Stroller," in the WORLD of September 6. Mr. John Erickson, the ex-Secretary, was not expelled, but completed his term with credit. It was the ex-Corresponding Secretary who left the club in disgrace. Yours respectfully, F. WEINBERGER, Cor.-Secretary.

OPINIONS differ. Chairman Davol is for reducing the number of L. A. W. championships to three, and have them all run at the annual meet. On the contrary, our St. Louis correspondent this week suggests a plan to increase the championships locally. For our part we declare on the side of Chairman Davol.

WE received the following item from Mr. H. G. Wolzendorf: "The St. Louis Cycling Club has disbanded and given up its club house. The St. Louis Cycling Club has been organized, which is going to be a League club."

THE bicycle thief seems pretty active "in spots" just now. The last spot he showed up in was Haverhill, and our good friend J. F. Adams is the victim. See advertisement.

AT Chambersburg, Pa., on Tuesday, September 10, Mr. Edward Hamilton, of Shippensburg, Pa., while riding along South Second street with his companion, took a header and fell on the rough street. He was conveyed to the office of Drs. Palmer and Greenawall, where it was found that his upper and lower jaws were broken and deep gashes cut in his chin and lip clear into the bone. It is thought that there will be concussion of the brain. His injuries may prove fatal.

MR. JOSEPH HOLROYD, of the Bay City Wheelmen, San Francisco, just after his return from a pleasure trip throughout England and France, spent two weeks wheeling about New York in company with Messrs. Fink, Schmidt and Neumann.

A GENTLEMAN writing from Sandwich, Mass., says: "In your issue of Sept. 6, in News and Comment, you state that 'Bicyclers for the first time in this country are taxed in Boston.' If this be the first season of such taxation in Boston, I may stand a chance of

'taking the premium,' as for the past three years I have been taxed $1.44 per year for my wheel."

ROUTE WANTED.—"Will some reader of your valuable paper, better informed than myself, please inform me through the columns of the BICYCLING WORLD AND BULLETIN the best wheeling road from Oil City, Pa., to Cleveland, by way of Warren, Ohio? I desire to make the trip yet this fall, and will be greatly pleased to get the above information at an early day. Thos. J. Lee, Philipsburg, Pa."

A PARTY of roughs from Brockton, Mass., have, for the past five weeks, been making themselves particularly obnoxious to residents of Hough's Neck. It was their custom to drive over in a barge, and take with them lager and fire water ad lib. The natural rough instincts inflamed by heavy drinking produced a decidedly disagreeable effect. Last Sunday, on their return from one of these excursions, the roughs ran down a cycler in the city of Quincy, and immediately started for Brockton. There happened to be present Messrs. Doane and Benson on a tandem; these men gave hot chase until they met a policeman, and then Doane got down, and the policeman (who could not pedal) was taken up, and Mr. Benson carried him along alone until a heavy piece of road made fast riding impossible. At this point the policeman dismounted, and Benson alone overhauled the barge, names were taken, and arrests will follow.

The owner of the damaged wheel, D. Hilliard, was supposed to be a League member and Chief Consul Emery had taken the matter in hand when it was found that the sufferer was not a League member and so the Division cannot give financial aid, though of course it can and will give moral support. There is a moral here. See it?

THE Albany (N. Y.) Wheelmen and the Albany Bi. Club are having another tussle with the consolidation question.

FOUR well-known wheelmen of Hyde Park, Ill., were recently arrested and fined for sidewalk riding.

DAN CANARY, the trick rider, has made some good paying engagements. He is said to get $100 a day for his exhibitions.

KARL KRON sends us the following request: "Your paper of Aug. 30, page 491, mentions two Australian bicyclers having enjoyed some 7000 miles of wheeling on a journey to England, and I think they intend to return home by way of this country. A letter for one of them, Geo. W. Burston, formerly captain of the Melbourne Bicycle Club, has been sent in my care by the last man who shook hands with him when he left that city in November, and I shall be glad to send the said letter to any address which he may name or to deliver it to him personally, if he will appoint an hour for calling at my chambers in the University Building, Washington square, New York City. Mr. Burston was the earliest one of the hundred men at the antipodes who subscribed for my "Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle," and I shall be glad if any reader of this paragraph who may meet him in America will call his attention to this request."

D. J. POST writes us: "In your Sept. 13 issue, under 'News and Comment,' I note an account of the injury of C. H. Hanmer, Wethersfield, Conn., and a suggestion of a suit for damages. If worth the space you may use my name as authority that the account was erroneous. A rolling stone caused all of the trouble and not a hole dug for the reception of a telegraph pole as reported.

A GENTLEMAN who takes his little boy riding on his safety standing on the foot-rests, lately said to the boy: "Now you are the headlight of the locomotive." The little fellow was much pleased with the idea and quickly rejoined: "Yes, papa, and you are the smokestack." Somehow the papa was not as much pleased with the comparison.

THINK of a one-mile L. A. W. championship being run in 3m. 56 1-4s.! This was done at Binghamton, N. Y., last week. We hope Campbell is proud of his performance and we hope the Berkeley A. A. is cognizant of the fact that it possesses two very fast men.

Now is the touring season. During the next eight weeks the finest weather for riding will be experienced.

MR. BERT GALBRAITH of Milton, Pa., recently rode from that place 170 miles toward Philadelphia in total elapsed time of 35 hours; actual riding time, 20 hours and 30 minutes. He carried six pounds of luggage, and he thinks the above will compare favorably with the time made by any other tourist over the same route.

A BICYCLE rider calls attention in a local paper to the spelling of Wifliamsburg on a guide board out on a country road in which the letter "s" is left out. He also notes one or two other errors in the sign, and says "The cyclers voted this the most unique specimen of local guide-board painting seen yet." Why, boys, that's nothing. Within 100 feet of Smith College the hundreds of students can see three signs that read: "Plese keep off the lawn." Up on the hills where Wainwright's railroad is to travel is where the cyclers can find the unique signs. J. N. Leonard, the silk manufacturer, has a farm with a trout pond and other attractions for his guests up at Ashfield. At the entrance is a big gate, across which in glaring letters is the startling admonition "For God's sake, shut the gate." Some pious farmer has attempted to cover a portion of the sign with a daub of milk paint, only to make the notice more noticeable. Not far from this place another owner of a summer house wishing to frighten people from crossing his lonely lands for berries or fish, has posted a horrible sign by the roadside. It is about four feet square, with a notice warning people off the place. Then in one corner is a ghastly picture of a skull and cross bones, with the word "law" underneath, and on the other corner a rude picture of a revolver, all the painting being done off in suggestive and sickening red. This is the way some of the city people are "educating" the poor countryman.

ON Monday last we had a call from Mr. J. L. Yost, formerly of the Springfield Bi. Co., but now of the Lozier & Yost Bi. Co. of Toledo. Mr. Yost will tarry in Boston about a week.

THE fifty-mile road race between Doane and Van Wagoner is postponed indefinitely by mutual agreement; business duties interfering.

"THEY are sometimes extreme in New Jersey, but they are usually right. They have good roads over there, and when, the other day, a road overseer dumped sand on them by way of repairing them, they promptly proceeded to indict him. Something very bad ought to happen to him because he erred, not through ignorance, but from the wish to evade the conditions of the contract to mend the macadam surface with broken stone."—N. Y. Times.

A CABLEGRAM from Lucerne, Switzerland, states that: "In reply to the protest of the American minister, the Bundesrath announces its regret at the wrongful arrest of four American tourists at Berne on the charge of being pickpockets, and adds that measures will be taken to prevent such a blunder being made again." Good! and so now we can go to Switzerland without fear of being arrested as a pickpocket.

BETWEEN Old Orchard and Pine Point, Me., there is a sandy stretch of four or more miles, known as Grand Beach. The sand is very hard here and a person's shoes make but little impression on the smooth surface. The other afternoon was seen what appeared to be a boat scudding along the beach before the wind. It was sloop-rigged, but it was on the sand and not in the water. An investigation revealed a curious invention. It seems that A. R. Wright, of Portland, who has been summering at Grand Beach, has a vehicle like a tricycle with broad flanges to the wheels. Protruding from the frame work is a mast, boom and bowsprit. He rigged his craft after the style of a sloop with two jibs, and on a day when the wind is strong he can sail down the beach as nice as you please, and he can't be drowned either.

THROUGH GERMANY.

(BY A MEMBER OF THE "ELWELL PARTY.")

"How soon can we get out of here?" This was the question we asked each other, as we impatiently paced the silent halls of the hotel at Cologne after the boys had gone on their various trips over Europe. As soon as we could leave the place three of us pushed our wheels over the slippery streets of Cologne to the steamboat landing, and took the first boat we could for Bonn. The ride up the Rhine that evening was not near so enjoyable as it was when there was the jolly party of fellows who came down a few days before, and when we arrived at Bonn we did not go to the same hotel we stopped at before, as we knew that the boys were not there and we were all alone. That evening we took a stroll around the town and visited the house where Ludwig von Beethoven was born, which stands in the old part of the town in a narrow street. After looking the town over quite thoroughly, we retired, in order to enjoy the ride up the Rhine next day.

The next day proved to be fine, and we took the first boat in the morning for Mayence, passing through the section of the Rhine where grand ruins of castles frown on you at every turn. At Bingen we had an addition to our party in the person of Jos. Schneider, who had gone ahead the day before to visit the birthplace of his father, which is but a few miles inland.

Opposite Bingen, high above the vineyards, which completely cover the sides of the mountain, stands the German National Monument, representing Germania watching the Rhine. It is a splendid statue, nearly as large as Liberty in New York Harbor, and on the pedestal are engraved the verses of "Die Wacht am Rhine." We continue our ride through the vine-covered mountains, and at last the great bridge of Mayence comes into sight, and after lowering the smokestack, which is collapsable like a telescope, we swung around to the pier and searched for our hotel. This found, we look over the town, and on our return find that there has been three new arrivals, and our party now numbers seven, consisting of Wm. H. Kirk, Stephen L. Breed, J. W. Schneider, Dan and Wm. Krumm, W. E. Hicks and Clark Cooper, and our object is to see some of "Deutchland."

The following morning was spent in looking over the museum and city. In the former we saw a great many old Roman relics and part of the bridge built by Romans in 1 A. D., and on the outskirts of the latter we saw an old watch tower, built in honor of Drusus, in 9 A. D., and the remains of an aqueduct used for transporting water to the city, also built by the Romans about the same period.

After a very good lunch we started in earnest on our German tour, and easily covered the twenty-five miles to Frankfurt on Main, passing through a rolling farming country. We arrived just in time to witness something new to an American cyclist. There was a very large crowd assembled in one of the principal streets, and on making inquiry we learned that Lehr, the German champion, had returned from England, having defeated their best man, but who the best man they referred to was or what distance they had ridden we were unable to find out. From the celebration in his honor he certainly must have done something, as everybody seemed to be excited and the streets were packed with people. When the procession arrived there was a great deal of cheering, and ladies showered the victor with flowers, and the band played appropriate pieces. Such a thing was entirely new to an American, as the public in Yankeeland do not seem to take much interest in racing matters.

The next day we started on our road for Dresden, with the expectation of making Wurzburg the first evening, but as soon as we left the valley of the Main we came to a very rolling country, and found some hills which we were contented to walk up, and at length came to the Spessart Wald, or forest, which is one of the finest forests we saw. The trees are planted in rows at regular intervals and are straight as an arrow for forty feet without a branch, when the branches shoot out and the trees being quite close, the branches intermingle and completely shut out the light, giving one the impression of a huge roof supported by thousands of pillars, the floor being covered with pine needles to the depth of about six inches. A forest like this is very fine to go through in the daylight, but when one goes on continually for four hours with night coming on, he will take a different view of it and pedal somewhat faster. This is what we did, as we did not relish the idea of spending the night there. As we were nearing the edge of the forest there was a cry, "What in the deuce is that?" and we all looked in one direction, where we saw a deer standing, looking in amazement at us for a moment, and then disappear in the darkness of the wood. The first was followed by a second, which crossed the road directly in front of us, like a flash, and followed the leader in the wood.

We soon came to the end of the forest, and far out in the country ahead we saw a small village nestled in between the hills; here we began to descend toward it, and for seven solid miles we never touched a foot to the pedals of our wheels. On inquiring we learned that there was a larger town only a few miles farther, so we covered the distance in short order, and at lenght arrived in Marktheidenfelt about 9 P. M., and decided to stop there for the night.

After a good dinner, without wine, much to the disgust of the landlord and amusement of the other guests, we took a stroll around the place, it being a beautiful moonlight night, and found it to be a very quaint old market town, located in the centre of a rich farming section, and composed chiefly of tillers of the soil.

GOOD WORDS AND GOOD ADVICE.

Editor Bicycling World: I attended a League meeting recently, a pleasant, merry affair and well ordered, and I thought of some things which, as a clergyman, I should like to say to the members. I have often thought of the respect which the League shows to the law, upon which it bases its demand for rights. Indeed this is proclaimed upon its seal, for when I first saw the winged wheel with L. A. W. in it, not observing the periods, I wondered what society it was that thus proclaimed the majesty of the Law.

Perhaps we can find in that seal also some symbol of the respect which the League owes to religion. The wings seem capable of such an interpretation. We cannot indeed use these to prove that the members are angelic in their disposition. But wings are the symbols of mounting upward and keeping above some things in this world. At least it is well that they should suggest this thought to the members of the League. I think, too, that I can see many signs of this upward tendency in the organization, its officers and members. It has steadily moved away from the degrading influences of many athletic contests, keeping down the spirit of gambling, professionalism and jockeying, maintaining a clean and wholesome form of entertainment at its tournaments, which are coming to be more and more appreciated by the best people.

I wish to say a good word also for the editorial influence, which has consistently aimed at teaching gentlemanliness and morality as the essential characteristics of League members. If we have the proper esprit de corps we shall all strive to put down rowdyism and show that at tournaments, touring, League meetings or "smokers," wheelmen know how to have a jolly good time without the vulgarity and dissipation which are considered necessary accompaniments of "hoodlums" when enjoying themselves. I will be a vast help to the future prosperity and good development of the L. A. W. if every member will endeavor to make his badge respected and do nothing to bring disgrace upon it.

In this matter the L. A. W. and the churches are working for the same ends, and we can give substantial assistance to one another. We want to make our influence felt in the world for good and to improve our circle of association by making it mount upward upon the wings of honor, manliness and brotherhood.

One way in which you can help us and yourselves is by proving that the wheel is not an ungodly instrument of evil. Let your clubs be for athletic purposes, which will ennoble manhood, and not for those foolish practices which waste a man's fibre and sap his strength while the wheel rusts and the devil cheerily pedals his grindstone to wear your life away, exulting in his prospect of breaking his record of evil.

If you must ride on Sundays (because you have no other time to enjoy God's free sunlight and air) do it in a way not to dishonor the sacred day. Let your communion with nature in the fields and mountains be a means of making you render worship to your Creator. Do not entirely neglect religious duties. Why can you not arrange your rides so that you can stop at the service in some country church and rest there in God's temple? It would be a good plan for country churches, in good riding districts, to put up the League sign of two arrows pointing to each other with a cross over them, to show that wheelmen would be welcomed into the house of prayer.

I have said enough, for I do not intend to preach a sermon, but I wish success to the League of American Wheelmen.

L. A. W. 9840.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

WE have the briefest report of the meet at Minneapolis, and it was received just as we go to press. A partial account of the races appears in our racing columns. The public showed the greatest interest in the races and the lantern parade. A local paper says: "Over one hundred wheelmen, their cycles gaily illuminated, swept into line at Rice Park, and, headed by the St. Paul Club, began the line of march. Every bike bore a colored lantern, and some were half hidden by Japanese illuminators, while the boys had spent time and money in decorating their wheels. The spectacle was a brilliant one, especially when the procession passed down Third street, under the fairy-like illuminations. Crowds were attracted, and the wheelmen were heartily applauded."

ROAD HOGGISM.

Mr. Julius Jose of Lake George and a friend were riding over the road towards Glens Falls one day this summer when they were overtaken by a couple of the genus "tough" in a buggy. The specimens were well soaked with bad whisky and they felt abusive. They cursed and swore and ordered our cycling friends off the road and threatened to run them down in case of refusal.

Mr. Jose and companion allowing for the fact that the whisky was bad, tried to get out of the way. The drunken loafer who held the reins pulled his horse over and drove straight at the cyclers, upsetting Jose, luckily without any serious injury. Then the drunkards drove on and the cyclers walked after them. At Bloody Point the cyclers overtook the toughs, and as the cyclers passed the men in the buggy Jose mildly expostulated, saying that a broken arm or neck might have been the result and that such proceedings were not nice. As soon as the fellows heard this, one of them cried out: "O, it wasn't, was it? Well, we'll settle you this time, anyway." He poured forth a flood of profanity, and applying his whip to the horse, drove Jose back into the bushes. Twice the animal reared in the air and the boy was obliged to drop the handles of his bicycle and jump for his life. The loafer whipped his horse and made him trample on the machine until it became a complete ruin.

Now for the pleasant sequel. The hog, whose name was Hickins, resides in Glens Falls, was arrested. Mr. Jose's first intention was to have the offender punished as far as the law would permit, but owing to lack of time and the pitiable state of the man's family, Jose consented to let Hickins settle the same, and he paid $50 damages, which fully covered all expenses.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—OFFICERS' MEETING.

Last week Friday the Division officers of Massachusetts had a meeting at the Clarendon Hotel. Chief Consul Emery presided, and there was a large attendance.

Reports of the various committees were considered. The report of the Committee on Finance showed that the Division began the new year with a handsome balance in the treasury. A committee, consisting of the Chief Consul, Secretary and I. E. Moultrop, was appointed to provide for the erection of danger guide boards at such places on the roads of Massachusetts as the committee considered advisable.

The Chief Consul was authorized to have printed 1500 road books for use of the members of the Division. The Rights and Privileges Committee reported that the Division had interested itself in two legal cases where the rights of wheelmen were interfered with.

Delegates to represent Massachusetts at the annual convention of the L. A. W. were elected as follows: J. S. Dean, Boston; G. A. Perkins, Cambridge; B. A. Barber, Worcester; E. B. Pillsbury, Boston; I. E. Moultrop, Boston; J. B. Seward, Chelsea; Charles S. Howard, Boston. The Chief Consul and vice-consuls are by virtue of their offices delegates to the convention. The Division has gained two delegates since last year.

The Chief Consul announced the appointment of standing committees, as follows:

Rules and Regulations—I E. Moultrop, Sanford Lawton and E. B. Pillsbury.

Rights and Privilege—J. S. Dean, W. J. Slocum and G. A. Perkins.

Finance—J. Fred Adams, B. A. Barber and A. M. Gouch.

Touring—A. W. Robinson, W. G. Kendall and C. B. Cubberly.

Improvement of Highways—C. S. Howard, C. W. Fourdrinier and S. L. Ford.

THE TRACK AT PASSAIC, N. J.

I noticed in the last issue of the WORLD that "Hawkshaw" seems to be very much worried about the time made at the games of the P. W. A. A. on Clifton track. He says, "The track is certainly short, since it was formerly a trotting track, and as such was measured three feet from the rail." I will guarantee that there was not a race ridden, at any point, at less than three feet from the rail as at 18 inches the track was not in the best condition, and also the height of the fence would make it decidedly dangerous to ride at full speed nearer than three feet. He also says, "The track was, when last I saw it, one which from the nature of its construction would be almost impossible to get into condition for record riding." Let me inform "Hawkshaw" that with nothing but scraping and rolling the Clifton track can be put in superb condition and I firmly believe that its construction makes it the fastest track in the country for bicycle riding, as may be shown at some future date. 18700.

NEW YORK DIVISION MEET.

RAIN, rain! That is the history of the weather during the two days' meet, and the consequence was that all the out-of-door programme had to be dispensed with; no parade, no runs. True it is that a few plucky ones tried to ride out into the country, but they concluded that the Central Park drives were good enough for them. The successful features of the meet were the banquet and the theatre party. Our correspondent "Hawkshaw" alludes to the dinner and how Francis Wilson spoke. The official report of the business meeting will appear in our official columns. An appropriation of $600 was made for office expenses of the Chief Consul, and $150 for the Secretary-Treasurer. At the theatre Friday night things were lively. The house contained 800 wheelmen, and they enjoyed the performance to the utmost.

When Miss Lyford came out to sing "Be Good," she didn't get a chance to begin for some time, and finally the wheelmen presented to her a huge floral piece, with the device and initials of the League upon it.

Mr. Wilson, during the evening, sang the following song:

The pleasure they feel
When astride of the wheel
Every bicycler knows is immense;
And he's ready to swear
That there's naught to compare
With this pleasure that steeps every sense—
Like a lover's first kiss,
It's one tingle of bliss
From the caput way down to the toes;
But where's the joy in a header
When you're left for a deader?
That's one thing that nobody knows.
And you never can tell
When you're going to—
Fall down and break up the whole New York Division.

This was cheered to the echo, and when Mr. Wilson also sang "Listen to my Tale of Woe," again "the roof was raised" by the heartiest cheers and applause.

After the play the cyclists marched round to Lyric Hall, singing as they went. Tables were laid in both the large rooms. Wilson joined his fellow wheelmen here and told them how dreadfully solemn they looked on bicycles.

Simon Ford of the Bicycle Club acted as toast master for the evening. President Charles H. Luscomb of the L. A. W. answered the toasts of the League, Chief Consul William S. Bull replied to the Division, and Chairman Malcolm L. Bridgeman of the Executive Committee talked about the meet.

The rain spoiled the fun out of doors, but New York is a good place to be storm-bound in, and the visitors managed to put in the time quite pleasantly even if the rains descended and the floods came.

NIAGARA SEEMS WILLING.

Editor Bicycling World: I have read with interest and pleasure the several articles in your paper endorsing Niagara Falls for the L. A. W. meet of 1890. There is not a better place in the United States for the meeting, nor one easier of access. All the great trunk lines centre here, and visitors can come from the most distant points without change of cars. The two local clubs—the "Niagara Falls Bicycle Club," with forty members, and the "Suspension Bridge Wheelmen," with twenty-five members—are enthusiastic over the possibility of having the meeting held here, and with a track that is conceded to be one of the best in the country, they will guarantee a rare treat in the racing line. Coupled with this the ample hotel accommodations and the attraction that "nature's grandest handiwork" possesses for everyone, would undoubtedly make the meet of 1890, the largest in the annals of the League. Fraternally, L. A. W. No. 7429.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., September 16, 1889.

COMING EVENTS.

AT TAUNTON, MASS.—A race meet will be held at the Bristol County Fair Grounds, September 24, 26. On the first date a one-mile novice, one-mile safety and ten-mile open (time limit, 35 minutes) will be run; on the second date, one-mile county, one-mile boys' and three-mile lap open will be run. Entries close September 23, with Dr. B. H. Strout, 106 Weir street, Taunton, Mass.

AT NEW HAVEN, CT.—The annual ten-mile team road race of the New Haven Bicycle Club comes off Friday, September 27th, over the Branford course.

There are fifteen entries, and several dark horses are in, which makes it interesting. The man making the best time holds the club championship and cup for a year, and the winning team have their names printed on the back of the team's road race banner, as winners for 1889.

AT WORCESTER, MASS.—Postponement.—In consequence of rain the races which were to have been held at Worcester last Saturday were postponed until Wednesday, September 18; too late for this week's issue.

AT PEORIA, ILL.—Accounts from Peoria show that the most careful and thorough preparations are being made for the first annual tournament on October 4 and 5. A partial list of prizes has been published in our issue of Sept. 6, and in this issue we present a full list of same. One thing we are assured of, and that is, the prizes will be found to be exactly as represented.

One mile, novice: 1st prize, dress coat and vest, $40; 2d, fine leather grip, $8; 3d, fine engraving, $7.50. Two miles, tandem: 1st prize, two carving sets, $30; 2d, two silk umbrellas, $20; 3d, two pairs silk hose, $6. One mile, 3.10 class: 1st prize, silver cup, $25, by Pope Mfg. Co.; 2d, fine banjo, $25; 3d, patent leather shoes, $9; 4th, alligator slippers, $3. Two miles, safety handicap: 1st prize, handsome mahogany vases, $25; 2d, "Knox" silk hat, $8; 3d, initial silk handkerchiefs. Five miles, State championship: 1st prize, L. A. W. medal, $25, by Illinois Division L. A. W. One mile, Peoria Bicycle Club: 1st prize, special silk umbrella, $27.50; 2d, two suits of fine underwear, $15; 3d, russet shoes, $6. One mile, boys under 16: 1st prize, Vineyard bicycle, $50, by Rouse, Hazard & Co.; 2d, one pair Barney & Berry's best nickel-plated club skates, $5; 3d, tennis shoes, $4; 4th, bell, $2. Two miles, 6.20 class: 1st prize, Crescent safety bicycle, $90, by Western Wheel Works; 2d, elegant marble vase, $18; 3d, fine autotype engraving, $8. One mile, open: 1st prize, Victor Light Roadster bicycle, $130, by Overman Wheel Co.; 2d, fine piano lamp, $15; 3d, fine pair trousers, to order, $12; 4th, "Goeth" dress shirt, $4. One-half mile, safety State championship: 1st prize, L. A. W. medal, $25, by Illinois Div. L. A. W. One mile, handicap: 1st prize, fine gold medal, $25; 2d one half-dozen flannel shirts, made to order, $18; 3d, pair Hungarian vases, $7.50. One mile, safety, open: 1st prize, handsome library desk, $40; 2d, elegant field-glass, $15; 3d, 100 imported cigars, $12. Ten miles, scratch: 1st prize, elegant gold watch, $150, by C. L. Crawford; 2d, fine marble clock, $15; 3d, Webster's unabridged dictionary, $10; 4th, fine meerschaum pipe, $5. One mile, consolation: 1st prize, combination toilet set, $17; 2d, triplicate mirror, $8; 3d, 5-pound box fine candy, $5. The prizes are being collected now so that they can be distributed at the close of the tournament. Applications for entry blanks are being received from all over the country from the fastest men in the East and West. Entrance fee 50 cents per man to each event, except team race, $2. Entries close September 25, L. A. W. rules to govern. For entry blanks apply to F. H. BUSH, Secretary, Peoria, Ill.

AT QUEENS, L. I.—The medal offered by Mr. Charles Schwalbach for the championship of Long Island, will be competed for on Saturday, Oct. 5, at 3 P. M., at Queens, L. I.; distance five miles; competition open only to members of Long Island wheel clubs; entrance fee $1, returnable to starters. Entries close Oct. 2, with Mr. Thomas Lloyd, Queens, L. I., or with Mr. Charles Schwalbach, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

AT WICHITA, KAN.—The Wichita Wheelmen are perfecting arrangements for some bicycle races at the coming fair, Oct. 1-5. There will probably be six races, viz.: Three State championships, the two, three and ten mile, also a 3.30 class open and a 3 class open, and a club championship (for Wichita Wheelmen only) for the Dr. Johnson badge, now held by Mr. L. C. Miller.

AT NORFOLK, VA.—The postponed races of Virginia Division will be held Oct. 14. An elaborate programme will be arranged for this occasion; costly and handsome prizes will be awarded the winners of races, special hotel and transportation rates are offered, and in fact everything possible will be done for the convenience of visiting wheelmen. For information, entry blanks, etc., apply to A. A. O'Neill, Chairman, 64 Bank street.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., September 12.—The races at the Driving Park, Minneapolis, resulted as follows:

One-mile safety—J. R. Stockdale (1), N. A. Berwin (2); time, 3.31.

One-mile professional—Grant Bell (1), F. Dingley (2); time, 3.02 1-2.

One-mile, three minute class—J. Johnson (1), W. Walsh (2); time, 3.03.

Half-mile, boys' race—Rolf Reynolds (1), Carl Stockdale (2); time, 1.45.

Five-mile professional—First heat, F. Dingley (1), Grant Bell (2); time, 16.48. Second heat, Grant Bell (1), F. Dingley (2); time, 16.52.

One-mile—T. L. Bird (1), F. M. Gaston (2); time, 3.34.

[The above is incomplete. For some unknown reason the letter containing the results of the other events has not reached us. Probably missent.—ED.]

AT DES MOINES, IOWA—The Iowa Division of the L. A. W. held its annual races, in connection with the State Fair races, on September 3, 4, 5. The track was slow and a heavy wind omnipresent. Owing to the above conditions it was impossible to make even fair time. The following is the list of races and the winners:

One-mile—J. D. Green (1), J. W. Garrett (2); time, 3.30.

Half-mile—J. D. Green (1), H. Hayes (2); time, 1.35.

L. A. W. races, one-mile championship—W. H. Knapp, of Cedar Falls (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 3.39.

Three-mile championship—J. D. Green, of Des Moines (1); John Q. Crosby, of Cedar Falls (2); time, 11.40.

Open to all race, one-mile—Frank McElwain, of Cedar Falls (1); Dan Merner (2); time, 3.36.

State Fair races, one-mile—H. A. Barber, of Cedar Rapids (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 3.39 1-2.

Three-mile—J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (1); H. G. Everett, of Des Moines (2); time, 13.02 1-2.

Five-mile—J. D. Green, of Des Moines (1); J. W. Garrett, of Des Moines (2); time, 20.21.

Half-mile, hands off—W. P. Chase, of Des Moines (1); W. L. Chase, of Cedar Falls (2); time, 2 12 1-2.

Owing to the bad condition of track the State Fair fifteen-mile team race, for State Fair trophy was omitted, as were several other races.

A fifteen-mile team race, for Grinnell trophy, between Des Moines and Cedar Falls teams resulted in favor of Cedar Falls. Two of the Des Moines team were badly, though not seriously, hurt at the beginning of the race, thus making the race uneven and void of interest. Time, 20.15.

AT NICHOLSVILLE, KY., Sept. 10.—Track.—The following are the results of the race meet at the above place, held last week Tuesday: Ordinary, one mile, was won by Al Watcher of Covington, in 2.57 3-4; second premium to T. H. Croninger of Covington. Safety novice, half mile, won by Andrew Hanaeur of Covington, Ky., in 1.35; second, T. P. Flagg of Danville. Ordinary, half mile, was won by L. F. Spaulding of Covington, in 1.35; William Stewart of Covington, second. One mile safety was won by Arnett of Covington, in 3.16; three miles, ordinary, was won by Croninger in 9.12 1-2; A. Alveston of Richmond, second. A prize was awarded to Andrew Hanauer of Covington for fancy riding. Three miles was won by Charles Croninger of Covington in 9.12; W. D. Alveston of Richmond, second. Boys' race, one quarter mile, was won by Chapel Heath of Richmond in 54 1-4; Robert Taylor, second. Slow race and change of wheels, won by Van Winkle from Danville, on wheel of Caldwell. Five mile championship, Kentons, was won by C. Croninger; A. M. Watcher, second; Andy Hanauer, third; time, first mile, 3.34; second, 7.10; third, 10.36 1-4; fourth, 13.57; fifth, 16.58 1-2. The Richmond Club received the fine silk banner for the largest delegation. In the exhibition race between L. F. Spaulding and W. H. Stewart, three miles, Stewart won. At the judges' stand he ran into a bicycle and was thrown violently to the track and Spaulding piled into him. Stewart was badly bruised and was removed to the hotel. He is not seriously injured.

AT ST LOUIS—Fred Wrieden and Walter Tyler ran off their match race on Saturday, Sept. 7, on the local cycle track. The race was won handily by the former in 7m. 35s. The prize was a champagne supper for eight, which was hugely enjoyed by all present.

AT BINGHAMTON, N. Y—Second day, Sept. 11. One mile novice. Final heat, E. S. Dalton (1), J. W. Cutler (2); time, 3.32.

One mile safety novice. Second heat, B. Dewight (1), F. C. Melvin (2); time, 3.32. Final heat. Ben Dewight (1), F. C. Melvin (2); time, 3.52 1-5.

Half-mile boys under 16. F. Norris (1), W. H. Loveland (2); time, 1.40 2-5.

One mile handicap. E. S. Dalton, 150 yds. (1), A. C. Banker, scratch, (2), W. S. Campbell, scratch, (3); time, 2.57 1-4.

Two mile safety lap. W. Van Wagoner, 11 points (1), W. D. Banker, 10 points (2); time, 6.40 1-4.

One mile New York State L. A. W. Championship. W. S. Campbell (1), A. C. Banker (2); time, 3.56 1-4

Half mile. W. S. Campbell (1), W. Van Wagoner (2); time, 1.31 1-2.

One mile, Binghamton W. Club. J. W. Cutler (1), A. E. Potter (2); time, 3.26 2-5.

Three mile safety handicap. W. D. Banker, scratch, (1), A. C. Banker, 40 yds. (2), W. F. Gassler, Jr. (3); time, 9.45.

AT NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Under the auspices of the A. A. U., at the Union's grounds. Two miles. First heat, W. W. Taxis (1), S. B. Bowman (2); time, 6.54 1-5. Second heat, W. E. Crist (1), F. J. Brown (2); time, 7 08. Final heat, W. W. Taxis (1), S. W. Bowman (2); time, 6.39.

AT CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.—The following are the results of the races at the above place Sept. 11:

Half mile, novice: C. Urban, 1; L. Hollingsworth, 2. Time, 1m. 48s.

Half mile, open: E. Hulman, 1; C. Wilson, 2. Time, 1m. 37s.

Two miles, lap: E. Hulman, 1; C. Wilson, 2. No time.

One mile State L. A. W. championship: A. Hulman,, 1; C. Wilson, 2. Time, 3m. 17s.

Half mile, flying start: E. Hulman, 1; L. Hollingsworth, 2. Time, 1m. 56s.

One mile, consolation: L. Hollingsworth, 1; H. Stout, 2. Time, 3m. 43s.

AT NEW ORLEANS, LA—The races held at New Orleans under the auspices of the Division at Audubon Park half-mile track, were very successful. The results:

One mile, novice: F. Campbell, 1; F. Born, 2. No time.

Five miles, National L. A. W. championship: F. Mehlig, 1; C. Guillotte, 2. The time at each lap was: 1.59, 3.48, 5.42, 7.59, 9.37, 11.33 13.39, 15.49, 18.02, 19 38

Half mile, boys: E. Dupre, 1; C. Faure, 2. Time. 1m. 52s.

One mile, safety: W. H. Renaud, 1; E. M. Graham, 2. No time.

One-mile State championship—F. Born, 1; H. Christy, 2. Time, 3.19

Half-mile ride and run—Hathorn, 1; F. Christy, 2. Time, 2.23.

One-mile, three minute class—F. Campbell, 1; Harris, 2. Time, 3.20 4-5.

One-mile Louisiana Cycle Club championship—B. W. Cason, Jr., 1; M. S. Graham, 2. Time, 3.14 1-5.

One-mile New Orleans Bicycle Club championship—Walk-over for H. L. Carey. Time, 3 21 2-5.

Two and one-half-mile lap race—F, Mehlig, 16 points, 1; H. L. Carey, 8 points, 2. Time, 10.24

Half-mile consolation—M. S. Graham, 1; C. M. Shute, 2. Time, 1.34 2-5.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS.
A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

SUFFERERS are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free, on application, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J., present to our readers a list of very cheap second-hand bicycles. See their advertisement on page 578.

ONE of the greatest hits of the season has been the popular Premier Safety, its low price and sterling qualities creating an instantaneous demand for it that has taxed the immense factory of Hillman, Herbert & Cooper to its utmost. L. H. Johnson has just succeeded in obtaining a moderate stock over and above his orders, and can now supply them promptly while they last.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J., have a complete line of bundle carriers for all sorts of cycles. Send for their circular.

REPAIRING.—L. Baudreau, formerly with the Overman Wheel Co., takes pleasure in calling the attention of wheelmen to the fact that he has opened a repair shop for repairing all makes of bicycles, and also dealer in second-hand bicycles. House at No. 13 Trenton street, East Boston, and repair shop at Orient Lake, Saratoga street, East Boston.

Pennsylvania.

Annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W. held at York, Pa., September 2d, 1889

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Division L. A. W. was called to order in the parlors of the City Hotel York at 10 A. M. September 2d, by the retiring Chief Consul John J. Van Nort.

Mr. D. K. Trimmer, Vice Consul elect being present was called to the chair. The minutes of the last annual meeting at Harrisburg and those of the Board of Officers meeting at Philadelphia were read and approved.

Retiring Chief Consul Van Nort made a report covering his period of office. The long delayed road book he found was the main question before the division when he took up the office and it was still among the things looked for. He had tried to push it but long distance pushing did not amount to much. It needed vigorous action on the part of the division. The report was received and a vote of thanks extended to the retiring official.

Secretary-Treasurer's report showed balance on hand of $618.41 while $225 had been given to the National Organization and $74 had been paid out toward the road book.

Reports from committees showed that the only committee that had covered themselves with glory was the Liberty Bill Committee. They having accomplished their work in securing the enactment of the desired law.

Mr. H. Crowther of Philadelphia reviewed the road book as it had from time to time come up before the Board of Officers during the past two years and closed by submitting the following motion. That a committee be appointed to investigate why the book has not been issued. What has become of the money paid on account of its publication: To obtain reliable and definite information and take such action as they may find necessary

Mr. Seibert moved to amend so as to give the committee plenary powers. The amendment was accepted. After a general discussion during which several letters were read from compiler Wells showing broken promises, the motion was unanimously carried. And there being no other business, the meeting adjourned.

JOHN J. VAN NORT, Sec.-Treas.

Immediately upon adjournment of the State Division meeting, the Board of Officers convened, but as the time for the annual parade under the direction of the York Club had arrived, the Board adjourned until 4.30 P. M.

At 4.30 P. M. Chief Consul Boyle called the Board to order the following members being present; Samuel A. Boyle, Chief Consul, Philadelphia; D. K. Trimmer, Vice Consul, York; John J. Van Nort, Secretary-Treasurer, Scranton; C. P. Lusk, Harrisburg; W. J. Wilhelm, Reading; H. Crowther, Philadelphia; Kirk Brown, Philadelphia; O. P. Moeckel, Allegheny, and T. J. Lee, Philipsburg.

Chief Consul announced that he would appoint H. Crowther, P. S. Collins and H. R. Lewis as the Road Book Investigating Committee and request they report to him often and promptly.

The election of Delegates to the National Assembly was next proceeded with, resulting in the choice of the following; H. Crowther and Kirk Brown of Philadelphia, Campbell C. Taggart of Pittsburg, W. N. Seibert of New Bloomfield, T. J. Lee of Philipsburg, John J. Van Nort, Scranton.

After discussing road improvement and other work before the division, meeting adjourned.

JOHN J. VAN NORT, Sec.-Treas.

Pennsylvania Road Book.

To Pennsylvania Division:

I have today appointed Mr. J. R. L. Edwards an additional member to the committe on the road book.

SAMUEL A. BOYLE, Chief Consul.

Pennsylvania Road Book.

To the members of the Pennsylvania Division.

The Road Book Committee, appointed at the recent meeting of the Division at York, have held several meetings and from the information they have thus far been able to secure, would make the following report relative to the general condition of the work:

1st.—The routes proper have all been printed and tourists desiring special routes to be used for Autumn riding can secure same from any member of the committee at a nominal cost.

2d.—No work has yet been done on Preface, Index, List of Hotels and Consuls and Maps. The last are by far the most important and will cause the greatest delay. The list of consuls and hotels is now in course of preparation and work will be immediately begun on the index.

Your committee will push the book to early completion and would call for any new and important information in regard to routes which may be in possession of local consuls and members, in order that the book may be as complete as possible.

Notice as to probable date of issue will be given in next BULLETIN if it can be done.

H. CROWTHER, Chairman.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16, 1889.

Missouri.

To the members of the Missouri Division:

In assuming the duties of Chief Consul of this Division, I desire to call the immediate attention of every member to the very small membership our State now has and request the hearty co-operation of every member to help build it up. St. Louis, Kansas City, Joplin, St. Joe, not to mention others, have enough riders at present to more than treble our present membership and with a little work most all the riders can be gotten to join. All the energies and resources of the Division are being devoted to securing an improvement in our highways. In order to secure the necessary legislation we need a largely increased membership.

As improved roads, and the right to use them which has been secured to all wheelmen by our organization, appeal to every cyclist there should be no trouble in adding to our strength if each member will only bear in mind that the privilege of membership in the League of American Wheelmen is not without its accompanying duties. The most important of these should be the endeavor on the part of every member to increase the numerical strength of the organization, thereby advancing its interests and extending its influence.

I desire an efficient Local Consul in every town in the State, who will be ready and willing to perform the duties of that office as mentioned below, and also take an active interest in increasing the membership. To secure this end I would be pleased to receive applications or suggestions from the members at large. The duties of a Local Consul are as follows:

"Consuls shall acquire and give information concerning roads, laws, hotels and other matters of interest in their localities, when called upon to do so, to members of the League only; perform such duties as the Chief Consul may require of them, and generally promote the interests of the League and its members. Consuls' term of office shall expire on the 1st day of September of each year."

Missouri must have at least 350 members by January 1, consuls are therefore earnestly requested to increase the membership in their district. Application blanks, pamphlets, etc., can be had on application to the undersigned. Now let us all take off our coats and pitch into the work of securing new members and thus pull "Poor old Missouri" out of the slough of despond she is in at present. Fraternally yours,

ROBERT HOLM, Chief Consul.

Missouri Appointments.

Mr. J. Harold Child, 1012 Olive street is hereby appointed local consul for St. Louis.

Mr. R. M. Seibel, local consul for Kansas City.

Prof. H. C. Penn, local consul for Columbia.

Mr. F. A. Scott, local consul for Moberly.

Other appointments to follow shortly.

ROBERT HOLM, Chief Consul.

To Connecticut Division Members.

In assuming the duties of Chief Consul of Connecticut. I feel that a slight reference to the policy of the Division for the ensuing year cannot be amiss.

Barely two weeks since a very respectable wheelman of Stamford was outrageously run down and insulted by a bully urging his horses at break-neck speed through Central Row. It was a pure case of cussedness and I regret sincerely that the case does not come within the jurisdiction of the Division.

Friends of the injured wheelmen in seeking assistance from the Division assured me that he had but recently mastered the wheel and that he fully intended joining the L. A. W. at an early day. The former I know to be true and the latter I believe to be true. Yet, he was not a member and sympathy was all I could offer, and sympathy is all we will be able to offer to any outside of our organization.

In years past non-Leaguers have been invited to assemble at our meets and join in the festivities as freely as members. The supposition that they would become interested and hand in their application, failed to realize and some when asked to join would meet us with the query "why should I pay two dollars for privileges that you gladly bestow free?"

At our Hartford meet Septemb r 2, 3, badges, which admitted to all Division entertainments, were furnished L. A. W. members and applicants for L. A. W. membership free, and to no others at any price. Result: eighty-nine applications.

You may say to your unattached friends, we want your membership, we want your aid, we want your dollar each year and in return we will welcome you among us. We will furnish you with the best cycling paper published, we will furnish you a road book at less than cost, we will secure for you better roads and if you are deprived of any of your rights as a wheelman or imposed upon by users of other vehicles, a lawyer will be at your command.

The unattached must necessarily enjoy more or less of the privileges secured by our united devotion, labor and money, but they are limited and those above named are among the exceptions. Briefly stated, our policy for 1889-90 will be, Connecticut Division for the Connecticut Division and the L. A. W. at large.

Fraternally, DAVID J. POST,
Hartford, Ct., Sept. 16, '89. Chief Consul.

Massachusetts Division.

Circular No. 4.

Abbot Bassett is hereby appointed a Representative of the Massachusetts Division.

Fraternally, WM. H. EMERY,
Sept. 16, 1889. Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

"A.—Spoke twisted to form loop.
B.—Stick inserted between wires.
C.—Wires twisted.
D.—Ends of stick fastened in position.

Twist the ends of the broken spoke so as to form a loop close to the rim, attach a piece of copper wire or stout twine to the loop, and pass the end round two or three spokes under the hub, back through the loop, and fasten securely. Insert a piece of stick through the center of the wires or strings, and twist up to the required tension, fastening ends of stick securely."

This cut was furnished us by the Wheelman's Gazette, in which paper it appeared under the head of "some useful hints."

The extreme cheapness of wire has led to its adoption for many purposes. Mouse traps, bustles, bird cages, fly screens, soap dishes, coal sieves, etc., are among its proper and legitimate ends. However, all useful things are liable to misuse.

Among the misuses of wire is the making of spokes for wheels. Vehicles to be drawn by horses and having wire wheels, have been so soon done for that they may well have wondered what they were begun for.

There is comparatively little service required of wheels which are propelled by the rider; this fact, together with the comforting influence of rubber tyre, has rendered possible a method of construction for cycle wheels which was long since condemned for any really hard use.

Dear reader: We know that you don't all agree with us in these things, else why should we mention them. You get our opinions on such easy terms, that you can afford to remember them, and we will see you—(and probably sell you a hickory wheel) later.

Having broken a wheel of whatever kind, of course it must be fixed, and the method suggested above is not bad.

The owner of an

Elliott Hickory Bicycle

doesn't have to go with his heart in his mouth and his pockets full of cement, wire, twine, etc., as any accident which could knock out enough hickory spokes to disable the wheel, would no doubt leave the rider in a similar condition, and the same ambulance could bring home both wrecks.

Those catalogues will be ready in a few days.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J.

The Smillakameens and Semmaakateens called on us recently. They are connected with the Beefalo Bull and Jackass Texas Combination. They informed us they had ridden everything but a White Flyer, and after trying them declared their intention of making it their future mount. Having recently arrived from England, and having recovered from their vacation, they are on their way to EGYPT, and they want White Flyers to climb the PYRAMIDS with. They also say that the White Flyer is the ONLY BIKE they have seen with which they could easily run down a JACK RABBIT. Our old friend ———————— SOKLATOMILLPEEP was along. We renewed our pleasant acquaintance formed years ago on the South Fork of the St. Jo. River. He had with him some of the famous SKOOKUM OIL used by all Western Coast Indians, to lubricate the locks of their rifles. It never gets thick, and lasts longer than any oil now before the public. Heat and cold have no terrors for SKOOKUM OIL.

We contracted with the long-named native for a large supply of the unrivalled article. We shall soon be able to supply our agents and customers with something that will make them laugh. Keey your eyes open for our SKOOKUM OIL AD. It will soon appear.

CATARRH HAY FEVER CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been discovered which permanently cures the most aggravated cases of these distressing diseases by a few simple applications made (two weeks apart) by the patient at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free by A. H. DIXON & SON, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.

"ROVERS."

Ladies' and gents', the original and the BEST. Highest possible grade in every particular. Absolutely the most elegant Safeties ever produced.

See our Catalogue before you buy a wheel.

Unprecedented Bargains in New, Late-Pattern Bicycles.

Being always in the market to buy job lots of new or second-hand wheels when prices are right. we have secured several choice lots of new, perfect and late pattern, high-grade wheels at prices such that we can offer them either at retail, or to the trade AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE QUOTED IN THE U. S. Had we purchased such of the wheels listed below as are of American make from the manufacturers direct we should, like all dealers, be compelled by contract to sell them strictly at list. These wheels were all purchased in job lots, hence may be sold by us at our own prices, which dealers will notice are ACTUALLY BELOW THE MAKERS' WHOLESALE PRICES. The Rudges and Clubs we secured by buying the ENTIRE STOCK of the importers direct. In the particular localities where we purchased these wheels the Safety craze is such that Ordinaries are very slow sale. Knowing from our own trade, which extends to every State and Territory, that the Ordinary is being more largely purchased the country over than the Safety, we unhesitatingly purchased several large stocks, and now offer our customers the benefit.

We will sell any of the following wheels on EASY PAYMENTS, with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. We take second-hand bicycles and type-writers in exchange. Peoria has 13 railroads, and low rates and quick time to all points.

We have a number of nearly every one of the several sizes and styles listed below;

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 27 SEPTEMBER, 1889.

WHEN we read of a man having a record of four thousand miles or more for the season's riding we feel as though we were very much of a "theoretical rider." We do love to plod along and we are not alone in our preference. Both the editors of this paper have degenerated into road dawdlers. One of "us" (not the writer) has achieved no mean fame on the racing path, and be it to our honor to add that "loafing tactics" on the track was a comparatively unknown "art" in the days when this fame was acquired. As for ourselves (the writer) we have always been one of the slow riding kind, and had our taste run to racing we do not doubt but that we should have been a rabid follower of the Lacy Hillier and modern amateur style of riding a two-mile race in about a hundred-yard sprint. We never did like to lose our breath or make our legs ache.

IN this issue we have a letter from a gentleman on the Sunday riding question. For our part we can see no harm in Sunday riding if properly and decorously indulged in. There is a something about the quiet spin on a charming day, be it Sunday or week day, that inspires the very best impulses we are capable of. Communion with nature, to those who love her as we do, brings out the better self, and the feelings that are stirred and quickened are such that our Maker Himself cannot but approve. These words are not "cant," but they are simply facts which hundreds of work-a-day cyclists can appreciate.

True it is that we have a class of riders who cannot respect or appreciate these impulses, and whose coarse conduct at times while riding, Sunday or Monday, makes their presence on the roads a harm to the good name of the sport. The large majority of wheelmen are not of this class, but a very small leavening of the hoodlum element gives a coloring to the vast majority, a coloring which we do not enjoy. How to correct this condition of things we know not. It is a problem far beyond our reach. But because a man rides quietly along the highway on Sunday, in search of innocent enjoyment and good health, we can see no reason for condemning him in the least. Let every man follow the dictates of his conscience, and be circumspect in his conduct while on the wheel and under public scrutiny.

CHICAGO must bestir herself if she desires the League meet for 1890. The proposition of holding the next meet at Niagara Falls seems to be meeting with great favor from all points. We have several communications endorsing the Falls as the next place, and they will have space in our next issue.

That place certainly has great advantages, and unless Chicago wants the next meet badly and makes an effort to stem the popular tide in favor of Niagara we think the Falls will get it.

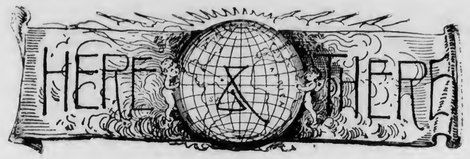
THE SIDEWALK QUESTION.

Editor Bicycling World: I desire to express my disapproval at the constant attacks made in the WORLD on the custom of sidewalk riding. In towns of 10,000 to 20,000, no difficulties are met where proper restrictions are adopted and enforced, and even in larger cities, such as Rochester, N. Y., and Erie, Pa., very little trouble has been experienced. I think in the East you have a larger class of reckless roughs, who are regardless of the rights of others, but if such were regularly arrested and fined you would soon overcome that difficulty.

In Lockport, where sidewalk riding is allowed, we have 150 riders and a large and prosperous League club, while in Tonawanda, only seventeen miles distant, and same population, where sidewalk riding is not allowed, there is no club, and not over a dozen or fifteen riders. The people here not only do not object to sidewalk riding, but, at the request of the wheelmen, the council last year covered every open gutter with an iron plate, so that from the time a wheelman enters the limits of our paradise they can ride every street from end to end without making a dismount.

You constantly dub us "sidewalk fiends," but a person can ride a sidewalk and be as courteous and considerate and careful of the rights of others as if he rode in the road.

I enclose a circular issued several years ago, which we regularly send to new riders. You will notice that we especially claim that we have no rights on the sidewalk. We have privileges which the people have conceded to us, and which we shall retain as long as we do not abuse them. We have no right of way, and no one is obliged to make room for us unless they choose.



You must certainly be aware that in most towns some of the roads are impassible to wheels all the time, and all the roads are some of the time, and a gentleman using a wheel for business is deprived of its use frequently, unless allowed on the sidewalk.

Not only do we send circulars to new wheelmen, but when we find a wheelman riding recklessly, the Secretary of the club sends him a notice that he must let up, or the club will see that he is arrested and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, and we have never found such a warning to be ineffective.

You constantly abuse "sidewalk fiends," and seldom allow a word to appear on their side of the question, but we know by our experience here that sidewalk riding can be indulged with perfect safety to pedestrians, and after they become accustomed to it, without discomfort to them. Yours truly,

CHARLES T. RAYMOND,
L. A. W. 286. Captain Lockport Wheelmen.

[In cases like that stated by our Lockport friend there can be no possible objection to the practice. The above described condition of cordial understanding between pedestrians and cyclers does not exist except in a few instances. We heartily congratulate Lockport on having a lot of wheelmen so courteous, and a public so considerate. Unfortunately, it is the rule that sidewalk riders are entirely oblivious to the rights of others. Where the public are willing and the cyclers are careful and courteous, then we can raise no possible objection. We shall be glad to hear from other places where the entente cordiale exists between pedestrians and cyclers. Our correspondent makes one false statement when he says "we (the WORLD) seldom allow a word to appear" on the other side of the question. It is a statement he has no business to make, as he has never tried it before.—ED]

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

WHAT'S in a name? Not much, perhaps, but did it ever strike you though that sometimes the name of an individual proves particularly appropriate to him, or is especially noticeable through being directly the reverse? A few examples will perhaps more clearly demonstrate what I am trying to explain. When one reads or hears of a wagoner the picture it brings to his mind is of the humble driver of some plodding van or cart, and yet the name of Van Wagoner is borne by one of our speediest flyers. With the name of Wheeler, particularly appropriate for cycling, I cannot remember now of one of that name ever being other than the most ordinary of riders, and yet sometimes one does just seem to find the name and the individual so coupled that the former exactly portrays the latter. For instance, when I read in your last issue that an English rider named Sampson went in and knocked a lot of long-distance records silly, really it didn't astonish me so much, because the name he bears in some way seems to cause me to associate him in my mind with he of the "jaw-bone" reputation, and it seemed perfectly natural that any man who could knock out all of the people that individual did, with so unwieldy a weapon as he used, would of course have no trouble getting away with so defenceless a thing as a "record." Of course a little reflection caused me at once to see that the modern cycling Sampson couldn't be any relation of the old-time one, because that gentleman never recovered from his first job of tearing down an old building, which building got such a "mash" on him that he never felt like marrying afterwards.

IT's a dangerous thing to set oneself up as a teacher, and a man can't be too careful how he rushes into print with instruction and advice to others. This has been very forcibly impressed upon me by reading an article in the Wheel, from the pen of Mr. "5678," entitled "Utility and Pleasure," in which the writer goes on to tell what he knows about bicycles and things in general, and incidentally in the four columns it takes him to do it, lets the fact become patent that it is what he doesn't know, not what he does know, that he is writing about. This gentleman makes the following wonderful announcement: "In hill-climbing the bicycle is a trifle inferior to the bicyclette, because, in the bicycle the weight is all on one wheel and that wheel skids when great power is applied, but in the bicyclette the weight is so distributed between two wheels that the driving wheel does not skid when power is applied." A little thought would show "5678" that when a bicycle is ascending a hill for each degree of elevation he rides a corresponding amount of weight is displaced from off the front or driving wheel and thrown upon the trail wheel, and that it is the removal of this weight from off the large and driving wheel that causes it to skid, and not its presence there, as he claims. So in the case of the bicyclette, as he chooses to call the safety, is the fact again proven. In a properly constructed safety the weight is not "distributed between the two wheels," as "5678" claims, but is directly to the contrary, kept over the rear or driving wheel to the greatest extent possible, and for this reason in going up hill the steeper the grade the more the weight is upon the drivers, and the less the skidding on the part of the safety. In other words, taking the argument of "5678" and directly reversing it will cause the reader to understand the position exactly.

NATURE had just laid her large, motherly ear over her grand earth-harp the other day, and found it in perfect tune. The discords and falsettos of rain and mist were gone, and the gentle goddess laid aside her wreath and danced a jig to an unheard choral accompaniment of "Johnny, Get Your Gun." It was an undignified but natural proceeding, and emanated not so much from a spirit of frivolity as from a feeling of heartfelt joy at the disappearance of the rain clouds that had lingered with us so long. In this musical accompaniment Central Park played the part of a C string. It was a dream of green and gray, and the autumn foliage was a symphony in gleaming reds and browns. On the leaf-strewn mall the last grasshopper of summer hopped and sang plaintively a love song to his missing mate, the crickets played cricket around the foot of the benches, and over amid a few late blossoms the little brown bees were beeswaxing for the coming winter. Into all of this dream of peace and beauty came a figure clad in black tights and riding a bicycle. It was enough. Nature donned her wreath and ceased her dancing. A cold and cheerless wind moaned through the trees. The grasshopper no longer sang a love song, but uttered a defiant note of disgust; the crickets no longer cricketed, nor did the bees beeswax; all was changed. Nature, her lovers and her children, all in their way protested against the hideousness of those black tights, but what cared he that wore them? Had not press, public and decency, all in their time, endeavored to induce him to abandon them, and had they not all failed? so how could Nature and her gentle minions succeed? She couldn't. No argument less forcible than a club will ever succeed in cases of balletdemonia.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

THE run of the C. B. C. to Independence on the 15th inst. was one that will never be forgotten. The sun seemed to be doing all in his power to discourage cycling, for he beamed and beamed till, judging from our feelings, it would have taken a thermometer as tall as the Eiffel tower to have measured the intensity of the heat. Added to this the protracted drouth had dried up all of the springs and made the supply of drinking water so scanty that at several places we were actually refused a drink of water and did not get a drop until we were within a mile of our destination. And then the road! It seems strange that the State of Kentucky, which has some of the finest pikes in the country, should tolerate such an excuse for a highway; at present it consists of little more than two ruts through a lot of dust and loose macadam. When we were gathered about the dinner table Chief Consul High told that same old story, and we all laughed at the proper time—we never make a mistake on that story. The weather was so hot that we did not attempt any new tunes, but sang "There Were Three Crows." This, however, was not intended as any reflection on the genial Ed Croninger, who was one of the party.

THE festive Heidkamp has three saddles on his safety. The front one is for the accommodation of his five-year-old niece, and the rear one for his seven-year-old nephew, who climbs on after his uncle is in the saddle.

I HAVE been told that because I poked a little fun at their Little Tin God, the Crescent Wheelmen, who intended joining the L. A. W. in a body, have said that now they won't do any such a thing. That is really too bad, and I am so sorry that if they will only conclude to join I will agree to swear that "Teddy" can make a mile in two minutes, and can climb Sycamore Street Hill seventeen times without a dismount, and "oftener if necessary."

To those who have been accustomed to look on Andy Hanauer as a fancy rider only, his performance on the track at Nicholasville and at the Lebanon Fair were in the nature of a surprise. He won a first prize in both cases.

TEDDY" ALLSUP won the mile race at the Lebanon Fair in two minutes and some seconds. L. F. Benckenstein came in second.

THE Crescents run their twenty-mile club championship track race at Oakley, on the 29th inst., and as they are all hard riders some good time may be expected.

THE Athletic Cycling Club, on account of their starting from the Garfield monument when they go on club runs, have been nicknamed the Monumental Club.

THERE will be a meeting of the officers and representatives of the Ohio Division held at the rooms of the C. B. C., on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, September 28.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

TWENTY-FIVE members of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club have run upwards of 50,000 miles this season, an average of about 2000 miles each for the twenty-five, although some of them have ridden but 1000, while others have run up a greater proportion. The six leading men are as follows: J. H. Draper, 3835; B. F. McDaniel, 3833; S. W. Merrihew, 3389; F. K. Mears, 3131; C. T. Harvey, 2985; J. B. Young, 2462 miles.

THE Century Wheelmen have arranged with Mr. C. E. Carpenter to give dancing lessons to the members who desire to book themselves preparatory to doing the light fantastic at the sociables of the club this winter, of which they propose holding quite a number. The terms are very reasonable, $6.50 for a nine months' course. Century has probably one of the best houses in the city for entertaining the members.

THE Associated Cycling Clubs held their regular meeting at the club house of the Mount Vernon Wheelmen Tuesday night. The question of the race meeting this fall was agitated, but it was decided it is too late in the season for them to take hold, however, arrangements are now on foot by which a race meet will be given by outside parties, and among other things, the track at Belmont and Elm avenues, the Y. M. C. A. grounds, is to be put in first-class condition. It is thought this can be done with the expenditure of $75 to $150, and the money will be forthcoming. Should this be carried through, Philadelphia wheelmen will have the opportunity of witnessing a first-class series of races. It mought be.

DIAMOND STREET is now being paved with asphalt down to Front, and with the new asphalt extending on Oxford street west to Twenty-eighth, together with the work on North Broad street, we are gradually securing a great deal of good riding. Not only the wheelmen, but the citizens generally seem waking up to the necessity of better streets. The local press is doing its share towards keeping up the good work.

THE wheel rooms of both the Century and Pennsylvania will be enlarged next month. The present plan under consideration by the Pennsylvanias is to build back from the basement and utilize the roof of the addition as a place for entertainment during the winter, by combining it with the rooms on the first floor. It is thought it can be done by means of a canvas covering.

CHIEF CONSUL BOYLE is hard at work in the appointment of committees, for the division, to serve during the ensuing year. He is also taking active interest in the new road book, and has given valuable assistance to the committee in this work.

CHARLES WILSON, JR., of the South End Wheelmen, has made fifty miles on the asphalt paving around Passayunk square in three hours and thirty-five minutes this week. Mr. Wilson had had some hankering after a safety machine, but one or two heavy side falls while scorching convinced him that you could take a tumble from the safety as well as an ordinary, and like a wise man he sticks to his old love. Shake, Mr. Wilson, the writer agrees with you heartily. The oftener I ride a safety the oftener I come back to my light roadster and think I never enjoyed its rythmic motion so much as in contrast.

EMPHASIZING the above, and following out the line of reasoning adopted by the writer of the exceptionally able and interesting article on the subject of "Ordinary vs. Safety," in last week's Wheel, came a pratical illustration on Saturday night. Mounted on an English safety I left my house, and was just getting up speed when, as I was nearing Diamond street, I put on the brake (somewhat suddenly I suppose), and it being in common with most English safeties on the front wheel, up came the machine and over went I, landing on my face and hands. It is a wonder I did not break my jaw. Now had I been on my ordinary this would not have happened, for I should have been riding carefully, and the moral is that the safety rider takes chances that the other does not. The other point is that all safeties should have the break on the driver.

HARRISBURG, PA.

"CYC."

"WHEN you get to Downington you are to telephone" has become a by-word for us, and has afforded no little amusement during the past two weeks of rain. On concluding to make a century to Philadelphia on the 14th, and pending a decision as to the proper route (a Road Book not being handy) Chayne wrote Bert Galbraith of Milton who had made the run a few weeks ago. Promptly came the reply naming the route via Lancaster and also the towns that we would pass through (among them being Wagontown and Compassville of which I overheard Dampman say at York was the longest four miles that he ever rode) and further on in the letter came "Downingtown, where you are to telephone." Here was a puzzler, and it was some time before we could understand its meaning. In fact we are not clear on it as yet. We imagine that he meant that if we desired we could notify our friends in Philadelphia to send out a "coupe." Too much rain and the bad condition of the roads have caused a change in our arrangements and the trip is abandoned for the present, very much to our regret.

ANOTHER delightful run was made to Wheelton Park above Rockville Sunday last, where the boys saw with regret that their grounds were in a bad condition, having been occupied by Gipsies. They carried away all the cooking utensils and destroyed the spring.

JUST here I might say that we read with profit what L. A. W. 9840 says in last week's WORLD regarding the use of the Sabbath by wheelmen. When men are closely confined all the week, with no day but the Sabbath for their exercise and pleasure, they are apt to forget that it is a holy day, but as the Rev. gentlemen has said, it will still be pleasure to us if the proper regard for the day is maintained.

PROBABLY the last run of the Sunday series is set for the 7th of October Train to Hagerstown, Md., breakfast at the "Hamilton," wheel to Martinsburg, W. Va., where the club will be entertained by the parents of H. B. Gerhardt. Returning to Hagerstown for midnight train home. Fifteen names already grace the board.

ON the 24th, Messrs. Stone and Gerhardt made the run to Dauphin in 39 minutes, thus beating the record of 40 minutes made by this latter named gentleman.

PROVIDENCE NOTES.

"ELNOD."

THE many friends of Mr. C. E. Monroe will be pleased to learn of his safe arrival in San Francisco, where he has secured a position with the firm of Higgins, Devaney & Co., cycle dealers. Mr. Monroe was well known as an expert.

THE R. I. Wheelmen ran their annual club races on Friday afternoon at Roger Williams Park at 4.30. See racing columns.

THE annual 25-mile race for the L. A. W. State Division championship will have taken place, ere this reaches you, at Roger Williams Park.

MESSRS. HENRY F. CAMPBELL, Benj. Smith and Warren Copeland, all members of the R. I. Wheelmen, together with Mr. Herbert Thomas, unattached, left New York last Saturday morning on the Steamer Etruria for Liverpool The party have all ordered safeties, which will be waiting for them on their arrival, and upon which they intend making a trip through England, Scotland, Ireland and France, visiting the Paris Exposition, also other points of interest ere they return, which they expect will be in about eight weeks. The party left Providence for New York last Thursday night on Steamer Connecticut, and were given a send off by the club boys in form of red fire and the club cheer.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE annual meeting of the Middlesex Cycle Club, for the election of officers for 1889 and 1890, was held at the residence of Mr. F. K. M. Jones, Melrose, Mass., September 19th, a goodly representation of the members being present. They pledged themselves to have as many (if not more) pleasant runs in the future, as in the past, and the coming year promises to be a lively one for the members and their friends. The following officers were elected: Mr. F. K. M. Jones, President; Mrs. G. J. McArthur, Vice President; Miss M. Kirkwood, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. E. P. J. Morton, Captain; Mr. J. Butcher, Lieutenant. A vigorous committee was also elected to arrange for runs, the prospects of a good, live year being thereby assured.

MR. W. H. BACON, of Newton, writes us: "It happened to be my good fortune to be in New York during the New York State meet. I was unable to attend the theatre party and the run next day, but I went to the dinner given by the Manhattan Club. I showed my League ticket to one of the members and he gave me his card and introduced me to the others. As soon as they found I was from Massachusetts they began to cheer, under the impression that I was from the Massachusetts Club. I was soon surrounded and was plied with questions. Did I belong to the Massachusetts Bi. Club? Alas, I was obliged to tell them no. I was soon presented with a badge and a souvenir of the Manhattan Club. I spent the whole of the evening there and a splendid time I had. Long live the Manhattans."

ILLINOIS has passed Ohio and taken fourth place in the list of League divisions.

THE Maine Central has issued excursion rate tickets to Portland to wheelmen during the League meet in that city.

THROUGH a purely mechanical imperfection in the exhaust valves, the first trial of the Boynton bicycle locomotive over the Gravesend (N. Y.) track was a failure. Another trial will be made this week.

WE had a very brief but pleasant call from Mr. W. R. Beckham, of the Illinois Cycling Club of Chicago. He has been doing England and the Continent for the past few months. "London and Paris are well enough, but give me Chicago," says Mr. Beckham.

BERT MYERS, of Peoria, it is said, has been offered $25,000 to circumcycle the globe on a unicycle.

MR. GUS E. VOGEL has been writing up a history of all the New York cycle clubs of past and present existence.

WE have heard it whispered that W. Van Wagoner, the "Newport wonder," will shortly figure as an inventor, and perchance a manufacturer. We cannot vouch for the authenticity of it as a fact.

TO-MORROW (Saturday) the Cambridgeport, Mass., Club will hold its twenty-five-mile road race. Carmen and Himeon will be among the starters.

It is hoped that Banker and Lumsden will meet at Peoria. If they do, our fancy will rather rest with the Western flyer.

The coming bicycle races will be the first important events given by the Boston Athletic Club, though two hare and hound runs were held in the spring, and a boat crew successfully manned.

The pamphlet issued by the L. A. W. on the "Improvement of Highways" is receiving attention from many sources ail over the country. A New York paper, speaking of the book, says: "It cannot be too widely circulated, for it contains articles on the making and care of good roads and on city pavements by experts, who not only urge the saving and the comfort of good roads, but show in detail how they are to be made and maintained. Every farmer in the country ought to have a copy put into his hands."

Arthur G. Collins' ("Pedals") address will, till further notice be No. 9 Rue le Verrier (Notre Dame des Champs), Paris, France.

"Cycling, Art, Energy and Locomotion" is the name of a book now in press. It is described as a series of remarks on the development of bicycles, tricycles and man-motor carriages. By Robert P. Scott; illustrated. We hope to receive advance sheets, and thus be able to review.

The Indiana Supreme Court has done wisely by deciding that bicyclists cannot be made liable for damages resulting from horses becoming frightened at their wheels, if such runaways occur while the bicyclists are riding upon the highway, and are doing nothing which shows a lack of regard for the rights of others.

F. B. Hesse will not race again this year. He still suffers from the fall he had at Albany, N. Y., last month.

Those who have met Lumsden on the path can scarce believe that in describing him he is spoken of as being "a weak, sickly lad" two years ago.

The racing season is not over yet, and the month of October will see many most interesting events.

Henry E. Ducker is in Springfield, Mass. The local paper stating the fact, avers that H. E. is "as much of a tournament crank as ever."

The Millbury, Mass., Wanderers give an eight mile road race to-morrow, Saturday.

The plucky Bay State Wheelmen of Worcester, Mass., want to try the tournament racket again in the spring. It takes more than a postponement to discourage them.

The New York Bicycle Club will have a hare-and-hound chase on election day.

The Washington, D. C., cyclers will give the biggest lantern parade ever held in the country on Oct. 8 next. Chief Consul Atwater will be marshal. Particulars later.

The Atalanta Wheelmen of Newark will lantern parade on the evening of October 10.

At the race meet in New Orleans, September 14, the first thing the band did was to play "Annie Laurie."

The Union run of Massachusetts Wheelman a week ago was the smallest turn out yet. Bad weather and heavy roads the cause of it. The party consisted of seven men in charge of Second Lieutenant McCausland of the Somerville Club. By the way, this live, hard riding club is already making arrangements for its grand annual ball which will take place in December.

The Casino school for lady riders in Brooklyn is proselyting many of Brooklyn's fair daughters to the pleasure of the safety.

We learn from the New Orleans Picayune that Mr. M. O. Springformerly of St. Louis, Mo., has been entering races in New Orleans under the name of Burt Sprigg. He was found out, and so had to withdraw. He joined the League under the alias, as his amateur standing was not according to League rules.

Amateurs will do well to remember the fate of Mr. E. Danchey, who sold his prizes which he won in races, for cash, and pocketed the proceeds.

Dan Canary has joined the "Two Macks Specialty Co.," and will for a time travel with that theatrical combination.

The New York and New Jersey Wheelmen's Bowling League, which was such a success last season, will reorganize for the season of 1889-90. A schedule of games will be decided upon this week.

The New York Sun describes Tom Roe as "chief of the Chicago Bicycle tribe." Mr. Roe is reported as having arrived in Los Angeles. He left San Francisco for Chicago on his bicycle Saturday noon, Sept. 21.

R. H. Robson of Salem, Mass., was run into by one of two teams which were racing on Ocean avenue near Swampscott last week. The horsemen are unknown.

Correction.—In our report of the New York Division meet we stated that Miss Lyford was presented with a floral device of the League Emblem. We should have stated the device was the New York Club badge, and it was given entirely by the members of that club.

Chief Consul Emery writes us: "The North Easton (Mass.) Wheel Club, while on their way to Whitman last Sunday, stopped at a drinking fountain in Brockton and were ordered to move off by a policeman, though they were standing in the street at the time, and my account says acting gentlemanly and making no noise. The officer refused to listen to a word of expostulation but abruptly ordered them to move on. I am investigating the matter, and if there is no claim other than they were wheelmen standing in the street, I shall complain to the Mayor and try to make it warm for that officer. It seems that careless sidewalk riding knocked a woman down and broke her leg in that city and the officers are trying to take revenge out of all cyclers."

ROAD HOGGISM IN MALDEN, MASS.

As a party of ladies and gentlemen of the Middlesex (Mass.) Club, in charge of Mr. Joseph Butcher and Mr. McCune, were riding quietly over the roads of Malden last Sunday they were overtaken by a couple of men in a buggy. These individuals had just enough liquor down to make them see sport in running down a cycler, either lady or gentleman. The cyclers gave the coming carriage plenty of room to pass, but the driver shouted that if the cyclers "didn't get off the road he would run them down," after which announcement the driver proceeded to carry out his threat.

Mr. McCune, who was riding last with a lady, managed to get his companion out of harm's way, and by jumping himself escaped the buggy wheels. Not so lucky was Mr. Bordman, a guest of the club, who, though he managed to save the ladies he was with got knocked down himself and was badly shaken up and bruised. The signal was at once given and Mr. Butcher returned to the scene of the trouble, and there found the loafers abusing the cyclers in offensive language. The buggy men then lashed up their horse and started down the road at a top pace. Mr. Butcher put after them, and at the Boston and Maine crossing on Pleasant street he caught them. The gate was down and Mr. Butcher managed to slip under the gates and rode down the road until he found a policeman. With this official he returned and demanded the arrest of the road hogs, when to Mr. Butcher's surprise they denied all knowledge of the affair. Luckily a couple of gentlemen who had seen the whole thing, came along in a buggy just then and identified the men. The whole party then proceeded to the station house and the names of the offenders were taken. These are Peter Igo, of 366 North avenue, North Cambridge, and P. F. Brashnahan, Station Agent Boston and Maine Railroad, Lake street station, Arlington, Mass. Warrants were sworn out Monday, and the men will have to answer next Saturday. The L. A. W. will follow the case up and pay expenses. Well done, Mr. Butcher, and bravo for the L. A. W.

THROUGH GERMANY.

(BY A MEMBER OF THE "ELWELL PARTY.")

Concluded.

The next day's ride brought us to Wurzburg, which is one of the quaintest old places we saw, with its large fortress and high towers, but as it rained quite hard, we did not go around much, but took the train for Nurnburg.

On the train we met a gentleman from Nurnburg, who had spent nine years in London, and who spoke very good English, and he gave us some very valuable information in regard to the surrounding country, and also the German side of the Franco-Prussian war, which was very interesting.

As we came near to Nurnburg we passed the factory of Hillman, Herbert & Cooper, the great Coventry makers, who also have a branch here, as well as Faber's lead pencil factory. On arriving in the town, we searched for a hotel, but they were all full, and we were obliged to divide the party, some of us taking rooms in a private house.

Your correspondent being one of the lucky ones secured a room in a hotel, and while enjoying his daily sponge bath, the chambermaid entered the room without any ceremony and coolly asked if he wished any more towels, and on receiving a reply walked around the rooms leisurely, and then went out as though she were accustomed to such sights.

The next day we spent in looking over the city, and among the curiosities we saw some old instruments of torture, and being on the ground where they were used made them all the more interesting.

Here our party divided for the first time, some wishing to stay longer and others wishing to go to near-by places, so the following morning one section took the train for some distance in order to Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10th, 1889.

Eagle Bicycle Mfg. Co., Stamford, Conn.:

Gentlemen:—As I have now had my Eagle nearly a month, I thought perhaps you would like to hear from me.

The machine came to hand neatly crated, in good order, and in spite of prophecies that it would be a week before I should be able to mount and ride a block, I rode it over fifty miles before I had had it in my possession twenty-four hours. In fact so quickly and completely did I obtain mastery of the machine that I decided to spend my vacation in the saddle, and just one week after its receipt I mounted, bag and baggage, and headed for Kansas City.

I rode the entire distance, 611 miles, by my cyclometer, in 10 days. My route carried me over every imaginable kind of road, through mud, dust, sand and loose stone, up hill and down. Oh! such hills. The roads over them mostly clay and amply spread with loose stones, tree stumps, etc., often badly gullied by heavy rains. Over such hills I drove my Eagle. To say that I am well pleased with it is to "put it mildly." After a short stop in Kansas, I continued my trip by wheel and rail through Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois, back to Chicago. To sum matters up I have had my Eagle less than a month, during which time it has carried me over more than one thousand miles of Western roads and that without the breaking of a single part. Except for torn and jagged tires the machine stands to-day apparently as good as new.

The fact that I never mounted a wheel of any description before June 15th this year, am of very slight build (6 feet and only 135 lbs.) and have never before given my attention to athletic sports, speaks well for the easy-running qualities of the Eagle.

Push your wheel, Gentlemen. Your principle is O. K. Keep up your reputation for good material, careful workmanship and honest dealings and the Eagle will surely rise.

Wishing you all possible success, I remain,

Yours,

T. V. Wilson,
Chicago, Ill.

avoid bad roads and others wrote letters and looked the place over more thoroughly. Those who started out on the train went as far as Pegnitz, from where they mounted their wheels and rode through some of the most beautiful rolling country seen on our tour. It was through the kingdom of Saxony, and the grain all being ripe and the roads in splendid condition, we thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. There was not a half mile of level road in the whole day's run, but the hills were not long and we were able to climb most of them.

We stopped at a city of about 30,000 population for the night, having made about 86 miles during the day and continued the next morning to a small manufacturing town, where the rain overtook us, and we took train for Dresden.

At Dresden we saw some of the ware for which it is noted, and also the art gallery, which ranks next to the Louvre at Paris, and took a ride out of the city to a place called the "Bastei," which is a large basaltic formation rising out of the river Elbe to a height of 650 feet. We ascended, and were rewarded by a fine view of the surrounding country.

Our party was once more united, with two exceptions, Breed having gone to Bayreuth from Nurnburg, and Hicks having stopped there as we rode through.

The next evening we rode to a small town 35 kilos from Dresden and stopped for the night, hoping to make Potsdam, 125 miles, the following day.

While here Schneider visited a barber shop, and during the usual conversation the barber asked if he were English, to which Mr. S. quickly replied that he was not, and told him that he was an American, which surprised the barber so that he dropped his razor and held up his hands in astonishment, and at the same time exclaiming "Himmel!"

The next day did not prove to be the kind we desired for a long run, as it blew a regular gale in our faces as we started, but we pushed on in hopes that the wind would die out, but instead of that it increased until it was all we could do to keep moving. We endured this until 3 P.M., when we stopped at Juterbog, having made only 68 miles.

The roads over which we rode from Dresden were equal to any in France, and the country was as flat as a table, and if the wind had not blown so, we would have beaten the record made on the Elwell tour of 106 miles, nearly all of us being on that ride.

As we entered Juterbog we passed through a bunch of fifteen windmills all in operation, it being a splendid day for them.

The next morning we took train for Berlin, and disposing of our wheels trained to Potsdam and visited the Royal Palace, and strolled around the park; returning to Berlin we visited a great many places of interest and saw some of the fine statues and buildings which are quite plentiful. We spent our time very profitably here, and took the night train for London via Flushing and Queensboro, where we arrived after a ride of 24 hours.

From London, Kirk, Schneider and Cooper join the Mecredy Camping Tour in Scotland; Dan and Wm. Krumm and S. L. Breed go to Liverpool and sail for home, and W. E. Hicks, being a "citizen of the world," is undecided as to which way he will turn next.

There was one thing which attracted our attention particularly, and that was the care which is taken to keep the roads in repair. As we were riding outside of Frankfurt am Main we met men at work repairing the road. So far as we were able to see, there was nothing the matter with it, and it was equal to almost any of the Orange roads, but it did not suit them and they were tearing it up and were relaying it, having about 50 men and a steam roller at work. This is noticeable in all sections; at one time we passed through a small country village and the same operation was going on, this time on what an American would call a grand piece of road. If our government took half as much trouble to maintain good roads as Germany does, we would double the number of wheelmen in a short time.

Germany has a large number of wheelmen, and I am told that the "Deutcher Radfahrer Bund" has a membership of 22,000.

SUNDAY RIDING.

Editor Bicycling World: Grant me space to protest against the illiberal sentiments of the "prominent Chicago gentleman" whom you quote in your 6 September edition. Sunday tours "hurt" his bigoted soul, but his theological views have not made him courteous nor honest. Otherwise, this "prominent" Lake City man would not characterize Sunday riding as "modern ruffianism." His narrow views are as bad as his English when he "remembers the splendid (i. e., shining, heroic, illustrious) men" who preferred Sunday loafing to Sunday riding. You know, Mr. Editor,—indeed who does not know?—that the majority of wheelmen have little or no opportunity to ride except on Sunday. He who would deny them the privilege of Sunday riding is a bigot, with the spirit of the Inquisition, and, moreover, a small-minded man or a dishonest man if he does not concede that the healthfulness and the scenes and the impressions of country riding on Sunday are conducive to good morals.

I write this protest in behalf of many moral and well-behaved young men who ride the wheel on Sunday ("sinners" that they are), and thereby store up enough energy and good spirits to sustain them during the following week of toil at desk, bench or counter. Not only are they not "ruffians," but they have that morality which is not always found in young men who do not exercise in the open air, even though the non-exerciser spends his Sundays in church pews.

Respectfully yours, EDWIN H. BACON.

BOSTON IS NOT THE FIRST.

Editor Bicycling World: In the WORLD of September 6 you say that "bicyclers, for the first time in this country, are taxed in Boston." If you mean bicyclers, instead of bicycles, I think you must be right if they are taxed as real estate or personal property, but if it is a poll tax it doesn't seem necessary for them to be bicyclers. If on the other hand you mean "bicycles are taxed," etc., then you are mistaken, as in Colorado Springs I and other wheel owners paid a tax on our wheels in 1887 and 1888, and I suppose the wheelmen who are there now still pay taxes on their wheels. Bicycles are valued at $25, and my tax amounted to $1.81 (instead of 81 cents, as in Boston). It was divided into State, county, school and military tax.

There is also an ordinance against sidewalk riding in Colorado Springs, punishable by a fine of $10. I know of two wheelmen who paid the fine. We also had a lawsuit with a road hog which we won, said road hog coming out about $75 loser.

IMPORTANT TO BALTIMOREANS.

THE following circular has been sent to all the Baltimore, Md., cycle clubs:

Gentlemen—I have just had an interview with Mr. Frank Brown, of the Maryland State Agricultural and Mechanical Association, and the prospective Executive Committee of the new association. It was their view that 1000 members would be enrolled during the next week. I clearly see that if the cyclists wish to derive the benefits and to have Pimlico the great track and centre it would be to their interest to become members of the new club at once, as should they secure 1000 members this week there will be an initiation fee for all over and above.

I would advise any club or individual cyclist to receive the benefit of the scheme by signing now at the regular dues ($25). A new track will be built inside the mile track for cyclers. It is proposed to keep the exposition as well as to have amusements of all descriptions during the entire year, and members will be entitled to all privileges on the ground.

All members that have paid in their dues before the twenty-second of October will have free admission to the four days' meeting, commencing October the twenty-second.

No doubt a cycle race could be entered as one of the attractions during the October meeting, if arrangements can be made at once.

The above project will insure "beyond a doubt" the improvement of Pimlico avenue drive, and open up an electric railway to the grounds.

Any information regarding the above can be had by addressing

Yours truly, A. J. FRANK,
L. A. W. 22,377.

THAT PASSAIC TRACK.

Editor Bicycling World: In last week's issue Mr. "Hawkshaw," of New York, takes it for granted because fast time was made that the Clifton race track, on which the Passaic City Wheeling and Athletic Association ran their recent meeting, must be short of the distance claimed (three-quarters of a mile). Among other wild assertions he claims that the track could not possibly be put in shape for such fast time just because he had seen it when wheeling would be slightly at a disadvantage on its surface, which was then probably adapted to running horses.

The facts about the fast time at this meeting are exceedingly easy to get at. Ordinarily the surface is of sand about four inches in depth, but with the generous assistance of the owner, Mr. Engeman, and the track Superintendent, Mr. Clare, the Games Committee had this sand removed and a hard clay surface exposed, which, combined with the facts that the track is a three-quarter-mile, affording two opportunities to pass the grand stand in the mile, and the easy turns of so large a track, make it not at all remarkable that the time for the mile, with such men entered as the list exhibits, should get as low as 2.37 3-5.

Although the track is measured three feet from the pole the surface was not rolled any nearer than that to the rail, and the best riding was at four and one-half feet distance, and all the riding was done at that distance or further from the pole.

The clay foundation of this track when scraped and rolled as it was August 31st makes a surface which cannot be excelled for wheeling and "Hawkshaw's" attack would have been turned to praise could he have seen the track on that day, and removed the impression his former acquaintance with the track had produced.

This track will be available for the association for their meetings and can be put into equal or better condition in two days, so that with the proper class of entries and the time limit rule adopted and operated so successfully at Hartford, nothing can prevent Passaic's lively organization from hanging a record or two at her belt at the future meetings.

The class of men employed as timers and general officials for our meeting precludes any possibility of inaccuracy of timing, and the exceptionally good time made in the athletic contests on the track speaks volumes for the quality of its surface.

In conclusion, as a member of the club and one interested in fair sport, I do not desire that our club should claim fast time or good records unfairly made, but stand ready to furnish affidavits certifying to the full length of the track and a history of its measurement. It is asserted by a member of the commission who measured the track, after it was entirely completed and had been run on, that the track at three feet from the rail is twelve feet over three-quarters of a mile, which, if true, makes the measurement at eighteen inches from the rail nearly three feet over the distance. It would be well if some of these critics would not do so much guessing but have more facts at their command before sailing into the promoters of an unexpectedly successful meeting. W. E. S.

[We have several letters of the same tenor, but one will suffice.—ED.]

CHALLENGE.

THE Genesee Bicycle Club of Rochester, N. Y., challenge any club in this State between Syracuse and Buffalo inclusive, to a road race starting from the Parade House, Buffalo, at 10 o'clock, A. M., October 15th, and finishing in Rochester (distance about 75 miles) for the championship of Western New York, 1st and 2d prizes equaling two thirds and one third respectively, the value of entrance fees, which will be ($15.00) fifteen dollars for each club entering a team. Teams to consist of six men, members of one club. Entries close October 12th. For further information address:

ANNUAL MEET OF THE MICHIGAN DIVISION L. A. W. AT YPSILANTI.

THE annual meet of the Michigan Division L. A. W. was held at Ypsilanti, Mich., on September 20th. The morning opened inauspiciously with a cold, drizzly rain, but this only held out for a short time, when the clouds broke away, leaving the roads in splendid condition. At 1.30 the wheelmen congregated in front of the Opera House, where an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Putnam. After this a procession was formed, which rode to the fair grounds, where the races took place.

At night there was a lantern parade, a short business meeting, a banquet and a hop, which terminated the day.

J. E. Beal, of Ann Arbor, was elected Delegate to the National Assembly, and H. M. Snow, of Detroit, was elected Auditor.

The Michigan Division now has a membership of 425, and stands ninth in the list of States. This is a good showing, considering the branch was only organized on May 30, 1883. Net assets in 1888 were $13.26, they are now $424 54. Through the efforts of the League, machines are now carried free on all railroads, provided they are accompanied by their owner. This year the division will pay $50 on expense of the delegate to the national meeting.

Account of the races will be found in the racing column.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

THE Springfield Bicycle Mfg. Co. have made a voluntary assignment to Augustus Russ and Charles E. Pratt, attorneys, Boston, Mass., for the benefit of their creditors. The company has been successful during its three years of existence, but the heavy expense of building a new factory, together with the lateness which their machines were placed on the market this season, necessitated unusual expenses, and it was thought best at a stockholders' meeting, held Sept. 18, 1889, to make an assignment. The company have a good sized factory at Highlandville, Mass., equipped with modern machinery, and it is hoped that a new company will be formed to carry on the present business.

J. B. MCCUNE, President.
HERBERT BARROWS, Treasurer

We have accepted the above named assignment, and enclose a copy of the same, and as it is desirable for all parties interested that the cost and delay of proceedings in insolvency should be avoided by the assent of a majority of the creditors, we hope you will return this assignment with your assent without delay, to Augustus Russ, 20 Pemberton square, Boston, Mass.

AUGUSTUS RUSS.
CHARLES E. PRATT.

COMING EVENTS.

AT BOSTON, MASS.—The coming 25-mile and 12 1-2-mile road races, to be held October 5 under the auspices of the Boston A. A., promise to be most interesting events. The route for the 25 miles has already been printed in our issue of the 13th, and below will be found the course for the 12 1-2-mile race: Starting from club house, L Boylston street, R Chester Park, L Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street direct to Reservoir, bearing L past water works, around further basin out through main gateway, L Chestnut Hill avenue to Brighton, taking street which passes in front of fire engine house, R Cambridge street to Allston, R Brighton avenue, R. Babcock street, L Harvard street to Coolidge Corner, L Boulevard, Beacon street, Commonwealth avenue, R Chester Park, L Boylston to point of starting at club house; subject to few minor changes.

AT BRISTOL, CONN.—On Oct. 1 a tournament will be held at Bristol Fair Grounds, and the following events will be run and prizes given:

One mile, open: 1st, pair of pearl opera glasses; 2d, engraving, "The Horse Fair;" 3d, fountain pen. One mile handicap, for Bristol riders: 1st, gold Dueber case watch, open face; 2d, engraving, "The Life Boat;" 3d, League ball and bat. Three mile, lap: 1st, gold, Dueber case watch, hunting case; 2d, steel fish pole; 3d, pair sleeve buttons. One mile safety: 1st, rifle; 2d, steel fish pole; 3d, four-in-hand tie. One mile, 3.20 class: 1st, etching, "Twilight;" 2d, marine clock; 3d. Trenton, open face watch. Fifty yards, slow race: 1st, gentleman's dressing case; 2d, traveling bag; 3d, pearl handled knife. One mile, open handicap: 1st, double barrelled shot gun; 2d, silk umbrella; 3d, 1-2 dozen linen handkerchiefs. One-half mile, run-and-ride: 1st, pair of opera glasses; 2d, pearl scarf pin; 3d, small clock. Special prize: A diamond scarf pin will be given to the winner of the fastest half-mile run in any event, the first half-mile of the handicap races excepted. All races are for amateurs only, and are to be run under rules of the L. A. W. A time limit may be placed on any race. Excursion rates on N. Y. and N. E. R. R. Admission to fair and grounds, 25 cents. Grand stand, 25 cents extra. If you ride, enter in some of the races; if not, come and take in the fair and see the fun.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

AT LEXINGTON, NEB., Oct. 9.—On page 603 will be found a complete programme of the tournament to be held at Lexington, Neb. (formerly Plum Creek). There is no use talking, for enterprise and pluck you have got to go West to find it. What place of 2000 inhabitants in the East would have enough energy and enough cyclers to put $1000 into a bicycle track? Read the following taken from a personal letter, and cease to wonder at the success of the West: "We have a thriving little city of some 2000 inhabitants, and boast of the second largest club in size in the State. Our bicycle track, four laps to the mile, has been built and is owned entirely by members of the club. We have spent $1000 on it already, and think we have the finest bicycle track in the State."

Now we claim a club and community of the size of Lexington, which can do as above, can and will give a high old time to those who are lucky enough to be their guests. We again call attention to advt. on page 603.

AT WILMINGTON, DEL.—The Committee in charge of the Wilmington Wheel Club's 25 mile road race, to be held Saturday, Oct. 19, 1889, are rapidly getting things in shape, and the outlook is very bright for one of the greatest races ever held. The following, among others, have entered or are expected to enter: Gerwing of Denver, Van Wagoner of Newport, H. L. Bradley of Brooklyn Bi. Club, T. J. Hall, Jr., and W. F. Murphy of Kings County Wheelmen, and Messrs. Dampman, McDaniel, Merrihew and Elliott of Wilmington Wheel Club, while efforts are being made to have some of the Chicago and St. Louis cracks come on. The prize list is already large and is being added to every day. It includes a Victor Light Roadster bicycle from the Overman Wheel Co., a Columbia Light Roadster bicycle from the Pope Mfg. Co., a second-hand bicycle from the Philadelphia Cycle Co., $10 in cash from Hart Cycle Co. (to be invested in a prize at the discretion of the Committee), Signal Cyclometer from Strong & Green Cycle Co., cyclometer or rat-trap ball pedals from Gormully & Jeffery Co., tennis racquet from F. M. Dampman, and prizes yet to be selected from the Springfield Bicycle Co., Kirk Brown, E. K. Tryon, Jr. & Co., Sweeting Cycle Co., V. R. Pyle and Bertolette Bros. The maker of the fastest time will have the first choice of prizes, the first man in the second choice, the maker of the second fastest time third choice, and the remainder to the men as they finish, each man taking his choice of the prizes that are left. No one, however, shall receive more than one prize.

The time limit of 15 minutes and the fact that the best men of the Wheel Club will be placed on scratch should be a guarantee that the visitors will be treated fairly in the handicaps.

It is hoped that all visiting wheelmen will arrange to stay over the Sunday following the race, and the Wheel Club will endeavor to show them a good time.

AT PEORIA, ILL.—The dates for the great meet, Oct. 4 and 5, are drawing near and a few final words will be in place. The total value of the prizes will aggregate $1500—full list published last week. That list of prizes is bringing in entries from the best men in the country: Lumsden, Thorne, Banker, Hendee, Tuttle and Meyers will be there, and other prominent racing men have been heard from.

The run to Prospect Hill is simply grand—sand-papered roads, long, elegant coasts, and a run that all visiting wheelmen should not fail to take in.

There will be runs for scorchers and runs for stayers. The smoker will be a feature and clubs are requested to send along their "official liars" to compete with Peoria's champion. Eh, Bates? The girls of Peoria and Chillicothe are just counting the days. Peoria is a fine city, good hotels which give special rates and first-class accommodation. On Sunday, October 6, a special service for wheelmen will be held in one of the churches. The Reception Committee will be on hand and meet you at the depots. Bring your L. A. W. ticket, bring your wheel and don't forget to bring yourself. Good sailing and fishing on the lake for those who like that kind of sport. Come one and all and you'll not regret it.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT WORCESTER, MASS., Sept. 18.—Postponement is usually a bad thing for a tournament, and while the Bay State Bi. Club saved itself from loss, still what little it did gain should have been much larger. As it was the day was showery and the track bad, but a second postponement was deemed unwise, and so the races were run. The races were excellent, and had they been run as originally intended the attendance would have been large.

One mile novice, H. B. Hathaway, one; Jno. Olson, two; time, 3.45 1-2.

One mile safety novice, Fred I. Johnson, one; J. Kenworthy, two; time, 3.57.

Two mile Worcester Co. Championship, James Wilson, Jr., one; J. F. Cronin, two; time, 7.15 3-4.

One mile open, P. J. Berlo, one; W. A. M. Scott, two; time, 3.27 1-2.

One mile match, C. Fenner, one; J. Wilson, Jr., two; time, 3.36 4-5.

One mile safety, E. A. Bailey, one; P. J. Berlo, two; time, 4.10 1-2.

Two mile team, Milbury Wanderers, Fenner, Cronin and White, 74 points, one; Bay State Wheelmen, Wilson, Brown and Benson, 68 points, two; no time.

One mile safety handicap, C. Benson, 150 yds., one; W. Aldrich, 150 yds., two; time, 3 21 3-4.

Three mile lap race, P. J. Berlo, 16 points, one; C. Benson, 11 points, two; no time.

IRVINGTON-MILBURN, N. J.—The match race between W. Van Wagoner and W. Murphy, Saturday, September 21, proved to be a most unsatisfactory affair. A cold, strong wind was blowing, making it anything but pleasant for contestants or spectators. There were scarcely a hundred spectators present. The distance was 25 miles and this match was the outcome of the race on last Decoration Day in which Murphy beat Van Wagoner.

For the first five miles after the start both men kept close together, then Van Wagoner began to forge ahead of Murphy, and on the second turn at the Irving Hotel was leading by 500 yards. The first ten miles were covered by Van Wagoner in 34 m., Murphy half a minute behind. After fifteen miles had been ridden Murphy began steadily gaining on the Newport lad, although the latter was riding in fine form. When they made the last turn beyond the hotel and started to ride the last two and one-half miles they were neck and neck. Both began to spurt about a mile beyond the hotel, and try as they would neither could break away from the other. Before reaching the finish they ran against one another, Van Wagoner getting the worst of the fall which resulted. Murphy crossed the tape a safe distance ahead of Van Wagoner in 1h. 36m. 30s., but the latter claimed a foul, which was allowed, and he was awarded the race and the medal. The result of the race was very unsatisfatory to many and the chances are that another race under similar conditions will be arranged for some future date. The course was in fine shape but for the wind and dust. The best time on record is that of Kluge in 1888, 1 hour 30 minutes.

AT PROVIDENCE, Sept. 25.—As we go to press a despatch was received stating that W. Van Wagoner beat Mott Scott in the 25 mile Rhode Island championship race. Time given in despatch, 1h. 18m. 15s. [If the above time is reported correctly, we think, after a hurried examination, that it is amateur record in competion.—ED.]

AT NEW YORK, Sept. 21, under the auspices of the Manhattan Athletic Club.—One and one-half mile bicycle handicap race.—Trial heats; first and second men to ride in final; six men in each heat. The first heat was won by A. C. Banker, Berkeley Athletic Club, scratch; second, C. W. Murphy, Kings County Wheelmen, 40 yards. Time, 4.40 1-5. The second heat proved to be a tie between J. G. Brown, New Jersey A. C., 60 yards, and J. B. Bowman, New Jersey A. C., 65 yards. Time, 4.50 2-5. The third heat also ended in a dead heat between F. B. Hesse, New Jersey A. C., 55 yards, and Jno. Schaefer, Berkeley A. C., 35 yards, crossing the line together. Time, 4.45 1-5. In the final A. C. Banker found it impossible to overcome the handicaps he had against him. J. G. Brown brought up the rear up to the last lap, when he spurted, winning by ten feet in 4.36 4-5; F. B. Hesse was second and A. C. Banker third. Banker's time was 4.39 3-5.

AT DANVILLE, PA., Sept. 21.—The club race for the championship of the Danville Bi. Club was held on Saturday, Sept. 21, at the 19th annual exhibition of the Montour National Driving Park and Fair Association, with four competitors for three medals, of which H. G. Weidenhamer took first, Ernest C. Rogers second, and John McClure third. The race was run in the rain and a heavy head wind.

AT YPSILANTI, MICH, September 20.—The following are the results of the races at the annual meet of the Michigan Division L. A. W.:

Half-mile open, in heats—The first heat was won by C. F. Moreland; Gus M. Jones, second; time, 1.28 1-4. The second heat was won by W. J. Marr; Gus M. Jones, second; time, 1.26 4-5. The third heat was won by W. J. Marr in 1.30 1-2; Gus M. Jones, second; giving Marr the race, with Jones second.

Half-mile safety—First heat won by F. N. Bovee; T. C. Collings, second; time, 1.34 1-5. Second heat was by T. C. Collings; F. N. Bovee. second; time, 1.29 4-5. Third heat won by T. C. Collings; F. N. Bovee, second; time, 1.31 1-2.

Half-mile boys' race—Won by Bert Rolling; time, 1.59.

Half-mile tandem—Won by Geo. E. Lane and W. J. Marr; time, 1.57.

F. N. Bovee and Chas. Krobler took several falls in this race. They were leading by forty yards at the time. The tandem bicycle was badly broken.

Three-mile State championship—This race was the leading one of the meet and was contested for by the best men in the State. It was won by Geo. E. Lane; R. B. Hain, second; W. J. Marr, third. Time, 10.11 1-2.

Next in order was the twenty-eight and one-half-mile road race to Saline, thence to Ann Arbor and return to Ypsilanti. There were four contestants. Dennis Marshall came in first; Geo. Kebler, second; F. Bovee, third; H. Ridley, fourth. Time, 2.05.30.

The hill-climbing contest was won by Frank Bovee.

AT SEDALIA, MO., Sept. 19.—Track.—Sedalia is rapidly coming to the front as a racing centre, and races are almost of a monthly occurrence. The following events were run off Sept. 19, in the presence of a large crowd, among which were a number of ladies:

One-half mile handicap, F. E. Hoffman, one; Joe H. Kelly, two; time, 1m. 39s.

One-half mile, hands off, F. E. Hoffman, one; Joe H. Kelly, two; time, 2m. 6s.

One-half mile team race was very exciting, and was won by Kelly's team, after a grand struggle, in 1m. 44 1-2s.

One-quarter mile consolation, Harry Miles, one; Harry Moss, two; time, 53 1-2s.

Hoffman is now the fastest man of the Sedalia Cyclers, having scored the best time yet made by them. A number of others show marked improvement, and under the careful guidance of Secretary-Treasurer Kelly the crop of Central Missouri racing men promises to be large and fast next season. E. W. Quisenberry acted as starter, Will Krigler, timer; Randolph Daniels, referee; J. B. S. Lynch, judge.

AT BOSTON.—Twenty-five mile tandem road record. On the 22d September W. S. Doane and A. P. Benson, of the Dorchester Club started from the Boston Athletic Clubhouse, over their 12 1-2 mile course, to make a tandem road record for the United States. As this is the first time that any run of this kind has been made on a tandem, this will stand as record. A. D. Peck, Jr., N. Ethier of the Boston Athletic, and William Chick of Minneapolis were timers. At 8.22.24 Doane and Benson mounted their tandem safety and started with a pace maker, who was unable to keep up with them, but they continued on and were checked at Chestnut Hill Reservoir. Their first round they succeeded in making in 46m. 40s. On the second round they were paced by C. C. Anthony of Taunton, and made the last round in 47m. 33s., or 1h. 34m. 13s. for the 25 miles. Dr. W. H. Emery checked the second round at Chestnut Hill. The roads for most of the distance were good, but the wind was blowing for 18 miles dead against them, which delayed them a great deal. Benson and Doane and Anthony came in on spurt at the finish, neck and neck. Several noted wheelmen were present, and were very much surprised at the fresh condition of the tandem riders. The tandem used was a road wheel geared to 57 inches. Under favorable conditions and with fresh pace makers at every five miles, Benson and Doane are positive that they can run under 1 hour and 25 minutes.

AT DETROIT, Sept. 20.—"The meeting of the Michigan Division of the L. A. W. was held Sept. 21, at the D. A. C. Club grounds. All the races were close. Donaldson, D. A. C., won the one mile novice race in 3.19 1-2, and T. Howard Tuttle, J. C. C., the three mile open in 9 02 2-5. In the one mile State championship race, George S. Smith, F. B. C., won the first heat, and George L. Lanes, D. A. C., the second heat and race in 3.16 1-5. The first heat in the 3.20 class was won by D. Marshall, St. J. B. C., in 3.17 1-5; the second by Gus W. Jones, D. A. C., in the same time, and the final by D. Marshall in 3.05 1-5. The one mile open was won by T. Howard Tuttle in 2.51 2-5, which broke the State record by six seconds. The half-mile State championship was won by G. E. Lane in 1.33 2-5, and the one mile consolation by G. L. Smith in 3.17 4-5. The two mile team race was won by Gus M. Jones and George E. Lane in 6.28."—Chicago Herald.

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—The bicycle races at the Driving Park, Sept. 20, resulted as follows:

One mile novice, roadsters: Frank Kemmer, first, 4m. 6 3-4s.; Fred H. Smith, second.

One mile safety, open: C. J. Iven, first, 4m. 22s.; A. A. Zimmerman, second.

One mile, open: B. A. Pratt, first, 4m. 8s.; Frank Kemmer, second

Two miles, open: A. A. Zimmerman, first; C. J. Connolly, second; no time.

One mile club championship: E. A. Folsom, first, 4m. 9s.; B. W. Trenaman, second.

Half mile pony star club race: C. C. Ashley, first, 2m. 57s.; Clarence Whittlesey, second.

Fifty yards slow race: F. A. Mabbet, first, 1m. 41s.; Burt A. Pratt, second.

One mile tandem, open: E. A. Folson and C. J. Iven, first, 5m. 12s.; C. J. Connolly and Burt A. Pratt, second.

One mile handicap: C. J. Iven, first, 3m. 58s.; Burt A. Pratt, second; B. W. Trenaman, third (no handicaps given).

One mile open, safety: A. A. Zimmerman, first, 4m. 52s.; C. J. Connolly, second.

Half mile open: C. J. Iven, first, 1m. 40s.; Burt A. Pratt, second.

One mile club novice: B. W. Trenaman, first, 4m. 23s; Howard, second.

One mile open: A. A. Zimmerman, first, 4m. 5s.; C. J. Connolly, second.

One mile consolation: M. Service, first, 4m. 25s.; Harry Rulifson, second.

AT BOSTON—In accordance with the established custom, the Roxbury Club had their annual race on the 21st inst. The gold medal for club championship was won by Capt. J. Keltie, the second prize, a league pin, by A. Keltie. This club is developing several sturdy riders who may be heard from in the future.

AT TAUNTON, Mass.—Under the auspices of the Bristol Co. Society: one mile novice, J. W. Roberston (1), F. H. Borden (2). Time, 3.23.

One mile safety, Hoyland Smith (1), P. L. Hassenford (2). Time, 3.13.

Ten miles, E. C. Anthony (1) J. H. Robertson (2). Time, 34.9 1-2.

AT WILMINGTON, DEL, September 23.—Under the auspices of the Warren Athletic Club.

Two mile handicap, W. W. Taxis, scratch (1), B. F. McDaniel, 145 yds. (2); time, 6.17 1-5.

Two mile, Delaware championship, B. F. McDaniel (1). S. W. Merrihew (2); time, 6.43 1-5.

One mile W. W. Taxis (1), S. W. Merrihew (2); time, 3.7 4-5.

AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The third annual race meet of the Rhode Island Wheelmen was held at Roger Williams' Park, last Friday afternoon. The attendance was good, but the high wind made fast pedalling hard work for the contestants. The results:

One-mile State championship—W. Van Wagoner, 1; C. H. Weld, 2. Time, 3.05 1-4.

One-mile safety—W. Van Wagoner, 1; B. T. Bruce, 2. Time, 3.03 1-4.

Two-mile lap—W. Van Wagoner, 1; C. H. Weld, 2. No time.

One-mile safety handicap—L. B. Ballou, 325 yards, 1; S. W. C. Jones, 325 yards, 2. Time, 2.47 1-2.

One-mile tandem safety—C. H. Weld and Miller, 100 yards, 1; W. Van Wagoner and A. E. Henry, scratch, 2. Time, 2.43.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS.
A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

SUFFERERS are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free, on application, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

THE OVERMAN WHEEL CO.

THE Hartford Post thus describes the large additions made to the Overman factory at Chicopee Falls, Mass.:

The new works erected by the Overman Wheel Company at Chicopee Falls, Mass., which were commenced in June, have been completed. The wood work was done by A. E. Johnson, of New Britain. The building is 148 feet long, 43 1-2 feet deep and five stories high, thirteen feet to the story. There is also a basement with concrete floor, which can be used for manufacturing purposes. The walls to the first story are two feet thick; from the first floor to the second the walls are twenty inches thick; the next three floors have sixteen-inch walls, and the top story has a wall of twelve inches. There are very little stone trimmings, the decorations being largely of brick, fancifully laid in panel designs over and between the windows. Round cornered brick are used in building the window and door openings, and have a very pretty effect. At the north end is an arch driveway which leads to the interior of the shops. An annex at the rear connects the new with the older building. The floors are of three thicknesses, the first being of two and one-half inch matched spruce, the second one-inch square spruce, and the third one-inch square maple. The floors are supported by seventeen pine posts or pillars nine inches square. About 1,000,000 brick have been used in the construction of the building. An iron stack for a chimney, which is ninety-four feet high and four feet in diameter, will be raised this week. Two new boilers and an engine will be put in to run the new shop. On the lower floor will be the offices of the superintendent and foreman. As has been previously made known, the main office and salesroom at Boston will be moved to Chicopee Falls, and these together with the president's office will be quartered on the second floor and at the north end of the building. The office will be finished in cherry. The company at present employs over 200 hands, and it is thought that the new building when first used will not give work to more than that number, as but two or three floors will be occupied at first.

A. H. Overman, the president and manager of the company, is now in Europe on a business and pleasure trip, but will arrive home early in November, when the plans for operations in the new building will be settled. The Overman Wheel Company has been located in Chicopee Falls only a short time, but during that time have shown much enterprise, and helped along the growth of that village by putting up new buildings and giving employment to a large number, the greater part being residents of the village.

THE machine ridden by Doane and Benson in establishing a tandem road record, was a Singer regular stock roadster, geared to 57 inches. This gives the Singer people the first 25 miles road tandem record ever made in this country.

Massachusetts

The annual meeting of the Board of Officers of the Massachusetts Division L. A. W. was held at the Clarendon Hotel, Boston, on the evening of September 14. Chief Consul Emery presided, and there was a large attendance of the newly elected members.

The following report of the finance committee was submitted and accepted:

To the Board of Officers of the Massachusetts Division:

Gentlemen—Following the annual custom, the Chairman of this Committee has carefully audited the accounts and examined the vouchers of the Secretary-Treasurer, covering the period of time between September 17th, '88 to August 7th, '89 inclusive, and found them correct in every particular, and respectfully submits the following as an analysis of the transactions, showing the sources of our receipts and expenditures.

Sanford Lawton, Treasurer, in account with the Massachusetts Division L. A. W. From the 17th September, '88 to the 7th August, '89 inclusive. Receipts:

Sundry expenses and supplies at Squantum	32.40
Total expenditures		$899.09
Cash on hand to balance		$833.58
Total		$1733.57

We would especially commend the careful and accurate manner in which Mr. Lawton has fulfilled his duties as custodian of the funds of our Division, and take this occasion to thank him for the cheerful manner in which he has acceded to all our requests.

The heavy expenses of the Chief Consul's office, covered by bills for printing, stationery and postage shows the untiring manner in which the present incumbent has performed the duties attendant to his office.

It will be noticed that as far as possible the expenditures have been charged to the various officers and committees to which they belong, thus giving a fair idea, in a compact form, for what purposes our money has been spent.

There remains unpaid bills amounting to $15 which have been approved, at the time of auditing the Treasurers books.

We recommend to the Board of Officers that in future those in authority ordering supplies or expending money in behalf of the Division in anyway, should be required to demand itemized bills or furnish itemized accounts of the same. This in the past has not always been done and members have not seen the necessity of such exactness, but we feel that if they would give the matter a little thought that they would appreciate and conform to the Committees desires.

The Chairman of Committees or Officers should examine and endorse such accounts as correct and forward them to the Finance Committee for their approval.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. FRED ADAMS,
A. L. BOWKER,
WM. A. MOSMAN,
Finance Committee.

The following report was received from the committee in charge of the recent meet at Cottage City:

Your committee on the annual meet of the Division held at Cottage City, Aug. 8, 9 and 10, submit the following report of receipts and expenditures:

Rhode Island Div. share of expenses	10.50
Total receipts	$71.00
Balance due committee	$32.45

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. EMERY,
ABBOT BASSETT,
CHAS. S. HOWARD.

The following communication was read by the Secretary, and the donation accepted with thanks by the Division:

To the Board of Officers of the Mass. Division:

Gentlemen—We take pleasure in turning over to you the surplus remaining after payment of expenses of ball at Cottage City, Aug. 9, 1889. Please find enclosed $61.10. Very truly and fraternally,

JAMES W. BEAN,
GEO. W. SMITH.

Boston, Aug. 10th, 1889.

It was voted to allow the Secretary Treasurer $100 as recompense for the performance of the duties of his office.

A committee, consisting of the Chief Consul, Secretary and I. E. Moultrop, was appointed to provide for the erection of danger guide boards at such places on the roads of Massachusetts as the committee considered advisable.

The Chief Consul was authorized to have printed 1500 road books for use of the members of the Division.

The Rights and Privileges Committee reported that the Division had interested itself in two legal cases where the rights of wheelmen were interfered with.

Delegates to represent Massachusetts at the annual convention of the L. A. W. were elected as follows: J. S. Dean, Boston; G. A. Perkins, Cambridge; B. A. Barber, Worcester; E. B. Pillsbury, Boston; I. E. Moultrop, Boston; J. B. Seward, Chelsea; Charles S. Howard, Boston. The Chief Consul and Vice Consuls are, by virtue of their offices, delegates to the convention. The Division has gained two delegates since last year.

The Chief Consul announced the appointment of Standing Committees as follows:

Rules and Regulations, I. E. Moultrop, Sanford Lawton, E. B. Pillsbury.

Rights and Privileges, J. S. Dean, W. S. Slocum, G. A. Perkins.

Finance Committee, J. Fred Adams, B. A. Barber, A. M. Gooch.

Touring, A. W. Robinson, W. G. Kendall, C. P. Cubberly.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Officers of the Maryland Division, held at Baltimore, September 21, 1889, Mr. E. F. Le Cato and S. T. Clark were elected delegates to the National Assembly. Respectfully,

G. W. H. CARR, Secretary-Treasurer.

Tennessee Division.

To the Members of the Tennessee Division League of American Wheelmen:

Gentlemen—The Tennessee Division enters upon the fourth year of its existence with about ninety members, an increase of thirty over the membership at the beginning of the last League year, and a decrease of about seventeen from the number on our roll June 30th, 1888. It should be our purpose to end the present League year with at least two hundred or two hundred and fifty members. We can do this if we will, for there are large numbers of wheelmen in all sections of the State who would join us if approached in the proper way and invited to do so.

There is a big work for each and every member of the Division to do during the present League year. Upon our general membership rests much of the responsibility as to the future welfare and growth of the Division. Let our members awake to the fact that all of the work must not be left to the officers of the State; let them lend a helping hand in carrying the good work forward; then, and only then, may we hope to see our Division working its way upward to a place among the most influential Divisions in the L. A. W. On the members then, one and all, depends much of the future, as well as the present welfare of the Division. What, fellow members, will our future be? Shall we put shoulder to shoulder and work hand in hand to final success in the cause, or shall we continue to be as painfully inactive as we have been during the years that have passed since the Division was organized? "In union there is strength," and if we apply ourselves diligently to the work before us we may hope for great results.

What is this work we all have to do and that is of so much importance to the future prosperity of the League and the welfare of its members? The first work to be done is that of recruiting. Let each one of us during the next few months secure at least two or three new members and as many more as possible. All about us are non-League wheelmen, and a few words spoken as to the advantages of League membership, the great work already accomplished by the parent body, and its objects, as well as its plans for future usefulness, would bring about a great increase in membership. With a large membership, all else will be possible. From many who are already connected with the L. A. W. comes the question, "What good does League membership do me?" It is a sad truth that our Division has been enabled to accomplish little in the past, and consequently our State members have derived little real good from membership in the L. A. W. Why is this? Not because of the inactivity of your officers, but because they have not been constantly endeavoring to devise plans for the good of our members and the welfare of the League in general, but because of the weakness of the State organization, because the membership at large is idle and wont engage in the work. First, then, we must increase our numbers, and thereby widen our influence, for with a membership of not over one hundred or one hundred and fifty scattered over a large State like Tennessee the work is very slow and the advantages of membership very few. As our membership grows, so will our yearly income increase, and so will our influence become greater and more widely felt. We want, and must have if possible, a suitable State Road Book; a League Hotel in every important town in Tennessee; better highways; large and enthusiastic State meets and tours annually, and other advantages that can be obtained without much trouble by a Division that is numerically strong. Do you want these advantages? They are yours if you wish to obtain them, I don't blame the State Board of Officers if you do not receive the full benefit of your yearly dues, for they are doing all they can to help you and only ask your hearty support and co-operation in the work.

Let us, then, go to work and double, triple or quadruple our State membership by bringing all of our cycling friends and acquaintances into the League. Many will join if asked, and many more if urged. In your touring over the State try to persuade the unattached to join us, for almost every wheelman in the State would willingly give one dollar ($1.00) annually if they see that they will secure any good to themselves by so doing. If you know of any wheelmen in your own town, or in other districts, whom you cannot see personally, send me their names and I will mail recruiting circulars to them. Don't put this work off, but commence it at once. In our work we must, of course, see that no objectionable persons are admitted and thereby keep up the present high standing of the League.

Let me respectfully and most earnestly urge each and every member of the Tennessee Division to exert himself to obtain as many recruits as possible, and as soon as possible. A few words spoken out of business hours will accomplish much. Don't leave this to any one who "has more time," but work as if the entire success of the Division depended on each individual member. It is for our common good that we are working, not for any individual. '78

There are towns where we have no members, where much good might be done by members touring, or as before requested, by sending me the names of wheelmen of your acquaintance.

Again, we want League clubs all over the State. Let our clubs join the League as clubs, and thereby help themselves as well as the L. A. W. Let our League clubs with twenty or more members elect Representatives to the State Board of officers, and thereby increase their club influence and importance, as well as give us more energetic leaders in the work.

Hoping you much success, and with regards and best wishes to the members of the Division, one and all, I remain, fraternally and respectfully yours,

JOSEPH R. WILSON, JR.,
Chief Consul Tenn. Div. L. A. W.

Rhode Island.

The R. I. Division being entitled to an additional Representative I have appointed Mr. James L. Speirs of Providence to that position.

CHAS. S. DAVOL,
Chief Consul for R. I.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

"WON'T THEY DRY UP AND SQUEAK!"

This has been asked about the Hickory Wheels many times. It was first written by a college professor in Conn.; 91 others have asked that particular question in writing, the last being an Ohio undertaker.

Teachers, Lawyers, Ministers, Bank Men, Doctors, and the sons, daughters and wives of all these and many more in the various walks (and rides) of life.

The above or any similar question has never been asked us by a carriage maker, or, so far as we know, by the owner of a "high-grade" carriage. Queer, isn't it? The

HICKORY BICYCLE

is of itself no joke, though it has prompted many funny and some painful jests. A recent correspondent (we use the word recent advisedly) writes: "Are your bicycles really made of wood?"

This reflection on our veracity was not so bad as the following drive at our financial standing, though the writer evidently intended it otherwise.

Refering to the absurdity (to him) of a "wooden" bicycle, he says of us, "Ide think youd have more cents." Present indications are that we will have.

GRAND BICYCLE RACE TOURNAMENT

GIVEN BY

Peoria Bicycle Club,

—AT—

LAKE VIEW PARK,

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4th and 5th, '89

$1,500 In Exceptionally Fine Prizes, INCLUDING FIVE BICYCLES.

Three and Four Valuable Prizes for Every Race. BONA FIDE VALUE in every Prize.

"TIN CUPS DON'T GO!!"

Finest Half-Mile Clay Track in the West.

Entries are coming in daily from the fastest and most prominent flyers in the United States.

Teams will be here to start in the Team race, for which a $200 Columbia Tandem Safety is offered for first prize, from New York, Niagara Falls, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis and perhaps many other Cities not yet heard from at this early date.

THIS WILL UNQUESTIONABLY BE THE BEST RACE MEET EVER HELD IN THE WEST.

Spencer's Full Military Band will be in attendance both days.

If you love sport don't miss these Races.

A Splendid three days's programme for the entertainment of visiting wheelmen has been prepared, including many short runs over our sand-papered gravel roads, which extend from 20 to 30 miles from the City in every direction.

Visiting wheelmen never fail to become enthusiastic over our run to Prospect Hill, from the summit of which the Illinois river and valley can be seen stretching away between the beautifully foliaged hills for 40 miles.

The five mile coast from Prospect Hill into the City around by the Mt. Hawley road, is the delight of all wheelmen that visit Peoria. It is one continuous coast down one hill and two-thirds the way up another the whole distance.

Come and be assured of a hearty welcome and jolly good time.

For any further information regarding Races, Prizes, Entries, etc., apply to

FRANK H. BUSH, Secretary,

HAVE YOU NOTICED

That the NEW MAIL has Not been Advertised for over two months? Why? Because there was NO NEED of it. Orders have come right along for them. Wherever shown other orders followed, and though we only take a half page space any time of the year, we entirely stopped advertising two months ago. This tells pretty well whether the wheels are good and popular. They still are selling! Have you seen any other High Grade Wheel this year so little advertised, and yet we have sold more New Mails than ever before.

We are now closing out all Second Hands traded for this year, and among them some New Mails traded for different sizes. All makes in the lot. Send for Second-Hand List. One New Mail Safety, $85.00. One Humber, $85.00, etc., etc.

This Safety Bicycle Bridle

is still in daily demand. Every mail brings us orders from all parts of the country and the trade are ordering them largely. A SIMPLE DEVICE for KEEPING the front wheel steady, and IT DOES IT.

We repeat what we previously said It looks as though every Safety Rider in the Country is going to have one. Only $1.50 by mail. We are sole Agents. Discount to the trade. Surely send for Second-Hand List of Bicycles and Safeties, just out.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 4 OCTOBER, 1889.

OUR Official Department this week is replete with interesting matter. A full and most interesting report of the New York Division meet is one of the features, and should be perused by every New York Division member.

THE advocates of sidewalk riding would not feel so aggrieved at the stand we take on that matter if they could every week look over our exchanges and read of the running down of pedestrians by cyclers. This last week we have no less than six of such accidents reported. Of those that are not reported we cannot say anything, but we will wager that there are as many again. An aggravated case now under our notice is that of a Mr. Page, an old gentleman of Dedham, who was run into and then threatened with assault by the offender. Luckily two decent cyclers protected Mr. Page from harm.

IF the local pride of a racing man does not dictate the propriety of riding under the name and colors of his home club we would like to see the L. A. W. formulate a rule similar to track rule 32, last paragraph, and we would like to see rule "H," in regard to the expenses of riders being paid "under special sanction," etc., changed, modified, or obliterated, so that members of cycle clubs would have no inducement to join athletic clubs, the rules of which are recognized by the L. A. W., and which rules allow of the expenses being paid without "sanction," etc.

We hope the Racing Board will meet this question without delay, so that the local rider can have no inducement to desert his local club. The principle of gobbling up the fast amateurs from all over the country by athletic clubs like the Berkeley is a bad one, and if not checked will have a tendency to fatal centralization and destruction of the local interest and esprit du corps. We will say nothing of the principle of the men whose desire to race at "some other fellow's" expense is stronger than the true amateur spirit of racing for the honor of his home club and local fame.

There are two ways to handle this new development:

First—To permit cycle clubs to pay such expenses without special sanction.

Second—Not to allow any man to race under the name and colors of a club unless the man is a resident of the same city in which the club exists, or within a reasonable distance thereof.

The latter rule would have in its favor the fact that the desire of such clubs as the Berkeley to pay expenses of men who had to ride under the name and colors of the Bungtown Ramblers would disappear, and the remedy would be found.

It can be said in favor of the first suggestion, that if clubs are permitted to pay expenses without special sanction then we would feel that other amateur organizations would not have any "pull" on the L. A. W., because of being able to offer any privileges not offered by the body to which we owe loyalty.

This is a question for the Racing Board to decide, and we have the utmost faith that it will be decided properly and in due order.

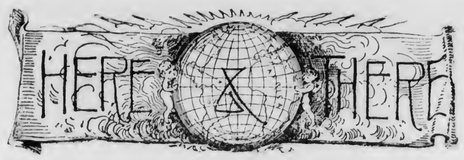
OUR young and over-enthusiastic Boston scorchers will do well to read "Toney's" conversation with a Franklin Park policeman, and govern themselves accordingly.

JUST think what 323 miles in 24 hours mean! It means that every minute must be ridden during the 24 hours and an average of 4 minutes 37 seconds must be kept up; and yet just this marvellous performance was done last month by Mr. A. Holbein of the Premier Road Club, London. This on a safety too. This record exactly ties the 24 hours' record made by S. G. Whittaker on an ordinary October 27, 1887.

HE WANTS NIAGARA.

Editor Bicycling World: Having already begun to look forward to the L. A. W. meet of 1890, and predicting as I do another of those never to be forgotton events which join hand in hand with a successful, well managed bicycle meet when held in a desirable, interesting place, and, as a member of the L. A. W. and one willing to render any possible service and aid in making the meet of 1890 one of the most successful and delightful meets ever held, allow me to say Amen to the suggestions offered by some previous writers in the WORLD, who favor Niagara Falls as the place to hold such meet. Surely there is no other place on God's footstool can offer the attraction that this masterpiece of Divine handiwork can offer. No place on the face of the earth is more desirable, beautiful or more centrally located, and mainly on these qualities depend the great success of our next meet. It is entirely useless to squander time or paper in sounding the praises of Niagara Falls and the attraction offered the pleasure seeker, as all mankind, from the lisping babe to the hoary-headed veteran, have heard of the beauty of this picturesque, world-renowned place.

Where cloudless sky and sparkling sea,
Cliff and shore and forest tree,
Glen and stream and mountain blue,
Burst at once upon the view;
The gay, the beautiful, the grand,
Blending over wave and land;
Till in after years, fond memory recalls
The 1890 meet at Niagara Falls.



Very truly yours, T. W. SHANNON

Rochester, N. Y.

ANOTHER FOR NIAGARA.

Niagara Falls for the meet of 1890. Well, I do not think that any place which could be designated would be as popular as the Falls for the next meet. It certainly would be out of the usual routine, and would attract many cyclers, who would come merely for the sake of natural attractions. It is easy of access with fine facilities for riding. With miles of good roads extending in every direction, Niagara Falls certainly has no competitors for attractiveness; then let Chicago take the meet in 1891 and New York hold it during the World's Fair in that city in 1892. Do I hear Chicago and St. Louis smile? Well, they can put it down for a certainty that New York is the place for the great exhibition, and it will be held there, if at all, no doubt. A.

Philadelphia, Pa.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

Since the Park Commissioners have given wheelmen permission to coast in Franklin Park, that place has become a favorite rendezvous, and the roads thereabouts are frequented at all hours by the votaries of the wheel. Not only do wheelmen take advantage of the fine sandpapered roads but horse owners take a turn around the path, and every Sunday afternoon the roads are comfortably well crowded. It is only with the greatest caution that expert cyclists are able to "scorch" with safety, yet, notwithstanding this fact, many young men who have recently purchased machines endeavor to lower the park record. These alleged fast riders effect the jack-knife style of professionals and kick their machines as though it were hard work. Instead of giving their whole attention to the handling of their wheel they look all around the path as if in search of a look of encouragement from some one of the pedestrians. Upon coming up to a carriage many of them seem to lose control of their machine, and it is only by a streak of good luck that they ride past unharmed. As I was standing watching these "cracks" the other Sunday afternoon, a park policeman approached me, and volunteered the information "that those cranks are doing bicycle riders a great deal of harm and unless they stop racing until they know how to handle their machines, the bicycle riders are apt to be put outside the park limits. This scorching business has got to be stopped and it is for the interest of the wheelmen that an end should be put to it before a formal complaint is forwarded to the park commissioners. I don't object to bicycles if they are ridden at an ordinary rate of speed, but if the boys don't stop racing I shall make a vigorous kick that will be felt. See, there is another fellow racing and I am going to stop his mad career," and having imparted this valuable piece of information the artistic club swinger meandered off in the direction of the "heavy racer." It seems to me that the wheelmen would not thinkingly abuse the privileges they enjoy at the park and I sincerely hope that hereafter they will refrain from "scorching" over the sandpapered roads of that resort.

THE membership list of the Somerville Cycle Club now bears the names of some ninety men, many of whom are well known to the cycling world. Captain Cubberly and his committee are already making arrangements for its annual ladies' night and its grand annual ball. The members expect to realize quite a large sum out of the latter affair, and the rest of the world need not be surprised to hear at any time that the club has taken possession of new and commodious headquarters.

CAPTAIN NEWMAN and his merry men are preparing a series of entertainments to be given during the wintry months, in which it is almost needless to say the ladies will be remembered. I have it on the best of authority that when Captain Newman returns from Europe he will be given a reception that will make each individual hair stand up his head, like quills upon the fretful porcupine.

ALAS! I have to chronicle the demise of another bicycle club that has valiantly stood the storms of the past few years, but which, owing to the small amount of interest taken in the sport of cycling in East Boston, has at last succumbed to the inevitable, and given up the ghost. This organization—the Maverick Wheel Club—was during its early life one of the pet organizations of East Boston, and it would have remained so, had it retained the energy and vim that characterized its youth. Its members met for the last time Monday evening, and after a hearty dinner disbanded for good.

THE riding season of the Medford Bicycle Club was appropriately brought to a close by the holding of a dinner at the Tremont House, last Saturday evening.

THE medals to be awarded in the twenty-five and twelve and one-half mile road races of the Boston Athletic Club were manufactured at the Philadelphia mint.

THE Charlestown Rovers will attempt to make a "century run" next Sunday, and should the roads and the weather be favorable more than one gallant Rover will cover the distance. The start will be made from the club rooms about 6 o'clock A. M., and those who intended making the run will ride to Salem, leave a party there, and then continue the journey to Newburyport. On the return they will go to the Reservoir and make several circuits of the upper and lower basins, so that they will be sure of riding one hundred miles.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

A GOOD many of the local riders have often asked the question, "Why don't we have more asphaltum pavement?" The answer is contained in the following statement of Assistant Street Commissioner Rauschenbach: "Our experience with the asphaltum pavement has been very unsatisfactory, and the Pine street pavement is said to be a failure. Boston and Washington have been very successful, showing that the asphaltum can be made durable. It makes a neat, noiseless road bed, and is very desirable for residence streets. The wood pavement (preserved wood blocks) has been very successful, and on streets where the traffic is comparatively light is preferred. * * *" Now, I would like to ask that gentleman, why is asphaltum a failure here? Close investigation will reveal the fact that the streets paved with this material drain the entire traffic for a distance of fully half a mile on each side of them, and as the ordinance to keep heavy teams off of it was never enforced the street is sought after and used by teams drawing the heaviest loads, while Olive street, which was specially reconstructed with granite all the way to Grand avenue, to accommodate this heavy traffic, is hardly, if ever, used. St. Louis has less miles of asphaltum pavement than any city in the Union of her size, and as the Board of Public Improvement is, in a measure, forcing the reconstruction with granite, which means death to the cycle, I think it high time for the wheelmen, horsemen and others, in connection with the asphaltum paving companies, to make a concerted move for more asphalt pavement instead of the noisy, slippery and bumpy granite.

D. CASTLEMAN WEBB, while crossing Broadway on Pine street, on the evening of September 25th, was struck by the shaft of a buggy driven by a young man named Frank J. Schultes. Webb was thrown from his machine and considerably shaken up. Witnesses testified that Schultes made no attempt to stop his horse, insisting that "a bicycle had no business in the middle of the street anyway." Judge Cady of the First District Police Court thought different, and fined the fresh young man $10 for careless driving. Thus another road hog is punished.

THE suggestion which I made in a previous letter about forming a Western racing circuit, and establishing an organization similar to the W. A. A. A., for the purpose of holding Western championships, is being favorably commented on on all sides. Ex-Chief Consul Brewster is particularly impressed with the scheme, and thinks it a good plan to improve our racing. He is now gathering the opinions of all the prominent men residing in the cities which are likely to be in the association, and will present them at the National Board of Officers' meeting, with a request that the championships be established.

THE Cycling Club is still without club quarters, and the headquarters of this lively, aggressive organization will remain in the saddle for the present. Some of the Missouris, believing that one large influential club was better than one indifferent and one small one, made a proposition to this club to join the Missouris. Greatly to the surprise of all, the offer was not favorably acted upon, on account of some old-time prejudices. The Cycling Club has everything to gain by such a move, as they will have the use of one of the finest club houses in America, with its accompanying baths, library and gymnasium, where now they have absolutely nothing.

THE cycle thief is getting exceedingly bold in this city, as is evidenced by the stealing of a machine out of the Missouris' wheelroom. The party owning the wheel had been off on his vacation, and on his return missed the wheel, which diligent search has failed to find to date. The member threatens to hold the club responsible, claiming that he left it in their charge in the wheelroom. The question will doubtless be brought before the club at its next meeting, and I think will be decided in favor of the club, as I always understood that a cycle left in any wheelroom is left at the owner's risk.

THE fine fall weather and the exertions of Captains Hildebrand and Sanders are inducing a large number of the club members to take part in the runs. Last Sunday the Missouris went to Creve Couer Lake, while the Cycling Club indulged in a cross country run to Clayton and return, which were both hugely enjoyed by the participants. Mr. Shumway, of Boston, went to the lake with the Missouris, but missing the usual diet of pork and beans for dinner, the representative from Beantown was forced to take to the cars on the return on account of a painful cramp in his thigh. To-morrow the Cycling Club will go on an entirely new run to Lebanon, Ill., while the Missouris will hie themselves to the far-off county line.

A MEETING of the stockholders of the Bicycle Track Association was held at the Missouris' club house, Tuesday, September 17. Secretary J. Harold Child read his report, which showed that the association cleared a handsome sum as the result of their meeting, August 31. The resignations of President Andrews, Track Superintendent Stone and Ed Smith were read and accepted, and the following were elected to fill the vacancies: President, Geo. H. Lucas; Track Superintendent, Robert Holm; Executive Committee, Percy Stone, A. J. Emery. As the prospects are good for the building of new athletic grounds the present track will not be surfaced just yet, as was intended, on account of the uncertain condition of the lease.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

SOME men are easy to please. A friend of mine kept a hardware store in the West, and one day a lank, lean countryman sauntered in and said, "Mister, have you got any of them 'buysickles?'" Now, as the proprieter had not expected any call for this style of stock, he replied, as they usually do in a country hotel when you ask for anything out of the regular order to eat, that he was "sorry to say that he was just out of bicycles," but here marked, fearing he might lose his customer, "I have some first-class wheelbarrows." "Oh, that's near enough," replied the purchaser. "I guess it's all in the name, anyways, and I reckon I know more about wheelbarrows than 'buysickles.' 'Taint for myself, anyways, but for my boy Jim, and I'll just tell him that 'taint the style any more to be havin' 'buysickles.'"

IT is not often that an English humoristic journal ever gets off anything in the way of being funny that an American can understand, much less copy, but occasionally even such a periodical will stumble on to something good without knowing it, and when they do the fact is such a wonderful one that every one notices and remembers it. A long while ago Punch really published a picture in which there was both pith and point, and they ought to get the credit for doing so. There had been several very bad accidents on British railways, and the press and public were bitter in their denunciation of the lack of interest in the passengers' safety shown by the various Boards of Directors, so Punch pictured a remedy, which, if it had been followed, would most surely have remedied any lack of interest in safety that the Directors might have had. It was proposed to securely fasten upon the cow-catcher of each passenger locomotive one of the Directors of the company, who was to be released only at the end of the journey, unless in the meantime he had been killed by accident. The idea was a good one and the remedy a sure one, and I think that something of the same plan might be followed by the L. A. W. in its road improvement scheme. Whenever they found any members of a Common Council, or others in authority, opposed to the construction and maintenance of good roads, mount them on bicycles and force them to travel over the bad stretches, and it won't be long before we will have the best system of roads in the world. I don't charge anything for this idea, and don't claim it to be an original one, as I admit having stolen it from Punch. I would like to see it tried though.

I REALLY believe that we are going to have some improved streets here in New York, at last. The usual amount of red tape has been gone through with, and we have at last arrived so far on the road that bids for their construction have been advertised for. I was looking over one of the contracts the other day, and they seem to me to be iron-clad ones. As I once before stated in this column I am rather favorable to rock asphalt as a surface, and it appears that the experts here are not convinced that it is a failure, since the contracts admit of its use. The contractors are to be required to keep the pavement in repair for fifteen years, and to be sure that they do so the city will pay them seventy per cent. of the contract price within thirty days of the completion of the laying of the pavement, three per cent. at the expiration of the sixth year, and three per cent. each year thereafter until the full amount is paid. This looks like business. To the end of keeping the pavements in good condition after they have been once laid, the Park Commissioners have set an excellent example for the Commissioner of Public Works to follow, by forcing all persons applying for permits to tear up the streets for any purpose to deposit an amount equal to the original cost of the pavement, to be held until the street is properly restored or to be used by the Commissioners themselves in doing so should the destroyers fail to properly relay the street. Little by little the leaven of good roads is working, and the long looked for results of it are not now far off.

I DON'T want to keep up any further discussion as to whether the contestants in the recent races over the Clifton track did or did not cover the distance claimed in the time given, but I do want to again state that wheelmen cannot lay claim to any performance made upon any track measured three feet from the pole, unless said track has been rearranged with a permanent pole, on an 18-inch basis. That I am correct in this position, an application to the Chairman of the L. A. W. Racing Board, will soon prove. This is all I ever claimed and I am right in doing so.

I WAS down to Louis Harrison's apartments the other evening, and found him busy experimenting with a new invention which he claims is just going to knock the Brown-Sequard Elixir out of sight. I don't understand the entire process, but you are expected to inhale super-heated air into your lungs and that kills all of the bacteria, and prevents and cures consumption. I think it will do all he claims, but many of us prefer to wait and get our dose of heat in the world to come, and not to try and get acclimated before we get there.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

A TALL, sun-burned young man, whose face resembled a peach-blow rose with whiskers on it, stepped off a Santa Fe train at 6 o'clock this evening (September 18th), and drove up town and left his autograph at one of our numerous caravansaries. The tourist was dressed in a black uniform; he wore a Pullman crusher and a Chicago World's Fair smile. He also wore a black jersey shirt, emblazoned on which was, in large white letters, "The Chicago Herald." The tourist thus dressed was no other than "Tom Roe, of Chicago, America." His appearance here was a genuine surprise to your correspondent, and he was interviewed as to the chances of Chicago getting the World's Fair, politics, his health, his history, racing career, Chicago club houses, his opinion of Southern California, and other matters ad infinitum.

HE states it is his intention of riding from San Francisco to Chicago on his wheel, and will endeavor to lower Thomas Stevens' record of fifty-nine days on the trip. He should be able to do it, as Stevens did not ride for a record.

ROE left for Chicago at 10.30 to-night, and he intends starting Saturday noon (21st) on his long ride across the western half of the country. Roe is one of the fastest and toughest road riders of the Lake City, and that he will make good time is a foregone conclusion.

THE wheelmen here are extremely sorry that Roe took such a hasty departure, as they were desirous of taking him over some of our roads and to places of interest in and around this historical city.

IT is stated that a party of Pasadena wheelmen will make a tour to the Yosemite Valley next spring.

THE wheelman who agrees to join a tour and then does not go is a pestilential nuisance, who wouldn't be missed, in the language of the great Mikado. Mr. Atkins, of Pasadena, has decided opinions in re this matter, as it proved annoying to him when organizing the San Diego touring party.

J. PHIL PERCIVAL, whose departure for unknown parts was detailed in a previous letter, is in Australia.

DETROIT, MICH.

"JUDGE."

I WISH to say a few words as to our Cleveland trip last week. We left Detroit at 10.45 on the steamer City of Cleveland. We arrived at Cleveland at 5.45 the next morning. At seven o'clock a delegation of Cleveland wheelmen met us and escorted us to the Hawley House, where we had breakfast. We then mounted and wheeled out that magnificent street of national fame, Euclid avenue, to the vineyards, where a nice lunch of grapes (in both natural and liquid form) and sandwiches was partaken of. Several of the Grand Rapids ladies made the trip down on the boat with us, but Mrs. Ed. Mooar was the only one to bring her wheel; she rode the entire distance to the vineyards and back, and was right to the front of the line all the time. She is a very graceful rider, and was the object of much attention, both here and at Cleveland. We returned to the Hawley for dinner at three o'clock. After dinner Mr. B. Buchaun piloted Messrs. Whelden and Metzger over to Rocky River, and the rest of the cyclists spent the afternoon in looking over the town. In the evening Sid Black gave an exhibition of trick riding. Although a mere boy he excels any trick rider I have ever seen out of the "profesh." By the way I must tell you the joke Burt Buchaun played on Whelden. He put a pocket-book in Whelden's coat with forty dollars in it, then he got a big policeman into the scheme with him and announced he had his pocket picked, and charged Whelden with the theft; the "cop" searched poor Whelden, took him into custody and marched him off the wharf in great style. Whelden was game to the last, but told me afterwards that he really though Buchaun was going to try to make him miss the boat and keep him there all night. We were entertained right royally and all we can say is, return the visit and we will try to do the same.

THE Star Bicycle Club has abandoned the policy under which it has been run since its organization, and from now on any wheelman of good standing, no matter what make of wheel he rides, is eligible. The club has rented a suite of very pretty rooms on the N. E. corner of John R. and Miami avenues, which are being furnished at a considerable expense. These rooms will be open day and night, and all wheelmen are cordially invited to call when in town, and all wheelmen of this city and vicinity are earnestly urged to call and inspect with a view of joining the only real live bicycle club in this town.

We are having elegant touring weather now, bright and sunshiny, but not too warm for a good fast pace.

We expect a few of the Cleveland men up to-morrow, and shall take them out to "Auntie Weaver's" for dinner.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

"NOSTAW."

The wheelmen of Bridgeport, Conn., are making arrangements to have a grand lantern parade on the evening of October 4th.—Louis R. Sturges and Harry Elliott, known as the "tramp riders" of Bridgeport, Conn., started Monday, Sept. 23d, on their wheels for Brooklyn, N. Y. They expect to be gone a couple of weeks.

Twenty-five members of the Rambling Wheelmen Bicycle Club, of Bridgeport, Conn., took a run to Norwalk, Conn., Sunday, Sept. 29th. They report the roads to that place in excellent condition.

The Rambling Wheelmen B. C., of Bridgeport, Conn., will hold a twenty-mile road race some time during the month of October. The prize for the winner will be a handsome silver cup.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

Hamilton, the county seat of Butler County, with a population of over 12,000, and surrounded by good roads, has only five wheelmen, but one of whom is a member of the League. It is a pity that cycling is so dead there. If the solitary League member would get the others to join the L. A. W. and form a club, have club runs, and get the local press to devote a little space to cycling every week, it would not be long before they would have a strong club.

To the wheelman whose muscles are in good condition, and who is willing to rise early and ride slowly, long rides at this season of the year have many attractions. It may, it is true, require the exercise of considerable will power to enable him to leave the embrace of the drowsy god, but the pleasures in store for him more than compensates for this act of self denial. The dim light, the cool, bracing air, the silence that is soon broken by a choral from a thousand feathered throats, all tend to make him forget the drudgery of the past week. And then, as it grows lighter, the very trees seem to nod a welcome, the rosy cheeked apples that peep through the foliage to wish him good morniug, and the bushes that line the road, to bid him good speed.

Very few of the hundreds of wheelmen who have quenched their thirst at the never-failing spring near Venice, Ohio, can recall the inscription on the stone above the trough into which the water flows. The last time I was there I took the pains to copy it. It is as follows:

(on the top)
"Erected by Giles Mitchell
A. D. 1867."
(on the face)

"Stranger and traveler
Drink freely and bestow
A kind thought on him
Who bade this fountain flow,
Yet hath no other claim
Than as the minister
Of blessing in God's name.
Drink, and in peace go."

To those who are aware that the spring was put in its present condition at the dying request of an only daughter these lines have a peculiar interest.

On Sunday, May 5th, one of our clubs took a run via Venice and Oxford to Hamilton, and claimed that the distance was 55 miles. Those figures always seemed rather large to me, so the other Sunday I went over the same route, and the distance from Garfield Monument, according to my cyclometer, was as follows: Venice, 17 9; Millville, 24.0; McGonigle, 28 6; Oxford, 34.8; Darrtown, 40.1; St. Charles Hotel, Hamilton, 49.0. Perhaps they measured it with a cyclometer like one that Piper had, which registered nine miles for every eight that he rode. All cyclometers are not ambitious. One owned by one of the participants in the late State tour registered just two miles during a ride of over 160 miles. The "Duke" had one that discounted that, for during the parade at the opening of the Centennial last year it went back three-quarters of a mile.

On the 22d of September the C. B. C. had a picnic at Silver Grove, Ky. The attendance was large, very large, and the fun! Just imagine all the fun you could have in one day, then multiply by one hundred, and you'll have a faint conception of the kind of a time that was had.

At the Board meeting of the Ohio Division, held in Cincinnati, on September 28, it was decided to issue a supplement to the road book to be mailed to each League member in the State. It was also decided to hold the next State meet in Cincinnati and to have several of the State championship races run at that time. The board further indorsed James R. Dunn, of Massilon, the present Vice President of the National League for the next President of that organization.

PROVIDENCE NOTES.

"ELNOD."

The rooms of the Rhode Island Wheelmen have undergone quite a change within the past two weeks. The partition that separated the reading room and parlor has been removed, and the billiard and pool tables have been placed therein. What was the pool room will hereafter be used as a smoking and reading room, while the billiard room is to be the holy of holies, or in other words used as a parlor. The rooms have all been made very attractive, by newly painting and papering, and no doubt this change will be the means of adding many new names to the roll of membership of the club.

A number of Providence cyclers visited North Attleboro' last Sunday, and partook of the hospitality of the Columbia Club of that place. Wheelmen were also there to the number of about fifteen from Warren. Dr. Wyman, of New Bedford, was there also.

It is understood here that Beasley, of the Kings County Wheelmen, wishes to race Van Wagoner. We hope if the race is to come off that Mr. Beasley will consent to come here and race, as we can guarantee him fair play and courteous treatment, which is more than what one of our representatives received when he visited Taunton, and also on the Milburn and Irvington course.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

It is pretty tough for a rider where the roads are so bad that he cannot push a wheel over the highways. The "crime" of sidewalk riding has some mitigation when the carriage roads are impassable. But in many sections the road is "good enough," and there the sidewalk rider becomes a "villain of the deepest dye."

Rain has interfered with the carrying out of a good many race meetings on the original dates.

We have heard all sorts of complaints against the bicycle, but it remains for an Oakland (Cal.) resident to charge that "handsome stone pavements are materially injured by bicycles!!"

Peoria, Ill., races this week, 4th and 5th. Sorry to miss two good days' sport.

Certain of our English exchanges doubt the validity of the record, by Dick Howell, of one mile in 2.31 1-5.

The New York Herald reports three tourists, F. L. Libbey, F. L. Bailey and J. J. Bligh, as being members of the Boston Bi. Club. The Herald is mistaken.

Brief but to the point: "The Cycle Club of Mansfield, Mass., is busted, the keys turned over and furniture gone."

H. L. Butler and E. Brown, of Fitchburg, Mass., recently rode from that city to Chestnut Hill reservoir, Brighton, and return, a distance of 110 miles in 10 3-4 hours. They claim this as record for that route.

The Portland Wheel Club gave a supper last week to Mr. F. A. Elwell, who has just returned from his European trip.

Van Wagoner wants to ride over that Murphy match again. He has offered the prize he won to Murphy if he (Murphy) will ride it over, to test the question of superiority, and for no prize.

The crack road riders of Philadelphia and Brooklyn are quietly getting "fit" for that Wilmington road race.

The greatest interest is manifested in the attempt of Tom Roe, of Chicago, to cycle from San Francisco to Chicago, a distance of 2573 miles, in 50 days. It wil be seen from this that he must average 50 miles per day. It will be plain sailing for Roe until he reaches the Apache canyon, when a very mountainous region will be encountered. After crossing the Colorado river it will be up grade for many, many miles, but through Kansas the road will be all down grade. The most perilous part of the ride will be crossing the Mojave desert, which is 240 miles long, and hot and sandy as the Sahara. While talking over the route with Superintendent Chase, of the Santa Fe road, Tom was informed that he was liable

THERE ◎ THEY ◎ GO ◎ AGAIN!

There Who Goes?

Why, Wm. Van Wagoner and his 46-lb. EAGLE over the tape FIRST in the 25-mile State Championship at Providence, September 25th. Time, 1 hour 18 minutes and 15 seconds. The first twenty miles ridden in 59 minutes, the fastest time for that distance ever made in competition in this country.

Why does the Eagle almost always get there FIRST?

BECAUSE IT IS BUILT THAT WAY.

THE Eck female cyclists combination has just captured old sober-sided England.

A BOY'S racing wheel, weighing eight pounds, was on exhibition in Brooklyn the other day. It had twenty-inch wheels, and was made in England for young Harriott, a six-year-old boy.

KENNEDY-CHILD paid us a flying visit the other day. The Child is still busy and hard at work for the Warwick Cycle Co. It is now nearly one year since the Child favored Boston with his sunny presence.

HAVING completed the cleaning and refurnishing of the Buffalo Bi. Club house it was opened with an informal reception, on Friday evening, October 4th.

MR. JOHN L. HANNA, of Fort Wayne, Ind., while riding his bicycle recently, was run into by L. C. Heck, of same place, and Hanna's machine was smashed. The latter will at once bring suit for assault and damages.

WE are just in receipt of a splendid photograph of twenty-six of the Elwell tourists, taken at Zurich, Switzerland. We would like to know who to thank.

THAT the Long Island wheelmen are riders is shown by the fixture card which they issue, stating: "Club runs for October every morning 6 A. M."

Bicycling News is out with us because we accredit Miss Kirkwood with the ladies' road world's record on a "single." If Bi. News wishes us to be more explicit, we will state that the ride was record for a lady on the "single bicycle."

WE are sorry to notice by the papers that the Ramblers of Buffalo feel aggrieved at the treatment they received at the State League meeting in New York.

WE are informed that at the races at South Weymouth, Mass., held last Saturday, that certain prizes were withheld from A. W. Porter, of Newton, Mass., and A. K. 'Tis said that the Baltimore Cycle Club want W. W. Taxis, of Philadelphia, to join that club and ride in the team race for the Citizens' cup. If this be true we would respectfully protest. This "borrowing" out of-town talent is getting to be monotonous.

THE Ramblers, of Buffalo, took first prize for the biggest out of town representation, at Niagara Falls, appearing in the parade over sixty strong, and the Lockport Club took second prize, with ten men.

THE road hog case in Malden, as reported in our last issue, was called at Malden Police Court on last Saturday morning. The defendants asked for a continuance, pleaded not guilty, and were held in $300 each, for trial on October 19th next. Mr. J. S. Dean and Dr. Emery were in attendance, representing the L. A. W.

ANOTHER CASE OF ROAD HOGGISM.

WHILE W. A. Rhodes was riding through Brighton, Mass., last Monday, on the right side of the road, he was deliberately run down by a fish dealer, by the name of Stetson, of Brighton. Both wheels of the buggy passed over the body of Rhodes, and his bicycle was smashed. Rhodes was rendered insensible for a time. Stetson drove off at a fast gait, but was recognized by many who witnessed the outrage. Rhodes called on Stetson and offered to settle for damages to bike. Stetson refused to settle, and so the law will be invoked, and Mr. Fish Dealer Stetson made to see the error of his ways.

LADIES' RECEPTION ROOM.

[ALL communication to "Ladies' Reception Room" should be addressed to Helen Grey, care of this office.—ED.]

We have had a list of "don'ts" from nearly every point of view. It may be well to add to the number. Therefore:

Don't scorch. Hasten slowly.

Don't ride recklessly. Ride with care.

Don't be too ambitious about climbing hills.

Don't go off on a long ride without an extra wrap. It will serve you well when you halt.

Don't be afraid. Fear often goes before a fall. But want of fear doesn't infer want of care.

Don't for a moment lose control of your machine. At the top of every hill try your brake to see if it is in working order and start downward with a little pressure on the wheel.

Don't forget that your wheel runs steadier, and that you favor the machine and lengthen its days by this brakage on the hills.

Don't set the saddle too low, else you cannot work to advantage and the knee movement is excessive and ungraceful. Appearance is everything.

Don't set the saddle too high, else you cannot get the correct ankle action, you lose power and you are in danger of a strain.

Don't place the saddle so high that you cannot reach the pedal with the arch of the foot or place your toe beneath it. Strike a happy medium.

Don't fail to learn the ankle action and practice it.

Don't wear corsets. Think what your brothers would suffer were they forced to ride tightly banded in steel.

Don't wear boots for they prevent the freedom of motion essential to good pedalling. Buttons are better than strings.

Don't regard the mutterings of Mrs. Grundy if you feel that cycling benefits you and gives you innocent pleasure.

Don't be disturbed if the people look at you. People always look at a locomotive, though it is not a strange sight. You will find more friendliness than harsh criticism behind the gaze of the populace.

Don't forget that the pioneers in every cause excite the attention and remark of the world.

Don't forget your purse. You may need a little cash and the want of it may lead to embarrassment.

Don't, by reckless riding, bring cycling into disrepute and dissuade many from riding. One accident will have an effect that months of talking up the wheel cannot undo.

Don't expect to accomplish much in your first season of riding.

Don't forget that woolen is the only thing for underwear. Banish linen even from the hands.

Don't trim your outer garments to any considerable extent.

Don't wear bright colors except it be a knot of ribbon well placed.

Don't neglect your wheel. Keep the nuts tight, the bearings well oiled, the nickle bright and the enamel clean. Good care will double the life of a wheel.

Don't say that you don't know how to use the wrench or oiler. If you don't know learn. Ignorance that can be removed should never be confessed except as a step to its removal.

Don't ride on a tandem with a reckless man. Place some value upon your neck and limbs if he does not.

Don't ride on sidewalks and expect the police to consider your sex. The law knows no sex.

Don't try to ride all the year round. Not one in ten can ride with safety when the wintry winds blow. When cycling ceases to be pleasurable house your wheel.

Don't fail to have a tight sleeve in the fall. If the sleeve is not tight wear woolen wristers that will prevent the wind from blowing up the sleeve.

Don't ring your bell except in cases of emergency. Don't be "loud" in any way.

Don't be impatient with those who ask questions about the wheel, though you have to tell an oft-told tale. You were once as ignorant as they.

Don't forget the rules of the road, and remember that it is good policy to yield more of the road than the law compels you to, rather than provoke a quarrel.

Don't forget to notify your companions a-wheel which side you will pass on when you are coasting a hill or riding fast. Say "on your left," or "on your right," to indicate the side you will pass on.

Don't forget the L. A. W., and add your name, your dollar and your influence to the good cause in which it has enlisted.

Don't forget to put sewing materials, pins, court plaster and a cake of camphor ice into your bag when you tour.

Don't think you ride the only perfect mount. If you are on the fleet and narrow-track bicycle don't forget that the broad-track tricycle has its advantages.

Don't pedal hard in a gust of wind. Take it easy and wait for the lull.

Don't turn the corners too shortly, especially if the gutter be deep. Take a wide sweep and go over at right angles.

Don't forget to "claw" Follow the pedal all the way round, clawing one forward and the other backward.

Don't rush the long hills; take them slowly. Rush the short ones.

Don't have your skirt too full. If it escapes entanglement on a calm day it will get into the cogs on the wheel when the wind is high.

Don't boast of distances accomplished in wonderfully short spaces of time.

Don't try to see how quickly you can go from one point to another; rather see how much you can take in of what is around and about you, and how much of pleasure and profit you can get. A desire for speed and nothing more is not a high ambition.

Don't encourage that pride which leads you to climb a hill that will overtax your strength. Get off and walk, and get your recompense in the want of exhaustion at the top.

Don't lose your head. In the face of danger try and keep your wits about you. Courage will carry you safely through many a trying experience.

Don't be afraid to acknowledge a courtesy on the road. He who puts himself out to oblige you deserves, at least, a "thank you."

Don't ride in crowded thouroughfares. If you must enter them walk, and diminish the chances of accident.

Don't lend your machine. Breakages come to borrowers more frequently than to owners.

Don't give up the search for a squeak or rattle till it is found. If you cannot place it go to a repair shop.

Don't begrudge the time spent in adjusting the height and pitch of saddle.

Don't fail to regard these don'ts if you don't know any that are better.

HELEN GREY.

TEMPLE IN ENGLAND.

THE MEN HE MET.

It is raining! Rain is not a strange occurence in England or its surrounding countries, yet it is possible to spend six weeks in coursing among the British Isles and a whirl over to the ever-gay Paris, return to England and sail for America without meeting a rain storm—of course heavy dews are not counted. Such was the fortune of two American boys well known in cycling circles.

I had just returned from a heavy week's work on the race path, and found lying beside the tea tray, a card: "Art. Taylor, Boston, at the 'Three Tuns.'" Right glad was I to meet the genial Taylor, and I found in his company Mr. Kirk Corey. Now I have at odd times heard much of Mr. Corey, and the pleasure of meeting him found a return. As the boys had just arrived, my knowledge of Coventy's by-streets and lanes leading to all places of local interest came in good stead, also of the grand road which leads to Kenilworth, further on in another direction Warwick Castle, and still further Stratford-on-Avon. St. Michael's Cathedral came in for a close inspection, but what seemed to take our fancy was St. Mary's Hall, with its heavy oak carvings. The place where Lady Godiva was supposed to mount for her ride through the streets of Coventry. "Peeping Tom" took the boys' fancy, and I believe they secured a photo. of the ugly rascal, bending sideways from the topmost window of the King's Head Hotel. A reminder to the good people of Coventry what they owe to the pity and courage of a brave woman.

The great cycle works were visited, and a lunch at the Red Lion of a grand roast washed down with flagons of old ale was enjoyed, the ruddy, robust landlord himself presiding at the the table.

The evening before Messrs. Taylor and Corey did hie away for Liverpool (sailing on the same boat that I returned home on just a year ago the same week, the Aurania), we decided that a little dinner for the three would be a proper final to the meeting. So we repaired to the King's Head Hotel at 8 P. M. As we all are temperate men, no harm to the bottle and its partner marked "Mumm's;" but what a jovial two hours we had over the table, witty speeches pass back and forth, the song, the toast. But where they had me was that they had recently returned from Scotland, and had some kind of a Scotch word at ready hand which always meant a final. I am sure that Taylor and Corey must have enjoyed their trip to this country, and have already made indistinct plans for another year.

I myself have settled down to the country's ways, and have taken up my headquarters in this old town of Coventry, which lies, as everybody knows, in the midst of Warwickshire, surrounded by all that is serene and beautiful in nature.

I have ridden in but few races, and considering the fact of my being on a racing machine but one week previous to my victory at Alystone Grounds, I feel quite pleased at the results. Though not in condition I rode in this race upon my nerves. The victory of the ten-mile world's championship was the best race I ever rode, the field comprising Howell, Robb, F. Wood, W. Wood, R. H. and Tom English, Lee, Allard and Hawkes.

My trick riding has rather taken much of my time, and on the invitation of the Earl of Denbiegh my exhibition at Newnham Paddox was one of the pleasantest episodes of my business life. So much, briefly, as to my "professional" doings.

Walter Phillips, manager for Rudge's, requested me to try the Triplet, in company of Jack Lee and Sam Brown, the noted amateur. We took a spin to Kenilworth Castle and return, and talk about flying! There is a straight mile that I will warrant was covered in two minutes.

Having an engagement at Grimsby, which, by the way, is the largest fish market in the world, I took train via Nottingham and Lincoln, and as it was Friday and market day, I concluded to stop over in Lincoln several hours, and picked up a few interesting historical facts as I wandered around shelling out the proverbial copper. The chief object which attracts the attention as the train rolls into Lincoln is the cathedral, which overshadows the city. A grand view is seen as the town lies upon a tremendous hillside. The cathedral at York is said to be the king of English cathedrals, if so Lincoln may worthily rank as their queen, and for my part I am for the petticoat.

PUT THE SURPLUS INTO NATIONAL HIGHWAYS.

PERHAPS all are enough interested in polities to have read up on the tariff question anyway. Well, have you? Do you perfectly understand and comprehend it—cause and effect and all that sort of thing? Do you? Well, the writer don't. But there is one thing connected with it that is certain, and that, all will admit. It is that both political parties, in effect, say that there is a bountiful supply of cash to run the government machine—in fact too much, and that there is a large and enormously growing surplus which is locked up from circulation and threatens the monetary equilibrium of the country. Both admit this to a degree. One party proposes to cut down the revenue of the government and the other also proposes to pare off. Each admits that the public purse is too rich, but profess to know of no worthy object on which to expend it, or even a portion of it. A navy, sea-coast fortifications and all the worthy public enterprises will fail to exhaust the revenues they say. Well, where are the sympathies of the people? Where are yours? Are they with the prosperous and rich of our country, or are they with those who are obliged to delve and labor for a livelihood when they can get anything to do? Don't make any mistake, the wealthy classes have my sympathy to a certain extent, and my admiration for the ability to accumulate money, but my heartstrings are pulled toward the millions of our land who are willing and yet unable to find employment, or when employed unable to earn sufficient to give themselves and their families abundance of food and healthful shelter. Many of these are aged people who have reared sons and daughters, and now, decrepit with years of toil as well as of age, crowd our almshouses because there is not sufficient work to enable these same sons and daughters to earn enough steady wages to offer seats at the family table to the dear ones to whom they owe their origin.

Do you wonder at labor strikes? Well, the wheelman's scheme for national roads improvement does not strike at the wealthy classes while endeavoring to give employment to the masses of mechanics and laborers in the grand work of internal improvements. A prosperous country contemplates the prosperity of every inhabitant. The money earned by working on roads is expended for the necessaries and conveniences of life in the shops and manufactories of the more prosperous. Everybody feels to a degree the unlocking of the public treasury, and expending the people's money on roads, waterways, fortifications, navy, lighthouses, public buildings, etc., and nowhere more than on public highways. There is money enough and to spare without anybody being taxed a farthing more than at present. This is not partisan, but it may be politics in so far as touching upon the "science of government." In the scheme, then, for national roads improvement we should have the sympathy of all classes, inasmuch as it does not touch the tenderest part of the civilized anatomy—the pocket—except to make it feel more comfortable. Do you think, then, if an appeal is made to the country, in the proper way, and in such a systematic manner that all would comprehend, that the League of American Wheelmen propose to have highways included in national internal improvements, that it would not be hailed with delight by the laboring classes? Does it not touch them so nearly that it would become a factor with them at the ballot box? It would be absurd to contend that every laboring man would be employed on internal improvements, but it would so extend the field of labor that each could find employment.

Send to WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., for Catalogue.

Would any public-spirited man object who was made to comprehend the scheme? No; he would reason this way:

"I want to see the roads improved because it is a great benefit to the country and indirectly benefits me. It does not cost me any more than at present, and yet I will be a participant in the general prosperity. It is not collecting money to do the work on roads, for the funds are already in hand." You will then readily perceive that there is no tax to frighten away adherents, and on the other hand every inducement to appeal to them to assist the L. A. W. in the battle for national roads. The great railroad corporations would foster the scheme because highways are feeders to their lines and the more there are of them and the better condition they are in, the more they feed. The same is true of waterways, and, in fact, every channel of commerce. The census shows that even estimated in gold values, the average value of farms all over the country increased only one dollar per acre, or five per cent on the original investment in ten years, while the whole of this increase occurred in the Western States, the value of farm land in the East having declined and is still declining. In New York and Pennsylvania this is as true as in New England. In Ohio there was no advance in the average value per acre, of improved farming lands, between 1870 and 1880, and there has been a positive decline ever since. This is as much due to bad roads as any other cause. By the wheelman's scheme of national roads improvement, the farmer would pay no more taxes than at present—the revenues are more than sufficient now—and so can you not see plainly that the farmers throughout the country would be more deeply interested in the highway scheme than even the wheelmen? The way is so inviting and so sure of success, that surely the League of American Wheelmen will embrace the opportunity and lead in this grand scheme. Even the coming session of Congress can receive the entering wedge, and if gone about properly the first appropriation can be gotten.

ALBERT MOTT.

WHAT WAS THE REAL MOTIVE? THE DANVERS (MASS.) ARRESTS.

In a late issue of our paper we printed an item stating that a lawyer, a clergyman and a doctor had been arrested in Danvers for sidewalk riding. This item has called forth the following statement made by a party living in Danvers, and is rather interesting as being capable of being read between the lines. We print in extenso:

"In 1880 the town of Danvers, Mass., passed a by-law against the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks, which was duly approved by the Superior Court.

From the day it was passed up to the present time no person was ever complained of for riding on any sidewalk in town, although during all of that time, up to within a month, the sidewalks have been used by bicyclists and especially by a nephew of the Chief of Police, who has had the reputation of being a reckless rider.

At the town meeting when the by-law was under consideration, the brother of the Chief of Police moved to strike out 'tricycles' from the by-law because, as he said, he thought it might prevent his son from riding on the sidewalks with his velocipede.

At the last town meeting a by-law was passed prohibiting the riding of bicycles and velocipedes on the sidewalks and regulating the riding of tricycles. At an adjourned meeting, which was held in the evening, the brother of the Chief of Police came into the town meeting, with friends he had solicited to come to the meeting during the day, and they passed a by-law against the use of tricycles and bicycles on the sidewalks.

The persons who used tricycles in town were the Rev. Mr. Thompson, the Rev. Mr. Ayres, Dr. W. W. Eaton, Dr. Frost and Lawyer J. W. Porter, Mr. Baker and his son (the latter being lame), and several ladies. There was never any complaint that any of these persons rode fast or were rude. There were frequent complaints that bicyclists rode fast and were rude. Dr. W. W. Eaton was one of the Trustees of the Walnut Grove Cemetery who voted to turn off the father of the Chief of Police, who was Superintendent of said cemetery. The Chief of Police is the brother of the man who was so active in having tricycles excluded from the sidewalks, and father of the young man who has always ridden on the sidewalks on a bicycle.

One other person who was very active against tricycles is an enemy of J. W. Porter. The Rev. Mr. Thompson and Dr. W. W. Eaton, who were complained of for riding on the sidewalks, only rode short distances in order to get rid of muddy places in the streets. J. W. Porter only rode in front of a house to speak to a gentleman standing on the opposite side of a fence, and rode off as soon as he finished the conversation.

Bicycles and tricycles have been ridden on the sidewalks, greater distances than John W. Porter rode his, since Mr. Porter was complained of, and no notice has been taken of it.

Several days before any complaint was received by the magistrate against the doctor and lawyer, notices were put into all the local daily papers that these gentlemen had been arrested for riding on the sidewalks. Not being satisfied with this outrage and slander, a statement was made in the papers that Mr. Porter ran into a baby carriage in Peabody and was arrested for it.

This slander was the outgrowth of the Danvers slander, and when investigated by the authorities of Peabody it was found to be false, and Mr. Porter vindicated.

Mr. Porter has always been very active in enforcing the liquor law, and has made many enemies by so doing."

A DENIAL.

In your issue of August 30th, under the head of "Porkopolis Notes," there appeared an article stating that the Athletic Cycle Club were the cause of the Lexington Pike Company again charging toll to wheelmen, on account of their coasting down a hill four abreast, and in so doing frightening a horse so that he ran over an embankment, overturned the vehicle and injured the occupants. This statement is untrue, and had your correspondent "Star" made the proper inquiries, as he should have done, he would have been convinced of its untruthfulness.

THE VAN WAGONER-MURPHY RACE.

THE Providence Sunday Journal thus gives its version of the match race between Mr. Van Wagoner and Mr. Murphy, which, if true, places the management of the race in rather dubious light. It was "slack," to put a mild construction on it, if the Journal is correct: "The layout of the famous Irvington-Millburn course may not be familiar to the general run of cyclers hereabouts. The course is situated some few miles out of Newark, N. J. The course is not a road circuit, but is simply a stretch measured along a pretty fairly made bit of highway for a distance of five miles. To make a 25-mile race the measured bit of road must evidently be covered five times. But instead of starting at one end and riding to the other, then turning and coming back, and so continuing for the 25 miles, the start and finish line is drawn at the middle of the strip, 2 1-2 miles from either end. This arrangement is evidently desirable in a 25-mile race—or for any distance divisible by 5 rather than by 10—else the finish would be at the opposite end from the start, and necessitate a procession of spectators, who saw the start up the road to view the finish. But the arrangement necessitates the placing of some mark at either end of the course, 2 1-2 miles from the start and finish line, to instruct the riders when to turn, else they are likely to keep on going along the road. * * *

The condition of things as they were for the Van Wagoner-Murphy race is thus outlined: According to Mr. Van Wagoner's story of the race he allowed Murphy to lead for the first round. He did not pay particular attention to the locality where he turned, as it was arranged to have men posted there for the purpose of directing the riders on the course, and he was directed all right. On the second round Van Wagoner led Murphy. When he arrived at the place where he thought he had turned before, he found no one there to guide him. There was no time to be wasted thinking about it, and, supposing that he might be mistaken, and that the turning point was farther on, he kept on for a half mile further, when he began to feel quite sure that he was going too far. He looked behind him, for it was on one of the few stretches in the winding road where one could see half a mile along the course, and he saw Murphy just turning at the place he had gone by. He at once made for the finish, and, upon arriving there, reported the circumstances to the judges. The men who had been sent out to direct the riders were called, and said that they were at their posts. Then Van Wagoner recognized them, and said he remembered passing them on the road, but they did not tell him to turn, and he did not think they were in the proper place, either. He went back along the road with the judges and pointed out the place where he saw them, and the judges said that if they were there they were 100 yards inside the proper point."

The same paper says farther on: "Mr. F. P. Prial, editor of the Wheel, who had charge of the arrangements and held the stakes, but who was not on the ground, has written Mr. Van Wagoner that he would not award the prize until the race was ridden over again."

MAINE DIVISION MEET—POSTPONEMENT.

RAIN again spoiled, as it has several times in succession, the fall race meet of the Maine Division. Postponement was had until afternoon of Wednesday, October 2. There was a good attendance from the division, and from Massachusetts came Dr. W. H. Emery, Chief Consul; E. B. Pillsbury, Representative: C. P. Cubberly, Captain Somerville Club; and E. P. J. Morton, of the Pope Mfg. Co. The day passed happily in the rooms of the Portland Wheel Club, and in the evening there was a fine banquet at the Preble House. Dr. Emery made a ringing speech, and was followed by the other visitors. As the gathering was about disbanding, F. A. Elwell, manager of European party, stepped in the upon them and was warmly welcomed. Considering the circumstances, it was an extremely interesting occasion, and with good weather on Wednesday some fine races are anticipated.

THE PASADENA (CAL.) CYCLING CLUB'S TOUR.

THE Pasadena Cycling Club's first annual tour is a thing of the past. Last Wednesday (the 11th) A. L. Atkins, J. W. Lancaster and C. L. Rasey of Pasadena and W. S. Wing, P. L. Abel and Frank Scheidler of this city, left Pasadena on the eight-day tour to San Diego and return. D. L. Burke accompanied them as far as Perris. The weather was cool and pleasant, and Pomona, 30 miles, was made before dinner. The WORLD correspondent, who accompanied the tourists this far, returned home. Riverside was reached at night where they were met by the bicyclists and escorted to their hotel, the wheelmen riding for miles down the famous Magnolia avenue. After being serenaded by a band, the hospitalities of the Robidoux Club were extended the tourists and they were delighted with the reception accorded them. The route next day (Thursday) was as follows: Box Canon (3 miles long), Perris, Elsinore (dinner), Wildomar, Murrietta (night). Friday the route was as follows: Linda Rosa, Temecula, Vallecitos, Fallbrook (dinner) Ostrich Farm, San Luis Rey River, San Luis Rey, Oceanside (night). Saturday—Escondido Junction, Carlsbad, Stewart's, Leucadia, Encinitas, Loockwood, Del Mar (dinner) Cordero, Corrento, Selwyn, La Jolla, Morena, Old Town, San Diego (night, stopping at the famous Hotel del Coronada). The next day, Sunday, was spent in visiting the different places of interest in and around San Diego, as follows: National City, Chula Vista, Otay, Oneonta, Tia Juana (Old Mexico), stopping for dinner and to visit Mexican Custom House, etc., returning to Sweetwater dam (San Diego's water supply works). Next day the party left San Diego, homeward bound, and the route was near the ocean. The party reached home to-day delighted with the outing. The roads were very good for this season of the year. The success of the tour was due to Mr. Atkins, who is a veteran in the matter of tours. VINDEX.

COMING EVENTS.

AT MILWAUKEE, WIS—The fall handicap road race of the Milwaukee Wheelmen takes place October 26, over the Whitefish Bay course; distance, eleven miles. This race is open to all, and every bicyclist is respectfully requested to enter. Entries close October 21st. Entrance fee, 50 cents. Prizes will be on exhibition at A. G. Spalding's, No. 241 Broadway, New York, on and after September 30th, 1889. Prizes to first, second and third in each event, except relay race, for which a stand of colors will be given the winning club. Trains leave New York, foot of Liberty street, via C. R. R. of N. J., 12.45, 1.15 and 2 P. M., stopping at grounds.

AT WHEELING, W. VA.—The place and dates for the W. Virginia Division meet have been decided on. The place will be Wheeling and the dates Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 15, 16 and 17. This will bring riders from all over the country hereabouts, from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia. It is also proposed to have a regular bicycle track constructed in time for the meet. The committee appointed to make arrangements for the meet are R. H Bullard, E. L. Rose, K. E. Sarver, J. M. Belleville, C. E. Van Keuren and H. P. Wilkinson. They will be assisted by Chief Consul C. E. Irwin to make the affair a grand success.

AT NORFOLK, VA.—The postponed races and runs of the Virginia Division will be held at Norfork, October 14 and 15. The programme is:

Monday, October 14, 10 A. M., parade; lunch at Norfolk Club house. At 2.30 races, as per following programme, on the club's private track: One-mile novice; one-mile, State L. A. W. championship; one-mile, open; half-mile, boys; three-mile, State L. A. W. championship; one-mile safety, open; trick and fancy riding; one-mile safety, State L. A. W. championship; one-mile tandem, handicap; half-mile dash; two-mile handicap; one-mile Norfolk Bicycle Club. All entries must be in by October 10th. Entrance fee, 50 cents for each event. Above races to be run under L. A. W. rules. Contestants for the boys' race to be sixteen years or under. For entry blanks, etc., address A. A. O'Neill, 64 Bank street. At 8 P. M., moonlight run to Kempsville.

Tuesday, October 15, 10 A. M., run to Portsmouth, visiting Navy Yard, hospital, etc. At 3 P. M., run to Ocean View; escorts furnished to those who desire a run to Virginia Beach.

The members of the Portsmouth Cycle Club will be glad to see all visitors, and will take great pleasure in showing them all points of interest in and around the city. For any further information apply to any of the following: A. A. O'Neill, J. Hugh Henry, W. J. Stanworth, Norfolk, Va.

AT WASHINGTON, D C.—The great lantern parade which is to take place in Washington next Tuesday promises to be a great affair. No expense will be spared, and it is the intention of the projectors to make it the grandest lantern parade ever held. Chief Marshal Atwater is hard at work, and is backed up by the local wheelmen to a most satisfactory extent. A large delegation from Baltimore and other points is expected.

The wheelmen will form in nine divisions on Maryland avenue, with their right resting on 1st street west. The column will then move west along Pennsylvania avenue to 15th street; thence North to Pennsylvania avenue, to west gate of executive grounds; through grounds, passing in front of executive mansion, out the east gate; west along Pennsylvania avenue to Washington circle, around south side of circle to K street, thence to Vermont avenue, north to Thomas circle, to Massachusetts avenue, east to 13th street, south to K street, east to Mount Vernon square, where the parade will be dismissed.

A committee was appointed to call upon President Harrison and request him to review the parade.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT LONDON, ENG.—On the Kensington Oval, the great ten-mile race for the Surrey cup was run and won on the grass, by J. H. Adams, in the "grass record" time of 31.10 At the end the race lay between J. H. Adams, F. P. Wood, E. M. Mayes and H J. Howard, all the others having dropped out en route. Until the beginning of the last half mile Adams maintained his place consistently in the rear, but always close to the others. A quarter of a mile from home he shot ahead like an arrow, and a great race commenced between him and Wood, ending in the victory of Adams by about five yards. Mayes came in third, about ten yards behind, followed by Howard.

IN ENGLAND.—The following road records went overboard in the recent road race held by the Premier Road Club: M. A. Holbein, safety, 12 hours, 175 1-2 miles; 24 hours, 323 miles. W. C. Golding, tricycle, 12 hours, 151 miles; 24 hours, 280 miles.

NORTH ROAD, ENGLAND.—On the 11th September F. T. Bidlake succeeded in beating the 100-mile tricycle road record by nearly 3 min. The time was 6h. 55m. 58s. The best previous was made by Miles, in 6h. 58m. 54s.

AT NORTH SHIELDS, ENGLAND—The 15-mile professional championship was run at North Shields, Eng., and won by R. H. English. R. Temple a close second, T. English (3): time, 49.11 2-5

AT PEPPERELL, MASS.—The 20-miles bicycle road race under the auspices of the Cycle Club run last Saturday was won by M. C. Moss, he doing the distance in 1.42 15. Guy Tracy second, 1.52.15; Stackpole third, time not taken. The wind was exceedingly strong, making it hard riding, and there was no prize offered.

AT DUTCHESS CO., N. Y.—The bicycle race at the Dutchess County fair was won by John Van Benschoten. Time, 3.12 1-2. Theodore W. Roberts second, Edward Cashin third.

AT CINCINNATI, OHIO—The twenty-mile club championship of the Crescent Wheelmen was run on the mile track near Oakley, Ohio, one of the suburbs of Cincinnati, Sept. 29 "Teddy" Allsup came in first, in 1h. 13m. 48s.; Charles Roth, second, in 1 13 48 4-5; Charles Reid, third, in 1.15.00. The finish was very exciting. "Teddy" had a lead of nearly three-quarters of a mile, which was closed up by a magnificent spurt by Roth. "Teddy's" first mile was made in 3.20, and his last in 4.02.

AT NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., September 27.—The races at Niagara Falls, under the auspices of the Niagara Falls Wheelmen, were run Friday last. The track was heavy, the sky cloudy, and a cold, strong wind prevailed; conditions not favorable to fast time. The events and results were:

One-mile novice—Windsor, of Lockport, 1; C. F. Butler, 2. Time, 3 40.

One-mile novice, safety—G. H. Staey, 1; G. F. Diemer, 2. Time, 3 52 3 5.

Half-mile safety—W. F. Gassler, 1; Burt A. Pratt, 2. No time.

One-mile open (W. S. Campbell barred)—C. J. Iven, 1; Blown (Toronto), 2. Time, 3 10.

One-mile tandem—J. B. Milley and F. M. Brinker, 1; F. H. Salt and W. S. Pierce, 2. Time, 3 27 4-5.

One-mile match—W. F. Gassler, 1; W. G. Schack, 2. Time, 3.30 4-5.

Two-mile safety—C. J. Iven, 1; B. A. Pratt, 2. Time, 6.59.

One-mile C. W. A. members—Brown, of Toronto, 1; Whatmaugh, Toronto, 2. Time, 3.40.

One-mile, Niagara County championship—Burt Green, 1; C. F. Butler, 2. Time, 3 29 4-5.

One-mile safety, Niagara Falls championship—W. S. Pierce, 1; F. H. Salt, 2. Time, 3 35.

One-mile open—C. J. Iven, 1; B. A. Pratt, 2. Time, 3.19.

The programme was run off in great shape, and the management is to be congratulated.

AT CAMBRIDGEPORT, MASS.—The annual twenty-five-mile race of the Port Cycle Club took place last week Friday afternoon. Following is a list of the starters in order of time of arrival at the finishing post: A. W. Chamberlain, 1h. 43m. 20s.; George Kelsew, 1h. 44m.; Charles Fay, 1h. 48m.; Bert McLean, 1h 50m. 50s; E. LaCroix, 1h. 50m. 55s.; A. Shaeffer, 1h. 51m.; John Crocker, 1h. 51m. 58.; J. Carmen, 1h. 53m.; G. W. Bean, 1h 54m.; E. R. Rodd, 1h. 56m.; J. Shedd, 1h. 59m.; M. Nowell, 1h. 59m. 30s.; J. W. Bean, 2h. 3m. 30s.; H. Clark, 2h. 4m.

IN ENGLAND—The marvelous performance of Mr. A. Holbein, of the Premier Road Club, in riding 323 miles within the 24 hours, on a safety, is still the topic of conversation on both sides of the Atlantic. He did 175 1-2 miles in 12 hours and 323 miles in 24 hours This is best world's record for the safety, and it ties the record of S. G. Whittaker on an ordinary, made October 27, 1887.

AT MILLBURY, MASS—The eight-mile handicap road race, under the auspices of the Millbury Wanderers, came off September 28. The result was: C. Benson, 1 min., first; W. Hathaway, 2 min., second; V. Kidder, 2 min., third; W. White, 2 min., fourth; C. A. Fenner, scratch, fifth Benson's time, 29 42 1-2.

It was a fine race between Benson and Hathaway, but the former proved too quick on the finish, and won by a neck.

AT ST. JOHN, N. B., September 24.—A telegram to the Journal of Lewiston, Me., says: "At the annual fall sport of the St. John Amateur Athletic Club, the one and two mile bicycle races were taken by R. T. Potter, from Maine, with Thomas Hall, of St. John, second. Time, one-mile, 3.03 4-5: two-mile, 7.55 4-5. The time for the mile is the fastest ever made in the Maritime Provinces."

AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The particulars of the 25-miles race between W. Van Wagoner, M. Scott, W. B. Jencks and C. F. Phinney are to hand. After half the distance had been ridden Scott and Van Wagoner had left the other two men hopelessly in the rear. Jencks, however, broke his machine and was consequently delayed. The track is some few feet short of half a mile and so the men were started 396 feet back from the finish line. A time limit of 1h. 35m. was placed on the race. From the start Van Wagoner cut out a fearful pace, some of the miles being reeled off under three minutes and some as low as 2.54. Van's tactics were to shake Scott, but Scott was a hanger on and not to be shaken, in fact on a few occasions Scott spurted to the front, only to drop back of Van's wheel. It was the general opinion that Scott would win the race unless Van Wagoner increased his lead, for the former had the lighter machine and was known to be very smart at a spurt. Van Wagoner, however, proved to be good at a spurt, too, and when the two men came down the home stretch from the turn up by the monument, he began the final struggle by

BRET HARTE AND BILL NYE

Once had a funny time with a representative from the Flowery Kingdom, which caused Harte to arrive at the conclusion, "that for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," the aforesaid Pigtailed (in the wrong locality) individual was highly and exceptionally peculiar. You gentlemen who have ridden the Safety Bicycle UP TO DATE, have—when climbing hills---and attempting to ride through sand (we say THROUGH sand ADVISEDLY, you can't go over it) come to the conclusion---FREQUENTLY---that in the quality of PECULIAR "KUSSEDNESS" oftentimes exhibited, the SAFETY, GENERALLY SPEAKING, has no rival.

HAVE YOU GOT ANY SAND

IN YOUR LOCALITY???

If so, and you want to ride a SAFETY BICYCLE that will GO OVER IT and not leave a furrow resembling that made by a team of FORTY BULLS attached to a prairie land-breaking plough---why the way to do it is to BUY, OWN and RIDE a WHITE FLYER SAFETY BICYCLE.

a great burst of speed. Scott with a splendid effort overtook him close to the tape. It looked like a tie, but Van Wagoner got across first by, perhaps, four or five inches, winning the championship and a marvellously close race. Scott's friends are not satisfied that it was not declared a tie. The judges, however, were quick and unanimous in their decision for Van Wagoner. Time 1h. 18m. 15 sec.

AT PORTLAND.—Postponement.—The Maine Division races, which were postponed to October 2, have been abandoned for the season. Heavy rain on the previous day rendered the track totally unsuitable, and so, rather than further postpone to be again disappointed, Chief Consul Dow decided the wisest course would be to give the matter the go-by until another year.

HOWARD A. SMITH & Co., Newark, N. J., are having great success with their standard prepared graphite for safety chains, the graphite being specially made up for the purpose.

THE Premier safeties received a big boom in that one of their sterling machines was ridden by A. Holbein, 323 miles in 24 hours, a world's record for safety machine, and it ties the record of S. G. Whittaker made on an ordinary September 27, 1887.

MEMBERS of the Maryland Bicycle Club have been visiting their Philadelphia Bi. Club confreres. The Quakers did the honors in a style worthy of their reputation as hospitable hosts.

THE machine ridden by Van Wagoner in the great 25-mile record race at Providence was an Eagle. Van and the Eagle hold the record for the fastest 25 miles ever ridden in competition. A remarkable fact is that the Eagle on which the record was made was not a racing wheel but a full roadster weighing 46 pounds.

THE Overman Wheel Co. will remove their offices from Boston to Chicopee Falls, Mass., on or about October 15. All communications to the Company must be addressed to that place on and after that date.

THE Louisiana safety championship was won by W. H. Renaud at New Orleans on a Swift Safety.

KITTO'S PATENT FOOT BRAKE.

THE accompanying cut shows a simple contrivance, which, if desired, entirely does away with the need of using a hand brake of a safety, but can be worked in conjunction with it, if desired. When the brake is applied by the foot the hands have full control of the steering (the right hand not being engaged with the hand brake). It is claimed by the inventor that:

"It avoids cramps of the hand and wrist; any hill can be ridden down with safety and comfort, all fears of accidents being dismissed; it can be attached to any make of wheel with a front brake, and worked easily by slight pressure of the foot."

Now that the night riding season is commencing we would call the attention of our readers to this simple, valuable attachment, and by mailing $3 to the Coventry Machinists' Co., 239 Columbus avenue, Boston, one will be sent.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00.

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

Send for copy of Kodak Primer, containing Kodak photograph.

Missouri Appointments.

I have made the following appointments for Local Consuls:

E. N. Moody for Clarksville.
G. R. Wells for Knobnoster.
L. A. Myers for Miami.
Geo. W. Eberle for Huntsville.
G. S. Pasqueth for Mexico.
Jno C. Pigott for Booneville.
L. H. Parsons for Edina.
H. L. Kennedy for Carrolton.
C. O. Austin for Palmyra.
F. W. Haid for North St. Louis.
Chas. J. Case for Carthage.
Theo. S. Blair for South St. Louis.
E. A. Ludwigs for Lexington.
H. A. Miller for Memphis.
Joe. P. Gazzam for Bonne Terre.
J. W. Finlay for Kirkwood.
Dr. G. A. Sparling for Kirksville.
E. H. Shepherd for Brookfield.

Local Consuls will be expected to give the matter of recruiting our membership their immediate attention as well as keep me advised of new riders names. Blanks for this purpose will be furnished by the undersigned.

Fraternally yours,
ROBT. HOLM,
Chief Consul.

Attention, Joplin Wheelmen.

Being unable to get an answer from Representative Geo. A. Case, I would be pleased to receive applications for the local consulship for Joplin. Applicant must be ready and willing at all times to perform the duties of the office as prescribed by League by-laws. An immediate reply is requested.

Fraternally yours,
ROBT. HOLM,
Chief Consul.

Attention St. Joseph Wheelmen.

Being unable to hear from W. H. Cameron or J. E. Eberle, I would be pleased to receive applications for the St. Joseph Local Consulship. Applicant must be ready and willing to perform the duties of the office as prescribed by League By-Laws. At the Sedalia meeting J. E. Eberle was elected a member of the Racing Committee According to the list sent me by the Secretary he is not a member of the L. A. W. The position is therefore declared vacant. I would be pleased to receive applications for same. St. Joseph, with over 100 riders, has at present only six L. A. W. members, and I therefore request the aid of all her members to help build up her membership.

Fraternally yours,
ROBT. HOLM, Chief Consul.

Missouri Division Road Book.

The new Road Book is now being compiled, and will be issued as soon as possible. Local Consuls should use this as an argument to obtain new members. The book will be greatly enlarged over the present one, and as our present small membership does not justify the expense, all members are urgently requested to aid the officers in increasing our membership. Fraternally yours,

ROBT. HOLM,
Chief Consul.

Illinois Division L. A. W.

A meeting of the Board of Officers held in the parlor of the Commercial Hotel, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 20th, 1889, Chief Consul Davis presiding. Meeting called to order at 8.30 P. M.

This being the annual meeting of the Board, and the first meeting under the new Constitution, an order of business for the Board of Officers' meeting was adopted, viz.:

Roll Call; Reading of Minutes; Report of Chief Consul; Report of Vice Consul; Report of Secretary; Report of Treasurer; Report of Representatives; Reports of Committees; Reports of Local Consuls; Unfinished Business; Election of Delegates; New Business.

The roll call showed the following members present: Chief Consul W. A. Davis, Secretary-Treasurer Thos F. Sheridan, Division Representatives Charles E. Randall, F. W. Gerould, Illinois Cycling Club (Chicago); W. J. Nichols, Capital City Cycling Club (Springfield); Edgar S. Benner, Washington Cycling Club (Chicago); G. D. Chisholm; seven members being present, two more than a quorum.

The minutes of the sixth annual meeting of the Division at Ottawa were read and approved.

The Chief Consul stated that the report of the Secretary would show the condition of the Division better than he could verbally, so would allow that to embody his.

The report of the Secretary was read, and after some discussion was approved.

Report of the Treasurer was next read, showing a balance on hand of $647.24. It was handed to the Finance Committee for auditing.

Mr. E. S. Barnes, of the Nominating Committee, was the only member of that committee present, and accordingly made remarks in regard to the methods pursued by that committee at the last election. The matter was laid on the table.

The Auditing or Finance Committee made their report, and said they found the report of the Treasurer correct, having examined his books and accounts. On motion of Messrs. Barnes and Chisholm it was approved.

Mr. Barnes, Local Consul of Springfield, made some remarks and explanations in regard to the suit of I. E. Ransom vs. David Talbott, for damages, the Division prosecuting on behalf of Mr. Ransom It was moved by Messrs. Sheridan and Nichols that the case be left in the hands of Mr. Barnes and attorneys.

The Chief Consul gave a short history of the case of Wm. Reese, a member of the Æolus Club, and also Division, who was run down by a Wells, Fargo & Co.'s wagon, and his wheel wrecked. On motion of Messrs Randall and Chisholm the C. C. was instructed to bring suit against the Wells, Fargo Co.

The election of Delegates to National Board of Officers resulted as follows:

C. E. Randall, Chicago; Edwin Oliver, Chicago; Edgar S. Barnes, Springfield.

The Chief Consul on motion of Messrs. Gerould and Chisholm was instructed to secure a good lawyer as Legal Consul for our Division.

On motion of Messrs. Randall and Nichols the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to mail each member this year a list of members of this Division at the same time the Constitution is sent out.

The emblem of National organization with the words Illinois Division circumscribed was adopted.

The Chief Consul was empowered to buy frames for Hotel Certificates and see that proper instructions were sent with each in which League members would be obliged to show their tickets.

On motion of Messrs Chisholm and Gerould the matter of the Treasurers bonds was referred to Finance Committee for action. Adjourned,

THOS. F. SHERIDAN, Sec.-Treas.

Illinois Delegates.

At a meeting of Illinois Division L. A. W. held in Chicago, September 20th, 1889, the following named gentlemen were elected to represent this Division on the National Board of Officers:

Chas. E. Randall, Chicago; F. W. Gerould, Chicago; Edgar S. Barnes, Springfield.

THOS. F. SHERIDAN, Sec.-Treas.

Illinois.

Abingdon, Commercial Hotel, rates $2.00 per day; Carrollton, Bassham House, rates $1.50, reg. rate $2.00; Macomb, Randolph House, rates $1.50, reg. rate $2.00.

The above are appointed League Hotels.

W. A. DAVIS, C. C.

Sept. 27th, 1889.

Ohio.

At the meeting of the officers and Representatives of the Ohio Division L. A. W., held in Cincinnati this afternoon, the following delegates to the National Assembly were elected: T. J. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, A. E. Mergenthaler of Fostoria, George Collister of Cleveland, and Frank C. Meyer of Canton.

Chief Consul M. A. High then appointed the following standing committees:

Rights and Privileges—Frank Jay of Canton, James Hodge of Toledo, and Sam Goodman of College Hill, Hamilton County.

Improvement of Highways—T. J. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, H. E. Chubb of Cleveland, and Dr. C. H. Griffin of Ravenna.

It was decided to issue 1000 copies of a supplement to the Road Book, to be mailed to each member of the Ohio Division as soon as possible.

The Board then indorsed J. R. Dunn of Massillon, the present Vice President of the National Association, for the next President of that organization.

The State was then divided into seventeen districts, each district to be in charge of a Representative, who will make recommendations for Local Consuls, League hotels, &c., in his district to the Chief Consul, and endeavor to bring all non-members in his district into the fold. The districts were allotted as follows:

1. Williams, Fulton, Lucas, Defiance, Henry and Wood Counties, to Fred Boice of Toledo.
2. Ottawa, Sandusky, Seneca, Erie, Huron, Lorain and Medina Counties, to the First Representative from the Toledo Bi. Club.
3. Cuyahoga County, to John Huntington of the Forest City Ramblers of Cleveland.
4. Lake, Geauga, Ashtabula and Trumbull Counties, to Geo. Collister of Cleveland.
5. Paulding, Van Wert, Putnam, Allen and Hancock Counties, to the Second Representative from the Toledo Bicycle Club.
6. Wyandot, Crawford, Hardin, Marion and Morrow Counties, to the Representative from the Fostoria Bi. Club.
7. Richland, Ashland, Wayne, Knox and Holmes Counties, to Roy Antibus, of the Richland Ramblers, Mansfield.
8. Stark County, to the Representative from the Canton Bi Club.
9. Summit, Portage, Mahoning and Columbiana Counties, to Dr. C. H. Griffin of Ravenna.
10. Mercer, Darke, Auglaize, Shelby and Miami Counties, to W. P. Harmony of Sidney.
11. Logan, Champaigne, Clarke, Greene, Union, Madison and Fayette Counties, to Representative from the Springfield Bi. Club.
12. Delaware, Franklin, Pickaway, Licking and Fairfield Counties, to A. E. Mergenthaler of Fostoria.
13. Coshocton, Muskingum, Tuscaravcas, Guernsey, Carroll, Harrison, Belmont and Jefferson Counties, to Dr. F. S. Maxwell, of the Jefferson County Wheelmen, Steubenville.
14. Preble, Butler, Hamilton (except Cincinnati), Warren, Clermont, Clinton, Highland and Brown Counties, to Harry C. Buckles of Cincinnati.
15. Cincinnati, to Wm. A. Miller, of the Cincinnati Bi. Club.
16. Hocking, Ross, Vinton, Pike, Jackson, Adams, Scioto, Gallia and Lawrence Counties, to Marcus Moses of Gallipolis.
17. Perry, Morgan, Noble, Monroe, Athens, Washington and Meigs Counties, to Frank C. Meyer of Canton

WILLIAM D. KEMPTON, Sec.-Treas.

Cincinnati, Sept. 28, 1889.

New York State Division, L. A. W.

Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Board of Officers, held in New York City, Sept. 13, 1889.

Present, Chief Consul Bull, Vice Consul Bridgman, Secretary-Treasurer Nisbett and Representatives Gulick, DeGraaf, Chairmont, Prial, Alden, Gallien, Wood, Cossum, Jenkins, Blackham, Rinch, McClean, Gates, Hydecker, Bogert, Chapin, Sheehan, Shriver.

Chief Consul Bull called the meeting to order.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with, Dr. Geo. E. Blackham taking the chair. Chief Consul Bull submitted his annual report to the Board of Officers of the New York State Division L. A. W.

In making my annual report I desire at the same time to be as brief as possible and to call attention to such matters as I think should be brought before this body.

At the time of the last annual meeting of the Board of Officers, Mr. George R. Bidwell was our Chief Consul. It is wholly unnecessary to call attention to his faithfulness and efficiency in the discharge of his duties for that is a matter of common knowledge to all who have taken any interest in the work of this Division. On account of the demands of business upon him he found it necessary to resign his office, which he did upon the 12th day of March, 1888. Under the provision of the Constitution, I being Vice Consul, then became Chief Consul, since which time I have administered the office.

The report of Chief Consul Bidwell presented at the annual meeting held in Buffalo, September 4th, 1888, showed a total membership of 2318. Our total membership at the present time as reported in the L. A. W. BULLETIN of September 6th, 1889, is 1965.

The books of the Secretary-Treasurer show that the renewals in 1888 were 1603, while in 1889 they were 1451, a net loss of 212. The loss in the second District alone amounted to 233, showing that in the rest of the State we have slightly gained in renewals.

There are now 169 Local Consuls, each of whom is an active worker in his own District. Upon assuming the office of Chief Consul I found it necessary to revise the list of Local Consuls, endeavoring to retain only the active and efficient workers, and making new appointments as fast as practicable. All the present appointees are pledged to attend to the duties of the office and to perform them to the best of their ability, and it is believed that we have an efficient corps of officers scattered throughout the State. This list might be and should be extended, but in making such appointments I prefer to delay a little if by so doing I can secure an earnest worker, rather than to have a long list of Consuls and find that a large number of them are unable, either through inability or inattention, to accomplish anything for the organization. I shall endeavor to continue the work in this line until we shall have such a corps of Local Consuls all over the State as shall make the power and influence of the L. A. W. felt as never before.

There are now 177 official League Hotels in the State, with several applications remaining to be acted upon. This list is composed wholly of those appointed during my administration of the office, and the proprietor of each of them has signed a contract which was prepared with the express view of securing substantial benefits to L. A. W. members. It was prepared carefully and with the assistance of legal counsel, and I believe it will accomplish the purposes desired. I annex to my report a copy of the form of contract referred to. By referring to the contract you will see that in each hotel there is required to be displayed in a conspicuous place in its office, a certificate showing that it is a League Hotel. So long as it continues to be a League Hotel, this certificate will be displayed, and no longer; so that any wheelman can readily see whether or not he is in the place he desires.

In each League Hotel there is also kept a record book. This book is for the use only of L. A. W. members and should be freely used by them in entering upon its pages information which may be of benefit to those who may come after. If local and touring wheelmen will enter upon these books full information as to the condition of roads and points of interest in the respective localities, they can be of great assistance in the preparation of the Road Books which are issued from time to time. This is one of the main objects of this Record Book, and all wheelmen should contribute as much as possible. The placing of these books in League Hotels is a new departure and its retention in the future largely depends upon its success during the present season.

On March 25th, I appointed Dr. George E. Blackman as the third member of the Executive Committee, vice Mr. John C. Gulick, who resigned.

On April 10th, I appointed Mr. M. L. Bridgman as Vice Consul, that office having become vacant upon my assuming the office of Chief Consul. He has discharged the duties of that office satisfactorily and was continued in the office by the vote of the Division at the last election.

On the same date, following the precedent in this and other State Divisions, I appointed the Wheel and Cycling Trade Review as the official organ of the New York State Division.

The proprietors of the National Official organ, THE BICYCLING WORLD AND L. A. W. BULLETIN have raised a question as to the power and authority of Chief Consuls of State Divisions to appoint Division organs other than the BULLETIN, and the matter is, as I understand, held under advisement by the L. A. W. Executive Committee. What may be the outcome I cannot say, but it will doubtless be properly and satisfactorily adjusted.

Soon after assuming the office of Chief Consul, I appointed the following Committees:

Rights and Privileges—Walter S. Jenkins, Buffalo, N. Y.; Michael Furst, Brooklyn, N. Y.; L. A. Newcome, New York, N. Y.

Rules and Regulations—E. J. Shriver, New York City; A. B. Gardner, New York City; J. M. Warwick, New York City.

Improvement of Highways—I. B. Potter, New York City; C. E. White, Albany, N. Y.; A. M. Dickinson, New York City.

Road Book—A. B. Barkman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; John S. Kellner, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. H. DeGraaf, New York City.

It became my sad duty to announce through the columns of the official organs under date of May 3d, the death of Mr. H. C. Spaulding, Jr., who died at his home in Elmira on April 12th. Mr. Spaulding was a member of the Division Board of Officers and of the Nominating Committee. He was an enthusiastic wheelman, and was always ready to aid the organization with his best work and valuable advice. His loss is one which will long be felt by the Division.

For some time past the principal railroads have transported bicycles when accompanied by the owner, free of charge. On May 9th the Trunk Line Passenger Committee, at a meeting in New York City, adopted a resolution imposing a tariff upon bicycles of twenty-five cents for every hundred miles or fractional part thereof. Immediately upon being advised of this action, I sent letters to the Local Consuls throughout the State, to the leading bicycling manufacturers, and to others whose influence could be used to cause the roads to rescind such action. Not to go into too much detail as to the modus operandi, suffice it to say that the result of our efforts, ably seconded by those above referred to, and by many prominent wheelmen in New York City, was, that on June 4th following, such action was rescinded and the tariff removed. The following is a list of the roads comprising this committee and which now transport bicycles free: Grand Trunk Railroad, New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, West Shore Railroad, New York, Ontario and Western Railroad, New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, Lehigh Valley Railroad, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, Pennsylvania Railroad, and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Believing that a more thorough knowledge of our organization would greatly assist us in securing renewals and new members, I began the compilation of the Hand Book. As the work progressed I realized that it was vastly more of an undertaking than I had at first imagined. Subjects were continually occurring to my mind, and matter continually coming to my hand, which would be of value in such a book, and while I have been obliged to leave out much that would add to its value, on the other hand, I have incorporated in it some things that were not within my intention when I first conceived the idea of compiling the book. Some matter which I very much desired I was unable to obtain at as early a date as I expected, and so the publication of the book was somewhat delayed. Upwards of six thousand copies of this book have been distributed from an edition of seven thousand. With the aid of Local Consuls and dealers a list of over six thousand wheelmen in this State has been compiled, to each of whom was mailed a copy of the book, together with an application blank, and an addressed envelope to be mailed to Secretary Bassett. It is impossible to say, of course, just what benefits have accrued or will accrue to the organization from this labor, but it is hoped that the effort will be well rewarded in accessions to our ranks. The cost of the Hand Book was $105, of which sum the advertisers contributed $173, leaving a balance of $22. This balance was paid by the Chief Consul from his allowance.

In this connection I desire to thank Mr. Richard W. Rummell, a member of the Buffalo Bicycle Club, for the handsome design for a Division seal; also Mr. Fred J. Shepard, Buffalo; Dr. L. A. Bull, Buffalo; E. N. Bowen, Buffalo, and Isaac B. Potter, New York City, for special articles which add so much to the value of the work.

Chief Consul Bidwell, in his last annual report, recommended the centralization of the work of the Division in one office, and this has been found to be the only practical way of managing the affairs of the Division. It has resulted in considerably increasing the labors of the Chief Consul, but some compensation has been made for that. But as the By-Laws require the Secretary-Treasurer to keep the membership roll, and as the mail vote entails considerable extra work upon him, and he has been obliged to employ additional clerical help, I have vised his bills for such extra help, trusting that my action in so doing would meet the approval of the Board of Officers. And I would suggest that an allowance be made the Secretary-Treasurer sufficient to enable him to employ and pay the help so required.

It seems to me that the time has come in the history of the League and in the history of the New York State Division, when the organization should cease to be merely, or mainly, a sentimental association, but that it should carry on its work upon a business basis and with business methods. In its infancy, when its treasury was depleted, it might do to ask its members to give them their time and labor to its cause without reward or hope of reward, but with the standing and strength which the Division now enjoys, it seems to me unfair to ask men to give so much of that which represents their stock in trade, so to speak, time and labor, without the shadow of compensation. We must be able to pay full value for all services rendered, but we can, it seems to me, in our present circumstances, partially compensate some of those who give so largely to the Division.

The work of the Rights and Privileges Committee is quite arduous. All complaints of wheelmen from all parts of the State in regard to accidents and other infringements of their rights are referred to the Chairman of that committee. He is called upon to investigate all such complaints, often to examine the law pertaining to them, and give written opinions, and is also obliged to leave his business at times and go to perhaps distant parts of the State to investigate various claims. If any actions are brought by wheelmen, he is often the one who conducts the case and gives his legal services without charge.

And again, cases are likely to arise where the Chief Consul may desire legal counsel in some course of action which he contemplates, and there should be some officer of the Division to whom he can freely go for advice. From the duties which he is called upon to perform, the Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee should be an attorney in the actual practice of his profession. In view of this situation, I desire to recommend for the consideration of this body an amendment to the Division By-Laws which shall provide that the Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee shall be an attorney in actual practice; that he shall be the legal adviser of the Chief Consul and attorney of the Division; that he shall in addition to his duties as now defined in the By-Laws, bound to a docket and record of all cases coming under his notice, and in general act as the legal adviser and attorney for the Division, and conduct all cases undertaken by it, and that he shall receive an annual retainer of $.... in addition to his actual expenses in the discharge of his duties, which shall be in full of all charge for legal services.

In this connection permit me to say that the Connecticut Division has authorized the employment of an attorney at an annual retainer of $100.

I also recommended a revision of the Division Road Book. I believe that with the additional information to be derived from the Record Books above referred to, a revision could be made the coming winter which could be of considerable benefit to the Division.

It is quite desirable that this Division be fully and ably represented in the National Board of Officers. It has been the history of the past that many Representatives have failed to attend the annual meetings, and thus the Division would be deprived in the deliberations of the National Board of the counsel of many of its most valuable Representatives. It is quite a burden for many to not only leave their homes and business but to pay their own expenses out of pocket to these meetings. I would therefore recommend some action, either by an amendment to the By-Laws or otherwise, as may be necessary, authorizing the payment of the actual and necessary expenses of Representatives actually attending the meetings of the National Board of Officers.

I desire also to call attention to several proposed amendments to the By-Laws offered by the Chairman of the Rules and Regulations Committee, and ask that you may give them your careful and studious attention.

There is one further matter that I desire to call your attention to before closing. The L. A. W. is an organization designed among other things to promote the general interests of cycling, and to ascertain, defend and protect the rights of wheelmen. In my administration of the office I have endeavored to interpret these clauses of the Constitution in their broadest sense. I am at all times ready to champion the cause of any wheelman where in the right, but I will not uphold any in a course of action which disregards the rights of others. You may some of you have noticed a communication over my signature in the official organs calling attention to the disgraceful and outrageous conduct of certain wheelmen at a League hotel. Mere reference to that matter will be sufficient to illustrate my meaning.

I promised at the beginning to be brief, but I fear I have ill kept my promise. Much of what I have said may be of no interest to you, but I trust under all the husks you may be able to find a few kernels of golden grain.

On motion the report of the Chief Consul was accepted as read and filed.

Secretary-Treasurer Nisbett then read his annual report showing cash receipts and disbursements from February 16th, 1889, to August 12th, 1889, as follows:

Balance cash on hand 16th February, 1889, as per report $578.20; cash receipts, $600.68; total receipts, $1,178.88; total disbursements, $752.49; balance cash on hand, $426.39.

On motion the report was referred to the Executive Committee for audit.

Mr. Jenkins, Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee then read his report as follows:

"To the New York State Division Board of Officers:

Gentlemen—The period during which I have had the honor to be Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee, has been so brief that I fear there will not be much of interest that I can report to you. Still the Committee, through its Chairman, have some matters to report and some suggestions to make.

The matters submitted to the Committee have entailed considerable correspondence and in a few instances have required us to knock the dust from the law books upon our shelves to enable us to give opinions upon some of the questions presented.

The first case that came to our attention was the case of an accident occurring in Utica, where one of our members was driven over by the driver of a team and his wheel badly damaged and himself considerably injured. From the correspondence there seemed to be a clear case and upon consultation with the Chief Consul in view of the condition of League affairs in that section, it was deemed advisable that we should visit Utica and more thoroughly investigate the case than could be done by correspondence and incidentally put in a few strokes for the League. Accordingly, on May 20th, Chief Consul Bull and myself went to the "pent-up" city where we were met by the Local Consul Mr. Crosby, and the claimant, Mr. Dobson. After quite a lengthy consultation and investigation we found that the man who had caused injury was wholly irresponsible and while in my judgment the wheelman had a good cause of action, he did not, in view of the worthlessness of the driver, feel inclined to expend any money in a fruitless prosecution of him. This was the view taken by a local attorney and friend of Mr. Dobson, and it was finally decided not to prosecute. Mr. Dobson was willing to permit us to undertake the case if we wished to do so at the expense of the Division, giving us all the assistance he could but we did not believe it to be the correct policy to take that course, although we were willing to give our legal services free of charge. Mr. Dobson did not feel that we were bound to undertake any prosecution and agree to pay all the costs and expenses, and seemed entirely satisfied with the course taken by us and grateful for the interest we had taken in his case.

Another case that called for our consideration was that of Thomas E. Goring of Wappingers Falls, who was bitten by a dog while riding on his wheel. It will not be necessary to enter into the details of that case, but will be sufficient to say that from the statement given me I was of the opinion that Mr. Goring had a good cause of action for damages, but he was reluctant to undertake the payment of the expenses of a prosecution and assume the chances of paying the costs in case of defeat. He understood that the Division took such cases upon their own responsibility, relieving the claimant from all burden and assumed all the chances. I advised him also that while the Committee would undertake the prosecution of the claim and furnish him with legal counsel without expense to him, it was not their policy to assume all the chances of the party being able to prove his case as he had stated it. Since giving him that information the Committee have heard nothing from him, and whether he has yet determined what course to pursue we are unable to say.

Quite a variety of matters come before the Committee for consideration.

There is one more case which I wish to call to your attention that arose very recently in the city of Rochester. This case involves a principal which I think it would be well for all wheelmen to consider. A man by the name of Field living in Rochester, sent his son with his wheel to the shop for some slight repairs. He came in a southerly direction upon a street running north and south, turned to the left, or eastwardly, upon a cross street and proceeded in an easterly direction, keeping near the north curb. You will therefore see that he was upon the left side of the street, as he was going. He came to a wagon standing at the curb and turned to the right to pass it. Coming in the other direction, going westerly and also being near the north curb was a team and heavy wagon. The team and the wheelman met just opposite the wagon which was mentioned as standing at the curb. The team kept in a direct course, neither turning to the right nor left, nor slacking its speed. The wheelman pulled to the left of the team as far as possible and attempted to pass between it and the wagon. The harness caught in the wheel, throwing the rider, and the right forward wheel of the wagon passed over the wheel pretty thoroughly demolishing it. The owner of the wheel, Mr. Field, submitted his case to the committee, seeking to recover damages from the owner of the team. He seemed to think, as did some of the by-standers, so he reported, that the driver was entirely at fault, that if he had turned slightly to the left or had slackened the speed of his team, which, by the way, was going only at a moderate pace, the wheelman could have safely passed between the team and the wagon and the accident have been avoided. Now, the question was what, from that state of facts, were the wheelman's rights? What were his rights upon the highway? And what duty he was bound to observe in meeting a team travelling in the opposite direction?

I believe that even under the common law that question was well settled, but beyond the shadow of a doubt it is settled by the so-called "Liberty Bill" which was so skillfully drawn and so ably pushed through to a final passage in our State Legislature by my learned predecessor as Chairman of this Committee, Mr. Porter. The situation is simply this: The bicycle is considered a carriage and as such has the same rights, and is subject to the same restrictions and liabilities in the use of the public highways as any form of carriage drawn by horses. The statute directs that when two carriages shall approach each other, travelling upon the public highway in opposite directions, the driver of each shall seasonably turn to the right of the center of the worked portion of the road. In the case of a paved street, the worked portion of the road must be held to be the entire space between the curbs. And in case of the failure to observe this rule, the party offending is subject to a certain penalty prescribed by the statute to be recovered by the party injured. Had this wheelman instead of riding a bicycle, been driving a horse and carriage and pursued the same course as he did in this case, he clearly would have been at fault and entirely responsible for the accident. And the same must be the rule of law in the case of the bicycle. It was the rider's duty to turn to the right upon meeting a team, and not to the left. The driver of the team was in his proper place upon the street and was not bound to stop his team or turn to the left to allow the wheelman to pass. And so, in the case referred to the owner of the wheel is without remedy and must stand the consequences of the direct violation of the law of the road by his son.

At the beginning of my reference to this case I said that it involved a principle which it would be well for all wheelmen to consider. That principle, briefly stated, is simply this: A bicycle has the same rights upon the highway as any other carriage—no more, no less—and riders are bound to observe the same rules in the use of the highway as the driver of any other carriage.

It one were to speak entirely from observation of the manner in which many riders skip around upon the streets, riding wherever it may suit their convenience or their fancy, one would be almost justified in saying that they thought they owned the road, and it was for others to look out to avoid accidents, and that they were absolved from all responsibilities in the matter.

It is furthest from my desire to lecture before this body of intelligent and representative wheelmen, but I desire to add one thing to what I have already said, to the end that you may each of you go forth with this idea firmly in your mind and whenever occasion arises be not at all backward in lecturing others whom you may discover to be in need of a little wholesome admonition.

We must all remember that while we have the same rights as other law abiding citizens, they are but equal and not superior rights. Whenever our rights and privileges as wheelmen are transgressed or denied to us, unless it be some trivial matter, we should be ready to insist upon proper consideration at the hands of others. But at the same time we should be ready and even anxious to accord to others every right and privilege to which they are entitled. While we are endeavoring to rid the land of that pestiferous curse known as the "road hog," let us be ever watchful that we have not that opprobrious title justly applied to us.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER S. JENKINS,
Chairman Rights and Privileges Committee.

On motion the report was accepted and filed.

Mr. Gates—I would like to ask if in a case where a street car line runs through the centre of the street if the right of way is governed the same as where a street car line does not run there. When one is going straight ahead on the left hand side of the street car track, and if they keep next to the street car track, according to law would they be out of position?

Chairman Jenkins—It is but one road unless it is divided—unless it is a boulevard where there is a strip of turf thro gh the centre. The placing of a street car track in the street does not make two streets of it. It is one road from curb to curb. The fact that the street car track is in the street does not change it. The rider is bound to turn to the right of the centre of the road. If the street car track is in the centre that very plainly indicates the line to the right of which the rider should turn. So that the situation is just the same whether the street car track is there or not.

Mr. E. J. Shriver, Chairman of the Rules and Regulations Committee, presented his report, the same having been printed in full in the form of proposed amendments to the Division By-Laws in the BULLETIN and Wheel.

On motion the report as printed in the official organ was received.

Adjourned until Sept. 14th, 1889, at 10 A. M.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

IN EUROPE SOME OF THE CYCLISTS BLOW a horn by compressing a rubber bulb in the hand, the arrangement (called a "cyclorn") is attached to the handle bar by means of a grip. We learn the above from English papers, as we have not been "over" this season. Should you care to know why we haven't been over, see our ad. in this paper of August 9th.

Of course these "foreigners" have been riding a long time, and no doubt know what is needed. But they have none of the Elliott Hickory Bicycles over there. Riders of these always have "wind" enough left, so they don't have to blow a whistle with their fist.

CATARRH HAY FEVER CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been discovered which permanently cures the most aggravated cases of these distressing diseases by a few simple applications made (two weeks apart) by the patient at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free by A. B. DIXON & SON, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.

BURNED! Whenever burned or blistered, apply PHENOL SODIQUE promptly to the spot. It relieves pain, heals and cures so quickly, that not even a scar is left to point out the burned place.

SCALDED! No matter how badly, apply PHENOL SODIQUE, as per directions, at once, it stops the pain, destroys the inflammation, and easily removes all marks and scars. It is a great blessing. Keep it where you can easily see it, if needed.

WOUNDED! With a knife, bruised, lacerated, mashed, over so badly, PHENOL SODIQUE will quickly cure, heal and drive out the pain. In case of ulceration or amputation, it destroys all tendencies to gangrene. A boon to patient and physician.

AMERICAN BICYCLISTS ABROAD.

In a letter dated at Dijon, France, Mr. P. Harvard Reilly gives an account of the tour he and a number of other Americans are making through France. In speaking of how the bicycles stood the trip, Mr. Reilly says: "At Queenstown some 17 of our party thought they would have what is called the —— machine meet them there. We had also 6 or 7 of the —— style, one of the —— ——, 2 —— and 4 Columbia wheels. Out of the 17 —— we started with, there is just one left. Every one of them had to be either changed or given up entirely. I have heard the men say over and over again, that if they ever came here again the Columbia would be their choice."

HAVE YOU NOTICED

That the NEW MAIL has Not been Advertised for over two months? Why? Because there was NO NEED of it. Orders have come right along for them. Wherever shown other orders followed, and though we only take a half page space any time of the year, we entirely stopped advertising two months ago. This tells pretty well whether the wheels are good and popular. They still are selling! Have you seen any other High Grade Wheel this year so little advertised, and yet we have sold more New Mails than ever before.

We are now closing out all Second Hands traded for this year, and among them some New Mails traded for different sizes. All makes in the lot. Send for Second-Hand List. One New Mail Safety, $85.00. One Humber, $85.00, etc., etc.

This Safety Bicycle Bridle

is still in daily demand. Every mail brings us orders from all parts of the country and the trade are ordering them largely. A SIMPLE DEVICE for KEEPING the front wheel steady, and IT DOES IT.

We repeat what we previously said It looks as though every Safety Rider in the Country is going to have one. Only $1.50 by mail. We are sole Agents. Discount to the trade. Surely send for Second-Hand List of Bicycles and Safeties, just out.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 11 OCTOBER, 1889.

THE WORLD this week is left to the tender mercies of the office boy. Our Editor-in-Chief is enjoying the hospitality of Chief Consul Mott at Baltimore.

THIS Chief Consul, by the way, is putting in some good strokes for the improvement of highways, and vigorously advocates calling the attention of the National Government to the matter. He believes Congress has jurisdiction over roads communicating between the States, as it does over navigable waters. He would have the surplus devoted to the improvement of public roads.

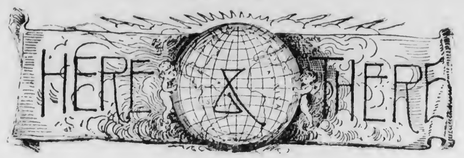
MR. MOTT has of late became a factor in League matters, and is an acquisition to the active working force. His executive ability and ripened experience makes him well qualified to take the lead. Although he has not signified his desire for office, nor even his willingness to accept any position tendered him, we trust he will at the next election serve in some National Official capacity in our organization.

TO all wheelmen and especially those who are not careful in observing the rule of the road, we most heartily recommend the careful perusal of the report of New York's Committee on Rights and Privileges, published in our last issue. The rights and liabilities of cyclers are accurately and succinctly set forth, and one who follows the rules there laid down will be within the letter and the spirit of the law.

THE Cyclist asserts that the time limits at Hartford were not a success, and did not prevent "loafing." The Cyclist is most certainly right as to one race, but whatever the cause, the racing at Hartford was most spirited and exciting. We believe reasonable time limits, excepts in championships, a good thing.

FROM various sources we learn that "Toney's" strictures in regard to the indiscreet scorchers who frequent Franklin Park were none too severe. The unfortunate part of it is, that these transgressors are not, as a rule, League or club members, and are out of the pale of the ordinary influences which induce wheelmen to be particularly careful. As a rule, these verdant scorches do not read the cycling papers and are irresponsible youths who will only be brought to a realizing sense of their own obnoxiousness by the condign punishment of the law. We would remind all Boston wheelmen that a refusal to obey any of the orders or requests of the Park Police will render them liable to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

WE have frequently protested against the system of reduction to League members at hotels. We do not believe in it and never did. The average country hotel is such a poor concern and the average landlord has so little knowledge of his business, that any thing which tends to lessen the comfort of and attention to his guests is not to be encouraged. When one buys tea and gets a tea pot or chromo thrown in, he must expect to pay for both tea and chromo. So it is with discounts. The landlord will give no more than is paid for. We have not often agreed with Karl Kron, but on this subject we are in entire accord, and we admit that Karl is as well qualified to judge in this matter as any American wheelman.



IT is a matter of comment that Holbein's great ride, of 323 miles in one day, received but little notice from the press. We are inclined to agree with the Sheffield Post, that this is due quite as much to the frequency of remarkable cycling feats as to any indifference on the part of the press. The cycle has become so much a part of our daily life that it is rapidly ceasing to cause the comment it did in the days of yore. We can remember when a ride of fifty miles by local wheelmen was a matter of interest, and was considered worth reporting. Let some of our New York friends ask the Veteran Pitman to tell about his ride from Fitchburg to Boston, in 1878.

WE heartily second the Racing Board, in its attempt to have the championships run off so that the field of entries may be representative, and the title significant. As it is the title has been merely nominal. Let us have only one race if need be, but have that one a truly national contest.

THE English cycling press have an unfortunate way of calling every party of Americans visiting the British Isles a "team." When Frank Weston went over with his party of wheelmen, for a legitimate tour, it was dubbed the "American team;" the same appellation was applied to Morgan's aggregation of "flyers;" and so with "Elwell's American team;" and now to cap the climax it is "Eck's American team of ladies." We beseech our good friends to discriminate.

IN Coventry, England, where one would expect the greatest leniency towards wheelmen, the winner of a road race has been fined five dollars and costs for his sport. Major Dilke, addressing the defendant from the bench, said that the only proper use of the highway was for ordinary traffic, and not for holding bicycle races on. The facts that there was a race held, and that this race was the means of causing annoyance to passengers, had been proved, and the defendent would be fined 20s. and costs, in all £2 13s 6d.

We wonder if any British magistrate would convict a pink-coated squire for racing after the hounds on the highway, or for obstructing travel by meeting on the public road.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

THE road races of the Boston Athletic Association last Saturday afternoon was the magnet that drew some of the fleetest road riders of the country to the "Hub of the Universe." Among the motley gathering that surrounded the Athletic Club rooms, was seen the faces and well-developed forms, not only of the prominent racers, but also of those who are contented with holding high offices and working to advance the interest of the general cycling public. Each and every competitor had a score of friends ready at hand to cheer him on to victory. The city of Providence was represented by many of its most influential wheelmen, prominent among them being Vice Consul George L. Cook, Lieutenant L. B. Ballou, B. Taylor Bruce, Fred Donely, J. L. Speirs, H. L. Perkins and Charles Howland, special correspondent of the Providence Journal; while our own city was accounted for by "Doc" Emery, Geo. M. Hendee, Captain Cubberly, "Doc" Kendall—for once without his dog—and a host of others.

THE work done by Dampman, of Wilmington, Del., was most excellent, considering the facts that he was entirely unfamiliar with the roads, and that he changed his machine no less than three times during the twenty-five mile ride, and then finished third. He was the only contestant who succeeded in passing Anthony, of Taunton, and he might have finished first had he not taken that fatal header. The work of Captain A. P. Benson, of the Dorchester Club, and that of Anthony was as usual up to their high standard of excellence, and although the former was beaten by the latter he is not at all discouraged, and will meet Anthony on the field of battle, at Taunton, on Saturday. The way in which Bailey, of Harvard, lost the first prize in the twelve and one-half-mile race was most discouraging, both to himself and his friends, especially as the race was his up to within fifty yards of the scratch, when, thinking he had crossed the finishing line, he coasted, and Berlo, appreciating his competitor's mistake, spurted, and captured first prize.

THE manner in which the races were conducted reflects great credit upon the Board of Officers, and especially upon that ever-zealous wheelman, Capt. A. D. Peck, Jr., who had entire charge of the affair. Following the races the members of the Massachusetts Club banqueted the Providence visitors, and in the evening gave them a theatre party. Sunday morning Lieut. Sprague, E. P. Pillsbury and Secretary C. C. Rider, of the Massachusetts Club, rode over the roads to Providence with their guests.

As the gray streak of dawn appeared over the eastern horizon last Sunday morning, three lonely wheelmen were seen to mount their wheels and ride over the Everett Bridge in the direction of Salem. These riders, who failed to notice the threatening weather, were Vice Consul A. W. Robinson, Captain H. W. Robinson and S. S. Nicholls, of the Charlestown Rovers, the only members of that organization who dared to attempt to cover 100 miles in the riding time of ten hours. They rode through Salem and Beverly, to Newburyport, where a short stop was made, and then the return journey was commenced. At Salem they met ten of their fellow clubmen, who accompanied them to Lynn, and would have gone the whole way with them had not the three "heavy" riders set such a killing pace. The "early birds" continued their journey to Chestnut Hill Reservoir, and after making a circuit of the basin returned to the club rooms and received the congratulations of their many friends awaiting their arrival. They rode 101 miles in a little less than ten hours.

LIEUTENANT SPRAGUE and Representative E. B. Pillsbury propose making a "century" run to Newburyport and return, on Sunday next.

MR. JOSEPH SMITH, of the Charlestown Rovers, was last Wednesday evening united in marriage to Miss Orra Burgess, a well-known and estimable young lady of Charlestown. The Rovers took advantage of the occasion and presented the happy couple with a fine silver tea service.

"THERE is one thing I forgot to mention to you the other Sunday," said Park Officer No. 999, as he approached me last Sunday, "and that is that we allow wheelmen to race around the track any time previous to 9 A. M. and after 6 P. M. This gives them a chance to get up early and take a spin, and leaves no excuse for racing throughout the day."

CAPTAIN NEWMAN, of the Cambridge Club, returned from Europe the early part of last week. He expresses himself as well pleased with the hospitality received at the hands of the English wheelmen.

I UNDERSTAND that the Press Cycling Club proposes to hold its first annual ball some time in December.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

A LADY I know recently asked me to get her a copy of the Woman's Cycle, a new publication, edited by "Jennie June." I went and performed the task, but thought it rather a strange one, as I had never known that she had any intention of becoming a wheelwoman. Imagine my surprise when I found that the Woman's Cycle had not one word in it about cycling or wheeling, but was a journal devoted to the "associative life of the modern woman; its interests and working activities, etc." After this, who will claim that a name conveys any special meaning?

I WANT to claim a copyright privilege regarding your recent proposition for the forming of a "Veteran Cyclist Association." A review of your files will show that two years ago I formulated the idea and put into print in your columns. It matters not, though, who introduced the idea, but who will go to work and accomplish it is another affair. I wonder just how many of those who delight in calling themselves "old timers" could submit the documentary evidence of being such, when the time comes to do so? Not many I think.

THE new minister was engaged in becoming acquainted with his Sunday School class, and was asking each of them a few personal questions. Finally the turn came of a freckled-nosed boy, who seemed more bent on catching a vagrant fly, than upon listening to religious instruction. "Johnny," said the minister, "is your father a Christian?" Johnny let go the last fly he had captured, and replied, "nope, not since last week he ain't." "Why, how is that?" asked the inquiring minister. "Well, he has just bought a big bicycle, and is learning to ride it out in our barn, and I guess from what I heard him saying in there when he run into the oat bin, that he ain't as much of a Christian as he was." The minister changed the subject, and Johnny returned to catching flies.

I SAW a vehicle going through Central Park the other day that attracted the attention of every one, and especially mine, since I am a wheelman. The vehicle was not different from any of the hundreds of other teams passing, save in the matter of its wheels, which were of bright, shining nickel plate, which at once betokened that they were metal. Upon inquiring, I found that conveyance belonged to a Brooklyn gentleman, who had, from seeing so many bicycles in late years, been induced to attempt the construction of serviceable metal wheels for vehicles, which he certainly seems to have succeeded in doing. The wheel, while entirely of metal, differs essentially from the suspension order of cycle wheels. The spokes are thin strips of flexible steel about an inch in width, and are in the shape of a double curve, not unlike the letter S, and varying about three-fourths of an inch from a straight line at the point of greatest departure. The spokes are milled into the hub, and fastened by rivets. The tire is iron, T-shaped, with the flat side next to the tire. The entire effect was exceedingly graceful, and the inventor claims perfectly successful in giving to the carriage using them an easy spring, which saves the wear and tear of both carriage and wheel. The idea of metal wheels, though, is not a new one. Some six or eight years ago, Wm. M. Wright imported from Paris a set of wheels for his dog-cart, made by the French cycle builder, Meyer. They were in every respect similar to a direct-spoked bicycle wheel, even to the heavy tires of rubber upon them. It was astonishing to see what a noiseless, comfortable vehicle resulted. Mr. Wright used this one set of wheels for nearly three years, during which time he drove over every kind of road without damaging them appreciably. He finally gave them up, owing to the Park Department forcing him to carry a gong to warn pedestrians of his approach. Mr. Wright also presented a set of these wheels to the city of New York, who placed them upon an ambulance, giving them all of the hard wear, that such a vehicle naturally undergoes, without them giving way during the five years the ambulance was run, in fact I think the wheels outlived the rest of the vehicle.

THE ebb and flow of the tide of time causes the affairs of life to come round in almost a perfect cycle. Only a short time since all of us were engaged in a crusade against road racing, while now, last week finds accounts in the columns of the wheel papers of road races run, in which the greatest enthusiasm is evidently taken.

IF you want to see the one time in a racing man's life when he is the most modest of individuals, as regards his racing abilities, just watch him when the handicapper is around, and you would not imagine him to be the same individual, who a moment before was so loudly proclaiming his ability to beat anything on wheels.

EVERYTHING and everybody seems bent on riding some sort of a cycle nowadays. I went to a theatre the other evening, and one of the performers was a parrot who rode a bicycle. If birds are really going to take to riding bicycles it will be an easy thing to pick the variety who will turn out the feathered champions, it will be the cranes. Just think what a wheel he could ride in proportion to his weight and size?

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

BARBER, the trick rider, has been here for the last two weeks with Primrose & West's minstrels, and is rivalling Dan Canary in his feats, which are simply wonderful, and must be seen to be appreciated. They have been playing to good houses at the Grand Opera House on North Broad street, and the cycling contingent have been turning out in force to greet Barber.

THE Pennsylvania Bicycle Club have accepted an invitation from the Wilmington riders to visit them Saturday, October 19th, on the occasion of the twenty-five mile road race to be given by the Wilmington Club, and expect to take a large delegation down with them. The Wilmington riders are exceptionally good hosts, barring the runs they treat their visitors to on the apologies which they have for roads, and all the Pennsylvania men expect a jolly time.

ON Thanksgiving Day a ten-mile handicap road race for the club championship will be held by the Century Wheelmen, for which a large number of entries are expected. The race will probably be run over the Bryn Mawr avenue course and prizes will be awarded the contestants.

THE Century will hold an informal house-warming during the latter part of the present month, to which members and their friends will be invited.

LAST Sunday Captain Dimon and another member of the South End made a century run to West Chester and return. The attempt was made with the purpose of breaking Mr. J. R. L. Edward's record for the club of 112 miles, and Mr. Edward's figures still stand. There is, by the way, considerable curiosity as to Mr. Edward's mileage for this season, but Mr. Edwards reserves a dark silence on questions on this subject.

THE Record of this city is devoting a column to cycling notes, with articles descriptive of the various roads and places of interest to wheelmen around the city, together with notable riders who may be found thereat. All of the many journals in Philadelphia now run a cycling column, which goes to prove how general the interest in wheeling and wheelmen is getting to be.

BUFFALO.

"ALI BABA."

ON Friday evening, October 4, an informal reception was given by the Buffalo Bicycle Club. Under the supervision of the House Committee the entire building has been refurnished and re-decorated, and upon its completion they decided to have the reception on that evening. On entering the vestibule we were surprised at the changes wrought on the walls, ceilings and furniture, and so throughout the entire house. It caused one's pride to bubble over just a little, to hear the remarks of those present. Said one elderly gentleman (after he had completed a tour of the house): "You have one of the most perfect club houses I ever entered. I was in here some months ago; it was a fine place then, but now it seems completely transformed. I especially admire your gymnasium, baths, parlors and billiard room." Music was furnished in the reception room after 8.30, and later in the evening dancing was indulged in the gymnasium, which had been prepared and covered with ducking for the occasion. The club was kindly remembered with a very large basket of roses, the gift of Long Bros., florists. Our billiard room contains two billiard and two pool tables, and around the side walls there are placed, on raised platforms, solid walnut chairs upholstered in leather.

THERE is a growing sentiment in favor of holding the national League meet of 1890 at Niagara Falls. Foreign wheelmen—if Chicago may be so considered—tell me that they favor the Falls, and they hear similar expressions from other cities and towns. We hope to see this expression grow and develop to such an extent that there can be no alternative. Surely, the Falls of themselves are a magnificent attraction. Added to this, the touring which may be indulged in is almost unlimited, and the summer resorts within a half hour's journey by rail, or a few hours by boat, furnish attractions which many would embrace. We second the nomination.

THE Genesee Bicycle Club of Rochester have issued a challenge to any club in this State between Syracuse and Buffalo, to a road race from the Parade House, Buffalo, to Rochester, distance 75 miles, for the championship of Western New York. The Buffalo's big six may accept this challenge, but won't the dust or mud fly then?

CHICAGO

"THE STROLLER."

TUTTLE has joined the three "Cs," and he has been roasted fore and aft by Miles, in the Referee, for doing so, and still the fact is that it is a good thing for the speedy West Sider, and in all probability a good thing for the Illinois Club as well as the Chicagos, as it looks now as though it would be the means of causing the Angel of Peace to spread her white wings over the two clubs once more, as a direct result of his application for membership to the Chicagos.

EVERYONE is at Peoria this week, and have been well repaid for going, unless it be the Eastern cracks. Never mind, better luck next year. What does the effete East think of the racing talent in the rough and rowdy West now?

THE rumor that the racing tandem ridden by the Banker brothers in the tandem race became disabled, is untrue. The only trouble was that the Chicagos' team set too hot a pace.

LLOYD is many shekels out of pocket, as a result of being over confident of Tuttle's ability. Lumsden is still cock of the walk, George.

GRANDMA SLOAN seems well pleased at Tuttle's application and election to the Chicagos, and the probable adjustment of all differences between the two clubs as a direct result of the same.

IN the recent Chicago Club road race Bode said at one time he was near enough to tap Sage on the shoulder, at which Barrett immediately asked him why he did not do it, and ask Sage to wait for him. Total collapse of Bode.

IN the final Illinois Club race Foster and Simmons, having won two races each, were the contestants of the eleven-mile course, Foster being allowed one minute's start. Simmons won by five seconds.

THE Peoria tournament nets the Peoria Club some $800.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

AS the local correspondent of the Wheel accuses me of making false statements in regard to the action, on the road, of the Athletic Cycling Club of this city, and as by their denial of their action they indirectly throw the blame on the Kenton Club, I hope you will publish the accompanying signed statements:

The Kenton Wheel Club of Covington are accused of being guilty of ungentlemanly conduct, said to have taken place on the Lexington Pike, on a certain Sunday this summer. As there were only two clubs riding on this pike that day (the Kentons and the Athletics) and as the Kentons have the Collector's affidavit that they were not guilty, you can form your own opinion.

W. H. STEWART, President.
A. E. SCHNITKER, Secretary.

Being informed that the Kenton Wheel Club of Covington, Ky., is accused of the ungentlemanly conduct which took place on the Lexington Pike, a certain Sunday this summer, and which was the cause of toll being again charged for bicycles on this pike, I make the following statement: "That it was not the Kenton Wheel Club, or any Covington wheelmen, that were guilty of the aforesaid conduct, as I am acquainted with the Kenton Wheelmen, and know them at all times to be gentlemen." R. L. WILLIS, Covington, Ky., Oct. 3, 1889. Toll Gate Collector.

OWING to the fact that several of the club are training for the coming road race, the run of the C. B. C., on September 29th, was not very well attended. Alexandria was the objective point, but, as the weather was very threatening, we switched off and went to the new Barracks instead. Its being connected with Newport by a new road some three miles in length, and being situated on a high bluff that over-looks Coney Island, will, when it is finished, make it a very fashionable resort on Sunday afternoons, for the view of the river is something grand, and then the drill grounds are so large that they will afford ample space for extended evolutions.

As the time for the C. B. C. road race approaches, the uncertainty as to the result increases. Much depends on what Dr. Green will do, for if he enters there can be but one result.

THE various contestants in the coming C. B. C. race have different methods of training, for instance: Barth goes out with his camera and a hundred plates, thinking that it will help him to get there by the instantaneous process; Buckles practices on that ocarina, to improve his wind; Chief Consul High exercises his muscles on those messenger boys; and a certain other member makes the rest of us so tired by his continued harping on the superiority of the particular type of wheel he happens to ride, that he hopes none of us will be able to ride fast enough to win.

So the Ohio Division has been passed by, Illinois has it? Well, it's a long distance to the finish and the Illinois boys may yet find that there is considerable spurt left in the Ohio Division.

NEW HAVEN.

"ELM CITY."

The New Haven Bicycle Club moved into their new club house October 1st. It is situated at No. 173 Olive st., cor William st., is a large 3-story frame house, topped by a cupola, from the top of which a flag floats, bearing the letters N. H. B. C. in the club colors, red and blue. On the first floor, as you enter the door, is the club register on a neat desk; on the right is the reception room, which is elegantly furnished. The effect is very fine, as the curtains, carpets, paper, portiers, etc., blend with great harmony. The next room is the smoking room, which is furnished in oak, with easy chairs, upright piano, lounge, etc., for the comfort and pleasure of the club members. Opening into the smoking room is the pool room, and back of that is the billiard room, still further back is the locker room and wheel room. On the second story are sleeping apartments, occupied by some of the club members. In the smoking room is a slot cigar machine, one side for 5 the other for 10 cent cigars, which are obtained by dropping a nickel or a dime in the slot.

The club now occupies the best quarters of any wheel club in Connecticut. Fourteen new members were admitted at the last meeting, and as many more will join at the next meeting. The present membership is seventy and it will soon be over one hundred.

The annual ten mile team road race of the club was run Wednesday, October 2, being postponed from the preceeding Thursday. The road was heavy and a strong wind blowing, and only eight entries were at the scratch to start. The course was from Four Corners around the Branford Green and back. The winning team was Messrs. Larom, Vorhees and Smith. The other team was Atwood, Pickett and Verhoeff. The best time was made by Mr. Larom, 42.45. Mr. Pickett and Verhoeff broke down. Mr. Verhoeff's tire came off, he spent ten minutes fixing it up and then came in fourth.

DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

"JUDGE."

About 20 wheelmen turned out Sunday, the 29th of September, to meet a few of the Cleveland boys that we expected up, but for some reason or other they did not come, for which I am very sorry, as we had planned to give them a royal good time in return for their courtesy to us the week before. Say, Wright, I thought you said you would telegraph us if you could not come.

Thorne, Downs, Coquard and O'Connell rode up to the point, and got away with part of the lunch we had ordered, and Whelden, Medburg, Bradish, Shulte and Carlen made the Ypsilanti run, and the rest went back home. The boys that went to Yysilanti report a fine road and lots of fruit on the way. They stopped at Vice President Gulley's, and ate their fill of his fine grapes.

They spent the evening calling on some of those pretty Ypsilanti girls, and ran two miles out in the country to a fire and watched a big barn full of stock go up in smoke. Whelden got a bit of revenge out of the affair as five pigs went with the rest. Any one who saw him take that header over one of those same eccentric quadrupeds on the Leamington road two years ago would not wonder at his dislike for them.

Herb O'Connells safety was raffled at the Star Club rooms Tuesday evening. They had to have two drawings as there was a small misunderstanding on the first drawing. On the second drawing it was found that Mr. Herbert Lesher was the lucky man. He owns no other wheel, and signed an application to the Star Bi. Club same evening.

With the exception of the piano and billiard table the Star Club rooms are entirely furnished. The former will be put in some time this week, and the latter as soon as one can be found to rent. Any person who knows of a small combination pool and billiard table (or even pool alone) to rent will confer a favor on above club, by notifying Mr. Robt. Medbury, Secretary. A jolly crowd of wheelmen can be found any evening at the Star rooms now; all wheelmen of this city are earnestly invited to call and inspect same, also any outside men when in town will always be welcome.

Geo. Lane holds three State championships for this year, and the best part of it all is, the entire absence of "swelled head." If George improves as much next year as he has this he won't stop at State championships. Gus Jones has also shown that he is a very fast man for a short distance.

After that eloquent appeal of Chief Consul Wilson there ought to be some lively hustling in the Tennessee Division. Mr. Wilson is right, recruiting should not be left entirely to the officers of the division, but each member should put his shoulder to the wheel and help swell the number in his division and the League of American Wheelmen.

Guy White has left us for Grand Rapids. In losing Guy we lose one of the best riders in the city and a jolly good fellow.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

A little book has been issued by the National Committee, on highway improvements, which contains a wonderful amount of information on the building and maintenance of good roads. This committee was left incomplete when the new committees for the year were appointed. It has now been filled by appointment, at the request of Chairman Jas. B. Reed, of Chas. R. Eisenbrandt and G. P. Wilson. This book is distributed gratis, and may be had of members of the Committee on the Improvement of Highways.

The resignation of Joseph M. Cummings, Treasurer of the Baltimore Club was accepted at the club's recent meeting. Frank Levering was elected to the office.

I understand that a new bicycle club was organized at Washington, under the name of the Crescent Cycle Club. The officers of the club are: President, L. B. Taylor; Secretary and Treasurer, J. Sheiry; Captain, E. B. Terry; First Lieutenant, C. Tappan.

A. C. Banker and W. D. Banker, while in this city, were the guests of Capt. W. A. Black. W. J. Wilhelm, of Reading, Pa., and D. Miller, of Lancaster, Pa., were guests of Victor Emerson.

The officers of the Victor Cycle Club, of Relay, Md., are Dorsey Butler, President; Chas. Stebbins, Vice President; Henry Harrison, Secretary and Treasurer; Robert D. Craig is Captain, and Arthur Gaal, Lieutenant.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

Frank Leslie's issue of October 5 has devoted six pages to an article, by Geo. B. Thayer, on the "Evolution of the Bicycle." The article contains an excellent likeness of Col. Pope, pictures of the recent tournament at Hartford, a likeness of H. G. Cornell, the Connecticut State champion, and a view of the Pope Mfg. Co.'s works at Hartford. The article is well written and is replete with interesting data relative to the sport.

By the way, who has been detailed to check Tom Roe in his "record ride" from the Pacific to Chicago?

W. K. Barnett last week rode from Cincinnati to Chicago, a distance of 390 miles, in four days' time.

The Pennsylvania Club deny the soft impeachment that they will hold a race meeting this fall.

The Genesee (N. Y.) Bi. Club lately challenged the Rochester (N. Y.) Bi. Club to a team road race from Buffalo to Rochester, a distance of some seventy miles. The Rochester men declined, stating that the club had no team in condition to ride such a race as this would be.

About fifty of Mr. Elwell's club mates joined in giving that gentleman a fine supper at the club house of the Portland Wheel Club. Mr. Elwell gave a most charming account of the great tour, and the exercises were otherwise most interesting.

Waltham, Mass., had a slight attack of the cycle thief. Mr. Smith was the victim. He discovered the theft almost immediately, gave hot pursuit by means of a horse and buggy, caught the fellow, knocked him down and held him until a policeman came along, and then the would-be thief was ingloriously marched off to a dungeon cell.

The article is well written and is replete with interesting data relative to the sport.

By the way, who has been detailed to check Tom Roe in his "record ride" from the Pacific to Chicago?

W. K. Barnett last week rode from Cincinnati to Chicago, a distance of 390 miles, in four days' time.

The Pennsylvania Club deny the soft impeachment that they will hold a race meeting this fall.

The Genesee (N. Y.) Bi. Club lately challenged the Rochester (N. Y.) Bi. Club to a team road race from Buffalo to Rochester, a distance of some seventy miles. The Rochester men declined, stating that the club had no team in condition to ride such a race as this would be.

About fifty of Mr. Elwell's club mates joined in giving that gentleman a fine supper at the club house of the Portland Wheel Club. Mr. Elwell gave a most charming account of the great tour, and the exercises were otherwise most interesting.

Waltham, Mass., had a slight attack of the cycle thief. Mr. Smith was the victim. He discovered the theft almost immediately, gave hot pursuit by means of a horse and buggy, caught the fellow, knocked him down and held him until a policeman came along, and then the would-be thief was ingloriously marched off to a dungeon cell.

Stolen from Asylum street, Hartford, Conn., a Columbia safety bicycle, No. 3042; private mark under the saddle. A suitable reward will be paid at 344 Main street, Hartford, for its recovery.

The Albany (N. Y.) Bicycle Club and the Albany Wheelmen are now in the throes of their oft-recurring efforts "to consolidate."

The last heard of Tom Roe he was laboring through the dangers and horrors of the Mojave Desert. As soon as that difficulty is passed the real dangers of the trip will have been left behind.

THE WASHINGTON LANTERN PARADE.

Chief Consul Atwater said that the lantern parade which was to be given in Washington, on the occasion of the K. T. Conclave this week, would be the biggest thing of the kind ever held in this country.

We happened to be present in Washington on the occasion when Mr. Atwater and his efficient co-workers fulfilled the promise thus made, and some eight hundred wheelmen reported at the rendezvous, ready to "illuminate." The time for the parade to move was set at 7 o'clock, but it was 8 before the line got in motion.

The Conclave Committee had promised to supply sufficient force to keep the immense crowds back, so that the paraders could have a clear field. Those who know, say that the crowd present in Washington at the present writing is as large as that usual on inaugural days.

When we say that this immense crowd was all out of doors and that the promised police force did not materialize, our readers will appreciate the difficulties of the officers in charge.

With the aid of five tandem tricycles in the van a hole was driven through the crowd and part of the parade managed to get through, some of the divisions were demoralized and had a hard time getting along.

We will not give the route, save to say that it took us up Pennsylvania avenue, through the grounds of the White House, at which point the President did us the honor to review us.

Considering the great difficulties in handling a column of cyclers in a crowd, we must say the parade was a success. What shortcoming occurred was not the fault of the wheelmen. They showed commendable zeal, and the illuminations and decorations of the wheels was most excellent. The Capital Club led the parade. The Columbia Club had the greatest number in line. Chief Consul Atwater was the Chief Marshal.

TEMPLE IN ENGLAND.

WOODSIDE IN A NEW ROLE.

(Concluded.)

While in North Shields I was much attracted by the flaring posters, announcing that Miss Alma Beaumont, of Omaha, Neb., U. S. A., will drop from the clouds, otherwise, take flight into the dim air per balloon, and descend to Mother Earth by means of a parachute. Said lady claims to know no fear when making her perilous descents.

Of course every artist must have a manager, or they are no artist! The manager for this lady is William Millar. If these lines should meet the eye of "Senator" Morgan let him recall his memory to the American team's first appearance in London, at King's Cross Station, the team being met by press representatives, and also by Mr. Spencer, honorable Secretary of the Finsbury Park C. C., under whose auspices the American team made their first bow before a London audience. In Mr. Spencer's company was a young lady with short hair, who rode a tricycle, she said. Does the "Senator" remember her? The lady's name was Miss Archer. The manager, William Millar, in writing to the different press and also to prospective places in which to have his principal, Miss Beaumont, ascend to the clouds, states that he is Wm. Millar Woodside, the champion bicyclist, but owing to personal reasons does not wish the Woodside part of his name to appear. At present it is a mystery to me how Woodside could have induced Miss Archer to make the perilous ascents she now is doing. The aeronaut to the party, and who takes charge of the balloon, is the brother of the ex-Hon. Secretary Spencer, of the Finsbury Park C. C. Miss Beaumont has now made but (in her life, I believe) three ascents in England. The second she lit in a dangerous position on a chimney, the third but fifty feet away from a passing train, and to-day she makes an ascent across the river at South Shields.

It is claimed that she carries in her flight an aneroid barometer, and during her last ascent Mr. Spencer, the aeronaut, estimated that the altitude attained was 15,000 feet, and claimed that this was the greatest height from which a parachute descent had ever been made, calling for three cheers for Miss Beaumont, lustily given. A similar compliment was given the manager, and the lady herself proposed three cheers for her aeronaut, leading them off by waving her (?) "stars and stripes." William Millar has just now a law suit with a farmer, who claims damages to his corn field when after the balloon, and came very near sticking a pitchfork into and through his highness.

Now, as many did not pay to enter the enclosure, but saved their six-pence and watched the flight from the outside, the manager is justly indignant, and in a red-hot letter to the papers, signs himself "Justice," and calls for conscience money, so all around town are little boxes, into which the passers-by are invited to drop a copper—the so-called conscience money. Something awful is sure to happen to the girl before long, and for the life of me, I cannot make out how Woodside has induced her to peril her life to put a few pounds in her and his pockets.

I saw large and excited crowds hurrying towards the cricket field as the minutes rolled on towards the hour of 6 P. M. The arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Thorton, the proprietor of the Music Hall in South Shields, who guaranteed the necessary sum for Miss Beaumont's ascent. Although a large crowd was inside the enclosure around the ropes, a still larger crowd blocked up the roadways and open spaces on the outside, and among these people could be seen different officials for the occasion, passing little white boxes, for the so-called "conscience money." The balloon was new and not of a large size, and was inflated by means of gas, pipes being laid for the occasion. The parachute was constructed of thin silk cloth, a hoop being placed inside, so when the weight of the artist dropped from the balloon, thus breaking the cord to which the parachute was fastened to the balloon, the air would have a ready means of filling out the parachute. Woodside had the manner of man mortally scared as the time approached, and he nervously shifted from one foot to another. The band struck up "Yankee Doodle," and Miss Beaumont appeared. Noticing me as I stood to one side she nodded, and I went forward and shook her hand. She did not have the manner of Woodside at all, and looked very self-possessed. The sand bags were thrown off, and those who had been holding the ropes gathered closely around while she was being attached to the parachute. All ready! and the balloon swung clear into air, Miss Beaumont being seated on a broad leather strap fastened to the balloon, and from which she could easily swing herself clear. The wind was blowing landward, and owing to the balloon crossing the river she did not let go for fully ten minutes, the balloon ascending what looked to be a full mile (this was the highest ascent yet made). The dead drop did not occupy over two seconds, then the parachute filled and gracefully and slowly came earthward, the balloon reaching the ground long before the parachute, which must have taken fully fifteen minutes from the time of the drop.

After wandering around the streets, peering into the gaily-lit shops and watching the people as they walked in the middle of the road, and through the densely crowded market place, I dropped into the Ferry Inn and had a moment's chat with Fred Wood, who is located here as proprietor, his many trophies and belts making quite a display in the bar.

It was then 8 30 P. M. On the way to the post I will extend my walk to Tynemouth, where to-day (Sunday) on the pier many hundreds of people will be promenading; or on the cliffs, listening to waters breaking upon the rocks below; or on the beach, where the children will merrily run bare footed, the sea water tumbling round their little feet; higher above, on the parade, the merry laughter of little ones tells you of much fun riding the donkeys, or watching the antics of the monkeys which follow to the tune of a hand organ. Sunday in England is a general holiday, and treated as such. In the morning hundreds will be seen wending their way to the different places of worship, the cathedral bells chiming out a solemn lay. Home enjoyments may occupy the afternoon for many, while others will drive off into the country. After tea an hour is again spent in worship, and then the living stream of humanity find their different ways; some to the country lanes, mounting the turn-stiles leading into the fields of fresh-cut hay, or down by some brook or pond where the lilies grow. How beautiful is the twilight in England! A dusky light pervading the surroundings, and when a full moon, like at present, casts the shadows of the oak and elm along the smooth turn-pike road, it is not unlike a sun scene, half overshadowed by a cloud.

MR. MOTT'S PLAN.

Editor Bicycling World: The energetic Chief Consul of Maryland has recently proposed a new field of action for the League, in the way of urging upon Congress national improvement of highways, and now suggests that the much talked-of surplus in the national treasury is an available fund which might be suitably devoted to this purpose, and thereby at once give us good roads at no expense to the people, and open a new avenue to unemployed labor.

For one, I am sorry that the cycling world should even be asked to advocate a scheme which, it not unconstitutional, is certainly at variance with the wholesome principle of local self-government, a very different thing from that theory of States' rights, to which I am as much opposed as any citizen of America can be; and while I won't lay claim to squeamishness as the cause of bringing politics into the League, I must express especial regret that we should be threatened with a division of opinion in connection with the most vital question of the day. However close to us may be our interests as wheelmen, our interests as citizens are paramount to these, and those of us who object to summary methods of disposing of the surplus must protest against being identified with any plans that seek to ignore the source of the surplus. To expend it on roads may be a better thing than to shovel it out as a gratuity in the shape of subsidies and pensions, or to waste it on useless ships and fortifications; but it is of the same nature, and equally evades the all-important and disputed question as to whether the surplus should be expended or its accumulation stopped; and the discussion of any of these plans to that extent diverts minds from the more vital topic of the problem of correct taxation.

Should the League support the expenditure of this money for the sake of giving employment, it must commit its members to the Socialistic doctrine that it is the business of the State to direct industry; and small as our influence on the question would probably be, it would do harm for us to assume such an attitude, or at least be unjust to wheelmen who hold opposing economic views. Good roads are an important thing, but not half as important even to wheelmen as the question whether we should strive to find employment for men or by striking down the barriers that stand in the way of productive enterprise, give them the opportunity to employ themselves. That is the question which is agitating the thought of to-day, and the League has no right to place its members as a body on one side or the other for the sake of a somewhat visionary hope of attaining a minor purpose.

How great would be our chance of accomplishing anything in this line, when in the narrower field of State legislation, to which it is recognized as properly belonging, our progress is so difficult and slow; is something I do not care to discuss. But I most sincerely hope that even if it should be deemed not beyond our power to accomplish, we will not try. Very truly yours,

E. J. SHRIVER.

"NOT A RACING WHEEL."

THE accompanying cut represents a home-made bicycle, designed and manufactured by a colored man, by the name of Charles Van Deever. As an example of ingenuity and what can be done by a clever man, with limited means and appliances, it stands unexcelled.

Van Deever, who is now a resident of Plainfield, N. J., thus gives his account of the inception and production of this wheel. He says: "Being a poor boy and not having the cash to purchase a high grade bicycle I thought I would try and see what I could do toward making one. I wanted a bicycle badly, and one day while standing under a shed I saw an old wagon wheel, and I asked the owner if he would not give it to me, as I wanted to make a bicycle. The owner of the wheel told me that I could not make a bicycle, but I said 'if you will let me have the wheel I will try mighty hard,' and so he gave it to me. After I got the wheel I went to work on the forks. I found a fine piece of hickory behind the barn, and with an axe I chopped out two pieces of wood 1x2 inches. The backbone I got from a blacksmith; it is solid. The tools I had to work with were an axe, a draw knife, and some old bits for boring. I made it in Somerville, N. J, and I was about 5 days in its construction When I first rode it the people in that place were very much interested, and the wheel attracted a good deal of attention. I have ridden the wheel some 4000 miles in all."

A description of this unique machine appeared in the Hartford Times, under the head "Not a Racing Wheel." We clip the following from that paper:

"The United States Express Company received this morning from Plainfield, N. J., a bicycle as is a bicycle. Compared with the racing wheel of Champion Rowe, it is somewhat heavy, but compared with a twenty-ton pulley wheel it would probably rank first in point of lightness. It is home made from the word go. The big wheel is an ordinary carriage wheel while the rear wheel is a round disk 18 inches in diameter cut out of an oak plank an inch thick, bored full of holes to make it lighter and having a thick iron tire. The fork is of carriage lumber, heavy and cumbersome. The backbone is not hollow, oh no, it is of solid iron hammered into shape while red hot, and rather rough at the fork for the rear wheel. The handle bar is of iron, with a heavy block of wood in the middle and movable wooden handles at the ends. Then there is a step on the backbone above the small wheel and a seat, a little beauty stuffed with straw and covered with a boot leg, and a leg guard to keep the muddy wheel from the trousers of the rider. The pedals are not exactly ball bearing, but square blocks of wood with small holes for oiling. Everything is complete; all the details are worked out. The machine weighs nearly 100 pounds and was probably made in a blacksmith's shop."

CHICAGO WHEELMEN ATTENTION.

To members of the L. A. W. and wheelmen in general:

Your assistance is requested in ascertaining the name of the gentleman who, accompanied by his wife, witnessed the accident August 15, 1889, at 6 P. M., whereby a wagon belonging to the Wells Fargo Express Co. ran down Mr. William Keese on Dearborn street near Van Buren, Mr. Keese at the time riding a safety bicycle. Mr. Keese was riding on the proper side of the street, and the wagon referred to was coming in the opposite direction at a rapid pace on the same side, the wrong side for the wagon, the result being that Mr. Keese was thrown from his wheel and the latter completely wrecked.

Among the witnesses of the accident were a gentleman and his wife, the former of whom started after the wagon to learn its number. Mr. Keese was unable to see him again to learn his name and address, and it is for the purpose of obtaining this information that this circular is sent you. Please inquire of your wheeling friends, whether members of the L. A. W. or not, and if you can find any trace of the witnesses we are in search of, please confer with the undersigned. Yours fraternally,

W. A. DAVIS, Chief Consul.

THAT INDIANAPOLIS TO CINCINNATI RIDE.

Editor Bicycling World: A week or so ago your Chicago correspondent, and I think also your Cincinnati correspondent, made the statement that a party of Chicago Wheelmen consisting of the four Thorns, Roe, Van Sicklen and two others had ridden from Indianapolis to Cincinnati via Richmond and Hamilton, a distance of 140 miles in one day arriving at Cincinnati at 11 P. M. There is nothing particularly remarkable in the performance, if it was actually accomplished, but it was not, and your correspondents have been imposed upon. I happen to know that the party while at Cincinnati made much ado over the alleged ride and pretended, some of them at least, to be pretty well done up.

I have also learned that the party, instead of riding the distance alleged, rode from Indianapolis to this place via Knightstown, a distance of 50 miles arriving here late in the evening.

They took supper here at Can's restaurant, where they made the acquaintance of a local detective and took the 7 48 P. M. train for Cincinnati, where they arrived at 11 P. M., the time they claimed to have arrived per wheel.

I am aware that wheelmen like fishermen are allowed great liberties with the truth, but sometimes truth is worked too hard, and a respect for this virtue impels me to give you these facts, in the hope they may reach the public through your columns.

Rushville, Ind. "RUSH"

TAXES ON CYCLES IN ENGLAND.

REFERRING to the suggested tax on cyclists, a London correspondent to the Pall Mall Gazette says it is by no means new. It has been proposed to Mr. Goschen over and over again, and has been considered by him. In his last budget he was invited to place a tax on cycles in order to relieve some of the burden he was prepared to impose by means of the wheel and van tax. The tax need not be heavy. It is roughly estimated that there are about 500,000 cycles on the road, and a tax of 2s. 6d. on each of these would add £62,500 to the resources of the Exchequer. Cyclists, as a class, would not object to the tax. It would give them the recognized status they have long desired. It is of little use for them to complain to the local authorities under present conditions of the state of the road. They at once retort that the wheelmen do their best to cut up the surface, but contribute nothing towards its repair. Half a crown would not be an excessive contribution. No one, surely, would object to paying so small an amount, and, so long as it was accepted as a recognition of the cyclist's rights upon the road, it would be welcomed rather than decried.

MEETING OF THE OHIO DIVISION L. A. W. AT CINCINNATI, OHIO.

A LARGE and important meeting of the officers and representatives of the Ohio Division L. A. W. was held at the rooms of the Cincinnati Bicycle Club, Sept. 28th. It was decided to hold the next State meet in Cincinnati, between July 15 and August 15, 1890. Arrangements are to be made to have several of the State championships and one of the national championship races run there at that time. The following delegates to the National Assembly were elected: T. J. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, George Collister of Cleveland, A. E. Morgenthaler of Fostoria and Frank C. Meyer of Canton. The Chief Consul, M. A. High of Cincinnati, appointed the following committee on Rights and Privileges: Frank Jay of Canton, James Hodge of Toledo and Sam Goodman of College Hill. The Chief Consul also appointed the following committee on improvements of highways: T. J. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, H. E. Chubb of Cleveland, D. C. H. Griffin of Ravenna.

The board of officers indorsed J. R. Dunn of Massillon, the present Vice President of the National Association, for the next president of that organization.

COMING EVENTS.

AT BERGEN POINT, N. J.—The bicycle tournament of the N. J. A. C., to take place on October 12, at Bergen Point, will be a great event among the wheelmen. The club have put a force of men to work on its quarter-mile track, and it is being rolled and scraped into record breaking shape. The entry list contains such names as Crist, Phil Brown, W. D. and A. C. Banker, Schoefer, Schumacher, Hendee, Taxis, and other well-known flyers, and of course the N. J. A. C. team. The list of prizes consists of watches, dressing cases, diamond rings, scarf pins, and other useful articles.

AT TAUNTON, MASS.—There will be some excellent wheel racing at the Taunton Fair Grounds, on Saturday, October 12th. The events will include a three-mile professional championship handicap, for prizes of $25 and $15; one, five and ten miles, for the amateur championship of New England, points to count, between Anthony of Taunton, Berlo of Boston, and Van Wagoner of Newport, for a medal valued at $150; five-mile bicycle race, trotter vs. R. A. Neilson; three-mile safety race, for two prizes. L. A. W. rules will govern the amateur events.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.)

AT BOSTON, Oct. 5th.—The road races under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association were run last Saturday over the courses as printed in these columns in the past two or three issues. The routes, however, were slightly changed in order to give a better turning point and full distance.

Much regret was felt that Van Wagoner was not on hand to try conclusions with his old competitor, Anthony. However, a splendid field of starters faced Mr. Cornish for the 25 miles event, and were as follows:

Edward C. Anthony, Taunton, Mass.; A. P. Benson, Dorchester Bicycle Club; W. E. McCune, Everett, Mass.; Arthur W. Porter, Newton, Mass; Victor Menns, Coventry Machinists' Co.; W. S. Doane, Dorchester Bicycle Club; E. B. Richardson, Arlington, Mass.; W. Morris Greenwood, Lynn, Mass.; David Drummond, Boston.; Frank M. Dampman, Warren Athletic Club; B. Frank McDaniel, Wilmington, Del.

Anthony at once took up the running and set a hot pace all the way out to Wellesley; his close attendants were Dampman, Drummond and Benson, the others stringing.

Doane quit at Coolidge Corners, he having not been well his stomach went back on him. Richardson's machine broke early in the race and he stopped.

On the run home and while coming over the hill back of Reservoir, Dampman challenged and took the lead at a leisurely pace, with Anthony, Benson and Drummond well up. In coming out through the Reservoir gate, Dampman took the turn to the right and did not discover his mistake until he had rid en a couple of hundred yards. He turned about and started after the other fellows and had caught all but Anthony when he took a header, falling heavily and smashing his bicycle (an ordinary). Dampman was dazed, but by the time he had pulled himself together, a man on a safety came along and he got on this safety. The reach was too long, but the plucky little man kicked along until he met another cyclist on a safety. This he took and it fitted him better. By this time Anthony and Benson had got a long lead and they finished in the following order:

E. C. Anthony, 1; time, 1.36.17.
A. P. Benson, 2; time, 1.36.44 2-5.
F. M. Dampman, 3; time, 1.37.15 2-5.

Without taking one iota from the excellence of Anthony's and Benson's performance, we cannot but call attention to Dampman's achievement under difficulties. He had never ridden a safety half a mile in his life, yet he went out of his way, took a stunning header, rode two strange safety machines, and finished third, 1m. 2s. behind the leader.

The 12 1-2-mile race brought out the following men:

W. B. Greenleaf, Harvard Bi. Club, Cambridge; Otto Bolkoff, Boston; F. W. Fisher, Boston; E. J. Clark, Dorchester; James

Keltie, Roxbury Bi. Club; E. A. Bailey, Harvard Athletic Association; P. J. Berlo, South Boston; A. H. Morse, Hyde Park; L. D. Whittemore, Jr., Newton; H. G. Batchelder, Allston; R. F. McLaren, Clinton; Arthur H. Bullard, Boston; Thomas Graham, Boston.

Fisher did the donkey work nearly the whole distance, followed closely by Berlo and Bailey. On coming home Bailey pushed to the front, and held that position until within 100 yards of the finish, and then to the surprise of all he let up under the false impression that he had reached the finish. Berlo was right up and the next moment he shot to the front and finished first. Results:

P. J. Berlo, 1; time, 47.10 4-5.
E. A. Bailey, 2; time, 47 20 4-5.
F. W. Fisher, 3; time, 48 40.

The two-mile boys' race resulted as follows: J. M. Harden, 1; T. J. Stevenson, 2; Fred Horne, 3. Time, 9 18 2-5.

After the races the medals were presented to the first, second and third man in each event. The medals were very handsome and massive.

AT PEORIA, ILL., Oct. 4—The first day's racing at Peoria was a grand success from all standpoints. The track (1-2 mile) at Lake View was in splendid condition and the spectators had the satisfaction of seeing a couple of records go by the board. The tandem safety one mile record was placed at 2.33, but it must be remembered that the 2.37 of the Banker Brothers is the record which stands with the L. A. W., as that was done in competition, while the record of Lumsden and Winship was made against time, and it will stand as record as being the "best vs. time.". Lumsden and Winship, however, placed the two mile tandem record in competition at 5.21 1-2.

The second day was also a success although a strong breeze made record breaking impossible. This explains the comparatively slow time as compared with yesterday, when the novices ran in 2.52. The racing men all unite in declaring the track one of the fastest, if not the fastest, in America.

The races to-day were all close and interesting and the audience, which was composed of wheelmen from all parts of the country, and the very best people of Peoria, numbering about 3000, was wild with enthusiasm. In the most of the races the leaders ran in a bunch while the first, second and third men could usually be covered by a blanket.

The mile open was the event of the day and the immense audience fairly went wild when Myers came in first, defeating A. C. Banker, Lumsden, Winship, Campbell, Thorne, Tuttle, Van Wagoner and Van Sicklen. Van Sicklen set a furious pace from the start and the riders rode in a compact bunch with little or no change of position until the last quarter, when Myers made a magnificent spurt, which he maintained to the tape, passing and going around the entire bunch, despite the best endeavors of Banker, Lumsden, Tuttle and the rest to hold their lead.

The ten-mile scratch race had been looked forward to with great interest, which was not a little intensified by the outcome of the mile race. The men again rode in a bunch, save that Van Sicklen broke his wheel, and lost so much time getting a new one that he was compelled to drop out at seven miles, despite a long and plucky endeavor to regain his lost ground. Myers again trailed the field, and at the last quarter made his usual terrific spurt, but Lumsden held his lead, and won by about three lengths, while Myers and Thorne had a desperate struggle for second. Myers gained the lead, but held up slightly a few feet from the scratch, while Thorne continued his speed, so the two crossed the tape side by side. Everybody thought that Myers led by about four inches, but the judges decided that Thorne led by an inch, and the announcer so announced. The audience thought the announcer mistaken, and ladies frantically corrected him, but the decision stood, amid universal protests. Mr. Vail, the Peoria judge, insisted on awarding second to the Chicago man, and it was so settled.

Peoria's ability to give a first-class tournament is fully proven. Five thousand people would undoubtedly have been on the grounds to-day but that it was chilly and uncomfortable. That another tournament will be given next year is a foregone conclusion.

As I write a smoker is in progress at the club rooms, and music, speeches, refreshments, etc., are making the wheelmen happy. Visitors universally speak in the highest terms of praise, and one and all avow their determination to be on hand next year. Peoria is unquestionably the Hartford of the West.

FIRST DAY, OCTOBER 4.

One-mile novice—A. D. F. Simmons, 1; A. G. Baine, 2. Time, 2.52.

Two-mile tandem safety—A. E. Lumsden and H. R. Winship, 1; Bert Myers and H. Bates, 2. Time, 5.21 1-2. Banker Brothers' machine became disabled on the third lap and they retired.

One-mile 3.10 class—G. E. Kurtz, 1; G. K. Barrett, 2. Time, 2,46.

Two-mile safety handicap—Bert Myers, 125 yards, 1; D. E. Avery, 235 yards, 2. Time, 5.41 1-4.

Three-mile team race—Won by Chicago Cycling Club, 118 points.—N. H. Van Sicklen, H. R. Winship, G. K. Barrett. Kenwood Cycling Club, 2, 110 points.—A. E. Lumsden, George Thorne, C. P. Belden.

One-mile. Peoria Bi. Club—H. J. Smith, 1; W. H. Kildare, 2. Time, 3.01 1-2.

Two-mile handicap—G. E. Kurtz, 220 yards, 1; George M. Skeer, 220 yards, 2. Time, 5.28.

Five-mile Illinois Division L. A. W. championship—F. H. Tuttle, 1; Bert Myers, 2. Time, 15.18.

Handicapping this day was miserable, and Referee Prial, together with Handicapper Streeter and Manager Rouse, revised the handicaps for the 5th inst, and closer finishes and better races were the result, as following will show:

SECOND DAY, OCTOBER 5.

One-mile handicap—A. G. Harding, 85 yards, 1; H. R. Winship, 20 yards, 2. Time, 2.45 1-5.

Two-mile, 6.20 class—G. K. Barrett, 1; Geo. M. Skeer, 2. Time, 6.17 2-5.

Half-mile safety championship Illinois Division—W. C. Thorne, 1; Bert Myers, 2. Time, 1.34.

One-mile open—Bert Myers, 1; A. E. Lumsden, 2. Time, 2.48.

One-mile safety, open—A. C. Banker, 1; W. C. Thorne, 2. Time, 3 29 4-5.

Ten-mile scratch—A. E. Lumsden, 1; G. A. Thorne, 2. Time, 31.53 3-5.

Very little loafing was indulged in. Referee Prial placed a time limit on most events. Young Winship is becoming very popular, and deservedly too. He will not cheat the spectators of a well-run race, and frequently sacrificed his chances by setting the pace when hissing by the crowd shamed none others.

In the one-mile open great speculation was indulged in as to whether the honor would fall to Lumsden or Tuttle. Myers was not thought of, but his wonderful quarter-mile spurt and final victory over the flowers of the West will not soon be forgotten in Peoria. To say the crowd went wild fails to describe it. Lumsden remembered this, and when in the ten-mile Myers attempted the same scheme, Lumsden permitted himself to forget Tuttle, and started and maintained to the tape a spurt comparable only with performances of such phenomenals as Rowe, Howell and Windle. Such men as Tuttle, Winship, Myers and Thorne seemed to cease pedalling and come to a standstill, as the little Chicago flyer flew down the stretch.

AT BRISTOL, CONN.—The principal attraction at the Bristol Fair Grounds, October 3, were the bicycle races. Fully 5000 people witnessed the events, which were as follows:

One mile open—Ludwig Forster, (1); P. J. Berlo, (2). Time, 3.27.

One-mile handicap—J. C. Woodruff, 25 yards, (1); Luther Miller, scratch, (2). Time, 3.16 4-5.

Three-mile lap race—P. J. Berlo, (1); L. Forster, (2). Time, 11.25.

One-mile safety—W. Harding, (1); D. C. Shea, (2). Time, 3.36 1-2.

One-mile 3.20 class—J. C. Woodruff, (1); W. James, (2). Time, 3.28.

The slow race, 50 yards, was won by F. A. Clark, L. Forster, (2). Time, 1.32.

One-mile open, handicap—J. C. Woodruff, 175 yards, (1); M. R. Holcomb, 150 yards, (2). Time, 3.16 4-5.

Half-mile run and ride—H. A. King, (1); L. Forster, (2). Time, 2 22.

Fastest half mile made in the eight races, Chas. H. Wood. Time, 1.28, made in the first half mile in the three-mile lap race.

AT FLINT, MICH., October 4th.—The sixth and last of the races for the "Willett Trophy," which have been run by the Flint Wheelmen, took place on the track of the Agricultural Society, on the closing day of their fair. As the three leading competitors had each two races to their credit, this race decided the struggle, and the excitement as to the result was intense. The track was rough and heavy, so the time was slow. Ellston took the first heat, with 20 rod start, in 3m. 16s.; second heat, B. Kellerman, from scratch, 3m. 20s.; third heat, B. Kellerman, from scratch, 3m. 24s., giving him the trophy.

AT BALTIMORE, MD., October 7.—One should come to Baltimore if he desires to see interest and enthusiasm on the racing question. Notwithstanding a bitter cold wind from the northeast, some 3000 to 5000 people turned out to see the great race for club supremacy, which was to be waged last Monday. Local interest was at fever heat, and good-natured partisanship ran high. We arrived at Druid Lake just in time to see the start. The course is a little over one and one-half miles, and the men were started from a line so that six and two-thirds circuits were made.

For the first five laps the men kept all in a bunch, with the exception of the Crescent men, who were "not in it," in fact the five representatives did not finish. The result is as follows, and happiness reigns supreme, and the handsome cup becomes now the permanent property of the Maryland Club, having won it three times:

Maryland Club:	Points.	Finish.
W. E. Crist,	20	1
P. S. Brown,	19	2
L. F. LeCato,	13	8
D. F. Bowers,	10	11
L. E. Barber,	9	12
Total,	71
Centaur Club:
I. Hinds,	17	4
H. Eisenbrandt,	15	6
H. L. Kingsland,	14	7
G. C. Widdekin,	11	10
F. Eisenbrandt,	7	14
Total,	64
Baltimore Club:
V. Emerson,	18	3
W. Ash,	16	5
F. W. Pope,	12	9
W. H. Mulliken,	8	13
N. Lowry,	6	15
Total,	60

Time of W. E. Crist, 33.37.

Good management was shown by those in charge. Chief Consul Mott had charge, and the cup, which was the gift of the citizens of Baltimore, is a beautiful specimen of the silversmith art. As this was the race which was to settle the question as to the permanent possession by the Marylands, it was a race for blood. President Luscomb, referee.

AT NEW ORLEANS, LA., Sept. 29—The match race between F. Mehlig of St. Louis and G. B. Guillotte of New Orleans took place at Audubon Park in the presence of over 1000 spectators. As the signal for the start was given, both men moved off rather leisurely, Mehlig setting the pace, which was very moderate. Four miles of the race were covered with but little attempt at spurting, but the contestants settled down to hard work; on commencing the fifth mile, Mehlig tried his famous spurting. Guillotte then showed what was in him by making a magnificent effort, catching up with the St. Louis man, and beating him by four lengths. Time, 18.45.

AT FALL RIVER, MASS.—On Tuesday, October 1st, the following races took place, under the auspices of the Fall River Ramblers:

One-mile—M. T. Deane, 1; F. H. Borden, 2. Time, 3.22.

Four-mile—F. H. Borden, 1; R. B. Hearne, 2. Time, 16 32.

AT NEW HAVEN, CONN.—The annual road race of the New Haven Bicycle Club occurred last week Tuesday; a distance of ten miles. A strong wind blew all the time the men were racing, and prevented record breaking.

C. E. Larom made the journey in 42m. 45s.; C. T. Atwood was second, in 43m. 35s.; C. H. Voorhees was third, in 44m.; J. M. Verhoff was fourth, and L. E. Smith fifth. The tire of one of the wheels of Verhoff's machine came off, and as a consequence the rider lost several minutes.

AT FRANKLIN, PA.—The postponed races took place at the driving park, October 5. The track was fairly good and the attendance was gratifying to the management. The mile heat, county championship, was won by Al. Steele. Time, 3m. The three-mile heat was won by Ernest Taylor, and the five-mile heat, all of the same race, by Chas. Steele. Taylor would not ride a mile heat to decide the tie, and the race was awarded to Chas. Steele.

AT YONKERS, N. Y.—The fall road race of the Yonkers Bicycle Club took place October 5th, over a five-mile course on Riverside avenue and the Spuyten Duyvil road. The starters were: C. B. Lockwood, scratch; H. C. Kroeber, H. W. Pagan, C. S. Burnham, J. J. Lawrence, S. E. Kellogg, E. R. Holden, C. P. Marsden, Jr., and A. W. Kingsbury. Kroeber won by a few feet over Holden, actual time 19 06. Burnham was third, finishing 10 seconds later.

BRET HARTE AND BILL NYE

Once had a funny time with a representative from the Flowery Kingdom, which caused Harte to arrive at the conclusion, "that for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," the aforesaid Pigtailed (in the wrong locality) individual was highly and exceptionally peculiar. You gentlemen who have ridden the Safety Bicycle UP TO DATE, have—when climbing hills---and attempting to ride through sand (we say THROUGH sand ADVISEDLY, you can't go over it) come to the conclusion---FREQUENTLY---that in the quality of PECULIAR "KUSSEDNESS" oftentimes exhibited, the SAFETY, GENERALLY SPEAKING, has no rival.

HAVE YOU GOT ANY SAND

IN YOUR LOCALITY???

If so, and you want to ride a SAFETY BICYCLE that will GO OVER IT and not leave a furrow resembling that made by a team of FORTY BULLS attached to a prairie land-breaking plough---why the way to do it is to BUY, OWN and RIDE a WHITE FLYER SAFETY BICYCLE.

AT BALTIMORE, MD., October 3—The fourth of the series of races for the championship of the Baltimore Club was run around Druid Lake on October 3. Victor Emerson finished first in 28 min. 57 sec., Wal. Lowrey second, time, 31.11; W.H. Mu liken third, time, 31.11 1-5; Ira Day fourth, time, 31.13 1-5. The handicaps were kept secret, but according to what was said by a member of the club, Emerson, scratch. Lowrey 2 minutes 15 seconds; Mulliken, 2.25; Day, 2.40. This would make Day first, Mulliken second, Lowrey third and Emerson last. Emerson's last lap was made in 4.36, Lowery's in 4.52, Mulliken's in 4.55 and Day's in 4 56, each being the first time around. The distance was six laps around Druid Lake.

AT QUEENS, L. I.—The third annual race meet of the Queens Bicycle Club was held October 5, and attracted a fair crowd. The track was in good condition, and the events were as follows:

One-mile novice—A. L. Stoughtenburg, first; W. H. Wells, second. Time, 3 14 4-5.

Two-mile handicap—First heat, W. F. Murphy, 25 yards, first; F. G. Brown, 55 yards, second; time, 6.16 1-5. Second heat, C. M. Murphy, 45 yards, first; F. N. Burgess, 110 yards, second; time, 6.18 1-5. Final, C. M. Murphy, first; F. N. Burgess, second; W. F. Murphy, third; time, 6.21 2-5.

One-mile Queens Bicycle Club—L. R. Doughty, Jr., first; A. L. Stoughtenburg, second. Time, 3.20 1-5.

Half-mile, boys'—Willie Bate, six years, first; Eddie Schwalbach, five years second. Time, 2.45 1-5.

One-mile safety handicap—L. R. Doughty, Jr., 175 yards, first; W. F. Murphy, scratch, second. Time, 3.12.

One-mile, 3.05 class—C. M. Murphy, first; F. G. Brown, second. Time, 3.11 2-5.

Five-mile championship of Long Island—W. F. Murphy, first; W. Schumacher, second. Time, 16.32 4-5.

AT BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—The four-mile road race between W. A. Rubey and W. A. Westlake, from the Rubber Works in Fairfield to the railroad crossing West End, took place October 2d; was won by Rubey in 13.30, beating his competitor by about one minute.

IN FRANCE.—M. M. Moussett, of Paris, France, on September 19, covered 177 3-4 miles in 11h. 59m. 50s., on a safety racer. This is record for that distance, beating Holbien's record of the week before, of 175 miles in 12 hours.

AT SPRING VALLEY, N. Y., October 4.—The annual club races of the Hudson County Wheelmen, held at Spring Valley, October 4, were a great success. The handicapping showed some very creditable work, with the following results:

Half-mile safety handicap, eight starters—S. B. Bowman, scratch, first; E. J. Day, 150 yards, second; H. A. Benedict, 150 yards, third. Time, 2 05 1-5.

One-mile ordinary, scratch, two starters—S. W. Bowman, first; E. J. Day, second. Time, 3.18 1-5.

One-mile safety, handicap, eight starters—J. M. Halloway, 150 yards, first; V. F. Meyer, 150 yards, second; E. J. Day, 75 yards, third. Time, 3.21 1-4.

Two-mile safety, handicap, nine starters—E. J. Day, 300 yards, first; S. B. Bowman, scratch, second; A. H. Benedict, 300 yards, third. Time. 6.57 1-2.—Boston Herald.

AT GREAT BARRINGTON, MASS.—One-mile safety, George E. Hinman, 1; F. Strevell, 2. Time, 3.42.

AT GLEN FALLS, N. Y., Saturday afternoon, Oct. 5.—The bicycle races that were postponed from field day, were contested at the fair grounds. First event, one half mile safety, S. A. Hays (1), B. L. Aldrich (2). Time, 1.45. One mile bicycle, J. R. Loomis (1), W. Lapham (2). Time, 3.31.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

SUFFERERS are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free, on application, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

COL. ALBERT A. Pope, the President of the Pope Mfg. Co., is one of the most convincing speakers in the city. When he talks he knows what he is talking about, and no man who can stand up can resist his argument in favor of cycling. The Colonel's last convert is Will Carleton, the poet, who has just purchased a Columbia Light Roadster Safety for his own use.

GREENWOOD of Lynn challenges Mr. Anthony of Taunton, the winner of the Boston Athletic Club 25 mile race, to a contest on the same course. Mr. Greenwood's handle bar broke in the late race and he wants to meet Anthony on equal terms.

THE output of Messrs. Hillman, Herbert & Cooper this year will approach ten thousand machines, principally safeties, of which a large number have been sold in this country, the firm's American trade having quadrupled in the energetic hands of Llewellyn H. Johnson. This gentleman has made the name "Premier" a household word in clubs and cycling families, being among the few who foresaw the future of the ladies' and tandem safeties, and was prepared to meet the enormous demand for those types this season.

THE Coventry Machinists' Co. score a victory in capturing the 12 hours' safety record, 177 3-4 miles made by M. M. Moussett of Paris. He did this on a Swift Safety.

HOWARD A. SMITH & Co., Newark, N. J., have one of the best things in the way of adhesive tire tape for holding on the tires: it's used on both continents. Every rider should carry a package.

THE "Cycle Chain Graphite" for chain lubrication, noticed in our advertising columns, is unmistakably meeting with increasing favor, the manufacturer reporting gratifying orders from the largest dealers througout the country, a recent order, (from a firm who have experimented with it for three months) being for an additional twelve gross (144x12).

A GENTLEMAN writing from Chambersburg, Pa., states that at Edinburgh he saw a Columbia bicycle standing in front of a store, and when the owner presented himself he proved to be a big, strapping fellow, afflicted with St. Vitus dance, so much so that he could not keep still while talking, and was continually twisting and throwing himself painfully, and often catching his breath from muscular contraction of the throat. He had much to say about the great pleasure he had experienced from cycling, and he volunteered to accompany us on his wheel. The writer had much curiosity to see how he managed. As soon as he took hold of his machine his nervousness seemed to instantaneously depart. With a graceful bound he vaulted into the saddle, and, quickly catching his pedals, he led us a rattling pace up hill and down for about three miles.

HOWARD A. SMITH & Co., Newark, N. J., are supplying almost the entire trade with tire cement, it's put up in sticks ready for use, and warranted satisfactory.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00.

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

The regular monthly meeting of the Massachusetts Division League of American Wheelmen was held at the Clarendon Hotel, Boston, Saturday evening, Oct. 5. Chief Consul Emery presided and the representatives present were Messrs. Dean, Kendall, Barber, Ford, Moultrop, Libby, Gorton and Gooch.

The committee on road danger signals reported that a sign board, warning wheelmen of the dangerous hill on Central Avenue, Belmont, was in process of construction and would soon be erected.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $785.73 on October 1.

There was considerable discussion regarding the proper position which the Division should assume, relative to the defense of wheelmen who may be illegally interfered with while riding on the highways. No vote was taken, but the prevailing sentiment seemed to be that in a civil suit, brought for the recovery of damages, the plaintiff should provide means for defending himself without expense to the League. In criminal prosecutions it was thought that it would prove advantageous for the Division to strive for conviction of the trespasser on wheelmen's rights, as a moral to future devotees of road-hoggism. The matter was finally left to the judgment of the committee on rights and privileges, who will deal with each case according to its merits.

The Chief Consul reported for the committee in charge that it was considered inadvisable to publish a handbook until next spring.

It was voted to allow the Chief Consul $150 per annum to be drawn quarterly for clerk hire.

The regular monthly meetings of the Board were considered unnecessary during the winter, and it was voted to hereafter meet at the Chief Consul's call, as provided by the by-laws.

Meeting of the Board of Officers, Michigan Division, L. A. W. September 20, 1889, Follett House, Ypsilanti, Mich.

Meeting called to order by the Chief Consul. Present, A. B. Richmond, C. C.; C. A. Conover, Sec.-Treas.; Representatives, W. S. Turner, H. M. Snow, and C. H. Smith as proxy for J. Elmer Pratt.

On motion J. E. Beal was elected delegate to the National Assembly with power to appoint a substitute in case he should be unable to attend. In the absence of any new by-laws, it was decided that the Chief Consul should appoint an additional Representative as soon as the membership passed each 100 mark.

Representative Snow moved that the Secretary-Treasurer get out a neat and suitable hotel certificate, nicely framed, signed by the officers of the Division and the hotel proprietor, and see that one is hung up in the office of every League Hotel in the State; also to prepare suitable articles of agreement as to prices, accommodations etc, to be signed by the proprietor and filed with the Secretary-Treasurer for reference, carried.

On motion, H. M. Snow was elected auditor for the ensuing year.

Chief Consul submitted a list of consular appointments which was approved. On motion adjourned.

C. A. CONOVER, Sec.-Treas.

Michigan Division, L. A. W.

The seventh annual meet was called to order by Chief Consul A. B. Richmond at 8 o'clock P. M., in the hall of the Follett House, with 63 members present.

Minutes and reports of last meeting read and approved.

The Chief Consul then read his report as follows:

To the members of Michigan Division L. A. W.:

As chief executive officer of this Division, and in accordance with the usual custom, I beg leave to submit the following:

I offer my congratulations to you and the Division upon the harmony prevailing, the quiet but effective work accomplished, and the bright outlook for the future.

In point of membership we have advanced from eleventh place last year to ninth at the present time, having passed California and Missouri in the race, and to my established ourselves in our position. This has mostly been done by the quiet individual efforts of a limited number. Much more can be effected in the same direction if each and every member of the Division will use his influence with outside wheelmen. Bring this matter before them in such a manner that they cannot fail to see the benefits of belonging to the League, and my word for it, by persistent effort, nine times out of ten you will accomplish your purpose and secure your man.

At the present writing we have a membership of 421. It has been one of my purposes and ambition to see this Division attain the 600 mark before the expiration of the year, and I desire, and ask the hearty support and assistance of you all to accomplish that end. The weight and force of numbers cannot be overestimated. Five hundred can accomplish much more than 50; therefore let us all make an effort to attain a large membership.

I was given authority at the spring meeting of the Board to issue a supplement to the Road Book at a cost not to exceed $15. Inasmuch as our increased new membership will require the revision and publication of a new Road Book the coming season, I considered it advisable not to issue the supplement.

Roads and road improvement is a subject of great interest to wheelmen. In this connection I wish to say, an effort was made to procure the passage of a bill through the Legislature during the last session for the construction, maintenance and preservation of highways. The bill was introduced by Representative Lowden of Washtenaw county, and provided for the dividing of the town-ships into highway districts, and the appointment of an overseer of highways for each district. Each overseer was required to give bonds for the faithful performance of his duty. His duties were to see to the proper construction of roads, erection of bridges, placing of sign posts and guide boards at forks and cross roads, the expense in connection therewith was to be paid by a percentum tax for highway purposes.

This bill would have done away with the present pernicious system of working out the road tax, and although not perfect in its details, would at least have been a step in the right direction, had it become a law. But about the time the Division Board were about to use their efforts to assist in securing its passage, Representative Lowden wrote me as follows: "House bill No. 534 was reported back to the House, by the Committee on Roads and Bridges, with an unfavorable report, and on my motion was tabled. From a careful canvass of the House I am confident it would not pass, and it will probably secure no further consideration."

I am informed from various sources that the former worked hard to prevent the passage of the bill.

The Legislature does not convene again for two years, consequently nothing can be effected before that time in this direction, but in the interim we should not be idle, but constantly agitate the question of road improvement through the medium of the press, and gradually educate the farmers to the fact that the improvements of highways accrues more directly to their benefit than to any other class.

In conclusion I wish to add, I thank you all, my associates in office and each individual member, for your assistance and support in the past, and forbearance in any mistakes I may have made. You have seen fit to continue the present administration in office another term. The duties of the present term will be much more arduous than the past, and I ask the cordial support of all the members in the performance of those duties, and in return I promise as faithful service as my business interests will permit.

Respectfully submitted,

A. B. RICHMOND, C. C.

The Secretary-Treasurer then read the following report, which was unanimously accepted:

To the Officers and Members of Michigan Division, L. A. W.:

Our Division has enjoyed a most prosperous year. Our expenses having been light and our renewals and applications having exceeded those of any previous year, we are able to show a good sized balance to our credit, and this it is hoped will be used to further the best interests of our cause, and of the members of our Division at large, by compiling, publishing and circulating road books, maps, circulars, etc., giving information regarding condition of roads, points of interest and hotel accommodations throughout our entire State, thereby adding and encouraging the most enjoyable part of wheeling, that of touring; also to encourage and advance the greatest cause to which the League has is dedicated itself—the improvement of our common highways—and further, to protect the rights of our members, which responsibility the League now throws upon the Divisions, as, they receive the lion's share of the fees and dues.

Financial exhibit for the year ending September 1, 1889—September 1, 1888:

The Secretary-Treasurer received from

Junius E. Beal, ex-Sec.-Treas., the sum of	$13-25
Received from sale of Road Books	5.00
Received from Committee on L. A. W. Relief Fund	27-57
Received from Abbot Bassett, Sec.	257 45
Total receipts	$303-27
Paid for printing, postage, stationery, etc.	39-04
Bal. deposited in Southern Michigan National Bank, Coldwater	$264-23
Amt. due from L. A. W., to be settled Oct. 1.	100.50
Total resources to date	$141-73

Bills for the above expenditures, with vouchers attached, are on file for examination.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) C. A. CONOVER, Sec. Treas.

The Secretary-Treasurer then called for an Auditing Committee to examine the books and accounts, and the Chief Consul appointed C. W. Jones of Grand Rapids, F. A. Vernor of Detroit, and L. S. Provin of Grand Rapids.

J. H. Johnson, Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee, made a verbal report, that all our rights were maintained, and but one case had come up that needed attention, and that had been promptly adjusted. He also mentioned the fact that there was one thing that might cause trouble, and that was too much "hoodlumism" at our meets, and cautioned all to remember at such times that they were gentlemen, and should act as such.

In connection with the rights of wheelmen M. Vernor suggested that every member of the Division had a right to vote at elections, as only 93 did vote out of a possible 300.

Chief Consul Richmond reported for the Transportation Committee that but one case had come up, and that was satisfactorily arranged.

In view of the fact that at but few national meets had Michigan had an official representative, Mr. Vernor moved that the delegate be allowed his actual expenses in attending the national meets.

Mr. Holcomb moved to amend by appropriating a sum not to exceed $50 for the expenses of the Michigan delegates attending. Motion as amended carried.

The Auditing Committee reported that the books and accounts had been examined and found correct. Report accepted and committee discharged.

On motion, adjourned.

C. A. CONOVER, Sec.-Treas.

New York State Division, L. A. W.

Proceedings of the annual meeting held Saturday afternoon, September 14th, 1889, at four o'clock, at the Club House of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, Brooklyn, N. Y., Chief Consul Bull in the Chair.

Mr. C. F. Cossum was appointed Secretary pro tem.

The Secretary, Mr. Nisbett, being absent, the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting of the Division was dispensed with.

Mr. Walter S. Jenkins offered the following resolution:

Resolved: That the thanks of this Division be tendered to the local Executive Committee, composed of Messrs. M. L. Bridgman, W. H. DeGraaf, I. M. Shaw, A. B. Barkman and C. C. Alden, who have had in charge the arrangements for this annual meet; to Mr. Simeon Ford of the Grand Union Hotel, for courtesies extended; to the Brooklyn Bicycle Club for the use of its parlors for the annual meeting; to the Long Island Wheelmen and the Kings County Wheelmen for the elaborate lunches provided by them at their respective club houses; and to the wheelmen of New York and Brooklyn in general, who have done so much, individually and collectively, to make this annual meet, despite the unfavorable weather, one of the most successful and enjoyable meets in the history of the Division.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

There being no further business to come before the body, the meeting then adjourned.

New York State Division, L. A. W.

Proceedings of the meeting of the Board of Officers, Saturday, September 14th, 1889.

Present: Chief Consul Bull, Vice Consul Bridgman, Secretary-Treasurer Nisbett, and Representatives De Graaf, Clairmont, Prial, Alden, Gallien, Wood, Cossum, Jenkins, Blackham, Bruch, McChan, Gates, Hydecker, Chapin, Shriver, Sheehan and McClelland.

Chief Consul Bull called the meeting to order at 11 A. M.

There being no objection the reading of the minutes of the previous days meeting was dispensed with.

Vice Consul Bridgman then took the chair.

On motion the report of the committee on Rules and Regulations was taken up and acted on seriatim.

The result of which was the adoption of the following amendments to the Division By-laws: In section 4 of article 1, strike out all after the word "Division," and substitute the following, beginning a new sentence: "Eleven members present in person, or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum, but no one except a Board member shall be entitled to hold a proxy for another member, and no member shall hold proxies for more than one member not resident in the same election district as himself."

Add to section 6 of article 2: "Proxies for members not belonging to League clubs may be cast, but no member may cast more than ten such proxies."

Amend section 3 of article 3 by striking out the words "and shall receive and in the presence of the Committee on Rights and Privileges open and canvass all the mail votes and certify," substituting therefor the following: "shall receive and in the presence of the Committee on Rules and Regulations open and canvass all mail votes and all returns of elections from the several districts, certifying."

Also amend section 3 of article 5, by striking out the last two lines of the section, as printed in the Division Handbook, and substituting "published in the first issue of the Official Organ after receipt by him of the nominations, in which it may be practicable for him to insert such notice."

Also in section 4 of article 5, substitute "tenth day of June" for "first day of July," and strike out all that portion of the section which follows.

Also strike out section 5 and 6 of article 5, substitute therefore the following new sections:

"Section 5. Should any of the Nominating Committees fail to perform the duty imposed upon them within the required time, it shall be the duty of the Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer conjointly to act in their stead, and also to nominate additional candidates for any district whose enrollment on the first day of July shall entitle it to a larger representation than provided for by its Nominating Committee."

"Section 6. Any twenty-five or more members of the Division may certify to the Secretary-Treasurer in writing or writings a candidate for each or any of the offices of Chief Consul, Vice Consul and Secretary-Treasurer; and any ten or more members, resident in an election district, may certify to the Secretary-Treasurer in like manner a candidate or candidates for Representative, not exceeding the number to which such district may be entitled under the Constitution, provided that all such nominations must be filed with the Secretary-Treasurer, not later than the tenth day of July."

Section 7. The Secretary-Treasurer shall publish all nominations received by him in accordance with the foregoing sections on or before the 20th day of June, in the next issue of the official organ but one thereafter; and shall also prepare ballots for each district, bearing the names of all candidates for Division offices and of all candidates for Representative from such District, who may have been nominated or certified to him in accordance with the foregoing sections on or before the 10th day of July. Each ballot shall also contain a sufficient space for the writing of additional names, a place for the voter's signature, and instructions as to how many candidates may be voted for each office. Said ballots, when prepared, shall be distributed to the members of the Division together with envelopes marked "mail vote," and addressed to the Secretary-Treasurer who shall canvass the same as provided in section 3 of article 3."

"Section 8. The Chief Consul may in his discretion order a poll in any election district, and at the written request of not less than twenty-five members of any district shall do so, for the reception of unsigned ballots but any duly qualified member who does not vote at such a poll shall have the right to vote a signed and sealed ballot, addressed to the Secretary-Treasurer and filed with him not later than the 15th day of August. In case a poll is held, the time and place thereof shall be prescribed by the Chief Consul. Each voter shall clearly designate his choice for each office by placing a cross mark (X) opposite the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he desires to vote; and no ballots shall be counted upon which more names are so designated for each office than the district is entitled to elect. The Election Board in each district where a poll is held shall, within three days after the 15th day of August, meet and canvass all votes deposited with them, and make return thereof to the Secretary-Treasurer, who shall certify the final result of the election to the Chief Consul, as provided in section 3 of article 3."

Add new section to article 3 to read as follows: Section 5. Local Consuls, to be appointed or removed by the Chief Consul at his pleasure, shall act as his deputies and under his orders in the selection of and arrangements with League Hotels or repairers, and for such other local work as may be assigned to them by him, such as the collection of reports upon the condition of roads or the action of local authorities in relation to cycling. They shall furnish to individual members such reasonable information and assistance as they may be called upon to give and shall use their best endeavors to maintain and increase the membership of the League within their several localities, by such services as the Chief Consul may require them to render, including the solicitation of applications and renewals, but shall not be required to entertain touring wheelmen or to furnish to them any information other than may be covered by the general rules laid down from time to time by the Chief Consul, for which purpose he shall supply them with printed blanks at the expense of the Division."

Add to section 1 of article 4, the following: "and shall be entitled to cast, through duly accredited delegates, at any Division meeting, one vote for each member of said club in good standing upon the rolls of the Division."

Amend section 3 of article 6, to read as follows: "The Committee on Executive and Finance shall have general supervision and control over the finance and expenses of the Division, subject to such instructions as may be given by the Board of Officers and shall designate from time to time what newspaper or other medium is to be accepted as the Official Organ of the Division, but shall have no power to render the Division liable for any expense in connection with such organ, without authority from the Board of Officers."

Amend Sec. 4 of Art. 6, to read as follows: "The duties of the Committees on Rights and Privileges, Rules and Regulations, and Improvement in Highways, other than those assigned them by any specific provision of these By Laws, shall be for each such as are the duties of the corresponding committees of the National Association."

Add to Sec. 1 of Art. 8 the following: "But, upon petition to the Chief Consul, signed by not less than fifteen members of the Board or one hundred members of the Division, a mail vote of the entire Division shall be ordered on the question of sustaining or reversing the action of the Board, which shall be decided by a majority of the votes cast."

Dr. Blackham—I beg to present the report of the Executive Committee on the report of the Secretary-Treasurer. We have examined all the vouchers, and are very much pleased to report that we find them correct and in very excellent shape.

Mr. Prial—I move that the report be accepted. Motion seconded and carried.

On motion of Mr. De Graaf an allowance of $600 was made to the Chief Consul to defray the expenses of his office for the coming year.

On motion the Secretary-Treasurer was allowed such sums not exceeding $150 as may be necessary to defray the expenses of his office for the coming year.

On motion the Chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee was appointed the attorney and counsel of the Division until the February meeting, and was allowed a retainer of $100.

On motion action on a telegram from the International Wheelmen of Niagara Falls asking that the next meet be held there, was laid over until the February meeting for action, and the Secretary instructed to acknowledge the same.

Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Chairmont were appointed tellers. The votes for delegates having been cast the tellers canvassed the votes and reported the following as a result of the ballot:

W. S. Jenkins, Buffalo, 14; G. R. Bidwell, New York, 13; C. W. Wood, Syracuse, 13; Geo. E. Blackham, Dunkirk, 13; M. Furst, Brooklyn, 13; E. J. Shriver, New York, 12; C. C. Alden, Brooklyn, 11; Henry Gallien, Albany, 11; F. P. Prial, New York, 11; W. H. De Graaf, New York, 10; C. F. Cossum, Poughkeepsie, 7; F. H. McChan, Buffalo, 5; C. A. Sheehan, New York, 4. Messrs. Jenkins, Bidwell, Wood, Blackham, Furst, Shriver, Alden, Gallien and Prial were declared elected delegates to the National Assembly.

Mr. Blackham—I am rather glad that Mr. Prial withdrew his motion to adjourn.

I have some doubts as to the advisability of votes of thanks to officers while still in office, but when an officer has retired from office, and if that officer has been especially acceptable to his Division, to the organization, on account of his labors for that organization, and practically by the success of those labors it seems to me entirely proper that he should carry with him into his retirement not only the gratitude and appreciation of the organization, but some formal proof of this.

I think every gentleman in the sound of my voice will agree with me that the late Chief Consul of this Division filled very fully the conditions which I have laid down as in my opinion entitling the gentleman to a vote of thanks. Mr. Bidwell's administration of the Chief Consulship of the New York State Division was marked in the first place by an attention to the interests of the Division, and in the second place by a remarkable degree of business and executive ability and by remarkable growth, not only in numbers but in spirit and fraternity and usefulness of the Division.

Under those circumstances I move that this Division extend to Mr. Geo. R. Bidwell, late Chief Consul, their hearty thanks and appreciation of his services while in office as Chief Consul.

A rising vote being called for, the question on Dr. Blackham's motion was put and declared carried unanimously.

Mr. Wood—I move we adjourn sine die.

Motion seconded and carried.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

AN OPEN LETTER.

We take this means of replying to a number of criticisms on our ad. of September 20th. We have the highest respect for a gentleman, whether his opinions agree with ours or not.

But prejudice is not argument, and even if it was it is no substitute for facts. Our excuse for living is something more than that no one seriously objects. Our primary object in manufacturing bicycles, or whatever, is to make money, or more properly speaking, that we may enjoy those earthly comforts which are purchaseable.

If we gain financially, how? Obviously only from the sale of our product. Who buys? Only those who choose to do so. Why? again. Because the purchaser takes only that machine, which, all things considered, seems best adapted to his use.

When we first talked Hickory Bicycles few listened, none believed. Wheels of the usual construction were selling well, but buyers shook their heads at this radical departure. We thought we were on the right track. Our present season's business makes us think so still harder and we have made hundreds of converts to this new method of constructing bicycles.

Our success depends, not on what you or we may think, but upon the correctness of our theory, supplemented by proper work and dealing.

We shall take this and similar means of addressing as many of you as will do us the courtesy to read, and for the purpose of inducing you to see and try the Elliott Hickory Bicycle.

We don't expect you to buy it to please us or because we shout and hurrah, or because we say it is the best. But if you should favor us with your patronage we must assume that it was your preference, and if, after you knew all about both, you should prefer another make, we could forgive you. 42 lbs. Price $90.00, "and we back 'em up."

SMASHED RECORDS.

THE TANDEM RECORD BROKEN.

× × × × × × × ×

Messrs. Winship & Lumsden, who had just won the two-mile tandem record in 5.21½, announced that they would attempt to break the world's record, one mile, on a tandem. The best record was made last September at Hartford, Conn., in 2.37½. The Chicago team made the mile here in 2.33 amid the greatest enthusiasm. The judges announced the time as 2.33, which beats the world's record by four and one-half seconds, although several horse timers on the track said the mile was made in 2.32½. At any rate the record was broken and badly. This ended the races for the day and the large crowd filed home highly pleased at the day's events. Messrs. Winship and Lumsden rode a Columbia.

THE BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.

Devoted To The Interests Of Cycling.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy. BOSTON, 18 OCTOBER, 1889. Volume XIX. Number 25.

WE'VE ⁘ GOT ⁘ 'EM.

Not snakes, nor anything of that unpleasant nature, so no alarm need be felt. The idea we desire to convey is simply that, although the many riders who were correctly impressed that there was nothing so good for them to ride as a VICTOR SAFETY, have been obliged to wait for them indefinitely, we are now prepared to furnish them at a moment's notice. We need not speak of the character or quality of the machine. If you don't know about it, ask its riders.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., Makers, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

BOSTON BRANCH, 188 COLUMBUS AVENUE.

A Philadelphia gentleman writes: "Are your wheels fastened together with HICKORY NUTS?"

We reply thus publicly, as others may have wondered if hickory was our sole dependence. No, the nuts are all clubbed off the hickory before we get it, likewise the bark. Neither hickory nuts nor any other kind are needed to hold our wheels together.

The idea that the parts of a wheel should be screwed together originated with a Chinese gentlemen named Wan-Te, 1284 years before Christ, but in attempting to use them it was found necessary to walk home so often that the thick wooden soled shoe was devised.

During the following year (1283 B. C.) a Chinese blacksmith in Pekin (whose repairing business had grown to enormous proportions, in consequence of Wan-Te's invention), began to believe that, although it was "nuts" for him, his customers were entitled to something better.

Meanwhile Wan-Te had grown rich and arrogant, and was demanding a royalty from all the repairers, to whose success he had indirectly contributed. This was distasteful to the blacksmith before mentioned, who, by the way, was a remote ancestor of the first maker of movable type, both indulging in the mildly profane name of P. Ching. But we digress.

The faults of the screwed-together wheels being apparent to P. Ching, he "set to work" to devise something better. The first wheel made by him is on exhibition at the rooms of the New York Natural History Society, cor. 11th street and 2d avenue. It was taken from the mummy pits at Dashour, Egypt, by the late Dr. Abbott.

It is of wood, has a mortised hub, into which the spokes were driven, several of which are still in place, as is also a section of the felloe. Think of it, dear reader, a wooden wheel nearly 3000 years old. Minute veins of red oxide of iron have been found in the same pits, which would indicate that some of the metal wheels were also buried there, though the last tangible trace of them was undoubtedly gone a thousand years before the Christain era. Metal wheels next appeared within a comparatively recent period, the reason why being set forth in our ad. of September 20th.

Replying to the question, "how do hickory wheels compare in durability?" we would say: "We back 'em up."

NEW MAIL

Values records of this sort rather than racing records. 'Tis a wheel for road use. In '87 and '88 also, W. F. Murphy rode over 12,000 miles on a New Mail.

Extract from BOSTON HERALD, Oct. 13.

Albert Beers of Everett is making a good bid for the Adams medal. He rode his 6000th mile of the season on Oct. 9. In the first eight days of this month he covered 485 1-2 miles. Mr. Beers has wheeled over 12,000 miles in the last two seasons.

MR. BEERS RIDES A NEW MAIL SAFETY.

This Safety Bicycle Bridle

is still in daily demand. Every mail brings us orders from all parts of the country and the trade are ordering them largely. A SIMPLE DEVICE for KEEPING the front wheel steady, and IT DOES IT. We repeat what we previously said. It looks as though every Safety Rider in the Country is going to have one. Only $1.50 by mail. We are sole Agents. Discount to the trade. Surely send for Second-Hand List of Bicycles and Safeties, just out. One New Mail Safety, second-hand, used but little, $85.00. One Humber, $85.00, and one Premier, $85.00.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 18 OCTOBER, 1889.

OUR paper is large this week, and though we have eleven and a quarter pages of reading matter, we had to leave out some interesting trade notes, picked up while on our trip, and also several interesting articles, among which is a strongly-written article on the Sunday riding question. They will appear next week.

THERE is probably no need to call the attention of our readers to the most excellent address, which we print in full, as given by Col. Pope, at Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday, before the Carriage Builders' National Association. It is a well-conceived address, and we are glad to see in this incident a promise of combined forces, the cycling and the carriage trade, to help bring about a better condition of highways. Carriage builders and carriage users are with us, for better roads.

IF time limits do not prevent loafing, why would it not be a good plan to have race promoting clubs assign certain of their fastest men to ride in open races and cut out a pace that would make the winning of a State championship in 3.56 impossible. Let the local clubs put in local club men to make the pace, and then if the great champion dawdlers want to win a race make them ride it in decent time. Why is this not a good scheme, and one that would be effective?

THE action of the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Bi. Club in suspending several of their racing men for riding at the Long Island meet under the colors of the Berkeley Athletic Association is commendable, and will no doubt serve as a check to those riders who, for "expense sake," give themselves over to a club in which they have no possible interest excepting the pecuniary one. We, of course, understand that technically these men cannot at present be adjudged professionals, but we miss our guess if the Racing Board does not form a rule so that in such cases as those under consideration by the Brooklyn club, the man who in the future joins a foreign club because his "x's" are to be paid will find himself on the side of the fence with the men who at least are honest and above board in their acceptance of a "consideration" to ride in races.

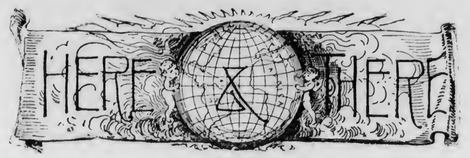
THE question of the League entering politics seems to scare some good people, but when you think of it, if good roads are needed and if the question becomes a political issue, why should not every wheel organization or individual cycler throw its and his influence for the measure and party which may aid in bringing about the great end?

ONE of the things that impress the cycler who, for the first time, visits Washington is, how is it possible for a man or woman to get along in that city of magnificent surfaces without a cycle of some kind. Horseflesh should be at a discount in the Capital, excepting when needed for hauling heavy goods.

The man or woman living in Washington who is physically able to propel a cycle, and who does not own one, is not fully alive to the value of time or the saving of wear and tear on their muscular tissues.

We cannot be so rude or ungallant as to say that the non-cycling resident of Washington is lacking in sense, but we cannot refrain from saying that there must be a lacking of something which prevents them from using a wheel in the "city of magnificent distances" and superb surfaces.

AS the time draws nearer for the nomination of L. A. W. National Officers for the coming year we note that the friends of several prominent wheelmen are already actively engaged in pushing the names of their favorite candidates.



Among the most prominent, we notice possible candidates in Mr. C. H. Luscomb, for re-election, and Chief Consul A. G. Mott of Maryland and First Vice President J. R. Dunn of Massillon, Ohio.

We have not heard officially from any of these gentlemen as to whether they desire it to be understood that they will come before the League for nomination and election. It is a pleasant thing to be able to say that it is not a question as to the "undesirability" of any one of the above named gentlemen, but it becomes a question of "comparative desirability." The League cannot go astray in electing any one of those named above.

FROM some unknown source there sprung a report to the effect that A. G. Mott, Chief Consul of Maryland, and "Perseus," of Philadelphia Sporting Life, were one and the same person. The false connection of these two names has been a source of annoyance to Mr. Mott, as "Perseus" is responsible for articles, the sentiments of which Mr. Mott is entirely opposed to.

We can assure our readers that "Perseus" is not Mr. A. G. Mott.

HERE is a nice "anti-bilious pill," taken from an exchange. It not only applies to Illinois, but to every section where bad roads prevail: "On Illinois roads a full load for a two-horse team can only be carried for three months of the year, two-thirds of a load for three months, and half a load for six. Every man who reads this can stop and think how much of the year any country road with which he is familiar is hard enough to wheel over it the full load which two horses can pull over a smooth hard roadway on which the wheels cut no ruts. If the average load is not as low as in Illinois, it will come near it. The Illinois roads cost $25,346,000 in extra hauling and reduce the value of farms at a distance from railroad depots by $160,000,000."

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

SHOULD the wheelmen of Boston, under 21 years of age, form themselves into a club, there is no doubt but that in the course of time they could command a great influence both in social and practical wheeling. Boston already has a few clubs within her borders, yet there is still room for more, and one of this description would be warmly welcomed by the older cyclists, especially as it would infuse new life into the sport of sports.

THE rain of last Sunday seriously interfered with the club and private runs of the day. Representative Pillsbury and Lieut. Sprague were sorely disappointed in not being able to attempt to make a century run to Newburyport and return. Nevertheless they will endeavor to accomplish that feat next Sunday, and the Charlestown Rovers will make the run to Woodland Park hotel.

THE Wakefield Bicycle Club inaugurated the social season on Friday evening, October 11, by holding its annual evening party. The ball-room was prettily decorated with the club colors, and many of the fair sex gained favor by an excellent display of the same. Mr. Edward A. Wilkins looked after the wants of the merry throng, among which were jigging and prancing couples, couples that flew around like imprisoned bees, and couples that glided past in calm and conscious superiority.

MR. ELMER G. WHITNEY of the Boston Bi. Club has more than a local acquaintance, and the announcement of his marriage to Miss Minnie Frances Dyer will call for the heartiest well wishes of the gentleman's numerous friends all over the country. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents at Watertown, Mass. The ceremony at the church and the reception were very largely attended and brilliant. Mr. Whitney's friends in the Boston Bi. Club did not forget to send a valuable token of their esteem. The gifts were handsome and many. Mr. and Mrs. Whitney will spend their honeymoon in Washington (D. C.), and upon their return will take up their residence at No. 106 Dartmouth street, where they will be "at home" every Wednesday in November.

CHICAGO

"THE STROLLER."

THE editor of the Referee is still sadly perturbed in mind over Tuttle's joining the Chicagos, and with a mournful wail insists that Tuttle must withdraw from the same and return to his first love, the Illinois Club, or racing on the West Side will receive a blow from which it will never recover. If Tuttle knows his business, and I think he does, he will continue to be a member of both clubs. In all local contests he will undoubtedly ride under the Illinois Club colors, and if a racing team is sent East next season, or to England, as the talk now is, in the Chicago Club, Tuttle will be a member of the team not as representing the Illinois nor the Chicago Club, but in representing Chicago, along with the other members of the team, and by remaining in the Chicago Club he can do more towards restoring peace and harmony between the two clubs, if he sees fit so to do, than any one in this city, and racing on the West Side will not suffer one iota thereby, Mr. Miles to the contrary notwithstanding.

WILL Lumsden remain in the Chicagos, or will he insist on his resignation being accepted, is a question that seems to be hunting for an answer at the present time. I am inclined to think that he will continue to be a member, as he has nothing to gain and much to lose by resigning. Arthur has an old head on his young shoulders, and if he thinks the matter over he will see wherein it is to his interests to still remain a member of the Chicagos. Whether he sees fit to race under their colors or the Kenwoods is a matter for him to decide, and should have nothing to do with his resignation.

THE Springfield boys of this State came very near making a bid for the League meet next year, and quite a novel inducement would have been offered as a means of securing the same. They would have made it a grand camping-out party, as here is where the militia boys spend their vacation each year. If the scheme had been looked on with favor they would secure the use of the tents, camp utensils, etc., and had a grand bivouac of the wheelmen instead of the regulation hotel and hotel fare. How our club liars would revel in a meet of this kind. Every evening by the light of the camp fires they could indulge in their favorite yarns to the heart's content.

THE burying of the hatchet at Peoria looked nice and reads nicely in print, but it struck me as being one of the greatest farces I have yet seen. Still, it was fun for the crowd. I shall anxiously watch Tuttle's course in the two clubs, as on that, to my mind, hinges the complete restoration of peace.

THE Illinois Club are highly pleased with the performances of their speedy novices at Peoria, but were rather disappointed in Tuttle.

HOSFORD and Randall came down to Peoria Saturday evening, to help celebrate, but were strangely missing all day Sunday. If any one asked the capitalist where he was all day, he replied, "Oh, I was with Randall" and a similar question put to the ex-President only resulted in a reply of "with Hosford;" simply this and nothing more.

CHICAGO wheelmen are anxiously keeping tally on Roe's progress eastward, and if he gets to Kansas City on time Birdie Munger will head quite a delegation, to go to the above-named city from here, to ride back with Roe.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

THE wheelmen of this city are congratulating themselves that on and after January 1, 1890, the ordinance relating to the width of wagon wheel tires goes into effect, and as a consequence the light paving of the city will not be cut up so much by traffic as heretofore. The ordinance provides that after the above date, double tax shall be levied and collected on any vehicle which shall not have a width of tire hereafter specified, viz: For all two-spring wheel vehicles, except drays, not less than one and one-eighth inches; for all other two-wheel vehicles, except drays, two inches; for drays, four and one-half inches; for all other vehicles drawn by one horse or mule and used for hauling merchandise or property, two inches; for vehicles used for hauling merchandise or other property whatever, as follows: For all vehicles drawn by two horses or mules, three inches; for all vehicles drawn by three or four horses or mules, four and one-half inches; for all vehicles drawn by five or six horses or mules, six inches; for all vehicles drawn by more than six horses or mules, seven and one-half inches; and provided further that the collector shall issue license only on the sworn statement of the applicant that the vehicle is to be used for the purpose as herein provided, and after January 1, 1890, that the with of tires is in compliance with the provisions of this section. The drafting of this ordinance was one of the last official acts of Ex-Commissioner Turner, and the strict enforcement of same will result in untold good and save the city thousands of dollars now spent for repairs on account of the inadequate width of tires.

THE engagement of Capt. Hildebrand, of the Missouri's, to a Kirkwood young lady is announced, and many riders are of the opinion that wheeling will lose one of its principal votaries on this account.

BROTHER MILES, of the Referee, is booming the Western championships for all it is worth, and the local riders are all becoming impressed with the great benefit such events would be to the sport in the West. Some have expressed a fear that a Western association could not be formed for lack of experienced managers. In this respect they are mistaken, as the West has in H. G. Rouse, R. D. Garden, S. A. Miles and L. S. C. Ladish, not to mention others, abundant managerical talent to insure the immediate success of such an undertaking.

ALL of the St. Louis boys who attended the Peoria tournament came home with glowing accounts of the excellence of the management and racing, and they all unite in saying that for racing, meaning the term in its actual sense, Peoria, with its extra fine half-mile track and such a manager as H. G. Rouse, stands at the head of the entire West. I should not be surprised to see them rival Springfield in its palmiest days next year.

RECRUITING in this State is not what it ought to be, and Chief Consul Holm is disgusted with the dilatory way some cities (notably Joplin and St. Joe) respond to the call printed in last week's official columns. Referring to the former town, Local Consul Case, of Carthage, says: "Wheeling in Joplin is about dead. It was too much scorching and tough riding that did it. Led on by a few reckless scorchers, the riders there rode themselves about to death and naturally got disgusted with the sport. By-the-by I will tell you a good one on one of their riders, who is a popular preacher and a good wheelman. Scene—Salvation Army woman haranguing a street crowd. Approach of the reverend wheelman on his high wheel. Salvation woman is telling of the different roads and ways that people go to sheol. Catching sight of the reverend as he whizzed by, she screamed, 'and there goes a man to hell on a bicycle.' The reverend rider must certainly have thought the devil was after him, for the time he made for the next dozen blocks has never been equalled by Joplin's hardest riders."

THE ladies' bicycle is coming rapidly to the front and the city now boasts nearly a dozen of the fair riders, who last Monday met at the residence of Mr. C. O. Hardcastle, and formed the "Fleetwood Outing Club." The membership consists of five ladies and a number of their gentleman friends. The objects of the club are to increase the interest in feminine cycling, and it is thought that its formation will tend to largely increase the riders among the gentle sex. The officers elected for the first year are: C. O. Hardcastle, President; Miss Nellie Ripley, Secretary; J. A. Blackman, Captain. The club will be a League club, and will be the sixth cycling club now in this city.

IF there is one thing I was glad to hear, it was the fact that the "expenses paid" amateur talent were sent home without winning any of the valuable prizes offered at Peoria. Taken individually the members of the Berkeley team are nice fellows, and not one word has been said against them on this account, but as the representatives of a large Gotham club, who have been loud in their boasting of being able to purchase all of the fast amateurs by the "expenses paid" racket, their defeat was hailed with joy on all sides. Lumsden, Tuttle, Bert Myers and others deserve great credit for showing this club that there are and always will be good fast men in the West, who, without the aid of a rich corporation, can make themselves fit to cope with anybody they may send out in the w. and w. West.

OUR local riders showed up fairly well at Peoria, particularly Harding, whose feat of winning the one-mile handicap from a field of forty-three starters must go on record as a very creditable performance. Our fastest man, E. Barnard, was prevented from attending, otherwise a few more prizes might have fallen to St. Louis.

PROVIDENCE NOTES.

"ELNOD."

SOME man by the name of Sam Beck, unknown by the wheelmen hereabouts, undertook to run a six days' bicycle tournament here, in Music Hall, last week, but at last accounts there had been a lack of connection somehow or other, and no one knew where the manager had gone. He evidently had skipped by the light of the moon.

MR. MCDANIEL was entertained on Sunday afternoon and evening by members of the Rhode Island Wheelmen, who endeavored to make his time pass pleasantly while in this city, he taking the midnight express for New York.

THE Rhode Island Wheelmen seem to be in a flourishing condition. There are already six applications for membership to the club for the next meeting.

SOME of the members of the Rhode Island Wheelmen went to Boston to attend the races of the Boston Athletic Club. Messrs. Bruce and Hutchins rode down on their wheels in the morning, "scorching" most of the way. Most of the party staid over night, and enjoyed the hospitality of the Boston Athletic Club in the evening. They started for Providence on Sunday morning on their wheels, accompanied by several members of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club and also Mr. B. Frank McDaniel, the great road rider of the Wilmington Club. None of the Boston men came way through to Providence, some coming as far as Pawtucket, where they took the train for home.

THE gallant form of one of the most popular riders in this city might have been seen doing the roller skating act with his wheel, on the slippery pavements on Westminster street, the other morning, and finally, after several ineffectual attempts to keep his equilibrium, he landed square on the middle of an Italian's back, who was at that moment leaning over his fruit stand. There was never a more surprised man than that "Dago," who for a moment lost his speech, but that he soon recovered and for a few moments you could almost smell the fumes of sheol from the Dago's mouth. No doubt the above rider will be more careful hereafter in riding over wet pavements.

A VERY pleasant club run was enjoyed last Thursday evening by the members of the R. I. Wheelmen. The run was under the command of the genial Capt. Kinghorn, and Warren was the objective point. After arriving there supper was partaken of at Coles' Hotel, and it is needless to say the boys did ample justice to same. The return home was made without incident worthy of note, otherwise than that it finished in a regular scorch with "Perk" in the lead.

VAN WAGONER returned from Peoria last week and speaks in very high terms of the Peoria and Chicago wheelmen, and also the treatment he received while there.

MR. CHARLES F. GLADDING, L. A. W. representative from Warren, was united in marriage last week to Miss Carrie F. Place of the same town. Mr. Gladding has a host of friends among the wheelmen hereabouts, all of whom unite in wishing him happiness in his new sphere of life.

SEVERAL of the Providence boys visited Taunton last Saturday for the purpose of seeing the races, and returned with the idea that the whole thing was a fake.

THERE are probably many that do not know the reason that Van Wagoner did not race at Taunton last Saturday, after having his name on all the posters as being in the race with Anthony and Berlo for the championship of New England. The parties getting up the race did not ask him if he would race and used his name wholly without his consent. Van Wagoner did not know anything in regard to the race until the afternoon before, when he happened to see one of the large posters. However, he would like to race Anthony, and will race him anywhere but at Taunton, Roger Williams Park, Providence, preferred.

BALTIMORE.

"NORVAL."

THE Baltimore Sun, which deserves much credit for its lively interest taken lately on the building and maintenance of good roads in Maryland (which is of great advantage to the wheelmen as well as the farmers), prints an editoral under the head of Public Roads in Baltimore County. The Sun presents cold solid facts before its city and rural readers. It wants the State to legislate and the county of Baltimore to borrow a million or two dollars with which some 700 to 800 miles of good roads could be built as a starter, and these, with the existing turnpikes, would give a system of permanent roads at an annual rate of interest not exceeding what is now paid for dirt roads. Such permanent roads would not only save to the farmer in the lesser wear and tear more than the road tax he now pays every year, but would give increased value to his land, while relieving the county from the reproach of having the worst roads of any that surround the larger cities of the Union.

THE claim of the Division against C. S. Wood, which had been standing since the L. A. W. meet of 1888, has been settled by the payment of $40.

THE Centaur Club's championship which was to have been run on Thursday, October 10, was postponed on account of a member of the club's flyers being out of town.

A GYMNASIUM for the Chesapeake Wheelmen has been ordered. Dances etc., will be given throughout the winter under the supervision of a committee composed of J. D. Wheeler, Chairman; W. J. Unverzagt, R. H. Leonard, W. G. Speed, William Holland and James Dunlap.

MRS. WILHELM, wife of W. I. Wilhelm, of Reading, Pa., while returning from the race at Druid Hill Park on Monday afternoon met with an accident which came very near resulting seriously. She is an expert cyclist and was bowling along on her lady's safety at a rapid pace when for some reason she lost control of her machine and was precipitated in the middle of the street. A number of carriages were behind her and one of them, a light buggy, passed over the prostrate lady before the driver could turn his horse aside. The wheels passed over her lower limbs, but fortunately did not hurt her as her bicycle protected her. Although the lady escaped injury she was very much prostrated for a time, but soon recovered.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA.

"B. B. B. B."

THE Corn Palace Bicycle meet was a flat failure as far as numbers are concerned, but the visitors that came enjoyed the visit or else my gig-lamps have for once blurred my vision. Graves, of Yankton, Dakota, took home a $30 cup and three other prizes. Caldwell, of Sioux Falls, captured a like prize in the three-mile race, and Parks, of Missouri, carries a fine silk umbrella and wears three medals that he didn't possess when he came to Sioux City, and perhaps he has a slight claim on the heart of a fair Sioux Citian, too. Case, of the Lincoln (Neb.) Wheelmen, left town with a new pair of bicycle shoes, a box of cigars and a bicycle bell (all third prizes). He is the heaviest wheelman I've seen on an upright, and looks as though he was built for a long-distance road runner. His legs were the envy of the spindle-shank wheelmen that gathered around him. Case stated that he intended to ride home on his bicycle, but as we have not heard from him and the railroad was so handy, I've concluded that he took to wheels more quick and solid. One first prize (half-mile dash), one second and all the safety prizes were won by Sioux City boys.

THE Corn Palace was a dream, solidly worked out, as people from all parts of the States can attest. Boston was represented by one hundred of her solid men, and they came out in a special vestibule train.

F. A. LUCE, our former Consul, has left for Chicago, and won't return until spring. This leaves us without a Consul, but as the season is about over we won't need him until the mercury again indicates summer heat.

A TRIP in the Winnebago County is on the carpet for next Sunday, for the few riders of our club. Can't say how many will go, but I know that it is a fine trip, and a person has a chance to study the red man to the best advantage. The Winnebagos are hard riders, and are well mounted but I think our rubber and steel can out-run their horse flesh. Will send in an account of the trip, and a few words on Sunday riding later on.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

"NOSTAW."

BRIDGEPORT, for a city of its size, is undoubtedly one of the most active wheeling centres in the country. We have now about four hundred local wheelmen, a large number of whom are League members. The Rambling Wheelmen and the Bridgeport Bicycle Club, two active organizations, now number over seventy members each. Safeties and tricycles are becoming popular with the fair sex, and a ladies' bicycle club has also been recently organized. It is to be regretted that about half of the members of the Brigeport Wheel Club are social members, and where part of a club are wheelmen and the rest are not, harmony cannot exist. The Rambling Wheelmen have adopted a wise course in this matter, and none but active wheelmen are admitted to membership.

WE received a very pleasant call from Norman W. Chandler, Consul at Palmer, Mass., Saturday. Mr. Chandler is on a two weeks' wheel trip, and was on his way to Bergen Point, where he expected to witness the races held last Saturday.

THE Smith-Northrop race was a contest between the safety vs. ordinary, in which the safety had decidedly the best of it. Northrop, however, would undoubtedly have made a better showing if his arm had been in proper condition. Why not now arrange a race between Fox and Smith? Now it is started, keep the "pot a-boiling," boys.

RAYMOND, of the Rambling Wheelmen, is deserving of praise for his earnest efforts in securing the handsome $25 silver cup. It is beyond doubt a beauty. The club have decided that it must be contested for annually, and the one winning it three years in succession becomes the owner. As no one person is likely to win it three times in succession, the cup may be considered as another adornment to the club rooms. It will probably be contested for the latter part of the month, or as soon as the Racing Committee decide upon a date.

AGAIN the inclement weather barred the "Bridgeports" from taking their proposed trip to New Haven Sunday. The Rambling Wheelmen had also made arrangements to take a run to Samp Mortar, but were obliged to give it up. Will somebody please apply a magnetic attraction to the storm clouds and draw them away for a few Sundays? By present indications it must be getting chronic, anyway it is decidedly monotonous and disagreeable.

SMITH felt so exuberant over his victory in the race with Northrop that Saturday night he purchased a box of cigars and treated the boys. When intending to purchase another time, however, he should first test the quality of the article before springing them on his unsuspecting acquaintances. It will probably be some time before he hears the last of "those cigars."

THE lantern parade Friday evening was a grand success, and the men feel quite proud over it. Like all lantern parades the lanterns are sure to go out more or less, but by frequent halts to light up the wheels made an excellent appearance. Where were the "Bridgeport" boys?

A LARGE number of the local wheelmen participated in the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the settlement of Stratford, Thursday, October 3d. The handsome appearance of the cyclers evoked continued applause, and was one of the features of the parade. They feel very grateful for the courteous treatment they received.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

THE Los Angeles Wheelmen held their semi-annual election of officers last night, (Wednesday, October 2) and the result was as follows: President, A. E. Little; Vice President, L. D. Sale; Secretary-Treasurer, H. C. F. Smith; Captain, W. S. Wing; First Lieutenant, N. R. Bradley; Second Lieutenant, John Tufts; Executive Committee, President, Secretary, Captain and Messrs. J. W. A. Off, Harry G. Stuart and Sherman Pease.

THE above board of officers is certainly an excellent one, in point of active and enterprising members. Mr. Little is one of the veteran wheelmen of the city. He will make a good President. The selection of W. S. Wing as Captain was a happy one in every respect. He is painfully modest in upholding the title of being the Pacific Coast Champion. All the other officers are wide-awake, progressive wheelmen, and the club will soon be out of the present "slough of despond." An active campaign for gentlemen riders of the wheel has been inaugurated, and the result promises to be successful. That the club will be soon in quarters commensurate with all prevailing ideas of comfort and conveniences of club life, is a foregone conclusion, and it will be a happy task when your correspondent sends the account of the Los Angeles Wheelmen's deserved prosperity. The number of wheelmen in this city is simply legion, and there are hosts of good members in this "great unattached." All that is needed is an unanimous sentiment, the sentiment to be: "Good members, good quarters." Result: Goodly numbers.

NEWS has been received that Charles B. Shannon of the Forest City Ramblers, Cleveland, O., who spent the summer wheeling in Europe with the American touring party, will soon be here to make this city his future home, in company with his parents. Mr. Shannon spent last winter here and made hosts of friends, and to say that he will be welcomed back again would be superfluous on your correspondent's part. Arrangements are now being made for a smoker in his honor when he reaches here.

A. L. ATKINS of Pasadena is putting new life into things bicycling in the "Crown of the Valley." He is now making arrangements for a road race on the 21st inst.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

THE Paris Figaro issues an edition daily, which is printed upon the second platform of the Eiffel Tower, 115 metres above the ground. One portion of the paper is devoted to a collection of the oddest of the hundreds of thousands of inscriptions that visitors to the tower have placed upon various portions of it, in which, as a rule, they have recorded their impressions of the vast column of iron that towers over all Paris. Among these I find one by an Algerian bicyclist, as follows: "La Tour Eiffel sera parfait lorsqu' on pourra et atte indre le sommet en velocipede." I consulted Louis Harrison about what this meant in plain English, and he said that the gentleman who had written it declared in the foregoing words that the Eiffel Tower would only be a perfect success when it had been arranged so that wheelmen could ride to the top of it on their bicycles, without having to wait for the tardy elevator. What an example is here of the ruling passion! Come to think of it, though, it would make considerable of a coast, wouldn't it?

THERE is a small speck of war here that may enlarge into a conflict between the L. A. W. and the A. A. U. Wheel clubs in this vicinity have very correctly grown tired of acting in the capacity of kindergartens and nurseries of racing men for the benefit of the large athletic clubs, and they don't propose to any longer submit to having their racing men taken from them by the inducements that the athletic clubs can offer them, through their greater wealth and ambitions. The error is one that is plainly and painfully obvious, but the remedy for it is not so easy of discovery, and I doubt if any permanent cure can be found until the L. A. W. enters the list as the champion of the wheelmen, which will, of course, force the A. A. U. forward as the defender of the athletic club's racing men, and then it will be indeed a battle royal between these two giants, the result of which it will be difficult to foresee. The purchase and sale of athletes has become an evil of the times, in the cycling as well as in the athletic world, and sooner or later it is a question that must be faced and settled. Racing men are controlled, handled and trained like a string of race horses, and if such be the spirit of modern racing, then it is indeed time to call a halt, and once and for all declare just where the majority of us stand in the matter. Amateurism has indeed become like charity, a mantle that covers many faults, but I fear that the covering is becoming too small at last, and we must cast it aside and seek to cure, not to hide, the evil it no longer serves to disguise. But what, my

TO WHEELMEN.

In answer to the numerous inquiries we are daily receiving, and for the benefit of those who wish to purchase Eagle machines, we take this opportunity of making the following statement:

All improvements which are likely to be put on Eagle Bicycles for 1890 are now in readiness, and we are now making up machines as fast as possible for the spring trade.

We do not intend to build a tangent spoke and hollow rim wheel. For a road wheel we consider the direct spoke much preferable to the tangent, for the reasons which we state in our catalogue. It has more elasticity and will stand more hard use than the tangent spoke. It is more expensive to make, but we use it in the Eagle as the best possible construction for a wheel that is ridden over rougher roads and subjected to harder usage than any other bicycle.

The Eagle, as at present constructed, has now been thoroughly tested by this season's use. It has far surpassed the expectations of its designer, and in the hands of hundreds of riders and on every kind of road it has proved its superiority over all its rivals. It is perfect and complete in all its details, combining perfect safety with ease of running, speed, strength and graceful appearance.

wise gentlemen of cycling, is the remedy? Know you it? I don't.

W. C. HERRING, an old member of the New York Club, who has been abroad for several years, studying medicine in the same class with Percy Furnivall, has returned home on a short vacation. Among the many items of news and interest regarding wheeling that he has brought me, is that we who remember Furnivall as an almost invincible man upon the racing path, would hardly know him now as the studious man of surgery and medicine. Mr. Herring tells me that the newer types of safeties in England are diverging more and more to the lines of the old velocipede. He says that the advanced machines have the size of the steering wheel greatly reduced, and the driver increased. The rider is mounted almost over the rear wheel, while the steering wheel barely touches the ground, and can be raised clear of it. The position of the rider necessitates an action upon the pedals very similar to that of the old velocipede, as the rider is forced to push more in a forward and less in a vertical direction than heretofore. Should this prove to be correct, I don't know just what we old timers are going to do for a new argument to replace the one we have always depended upon when we declared that it was the absence of this forward pedal action that made the bicycle so greatly the superior of the old velocipede. Really, makers before they go to work and upset all of these old theories of ours that have grown venerable through long use, should give us a chance to get ready to replace them with new ones, and not leave us entirely defenceless as in the present case. I am afraid that makers, though, don't appreciate the "old timer," as they ought to, when it comes to making an improvement in wheel construction.

A VISIT I recently received from Mr. Shaaf, at present of Chicago, but formerly of Buffalo, was to me like the re-opening of some pleasant book, the contents of which had become somewhat forgotten through a lack of scant reading. Mr. Shaaf is a firm believer in two things, Chicago and the bicycles built there, but that fact was never intruded into the visit he paid me. The gentleman and myself, aided by the "Old Vet," Pitman, spent an entire evening in the smoking room of the club, comparing notes about back numbers and things of that ilk, which always constitute the burden of a conversation when Greek meets Greek, in the form of a triangle of "old timers." I don't know when I have passed a pleasanter evening than this one was.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

So my very dear friend, W. J. Strauss, of the A. C. C., says what I wrote concerning his club is all a no such thing, and that I should have made proper inquiries, etc., etc. Why bless his little heart, if I hadn't made the inquiries I did I would not have said a word about the affair, for it seemed so improbable that a League club should be guilty of such actions. Investigation, however, revealed the fact that it was not only owing to their coming down the hill through the toll-gate four abreast, but to complaints concerning their actions at several other points on that road that day, that the directors of the Lexington Pike Co. held a special meeting and decided to again charge toll for bicycles.

ON the 6th inst., when the weather was so cold, raw and blustery that the mercury in the thermometer was obliged to crawl down into the bulb to keep warm, the C. B. C. took a run to Mt. Carmel. As the sprinkling cart had preceeded us through Eden Park we experienced no inconvenience whatever from the dust. We reached the top of Mt. Carmel Hill with only such minor mishaps as the Secretary losing his notes, Basson losing his breath, and the Chief Consul losing confidence in his hill-climbing ability. When we reached the place where we were to dine we learned to our dismay that as the "wimmen folks" were all away it would be utterly impossible to feed such a hungry crowd, and so, while the Second Lieutenant was hunting another eating place we amused ourselves by eating apples, drinking some very cold cider, and watching some very new piglets partake of nourishment, and then, as the cider had given us the chills, we crawled into a hay mow to keep warm. The house where we did dine had one of those open fire places that we read of, and which make such nice pictures, but which make one draw so very strongly on his imagination in order to get warm. As we sat around it, endeavoring to thaw out, the melancholy Buckles was constantly muttering something about a friend of his being interred somewhere.

ON the evening of the 7th inst. the C. B. C. held their ninth annual meeting. The Secretary read a brief history of the club, from its organization to the present day. The club is to be congratulated on its prosperous condition. It enters on the tenth year of its existence with very flattering prospects indeed.

I HAVE heard that the Toledo Cycling Club has ninety active members, but as the Secretary-Treasurer of the Ohio Division assures me that there are only eighty League members in Toledo, some of the Toledo Club must have neglected to keep up their L. A. W. membership. The Secretary of a League club ought to consider it his duty to see that every member of his club is a member of the League.

HARRISBURG, PA.

"CYC."

How often we hear that familiar expression, "All's well that ends well." When a body of men form themselves into a club, and at some period of their existence, strife creeps in, causing dissatisfaction, discontentment, and even a possible separation, I care not who the man is, whether he be to blame or not, there will come a time, when in his quiet moments he will think to himself that "what is the use in my acting thus? I will do my part toward a reconciliation." What usually follows? Men afterwards become the best of friends, and even better than before. How is it with wheelmen? I dare say that little or no trouble arises in their gatherings, and should there be misunderstandings, they will not be of a long period, for the memories of the enjoyable runs, the pleasurable gatherings and the quiet moments spent at the club room will soon turn his thoughts thitherward, and he will not be long in returning. Gentlemen, when a member is overtaken with a fault, let us show the true spirit of wheelmen and restore such a one. This is what we form ourselves into clubs for, is it not?

THE people of Juniata County availed nothing in their offering of money for bicycle races at their annual county fair, held some few weeks ago, not a wheelman responding. Why is this? some one may ask who is not familiar with our organizations. We answer, the "L. A. W. and its rules;" and who is it that is not proud that he carries in his pocket a little case containing a card, and who can show it to his friends and say, "I am proud that I belong to this organization?"

FOURTEEN of the Wheel Club, under Lieutenant Rohrer, spent last Sunday at Hagerstown, Antietam and Williamsport, returning home by train at midnight. They had a delightful day, and on every side could be heard this expression, "If we only had their good roads down here."

THE condition in which the river road is being put in is commendable. A short time ago, in order to get a pleasant spin of five miles, you travelled over two miles of as rough as is found. At present you get eight miles, including the Narrows, and in a short time the other mile will be in as good condition. How about lowering the 39 minute run then?

DETROIT, MICH.

"JUDGE."

IN its issue of October 5th, the Grand Rapids Star prints an article from a person who signs himself "Hawkshaw" (not our eloquent friend from New York, by any means). The whole article is a rather severe criticism of the State meet, from beginning to end. Now part of it is very unjust, and entirely uncalled for. In the first place the article says that the Grand Rapids party arrived in Detroit Thursday, but no one was on hand to meet them. Now, Mr. "Hawkshaw," I would like to ask you why you should expect to have anyone meet you here in Detroit, when the meet was at Ypsilanti. We certainly would have met you if you had notified us what train you would be on. The article also states that the races at Ypsilanti were not exciting or interesting in the least. As the representatives from the "Second City" in those races were handled without gloves, so to speak, I do not wonder that the Grand Rapids delegation found them dull and uninteresting. I heard a good many say they thought they were very good races. The article also says that Trainer Murphy, of the D. A. C., is a prize-fighter. Wrong again, Mr. "Hawkshaw." Mr. Murphy trains men for jumping, running, bicycle racing, etc., and Mr. Collins is the prize-fighter of the D. A. C., if you can call a man a prize-fighter merely because he teaches sparring for a living. As to the treatment the Grand Rapids party received from certain officials of the D. A. C., I think myself it was a little "ratty" after the offer the D. A. C. made the League as to use of track, club house, etc., during the day of the race. But at the same time they should be given credit for what they did do. They put up the finest lot of prizes ever awarded in this State, and gave us a very fine exhibition of racing. I know many of their members and they are all gentlemen in every sense of the word, and the club has that reputation throughout the entire country.

FRIDAY evening, October 11th, fourteen happy stars twinkled merrily over the Grosse Pointe road, bound for "Auntie" Weaver's and a good supper. Arriving at "Auntie's" we found the house closed, and all dark within. We whistled and called in vain, no one would answer. Suddenly Doane had a brilliant idea, and yelled, "Ed, come out and have a beer with us." Some one was seen to move in front of one of the windows, and we thought the little game was going to work, but Ed must have thought better of it, as he did not appear. We wheeled sadly away to the next road house, minus the fried chicken and tenderloin we had looked forward to all the evening. There we managed to get a sandwich and a "wash down," which partly satisfied the inner man. We then went on up to Lake St. Clair. The moon made the night like day, and the lake was like one vast sheet of silver. It was indeed a beautiful sight, and the man in the moon looked down on a quiet, awe-struck knot of wheelmen. Surely, no sermon could have appealed to the hearts of those gay, thoughtless boys as did those few moments spent with Mother Nature. As usual we returned to the city just in time to strike the sidewalk at eleven o'clock. Metzger, Beals and Downs went to Richter's for another lunch of a more substantial form than the one we had at the Pointe, and the rest dispersed to their homes. So ended one of the most enjoyable runs the Star Club has had this season.

SEVERAL wheelmen in this city are agitating a lantern parade, to be held in about a week. All wheelmen are earnestly requested to join hands and make it a success. Any wheelman who is willing to parade will please send his name to Mr. Robt. Medbury, Secretary of the Star Bi. Club, No. 7 Laffayette avenue. Now let every wheelman put his shoulder to the wheel, and make a good, grand success of something in the bicycle line in the "City of the Straits."

NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE second trial of the Boynton Cycle Locomotive and train only ran at a speed equal to about 20 miles an hour. No effort, however, was made to run at a high rate, as the track, 1 1-2 miles, was too short for a safe experiment as to a run at a "100-miles-an-hour gait."

WE regret exceedingly to notice the following telegram, dated Scranton, Pa., October 11: "The grand jury returned indictments for embezzlement and larceny against Cashier Jessup, who wrecked the Scranton City Bank by misappropriating $120.000 of its funds. It had been stated that Jessup would escape trial by reason of amicable settlement."

MR. H. C. TILDEN, of Milford, Mass., writes us: "I trust it will be of some interest to you to learn that a new cycle club has been organized in Milford, Mass. We have rooms in the new Gillon Block, and the said rooms, nicely furnished, were opened for the first time Saturday evening, October 5. We invite all visiting wheelmen to call on us and we will try and make it agreeable for such persons. We have about 30 members in the club, but hope to increase it before the winter season is over."

HERE is an historical morsel: One day in May, some eleven years ago, a solidly-built man of about 35 years of age rode down Main street, Hartford, Ct., on a machine that made everybody stop and stare. He was covered with dust, for he had been traveling overland and was evidently on business. He wanted to find some place to make bicycles. He found it. That man was Colonel Albert A Pope, and the Columbia bicycles are the result of this visit to Hartford.

IN speaking of the consolidation scheme between the Albany (N. Y.) Bicycle Club and the Albany Wheelmen, the Press sensibly says: "We call upon both clubs to let petty strife be entombed, and then we will live in the hope that before many days have gone Albany can well boast of an organization to which our citizens can look with pride."

W. I. WILHELM on his return home to Reading, Pa., was accorded a great reception by his friends in recognition of his victory at Baltimore on Tuesday, Oct. 8. The prize which Mr. Wilhelm won is a magnificent diamond badge valued at $150. It is in the form of a bicycle, the hub being a ruby surrounded with nine diamonds. This is suspended from a gold hanger by gold chains. On the bar is the name "Baltimore Cycle Club," and on a bar below is the word "Champion."

THE home office of the Overman Wheel Co. has moved to Chicopee, Mass. Please notice this change.

MR. W. J. NEWMAN, of Cambridge, Mass., arrived home from a six weeks' trip to Europe, last Saturday afternoon. He was met, down the harbor, by half a dozen friends, including Horace and Charles Clark. Mr. Newman reports a pleasant journey.

THE exact profit made by the Hartford Wheel Club at their late tournament is $1,361.00.

TOM ROE was some 50 miles behind schedule on reaching Bagdad, N. M. The cause of this loss was the accident to Mr. Roe, which sprained his ankle. The trouble is, however, disappearing, and he expects to be on time after a few days' more travel.

WE hear that the Hardin-Morgan combination is after all not likely to sail for Australia, the venture on the Pacific coast not having panned out as well as might have been expected.

THE Omaha Bee seems to think there is "more money in amateur riding than in professional."

A WHITE elephant is a great curiosity; a jet black elephant fully as rare; yet the manufacturers of "Cycle-Chain Graphite" report having received the latter in one of their barrels of graphite, skilfully carved out of a large block of Ceylon graphite by a native workman.

AN exchange says that "care killed the cat," but care never used up a bicycle. In fact, want of care often does more harm than the actual use.

IN a recent issue of the Centralblatt der Bauverwaltung attention is directed to the fact, observed in some of the streets in Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, that the asphalt pavement in the immediate neighborhood of large gas mains is rapidly destroyed by escaping gas, deep cracks being formed. This has been found to be particularly marked at places where the underlying layer of beton was imperfect, due to interruption of work over night while laying. If this be true, Building points out the fact that it furnishes an additional reason for preventing that escape of gas from the mains in New York city which has already given so much trouble by explosions in subways and sewers.

WE hear that Sam Hollingsworth of Russiaville, Ind., is seriously ill with a fever. When Sam cycled for a livelihood there was not a more honest, square rider in the world.

TOM ECK and his "fair troupe" of cyclists have just captured England to the tune of many "sovs." Mlle. Armaindo was inadvertantly poisoned by taking wrong medicine, and at last accounts was very ill in consequence.

THE cyclers and citizens of the cities of Baltimore and Washington are just now greatly interested over the idea of a grand boulevard to connect the two places. The Herald of Baltimore says: "It must be confessed that the subject has a number of alluring features. The very magnificence of the undertaking is calculated to charm the mind. Such a boulevard in working order, adorned with shade-trees, sparkling with fountains, gay with flowers and patches of lawn, and the whole distance on either side banked by splendid country residences, is enough to set the fancy wild with Oriental delirum. Besides it might be but the beginning of an Appian Way from the Capital to Baltimore and the cities to the eastward."

THE photographic reproduction we presented some time ago of the Elwell tourists was from a plate taken by Mr. J. Collier, of 66 Street, New Birmingham, England. Through inadvertance we failed to give credit to the source of the picture.

TWO members of the Denver (Col.) Social Wheel Club, C. A. Rivers and W. A. Hurlburt, started from that city to ride to Cincinnati, Ohio. They intend to cover the distance, about 1,300 miles, in three weeks.

THE Capital City Ramblers of Hartford (Ct.) a new bicycle club composed of young men and school boys, will have a race meet at Charter Oak Park, October 19. There will be no admission fee to the park.

MR. HILLIER ON THE BRUCE DEATH.

Editor Bicycling World: You say in your issue of September 13th that Bicycling News of August 24th prints an outrageous paragraph on the death of "Jack." Is that a fair statement seeing that the whole paragraph turns on my reasonable and certainly bona fide belief that Mr. Bruce was not dead? If I had known that Mr. Bruce was dead "outrageous" would be an absurdly mild and inadequate adjective to employ in this connection. I suppose any fiction is good enough to disparage "Hillier" but any unbiassed person bearing in mind the fact that the telegraphic message sent to England outstripped the mails and that when my American papers reached me I found (in effect) Mr. Bruce denying (as far as I could judge) in BICYCLING WORLD of August 2d, the fact that he was drowned on August 4th would admit that my conclusion that the thing was a hoax was a reasonable one.

I am at a loss to understand your final paragraph; I have nowhere said or suggested that Mr. Bruce sent or caused to be sent Mr. Stockdale's telegram from Minneapolis, the only telegram I supposed him to have sent was the one to certain persons in England who had shown him "courtesies and kindnesses," and when I saw your paper of August 2d I concluded that the rumor having started and having come by means of Mr. Stockdale's telegram to Mr. Bruce's knowledge he, three or four days later, had sent it on to England. That is the initial and only error I made, and I hoped that my explanatory article was clear on this point. I do not suppose that any one thinks that I deliberately sat down to villify a dead man but the merest hint or suggestion of such iniquity must be met when it emanates from a decent source, and I therefore address this letter to you to rebut the suggestion at once, and especially do I draw your attention to the unfairness of saying that my note of August 24th was written "on the death of 'Jack.'" Any right minded man placed in my position would feel as I do most genuine regret that such a paragraph—however bona fide in belief and intention—should have seen the light on the eve of so sad and so singularly coincidental a catastrophy; but I am no prophet, and cannot blame myself for failing to see into the future, it must be admitted that "fact is stranger than fiction."

WE TRIP IT TO BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

IT is a cardinal principle to always combine business with pleasure with us when possible, and so, obeying this principle, with business needs in Washington and Philadelphia, most pleasantly supplemented by a cordial invitation from Chief Consul Mott to see the races for the Citizens' cup, and to be his guest while in Baltimore, we threw a few toilet articles into our grip and on Sunday, October 6th, we started for the Monumental City.

The great team race in Baltimore took place a week ago Monday, and the report of same appeared in last week's paper. We arrived on the course just in time to see the start. A bitterly cold northwest wind was blowing, much to the discomfort of the participants and the spectators. The tale has been told, the Marylands won, and when the figuring of checkers and judges showed this result, a shout of exultation went up from the Maryland men and their supporters that accentuated the "coldness" of the day to those who had gamely contested but lost.

The club house of the Marylands was the scene of much rejoicing that evening, and the hospitality of the members was enjoyed and appreciated to the utmost A splendid spread was served in the gymnasium, and for a couple of hours the eating, toasting and speech making went on merry as a marriage bell.

After every body had orally congratulated the club and themselves on the great victory and after the members of the team had been toasted and thanked, and Captain Le Cato's efforts as Captain, manager and member of the team had been acknowledged, the gentlemen adjourned down stairs, and there found Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Coleman and a number of other ladies in waiting, ready to offer felicitations on the result. Music then formed a feature of the evening. Songs and duetts were rendered by the talent of the club. We were especially pleased with the club song, and the Italian duett as sung by Messrs. Lewis and Hayden was one of the best things of the kind we have ever heard.

We cannot name all the members of the club by name to whom we were indebted for courtesies, but among them we must especially mention Chief Consul Mott, President Norris, Captain Le Cato, S. T. Clark, Mr. Candee, and last though not least "Secretary." Good old "Secretary," whose writings have so often pleased our readers. The guests of the club on that occasion were President Luscomb, Mr. Perego, Dr. Gilfillan of New York, and the editor of the WORLD. The Maryland Club, and the memory of its hospitality and the hospitality of its individual members, will occupy a warm nook in our hearts in all time to come.

IN WASHINGTON.

Forty thousand Knights Templars, a large proportion of whom were accompanied by their families, made a pilgrimage to Washington last week, and, knowing that the hotels would be full, we wrote to Mr. C. R. Overman, asking his good offices in securing us a place to "rest" our head. The answer came back, "come to the office on your arrival and leave the 'rest' to me." We obeyed instructions and reported, and from that time to the moment we left town "good old Larry" devoted himself to making our visit to the Capital one of the most delightful of our life.

We do not propose to tell the sights of Washington a la guide book. These publications can do that better than we. The Washington monument in its superb simplicity, is one of the things in Washington that grows on one, as the sight of it becomes familiar. To us it is one of the most impressive results of man's work this country posesses. The Museum, Art Gallery, Capitol, Treasury, Patent Office, White House, etc., are familiar to most of our readers. We, of course, like the rest of mankind, admire all the public buildings of Washington and they contain things of incalculable interest but the most fascinating department to us is that of Patents. There is an attraction about that department which is far in excess of any of the others. Twice did we visit this depository of the inventive genius of the country, and could we have spared two days more to spend in Washington, we think each day would have seen us pay a visit to this, the most interesting spot (in our estimation) in the whole city of Washington. Truly the Patent Office possesses attractions for us, to which all the other points of interest in Washington play second fiddle.

Of course, while in the Capital, we saw Chief Consul Atwater, and B. Owen; to these gentlemen and others we are under many obligations. We also met Mr. J. R. Dunn, our 1st Vice, who was in Washington with his lodge of Knight Templars from his home in Massillon, O. As for the kind attention and hospitable of our friend "Larry" Overman, it will be a long time before we can ever get even with him.

BERKSHIRE AND THE HUDSON.

This region is so picturesque, varied and delightful, that every Eastern cyclist at least, in search of a tour, ought to experience its beauties. A great many wheelmen, especially from New York State, are always going up and down the "storied Hudson," but the number of those who have travelled through Western Massachusetts is much more limited.

The particular party here mentioned—all L. A. W. members, of course, and consisting of Messrs. Allen Aldrich and J. D. Bosworth, with your scribe, started bright and early on August 21 from Providence, R. I., to Springfield, Mass., stopping over at Worcester to ride to the beautiful Hospital grounds, from which point is obtained a commanding view of Lake Quinsigamond, to the base of the Blue Hills. Then back again to the tune of the small boy's song of "where did you get that hat?" (Aldrich's white helmet,) to the busy streets, gay shops, and stately churches. The architecture of Dr Vernon's Episcopal church is especially noteworthy. Its griffin tower, its ivied and adorned front and unique porch have been crystallized in splendid brown-stone, enduring ideals of beauty, while the daily services held therein realize the ever-present life of the kindly offices of religion.

Springfield is a pretty city and has much to command attention. There are the Warwick Cycle Co's works, where visitors are cordially received, the office of the Springfield Republican, a striking building finished in copper and reminding one of an Oriental mosque, the park and the Soldiers' monument, one always sees from appreciative citizens to the loyal dead, and lastly the Haynes Hotel—the League house—and its welcome dinner, for a wheelmen always owns a coming, a staying and an ever abiding hunger.

Here our actual wheeling began. The road from Springfield to Holyoke is in first-class condition and mostly follows the beautiful windings of the placid Connecticut River valley through finely cultivated farming lands. Farther along a cinder path, laid at considerable expense by the Northampton wheelmen, (since the edition of the road book) allows good travelling alongside a tough road of deep sand. We here begin to find the cold spring water, carefully conducted by pipe or trough to an iron tank or wooden cask beside the road—a thoughtful attention which the people in other sections of the country might happily copy. In fact, nothing but praise can be said of the hospitable feeling often evinced and even showered upon the traveller.

At Northampton the local club is at present disbanded, but there are a number of wheelmen and the prospects for re-organization in the fall or spring are good. We were shown around town to the various points of interest, including Smith College, informed as to a route to North Adams, and the following morning escorted part of the way by the genial instructor of music at the college.

This route to North Adams is not given in the road-book and was the most arduous part of our trip. Much of it is through sand, over hills and necessitates a great deal of walking. The scenery, however, is of the finest and much of the road is shaded, and so, if there are several wheelmen together to brace up one another, the trip by wheel, instead of taking refuge in a railroad car, is recommended. There are rare plants and wild flowers to delight the eye and fine springs and delicious blackberries to cool the palate. We were only able to reach Goschen at noon for dinner, and at dark in the evening could get no farther than Savoy P. O. From Goschen on, there is good coasting coming down the heights climbed in the morning, and some stunning gorges alongside the way. The wheelman, both for beauty and somewhat more comfort, should take the river road from Goschen on, passing through West Cummington. As one is going thus northwesterly, the river runs in the opposite direction, its murmur over the rocks, its coolness and growth of shade, although a small stream, are elements for favorable consideration. The road also is not so hilly as others, and in this particular case shows no more sand by reason of the lower level.

The Green Mountain House at Savoy merits attention. Its exterior is not so particularly prepossessing, but inside there is revealed the old New England neatness and order, a wholesome table, soft, drowsy beds with fine, white linen and picturesque comforters, handsome old oak and maple furniture, gilt-encased mirrors encircled with gauzy coverings, and above all sunny hearts attuned to the divine influences of "music, heavenly maid;" while our hostess presided over the keys, we stood around and joined a while in the lighter melodies, and then for the nonce listened to some of the sounds that are set for the charm of trained voices.

The next noon found us at North Adams, fraternizing with its whole-souled wheelmen. We did not, however, meet the Local Consul; in fact we understood that though Captain of a club which had not sufficient interest to keep any headquarters he had never seen fit to procure any wheel of his own. It would seem, accordingly, that his appointment as Consul must have been somewhat accidental. While criticising, by the way, it might seem desirable to suggest to local bicycle clubs the propriety of posting on the door of their rooms, and of leaving at the League hotel the name and address of the Local Consul; and further, that the rule in force in New York State of requiring wheelmen to produce their L. A. W. tickets at League hotels (and perhaps, also, of keeping a separate additional registry), be extended to other States, so that a wheelman who did not take sufficient interest to join the L. A. W. should not be allowed to slip into participation of the benefits of its reduced hotel rates.

MR. MOTT'S REPLY.

Editor Bicycling World: It is gratifying to note Mr. Shriver's discussion of the roads project in the issue of the WORLD of October 11. Even if he does not agree with the plan, the agitation by such a bright mind is of everlasting good.

Being about to start within a few hours on a business trip to the West, time will not permit a full and analytical discussion of Mr. Shriver's paper, but a few words will suffice for the present. The subject is not one of taxation, or anything in the future bearing upon it. We are dealing with a situation that is already existing, not attempting to create the situation. Until Congress shall act in the channel suggested by Mr. Shriver we have the situation, and will have it even for years and years after it does act. The ten millions or so per annum for national roads improvement, which is about the sum appropriated for waterways, would require a space of time equal to 50 years or more to even exhaust the surplus already provided for. Their is no question of politics or States Rights in the matter. The Supreme Court of the United States has decided the building and maintenance of interstate roads to be constitutional. Certainly Mr. Shriver, when casting a doubt upon the constitutionality of the project, overlooked that fact, and did not intend that his opinion should convince against the autocrats of the doctrine of the Constitution. The scheme is not "at variance with the wholesome principle of local self-government" any more than the building of local canals is at variance with the similar national scheme of improvement of waterways. It is not expected that any great "division of opinion" will outlive the clear presentation of facts that will be made if the League of American Wheelmen engage in this great patriotic move for the benefit of the whole country and mankind of the world, for the world gains by cheaper living. It was never intended that the League should support national roads improvement "for the sake of giving employment" alone, but employment would naturally follow as one of the least of the great blessings. Members of the L. A. W., in advocating the building and maintenance of national roads (not State and county roads, as Mr. Shriver appears to assume) would no more commit themselves "to the Socialistic doctrine, that it is the business of the State to direct industry," than they do to-day in countenancing and encouraging the building of post-offices and the carrying of mails with its employment of thousands upon thousands as a concommitant. The doctrine of national highways is not in the least Socialistic, and that argument appears to be extremely far-fetched. The government machine cannot well be run without the employment of hundreds of thousands, and to call that a tendency toward the Socialistic doctrine of the State directing industry is entirely unworthy Mr. Shriver's bright intelligence, and very likely was written without sufficient thought.

The National Government has already built national roads. Was it unconstitutional? It constructs and maintains channels in rivers and harbors. Is it unconstitutional? It builds and maintains canals. Is it unconstitutional? In doing so it becomes necessary to employ hundreds of thousands of men, thousands of vessels, expensive plant and machinery, but perhaps no one ever dreamed before Mr. Shriver advanced the argument, that the people of the land, without regard to party, in exercising their right as voters, committed themselves "to the Socialistic doctrine that it is the business of the State to direct industry."

Of course Mr. Shriver's opinion is valuable, but certainly as he is neither a naval or military expert, nor perhaps educated in the school of statesmanship, he cannot well have the data at hand sufficient to furnish an expert opinion upon "waste it on useless ships and fortifications." Probably Mr. Shriver believes in insurance in business. Most business men admit it's good policy anyway. Building naval vessels and fortifications is national insurance against disaster, the statesmen have figured out in some way, and the whole statecraft of the world are agreed upon it, and conduct their governmental business upon that principle. So, too, they build national highways for military, postal and commercial purposes, and the States, counties, towns and cities build their roads, and it has never yet been even dreamed that there were "Socialistic" tendencies in it.

The fact is, there is nothing political or partisan in any of these great questions. All countries, including our own, are committed to the good and patriotic policy of internal improvements. So popular is it, and so without question as to its constitutionality and expediency, that all political parties have had it as a plank in their platforms. It would be so to-day, except that it is now an admitted fact. It makes no difference what is the political complexion of Congress, it always obeys the will of the people in appropriating for internal improvements. There are sometimes questions as to amounts to be appropriated, but never as to anything else, and yet Congress certainly has no "Socialistic" tendencies.

No "plan" for national roads improvement has yet been formulated, though it is intended to do so. There will be no political—or partisan, rather—question in it; nor Socialistic tendency, nor interference with the most liberal views on vested State rights. It is intended to endeavor to induce the L. A. W. (the national body) to advocate the building and maintenance of national roads, the divisions to look after the matter of State and county roads and city pavements as they are now doing. There is no "visionary hope" connected with the matter at all, for its practicability is proven by annual appropriations for similar purposes. It is easy to call anything "visionary," but a solid fact makes it practical. These appropriations for channels for commerce are provided for in the constitution and are annually made. Is that "visionary?" Neither is it a good argument that "our progress is so difficult and slow" "in the narrower field of State legislation." What has been done to effect "State legislation?" Anything more than spreading literature?

If Mr. Shriver could but be near for a day or so that he might have placed in his hands matter bearing on this subject it is extremely probable his doubts would vanish. ALBERT MOTT.

AN IDYLL ON TIGHTS.

A maid—genteel—
Upon a wheel,
Sat gliding o'er the lea.

A youth—forsooth—
In tights uncouth,
Our maid espied,
And with a passing breath,
He cried:
"Ah, ha, I soon shall by her side
Enjoy a ride."

"Not quite so fast, my gallant lad,"
The maiden did reply.
"For don't you know
That I
Should not enjoy the ride,
If you
Were spinning by my side?
The facts are sad,
But,
Please remember, sir,
In tights you're clad."

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT.

AN ADDRESS BY COL. ALBERT A. POPE,

BEFORE THE CARRIAGE BUILDERS' NATIONAL ASSOCIATION, AT SYRACUSE, N. Y., OCTOBER 17, 1889.

(Special to the World.)

Mr. President and gentlemen: Macaulay says that of all inventions, the alphabet and printing press alone excepted, those inventions which abridge distance have done most for the civilization of our species.

A nation, or an age of civilization, is perhaps more easily judged and understood by the character and extensiveness of its roads, than by any other symbol of progress.

Intercourse between communities, and the development of commercial life, have afforded the necessity for regularly adopted routes of travel, and more or less systematically prepared roadways from the time before the building of those famous highways between ancient Memphis and Babylon, over which the untold wealth of the valleys of the Euphrates and the Nile found means of exchange, where the magnificent cities of Nineveh, Damascus and Tyre, the earliest great commercial centres, sprang up, and over which the splendid armies of Xerxes and Alexander the Great passed in all the pride and glory of those early days.

The roadways, of which the earlier traces appear, were well conducted, as is evident from the remains found, but they were limited in number, laid out generally in direct lines, and had the advantage in their construction of the resources of the rich and powerful nations which built them.

As the world has grown older, and civilization has spread and ripened, intercourse has increased, commerce has pressed out its foot in every direction, from every centre, multiplying and ramifying its path in as bewildering an extent as the threads of the spider's web.

Various necessities and circumstances have governed the building and maintenance of roads, of different times and people.

The old countries where war has been a constant factor, have looked after them as a matter of national policy and military necessity, and have the result in the finest and most durable ways in the world.

The old military roads of the Roman Empire constituted a system, the superior of which the world has never seen, in its scope, and the thoroughness with which it was perfected in all directions. The old "world-conquerers" were good road builders for the day, though Blake crushers and the respective merits of Trinidad, and rock asphalts, and Wheeling fire brick, were matters of which they never dreamed; and those of us who have had occasion to form intimate acquaintance with American country roads in spring, have more than once found ourselves in positions to heartily wish that some of the rural road makers, who worked out their taxes by plowing up the mud from the ditches, and plastering it over the middle of the highways, had had some good experience in the road gangs under the centurions of Julius Cæsar's army.

An eminent writer says: "The road is that physical sign or symbol by which you will understand any age or people. If they have no roads, they are savages, for the road is the creation of man, and the type of civilized society."

The Romans were, without doubt, the best road builders in the ancient world. Their good highways was one of the causes of their superiority in progress and civilization. When they conquered a province, they annexed it by good roads, which brought them in easy communication with the great cities of the Roman world. When their territory was so large that a hundred millions of people acknowledged their military and political power, their capital city was the centre of such a net-work of highways, that it was then a common saying, "All roads lead to Rome."

The best roads in the world to-day are those of England, France and Germany, the excellence of which is due to the fact, that those countries were the first to awaken from the long sleep of the dark ages, and the growing rivalry between them necessitated attention to their roads, for the proper prosecution of both their military and their mercantile interests. In each country they early came under the national supervision, the results of which are seen in the most splendid highways in existence, costing the least to maintain, and in every way the most satisfactory and economical for those who use them.

Up to the advent of railroads, most of the settlements in this country were along our water fronts, and on our sea coasts, lakes and rivers. The invention of steam, and the development of the railroad, seem to have taken all our energies and resources, to the neglect of our roads and highways, and now that we have more miles of railway than the whole of the Eastern Hemisphere, and about all that we can make to pay, at present, we can well afford to turn our attention to the matter of highways, in which everybody should be interested, for all have to use them, rich and poor alike, those that ride and those that walk.

No country has a greater road mileage, in proportion to the population, than the United States, but while with characteristic America push and hurry, the most extensive means of communication and intercourse have been provided, we have suffered the consequence, in a lack of any general system of public policy, covering the location, construction, and maintenance of ways.

In many a case, where one's way leads him through the old farming regions of New England, and the Middle States, he may take occasion to do anything but bless the memory of the frugal early settlers who, when the necessities of the case seemed to demand that a road be established for the convenience of public travel, each contributed a way across his farm, laying perhaps over the worst hill, and through the sandiest, or the rockiest, or the wettest land, with a view rather to the economy of his best pastures, than the saving, in the years to come, of the time and strength of the traveller obliged to use it.

American roads are far below the average; they certainly are among the worst in the civilized world and always have been,—largely as a result of permitting local circumstances to determine the location, with little or no regard for any general system, and haste, and waste, and ignorance in building.

Old post-roads and turnpikes, in times no further back than the war, afforded the only comfortable travel to be had in many parts of the country; nor could the general badness of the roads, by any means, be attributed to a lack of the proper materials for their construction. Indeed, it often happens that we find them the worst, where natural resources are the most abundant, and the better roads are frequently found where the natural conditions were so bad that the ordinary crude and wasteful expenditures were out of the question.

Fifty years ago, there was some excuse for bad roads, for our country was poor. Now it is rich, there is no excuse.

A good road is always to be desired, and is a source of comfort and convenience to every traveler.

Good roads attract population, as well as good schools and churches. Good roads improve the value of property, so that it is said a farm lying five miles from market connected by a bad road, is of less value than an equally good farm lying ten miles away from market, connected by a good road.

A larger load can be drawn by one horse over a good road, than by two over a bad one.

Good roads encourage the greater exchange of products and commodities between one section and another.

Good roads are of great value to railroads as feeders.

Various movements, already under way, in the direction of road improvements, must and already are having their effect, in bringing about a material raising of the average quality. The governors of several States have made special and important references to it in their annual messages, and in several States, bills have been presented having in view the betterment of State highways, by regularly organized systems of work, to be carried out under the supervision of departments provided by the State.

In Pennsylvania a general tax levy of seven and one-half mills has been ordered by legislature, for road improvements. The forces working to bring about such results as this are powerful, and increasing every day.

The high point to be aimed at, is the recognition of the importance of the whole situation by the national government, and the establishment by Congress of a national system.

The following outline may suggest some idea of a scheme in the right direction, which might be elaborated by some one better qualified and having more time than I have at my command.

A commissioner of highways might be provided for, in the Agricultural Department, with a corps of consulting engineers, and suitable appropriations made, for the prosecution of a general supervising work.

Under the charge of this commission, full systems of maps should be prepared, based largely perhaps upon the working of the State and county boards, showing more or less completely, as circumstances would permit, the highways of the country.

For co-operation with this central bureau and the prosecution of the work in the most thorough and practical way, each State should have its highway commissioner, charged with the highest interests of the State in the way of maintaining its system of roads under the most approved methods and for the general public welfare. Then the best practical results could probably be attained, by the division of State, into highway districts, consisting of counties, or perhaps townships, each of which should have its overseer in full charge of the opening and construction of new roads in his district and the proper maintenance of all, responsible for the expenditure of the regular appropriations for these purposes. These districts could then be divided into smaller ones under sub-overseers.

The importance and the value to any country, any section, and every citizen from the highest to the lowest, whether tax-payers or tramps, of well constructed and properly maintained roads, is not easily estimated, but clearly it is greater than that of many affairs which are continually receiving the time and attention of the people in their homes, counting-rooms, public meetings and legislative halls.

It is a matter to be considered side by side with our splendid and always improving system of public education, the assessment of our tariff duties, or the appropriations regularly made for river and harbor improvements.

But the question of the most particular interest, to-day, to you and to me, as manufacturers and merchants, in this whole question of good and bad roads is, what is the effect on our business? Now it may be possible that there are those who will think they see an advantage for the carriage builder in poor roads, where in traveling over hills that might easily be avoided, going ten miles to make five as the crow flies, pulling through mud and sand that should be gravel and jolting over rocks that might be macadam, the vehicles of the unfortunate owners would go to pieces in one half the time they ought to stand under favorable circumstance, and necessitate the purchase of new ones to the advantage and profit of the manufacturer.

But a man who entertains such an idea would waste no time in killing the goose to secure the last golden egg.

It must be clear to any man with the most ordinary business instincts that good roads mean thrift, liberality and wealth. They mean good farms and good value to real estate. They mean that the farmer enjoying their use will save time going over them, will save wear and tear, not only on his wagons, but on his teams, will be a richer man on account of them, and have the more money to buy your carriages, running into higher value, (while his sons and daughters can have their bicycles and tricycles at less expense,) and his example must be followed by his neighbors.

Now you are honest manufacturers, and have no desire to have your vehicles wear out quickly, that they may be sooner replaced, but you believe, I doubt not, that the better the vehicle and the longer it lasts, the better business and profit will come to you.

Good roads mean for you and for me better business. Good roads encourage riding and driving, and the sale of your vehicles, while bad roads mean less business for you and for me, for where the roads are bad the traffic must of necessity be much less.

As a nation we are a remarkably patient and an easy-going people, considering the enterprise and business activity for which we are noted the world over, and rather too apt to fall into the way of doing things as a matter of course. As a result of this, very strenuous and continuous efforts are frequently necessary, to bring about the farthest reaching and most desirable reforms. From a business point of view, we cannot afford to neglect any opportunity to help along the present movement.

As an instance of what is being done, see the work of the League of American Wheelmen, in the appointment of its highway committees, the issuing of road books and maps, the pressing forward of legislative bills, and lately in the publication of the comprehensive little manual on the making and care of good roads, a copy of which I shall be glad to have forwarded to any one who may care to send me his address.

Work of this sort can well and profitably be undertaken by the Carriage Builders' National Association. With all the great resources at your command you cannot afford not to divert a small percentage each year, beginning right now, toward helping along a good work, and it impresses itself upon me most strongly as a part of your most urgent duty toward yourselves, to appoint at once, if you have not already done so, your committee on highways, clothing them with power to do some practical work, and giving them under reasonable limitations, at least the approach to your treasury. A moderate amount of money judiciously expended in educating the people up to their needs and best interests, in showing them how their roads are, and how they ought to be, and how to go to work to make them so, could not be put out at better interest. I am credibly informed that within one hundred miles of this building the capital invested in the carriage industry amounts to seven million dollars; and the interests which I informally represent to you is a true branch of this vast industry. The manufacture and sale of carriages to be drawn by horses and the manufacture of carriages to be impelled by the rider is essentially one and the same. The character of the motive power cannot of course change the character of the vehicle. We, who manufacture bicycles, feel that we have a right to fraternize with you. We seek fellowship with you in your efforts to improve the travelling vehicles of the country and the roadways by the improvement in which our interests as manufacturers and the people's prosperity and happiness are to be enlarged.

The bicycle interest is young in years, but it has already become a large one. As an industry it ranks among the fine arts, while the magnitude of the business and the number of the vehicles made and sold yearly would, we fancy, be a matter of surprise to some of you and of amazement to the public at large.

I need not say to this convention, that we who construct these delicate carriages propelled by human power are intensely interested in the improvement of the country's roadways, even as you who manufacture wagons and carriages of the lighter and more elegant sort. It is true, that in a certain sense the bicycler is not so dependent as the man who drives his carriage or road wagon on the quality of the roadway, for he can pick his way with much greater facility. Wherever there is a hand's-width of level way there he can easily pass. He can turn from left to right with wonderful ease and quickness. He can even take to the sidewalk and so escape many ill-conditioned places which the driver of carriages cannot Nevertheless, I feel that our interests and yours in good roadways are equal and identical, and I am here to pledge our heartiest co-operation with you in any practical measure looking to the improvement of the roadways of the country.

The history of carriage building and the history of the development of this country alike confirm the truth which I have tried to impress, namely, that improvement in roads leads to and precedes the use of better and higher grade vehicles, and especially induces the use of pleasure carriages.

It does not need argument or illustration to persuade you that more roads mean more carriages. Where now go the saddle-horse and the mule-van in wide regions of this great country, ought to be seen the carriage and the bicycle. If local communities and the general public ought to be interested in this subject, how much more should this Association, every member of which not only has this same interest, but a special commercial inducement in the result.

I hope to live to see the time when all over our land, our cities, towns and villages shall be connected by as good roads as can be found in the civilized world, and if we shall have been instrumental in bringing about this result, then indeed shall our children have cause to bless us.

IS IT FOUL PLAY?

A REMARKABLE case of disappearance is agitating Springfield, Mass. Thursday, Oct. 3, Richard Webb, employe of the Agawam Manufacturing Company, a young man of most worthy character, left his boarding place at Mittineague to enjoy a vacation of two weeks. He went to Holyoke and passed the day with his brother and sisters, returning to this city by the 10 45 train last night. Reaching here he started on a bicycle for Mittineague and was last seen by City Treasurer Tifft at 11 P. M., going northward. This morning about 5 o'clock, Richard Carter, a Mittineague market gardener, while crossing the river, noticed a bicycle leaning against the side of the North End Bridge. Beside it lay a stiff hat, badly dented, as though by a heavy blow from some blunt instrument. A bundle of rubber clothing was also close by, and on the paper was scribbled in several places the name, "Richard A. Webb, Mittineague." This was the only clue, and from it the police learned that young Webb had not been seen since by Treasurer Tifft as above noted It is not known whether he fell into the river or was foully dealt with. Up to the latest accounts nothing new is developed to clear up the sad mystery.

STUDENTS, Teachers (male or female), Clergymen, and others in need of change of employment, should not fail to write to B. F. Johnson & Co., 1009 Main street, Richmond, Va. Their great success shows that they have got the true ideas about making money. They can show you how to employ odd hours profitably.

MR. F. W. ADAMS, a young man in the employ of the Portland (Me.) Daily Press, finds his safety bicycle a source of income. It enables him to carry the mail from East Deering, where he resides, to Portland, for which service he receives $100 per year.

SUNDAY RIDING.

Editor Bicycling World: I have read the communication from Mr. Bacon of San Francisco on "Sunday riding" in your issue 27 September. Although not a personal friend of the "prominent Chicago gent'man," whom he quotes, I happen to know the meaning of his letter, and trust that in an effort to restore peace I may be permitted to say a final word.

I would commend to Mr. Bacon your sensible words, editorially, in the same issue, and were I sure he would digest them further comment would be unnecessary, except perhaps to remind him in the kindest manner possible that the "Lake City" gentleman did not condemn ordinary, well behaved, Sunday riding—that is a matter for each individual conscience—but he did denounce as "mod rn ruffianism" the conduct of those wheelmen who disgrace God, the s.ort and themselves by their actions on the "first day of the week." If the West does not contain enough of the hoodlum element to draw out an occasional protest from riders who desire to shield wheelmen from the unfair cha ges of people who do not discriminate, he is to be congratulated, and we should almost feel like "going West."

Finally Mr Bacon; do not label as liberal bigoted, narrow and dishonest those who believe that a man in this world owes a duty to some one besides himself; nor question the possibility of a moral side to one who spends a small portion of Sunday in a church p w. Sincerely and fraternally, BURTON F. WHITE,

ANOTHER FOR NIAGARA.

Editor Bicycling World: I understand that there is an effort being made to induce the League of American Wheelmen to hold their next "meet" at Niagara Falls. I hope that this can be brought about, as Niagara Falls possesses a great many advantages for holding meetings or conventions of this kind. The railroad facilities for reaching it are better than almost any other place that could be selected. The hotel accommodations and places for holding meetings are excellent, and with the fine roads for riding through the Canadian Free Park, as well as on the American side, no more attractive spot could be selected than Niagara Falls.

Yours truly, EDSON J. WEEKS.

ANNUAL CHESTNUT RUN OF THE CENTURY WHEELMEN.

ONE peculiarity of the Centurions is that a baker's dozen is all that can be depended on for a club run on a clear day, but let a chilly, windy, cloudy morning come along and Capt. Speier will have a goodly line of wheels under his charge. After several days of lovely October weather, the Weather Bureau ordered along a thunder storm for Saturday afternoon, and when the morning of the day set for the annual "Chestnut Run" of the Century Wheelmen dawned, it proved to be raw and dismal. Determined to brave the lowering clouds, upwards of fifty of the club assembled at the house on Broad street at half past eight o'clock, and took up the line of march on Broad street to the Lime Kiln pike, with Capt. Speier in the lead. Their destination was Willow Grove, and, although the country roads were found to be heavy from the down-pour of Saturday night, the entire party pulled through without any mishap except one pile-up on a side path. On arrival at Willow Grove they put up at the Willow Grove Hotel, where they were met by some of the club members who had gone up by train, accompanied by several ladies, among whom were Mrs. Sulzner, Miss Hawthorn, Miss Schell and others, and the crowd dispersed itself about the place in a hunt for chestnuts until the welcome dinner hour arrived. They all got outside of a mighty substantial dinner, and after time allowance to recuperate from its effects, they were grouped on the hotel piazza, where Mr. Feuer took several photographs of the party.

The run home to the city was made via the old York road, three of the ladies—Mrs. Sulzner, Miss Schell and Miss Hawthorn—taking the pace with the rest of the riders, and in spite of the depressing weather the occasion was unanimously voted the most successful one of the kind ever undertaken by the club.

The Centurions, by the way, claim that the century run taken last Sunday by W. G. Speir, Chas. Sulzner, George Pavord, C. W. Dolsen, J. W. Whitesides and E. I. Wright is a record for a hundred-mile run by a club, and feel justly proud over it. ARIEL.

LANTERN PARADE AT NEWARK, N. J.

The lantern parade of the Atalanta wheelmen of Newark, N. J., Oct. 10, was a complete success.

Over 250 cyclers took part in the demonstration, all of whom had their wheels gaily decorated with varicolored Chinese lanterns and Japanese parasols.

The Atalantas had their clubhouse on Clars street prettily decorated, and there the members welcomed their visitors who came from neighboring cities to take part in the parade. Clubs representing Newark, Orange, Elizabeth, Plainfield, Jersey City, New York, Bloomfield, Passaic and Brooklyn were in line.

The parade started from the clubhouse shortly after 8 o'clock, headed by Arthur Snow and Samuel Doble, who acted as pace makers. A brass band followed the pace makers in a stage, after which came a number of elaborately decorated wheels of the Atalanta clubs.

The line of march was down Belleville avenue to Broad to LaGrange place and back to the clubhouse. The sidewalks along the line of march were crowded with spectators. A number of houses along the line of march were illuminated and fireworks were set off at various points in honor of the event. After the parade the Atalantas boys entertained their guests in royal style.—Journal.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

[NOTICE.—Those who send us in reports of races will oblige us by seeing that initials of competitors, handicaps and time in full, ARE GIVEN IN ALL CASES.—ED.]

AT CARLISLE, PA, Oct. 9. The chief events at the Carlisle (Pa.) Fair on Wednesday, Oct 9, were the bicycle races. They were as follows:

One mile handicap—A. A. Zimmerman, Cape May Club, 1; D. H. Miller, Lancaster, 2. Time, 3 44

Two miles—P. S. Brown, Washington, 1; A. E. Reist, Lancaster, 2. Time, 10.25

Half-mile—A. A. Zimmerman, Cape May Club, 1; B. F. McDaniel, 2. Time, 2 minutes.

Two miles, safety—B. F. McDaniel, 1; David Rose, Lancaster, 2. Time, 9.11.

Two miles, tandem—Rose and Miller, Lancaster. Time, 10.09.

One mile—F. B. Mulliken, Baltimore, 1; H. B. Barnes, Mechanicsburg, 2. Time 4 20.

One mile, safety—F. B. Mulliken, 1; H. B. Barnes, 2. Time, 4.35.

Ten miles—Entries, A. A. Zimmerman, W. E. Crist P. S. Brown, F. B. Miller, B. F. McDaniel and A. E. Reist. Reist fell out on the third mile, and the others kept together to the homestretch, when the spurt for first place began. McDaniel was in the lead, which he had been all the time, and Crist came up to him and passed him about six feet, when he unfortunately took a heavy header. McDaniel came in first in 41m. 20s; Brown second. Crist was not seriously hurt.

WHITE CYCLE CO., - - - - WESTBORO', MASS.

AT ELKTON, MD., Oct. 10.—Track —The following were the results of the bicycle races run on Oct. 10, at the Cecil County Fair, held at Elkton, Md. The first race, a one mile bicycle race, for men never having won a rac , was won by W. C. Seeds, of the Wilmington Wheel Club, with F. B. Eisenbrandt, of Centaur Club, Baltimore, second. Time, 3 28 4-5.

The half-mile bicycle race, scratch, was won by W. C. Taxis, of Schuylkill Athletic Club, Philadelphia, Pa., with B. F. McDaniel, of Wilmington Wheel Club, second. Time, 1.42 3-5.

The one mile bicycle, handicap, was won by W. C. Seeds, who was allowed 125 yards; F. B. Ellioti, who was given 130 yards, being second. Time, 3 03.

The one mile safety bicycle race, handicap, was won by W. W. Taxis; J. H. Drap r, Wilmington Wheel Club, second. Time, 3 22 3-5.

The two mile bicycle handicap was won by W. C. Seeds, 240 yards; T. B. Eisenbrandt, 220 yards, second. Time, 6.27 2-5.

AT BERGEN POINT, N. J, Oct. 12th.—The second annual bicycle tournament held under the auspices of the New Jersey Athletic Club took place last Saturday. The conditions were fair for good sport though the attendance was not large. The events:

Quarter mile heats.—First heat, F. G. Brown (1), A. P. Banker (2). Time, 408.
Second heat, F. B. Hesse, W. O. Time, 438.
Third heat, A. A. Zimmerman (1), W. Schumader (2). Time, 408.
Fourth heat, W. S. Campbell W. O. Time, 41 4-5.
Final heat, W. S. Campbell (1), F. G. Brown (2), F. B. Hesse (3). Time, 39 4 5.
One mile Elizabeth Wheelmen Championship—W. H. Caldwell (1) A. F. Calkins (2). Time, 3.37 4-5.
One mile heats—First heat, W. F. Murphy (1), A. C. Banker (2). Time, 2.51 3-5.
Second heat, F. B. Hesse (1), W. S. Campbell (2). Time, 3 01 4-5.
Final heat, W. F. Murphy (1), A. C. Banker (2). Time, 3 19.
A time limit of 2.55 was put on this race. A second trial gave the time as 3.27 2-5 with Campbell as "winner" (?) and so the race was declared off.
Two mile safety—W. D. Banker (1), W. F. Murphy (2), W. W. Taxis (3). Time, 6.31.
Half-mile hands off—W. W. Taxis (1), W. F. Murphy (2). Time, 1.41.
One and one half mile handicap S. B. Bowman 70 yards (1), F. G. Brown 70 yards (2), W. W. Taxis 20 yards (3). Time, 4 24.
One mile novice—H. W. Fuller (1), A. F. Calkins (2). Time, 3.18 3-5.
Half-mile handicap heats—In first heat, C. W. Murphy 20 yards (1), F. G. Brown 18 yards (2). Time, 1.20 1-2.
Second heat, W. S. Campbell scratch (1), F. B. Hesse 18 yards (2). Time, 1.23.
Final heat, W. S. Campbell scratch (1), F. G. Brown 18 yards (2), C. W. Murphy 20 yards (3). Time, 1.20 4-5.
One mile tandem handicap—A. C. and W. D. Banker scratch (1), F B. Hesse and S. B. Bowman 50 yards (2). Time, 2.55 2-5.
Three mile handicap—S. B. Bowman 130 yards (1), W.F. Murphy 110 yards (2), A. C. Banker scratch (3). Time, 9.10 2-5.
The mile and a half team relay race was a walk-over for the N. J. A. C. team. Hesse took first half mile; time, 1.44 1 5; Bowman second half, 1.25 3-5, and Brown third half 1.36. Total time, 4.45. The prizes were very handsome.

AT BALTIMORE, Oct. 9. The race for the championship of the Baltimore Cycle Club and a $100 diamond medal which could not be run on Monday last on account of darkness and that was postponed, was run Oct 9, and was won by W. I. Wilhelm at the same time breaking the record by making the last lap on the drive around Druid Lake in four minutes three and one-half seconds. H. L. Kingsland's best time for one lap when he broke the record in 1887 was four minutes eleven seconds. The entries in the race were W. I. Wilhelm, W. D. Banker, Victor Emerson, Walter Ash and P. Mulliken. The wind was blowing strong and not favorable for fast time. In the first lap Mulliken dropped out, and in the fourth Banker's right pedal came unscrewed, and he retired from the race. Mr. Wilhelm received many congratulations for his success. The distance was ten miles, and the total time 34.32 1 2.

AT BRIDGEPORT, CONN. A three mile road race between W. A. Westlake and W. A. Rubey, two members of the Rambling Wheelmen, was run in this place Monday afternoon, Sept. 30. The prize, a handsome club badge, was won by Rubey, who covered the course in 13.30, very good time considering the poor condition of the roads.

On Saturday, Oct 5, Franklin Smith and Fred Northrop, two other members of the Rambling Wheelmen, ran a ten mile road race for a five dollar silver medal. The race was won easily by Smith. Time, 41.50.

AT PEORIA, ILL. The following telegram from Peoria reads very much like a fairy tale, and until the full particulars as to measurement, timings, etc., are received, must be accepted with very grave doubts as to its reliability: The fastest time ever made on a bicycle in America, for a mile, was made in this city Oct. 13, by Bert Myers, the Peoria champion. The trial was made on a country road, a few miles outside the city, and the flyer was mounted on a high geared safety. He rode a straightaway mile in 2.13, with a heavy wind blowing at his back.

[Just as we put the above into type we learn that the figures got "cross legged" and the time intended to be claimed was 2.31. Even now we would like full proofs. But as it was made under peculiar circumstances (if made at all) the performance is a great one but not a record.—ED.].

AT NASHUA, N. H.—The road race from Nashua, N. H., to Pepperell and return, last Friday, resulted in a victory for Frank A. McMaster, he reaching the Cycle club rooms at just 4.30 p. m.; time, 1 hour and 26 minutes. He rode a Safety. His prize was a handsome silver cup and case contributed by the Pope Manufacturing Company of Boston. Harry Marshall finished second, in 1.33, winning an elegant French plate mirror, with silver plated frame and card case combined, given by Fred S. Neff. Ernest Woods, third, 1.49, prize, pair of bicycle stockings, given by Frank A. McMaster.

AT TAUNTON, MASS.—The ten miles point race between E. C. Anthony and P. J. Berlo came off at Taunton, Mass., last Saturday afternoon. The race was for points (i. e., the one finishing first two of the three—one, five and 10 miles). The race was very slow, neither man wishing to set pace. Anthony won the first point at one mile; time, 4.42. At five miles Berlo outspurted Anthony, and finished that distance in 20.55. At the ten mile finish the men both spurted for all they were worth, but Berlo again came to the front and won the point and race in the ridiculously slow time of 41.42.

ROCHESTER-BUFFALO. Postponement.—The managers of the road race between Buffalo and this city have decided to postpone the event until Tuesday, October 22. The action was necessitated by the deplorable condition of the highways. Syracuse, Buffalo, Lockport, Elmira and Rochester wheelmen have been invited to send a team.

AT LEXINGTON, NEB.—The race meet of the Lexington (Neb.) Wheel Club, held October 9th and 10th, was a grand success in every way. The races were close and exciting. A strong wind up the home stretch made fast time an impossibility. The following is a summary of events:

One mile novice ordinaries—W. H. Neely, 1; F. D. Gilmore, 2; Geo. A. Mooney, 3. Time, 3 54.
One quarter mile safety—N. T. Fisk, 1; M. G. Farmer, 2; H. T. West, 3. Time, 48 1-2 seconds.
One mile L. A. W. State championship (heats)—First heat, B. W. Cole, 1; C. Peabody, 2. Time, 3.17 1-2.
Second heat, F. L. Temple, 1; M. M. Porter, 2. Time, 3.27.
Final heat, C. Peabody, 1; F. L. Temple, 2; B. W. Cole, 3. Time, 3.12 1-4.
One mile safety open—N. T. Fisk, 1; M. G. Farmer, 2; Frank H. Morrison, 3. Time, 3.34 1-4.
One-half mile boys—George James, 1; Elmer Harrington, 2. Time, 1.51.
One quarter mile dash—D. P. Dunlap, 1; E. Kostomlatsky, 2; C. M. Adams, 3. Time, 45 seconds.
One half mile safety State championship—H. H. Rodes, 1; M. G. Farmer, 2; F. H. Morrison, 3. Time, 1.41.
Two mile lap race—B. W. Cole, 1; E. Kostomlotsky, 2; Chas. Peabody, 3. Time, 7.59.
One quarter mile dash—F. L. Temple, 1; J. A. Drain Lincoln, 2; C. M. Adams, 3. Time, 45 seconds.
Five mile open—A very good race for first and second between B. W. Cole and F. L. Temple. It was a heat race until turning into the home stretch for the final spurt Temple ran into a soft place and lost his pedals; then Cole pushed ahead and won in 18 30. Temple 2.
One mile club handicap race—Declared off.

THE PEORIA (ILL.) RACES.

A correspondent from Peoria writes us in regard to the track and the future intention of the club: "That the track was a full one half mile track 18 inches from the pole there can be no doubt, as we had it measured by a competent surveyor, and a new pole built out at me end to make it full length. We hold the surveyor's affidavit. There can be no doubt but we have one of the, if not the, best track in the country. The racing men all agree as to this, and had no fault to find with its condition, although it was not nearly as smoo h as we can make it next year, profiting by this year's experi nce. We are already making plans for next year's tournament, and having made a good round sum of money this year, (notwithstanding the fact that it was unpleasantly cold on the second day) we shall go ahead and contract heavy expenses for next year's tournament with a greater degree of confidence than we felt in contracting the comparatively light expenses of this year. Our desire and intention is to make our tournament the same for the West as Hart ord is, and Springfield used to be for the East, and any support you can give us will be greatly appreciated." [We are with you heart and hand.—ED.].

HOWARD A. SMITH & Co., Newark, N. J., have probably the most perfect graphite for lubricating chains of the safeties. Send for a bottle.

HARRY COREY was not financially interested in the Springfield Bicycle Co. as reported, and loses nothing by that company's assignment. He was invited to subscribe for $10,0 0 worth of stock about a year ago but declined. Later he was asked to assist in the management of the company and he immediately brought out the Speedwell, a crank safety which met with such favor that the factory could not fill its orders owing to lack of tubing. As soon as the present company's affairs are straightened out it is quite likely that a new company may be formed to continue the business.

THE KODAK CAMERA---FOR WHEELMEN.

Price, $25.00.

THE operation of securing views with this camera consists simply of leveling it at the object to be photographed, and pressing a button.

One Hundred instantaneous views may be made without reloading, and a knowledge of photography is unnecessary. The "Kodak" is but about six inches in length, and weighs less than two pounds.

A handsome russet leather carrying case with shoulder strap forms a part of each outfit.

The "Kodak" is an article which every wheelman should possess, and secure, by its use a complete pictorial record of interesting scenes and incidents which no trip is without.

☞ Send for copy of Kodak Primer, containing Kodak photograph.

League Clubs.

The following clubs have qualified as League Clubs and filed proper certificates in the office of the Secretary. They are numbered as below:

242—International Wheelmen, Niagara Falls, N. Y., W. M. Mahoney, Sec.

Maryland Election.

The following officers were unanimously elected by the Maryland Division to serve for the ensuing year.

Chief Consul, Albert Mott of Baltimore.
Vice Consul, Geo. F. Uppegrafl, Hagerstown Md.
Secretary-Treasurer, G. W. H. Carr, Balto, Md.

Representative, J. Harry Covington, Easton, Md.; C. E. Fink, Westminter; C. L. Mitchell, Balto.; E. P. Hayden, Balto. Ballots cast 262.

Very truly, G. W. H. CARR, Sec.-Treas.

New York Representative.

At the regular meeting of this club held October 4, Mr. Louis H. Johnson was elected Representative to the League of American Wheelmen. Fraternally,

WM. YULE, Sec. Riverside Wheelmen.

California Division, Notice No, 2.

I have appointed the following committees

Racing Board—Thos. H. Deane, Chairman, San Francisco; C. F. Hutchinson, Stockton; Al Col, San Jose.

Rights and Privileges—Geo. H. Strong, Chairman, San Francisco; F. C. Clift, Alameda; A. D. Allan Jr., San Francisco.

Touring Board—J. J. Bliss, Chairman, San Francisco; J. M. Miller, Vacaville; A. Wulff, Stockton.

Fraternally, (signed) R. M THOMPSON.
Chief Consul.

Suspension.

For violating clause 3 of rule F, at Hollidaysburg, Pa., on September 26th, J. E. Patterson of Williamsburg, Pa., is suspended from the track until Oct 28th, 1889. Amateurs are warned not to compete with him during term of suspension. CHAS. S. DAVOL,
Chairman L. A. W. Racing Board.

Division Rules.

I have received, and have on file, the By-laws and Rules of but four divisions. The attention of Division Secretary Treasurer's is called to the follow ng extract from League By laws, and they will oblige the Secretary by complying with the same as soon as possible:

Article III, section 6. Each Division shall file in the office of the Secretary of the League a certified copy of its Constitution, By-laws and Rules, and of each and every amendment thereto, and shall certify to him the results of all e ections within ten days after the votes shall have been counted. ABBOT BASSETT,
Secretary.

New York.

To the members of the New York State Division:

The State Division Board of Officers failed to elect a third member of the Executive and Finance Committee as provided by Sub. 1, Section 1 of Article 6 of the Division By-laws at the meeting held in New York, Sept. 13, 14, 1889. As these By-laws are silent as to the time when such election shall be had, merely providing that such member shall be elected by the Board, it has been decided, a majority of the Board concurring, to let the matter stand over until the February meeting; Dr. Geo. E. Blackham of Dunkirk, N. Y., the present incumbent will therefore hold over. Yours fraternally,

W. S. BULL, Chief Consul.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 10, 1889.

California Division, Notice No. 1.

I have appointed the following local consuls:

1. Arthur H. Wright, Stockton.
2. Chas. H. Leggett, Merced.
3. Wm. M. Parker, Napa City.
4. Stephen H. Knapp Jr., San Mateo.
5. Allan C. Wagener, San Jose.
6. Walter W. Stocker, Fresno.

Fraternally, (signed) R. M. THOMPSON,
Chief Consul.

California Division.

This is to certify that R. M. Welch has been elected Delegate to the National Assembly by the Board of Officers of this Division. WALTER D. SHELDON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

San Francisco, Sept. 30, 1889.

Rhode Island.

Members of the Rhode Island Division desiring a copy of the pamphlet, "Improvement of Highways," will address W. M. P. Bowen, P. O. Box 1513, Providence, R. I. Don't forget to enclose a two cent stamp.

CHAS. S. DAVOL,

Racing—E. M. Bixby, 61 Westminster st., Providence; C. T. Campbell, W. D. Barton.

CHAS. S. DAVOL,
Chief Consul R. I. Div. L. A. W.

Missouri Division.

To Consuls:

Application forms for appointment as official hotels have been mailed to each consul early this week. Consuls are requested to call on one of the best hotels in their localities to make arrangements with the proprietor for reduced rates to L. A. W. members only on presentation of ticket. Record Book and the Certificate of appointment will be mailed by the undersigned on receipt of application form, properly signed and filled out. Be sure to mention regular and reduced rates.

It should be remembered that the second half of the League year commences Nov. 1 and the person who joins us then remains with us until July 1, 1890, upon payment of $1.50. This ought to be employed as an argument in getting riders to join now.

Our Division must have 400 members this year, for it should not be said that we had gone behind last year's record but advanced ahead of it. We intend to get out a fine road book and the completeness of the volume will only be limited by the number of members belonging to the Division. In this connection your attention is called to road reports with the request that they be sent in as soon as possible to the undersigned. A large number of counties are scantily reported and some not reported at all in the present hand book; this should at once be remedied. Put your shoulder to the wheel and push the Division's membership where it belongs—near the top. Fraternally yours, ROBT. HOLM,
St. Louis, Oct. 12. Chief Consul.

Missouri Appointment.

Dr. G. A. Sparling being forced to resign the position of Local Consul at Kirksville on account of press of other duties, I have this day appointed T. H. Brewington to fill the vacancy. Fraternally,

ROBT. HOLM, Chief Consul.

St. Louis, October 10.

Wake up St. Joseph and Joplin!

No replies nor applications have been received at this office relative to the local consul-ships at Joplin and St. Joe. An immediate reply is requested.

To the Consuls of the Michigan Division:

Before this is published each one of you will have received official notification of your appointment as Consul for your locality.

This is to be a year of earnest work, and much more than usual will be expected of each one of you. If your regular duties are such that you cannot do justice to the office, you will kindly forward to me the name of a suitable person in your vicinity.

Acceptance of the office will be a signification of your willingness to do all in your power for the best interests of the Division.

In point of membership we are striding rapidly to the front. Let there be no pause in the good work. Use every exertion and all the influence you possess to secure every wheelman within our ranks. A large membership will widen our influence and materially assist us in carrying out any project or measure we undertake.

I will furnish at any time any and all necessary recruiting blanks and circulars. We need a League Hotel in every important place in the State. See to it that one is appointed in your locality, and notify me of name and rate of same.

We need a new Road Book the coming season, and the compiling of such a book entails a great amount of labor I rely upon each one of you for assistance.

Send me any new routes you may think will be of use to the cycling public. If there are any corrections to the routes as published in the old Road Book, forward them without delay. Live League Repair Shops appointed in every city and town.

There is an endless amount of work you can do, and good you can accomplish if you will only stir up the latent energy I know you all possess.

There is a scheme afoot to agitate the "Road Improvement" question in this State, in a thorough and systematic manner. To successfully accomplish our object will require the hearty co-operation of all, and it is expected when called upon you will not shirk the responsibility.

Another important matter is the formation of League clubs. If you have a club in your locality see to it that it is made a League club; by so doing you will increase its influence and importance Every League club of twenty members should at once elect a Representative to the Division Board. There are a number of clubs in the state who are entitled to this privilege, and the matter should be attended to at once and a delegate elected. Fraternally yours,

A. B. RICHMOND, Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

CATARRH HAY FEVER CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been discovered which permanently cures the most aggravated cases of these distressing diseases by a few simple applications made (two weeks apart) by the patient at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free by A. H. DIXON & SON, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.

Special Clearance List Singer's Cycles.

THE Machines on this List are offered at a great reduction of price to effect a clearance. They are all NEW and of best material and workmanship, but in some cases not of present standard pattern, while others are styles of machines that, in order to reduce the number of our patterns, we are discontinuing to make. The prices quoted are already very low, but we are prepared to consider offers for two or more machines. The tricycles offer a rare opportunity for those who may require machines for hiring purposes, and the stock being limited, intending purchasers should order at once.

WE'VE ⁘ GOT ⁘ 'EM.

Not snakes, nor anything of that unpleasant nature, so no alarm need be felt. The idea we desire to convey is simply that, although the many riders who were correctly impressed that there was nothing so good for them to ride as a VICTOR SAFETY, have been obliged to wait for them indefinitely, we are now prepared to furnish them at a moment's notice. We need not speak of the character or quality of the machine. If you don't know about it, ask its riders.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., Makers, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

BOSTON BRANCH, 188 COLUMBUS AVENUE.

CONCERNING CRANKS AND HOBBIES.

We have received a recently published book of 300 pages, entitled "Cycling Art, Energy, and Locomotion." It is sired by Robert P. Scott of Baltimore, the mechanical work of publishing being very neatly done by J. B. Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia.

We have read the book carefully, and, although we have no special interest in, or even acquaintance with Mr. Scott, we feel moved to say that he is practically sane on the subject of applied philosophy. A compliment, by the way, which means much more than the non-mechanical reader will fully appreciate.

The wild inventor who so often waltzes in "where angels fear to tread," is handled by Mr. Scott in a manner at once tender and corrective with a little pardonable sarcasm interwoven.

He pronounces his touching benediction over the already dead, sheds tears of regret over the dying, and wisely hedges on those which seem hopeful of escaping oblivion.

Among his mention of other freaks, he says: "Quite recently a new 'hickory wheel' man of more formidable calibre has entered the lists, and again we are called back to 'bone-shaker' days. Well! after the rear-driver has been so fondly embraced, let us be prepared for anything that may come. We have dropped from the cat down to the kitten, and can now get through a pretty small hole if hard pressed. So for the present we will hold the hickory wheel on probation:" We at first thought the above a favorable criticism, but the dictionaries do not encourage us. The author had been just previously refering to would-be inventors who were bores. The sponsor for the Hickory wheel, he says, is "of more formidable calibre." Formidable, dreadful, fearful, terrible, frightful, horrible, tremendous. Cabibre, bore.

We didn't think it was so bad. The implied comparison between the

and the old boneshaker, we can afford to stand.

We are glad to know that Mr. Scott "can get out through a pretty small hole if hard pressed," as this ability may be useful to him later.

His proposition to "hold the hickory wheel on probation" is evidently a metaphor, as it cannot be that his hold is literal, though he can make it so for $90.00, and we will allow him a dis. of 2 per cent. for cash with order.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 25 OCTOBER, 1889.

THE question of dragging the League into politics seems to be a live one among the bright minds in the L. A. W. of to-day. We would like to see the League in politics in so far as the questions at issue effected the sport of cycling, our rights, and the most important of all, Road Improvements. The mixing of local, State and National politics with the L. A. W. is a movement that cannot and must not be made without due consideration. If it is done it ought to be practically the unanimous wish of the members. Perhaps we have sufficient of the "Mugwumpian" element in us to be able to sink party considerations when League measures demanded it, but there are many good and true staunch party men who could not thus subordinate party during a hot political campaign. No matter how much we might like to see the League a unit politically for the purpose of obtaining that great desideratum, Good Roads, we must move very slow and sure before we pledge League official activity in politics, otherwise we may find ourselves in a maelstrom.

COL. ALBERT A. POPE'S address before the Carriage Builders' National Association, last Thursday, deserves more than a passing allusion. In the first place, it is very significant that that association, representing a hundred millions of invested capital, and so many thousands of men connected with that industry, should have made "The Relation of Road Improvement to the Carriage Industry" a leading topic at its annual meeting. Of course it was an appropriate one, but why didn't it occur before? Give country people more and better roads to earn them on, and city people more and better roads to use them on, and the "Builders" will sell more carriages. So everyone will be benefitted, and the builders are likely to think of it at proper times hereafter, and to put in a little shoulder-to-the wheel where and when it will do good.

Another significant thing is that that association should have invited a representative of the cycle building industry to deliver the address. Of course that is obviously appropriate, too, now that we think of it. The bicycle is a carriage, for the Supreme Courts have decided so. Bicycle manufacture and bicycle selling make now a really considerable part of the "Carriage Industry" of this country—so much have the times changed in this last dozen years. It is just that part of the industry that is most sensitive to the condition and extent of the roads. The wheelmen of twelve years ago were many of them young men then, but they are middle-aged men now, and they are in positions that give them influence. The man who has pulled his own carriage a few thousand miles is likely to care something about the roads ever afterwards, however he may use them.

In selecting Col. Pope, the association did him a well-merited honor, as the senior of the bicycle trade; the first one to produce an American machine, a man always ready to aid the cause of cycling by word of mouth, or by the loosening of his purse strings and generous financial support. When money has been needed to the establishing and support of cycling literature, when funds have been necessary to back up the wheelmen's rights in the Legislatures, or for any purpose, or in the courts, the Colonel, when called on, has never failed to respond invariably and most generously. If it be said that this is done for "advertising," or as having an eye for business," why it may be, but it is the kind of "advertising" that aids the cause, and so let's have some more of it.

We have left little space to notice the substance of Col. Pope's address. It is enough to say that it was well suited to the occasion and the audience. It deserves to be read for a fresh way of putting some of the arguments, and the suggestions of a national Commissioner of Highways, etc., open up a good theme for discussion. We join in a vote of thanks to the busy Colonel, and hope he will keep right along on the same line until he enlists an overwhelming force to work for the road improvement cause.

MESSRS. MOTT and Shriver are having a very interesting passage at arms, over the question of the ways and means of road improvements. The last two letters from these two gentlemen (Mr. Shriver's in this issue) lay down very distinctly the views of each. They both agree on the point that Road Improvements should be made a governmental question and duty. They disagree as to the governmental body which should be appealed to. Mr. Mott takes the stand that the national government should take the matter up under the constitutional head of "Internal Improvements." Mr. Shriver, on the other hand, thinks that the method of working through the county, municipal and State governmental bodies is the correct way.

We are not up to State-craft, and so we cannot take sides as to the constitutionality of Mr. Mott's proposition as compared with that of Mr. Shriver's, but as far as we are concerned we would like to see the "national" idea a fixed fact. There is something grand in the thought of a series of national pikes, similar in excellence to those of France; it is, however, appalling in its stupendousness and we fear we must "creep" through the preliminary ways suggested by Mr. Shriver before we can hope to "walk" in the grander path laid out by Mr. Mott. We have the utmost veneration for the Constitution, and for the doctrine of States' Rights, and we should be sorry to see these two bulwarks of American liberty in any way interfere with the public weal in its advanced needs, because when the public weal and venerated constitutions and doctrines are at variance things become unpleasant, to say the least.

A TELEGRAM from Zanzibar, Africa, dated 15 October, states that Thomas Stevens, the bicyclist who was sent to find Stanley, has returned to the coast entirely unsuccessful. It is now believed that Stanley is seeking ivory, and when he does appear will bring a large quantity of that material with him.

BOSTON NOTES.

"TONEY."

During the last season the question of good roads has received a large amount of attention from both wheelmen and horse owners, and there is no reason, whatever, why it should not receive the attention of the general public. The L. A. W. has, perhaps, done more for the improvement of roads than any other association in the country, and if it keeps on in its good work the bitterest opponents of cycling will have a kind word to say for wheelmen.

I took advantage of the fine weather last Sunday and rode to South Natick. On the outward trip I came across a large delegation of the Roxbury Club, that was escorting Captain Arthur P. Benson, of the Dorchester Club, to Corey Hill. Arriving at the scene of many a well-fought hill-climbing contest, the wheelmen dismounted, and Captain Benson rode out from their midst and began to ascend the steep grade. Slowly and surely he ascended the grade, and swiftly and carefully did he coast down the fearful height, leaving in his wake a perfect stream of dust. Six times in succession he drove his safety up the hill, and as he finished the last trip the cyclers could hardly refrain from cheering the plucky rider. Then W. S. Doane of Dorchester, E. C. Anthony and Paul Hassenford of Taunton, mounted their wheels and rode up the hill. No one else caring to attempt the feat before such a large number of wheelmen the party continued the journey to South Natick. Almost the first person I saw, as I rode up to Bailey's, was Mr. Rothe. He rode a safety, and upon a seat resting upon the handle-bars sat his two-year-old child. Then the Charlestown Rovers came scorching along the road, and as I greeted the three century riders, I saw a silver pin bearing the words "Century Run, Oct. 6," resting upon their manly breasts. This was presented to them by Captain Henry A. Robinson as a souvenir of that memorable trip. The most prominent among the other riders who congregated at South Natick last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hendee, who pushed a tandem safety.

While the above-mentioned wheelmen were gathered at South Natick, Messrs. J. M. Sprague, E. B. Pillsbury, H. C. Batchelder and R. C. Amory, of the Boston Athletic Association, were rolling up the miles between Newburyport and Boston. They finally succeeded in riding 100 miles in ten hours.

During the wintry months, when practical cycling is almost impossible, the union runs will probably be called for the theatres, and if the charming Pauline returns to Boston this season the wheelmen will turn out in large numbers.

Col. A. A. Pope and his constituents hope to have the new Cambridge field ready for all kinds of sports about the first of next season. Some great attraction will be offered on the opening day.

The Cambridgeport Club held the first of its series of private parties in Armory Hall, Cambridge, last Tuesday evening, when a large number of visiting wheelmen danced away the fleeting hours with flying feet.

The members of the Harvard Bicycle Club have voted to challenge the Yale Bicycle Club to a road race on the same condition as last year. They also elected a committee to confer with the Technology Club in relation to another road race, and see if its members would not agree to each club contributing towards a cup. The first hare and hound run of the season was held last Tuesday, when most of the riders of the University turned out.

Now that Captain W. G. Kendall has purchased a pretty little villa at Atlantic he is to take unto himself a wife, and on the thirtieth of the present month will be married to Miss C. A. Mosely, of Atlantic. The wheelmen will all unite in wishing the "genial doctor" a long and prosperous career, and, if I am not mistaken, will be well represented both at the wedding ceremony, and at the reception which will follow soon after. The "Doc" is about as well known as any other wheelman, and during his cycling career has made a host of friends, all of whom will extend to him their heartiest well wishes. Captain Kendall has always taken a foremost part in the great cycling events of New England, and it was he who first proposed and helped carry out the first Corey Hill climbing contest. He will still be seen upon the roads and at the meetings of the Massachusetts Board of Officers.

NEW YORK.

"HAWKSHAW."

I wonder if it is expected of any rider having the smallest appreciation of time and distance, that he should accept as a fact the reported riding of a mile in 2.15? I, for one, won't, until I have some more authentic basis for doing so than an Associated Press dispatch. It is just such ill-advised assertions as these that cause us, in the eyes of the world at large, and the cycling world in particular, to pose as braggarts, and then when we really do perform some creditable feat it is lost through the remembrance of such claims as this one. Will wheelmen ever learn that they are their own worst enemies, and that more than anyone else we have ourselves to blame for the poor opinion so many have of us?

Cycles and cycling still go on educating the world. An example of this is shown in the new fashion, lately introduced in cabs in Europe, of attaching a cyclometer to them, so that the passenger has only to look at the indicator upon entering and departing from the vehicle, to know just how far he has ridden, and consequently just how much he has to pay. It will astonish both cab-men and passengers, to find how very long a single mile is when it is accurately measured, as compared with the cab mile of commerce, where the cabbie does the measuring by guessing, and the passenger does the paying.

Thanks, brother "Spindle." Your aid is both timely and able. The fight against the tight be-clad cycling coryphee grows easier, when your verses are added to the efforts I have feebly put forth against these eye-sores of cycling.

So, not content with letting me bear the burden of my own sins, some Western writer has seen fit to add thereto, by rushing into print over the name of "Hawkshaw," and idiotically belaboring the recent meet of the Michigan Division. My sympathies are with the wheelmen of Michigan. It's bad enough to have to be annoyed by the scribblings of one "Hawkshaw," without having in addition another one who is even more of a nuisance than the genuine one. How true it is that fame has its pains no less than its pleasures!

Since the birth of cycling a broader, better, or more comprehensive plan for the construction of decent highways has not been promulgated than the one mapped out by Chief Consul Mott. Allow me to say, that I know not whether an advocacy of Mr. Mott's plans be "Socialistic" or not, neither do I care, for if to adopt his ideas be to declare myself a "Socialist," then I, for one, am proud of the title. "More power to your elbow," Mr. Mott, and may the pen that has placed before us this grand idea be still further used in advocating its adoption. Believe me your opponents are few, and your supporters are many, and when both right and might are combined in battle the result can be nought but victory.

It is not always as true in life as it is in Heaven, that there is more rejoicing over the return of one repentant sinner than there is over the ninety and nine just individuals who have always remained in the shelter of the fold. Cycling seems to adopt the more earthly view of affairs in which it is interested, and as a result I find that there are many riders who view with some unpleasant feelings the elevation to the high places of amateurship of the former professional, who now that there is no longer any profit or glory to be had out of professionalism have become applicants for a dose of reinstatement whitewash, and a return of their amateur rating. Some way or other the whole affair, as viewed by me, brings to my mind that old couplet of "When the Devil was sick, the Devil a monk would be, but when the Devil was well, the devil a monk was he." Perhaps I am wrong, I usually am in most things, but I think this time I am nearer right than usual.

PORKOPOLIS NOTES.

"STAR."

So Rush declares that the Chicago Cyclones did not ride all the way from Indianapolis to Porkopolis in one day, but took the train from Rushville. He must be mistaken, for who ever heard of a resident of Chicago who was not modest and unpretentious, or a Chicago wheelman who would boast of records he had not accomplished? Fie on you Rush for attempting to cast obloquy on those honorable gentlemen!!! Yes, he must be mistaken! If, as my friend Strauss of the Monumental Club would say, "he had made the proper inquiries" he would no doubt have discovered that seven unprincipled wheelmen jealous of the renown of the illustrious Van Sicklen, Clerical Barrett, the saintly Roe and those four tender Thornes, had disguised themselves and palmed themselves off on him as the celebrities just mentioned. If they had told us that they had ridden all the way from Chicago on that day we would have believed them for their tired looks and guileless faces would have carried conviction to the most skeptical mind.

I understand that the Maryland Division are booming their Chief Consul and hope that the name of the next President of the League will be Mott. Well it Mott and then it Mott-n't, for when it is done it may be Dunn. [This is a Bon Mott.—Ed.]

The appropriateness of names, as "Hawkshaw" points out, is sometimes very striking, as for instance: M. A. High, the Chief Consul of the O-High-O Division.

Chief Consul High has appointed Miss Fannie Farrar local consul for Toledo. Now let anybody say that the Ohio Division doesn't recognize the ladies! Miss Farrar will no doubt bring all the lady cyclists in Toledo into the League, see if she doesn't.

Several of the contestants in last year's race were either out of the city or enjoying poor health, and one was laid up from the effects of a railroad colision. It is very doubtful, however, if any of them would have made any better time than was made by Benckenstein.

Wayne was by no means in condition, his close attention to business till late every night for the past two months is beginning to tell on him.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

"NOSTAW."

Bridgeport has the honor of being the birthplace of Sam Sterling, the old time cyclist, known all over the country as the "Champion Hill Climber," "Lone Wheelman" etc., etc. Mr. Sterling has just returned from one of his characteristic trips to Boston, and as usual has a long string of yarns to spin. He engaged in an animated conversation with the veteran six-days-go-as-you-please pedestrian "Old Sport" Campana on Main street the other day, and the two vets soon attracted a large audience. Each was trying to eclipse the other in narrating his numerous exploits. Which one was the most successful, however, is hard to tell. Sterling will start in a few days on another wheel trip while "Old Sport" will wait patiently for another walking match to come around.

The records made by several members of the Rambling Wheelmen during the past season far exceed those of any previous year. A. B. Smith covered 3786 miles from April 1st to October 1st; Harry Elliott 3298; William Seltsam 2932; F. R. Townsend 2872; F. H. Hurd 2454; C. S. Fox 2267. The number of miles registered by the nineteen record riding members was 29,933 to October 1st. During the month of September Hurd made the remarkable record of 1036.

Twenty-five of the Rambling Wheelmen wheeled to Samp Mortar Rock Sunday and spent the day there. The weather was delightful, and everybody thoroughly enjoyed the day's outing. Several pictures were taken by Frank Smith, the veteran photographer of the club. Three of the Bridgeports and two of the Ramblers took a run to New Haven, returning on their wheels late in the afternoon.

LOS ANGELES.

"VINDEX."

The Los Angeles Wheelmen's newly-elected officers have assumed office and commenced work in good earnest. They inaugurated their new policy by leasing the second floor of a building on Spring street, near Sixth, containing eleven rooms, for one year. The new quarters are in a splendid location, and the rooms are all large and well-lighted, and when furnished throughout will not be surpassed on the coast in point of elegance and comfort.

The club takes possession on the 20th inst., and a formal opening of the new quarters will take place about November 1st. The winter solstice promises to be an exceedingly gay one, and with elegant quarters the club is better able to entertain than ever before. A series of fortnightly entertainments will be inaugurated shortly, which promise to be highly successful affairs.

W. F. Nordholt, a well-known wheelman of this city, has returned from an European trip. While abroad he toured with the American wheeling party.

Charles B. Shannon arrived here Sunday evening, from Europe, where he has been touring with the American wheeling party. He speaks in glowing language of his trip, and says it was the event of his life. He was accorded a royal reception by wheelmen here on his return.

From all accounts received here, that intrepid wheelman from Chicago, Tom Roe, has been having a hard time of it crossing the Mojave Desert. Word was received here that he sprained his foot, and was obliged to use only one foot in pedalling. He was refused food at one place, and was told to drink out of a watering trough, if he wished to quench his thirst. Your correspondent's opinion is that Roe did very little riding across the hot and sandy desert, and was obliged to foot it. He has probably reached the Needles ere this, and from now on he will have better riding, if it is possible. Roe was entertained by the Bakersfield, Cal., Club, and news is received that the wheelmen of New Mexico intend receiving him in a royal manner. Roe was obliged to stop a freight train while on the Mohave Desert, to get water to drink, and the report also says he was in a bad physical condition. It is hoped he got through all right.

PEORIA, ILL.

"SANDY."

Peoria Wheelmen have long since ceased to be surprised at any performance of their fellow wheelman, Bert Myers, but it cannot be denied that many were incredulous when they read in yesterday morning's Transcript that he had ridden a mile from a standing start, in 2.13 on a light safety. Investigation satisfied everybody, however, that there was "something in it." Of course it cannot be accepted as a record and no claim is made, but the simple facts are that Myers and a small party were out on our famous Mt. Holly road taking a little spin, when it occurred to the party that the conditions were all favorable for very fast time. The road was perfectly hard and smooth for more than a mile, while a strong wind was blowing directly from behind. A mile had been measured off some time before for training purposes. Two time keepers stationed themselves at the finish and took the time from the drop of a handkerchief, just as Myers started. His wheel was geared to 65, fitted with rat trap pedals and toe clamps, and as his ability to make the pedals fly is pretty well established, it is unnecessary to say that fast time was made. The circumstances and conditions of Myer's mile are almost identical with Whittaker's famous straight-away half mile, made on a 19 pound Rover in 1.09 2-5. One of the two time keepers officiated as timer at the late tournament, hence was experienced and presumably correct. All Myers has to say is that he started his stop watch before he mounted and stopped it after he got off and it registered something under three minutes, and that is all he knows about it, except what the timers tell him. The timers swear to it and no reasonable doubt can be entertained that the mile was not ridden much under the record. [It cannot be possible that the timers "swear" that 2.13 was made as the despatch reported it? Or do the timers vouch for the 2.31 as corrected.—Ed.]

At the regular meeting of the club last night the treasurer's report was listened to with interest. Returns are not all in and a complete report could not be made, but as nearly as could be estimated the late tournament netted the club something over $700. The treasurer was instructed to invest as near that amount as he thought best in a good seven per cent security, same to be held as a nest egg to boom next year's tournament with and a guarantee against loss.

It is amusing to read the lengthy accounts of the tournament in the Chicago and St. Louis papers of the mile race, in which Myers defeated Lumsden, Winship, A. C. Banker, Campbell, Thorne, Tuttle, Van Wagoner and Van Sicklen. They claim Myers won by a "misunderstanding" and that Tuttle, Lumsden and Banker were so busy watching each other that Myers slipped by and won the race before they knew it. The fact is that Myers trailed the field and rode ninth until three eighths of a mile from the finish. Here he commenced a spurt that has rarely been equalled, and at the quarter pole began passing the last men of the field—the entire race to that point having been run in a bunch. Three thousand people in the ampitheatre, recognizing Myers' red and white cap, instantly rose to its feet and began such cheering as is rarely heard. Old men and delicate ladies were surprised to find themselves yelling like Comanches. Myers continued to pass his competitors and at the turn was nearly opposite the leaders. The cheering increased, and as two days' experience had very thoroughly demonstrated that such cheering meant only one thing—a spurt for lead by the Peoria favorite—the contestants had no shadow of an excuse to say Myers caught them unawares. Every man, woman and child in the audience was doing his or her best to notify everybody within two miles that Myers was spurting, and it is hardly to be supposed that his competitors were racing with cotton in their ears. After passing the turn he took the lead, and, riding on the outside, with Lumsden, Winship and the rest spurting their prettiest, he held the lead and finished a winner by two lengths. The cheering was continuous and deafening for the full quarter mile; Myers had to ride on the outside and past the entire field to gain first place. That he caught eight of the most experienced racing men in the United States wholly unawares and passed them all without their knowing anything about it, is, of course, hardly probable.

Myers then rode in the mile safety, open, riding third to W. D. Banker's first and W. C. Thorne's second. Then, without another ace intervening, and with barely time for a rub down, he went into the ten mile scratch, against Lumsden, who had ridden in but one other race that day, while Myers had ridden in three; Winship had ridden in but two, Tuttle, Banker and Campbell but one race each, and G. A. Thorne, two, while none of them rode in the mile safety, open. In spite of this the fight between Myers and Thorne for second place was so close that ninety-nine out of one hundred of the spectators, including all the occupants of the judges' stands—the judges being at the tape on the track—thought that Myers had won second. Two of the judges, including the Peoria representative decided otherwise, however, and people have not done talking about it yet, and keep stopping members of the club on the street to know if it is really so that Myers was given third, and saying, "Why, I know Myers was second; I was sitting just opposite the wire and I saw." Nevertheless, the judges are probably right, for they claim that while Myers' front rim led by a couple of inches, the middle of Thorne's wheel passed the tape first, he riding the fastest at the finish, thus deceiving the spectators.

THE status of the principal contestants at the wind up of the tournament is best shown by the following partial list of prize-winners, taken from the Referee: Lumsden, two firsts, one second; Myers, two firsts, two seconds, two thirds; Winship, one first, one second, one third; Tuttle, one first, one third; W. D. Banker, one first. Lumsden was eligible to every race in which Myers entered, and entered every race but one. He did not start in every race he entered, it is true, but it is equally true that he did not win every race he entered any more than Myers did.

THE club gives a lantern parade Thursday evening of this week, followed by a banquet at Frederick's Hotel, open only to members that ride in the parade. A brilliant social season for the coming winter is now being planned, and a lively time is anticipated. The Peoria Bicycle Club has always stood exceedingly well in Peoria, hence the great success of the tournament places the club absolutely beyond competition in a social way, locally.

HARRISBURG, PA.

"CYC."

C. H. CHAYNE was the recipient of a letter from Captain Speirer, of the Century Club, in which he has enlightened us as to those mysterious words, "When you get to Downingtown you are to telephone" (which were written us by Galbraith, of Milton, when a route was asked for). Captain S. says it was he that gave Galbraith the route, and Galbraith in turn repeated the same words to us, and is it any wonder that we were puzzled? However, all is explained, and we most humbly beg both gentlemen's pardon. Captain S. says he would like to meet us half way and urges us to come this year, but we cannot do it, as all know that the condition of the roads at our end necessitates a daylight ride, and in order to make the run we would be compelled to start before daylight, and we are in no condition. We should be very glad, however, to have Captain S. and his men (who think nothing of a "century run") visit us and we will meet them half way, and the bad end of the route will be ridden in daylight. What say you, gentlemen?

THE Wheel Club were handsomely entertained by one of their number on Monday night last, and in a novel manner. Progressive euchre was indulged in for a few hours. The ladies were gentlemen, and distinguished by club colors in shape of a badge. There was great struggling for the prizes intermingled with music by the orchestra. Frank Rohrer captured first, H. W. Stone second, and H. A. Chayne the booby. The booby we will mention only. It consisted of a "Little Wagon, containing the Last Boy in the race, trimmed in Club Colors," and on it was this inscription:

"TO BOOBY."

Accept this Booby Prize, my lad,
And it is hoped you'll not get mad;
This Little Boy thought he could "spurt,"
But down the bank his head he hurt;
And when the boys saw he was lagging,
They brought him home in this Little Red Wag-ging.
Moral—Don't spurt.

Refreshments were afterwards served, and thus a delightful evening spent.

AT present, much is being done to make "headquarters" pleasant for the coming winter season, the members feeling that "with wheeling goes music." When out on a run, the starting of the song inspires men to faster pedalling and greater distance with less fatigue, and when in the club room it is indispensable. Thus thinking, a piano has been ordered to grace the rooms in time for the first monthly reception for the ladies booked for November.

THE past week of good weather has been taken advantage of by all the wheelmen of the city, consisting of day and night runs to Dauphin and Rockville. Chestnut runs were popular, and the run on Tuesday was well attended, but chestnuts scarce.

G. A. HUTMAN showed us how nicely he provides for his little four-year-old daughter, by clamping on to his safety an extra seat for her, a queer addition but a comfortable one, and apparently safe.

CHICAGO

"THE STROLLER."

To say that the letter from Rushville, in last week's WORLD, caused a sensation in cycling circles here is drawing it very mild. The first mail on Monday brought in the WORLD, and an hour afterwards it was all over town. Bill Nye's Forty Liars had been more than put to sleep by seven so-called Chicago braves, and a leading Chicago daily hoaxed to the tune of 1200 or more words, sent C. O. D., describing the marvellous ride. Could it be possible? Was it true? That seven of the fastest riders in the city (all able to ride a mile in 2.50, and some in 2.40, and nearly all of them had made a century run in a day) could be guilty of perpetrating such a fraud on their friends and fellow-wheelmen? Some said no, while others smiled and looked wise. The Illinois men fairly shook their sides with laughter, rubbed their hands with glee, and were almost sorry that the hatchet had been buried quite so soon, as they thought how, but for that, they could have openly exulted at the sad predicament of their former foes. The regular monthly meeting of the Chicagos occurred that evening, and something had to be done by the conspirators. A hasty caucus was held, and a plan mapped out as to the best way out of the dilemma, and it was determined to make a bold stand, treat the affair as a joke, and to express wonderment that it had not leaked out before. And so each one, armed with a card conveying the information that "I am somewhat of a liar myself" (and no one contradicted them), they appeared at the club house to take their medicine, and it was given to them in liberal quantities. Their excuses were: "The day was hot, 119 in the shade; roads dusty, no rain in six weeks; all the way down hill but the hill leaned the wrong way," etc., etc. But think of it, the President, the Captain, the Secretary, First Lieutenant and Librarian! Shades of the departed Munchausen, let the mantle of Charity envelop this last achievement of theirs, if it is possible; but the records of the Old Ananias Club here furnish nothing to equal this.

BERT MYERS, of Peoria, wants it distinctly understood that he was not one of the "famous seven" who rode from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, in a day, recently. Why, Bert?

THE "Looker On," or more recently "Bystander," was a candidate for admission to membership in the Chicagos at the last meeting, his application backed up by such men as President Thorne, and Burley Ayres. But a couple of the Chicago's men saw a chance to even up some old scores, in the shape of former newspaper roasts, and so a still hunt was indulged in, that resulted in more black balls for the candidate than white. The reason given for this was that the candidate was not an amateur, although it was an open fact, known to at least one interested party, that he had been reinstated, and held a letter from Davol to that effect.

I UNDERSTAND that Captain Davis is rather disgruntled at the hatchet performance at Peoria, and insists that the chasm is as deep and as wide as ever between the two clubs, and that that page of history that contains the theatre party episode cannot be blotted out by any such performances as that gone through with at Peoria. I can well understand how Will's feelings must have been shocked when he heard the news. But hot partisan as he is, I still think he will do all in his power to promote a friendly feeling between the two clubs.

A MEMBER of the Illinois Club, and an intimate friend of Tuttle's, has sent in an application for membership to the Chicago, and a dapper member of the latter club is at fever heat over it, as he recalls an incident that took place at the bicycle tournament, at the Exposition Building, last May, between himself and the above-mentioned applicant. In all probability he will fail of election. Then how will Tuttle take this? and will this not be the means of resurrecting the recently buried hatchet? I am anxiously waiting to see how the C. C. C.s will get around the predicament.

I ATTENDED a very enjoyable smoker at the Illinois Club rooms, Saturday evening, and was much amused at the various comments on that 145-mile record fiasco.

THE Illinois Club will give a reception and ball, at Martine's West Side Hall, Thursday, October 24th. Will the Chicagos attend in a body?

THE Chicagos expect to have their house warming in about three weeks, and are making great preparations for the same.

THE Lincolns are almost in the throes of another raffle for a Light Roadster; all for the benefit of the club.

"OCCASIONAL."

HAVING recovered from my summer "lethargic spell," I will, from now on, endeavor to keep your readers posted as to our doings out here in the wild, windy, woolly and whoop-er-up West. No doubt these notes will be more acceptable to your Eastern customers, during the winter than they would at any other season, for, while our Eastern brethren are lolling around the club rooms, etc., we are enabled, thanks to our "glorious climate," [this man is in the real estate business—ED.] to indulge in club runs, road races and hill climbing contests the same as at any other time.

W. H. HURLBURT of Stamford, Conn., who has been visiting here all summer, and C. A. Rivers, 1st Lieutenant of the Social Wheel Club, left Denver Friday morning, October 4th, on their wheels for a ride to Cincinnati. Both gentlemen are excellent riders and are making good time. At last accounts they had reached St. Louis and were both in fine settle and had all hopes of making their destination inside the time they had figured on, namely, three weeks. To do this they will have to average seventy-two miles a day during the entire trip.

THE match race between Jackson and Block, which was to have taken place October 13th, has been declared off. Two weeks before the day set, Block was taken down with typhoid fever. Although he has recovered sufficienty to be up and about, it will be some time before he can safely go through the training that would be necessary to ride a fifty mile race. No doubt the event will take place early in the spring.

THE "second annual ball" of the Denver Ramblers takes place upon the evening of Nov. 8th at Warren's Hall. The prospects are that it will be a big success, both socially and financially.

THE date of the inaugural hop of the Social Wheel Club is set for Wednesday evening, Oct. 30th. Martine's new hall has been secured for the occasion.

ON the 6th inst. eight members of the Social Wheel Club left Denver at 5.30 in the morning for a century run. The route selected was to Greeley and return, total distance 112 miles. Three succeeded in making the round trip. They were E. S. Hartwell, Herb Shaw and J. L. Sutton. Two others labored back to within 20 miles of home, while the other three trained it all the way from Greeley.

CHIEF CONSUL HARTWELL has done very little, as yet, in regards to League matters. This, in a great respect, is due to the tardiness in handing over to him the papers pertaining to the office. It seems to me the League officials are rather slow in attending to the interests of us poor fellows away out here. Of course we are an insignificant division, but carelessness on their part will never encourage us to attain anything better. When a name is sent in for membership (which has not been very often lately, but will be of more frequency in the future), it is sometimes five weeks before the name is published. I have in mind a party that sent in his application early in July and has not received his League card yet.

[Our correspondent should remember that "Heaven helps those who help themselves." If there has been delay in "handing over papers" it has been in Colorado, not among League officials. The administration of Colorado's last Chief Consul was not altogether creditable, and the new Consul is delayed only in treating with that man. Divisions conduct their own business now and do not lean on the League. Let our correspondent go to work and help Consul Hartwell. Let the wheelmen of Colorado go to work, choose good officials, shape their own destiny. Our correspondent's statements about the delay in publishing names is absurd and cannot be verified.—ED.]

PROVIDENCE NOTES.

"ELNOD."

WE feel pretty well satisfied over the work done by Van Wagoner this season, and each of his achievements establishes the fact in the minds of our local wheelmen, that Van is a goer of the fleetest kind. His victory over Dampman places him away up on the pinnacle of our estimation. On Saturday, Nov. 2, Wm. Van Wagoner will attempt to break Wilhelm's road record, from Paoli to 52d street, Philadelphia, on the Lancaster Pike. He will use the same machine he rode in the Wilmington road race, and will have for pace makers Dampman, Merrihew, Taxis, and possibly T. Hall of Brooklyn. If weather is not good Saturday will ride Monday.

SEVERAL members of the Belmont Club, of Taunton, visited Providence last Sunday and made a short stop at the rooms of the R. I. Wheelmen.

VAN WAGONER arrived here from Wilmington on Monday evening, but nobody but an intimate friend would have recognized him, as his face was swollen very badly and he was suffering intense pain from an ulcerated tooth. He was made as comfortable as possible, however.

THE Entertainment Committee of the R. I. W. propose having a theatre party at the Gaiety Opera House next Tuesday evening, to see Hoyt's "Rag Baby." That will probably bring out a great many of the boys, as that is the only kind of babies that they are interested in.

How about Chas. S. Davol for next President of the League?

NEWS AND COMMENT.

IN the case of the running down of Mr. Bordman by Peter Igo, in Malden, as reported in our issue of the 27th September: At the hearing Igo pleaded guilty to the charge of assault, and the usual fines were imposed, and Mr. Igo left the court room a poorer and a wiser man. The Massachusetts Division took the case in hand, and Mr. J. S. Dean was the counsel.

TOM ROE is reported as being four days behind his scheduled time. He expects to beat Tom Stevens' time, however.

THE Hon. Byron Weston, of Weston, Mass., comes to the front as a liberal patron of the sport of cycling. He is having a three-quarter-mile cycle track, sixteen feet wide, laid down at his personal expense.

THE fate of young Richard A. Webb, of Springfield, Mass., whose disappearance we reported in last week's issue, is still a mystery. The theory of accidental drowning is fast gaining ground. The river has been dragged, and dynamite been used, without avail.

A TAUNTON, Mass., paper intimates that there is a strong chance of Anthony and Dampman meeting, before snow flies, on some neutral ground (in New Jersey, perhaps), and settle the mooted question of superiority. We would like to see a race free from accident between these two men.

THE Harvard Bicycle Club will hold a road race some time in November, and at the last meeting challenged Yale to a road race during November. At the two last meetings of the club about thirty new members were elected, making some eighty or ninety in all. There are six men training on the track on ordinaries, besides Davis and Bailey.

THE cards of the marriage, November 6th, of Mr. P. C. Darrow (of the Wheelman's Gazette), to Miss Louise K. Halsey, of Milwaukee, are out. We offer our congratulations to Mr. Darrow.

THE Elwell European tour was so successful that Mr. Elwell has decided to conduct a similar party the coming summer. The route will be slightly altered, and such arrangements made for comfort of the party, as an experience gained on previous tour proved necessary. The programme will be ready in about a month. Party will be limited to thirty. Mr. H. S. Higgins, the treasurer of last season's party, will be associated with Mr. Elwell in the undertaking.

THERE is trouble in the Zigzag Club of Buffalo, strife prevails and bad blood is engendered. The cause of the trouble is told by a local paper as follows: "Certain swell members of the club complained that they did not want to have the 'low bridge gang,' as they termed some of their cycling companions in the organization. They complained that the young fellows whom they wanted to fire out were unruly and boisterous, improper persons, toughs, and were totally unfit for their society. These assertions were too much for the other wearers of knee pants, and they objected violently to being called toughs and sweats, and for days the air in the Zigzag Club cottage at the Circle and Porter avenue was of a very brilliant hue." Dismemberment will be the probable result.

A WRITER from Topeka, Kansas, sends us the following item. "Last Sunday, at 6 A. M., twelve of the Topeka Wheelmen met for a run to Holton, thirty-two miles north, and after a hasty attack on various lunch counters, left the city at 6.30, with a head wind registering twenty knots. Nine of the party finished, arriving from 11 to 12.30, in the following order: Canniff, Townsend, Phelps, Hill, Mulvane, Lyman, Gilmore, Vogel and Morse. The other boys, Taylor and the Lescher brothers, not wishing to keep the pace, dropped back and were overhauled by Remus Atwood, our heaviest rider, and these four rode to Hoyt, sixteen miles, and home, thereby missing the elegant dinner which 'Sam's mother,' Mrs. Lyman, prepared for the boys, and for which she has their eternal thanks. Eastern 'parlor floor' riders please take notice that one of our miles is equal to three of theirs, on account of hills in every direction from town. I was told by a wheelman who had frequented Lancaster Pike and then ridden our roads, that he felt insulted."

of a mob's wrath because the balloon in which his protege was to make her ascent to the clouds and then to earth via parachute, failed to work. They say W. M. showed good fight for a time but numbers got the best of him and he at once showed wonderful capabilities as a foot sprinter.

THE September number of the the Cyclist's Companion contains a most excellent likeness of J. Purvis-Bruce ("Jack"). It also contains a fine photo of Mr. A. G. Mott of Baltimore. The list of L. A. W. Hotels and world's records is kept up to date. This little book should be in the hands of every wheelman. It is published by S. A. Miles, 134 Van Buren street, Chicago.

RUMORS are heard of a challenge issued some time ago by Isaac Hinds to Walter Ash, two Baltimore flyers. Ash says he is ready to race Hinds on twenty-four hours' notice and hopes the latter will accept. Ash and Emerson also issue a challenge to any two riders in the Centaur Club to race from one to fifty miles over the track or drive around Druid Lake on ordinaries over thirty-five pounds, tricycles over thirty-two pounds, tandem over seventy-five pounds or safeties over twenty-two pounds.

IN noting the removal of the Overman Wheel Co last week, the word "Falls" fell out. The correct address of the Overman Wheel Co.'s home office is Chicopee Falls, Mass., and not simply "Chicopee," as our types made it last week.

MR. GEORGE A. PERKINS, of Cambridge, who has so ably championed the wheelman's cause in the Legislature, is again a candidate for Representative. We hope that wheelmen, be they Republicans, Democrats or Mugwumpians, will help the good cause along by giving a vote to George.

BERKSHIRE AND THE HUDSON.

(Concluded.)

CAPTAIN PATTON, a wheelman of eighteen years' standing, took us on a run to Williamstown and Williams College, and return to the smoke of the Hoosac Tunnel in the evening, and when the curtain disappeared the long line of electric lights on each side, running together to a point at the central shaft, a couple of miles away. The haze denied the view from high Greylock Mountain.

In the morning our conductor and a Mr. Pierce accompanied us to South Winston, and we regretfully parted company, and reached the thriving town of Pittsfield in the early afternoon and experienced the luxury of a refreshing bath after our labors. We hunted up the wheelmen, of course, and a bright Troy "drummer" —a former club member—talked over our route to Hudson.

On entering Pittsfield we had noticed the picnicking Point of Pines at Lake Pontoosuc—a Sunday rendezvous for cyclists—and so we did not return for a run. In Pittsfield itself four principal streets centre in a square at the park, and there are handsome residence streets, often nearly as pretty, as far as six miles south to Lenox. High license figures in this part of the country, running as high as $1900. At Pittsfield our noonday repast was merely farmhouse milk, biscuit, and the icy waters from a neighboring spring in a cave.

From Pittsfield to Hudson we rode, on a quiet Sabbath, through the Shaker villages, over a single mountain, past quiet lakes with the birthplace of Samuel J. Tilden resting in the distance among the hills, and lifting its white church spire heavenwards. Stopping for dinner at Canaan Four Corners, we sped on easily over superb roads forty-five miles to Hudson. Fine houses and fine roads—rolled roads—are the rule which it is fervently hoped other sections may be induced to adopt.

The young ladies of Hudson are numerous and attractive, possibly because it was Sunday evening, and the park on the heights overlooking the Hudson formed a good setting for their beauty. The next morning we left the comfortable Worth House with regret, and after a view of portions of four States from the heights of the reservoir, we worked our passage over the poorly-conditioned post road up hill and down, with barren scenery, to the descriptive Blue Stores. From there to Upper Red Hook the roads and scenery improved, as well as our appreciation for the coming Park Hotel's dinner. Mine host of the Park raises his own chickens, and in this fruit country makes his own plum preserve, so to our sharpened appetites the repast was regal. Then on to Rhinebeck, catching a glimpse at the Rhinebeck House, of its noted girlish-looking fluid-mixer, and later, back from the road we saw the residence of Vice President Morton.

The night brought us to Poughkeepsie, with its princely club quarters and attentive wheelmen, who calling for us promptly after tea entertained us royally. We here met Dr. Mitchell, of Troy, bound up the river on his safety, and Mr. Mitchell, a jolly New Yorker, down the road on his ordinary. The local club here is large, well conducted, in fact we have met no wheelmen who are not agreeable. If there ever should be any "hoodlum" wheeling element, why send it to the rear.

Just out of Poughkeepsie in the morning we were welcomed at pretty Wappingers Falls by Mr. Thos. E. Goring, an enthusiastic wheelman and owner of a fast tandem "bike" and a safety. We soon began to get good views of the Hudson and later the Palisades, as the road swept nearer the shore of the beautiful and historic river. At Garrison's we fulfilled our duty as patriotic citizens by crossing the river and inspecting the cadets' quarters at West Point, the old French, Spanish and Mexican captured cannon, the parade, the library, the portraits and "Old Tecumseh's" stirring letter resigning his position at Louisiana College at the dawn of the Rebellion. From here to Tarrytown the train is preferable, but no one should miss the fine roads and succession of elegant residences that line the thoroughfare beyond to Kings Bridge. We stopped alone in the crisp morning air to admire Jay Gould's Norman home and alongside down the dale with other sightseers, Washington Irving's Sunnyside retreat. The purling brook above still bubbles with glee and at the house beneath the gable the black letter German text points out the abode of the Misses Irving. It is like Mt. Vernon in historical interest, and to have seen it teaches history from its sources.

Central Park ever reveals much that is bright in the Metropolis and closes the gap between wealth and want. Prince and peasant may alike stroll or roll along through its shaded precincts and admire its varied attractions, not the least of which is the Metropolitan Art Museum, with its great art treasures, its perfect "Horse Fair," its Washingtonia, its Catherine Lorillard Wolfe collection of canvas masterpieces, its Russian goldwork and its exquisite jade-stone.

The palatial "ocean greyhound," the City of Paris, the dark climb in Bartholdi's colossal Statue of Liberty and the spider threads of the great Brooklyn Bridge athwart the sky were not neglected in our sightseeing until the harp and the mystic night lulled the brown wanderers to willing slumber on the homeward steamer.

Dear reader! If my tale has persuaded you to take your wheel and go and do likewise, I shall feel that my lines have fulfilled their mission.

WM. M. P. BOWEN.

IS IT RIGHT TO RIDE ON THE SABBATH?

"Let no man, therefore, judge you in food or drink, or in respect of a holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath, which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is of Christ."—Colossians II., 16.

Whether or not to ride on Sunday, is a question which almost every rider has to decide early in his experience as a wheelman. If he has been carefully trained in religious matters he is apt to regard it as a violation of the sacred day; on the other hand, he sees his friends riding on that day, and he naturally longs to be with them, and feels that somehow it ought to be right whether it is or not, but he does not wish to violate his conscience, and social usage, and perhaps wound the feelings of his family and friends by openly and publicly breaking a commandment which they religiously observe. What then is his duty? Exactly what is included in the commandment, and what are his rights under the law? Laying aside as trivial, the question as to the observance of the seventh or first day of the week, we will only consider the essential meaning of the commandment, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy; six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, but the seventh is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work," etc.

The Sabbath of the Bible and the modern Sunday are two widely different things. The essential idea in the commandment is the prohibition of all labor. It says nothing about amusements or recreation. It is not even a religious day; it is a day of rest, a cessation from all toil, a day of refreshment and re-invigoration to prepare the mind and the body for another week of toil, it is the only respite from the Edenic curse of life-long labor. The modern Sunday is not a Christian institution, it is a purely human invention of our Puritan ancestors for which they had no support in the Scriptures. This Puritanical idea consists in passing the day in religious meditation, worship in the sanctuary, abstinence from all secular occupation and conversation and amusement; essentially a religious day. Such was not the Sabbath of Scripture. At no time in the past has the world known any such institution as the modern Sunday, save in New England. A careful analysis of the commandment fails to show any such meaning or spirit. The whole commandment is to keep it "holy," and as is often the case, the Bible is its own best commentary, the lines that follow explain what is meant by keeping it holy, so there may be no mistake about it. It is not doing any labor, nor the servant nor the cattle. It is apparent that Sunday is a violation of the Sabbath, in letter and spirit. The Jewish people have never understood the commandment to prohibit recreation, neither when the commandment was given, nor at the time of Christ, and surely they ought to be the best interpreters of their own law; neither has it been so interpreted by any nation in Europe, or anywhere except in New England.

If then, the command applies wholly to labor, in order that we may keep it, let us consider just what is labor and what is rest. If labor is defined to mean one's ordinary secular occupation or avocation, it will perhaps cover the case for the present purpose. That being the case it is obvious that Sunday riding may or may not be labor according as a man's occupation is sedentary or not. The religionist says "you must remain quietly at home and rest," but I say that is not rest to me for I do that all day long, every day. On the other hand Sunday riding may be just such exercise as I am accustomed to every day, and in that case to me it would be labor.

Illustrations might be multiplied, but the fact remains that every one must decide that question for himself and not for another. "Let no man therefore judge you in food or drink, or in respect of a holy day, or of the new moon or of the Sabbath." If by a Sunday ride I am refreshed, rested and invigorated then I have kept the commandment both in spirit and the letter.

Whatever may have been the religious intent of the commandment in the Mosaic law, Jesus distinctly does away with it. He is asked what are the commandments, and replies, "thou shalt do no murder" "Thou shalt not commit adultery," "Thou shalt not steal," "Thou shalt not bear false witness," "Honor thy father and thy mother," and "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Of the extremely important command about the Sabbath, Jesus says not a word, but more than ignoring the command Jesus breaks it. He plucked ears of corn and ate them, which was a violation of the Sabbath day observance, and when rebuked by the Pharisees he declared that the Sabbath was made for man. We have then explicit authority from the acknowledged head of Christianity for disregarding the Mosaic command about the Sabbath. As Christians we are authorized to use the Sabbath for the benefit of man.

And now for the moral effect of Sunday riding. Does it benefit or injure those who engage in it? It may be claimed that young men are led to violate the Sabbath day, and are thus led to immorality. Whose fault is this, save of those who have made a human ordinance usurp a divine command? To declare that Sunday recreation is a sin, is to ignore the teaching of Jesus. Do not commit the terrible mistake of insisting that what is harmless on Monday is a sin on Sunday. Then if boys indulge in Sunday amusement they will feel that having done one wicked act they may as well do others; in this way Sunday riding or any other recreation encourages immorality, but the plain fact is that unwise people make Sunday recreation a sin, when it is no sin.

The majority of those who ride Sundays are young men who are shut up in offices or stores all the week, and have only Sunday in which to get a breath of God's pure air and sunshine. The hours passed in riding are spent in invigorating exercise, in the open air, where tired bodies and brains are rested. I can see no inconsistency in a young man's attending church in the morning and riding in the afternoon, and have done so myself many times.

If it were possible to stop Sunday riding, what would your moralist give the young men in place of it? They would dawdle about the streets, loaf in saloons and drift into evil habits and associations, about whose evil effects there can be no doubt. For those who have pleasant and attractive homes there are many ways in which Sunday can be pleasantly passed. To such it is easy to declaim against Sunday riding. For clergymen who use all the Sunday in hard and exhaustive work (the commandment to the contrary notwithstanding), it is somewhat natural to wish to change Sunday into Sabbath, but how is it with the young men of whom there are so many? The hours passed in riding are better spent for purposes of rest than any other way that I know of, and until Sunday riding harms the body there is not much danger of it harming the soul.

The Master of Christianity has declared that the Sabbath was made for man's use, and I protest against any attempt to dictate to me how I shall use it, and I am quite sure to call actions sins which are not sins is to inflict an immense damage on the moral character of the community. Denouncing Sunday recreation as a sin against God is to confound things human with things divine, and will do more to promote immorality than all the Sunday recreation in the world.

MR. MOTT'S SCHEME.

Editor Bicycling World: Narrowed down as it is by his most recent letter, Mr. Mott's plan to improve roads through Congressional intervention loses some of its objectionable features, only to take on others. He does not now propose that the League should ask for the centralization of road management in the national government, but only that it should urge upon the latter the expenditure of some of the surplus which is burning the national pocket upon the construction of interstate highways. Looked at a second time, does he think this a hopeful field for work? Does he think that the experience of the people, with the precedent so unfortunately chosen for illustration, the annual River and Harbor scandal, with its fellow, the Public Buildings, alias "Park," Bill, that corrupts Congress at each session—is encouraging for further experiments in the same line. These two great sewers for public money have at least some excuse for being? A part of the money thrown into them is of public benefit, but who, except wheelmen, wants interstate highways since railroads were invented? We all want good local highways, but the day for the construction of such a road as the old National road from Baltimore to Wheeling—the example which has perhaps inspired Mr. Mott—passed away with the stage coach.

Mr. Mott may intend to avoid the incorporation of partisan questions in his campaign upon the Treasury; can he do so? To reiterate what I said last week, the question before the American people is not how to spend the surplus, but how to stop it, and all the efforts on one side this issue are bent toward avoiding anything which, by dissipating these accumulated funds will obscure their origin. I am a free-trader, and oppose not only all taxes upon products of industry, but all attempts at government regulation of industry or artificial creation of work. Mr. Mott, I should judge to be a protectionist, and doubtless believes I am wrong; but can he not see that when he urges the League to take action along a line in direct opposition to my cardinal political faith, he must force myself and others of my way of thinking, to allow ourselves to be misrepresented by the body of which we are members?

That he does not yet see this is clear from many things in his letter, and not least from his failure to grasp my meaning in alluding to the Socialistic character of his proposal to open the Treasury flood-gates for the sake of giving employment. It is not Socialistic necessarily for the government to employ labor, but it is Socialistic to invent employment for the sake of relieving distress. Mr. Mott may think that Socialism is all right, and if he logically holds the protectionist ideas that he has expressed, he must think so to a certain extent, little as he is perhaps aware of it, for the theory of protection is a part of the Socialistic theory. But he should not ask for even the moral support through the League, from those of us who believe that the congested state of industry which we see around us is due to legal restrictions upon trade and improvement, and that it is not to be cured by continuing to do injustice with one hand and doling out charity work with the other.

These very questions of internal improvements, instead of being far from politics or partisan character, as Mr. Mott thinks, have from the beginning been among the questions that our parties have fought over. As a mere matter of expediency, it has always been recognized that we can have with our great expanse of territory no such central regulation of road-making as is possible in such countries as England or France, which are hardly larger than most of our States. But more more than this, the people have always refused to grant Congress power over these things and only grudgingly consented to national control of waterways, which for the most part are essentially interstate affairs, and totally different in this respect from carriage roads, the traffic on which is and must remain purely local.

One digression that Mr. Mott indulges in, I must notice: His criticism of my condemnation of forts and navies. Perhaps he is not aware that the most elaborate fortifications abroad have been pronounced useless against modern artillery, that no less an authority than Gen. Sheridan has declared that the true policy for us in such matters is to dig rifle pits only, and put guns in them, and that no ship has been built in recent years whose armor could not be pierced by a gun finished first. I mention this not so much because it is strictly germane to our topic, as to show Mr. Mott the kind of discussion that he will plunge us into when he sets the League astride in this way of leading political questions.

And now a word more as to the practicability of all this, and to defend myself from the imputation of posing as a mere objector. Since Mr. Mott has himself made the comparison, he will pardon me for saying that there is a wide difference between carrying through an annual League meeting and influencing Congress, even though it be to the congenial business of passing appropriations. Among the sixty million people of the United States, the twelve thousand members of the League are a very small speck on the political horizon, whilst not only is each of the larger divisions in a position to command some attention from its local legislature, but much of the force of the entire League can be concentrated on detached efforts, as in the case of the New York Liberty Bill. Here, then, is a legitimate and, to my mind, a more vulnerable point of attack for us, in directing our energies in one State after another to the obtaining of suitable legislation, for the building and maintenance of roads by the authorities, to which in conformance with existing political institutions this is admitted to belong, rather than in seeking to create new political traditions, with the ultimate purpose of securing a class of roads that in reality are not wanted. Let us follow the line of the least resistance rather than that of the greatest. If it be objected that this perpetuates the emasculation of our national League, in which I myself think we have gone too far, I would answer that our national League officials might be armed with more authority to spur up negligent or dilatory Chief Consuls to their work, and that within our own ranks there can be no objection to conducting our campaign for good roads upon one general plan, attacking each outpost in detail, but backing the attack with an entirely available reserve, and directing it under the authority of our Commander-in-Chief. When we have disciplined our own force to such concerted action it may be time for us to talk of entering the more dazzling field of national legislation for the modelling of American road systems upon the ideal of our microcosm thus attained; but quite possibly we may then find it unnecessary.

THE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Editor Bicycling World: There have been several clippings from different papers (notably the Referee) sent with the unmistakable intention of courting comment upon the problem of having the L. A. W. championships run so that racers from all parts of the country could compete in them, and so that a holder of a championship could be de facto the champion and not merely a sectional sprinter of local fame.

Why comment is invited is a conundrum, and the only experience the writer has had in racing was at Bull Run, and in the contest for the Citizen's Cup at Baltimore. To be sure, the record made at Bull Run was never known to be beaten—weight for age—and a bicycle or any other mode of more rapid transit was to be devoutly wished for. However, the speed on that occasion, even under adverse circumstances, may have established a reputation for sprinting that has reached the ready ears of the race promotors. To be sure, again, participating in the race for the Citizen's Cup was under the great disadvantage of being about to become a grandpa, but there you are again, "Old Jerry" (as the Maryland Club puts it) got there just the same, and hopes to tell the little grandson all about it in the near future.

With these few preliminaries to illustrate the expertness of the expert opinion, the "solid chunks of wisdom" will follow. In the first place, to solve a problem that has business for any of its factors, it must be worked out on business principles.. Amateur cycle racing is a gentlemanly sport, but, unfortunatey there are certain practical questions of finance connected with it that cannot well be overlooked. It is proposed then, to cater to the sport, and yet, at the same time, to carry on the race meets in such a business like manner that loss will not ensue to the promotors, and so that all worthy amateurs in all parts of the country can compete together without any great strain on their pockets.

The first proposition is, to have all the L. A. W. championships run off annually at one meet, under the direction of the Racing Board or its duly appointed agent, the Racing Board to derive all the revenue from the races, which revenue shall constitute a fund for promoting racing for these championships. As but one race meet will be held where these championships will be contested, it is patent that competition between cities and towns would ensue as to where they should be held in any one year. This will beget rivalry, and make the privilege of intrinsic value. There are a great many live cities in the country which are constantly on the lookout for such events as these to advertise them to the world and draw a floating population that always leaves money in its track. Thus it pays a city to attract to itself notice and custom, and in that way live business men of a live city are willing to subscribe to a fund to pay the expenses of a race meet of the magnitude of one for all the L. A. W. championships, with the eclat of contestants from all over the country. For instance, the Racing Board could make an estimate of the cost of holding such a meet, and write the Chief Consul of Maryland that upon the deposit of such a sum to their credit, the races for 1890 would be held in Baltimore. (And parenthetically let it he said, the Chief Consul of Maryland would snap up the offer so quick that it wouldn't have time to grow cold.) The privilege might even be left open to competition between cities and towns.

This then, and the gate money, provides a fund. The fund would be used for providing a track, when necessary, purchase of medals and other expenses, and * * *. Yes, and * * *. There is just where it comes in, either the shock to oversensitive amateur nerves, or the taint of lucre that may make it abhorrent. But it might as well be written at once, for it is the key of the situation, the only thing that will open these championships to more than a limited competition. The proposition is also to pay the necessary and actual traveling expenses of contestants from this fund.

Now, it is a self evident truth that it would be impossible to pay the expenses of all who might want to compete, and so it would be necessary to place certain restrictions on that part of the scheme or every ambitious young scorcher in the country might want to take advantage of such liberality to make an entry of himself anyway and at least visit the meet. To counteract any such tendency and make the events races and not processions, it should be stipulated that only the traveling expenses should be paid of those who made a certain time (to be named by the Racing Board) in the race. This would have a tendency to prevent over-ambitious men at great distances from uselessly entering, and would bring the cost of the meet down to practicable figures.

The only other factor noticed is that of racers to attend such meets. The dates for the races should be made so that each racer could make his calculations a long time ahead—say a year. Nearly every one takes a holiday once a year at least, and the racer could, with rare exceptions, so time his holiday that it would dovetail in with the dates set by the Racing Board. It is quite probable, that after one or two meets held in this manner, sufficient funds would be in hand to provide for future ones without the aid of subscriptions, and that expenses would be paid by the gate alone.

Of course the success of such a scheme depends greatly upon the wisdom with which it is handled, but no doubt the experienced Racing Board could so arrange the details that all possibilities would be taken advantage of.

VISITORS' RUN OF THE WILMINGTON WHEEL CLUB.

Following the Wilmington Club's road race [reported in our racing columns.—Ed.] came a lantern parade in the evening in which between one and two hundred handsomely decorated wheels were seen to advantage, the route being through the principal streets to the Red Men's Hall where a banquet had been provided for the visitors.

Mr. Kurtz acted as Toast Master and speeches were made by the Mayor of Wilmington and Messrs. Mott, Overman, Laing (President of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club), Hare (President of the Century Wheelmen), Brown, Dampman, McDaniel, Van Wagoner and others. Dampman in a few words explained the cause of his defeat, saying that Van Wagoner rode too fast, to which the latter happily responded. The affair was a great success, winding up in a blaze of enthusiasm, the band playing "Annie Laurie," and it was a late hour before the last wheelman was safely housed.

SUNDAY MORNING.

Upwards of sixty riders, among whom were twenty-six members of the Wilmington Wheel Club, sixteen of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club, and representatives from Baltimore, Washington, Chester, West Chester, New Port, South End, Century, and other clubs, rode to Media via Chester, where they enjoyed an excellent dinner as the guests of the Wilmington Wheel Club.

After the meal, McDaniel, in revenge for the knock-out of the previous day's race, inaugurated a hill-climbing contest up the Media hill, a slope which is considerably worse than Conshohocken hill, the terror of Philadelphia riders. In spite of a stiff leg he took first honors in this, getting up once on his light roadster and again on a safety. Among the others who climbed it were Van Wagoner on a safety, Dampman, Elliott, A. Jefferis and T. E. Jefferis and Schrader, of the Pennsylvania Club. Hoopes, of West Chester, got half way up on a safety and then dismounted, finishing the climb after a rest.

The party then separated, after a short rest, the Wilmingtonians riding back to Wilmington, with some of the strangers, while the Pennsylvania Club rode home to Philadelphia via the pike, under command of Lieutenant Lehman, Captain Leisen's safety having broken its rim in two places, compelling him to train home for the first time on record.

The Wilmington Wheel Club will be the guests of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club on Sunday, November 3d, on which occasion a joint run will be made to Willow Grove via the East Park and Germantown. It is probable that an attempt on the Lancaster pike record will be made on Saturday, November 2d, by Van Wagoner, Dampman and some of the Kings County men, and if so an effort will be made to have them stay over as "Pennsy's" guests.

RACES AND RECORDS ON ROAD AND TRACK

AT HARTFORD, CONN., October 19.—The first annual bicycle meet of the Capitol City Ramblers, a new club composed of young men and boys, occurred at Charter Oak Park, to-day. There were ten races, and the entries were mostly boys between the ages of 14 and 18 years. There were quite a number of persons present, including many ladies. The weather for racing was good.

Quarter-mile—E. Faxon, 1; H. C. McIntosh, 2. Time, 48s.

One-mile—F. H. Annis, 1; E. Faxon, 2. Time, 3.40.

One-mile handicap safety—L. Warren, 25 yards, 1; H. C. McIntosh, 100 yards, 2. Time, 3.22 1-2.

One-mile club championship—E. Faxon, 1; W. G. Gerry, 2. Time, 3.31.

One-mile safety—L. Warren, 1; H. C. McIntosh, 2. Time, 3.36 1-2.

Two-mile—F. H. Annis, 1; G. W. Gerry, 2. Time, 9.10.

Two-mile safety—L. Warren, 1; C. H. Hunter, 2. No time.

One-mile safety—L. Warren, 1; H. C. McIntosh, 2. Time, 3.55.

One-mile handicap—G. W. Gerry, 175 yards, 1; A. C. Marvel, 175 yards, 2. Time, 3.27.

AT AURORA, ILL.—A good day and an excellent track were the conditions under which the tournament at Aurora, Ill., was run October 15th. Lumsden and Tuttle of Chicago were there—Lumsden refereed and Tuttle raced. The results were:

One mile novice—G. S. Webb (1), D. L. Lovejoy (2), W. Thorne (3). Time, 3.12 1-2.

Half-mile safety—W. J. Watson (1), Austin Webb (2), G. S. Webb (3). Time, 1.19 2-5.

Two mile Kane County championship—John Taylor (1), W. J. Watson (2). Time, 6.04 1-5.

One mile handicap—F. H. Tuttle the only scratch man (1), John Taylor (handicap not given) (2). Time, 2.43 2-5.

One mile A. A. C. championship—John Taylor (1), A. Webb (2). Time, 2.58.

Half-mile ride and run—W. Watson (1), Geo. K. Barrett (2). Time, 2.19 2-5.

Team race—Four crank riders vs. four Star riders. The Star men won by 88 points to 56 points for the cranks. John Taylor rode a crank and finished first, but the ordinary men got badly left. A. Taylor fainted just as he finished and fell headlong into the fence.

AT EAST HAMILTON, CAN.—The races held at East Hamilton last week were poorly attended, owing to the bitter cold weather that prevailed. The management expected to have 3500 spectators, while there were less than 500. Rather discouraging, but weather at this season of the year cannot be counted on as being warm. Results:

Two-mile novice—A. D. Brown, 1; S. T. White, 2. No time.

One-mile—Bert Brown, 1; C. J. Iven, 2. Time, 3.08 4-5.

Two-mile lap race—C. J. Iven, 1; Bert Brown, 2; W. F. Gassler, 3. Time, 7.46. [Unless we are advised incorrectly safeties and ordinaries started in this race. If so, Messrs. Iven and Gassler lay themselves open to suspension.—Ed.]

One-mile (roadster machines)—R. G. Dow, 1; Sam T. White, 2. Time, 3.22.

One-mile race safety—C. J. Iven, 1; W. F. Gassler, 2. Time, 3.22 1-5.

Half-mile—Bert Brown, 1; George Holtby, 2. Time, 1.30 2-5.

One-mile, 3.20 class—D. Nasmith, 1; G. Holtby, 2. Time, 3.12 2-5.

Five-mile—Bert Brown, 1; C. J. Iven, 2; D. Nasmith, 3. Time, 17.45 2-5.

Half-mile, without hands—Sam T. White, 1; Geo. Holtby, 2; A. D. Lamont, 3. Time, 1.42 1-5.

Half-mile, obstruction race—A. J. Welch, 1; G. Holtby, 2. No time.

AT CINCINNATI.—The second race for the championship of the Cincinnati Bicycle Club was run over the same course—from Carthage to Hamilton—on October 20. As was predicted, Wayne's record of 1h. 3m. 28s. was broken, L. F. Benckenstein making the distance in 1h. 1m. 7s.; R. B. Baldwin, second, in 1h. 5m. 23s.; Tom Wayne, third, in 1h. 6m. 26s.; Otto Barth, fourth, in 1h. 8m. 56s.

The weather was very favorable, but the roads were not in as good condition as they were during the previous race. The first five miles is very rough, rutty and sandy, and includes a hill one mile long. The four miles nearest the finish is the only part of the road on which any speed can be made. Benckenstein is the second man to wear the medal. Wonder who will be the next?

AT SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—The annual 10-mile handicap road race of the Capital City Cycling Club came off Thursday, Oct. 17. Prizes were offered for the first safety and first ordinary in, also a handsome time medal. The roads were rough and dusty. The entries were as follows, in order of finish:

H. A. Johnson, (ordinary), scratch, (1), time, 45.52; Temple D. Smith, (safety), 5 min., (2), 51.42; Robert C. Matlock, (safety), scratch, (3). 47.37; Fred. L. Grant, (safety), 7min., (4), 57m.; Fred. Pearse, (ordinary), 2min., (5), 52.30; Chas. H. Robinson, (ordinary), scratch, (6), 52.10; John Amos, (ordinary), 3 min., (7), 56m. A large crowd witnessed the start and finish.

AT NORFOLK, VA.—The Virginia Division L. A. W. races, which were postponed twice on account of rain, were run off Wednesday, Oct. 16th. Heavy rains the three previous days made the track soft; this, together with a heavy wind blowing down back stretch made fast time impossible. The races, nevertheless, were close and exciting, and were witnessed by a large crowd, many ladies being present, notwithstanding the disagreeble weather.

One-mile novice—J. H. Henry, 1; W. S. O'Neill, 2. Time, 3.53.

One-mile novice, safety—W. S. Besselievre, 1; J. H. Henry, 2. Time, 3.40.

One-mile State championship—A. A. O'Neill, 1; J. H. Downing, 2. Time, 3.20.

One-mile open—W. T. Robertson, 1; C. W. O'Neill, 2. Time, 3.34.

One-mile safety, State championship—A. A. O'Neill, 1; J. H. Morris, 2. Time, 3.45.

Half-mile dash—L. Mayo, 1; J. H. Downing, 2. Tim , 1.37.

Half-mile, boys—C. Rhea, 1; A. Ethridge, 2. Time, 2.02.

Three-mile State championship—A. A. O'Neill, 1; J. H. Downing, 2. Time, 10 37.

One-mile safety, open—A. A. O'Neill, 1; W. T. Robertson, 2. Time, 3.40.

One-mile Norfolk Cycle Club championship—W. S. O'Neill, 1; C. W. O'Neill, 2. This was the prettiest race of the day. On the last lap the two O'Neills were neck and neck, and crossed the tape a dead heat. It was afterward run off and finished in the order named. Time of dead heat, 3 48.

Two-mile open—A. A. O'Neill, 1; W. T. Robertson, 2. Time, 7.24.

AT WILMINGTON, DEL., Oct. 19.—Road—A splendid field of entries came to the starting line for the 25-mile handicap road race held at Wilmington, Del., last Saturday. There were fully 3000 spectators present along the route and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The course was from the bridge over the Christiana to Hare's Corner and return, round distance 12 1-2 miles, repeated. The road was in excellent condition. The Wilmington men had the most abiding faith in the speed of their local man Dampman to carry away the 1st prize and his defeat by Van Wagoner was a bitter disappointment to Dampman's friends. W. Van Wagoner finished first from scratch. Time, 1.37.52.

F. M. Dampman, Wilmington Wheel Club, and S. J. Hall Jr., Kings County Wheelmen, Brooklyn, rode hard for second place. Dampman got there in 1.38.15. Hall's time was 1.38.17. There were twenty-six entries and twenty-three starters, nineteen finished.

The three first were scratch men; fourth to finish was F. B. Elliott, Wilmington Wheel Club handicap, 6 1-2, actual time, 1.39; fifth, G. M Gregg, W. W. C., handicap, 5 1-2, actual time, 1.39 20; sixth, John Bensinger, Kings County Wheelmen; scratch time, 1.39.50. Z. H. Lofland, Wilmington, handicap 9, time, 1.40.12; S. W. Merrihew, Wilmington, scratch, 1.40.13; W. Sheward, Wilmington, handicap, 5 1-2, time, 1.41.25; J. H. Draper, Wilmington, handicap, 4 1-4, time, 1.42.03; T. E. Jefferis, Wilmington, handicap, 7 1-2; time, 1.44.50. W. C. Seeds, Wilmington, handicap, 2 1-2; time, 1.45 04. C. A. Elliott, Wilmington, scratch; time, 1.49.13. G. C. Wedekind, Century Wheelmen, Baltimore; time, 1.49.15. J. B. Pearson, Vineland, N. J.; time, 1.50.20. W. H. Ash, Baltimore; time, 1.54 03. F. B. Eisenbrandt, Baltimore; time, 1.54.30. I. S. Bowdish, Brooklyn; time, 1.57.08. C. A. Dimon, Philadelphia; time, 2 01.38. B. F. McDaniel, Wilmington, did not finish owing to a fall; A. A. Zimmerman broke his machine; W. W. Taxis, Philadelphia, did not start.

COREY HILL CLIMBED SIX TIMES IN SUCCESSION ON A SAFETY.

On October 20 A. P. Benson, the well known safety rider of the Dorchester Club, mounted on his safety, climbed Corey Hill six times, without a dismount, in 42 minutes. Mr. Benson did not go up for speed, but just to see how many times he could get up. He was paced the fifth and sixth time by E. C. Anthony, of Taunton, and W. S. Doane, of Dorchester. Both rode up with him to keep him company. The wind was decidedly unfavorable for such a feat, but Benson was feeling good at the finish. He was timed by Mr. Paul Hassenforder, of Taunton, and Mr. Hugh Owens, of Quincy, and several noted wheelmen witnessed his climb, among whom were Dr. Emery and a large number of wheelmen from the Roxbury Club. This will stand as record for the best performance on that hill for the crank ordinary or the crank safety.

The machine ridden was a "stock" Singer Safety Roadster, geared to 57 inches, with cranks 6 1-2 inches throw.

THE LOZIER & YOST BI. MFG. CO.

ABOVE we present a cut of the manufactory of the Lozier & Yost Bicycle Mfg. Co., of Toledo, Ohio, a description of which has already appeared in these pages. The main building is 200 feet by 40 feet, three stories high, and in the rear there is an L 100 feet by 40 feet, two stories high. The building was built in 1884, and is filled with the most approved modern machinery. In fact about the only important addition necessary has been the trip hammers for forging. Mr. H. A. Lozier is President, and not so well known in cycling circles as J. L. Yost, Treasurer and General Manager; F. S. Hodgman, Assistant Manager, and C. J. Moore, Superintendent, the last three being well and favorably known to the trade and to cyclers generally. In regard to the wheels they propose to put on the market we quote from the advance sheets of a circular this company is about to issue. They say:

"We are now offering a line of wheels which we feel satisfied will verify our statement respecting their construction and general utility. It has been our endeavor in their construction to bear in mind the wants of riders, as we have come in contact with them in the past, and what knowledge we have obtained by experience in manufacturing as well as riding, including such essentials as distribution of materials, placing them where most needed, avoiding weight where it will not be of any service, thus securing light and staunch wheels.

Our new idea in the construction of bearing has (from tests made) shown itself to be equal to anything ever offered in this line, and without egotism we can say we do not believe for perfect adjustment it has an equal; we submit them to your judgment, and feel that we shall secure our portion of your trade.

Our Little Giant 24-inch bicycle for boys we feel will fill a long-felt want, giving them an adjustable wheel in every bearing point, including the latest improvements modified, and applied to this size of a wheel, thus giving the boys the benefit of such construction which has been overlooked in the past.

In addition to the boys' wheel, described above, we shall build for ladies, youths and men the following wheels:

Giant No. 1, with 26-inch front wheel and 28-inch rear wheel, fitted wtth our standard adjustable cone bearings.

Giant No. 2, the same as No. 1, fitted with ball bearings.

Giant No. 3, with 30-inch wheels, fitted with our standard adjustable cone bearings.

Giant No. 4, the same as No. 3, fitted with ball bearings. Nos. 1 and 2 are designed for ladies and youths. Nos. 3 and 4 for men.

A full description of all our wheels will be given in our illustrated catalogue, which will be ready for mailing about January 1st, 1890.

By the use of our standard adjustable cone bearing (which is what we term our new bearing) we lessen the cost of our wheels and believe their utility will not in any wise be effected, and thus be a saving to our patrons. Yet we desire to have it understood that we do not attempt to convince the public against their own wishes, but we believe we can make this saving in cost with equally as good wearing and riding results."

It would be well for our readers to book their orders for catalogues which are promised in January next. "First come," you know, "first served."

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

SUFFERERS are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free, on application, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

IT is a satisfactory sign of the times, so far as the readers of the WORLD are concerned, not only to note the formation of new corporations, whose object is cycle building, but also extension, enlargement or expansion of existing concerns, whose product has met with a ready sale, and whose past success demands increased plant. In connection with this we are pleased to hear from our old friend Kennedy-Child, that the Warwick Cycle Mfg. Co. has been reorganized with a fully paid up capital of one hundred thousand dollars. The new board comprises the names of some of Springfield's commercial and financial magnates, and a largely increased plant will be immediately set at work. Geo. T. Warwick is President, G. D. Chamberlain, Treasurer, and Kennedy-Child, General Agent.

THE Strong & Green Cycle Co. occupy a fine store on Arch street, Philadelphia, and, of course, we could not stay over in that city without saying "howdy" to that comparatively new firm. We were sorry to find that Mr. Strong had, on account of health, been compelled to go West. We, however, saw Mr. Green and John A. Wells. Both gentlemen report the most satisfactory results in the year's business with the Quadrant machines. The day we were there the firm were in the throes of moving stock into and opening up a riding school somewhere near the Park. Mr. S. G. Whittaker is expected back from England very shortly, and on his return we have been promised data on which to make an announcement for the coming season. In the meantime, appreciating the fact that time was money with this live firm, just at that moment we bid them adieu, with a promise to "call again."

WE thought it must be "in the air," for when we called on Kirk Brown we found him moving in. However, we got in a word edgewise and were shown a tricycle and safety chain that will be heard from if we are judges. It is a self-lubricator and is easily taken apart by any one. It is a little too complex to describe without cuts, but on first sight we think it is the best thing in chains that we ever saw. We hope to get cuts of the chain soon and then we will enter into details.

WE doubt if there is a spot in Philadelphia wherein a greater proportion of business can be found to the square inch than in the store and workshops of the Hart Cycle Co. Mr. Hart is a hustler in the full sense of the term. We could only stay in the Hart Co's place a few moments, but during that time we were shown lots. Every available foot of space is utilized in the storing of cycles of all kinds, while up stairs in the repair room we saw more invalid cycles awaiting repair than it was ever our lot to gaze on at one time. Skilled workmen are driven every moment of the working day to get through with the repairing. Judging from appearance the Hart Co. must do the repairing for the whole State of Pennsylvania. Yes, Mr. Hart is a busy man, and the business place of the Hart Co. is a lively and inspiring place to visit, if they need bustle to stir them up. We congratulate the Hart Co. on the evidences of prosperity.

ONE of the busiest places in Washington is Bert Owen's (Capital Cycle Co.) store and riding school. In presenting three different weights in Psycho wheels for ladies' use, certainly Mr. Owen must be said to cater the most perfectly to the fair riders' wants of any dealer in the country. The reception given the Psycho in Washington, and in fact all over the country, is proof that when a man is enterprising in furnishing the public with just what it wants he is bound to be successful. Mr. Owen has been successful, and justly so. The light weight lady can buy one of his 39-pound machines, while if the rider has much avordupois then she can take her pick out of three other weights, ranging from 44 pounds to 50. That Mr. Owen is doing a land office business also in the riding school line, a visit to his place will soon make evident. Mr. Owen has plans for the next season, which we will make plain to our readers at an early date.

TOM ROE, in his great attempt to make a record ride from San Francisco to Chicago, is riding a Gormully & Jeffery Light Champion. The financial portion of the trip is borne by the Chicago Herald, while the Santa Fe system took him to San Francisco free of charge, and has instructed their agents to look out for him and help him legitimately every way they can. We shall keep our readers posted as to Roe's progress.

STUDENTS, Teachers (male or female), Clergymen, and others in need of change of employment, should not fail to write to B. F. Johnson & Co., 1009 Main street, Richmond, Va. Their great success shows that they have got the true ideas about making money. They can show you how to employ odd hours profitably.

THE Columbia Agency at Washington was, on the occasion of our late visit to that city, the very centre of cycledom. Chief Consul Atwater (also manager of the Columbia Agency there) was a pretty busy man. He was Commander-in-Chief of the brave lantern paraders, and for a day or two before the great event, "candles, lanterns and wires" seemed to be the staple of conversation. We had scarcely time to talk business with Mr. Atwater, but we knew that where the "Pope products" were sold, there business must be good. Mr. Atwater does a big business in letting wheels, and the sight of brilliantly uniformed band men and K. T.s on cycles of all kinds was one that was common one front of the Columbia Agency. Just outside the door of Mr. Atwater's store we ran against Mr. J. R. Dunn, and spent a half hour in pleasant confab with that gentleman.

WHILE in Philadelphia last week we called on the Philadelphia Bicycle Co. but found all the principals out. As our time was limited we could not call again.

WHEN in Baltimore we called on the Clark Cycle Company of that city and we found Mr. S. T. Clark and E. F. LeCato more than pleased with the sum total of the business they had done for the New Rapid people during the past year. Arrangements and plans for a still farther increase during the season of 1890 are already being made, and that their most sanguine expectations will be realized, goes without saying, if live business management and a "good thing in wheels" goes for anything.

THE sterling qualities of the Victor wheels and the appreciation of them by the riding public was proven to us in a most forcible way by a late visit to their agency in Washington, D. C. The Overman Co. opened a store there this spring and put Mr. C. R. Overman in charge thereof. The story is easily told. Up to within a few weeks the demand for Victors in that city exceeded the supply—that is a comfortable statement and comprehensive withal. Notwithstanding the great demand on the factory, the company have at last caught up with the demand and all orders can be promptly filled. Mr. C. R. Overman is delighted with the showing of the six months' business at the Capital, and the prospects for the future are of the most flattering.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS. are to open a new branch at the store recently occupied by A. J. Reach & Co. No. 1022 Market street, Philadelphia. Mr. H. Crowther, formerly with the Philadelpia Bicycle Co., will take charge of the bicycle department and also of the office accounts.

SIDWELL & SABEN have moved up to the store No. 182 Columbus avenue, lately occupied by the Overman Wheel Co. This moving into larger and more convenient quarters is a gratifying evidence that business is rushing with the new and enterprising firm. Those contemplating a change of wheel or who want to buy a new or second hand wheel or sell their old wheel will do well to give Sidwell & Saben a call at 182 Columbus avenue.

THE second edition of Sterling Elliott's catalogue is now out, and while it retains all the excellent features of edition No. 1, it also has much that is new and original. There is no fear but that the fortunate man who gets one of these unique catalogues will read every page from cover to cover. Mr. Elliott has written and had

"Behold the Perfect Man and Mark the Upright," (which is the Correct thing.) Is he a knock-kneed individual? You bet he isn't!!! Not much!!! Because he rides a White Flyer Safety, which is a foe to the tendency, and will effect a radical cure if its use is persevered in. We need not tell you to order a W. F. right away. A word to the wise is sufficient. We will, however, call your attention to our unrivalled Three-Knot Skookum Oil. The name is not familiar to you? Of course it isn't!!! When we offer a thing for sale, it is something new, and has an air of novelty and a name that has some character to it. Skookum Oil is the oil of the Skookum, an animal who stays out late nights and gets home early in the A. M. He is said to be blind, like a mole, and has the same kind of a boring tool on the end of his nose; its hair and fur very long, points towards its head, said to be caused by running backwarks, the favorite style of locomotion of the animal. He has an exceedingly long tail and seems fond of practical jokes, as when the new moon appears he at once ties a knot in his tail; just when he ties the second knot, the best authorities (Injuns) differ, but all agree that at the full of the moon he has three knots in his tail. This is the sign he hangs out, that he is ready to yield up his oil. As he is always in best condition at this time, the oil, if Three knot, keeps for an indefinite period in perfect condition. We shall soon offer a lot of Three-Knot Skookum Oil. Write for a picture of the Skookum, taken by our artist on the spot. Shows the Skookum as he always looks when seen by a white man. Address illustrations made for it that are bound to attract. The title of the little book is significant and is, "True Inwardness—By an Honest Man." The introduction or preface of the second edition is characteristic and is as follows: "The only excuse we can offer for this second edition is, that of the first there was not enough to go round. It might not be amiss for us to here give outward expression to a feeling of gratitude toward the press and others who have spoken kindly of our former issue of this catalogue. Our feelings have been slightly hurt, however, by a few intimations that our object in issuing this 'work' was to advertise our business. Of course if incidentally it should do so, we should not be blamed. Our real object in putting out the original edition, and also again issuing it in this enlarged form, was for the purpose of reducing our surplus."

A. P. BENSON on a Singer safety geared to 57 inches rode up and down Corey Hill six times without a dismount. The time made was forty-two minutes. This will stand as record for the crank wheel.

THE Eagle flew to victory again with Van Wagoner as the guiding hand and stalwart driving power. This time it was at Wilmington, Del., and the victory was over some of the best road riders in the country.

A FINE opportunity to exchange your old machine for a new safety is afforded by L. H. Johnson, in our advertising columns this week. While it is now pretty generally conceded that a light, rigid safety is superior to the ordinary for all riding, its advantages in the mud, frozen ruts and icy pavements of winter render it practically the only type of cycle for this kind of work.

MR. GEO. W. STEVENS, of the Coventry Machinists' Co., sails from New York on the steamer Umbria, to-morrow, 26th. He expects to be absent about six weeks. He goes home to arrange for the next season's campaign in the United States of the Coventry Machinists' Co. All Mr. Stevens' friends will wish him a pleasant trip.

HAVE you got them? If not, you ought to send and get them at once—the two new parlor games, full of fun for the family circle. One is called "The game of Politics, or Race for the Presidency;" the other is known as "Bankers and Merchants, or Breaking the Bank." They are the popular hits of the season in the line of indoor games. All the toy stores have them. The W. S. Reed Toy Company, Leominster, Mass., send "Politics" to any address, prepaid, on receipt of $1.25, and "Bankers and Merchants" for 60 cents, or both games, prepaid, on receipt of $1.75.

Massachusetts Road Books.

In reply to numerous complaints from members regarding the delay in receipt of Massachusetts and Rhode Island Division road books, I wish to state that the delay was the fault of the publishers and not of the officers of this Division. The books have at last been printed and a copy has been mailed to the address, as published in the Official Bulletin, of every member to whom a copy of the first edition had not been sent. If any member has changed his place of residence and has failed to receive the book, he should write to his former postmaster, who may have in his possession the missing road book. If members would always notify the Division Secretary, at the time they do the general Secretary, of change in their address much delay would be avoided.

CHAS. S. HOWARD, Secretary.

Massachusetts.

Circular No. 6.

Those members who received a copy of the first edition of the road book and desire a copy of the second edition can obtain it by forwarding fifty cents to Chas. S. Howard, Secretary-Treasurer, Daily Globe, Boston.

Fraternally,
WM H. EMERY,
Chief Consul.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued fourteen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

The application list is closed at 10 A. M. on the Monday preceding day of publication. All applications received after that hour must go over to the list of the following week.

Special Clearance List Singer's Cycles.

THE Machines on this List are offered at a great reduction of price to effect a clearance. They are all NEW and of best material and workmanship, but in some cases not of present standard pattern, while others are styles of machines that, in order to reduce the number of our patterns, we are discontinuing to make. The prices quoted are already very low, but we are prepared to consider offers for two or more machines. The tricycles offer a rare opportunity for those who may require machines for hiring purposes, and the stock being limited, intending purchasers should order at once.
